UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1951

... BUT, Where's The Band?

An informal band concert was held Wednesday on the front lawn of Lincoln hall. Performed by the university band under the baton of Prof. Felton Hickman, band director, the concert included in its program marches and light music and also a few school songs. Highlights of the program were a trombone trio and a horn and trumpet duet. According to Prof. Hickman this concert was not a full-dress program, since many band members had to attend classes immediately before the concert. New uniforms are expected to be issued to the band before Homecoming, according to Prof. Hickman. These uniforms will consist of royal blue jackets and pearl grey trousers. Tentative plans for a full-dress concert this fall to be held in early December are being made by Prof. Hickman. Sagebrush Photo

Community Chest Extends Campaign To Get All Contributions Possible

"Failing to meet its goal, the university Community Chest campaign will be continued through Monday in order to give all organizations an opportunity to participate," said Mae Gregory, YWCA president, today. The YWCA is conducting the Community Chest drive on campus.

President Mae Gregory also said, "A few of the organizations have contributed one hundred percent. It is expected and urged that by the end of the drive all groups will have reached this goal."

Ann King, chairman of the drive, has collected a good part of the donations right in the YWCA office during the day.

The Community Chest drive began Tuesday, October 16, on the university campus. Representatives from all the sororities, fraternities, dormitories and other social groups gathered the contributions of their members.

Door-To-Door

In addition to the representatives of these groups, a Community Chest representative went to each building on campus to collect donations from the members of the administrative staff, faculty, cler-

According to Pat Barrett YWCA director, Delta Sigma Phi is the first group to achieve a 100% contribution in the 1951 campaign. Phi Sigma Kappa reached 80% of their goal on the first day of the drive, and are now nearing the 100% mark.

cal and other staff members of the university.

It is requested that all donations be made through the university so that it will get credit for these contributions.

All of the workers on the drive are volunteers. There are to be no dinners, or luncheons in connection with the drive, and no paid director. All donations will go directly to the Community Chest fund, for later distribution.

The campus YWCA is only part of a larger organization, the Reno Community Chest, which includes the Boy Scouts of America, Camp Fire Girls, Catholic Welfare Bureau, Community Welfare Inc., Girl Scouts of America, United Defense Fund, YMCA, YWCA, and the Campus YWCA, and others.

Goal Set

The Reno Community Chest has set a goal of $131,000 for this year's drive.

In the YWCA room, in the basement of Stewart hall, there is a big chart bearing the name of the organizations on campus. The percentages of donations given are marked in red on this chart. Leading the race, with one hundred percent is Delta Sigma Phi, men's fraternity. Phi Sigma Kappa, men's fraternity, is second with about 80 percent donations.

Sue Heyman, Independent, announced her pinning to Vince Reagor, Delta Sigma Phi, Monday night at Artemesia Hall.

Colleges Surveyed For Suggestions On Student Union

More plans for a student union building on the campus were revealed late this week.

Reporting to the ASUN senate Wednesday night on the progress of the Student Union committee, Len Savage, ATO senator, said that the ultimate goal would be the completion of actual floor plans by June, 1952.

Questionnaires, designed to bring in information on small-college student union structures, have been mailed to student body presidents of many small colleges throughout the west.

Prepared by the eight-man committee, the questionnaires inquire as to size of student union buildings, cost of structure, location on campus, and type of construction. Sketches of the various buildings are also being requested.

When the questionnaires are mailed back, members of the committee will judge them, and then compile another questionnaire to be sent to the students.

Promptness in answering these inquiries will be urged, for time will be limited due to financial commitments.

Funds for the new student union structure will be secured from several sources. Last year money earmarked for the building were invested in the ASUN bookstore, and all profits from the venture are returned for the original purpose. In addition, $250,000 has been promised by an anonymous donor, provide the amount is matched by the state legislature.

Savage explained that the students should be prepared to go to work immediately when the money is made available, because money granted by the legislature must be used up within two years or be returned to the state's general fund.

Committeeman Len Savage explained recently that the purpose of organizing material from other colleges, as well as gathering local opinion, is to be able to present architects with an idea of what the students want and need in regard to a student union building.

Demurrer Filed In Jensen Case

Lawyers for Paul H. Jensen, former University of Nevada professor of education, filed a demurrer in district court yesterday. Jensen had suit brought against him in August by Ruth Armstrong Smith, who said she represented a group of 34 students who accompanied him on a European tour in the summer of 1950.

Miss Armstrong is demanding an accounting of the $1076.50 that each of the 34 students paid Jensen to make the tour.

The demurrer contended that the complaint did not state whether Jensen acted as an agent of the university or as an individual.

Maj. Fleischmann Great Friend And Contributor To University

With the death of Major Max C. Fleischmann this week, the University of Nevada lost one of its greatest benefactors.

"Major Fleischmann was a real friend of the university," said Pres. Malcolm A. Love. "He loved the students and was truly their benefactor. His passing leaves a very great and deep sense of loss in the hearts of all of us."

Mr. Fleischmann committed suicide at his Carpenteria, California, estate Tuesday afternoon. He had been under treatment for a malignancy that had been diagnosed as

Senate Removes Newspaper Ruling

A motion passed by the ASUN senate Wednesday night removed from the record a previous motion demanding that all news emanating from that body be reviewed before publication.

Moving to strike the previous senate action from the record was Len Savage, who proposed the initial ruling. His motion was seconded, and passed by a unanimous vote.

In asking for a repeal of the first action, Savage explained that his original intent was not to censor news, but to insure its accuracy. The ruling followed an incorrect report of senate proceedings in local newspapers.

Review Urged

A meeting of the ASUN publications board after the first action was taken by the senate recommended a review of the ruling. In this recommendation, which was forwarded to the senate, the board pointed out that such action could be enforced only on the Sagebrush. They suggested that, inasmuch as an informal agreement between the Sagebrush editor and the ASUN president already provided for an accuracy check of news copy the motion be erased from the record.

Frolic Rehearsals Getting Underway

Final practice for the sorority and fraternity skits for the Wolves Frolic got under way this week. The Frolic will be presented Friday, October 27, in the State building. The extravaganza is under the direction of Dr. William Miller with Pat Welty and Stan Miller as the assistant co-directors.

The Kick chorus, with both men and women students participating, is directed by Ruth Ryan again this year. Miss Ryan has a dance studio in Reno and has been organizing the kick chorus for the past three weeks.

The women's skits this year will be put on by each sorority house instead of a Panhellenic skit as last year.

The Delta Delta Delta skit, a number in Toyland, is under the direction of Beverly Balaam and includes fourteen members from the Tridelt house.

The Gamma Phi Beta skit, with Mary Kay Irwin as director, is a black satin number using ten girls with much leg art.

Kappa Alpha Theta skit is directed by Jean Wilton and Mimi Smith and is a tropical number done in the typical Theta manner. The skit includes fourteen members of the house.

The Pi Beta Phi skit, directed by Joan Rich, is a take-off on the football situation. Miss Rich has twenty girls participating in the skit.

Rehearsals for the fraternity skits began the first of the week. They were reviewed by Dr. Miller incurable. Interested since 1935 in the development of the university, Major Fleischmann had contributed about $175,000 in securities as a scholarship fund. In 1944 he also gave the university a 258 acre dairy farm for use in the College of Agriculture.

Honoring his patronage and companionship, the University of Nevada awarded him an honorary LL.D. degree at the 1945 commencement exercises. He was also made a life member of the ASUN and the Blue Key society.

ASUN Sends Regrets

To express the regrets and sorrow of the student body, Jim Eliades, ASUN president, sent the following telegram to Major Fleischmann's wife, Sarah, in Santa Barbara:

"The Associated Students of the University of Nevada send their sincere regrets on the death of your husband, Major Max C. Fleischmann. In the loss of a lifetime member of the University of Nevada student body, and in the loss of a benefactor to many individual students, we feel a deep sorrow." The telegram was signed by Jim Eliades.

Born in Riverside, Ohio, in 1877, Major Fleischmann moved in 1935 to Glenbrook, Nevada, where he built one of the most impressive residences in the state.

As heir to the Fleischmann fortune, the major had been engaged for years in many philanthropies. Besides his gifts to the university, he spent more than $200,000 converting the old U. S. mint at Carson City into a museum. The Carson-Tahoe hospital was largely supported by his donations.

Known to his many friends as the "major," he served in that rank in World War I as commander of the balloon corps. He was also an explorer and big game hunter.

Major Fleischmann was married in 1905 to Sarah Hamilton Sherlock, who survives him. The bulk of the estate will go to the Max C. Fleischmann foundation, which was especially organized a few months ago.

Open Houses Held To Honor Queens

Open houses were held by the sororities and women's dormitories Wednesday night to introduce candidates for Homecoming Queen.

The traditional Homecoming open houses were to have been held October 24, but were advanced a week so that the Queen elections could be on the same day as the elections for Frosh class manager and assistant Block "N" representative.

Queen candidates who were introduced at the open houses were Carol Doyle, Tri-Delta; Vicky Vickery, Theta; Leona Hickey, Pi Phi; Sallie Rogers, Gamma Phi; Pricilla Rowen, Manzanita and Janet Melindy, Artemesia.

and his co-directors. As yet all of the fraternities have not had their skits okayed by Dr. Miller. By Monday he hopes to have a complete rehearsal and begin rehearsals in the State building before the end of the week.

Who's Who List Of Nevada VIP's Six Names Short

Names of only twelve students are on file in the dean of men's office as candidates for Who's Who In American Colleges. The University of Nevada was assigned a quota of eighteen.

The October 16 deadline has been extended to Monday, October 22.

The College Who's Who is published annually and contains the names and biographies of campus leaders in most of the American colleges and universities.

Each campus organization was asked to select a candidate for the honor. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, and Elaine Mobley, dean of women, will make the final selections.

Candidates

Students who have submitted their names to Dean Griffin are Samuel Eccles, Proctor Hug, Lowell Miller, Leonard Savage, Robert Ramsey, Walt MacKenzie, Edwin Beauchamp, Elmo Oxborrow, Robert Petrini, Donna Batt, Joan Lundy and David Collings.

Selections for listing in the Who's Who will be made next week. Dean Griffin and Dean Mobley are using a point system for the selection. The point system is so arranged that equal importance will be given to scholarship and to participation in campus activities.

Who's Who will be published in Alabama next spring.

Arts Meetings To Be Changed

Fine Arts meetings this year will be changed to 3 p.m. on Tuesday afternoons instead of 4 p.m., Lura Ward, president of the club announced today. Special meetings will be called before any exhibit.

The change was made to encourage band and military students to attend, she added.

At the first meeting of the year, held Tuesday afternoon, tentative plans were made for this year's exhibits. Definitely scheduled in November is a water color show by James Lawrence of Gardnerville.

Last year Fine Arts sponsored three art showings and one group of photographs. Both men and women interested in Fine Arts are invited to join the club's activities.

Noted Columnist With Labor News

Mark Curtis, 1951 editor of the Sagebrush and author of Brushstrokes is continuing his column writing in the Nevada State Labor News. Curtis, a graduate of the department of journalism at the university, is also program director of radio station KWRN.

BEHIND THE BROOM With THE MORRILL HALL MORALIST

The broom is a kinda quaint implement like the English profs would say. It picks up a little of this and a little of that from here and there, but mostly nothin useful. However, sometimes some little items collect among the straws that can be used.

An speakin of useless things, I wonder how effective one of those army recruitin posters would be on the campus. It could even up the score between the men and women or would it?

Huntin' season bein open on different kinds of game the signs on the campus kinda fooled the animals and some of the humans. But in spite of the 'Moose' an such on the signs it wa'n't nuthin but frosh elections, an accordin to what I hear in the Hall the biggest animal on the signs didn't show.

Tother day a English major lost his copy of a short story. Instead of beginning "Once upon a time," it started off "Pay to the order of," then a fellers name, an ten dollars, and another fellers name. It had a rejection slip attached to it too. The slip had the initials on it, N. S. F. which didn't mean Near San Francisco. One of the profs said "somebody has been cheatin a little" on account of it was another 'stude' signed it.

Alley Khan seems to have been tradin horses kinda regular lately. Accordin to what they tell us he sold some other big shot a spavin'd nag for 40,000 fish and now the Indian/buyer has hauled the Indian seller into court. He wants his money back. Peers to me we heard a while back about Alley havin some trouble about a filly he didn't buy or sell but which was costin him dough anyway.

Community Chest is on our minds just now an' it might be a good thing to think seriously about. We can all spare a sou or two and a lot of good can be done with a few pennies handled right.

Then too, none of us gets any younger and if the present epidemic of tax increases gets out of hand we may all be havin to work like blazes so's we can go on relief and eat regular.

They say the Art department is crying for models. They're going to put some real into their life studies. Sounds good except that if I did go down there they'd have to call the painting something like "Gnarled limbs against a winter sky."

The University of Nevada infirmary building was completed in 1901 at a cost of $3500.

UN Farm Adds Black Angus Herd

A valuable herd of black angus cattle which will have importance in the teaching of animal husbandry is being added to the existing stock on the University experimental farm.

Doctor Eldon Wittwer, director of resident teaching in agriculture, states that through the efforts of Dr. S. T. Clark of Reno, five persons have each donated one fine pure-bred angus heifer to the university in the interest of agricultural progress within the state.

The donors are: Graham Hollister of the Sierra Creek ranch, Genoa, Nevada; Lloyd Springmeyer, Gardnerville, Nevada; Ed. Biagini, Cayucos, California; William Volkman, Hacienda de los Reyes, Selma, California; and Hugh Bieroth, Mountain City, Nevada.

The university beef cattle herd consisted of about 60 pure-bred Herefords.

Dr. Wittwer says that in the dairy cattle field, the university has about 60 head of blue ribbon holstein and 15 head of jerseys at the farm south of the city. Forty-five of these are producing under the direction of Mr. LeGrande Walker, lecturer in animal husbandry.

A fine herd of rambouillet and hampshire sheep is also being built up, and there are about 35 head of fine hampshire hogs on the farm.

The University of Nevada has reason to be proud of its progress in the field of animal husbandry as well as in other branches of agriculture, according to Dr. Wittwer. The valuable donations of friends of the agriculture department and the university are a vital and very important factor in that progress, he said.

The University of Nevada offered high school courses until May, 1912. There were 88 high school students enrolled at that time.

Car Registration Behind Schedule By Fifty Percent

Only 357 student and faculty cars are registered, according to the campus policeman, Ray Williams. This means that only a little more than half of the car owners have registered.

Williams asks for the full cooperation of every car owner and insists that all parking regulations be observed.

There should be no parking in the streets and south of the crosswalk in front of the Education building, for instance, since this space is reserved to staff members.

Space in front of the hospital should always be kept clear for the use of doctors and nurses.

Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds, issued a "last warning" this week to the drivers of automobiles on campus. He said the deadline for car registration is past. Beginning next Monday, October 22, he will fine any drivers who have not registered their cars.

Cars may be registered in his office in the basement of Morrill hall.

Castinette Exhibit By Spanish Club

Spanish Club activities for the coming year, as announced at a club meeting last Wednesday, include two Spanish movies and castinette exhibitions by local Spanish folk dancers.

Harry Hess was elected president of the organization at the meeting. Carl Herrera was elected vice-president and Beverly Hess secretary-treasurer. The group decided to hold meetings once a month in the lounge of the Y.W.C.A. Date of the next meeting will be announced soon.

Faculty advisor of the Spanish Club is Dr. Lawton B. Kline.

Debitonto Appointed New Rally Chairman

Sam Debitonto has been appointed the new rally chairman by the ASUN. He is a member of Sigma Nu.

He was appointed to take the place of Jerry Wyness, who recently resigned.

Debitonto said he intends to have two more rallies this semester, barring conflicts with other activities. He also said he hopes to have talent from downtown floor shows for a rally planned around Christmas time.

EASY MONEY

Models Needed For Art Class

The Art department needs models, both plain and fancy, says J. Craig Sheppard, chairman of the department. Students with some free time Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1 to 4 p.m., can add to their incomes as well as exhibit their masculine or feminine charms in the cause of art.

Night classes on Tuesday 7:30 to 9:30 and sculpture classes Tuesdays and Thursdays 9 to 12 a.m. Also need models, says Mr. Sheppard. Beauty is not essential. Character of face and figure can be more valuable to the students who will do the drawing, painting and sculpting.

Models will receive 75 cents per hour and pose only 15 minutes and rest five, Mr. Sheppard assures.

German Club To Show Films

Presentation of German films highlighted the second meeting of the German club Tuesday. The movies were shown in Stewart hall.

At a meeting last week senior Chris Nolan won the presidency of the club. Hans Mohr took over the vice-presidency and Carol Normandy was selected secretary-treasurer.

Tax Corruption Subject Of Talk At SDX Initiation

Corruption and fraud among San Francisco income tax officials were described by Pulitzer Prize winner Edward Montgomery, 1934 Nevada journalism graduate, at a Sigma Delta Chi initiation dinner Saturday.

The dinner at the Santa Fe hotel climaxed the initiation into the professional journalistic fraternity of six undergraduates and five professional newsmen.

The six undergraduates taken into the fraternity were Joseph Abbott, William Van der Ley, Arthur Peterson, Donald Loveless, Frank Johnson and William Smith.

Professional newsmen initiated at the same time were Paul Gardner of Lovelock, Frank McCulloch of Reno, Peter Kelley of Carson City, Carl Shelly of Sparks and Pulitzer Prize winner Edward Montgomery of the San Francisco Examiner.

In his talk Montgomery outlined the steps leading to his prize winning expose of corruption in the Bay area internal revenue offices. It was through reporter Montgom-

People have asked... "Oil Progress? Should that mean something to me?"

The oil companies of America are now observing Oil Progress Week. Some people outside the industry have asked, "Oil Progress? Should that mean something to me?"

The answer is "Yes, indeed!"—for oil progress directly affects the lives of all Americans, and the rest of the civilized world as well. One indication of the strides the industry has made is a count of its products. Fifty years ago, we were getting only about a dozen different products out of crude oil. Now Standard produces more than 1100. What we ourselves produce, plus what's made with the help of products we provide, adds up to a seemingly endless list of things that make your life better.

Your car can be "like new" longer with a motor oil developed by Standard's scientists using atomic energy. It cuts engine wear as much as one-half, compared with conventional oils.

Your country's military strength is increased by jet fighters. Standard developed the first jet fuels used by the U.S. Our fuel progress continues with today's super-jets.

Your cleaning chores are easier thanks to today's new detergents. Standard pioneered their development, now supplies a large portion of the nation's needs.

The growth of the industry over the years has meant the development of thousands of oil companies, large and small. All are needed—to serve you better, and keep the nation strong. As the industry progresses, the gain is yours... for your progress and oil progress go hand in hand.

Max C. Fleishman

It is doubtful that many students knew Major Max C. Fleischmann personally, but every one of us knew him through his reputation as a friend of the university. And, because of his never ceasing efforts on our behalf, because of the many, many students who owed, and owe, their educations to the scholarships he provided, all feel a deep sense of loss in his death.

There is little that can be said on the passing of a man like Major Fleischmann. He was a man who, through his devotion to many interests, put a full measure into life. No one can ask more.

We feel that he considered his election to the University of Nevada student body as a life-time member and his acceptance into Blue Key a demonstration of our affection.

He would, we are sure, like to be remembered simply as "a great guy."

Orchesis Group To Present Dances And Tap Routines

An Orchesis dancing group, composed of women students with 12 or more hours of previous modern dance experience, will begin to organize soon after the Homecoming celebration, Miss Jean McIntosh, faculty advisor, announced Wednesday.

The group, which will also introduce tap dance routines along with its modern dance, will work on advance technique and principles of composition, in preparation for its annual spring concert next semester. Sponsored by the W.R.A., the dancers may also combine with the men's tumbling team in a presentation after the first of the year.

To be considered for membership in the senior Orchesis dancing club, the student must present an original dance, have 12 hours experience in a junior group, have made a public appearance, maintain a C average, and demonstrate ability in technique and rhythm.

Miss McIntosh, a Brigham Young University graduate and newcomer to the school, said the purpose of Orchesis is to stimulate interest in Reno and neighboring communities in modern dance. The organization is also active in sponsoring touring concert artists.

A junior Orchesis group, consisting of 16 beginners, is practicing two hours weekly, Tuesday and Thursday at 4:00 p.m. in the new gym.

University Singers Pick New Officers

"Buzz" Etcheto, SAE junior, was elected president of the University Singers Monday afternoon. The chorus is composed of men and women who are interested in singing. The class may be taken for credit or as an extra-curricula activity.

Carolyn Conrad, Tri Delt sophomore, was chosen vice president, and Lois Forson, Tri Delt junior, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Practice for the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah," scheduled for December 17, has begun. Felton Hickman, band director, acted as director of the chorus last week while Professor Post, instructor for the group, was touring the state with the extension service.

The physics laboratory, in the south wing of Mackay Science hall, includes adequately equipped laboratories for general physics and electrical measurements.

Sports Night At Reno "Y"

Something new in the line of Sports-nights is being offered students of the university, both men and women, every Friday evening from 8 p.m. on. The program is run on the cafeteria plan with the participant taking as much or as little of the activities as he chooses.

Get-Tough Policy On Frosh Dinks

A new "get-tough" policy has been announced by men's upper-class committee head Bob Ramsey this week.

According to Ramsey, freshmen caught without dinks will be tossed into Manzanita lake on their first offense. Men forgetting to carry their handbooks will be similarly punished.

"Swats have been used to punish first offenders in previous years," Ramsey stated, "but they have not led to an effective preserving of campus traditions."

This year the more severe penalty will be tried out to see if it produces better results.

Any freshmen without dinks should either get them from the ASUN book store, avoid the upper-class committee, or expect a cold swim in Manzanita lake.

"Open Sesame"

Block N president Burt Larkins might have pronounced these words last Wednesday night, but the chances are his verbatim exclamations were not nearly so poetic or innocent. In most cases when a guy wants to go through a locked door without a key, he winds up a little irritated and his language may go a little risqué.

This was Burt's predicament: a door and no key, a Block N meeting and no place to meet.

Wednesday night is the regular meeting night for the Block Ners and they usually hold their meetings in the university gymnasium where the light is fine, the temperature moderate and the chairs comfortable.

A Bit Chilly

Maybe the lettermen didn't like the light cast by a street lamp and maybe the air was a "mite chilly," but the door didn't open and the meeting was held outside.

Giles Altenburg, one of the members, said that Jake Lawlor, advisor to the group, had the key. This cannot be proved nor can it be proved that Jake thought Wednesday night was some other night in the week. At any rate no Jake, no key, no door and darn near no meeting.

The athletic spirit of the boys showed through and when Larkins tapped his foot on the sidewalk for attention, the group assembled—all seven of them.

The other members apparently had a premonition of trouble with the door and stayed at home.

At any rate the meeting got under way in the middle of Virginia street just opposite the door that didn't open.

The topics discussed by the group were the painting of the 'N' by the freshmen and the lining of the football field. Midway the gang got side-tracked on the topic of who was going to play on the first five in basketball but this was smoothed over and the meeting proceeded.

Unfortunately, the meeting had to be dismissed early because of the traffic hazards.

Pi Phis Shellac ATO Southpaws

Pi Beta Phi pounded out a 5-3 softball victory over a spirited but outclassed Alpha Tau Omega team at Idlewild park Sunday. The game was the feature of a picnic held by the two groups.

The Taus were forced to bat left-handed and throw under-handed in order to place the two teams on even terms.

Jeanne Brunetti, Martha Lemmon, Vivienne Potter, Ruth Eachus and Joan Miller scored the Pi Phis runs, while Lowell Miller, Malcolm Short and Len Savage scored for ATO.

Theta Chis Win Horseshoe Tourney

Bill Myles of Theta Chi captured the singles horseshoe championship for his house, going undefeated in competition that lasted more than a week.

Phi Sig's Wayne Ashley won second spot and John Lundergreen of ATO placed third.

In the doubles tournament now in progress, Theta Chi leads with two wins and no losses. ATO and Lambda Chi are deadlocked for second spot with a single win apiece.

Homecoming Team Rounding Out For October 27 Tilt

Homecoming is just a week off, and out at Mackay stadium coaches Jake Lawlor and Hugh Smithwick have been polishing their charges for the University of Nevada Alumni homecoming tilt.

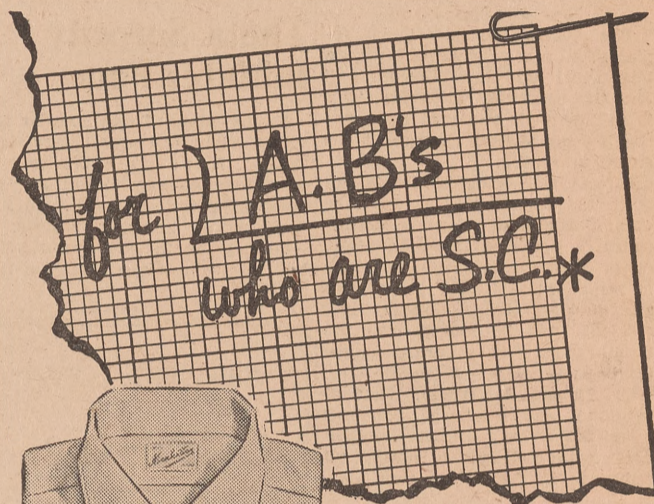

After two weeks of contact work Coach Lawlor has named a tentative lineup, including ball players who have had previous experience and those who have shown well in the practices.

Lawlor named the following men as probable first and second stringers—ends: Wyness, Baxter, Hug, Piazzi; tackles: Ebel, Gonda, Myers, Eccles; guards: Leslie, Keller, Baker, Hage; centers: Matteucci, Melton; quarterbacks: Gonsalves, Garrett; halfbacks: Byers, Leavitt, Kotinger, Vice; fullbacks: Garrett, Quinlan, Garneau.

It was made clear by coach Lawlor, however, that he will use every ball player out for the sport if it is possible.

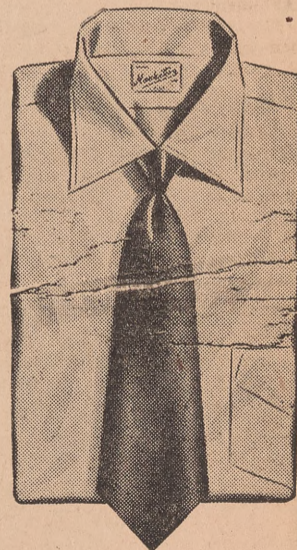

According to Coach Lawlor the team is looking fine and he predicts a well contested Homecoming game that will produce more football than clowning.

In 1920 the rare and precious metals station of the U. S. bureau of mines was moved to the Nevada campus.

80 Grand for Lincoln Hall

Eighty-thousand dollars are due to be spent on a complete renovation of Lincoln hall, men's dormitory, according to Dr. Malcolm A. Love, president of the University of Nevada.

Work is scheduled to begin early next spring. Plans for the work are being drawn by Russell Mills, Reno architect, and will make a considerable change in the building.

Fire Trap
Built in 1896, the building is practically a fire trap. The only stairway rises through the middle of the hall, has no fire breaks, and would act as a flue in case of fire on the lower floors. The stairwell also uses enough space to add about six rooms to the hall.

The new plans call for modern, fireproof stairs at either end of the hall with fire breaks at each floor. The antiquated wiring and plumbing will be replaced, floor-plan rearranged, walls replastered and the floors will be covered with asphalt tile.

This will not complete the renovation of the hall, says Dr. Love, as it will be necessary to paint and otherwise finish the building and the furniture will have to be replaced. Another $40,000 is expected to be used to complete this work.

New Heating Plant
The heating plant will be replaced, at a cost of $24,000, with a unit which will heat Lincoln hall and the university infirmary. This is in line with plans to rearrange the heating system throughout the entire university.

Efforts are being made to acquire the use of two of the now vacant Highland Terrace dormitories in order to house the residents of the hall while the work is being done. If the dormitories are made available, Lincoln hall residents will be moved into the dorms shortly after spring semester begins.

Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, has announced that students living temporarily in the Highland dormitories will get a substantial reduction in their room rent.

Home On Range New Theme Song Of Cookery Class

Men are shown how to be at home on the range in a class offered by the Home Economics department. The class is Cookery for Men, and has an enrollment of three. They are Wally Burnett, Bob DeRuff and Lou Mitchell, all SAE members.

The class is a service course for men who want to learn short cuts of cookery on the grill, in the camp, or on the range. They cook complete dinners, learn to shop, and select foods.

Professor Mildred Swift, chairman of the department, said the men made a batch of fresh rolls this week which some of the best she'd ever eaten.

Last semester the cookery class had sixteen members.

Positions as junior professional assistants at $3100 per year are open to students of bacteriology, economics, geophysics and geography.

Information on applications may be obtained at the Civil Service office of the Reno post office.

Six EE Majors Will Take Trip To Frisco Area

Six senior electrical engineers will take a field trip to the bay area on the weekend of November 1, 2, 3.

Accompanied by Dr. I. J. Sandorf, professor of electrical engineering, Prof. H. J. Hendricks and Mr. Asa Seymour, the EE's will visit a number of operations during the three days.

They will visit the studios of KGO-TV in San Francisco to obtain first hand knowledge of the intricacies of television broadcasting. Friday they will tour the Ritell-MacCollough Manufacturing company plant in San Bruno and the General Electric plant in Oakland. Saturday the party will take in the Union Oil plant at Oleum and the Contra Costa steam plant at Antioch.

Senior EE's making the journey will be Jim Eliades, Wayne Ashley, Charles Sommers, Bruce Belnap, George Shoutz and Hassell DePree.

Council Proposes Speakers Bureau For UN Faculty

A proposal to establish a central speakers' bureau at the University of Nevada was submitted by the public relations committee at the latest meeting of the administrative council on October 5.

The proposal, as submitted to the council, recommended that steps should be taken to establish such a bureau in order that the people of Nevada and in nearby parts of California might have "the opportunity to benefit by the services of our faculty and become better acquainted with the University of Nevada."

Principal object of the proposed bureau is to list faculty members available for speaking engagements and to arrange their schedules.

The recommendation has stressed, however, that the bureau would in no way operate to prevent a speaker from engaging in a tour privately.

The Herbarium of the University of Nevada now contains approximately 22,000 sheets. This is probably the most complete collection of Nevada plants in existence.

The department of music has a large collection of recordings of the music of many periods, schools and nationalities from the Greek and nationalities from the Greek hymns to contemporary modernists.

EAST MEETS WEST IN NEW RELAY EVENT

You've heard of the Penn Relays. But have you ever heard of a relay where the hurdles are mountains, the average stride is thirty miles, and the track stretches coast to coast?

It's the Bell System's Radio-Relay and it brings East and West together in one of the most important events in the history of communications.

Telephone construction crews have just recently completed the coast-to-coast Radio-Relay system. Today, Long Distance calls ride on radio microwaves, beamed through the air from tower to tower. And, for the first time, television programs have been flashed from coast to coast.

The new system supplements the thousands of miles of wire cable that already tie the nation together. It helps make America's vast communications network even stronger and more flexible. And it could hardly happen at a better time. The demands of defense are heavy and urgent.

HOW Radio-Relay WORKS. Microwaves travel in a straight line. So relay towers are usually built on hilltops and spaced about thirty miles apart. Just as a runner picks up the baton from another runner; so each tower picks up microwaves from its neighbor, and with complex electronic equipment amplifies and focuses them like a searchlight, then beams them accurately at the next tower. And hundreds of Long Distance calls ride the beam at the same time.

Manzanita Lake Has New Look In Technicolor

The new look on Manzanita Lake is the result of the artistry of some S.A.E.'s who did not believe nature should be allowed to take its course.

During the early hours of Monday morning, October 15, some students went to the trouble of dyeing the lake. They dragged packets of green dye from end to end of the lake.

The dye used was the same type used by the army for air-sea rescue work.

A report from the State Hygienic Laboratory said that the dye was harmless to the fish and wildlife that live in the lake. They also said that the coloring should not effect the water as far as irrigation use was concerned. Since the volume of water coming from the lake into the irrigation ditch was very little as compared to the volume in the ditch itself, no permanent damage should result.

Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds, said "I think the results of the prank made a one hundred percent change for the best in the lake."

Phi Alpha Theta Elects Seventeen For Membership

Seventeen history students have been selected for membership in Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history society, according to Dr. Russell Elliott, assistant professor of history.

An initiation banquet scheduled for November 20 will honor the new members, the organization decided at a meeting Tuesday.

Those who have been invited to become members are Beverley Balaam, William Boyd, LaVonne Browning, Ethelind Butterfield, Arthur Cooper, Gerald Cardiff, Joyce Cranor, John Edgecomb, James Hulse, Shirley Kershner, Mardelle Kornmayer, Robert Lindsay, Ruth Moore, Marlene Nyberg, Roger Olmsted, Leila Rowson and Lura Ward.

Following the club's business meeting Tuesday, Dr. Lawton B. Kline, foreign language professor, gave an illustrated lecture on Mexico.

Senate Approval Needed On Plans For Student Court

Plans for a student court will be drafted for the approval of the ASUN Senate by a committee headed by Bob Ramsey, head of the Men's Upperclass committee.

According to Ramsey, the proposed court could include investigating, disciplinary and supervisory activities. This would include handling of traffic violations and supervision of affairs between the students and the University.

Membership on the student court, according to tentative plans, would consist of four members from the Men's and Women's Upperclass committee, and the heads of each. This would be a full student-body representation from each fraternity, sorority and dormitory.

With Senate approval, the court would have powers of recommendation which would range from the revoking of student-body privileges to the expelling of students. The recommendations would then be referred to the student senate and the administration.

The court would be the judicial branch of the student government.

These plans were backed by the administrative council, and by Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin and the Upperclass committee.

"It would be a step toward students solving their own problems," said Ramsey.

The University Farm was purchased by the state in 1917. It is located two miles south of Reno.

Senate Confirms Martha Oviatt As Senator-At-Large

On the recommendation of the nominating committee, the ASUN senate confirmed Martha Oviatt as woman senator-at-large. She will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Barbara Carruth.

In other actions taken at the Wednesday night meeting, the senate confirmed the nominating committee's selection of Ray Gonsalves as an additional candidate for assistant Block N manager. The addition of another candidate was made necessary by the constitutional provision that at least two nominees must run for the post.

Walt MacKenzie was confirmed in his post as Artemesia editor upon the recommendation of the publications board.

Otto Schultz Gets Freshman Post

Otto Schultz, ATO, came out as top man in the hotly contested elections for freshman class manager held Thursday. He topped SAE candidate George Gadda by a single vote. Final tallies were: Schultz 98, Gadda 97.

Going in as assistant Block N representative as a result of the election is Giles Altenburg, who nosed out Ray Gonsalves 252 votes to 234.

The 1951 Homecoming queen was also selected at the Thursday polling, but the votes will not be counted until shortly before the Wolves Frolic.

ME Instructors To Attend Confab

Three members of the mechanical engineering department faculty will attend an educational symposium for diesel engineers in Oakland on Nov. 6.

Attending will be Dr. E. W. Harris, Mr. J. R. VanDyke, and Mr. William VanTassell.
