

WHATZIS? FRENCH MAIDS ON CAMPUS? Not quite, but the snack bar courteously supplied a pair of them to engineer Dick Hight so that a Sagebrush photog could get one of the more interesting shots of year. Executive secretary Pat Barrett says that she would like to be able to hire Dorothy McElwain and Pat Jefferson regularly, but finances just won't permit it. Next best deal, Pat says, is for each customer to serve himself—and clean up afterwards. (Sagebrush Photo)

New Rules For Veterans Under G. I. Study Changes No Longer Allowed

To stay in college under the G. I. bill, veterans must follow new rules listed by the Veterans Administration.

Training at government expense expired July 25 for all veterans not already enrolled in a school or college. Since this cut-off date, veterans must continue their education without interruption, except for reasons that are unavoidable. Allowable interruptions include the normal summer vacation and re-call to active service.

Once a veteran completes or discontinues his course, he may not start another under the new ruling.

Changes in courses are no longer allowed except under the following circumstances:

1. When a veteran is not making satisfactory progress in his present course and the failure is not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application.
2. When the course to which he desires to change is more in keeping with his aptitudes, previous education, training or other pertinent factors.
3. When the course to which he wants to change is a normal progression from his current course, and will help him attain his educational or vocational objective.

Only One Third Of Quota Made

Less than one-third of the university's Community Chest quota has been collected to date. Only $79 has been received, whereas the YWCA, which conducted the drive on campus, had hoped for more than $250.

The drive is under the supervision of Mrs. Pat Barrett, director of the student YWCA. Ann King is the student director of the drive.

Frosh And Soph Class Managers To Be Immersed

Freshman class manager Otto Shultz and sophomore class head Bert Munson will both be laked Tuesday at 11:55 a. m., the result of the annual frosh-soph tug-of-war. In addition, members of the freshman class will be allowed to discard their dinks, ribbons and frosh bibles on, but not before, November 20th.

Shultz will be laked for the failure of his class team to win the annual tugging contest which was held this year as a halftime activity at the Homecoming football game. Munson, although his team won the contest, will suffer a similar fate and has conceded the victory because of the use of ineligible men in the contest.

Annual Event

The tug-o-war as an annual event was recommended by the A. S. U. N. Senate last year, and it was suggested that the contest be held as a Homecoming activity under the supervision of the junior class. The laking was not included in the senate recommendation, but was agreed upon as an added incentive for victory by the two class managers before the contest.

Bob Ramsey, chairman of the men's upperclass committee, judged the contest. Said Ramsey, "Even if the freshmen had won the contest in both senses of the word, the upperclass committee would have kept a sharp eye out for violations of the dink-bible rule; however, since they achieved only half a victory, the result will be a doubly stern campaign of watchfulness and punishment. Should any of the freshmen jump the gun by discarding their dinks or bibles before November 20, there will be waves on Manzanita lake."

100 Free Coffees For Best Poster

One hundred cups of free coffee at the YWCA snack bar is first prize in a poster contest which begins this week. The posters will be part of a "keep the snack bar clean" campaign sponsored by the campus YWCA.

All posters must be self-designed and have some connection with keeping the "Y" clean. They will be judged by J. Craig Sheppard, assistant professor of art; Mrs. Helen Joslin, lecturer in art; and Keiste Janulis, assistant professor of journalism.

November 26 is the deadline for entries into the contest.

"It's going to be a long, cold winter," said Leah Gregory, in charge of the contest, "and 100 cups of coffee will come in awfully handy." Anyone may enter posters.

Second prize will be 50 and third prize 25 free cups of coffee.

Barbara Van Meter, Delta Delta Delta, passed candy at the Tri-Delt house Monday night, November 5, to announce her pinning to Procter Hug, Jr., Alpha Tau Omega.

UN May Add Station Wagon To Motor Fleet

Two buses, a sedan and a station wagon are not enough to meet the transportation needs of the university. Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds, says an order has been placed with the state purchasing department in Carson City for a new eight-passenger station wagon.

Mr. Horn says the addition of a new station wagon will almost take care of current demands for vehicles.

Thirty-two quarts of oil were used by the special 1935 Buick during its last trip to Las Vegas. This car, designed to pull a trailer on field trips, is being repaired at an estimated cost of $500.

Ski Meeting

Jake Lawlor announced that newly appointed ski coach Hal Codding, instructor at Mt. Rose and last year's coach, will be present at a meeting for varsity skiers at 7:30 next Wednesday, November 14, in the new gymnasium.

Those skiers who are interested in making the varsity team this year are requested to attend the meeting.

Student Union Plans Roll On

Temporary plans for the student union building are hoped to be completed in one or two months, reported Len-Savage, chairman of the student union committee.

The Associated Engineers and members of the engineering faculty are to draw up temporary blueprints, outlining the floor plan. John Bruce Harris, of the art department, will do the art work for the plans.

Questionnaires were sent out to 45 colleges October 28. The questionnaires asked for ideas concerning the proposed building. Questionnaires for the local campus will be then circulated among the student body sometime next week.

The committee will meet with the anonymous donor next month and will then publicize the name of the donor and the amount he intends to give.

More members will be added to the committee to assure a more adequate representation.

Senior Class To Hold Picnic Sunday Cold Drinks - Hot Dogs - Cool Weather

The first senior class get-together of the year, a picnic, will be held Sunday at Galena Creek, class manager Wayne Ashley announced this week.

Hot dogs and other picnic food, cokes and beer are on the menu. The food will be ready by about 2:30 or 3:00 p.m., but seniors and their dates are welcome any time during the afternoon, Ashley added.

Chaperones for the affair will be Eric Axilrod, instructor in business administration, graduate manager James McNabney and Mrs. McNabney.

Unregistered Cars Subject To Fine

A warning was directed at student owners of unregistered cars this week by Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Each auto owner faces a $1.00 fine if he fails to register his vehicle within the next few days.

As of last Monday, 485 cars had been registered, but, according to Ray Williams, special traffic officer, there are at least one hundred cars not signed-in with his office.

Mr. Horn stated that no fines have been issued yet, but next week the situation will be different.

Fines are turned over to the comptroller's office, but eventually the money goes to the ASUN.

Monday Morning Classes Cancelled

Classes will not be held Monday morning, Armistice day, so that university student groups participating in the day's ceremonies will not miss classes.

The administration offices will all remain open that day, however, and classes will meet in the afternoon.

The largest student group participating in the celebration will be the military department. The Pershing Rifles squad will march at the head of the parade led by Capt. Jim Lee, company commander, and 1st Lt. Lloyd Skinner.

The entire ROTC battalion will follow, with the staff members leading and companies A, B, C, D and E following in that order. The Corps of Sponsors also plans to march.

Vegas Freshman Wins Scholarship Thru Press Club

Winner of the first annual high school scholarship awarded by the Las Vegas Press Club was Wilma Roth of Las Vegas, now a freshman majoring in journalism at the University of Nevada.

The local press club award, announced at the June commencement, consists of $500 in cash payable over a period of four years.

To qualify for the award, the prospective candidate must, in addition to minimum scholarship standards, show an aptitude for journalism and plan to pursue that course of study at college.

UN Singers Begin Messiah Practice

Rehearsal for the 17th annual presentation of the Messiah, Handel's Christmas oratorio, began Wednesday night. There will be no rehearsal this Sunday afternoon, but, starting next week, rehearsals will be held on Wednesday nights and Sunday afternoons. All rehearsals will be held in the bandroom of the new gymnasium.

The Reno civic chorus and orchestra and the University Singers put on a joint performance of the Messiah each year. It is conducted by Professor Theodore H. Post. The civic chorus is made up of townspeople, students and faculty members.

Dr. Post said that the Messiah unites "the community and the university by presenting this Christmasting work."

The concert is free to the public and last year an estimated 3,000 to 3,500 people attended.

Dr. Post said that soloists for the concert will be announced later.

"Sleepy Hollow" Road Resurfaced

Graveling of the dirt road running from Ninth street to the Engineering building was completed this week.

Hard-top paving was not done, according to Perry Hayden, comptroller, because no decision has been made concerning the future of that area.

The resurfacing was done by the Isbell Construction Co. at a cost of $375.

Paniwallis

Election of officers for Paniwallis is scheduled tentatively for Tuesday. Originally planned for the year's first meeting last week, the elections were called off when not enough members appeared at the meeting.

Paniwallis is the university swimming club.

WITH WHAT?

Need Thirty Girls To Fill Uniforms

Thirty girls are needed to fill out thirty empty uniforms in the Corps of Sponsors.

A recruiting drive for the ROTC Corps of Sponsors is being conducted by Master Sergeant Byrd of the military department.

The Corps of Sponsors is a group of university women who drill with the ROTC units.

Although undermanned, the Corps acted as guidon flag bearers to the ROTC battalion in last week's Nevada Day parade in Carson City.

Thirty more women are needed to fill the quota of fifty. The Corps will hold drill practice every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at four o'clock.

Interested women are asked to see either Corps Captain Lois Kurtz or Sgt. Byrd.

Four Professors To Give Lectures At Temple Series

Four faculty members are scheduled to speak this fall in a series of lectures sponsored by the adult education program of the Temple Emanu-El in Reno.

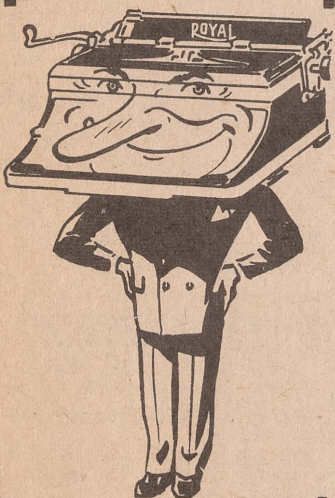

Dr. Frederick Wood, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, will participate in the first program. Prof. A. L. Higginbotham and Prof. Keiste Janulis of the journalism department will speak on the role of press and radio in education and propaganda. Dr. Ralph Irwin, head of the psychology department, is scheduled to talk on family stability.

The lecture series, entitled "Civilization at the Crossroads," will be presented every Monday from November 26 to December 17 at the Temple Emanu-El on West street.

Nevada Schools To Be Queried

Why Nevada high school graduates leave the state to attend colleges is to be investigated by a series of questionnaires sent to the heads of Nevada schools.

Who's Who List Includes Twenty; All Are Seniors

Twenty students' names have been submitted to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

"Students selected for Who's Who are all members of the senior class because the system of rating takes into account the activities of the junior and senior years," said Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men. "This obviously throws the advantage in favor of a senior. "There were a number of members of the junior class whose records are very outstanding," he continued. "They were not included this year because of the limited quota of the university and because they have another year in which to make the list.

"These ratings took into account scholarship averages and the activity points. The University of Nevada quota was 18 with a possibility of two additional.

"The selection committee has submitted the names of the full 20."

Students selected, and some of the activities in which they have engaged, are as follows: Alfred Wayne Ashley, member of Coffin and Keys and Blue Key secretary; Edwin Knight Beauchamp, member of Sigma Rho Delta and Blue Key; Howard Marvin Byars, president of Scabbard and Blade, and member of the 1951 basketball team; Barbara Carruth, president of Delta Delta Delta and president of Cap and Scroll.

David Abel Collings, president of Blue Key and secretary of Coffin and Keys; Edward Bonaparte Covington III, president of Coffin and Keys and member of the ASUN senate; Samuel Franklin Eccles, member of Scabbard and Blade and chairman of the Homecoming committee.

James Eliades, ASUN president; William Fremont Engel, business manager of the 1951 Artemisia and member of Coffin and Keys; Mary Carolina Getto, member of the ASUN senate and president of Manzanita Hall; Frank Hilton Johnson, editor of the Sagebrush and member of Coffin and Keys; Verlita Lee Johnson, president of the Sagens and member of Cap and Scroll.

Mardelle Louise Kornmayer, president of AWS and vice-president of the ASUN; Fred Roland Lee, Jr., member of Coffin and Keys and Blue Key; Clarence Lowell Miller, business manager of the Sagebrush and member of Coffin and Keys; Robert Egisto Petrini, president of Newman club and Sigma Delta Chi secretary.

Robert Thorpe Ramsey, chairman of the upper class committee and president of the ski club; Leonard Joseph Savage, member of Coffin and Keys and ASUN senator; Barbara Alice Shelly, president of Pan-Hellenic society and treasurer of Phi Alpha Theta; Norma Anne Walsh, president of Gothic N and president of WRA.

Bob Ramsey, president of the University Ski club, will work with Jerry Wetzel of the Reno organization on all the Carnival planning. According to tentative plans the town group may furnish the $6.00 entry fee required of each entry in past years, and may also supply downtown accommodations for the competitors, Ramsey stated. Other financial arrangements will be worked out later, said Ramsey.

Lew Mitchell, Brent Aiken and John Cowley, Ski club members, will be co-chairmen of the ski contest on Mt. Rose, Esplin announced, while he will handle the social events of the weeknd. Jake Lawlor will now present the plan to the Board of Athletic Control, since Senate approval was given.

Senate Chooses Esplin As Head Of Ski Carnival

The Reno Ski Club has offered both physical and financial help in sponsoring the ski carnival this year. Bob Ramsey, president of the Ski Club presented the idea to the Senate which approved it.

Red Esplin, confirmed by the Senate as general chairman of the event which is scheduled for Feb. 22-24, plans to work in cooperation with the University Ski club and the Reno group in organizing the competitive skiing events.

Since the Silver Dollar Ski Derby is not being held this year, the city ski enthusiasts have decided to back the university celebration. They have offered to furnish the timers and other officials for the ski contests on Mt. Rose and fi-

Scripps'-Scraps

By ED SCRIPPS

Another Friday, another Sagebrush, and time for another column and the headache of trying to find something to write about.

Of course I could say something about the red light on the porch of the Tri Delt house a couple of nights back, but then nobody seems to know what it meant . . . Leastways the Tri Delt.

I could mention a certain volley ball game last Wednesday night, but then some individuals maintain that I mention one fraternity too much in this column, so all I could say was that a certain fraternity beat their hottest rivals for the Kinnear trophy competition in one of the first duels of the volley ball season. Incidentally, our Senate is trying to stir up a new Kinnear trophy to replace the long-lost one. Maybe this year the high point organization will get something more than kind words.

WHAT THE WELL DRESSED GAL SHOULD WEAR . . . Panhellenic, the almighty rulers of campus women, were discussing costume dances or something the other day, and came up with this novel conclusion. The gals don't have to be risque to be popular. That's a fine observation, but I don't know what you are worrying about. Winston defines risque as dangerous, perilous, full of uncertainty, venturesome or bold, heedless of danger. I'm afraid I haven't seen anything like that around here, and I don't know that it wouldn't be an improvement anyway.

SENIOR PARTY TIME . . . Pack your kegs seniors, and head for Galena creek next Sunday. Senior Prexy, Wayne Ashley is planning a gala afternoon for the first senior social function.

MORE PARTIES . . . Another busy weekend for the social calendar, Pi Phi and ATO's are planning costume dances for tomorrow night, while Phi Sigs and Sigma Rhos are also planning functions for that night.

SOMEBODY CHEATED . . . Those of you who thought you saw the Sophs beating the Frosh in the tug of war at the homecoming game a couple of weeks ago, were sadly mistaken. It seems the Sophs had an ineligible man in their ranks, and hence the upper class committee ruled the Frosh winners by default. As to the traditional dunking for the winning classes' manager, rumor has it that both Bert Munson and Otto Schulz will be going for a swim on November 20. On the same date Frosh gals and guys will be able to discard their dinks and ribbons.

STUDENT UNION BUILDING . . . Plans for the new student union building seem to be really getting somewhere. LEN SAVAGE and his committee seem pretty optimistic about the whole thing. They have armed themselves with much data on other student union buildings throughout the country and soon will start questioning students.

When the letters were being sent out to colleges and universities, somebody wanted to be sure every possibility was covered, they even sent an inquiry to the American university in Lebanon. It was returned for lack of necessary postage and nobody seemed to know who sent it.

BACKFIRE . . . Some pranksters, and I wouldn't know who of course, dumped a load of firewood on the Theta lawn the other night, and the gals being no dummies, and still worried about those clothes they lost last week, picked it up and stored it away for the cold winter ahead.

Whispers around campus . . . some talk of football coming back in full swing at the U. of N., opinions are varied. Students could help things along one way or another if they dropped a line to the Sagebrush and gave their opinions on Nevada football a chance.

AT LAST . . . Somebody has finally gotten around to doing something about the road down in "skunk hollow."

POOR CAL . . . The Cal haters are really gloating these days. It seems the Golden Bears are up to par. Tickets for the Cal Washington game are a dime a dozen around here now.

You lucky people, for two weeks now you won't have to read this column. I'm going east to Detroit next week for an SDX convention and the following week is Thanksgiving. S'long.

Have a good time, Ted. The training you got at the Miami SDX meeting last year should stand you in good stead. Ed.

Nevada Has Unique Type Of Fish Never Found Elsewhere In World

By JOHN O'NEILL

Nevada leads most other states in the unique and unusual types of fish fauna, found in the fresh waters of the state.

Dr. Ira LaRivers says the trip which the biology department made into Ash Meadows last summer verified this fact. He also says the chain of lakes which were joined by stream channels from end to end of the state, were found as the result of curiosity concerning the genera and species of fish found in isolated warm springs and marshes about the state.

Four unusual species of fishes that are not found anywhere else in the world are living in the warm springs and marshes of Nevada. Ash Meadows springfish and Pahump Valley springfish are of the same genera but of slightly different species, each living in its own secluded spot. Both species live in waters around 90 degrees in temperature.

The field trip of the past summer also revealed strange insects in the waters of the warm springs. Like the fish, these are not found anywhere except in the area around Ash Meadows in Nevada.

EE Students Visit Industrial Plants In San Francisco

Visits to five industrial plants in the San Francisco bay area highlighted a field trip made last week by six EE students and two professors.

Jim Eliades, Hassel DePree, Weldon Hedges, Charles Sonner, Bruce Belnap, George Shonz, Professor Harold Hendriks and Professor Milton Seymour left Thursday afternoon by automobile, and spent the week-end touring the most representative types of industry in their field of engineering.

The students inspected KGO-TV in San Francisco, Eitel-McCulloch (Eimac), manufacturer of various types of electronic tubes; a General Electric transformer manufacturing plant; Union Oil company; and Contra Costa steam plant, the most modern power plant in the world and the largest on the Pacific coast.

The visitors saw former Nevada graduates at the General Electric company and Union Oil company.

Mexico last summer as an advisor to a group of students from Stanford university.

Host and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil W. Creel, Mr. and Mrs. Felton Hickman, Miss Virginia Carroll and Miss Mildred L. Swift.

Love Hits Road To Attend Parley Of College Heads

Dr. Malcolm A. Love, university president, is on his way to Houston, Tex., where he will attend a meeting of heads of land grant colleges beginning Sunday.

Nevada has been without its top man since last weekend when Dr. Love left for San Francisco. A meeting of the executive committee of the Western Colleges association scheduled for that Friday afternoon, and an evening meeting with the bay area alumni association started off his official tour.

On Saturday he attended a semi-annual meeting of the Western College association at the University of Santa Clara. His schedule eased up after the weekend with the Houston meeting as the next official business to take care of.

Dr. Love will spend all of next week at the land grant gathering. He expects to return to the university before Thanksgiving recess, probably on November 20.

Sun's Atmosphere Topic of Lecture

"Daily observation of the sun's atmosphere is providing the world with valuable information," Doctor Walter Orr Roberts told a large group of listeners at the lecture Thursday, November 1st.

The lecture, titled "Unsolved Problems of the Sun's Atmosphere," was sponsored on campus by Sigma Xi society.

Dr. Roberts is the superintendent and director of the high altitude observatory of Harvard University and the University of Colorado at Climax, Colorado. The observatory is located exactly atop the continental divide at an altitude of 11,500 feet.

He mentioned among other things that the sun has been bombarding the earth with energy for approximately two and one-half billion years and is losing some of its reserve energy.

"In fact," said Dr. Roberts, "at the present rate of loss the sun will have discharged itself in another ten billion years."

Solar Flares

Solar flares, which Dr. Roberts described as outbursts of exceptional forces and velocity, are of particular concern to us. They blot out our radio communications for the period of time they exist in the earth's atmosphere. The longest observed blackout from this source has been one and one-half hours.

These flares may be responsible for the helium in our atmosphere, as the phenomenon consumes hydrogen in combinations of four atoms and leaves as ash which is helium.

Lynn Horner, Delta Delta Delta, announced her pinning to Lowell Miller, Alpha Tau Omega, at the Tri-Delt house, Monday night. Lynn was the 1949 Homecoming Sweetheart, and Lowell is president of the ATO house, and business manager of the Sagebrush.

Inter-Faith Council Sponsoring Dinner

Inter-Faith council is sponsoring a get-together dinner and party Saturday, November 17, at the Galena creek ski hut, Jennie Gibson, president of the group, announced this week.

Transportation is being arranged by Bob Petrini, who will schedule cars leaving at different times throughout the afternoon, beginning at four o'clock. Students who can leave at that time should meet in front of Stewart hall, Petrini stated.

A chili dinner is planned for about six o'clock, and entertainment and dancing will round out the evening. The dinner will cost 75 cents per person which can be paid to Jennie Gibson, Nancy Swope, or any other member of the council by next Friday.

Ski Club Rates Set For Season

Special tow rates for members of the Ski Club at Donner Summit and Mt. Rose, was assured by Bob Ramsey, president of the Ski Club at their meeting November 7.

Precautions against non-members using the rates will be taken this year by sending facsimile membership cards to all places giving special rates. The Ski Club is also trying to get special rates at Squaw Valley.

A car pool questionnaire is being compiled by the clubs to facilitate transportation to and from the ski area.

The Swap Shop is being started again for the campus ski enthusiasts. Anyone desiring to purchase or sell extra ski clothes may do so by contacting Ramsey.

Ski Club meetings are held the first and third Wednesday of every month at 8 p.m. so Senate members and those at other meetings may attend.

Wolf Den To Erect Larger Building; ASUN Book Store Plans To Expand

That hole in the ground at the corner of Ninth and North Virginia will be a new $25,000 dollar Wolf Den. The new structure is being built by John Pelizzari, owner of the Wolf Den.

Since the University Book Store is planning to expand and will take over the entire building it now occupies, the Wolf Den will move to new quarters.

Mrs. Schindler, the operator of the Wolf Den, says her plans for the new restaurant include numerous improvements. "The place will still have the same friendly atmosphere I hope," said Mrs. Schindler.

A "rumpus room" in the basement is included in the plan. This room will contain card tables, a pool table, table tennis and various other games. It will also have a snack bar which will serve fountain drinks.

This room will be available only to students and at no charge, except for damage to property. It will also be available for any group function at no charge.

A dance floor will be built in the basement with accommodations for a small orchestra. Normally, though, the music will be furnished by a 100 selection juke box.

Ground floor plans are for a fountain and lunch counter set up similar to the present one. Mrs. Schindler hopes the new one will be more comfortable and offer more room.

Mrs. Schindler hopes the building will be completed by early spring.

Picture Quiz

1. To meet the growing needs of our civilian and military economy, the U. S. oil industry has spent over $12 billion in new facilities since World War II. This has expanded the capacity of the industry from 30% to 50% in all categories. Where did most of the $12 billion come from?

- Check one:
- BANK LOANS
 - U. S. GOVT. SUBSIDIES
 - REINVESTED PROFITS

2. How much investment does it require to provide a job at Union Oil Company?

- Check one:
- $720
 - $3,000
 - $67,000

3. Last year Union Oil made a total net profit of $16,257,000. $5,724,000 of this was plowed back into the business to meet the expanding needs of our customers. $10,533,000 was paid out in dividends to our common stockholders. What did these dividend payments average per stockholder?

- Check one:
- $292
 - $5,276
 - $10,420

4. In 1910, Union Oil Company did an annual volume of $12 million. This represented 23% of the total oil business in the West. Today we do an annual volume of well over $200 million. What percentage of the total oil business in the West do we have today?

- Check one:
- 23%
 - 12%
 - 30%

Answers:

1. 88% of this expansion was financed from reinvested profits. This percentage is traditional in the oil business and many others. That's why excessive taxes on corporation profits will seriously curtail the nation's economic growth and seriously affect your standard of living. For without adequate profits, expansion is impossible.

2. $67,000. High-cost tools are typical of the oil business. So is the large amount of capital required for raw-material supplies, transportation systems, etc. That's why it takes an investment of $67,000 in refineries, ships, tools, rigs, oil lands, etc., for each of Union Oil's 7974 employees.

3. $292. $10,533,000 is a lot of money, but it was divided among a lot of people. For we have over 36,000 individual stockholders in the Union Oil Company. And our largest single stockholder owns only 1 1/2% of the total stock.

4. 12%. We do 18 to 20 times our 1910 volume. But we have a smaller percentage of the total business — mainly because the industry is far more competitive. There are many more oil companies competing for the business today than there were in 1910.

Senior-Soph Team Wins Mural Game

Neil Garrett's pin point passing and able ball packing were not enough to win as the junior-freshman lost to the senior-sophomore's 26-14 in an intersquad game held last Saturday at Mackay stadium. This game ended the brief two game season for this year's version of the Pack.

Trailing 12-0 when the second half started, the Blues (junior-freshmen) got rolling on the one man performance of Garrett. Using a punt formation on every play Garrett completed pass after pass, two for touchdowns and picked up first and tens on several occasions by running.

The White (seniors and sophomores) were helped by the running of big Marv Byars. Byars, ace quarter miler for the university in the spring, tallied twice on runs of 44 yards and 16 yards. The 190-pound speedster was most lethal on end sweeps.

Unexpected was the performance of Ed Stevens for the Whites. Stevens scored in the second quarter on a 37 yard jaunt and was a consistent ground gainer.

The whites took the opening kickoff and marched to a touchdown on the first series of plays. Runs by Stevens and Byars advanced the ball to the Blue 44 yard line. Then Byars took the ball, swept left end, cut straight down field and out-raced all pursuers to the goal line.

Ray Gonsalves handled the first quarter for the Whites as signal caller, but Bill 'Irish' Ireland engineered the second White score as he dispatched Stevens from the 37 yard line to a six pointer.

In the second half George Schindler, the unsung hero of the day, scored for the Whites from five yards out. Schindler could be called the hero, as he was the smallest man on the field. Byars completed the scoring for the Whites.

The Blues scored when Garrett began his accurate passing by nailing Proctor Hug, jr., with the ball in a gain that carried the Blues from their own 37 to the White 34. A few plays later Garrett plunged over from the four. This was in the third period, but a passing attack by the Blues in the fourth ended when Lou Lemaire snagged a 35 yard Garrett pass for a touchdown.

In summing up the game it was noted that the tackling and blocking was fierce for an intersquad game with many examples of fine line play and defensive ball.

Frosh Hoopsters Start Workouts

A basketball schedule for the university frosh team is shaping up and will include many western conference high school teams, some junior colleges, and possibly Las Vegas high of the southern conference.

The complete schedule will be announced soon.

In the meantime, freshman hoop coach Hugh Smithwick is directing daily workouts and plans to stress fundamentals during the first few practices.

Twenty-seven have reported for the team thus far. They include centers, John Martie, Paul Rutherford, Richard Davies, Ronald Munk and Bob Tomason; forwards, Duane Gardner, Clair Earl, Ronald Graham, Dave Mentaberry, Dave Traitel, Lelan Ceccarelli, Otto Schultz, Tom Hardester, Glenn Dory, Larry Oxborrow, Vance Hansen, Clyde Echols and Chuck Evans; guards, Bob Hage, Ed Davies, Gordon Cutler, George Gadda, Gerry Svob, Maurice Petri and Bob Quinlan.

Pack Tracks

By DAVE MATHIS

Football at Nevada ended last Saturday with the intersquad game between the Seniors and Sophomores and the Juniors and Freshmen. The game marked the ending of an interclass football program that was set up to take the place of the regular Wolfpack at Nevada.

To the guys that gave their time to practice on the team, play in the homecoming game and in the intersquad game I think the student body owes a great big hand and a thank you. Without their services homecoming would have been stale indeed.

Jake Lawlor, Hugh Smithwick and "Doc" Martie also deserve credit for the time they put out in shaping up the team.

Because of the two game schedule many of the players or I might add most of the players were not mentioned in the Brush. This was not because of any preference to players but because of the space to which the articles were limited.

Fellows like Bob Kearns, Bruce Hicks, Al Barham, Lou Garneau, Mickey Cuff, Bob Quinlan and Dave Traitel, defensive and offensive backs; Mike Leslie, Wes Ebel, Stu Keller, Bob Hage, Pat Myers, Ted Covington, Rollan Melton, Don Eccles and Dick Davies on the line played fine football and deserve mentioning. This list does not by any means include all the fellows who played hard and hearty football. There were many more but since I was not in there with the guys in the game I don't know just who played well.

Good news for the ski team comes in the person of Hal Codding who was again appointed as ski coach for the ensuing year. He has handled the greased slat artists for the past two years and has turned out well rounded teams.

Basketball is proceeding at a brisk pace. Coach Lawlor has been working out his charges for the past two weeks and from what I've seen at practices some brisk competition is developing for positions even with the returning lettermen.

Football sidelights: In the intersquad game an amusing incident occurred when a White fumble resulted in a big pile up over the ball. As the referees were unpiling the players, they were hollering that their respective sides had recovered the ball.

"It's a white ball" said one followed by a fiery retort of "Blue recovered that ball." About this time the referee got to the bottom of the pile and saw that the Blues had recovered and said so. It was at this time that one Blue player said "You're d— right blue recovered."

Fine Arts Club To Sponsor Display Of Thirty-Five Water Color Paintings

"Colorful, vivid and clear," said Lura Ward, president of Fine Arts club as she described the water color paintings by James Lawrence now being shown in the temporary buildings. "I especially like the familiar snow scenes of Carson Valley," she said.

Thirty-five water colors of different scenes will be displayed until November 18, from 1 to 4 p.m. every day except Saturday. Fine Arts Club is sponsoring this exhibit as their first attempt this year to bring original paintings by contemporary artists to the University of Nevada students.

James Lawrence of Carson Valley is known for his clarity, simplicity and sincerity. The Nevada State Journal said "Moonlight in Carson Valley" is especially well done.

Subjects Vary

The show has a wide variety of subject matter including west coast seascapes, Antelope valley, desert views, and some eastern and southern painting done in Memphis, New York and New Orleans.

Although Mr. Lawrence has lived in Nevada the past six of his 41 years, he formerly lived in the San Francisco bay area where he was a member of "California Water Color Society," and the "Thirteen Water Colorists." His paintings of 18 picturesque scenes along the Western Pacific right of way prompted that company to take him on a tour of the principal cities served by that railroad.

New York Exhibit

Lawrence worked his way around the world on a tramp steamer after his graduation from the University of California at Davis. He had planned to go into ranching but the influence of art was too strong.

After studying art in San Francisco, New York and Los Angeles, he gave his first exhibition in New York in 1941. A New York Times

Brushfire Forms Policy Committee

A policy committee for the Brushfire, student literary magazine, was named at a special meeting held Friday, Nov. 2.

Dr. C. G. Laird and Mr. L. T. Gibby of the English department, Dr. Christian Melz of the foreign language department, and Arthur Boardman, previous Brushfire editor, were named to the committee by the English department. Don Petroni was later named to the group by the creative writing class, critic said he "compasses mood and atmosphere with great effectiveness." Since then he has given many national and international exhibits of both water colors and photography.

and the committee itself appointed Joan Love and Stan Miller to the group.

Dr. Laird, chairman, announced that there would be a meeting Nov. 16 to appoint an editor, business manager and an editorial board. Anyone interested in applying for any one of these positions is asked to leave word before Nov. 9 at the English department, stating name, position in which interested, and resident address and phone number.
