Snack Bar Sports Holiday Trimmings Courtesy YWCA

Christmas has hit the Stewart hall Snack bar!

A tall green cedar tree, hung with tinsel and artificial snow, has been set up in the corner of the room.

Boughs of cedar and pine decorate the arches of all the doors, as do clusters of white and red pine cones. The windows are spotted with snow drops and small drifts.

So-o Many Yet

Two or three Santa Clauses are pinned up on the walls in their traditional red and white costumes. A fireplace covers one section of the wall and stockings are hung in readiness.

Greens Were Hung

The Christmas atmosphere was the result of the YWCA's annual "Hanging of the Greens" party. Diane Lewers was in charge, assisted by all the YWCA members and YWCA advisory board members.

Vanna Grant and Gene Garriott drew the life size Santas and the fireplace.

John J. Sullivan Dies In Reno

Dr. John J. Sullivan, prominent Reno physician, died this morning after a long illness.

Dr. Sullivan was a graduate of the University of Nevada with the class of 1898. In 1909 he was elected to the board of regents of the university, and served two terms in this capacity.

He was superintendent of the State Mental hospital in Sparks from 1915 to 1919, and for many years was a member of the State Board of Medical Examiners.

Early this year he resigned his post as chairman of the State Board of Health.

At this time specific committees in charge of arrangements have not been named.

Musical Program Heard At Meeting

The third in a series of eight Faculty club meetings and programs took place on Tuesday, December 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the Home Economics room of the Agriculture building.

The hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Glimm and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Plumley.

Entertainment was arranged for by Professor T. H. Post. On the program, as soloist, was Mrs. La Verne Varni, who sang an aria from "La Traviata" by Verdi, "Al-lu-lu-lu" by Mozart, "The Virgin Slumber Song" by Reager and "The Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod.

Mrs. Varni was accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Post.

SAE Carolers

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon song team composed of Buzz Etcheto, Charles Hicks, Ken Duck, Gene Brown, Bob Cooper, Don Harris, Joe Moose and Jim Walsh added Christmas flavor with a program of carols.

Student Donors In Blood Drive

Dr. Malcolm A. Love, president of the University of Nevada, showered heavy praise on students and faculty alike for their cooperation in donating blood for Korean war casualties.

One hundred and twenty-five persons from 'the hill' turned out between 1 and 7 p.m. Tuesday to contribute a pint of blood at the Charles O. Sweetwood blood procurement car, which was stationed at the Western Pacific depot.

"I was filled with pride because of the wonderful support University of Nevada students gave to this humanitarian project," Dr. Love said. "Students and faculty alike may be justly proud of themselves."

The 125 pints of blood collected during the afternoon were flown to San Francisco, and, by Wednesday noon, were on their way to the Korean front.

Only five donors were rejected during the afternoon, an unusually low number according to Mrs. R. L. Osborne, Red Cross director of the blood drive. On Monday afternoon 20 out of 110 townspeople were turned down for various reasons.

The drive was marked by close cooperation between the university and the Red Cross. Throughout the afternoon students who had volunteered their blood were reminded of their appointments by the dean of men's office. Transportation from the dean's office to the Sweetwood car was furnished by the Red Cross, and by a 'standby taxi service' organized by Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin.

Students who could not meet their appointments were replaced by other students who could not be fitted into the regular quota, but who had enrolled for the donation. No more than three minutes were lost at any time because a donor failed to 'show up.'

Other students are expected to make donations of blood throughout the week. Student members of Naval Reserve were processed this afternoon.

Dean Griffin lauded students for their generosity in responding to the appeal for blood, and felt that the manner in which they took the process in their stride was "impressive." The dean himself was the first to donate.

Dean of Women Elaine Mobley was also impressed by the response, and quoted technicians in the blood car as saying they had never "seen a finer group of donors."

"No one should fear giving blood when the car returns," Dean Mobley said, "the nurses' technique and psychological approach was excellent."

Similarly enthusiastic about the donations were students who participated in the drive.

"More people ought to do it," said Jeanne Wilton, Kappa Alpha Theta, "there's nothing to it. Besides, you get free refreshments afterwards."

High in his praise, too, was Erv Billman, Lambda Chi Alpha. "It couldn't be for a better cause. I think the 'U' really did its part."

Walt MacKenzie, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and editor of the Artemisia, urged future donations. "I think," he said, "that anyone who is physically capable and has the opportunity should donate."

Investigation of Vandalism Continues; No Clue Given To Identity Of Culprit

Campus authorities are continuing their investigation into the vandalism which has occurred on campus in the last two weeks. No comment on the identity of the perpetrators was given by the authorities.

Minimum cost of repainting the posts of Stewart hall will be $10, said Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

OUCH!
Car tracks across the quadrangle are the most recent signs of vandalism on campus.

"How far is this going," asks Carl Horn. Recently someone drove an auto over Mackay field and did considerable damage there also.

He suggested that maybe the whole affair should be put up before the students themselves.

MERRY CHRISTMAS—HAPPY NEW YEAR

As we enter the holiday season, I feel that we should do so with a sense of real joy and gratitude for all the good things that are ours because we are a part of the University of Nevada. For this and for the privilege of living in America, we must be deeply thankful. These are gifts which cannot be put under the Christmas tree, but they make it possible for us to have a Merry Christmas.

Mrs. Love and Joan join me in wishing you one of the very best holiday seasons you have ever had. We shall be glad to welcome you back to the campus in 1952.

Sincerely,

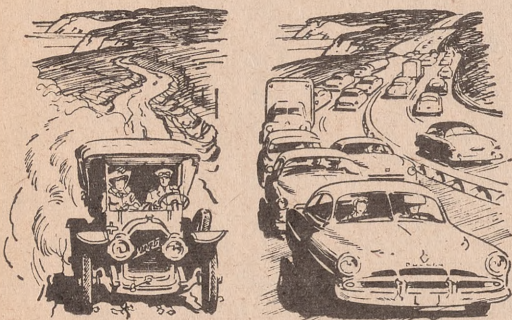

MALCOLM A. LOVE
President

The bigger we grow the smaller we get!

1. Today, Union Oil Company does an annual business of over $250 million. This seems like a whale of a lot of business when you consider that back in 1910 (when we were 20 years old) we did an annual business of $12 million.

2. But back in 1910 there were only 468,500 cars in the U. S. and the average American used only one quart of petroleum products a day. Today there are over 44 million cars in the U. S. and the average American uses 1 9/10 gallons of petroleum products every day.

3. To supply this steadily increasing demand for petroleum products, long-established companies had to expand and many new companies have entered the field. As a result, competition has increased. In 1951 there were 4 1/2 times as many oil companies in the U. S. as there were in 1910 — all in competition for your business.

4. Today we are among the nation's 100 largest corporations and are 20 times as big as we were in 1910. But here's the important point: 42 years ago we did about 23% of the oil business in the 5 western states—our major marketing area. Today, in spite of our growth, we do only 13% of the oil business in the 5 western states!

5. In view of all this, it seems rather strange to hear so much talk about bigness. Of course, individual oil companies are bigger. They have to be bigger to serve the bigger need. But the vast majority aren't as big in proportion to the total business as they were 42 years ago. In fact, they are getting "smaller" all the time.

"Messiah" Monday

Five Soloists To Be Featured; More Than 3000 Are To Attend

Five soloists will be featured in Reno's seventeenth annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" Monday, December 17, in the university gym.

More than 3000 are expected to attend the concert, under the direction of Professor Theodore Post, head of the music department.

Two hundred university students and townspeople will take part in the well-known Christmas oratorio. The University Singers and the Reno Civic orchestra and chorus will, as in previous years, combine in the presentation.

LaVerne Varni, one of the two soprano soloists in the "Messiah," was well-known in San Francisco music circles before moving to Reno. She performed one of the leading roles in the opera, "Tales of Hoffman," and has appeared as a soloist on both the Eddie Cantor and the Bing Crosby shows.

Ella Caldwell, the other soprano soloist, has appeared before many local civic organizations. She is also a soloist in the Latter Day Saints' choir.

Tenor soloist will be Robert Herz, who has become a successful singer after several years of study in New York. He has made many appearances in Reno churches.

Baritone Manford Hardesty has appeared as soloist in previous "Messiah" performances. Last spring he took the part of the preacher in the University Singers' production of "Down in the Valley."

Margaret Burns-Hawk, recently of Reno and formerly a well-known concert and radio singer in San Francisco, will be the contralto soloist. She has sung the famous arias seventeen times in various California concerts.

Verlita Johnson, a senior at the university, will be the pianist.

Usually attended by more than 3000, this year's presentation of the "Messiah" will be the seventeenth under the direction of Professor Post.

The annual free concert has for years been considered one of the biggest events on the campus, inviting a holiday get-together spirit between the city and the university.

The "Messiah," George Handel's most successful oratorio, has been presented in hundreds of communities over the years during Christmas time.

Accompanying the Reno Civic chorus and the University Singers will be the Reno Civic orchestra, made up of the city's best musicians.

The original music score, written in 1741, traces the life of Christ from his birth to his resurrection. The version to be presented Monday has been shortened to cover only the period up to Christ's crucifixion.

Composer Handel was born in Germany in 1685, but wrote his masterpiece in England. Although the finished product takes over three hours to perform, Handel took only three weeks to write the score.

Monday's concert has been divided into 44 sections ranging from choral presentations to solo arias.

The concert will begin at 8:15 in the New Gym.

Players Vote Yes On Football Plan For 1952 Season

Late Wednesday afternoon, nearly 30 gridders who participated in the fall football program unanimously voted to compete in an inter-collegiate football program next year if one is offered.

Al Matteucci, Block N representative, said that thus far, of nearly 300 returned questionnaires, only 20 have not indicated a desire to bring football back to the campus next fall.

The circulars were prepared by the student senate and were designed to find out what the students themselves think about resuming the grid sport here next year.

Christmas Assembly For Wednesday

Sorority Skits To Be Featured

"A Christmas assembly has been set for Wednesday morning," Sam Dibitonto, assembly chairman, announced this week.

The event had been scheduled for Friday, but conflicts with examinations and skiing events pushed it up to Wednesday so a maximum number of students could attend, Dibitonto said.

Actresses Yet

Five-minute Christmas skits will be presented by the four sororities, with a prize going to the best skit. The band will also participate in the program.

Business, Too

Otto Schulz will be sworn in as freshman class manager at the assembly, the first one to be held since he was elected.

Might Meet 'Em

Plans are being made to introduce the members of the varsity basketball squad and coach Jake Lawlor, if there is enough time.

Wednesday morning classes will be shortened to make time for the assembly. It will be held at the old gym.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 29...THE HYENA

Hysteria reigned from the moment he heard the details of those quick-trick cigarette mildness tests. First he giggled . . . then he guffawed . . . wound-up rolling in the aisle! He knew that the "single sniff" test or the "one puff" test didn't prove anything! Millions of smokers have reached the same conclusion — there's just one test that really proves cigarette flavor and mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

1,000,000

Numbers are important to our way of life. Everybody has one.

There is, for instance, a social security number, selective service number, an armed forces serial number, even a student body card number.

These numbers are essential. In a complex society names alone are not sufficient. There are God-knows how many John Jones and Jane Does, but with a system of numbers, there is only one 777-3748 or 8976-452.

These numbers grab away a little individuality, but they are good, they are efficient, and we like them.

There is one number, though—1,000,000—that should cause everyone to sit up and think. AND BE CAREFUL.

Because, between the time school closes for the Christmas vacation and the time it reopens again in January, the 1,000,000 person in the United States to die as the result of a traffic accident will be buried.

This 1,000,000 person has been designated as Mr. Million. Nobody knows where he is now, or what his name is, or how he will die.

But, die he will, and a speed mad generation will start a new page in the ledger of automobile deaths.

Now, none of you may ever know Mr. Million. If not, good. Read about him, think about him, remember him.

BUT—Mr. Million might be YOU. Or a friend or relative of yours. That is not an impossible statement. Accidents do not always happen to the 'other person'.

Last year during Christmas vacation one student was killed.

This year two died as a result of a Thanksgiving accident. One graduate was killed and several students injured because of an Armistice day wreck.

Holiday traffic is heavy and fast. There are more people on the roads during these times than any other.

And the death toll is higher.

Let's use common sense and caution to keep that millionth traffic death from hitting the University of Nevada campus.

Let's not have any of us become MR. MILLION.

TURKEY IS PRIZE FOR SKIING RACE AT UNIVERSITY SKI CLUB PARTY

A live turkey will step out of his usual environment this Sunday as he slashes over the slopes of Mount Rose with a pack of University of Nevada Ski clubbers hot on his trail.

The student who nabs the unhappy gobbler will take him home for a post-Thanksgiving meal, but the rest will stay on for skiing, partying and dancing as the Ski club holds its first party of the winter season.

Jeff Lobaugh, social chairman of the club, expects a large turnout for the party. Ski club members will be offered special rates on the Sky Tavern ski tow, and free refreshments will be served during the day.

Top event of the day will be the turkey race, which will be held just before the tow closes in the afternoon. All participants, including the bewildered bird, will be on foot.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," starring James Stewart and Jean Arthur, will be this Sunday's feature at the Education auditorium. Show time is 7:30. Admission 25 cents.

"Both Your Houses," a play by Maxwell Anderson, that was to be presented by the students December 18, 19 and 20 has been postponed until after the Christmas holidays.

Letter To Editor---

Dear Editor:

I call your attention, and through your good offices the attention of all the students, to the column, As I See It, by Dryden Kuser, in the Nevada State Journal of Saturday, November 24, 1951.

In these times of political and war hysteria, Mr. Kuser's article is especially noteworthy for its positive contribution to any consideration and discussion of peace. Mr. Kuser is to be commended for interjecting a note of objective reasoning, and a plan for action affecting peace which is so important to every one of us. As he says: "I cannot help but wonder how sincere is the world's desire for peace. It appears too often to be merely mouthings and not reflected in action."

It is alarmingly obvious that each of us is definitely affected by the present state of affairs in the world, and that our futures are jeopardized. In the light of this, and taking the cue for action from Mr. Kuser, I am enclosing a copy of his article which merits reprinting and student circulation, which the Sagebrush could make possible.

In reprinting this article, AS I SEE IT, I feel sure that you and your newspaper will earn the commendation and praises of our students, and that you will have, by action, also made a valuable contribution to peace.

Respectfully yours,
Louis A. Gayle.

Box 9154, University Station
Reno, Nevada

(If we were to reprint Mr. Kuser's column, about 40 inches of space would go by the board. We suggest Mr. Gayle, and any other student who wants to read the column, rush right out and BUY the Journal. Editor.)

To the Editor:

The students' reply to Red Cross requests for blood donations was overwhelming. In fact, people were turned away because the Red Cross couldn't handle them.

Men die from lack of blood, the need is desperate in Korea, yet there are many pints of blood not given because of a lack of blood donating facilities. Most donors had to wait 1½ to 2 hours to give. Some left because they could wait no longer. Many more would have given if the facilities had been available.

But, the hospitals and clinics are standing idly by, doing nothing to alleviate the shortage. Hundreds more would have given blood in the local hospitals where ample room and blood donating equipment is to be found.

Yet no offer came from any of the hospitals to donate their room and equipment to the cause.

I believe that when blood is needed every available means should be used to supply it.

UN Will Help March of Dimes

January 2nd Kickoff Planned

Eight students, representatives of campus organizations, and Dean of Women Elaine Mobley represented the university at a meeting in preparation for the March of Dimes, which will begin January 2nd.

The meeting of the Nevada chapter of the National Polio foundation held in the banquet room of the Hotel Mapes Tuesday night had the largest representation from the University of Nevada.

Two motion pictures were shown at the meeting. The first showed scenes of the epidemic in 1949 when thousands of new cases were added to the rolls of the many under continued treatment. The second showed the unique "Mother's March of Dimes" which originated in Phoenix, Arizona, last year.

Plans for the cooperation of the university group with the state chairman and committee were formulated in part and endorsed by the members present. Further plans will be made and presented for endorsement by the whole group at some later date.

Those present and participating from the university were Dean Mobley, Mardelle Kornmeyer, president of associated women students; Bert Munson, sophomore class manager; Mel Guerrero, president of the Rifle club; John Peterson of Blue Key; Robert Ballard, president of Delta Sigma Rho; George MacLean, president of Alpha Epsilon Delta and Jack O'Neill, chairman of a committee for student participation.

Honorary Group Initiates Senior Women Leaders

Two senior women were initiated into Cap and Scroll, highest women's honorary group on campus, Thursday afternoon.

Carlyle Grafton and Joan Pederman were the initiates who joined the group in ceremonies at Artemisia hall. The initiation was followed by a dinner at the Grand cafe.

Dr. J. E. Church, founder of the organization, took part in the ceremony and spoke afterward. Dr. Church is a professor emeritus of the university.

Cap and Scroll is an organization composed of women student leaders with high scholastic rating. Members must be president of a campus organization and have a 3.00 average.

Home Ec Club Gives Xmas Tea

Students in the Home Economics department gave their Christmas Tea, Thursday, December 13, in the Agriculture building.

Decorations were hung in the Aggie building, and in the Home Economics room there was a decorated Christmas tree. The tables and the serving cart were decorated with greens and colored ribbon. Corsages of holly and evergreen were given to all women guests.

All students taking home economic courses invited guests to come for the tea which was held from 2 to 4 p.m.

Senator Malone Guest Speaker At SDX Dinner

Newsmen, Guests Meet At Annual Dinner

Senator George W. Malone was the featured speaker at the press-government dinner meeting held by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, on Saturday night, December 1, in the Nevada room of the Mapes hotel.

Press-government dinners are annual events designed to give members of Sigma Delta Chi a background to the news. Because of established custom, the speech and all remarks made in the open question and answer period which followed are regarded as "off the record."

Senator Malone was introduced by chapter president Edward Scripps. Scripps also acted as moderator during the question period.

Guest speakers in previous years have included President Malcolm A. Love, former acting president Gilbert Parker, former governor Vail Pittman and Governor Charles Russell.

Fifteen professional and undergraduate members of the chapter were hosts to guests including former governor Vail Pittman and newspaper and radio men from several Nevada cities.

The Army and Air Force gives men and women an opportunity to go places and see things they normally would be unable to afford.

Nevada's Delegate Won't Identify Blond Companion

That luscious blonde pictured in last week's 'Brush with Nevada's representative to the National Association of Manufacturer's convention is still a mystery.

Ivan Eisenberg, Nevada's delegate to the NAM convention, knows only that she was a famous cover girl who posed with each state's student representative for publicity purposes.

Eisenberg rated, besides the blonde, a week's trip to New York City, with all expenses paid, to attend the national and the international manufacturers' gatherings.

He is a senior business administration student, and was one of 48 student representatives. Manufacturers and educators also attended the meeting, but Eisenberg was the sole representative from Nevada.

The convention, held this year from December 3 to 8, was aimed at ironing out problems in competition, cooperation and marketing methods, Eisenberg stated.

The full value of a soldier's and airman's pay and emoluments combined is greater than obtained from many civilian jobs.

In keeping with the Armed Forces unification program 14 Army schools are open to Air Force personnel.

Pat DeWalt Wed To Former ATO

Patricia DeWalt, former Gamma Phi Beta president, and Lieutenant Guy Cardinalli, Alpha Tau Omega and a graduate with the class of 1951, were married at a quiet ceremony Sunday, December 2, in Hawthorne.

Mrs. Cardinalli also graduated last year. She received her degree in journalism, and was president of the Press club. She was also a member of the Pan-Hellenic council, inter-sorority group.

In addition Mrs. Cardinalli was a member of Sagens, women's service group and a member of Campus Players, campus dramatic organization.

Her husband, Guy Cardinalli, accepted a commission in the army after his graduation last year.

Mrs. Cardinalli is now employed by the Mineral County Independent-News in Hawthorne.

Death Valley Trip Affords Geologists Sight Of Phenomena

"One of the oddest natural phenomena I've ever seen," said Professor Joseph Lintz upon returning from a four-day geological trip in Death Valley.

Professor Lintz was speaking about the strange movement of rocks that he and three other faculty members noticed in their exploration of a mud flat called Racetrack Valley in the southern part of the Ubebebe Quadrangle.

He and professors Vincent Giannela, Richard Larson and Harve P. Nelson were members of a geological survey expedition in that area. They noticed rocks, ranging in size from two inches in diameter to 18 inches, had left trails in the ground.

They concluded that the rocks must have fallen from the nearby cliffs and that the wind must have pushed the rocks along the ground, while the flats were damp. He said it was impossible for a human to do it, since the ground was muddy and the person would have left tracks in the ground. One trail of a rock was over 200 feet long.

Ice Skating Open

Although the ice is somewhat rough, Manzanita lake has been open for ice-skating most of this week.

Comparatively mild weather put a crimp in ice skating the previous season, but prospects are looking up due to the present cold spell and the early start of winter.

A few intrepid souls ushered in the ice skating season as early as last Friday. The ice by now, however, is several inches thick, and much safer.

Scripps' - Scraps. . . .

By ED SCRIPPS

Well here I go again, you lucky people. This cold weather has just about got me down. It's not so much the temperature that bothers me, it's the remedies that I use.

RAH RAH RAH RAH RAH RAH NEVADA . . . The new gym sounds like Mackay stadium these days, and rightly so. Jake Lawlor's basketball squad is really going to town. I'm still trying to recover from a case of nervous strain suffered during Wednesday's football, (excuse the slip) basketball game with Utah State. Congrats Jake, to you and your team, keep up the good work.

MORE CONGRATS . . . While I'm slapping people on the back, U. of N. Greeks met in the "Gow hall" last Wednesday night for their annual "Bean Feed." The spegetti was great.

It was quite an affair. Hal Fields, Sigma Nu, entertained on his "geetar" and Jake Lawlor made the chief address of the evening.

Colonel James D. Loewus presented the mammoth marksmanship trophy to the Sigma Nu's. I won't go into the winners of all the athletic awards, there are too many of them. The Kinnear trophy was presented in absentia, to the ATO's. Incidentally, it was announced that the Kinnear family will replace the long lost original trophy, in fact the new trophy is already in the melting pot at one of the Kinnear mining interests in Utah.

The scholarship award was again won by Sigma Rho Delta, who has taken scholarship honors 17 times out of the 28 times the trophy has been presented.

The big event of the evening was the presentation of a new trophy. The Raymond "Buzzy" Marks memorial Trophy for Sportsmanship. The trophy was presented to the Nevada fraternities by President Malcolm Love.

BARGAIN DAY . . . Last Sunday was bargain day for Reno skiers. Squaw Valley had a dollar day for Reno skiers, and White Hills, not to be outdone, hauled people up the hill for free yet. Of course the smart ones went to Mt. Rose where snow conditions, I'm told, (I wasn't so smart) couldn't have been better.

WHITE TIE AND TAILS . . . Formals still highlight the university social scene. One of these days some organization is going to cause a minor revolution on campus and hold their formal at Thanksgiving or something. It's not that I don't like formals, it's just that there are too many of them in too little time.

SHE SAYS SHE RAN INTO A TREE . . . Nevada skaters are busy people these days what with Manzanita lake all iced up. One of the more enthusiastic ones, Sue Heyman got in the way of a fast moving tree the other day and is now parading around campus with a beautiful shiner. That's her story anyway.

MORE BEANS . . . At the "Bean Feed" the other night, the Greeks were not alone. An annual visitor was present. At least a paper sack was seen peeking through the skylight on one of the doors. This phenomenon is not unusual, however, it appears almost every year, and I imagine a little further investigation would prove that the paper sack was wearing a skirt. At any rate, the silent visitor wasn't too well satisfied with the Greek's program, for the sack disappeared and a sign was placed in the window, bearing the charming inscription, "Bull."

AND STILL MORE BEANS . . . Some energetic person was digging around the university lately and discovered the original Nevada Alma Mater, the words were printed on the program, but nobody knew the tune well enough to lead it until Jake Lawlor volunteered his services. Well, Ezio Pinza's new rival did a fine job, and Nevada's old Alma Mater "U. of N. So Gay" has been reborn.

RED FACES . . . A couple of Nevada coeds got an invite to the Pi Phi formal last weekend. Well, they turned up, graciously accepted the free gardenias, and ignoring the vacant stares of the other revelers, went about having a good time. It wasn't till some time later that they discovered that they were at the Gamma Phi dance and not the Pi Phi dance. Oh well, they had fun.

MORE RED FACES . . . This time showing on the faces of the "Sagebrush" staff. It seems their story on the still in the basement of the mining building was accurate enough as far as it went, it just didn't mention the fact that said still was removed some fourteen years ago.

Press Club Party Celebrates Yule

A silver spangled fir tree and pine sprays set the scene for the annual Press Club Christmas party Tuesday night in the journalism building.

Members of the Press Club, a group of students majoring in journalism, attended the party, as did their guests, and the journalism faculty and their wives, Professor and Mrs. A. L. Higginbotham and Professor and Mrs. Keiste Janulis.

Mae Gregory, president of the Press club, and Leila Rowson, chairman in charge of the party, did the decorating and served doughnuts, coffee, and punch for refreshments.

Nu Eta Epsilon Is Now Sigma Tau

Membership in Sigma Tau, honorary engineering society, has been unanimously voted to the engineering department of the university according to Horace P. Blodgett, professor of civil engineering, this week.

"By unanimous vote of all active members, the engineering department of the University of Nevada has been accepted as a member in Sigma Tau," stated a telegram from the society's secretary to Professor Blodgett.

Professor Everett W. Harris, mechanical engineering, who with Professor Blodgett was instrumental in achieving the membership, expressed the belief that installation of the chapter will probably take place next semester.

At present the engineers have their own local society, Nu Eta Epsilon, which was established in 1923. There are 12 active members in Nu Eta Epsilon with Professor Harris as their faculty advisor.

Robert J. Morris, professor of chemistry and Professor Blodgett are already members of Sigma Tau.

Sigma Tau is one of two honorary societies for engineering and has 27 active chapters with 18,000 members.

University Singers Plan Yule Party

The first annual Christmas party of the University Singers will be held Wednesday, December 19, at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house, starting at 8:00 p.m.

Entertainment for the evening will include a piano recitation by Verlita Johnson, tenor solos by Charles Hicks, violin solo by Katherine Meyer, accordion selections by Geraldine Seaberry, and community singing of Christmas carols led by Professor Theodore H. Post.

Guests who have been extended invitations are Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. Love, Dean Elaine Mobley, Dean and Mrs. Robert S. Griffin, Professor and Mrs. Theodore H. Post, Professor and Mrs. Felton Hickman and Mrs. Mabel Rapson, SAE housemother.

'Family Stability' Lecture By Irwin To Close Series

U. of N. Journalists Spoke Last Week

Dr. Ralph A. Irwin, head of the psychology department, will be the guest speaker at the fourth and final program in the series of talks on "Civilization at the Cross-Roads" currently held at Temple Emanu-El. Dr. Irwin's talk, entitled "Family Stability," is slated for Monday, Dec. 17, at 8 p.m.

Speakers at last week's program were Professors A. L. Higginbotham and Keiste Janulis, both of the university department of journalism.

Prof. Higginbotham, chairman of the department, discussed the role of newspapers, radio, and public opinion. Professor Janulis discussed propaganda, explaining its objects and its techniques. Professor Janulis especially emphasized the need for effective use of propaganda by the United States in order to counteract the type of information being disseminated behind the Iron Curtain.

Discussant for last week's lecture program was Joseph McDonald, editor and publisher of the Nevada State Journal and treasurer of the Reno Evening Gazette.

Poynter Guest Speaker At AIEE Dinner-Meet

Mr. William Poynter was guest speaker at a dinner given by the university chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers last Wednesday evening at the Santa Fe restaurant.

Chairman Bruce Belnap introduced Mr. Poynter, who is with the Pacific Electric Company of San Francisco and is also chairman of that city's branch of the A.I.E.E.

Jolly Old Saint Nick Hired By YWCA To Give Kids A Bang-Up Xmas Party

Faculty And Student Children Invited

Santa Claus will be on hand to give presents to the children of students and faculty members at a YWCA Christmas party Sunday at three o'clock in the "Y" room of Stewart hall.

Baby Bonanza

Presents for each child have been hand-made by the members of the Wise "Y," a new group formed by the YWCA.

All children must be pre-school age.

Games and children's movies have been planned for the party. Refreshments will be served.

Arline Cave is general chairman in charge of the party. She will be assisted by the Wise "Y" group.

Students and faculty who have not received invitations are asked to stop in at the "Y" office and leave their children's names.

Clean-Up Drive For Snack Bar

May Not Pass Health Inspection

Unless students cooperate in keeping the snack bar clean, there is a possibility that the snack bar will not pass a state health inspection, said Norma Carnel, snack bar manager.

The possibility started a YWCA clean up campaign which began with a student poster contest. The contest closed Friday, and the posters will be judged before the Christmas vacation.

Hang 'Em

A stuffed dummy hung in the center of the room, dangling by its neck, was also a clean-up campaign symbol. The dummy depicted the student who left dirty cups around.

Signs indicating where to put trash, and encouraging students to dispose of their rubbish, were hung about the Snack bar.

Hasn't Worked

"The campaign has not thus far been successful," said Leah Gregory, who is in charge of the campaign. "The YWCA members have done their best to encourage cleanliness in the Snack bar, but student cooperation is nil."

Norma Carnel expressed almost the same discouragement. She said, "the condition of the Snack bar did improve for awhile, but recently has slumped deplorably, as is evidenced by the litter of used cups, cigarette butts and paper scraps."

Cut Rate Tickets For Ski Clubbers

A special offer of cut-rate tow tickets will be announced at the special meeting of the Ski club Wednesday evening. Bob Ramsey, club president, will take this opportunity to announce the new program offered by Mt. Rose to members of the Ski club only.

Tickets will be printed for purchase at the ASUN office by members wishing to take advantage of the offer. A cut-rate will not be offered on the hill.

Polkateers To Teach

Folk dancing will be taught by the Polkateers, university folk dancing group, to anyone who attends their first social meeting on January 10 in the Old Gym.

The Polkateers are interested in a larger attendance at their dances. All student and faculty members are asked to participate in the dances.

No fee will be charged for instruction, said Miss Jean McIntosh, women's physical education instructor.

Meetings will be held every Thursday, between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. at the Old Gym.

Instruction will be for the benefit of beginners as well as for experienced dancers, both men and women.

Graveyard Trip, Haunted House At Ghost Frolic

Lambda Chi Fetes Delta Delta Delta

By MARIE NIELSEN

Spooks haunted the Lambda Chi house and the graveyard behind it last Monday when the Lambda Chis and Tri Deltas "ghosted" each other at a "spook social."

A shrouded ghost rising from a coffin, borrowed from Ross Burke Co., caused one girl, unidentified, to faint.

Turkey feet and raw liver hanging down from the ceiling slapped the girls' faces as they followed a rope around in the dark house. Banshee wails and ghostly cobwebs completed the effects.

Before entering the "spook house" the Tri Deltas were led through the graveyard. A "body," also unidentified, hung from a tree limb and two mysterious gravediggers were hard at work preparing his final resting place.

The scene changed and the spectres became Hokey Pokeyites and Charlestonites. The spooks gradually faded after the refreshments were eaten.

Mrs. Charls Engelke, Tri Delta housemother, was the guest of honor.

Wolf Pack Swats Hornets; 68-51

Baxter Leads As Nevada Unbeaten

Last weekend's invasion by Sacramento State's basketball team failed to unseat the winning University of Nevada Varsity squad. The Wolf Pack swatted the "Hornets" from the California capital, 68-51 on Friday night and repeated on Saturday with a 58-45 win.

The top individual performance of both evenings was turned in by forward Mert Baxter who hit for 25 points the first night and although carefully guarded, came through with 14 the second night. Baxter made the first seven points in the opening game and was unbeaten during the rest of the contest. Better than half of his 11 field goals were dropped in from outside the key. Dan Vidovich, steady guard, was high for Saturday with 15 points, edging Baxter for the honors of the second contest.

Nevada drew ahead 19-10 in the first quarter of Friday's game and remained ahead for the rest of the affair. Sacramento outscored the Pack in the third quarter but was unable to overcome the Nevada lead. The "Hornets" employed the services of "Big Al" McFayden and Dave Brian, both 6 ft., 5 in., under the basket but Wolf centers Roy Larralde and Reggie DePaoli came down with the ball the greater number of times.

Saturday the Californians jumped to the lead and held it until the beginning of the fourth quarter. A 20 point scoring spree by the Pack thwarted the "Hornets" chances of winning, however. Sacramento lead 40-38 going into the last period, but two quick baskets by Ed Hancock turned the tide and once in the lead, the Wolves were not to be overtaken. Final again on Saturday's game—58-45.

Memorial Trophy Presented Council

Annual Bean Feed Held Wednesday

In memory of Raymond "Buzzie" Marks, the interfraternity council presented the "Buzzie" Marks memorial trophy last Wednesday night at the annual award banquet for the fraternities. The trophy will be awarded in the future on the basis of sportsmanship. Dr. Malcolm A. Love, president of the university, commenting on the award stated that Buzzie had talked to him about certain plans for promoting better sportsmanship on the campus, and since Buzz himself had maintained a record of fine behavior in interfraternity athletics this would be a fitting remembrance.

The two annual major awards, the Kinnear Trophy and the Scholarship cup, went to Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Rho Delta respectively. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, made the presentations.

For a moment at the feed the ATOs had quite a scare. They were expecting the Kinnear trophy but it was mistakenly announced that Sigma Nu had won. The error was corrected and the Taus finally relaxed.

Feature speaker for the evening was Glen "Jake" Lawlor, head basketball coach. Jake spoke on the benefits that can be obtained by the individual in fraternity life. He pointed out that not only do you have the advantage of being attached to a group of which you are an integral part but you can also participate with that group in their campus activities.

"I took part in athletics mainly while I was in college and in a fraternity because I was no Adonis on the dance floor" quipped Jake, then added "although sometimes I thought I was really dancing."

Coach Lawlor also stated that even though fraternity men are loyal to their organization, they have the spirit to promote campus and school affairs. He asked the Greeks to help generate interest in basketball since intercollegiate sport is one of the means for unifying students.

Individual trophies for athletic events were awarded as follows: softball, Sigma Nu; horseshoe singles, ATO; horseshoe doubles, Theta Chi; volleyball, SAE; basketball, ATO; handball singles and doubles, SAE; rifle firing, Sigma Nu; tennis singles and doubles, Sigma Nu; skiing, Theta Chi; cross country, SAE; track, ATO; and baseball, Lambda Chi.

Entertainment was provided by Hal Fields, Sigma Nu, who strummed the guitar and sang some western ballads.

University Band Plays At Loyalton

A performance of the University of Nevada band was given Thursday evening at Loyalton High school.

The band, under the direction of Prof. Felton Hickman of the music department, travelled to the northern California community by chartered bus.

The trip to Loyalton was another of a series of recently inaugurated public appearances that began with a campus performance this fall.

Just prior to the trip to Loyalton the band performed at the State Building in Reno.

Hoopsters Win!

Wolf Pack Romps Over Utah State 60-51 In Dramatic Closing Period

Scoring 20 points in the closing quarter the university's undefeated Wolf Pack hoopsters came from behind Tuesday to gain their sixth straight victory, a 60-51 win over a top-notch Utah State quintet from Logan.

Refused To Lose

After leading the Skyline conference team during the entire first half the Jake Lawlor-coached Pack faded in the third period, gathering only seven points and the Utah Staters had what seemed to be a comfortable 47-41 lead with less than four minutes left in the game.

But the Pack cagers, determined to stay on the unbeaten list, closed with a dramatic rally that left the season's largest crowd limp with excitement.

The final score was not a true indication of the closeness of the game, for, until the final minute of play, not more than seven points had separated the teams.

Field goals by Larkins, Vidovich and Larralde drew the blue and silver-clad Nevadans to a 51-51 deadlock, as the clock showed three minutes to go. The winners poured in nine points in the final moments on goals by Baxter, Hancock, Larralde, and free shots by team captain Bert Larkins and Dan Vidovich.

Baxter Again

Mert Baxter from Carson City led the scoring with 18 points and raised his average to 17.5 points for six collegiate games.

Janice Grodrian, Kappa Alpha Theta, announced her engagement to Bill Hansen, Sigma Alpha Epsilon. They plan to be married December 30.

WRA Admits 20 To Select Fold

ting an honorable mention. Charlyne Olsen and Carolyn Carrington were awarded honors in horseback-riding; and Patty Patterson given an honorable mention. No awards were given in softball or dance.
