Student Union Plans Ready for Engineers

Construction Should Get Underway When Building Conditions Favorable

Plans for building a student union may soon be put into action. The board of regents is considering recommendations submitted by the student union building committee at its last meeting, January 4.

"Construction of floor plans should be started by the regents, and building of the new union should get underway as soon as building conditions are favorable," the committee's report stated.

Popular Site

Most popular proposed location of the building was across from Lincoln hall and bordering Manzanita lake, a questionnaire presented last month to the student body revealed. Len Savage, chairman of the building committee, submitted the results of the questionnaire, along with the committee's recommendations, to the regents.

Second most desirable location, according to the poll, was across from the Education building in the present location of the student parking lot, Savage stated.

Facilities which should be included in the building, according to the poll, are offices for student officers, publication offices, graduate manager's office, alumni representative's office and A.S.U.N. senate room.

Eat, Drink, Etc.

A recreation room, combination auditorium, ballroom and theater, a combination soda fountain, snack bar and lunch room, a banquet room and a record and music room are also desired by the students.

It was recommended that two lounges be built, a student lounge and one for combined faculty-alumni use. Students would also like a trophy room in connection with the lounge, Savage said.

Pavilion, TOO

An outdoor pavilion, facing Manzanita lake if the first-choice location is used, is also asked for in the student poll.

Y.W.C.A. meeting rooms and offices and an information desk complete the list of student needs named on the poll.

Regents discussed the possibility of obtaining additional funds from the state legislature. Jeff Spring-meyer, legislative counsel, stated that there might be "an excellent chance for an appropriation" from the legislature matching the $300,000 being given by an anonymous donor for the building.

Faculty Drivers Bad As Students

Tickets For ALL

Citations for reckless driving will be issued to campus speeders under the university's new system of traffic control.

The Nevada state highway patrolmen, who are currently policing the university streets, say they can't possibly follow speeding cars and "clock" them accurately on such short streets.

Basing their judgment on the volume of auto and pedestrian traffic, the patrolmen will issue a reckless driving citation to any motorist whose speed is endangering lives and property.

Observance of the new stop sign at Ninth street and University avenue will also be enforced.

"The faculty and employees are as much at fault as the students," according to one of the patrolmen. "We're going to give citations to ALL violators," he added.

King & Queen To Be Chosen At Tomorrow's Junior Prom

"Plans for the 1952 Junior Prom tomorrow night are completed and all we need is the attendance of everyone," said Willard Esplin, junior class manager.

Four sororities and Manzanita hall have entered candidates for the "queen" and six men from the fraternities have been chosen to run for the "king" title.

Lynn Horner, Delta Delta Delta; Joan Foster, Gamma Phi Beta; Ruth Eachus, Pi Beta Phi; Mardelle Leonasio, Kappa Alpha Theta and Martha Oviatt, Manzanita hall are the queen candidates.

9 to 12 O'clock

Beginning at 9 o'clock and ending at 12, the dance will be held in the mezzanine ballroom of the Hotel Mapes. Dean Elaine Mobley has approved a special two o'clock hour for all the junior women at the request of the junior class committee.

Tickets, $1.25 per couple and $.75 stag, must be purchased at the door. The dance will be semi-formal.

Committee Members

Members of the junior class committee in charge of the prom are Joan Love, Gamma Phi Beta; Lynn Horner, Delta Delta Delta; Mardelle Leonasio, Kappa Alpha Theta; Ruth Eachus, Pi Beta Phi; Martha Oviatt, Manzanita hall; Frank Shadrack, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Fred Lee, Phi Sigma Kappa; Jim Brooke, Sigma Nu; George Myles, Theta Chi; Jack McAuliffe, Lambda Chi Alpha; Giles Altenburg, Alpha Tau Omega; Ken Yenter, Lincoln Hall.

Grads Evicted

Three former University of Nevada students have been asked to leave Victory Heights. They have been allowed to remain there since graduation because there were not enough accommodations for everyone.

According to Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, there is a waiting list of students for living quarters, and the policy of the school will necessitate their leaving. The spring semester will also bring additional students wanting housing.

March of Dimes Drive Gets off to Good Start

Basketball Crowd Contributes $67

The University of Nevada opened its March of Dimes campaign with the collections taken last Saturday night at the basketball game between Nevada and Chico State.

Jake Lawlor, director of athletics, and James McNabney, graduate manager, took charge of the miniature iron lungs which were passed among the spectators during the second half.

The response was very good and the auditor reports a collection of $67.00.

Further activities on campus will be confined to the individual participation of students and faculty in filling the mailing envelopes which have been received from headquarters, according to the chairman of the committee for university participation.

Students will man the sound trucks which will tour Reno and Sparks all day January 31 urging every family in the area to participate in the Mothers' March which will take place from 6:30 to 7:30 that evening.

Reminders Posted

During the night of January 30, students will post reminders over the area in preparation for the Mothers' March and the sound truck publicity which will preface

UN Students Tops In Deferment Tests

Beat National Average

Ninety-five University of Nevada men who took the selective service qualification tests last spring made higher scores on a percentage basis than the national average.

Only 33 per cent of the Nevada students examined failed to make a score of 70 or better. National figures show 37 per cent failed to make the passing grade of 70.

Nevada students made an average grade of 75 with a low of 50 and a high of 93.

Students receiving induction notices may appeal to the state board of appeals if they got a score of 70 or better on the examination.

the final phase of the campaign for 1952.

The Mothers' March is a technique originated in Phoenix, Arizona in 1950. At the dinner hour, or shortly after, the citizens put on their porch lights to indicate to the marching mothers that they wish to be called upon for their contributions in that final hour of the campaign.

In Phoenix, $45,000 was collected in one hour in 1950. In 1951, the procedure was tested again in Akron, Ohio, where it yielded $167,000 in the last hour of the campaign there.

This year the Mothers' March will be tried in Reno and Sparks. Mothers in each block of the two cities will make the rounds of the blocks in which they live and collect from the homes where the porch light invites them to call.

The police and fire departments of the two cities will cooperate with the mothers and haul the money collected to March of Dimes headquarters.

More cases of polio occurred in Washoe county during the past year than in all the years preceding, and the funds available were inadequate to care for the sufferers.

This year the drive will continue for four full weeks instead of the usual two. It is hoped that the response will balance the budget and maintain the essential funds for the year 1952 which may make an equal or greater demand upon the foundation, according to Dr. Rodney E. Wyman, State Chairman for Nevada.

Search For Aggie College Dean Finds No Candidate For Position

No Application On File At University

The possibility of locating a suitable candidate for the position of dean of agriculture in the near future seemed dim, when President Malcolm A. Love reported to the board of regents last week that no applications have been submitted to the university.

President Love informed the board that several colleges and universities throughout the nation have been queried as to possible candidates in their individual fields.

Big Job

The new dean's position will be one of coordinating the three branches of the agricultural department, the resident teaching, the extension service, and the experimental station. He will also face the problem of reorganizing the department and its program so that students will receive more time in the field than at present.

The possibility of having some of the students continue work in the field during the summer sessions is also being considered.

Four Predecessors

When the agricultural department does get its new dean, he will be the fifth person to hold the title. The position was first created in 1914 by the board of regents. Dr. Charles S. Knight was first dean and held that post until early 1920. During that period the agricultural extension service was established at the university.

Dr. Robert Stewart succeeded him and remained until 1943. Prof. Fredrick W. Wilson was then appointed acting dean of agriculture and held the position through the academic year of 1944-45.

Mr. Cecil W. Creel then assumed the position, but because of the federal law which states that there must be a director of the extension service, Mr. Creel vacated the position in August of 1949 to maintain his present position as director of the agricultural extension service.

May Reorganize

Recently President Love conferred with Mr. Charles E. Fleming, head of the experimental station, and Dean C. B. Hutchinson, vice-president of the University of California at Berkeley, in connection with the possible program of reorganization in the department.

3 Coeds Attend YWCA Convention During Holidays

Joanne Menu, Norma Carnel, and Alice Dulion represented the University of Nevada YWCA at Asilomar, California, for a YWCA and YMCA convention for the week of January 1 through 7.

"Asilomar is a spirit, not a place," said Miss Menu to a group of YWCA members in a resume of her trip to Asilomar.

The convention included a series of religious discussions, seminars and informal gatherings, she added.

Four hundred students from colleges all over the West Coast and from China, India and France attended the conference and participated in the activities, reported Miss Menu.

"I felt inspired when I returned from Asilomar," said Miss Menu, "I think there is a need for more religion on the University of Nevada campus."

Choice Of Service No Longer Given To Deferred Men

Change In Draft Postponements

Students will no longer be given 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

The reason for this move is that students are henceforth to have their inductions deferred rather than postponed, according to Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of the selective service system.

Recent amendments to the selective service act of 1948 provide that any student pursuing a full-time course of study, ordered for induction, is entitled to deferment and classification as 1-S until the end of his academic year. But he can receive only one such deferment.

II-S Deferments

A subsequent directive from the president provides for a classification of II-S, which defers students in the upper portion of the male members of their class or who score better than 70 on the selective service qualifications tests. II-S deferments are granted at the discretion of local draft boards.

General Hershey explained, however, that a student receiving his first induction order need only request the dean or registrar to notify his local board that he is a full-time student doing satisfactory work, and that such work was commenced prior to the date the order for induction was mailed. Deferment in such a case is automatic.

Based On Scholarship

It is only to be remembered, it was pointed out, that II-S deferments are based on scholastic standing, and therefore must be renewed each succeeding year, whereas a I-S deferment is a "one-shot" proposition.

Right of Appeal

The new law also grants the right of appeal where students, who meet the criteria for a II-S deferment, are not successful in their application. It provides that a student may appeal to the state appeal board within 10 days of the date the local board mails the notice that he has been placed in class I-A.

There is no particular form for making an appeal. A letter to the local board is sufficient. If the state appeal board sustains the local board but is split in its decision, the appeal may be directed to the national board.

In any case, a person entitled to a statutory I-S deferment must first be ordered for induction, before he can apply for deferment.

Women of the Armed Forces are eligible to attend the Armed Forces Information School.

CONFERENCE IN THE CLOUDS

Among the undergraduates on any college campus, you'll find the talk reaching up to the clouds. And once in a while—in a classroom, around a study table, or even in a bull session—a really big idea is born.

Big ideas come, too, from the men and women in laboratories, business offices, shops. But often these professionals are exploring a path first glimpsed in college.

How do we know? Because of the many college people who have come into the Bell System, where big ideas and a lot of dreams have taken their place in progress. The human voice, carried along a wire, first across a town, then a state, a nation, and now the world. Music and pictures and things happening delivered into cities and hamlets all across the land by radio and television networks.

We're always looking for the men and women who get big ideas—whether they're about people, or machines, or ways of doing things. It's the only way the Bell System can keep on giving this country the best telephone service in the world.

Students Tired Of Campus Pranks

Vandalism Getting Out Of Hand

By JACK PENMAN

Student leaders are unanimously indignant about the wave of vandalism that swept the campus in recent weeks. Typical comments were: "People who do this sort of thing are not proper material for college," was the opinion of Mary Ann McClure, president of the Campus Players. "The students can't expect the best cooperation from their instructors if they don't give their best cooperation in return."

"Vandalism on the campus is past the funny stage and steps should be taken to find out who is to blame and punish them," said Bill Jager, president of the S. A. E. fraternity. "Actually I believe it is some young group, possibly freshmen, because anyone who has been here for two or three years wouldn't cause such damage just for the fun of it."

ASUN Prexy

"The students should think before they act if they ever expect the cooperation of the faculty and the instructors toward the students themselves," was student body president Jim Eliades' remark. "The students should stop and think that the money might be used for something they want, if it didn't have to go for expenses of vandalism."

Will Go Hard

Vandals will now be watched for by the city police who will be patrolling the campus at night. If any person is caught he will be under the jurisdiction of strict state laws.

Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds, said there was considerable damage done during the Christmas vacation.

Doors, locks and windows in the training house on Mackay Stadium were broken and the estimated cost is more than $200 dollars.

Also broken were two of the numerous small concrete pots that are set at various places on campus. About a dozen pots were broken and each pot will cost close to $15 dollars.

Naval Reservists To Be Deferred

Undergraduates in the naval reserve should not request deferment unless they are in receipt of advance notice of orders to report to active duty, according to the latest information from the commandant of the 12th naval district.

College men in the naval reserve have been placed in the same class as those in the selective service, and will become eligible for successive deferments.

Reservists are advised that undergraduate students attending college at the time of their initial orders into active service, are automatically granted deferment until the completion of their present term, upon request. They must merely show that they are pursuing a satisfactory course of study.

Any delay beyond completion of the academic year can only be granted according to Selective Service standards. These standards are based on attainment of a score of 70 or more on the selective service educational examination for deferment; an entering sophomore must have been in the upper half of his class; an entering junior in the upper two thirds of his class; and an entering senior in the upper three fourths of his class.

Profit Loss Results In New Manager

Reorganization of the ASUN bookstore is now being conducted by James McNabney, graduate manager of the associated students.

A loss of $3200 was reported by the auditors since the bookstore was bought by the ASUN at the beginning of last year. The previous year showed a profit of $1200.

Auditing of the books in November showed that the store had a reduction in the percent profit from 20 percent in 1950 to 12 percent in 1951. The telephone and telegraph bills were also said to be excessive.

In an effort to reorganize, the board of finance control voted to dismiss Hamilton Prugh, last year's manager of the bookstore. McNabney replaced him January 1.

McNabney will divide his time between managing the store and his duties as graduate manager. Erma Lawlor, secretary to the graduate manager, will assume some of McNabney's duties.

Prugh was hired last January on report to the finance control committee. He was given a salary of $300 per month with bonuses at the end of the year if a good profit was shown.

Plans for expansion of the bookstore are still in the formative stage, according to McNabney. No action will be taken until spring.

Permanent Assembly Hour

Thursdays At 11 To Be Reserved For Assemblies

The hour between 11 a.m. and noon on Thursdays will be permanently reserved for student assemblies next semester, according to an administrative council bulletin issued this week.

The special assembly hour was established because shortened class schedules caused confusion, said Dean Fredrick Wood, chairman of the administrative council.

Wiped Off Schedule

All classes previously scheduled for 11 a.m. Thursdays will be given at another time. The only exception, military drill, will be scheduled at 11:00 Tuesdays and Thursdays, but will be moved to 4:00 p.m. on assembly days.

Professor Gale Richards, chairman of the assemblies committee, said the full hour for assemblies would serve the dual purpose of giving the students more time for their programs and avoiding the confusion and inconvenience caused by telescoped classes.

Professor Richards also said his committee had been trying for some time to set up a regular assembly period.

Will Add 10 Minutes

In the past, assemblies have been allowed only forty minutes. Ten minutes were shaved off each class period on assembly mornings in order to accumulate enough time for an assembly at eleven. The forty minutes time has seemed to be insufficient.

"The basis of the whole arrangement has been to eliminate confusion," said Miss Alice Terry, secretary to President Malcolm Love. "In more than one instance the irregular assembly time and short notices have been inconvenient to both faculty and students."

Bells and Buzzers

Singularly confusing, in addition to the short notice and odd times, was the clang of the bells along with the regular buzz system.

Dean Fredrick Wood, college of arts and science, said that it was now up to the student assembly committee to avail themselves of the extra time, and perhaps produce superior assemblies.

Better Than Ever

"The full hour offers the possibility of sororities and fraternities presenting skits in future assembly programs," said Sam Dibitonto, assembly chairman. "Hitherto, there has not been time enough to allow all the organizations to do this."

Professor Richards added that this new arrangement was not necessarily permanent, and might be modified or even dropped after it has been tried for a time.

UNKNOWN STUDENT holding the missing bell clapper. This mysterious character may be the one who returned the clapper shortly before the holiday.

Missing Clapper Returned In Time To Ring In Year

Taken From Bell Month Ago

Dr. Malcolm A. Love, president of the university, received a welcome Christmas gift from the S.A.E. fraternity.

Perhaps it was because he said "no more assemblies until the bell-clapper from the bell in Morrill hall is returned." Anyway, it was returned the Wednesday before Christmas vacation.

The bell-clapper was removed sometime during Thanksgiving vacation and its whereabouts was not known until a member of the fraternity left it at the president's office.

The bell-clapper has been replaced in the bell and is once again sounding out at the early class hour and will sound for any assemblies during the rest of the semester.

Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds, said necessary precautions have been taken to foil any further attempts at removing the clapper.

Inwood Resigns For Federal Post

Dr. Ernest L. Inwood, professor of economics, has resigned his position with the university to take a post in the state department in Washington, D. C.

This will be Dr. Inwood's second job with the state department. He worked for seven months in that branch of the government in 1945 after serving as Nevada state price director from 1942 to 1945 while on leave from the university.

No professor has been named to replace Dr. Inwood in the economics department, and it may be difficult to find a qualified person before the new semester starts.

Graduate manager Jim McNabney will fill in as acting alumni director, and a new chairman must be found for the publication board and the finance control board.

Dr. Inwood graduated from the University of Nevada with a B. A. in economics in 1927, and was a teaching fellow at the University of California from 1927 to 1930.

He returned to Nevada as an instructor in 1930-31, and was an instructor at CCNY from 1934 to 1938.

He received his Ph. D. in international economics from the University of California in 1935.

Time, Inc., had Dr. Inwood's services as credit manager for two years. During this time he was also budget director for Fortune magazine.

He was also review auditor for General Motors Holding Corporation for two years.

Dr. Inwood was appointed professor of economics, business and sociology at the University of Nevada in 1941. He taught at the University of Rangoon, Burma, as a Fulbright professor in 1948-49.

School Musicians To Meet In April

The University of Nevada will be host for the 1952 Western Zone music festival.

Professor Felton Hickman of the music department revealed recently that he is looking forward to a gala occasion when bands from the various high and elementary schools in this part of Nevada convene here on April 26.

Among events scheduled for the festival will be morning rehearsals of clinic bands, judging of individual bands by a music critic, and an evening performance in the new gymnasium.

Diagnosis, Please

Participants in the festival will be divided into four clinic bands. Since about four hundred musicians are expected to attend, each band will be composed of about one hundred handmen.

The bands are called clinic bands since the object of the judging is to diagnose. It attempts to discover a student's abilities and to find the spot where he fits in. It was pointed out that the festival was not necessarily meant to be a competitive affair.

Noisy Lot

Also held at this time will be a percussion clinic, consisting of 40 or 50 drums, and a twirling class.

As in previous years, the judge will be some noted music authority from the west coast or inter-mountain region.

In announcing the projected festival, Professor Hickman called attention to the unique opportunity afforded Nevada elementary and high school students to 'rub shoulders' with others of comparable ability.

Professor Hickman stressed the part the festival will play in acquainting students with the activities of their state university.

Cultural Center

"I believe the university should take its place as the cultural center of this area," he said, "and this music festival should certainly help it toward that goal."

He further pointed out that the festival serves as an incentive to music which is like that afforded by inter-collegiate competition in the field of athletics.

War Orphan

Following a war-time period of neglect, the Western Zone music association has in recent years restored the festival as an annual affair. The western zone of Nevada comprises Reno, Lovelock, Fallon, Sparks, Hawthorne, Gardnerville, Yerington, Stewart Indian School and Carson City.

Last year's music festival was held at Lovelock.

Men and women joining the Air Force today are staking out careers of service to their country.

The U. S. Air Force is ready to develop proficient airmen from basic recruits.

Sheeketski's Plea For Cash On Line Gets Postponed

Ask Payment For Three Years

Any financial settlement with former Nevada coach Joe Sheeketski for the three unexpired years of his contract will be postponed until the next meeting of the board of regents.

At a meeting of the board January 4, the regents decided to put off a decision since all the members were not present and since the attorney general's office had not reached a conclusive opinion. Dr. Louis Lombardi of the board of regents was absent from the meeting. Sheeketski's lawyer, John Furrh of the law firm of Pike, McLaughlin and Furrh, appeared at the last meeting of the board in October to request a cash settlement for the ex-coach's contract with the university. The contract had three years to run.

When the regents voted last summer to drop intercollegiate football, Sheeketski was dropped from the payroll in September. His contract, according to Furrh, called for an annual salary of $12,000 through June of 1952 and $12,500 for the next two years.

Furrh contended that the university owed Sheeketski $34,000, less whatever he earned in his new position as backfield coach for the New York Yankee football team.

The board referred Furrh's request to the office of William Mathews, attorney general, but no decision has been reached, according to President Love.

"This is a very serious problem," the attorney general said, "and I want to study the issue carefully."

Twelve Straight For Hoopsters

Undefeated At Half-Way Mark

The university Wolf Pack, only undefeated hoop team west of the Rockies, has rolled up a total of 772 points for an average of 64.3 per game at the halfway mark in their 24 game schedule.

The Pack's seasonal record of 12 wins, no losses, gives it one of the best marks in the nation. The local cagers have been outstanding defensively, limiting the combined opposition to 608 markers and an average of 50.7 points per game.

The blue and silver-clad quintet's chances of going all the way unbeaten will ride on its ability to whip such tough opponents as Fresno state, the University of Portland Pilots, Sacramento State Hornets, YMI of San Francisco and the College of Pacific Tigers from Stockton. The Jake Lawlor-coached team, in maintaining a clean slate, has downed Chico, Arizona State, Sacramento State, Cal Poly, Utah State, and the Cal Aggies.

Leading scorer for the university team is Mert Baxter of Carson City, a 6 ft., 2-inch forward, who has rolled in 189 points for a 15.7 average.

Baxter, a junior, also has the best single scoring performance of the season, a 25 point spree against Sacramento State. He may top last year's individual scoring high of 200 points.

Two other regulars have scored over the century mark. Roy Larralde, soph pivot man, has tipped in 124 points and Ed Hancock of Reno has 121.

Rounding out the starting five, guards Dan Vidovich and Bert Larkins each have hit 87 points. Reggie Depaoli has 61, Bob Wilcox 28, Jerry Wyness 21, Doug Douglass 21, Earl Jarrett 14, Dave Storm 9, George Assuras 5, and John Borda 2.

Nevada Chalks Up Two More Wins Over Chico State

Hancock, Larralde Share Honors

An undefeated Wolf Pack basketball team added two more wins to its impressive record over the weekend, downing Chico twice, 70-58 and 64-50.

A little erratic after a two-week vacation, the university five nevertheless had little trouble in whipping the Chico quint for the third and fourth times this season.

In the Friday night game, the visitors closed the gap to 51-47 as the Pack bogged down in its usual third period scoring slump. A typical final quarter point-getting splurge that netted 19 points enabled the winners to coast to their eleventh straight win.

Hancock-Larralde

Ed Hancock and Roy Larralde shared high point honors with 14 apiece for the Pack.

The final of the two-game series saw the Pack hit 28 markers in the second quarter after leading 7-6 at the close of the first period.

Football Return Awaiting Action

'52 Budget Only

Renewal of football on an inter-collegiate basis here next fall hinges on action of the board of regents in connection with the school budget for 1952-53, President Malcolm Love disclosed this week.

Smaller Scale

Dr. Love said that in the event gridiron activity is resumed next season, it would not be on the same expensive, big-time level of previous years, but on a smaller economic scale with Nevada playing schools of its own size and caliber. This might include such schools as Chico State and Cal Aggie, he added.

Encouraging

Dr. Love indicated that there has been an encouraging air of cooperation from many groups, notably the board of regents, a huge majority of the students, the present coaching staff and the entire, non-recruited, 60-man squad which turned out last year to "play football for fun."

Depending entirely upon the success of the board of regents in devising a satisfactory budget, a grid program here might include four or possibly six games against college opponents.

Staff Willing

The coaching staff has indicated that in addition to its present athletic responsibilities, it would be willing to handle the footballers in the fall.

Fraternities To Form Six Quintets; Competition Gets Underway Jan. 16

A fifteen-game intramural basketball schedule has been drawn up by the men's physical education department, with the opening game set for January 16.

It will be a six-team circuit with Lambda Chi, ATO, Theta Chi, Phi Sig, SAE, and Sigma Nu fraternities all entering quintets in the league. No independent entry was submitted this year.

The hoop play will extend more than a month with a final game slated for February 20.

Referees will be provided by the physical education department while timers and scorers will be furnished by the competing teams. Teams not ready to play by 4:10 or 7:40 p.m. will forfeit the game.
