Names pouring in for queen contest

Names are pouring in for the Teke queen contest, the highlight of this evening's Teke Spring Roundup dance.

Winner of the contest will be decided by a group of Reno business men at the dance tonight to be held in the old gym at 9 p. m.

Candidates

The Phi Phis are putting up Martha Lemmon and Vivienne Potter.

Representing the Artemisia-Manzanita association are Alice Welch, Judy McNeil, Merle Bracken and Jean Paulson.

The Tri-Delts so far have entered two in the race, Carol Doyle and Janey Thomas.

Gamma Phi candidates already announced are Diane Kridler, Mary Ellen Jack and Barbara Irwin.

Kappa Alpha Theta will be represented by four members, Margaret Stewart, Jacqueline Frazee, Elise Valentine and Carol Oldham.

These names are ones entered in the contest by Tuesday morning, and the list is expected to grow considerably.

The co-ed chosen queen will receive a cosmetic case now on display at a downtown store.

Restriction

President Paul Fox insists that the contest is limited to girls only. He added he hated to place this restriction on the affair, and did so only after several male entries were turned down. "A male," Fox emphasized, "cannot be a queen in the technical sense of the word, nor can he be considered a coed. What would he do with a cosmetic case, anyway?"

Fox has been busy the past few days interviewing candidates for the contest. Over the protests of other Tekes, Fox has maintained that he can do the job alone.

An interior decorator looked over the old gym Tuesday evening to schedule decorations. His comments on the situation were not released by President Fox to the public. However, it is known that the Tekes say no one will recognize the old gym after they get through with it.

According to the Tekes, everything is going on schedule for the big event tonight. "This should be something the university will not soon forget," said Fox.

Guest

"We will have the mystery guest there if we have to take the bar with us," he added. He did not clarify who the mystery guest was. "I will say it is not Al Capone or President Truman," was all Fox would reveal.

Besides mystery guests and queen contests, the dance will be equipped with such attractions as an orchestra.

Bruce Branson, his orchestra and vocalist Mary Clark, former associates of Tommy Dorsey, have been obtained by special permission.

Refreshments

Fox says refreshments will be on

Pageants, trick riders, horse races to make sparkling Aggie horse show

A colorful pageant of riders will circle the grounds in two grand entries to start the annual Aggie horse show rolling Saturday at 1:00 p.m. and Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Coronation of a queen, riding events and presentation of awards will follow the grand entries at the show May 10 and 11.

"I'll guarantee if there is good weather, this horse show will be bigger and better than the past five have been," remarked Dick Reid, Aggie horse show manager.

Stormy skies and chilly winds this week haven't given too much promise of fair weather so far.

Purses

Four $100 purses and repayment of entrance fees are being offered for finalists in the reined stock horse class, hackamore stock horse class, open cutting horse class and Nevada open horse class.

Ribbons will go to the first five places in all classes.

Trophies and rosettes will be on hand for quarter-horse, champion gelding, mare and stallion.

Merchandise certificates will be given for winners in the junior and senior trail horse classes.

Entries

"I've got over 100 entries which is equal to those of last year, ut all classes are still open," said Reid.

"I expect more entries and I know that some are on their way."

Thus far, stockmen from Nevada, Idaho, California, Colorado, Arizona and Oregon have entered their animals.

Five candidates will vie for the title of horse show queen to be judged and selected by spectators' vote on the basis of horsemanship and beauty.

Winner of the contest will be crowned by Dr. Malcolm A. Love on Saturday afternoon, May 10.

Candidates

Candidates are Leah Gregory, Nancy West, Betty Hammond, Nan Imperatrice, and Joy Blume.

Leah Gregory is a 19-year-old sophomore education major from Elko representing Kappa Alpha Theta. She is newly-elected women's senator-at-large, a member of WRA, Sagens, university service group, YWCA cabinet, PEMS, women physical education major and

Lovely lovely girls vying for election as Bonanza queen

Five co-eds will vie for the title of Queen of the Big Bonanza. The celebrated weekend will be started off with the crowning of the queen at an assembly to be held on Thursday morning.

Running for the honor will be Edith McDonald, Connie Malcolm, Berlien McCray, Marilyn Humphreys, and Joan Peterman.

For the first time since 1934, the queen will be selected by male vote instead of a beauty expert on campus. The last three years, Esquire art editors have judged Nevada beauty.

Judges

Earl Carrol was the judge for the eight years before that, and those selecting our previous queens included Bing Crosby and Dick Powell.

Connie Malcolm is the candidate from Delta Delta Delta. She is a member of the Fine Arts group, and senior Orchesis, dancing group, Miss Malcolm is from Henderson.

Gamma Phi

Gamma Phi Beta's are backing their president, Berien McCray, a Reno girl. She is also a member of senior Orchesis and of the Sagens.

Another Reno girl, Marilyn Humphreys, is the selection of Kappa Alpha Theta. She is secretary-treasurer for the associated women students and a member of the senate.

Joan Petermann, Pi Beta Phi, is a Boulder City student. She is a member of the Sagens.

Voting will take place Wednesday.

Lost and found department of Y yields treasures

With the end of the school year at hand, Pat Barrett decided to do a little spring cleaning in the snack bar. At the bottom of a clothes closet was a fair-sized box covered with an ample layer of dust. It held a collection of items that would give a young pack-rat a good start in life.

Hoard

There were well over a dozen fountain pens, including two Parkers; one Waterman and a Scheaffer; three and a half pairs of gloves; three bright-colored kerchiefs; one woman's box-type red handbag; a set of prescription glasses and some white and gold sun glasses; two sets of car keys; two change purses; two tubes of lipstick, well used; and at the bottom of the pile was a package containing five well dried out cigarettes.

The above list is the YWCA's lost and found collection. Mrs. Barrett stated that many of the items have been in the Y's possession since last semester.

She added that if none of the students come to claim them soon, she'll conduct an auction and sell "the mess."

Bonanza fete drags everybody into act

A wide variety of displays from the College of Arts and Science will be offered at the Big Bonanza next week said Proc Hug, chairman of the A&S exhibits.

Outstanding student art work will be shown in the art department. Jerry Stanford is chairman and Prof. J. Craig Sheppard is the faculty advisor.

Collection

A collection of plant and animal life and continuous lab experiments will highlight the exhibit from the biology department. Verne Woodbury is in charge with Prof. W. D. Billings as advisor.

Under the direction of Mike Rau-hut and Prof. S. W. Leifson, the physics department will demonstrate how a battery works and the process of chemical analysis. Student projects and continuous lab experiments will also be shown.

Demonstration of International business machines by the business, economics and sociology department will be handled by Dave Buckman.

Prof. James Hoyt and Frank Barsalou are the advisors.

Teaching

In the education department there will be projects, units and methods illustrating the teaching of the social sciences. Various constructions by pupils of elementary grades will also be shown. Other types of student work and practice teaching projects will be displayed. Barbara Van Meter is chairman with Elise Valentine and Diane Lewers as helpers. Miss Edith Reubsam and Prof. James Langford are the advisors.

Recordings of your own voice can be bought for $1.00 at the English department exhibit. There will also be a display of the books edited by faculty members. Joanne Menu is chairman with Mary Ann Norlen and Germaine Lartey as committee members. Dr. Robert Gorrell is the advisor.

History

Joan Love is in charge of the history and political science exhibit. Illustrating means of studying history, collection of rare books and a microfilm viewer will be shown in the library. Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history society is helping Miss Love.

Handbills printed on an old Washington hand press will be given to the visitors at the journalism department. Dave Mathis is in charge with Prof. K. Janulis advising.

Weapons

A wide variety of weapons will feature the military science and tactics department in the old gym. There is also a possibility of getting a viewer and films on the Korean war. Bill Williamson and Lt. Robert Brambila are chairmen and advisor, respectively.

All sorts of personality tests and a lie detector will be used at the psychology exhibit. Harry Hess, chairman, and Bob Coughlin with the help of Mr. Fred Petrides, instructor, have arranged for reactor testers and the galvanic response testers, in addition to the psychological tests.

A Washington hand press, relic of early newspaper days in the west, will be on display at the journalism department during the Big Bonanza celebration.

The journalism department will honor the donor of the hand press by using it to print a message of appreciation. Copies of the paper will be given as souvenirs. All typesetting and printing work will be done by journalism majors with the blessing of the local printers' union in Reno.

The press, which has been erected in the lobby of the journalism building on campus, was donated by Donald Segerstrom, a graduate of the department and now the publisher of the Sonora Union Democrat. The press has a history that can be traced back to the Bullfrog-Beatty boom days early in the century.

Movie

Among some of the other displays planned by the journalism department will be a full color movie of their activities on campus, a newspaper nameplate listing the names of papers that employ department graduates and an exhibit of Nevada high school yearbooks which are judged in competition each year by the university press club.

All displays will be made through the combined efforts of the journalism department, the press club, Sigma Delta Chi, Artemisia and the Sagebrush.

This year's Big Bonanza dance will be held in the new gym. Good music, good friends, good dance.

New Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Advantages To College Men Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is valuable postgraduate training that money can't buy! As an Aviation Cadet you can receive instruction and training worth thousands of dollars—at the same time you are serving your country. You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Aircraft Observer in America's swiftly expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. Seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can receive unmatched training in flying and leadership for the years ahead.

WHO MAY APPLY

AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base at Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and enlist for two years only!

4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting July 19, August 19, October 2, and November 19, 1952.

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year—either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer. Get $105 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate, win your wings. Commissioned second lieutenant, begin earning $5,000 a year! Receive $250 uniform allowance, 30-day leave with pay.

Queen selection has Twenty-year history

By DEE TURNER

This year's queen of The Big Bonanza, will be the 25th official queen to reign over a Mackay day celebration.

Although the first Mackay day was held in 1913, the tradition of having a queen reign over the celebration did not start until 1932, and even then, the queens were much different than the queen of today.

In 1932, three queens were elected to preside over the Mackay day celebration, and these three were elected by the student body as a whole instead of being elected by some far off "beauty experts."

The first duty of the queens in 1932 was to plant three trees on the campus. Then they started the chopping, pole-climbing and mucking contest. Later in the day, they supervised over the Whiskerino dance.

Over the years, Kappa Alpha Theta has had the most queens reign on Mackay day. They have had a total of seven from their house. There have been six unaffiliated students selected, with two of the queens being sponsored directly by Manzanita hall.

Tri-Delts have had five queens, with both Gamma Phi Beta and Pi Beta Phi having three each.

Underclass

Contrary to the tradition of having queens from the senior class, the first three queens were two sophomores and a junior. These queens were Geraldine Harbert, Tri-Delt; Hazel Davis, unaffiliated; and Donnie Sullivan, Gamma Phi Beta.

In the following year, there were also three queens. These were Mary Loomis, Gamma Phi; Clara Galvin, Tri-Delt; and Jean McIntyre, Theta.

One Queen

For the first time in 1934, one queen reigned over the celebration. This was Virginia Wheeler, Theta. Instead of having the student body vote on the candidates, their pictures were sent to Bing Crosby who selected Miss Wheeler.

It was also in 1934 that an old tradition was broken. For the first time, the Mackay day luncheon menu did not include beans. The main dish for the luncheon was meat loaf. It seems as if in recent years, the tradition has shifted to cold cuts.

Another Theta, Sallie Fagan, was selected in 1935 as queen by Dick Powell, movie crooner. Cecil B. DeMille then took over the choosing when he picked Rita Jepsen, Pi Phi, in 1936, and Genevieve Hansen, Manzanita hall, in 1937.

Last One

Kathleen Meeks, unaffiliated, was the last non-senior to act as queen. Miss Meeks was a junior and was queen in 1938.

Famed Hollywood director Frank Capra selected Marilyn Rhoades, Theta, in 1939. For the next eight years, Earl Carroll, Hollywood showman, was the judge of Mackay day queen beauty.

Cleora Campbell, Phi Phi, was queen in 1940, Aileen Angus, unaffiliated reigned in 1941. In 1942, Life photographers invaded the campus, and Shirley Huber received national publicity as queen. She was sponsored by the Tri-Delts.

Gone

Another Tri-Delt, Dorothy Casey, was selected in 1943, with a Theta following her footsteps in 1944. Miss Jan Dugan was that years queen. In 1944 five sororities sponsored queens, with Zeta Phi Zeta sorority leaving the campus soon after.

For the first time 1945, the luncheon was broadcast over radio station KOH. Beulah Haddow, Pi Phi, was the reigning queen.

1946's queen was Gloria Springer, Theta, and Tri-Delt Helen Shaw was queen in the following year.

1948 was the year of the reign of Gerry Parker, an unaffiliated student.

Esquire

The art editors of Esquire Magazine took over the choosing from Earl Carroll for the remaining three years. Rita Mortara, Gamma Phi, was 1949's queen. For the first time, a full figure picture of the queen was used in the Sagebrush—in a bathing suit no less.

Nancy Hecker, Theta, was elected as the most beautiful girl in 1950. Last year's queen, Shirley Hodge, was sponsored by Manzanita hall.

Chemistry students plan metal exhibit

The exhibit will include types of elementary batteries which will be used to silverplate other metals. Methods of chemical analysis will also be shown.

Students will exhibit chemical compounds and the methods of preparing some of these compounds.

FROM THE SIDELINES

by Covington

"Get the column in by Wednesday," the boss says. "We got to have it. I don't give a darn what's in it, we need it to fill the space."

"Yeah, yeah, but I don't have a thing that'll pass the censors, and besides it's pretty dull around here. Nobody's doing nothing. No beer, no parties, no nothin'."

"Listen Covington, we're not paying twenty cents a month for nuthin'. Get the blessed thing in. We're short, too."

"All right, but you asked for it. I'll talk about lithograph again, and tell nasty stories and the like. You'll be sorry."

A smirk. The boss rattles.

"Sorry! How could we be any sorrier? Someone else hires you and we're the ones who get stuck. Go ahead and talk your stupid head off about litho. Just take up a few inches."

"But they don't want to hear it again. How they can save money, and have a bigger, better book. I've already said mine."
"Write it."

"So I'm writing. So I'll try again. If they start now, they can do something about it. The publications board will listen if it is loud enough. Let the possibility be presented to them. It's hard to think of the next year now, but this is the time that next year's policy is made."

"So, write it."

"So, it's written."

It's sand, man: The Pi Phis hit the news this week, but in sort of a backward fashion. It was really Bill Forman who had to do the dirty—yes, dirty—work. Seems that someone left a small variety of cat on the front doorstep of the sorority house, and it was promptly adopted. Something was lacking, however, for the animal had not come properly equipped for domestication.

This is where Bill got into the act. He was elected to make up for the shortage and had to brave the aridness of the Nevada desert to find sand of the correct texture and consistency. . . . Don't ask the reason for it. This explanation has gone far enough.

The Reno Evening Gazette had a pretty tough time getting a picture of Myldred Cordes in the paper the other night. First, they got a big, black, empty square over the caption announcing Miss Cordes' candidacy for Reno Rodeo something or other. Then, when they found the mistake, they put in a picture of a gal who may have been Myldred. Who knows?

DAM: When the creek broke up by the new engineering building, the city sent two men to sandbag the street in an effort to save the nearby houses. The guys were sort of swamped and solicited aid from the SAE mansion. But all was in vain. The frat men were somewhat reluctant, for most of them thought the fastest approach to a new house was to wash the old house completely away. . . . That's the hard way.

Reminiscing: Admittedly in the past, but still worth remembering, is the time last year when a local coed went for a short swim at Bower's mansion, soon discovered she lost something, but found them floating in the water around her. . . . Not a false word in this story.

Smith scholarship holders celebrate

About thirty-five Smith scholarship students attended the picnic given in honor of their benefactor, Harold E. Smith, last Sunday.

Held at Bower's Mansion, the picnic was also attended by President Love and his wife, and Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Williams of the chemistry department.

Mr. Smith made no formal speech at the gathering, but held informal conferences with the recipients of his scholarships on their future plans.

Before the picnic started the students played softball. James

Hulse later gave a reading of "Casey at the Bat."

The luncheon consisted of fried chicken, potato salad, tossed green salad and soda pop. It was served buffet style.

The Smith scholarship consists of a thousand dollars in quarterly payments to the student for each of his four years at the university. One scholarship is allotted to every high school in the state each year.

There are nearly one hundred Smith scholars now attending the university.

For an evening of good fun, get your tickets for the Big Bonanza dance next Saturday. This dance will feature Buster Peart and his orchestra.

Letter to editor

Hail, Lesser than Macbeth; O, treachery! O, treasonous malice! What hand hath done this most bloody piece of work? What illiterate scribe hath writ this most foul and uninformed script concerning our performance in Macbeth? My comrades and I did not spend much time and energy in preparation for the Royal Presentation at the Monterey Drama Festival only to have an ignorant clod with a flair for scripture report falsely of us. Of the dozen incidents cited by your ink-stained churl of our mishaps at the competition, only five smacked of truth.

Doubtful, admittedly, the performance stood, due to conditions most foul and unnatural which beset themselves upon us like a plague of lice. We luckless actors from all sides of discomforts and hardships were supplied; and misfortune on our damned toil smiling showed like a rebel's whore. But all was too weak: for the tireless DeBold—well he deserves that name—disdaining sleep till he learned his lines, accompanied by that fine duo, Ross and Loomis, and the most loyal members of the cast, began a dismal conflict 'gainst the bludgeonings of fate.

In the midst of all, we were set upon by a crowd of amazingly ignorant Bohemians who, safe in their own theater, confronted us with self-comparisons, attempting to curb our lavish spirit. But, gathering strength from our noble directors, Bill Miller and Ed Semenza, who stood like rocks mid the stream of panicked actors around them, we took arms against a sea of troubles, and to conclude, the moral victory fell on us.

But peace! I would not be the complainer that thou thinkest, for much do I enjoy thy magazine when every week I turn the leaves to read it. Merely this once hast thou offended me and my fellows, and thou art forgiven.

Hail and farewell,
Frank C. Knebel, actor.

Tennis squad splits a pair

The Wolf Pack netters divided matches over the weekend at Wingfield park measuring the visiting Sacramento state Hornets 8-1 on Friday, then dropping to Sacramento J.C. Saturday morning, 5-4.

Winning for Jake Lawlor's tennis outfit Friday were Jack Luwe, Jack Mackey, Clint Wooster, Ed Hancock, Bob Lindsay and Keith Miller in the singles and the combinations of Hancock-Lindsay and Miller-Luwe in the doubles. The Pack's only loss was by forfeit.

Even

Sacramento J. C.'s win evened its seasonal record against Nevada to 1-1. The Lawlor-coached team had previously beaten the junior college in matches at Sacramento.

Collecting wins for the Wolf Pack were Miller, Wooster and Luwe. The doubles combination of Miller-Luwe again took a victory for Nevada.

ALL SENIORS

Monday and Tuesday will be the last chance for seniors to pick up their announcements and cards at the snack bar.

They can be picked up from 8 to 4. Extra announcements are available.

After Tuesday the announcements will be available at the graduate manager's office for four or five days.

Orders for PHT degrees will be taken at the same time.

WELL AGAIN

Bob Moran, Phi Sig, left the infirmary this week, after being a patient for two weeks. He was laid up with a case of the mumps.

Mackay days of yore far different

Oldtimers will remember the days when Mackay day, now Big Bonanza, men at work on the university grounds, laying cinder brick, leveling the ground and helping the faculty fix the tennis courts.

Now this is all changed, even the name. Mackay day is called the Big Bonanza and the actual student labor has been diversified into readying exhibits for the public.

Cleanup

Back in 1913 when Mackay day was inaugurated, the students' purpose was to clean the grounds and repair the buildings. Women students prepared the lunch in the old gymnasium and fed the men at noon. This was the original Mackay day luncheon.

Hundreds of shovels and rakes were handed out by the agriculture department Mackay day morning to the male students who leveled and raked the track, swept and cleaned the bleachers and the brick walks, and during the years erected the softball field and tennis courts, as well as the cinder brick facing "skunk hollow."

Faculty

The faculty joined the students in renovating the tennis courts and often cleaned them themselves.

One major project of the students was the removal of the railroad tracks that were used to carry oil from the Western Pacific station to the university heating plant. When the steam plant was substituted, the tracks were no longer necessary, and one Mackay day project was their removal.

Another improvement was the cinder brick wall that encircles the front and lower end of the campus. Crews of students would unload the bricks in Sparks, put them on trucks and student drivers would transport them to the campus where another crew would remove them. Others laid the bricks and kept the supply of cement handy. In 1932 this was completed.

Rally

A colorful rally was held the night before Mackay day, complete with a bonfire. The university glee club was stationed downtown to musically announce the arrival of another spring celebration by the students.

Beard checks were held at 8 o'clock in the morning to make sure that all the men turned out for work. Often the weather was bad, but cleanup went on anyway.

COED OF THE WEEK

This week's honor guest is KAT Myldred Cordes. A frosh PE major, Myldred says she is going steady with Bob Cooper, an SAE. When asked why she wasn't pinned, she said, "My goodness, he doesn't have a pin."

Nevada tracksters manage to score only one point in invitational meet

Though Nevada's track and field team managed to score only one point in the Independent invitational at Stockton last week, several Pack performers did their best marks of the season.

Only point winner was Marv Byars, who ran a good 50.2 quarter mile, but placed fourth. Winning time was a brilliant 48.7 seconds.

The meet was featured by some of the best times recorded on the west coast this year. Probably the outstanding performance came from Ollie Matson, USF's football all-American, who raced to a 9.7 in the 100 yard dash.

In the shot put event, the Pack's Ken Server, burly freshman, took a fifth place. Myron Leavitt was clocked in 1:10 in the 100 yard dash. Byars toured the furlong in 21.9.

Best Mark

In the half mile converted 440 man Bob Quinlan of Carson City was timed in 2:06, his best mark to date. In the two mile Vern Woodbury continued to improve with a good 10:34.4. Milton Sharp, Wells product, ran a 5:07 mile.

Mert Baxter had a 166 foot 2 inch throw in the javelin, also his best of the season. In the pole vault Giles Altenburg equaled his top mark by going up to 12 feet.

Proc Hug failed to make points but his marks exceeded his best this season too. He ran the lows in 26.7 and the highs in 15.4.

Here are the full results of the COP meet:

Mile—McMullen (SJ), Harns (FS), Jennings (SJ), Fries (FS). 4:19.5.

440—Moore (SJ), Laing (FS), Byars (Nev.). 48.7.

100—Matson (USF), Hudson (COP), Summers (SJ), Peightal (SJ) 9.7.

120 high hurdles — Legler (FS), Ward (FS), Leineke (COP). 15.2.

880—Porasso (FS), Stevens (SJ), Emerson (SJ), Grant (SJ). 1:57.7.

220 — Matson (USF), Hudson (COP), Burnett (SJ), Laing (FS). 20.5 (unofficial).

2 mile—McMullen (SJ), Jennings (SJ), Bowne (SJ), Shettler (SF). 9:41.7.

220 low hurdles — Legler (FS), Ward (FS), Leineke (COP), Vaughn (FS). 24 (unofficial).

Mile relay—Won by San Jose, second San Francisco State, third Fresno State. 3:20.6.

Pole vault—Priddy (SJ), tie for second between Tofflemire (COP) and Barnes (FS), 13 ft. 8 3/4 in.

Shot put — Counts (FS), Nickel (SJ), Stults (SJ), Lipsky (COP). 48 ft. 9 1/2 in.

Javelin — Waltner (St. Mary's).

Rifle team shows improvement at meet

Though the rifle team lost to the University of San Francisco for the second straight time Saturday, it showed much improvement over its previous marks.

Final score showed the winners with 1405 points. Nevada's 1348 total was good for second place.

Earlier in the season the same USF team had beaten the Pack firers by 69 points. The margin of victory this time was down to 57.

Leading Nevada was Charles Taylor, a freshman who is showing lots of ability. Following him were Kim Choy, George Schindler, Bill Engel, Jerry Murkouski, Bill Becker, Mel Guerrero and Leonard Sperling.

Sgt. Brunetti accompanied the team to San Francisco for its final match of the year.

Aggie student wins Sears scholarship

Stanley C. Schank is one of the two Pacific coast winners of the Sears-Roebuck foundation advanced scholarships.

Schank is a sophomore in the College of Agriculture. He and Dr. Eldon Wittwer, director of resident teaching in agriculture, will go to Chicago on May 18 and 19.

In Chicago Schank will compete for prizes consisting of $1,000 for first, and $500 for the next three winners. The awards are granted on the basis of scholarship, leadership, personality and business ability.

Theta Chis lead in Kinnear race

Theta Chi's athletes remained out in front at the end of this week in the race for the Kinnear trophy.

The points they gathered in the big interfraternity track meet Wednesday and Thursday boosted their total to 318.33. A first place in the handball singles and a share for a three-way tie for first in the doubles also boosted the frat's stock considerably for the cup.

Alpha Tau Omega's win of the track meet gave them 100 points and a strong hold on third place in the race. The Sigma Nu's remain in second spot with 286 points. The Tau's have 284.5.

Two Events

Chef Scranton of the men's physical education department reported Monday that remaining events include baseball and tennis. Results of tennis matches have not been handed to his as yet.

Theta Chi was undefeated in handball singles. In second place were the Independents, who had four wins and a single loss. Following them were SAE, ATO, and Sigma Nu in that order.

Deadlock

There was a three-way deadlock for first spot in doubles competition with Theta Chi, ATO, and SAE each getting 23.33 points. Following the three leaders were Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi and the Independents.

Here's the way the fraternities stand in the race for the Kinnear cup:

Theta Chi	318.33
Sigma Nu	286.
ATO	284.5
SAE	263.33
Lambda Chi	213.67
Phi Sig	20.
Independents	10.

Nichel (SJ), Vuosola (SJ), Cooper (COP). 203 ft. 2 1/2 in.

High jump—Wyatt (SJ), Hodge (FS), tie for third between Evans (FS) and Tannahill (SJ). 6 ft. 4 1/2 in.

Broad jump—Linkey (SJ), Wogaman (COP), Council (SJ), Nethercutt (SJ). 21 ft. 5 1/2 in.

Discus—Nickel (SJ), Jones (COP), Snelling (FS), Lipsky (COP). 158 ft. 6 1/2 in.

Sigma Nus off to good start in frat softball

At the end of baseball play in the six-team interfraternity league Tuesday, a Sigma Nu nine led the field with two wins, no defeats.

The circuit pace-setters have edged Lambda Chi and pitcher Bert Munson 5-4 and scored a 5-2 win over the ATO's for their wins.

Tie

There's a four way tie for second spot between ATO, Lambda Chi, SAE and the Independents. Each have won one and lost one. The Theta Chi's who currently lead in the race for the Kinnear trophy, are

News photography discussed by pros

News photography was discussed by Charles Bennett, International News Photos, Jimmy Nichols, freelance news photographer, Ed Slingland, assistant publicity director for the Reno chamber of commerce, and Bill Berry, Reno staff man for the New York Daily News, before a joint Sigma Delta Chi and press club meeting at the Tri-Delt house Wednesday night.

Photographs were displayed for demonstration purposes and to illustrate different points in news photography.

Award

Bennett, in 1950, established an annual award of a week's all-expenses-paid training in news photography in San Francisco for a deserving student of pictorial journalism in the university's journalism department.

Nichols, now doing free lance work in Reno, was an ace photographer for the San Francisco Call-Bulletin.

Ed Slingland, explained the problems peculiar to the publicity photographer. He explained that his job was to publicize those points about Reno in which the newspapers were not enough interested to send their own photographer.

Bill Berry compared photography in a metropolitan area to that in Reno. He explained that Reno is one of the hardest cities in the United States in which to take a picture because of lack of cooperation.

The press club is a group of students majoring in journalism, and

High voltage show at physics exhibit

Your hair will literally stand on end at the physics department exhibit for the Big Bonanza celebration.

Demonstrations of how high voltage static generators are operated will stand your hair on end and light up fluorescent tubes with no electrical connections.

The generators that will be on display are of two types. One is the Van de Graff machine, and the other is a friction disc generator. Both will be explained by physics students at the exhibit.

Modern physics exhibits will include geiger tubes and cloud chambers which are used to detect radioactive ore. They will show ionization tracks of nuclear particles.

Male sophs must help at luncheon

Sophomore men will be required to help with the Benefactor's day luncheon announced Jim Eliades, student body president.

"All frosh and soph men and women will be used to help with the luncheon this year," he stated. "Previously we thought only frosh men and women and sophomore women would be needed, but we were wrong. Soph men will have to help too."

Tables

Under the direction of Otto Schulz, the frosh men will put up the tables in the new gymnasium immediately after the physical education show on Thursday night.

Friday morning the women will set the tables and the soph men will transport food from the dining hall to the new gym.

Schedule

Schedule for the sophomore men is: 9:00-10:00, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Sigma Kappa; 9:30-10:30, Alpha Tau Omega and Manzanita hall; 10:00-11:00, Theta Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon; 10:30-11:30, Sigma Nu and Hartman hall. Unaffiliated men can come at any time, said Eliades.

Roll call will be taken by the upperclass committee and punishment for violators will be discussed later said Murray Harper, luncheon committee man.

Names of chairmen and committee members for the women are posted on the bulletin boards.

ENGAGED

Announced April 28 was the engagement of Gail Johnson, Gamma Phi, to Duane Johnson of Colorado.

PINNED

Dave Connett, Phi Sig, pinned Jean Griffin, Gamma Phi, last month.

Everyone is guaranteed a good time at the Big Bonanza dance next Saturday.

Sigma Delta Chi is the national professional journalistic fraternity for men.

Sigma Rho dance

Sigma Rho Delta had a busy week-end last week. About 40 persons attended the spring formal on Saturday night, twenty attended the annual steak fry on Sunday at Pyramid Lake.

The dinner dance was held at the Gaynor Room at Ray's Drive-In. Ron Lemmon was in charge of arrangements.

Sigma Rho's spring formal is traditional and is always followed by a steak fry.

Home ecers plan textile fair for Big Bonanza

A textile fair will be the feature of the home economics department exhibit for the Big Bonanza celebration.

The highlights of the display will be a beautiful silk dress made during the Big Bonanza days in Virginia City. The dress was given to the department by the daughter of the woman for whom the dress was made.

Design

The dress will be shown to show that certain phases of design are fundamental to all periods of dress, and traces of these basic lines can be found in various stages and definitely in present day costume.

Women in textiles and clothing courses will also show how to buy from labels and tags, how to buy sheets, pillow cases, towels, table linens, carpets and rugs, how to remove stains and how to use detergents.

Weekend of formals planned by houses

Formals take the spotlight this weekend as sororities, fraternities and other organizations have their annual spring dances.

Three dances are scheduled, with one on Friday night and two for Saturday.

Gamma Phi Beta will have their dinner-dance Friday at the Trocadero. A spring theme will be followed, said Joan Foster, who is in charge of the dance. The dance will start at 8:30.

Saturday

Vying for honors Saturday night will be Manzanita-Artemisia hall and Alpha Tau Omega. Manzanita-Artemisia will hold their dance at the Trocadero, starting at 9 o'clock. Martha Oviatt is in charge.

Echo's will be the scene of the Tau's dinner-dance. The formal will start at 8 o'clock. Jack Crowley is in charge.

PHI ALPHA THETA By Ruth Moore

Sagebrush Correspondent
Members of Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, will held their annual spring picnic at Bower's mansion Sunday, May 11. In charge of arrangements is Gerald Galletti.

Dean Traner back after eye operation

Dean Fred W. Traner, professor of education, will return to Reno this Sunday after an eye operation in San Francisco.

Dean Traner lost his sight recently when the retina slipped on his eye after an operation for a cataract. The eye was again operated on.

He recuperated after the operation at his daughter's house in San Francisco. He will return to the campus next week.

ROTC sergeant given commission

Sgt. Harry R. Byrd of the ROTC staff was recently appointed to the rank of lieutenant and will be assigned eventually to Camp Roberts, California. He has been a member of the university staff for the last five years.

His military career dates from 1940 when he enlisted in the army and was stationed with the Second Army. He went through North Africa and the European campaigns.

Occupation

After the war he was with the Army of Occupation in Japan and shortly after was sent to the university as a company grade officer.

Lieutenant Byrd is currently on leave and will shortly leave for Fort Benning, Georgia, where he will take a fifteen week course in officer's school.

ENGAGED

Corky Lingenfelter and Laura Sauer announced their engagement Monday. Corky is a Theta Chi and Laura a Gamma Phi. They plan a July wedding.

ENGAGED

Peggy Beel and Brent Aiken announced their engagement April 21. No marriage plans were revealed. Peggy is a Gamma Phi and Brent is a Theta Chi.

Thousand invites sent to parents for Big Bonanza

More than a thousand letters went out this week inviting the parents of University of Nevada students to the Big Bonanza week-end.

Joan Lundy, who is in charge of invitations, said "we feel that because so many of the students are taking an active part in the event, many parents will come if invited by the university."

"It would also help if each student personally wrote to his parents and relatives and asked them to come," she said. "There is such a variety of exhibits that everyone will be interested."

Pledges of the four sororities addressed the envelopes last week.

Griffin, students on five day tour

Dean Robert S. Griffin and five students are on a five-day tour of eastern Nevada. Prof. Harold J. Hendriks, chairman of the high school relations committee, said the trip is to "increase interest and enthusiasm for the University of Nevada."

Program

Students on the trip are Jim Hulse, Katherine Meyer, Verita Johnson, Mary Anne Norlen and Harold Fields. They will present a fifty-minute program of interpretative reading, cowboy songs, and instrumental numbers.

Itinerary

The tour will include high schools in Lovelock, Winnemucca, Battle Mountain, Carson, Elko, Wells, Eureka, Austin, Fallon and Gardnerville.

A similar tour two weeks ago covered southern and southeastern Nevada.

Be Happy-Go LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste
makes the difference—
and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellow, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy-Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

minor group and Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history society.

Trie-Delt candidate is 19-year-old Nancy West, a sophomore education major from Sparks. She is a majorette in the university band, secretary of the Fine Arts club, a member of the YWCA cabinet, WRA, and the university singers.

Betty Hammond, from Merrill, Oregon, will represent Artemisia hall. A 9-year-old freshman, she is majoring in education and is a member of Newman club.

Nan Imperatrice, from Frenson, California will compete for Pi Beta Phi. She is a 21-year-old junior majoring in history. She is a member of the Ski club.

Gamma Phi candidate will be Joy Blume, 18-year-old freshman from Lamolille, Nevada. She is a home economics major.

Dr. Claude B. Hutchison, the newly-appointed dean of agriculture will be present at the coronation also.

Queen

The queen, chosen from the five candidates, will present all the trophies, ribbons and prizes to winners in the different class competitions.

Schedule of events for Saturday, beginning at 1 p. m., will include a grand netry, queen contest, quarter-horse racing, eliminations in a stock horse classes, trail classes and cutting classes.

A feature of the day's program will be Lora Lawrence of Fallon with her trick horse "Pal" and the 16 Churchill junior rider's quadrille.

Eliminations

First eliminations will be begin as early as 9 a. m. Saturday morning and will be open to the public with no gate charge.

Sunday's program will be started off with another grand entry, and will include more racing, final judging on Arabian and quarter horse classes and finals in cutting, stock and trial classes.

The exact order of the events has not been announced yet according to Reid.

Judges

Three California judges will make the decisions in the different classes. They are Ray Arano, Milton; C. G. Araujo, Coalingo, and Prof. C. E. Howell, Davis.

All judging will be done according to the rules of thenational cutting horse association.

Lyle McCartney of Reno will do the announcing.

Two new competitions, the Nevada cutting class hoarse class, open only to Nevada men, and the hackamore class for five-year-old horses or younger, are scheduled on this year's program.

Rodeo Queen

A queen will also be selected for the July 4 4 Reno Rodeo by the Reno Chamber of Commerce on Sunday. Candidates for this contest are

Big machines to be exhibited by engineers

Those interested in big machines and engineering will have a field day at the Big Bonanza celebration scheduled for May 16, 17 and 18.

The civil engineering department will have on display a 200,000 pound Reihle testing machine and a 60,000 pound Olsen testing machine. These enormous machines test compression and tensile strength of concrete and steel.

Metals

Cracks in various metals are detected by the magnaflux machine which will also be in the display.

Along with these larger machines there will be the smaller tools of practical value. A complete display of surveying equipment will be shown and students will demonstrate tests on asphalt materials for roads.

Snow

The newest equipment used in snow surveying is another attraction in the civil engineering department.

A miniature display of the different types of construction used in bridges will also be shown this year.

Myldred Cordes, Jackie Chilton, Karen Phillips and Madeleine Ebeling. Joan Metzger Morrison is the retiring rodeo queen.

Donors of the $100 purses are the Horseshoe cattle company of Battle Mountain in the reined stock class; W. T. Jenkins company of Battle Mountain in the hackamore stock class; Double Diamond ranch of Reno in the open cutting class and Crumley hotels of Elko in the Nevada cutting class.

The entire horse show is put on by the men of the Aggie club and all proceeds go to the club. Except for a few donations the Aggie club is self-sustaining for the whole show.

Racing

The racing, however, will be managed by the Reno racing association. Corky Lingenfelter is the racing secretary for the Aggies.

Concessions will be handled by Aggie club members and will include coke and other soft drinks and hot dogs.

Beer concessions were ruled out by the board of regents under the university code which specifies no alcoholic beverages may be served at a university function.

Admission will be $1.20 and box seats will sell for $2.00. University students with cards will be charged $.50, and children under 12, $.25.

A & S plans interesting exhibits

The college of arts and science will offer exhibits ranging from the display of printing presses to demonstrations in lie detector tests when Exhibit day arrives as part of the Big Bonanza celebration.

The various departments of the college have indicated they will display interesting machinery and methods used in their respective departments.

Heading the arts and science committee is Procter Hug, who has released a schedule of displays and the names of the chairmen of the departments.

Twelve departments plan exhibits for Saturday, May 17. Jerry Stanford is lining up student work to represent the school artists.

The education department plans to set up projects and will display teaching and reading methods. In charge of operations is Barbara Van Meter. The English department, led by Joanne Menu, has not revealed its plans yet.

Recordings

The department of foreign languages plans as its exhibit recordings of various languages. Carol Normandy is in charge of the project.

History and political science displays are in charge of Lynn Horner.

The journalism department plans to show colored movies of journalism students at work and will display the Washington hand press in operation. Dave Mathis is the chairman.

The department of military science and tactics will feature an armed forces exhibit.

Knight Beauchamp is the chairman of the physics department, which will demonstrate a static generator, light and sound.

Demonstrations of the lie detector, hypnotism, mental telepathy, a reaction tester and mazes are planned by the psychology department. Harry Hess is the chairman.
