

Students warned to use caution in driving home for Thanksgiving

Death takes no holiday while students do, Dean Mobley pointed out at an interview early this week. She strongly urged that all students en route home for holiday celebrations drive carefully, and remember that speed and weather conditions are important factors to keep in mind.

It was just about a year ago, on Sunday evening of November 25, at approximately 10:45 p.m. that three University of Nevada students were headed west on highway 40 toward Reno. They were returning from Thanksgiving vacation, when their car hit a patch of ice on the road and slid into the opposite lane of traffic and into the path of a heavy on-coming sedan.

Donna Delores Batt was killed, and Raymond E. (Buzzy) Marks, Jr., was sent to the hospital in critical condition. He died there four days later.

If what has happened to these two great kids will make other students slow down—will save their lives—the price is not too great to pay. This was the statement made by Raymond Marks, Sr., the grief stricken father of Buzzy, shortly after the accident.

Dean Mobley hopes that all students who knew Buzzy and Donna will drive a little slower, and that those who didn't, will learn by their death.

Stout

Pres Stout also added his comments to the situation: As the Thanksgiving holiday weekend approaches, we cannot help but think of the tragedy which occurred a year ago to two students of the University of Nevada.

The shock and sorrow of that accident are still with us and should serve as a reminder that everyone should Drive Carefully! I want every student to have a happy Thanksgiving and to return safely, he said.

Jobs open for girls to model in art class

Girls, have you ever dreamed of being a model? If so, your big chance is here and now. According to Prof. J. Craig Sheppard, head of the art department, models are needed in the art department.

Pay is being offered at the regular student rates of 75 cents an hour. Models are needed Monday through Thursday from 1 to 4 p.m., and on Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 9:30. Anyone interested should contact Prof. Sheppard.

UN senate discusses vandalism cures; Pres Stout, new dean guests at meeting

Unless students correct the vandalism problem themselves, the senate will join in with the administration in stopping the destruction on campus.

The senators feel that the student body is too small to form a student court and cope with the problem by itself, but it will support the administration in what ever action it takes.

Guests at Wednesday's senate meeting were Pres Stout and the new dean of student affairs, William D. Carlson. Dr. Carlson, who will not take over his new post until January 1, is here for a few days looking over the campus and getting acquainted with his various duties.

The group discussed the new ASUN building and Dr. Stout stated that on his tour of the state the public's reaction seemed to be favorable. He also stated that if the bill passes, work on the building will begin immediately.

This week eight student representatives have been in various parts of the state giving talks to organizations explaining the need for the new building.

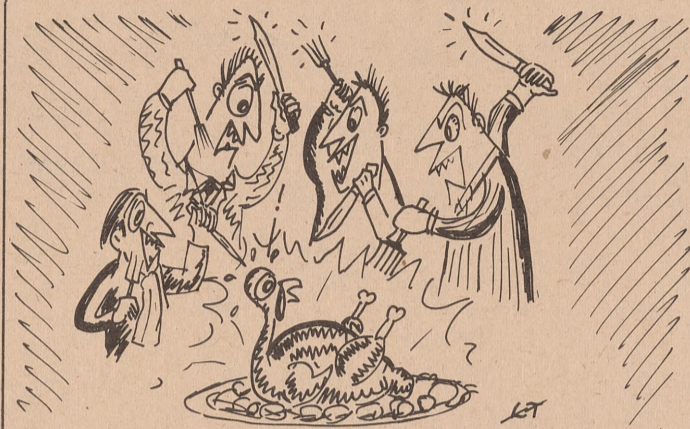

It was suggested that problems be brought up and discussed in the individual houses before being brought to the senate, so it will not be necessary to spend the extra time sending them back to the houses for approval.

Students go wild breaking traffic laws

Students seem to park at any place at any time this year, campus officer Ray Williams said.

Williams declared that there were 115 violations of the traffic rules on campus since the beginning of the semester. Most violations are done by parking at the wrong place such as at the faculty and staff members' reserved square beside the Educa-

TURKEY'S IMPRESSION OF THANKSGIVING...

Two solo stars from last year will sing again in 1952 Messiah

Mrs. Margaret Burns-Hawk and Robert Herz will again sing solos in the Reno presentation of George Frederick Handel's Messiah. Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, soprano, and baritone Frank Rolla have also been selected for lead roles in this eighteenth annual performance of the Christmas oratorio.

Soprano Marjorie Dickinson, solo with the group two years ago, will return from Las Vegas to sing in the 1952 performance. Mrs. Dickinson had given several concerts on the west coast as a professional soprano before she moved to Las Vegas.

Mrs. Margaret Burns-Hawk, formerly of San Francisco, has been selected for the contralto lead. Now a Reno resident, Mrs. Burns-Hawk also carried the lead in 1951.

Reno businessman and musician, Robert Herz, who was last year's tenor, will again sing. Mr. Herz is active in the Reno civic chorus.

Newcomer

Newcomer Frank Rolla is the only professional singer to solo with the group this year. An outstanding baritone, Mr. Rolla will be, according to Director Theodore H. Post, the outstanding soloist in the oratorio this season.

The University of Nevada music department with the Reno civic chorus will present their free performance of Handel, December 15, in the new gymnasium.

The 80 members of the University Singers will begin combined rehearsals with the Reno groups near the end of November, Post announced.

A very fine group of voices compose the university group this year, said Post.

Navy may use UN to train corpsmen

It was disclosed at a recent meeting of the university regents that officials of the United States navy, as part of their long-range planning, are considering the University of Nevada campus as a possible site for training medical corpsmen.

The navy's representatives indicated to university president Minard Stout that the Nevada campus would be suitable for a Class A corpsmen school with an enrollment of 2,000, if the need arose.

Visit

A group of officers from the 12th naval district headquarters, San Francisco, visited the university to survey the facilities. Although the navy has no immediate plans to establish the training facility here, the group indicated that it was favorably impressed.

It was made clear in discussion at the meeting that the navy might establish the corpsmen school in Reno only in the event of future expansion of the service rendered present training facilities inadequate.

Spanish dances highlight Spanish club meeting

Spanish dances highlighted last night's meeting of the Spanish club. Dr. and Mrs. Alex Dandini performed the dances and instructed the group.

The club met in the snack bar at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments were served. Dr. Dandini is assistant professor of foreign languages.

Student affairs director to be men's dean, advisor

I want to get all the help I can from the students at the university—to learn about their interests and needs, stated Mr. William D. Carlson.

Mr. Carlson was appointed last August by the board of regents to the newly-created office of director of student affairs. He will officially start his job here on January 1, 1953.

When asked what his job consists of, Mr. Carlson stated that it is the dean of men's job plus advisor to campus affairs in general. He will help with the administration of the dining hall, dorms, and student organizations.

After a 13-hour delay in Salt Lake and Omaha, due to bad weather, Mr. Carlson finally flew to Reno last Sunday. He is here to meet students and faculty, to confer with leaders and familiarize himself with the university.

How do you like the state of Nevada, was a question asked of Mr. Carlson.

Mountains

I love the mountains, but that's about the only part of the state I've had time to see, I've hardly seen Reno, he stated. The people here seem very friendly.

In his brief visit here, he has eaten at the dining hall, visited the senate, conferred with presidents of various groups, met and conferred with the president of the university and the faculty. He found time to look for a house for his family to rent until they decide to buy one.

Mr. Carlson and his wife, Marian, have four children: twin girls, four months old; John, five Marcia, two and one-half.

Home

Their home is at the University of Minnesota, where Mr. Carlson is returning to complete his affairs as director of student personnel at the laboratory school. His title at Minnesota means that he directs student teaching in the high schools.

He has completed his work for his doctorate in education at the University of Minnesota. The degree itself will be awarded soon. Mr. Carlson received his bachelor of education degree at St. Cloud state teachers college in Minnesota and his master of arts at the University of Minnesota.

Nevada

He has never been to Nevada before, but has flown over the state en route to California.

A broad, friendly smile and a firm handshake mark the new administrator. He is approximately 5 feet 11 inches tall. His hair is sandy; his face is young, open and full.

I am only sorry that I haven't had a chance to chat informally with more students around the campus about their life here, Mr. Carlson said.

I should be interviewing you instead of you interviewing me, was a final comment he made to the reporter who interviewed him. I want to know as much as possible about student life here.

Snack bar features new malt machine

A new malt machine is now operating in the snack bar. It makes chocolate, strawberry, vanilla and pineapple malts.

This makes a greater selection of foods available in the snack bar.

The snack bar is being run by the university this year under the management of Mrs. Nellie Nelson, director of the dining hall. Among the wide variety of things available now are sandwiches, pastries, gum, candy, hot chocolate, apples, potato chips, soft drinks, and coffee. All food comes from the dining hall.

According to Mrs. Doris Farrell, snack bar attendant, business has picked up considerably. She also said that the coffee machines installed this year are doing very well.

Stewart hall, cannons get new green faces

The cannons in front of Stewart hall and Stewart hall are still smeared with green paint after an unknown group of vandals got out of control two weeks ago.

Paint was spattered on the steps, the door and the entrance of Stewart hall, as well as on the two cannons, the fire-alarm box and one set of lights at the main gate.

Damage

Total damage amounts to more than $100, according to grounds superintendent Carl Horn.

During the same evening, according to Horn, the lawns surrounding the Education building and the football training field were dug up by an automobile.

Faculty to seek 15 per cent raise

University of Nevada representatives sought a 15 percent overall salary increase when they met Monday with the state budget director, Arthur Suverkrup. Regent chairman Silas E. Ross proposed at a recent meeting of the regents that Pres Minard Stout and Comptroller Perry Hayden stress that Nevada falls short of salaries in 22 comparable western universities and colleges by 18 to 20 percent.

Dr. Louis Lombardi, Reno regent, suggested that a 20 percent boost be requested rather than the proposed 15 percent, mentioning that other western schools are soon granting raises which would place their pay levels 25 percent above the present average here.

Governor

The approval by Suverkrup will move the proposed raise to the governor's office. An o.k. from Gov. Charles Russell will assure the proposal's being presented to the legislature when it meets in 1953.

Total expenditures for the faculty, administration and maintenance salaries increase would cost the state $344,858, in addition to the current payroll of $2,299,078.

The raise cannot go into effect until July 1, 1953, if the legislature reacts favorably to the requested hike. When approved, the pay raises will be allocated on a merit basis, with some employees receiving larger raises than others.

Stress will be made to the legislature that without the raise Nevada will be unable to compete with other universities and private concerns for the best qualified teachers.

NAVY AIR CADETS

Lt Rupp of the U.S. naval air station, Oakland, California, will be on the campus Monday to interview any student interested in becoming a naval aviation cadet.

He will be in room 103 of the Education building from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Who really owns Standard?

That old bogeyman—the Tycoon of Big Business—seems still to linger in the minds of some people. Whether or not this was ever a true picture, it is certainly false today. Standard Oil Company of California, for instance, is widely held, independent. It has its own management and shareholders. It is not connected with any of the Standard companies in the East.

The actual owners of Standard Oil Company of California now number 115,942—which is 17,000 more than just two years ago. They include 283 universities and other educational institutions; 236 churches and religious organizations; 1825 small and large businesses; 159 hospitals and other medical groups; 10,876 employees of the Company, and 102,563 other individual citizens, few of whom could be called rich. The great number of our shareholders are people like your own friends and neighbors—yourself, perhaps—mechanics, clerks, farmers, white-collar men, widows, men and women who have retired. ¶ In another sense, of course, the "owners" of the Company are our customers, who, in effect, control it and receive its benefits. You control Standard by your choice of brands. You benefit by the quality and economy of the products we sell. The only way we can look after the interests of our shareholders is by making sure that Standard serves you well.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA plans ahead to serve you better

Tri-Delts win scholarship cup prize at last week's annual Coed Capers

The Tri-Delts, for the fifth consecutive time, won the scholarship cup. The cup was presented by Dean Elaine Mobley at the annual Coed Capers, Wednesday evening, November 12. The Tri-Delts, now rank first in scholarship among national Tri-Delt chapters.

The supepr meeting was held at the dining hall where 250 of the campus coeds gathered to dine on spaghetti.

Miss Mary Rulifson, WRA advisor, presented the plaque to the undefeated winning volley ball team, the Tri-Delts. Dixie Sturges, team captain, accepted the honor.

Deal Mobley regretted that no improvement plaque could be presented this year, as every sorority had fallen scholastically last spring.

Lyn Scott, KAT, presented a piano solo, and Joan Blake, Gamma Phi, played her ukelele, accompanied by Eleanor Long.

The last event of the evening was a kick chorus arrangement by Tri-Delts Shirley Allen, Ann Cunningham, Bev Sue Hug and Catherine Basemer.

Songs

Sorority songs were sung throughout the evening by all the girls.

Ruth Moore, president of the AWS, welcomed the girls, female faculty members, the house and dorm mothers, the dean of women and the two special guests of honor, Mrs Ruth Stout, wife of Pres Stout, and Mrs Jeanette Rhodes, registrar emeritus.

Given a government with a big surplus and a weak opposition, and you would debauch a committee of archangels.—Sir John A. McDonald.

Indoor events are to be run off in the new gym, while outside activities will be held at Mackay field.

Any male student who is regularly enrolled with the University of Nevada, may try to pass the 15 requirements needed to become a member of the society.

A Sigma Delta Psi candidate may substitute two events with two varsity letters won in different sports.

There are now five undergraduate members in the Nevada chapter. They are Giles Altenburg, Elwin Pulsipher, Proc Hug, Ken Yenter, and Bob DeRuff.

The honorary fraternity has been at the university for four years and of the more than 300 tryouts, only 14 have been successful.

Heap big Indians powwow with SAE

Bunny hopping braves and squaws whooped it up at the annual SAE Indian dance last Saturday. Gay makeshift and authentic costumes were worn while the 200 Indians danced the not so authentic Indian dances.

More than half of the people at the dance were guests from other fraternities, stated Mel Guerrero, SAE.

The Echos barn was the setting for the tepees, and the band consisted of an accordion, a trumpet, drums and an electric guitar. Jerry Kizzia and Don Thompson alternated on the guitar to give their dates and the dancers an even break.

Prize costumes were Lena Quilici's, Pi Phi pledge, and Bob Lewis', SAE pledge. Lena wore a short yellow and white dress decorated with fringe. Bob wore a maroon vest and white leggings, an authentic Indian costume. The winners were awarded little Indian dolls.

Photogs

"Photographers scattered around the room and snapped shutters enthusiastically, stated Guerrero. Some of the camera men were John Bruce Harris, Don Thompson and Tim Wilson, chapter advisor.

Guests at the dance were Mrs Mabel Rapson, SAE house mother; Prof and Mrs Robert C. Poolman and Tim Wilson.

OUT OF THE DIRT

by Spade Moran

There exists a variety of incidents, events, happenings or what-have-you, which when heaped together and organized in some fashion or other, may be called news. Then, still, there is another type of stuff, garbage, sediment, bilge, dirt, rubbish, trash, tripe, refuse and so forth which is scooped together and usually reserved for spaces like the one occupied by this column.

And so she goes, only sometimes things get pretty slow. And when there's a dirth of such garbage, sediment, bilge, etc., we find our humble writer sticking his head in a vice to try and squeeze out some ideas. Sometimes we get ideas, but mostly we get a lot of . . . well, need it be mentioned?

Not that all this is by way of insinuating no one does anything around here. But who cares anymore when some dunghead paints up the buildings or swipes somebody's trophies? All this is old stuff and most of it of the type of humor that would gag a maggot.

At any rate, somethings gotta be written. Okay, what?

Well, how about . . . NO! By the time that's cleaned up, it won't amount to one line of copy. Besides, it would lose its entire substance, or would a better word be garbage, refuse, junk, slop, putrefaction, rot, mold, etc.? Boy, this is beginning to smell like the Pi Phi house.

Speaking of Pi Phi . . . no, let's leave them alone for awhile.

Well, there's always the weather. It looks like we got our snow, and this has made at least a few people happy. But so what? That's as obvious as Dagmar in a crowd of coeds.

Well, what next?

I suppose we might mention the not too usual sight of a plane, or rather the remains of one which was hauled up in front of the Phi Sig house by the Alpers boys, Fred and George. These two are hot pilots from way back. They intend to patch up the old crate and do some buzzin' around. For ten bucks it's a cheap enough way to get high.

Now, just to keep up the gambling, maybe we can talk about philosophy. Through the ages wise men have always had some very profound and significant questions to ponder over and discuss. During medieval times, the big question had to do with how many angels could dance on the head of a pin. In more recent history I believe there was something of equal import; something about who threw the overalls in Mistress Murphy's chowder.

But now the philosophy department on our own campus has a problem to toy with all by its loathsome—I mean lonesome. Namely: Who threw, placed, tossed, or put the sledge-hammer in Dr. Monson's classroom? The dainty little article was auctioned off once, but it may still be seen standing loathsome . . . lonesomely by itself in one corner of the room.

Well, there it is—all the stuff scraped together for this week. There could be more, but some comments would be as out of place as a Sundowner in a house mother's bedroom.

Here are the missing clothes and stuff, girls. Seems Artemisia hall had some of its trophies mysteriously swiped. Retaliation?

Artemisia hits campus finally

It's here at last!

After a six-month delay, Nevada's 1952 Artemisia made its appearance on campus Wednesday.

Containing 228 pages, the publication is bedecked in a cover of blue over-toned with silver and features an inset picture of Stewart hall.

Distribution of the 1,200 annuals is being made in the senate chamber of the ASUN building by Dee Turner, Lura Ward, Marie Nielson and Leanne Norton.

Mail

Last year's students who are no longer on campus will receive their annuals through the mail, editor Don Loveless said. He explained that second semester students will be required to pay $3 for the Artemisia. First semester students will be charged $6.

Sketches depicting academics, associations, athletics and activities were drawn by John Bruce Harris, senior art student.

Other features of the annual include a ten-page coverage of the annual Homecoming celebration. Last year's newly introduced Big Bonanza week also receives ten-page coverage.

Pleased

Don Loveless, editor, and Bill Engel, business manager, commented that they were very pleased with the 1952 Artemisia. They agreed that proof reading in this year's publication increased the accuracy over the 1951 edition.

Now I can settle down to work on this year's annual, stated Loveless, who is also editor of the 1952 Artemisia. He explained that work on both annuals at the same time resulted in a great deal of confusion in the Artemisia office.

Delay of this year's annual resulted from change of editors near mid-term last spring.

Prizes offered by Brushfire

The Brushfire, which is being organized for publication in March is offering nominal prizes for the best short story, poem and essay contributed.

Although awards will be given for only these three, we will include other types of articles in the magazine, commented Bill Ventura, managing editor. We should like to have one-act plays, translations, original book reviews, and articles on Nevada folklore.

The Brushfire, as an annual student literary publication, wants contributions from a wide range of students. Entries must be in by March 1.

Walter Van Tilburg Clark, faculty advisor to the Brushfire, urges students to get manuscripts in early enough so that rewriting, if necessary, can be completed by the contest deadline.

History prof writes for two publications

Two articles dealing with Mormon history and British agrarian emigration by Dr Wilbur S. Shepperson of the department of history and political science were recently published in the Utah Historical Quarterly and the Canadian Historical Review.

A third article, pointing out the historical aspect of British labor during the last century will soon be published by the Journal of Economic History. Dr Shepperson gathered his information for his most recent article while in Britain in 1948 and 1949. He supplemented his research with information from the Congressional Library.

Ugh, how, easy and many other greeting signs were passed around at the SAE Indian dance held at Echo's Saturday night.

Everybody wants to get into the act, or so it seems at the Phi Sig pledge dance. Oh well, they look cozy anyway.

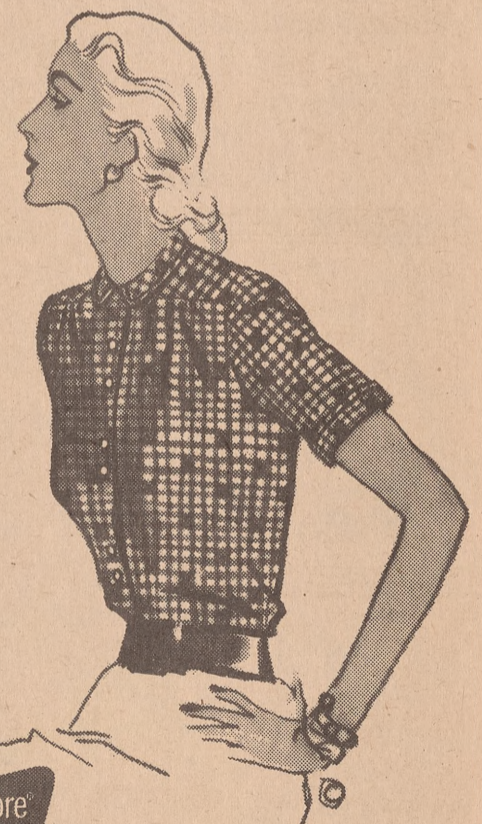

DOUBLE PINNING

Two boxes of chocolates were passed at the Pi Phi house Monday when Harriet Parke, sorority president, and Ruth Eachus, social chairman, announced their pinnings.

Harriet is pinned to Harry Bangachea, Sigma Nu. Harriet is from Reno and president of the Sagens. Harry is a former student at Nevada and his home is in Winnemucca.

Ruth, a student from Las Vegas, is wearing the SAE pin of Russ Bowring, whose home is in Reno. Russ and Ruth got pinned after the SAE powwow.

Basketball squad thinned to 24 men

As the Wolf Pack's opening game with Chico State grows closer the squad grows slimmer. Coach Jake Lawlor has already thinned the varsity turnout down to 24 players, and more heads are yet to roll.

Of those left on the varsity roster, Lawlor will bank heavily on the services of forwards Mert Baxter, who was the team's leading scorer last year, Bob Wilcox, and Earl Jarret. Reg DePaoli and Dave Storm will again be available at the center slot, where both saw action last year. In the guard department Dan Vidovich and Doug Douglass will again see a great deal of action.

Besides these veterans, Lawlor hopes that such men as John Legarza, Bill Cooper, Bing Bangert, and Grant Truman will work out satisfactorily.

Alumni

The first chance these men will have to work out as a team will be next Tuesday night when they will play the Nevada alumni in a rather informal workout. Lawlor hopes to work some of the bugs out of the boys in this initial contest.

The junior varsity, too, has suffered its first cut. The squad has been thinned down to 26 players, coach Hugh Smithwick announced.

The JV's first game will be with Manogue high school on December 3 there. Their first home appearance will be December 16 and 17. The first game will be played with Sparks, the second with Portola.

WANTED

A manager for both the varsity and junior varsity. A manager will make all the trips the team does, and the varsity manager is awarded a letter. Anyone interested in the job should see Jake Lawlor or Hugh Smithwick at the athletic dept.

Sigma Nus win in frat volleyball

A Sigma Nu volleyball team, coached by Dave Ryan, defeated ATO in a lop-sided contest last week, to clinch the intramural championship and 100 points toward the Kinnear trophy.

The Snakes had a seasonal record of five wins and no setbacks. They were followed by ATO, SAE and Lambda Chi, all with three wins and two losses apiece.

Here are the final standings:

Sigma Nu	5	0
ATO	3	2
Lambda Chi	3	2
SAE	3	2
Theta Chi	2	3

Hunting accident wounds Jensen

Jack Jensen, senior civil engineering major, was the victim of careless shooting last weekend.

Jack was hunting in the Thomas creek area last Saturday morning when an unidentified hunter fired three shots at the sound of his approach. One of the bullets pierced Jensen's neck, barely missing his spine.

A friend of Jensen's, who was near-by, heard the shots and took him to Washoe medical center, where he received emergency treatment. Later Jack was transferred to the Veterans hospital where he remained until Monday evening,

Math club requirements cause student confusion

The Math club is not exclusively for advanced mathematics students as some people were led to believe, according to Dr. E. Maurice Beesley, advisor to the club. Membership is open to anyone who is interested.

The article in the Frosh Handbook which may have caused some confusion on the matter was, "Membership in the Math Club includes all students majoring in mathematics and also those engineering students who take mathematics courses other than those required."

Jensen declined to comment about the accident, but when asked if there was a moral to the story, he replied, "I think everybody should know that."

Fellowships offered faculty in humanities, sciences

Fellowships for '53-'54 are being offered to faculty members in humanities, social sciences and natural sciences by the fund for the advancement of education.

Three faculty members will be nominated by this university. The fellowships pay the approximate salary at the time of application and expenses considered essential to the plan of study.

Faculty members chosen must be outstanding teachers, must be of good character and personality, and should preferably be between 30 and 45.

Further information and forms can be obtained at the office of Dean Fredrick Wood.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Ask yourself this question: Why do I smoke?

You know, yourself, you smoke for enjoyment. And you get enjoyment only from the taste of a cigarette.

Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother! Why? Because Luckies are made better to taste better. And, what's more, Luckies are made of fine tobacco. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco.

So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette... for better taste—cleaner, fresher, smoother taste... Be Happy—Go Lucky!

L.S./M.F.T.'s the code
To keep in mind today—
So for a cleaner, fresher smoke
It's Luckies all the way.

She brings the things I like—
Not only food and candy,
But good ol' Lucky Strike!

HOW THE PROFIT SYSTEM BENEFITS YOU

1. Shortly after the end of World War II we brought out a brand new super gasoline called 7600—a high octane aviation fuel adapted to automobile operating conditions. The performance of 7600 was so superior to anything the average motorist had experienced that it was months before we could supply our stations with enough to satisfy the demand.

4. It didn't take us long to decide on the desirability of increasing our facilities for making 7600—although the program represents an investment of many millions of dollars. For we reasoned that by maintaining the quality of 7600 we would get enough additional business to make a profit out of our investment.

2. Today 7600 is still the top-quality gasoline in the West by a comfortable margin. For its quality has steadily improved from year to year. But in one way 7600 has been a rather embarrassing success—for we haven't always been able to keep pace with the demand for it.

5. This profit incentive is the driving force behind our whole competitive economic system. It has given the American people the best products, in the greatest abundance, at the lowest cost in the world. That's why any attempt to tax away this profit incentive is bound to lower the standard of living of every American.

3. In order to keep up with this demand we were faced with doing one of two things: (1) reduce the quality of 7600 so that we could make more of it, or (2) undertake a program to increase our output of high octane super quality gasoline.

University branch wanted by Elyites

Residents of Ely are interested in having a branch of the university established in that community, Pres Stout recently reported to the regents.

During a recent visit to eastern Nevada, Dr Stout met with civic leaders and discussed the possibility of establishing a branch such as the one now in operation in Las Vegas.

A survey is planned to determine how many students would enroll in a branch there.

Dr Stout pointed out that one of the problems facing establishment of branches concerns lack of library facilities. The university's main library is not yet at a point where it can afford to set up sub-libraries, explained Pres Stout and a branch should have a good basic library.

Markowski elected Rifle club president

Jerry Markowski was elected president at the first meeting this year of the university Rifle club held last week. The club also elected Bill Engel, vice president; George Becker, treasurer; and Bill Cooper, secretary.

Wednesday's turkey shoot and postal matches were discussed, as well as ways of encouraging new members and better attendance at meetings.

All students interested in learning to shoot are encouraged to join the rifle club. Both Capt McNair, ROTC instructor, who is conducting classes in rifle instruction during the next few weeks, and members of the rifle team will be on hand to help all shooters.

25 tumblers practice for halftime activities

A tumbling class of 25 is working out twice a week under the direction of Art Broten, a former national tumbling champ, and may appear in halftime activities at basketball games and at other possible exhibitions, it has been announced.

The group, working out on Monday and Wednesdays at 4 p.m., has been devoting much of its time to apparatus to strengthen bodies for mat work.

Mr Broten is pleased with the progress of the members and mentioned the following men as bright prospects: Bob Gerring, Jerry Fowler, Art Imagine, Hans Mohr, Tom Ballow, Doug Calvert, Tommy Rich, and Don Nelson.

Erskine's first editions adorn browsing room

Four original manuscripts and 39 first editions of John Erskine's novels and poems are on display in the browsing room of the library. They were loaned by Graham Erskine, prominent Reno architect and son of John Erskine.

The original manuscripts, which the author typed, are Helen of Troy, Adam and Eve, Prohibition and Christianity and Cinderella's Daughter.

A painting, medieval in character, hangs over the books, depicting the characters from Erskine's first three novels. The artist, Daniel Putnam Brinley, painted the mural for Erskine's Connecticut studio in 1928.

Erskine lectured at the university in the summer of 1945. He taught English at Columbia university from 1916 to 1937.

He was director of Juilliard school of music after 1927, and in 1935 was director of the Metropolitan opera association.

In Beaune, France, in 1919, Erskine was chairman of the educational council at the American expeditionary force university. John Erskine was born in 1879 and died in 1951.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated in a summary as his opinion, "... the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by the smoking of the cigarettes provided."
