

Thanksgiving holiday relatively safe; only one serious student accident

Student traffic accidents were kept down to one mishap this Thanksgiving vacation. This holiday's lone score came when a Mercury convertible driven by Jerry Poncia crashed into a stray horse out on Plumas street. Poncia was doing approximately 45 miles per hour.

Riding with Poncia was Tim Collins, a freshman student at the university, who received the only injuries of the two. Collins besides a few bruises also sustained a cut under his right eye. The cut required 12 stitches to close. No other student accidents were reported.

Mobley

We should all be appropriately grateful that all students returned to the campus safe and sound, and that only one minor accident was reported, said Elaine Mobley, dean of women. Dean Mobley further stated that with winter really beginning, the icy pavement is dangerous. She urges all students to comply with the suggestions set forth by the safe driving council which are to keep speed to a minimum and to pump brakes slowly. If your car is in a skid, turn your wheels in the direction in which the car is skidding.

Speed

The speed situation on campus is going to be strictly watched, and if needed, state and city police will be called in, stated Ray Williams, campus policeman. If these measures have to be taken, these men are going to be plenty tough, Williams pointed out. Some of these students go tearing around the campus at 30 or 40 miles an hour, and if they have to stop on this icy pavement they have no control whatsoever. They are liable to either smash into another car or injure some person on foot. We are going to do all we can to stop this sort of thing, Officer Williams said.

Williams also wants all students to know that they must have drivers licenses as required by state law, and that state and city police will again be here to check on them.

Ski Carnival plans beginning to roll

Winter carnival plans are progressing rapidly, according to Chairman Brent Aiken. The Silver Dollar Derby, sponsored by the Reno Ski club in past years, will be held in the downhill race this year, with the Reno club furnishing the prizes.

The race, for which regular collegiate skiers, coaches, alumni, and other racers will be eligible, will offer two sets of prizes. The regular winter carnival prizes will be awarded as well as the Silver Dollar

14 new members in Phi Kappa Phi

Six students and eight faculty members were elected this year to Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, by members of the local chapter.

Candidates are selected on the basis of high scholarship and the society includes both graduate and undergraduate members of all departments in American universities and colleges.

Grade averages for this year's student members ranged from 3.55 to 3.89. Students elected to Phi Kappa Phi included Phyllis Carpenter, business administration; Barbara Hendrickson, chemistry; Mrs Mimir Hilderman, education; Lynn Horner, history; Lura Ward, English, and Procter Hug, economics.

Associate professors elected were John Bonell, civil engineering, and Craig Sheppard, art.

Assistant professors elected were Lowell Jones, biology; Thomas Little, biology; John Morrison, English; Jerome Seim, chemistry; Richard Larson, geology; and Alex Dandini, foreign languages.

New faculty members by transfer are Charles Monson, assistant professor of philosophy; Verle Bohman, assistant professor of animal husbandry, and Walter Clark, lecturer in English.

Derby prizes.

Other races include the cross-country, jumping and the salom. Only the regular prizes will be given in these races.

Committee members are being chosen. Members to date are Bob Winkle, social affairs; Bill Brown, housing; Dave Buckman, publicity; Tom Godbey, computer. Other members are Bill Pelter, Ruth Eachus, Joan Blake and Patty Jefferson.

Present plans are for the banquet to be at the Trocadero and the dance to be at the Mapes.

Formals, costumes highlight weekend

Three Christmas formals and a costume dance will highlight this week end's activities for students at the university. Echo's will be the scene of three of the dances, Artemisia hall will hold its Christmas dinner-dance at the El Cortez Saturday night.

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will stage its costume dance, Repressed Desire, at Echo's Friday evening.

Social chairman for the Phi Sigs, Bill Brown, says the costume dance will allow students to express their repressed desire by the costume they wear.

Music at the Phi Sig dance will be furnished by Jay's Trio.

KAT

Kappa Alpha Theta will also have its Christmas formal at Echo's, reported chairman for the dance, Elise Valentine. Elise said the Thetas would have their formal in the main building.

Melvin Brunetti's orchestra will supply the music for the Thetas.

The Tri-Delts' Christmas formal will be held Saturday evening at Echo's and will feature Melo Gonfiantini's orchestra. Chairman for the Tri-Delt dance is Marvelia Chandler.

Guests for the Phi Sigs include Sgt and Mrs Howard Neil and Sgt and Mrs James Putman.

Tri Delt guests are Dr and Mrs Russell Elliott, Dr and Mrs John Morrison, Dean Elaine Mobley, Mrs Charlotte Engelke and Mrs William McDonald.

Kappa Alpha Theta guests are Mrs Dita Dukes, Mrs Phillip Auchengaugh, Dr and Mrs Harold Brown and Mr and Mrs Rodney Boudwin.

Artemisia hall guests will be Mr and Mrs Francis Barsalou, Mr and Mrs Robert James, Mrs Belle Drew and Mrs James Naismith.

Brushfire will award plaques to authors

Gold-plated plaques with names engraved, will be given for the first time as prizes by the Brushfire for the best short story, poem and essay contributed.

We want all kinds of material from freshman students through graduate students, Bill Ventura, managing editor, stated. We need articles in a variety of fields of interest from which to choose for publication, he said.

Four posters are being made by Patty Jefferson to be posted on campus in several weeks.

The Brushfire, student literary magazine, will be published in March. Deadline for contributions is March 1, but students are advised by Dr Walter Van Tilburg Clark, faculty advisor to the Brushfire, to turn in material early so that necessary revising can be done before the deadline.

SPEAKER

A former staff colonel with Gen Douglas MacArthur, Cecil Tilton, spoke before campus groups yesterday. At an assembly at 11 a.m., and a speech at the Phi Alpha Theta initiation ceremonies Thursday evening, Tilton told of his experiences in Japan, the future of Japan, and emphasized the aims of Russia in Asia.

Speaker Tilton was jointly sponsored by the university assemblies and lectures committee and the local chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, national historical fraternity. He is author of William Ralston, Comstock Banker, and is now working on a new book about Mark Twain's roommate and well-known Nevada character, Dan De Quille.

Student union speaking team back from week long propaganda tour

University students will be watching and waiting to see if their legislature, which will meet next month, will match the $300,000 bequeath of Wesley Travis, to construct a new student union building.

For the past two weeks, a student information group has been working throughout the state to inform the citizens and legislators of the conditions under which a new student building may be built.

The group contacted legislators in the cities they visited and explained to them the need for a new student building for Nevada.

Civic groups and clubs were also visited by the students to acquaint the members with the purpose of the building.

Under the specifications of the Travis will, the state legislature must match the $300,000 bequeath within a two-year period, or the money will revert to the Travis heirs.

Favorable

The final results of the student information group will not be felt until the state legislature convenes in January. But Len Savage, chairman for the student building committee, reported that the general response of the citizens was favorable.

The chairman explained that although the university has many needs in addition to a new student union building, the union will take first place in request for appropriations from the state legislature this session.

Report

Alumni and Pres Minard Stout are coordinating activities toward a common goal—to get the building, said Savage. He stated that university students will get a first-hand report on the progress of the information group at the Christmas assembly to be held Dec. 18.

Included in the student information group are Dorothy Bell, Boulder City; Peggy Bell, Las Vegas; Norma Etchegoyen, Winnemucca; Leah Gregory, Elko; Dave Mathis, Ely; Andree Anchart, Elise Valentine, Dave Buckman, Mary Ann Norlen, and Joanne Menu, all of Reno; Hazel Johnson, Carson City; Leah Crabtree, Hawthorne; Rollan Melton, Fallon; Evelyn Nelson, Gardnerville; Proc Hug, Barbara Van Meter, Bob Ballard and Nancy West, Sparks.

Wolf Pack faces Chico ball team

Nevada Wolf Pack opens its collegiate basketball season tonight at Chico, California.

With a two-game series scheduled, coach Jake Lawlor stated that against a strong Chico team he would be happy with a split series.

Chico split its first series of the season last week. One of their outstanding players, Maderos, a sophomore, 6'2", will be the man for Nevada to watch.

Ten players, coach Lawlor, and the team's manager, Bilbo Helms, left for Chico this morning at 9.

Mert Baxter, Cooper, Vidovich, Reg DePaoli, and either Pasterino, Wilcox or Jarrett will start.

Burt Munson wins new Marks trophy

More than 200 fraternity men were present for spaghetti, awards and entertainment at the annual interfrat bean feed.

The Marks Memorial trophy for the best sportsman participating in last year's intra-mural sports was presented to Burt Munson, Lambda Chi.

Munson earned the newly established memorial trophy by his play in baseball, basketball, tennis, and track. The trophy will reside in the Lambda Chi house this year until the next awards in the fall of '53.

Kinnear

The coveted Kinnear trophy went to the Sigma Nus this year. They totaled more intra-mural points than any of the other houses by winning softball, baseball, and basketball.

The trophy itself, stolen from the Sigma Nus many years ago, was remade by James C. Kinnear for tonight's presentation. It resembles a large copper mug which, Mr Kinnear remarked, will easily hold beer.

Individual

Individual trophies were presented to Theta Chi for skiing, horseshoes, handball and volleyball. The tennis and track awards went to ATO, while Lambda Chi won cross country honors.

The SAEs won the revolving marksmanship trophy for the best rifle team. Lt Col J. D. Loewus presented the award.

The evening's entertainment was presented by Catherine Myer and Joe Moose, while Bob DeRuff ably handled the toastmaster's duties.

Hayseeds turn out for Pi Phi dance

Corn stalks, pitch forks, old barrels and western dress helped carry out the barn dance theme of the Pi Phi dance held at Lawton's.

A western band played for the dance on Friday, Nov. 21 from 9 to midnight.

Guests were Mrs Genevieve Brinkerhof, house mother, and Mr and Mrs Robert L. James. Mr James is an instructor in economics, business and sociology.

Florence Lee Lyons and Carol Dickerson were chairmen of the affair.

Orchestra and chorus practice starts for annual presentation of 'Messiah'

Combined orchestra and chorus practice for the 1952 Messiah presentation began Sunday. The actual performance of Handel's well-known Christmas oratorio is scheduled for December 15, at 8:15 p.m., in the new gym.

Prof Theodore H. Post, chairman of the university music department who directs the yearly presentation, reports that the music organization is progressing very well, and that this should be a top performance.

Although 'out-of-town soloists

Marjorie Dickinson and Frank Bolls have not yet arrived, rehearsals are proceeding with the choral and instrumental groups.

Soprano

Mrs Dickinson, who is now teaching with the university extension program in Las Vegas, has sung the soprano solos with the Reno group in previous years. Bolla, known in operatic circles as Francesco Bolla, will tour Italy in the spring of 1953, visiting several famous opera centers.

Mrs Margaret Burns-Hawk and Robert Herz, local singers, have already joined with the group for the practices slated during the next week.

Piano

Verlita Johnson was again selected as piano accompanist. Miss Johnson graduated in 1952 and is a kindergarten teacher with the Reno schools. She is, according to Post, a very fine pianist.

Members of University Singers are required to attend the last three practices preceding the performance. The first of these is Sunday, December 7, at 2:30 p.m., in the new gym's band room. Anyone desiring to sing with the group is invited to participate in these rehearsals.

Artemisia, Town girls win basketball event; reorganized rifle team boasts fifteen women

By DEE TURNER

The Town girls team and Artemisia Association team won the first round of the basketball tournament. KAT and Tri Delt tied their game. Losers in the tournament were Gamma Phi and Pi Phi.

The girls rifle team has been reorganized. The team will be conducted under the auspices of the WRA but will be taught by the military department.

Fifteen girls have signed up so far. They are Arlene Cave, Shirley McGinty, Karen Phillips, Rosy Strachwitz, Phyllis Boyer, Ann Cunningham, Margaret Brooks, Dyan Miller, Joy Blume, Jane King, Joan Cunningham, Helen Meader, Dolores DePhilippe, Paula Douglas and Lola Clark.

The team will meet every Tuesday and Thursday at 11 p.m. in the basement of the old gym.

Swimming

Wanda Black, Rachele Maclean and Sylvia Reid have passed the intermediate Red Cross swimming test. Passing the beginner's test were Anne Deming, Teresa Herrera and Carol McGilvroy.

Bowling averages for Miss Ruth Russell's class have been quite high, she said. The six highest averages were those of Jackie McGowan with 122; Romaine Roth, 110; Jeanie Brunetti, 109; Joan Williams, 106; Myldred Cordes, 105; and Margaret Jones, 102.

The women are now holding a doubles elimination tournament and a singles ladder tournament. There are 20 girls enrolled in the class.

Modern electrical devices discussed with engineers

Two representatives of the Western Electrical Instrument corporation spoke at a recent meeting of the student branch of the American institute of electrical engineers.

The speakers discussed modern improvements in electrical instruments, displaying cutaway exhibits to an audience of 30 persons. Modern magnetic systems and modern bearings were discussed.

James Osmun, senior electrical engineering student, was chairman for the regular meeting. After the speeches, coffee and donuts were served.

Clubs organized for full social year

Preliminaries over, campus clubs with new talent and leaders begin to get down to brass tacks. Speakers, singing, dancing, movies, banquets, parties and balls enliven schedules of events.

M. R. Demers spoke on Casting Out Nines at the last meeting of the Math club.

The Math club is open to anyone interested in mathematics, according to Ethelind Steinheimer, president. Freshmen are especially encouraged to come. It meets regularly the fourth Tuesday of the month.

German

The German club presented a German film, The Wizard's Apprentice, at their meeting recently in the snack bar.

There was also singing, and refreshments were served.

A representative from the Red Cross was the speaker at the YWCA meeting held two weeks ago in the basement of Stewart hall. She spoke of the activities of Gray Ladies and answered questions concerning them.

Plans

Plans for the annual Christmas party for children of veterans and faculty members were discussed. According to Arlene Cave, president, committees have been appointed for decorations, entertainment and refreshments.

Now that volley ball is over, with the Tri-Delts coming out on top, the WRA is starting basketball every Tuesday and Thursday at 4:00.

Other WRA activities such as Orchestras, Paniwallas and social dancing will continue as before. The social dance group is still sending out the call for more girls.

COMMISSIONER

Wallace Rabenstine, civil engineering, '50, who recently completed his tour with the U.S. navy, accepted a position as Nevada state fish and game commissioner. Mr Rabenstine will have his headquarters in Reno.

Tri-Delts celebrate sorority founding

Tri-Delts observed their 39th local and 64th national anniversary of the sorority founding at a banquet held November 24 at the Circle R-B lodge.

Seventy-seven Tri-Delts were present at the Founder's day banquet, according to Rita La Voy, chairman for the affair.

Entertainment during the evening included talks by Sue Casey, Peggy Jackson and Darlene Lowry. The women spoke on the local and national development and the founding of Tri Delta.

Carol Tollefson played several piano selections.

Tri-Delta was the first national sorority organized on the University of Nevada campus.

Military publishes Male Call sheet

Something new has been added to the list of campus publications. Male Call is the sheet's name and it is sponsored by the University military department.

Mimeographed by hand, Male Call is edited by Jack Penman and illustrated by John B. Harris. Jack states in the first issue that the activities of military students will be covered in this publication. Its purpose, he continues, is to inform students of military events and of other events affecting the military department.

The Male Call staff hopes to have one issue out each month.

This is our first attempt at a publication of this kind, and we have high hopes for its continuance, stated Col James E. Loewus, head of the military department.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Ask yourself this question: Why do I smoke?

You know, yourself, you smoke for enjoyment. And you get enjoyment only from the taste of a cigarette.

Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother! Why? Because Luckies are made better to taste better. And, what's more, Luckies are made of fine tobacco. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco.

So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette . . . for better taste—cleaner, fresher, smoother taste . . . Be Happy—Go Lucky!

An apple used to do the trick, But grades don't bother me - I give my prof this one sure tip That L.S./M.F.T.

Seventeen UN students to be chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges

Applications for Who's Who Among American College Students for 1952-53 will be formulated sometime before Christmas by the Dean of Women's office. Dean Elaine Mobley announced that the national organization that handles the affair has already contacted her and is anxious to have Nevada's candidates.

In the past years all campus organizations have been notified and they selected members that competed for the honor.

Seventeen students will be selected from the list of candidates submitted to the dean of women's office. Should two students have identical records, thus causing a tie, 19 can be chosen.

Points

A point system is used to select those students who will be placed in Who's Who Among American College Students.

The following things are taken into consideration when the selection is made: the candidate must be of junior or senior standing in the university for the year 1952-53, must have a respectable scholastic average and must have a record of campus activities which denotes qualities of leadership. The candidate's record must be such as to demonstrate integrity of character and the promise of effective, constructive leadership in post-college life.

Information

Organizations are asked to include the following information when submitting records of the candidates:

Include

1. Class standing in the university for fall, 1952, including total number of grade hours completed. The scholarship average for each candidate will be secured by the dean of women's office from the registrar's office after the close of the fall semester, 1952.
2. All extra-curricular activities and offices held in campus organizations.
3. Correct local mailing address of the candidate.
4. The full and correct name of the individual without nicknames.

Initiated

It is not necessary for an individual to be nominated by his organization. He may submit his candidacy on his own initiative.

It is also requested that organizations do not submit names of individuals who have been included in the selections for last year. All such individuals who remain in school during this year are automatically included in the list.

Those from the University of Nevada who were selected to Who's Who last year were Wayne Ashley, Knight Beauchamp, Marvin Ryars, Barbara Carruth, Oavid Collings, Edward Covington, Samuel Eccles, James Eliades, Mary Getto, William Engel, Frank Johnson, Verlita Johnson, Mardell Kornmayer, Fred Lee, Lowell Miller, Robert Petrini, Lenard Savage, Alice Shelly and Norma Walsh.

NOTICE

Monday is positively the last time that students who have missed their picture dates may make up their appointments!

Monday, Dec. 8—Unaffiliated juniors.

Tuesday, Dec. 9—Unaffiliated students belonging to honorary groups.

Wednesday, Dec. 10—Unaffiliated students belonging to honorary groups.

Thursday, Dec. 11—Unaffiliated seniors.

Friday, Dec. 12—Unaffiliated seniors.

The Artemisia staff and all interested persons will meet Wednesday at 7:30 in the Artemisia office.

Skiing coeds model at ski fashion show

A ski fashion show put on jointly by the university Ski club and a Reno sporting goods store was held November 22 in the state building.

Wandering Skis, a movie, was shown and narrated by Warren Miller, professional skier and photographer.

Modeling in the fashion show were Hazel Johnson, Gail Samuels, Bev Myles, Shirley Flagg, Deane Caffereta, Janet Van Baley, Judy MacNeil, El Porch, Don Thompson, Jeff Lobaugh and Bob Gerring.

John Bruce Harris, Lambda Chi senior, supervised the fashion show. Garlic bread and beer were enjoyed by 20 of the Ski club members at the 116 club on Center street. A warm-up on ski songs, as part of the party, climaxed the evening of movie, fashion show and refreshments.

A supper and party are scheduled for next Saturday for anyone who is interested. It will be held at the Bavarian inn on the Mount Rose road. No reservations will be required, and supper will cost $1.50.

CE's win coin flip for senate seat

The flip of a coin decided which subdivision of the Associated Engineers would send a senator to this year's student senate meetings. The civil engineers won the toss at the meeting last Wednesday noon.

The other societies will get their chance later in the following order: Crucible club, Mechanical Engineers and Electrical Engineers. This order will be rotated each school year, with the first group going to the bottom of the list after serving its term.

Free turkey dinners served by Wolf Den

It was a swell home-cooked dinner with all the turkey and trimmings one could eat, said Dave Christiansen, an Aggie major from Gridley, California. He was one of those who could not make it home for Thanksgiving dinner and therefore had a turkey dinner "on the house" provided by Mrs. A. R. (Mom) Schindler, proprietress of the Wolf Den. Others who were Mrs Schindler's guests agreed.

Unlimited

The free Thanksgiving day dinner was served to about 55 or 60 persons, most of them students. Mrs Schindler provided 86 pounds of turkey and she set no limit to the amount served each individual.

One of the features of the meal was served by a Ph D, namely Miss Ruth Russell of the physical education department.

Gamma Phi model fashions for winter

Fashion under the Christmas Tree, featuring fashions for winter, was the theme for the Gamma Phi fashion show held Wednesday night at the 20th Century club.

Participating in the show were 20 Gamma Phis. They modeled negligees, ski clothes, afternoon dresses and cocktail dresses. The show also included a wedding scene. Background music was provided by pianists Verlita Johnson and Elinor Long.

Charge

In charge of the show, in which clothes from four leading downtown stores were modeled, were Gail Johnson and Peggy Bell. A dessert hour followed the show.

Mrs Jack Douglass, president of the club, was the commentator for the show.

Proceeds from the show will go towards one of the sorority's philanthropic projects.

FOR A LONG TIME we've suspected that today's college man would no longer "gladly die for dear old Siwash." Neither does he play ukuleles and sing "Alma Mater" at the drop of a beanie.

We believe, too, that when it comes to sportshirts the college man is no different from his older brother in town. He doesn't go for fads and screwball styles. But he does go for smartness, good workmanship... and above all, value.

That is why we believe you'll like the new selection of sportshirts by Manhattan. For they have all these qualities, plus a distinctive air that sets them above the ordinary shirt.

So ask for Manhattan... the college man's sportshirt.

Nevada footballer makes honor team

Neil Garrett, Nevada senior, was recently named to the Associated Press's "Little All-American" first team.

Garrett, along with players from 22 different colleges received this award.

That "little" doesn't refer to either the size of the players or their ability. It refers only to the size of the enrollment at the college of their choice—schools that sometimes are overlooked by selectors of all-American football teams.

Described by coach Jake Lawlor as one of the finest working boys he has coached in his experience at Nevada, Garrett had the loyalty to play the last game, even when injured, and was a great competitor.

37 students plan term graduation

Thirty-seven students have applied for graduation in February, registrar Clarence E. Byrd announced. The college of arts and sciences lists 27 applicants, while the college of agriculture plans to graduate three.

Seven new engineers will seek their degrees at the end of the fall semester.

Two master degrees are also scheduled to be conferred in February.

Seventy-five prospective students have already been admitted by director of admissions Byrd. This number should balance the number of students which have withdrawn during the semester, Byrd observed.

Artemisia to give Christmas baskets

Several needy families in Reno will receive surprise food baskets for Christmas, from the women of Artemisia hall.

Each year it is the custom of the Artemisia women to exchange individual gifts during the annual Christmas party given by house-mother Mrs Belle Drew. This year the women have decided to use the money usually spent for individual gifts to purchase food baskets for needy families in Reno.

Mrs Drew stated that the welfare committee would be contacted to get the names of the needy families. She added that approximately 75 dollars would be contributed by the women of Artemisia.

Dean Elaine Mobley, who usually presents the women in the dormitory with a plant for Christmas, will give a cash gift this year so that it may be added to the Christmas fund for the needy families.

This year's Christmas party for Artemisia hall will be held Sunday evening with Santa Claus as guest of honor.

SDX places seventh in national contest

Outranking chapters at well-known schools like Stanford, Southern California and California, the Nevada chapter of Sigma Delta Chi placed seventh in this year's national chapter efficiency contest.

Fifty-five chapters of the national professional journalism fraternity competed. The standings were announced this month at a convention of the group at Denver, Colorado.

Robert E. Petrini, president of the local chapter and delegate to the convention, reported that the Nevada chapter was also high on the list for the Hogate Professional Achievement award. The Hogate contest is rated according to the percentage of Sigma Delta Chi graduates placed in editorial fields of journalism.

Seventy-two per cent of the Nevada Sigma Delta Chi graduates entered editorial fields last year. The North Dakota chapter won first place in both contests.

MARRIAGE

Joanne Higley on November 17 became the bride of Richard Kimbar. The wedding took place in the Mormon temple at Logan, Utah, with the reception following at the church in Wells, Nevada.

The pair honeymooned for a week in southern Utah and Las Vegas.

Both are natives of Wells where Joanne graduated in 1951 and Dick in '50. They were active in student affairs. In her junior year Joanne was class president and the following year led the student body.

Joanne will receive her two years teaching normal in the spring and plans to teach in a school someplace in the state.

Dick, who is now in the air force, recently returned from Korea. He has been assigned to duty at Scott Field, Illinois.

Wolf Pack whips overstuffed alumns 62-30 in opening basketball contest

Distracting cries of "Daddy" from the sidelines and home-cooked meals may have hampered the challenging alumni in their decisive 62-30 loss to the varsity basketballers last Tuesday night.

Well-pleased with the first showing of the Wolf Pack, Jake Lawlor, director of athletics, predicted that this experimental game may become an annual event.

Attributing the one-sided score to the excess flab typical of a team out of shape, Jake believed the score would have been closer had the ex-varsity not "run out of steam."

Enthusiasm displayed by the alumns in arranging the contest and the good turnout of townspeople and students aided the success of the Wolf Pack's first game of the season. Credit for game arrangements belongs to Bill Gillis, alum guard and sports editor of the Reno Evening Gazette.

The alumni enjoyed providing competition and will do what they can to have an annual game, stated Gillis.

Spot

Both teams felt themselves on the spot for the first few minutes of the game and tried to run up a score too soon, stated Lawlor. As a result, neither team tallied for five minutes.

The challenging alumni showed a good cross-section of the teams Jake has coached at Nevada for the past 10 years.

Floor

The steady floor play of guard Buddy Garfinkle, forward Bob Knudson, and pivot man Max Dodge aided the alumni to take a brief 3-0 lead (on free throws by Dodge) but they fell behind, 4-3, and were never again really in the game.

Bill Cooper, guard, opened the scoring for the Wolf Pack with a successive pair of field goals. Varsity scoring continued and at the end of the first quarter, the score showed the alumns on the short end of a 10-3 score.

UN students win history contest

The Nevada chapter of Phi Alpha Theta made a clean sweep in the organization's recent national historical essay contest. All three entries from the local historical fraternity placed high among the several dozen papers submitted for the contest.

Claude W. Nichols jr, 1952 graduate, won first place in the graduate division with his paper about the cattle drives from California to Oregon during the 1830's. Nichols covered the trail taken by the Hudson Bay company in the transportation of sheep and cattle on the long drives. He is currently a graduate student at the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Gloria Griffen, M.A. from Nevada, wrote the second place graduate essay, "Jed Smith's Route Through Nevada." Miss Griffen is working for her doctorate at the University of California.

Undergraduate Lura Ward, vice president of the local Phi Alpha Theta chapter, received an honorable mention with her work on women's suffrage in Nevada.

Faculty, students perform in ballet

Two faculty members and three university students cooperated in une fete francaise which was sponsored and organized by the French colony at the State building before the Thanksgiving holiday.

The faculty members were the assistant professors J. Craig Shepard and Edward W. Yates as members of the art exhibit which was under the direction of Mariejeanne Waltfon. The three students, Yvonne Meizel Dubbins, Katherine Meyer and Marilyn Yeakey, members of Reno Ballet guild, actively participated by playing and dancing.

A VAST SOURCE OF U.S. OIL STILL UNTOUCHED!

1. Many Americans have probably never heard about oil shale—one of our country's greatest natural resources. Shale is a rock formation that contains kerogen—a solid that breaks down into oil and coke when heated. There are a number of shale formations in the U. S., the richest of which is in the Green River Basin of Colorado and Wyoming. This single 1000-square-mile deposit contains three times as much oil as the total proven crude oil reserves of the U.S.!

2. However, the big problem has been how to extract the oil from this shale on an economical basis. Union Oil research men have been experimenting with shale oil extraction since 1943. One of their accomplishments was the development of a retort that can extract shale oil far more economically than any previous method.

3. This retort—along with improved mining and refining techniques—has reduced the cost of producing oil from shale more than most people realize. And each year the cost of finding and producing crude oil continues to rise. At some time, then, it is probable that oil can be obtained from shale at a cost competitive with crude oil.

4. When this will come about is anybody's guess. But one thing is certain: the American people can be sure that this natural resource of theirs will be developed at the earliest possible date with the greatest efficiency only if private enterprise is left free to do the job. For our competitive private enterprise system has demonstrated time and time again that it can develop better products, for more people, at lower prices than any method yet devised by man.

Forensics honorary prepares to speak

Despite the small number of students interested in public speaking or debate, Delta Sigma Rho, forensics honorary, has planned several activities for the year. Robert Ballard, president, stated in a recent meeting that Nevada teams will participate in the national debate question.

Subject of the debate is, Resolved that Congress should enact a compulsory fair employment practices law." If the university can furnish sufficient funds, Dr Robert S. Griffin, debate coach, said that Nevada will take part in either the northern or southern California debate series.

Meetings

Since no competition will be staged until early spring, preparation is now being made in night meetings held every week in the English temporary buildings. Three experienced debaters Robert Ballard, Rayner Kjeldsen and Joan Miller form the core of the 1952-53 squad.

The annual high school forensics meet is sponsored by the university speech organization. Although the university furnished little or no financial support, Griffin stated, the arrangements were made by the

PT and T interviews senior engineers

Seniors in the electrical, mechanical and mining college of engineering were interviewed recently for future employment by representatives of the Pacific telephone and telegraph company.

Approximately 25 engineering graduates from the University of Nevada are now employed in the San Francisco and Sacramento areas by PT&T.

Work of Nevada graduates is excellent, said representatives L. D. Armstrong, employment manager for the Sacramento office and C. W. Corlett, general employment manager for Northern California and Nevada.

Employed

The representatives reported that Loren Kirkbride and Willard Tribble, University of Nevada graduates, class of 1948, are now employed in the Sacramento office.

Kirkbride is working in the traffic department and Tribble is employed in engineering.

James Chester, class of 1948, is also employed in engineering in the Sacramento office.

All three graduates were reported to be working on management levels.

ELECTION

An engineering representative will be elected sometime next week from the civil engineering group, it was announced at last Wednesday's senate meeting.

Dr Griffin attended the western states speech tournament in Denver, Colo., during the Thanksgiving holidays. He stated that he was interested in determining how other schools are handling the national question and build the Nevada team to combat the cases presented.

The values of forensics training cannot be lost, Griffin stressed in the recent meeting. Through our activities we can build better relations between the university and the people of the state, he said.

Rushing the skiing season, Deane Caffereta, KAT, may be seen hobbling around the campus with a cast on her broken ankle. The accident, which occurred two weeks ago, cannot be attributed to skiing—only to Deane's feet and her living room rug. Moral, you can't rush the season by skiing on a rug.

The engagement of Gerald Pico, ATO, and Jean Purdy was announced at a cocktail party given by Mary Kay Irwin, former student and Gamma Phi at the university. The announcement was made over the Thanksgiving holidays in Las Vegas. Jerry is now in his junior year. Jean and Jerry are from Las Vegas.

Interfrat ball begins this week

This winter's interfrat basketball competition began yesterday with two games scheduled.

Lambda Chi was slated to meet the Sigma Nu and the Independents were to clash with ATO.

Six teams, playing a total of 20 games, are entered in the school basketball loop.

All games, with the exception of the last three on the following schedule, will be played in the old gym. The latter trio are scheduled in the new gym.

Art Broten of the men's physical education department is in charge of the program this year.

Schedule

The schedule is as follows:

Dec. 9, 4:00 p.m., Theta Chi vs Phi Sigs, and at 5:00 p.m., Lambda Chi vs the Independents.

Dec. 11, 7:00 p.m., Sigma Nu vs ATO, and at 8:00 p.m., Theta Chi vs SAE.

Dec. 16, 4:00 p.m., Lambda Chi vs SAE, and 8:00 p.m., Lambda Chi vs Theta Chi.

Jan. 6, 4:00 p.m., Sigma Nu vs Phi Sigs, 5:00 p.m., Independents vs the SAE.

Jan. 8, 7:00 p.m., Lambda Chi vs Phi Sigs, 8:00 p.m., Sigma Nu vs SAE.

Jan. 13, 4:00 p.m., ATO vs Theta Chi, 5:00 p.m., Lambda Chi vs SAE.

Jan. 15, 7:00 p.m., Independents vs Theta Chi; 8:00 p.m., ATO vs Phi Sigs.

The three games on Jan. 23 will be played in the new gym.

4:00—Sigma Nu vs Theta Chi.

5:00—Independents vs Phi Sigs.

6:00—ATO vs SAE.

ATO's bowery brawl has unusual decor

Amid empty whisky and beer bottles hanging from the ceiling, the ATOs danced at their bowery party Saturday, November 22.

The floor was covered with sawdust, and entrance to the dance was made by sliding down a slide onto the dance floor. The center piece was a large beer mug made out of napkins and crepe paper.

Music

The SAE orchestra played for the dance which was held at Echo's. According to Dave Buckman, ATO social chairman, there was a full house.

Bill Pelter was chairman of the event. Guests were Dr and Mrs Wilber S. Shepperson, and Capt and Mrs Lou Spitz. Dr Shepperson is in the history and political science department and Capt Spitz is from the police department.

Xmas party planned for faculty, vet kids

Early signs of Christmas are evidenced by plans of the YWCA for their annual party for children of faculty and veterans to be given December 14 in the Y room in Stewart hall.

Decorations of greens and cones are being planned by Joanne Menu and Vanna Grant, chairmen of decorations. Dolls for the party-goers are being made by a committee headed by Barbara Gregory.

Other chairmen include Betty Jo Martin, general chairman; Marilyn Royle, Charlyne Olsen and Guylene Ferguson, invitations and table decorations; Peggy Bell, entertainment and games; and Barbara Van Meter, refreshments.

MARRIED

Shirley Renee Oldfield of Ely and Donald Chester Dobel were married in Stockton last October 4. Shirley finished her sophomore year at the university last June and was a member of KAT. Her husband was a resident of Stockton, where the pair are residing. Evelyn Nelson, KAT, was Shirley's only attendant.

Don Loveless and Art Peterson are the only Artemisia editors to publish two books in one year.

Theta Chi dancers literally walk plank

Those who attended the Theta Chi pirate dance literally walked the plank into the barn at Echo's.

The dance, which was held Friday, November 21, featured a pirate theme. The walls were decorated with a variety of fish and were strung with fish nets.

Prof Yates of the art department and his wife, and Mr and Mrs Lamar Smith were guests. Gene Garriott, social chairman, was in charge of the dance.

WEDDING PLANNED

An early spring wedding is planned for Jeanette A. Ravera, KAT, and Malcolm Ward Short, former junior prom king.

Jeanette is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Bert Ravera of Reno. She attended the University of Nevada before enrolling at the University of California, from which she was graduated.

Short is a senior here at the university, where he is majoring in business administration. He is affiliated with ATO fraternity.

Jean Ann Griffin, Gamma Phi, married Dwaine Charles Glass, USAF, November 26. Mr Glass' home is in Wisconsin, but at the present he is stationed at Nellis Air Force Base.

Ski club dinner plans arranged

The tentative date of January 9 was set for the first ski club dinner at Mt Rose Sky Tavern.

Group accident insurance was discussed and those interested in obtaining more information were told to contact John Cowley, ski club president.

First aid training was begun last night at 7:30 in the sheriff's office. The instruction will be continued and any interested member should contact Bill Mahyr about the classes.

The next meeting will be held the Wednesday before Christmas vacation.

UN band performs for high schools

Serious and popular numbers as well as standard band pieces were presented to Sparks junior and senior high school students by the university band shortly before the Thanksgiving holiday.

The band was given a fine reception from the students, who numbered close to 600, Prof Felton Hickman, band director, said.

The concert lasted one hour and featured two solos, one by Paul Fox on the trumpet, and the other by Jim Butler on the clarinet.

Dec. 8 is the date of the band's next appearance, at its annual fall concert which will be held in the new gym.

Attendance

Members of the band who attended the Sparks concert were Shirley Allen, William Azbill, Grant Bowler, Melvin Brunetti, Darrell Cannon, Patty Champagne, William Clark, Dave Connert, Victor Cozzalio, Edward Davis, Annette Dickson, Barbara Dooley, Jim Dunseath, Clair Earl William Edwards, Jerry Fowler, Paul Fox, LaMoin Garrard, Rosemary Goss, Edward Gomes, Shirley Hart, Fritz Hertlein;

UN chemistry professors granted U.S. patents

U.S. patents were given recently to Dr Robert J. Morris and Prof H. Jerome Seim, both of the chemistry department.

Dr Morris received a patent granted Dec. 25, 1951, for a new black light filter. Prof Seim received a patent June 3, 1952, for electrodeposition of molybdenum with cobalt, nickel and iron—an electro-plating process.

"Ultraviolet Spectrophotometry in Detection of Food Product Substitutes" by Dr Morris was published in the September issue of Analytical Chemistry. The study was made in conjunction with the state food and drug laboratory, weights and measures division.

French consul to speak here

Monsieur Louis de Guiringaud, French general consul at San Francisco, will speak on the subject Unification of Europe next Friday, December 12, at 8 p.m., in the education auditorium.

This is the first official visit which the French consul, who took his post at San Francisco in July of this year, has made to Nevada. He will have meetings with several prominent Nevadans.

Louis de Guiringaud will be accompanied by his press attache, Marcel Dumon. Before his appointment as general consul for France at San Francisco, de Guiringaud was a consular in the political service of the French high commissioner for Germany.

World War I posters displayed in art dept

Large colorful world war I posters were exhibited in the art department this week. Prominent themes were Liberty bonds, symbolized by the statue of liberty; the Red Cross, picturing a nurse; and a recruiting poster featuring a lady marine.

Dr J. E. Church, former classics professor at the University of Nevada, collected these posters and many others.

He graciously donated them to the university, stated Prof Edward W. Yates of the art department. The posters are of value not only because they are a vivid picture of an era in American history but also because of their monetary value. Some of them are quite bold, Yates went on to say.

The John Whitcomb of commercial art in the early 1900's was James Montgomery Flag. Some of his posters are represented in the exhibit.

Howard Charles Christy's posters show a vivid plea to buy Liberty bonds.

Posters of another famous commercial artist, Joseph Penell, are on the wall.

The posters differ from those of today due mainly to the limitations of reproduction processes in the early 1900's and to the influence of European posters, Yates commented.

Slides to be shown at YWCA meeting

Gloria Springer, a graduate student attending the university now, will speak at a meeting of the campus YWCA next week.

Miss Springer will show slides of Germany which she took when she lived there. She worked for some time as a recreational director in Germany.

Miss Springer will also show, as a sidelight, pictures of this and last year's Homecoming day and the parade and slides of the Nevada day celebration in Carson City.

The meeting will be held at 12 noon on Tuesday in the YWCA rooms in the basement of Stewart hall. Old and new Y members are urged to attend the meeting, said Pres Arlene Cave.

Engineers view telephone movies

"Modern Aladdin's Lamp" was the title of a movie presented to the student branch of American Electrical engineers by the Bell Telephone company at the engineers' meeting before Thanksgiving vacation.

The movie, which showed the development of the vacuum tube, preceded the business of the afternoon. Among topics brought up were the coming field trips and speakers for future meetings.

Plans for an electrical engineers' banquet in the middle of December were laid. The Chrysler corporation has already offered a lecture on guided missiles. The banquet is to be held at the El Cortez hotel in Reno.

CONFERENCE IN THE CLOUDS

Among the undergraduates on any college campus, you'll find the talk reaching up to the clouds. And once in a while—in a classroom, around a study table, or even in a bull session—a really big idea is born.

Big ideas come, too, from the men and women in laboratories, business offices, shops. But often these professionals are exploring a path first glimpsed in college.

How do we know? Because of the many college people who have come into the Bell System, where big ideas and a lot of dreams have taken their place in progress. The human voice, carried along a wire, first across a town, then a state, a nation, and now the world. Music and pictures and things happening delivered into cities and hamlets all across the land by radio and television networks.

We're always looking for the men and women who get big ideas—whether they're about people, or machines, or ways of doing things. Your Placement Officer can give you details about opportunities for employment in the Bell System.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Exchange papers checked for news

While looking through some of the newspapers sent to the Sagebrush from other colleges, the editors came across some interesting items.

Columbia

From Columbia university comes a campus quirk. Theology 110 deals with logic. The instructor recently gave the following definition of a proposition. A specific combination of references having definite truth value as related to experiential reality. Singling out an intelligent face in the class, he then asked, Brother—what does that mean?

The surprised student quickly replied, Well, uh, it would certainly seem to refer to something.

Fresno

From Fresno comes an interesting piece of news. It seems that three Fresno state college students spent a few days in what is commonly called the clink; they had the misfortune to be caught after the Bulldog-Spartan football game with a miscellaneous haul in their possession. Included were a marble slab from the SJS seniors' bench, a Spartan Daily newsstand, a sorority house sign, and a hacksaw. The hacksaw was being used to sever an arterial stop sign near the college when the trio was spotted by a campus watchman at 2 a.m. A patrol car trapped the Fresnoans a few blocks away. Which once again proves that crime does not pay!

Santa Clara

At Santa Clara a new club has been started. The official name is the Anti-Cussation Club. Any street language used by a member of the club results in prompt punishment by having every other member sock the sinner's arm.

To some this club was rather easy, but there were the chosen few. Most of the men found that to remain comfortable they would have to cut their vocabulary in half. Some were left without any means of emphasis or description.

Here are a few examples of what the poor boys had to go through. First, you are just picking up a cup of coffee and walking to a table, when some freshman comes running by and bumps you, spilling the coffee all over your clean pants. So as a good member of the Anti-Cussation club, would say, Please be a little more careful sonny. Or you are walking down the stairs in some hall and along comes Tarzan's son and in the form of a salutation, slaps you on the back and sends you rolling down the next two flights of stairs. Scraping yourself up you should moan, Oh beans.

It might be mentioned here that this club was started as the result of a retreat held on the campus. It should be interesting to see if the club flourishes or fails.

Tulane

Now for a serious note from Tulane university. We might even take a note from them to improve our yells. They started a build better school spirit with more and better yells campaign which seems to be doing very nicely. The original deadline for the contest was to be October 10, but the response to it was so great that it had to be extended to the end of the month. The contest is open to anyone, and the purpose is to find new and better yells. The prizes will be $5 for first, $3 for second, and $2 for third, but all of the entries will be considered for use. It sounds like a good way to build up the spirit and find new yells with more pep to them.

Also from this paper comes a joke? As the freshman coed explained to her parents—I went to college pure as new-fallen snow, but I drifted.

Brigham Young

Now from Brigham Young comes this bit of dope from the clothes horse. This column is devoted to men's fashions. It seems that the latest thing is a tweed coat. Sounds like the girl would get the rough end of the deal on a date with her companion decked out in one of those. Next comes sports shorts, these, of course, are in technicolor. (I wonder what that means?) The other two items are exclusively patterned socks, and cravats. In case you are wondering, that is a fancy name for a necktie. I know, I had to look it up in the dictionary. And so we leave the clothes horse.

TEA

KAT honored their district alumni president, Mrs William Gosner, at a tea last Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs Gosner was making a routine visit to the Nevada chapter.

Guests at the tea were Mrs Minnard W. Stout, wife of Pres Stout, and a number of Theta alumnae.

Elise Valentine, social chairman, was in charge of the tea.

"I always smoked Chesterfields in college just like my friends" says New York secretary, Elizabeth Lydon, "and here in New York it seems like almost everyone smokes them."

Elizabeth Lydon DUKE '51

AND NOW—CHESTERFIELD FIRST TO GIVE YOU SCIENTIFIC FACTS IN SUPPORT OF SMOKING

A responsible consulting organization reports a study by a competent medical specialist and staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfields. For six months a group of men and women smoked only Chesterfield—10 to 40 a day—their normal amount. 45 percent of the group have smoked Chesterfields from one to thirty years for an average of ten years each.

At the beginning and end of the six-months, each smoker was given a thorough examination including X-rays, and covering the sinuses, nose, ears and throat. After these examinations, the medical specialist stated . . .

"It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
