U OF N Sagebrush

Established by the ASUN — Founded October 19, 1893

VOL. XXX. No. 10.

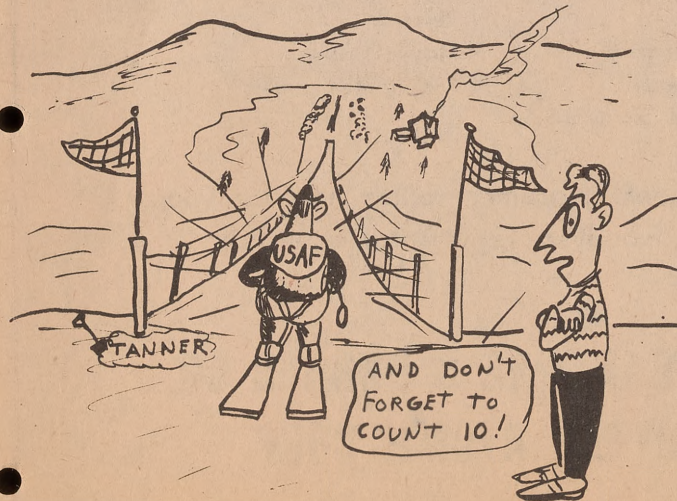

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1953.

Coach Chelton Leonard trains his men to "dive right into it."

High speed and top form are displayed by Allan Ramsey as he takes a slalom gate.

Drive ins, chalets in decorations

Everything from Willy's Ski Inn, featuring Bruin hamburger and roast Portland duck, to a Ski Halo-Ski Hall are featured in sorority and fraternity carnival decorations.

A take-off on Reno's drive-ins, the Phi Sigs are featuring a well-rounded menu and have carried the theme as far as ski-racked cars parked around the building.

Tri-Delt's Hades-Heaven theme is being carried out with skiing angels, gold chalets, an athletic St Peter with his pearly gates, and red devils and cellophane fire.

ATO

ATO's enormous 14 molded from snow, stressing the 14th annual carnival, with Indian, bear, pioneer and other figures is three and one-half feet high. The figures are participating in a downhill run on the figure one and slalom on the figure four.

KAT's Winter Wonderland depicting characters in the song, including Parson Brown, and a fireplace scene, will also feature sheet music of the song on one wall.

The SAE's theme of the Winter Carnival snowbaling to success, features a Nevada skier, riding the snowball which has upset in its wake the other 12 ski teams, successfully crossing the finish line.

Gamma Phis ski chalet, featuring a terrace with outdoor snow scenes, carries its theme throughout the house.

Miniature

A miniature ski meet, designed an inch to the foot, is the brainchild of the Lambda Chis. Skiing figures using T-bars and rope tows add animation to the scene.

Pi Phi's Out of This World theme is accentuated with an indirectly lighted castle that faces the snow tunnel entrance. A mock fairy tale book above the refreshment table in addition to reindeer, pink lights, mist, and blue stars highlight their theme.

Sigma Nu is using indirect lighting to emphasize its silhouetted skiers and Theta Chi is featuring a ski jump.

Nevada turns out to house skiers

Visiting ski teams will be housed in the fraternity and sorority houses and the women's dormitories during the ski carnival. Bill Brown, Phi Sig, in charge of the housing arrangements, expressed his thanks for the whole-hearted cooperation of the students in setting up accommodations in their various houses for the visitors.

PM Dean William Carlson and Mr Carl Horn made the arrangements for transporting and setting up the bunk beds in the student residences.

Where

The visiting teams meeting and staying at the following houses: Denver, Washington State and College of the Pacific, Theta Chi; Portland and Stanford, Phi Sig; San Jose, Lambda Chi; Oregon State and Colorado, ATO; Utah and Modesto, SAE; California and UCLA, Sigma Nu

The women's team from Stanford will stay at the Phi Phi house and the Utah women's team will be at Artemisia hall.

The annual Winter Carnival, a junior success story that shows a growth from a small local carnival to the largest intercollegiate invitational ski meet in the nation, got underway with today's downhill and cross-country races at Mt. Rose.

Yesterday's ski clothes assembly set off social activities that will be in full force with tonight's sorority open house.

More than 130 top competitors representing western colleges and universities have been arriving since Wednesday.

Sorority and fraternity houses, hosts to visiting schools including Denver university Washington, Oregon state, Portland university, Utah, COP, California, UCLA, Stanford, Modesto junior college, and San Jose state have been carrying out themes of ski jumps, silhouetted skiers,

Crawford

Competitors in tomorrow's giant slalom will include Marvin Crawford, one of the top four-event performers in the United States and winner of this event last year.

Sunday will feature jumping at Galena Creek and the coed Powderpuff Derby.

Saturday's skier's banquet, which will include skiers, coaches, and fans will be highlighted by the introduction of queens, and a song fest by the participating ski teams.

Following the banquet the annual Snow Ball will be held in the Fable room of the Mapes. The coronation of the queen, presentation of sorority and fraternity trophies, in addition to a seven-piece orchestra, will round out the social agenda.

Scene is set for Sno Ball dance

Blue and Silver streamers around pillars and across the room and a Nevada flag will set the scene for the Sno Ball tomorrow night in the Fable room at the Mapes.

The ski carnival queen, who will have been elected by the Nevada ski team, will be presented and crowned, with Bob Winkel acting as master of ceremonies. Awards for house decorations will be announced.

Winner

Charlie Kayely's seven-piece band will provide music for dancing. The winner of the drawing, with a prize of a week end for two at Squaw Valley, will be announced. Tickets are being sold by the Nevada Ski club.

Casual dress will be the mode, with ski clothes being acceptable. Admission price is $1.50 per couple.

Skiing courses set for weekend races

Courses for the four-way event Nevada Winter Carnival were set this week despite the threat of a snow shortage. Last year at this time Mt Rose had an abundance of snow, and there was no problem finding locations for good courses.

Saturday's giant slalom will be held on Sky tavern's hill. The first run is scheduled for 10 a.m., the second for 2 p.m. Team captain Pat Meyers, Allen Ramsey, Don Thompson and Dick Thomas are Nevada's racers.

Any coed may enter the Powder Puff derby on Sunday at 10 a.m. The women will not enter as teams. The slalom will be set on the Sky tavern hill.

Jumping at Galena creek, below Mt Rose is to many persons a thrill to watch. The event will start at 12:30 p.m., Sunday, and Ramsey, Bill Bukeley, Thompson and Bill Thornton will jump for Nevada.

Downhill

Today's downhill started on the mountain to the left of the Christmas Tree. It was estimated to be about a one-minute race, according to Chelton Leonard, Nevada's coach. The race began at 10 o'clock and was visible from the Mt Rose road. Meyers, Ramsey, Thompson and Thomas raced for Nevada.

The five-mile, endurance-testing cross-country began this afternoon at the flat at Sky tavern. The location was formerly known as Grass lake. Entered for Nevada this afternoon were Jack Rykken, John Cowley, Thompson and Ramsey.

Fewer students sign for spring semester

A loss of 178 registered students is recorded at the university this spring as compared to last semester's Las Vegas and Reno count totaling 1252 students, reported the registrar's office.

On the Reno campus there are a total of 1114 students, 674 of which are men and 405 women. Included in the total are non-matriculated (five hours or less) students.

Visitors without receiving credits audit classes. There are 55 visitors.

Nevada boxers win moral victory but lose chance with San Jose

The University of Nevada's battling Wolf Pack fighters won a moral fight card victory of national scope here Monday night when they slugged the powerful San Jose Spartans to a 4½-4½ deadlock.

The local Blue and Silver would have won the card too, were it not for a reversed decision that gave Nevada's 139-pound Duane Moore a draw instead of the previously announced decision over hard-hitting Joe Rameriz.

At any rate, Coach Jimmy Olivas' Pack did itself proud, showing improvement in every division as well as a ready willingness to battle the seldom-beaten Spartans.

Bantamweight Sammy Maciass started it off for the Pack with a clever display of boxing, plus some head-to-toe slugging to win over the Spartan's 119-pound Accurso, last year's semi-finalist in the nationals.

Elwood Haggerty, one of Nevada's most improved fighters, lost a blood-smear decision to San Jose's 125-pounder in one of the closest bouts of the evening.

Bolo

Nevadan Duane Moore, though tiring badly from a fast pace, hung on and landed often with his "bolo" and hooking lefts, to win a decision over Rameriz. The decision was later changed to a draw when the judges said they had erred in scoring the fight.

Welterweight

In a torrid welterweight battle, slugging Doug Byington remained unbeaten in collegiate ranks, hanging on in the closing seconds of the final round to win over his towering Spartan opponent.

Jim Jeffers, Nevada's representative in the junior middle-weight division, pooped out in the final round, nearly dropping him for the count. But Heinrich, who had previously won ten, lost only one, hung on desperately averting a knockout.

Hard-hitting Bill Griggs stayed on the unbeaten list in collegiate ranks coming back after a tiring second round to win by a TKO over spidery Norman Carter, the San Jose representative in the light heavyweight class.

Griggs jarred his taller opponent early in the first canto, and after a close second round, came charging back with lefts and rights and more lefts. Carter was out on his feet when San Jose coach Chuck Adkins finally threw in the towel.

Windup

In the evening's windup, a smaller version of Gordon Surber, Spartan Paul Reuter, spilled will-ign Ed Hollingsworth of Nevada to the deck in the second round of a heavyweight go. Hollingsworth had trained just three weeks prior to the fight and was in there on short notice, replacing Marvin Baker, who dropped out of school the day before the card.

The action packed card was one of the best staged here in years and was well received by an enthusiastic crowd of two thousand.

Draft deferment applications due

Students who intend to apply for selective service deferments should file applications for the college qualification tests. Procedure for making application is set forth in a memorandum dated February 9, 1953, from the selective service examining section, educational testing service, to the editors of all college newspapers.

Application

Information bulletins, applications and mailing envelopes can be obtained from the local selective service board. Applications will be filled out by the student service board. Applications will be filled out by the student in accordance with instructions, and must be in the mail not later than midnight, March. Students will then receive a card with information as to the date, time and place for the tests.

Deferment will be determined by the local selective service board on the basis of the test results. Early filing of applications will be greatly to the student's advantage and applications should be completed and mailed immediately.

round in his bout with a pressing, aggressive San Jose 155-pounder.

Jeffers had landed hard to the head of his opponent in the initial canto, but the pace finally wore him down, and referee Tony Poloni stopped it when Jeffers covered up without returning fire.

Almost

Tom Massey let San Jose's middleweight Ed Heinrich run out of gas, punching his rugged frame then opening up on the tough Spartan 165-pounder in the final

Hopes are high that UN will get legislative money for student union

Patience is the word on the student union building, commented Pres Stout, but the outlook seen is bright. The university will not know the results of legislation until sometime after March 15, the closing date of the session.

The entire university budget, which includes the request for $300,000 to match the bequest of the Wesley Travis will, is now in the hands of the senate finance committee.

Pres Stout and Mr Perry W. Hayden, university comptroller, will be called soon to answer any questions from the senate, said Stout. He added that Gov Charles H. Russell has cut the proposed budget already. Proposed salaries were cut five to ten percent.

The $300,000 must be granted in full to meet the stipulation of the will; the grant must be equally matched by the legislature.

Williams

If the legislature passes the bill for a building, Mr Williams, an expert on the architecture of student unions, will confer with officials and the planning committee at Nevada.

Would the university permit classrooms to be built in the student union building was one of the questions asked Pres Stout. He answered that the building would be solely for student and alumni activities. There would be no classrooms built.

The result of legislation may not be known until after March 15. The senate, if it agrees, may extend the session.

Pack Tracks

By ROLLAN MELTON

This week end is going to be one of the busiest of the year for the various athletic teams. Coach Shelly Leonard's Pack skiers are playing host to 12 other top-flight college ski outfits in the 14th renewal of the Winter Carnival. Nevada's basketballers are down in the southern part of the state pitting wares against a good Loyola of Los Angeles hoop five, and Nevada's terrific boxing team plays host to a west coast power in collegiate boxing—California.

The university ski team has seen no action this season against other colleges, so the outfit is hard to rate. The nine-man squad has, however, met ski teams from Stead air force base, the junior chamber of commerce and the high school and done all right against that caliber competition.

Such teams as visiting University of Washington and Denver, have already met and beaten some of the best of them this year, and are established as favorites. The Denver Pioneers are back to defend the title they won at the carnival last winter. The squad is led by Marv Crawford, the foremost four-event skier in American collegiate ranks today. He won three firsts and a second out of four events in 1952 here.

Nevada isn't going to lie down and yell uncle, though. Such men as Pat Myers, Allan Ramsey, John Cowley, Bill Bulkeley, Jack Rykken, Dick Thomas, Dick Ankers, Don Thompson and Bill Thornton will carry the Pack colors well.

Semi-climatic will be the annual ski banquet tomorrow evening at the Trocadero (El Cortez) and the Sno Ball at the Mapes. The identity of the queen will be revealed at the dance.

The highly rated California Bears invade Nevada territory tomorrow hooking up with a Nevada Wolf Pack squad which is showing improvement at the fights go by.

Back to represent the Golden Bears this season are eight lettermen from last season's fight aggregation. In the sole card to date, the Bears edged Stanford's Indians 4½-3½. They were to have met San Francisco state Wednesday evening.

Making his first appearance for Nevada tomorrow at the university gym will be Frankie Stewart, who's moving into the 155-pound division ahead of Jim Jeffers, the freshman, who has failed to win this year.

Stewart may be a little shaky, but he likes to fight and he'll give his best. He's matched with Cal's Jim McCann who won three, dropped four, and drew one last season.

The following are the Cal starters with their 1952 records: Len Hansen 132 (6-1-1); Myron Hansen, 139 (1-3-1); Jay Slaybaugh, 147 (3-4-0); Vin Ycung, 156 (1-1-0); Jim McCann, 156 (3-4-1).

Coach Chuck Adkins of San Jose, who won an Olympic boxing title of fighters the most unorthodox his men have faced all season.

Most of the Pack boxers, said Adkins, were throwing punches straight overhead. He was excluding Massey, Griggs and Ed Hollingsworth from among those unusual swingers, he added.

This unusual style of several Nevada men can be attributed to coach Jim Olivas, who lets his men develop in the manner most comfortable to them.

When the Pack traveled to Elko for the Idaho state fight card recently, the Bengal coach from Pocatello indicated five Nevada men whom he thought would do well in the national collegiate tourney next month: Griggs, Massey, Macias, Byington and Marvin Baker. Baker, of course, no longer is in school and the other fighters named haven't indicated whether or not they'll fight in post-season tournaments.

Those tourneys include the San Francisco state invitational, March 28 at Sacramento, and the nationals at Pocatello, April 9, 10 and 11.

A list of 11 letter winners from the fall grid team has been posted on the athletic bulletin board, and all men appearing on the list can report to the Sportsman on Virginia street for sweater measurements.

Today's cross country team, Jack Rykken, Allan Ramsey, Don Thompson and John Cowley, dressed in light weight clothing, listen to instructions from Chelton Leonard, Nevada's coach.

Exchange editor notes college drinking habit

By HAZEL JOHNSON

Four out of five college men who drink began their drinking before entering college.

Such are the results of a survey. Drinking habits of American college students were studied for five years by Yale University's laboratory of applied physiology.

We hope the study will help create a better understanding of student behavior on the part of persons affected by such activities, such as the residents of the college town, alumni and parents. declared Robert Strauss, research associate at Yale.

Data was secured by the Yale survey at 27 colleges and universities in the country. More than 17,000 students took part in a wide sampling of student drinking habits and attitudes toward drinking.

Among college men, seven out of ten reported that they most frequently drank beer. College women reported drinking beer, yet only a small percentage preferred it. Most preferred wine.

Forty two percent of the college men preferred hard liquor yet only half of that number could afford frequent usage.

The college student of today is a good deal more serious than his grandfather of 50 years ago. That's the conclusion of Dr William L. Prager, who recently retired after a half-century of teaching chemistry at the City College of New York.

Students of 1900 were more boisterous than the present day crop. Panty raids and other exhibitions not withstanding.

Considering the modern student less naive than his predecessor and one who approaches his work with greater strength of purpose, Dr Prager today finds the relations between students and teachers decidedly more friendly.

Don't sell women short when it comes to ambition for a job and a career. They used to say that the main interest a girl had in going to college was to catch a husband, but the latest interests survey conducted among 600 women at the University of Wisconsin campus shows that only 68 coeds are primarily interested in marriage as a career, while the other 532 are as much interested in jobs as well as marriage.

Construction cost explained to ASCE

By KEN AUSTIN

Some of the intricacies of construction cost estimating were explained to the ASCE club by Mr E. W. Mackenzie of the Mackenzie Construction company of Reno, at the chapter's regular meeting on February 11.

Mr Mackenzie showed how the success of an engineer often stands or falls on his ability to make an accurate cost estimate. He illustrated some of his own methods which have proven successful.

Tentatively planned for March 11 is the joint meeting of the electrical, mechanical, and civil engineering clubs hosted by the ASCE chapter.

The speaker will be Mr Robert G. Dummel of the Holophane company, makers of all types of light refractors.

Mr Dummel will illustrate some of the principles of light refraction with a display kit which employs sections cut from various refracting prisms used in street, industrial and other flood lighting systems.

All interested students are invited to attend the meeting at 7:30 p. m. in room 210 of the new engineering building. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Pack meets Lions in Vegas series

The University of Nevada's hustling Pack cagers battle it out in the next to the last hoop series of the year tonight and tomorrow, meeting the talented Loyla Lions in a two game stand at Las Vegas. Jake Lawlor's men enter the series with a good record of ten wins, eight losses. They've got two games left after this series, entertaining a terrific little Sacramento state quintet on the home court next weekend. The visiting Hornets have a record of 20-4 to date and hold two early season decisions over the Pack.

The series at Las Vegas looms as a top notch local attraction. Jay Simon is captain of the Lions. He's a former Las Vegas high school all-stater, and former Reno boy. Simon recently held all-American Johnny O'Brien of Seattle to a pair of field goals in the first half of a torrid game.

Simon

Simon will probably be assigned to high scoring Nevadaan Murt Baxter, who currently owns a 18.1 scoring average per game.

On the basis of comparative scoring over the season the series should be a dilly. Loyola has averaged 66.3 points per tilt, while the Wolf Pack, in 18 games, are just behind the Lion mark with 65.05 per contest.

Nevada will start with the usual combination, now that regular Doug Douglass is around again. The line up should read like this: Douglass and Dan Vidovich, guards; Reggie DePaoli, center, and Baxter and John Legarza at forwards.

Anchart to head FTA Butler is vice-pres

Officers were elected for the future teachers of America association last Tuesday evening.

Andree Anchart is president; Jim Butler, vice-president; Diane Lewers, secretary; Dorothy Berger, treasurer; and Orin Bachelor, is librarian.

The officers will attend the Nevada classroom teachers association convention in Las Vegas on March 19, 20, and 21. All expenses will be paid.

Dues of one dollar were collected at the meeting, and all students who are interested in the teaching field are urged to pay their dues, said Mr. Burton C. Newbry, assistant professor of education.

The next meeting of the future teachers will be held in the first part of March.

Plan tumbling act for Sac state game

Featuring a triple-pass dive, in which three men pass each other in mid-air, George (Art) Broten, tumbling coach, will put on a show during the half-time of the Sacramento state basketball game February 27 and 28.

This will be the tumbling team's first appearance this semester.

Skill

On February 27 the tumblers will demonstrate their skill on the high bar. Bert Munson, Paul Wild, and Art Broten himself, will be doing giant swings, fly-aways, kips, uprisers, and other stunts.

The next night the rest of the team will perform on the mats. High die rolls over stacks of chairs, front flips, back handsprings, pitch backs, and other feats of balance will back up the tricky, triple-pass dive.

The roster of mat men are Don Shuper, Jerry Fowler, Tom Ballow, Mel Preasnell, Bert Munson Hans Mohr, and Art Inagire.

Ski banquet to star queen candidates

Short talks by Gov Charles H. Russell Mayor Frances R. Smith, and Pres Minard W. Stout will be featured on the program of the Skier's banquet tomorrow night.

The queen candidates from the visiting schools will be introduced at the banquet which will be held at the Trocadero. Voting for queen by the Nevada team will take place later in the evening. Also included on the program will be singing by all the ski teams.

Joy

Lyle Joy is master of ceremonies for the affair which will be at 6:30 p.m., preceeding the Sno Ball dance.

Vanna Grant is in charge of decorations.

All ski teams, coaches and fans are invited to attend, according to Bob Winkle, social chairman. The

WHAT PRICE KENAUYAKSAIT?

1. For hundreds of years the coast of Baffin Island in Northern Canada has been an Eskimo home and hunting ground. The Baffin Island Eskimos were known throughout the North for their skill as seal hunters and fishermen. They lived on raw seal meat and raw fish. Their existence, while primitive, was a happy one.

2. Eight years ago the Canadian government set up a system of family allowance under which the Baffin Island Eskimos received $5 a month for each child—as did all other Canadians. These allowances, called “kenauyaksait” by the Eskimos, represented more money than most of them had ever seen at one time.

3. To the Eskimos, their new-found wealth meant they didn't have to hunt seals or catch fish any more. Most of them left their hunting and fishing grounds and moved in close to the trading posts where they received their monthly handouts and could buy the niceties of civilization.

4. The Eskimos' new life was soft and easy—for they had complete security. But because they no longer needed to provide for themselves they lost all vigor and ambition. As a result, the government is now trying to get them to move away from the trading posts and start producing or forfeit their allowances. But this is next to impossible to accomplish. For the Eskimos have grown to depend on their security so much that they have no desire to return to their former life of freedom and independence.

5. The important point of the story is this: enslavement by security isn't something that happens only to Eskimos. In fact, millions of people all over the world see nothing wrong with a welfare society. But welfare plans are like dope. The doses are small and pleasant at first, but they eventually enslave us. For that reason, we Americans must maintain our self-reliance, our productivity and our freedom. For these things, after all, are responsible for America's greatness.

Coed recreation to be new WRA feature; Orchestis getting ready for Big Bonanza

By EVELYN NELSON

With the second semester well under way, WRA has again outlined a new program of activities for the women on campus and the men, too. The newest addition to the program is coed recreation under the direction of Leah Gregory. This includes table tennis, badminton and handball for men students as well as women.

Coed recreation is held in the old gym every Tuesday night at 7. Badminton, supervised by Barbara Gregory, is held in the new gym at 4 p.m., Tuesdays. Tournaments will begin next week.

The members of Orchestis have been limbering their muscles for the annual Big Bonanza spring concert where modern dancing is a featured event. Anyone interested should sign up for any of the meetings held Wednesday night at 7.

Beginners

The Downtown Bowl is the scene of WRA bowling. Beginners lessons will be given to those who are interested. Betty Kling, who is in charge of this activity, is anxious for a large turnout as she would like to get the singles and doubles tournament started. Thursday afternoons at 4 is the time to bowl.

Taking advantage of the snow, Marvella Chandler is running the show for the ski enthusiasts. Rides are provided on Wednesday and Friday at 12:30 for anyone interested. The meeting place for those interested is the new gym.

The old gym is the place to spend a pleasant Saturday night roller skating. Skates are furnished for all as well as instructions. The doors are open at 7:30 p. m.

Girls

Something new in the field of girls sports is coming to the campus of the U of N on Saturday, February 28 at 2 in the new gym. A basketball game will take place between the girls from Sacramento state and a girls' team representing the U of N, composed of girls who took an active part in WRA basketball.

SPEAKER

Paul S. Benise, associate regional secretary of WUS, formerly WSSF, will speak to the local group Monday. Formerly chairman of WSSF at California he will explain the purpose of the organization and how to make it work on our campus.

He will speak at noon in the Y room in Stewart hall, according to Vanna Grant, chairman.

Mrs LaRivers appointed new YWCA director

An executive director for the YWCA has been appointed. Mrs Ira LaRivers has returned to help the forty members with their office work. Last semester the Y was without a director.

Wife of Dr LaRivers of the biology department, she worked in 1949-50 as business director of the YW with Mrs Marjory Dickinson as executive director. Mrs. Dickinson sang soprano solo parts in several of the Messiah performances at the university. She is now in Las Vegas.

Hours

Office hours at the Y, in the basement of Stewart hall, will be arranged to suit the members. Tentative open-office days are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, reported Joanne Menu a cabinet member. Mrs LaRivers will work three full days during the week.

She taught the sixth grade at Central school in Reno last year.

The Y's next big project on the campus is the WUS Carnival, formerly called the WSSF Carnival. The all-campus event will take place in March.

ENGAGEMENT

Individual cakes inscribed with Jo Ann and Neill were served at the Tri-Delt house Monday evening to reveal the engagement of Jo Ann Whitehead and Neill West.

Jo Ann, a graduate of Sparks high school, is a sophomore Tri-

Delt majoring in English. Last year she was active as a cheer leader.

Neill is a graduate of Reno high school and is a freshman student majoring in agriculture. He is pledged to ATO.

The wedding date is set for sometime in June.

From faraway places—more oil for you

In Sumatra back in 1924, Standard geologists began mapping possible deposits of oil. But not until last year did Sumatran wells start adding to available oil supplies. This operation, costing some $62 million to date, was pioneered by Standard. It is now carried on jointly with The Texas Company under the name "Caltex."

Into San Francisco Bay come tankers carrying Sumatran crude—returns on the long gamble Standard undertook nearly 30 years ago. Other shipments go elsewhere in the world, aiding progress and adding defensive strength. Four friendly nations in particular benefit directly. First, of course, is the young Indonesian Republic, of which Sumatra is a part. Then Australia, Japan and the Philippines. They produce practically no oil of their own, but will be supplied in the near future by refineries which Caltex is helping to build. ¶ And, of course, the Sumatran oil brought into this country helps keep you in gasoline and the many other petroleum products you've come to rely on. ¶ Standard's activities abroad, typified by this flow of Sumatran crude, are constantly being expanded, as an added guarantee that petroleum needs of the free world will continue to be met.
