The Nevada ski team snowed its competitors by winning the Tressider memorial four event ski meet at Yosemite last weekend.

Nevada, with a total of 396.96 points, ended 9.42 points ahead of second-place UCLA.

Allan Ramsey won the six and one-half mile cross country endurance test in 47 minutes and 28 seconds. Doug Collins, Stanford, placed second with 52:31. Don Thompson and Bill Bulkeley of Nevada placed third and fourth in the cross-country.

Just missing the top in jumping, the Nevada men landed in the following places: John Cowley, Bulkeley, Ramsey and Thompson. Einar Hovind, UCLA, won the jump, soaring 91 feet.

Ramsey

Ramsey in 83.8 seconds won the slalom. Second in time was Tom Nelson, UCLA, 87.4. In the top ten also were Nevada men, Pat Myers, team captain; Bulkeley and Thompson.

Nevada placed second to the Stanford Indians in the downhill two-mile Rail Creek run. Collins won in 23 seconds. Myers of Nevada placed third at the finish of the corn snow and icy dotted race course. Nevada men placing in the top ten of the downhill besides Myers were Bulkeley, Ramsey, and Dick Thomas.

UCLA placed second in the meet with a total of 387.14 points; Stanford, third, with 347.73; California, fourth, 333.31; COP, fifth, 293.25.

The Tressider memorial race is held every year at Yosemite, California, in honor of Dr Tressider, deceased president of Stanford University.

AWS candidates speak at Capers

AWS presidential candidates spoke to the women students at the Co-ed Capers held Tuesday in the university dining hall. The women running for this office, the highest a woman can hold on campus, were Mary Anne Nornle, Norma Etchegoyen, Barbara Van Meter and Annette Caprio.

The women ate the traditional spaghetti dinner, at this semiannual gathering of women students. Dean William Carlson, the only male attending this fete, also gave a short speech. Marilyn Royle spoke to the women about WUS, world university service. Marilyn is chairman of the up-coming WUS carnival.

Tri-Delta won the improvement plaque again. They also received the active and pledge awards. The basketball plaque went to the KAT sorority.

Pack boxers leave for SF tourney

Represented by four outstanding boxers, the Wolfpack boxing team tonight begins a weekend intercollegiate tourney in San Francisco.

Sammy Macias, unbeaten in two starts, will enter the 119-pound class; Elwood Haggerty enters as the 125-pound representative. Tom Massey is entered in the 165-pound division; and Bill Griggs, unbeaten in four bouts, as the 178-pounder. All but Massey are sophomores.

Because of medical reasons, captain Doug Byington, unbeaten in all college welterweight bouts, will not box the rest of the season. A favorite to win the San Francisco and Pacific coast tournaments, Byington was given a good chance for the nationals at Pocatello.

Massey

Tom Massey is now looking better than at any time this season. Hampered by a damaged nose for the first part of the year and by influenza the last part, Massey has had more than his share of bad luck, stated coach Jim Olivas. He further added that all four Nevadans have a good chance for championships.

San Francisco's tournament will include Nevada, Chico, Cal Aggies, Santa Clara, California, Stanford, and the host San Francisco state team.

There may be the chance for Nevada, Chico and Cal Aggies to have a tune-up at Chico to prepare for the Pacific coast intercollegiate at Sacramento, March 26-27-28.

Scabbard & Blade plans military ball

The traditional saber arch will highlight the Scabbard & Blade's annual Military Ball to be held on April 25th at the Hotel Mapes. The queen of the ball will be escorted through the arch after being chosen to preside over the evening by a vote of the guests.

Selection of the queen will be made from five candidates, Mary Contri, Ada Mae Gray, Janie Thomas, Dianne Kridler and Lena Quilici.

Banquet

The Scabbard & Blade will begin its evening with a banquet at 7 p.m. in the Nevada room, for members of the military organization, followed by the ball at 9 p.m. in the Fable room.

Scabbard & Blade president Henry Clark is in charge of selecting the orchestra and has delegated responsibility for the banquet to Art Peterson and Jack Pennman. Bruce Harris and Jack Cherry will handle publicity, Jim Miller will direct the saber arch, and Dick Weissman is in charge of the nominations for queen.

Tickets and invitations are being handled by Pat Norton and Milt Sharp, and tickets will be $1.50 per couple. The ball is open to the whole campus.

Gamma Phis elect Melendy as pres

Alice Melendy succeeds Beverly Myles as the new leader of Gamma Phi Beta. Joan Blake was elected to assist the president and succeeded vice-pres Joan Foster.

The other officers chosen at last Monday evening's meeting were Elinor Long, treasurer; Ann Serpentine, recording secretary; Sallie Rogers, corresponding secretary; Joan Love, pledge trainer; Barbara Irwin, rush chariman and Ruth Ingram, house manager.

The new officers were installed at the meeting by the outgoing officials. The term of office will expire in February, 1954.

The Gamma Phis recently received the annual visit of the province director, Mrs Myrtle Patterson from Orinda, California, and the national panhellenic delegate, Mrs Penelope Simonson, from Piedmont, California.

The two women stayed at the house during the weekend of February 21 to 23 and evaluated the Nevada chapter in comparison to the other chapters which they had visited.

Golf, tennis hopefuls to meet next week

A meeting for those interested in tennis and golf competition was held Tuesday afternoon in the athletic office of then new gymnasium.

Jake Lawlor, director of athletics, announced the following schedule for these sports:

March 27—California Aggies at Davis.

March 28—Sacramento Jr. College at Sacramento.

April 10—Sacramento State at Sacramento.

April 18—Chico sttae at Sacramento.

April 24—Sacramento Jr. College at Sacramento.

April 25—Chico state at Chico.

May 1—Sacramento sttae at Reno.

May 9—California Aggies at Reno.

AWS president

Elections held yesterday for next year's associated women students president resulted in a victory for Norma Etchegoyen over runner-up Barbara Van Meter.

Milt Sharp heads Big Bonanza event

Plans are under way for the second annual Big Bonanza to be held the first weekend in May.

Milt Sharp, this year's chairman of the event, announced that he was anxious to have anyone interested in working on the celebration contact him.

Sharp indicated that activities this year would be similar to those last year with two or three new ones added to make it a bigger and better affair. We aim this year, he said, to bring more people on campus to take part in the activities.

This weekend of festivities can be a good thing for the school and the state, Sharp stated.

Publicity will be stressed greatly both on campus and in town, Sharp pointed out. The more people we get here the better affair it will be.

Frosh cagers win in Fallon bout

Holding a Capucci-Weaver team from Fallon to 11 points in the first half, the highly successful university frosh basketball team went on to score a convincing 41-29 win.

The game was the 15th victory of the year against one defeat.

Unable

Failing to score more than four field goals during the game, Fallons C&W town team was unable to hit from the field until almost midway through the third quarter.

Coach Hugh Smithwick's team held a 14-2 first quarter lead, and a 23-11 edge at the half.

Nevada frosh players include McGhie, Munk, Longero, Jones, Biglieri, Summerfield and Trounday.

Tri-Delts elect West; other officers named

Nancy West was installed president of Tri-Delta sorority Monday evening. Outgoing pres Jeanne Zelayeta turned over the gavel to the newly elected president, who installed the rest of the officers.

The new officers are Dorothy Berger, vice-president; Eileen Yureta, house manager; Dorothy Bell, marshal; Joanne Menu, chaplain; Barbara Jackson, recording secretary; Carol Normandy, corresponding secretary; Inez Pasquale, treasurer; Barbara Van Meter, rush chairman; Marvella Chandler, senator; and Marie Nielsen, historian.

Theta Chis elect Tom Godbey prexy

At a recent chapter meeting, Tom Godbey was elected president of Theta Chi.

Also elected were Rollan Melton, vice president; Charle Hanna, secretary; Glen Dory, treasurer; Hans Mohr, pledge trainer; Marty Young, librarian; Ed Baroch, historian; and Bill Bulkeley, senator.

Godbey succeeds Dick Reid as president.

Bills to tighten legislature's control over university introduced at Carson

One of the four measures to tighten up control of the University of Nevada by the Nevada legislature was passed by the assembly on Tuesday morning.

The bill, AB284, requires the board of regents to give notice of meeting to the public at least twenty-four hours in advance. It also provides that the meeting must be held on the University of Nevada campus. The bill will now go to the senate. It was introduced by Sam Houghton, Washoe county republican.

Three other bills, introduced by Gary Adams, Washoe county republican, all tend to give legislative control over the board of regents of the university. Two of the bills are now in committees, and the other is now ready for the Assembly vote.

Assembly bill 166 requires a faculty member to attend the meeting of the regents. This member would have no vote, but would be elected by the faculty as their representative and observer. This bill is in committee.

Regents

A bill to increase the board of regents to nine members is still in committee. The bill, AB168, would increase their membership on the board to eight years, and provides that the state be divided into districts, each district having one regent.

Assembly bill 167 would repeal an act creating the advisory board of regents of the university, declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

In other legislative action taken on Monday, the assembly approved a senate bill which would allow noncitizens of the United States to hold teaching positions at the university and other Nevada schools. This bill will now go to Gov Charles Russell for his approval.

Present legislation provides that no teacher, who is not a citizen of the United States may be hired. The university could not take advantage of the exchange teacher proposal under the present legislation.

Benise asks for aid to help world friends

World University Service helps other university students around the world help themselves, Paul S. Benise stated this last week.

Benise, associate regional secretary of WUS, spoke to a campus group and individuals in WUS on the history and function of the organization. He recently graduated from the University of California where he was in charge of WUS.

Benise stated that once less fortunate students are given something to star ou fih, hey can usually carry on without too much help. As an example, he pointed out that one asiatic country was given a mimeograph machine and a years supply of paper. They then printed all their own text books from the one book they did have.

China

WUS was originally started to help students in China in 1937 and later expanded to 36 countries all over the world. According to Benise about half of these are in Europe and most of the European members have started contributing to other countries less fortunate than themselves.

The fact that WUS has only 27 paid employees in the United States was stressed. With such a small staff, only a small percentage of the money raised is used for the organization. Most of it goes to the cause for which it is collected. This is not true of many organizations of the same type.

Benise also had discussions with various individuals about how to emphasize WUS on the individual campuses and explained some of the ways other campuses raise money for the project.

Fund placement changes asked

A bill to place certain university of Nevada funds in the state treasury instead of the banks has emerged from a committee study with a "Do Pass" recommendation in the Nevada Legislature.

The bill, AB276, also provides for a $100,000 revolving fund. The committee on judiciary gave the favorable recommendation and it will now go to the committee on ways and means.

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Gary Adams, Washoe county democrat.

Stout returns today from Chicago trip

Pres Minard W. Stout returns this evening from Chicago after interviewing applicants for the post being vacated by Dr Milan J. Webster this summer. Dr Webster, professor of economics, business and sociology, plans to retire at the end of the present semester.

Stout attended the business administration teachers convention, where he consulted applicants for the job. He also consulted various deans of business administration schools for ideas that might help strengthen the department at the University of Nevada.

Stout returns in time to address the Nevada state press association convention on the campus tomorrow morning. The president also plans to attend the convention banquet tomorrow evening.

Three frat dances on social agenda

Three dances will highlight this weekend, when the Pi Phis hold their annual costume dance and the Theta Chis and Phi Sigs their second semester pledge dances.

The Pi Phis will feature the flapper days at their dance Friday night in the basement of their house.

Theta Chi

Theta Chi will honor their pledges at a dance Friday night at Lawton's. Mario Taluci's band will furnish the music for the evening. According to plans, everyone will meet at the house before the dance for a coke party.

Saturday night the Phi Sigs will present their pledge dance at Echo's. The sport affair will be from 9 to 12, and music will be by Eddie Gome's combo.

Connett is new prexy of Phi Sigma Kappa

Dave Connett was elected president of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity in a special election held Monday night. The election was called to fill the unforeseen vacancy left by the former president, Fred Alpers. Phillip Collins was elected secretary.

5 million budget explained by Stout

Pres Minard Stout explained his request for $5,240,429 for the university budget before a joint session of the assembly's ways and means committee and the senate finance committee Monday.

The $5,240,429 for '53-'54 was reduced in the governor's office to $4,711,632.

In order to compete with other western universities of the size and caliber of Nevada the university needs the raise in salaries for faculty and employees, Stout stated. The salary raise of 15 percent was cut to a 10 percent raise. We are now 20 percent behind other universities, he added.

The university plans no expansion in courses or instructors, Stout reported.

Repair

Because the $80,000 grant for the repair of Lincoln hall ran out six months ago, there is a request for $50,000 more.

The bill requesting $200,000 for the the proposed student union building was introduced to the assembly last Monday by Republican James Wood of Reno. That money would match the amount bequeathed by the Travis fund for the building.

Athletic league discussed at meet

Jake Lawlor, director of athletics, Monday attended preliminary discussions on the organization of an athletic conference. The conference would include the University of Nevada and the four California colleges with which the Wolf Pack already often competes.

Upon returning, Lawlor stated that the prospects of forming such a conference were very good. He also pointed out that such a conference would be ideal for the university, for it would enable it to play schools with an enrollment similar to its own.

The schools considering forming this league are San Francisco state, Chico state, Cal Aggies and Sacramento state. Lawlor also mentioned the possibility that Southern Oregon and Humboldt state might be interested in such a conference. They would be handicapped by the distance from the other colleges.

Six

Six sports to be required in the conference were discussed. These sports would be football, basketball, track, baseball, golf and tennis. A policy of competing in as many other sports, such as boxing, skiing, wrestling and swimming would not be required.

This is just a preliminary meeting, Lawlor explained. At the meeting on March 17, we will go into more detail.

On the agenda for the March 17 meeting, in addition to further discussion of the inclusion of the northern schools, is the matter of setting up the definite membership, naming the conference and setting up a constitution and by-laws.

If the conference can be formed in the talks this spring, first league competition would come in the 1953-54 basketball season.

Lawlor explained that football schedules are already too well set to allow revamping for a conference race.

Stuart Chase speaks as Fulton lecturer

Stuart Chase, internationally-known author and lecturer presented a series of speeches on campus March 2 and 3. As the 1953 Fulton lecturer, Mr. Chase gave four daytime lectures as well as his main address Can Science Save Us, on Monday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Education auditorium.

Also on Monday he spoke on The Power of Words and Labor Management Relations. Roads to Agreement and The Economic Outlook were the subjects of his talks on Tuesday. His informal daytime talks were followed by discussion periods.

Pres and Mrs Minard Stout honored Mr Chase at luncheon Monday afternoon at the Mapes hotel. Other guests at the luncheon were the daughters of Robert Lardin Fulton, of the Fulton lecture foundation, Mesdames Margaret Fulton Mason and Helen Fulton Peterson. Members of the lecture committee attended the lunch. A faculty reception for Dr Chase was held in the lounge of Artemisia hall, Monday afternoon from 3:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

When Grover talks to his dreamboat — something clicks

A call from Dreamboat always clicks with Grover. And an Automatic Message Accounting machine has been clicking too — down in the telephone office — busily punching impressions on a paper tape.

You may be interested in what this ingenious recorder does. It keeps track of what telephone number you called, how long you talked, and records this information in such a way that another machine can automatically prepare a monthly bill.

The development of this new automatic accounting machine is the result of teamwork by Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and the telephone companies. Telephone people working on this and other interesting and important projects were in college just a short time ago. Perhaps you'd like to join them.

4 campus coeds in Miss Reno race

Four eye-catching campus coeds will be among the eight contestants seeking the title of Miss Reno Saturday night, March 14, during the fifth annual Miss Reno pageant.

The university coeds in the contest are Beverly Griggs, Shirley Armstrong, Nadine Coleman, and Myrtle Coates.

A personal appearance at the Crest theater tomorrow evening is one of the show skits planned for the Miss Reno contestants. The women have already had personal interviews on the radio, attended daily rehearsals, and had publicity in the local papers, as part of the Miss Reno program.

Fields

The contenders for the Miss Reno title will be judged in three fields: talent, appearance in formal dress and bathing suits.

Win or lose, it's a terrific experience, Myrtle Coates exclaimed. The speech major is 20 years old and a junior, Myrtle, Pi Beta Phi, has planned an interpretive dance, combining ballet, modern and acrobatic dancing for the contest.

The Pi Beta Phi miss has green eyes and short brown hair, stands 5 feet 5 inches, weighs 120 pounds and measures 35, 24, 35.

Nadine Coleman, 19-year-old home economics major, is a sophomore and a member of Tri-Delta sorority. The 5 foot 6 miss weighs 121 pounds and measures 36, 26, 36. Nadine has long blond hair and green eyes.

Art

I thought walking was a simple action, but the coaches are showing lots of new tricks to the art of walking gracefully, Nadine commented.

Shirley Armstrong, Artemisia hall, is a music major and will call upon her Italian lessons from Dr. G. J. Paolozzi of the foreign language department, to sing One Fine Day from the opera, Madam Butterfly.

It's just one of the many thrills I've had attending the University of Nevada, Shirley explained when asked her reaction to being chosen a candidate for the Miss Reno contest.

Shirley is a freshman student majoring in music. Last Sunday she celebrated her 19th birthday. The 5 foot 4 1/2 inch brunette weighs 130 pounds and measures 36, 24, 37.

Beverly Griggs, 18, the youngest of the university contestants, is a freshman journalism major.

The contest is very exciting, she said and adds, something different is planned for the contestants each day. Beverly is affiliated with Pi Phi sorority. She will give a ballet-tap for her talent. The Pi Phi coed stands 5 feet 6 1/2 inches, weighs 123 pounds and measures 34, 25, 35.

The night before the pageant the contestants will again be interviewed on the radio, and the morning of the contest will have breakfast with the judges. During the breakfast, the women will move around the table and meet each judge personally.

Winner of the Miss Reno pageant will enter the Miss Nevada contest to be held some time in May and then Miss Nevada competes in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City in September.

Draft Deferment applications due

Deadline for mailing application forms for the coming selective service deferment tests is March 9, reminded national selective service headquarters. The test, which takes place on April 23, is the last examination of this kind during the current academic year.

Requirements

To be eligible to take the selective service qualification test, an applicant has to fulfill the following requirements on the testing date: 1.) he must be a selective service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student; 2.) he must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course—undergraduate or graduate—leading to a degree; 3.) he must not previously have taken the test.

Tighten

New regulations which will substantially tighten the deferment criteria by raising the standards are now acting to be formulated, stated Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service.

This action has become necessary, since the limited manpower supply does not longer justify deferment of such a large number of students and since veterans now are returning in sufficient numbers to take the places of drafted college students.

Criteria

The present criteria for consideration of deferment as a student are either a score of 70 or better on the selective service qualification test or class standing among the male members in the upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class or upper three-fourths of the junior class.

Seniors accepted for admission to a graduate school satisfy the criteria if they are among the upper half of the male members of their senior class, or if they make a score of 75 or better.

General Hershey urged all eligible students to take the test so they will have scores in their files when the local boards reconsider their cases.

A deferment is a delay or postponement and in no way cancels the duty of the registrant to meet his obligations said General Hershey while stressing that no deferment is an exemption.

Most of the coeds who registered at the university last week are here to get BAs, but some hope to get a Mrs.

Letter to the editor

The entire University of Nevada is to be congratulated on a job well done after the excellent support and enthusiasm the entire school showed at the Winter Carnival.

I would like to thank the sororities and fraternities for their outstanding decorations and hospitality and a very special thanks to the Winter Carnival committee, who made this carnival the outstanding ski meet of the year.

Peggy Bell, who did all the clerical and recording work and most of the chairman's job (no favoritism in the committee), Jeff Lobaugh, who gave you a fine tournament, Bob Winkel, who gave us the outstanding social events, Joan Blake, who provided six hundred lunches during the tournament, Dave Buckman, who did a terrific job on publicity, Dorothy Bell and Bill Pelter, who did an excellent job on sorority and fraternity decorations respectively.

Bill Brown, who successfully housed 110 competitors and officials, Don Thompson, who handled the assembly program, Patty Jefferson, who decorated the courses with colorful flags and banners, Vana Grant, who took care of the banquet and dance decorations, to them—many, many thanks.

John Cowley and the university ski club, I'd like to thank especially for their gate-keeping, tamping, and general course conditioning. To Gail Altenburg and her crew of women who provided the racing numbers and flags, my gratitude.

And above all, I wish to thank the administration and the students themselves who did so much to make the Winter Carnival the best ever.

Brent Aiken.

Lower voting age may pass legislature

A bill allowing 18-year-olds to vote was passed in the assembly of the Nevada state legislature on Tuesday morning.

The bill received a bare majority of 25 to 18 for its passage. The bill was introduced in the assembly, and will now go to the senate for their approval.

There was much discussion on the measure. The opposing members based their opposition on the fact that "youth does not have the wisdom and the ability to judge human character for such important positions as the government." This was answered by one member who stated that he wondered how many of his fellowmen were elected by the wisdom of some of the voters who voted for them.

Answered

These charges were also answered by many of the legislators, several of whom voiced their contention that the 18-year-olds of today were just as well versed as the 21-year-olds of yesterday when the bill was passed setting up the voting age.

The controversial bill has been introduced in the legislature for many years. Several times the assembly has passed it, but the senate has always vetoed it.

Gamma Phis to meet at San Jose state

Most of the active chapter and some of the pledges of Gamma Phi plan to convene with members of all California and Arizona chapters at San Jose state college for a three-day convention during March 27, 28 and 29.

The Nevada Gamma Phis are planning a round-table discussion of campus activities outside of sorority life.

Rushing methods, pledging and scholarship improvement are on the discussion agenda for the convention.

President Alice Melendy and rush chairman Barbara Irwin will act as delegates. Alumnae advisor, Mary Alice Pine, also plans to attend.

Pledges honored

New pledges were honored last Saturday night when Lambda Chi and SAE held their second semester pledge dances.

The Lambda Chi affair was staged at Echo's from 8 to 12. The fireplace was the gathering spot for those attending, as they warmed themselves after coming in out of the snow.

COFFEE GROUNDS by sue sutton

Last week Miss Campus Capers resigned and ye ed hunted high and low trying to find someone to replace her. After turning around three times with his eyes closed, he pointed to a row of coeds leaning against the wall in the Outer Office, and I got the job. So if you will have patience and bear with me, I'll try to give you the true scoop on views and news.

First, the reason for the title—coffee grounds are what are usually found in the bottom of the cup, after everything else has been sifted out. Anyhow, you get the point. Coffee grounds equals dirt.

Well, what do you know dept.: Every Wednesday night is, guest night at the SAE house with all the brothers dressing up to impress the ladies. This past Wednesday Joan Miller, Marvella Chandler, Diane Kridler and Dean Mobley were honored. So now you know, and who cares.

With sorority rushing over and gone, the following results were submitted: Dolores Steinheimer, Nancy Hartke, and Marge Birkholder are new Pi Phis. Wearing the Tri-Delta (pledge) pin are Joan Foster, June Hannon and Shirley Wengert. Paula Gray has pledged Gamma Phi.

Dave Connett has taken over where Fred Alpers left off and is now prexy of Phi Sig; his new job forced him to resign as Gamma Phi house boy, but the girls report that a true doll has taken his place.

Incidentally, planned this Saturday night is the sports dance the Phi Sigs are giving at Echo's. Many alums have gotten the nod.

Tonight the Theta Chis are giving a coke party at the house which will be followed by their pledge dance at Lawton's. Also tonight the Pi Phis are going Tired Twenties on us with a dance in their basement, which will be decorated to look like a speakeasy.

Also on the weekend social agenda is the division formal at the St. Francis in San Francisco. This is an annual Sigma Nu affair which will be attended by 15 of the local men. Cal, Stanford, Fresno, Cal Aggie, and San Jose Sigma Nus will also attend.

Last weekend's Tressider Memorial ski tourney at Yosemite proved victorious for Nevada. In case you're interested, four trophies are now on display in the gym which were won for jumping, slalom, and cross-country. Big winners were Allan Ramsey, John Cowley and Nan Imperatrice, who won the women's slalom followed in order by Marvella Chandler. The fourth trophy was the Tressider Memorial one for all-over team honors. Rumor has it that the team stopped at the El Prado in Sacramento and filled the big cup with that bubbly stuff for a victory toast.

Word to the wise dept: the Lambda Chis have issued a frantic plea for their paddles which were stolen last Saturday night by a bevy of campus lovelies. Isn't it about time that this vandalism ceases and we start acting like college students instead of kindergartners? If the shoe fits, wear it.

The PE dept's Art Broten was caught without his clothes last Monday a.m., and after a frustrating hour or so found the key to the locker room where he had flung the garments. Where was the key after all this worry and scurry? Right in his pocket.

Rollan Melton, Theta Chi and sports ed, is traveling to the city by the Bay to cover the boxing tourney this weekend. Rollan will be representing the Nevada state Journal.

Bouquets to the new AWS president whose name was revealed too late for this writing. The same for Ruth Moore, who is the outgoing prexy, for a job well done. Coed Capers was a huge success due to her efficiency and enthusiasm. That's about all this week. Be sitting with Sutton again.

UN prof speaks for civil rights

University of Nevada faculty member R. L. James spoke in favor of the civil rights bill at the public hearing before an assembly committee in Carson City on Tuesday afternoon.

The bill provides for no discrimination for admission of citizens for public accommodation or amusement. It also provides civil remedy for violation of the bill.

The bill was referred to the ossembly committee on judiciary, which called a public hearing on the bill because of its controversial nature.

The meeting attracted a large gathering of people, who all spoke in favor of the bill. When the arguments for its passage were completed, it appeared that there was none to speak for the opposition.

Mr. James, who teaches economics and sociology, stated that he was wholeheartedly in favor of the bill. He also pointed out that there were no negro students at the university at this time, and that this bill would probably stimulate negro enrollment at the university to its benefit and also to the benefit of the students and his department.

Excellent chance for student union

The student union building at the university may become a reality.

A bill was introduced in the legislature assembly on Monday by James Wood, Washoe County republican, which stipulates that the legislature grant the university $300,000 to match the request of the late Wesley Travis.

Travis, in his will, gave the university $300,000 if the legislature would appropriate a matching amount.

Specific

The bill, AB 323, states that the money be given to the president of the university and the board of regents to be used for that specified purpose only. The building is to be known as the "Jot Travis student union building," and is to be used for student recreation purposes and to contain suitable offices for bona fide student organizations, and office the alumni association.

The bill was referred to a joint committee on ways and means, and state institutions and building construction. Informed sources state that the bill will emerge from the committee with a "Do Pass" recommendation.

UN constitution tops senate agenda

Revision of the ASUN constitution with special attention given to the out-dated athletic provisions was tops on the senate agenda last Wednesday.

Coach Jake Lawlor, in speaking to the group, particularly stressed awards and basis for awards. Presenting a suggested plan for changes that give the coach of the sport the initial power to recommend a man for his award, Lawlor pointed out that many athletes have failed to receive their awards because their scholastic requirements were not up to par.

Despite their athletic performance, under the present requirements potential lettermen may not receive their awards until the end of the semester and perhaps not even then.

Finance

Explaining the finance program to the senate, Lawlor pointed out the fact that $19,000 is appropriated to the athletic department. More than two-thirds of this amount comes from student fees. An additional $1500 a year is paid by the student body for athletic awards....

If, however, the athletic department makes a profit during the year (and this is frequently the case, this reverts to the general fund of the university . . . not to the student body treasury.

Revisions

Approximately forty revisions should be made, said Pres Proc Hug. Senators have been assigned to study the constitution, section by section, and it is hoped that the revised constitution will be completed in time for the April elections.

High School day, under the chairmanship of Joan Foster will be March 20. Tours of the campus, a luncheon in the gow hall, and the WUS carnival are part of the plans for the day.

Nevada's boxers face tough go, but may take S. F. tournament

Entering the San Francisco invitational tournament with a record of three wins, one tie and one loss, Nevada has a pretty good chance of taking the meet, boxing coach Jimmy Olivas said this week. He traveled down with a picked team this morning.

Bill Griggs, five wins, Sammy Macias, one win, Tom Massey, three wins-one loss, and Elwood Haggerty, two wins-one loss, are slated to represent the university boxing team in S.F.

The San Francisco tourney is being inaugurated this year, coach Olivas said. This will be the first of what we hope will be a series of tourneys down there.

Stiff

The boys will have stiff competition from teams such as California, Stanford, Chico, Cal Poly, Santa Clara, Cal Aggies and S.F., Olivas said, but a team that takes three bouts might take the tourney.

The Chico tourney, which was scheduled for March 13 and 14, has been called off by Chico. Athletic director Jake Lawlor stated that Chico was unable to have a team for the meet. It seems they have lost several men due to graduation, finances, etc. They were in about the same condition when they only brought four men for their bout with Nevada a while ago.

The Pacific coast intercollegiate will be next on the list for the boxers. This will be an important meet for the team. If they take first or second place in this meet, they might be invited to the big NCAA tourney.

Basketballers win two-game series

Last weekend's two-game victory over Sacramento state held more significance than a mere victory.

They showed that: 1. A new scoring record was set. 2. An early season loss to a powerful team was avenged. 3. The Wolf Pack came up with a good win-loss record. 4. Five Nevada seniors played their final intercollegiate games.

Scoring 11 and 13 points against Sacramento state college, forward Mert Baxter set a new record for basketball at the University of Nevada.

Averting 17.5 points a game for 22 games this year Baxter broke his own record set last year as a junior, of 14.5 points a game over a similar 22-game season.

Friday and Saturday nights saw sweet revenge for an early-season licking at Sacramento. The Wolf Pack closed out a successful 1952-1953 season by sweeping a two-game series 61-49; 67-59.

The weekend wins evened the two team's seasonal standing at 2-2 and gave the Wolf Pack a good 12-10 record for the season.

Leading after the first few seconds of Friday's game, the Pack increased the margin from 6 to 10 points throughout the game.

Saturday's game saw the lead alternately change until the final minutes of the last quarter when Wolf Pack guard Bill Cooper, a senior, made ten quick points.

Up to that point the game had been rough, physically speaking, with 56 personal fouls assessed against both teams. Nevada was guilty of 25, the Sacramento Hornets, 31.

Five men, including four starters, played their last intercollegiate game for Nevada. Mert Baxter, Dan Vidovich, Bob Cooper, Doug Douglass and Daye Strm are all graduating seniors.

Press association convening here

Problems of editing and publishing newspapers will be discussed tomorrow at the 28th annual convention of the Nevada state press association to be held on campus.

Experiences with government offices is releasing vital information will be discussed by Dan L. Beebe, editor and publisher of the Oroville California Register.

The newly-developed teletypesetter and the small newspaper will be the subject of Lowell Jessen's speech. Jessen is editor and publisher of the Turlock, California, Daily Journal.

Others

Other problems relating to the publishing business will be discussed by Don Segerstrom, publisher of the Sonora, California, Union Democrat; Don Reynolds, owner of the Las Vegas Review-Journal and Ely newspapers, inc; Merrill Inch, of Reno Newspapers, inc, and Carl Shelly publisher of the Sparks Tribune.

The highlight of the convention will be the banquet held at the Riverside hotel Saturday evening.

Varsity tracksters plan large season

As workouts for varsity track started Monday, the Nevada team looks toward one of its largest seasons in history. The Wolf Pack cindersmen will perform in no less than six meets this spring, pointed out Hugh Smithwick, varsity track coach. In the past five years no season has exceeded five meets.

With such a large schedule, coach Hugh Smithwick urges all interested in the sports to sign up. As he says, if we are to make any kind of showing at all we will need a great deal of depth.

Returning lettermen on this year's team will be Giles Altenburg in the pole vault and relay; Mert Baxter in the javelin, Carles Bell in the 880, distance, and relay; Reggie DePaoli, in the shot put, Proc Hug in the hurdles, and broad jump, Leo Quilici in the discus, Ken Server in the shot, and Milt Sharp in the distance.

Missing

Missing from last year will be such familiar names as Marv Byers and Miron Leavitt in the sprints, Jerry Etchegoyhen in the pole vault, Bob Hage in the shot, Bill Jager in the high jump, Lou Lemaire in the broad jump, Brent Taylor in the high jump, and Bob Caughlin in the distance.

This year's schedule will include two three-way meets. One is with USF and Nevada, and the other is with Sacramento state, USF and Nevada. In addition to these, there will be dual meets with Cal Aggies, Sacramento state, Chico state and San Francisco state.

Tennis, golf teams begin practice

The university tennis and golf teams opened this year's season with their first official practice last weekend. There will be strenuous practicing in the following days. We must use every free minute for practice, since the coming matches are pretty close now, Jake Lawlor said in a meeting of the players this week.

The new coach of this year's tennis team, senior player Hutch Nencil, undertook a hard three-hour practice with the team aspirants on the downtown tennis courts last weekend. The final choosing of the players representing the university will not be made before next Sunday.

Besides the official matches with other universities, the team will play against Reno Tennis club and probably against a team from Stead Airbase.

Since the university's own courts are very often crowded, the team got the permission of the Reno Tennis club to practice on the downtown courts at any time. The official practice under the supervision of coach Nencil will take place every Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

The aspirants for the golf team started practicing this week too. Since Jake Lawlor is too busy with other sport activities, the team which practices on the Washoe county golf course will be under the supervision of Washoe county golf club players.

The tennis team's first match will be with the Cal Aggies on March 27 at Davis. The golf team's first play is on the same day against Cal Aggies.

Schedules

The official schedules are:

Over 75 pledges Initiated last week

More than 75 pledges were initiated by the Lamba Chis, Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega fraternities last week-end.

The Sigma Nus had 31 pledges going Hell week and initiation. The Hell week lasted from March 23 to 28, with Jim Brocke in charge. During this time the pledges painted inside the house, worked in the yard and built partitions in the kitchen of the chapter house.

Their formal initiation was held Sunday afternoon, March 1, in the Masonic temple. This was followed by a banquet dinner for the pledges at the Oasis, Sunday night.

Sigma Nu

The men initiated were Ed Aimoney, Jim Anderson, Paul Brobergs, Dal Byington, Jerry Carstens, Ken Corica, Hugh Davis, Jim Dunseaths, Bill Edwards, Harry Ericson, Boyce Ford, Louis Garneau, Bill Griggs.

Herb Hughes was elected best pledge for the year.

Lambda Chi initiated four men Sunday, March 1. Hell week was carried out from March 21 to the 28. The pledges cleaned the chapter house and worked in the yard. The men who went through initiation were Ronald Smith, Ed Roscoe, Walter Anderson and John Ferrari.

They will honor the new members at a banquet next week.

Alpha Tau Omega continued its practice of holding Help week instead of the traditional Hell week. Help week was from March 22 to the 28, with Jack Crowell in charge of finding useful jobs for the pledges to do. During this week the men dug ditches for the Little League ball park, and cleaned up the YMCA downtown, as well as painting inside the chapter house. Each pledge was required to put in 20 hours of work.

The formal initiation was held at the chapter house, Friday following a banquet at the Santa Fe hotel.

New members are Ken Adams, Dick Andreini, Dennis Burge, Jack Cardinelli, Don Crowell, John Cobb, John Flangas, Bob Genasci, Bill Marsh, Frank McGowan, Don Quilici.

Ernie Soumbeniotis, Keith Steuer, Harry Summerfield, Neill West, Roland Westergard, Roy Whitacre, Lick Wilcox, Bruce Wilson and Everett Witt.

PINNED

Helen Palludan passed candy to her Tri-Delta sorority sisters Monday evening, announcing her pinning to Jim Dalbey, Phi Sig.

Helen is a sophomore student and Jim is a senior. Both are from Fallon.
