Frosh Daub Frosh; Hop Around in Bags; Throw Sophs in Lake

By TED SCOTT

Over 150 freshmen streamed up and down Mount Peavine Saturday, carrying buckets of whitewash, cokes, and all the other impedimenta necessary to do a first rate job on the "N." Completion of the job was somewhat impaired by an epidemic of flat tires, but the frosh arrived at the scene in high spirits and set to work under the watchful eye of Leo Quillici, Reg DePaoli and committee of Block "N" men who were on hand to maintain order and direct the activities. After a period of teeming confusion and whitewashed jeans the frosh really got going, and before noon the "N" had a gleaming white coat of whitewash almost as thick as the ones worn by the frosh.

After their return from the "N" and a brief rest, the frosh swarmed out on the Mackay stadium to meet the sophomores in an afternoon of competitive games. The few sophomores on hand, counting up the hoards of frosh, speedily sent out a plea for aid, and were bolstered by juniors and seniors who were on hand to witness the events. The games started shortly after 2 p. m., with a women's sack race. The spectacle presented by the ladies leaping around in gunny sacks was followed by more and more races with the score nearly always tied.

One of the fiercer contests, the chasing of the chicken, was discredited when it was discovered that the chicken was too sick to participate.

A noticeable characteristic of each event was the way the sophomore women carried the ball for the men, who were often found lagging behind the freshmen. Whether due to greater efforts on behalf of the frosh or the effects of old age is a question which had not yet been decided.

There was some dispute regarding the outcome of the events, but this was settled amicably at the lake, when the frosh men met the sophomores in an unscheduled contest resulting in an overwhelming victory for the freshmen. The sophomores emerged somewhat damp and bedraggled, but spirited, and put up a game defense. Nevertheless, the freshmen had their day.

In recognition of their efforts the frosh will be permitted to burn their dinks and ribbons at the Homecoming rally on November 5. Until then, there is still the possibility of a few freshmen landing in the lake for failure to abide by the rules.

Melton, Earl, Thornton, Sullivan Victors in Recent ASUN Election

Rollan Melton was named Block N representative in an election Wednesday in which slightly less than half of the eligible students voted. Melton, Theta Chi, defeated ATO Stan Drakulich by a margin of 88 votes.

Melton will represent Block N of the ASUN Finance Board this year.

Claire Earl, Theta Chi, edged out Ron Monk, ATO, in the race for junior class manager. The class lists an enrollment of 220 students, of which 95 cast their vote. The final count was Earl 54, Monk 41.

The sophomore class showed the largest number of students turning out for the election. Bill Thornton, Sigma Nu, defeated Everett Witt, ATO, by a 89 to 64 count. Thornton was chosen by 153 of a class of 300 students.

Mike Sullivan, SAE, will head the freshman class this year, decided in the election when he defeated Gene Belli, Sigma Nu by 17 votes.

Sue Sutton, former U of N journalism student, can now be seen lurking just outside the campus.

1953 Frolic Plot In Action as Kickers Chosen

Initial plans for the annual Wolves Frolic began this week when the 12 women for the kick chorus were chosen. From a group of 30 tryouts, these were named: Marylee Mitchell, Peggy Jackson, Marilyn Royle and Guylene Ferguson, Tri Delt; Julie Stavros and Ruth Gaiser, Pi Phi; Lynn Scott, Helen Meader and Shirley McKelvey, Theta; Joan Cunningham, Gamma Phi; Joy Knudsen and Thelma Honeychurch, independent.

The following women chosen for the tap line were: Janet Quillici, Tri Delt; Joanne Seaberry, Gerry Seaberry, Charlyn Olsen, Adamae Gray, Lois DeRuchia, Diana Collins and Georgia Myers, Theta; Myrtle Coates, Pi Phi and Leslie Hayden, Gamma Phi.

Six Male Kickers

The men's kick chorus was also named Wednesday night. The kickers are Ron Monk, Dick Bankofier and Don Schultz, ATO; Ray Brookman, Lambda Chi; Ed Baroch, Theta Chi and Don Shuper, Phi Sig.

The Frolic will take place at the State building at 9 p. m., November 6. Dr. William C. Miller will direct the show with the aid of Miss Ruth Ryan, dance director, Mr. Earl Holberg, director of music and Mrs. Melba Manzo, accompanist. Dr. Miller began directing the Frolics in 1932, but gave up the job when World War II began. He again took over in 1950 and will this year produce his 14th show.

Students also tried out for specialty acts this week. The purpose of this feature is to allow people with talent to join in the Frolic regardless of whether or not they are affiliated with a sorority or fraternity. Specialty acts consist of readings, pantomimes, instrumental or vocal solos.

Sorority and fraternity skits will be presented to Dr. Miller next week as well as those of other organizations.

Bob Gerring will be stage manager for the event and Bob Winkle business manager. Tickets for the Frolic will be on sale within the near future. All seats are reserved. Prices range from $2.40 to $1.20. Student body cards are not valid for admittance.

Amendment to ASUN Constitution Required to Raise Needed Money

The possibility of assessing each student $5 per semester starting in February for the upkeep of the new student union building was the main item of business in Wednesday's senate meeting. This move, if carried out, will require an amendment to the ASUN constitution.

Bob Winkle, chairman of the student union building committee, made the proposal after giving a brief background of the building and its functions. Winkle explained that although the student body will have $420,000 from the Travis fund and the legislature to build the union, the money for furnishing and running the building after it is constructed is still needed.

The proposed $5 will go toward running the building. The committee hopes to raise the money for the furnishings through special funds established by alumni, fraternities, sororities, clubs and interested persons in the state. One plan is for each group to raise enough money to furnish one room.

Homecoming Theme

Winkle stated that the homecoming theme would center around the new building this year and would be the most opportune time to impress upon the alumni and Nevada people that the students are concerned and taking an active interest. If they see that the students are willing to work, they will be more inclined to contribute themselves.

According to the union committee chairman, if the students are willing to pay $5 a semester, other groups will see that the students are willing to carry their share of the load. Until now students have contributed time and effort in contacting people in the state, but have not contributed much in the way of money.

One argument against the proposed fee was that since the building probably won't be ready to open for at least five semesters, upperclassmen will be paying for something they won't use.

Those disagreeing with this point stated that between six and seven thousand dollars were contributed by students at the university before World War II. These students will never use the building. It was brought out that Travis will never use it, nor will people in the state, alumni, and many others that have contributed the money in the fund now.

May Lose All Money

It was pointed out that the building must be started and well underway by the time the next legislature meets or the money appropriated by them will be lost.

This means that unless the students start raising the money right now to run the building, there will not be any when the building opens. It is estimated that it will cost between seventy and ninety thousand dollars to furnish the building, and it is impossible to judge at this point how much it will cost to operate.

Other ways of raising this money have been discussed, such as a bond issue or borrowing the money, but this would cost more in the long run.

It was mentioned that most schools with a student union building didn't have the building paid for to begin with as Nevada did and are now paying fees between five and twenty-five dollars a semester.

After the discussion the various senate members were asked to carry the discussion back to their various groups and get their reaction.

Two-Thirds Vote Needed

In order for this new assessment to pass, two-thirds of the senate must agree on it and then two-thirds of a student body quorum must vote yes on it.

The senate also discussed the possibility of incorporating WUS in the ASUN.

Tri Delts Evacuate Dorm Basement To Escape Flood

Nine Tri-Delt women living in the basement of Artemisia hall were not only damp but mystified.

The source of the water which leaked through the floor during the night of September 30 has not yet been determined by Carl Horn, superintendent of grounds, and L. W. Chase Sr., plumber.

Mr. Horn was called at 9 p. m. when warm water was discovered on the floor beneath the windows. The men worked until 11:30 bailing the water out. When they left they turned off the water valves for the entire building.

Repeater

At 1:15 a. m. the women heard a popping, which, when they turned on the lights was found to be caused by more water having appeared and dampened the electric sockets. The plumber was again called and water bailed out of the basement, this time by the women, until almost 3 a. m.

The women, whose beds were cluttered with all sorts of articles which had formerly been on the floor, took their blankets and pillows and moved to the living room to spend the remaining hours of the night.

When the plumbers arrived in the morning they dug a large hole outside of the dormitory in an attempt to trace the trouble through the pipes. But no trouble was found. The valves were again turned on, but the leak has not yet recurred.

YEARBOOK PICTURES

Sophomores and freshmen whose last names begin with the letters H through L must have their yearbook pictures taken between 8:00 and 6:00 October 13 through 17th.

CHRISTMAS MAIL

Packages being sent overseas should be mailed between October 15 and November 15 if they are to arrive in time for the Christmas holidays. Boxes should be of heavy corrugated pasteboard and tied with strong twine. The weight limit for overseas packages is 22 pounds.

A blood drive for the Red Cross was also decided on for the first week in December.

The committee investigating the need for permanent improvement, publicity and investigating committees suggested that these committees be dropped until a need for them arises.

Pack Ready to Tangle With Chico Tomorrow Night

Jesse Is Key Man In Pack's System For Chico Battle

By ROLLAN MELTON

The 1953 edition of Nevada varsity football is to be unveiled to Wolf Pack grid followers tomorrow night (8:15 p.m.) when the local collegians play host to Chico's tough Wildcat eleven at Mackay stadium.

It'll be the initial grid clash of the season for Nevada's all-letterman lineup and will start off an abbreviated, yet rugged five-game schedule.

Coach Jake Lawlor's small varsity group—less than 33 men—has been working out full scale only about three weeks, but appears in good physical shape for the brawl tomorrow.

Expected to spearhead the Silver and Blue attack will be veteran passer and field general Ed Jesse, the slim quarterback who was a standout soph gridder here in '49.

Rounding out the backfield will be bruising Buddy Brooks, a 222-lb. fullback, who likes contact; hustling Don Jones, 195, back this year from the service to take a starting role at the half spot; and trim Joe Leal, a fast-moving half who divides his time equally well between offense and defense.

here in '50; Mike Leslie, 190, back at his tackle post from last fall's eleven; and Joe Lash, a pass-catching wingman, who doubles as a fine defensive end.

Nevada this year, is only one deep at the quarterback spot—where Jesse is the sole representative—so if he is injured, the Pack will be switching from T-formation to single wing behind a balanced line.

Such a switch will find Don Jones or Baxter calling the plays from the tailback spot, Brooks or promising freshman George Moss, at fullback; Lee Watts, blocking back, and Joe Leal, wingback.

Working in with that combination will be Bill Cooper, Ed Stevens of Sparks, and George Garat.

In the line, coaches Lawlor and Smithwick may use the two top candidates from Las Vegas high, George Ball, an all-state center, and Tom Roslet, a guard; Jerry Mann, 200, a center linebacker who has shown much improvement over last year; guards Jim Wright of Hawthorne; Mike Marfisi, Battle Mountain, or George Hargraves, Henderson.

Ready for action at the tackle spots will be Chuck Harrison from the '52 squad; Joe Viani, a soph; Wayne (Tiger) Chapman, and Mike Clancey.

Hustling Wayne Seacrist, playing his third season of intercollegiate ball, will see lots of action at the end spot, where he specializes in defensive play. He's backed at the wing post by freshmen Jim Wittenberg and Ron Houton.

Chico's T-formation attack is again this year moulded around George Maderas, a vet who led the Wildcats to victory over the Cal Aggies earlier this season.

Nevada's return to the intercollegiate grid scene last year included a 34-2 win over Chico.

Editorial

THANK YOU STUDENTS

The Sagebrush staff is pleased that the long established ASUN tradition of not voting anytime for anyone at any of its elections has not been seriously violated in the last week.

The election status quo was traditionally maintained with a turnout of about 40 per cent at the polls.

The Sagebrush wishes to express its gratitude to the student body for allowing us to reprint this same editorial which has been run for the past 25 years.

Time changes everything but voters.

IT DOESN'T FIGURE

All this talk about a cut in library hours has aroused some violent comment. There are voices muttering about having no chance to use the library, no time to get all their reference reading done during week nights, etc, etc. Most of the people who are worried about this problem are the ones who use the library regularly and for serious study.

The case, then, is this: The figures show that about four students use the library on Saturday morning and an average of about twenty-five use it on Sundays. Enrollment figures this year show a total of upwards of 1250 students. Where are the other 1200 students studying? Any information as to the whereabouts of these missing students would be appreciated.

Of the people who came to the library, a definite breakdown can also be established. Four or five men alternate at the back table. One of them sleeps there with his head in his arms until relieved by another sleeper.

A percentage of engineering students stay in the library until driven out by hunger or library hours. We cheer these men.

The most noticeable group is that whose purpose is purely social. They are the talkers, whisperers, laughers, gigglers and joke-tellers. This bunch has a subsidiary branch that might be termed "The UN Society of Indoor Girl Watchers."

Before the library staff inaugurates a cut in hours, it might be well if they took these needy people into consideration.

DIRTY BITS

By SANDRA MITTS

The freshmen are every day learning more about the ups and downs of college life. With dances, socials, rallies and meetings crowding the calendar, it is more than one can do to find time to attend his classes and do his homework. Many, upperclassmen as well as freshmen, are abiding by those old words of wisdom: "Never let anything interfere with your social life."

-o-

Fraternity and sorority songs were exchanged again last Monday night when the Theta Chi's, Sigma Nu's and ATO's introduced their candidates for Tuesday's elections. The Theta Chi's went a step further than the others and did their singing inside the sorority houses. The Sigma Nu's, out in full force, had their own band and lighted the way of their crusade with torches. The Tau's were their usual good selves.

-o-

Josie Aufermaur was unofficially named the heroine of the day last Saturday. Josie and several other freshmen lost their way when trying to reach the N. Off on a lonely road they discovered a man trying to asphyxiate himself. Josie applied artificial respiration to the man for ten minutes and when he recovered the group held him until the police arrived.

-o-

Theta Chi is the only Nevada fraternity having the distinction of possessing female members. Barbara Peterson and Annette Dickson were awarded Theta Chi pledge pins Monday night after having heckled the boys about their desire to be fraternity brothers.

-o-

The sophomore boys proved themselves to be the weaker sex at the field day Saturday. The soph women defeated the freshmen women in every event, but the boys didn't do quite so well.

-o-

Monday was a sad day for many freshmen who thought that their Saturday victory meant the immediate disposal of ribbons, dinks and Bibles. The upperclassmen really handed out those tickets.

-o-

The ATO Mothers club sponsored its annual pledge tea Wednesday. All freshman women were invited to the house from 3 to 5 where they enjoyed dancing, punch and cookies, not to mention meeting so many upperclassmen.

-o-

Professor Sheppard in the art department is looking for models for some of his classes. His only requirement is a bathing suit. The job pays 75 cents an hour.

-o-

The ATO's and the Pi Phi's are having theft troubles already this year. Each house missed its silver last week and then discovered that they had silver belonging to the other. By means of a mutual agreement, Beverly Griggs, Marge Andrews and Carol McGilvray hashed at the Tau house. Jim Coats and Floyd Vice served the Pi Phi's and the silver was returned to its owner.

-o-

The Theta Chi and Theta pledges will engage in a "Bustle Tussle" tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Whittacker park. The game, which is a glorified form of touch football, will be followed by a barbecue at the frat house.

-o-

The time was 11:20 p. m., Sunday, October 4. The paddy wagon crept silently to the curb by the second street bridge and hauled in two anonymous street dancers. Their names are being withheld

On The Hill

By DAVID TRAITEL

Another Autumn. Already the leaves have begun to turn, and the temperature is sliding down into the thirties at night. The car owner struggles over the decision of whether to buy anti-freeze for the car or for himself. The World Series has come and gone, and it looks like the bums will have to "wait till next year" again. At least the frustrating problem of whether to hit the ten and eleven o'clock classes or view the series is over with. To pros, the greatest significance in the fact that the series ended in six games was that there would be a few more eager faces in the front row. A few more.

Blue Hawaii. I couldn't help but notice the advertisement of $5,000 in prize money offered to the writer of the best essay on "The Meaning of Academic Freedom," posted on the bulletin board in the Ag building. The national organization sponsoring the contest divides the money among the four top entries. The notice couldn't have been put in a more appropriate place. To clarify a point; the latest decision in the Frank Richardson case means that the record of last spring's trial will be reviewed by the supreme court. The court will not review the record to decide whether the regents decision was right or wrong, but merely to decide if they had the power to fire Richardson. Don't hold your breath waiting for the decision, it's at least several months off.

Gridiron Gaities. Tomorrow night the 1953 version of the Wolf Pack swings into action on the field and the top-coat and bottle crew in the stands will get its kicks one way or another. From all advance notices it should be a gala affair. Coach Jake Lawlor looks for Chico to be rougher than they have been in many years. They are undefeated in three games this year. States Lawlor: "They've got the winning habit and are going to be hard to break. On top of that, this is their third game and our first, so naturally we'll have a slight case of the jitters. However, we'll be in that ball game all the way." In looking toward the Fresno game next week-end, Lawlor believes that they have a 50 per cent better team than last year. He points out that they almost beat San Jose, one of the best small teams in the country.

Telltale Signs. The large sign opposite Lincoln hall denoting the future site of the student union building does give one some hope that perhaps one of these days the long awaited project will materialize. According to all reports the union committee is functioning smoothly, and if it continues to do so, ground-breaking should be during Bonanza week early in May.

Jeepers Creepers Where'd Ya Get Those Biceps? The second annual Frosh-Soph field day seemed to be quite a success. Everyone went home happy except the sophs who lost. If the second-year men could have matched the effort put out by their female classmates, no tears would be shed—by them at least. The little lassies had pretty much of the best of the girls side of it.

until their release, but the fact is known that they were wearing ATO pins at the time of the crime.

Dear Miss Desire:

I have been married for nearly 10 years. Recently, my husband has begun staying out all night, several nights a week. The other morning I found a blonde hair on his shoulders. Do you think he is cheating on me?

Sincerely,
Worried Wife.

Dear "Worried Wife":

As regards the blonde hair on your husband's shoulder, I would not worry about it. Many men have hair on their shoulders and it makes them more masculine. As far as staying out all night, I advise you to exercise great caution. It is entirely possible that he is working as a Communist for the F.B.I. If this is so, perhaps you could arrange little get-togethers at party meetings. Don't sign anything.

Dear Miss Desire:

I have been going steady with my childhood sweetheart for 32 years. His name is Raymond and he is very handsome and an excellent billiard player. Not once in all the time we have known each other, has Raymond mentioned marriage. What can I do to find out if he is really interested in me?

Very truly yours,
Patient Brunette

Dear "Patient Brunette":

In response to your question, perhaps it is time for you to start dropping little hints such as casually mentioning the fact that you are getting desperate. You might try dyeing your hair gray at the temples and complaining of aching joints. If you want this man, GO AFTER HIM. Don't sit there like a blob of phlegm! Take up billiards! Show him that you like the same things he does. But ABOVE ALL, be PATIENT! Good billiard players are hard to find.

Dear Miss Desire:

Six months ago, I married a lady wrestler. The first few weeks were paradise. Then everything changed. My wife got out of preliminaries and began wrestling main events. She has not been beaten once in fifty matches. Now she can think of nothing but wrestling. This is all right, I guess, but she keeps practicing on ME! The first time was mild. She merely fractured four of my fingers. Then she got more active and hurled me under the piano. Another time, she hit me with a flying drop kick and I had to have surgery to get

Rifle Club in Gear With New Rifles For New Members

Five new rifles, twenty new members and four new officers will give impetus to this year's rifle club, according to Captain McNair, club advisor. Officers elected at last Thursday's meeting were: Charles Taylor, president; Richard Herman, vice president; Jerry Markoski, treasurer.

The new Winchester model 52's purchased by the university, will replace the old army rifles used in past seasons. New shooting gloves and extra shooting jackets have been purchased by the club. An information sheet for interfraternity competition is being drawn up. One member from each fraternity will be present at a meeting at 4 p. m., October 12, to make arrangements for practice. The matches will be run off from October 26 to 30.

Local Competition

This year's schedule for shoulder to shoulder meets will include the Marines reserves and the Reno and Sparks rifle clubs. The second team will shoot against Reno high school.

Postal meets, where match scores are compared by mail, have already been scheduled. The first of these will be fired during the week ending October 24 and will include competition with LaSalle College, University of Oregon and Washington State.

Plans are underway for a women's rifle team but progress has been slow. Women interested in organizing a team can contact sophomore Lillis Hatch at Reno 2-0015.

Captain McNair said that team tryouts were held last Tuesday and Thursday, and that regular meetings will fall on Tuesday and Thursday each week. In the spring, he plans to send the team to Berkeley for the national championships and to a meet in El Paso.

65 Attend SAE Fling Sat. Night

The SAE's held their annual pledge dance Saturday night at Lawton's. Sixty-five couples attended and danced to the music of Jerry Kizzai and the SAE house band.

Bob Lewis, SAE social chairman, directed the affair and he deemed it very successful. Among the guests were Capt. and Mrs. Frye and Capt. and Mrs. Holt.

WRA Riders Ready for New Saddle Sores

WRA horseback riding enthusiasts are back in the saddle again on Fridays and Saturdays at Shasta West's stable. Rosy Strachwitz, president of Saddle and Spurs, is in charge of the riders and the WRA riding program.

Old members of Saddle and Spurs had a supper ride get together September 29 at Horseman's park.

Horseback Drill Team

After a hamburger fry the members discussed the possibility of having a drill team on horseback. Outstanding WRA riders would be eligible for such a team.

The team would ride in the Nevada Day parade, the Homecoming parade, the Aggie show and in local horseshows.

Any woman interested in riding should contact Miss Ruth Russell. Rides are from 1-3, 3-5 on Fridays and 10-12 on Saturdays. There is no charge for women riding their own horses. This year Rosy Strachwitz, Karen Phillips, Janice Brown and Pat Deaton have their own horses. The girls completing the semester's rides are eligible for initiation in Saddle and Spurs.

Homecoming Program Starts Rolling With Committees Listed, Schedule Set

The 34th annual Homecoming celebration will begin this year with open house at the four sororities Wednesday evening, November 4. Definite hours have not yet been set for this event, but the traditional time is between 8 p. m. and midnight. As with all other Homecoming festivities the entire campus population is invited.

An assembly Thursday at 11 a. m. will begin that day's activities. The purpose of the assembly is both to entertain and to outline the rest of the Homecoming program. A wiener roast and bean feed is being planned for late afternoon in the university stadium. Immediately following this the students will do a snake dance down Virginia street. The dance will terminate in a rally in downtown Reno where local police will assist in traffic control.

Winner of the queen contest will be announced at the Wolfe's Frolic Friday night. The queen is chosen by a vote of campus men from five candidates. These candidates represent the Manzanita-Artemisia association and the four sororities. The frolic is a high spot of the celebration. Most campus organizations participate with skits and musical presentations.

Unlike previous years when the cross-country race was run Saturday afternoon, this year's race will be run early in the morning. The change was made for the convenience of the race participants who had not been able to watch the entire Homecoming game in former years because of the conflicting schedules.

The annual parade will follow the race. Floats from sororities, fraternities, and campus organizations will be featured. Awards will be given.

The main event of the three-day celebration will take place in the stadium at 2 p. m. At that time the Wolf Pack will meet San yells led by the cheerleaders, the parade will begin. The torchlight procession with a pep band, students and cheerleaders will wind past the sororities to Second and Virginia streets where the snake dances will begin.

The final boot in this week's "Kick Off Kapers" is the pep rally and torchlight parade tonight at 7:00 in the football stadium. Roy Bolla of Stead Air force will present a guitar and comical satire skit. The latest word on the team will be given by coach Jake Lawlor.

Yesterday at the "Kick Off" assembly the members of the football squad were introduced by Coach Lawlor. The university marching band played several selections and led the singing of Nevada football songs.

The recently elected class managers and Block N representatives were installed. George Schindler, head cheerleader last year, introduced Bill Brown, the new head cheerleader, Beverly Griggs and Carol McGilvray, who are the first women cheerleaders in several years.

During the noon hours this week the fraternity and sorority pledges advertised the game by various stunts. The Pi Phi's and SAE's came charging through campus Monday bedecked in racoon skin coats and "gay 20's" outfits. Led by Joanne Ortiz and Mike Sullivan, they marched through the snack bar and dining hall yelling Nevada cheers.

A semi-formal dance will climax the activities. Tentative plans are being made to hold the dance at the Hotel Mapes, but it is not yet definite.

In charge of Homecoming is Jim Costa. He has a committee of fourteen to assist him: Diane Lewers, secretary; Annette Caprio, open house; Eileen Yrueta and Alice Melendy, queen contest; Rollan

Housing Crush To Delay Hour Cut for Library

The proposed cut in library hours, based on reasons of economy, is still not definite. Shorter hours are impossible until after the housing crush in the dormitories is alleviated. Mr. James J. Hill, UN library director, said that he will not attempt to revise the library schedule until Lincoln Hall reopens.

Pending Housing

A change in library hours was tentatively set for the middle of October, based on the housing problem in the dorms. Crowded dormitory conditions make organized study impossible and students must use the library more extensively instead. The lack of students using the library for study on Sunday was another factor in the matter.

Mr. Hill said that the Saturday hours would be the logical place to cut down. A staff of three or four people is needed to keep the library open at any given time and a Saturday average attendance of four students does not warrant the opening of the library. Faculty members who use the library on Saturday must be taken into consideration before any cut is made.

A marked increase in attendance occurred over the past weekend with a Sunday average of 24 students over two three-hour stretches. This is a step-up of 20 students over a corresponding day in 1952. Representative figures show that library attendance has increased over 1952. On Thursday, October 2, 1952, the library averaged seven students over a 10-hour period. The same day in 1953 shows an average of twenty-eight students over a 12-hour period.

Course Droppers Must Do It Early

Students wishing to drop a course must do so on or before November 13. William D. Carlson, dean of student affairs, found that in the past many students would drop a course just prior to the week of final examinations. This, said the dean, is unfair to the other class members as well as to the instructor.

Formerly, a student could drop a course at any time and receive "w" or "wf." The recent ruling will require the student who has not withdrawn by mid-semester to continue the course. The rule does not apply to students who become ill or withdraw from the university entirely. (A "w" is a withdrawal. A "wf" is a withdrawal with failure.)

I'd rather be right than collegiate.

Student Directory Out This Month

The student directory for the fall semester will be available around the end of October. Miss Alice Terry, secretary to the president, said copies may be picked up at the president's office. The price has not yet been announced. Last year the cost was 25 cents per copy.

Published for the convenience of all persons interested in the university, the directory lists the name, address and telephone number of all faculty members, campus employees, students and student and faculty organizations.

GAME BROADCAST

For the benefit of the folks who cannot brave the chill night air, the UN-Chico game will be broadcast over KOLO at 7:45 Saturday night. Link Piazza will be sportcaster and Mark Curtis is commentator.

SAE Stompers Get Rugged Deck

SAE's and guests will be able to dance without caution in the new SAE house now under construction.

A system of steel girders built to withstand the heaviest tread will reinforce the ball room. The room, which also will serve as a dining room, is approximately 20 feet wide and 40 feet long; it will be illuminated by ten windows each six feet high. The building, costing more than $100,000, is designed to house about seventy-five men and will be completed in February.

January Opening

The construction of a two-story wing to the Tri-Delt house, 845 Sierra street, is closer to completion. The modern brick appendage, requiring $60,000, will be finished in January.

Love Can Be

my tie pin out of my chest. I live in fear. What can I do?

Desperately,
Fractured Husband.

Dear "Fractured Husband":

In the first place, the American woman has been emancipated Buster, and has won her place in the world. You can't shove us around like you used to. Times have changed and you must gear yourself to meet the situation. My fourth husband was an impetuous and self-sustaining soul and I found that nothing calmed him down like a good, tight hammerlock. If you want to save your marriage, you had better get in shape. Start doing road work. Lift weights. Punch the bag. If you can't stand up to a good boot in the guts, then you're not fit to be a husband.

WRA Social Held

By Evelyn Nelson

In keeping with the back to school swing, there was a social honoring all freshmen women interested in WRA activities on Tuesday, October 6 in the new gym. Refreshments were served and equipment was set up for various sports.

Badminton, under the direction of Marsha Towner, will be held in the new gym every Thursday from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m. Sororities are urged to get their softball teams in shape immediately as competition between the various houses will begin soon. Rumor has it that there are some star players among the new pledges. Marge Titus will be the brains behind this sport.

Roller skating has begun in the old gym at 7:00 p. m. on Saturday nights. There is Saddle and Spurs horseback riding for the outdoor riding enthusiasts every Friday or Saturday.

Members of the WRA board are Janet Quillici, Nancy Howell, Marge Titus, Dixie Sturges, Marsha Towner, Lorraine Meunier, Rose Strachwitz, Eileen Yrueta, Charlyne Olsen, Barbara Gregory and Evelyn Nelson. Mrs. Edward Frye acts as the advisor to the organization.

There will be a swimming meet that will be held at University of California at Davis and all women who would like to attend can contact Barbara Gregory.

The members of Orcheses held their first meeting September 30. They discussed the year's activities.

The number of stiff girls around campus testifies to the fact that the members of Saddle and Spurs took their annual supper ride to Horseman Park Tuesday, September 28, where they held their initiation.

College Drinking Studied at Yale

"Drinking in College" is the title of a new report issued this week by a group of physical and social scientists at Yale univer-

The probability of this being a pioneer study is very slight. A group of UN students has been
