

Favorable Opinions On $5 Student Tax

Opinions are coming in on the proposed ASUN fee of five dollars per capita to establish a fund for the upkeep of the new student union building.

The assessment as proposed will require a five dollar fee per semester from each student. Before construction can proceed, this upkeep and maintenance fund must be raised and ready for use. Principal objection to date has been the fact that students who pay now will not be on campus when the new structure is finally completed and will not share directly in the benefits.

Unanimous Approval

Some decisions have been received after discussion in various campus organizations. Alpha Tau Omega, Lambda Chi Alpha and Kappa Alpha Theta are unanimous in approval of the measure.

Phi Sigma Kappa and Delta Delta Delta report favorable reactions from their members as does Sigma Nu. The latter house has not yet put the question to a vote.

There is no comment from Theta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon or Gamma Phi. Artemisia reports a generally favorable attitude but has not yet voted.

Senators Available

No opinion has been received from the campus independents, but this group of students is urged to report their feeling to the senators-at-large. The senators will be available in the ASUN building during the following hours:

Leah Gregory: Monday, 4:00 to 5:00; Tuesday, 3:00 to 5:00; Wednesday, 4:00 to 5:00. Otto Schulz: Monday, 3:00 to 4:00; Tuesday, 3:00 to 4:00; Wednesday, 3:00 to 4:00. Bert Munson, Wednesday, 4:00 to 5:00. Sue Casey, Monday, 2:00 to 3:00; Tuesday, 2:00 to 3:00; Wednesday, 2:00 to 3:00.

Sharp Adamant

Questioned about his feelings in the matter, Milt Sharp, student body president, replied that he believes this money is essential if the new building is to do the things for the students that is being built for.

COMMUNISTS CAN'T TEACH AT NEVADA, REGENTS RULE

During the recent meeting of the university board of regents, Newton H. Crumley moved that "the regents will not appoint a member of the Communist party to the faculty. The president is instructed to submit a recommendation on the mechanics of achieving this objective." This motion was unanimously approved by the board.

May Be Oral

President Minard W. Stout now has to decide on some kind of a statement concerning a prospective faculty member's tie with the Communist party. Whether this statement will be oral, or incorporated in the state oath of allegiance, or a separate statement for him to sign is a problem that the president will have to solve before the next meeting of the regents. Then the regents will vote to accept or reject the statement. Also the question of whether old faculty members would be required to answer the statement before their contracts would be renewed will be discussed then.

Frolic Tickets On Sale Oct. 26

Bob Winkle, business manager of the Wolves Frolic, has announced that tickets will go on sale Monday, October 26 for the students. They may be bought at the book store. The following week they will be sold to the general public, giving the students first choice on the best seats. At this time they may be purchased at Wilson's drug store, downtown, as well as at the book store.

The prices are: $2.40 for the seats in the first eight rows on the main floor and for loge seats in the balcony; $1.80 for the remaining seats on the first floor, and $1.80, $1.50 and $1.20 for balcony seats.

This week the fraternities and sororities presented a rough sketch of their plans for the skits. The tap and kick choruses are now practicing three nights a week.

The Frolic will be presented at 9 p. m., November 6 at the State building.

meeting that if a prospective faculty member had been a Communist party member, he would not necessarily be rejected provided that a thorough investigation would prove him to be a loyal citizen now.

Miss Alice Terry, secretary to the president's office, explained that it was the principle of a loyalty statement that the regents approved. She said that any new faculty members probably would not be hired until next year by then the decision of what kind of a statement will have been made. If so these new teachers would have to comply with it.

No Signing Qualms

Should the decision be made that old faculty members be required to make some statement, a sampling of the teachers revealed that they have no qualms about doing it. There were a few, however, who objected to the principle of questioning a teacher's political affiliation instead of his ability as a teacher.

U. N. Students Now In Radio

Nevada co-eds have taken to the air-waves. Three Nevada women are broadcasting for downtown radio stations. Myrtle Coats, Beverly Griggs and Judy MacNeil have their own radio programs over station KWRN.

Myrtle is a junior speech and English major. She arranges and broadcasts a children's program five half-hours a week. Mert's program is built around children's records, stories and little animals and involves contests. Her large volume of fan mail at the station shows the way in which youngsters in this area have responded to her program. During the course of daily programs, she telephones various children and talks to them over the air, and has held contests to name an owl and little red monkey which she has worked into her program.

Judy MacNeil, a junior journalism major and Bev Griggs, a sophomore journalism major share the work of their half hour program which is presented twice weekly on Sunday and Wednesday nights over KWRN. The "U of N for You" is a university program which offers the latest in popular music and news of campus activities and student policies. The girls sold all of the advertising on their show, and prepare their advertising copy for each program as well as broadcasting the show. They have featured a candid mike and interviews with various committee heads on their program in order to give the listeners a first-hand report of university news.

New York Ban Wipes Out All Frats, Sororities

There is very little local reaction regarding New York's ban on fraternities and sororities throughout 33 campuses in that state. The New York fraternities and sororities were banned for racial and religious discriminations. It was charged that there had been instances of Jews and Negroes being denied admittance on the grounds of their color or religion.

While most of the banished Greek chapters stated in their constitutions that race or religion would not be considered grounds for membership denial, they were not following that principle in practice.

Of a score of students interviewed, the average idea seems to be that while "fraternities and sororities are all right in their places. they sometimes hurt people." Occasionally a student or two is more committal. Says a former SAE junior, "they don't do anything worth while anyway. Just have dances and run around."

William Eaton says, "Fraternities are often like a bunch of guys in partnership on a car. Everyone wants to drive, but no one wants to fix."

The New York ban will affect only social organizations.

Homecoming Activities Nearing Completion as Awards, Trophies Are Donated, Dances Scheduled

Homecoming dreams are being turned into reality as plans for the three day celebration are being completed. Jim Costa, Homecoming chairman, and his 41 committeemen have been contacting businessmen and various campus authorities in an effort to insure the smoothness of all Homecoming events.

The Homecoming dance will be held in the State building November 7 from 9 p. m. until midnight. The price will be 75c stag and $1.25 a couple. The Mapes Fable room, a proposed hall for the dance, is being reserved for the alumni dance also being held that night. All sorority and dorm girls will have a 2:00 a. m. curfew.

Eight awards will be presented, seven at the dance and one, the queen's trophy, at half-time of that afternoon's football game. Downtown businessmen are donating the cross-country race trophy; the best sorority and fraternity float awards; a cup for the best sorority and fraternity dance attendance; the queen's trophy; an award for the winning fraternity and sorority skits in the Wolves Frolic.

Parade awards will be judged on workmanship, 100 points; originality, 100 points, and execution of theme, 100 points. Organizations are being urged to enter a float.

Homecoming news stories are going to be sent to papers throughout Nevada to promote interest. In Reno, posters will also be put up.

Five Freshmen Lovelies Compete For Title of Homecoming Queen

Nevada's males are giving the eye to the five campus beauties running for the honor of being the girl the alums want to come back to. The Homecoming queen candidates are Chris Wiley, from Gamma Phi Beta, Barbara Moore from Pi Beta Phi, Beverly Ricketts from Artemisia hall, Karen Wayman from Kappa Alpha Theta, and Carol Piazzo from Delta Delta Delta.

Barbara Moore, a Renoite, is five foot two, and her eyes are blue-green. She has long black locks and likes to bowl and dance.

Brown-eyed Beverly Ricketts from Yerington is five foot five inches tall, has brown hair, and is a home economics major.

Worthy Purpose

Karen Wayman is a five foot three inch blond lass from Elko. Her major is prenursing. Horseback riding is her favorite recreation. Asked about her candidacy she said, "I think it's an honor to be a queen candidate for a Homecoming dedicated to such a worthy project as a student union building where students and alums can meet."

Chris Wiley, is an auburn-haired southern Nevadan from Las Vegas majoring in journalism. This five foot six inch candidate claims that swimming and collecting earrings are her hobbies. "I am very happy about taking part in my first Homecoming and I'm sure it will be loads of fun," she exclaimed in answer to a question on Homecoming. Continuing, she said, "I hope that all the boys will turn out to vote, not only the frat men but the independents too."

Athletic

Sports of any kind are Carol Piazzo's hobby. She is a five foot three inch brown-eyed miss with short curly brown hair. Majoring in education, she plans to teach in the primary grades. About Homecoming she said, "I sincerely hope that everyone will support our new union building and the students will make this the best Homecoming ever by turning out in force for the activities planned."

Life is desolate.

Homecoming Is TV Show Theme

The Homecoming theme will be the feature on a TV program Tuesday, October 27 at 9:00 over station KZTV. Homecoming queen candidates will be introduced by mistress of ceremonies Marjorie O'Leary, Gamma Phi. Jim Costa, homecoming chairman, will make an appearance as will Coach Lawlor and the football team.

Musical Show

KZTV employs several UN students. Tom Grice, Sigma Nu, has a local sportscast on Wednesday nights and was one of the first students to get space on TV. Jerry Kizzia and the SAE Serenaders have a 30-minute musical show on Wednesday nights. One of their members, Don Thompson, is master of ceremonies for a kiddies show.

Former UN student Janice Rosasco has a musical comedy program on Sunday nights and Leila Rowson, '53, is KZTV's continuity director. Miss Rowson aided in the staging of the local merchants' "telarama" in August prior to the opening of the station. Marilyn Royle is the art director for the station.

Facts From Foreign Campuses

By HAZEL JOHNSON

North Dakota has been having a fine time with their legislature lately. The state senate enacted a ban on candy cigarettes because they might encourage youngsters to smoke. The opposition was so aroused at this foolish resolution that they proposed a ban on babies' bottles on the ground that they would encourage babies to drink . . . The Reporter, New York

Down With 'Em

This reminds me of the famous event that occurred in a New England college town. The township decided that the students were residents of the town, and accordingly required to pay the town "head tax" levied against all living there. Enraged students stormed the town meeting and demanded the right to vote, as proven by the fact that they were subject to the town tax. They then elected students to the executive posts of the township, abolished the police department, and recommended and passed a bill calling for the construction of a sidewalk two feet wide, from the town hall to the college campus so that students could roller skate into the village.

Watch Yourself

Senator Joe McCarthy's investigations subcommittee may find it necessary to come to Denton, Texas, according to the North Texas Campus Chat. Last week a senior — tired of signing eight sworn statements in his college career that he isn't a Communist — turned the tables on a union building notary public. Instead of his own name, he signed that of Laventry Beria, deposed Russian police boss. It was notarized without question. The collegian said the pledge would go in his scrapbook.

Slice and Stitch

In Cleveland last week, a young mechanic was shaving when his wife passed by and tickled him in the ribs. It took 13 stitches to sew up his wounds. The man was shaving with a straight edge razor which sliced down his chest. It's okay for the wife to be playful, but I hope her husband has a sense of humor.

Who's Pushing Who?

There are problems and problems. A motorist in Vermont hit the fender of a parked truck, pushing the truck into a parked car. Two policemen were sent to investigate the accident. It turned out that one owned the truck, and the other one . . . you guessed it!

Beer, Yet

Rensselaer Polytechnic, of Troy, N. Y., climax their Frosh-Soph field day with a tug of war similar to Nevada's. The object of their battle, however, is to pull a huge keg of beer over a chalk line with the victors collecting the keg. Much more constructive.

Impromptu Dance

Those "crazy" modern dancers are back at the old grind and seem to be as limber as ever. This was proven at the first meeting of Orchesis, October 7, when Paula Gray, Inez Sarasua, Betty Ihfe and Lillis Hatch, senior members, presented an impromptu dance for the new members. A skit to be presented at the Wolves Frolic was discussed. Last year's activities were described to new members.

To the Weaver, the Baker, the Beauty Maker

Rub-A-Dub-Dub, want a suit you can scrub, face cream, or a well-protected loaf? Then we can help you, for Standard Oil Company of California has put oil to work for the weaver, the baker, the beauty aid maker.

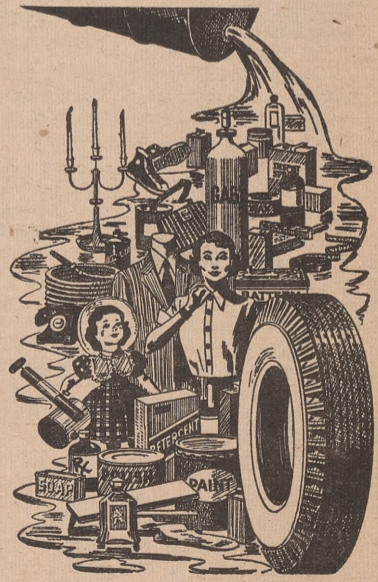

This being Oil Progress Week, it's a good time to point out that oil men help provide thousands of things you don't buy in a service station.

Suits, for instance! That wrinkle-resistant model you may be wearing was woven from an oil-born ingredient developed in our research laboratories.

Bread, too! Millions of loaves were wrapped last year in paper coated with Standard wax. Whenever you light a candle, polish a shoe, or empty a milk carton, you may be using wax turned out by Standard Oilers.

And when your wife creams her face we're involved, too. Each year we supply 1/2 million gallons of highly-refined oils to cosmetic makers—enough for 10 million jars of face cream.

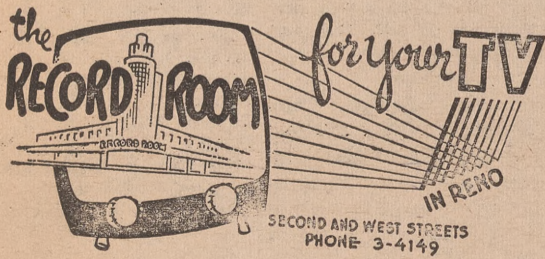

These examples of oil's place in modern living emphasize one important point. The oil industry has moved from kerosene to synthetic fabrics in one short generation—and so have you. Oil progress is your progress.

What comes from a drum of oil? Tires, medicines, nylons, detergents, plastics, paints, insecticides—and thousands of other products. And that's because oil companies like Standard invest millions each year to find new ways to make oil serve you better. Questions or comments about our Company or industry are welcome. Write to Standard Oil Company of California, P. O. Box 3495-E, San Francisco, California.

A HOLLOW THEME

Monday, ASUN senators took back to the groups which they represent a proposal which would tax each student $10 a year. The assessment would be used to maintain the new student union building, to be erected next spring.

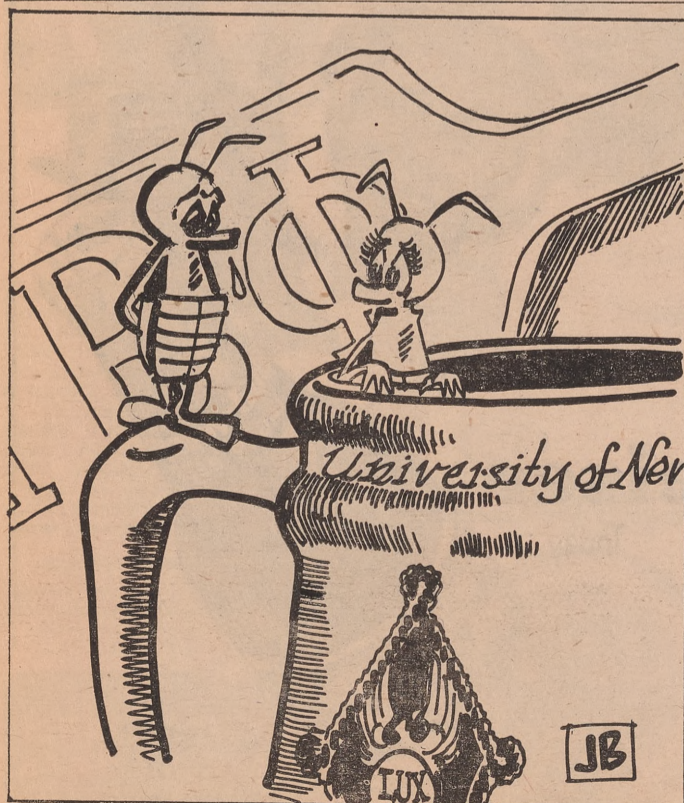

After senators obtain the reaction of the groups, a yes or no vote will be requested on the tax in a general election. If two thirds of a student body quorum (30 per cent) voice approval, it will go into effect as an amendment to the ASUN constitution.

Whether or not students vote yes on such an assessment, there is an important point to consider. This year the Homecoming theme is centered around the student union building. The committee feels that by using a "Build the Union" motto, alumni and other Nevadans will be induced to donate. Such a theme is evidence of interest on the part of the student body.

If, however, the student body votes down the $5 a semester assessment in an election just prior to Homecoming, and at the same time parades up and down Virginia street with floats and banners screaming LET'S GIVE NEVADA A STUDENT UNION BUILDING, it's going to look extremely ridiculous.

In addition to making Nevada students look like monkeys, it would be poor public relations. The collegiate population cannot ask Nevadans to dig deep in their pockets if their own are zipped.

It is also well to remember that in proportion to the actual construction of the building, financed by Travis and the legislature, and the furnishing done by outside donation, as the union committee hopes and expects, initial upkeep is a relatively small matter financially, and is particularly so when distributed among 1250 individuals.

DIRTY BITS

By SANDRA MITTS

Since the main purpose of this column is to keep you informed of the latest along the love lines, I've this week delved into the personal lives of several people and can now inform you of what is already old news.

Wedding bells will ring Sunday for Janice Foster, Tri Delt, and Bob Loud. They are to be married at the Methodist church and their reception will follow at the Tri Delt house. Janice plans to finish this year of school.

Lena Quilici displayed a Tau pin at the Pi Phi house last Monday night. The owner of the pin is Tom Magee.

Adelè Benetti, Pi Phi, recently announced her engagement to Joseph L. Llop. Llop is a practicing attorney in Atlanta, Georgia. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Carol Normandy announced her engagement to Carl Mueller at the Tri Delt house last Monday night. Carl graduated from the U last spring and is at present teaching at Stewart Indian school. Carol will graduate in June, followed shortly by her wedding. The couple hope to go to Europe next fall.

The ATO's dance and the Sigma Nu's have been discussing plans for a "Blackfoot-Whitefoot" day, which is an annual affair on many campuses. The activities include, among other things, a field day and a dance. However, due to the overcrowded calendar, the contest has been indefinitely postponed.

Dan Sullivan, who played basketball for the U several years ago, is now back on campus after a term in the service. Dan is a Sigma Nu.

The ATO pledges took Ed Davis by surprise Tuesday night and before poor Ed knew it he was isolated out in the hills somewhere.

The Sigma Nu's have adopted a "Dime a Day program. Each member pays 10c a day to be used buying a new rug for the living room.

The SAE's serenaded the sororities again Monday night. This time they featured not only fraternity songs, but had a half hour program at each house. Jerry Kizis played his guitar and also sang his favorite song, "Lover."

I suppose many are wondering about the two ATO's I told you about last week who were picked up in the paddy wagon for dancing on the second street bridge a couple of weeks ago. The truth is: The men are Leo Quilici and Reggie DePaoli. The villain who planned the trap is Jim Costa.

The Bustle-Tussel sponsored by the Theta Chi's in honor of the Theta pledges last Saturday gave proof again that the women are not the weaker sex. The women defeated the men in this touch football game by a score of 19-13. Tom Godbey was the referee, and some believe he was pulling against his brothers. But then, who knows?

The annual Sigma Nu Mother's tea will be held Sunday at the fraternity house. It is sponsored by the Mother's club and is given in honor of the pledges and their families.

On The Hill

By DAVID TRAITEL

Just Making Whoopee! From all aspects it seems to have been a boisterous weekend. Probably no one is better qualified to vouch for this than the Reno police force, who vigilantly did their duty throughout the fray. The brave defenders of law and justice quelled a near riot in front of the Little Waldorf, and hauled off one of the desperate ring leaders. When placed in the back seat of the squad car the youthful desperado Desmond merely vaulted out the other door and off to freedom. Another lusty roofer was accosted by a plain clothesman in a downtown club. The student, over 21, was asked his age and coolly replied: "Pick a number, peasant." The cop picked him.

Hold That Wildcat! That's exactly what the Nevada football team did last week as they easily turned back a highly vaunted and undefeated Chico State team. Quarterback Ed Jesse filled the air with pigskin reminiscent of the old Stan Heath days, and wound up the evening with 11 completions in 23 attempts, for 181 yards by air. Not a bad evening's performance. Coach Jake Lawlor was quick to laud the fine passing by Jesse and the excellent running by halfback Joe Leal. He expressed pleasure over the fine showing of sub halfback Ed Stephens.

The fourth quarter kickoff by Stephens was the longest of the game. Looking toward the Fresno game tomorrow night, Lawlor anticipates plenty of trouble. He bemoans the fact that Fresno is ten deep in the backfield and a very sharp passing team. As yet Nevada's pass defense has not been tested, but they were notoriously weak last year. The Nevada mentor looks for a rough game from the California ball club, and points out that Nevada's lack of depth will probably be a hinderance. There is some cheer, however, in the fact that both Buddy Brooks and Don Jones, hurt in last week's game, will be able to play.

These Crazy Styles! This news is a little late but no one seems to have heard of it. About three weeks ago at the Icebreaker dance a couple was strolling down by the Mackay statue when a gentleman clad in a tweed coat came ambling along from the direction of the school of mines. The couple was rather startled when they noticed that the gentleman had no slacks to accompany the coat, only a pair of shorts. This is all very strange, and somewhat of a mystery. An Icebreaker dance has certainly never been known to be that warm. But then it could have been just been an absent-minded college prof.

Large Economy Size. This week, Reno was once again the setting for the filming of a Hollywood production. The picture, "Johnny Dark" stars Piper Laurie and other filmtown notables. It also features two University of Nevada football players, Ron Einstoss and Joe Lash, both weighing well over two hundred pounds. The wardrobe department was completely exasperated trying to find costumes to fit the two gridders. Oh yeah, the boys play the part of cops. If size has anything to do with it they ought to be mighty impressive.

LOVE CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

By DEBORAH DESIRE

(Leading authority on romance and world's only woman sandhog)

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of authoritative answers to questions on love, passion and other assorted forms of emotional pandemonium. This column will run in the Sagebrush, barring congressional investigation, as long as Miss Desire is available. She is presently residing in Nevada in order to complete an informative pamphlet entitled "Romance in the Jungle—or, It's Fun to Go Ape."

Dear Miss Desire:

I am a college freshman, female, and I have been dating a varsity football player who takes me to 3-D movies. This is nice, but he gets all wrapped up in the action on the screen and pounds me on the back so hard that I faint. He bends my fingers back when we hold hands and he is forever dumping popcorn in my hair and eyes. He gets very excited about 3-D. It is getting so that when he calls, I get all upset and crawl under the furniture. What can I do?

—Shell-Shocked Girl

Dear "Shell-Shocked Girl":
Suggest to your football player that he knock off the rough stuff. If he persists, start toting a length of rubber hose and tap him smartly across the neck. If this fails, invite him into the kitchen for cookies and milk and while he is eating, turn on the gas jets and go to a 3-D movie by yourself. You'll be much more relaxed.

Dear Miss Desire:

My wife and I were happy for several years. We loved each other. Our marriage bore fruit. Then it bore two children. It was divine and often restful. Then my mother-in-law moved in. She calls me "the ox" and "the ugly one" and throws pottery at my head. She tells my children to kick me in the stomach, then makes tape recordings of my screams and plays them back to herself at night. What do I do now?

—Nervous Husband

Dear "Nervous Husband":
Try fighting fire with fire. Be subtle. Like maybe throwing your old razor blades in her morning oatmeal. Send her alarm clocks by parcel post. The ticking will wear her down. Psychological warfare of this type is always reliable. Saw off her shoe heels maybe. Patience.

Dear Miss Desire:

My boy friend does not own a convertible, but he has 14 pairs of white buck shoes. He is real gone. But he only speaks to me in monosyllables, telling me that love is for the turkeys and he will not marry me. Last Christmas, he gave me a cocker spaniel. I love him. My boy friend I mean. I have been patient, but the silence and lack of nuptials is affecting my mind. I keep fighting a terrible desire to set him on fire. What now hey?

—Girl Arsonist

Dear "Girl Arsonist":
Hang on to this man. Men who speak only in monosyllables are very desirable as husbands. First, trade in your cocker spaniel. Then, buy one of these new handy-pocket size Fire Extinguishers that are on sale at your neighborhood hardware store. These extinguishers can be carried in a shoulder holster and you can bring it into play quite quickly if needed. There are models for both formal and everyday wear.

Fresno State Tough; Has Fast Backfield

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack runs into its first big grid test of the season tomorrow night when it meets powerful Fresno State in Fresno.

For the Pack, fresh from a 27-6 victory over peppy Chico State last week, it will be the second game of the young grid season.

The tough Fresno Bulldogs, on the other hand, have four games under their belts and have an impressive record to date.

The Bulldog held the Coast's top independent football team, the San Jose Spartans, to a one touchdown win two weeks ago. They dropped close games to Cal Poly and City College of Los Angeles.

Though Fresno's line play is reportedly on a par with that of Nevada, the Bulldogs will field backs much faster and more experienced than those appearing here last week with the Chico State team.

All hands are expected to be on deck for the Nevadans, though backs Ed Stephens and Don Jones are still somewhat hobbled from game and practice injuries.

Next week, Nevada hits the road, this time traveling to Davis where the local collegians meet the Cal Aggies. The Pack beat the Aggies last year, 26-13.

Both the Fresno and Cal Aggie games are night contests.

'09 All-American Sweater Given U

An all-american rugby football sweater has recently been given to the university by Louis S. Leavitt, a 1910 graduate from the College of Engineering.

The sweater was worn by Leavitt on a tour through Australia and New Zealand in 1909 with the first and only all-american rugby team. Another sweater belonging to an Australian player identified only as T. Wilkes was also given to the university. Leavitt received this sweater as a gift from an opponent.

Both gifts will be displayed in the new gym trophy case.

"Give 'em Hell" Says Pep Band

Students carrying "give 'em hell" posters turned out with the university pep band to give the football team a send-off Thursday afternoon. The procession marched out into the stadium field where the team was going through last minute practices for the Fresno game tomorrow.

"Poor Chico" Chant

This was the second pep rally of the year. The first was the torchlight parade and rally held last Friday. The cheerleaders introduced some new yells, a "Poor Chico" chant and a victory spell-out. Hugh Smithwick, assistant coach, thanked the students for their efforts during "Kick Off" Week to back the team.

The torchlight parade attracted a lot of attention from the people downtown. Bill Brown, head cheerleader, said that one reason for the large local attendance may have been the downtown parade.

'Rocky' Melton 5-1 To Keep Knuckles To Self at Fresno

By TED SCOTT

The excitement of last Saturday's game reached such a feverish pitch that Rollan Melton forgot that one of the objects of the game is to utterly pulverize your opponent without the use of hands. Rollan, overlooking this stringent technicality, used a hand. To make matters worse, he neglected to first open his hand.

This was an exceptionally unfortunate oversight on his part since the referee construed the little slip to be an act of violence. He maintained Rollan slugged a Chico man in the teeth. Add this to the fact that the referee was a man with an unforgivable nature, and you have a really disheartening situation. Nevertheless, the referee was adamant, and apparently disinclined to discuss the problem at length. Rollan was escorted gently but firmly over to the sideline and left to the tender mercies of Coach Lawlor.

Coach Lawlor is a man of few, but highly conclusive words. Both he and Rollan agreed that the incident was unfortunate, but that Rollan could contribute little from his vantage point on the bench.

Coach Lawlor feels that the answer lies in a quick course of temper control which he is currently making available to Rollan, and is confident that a new and more controlled Melton will take the field for the Fresno State game with a song and a smile.

FRESNO STATE TO BE ROUGHER BUT WOUNDED PACK READY

At Fresno tomorrow night, the Wolf Pack will find the going considerably tougher than in last week's game with Chico State. Coach Lawlor expects faster and classier backs and better passing from Fresno than displayed by the Chico crew.

Wounded in Lineup

Injuries sustained in the opener last week will not handicap Nevada tomorrow. Lawlor expects to have all the wounded back in the lineup. Don Jones and Ed Jesse came out of the Chico affair with bruised leg muscles and Buddy Brooks and Mike Leslie picked up knee injuries. None of the damage was serious although Jones seemed to be in quite a bit of pain after his injury last Saturday. A "charley horse," though temporary is no laughing matter.

Although Fresno will be one of the season's roughest contests, the Wolf Pack is sure to be hard to beat if they can play as fast a game as they turned in against Chico. The passing of Jesse and running of Joe Leal topped off by Mert Baxter's spectacular receiving was made even more outstanding by the fact that Chico was the Pack's first outing. Leal and Baxter scored two apiece last week. The men had little previous chance to work together with only sixteen days practice up to last Saturday.

Boyce Top Guard

Fresno will have to dig down deep to uncover a guard to match the UN's Boyce Ford, who turned in a top grade, sixty-minute effort. Lawlor has an able replacement for Don Jones at left half in Ed Stephens. Stephens got a chance to show his ability in the second half against Chico and paid off with some solid tackling and line bucking. He reeled off a 24-yard sprint round his left end and his booming kickoff after the third Pack touchdown was the longest of the evening. Stephens may not get a chance against Fresno if Jones runs like he did in the first half last week. Play-bullets. Jesse completed 11 out of 20 for a total gain of 181 yards against Chico.

Paws Down, Melton

Buddy Brooks will be a powerful factor in the UN attack. He hammered the Chico line into a coma and added a sizeable share to the 248 yards gained along the ground. Rollan Melton, if he can keep his left hook in check, will be the anchor in the center of the line. Ron Einstoss' bulk will be a big help at right tackle tomorrow night. Einstoss felt called upon to take the blame for Chico's lone touchdown. He said he was the only man who had a clean shot at Frank Ferraiulolo but the Chico halfback had a five yard margin on each side. Einstoss couldn't decide which way to move to meet him.

The return to one platoon football didn't keep the entire squad benched last week either. Men who saw action against Chico were: Left end: Baxter, Seacrist, Howton; left tackle: Leslie, Vianni, Price; left guard: Drakulich, Watts, Hargrave; center: Melton, Mann, Ball; right guard: Ford;

Three Students to Attend Meeting

Romaine Roth, Sandra Mitts and Henry Rilling, holders of the Las Vegas Press club scholarships, will be guests at the group's annual Branding Iron dinner and revue in Las Vegas on October 28.

The three students will fly to Las Vegas and back at the expense of the Press club. The Branding Iron will be held at one of the strip hotels. The revue is a run-down on state and local news of the past year, in which the incidents are acted out by members of the club.

The revue is a takeoff on the famous Grid Iron dinner of the national press club in Washington, D. C., which is attended by the President of the United States.

Brand-new national survey shows college students prefer Luckies

Last year a survey was made in leading colleges throughout the country which showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. This year another nation-wide survey was made—a representative survey of all students in regular colleges coast to coast. Based on thousands of actual student interviews—this survey shows that, as last year, Luckies lead again—lead over all other brands, regular or king-size—and by a wide margin! The reason: Luckies taste better.

Peterson Chosen For SDX Meeting

Arthur D. Peterson, president of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, will represent the University of Nevada at the nation-wide convention of Sigma Delta Chi at St. Louis. Peterson will travel via train, and will arrive at the scene of the convention on November 10. The convention will be held from November 11 through November 14. There will be lectures of interest to journalists everywhere as well as banquets and luncheons. Professor A. L. Higginbotham of the journalism department stated that while not one of the larger chapters, Nevada has consistently been rated high. Last year the local chapter ranked seventh in a nationwide contest for the best all-around chapter.

Frats, Sorority Honor Pledges

Two sorority dances Friday and two fraternity dances Saturday will punctuate this week-end's social activities. Friday night the Gamma Phi's will meet at Echo's to honor their pledges and dance to the music of Raff McDonald's band from the Sigma Nu house. Special guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Meade, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, and Mrs. Rankin.

Also on Friday night, the Pi Phi's will hold their pledge dances at Lawton's. The SAE Serenaders will be on hand to provide the music.

The Lambda Chi pledge dance will be held Saturday night at Echo's from 9 p. m. to midnight. Music will be furnished by Mel-lows Goffentini. Sgt. and Mrs. Hiel will be special guests for the evening.

Saturday will also be the date of the Phi Sig's dance at Echo's barn. Bill Azbill's band will play for the Phi Sig pledges.

HOME EC MEETING

The Home Ec club will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Agriculture building, according to Irene Marshall, president.

All home economics majors are invited to attend. Among the things to be discussed are initiation and a baking contest.

Sagens Honor Five Women

Andree Anchart, Florence Lyons, Nancy Howell, Betty Mundley and Shirley Flagg were honored at a Sagens initiation breakfast last Sunday morning. The affair took place at the Circle RB at 10:30 a. m.

Sagens is an honorary service whose members are junior and senior women who have been active throughout their college careers. They usher at the Wolves Frolic, sell freshman ribbons at the activities parade and sponsor a refreshment booth at the Ski Carnival. Their membership at present numbers 24.

Andree Anchart is president of Cap and Scroll, president of the Future Teachers of America organization, and vice president of Newman club.

Florence Lyons is president of the Pi Phi house, past historian of that group, a member of the Caterbury, and Ski club.

Nancy Howell is president of orchesis, a member of WRA, Ski club, Newman club, Fine Arts and YWCA.

Betty Munley is a photographer for the Artemesia, a member of PEMS, WRA, YWCA, and Saddle and Spurs.

Shirley Flagg was last year a member of the junior class committee and is now a member of Ski club, and Home Ec club. She skied in the Ski Carnival last year and was also Gamma Phi house manager and standards chairman.

The officers of Sagens are Annette Caprio, president; Jack McGowen, vice president, and Nancy West, secretary-treasurer.

YWCA OPEN HOUSE

Women students of the University of Nevada were guests of the YWCA at an open house Thursday from 3 to 5. The purpose of the popcorn and coke party was to display the newly remodeled office.

During last summer new floors were laid and the entire office painted by the university. This fall the Y had five chairs reupholstered and painted and rearranged the furniture. New drapes and a new rug were also added.

The new drapes were made by Mrs. D. C. Lewers, Mrs. E. L. Menu, Mrs. J. T. Ryan, Diane Lewers and Joanne Menu. The painting of the furniture and rearranging was under the direction of Marilyn Royle.

Thursday noon the Y sponsored a "gab fest" for the freshmen women. The topics of discussion were campus dress, dating, studying and other aspects of college life.

English Courses Open to Public

An English course, "The Nature of Language," is being offered to the general public. It meets on Wednesday evening from 7:15 to 9:00. Professor Charlton Laird is instructing the class.

Previously this course was offered only to English majors. It may be taken for credit or audited while it is being offered as a night course.

Professor Laird's course deals with such subjects as etymology, the origin and growth of language, the nature and growth of meaning, sound and its importance in language, and the new concepts of modern language.

Speech Authority

Prof. Laird is a recognized authority on American speech. His latest book, "The Miracle of Language" will be published this month by the World Publishing company of Cleveland and New York. He has had several other books published including a dictionary of synonyms, "Laird's Promptory," which has been widely used in this country and abroad. He is also a co-author with Prof. Robert Gorrell of "Modern English Handbook," which was issued

CATHOLIC CLUBROOM

The former Blue and Silver restaurant, across the alley from the book store, was bought last August by the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic men's organization, to be used as a meeting hall for that group as well as Newman club and other Catholic organizations. The amount paid for the building was not revealed. The Blue and Silver ceased operation in 1951.

Banquet Facilities

The building is now undergoing a complete remodeling. When completed it will have facilities for preparing banquets and dinners.

The Newman club, a Catholic student's organization, whose new hall was converted into St. Albert the Great's church due to the increase in Catholic population in this area of town, will have full privileges for use of the clubroom until a new hall can be purchased for them.

The Reverend R. J. Dwyer, Bishop of Reno, will dedicate and bless the new hall on November 15. A social and open house will follow. All Catholics are invited to attend.

Life is stupid and ugly.

Community Chest Quota Is $2,000; Asks All Students to Kick In

The Reno Community Chest set a quota for the U. N. student body which is more than double the sum collected last year.

Two thousand dollars is this year's goal, calling for a dollar fifty or more from each of the 1200 students enrolled in the university.

Last year's total was eight hundred thirty-five dollars, but Dean Elaine Mobley and Joanne Meun, president of the campus YWCA, expressed hopes for more support this year. The YWCA is the student

Red Feather agency and further information will be announced next week. A separate collection will be conducted among the faculty.

The Community Chest is designed to consolidate the drive for contributions to 12 organizations: the Boy Scouts of America; The Girl Scouts; the Campfire Girls; the YMCA; the YWCA, the campus YWCA; the Catholic welfare bureau; the Community Welfare, inc.; the Council of Social Agencies; the Salvation Army and the USO.

INFIRMARY

Nurses Mary Davis and Alice Mardin who worked at the infirmary last year are in new positions. Mrs. Davis is a dentist's assistant in Reno and Mrs. Mardin is doing special duty work at Reno hospitals. The two new nurses are Mrs. Mary Johnson and Mrs. Jean Hultberry, both Reno women.

The Sagebrush has not yet been banned in Boston. Several chambers of commerce have it up for consideration however. They don't scare us!

Move over, Famous Towers

But in America, the tower-come-lately (extreme right) may rapidly become as familiar as the old landmarks of Europe. It is one of the Bell System's radio-relay stations which speed telephone calls and television programs coast to coast.

In May, 1948, these towers connected only five Eastern cities. Five years later the TV network included 95 towns and more are being added all the time.

Being the first network of its kind in the world, the planning, research, engineering and construction requirements are providing real opportunities for the kind of people who like to pioneer.

If working on new developments appeals to you, check with your Placement Officer for the details on employment with the Bell System. There are positions open for electrical, mechanical and civil engineers, as well as business administration and arts and science graduates.

U Farm Will Sell On Conditions

Firm stipulations were announced this week by the board of regents to any proposed sale of the university farm on South Virginia street. Silas E. Ross, chairman of the board, said the three conditions are final.

The 208-acre farm will be sold at a minimum of $5,000 an acre, amounting to $1,040,000 for the entire property. The notice further stipulated that the university must be able to obtain a satisfactory replacement to continue the work of the College of Agriculture. As a third requirement, the purchaser must give 'satisfactory assurances' that projected improvements on the property will be accomplished, as represented, within a specified period of time.

Morgan Bid Denied

The definite statement was made in reply to the recent bid for the farm by the Morgan and Peacock properties co., which had offered to pay $400,000 cash or, as an alternative, to trade the nearby Ferretto farm plus $150,000.

Morgan and Peacock had planned to erect a large hotel and some estate-type homes on the property, but in a statement by Jules Agostini, president of the firm, they balked at the million dollars asked by the regents.

Price Comparative

The board justified the price that has been set in a portion of their statement that said "a tract of land adjacent to the university farm recently changed hands at $6,500 per acre . . . the price of $5,000 per acre was arrived at through a comparison with sales prices of similar properties located in the same general area."

8 New Books

Mrs. Edith J. Holmes, order librarian, announced that eight new books are on hand in the Browsing Room, room 104, in the school library.

The books are: The Unknown Quantity, M. G. Eberhart; Kingfishers Catch Fire, R. Godden; The House of Moreys, Phyllis Bentley; The High and the Mighty, E. K. Gann; People, Places, and Books, G. Highet; The Peron Era, R. J. Alexander; India and the Awakening East, Eleanor Roosevelt; and The Echoing Grove, R. Lehmann.

The room is open to anyone during the regular hours of the library, Monday-Friday eight to five; Saturday 9 to 12; Sundays 2 to 5.

BABY GIRL

A baby girl, Christopher, was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. William Ireland. The new mother is the former Jeanne Brunetti.

No Sale

Agostini said, "The decision of the regents . . . effectively blocks the sale of this land in the foreseeable future."

Seventeen New On Faculty

Seventeen new members joined the faculty this semester filling vacancies and strengthening the staffs in most departments. Joining this year are: Andree Anchert, assist. in Home Economics; Wallace G. Black, (Phd. University of Wisconsin) Asst. Professor of Animal Husbandry and Asst.
