Depleted Pack Drops Two in Idaho Saturday to 'Hot' Bengal Squad

By Ken Robbins

An alternately hot and cold Nevada Wolf Pack recently returned from Pocatello where it dropped two hoop tilts to a strong Idaho State College squad, 80-48 and 75-73.

Coach Glen (Jake) Lawlor attributes Friday's performance to the 585-mile jaunt and an extensive list of injuries suffered during the week prior to the game, as well as a 'hot' Bengal five.

Saturday's defeated was insured by a desperation shot fired during the last few second of play by the Bengals' Buz Conner.

Host Olympics

Tonight and tomorrow night Nevada will host the Olympic club from San Francisco. Lawlor describes the Olympic club as a different type of ball club than thus far encountered this season. The club is comprised of players of experience and height characteristics to teams in AAU competition. He said that the Pack would have to rely upon its hustle against the Bay city contingent.

Nevada got off to a slow start last Friday against the Idaho club and were continually hampered by injuries throughout the series.

Injured

In a practice session Wednesday prior to the game, reserves Ken Longero and Hal Plummer both suffered ankle sprains. Terry Bastian was unable to make the trip and Joe McKibben had been hit by the flu earlier in the week, although he was able to see action in the second night's play.

Veteran Nevada center Bob Scott was also hampered by a sore ankle and was out of action entirely Saturday night. Sophomore Frank Kendricks held down the pivot spot the second evening and turned in a fine performance, asserts Lawlor, while contributing 9 points to the Nevada tally.

Scoring honors for Nevada went to Chuck Handley the first night with 19. In the second tilt Dan Sullivan and Roger Trounday led the way with 18 each, followed by Handley with 12 and freshman Dean Smith with 10.

The Pack is idle next weekend, resuming play February 4-5 when they travel to Chico.

Orchesis Elects

On Wednesday evening, January 12 in the new gymnasium, Orchesis, University modern dance group, held their election of spring officers.

Lillis Hatch will replace June Hannon as president of the club. Other new officers are Betty Ihfe, vice president; Annette Dickson, secretary, and Kathleen Eiland, treasurer.

Plans for the spring program, put on by the group, are going into full swing, reports Miss Hatch.

Table Tennis Title in Tie

Sigma Nu and Sigma Rho Delta shared first place honors in intramural table-tennis doubles competition, and each gathered 30 points toward the Kinnear trophy.

Both had five and one records and are forced into playoff to determine the ownership of the cup awarded for table-tennis.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won four, lost two and made ten points in third place, the only undisputed standing.

Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Sigma Kappa tied for fourth with three and three apiece and split seven points between them.

Final standings:

Sigma Rho Delta ..	5	1	30
Sigma Nu .....	5	1	30
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	4	2	10
Phi Sigma Kappa ..	3	3	3.75

Boxing Squad to Face SF State After Successful Chico State Match

University of Nevada's boxing squad will rest up next week after retaining their supremacy over Chico State last Saturday night in the University gymnasium.

They will resume combat February 12, against San Francisco State in San Francisco. Last year in Reno the Gators fought to a 5-5 draw.

Nevada's win over Chico State followed a similar pattern to that of last years' as Nevada took six of nine bouts.

The third match between Keith Ernst and Don Owens at 139 pounds was forfeited to Ernst of Nevada, but the scheduled exhibition featuring Bill Priest and Don Simic was counted as an official match in the 147-pound division.

Bout Stopped

The bout was stopped in the third round and awarded to Simic of Chico State on a TKO. Coach Jimmy Olivas said later that the Chico fighter outweighed Priest by some five to ten pounds.

Ted Contri, also at 147, won his fifth fight in seven starts by defeating Chico's Harris Perry. It was Perry's first fight and he could not handle the Nevada veteran who won by a decision.

John Hawkins, 178, also added to his string of victories as he won his third fight in four starts by defeating Jim Karr.

Nevada's Don Kitts, 126, won the first bout of the evening from

New Editor For Sagebrush

This will be the last issue of the University of Nevada Sagebrush edited by the present editor, William Eaton. The duty of keeping the university students informed on the latest news will be passed on to Paul Finch.

Enter Finch

Finch entered the university in 1952, and is now a junior majoring in journalism. He has been the editor of the Alumnus, published quarterly by the members of the Sigma Delta Chi, for the benefit of Alumnae. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, member of the press club, member of the honorary history fraternity Phi Alpha Theta, and holds a press club scholarship of $50 a semester.

Paul was born in Seattle, Washington on November 14, 1931. Soon after his birth his family moved to the bay area where he lived until 1946. Paul moved to Reno where he attended high school until he was a junior. He joined the Marine Corps in 1947, and after his discharge in 1950 he returned to Reno where he finished high school. After graduating from high school in 1951 Paul re-enlisted in the marines for another year and a half. During his time in the service he spent one and one half years in Guam, one year in China, one year in Korea, and one year in South Carolina.

Exit Eaton

Former editor William Eaton was born somewhere in New York state. He graduated from high school 76th in a class of 79 and spent two years in teacher's college before enlisting in the Air Force where he served 41 months as best he could. Wandering westward after discharge, Eaton went broke twelve miles from Reno. He is now a resident of Reno. Eaton enrolled at the University of Nevada in February, 1953 and is majoring in Journalism.

He became Associate Editor of the Sagebrush in the fall of 1953 and took over the editorship in February, 1954.

Political Groups May Form Lobby For Student Union

Republicans and Democrats are starting the new year off by working together—at least, on the university campus.

Young Republicans and Young Democrats may form an executive committee if plans for the new student Union building bog down in the legislature, Dick Wiseman said.

The Young Republicans' president further stated the purpose of the committee to be for lobbying.

Also planned by the groups is a combined social to be held February 24. The two groups are making arrangements.

The political organizations are not the first university groups to lobby. In previous years, others have used this system, one of the more notable instances being the Aggie club's attempt to lobby a thirty-thousand dollar university farm bill through the legislature. The attempt failed when the Government vetoed the measure.

Students Named To Host Skiers At Winter Meet

Twenty-four hosts and hostesses were appointed this week to officially welcome visiting ski teams to the Nevada Winter Carnival, April 10-12.

A television set, a ferris wheel, a clown, and a snowman are but a few of the ideas for house decorations which have been submitted to the committee by the sororities and fraternities.

Lamba Chi Alpha will use the ferris wheel theme; Theta Chi plans a living room scene centered around a television set; Phi Sigma Kappa has chosen as its slogan, "Slide Show," and will feature a carnival idea with a tent effect as the main attraction.

Sigma Nu plans to decorate its entire yard with the theme of a ski chalet. Their volleyball court will be decorated as an ice pond with figures of skaters on the pond.

Wolf and Sleigh

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will feature a large sleigh with a figure of a wolf inside. Their slogan will be "Nevada at the Reins."

Alpha Tau Omega has not yet

Groups Compete For Top Donations In Polio Drive

A March of Dimes campaign was begun on the campus this week, sponsored by the Junior class.

Fraternities, sororities, independents and the faculty were urged to try for the largest group donation. Recognition will be given the group giving the most money to the drive, which will officially close on January 31.

Containers are provided for donations at all the fraternity and sorority houses, the snack bar, the library, and also at all residence halls. Containers will also be passed at the basketball game in the University gymnasium tonight and Saturday.

Committee

Committee members are Sandra Mitts, class manager; Marge Andrews and Beverly Griggs, Pi Beta Phi; Annette Dickson and Carole Matthiessen, Kappa Alpha Theta; Rochelle Maclean and Virginia Coleman, Delta Delta Delta; Marsha Thomas, Gamma Phi Beta; Bill Marsh, Alpha Tau Omega; Robert Lewis, Sigma Alpha Epsi-

As for the sororities, Tri Delt will decorate their front porch with the head of a large clown. The Gamma Phi Beta slogan will be "Straight From the Wolves Mouth" and as decorations will use a wolf's head and figures of skiers.

Phi Beta Phi will use an ice cube as the center of their decorations. Kappa Alpha Theta will feature a snowman.

The following will serve as hostesses for Winter Carnival: Shelly Branch, Joan Smith, Jan Chiato-vich, Sandra Mitts, Gail Johnson, Janet Van Valey, Shirley McKel-vey, Donna Fisher, Josie Aufder-maur, Barbara Allison, Simmie Cooper, Julie Stavis.

Serving as hosts will be: Don Lane, Phil Collins, Ed Baroch, Hans Mohr, Jerry Markoski, Ron Logar, Ron Munk, Chuck Coyle, Charlie Christner, Jim Anderson, Don O'Dell and Jake Carpenter.

lon; Bob Thomason, Theta Chi; Bill Edwards, Sigma Nu; Phil Collins, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Ray Brookman, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Representatives from the independent groups are Duane Glanz-mann, Marsha Towner and Hazel Johnson.

Holstine to Visit Stanford Jan. 27

Gerold D. Holstine, dean of the College of Education, will visit the Stanford University School of education on January 27 and 28 to discuss problems in educational administration and possibilities of research programs in education.

The American Association of School Administrators will convene in Denver, Colorado, Monday, March 14. Dr. Holstine is scheduled to deliver an address before the joint meeting of the Administrators and the National Education Association department on rural education. Chairman of the discussion to follow the address will be Mr. Glen A. Duncan, state superintendent of public instruction of Carson City, Nevada.

The college of education is making plans to sponsor a two-week conference-workshop in problems of school administration in Nevada, to be held on the campus June 13-24.

Life is up to the new editor.

Boost activities.

Boxing Squad

Chico's Benny Cooper in a three-round decision. Duncan McKowan, State, 132, then defeated Roger Iverson of Nevada.

Nevada won three of the last four bouts to insure the team victory. Don O'Day, 156, defeated Ron Gallino; Jim Wittenburg, 165, decisioned Al Higgins; and Hawkins decisioned Karr.

Bob Genasci of Nevada, at 200 pounds, lost to big Gene Vander Leun of Chico in the last fight of the night. The latter weighed in at some 225 pounds. This, plus his two years experience were too much for the Nevadan, who lost on a decision.

WHAT DID IT COST TO CREATE YOUR JOB?

If you're an average U.S. factory worker—$12,000.

If you're a rough carpenter, it took approximately $350 worth of tools to set you up in your trade.

Tools for a garage mechanic cost about $3,000; for a Washington wheat farmer $12,500; for a secretary $300.

But if you work for Union Oil, it took $77,000 worth of tools in the form of trucks, service stations, refineries, oil wells, etc., to create your job.* Obviously, some of our jobs require considerably less investment than $77,000 and some considerably more. But this is the average for Union's more than 9,000 employees.

That's big money. But it accomplishes big things.

It brings Union's customers better products at lower costs. It enables each employee to produce more and therefore earn more. It creates better jobs and a higher standard of living.

**Even this figure does not include the "tools" Union rents for its employees, such as office space, tankers, telephone service, etc.*

Editorial

It Was a Pleasure

The Sagebrush will not appear again until next semester. When it does, it will have a new editor. The new editor will be Mr. Paul Finch, whose name has been rather intimately associated with the column "Out of the Brush" for the past year.

The present editor is not resigning under pressure. He is simply resigning for the good of the Sagebrush. The editor and the Sagebrush have become incompatible—the time has come when neither is doing the other any good. A fresh touch is needed and Mr. Finch is sure to supply it.

How does the old editor feel about the switch? Just fine. It is going to be a grand feeling to lie in bed at night and not have to worry about headlines fitting the columns, typographical errors, lost engravings, and enough news to fill the pages. And no more worrying about how to write an editorial so that the right people will be offended. It will be nice to walk into the snack bar and not be swamped with questions and information.

It will be grand not to have to open any more letters that request the editor to take gas, or open a vein in his wrist, or to eat old razor blades. The consolation in all these letters is that when someone screams, it means that they are weak—or that they got hit hard.

This is hard to say in correct editorial form. Journalistic style requires the substitution of the word "persons" for people and forbids the use of the pronoun "I." Not today.

I want to thank the people, the straight-forward, honest, hard-driving people who helped me get out the paper. These are the people on my staff who smoked too much and worked too late and always hung around and bothered me, asking if they could do something more.

The people in high places in the student body and on the faculty who played square and talked straight and let me know when I scored—and when I goofed. The people in the administration who always found time to talk to me and to answer my questions.

And the people who gave me a rough time—thanks to you too. A man can't learn how to punch unless he has someone to aim at.

But most of all, thanks to the student body—you people who mangled the paper and cleaned shoes with it and wrapped garbage in it. And read it. Sometimes it made you laugh—and sometimes it made you ill. I hope it was fifty-fifty.

I hope that you who are student leaders will keep on doing the good job that you have in the past. Be honest—admit it when you have goofed, and when you know you are right, stick to it. Remember that as a leader, you are not doing a solo. You are the representative of a lot of men and women. Act like it. Live like it. As for those of you who hope to, and will be student leaders—remember that anyone can run fast on a beaten path, or going downhill. Try to stay away from negative attitudes. Instead of screaming "foul" all the time, try to find a better answer to the problem.

That just about covers it.

I liked being the editor of the Sagebrush. Sometimes it was hard, but it was always worth it. It was a pleasure.

—William W. Eaton.

Out Of The Brush

By P. FINCH

A better name for university than university would be hard to find. As a universe has its planets whirling about in their respective orbits so does a university have innumerable separate worlds—some with life on them and some not.

Each college is a planet and each department a small country, some of which are agitating for sovereignty.

Finally there are the separate worlds that exist in the minds of the administration, faculty and students.

The advantages that this university has over its larger counterpart are that its planets change orbits every light year or so and there is some inter-planetary communication.

With this obscure parting shot, "Out of the Brush" is terminated. This is a relief to me and to the readers.

Editor's Note: If the group of mental deviates who have followed Finch's column, want to know why he is terminating it, see editorial at left.

Surgeon Voted Friend President

A prominent Reno surgeon was elected president of the Friends of the University of Nevada library during the group's annual meeting recently.

Dr. Fred M. Anderson, a graduate of Nevada and a former Rhodes scholar, succeeds Sen. Alan Bible.

Friends of the University of Nevada library is a statewide organization which assists in acquiring books and materials for the university library. During the past year, the organization added more than 300 volumes to the university collection.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting include: first vice president, Dr. Paul Eldridge of the university faculty; second vice president, Gordon B. Harris, Reno realtor; secretary, James J. Hill, director of the university library.

Victory Heights

State Planning board members turned thumbs down on a university recommendation for a $850,000 appropriation to rebuild Victory Heights, the family housing project. The figure includes $100,000 for buying the pasture north of the campus. Board members advised the university to wait a couple of more years since the proposal makes the budget too ambitious. Not a refusal, they said, just a postponement.

In an unprecedented action the administration refused to take the planning board's answer as a final no and the Victory Heights request remains in the budget request now being considered by the legislature.

The dilapidated eyesores have drawn criticism ever since the end of the war when the government gave the left-over Navy barracks to the university. They have been likened to slave quarters on a southern plantation. Several married students have left for other western universities which offer more tolerable living quarters.

Residents try to make the apartments inhabitable but recent fires have brought home the danger of easy extinction of the desiccated structures. Rather than risk a future wholesale catastrophe the administration may some day as a last resort close them to incoming students and after those now there have left, tear down the buildings.

Besides objecting to the money involved, some members of the board have questioned the university's obligation to married students. This is in the realm of opinion and this editorial's opinion presumes to be in opposition. The married students are valuable and should be helped just as single students are housed in dormitories.

Further, the planning board is optimistic in believing Victory Heights will remain standing for two more years. —P. F.

T. Davis on Stage

The Sagebrush has received word that the Winter Carnival assembly will be under the demented direction of Tom Davis. Anyone who knows Davis as the editor knows him, will not want to miss this assembly.

Davis is a rather unique fellow. His personality seems to walk a tightrope between reality and the black void of paranoia. Actually, this double-barreled impression stems from the seething of the brain behind the personality. It is the creative brain of the campus' most promising showman.

The Winter Carnival assembly, in the competent, banjo-strumming hands of Davis, ought to be the funniest.

Dean Holstine Discloses New Plans For Ed College Summer Sessions

A new program for the 1955 summer sessions has been disclosed by the College of Education at the University of Nevada.

Dean Garold D. Holstine, director of the summer school, stated that the program rearranges the summer school into three divisions.

The first session will run from June 13th to 24th, the second and main session, from June 27th to August 6th, the post session from August 9th to August 20th.

Thus the summer school program will be divided into periods of two weeks, six weeks, and two weeks.

This design makes it possible to arrange for sessions of two, six, eight and ten weeks. The general standard will be at the rate of one credit per week for students planning programs.

Dean Holstine said that the University of Nevada is planning for one of the largest summer school enrollments in the history of the school.

Short courses of two weeks will take about three hours a day for the school week. The maximum number of credit will be two for the two week period.

Enrollment for Spring May Drop

Total student enrollment for the spring semester is expected to be slightly smaller than fall semester enrollment, despite the fact that approximately seventy-five to one hundred new students are expected to join Nevada's student body.

Registrar Clarence E. Byrd said that withdrawals during the fall semester are almost certain to lower the total enrollment figure. No definite figures are available yet, but his office anticipates the number of new students to offset somewhat the number of withdrawals.

As the 1954-55 fall semester comes to a close, the student body is made up of youth from 24 of the states in the nation as well as 12 territories and foreign countries.

The greatest number of the fourteen hundred enrolled students are from Nevada, while California contributes the bulk of out of stater with 158. Forty-eight students hail from other states, and 17 come to the University from foreign countries.

All of the 17 Nevada counties are represented, with Washoe and Clark counties leading with a total of 661 and 227 respectively. Other counties include: White Pine, 40; Ormsby, 39; Churchill, 34; Elko, 33; Humboldt, 25; Mineral, 23; Nye, 18; Lincoln, 17; Pershing, 15; Lander, 9; Eureka, 6; Storey, 3; Esmeralda, 2.

Forty-three of the 58 California counties are represented with Los Angeles county heading the list with 20 students. Sacramento is second with 13, followed by Lassen with ten.

Foreign countries and territories contributing students to the Nevada enrollment are: Alaska, Germany, Greece, Hawaii, Israel, Jamaica, Japan, Mexico, South Africa, South America, Syria and Yugoslavia.

"It doesn't measure very big horizontally," Jim says, "But vertically it makes up a lot of telephone business—7500 telephones to be exact. My eight-man crew does everything from installing a single telephone to working on complete dial intercom systems for some of the nation's biggest businesses.

"I've got to know about each of these jobs that my men do. My training with the telephone company took me through the installation, repair and testing of the various types of telephone equipment and service for which I am responsible. I even had a chance to do a little experimenting of my own and developed a new way of preventing oil seepage on automatic switching equipment. I understand it's being written up for use throughout the Bell System.

"That's what I like about telephone work. Even two city blocks are full of opportunity."

You'll find that most other college men with the telephone company are just as enthusiastic about their jobs. If you'd be interested in a similar opportunity with a Bell System Telephone Company—or with Sandia Corporation, Western Electric or Bell Telephone Laboratories, see your Placement Officer for full details.

High School Seniors Given Talks On Higher Education Opportunities

A series of programs, planned under the auspices of the high school relations committee, has been undertaken to acquaint graduating seniors of Reno-Sparks high schools, opportunities in higher education at the University.

Twenty-four members of the Future Teacher association of Sparks high school were recent guests at the university chapture of F.T.A. A similar program was conducted for Reno high school F.T.A. members in December. Arrangements are being made for other seniors of Reno and Sparks high schools to be entertained as guests in February in the various colleges and schools of their special interest.

The high school seniors in other communities all over the state of Nevada will be given the information by a visiting team. This will be carried out on a two-year basis, the visiting team contacting both junior and seniors in each of the high schools.

Members Introduced

The Sparks F.T.A. members were first introduced to the faculty members of the University college of education: Dean Gerold D. Holstine, Dr. Ralph Irwin, dean of college of arts and sciences; William Carlson, dean of men; Elaine Mobley, dean of women; Clarence E. Byrd, and various members of the departments in which the visiting students were interested in majoring.

Explanation of the curriculum, opportunities, and facilities of the university college of education, how to enroll and other questions pertaining to costs of enrollment and participation in courses and services of the University of Nevada. Pamphlets and other material were given to the students.

A sound film, "Opportunities in Teaching" was presented by Dr. Clyde Mead, instructor for orientation to teaching. Later the visiting students were served refreshments by the University chapture of F.T.A. They then toured the campus in small groups, returning to the education building to meet with Dr. G. Holstine and Dr. R. Irwin to discuss questions on the days program.

Observe co-eds constantly.

Sigma Nu Leads Badminton Race

Twenty-one games were scheduled, fifteen were played, eighteen were discounted and the results of three determined the final standings in intramural badminton doubles play this week.

Sigma Rho Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Theta Chi were each guilty of two defaults and the games they played were stricken from the records.

Gene Timmons, Mike Dewees and Dick Morrill teamed up on different nights to beat all comers and picked up 40 points for Sigma Nu in the Kinnear trophy race.

Lambda Chi Alpha technically won no games but still placed third for 10 points, and Phi Sigma Kappa had a one and one record for second place and 20 points.

WHAT'S THIS?

For solution see paragraph below.

"IT'S TOASTED"
to taste better!

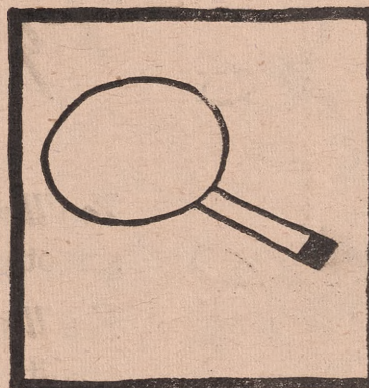

THEY'RE CLAMORING FOR THEM! Who? Students. What? Luckies. Coast to coast, dormitory to dormitory, college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands, according to the greatest up-to-date college survey. Again, the No. 1 reason for Luckies' wide lead: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. So enjoy the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike. But don't be like the man in the Droodle above, titled: Pickpocket acquiring Luckies. Make sure you have plenty of your own. Buy Luckies by the carton.

Business Courses Offered Evenings

Adult evening classes will offer a wide range of business courses including a comprehensive program in real estate, during the spring semester.

Eleven business courses ranging from accounting to industrial relations make up the evening program. Most of the courses will get underway on or about February 1.

The real estate course began January 10. It consists of four consecutive six-week courses for residents of Western Nevada and is designed as a refresher for professional realtors, as a study series for beginning and prospective real estate agents, and for property owners.

Registration

Registration for the larger part of the evening program will be held next week, Jan. 24-29, days or evenings, in Morrill hall. Fees will range from twenty to thirty dollars for the semester for those taking college credit, and from ten to fifteen dollars for those auditing the course.

Classes in the real estate program meet for two hours on Monday and Wednesday evenings. This program marks the first time courses of this nature have been offered by the university.

The first course in the real estate program, January 10 through February 18, is economics of urban real estate, taught by Sidney J. Claunch, Jr. A study of physical characteristics of land and improvements, factors which condition market transactions, behavior of the real estate market, real estate cycles, land use patterns and their change, mortgages, and finance are included in this course.

Beebe Article Plugs U of N

"Nevada, Heir to Wild West," is the title of a lengthy article in the February issue of "Holiday" magazine. The article was written by Lucius Beebe, publisher of the "Territorial Enterprise" in Virginia City.

Plugs UN

Several paragraphs are devoted to the University of Nevada in which Beebe highly praises the Mackay School of Mines. "It is the peer of those at Columbia, Missouri, and the University of Colorado."

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism department is referred to, and the department as a whole received a left-handed compliment.

Plugs Journalism

"Whatever one's estimate of the worth of journalism schools, and the matter will get you an argument in any city room, U. N. has had a remarkable placement of graduates on Western newspapers."
