

1st Engineer's Day Since '51 To Be Revived This Month

Plans for Engineers' Day, the first since 1951 are being under consideration by the Associated Engineers, following approval of a March 26 date by the administrative council.

Engineers' day has been part of Mackay day for the last three years. Mackay day will be only one day this year, instead of two as previously. The new date is April 30. The second day, which was an exhibition day, was dropped by student request.

A five-man board met to discuss contests and exhibitions for Engineers' day. Those on the board were: George Samstead, Associated engineers chairman; Edgar Evarts, Mechanical engineers president; Bob Martin, Electrical engineers president; Henry Martin, Civil Engineers president; and Chuck Taylor, Mining engineers.

1920

Engineers' day originated in 1920, a project of the newly chartered American Association of Engineers. It existed as such until 1925, when it was incorporated with Homecoming Day. In 1932 even the words "Engineers' day" disappeared, with engineering exhibits continuing on Homecoming day.

The Associated engineers revived Engineers' day in 1936, with the warning that it was here to stay. But the war years cut down manpower considerably, and in 1943 the day was postponed.

After the war it became an integral part of university life, until it was incorporated with Mackay day in 1952.

Tentative contests are mucking, riveting, slide-rule, surveying, and drilling, Shevlin said. Mucking consists of shoveling dirt into a container.

Scott and Coleman Get Thrones As King, Queen at Junior Prom

The Tri Delts and Phi Sigs once again copped top honors. A post-coronation interview of the royal couple revealed that both took the honor in their stride. Said Queen Virginia, "Poor Teddy, I didn't know a man could be as scared as he was." Later in the evening Scott related to a group of friends, "Virginia was so nervous that I am glad I was there to calm her down."

The "My Blue Heaven" prom held at the Redwood Room of the Riverside Hotel was climaxed with the crowning of Ted Scott and Virginia Coleman as King and Queen of 1955. After a season of successes for both houses, the Phi

One hundred and twenty five couples danced the evening away to the strains of Eddy Gomes' five piece ensemble.

"The Prom was a grand success" said Sandra Mitts, prom chairman. The Junior Prom committee consisted of Virginia Coleman, Bill Marsh, Bob Lewis, Marge Andrews, Chris Mattiesson, Beverly Griggs, Annette Dickson, Marsha Towner, Ray Brookman, Bill Edwards, Bob Thomason, Duane Glanzmann, Marsha Thomas, Barbara Erb and Michele McClain.

PROF. TALKS TO REGENTS

By Sandra Mitts

The Board of Regents listened to Dr. Allvar Jacobson for over two hours Saturday morning as the sociology professor gave them reasons why he had circulated a letter charging President Stout with "inhuman and capricious treatment" of the faculty.

After an hour recess at noon the board reconvened, with Dr. Jacobson absent, and heard eight college deans who said that Stout had made great progress in the past two years, and who pledged their support to him and his administration.

Jacobson cited reasons why he objected to the administrative practices of Dr. Stout. He said that tenure operates to protect the public, but that under the Stout administration there are no set rules regarding it. He said that two professors had been hired several years ago, one with his doctorate degree, the other without. The latter now has tenure; the former has not.

He asserted that the University has lost several good men in the past two years and many more are now negotiating to leave.

He said that the president is attempting to make a teacher's college of the university and that the students are jokingly calling it "West Minnesota Tech."

Hardy Reads

Regent Roy A. Hardy read a prepared statement after Jacobson had spoken in which he said that the university has made more progress in the last few years than in its entire 80 years. He said that the complaints come only from a minority group on the campus.

Bruce Thompson, newest regent, said that the current uproars were not the work of a minority group, but rather of a majority of students and faculty alike. He stated that in the past two years there has been nothing but public dis-sension.

Jacobson said that he could list 42 members of the faculty who feel as he does. He said that the reason they have not come forward is that they are afraid of the administration.

Thompson said that he knew this fact to be true. He said that members of the faculty have no channels to the board of Regents, and thus no way to voice themselves.

At the conclusion of the more than four hour discussion the board voted to endorse the idea of an investigation of the University.

In attendance at the meeting were Harvey Dickerson, state attorney general; the regents, three men from the state assembly, Jacobson, attorney Bert Goldwater, acting in a non-official capacity, ASUN president Clair Earl, Sam Francovich, president of the alumni association, and members of the press.

Safety Requested

Students were requested this week by the Reno Traffic Safety Council to observe traffic signs and no parking areas. They urged particular caution in the problem area of Ninth Street and North Virginia intersection.

Mrs. Dorothy Phillips, secretary-treasurer of the Council, said that definite steps had been taken to relieve the situation. A re-route of barracks buses to Eighth street, a traffic count by the State highway department, and warnings to students.

To release tension slash your wrists.

Brush Blushes

"Sports Scripts," the Sagebrush column, was erroneously by-lined Walt Ryals last week. Ron Einstoss was the true author but through circumstances which we won't go into his name was misplaced.

Art Broten, director of health, physical education, reported that arrangements are being made for a gymnastic meet this spring, possibly with College of Pacific or Stanford.

He said that the men are ready for competition this year and that he will try to get it for them. He added that the much needed competition will help to improve the individual routines.

Mackay Day Celebration Shortened At Request of Mackay Committee

Mackay day celebrations will be shortened this year at the request of the Mackay day committee. The administrative board approved the change. The day annually honors the Mackay family whose Nevada mining riches built the Mackay school of mines.

In a letter to the board, Daniel Goodman, Mackay day chairman, suggested that exhibit day be dropped. It was scheduled for April 30, with Mackay day on April 29.

"The students are not planning on an exhibit day on this weekend," Goodman said in a letter. "Therefore, it is desired that Mackay day be moved to Saturday, April 30."

The recommendation was for this year only, and was considered on that basis by the administrative board.

A request from the engineers that an engineers' day be held on March 26 was also approved by the board. The engineers have for the past three years provided many of the Mackay day exhibits and contests.

Mackay day activities, as listed in Goodman's letter, would start Thursday evening, and culminate on Saturday.

The schedule is as follows: Thursday, 11 a. m., an assembly; 7:30 p. m., a physical education show in the new gymnasium; 9:30 to 11:30, open house at the sororities.

Friday, 8:00 p. m. to 9:00, a short program put on by either the Campus players or the University singers.

Saturday, or Mackay day, all students will be requested to wear miners' dress.

10:00 a. m., men's obstacle race, women's obstacle race, and checking of beards which the men have grown for the occasion; 12:00 noon, the regular Mackay day luncheon in the new gym; 9:00 p. m., Mackay day dance.

The schedule eliminates a need for dropping classes on Friday, as has been done in the past.

The advantage of pessimism is that you are never disillusioned.

ENGINEERS PLAN VISIT TO SHASTA

Points of interest to civil engineers will be visited by the senior civil engineer class in its annual spring trip two weeks from today, March 25.

Their field trip will take them to Shasta dam, where they will be shown how a dam is constructed and operated.

The Bay area is another stop for the engineers. Plans include a visit to a steel plant to watch the production of steel, various bridges under construction, and the harbor improvements in San Francisco.

Ukiah, Cal., is another stop, where the students will watch a masonite factory in operation.

Mr. Howard B. Blodgett, professor of civil engineering, will accompany the students on their field trip.

Experience is a wonderful thing. It is a shame it is wasted on old men.

Students Initiated To Phi Kappa Phi

Thirteen senior students, one faculty member and one graduate have been honored by selection to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society.

Formal initiation ceremonies for the 15 candidates were held yesterday in the Education building auditorium.

Featured speaker at the ceremonies was Robert C. Miller, University of Nevada graduate and United Press foreign correspondent.

Stick Around

Even to those who do not wholly agree with the ideas of Dr. Jacobson, his announced intention of going back to Ohio is disturbing. He said after the hearing that he would leave immediately if the regents had not insisted that he stay until June.

Seldom has any man, even Dr. Richardson, focused so much public attention on the problem that has smoldered at the university for many years. He deliberately started the present ruckus out of the latent hostility, and the widespread endorsement of his investigation proposal proves he is a man capable of putting his ideas across one way or the other.

He has exposed the sore. Does he intend to leave it running worse than ever? The argument transcends reason and has arrived at a hysterical pitch.

Dr. Jacobson's comment, "I'm through. This is no longer my fight," is utterly inconsistent with the dashing beginning he made. Whether he is right or wrong will be immaterial: the letter writing gesture will have been empty.

The issue of administration has to be settled. It should be settled by the body for which the university was supposedly created—the people of the State of Nevada. The present legal machinery for changing the administration of the university is by election. And the auxiliary to this is a recall election which needs only twenty-five per cent of the voters' signatures to initiate.

The Sagebrush opposed an investigation because, in itself, it would be ineffectual, a cipher powerless to take decisive action. But if the results of the investigation were put to use, together with the arguments of both sides, at a free and open election then such an inquiry could be of service. We might even hear some rare evidence.

Skeptics may gainsay the ability of the people to discern the lies from the truth but the underlying doubt is that they will not decide in favor of their particular side. Popular opinion is a makeshift way to find the best policy but it is the method our society purports to believe in.

Nothing but good would be accomplished by a recall election for the board of regents. The decision of the people would be final. One side will have to yield. And Dr. Allvar Jacobson has obligated himself to take part in what Western movies call a showdown.

Rats Run Maze On Science Turf

By Ken Robbins

Dr. Edward W. Hiler, instructor in psychology and philosophy, conducted an experiment Tuesday to gauge the time it takes a rat to leave an intricate maze.

In a secluded part of Stewart hall, a wooden maze was set up and rat rivaled cat in a psychological race for the roses.

Heavy favorite was a large brown rodent named Broken Tail. After the maze was set up, Broken Tail was placed at the starting position and the test was underway.

After passing the halfway position, he turned off on to a side trail where some left over food had accidentally been dropped, costing precious seconds.

When he returned to the right path and completed the 12 turn maze in 43 seconds, shouts of foul, pro and con, were heard.

After some major adjustments to the maze, a companion rat, named The Mole, was given the starting flag.

Displaying magnificent individualism and tailing his nose at hunger pains, The Mole refused to move for a full four minutes. He was promptly put out to pasture on a nearby table.

Broken Tail was brought back for repeat performances. His first few starts were ragged and marked with numerous errors, his time ranging up to one minute and eight seconds. His best trip timed 16 seconds.

Students Plan Soccer Team

Six students from foreign countries are the core of a newly organized university soccer team. Art Broten recently said that enough interest has been shown by other students to warrant plans for developing the team.

The team now consists of eighteen members. Co-captains are Eric Lappoehn and Mustafa Shishakly.

Eric Lappoehn had previous soccer experience in East Prussia while Shishakly played soccer at the University of Beirut, Syria.

Off-campus extension courses are being conducted to aid teachers at Stewart Indian school in Carson and Yerington high schools. Dr. Norma Baker and Dr. Clyde Mead of the University college of education are in charge of the courses.

Dr. Baker's study course on "Teaching reading in the elementary schools" is held on Monday evening from 6-8 p. m. The class meets at the Stewart Indian school in Carson. Dr. Baker is an assistant professor of education at the university. Audio visual methods, showing the use of films in their subject fields of teaching, is covered in an extension course conducted at Yerington by Dr. Mead, assistant professor of education. The lecture and laboratory periods are held each Monday evening from 7 to 10 p. m. Dr. Mead has an enrollment of sixteen teachers.

Undergraduate and graduate credit are being offered to teachers completing the courses.

"This is what I did yesterday"

"I like a job that keeps me jumping," says Bill Jermain, C.E. from Marquette, '52. "And my first management assignment with Wisconsin Telephone Company does just that. I'm Service Foreman at Sheboygan, with nine installers, and that means variety of responsibility. But judge for yourself. Here's a quick run-down of what I did yesterday, on a typical day—

8:10—"Checked day's work schedule. One of my new men was putting in a buried service wire, and I went over the job specs with him to be sure he had things straight.

8:30—"Answered mail while my clerk checked time sheets from previous day.

9:30—"Out to supervise installation of the first aluminum Outdoor Telephone Booth in my exchange. Reviewed the assembly instructions with the installers, then arranged for special tools and bolts to be delivered to the job.

11:30—"Drove across town. Made a complete 'quality inspection' on a telephone we installed last week. Everything checked O.K.

12:00—"Lunch.

1:00—"Picked up film for next day's safety meeting. Watched the film, made notes for discussion.

2:00—"Met with moving company manager to estimate cost of telephone cable lifting for a house moving job. Drove the route he had planned and worked out schedule for construction crews.

3:30—"Returned to aluminum booth installation. Went over wiring specs with the electrician.

4:00—"Stopped at Central Office to pick up next day's orders. Met installers at garage as they checked in and assigned next day's work."

Bill has been in his present job about a year, and is looking forward to new responsibilities as his experience increases . . . as are the many young college men who have chosen telephone careers. If you'd be interested in a similar opportunity with a Bell telephone company . . . or with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric or Sandia Corporation . . . see your Placement Officer for full details.

San Jose Tromps Nevada Boxers

The tough San Jose Spartans demonstrated why they are perennial contenders for Pacific Coast boxing honors, Friday night, when they dropped the Nevada ringmen 6½-1½.

The ring-wise Californians showed form and ability not seen here in many years by collegiate boxing fans.

The lone Nevada victory was earned by Ten Contri, the Elko soph whom Coach Jimmy Olivas expects to show well in the coast tournaments this spring. Contri whipped San Jose's Al White, the undefeated 1954 Northern California Intercollegiate champion. Fighting in the 147-pound class, Ted won all three rounds and had White on the verge of a knockout when the final bell rang.

In the 165 go, rangy Jim Witenberg, fighting his best of the season, managed to earn a draw with Gerald Dahl.

The rest of the San Jose wrecking crew lived up to their reputation as they scored decisive wins over their outgunned Nevada opponents.

Campus Activities Featured on TV

A series of 28 campus telecasts over KZTV began this week and will run until the end of April or longer.

The program, called "Campus Camera," will be presented by different departments in the university and the ASUN. Various clubs will also be represented.

The University is already engaged in a series of educational programs and has been experimenting with many different types of programs to be carried by the local station.

BILL ELWELL, '38

Dean William R. Wood, dean of state-wide development, stated additional programs may be arranged as departments, students, or clubs desire.

Starts Friday!
