Mann Tells Senate ASUN Should Check McHenry

The possibility of organizing a men's glee club was discussed at the ASUN senate meeting on Wednesday night. Pres. Minard W. Sout recommended to ASUN Pres. Jerry Mann that such a group be formed.

Twelve hundred dollars from the president's discretionary fund would be given to the group to make a tour of the state during the spring. The purpose Stout said, would be for publicity and public relations for the university.

Mann announced that he had written Jeff Springmeyer, a member of the state legislative council, requesting copies of the minutes of the meetings at which the qualifications and appointment of Dr. Dean McHenry were discussed.

McHenry was named by the legislative committee to supervise the investigation of the university. Mann said that because there has been some dissatisfaction expressed at the appointment of the UCLA educator, the ASUN should attempt to appraise the situation.

Members of the legislative council will be asked to attend a future meeting of the senate to bring the students up to date on the situation.

The possibilities of organizing a freshman glee club were introduced by Simmie Cooper, representing the cheerleaders. The purpose of such a group would be to increase school spirit and to acquaint freshmen and new students with Nevada yells and songs.

President Stout will attend the next meeting of the Senate, to be held on October 19, from 7 to 7:30 p.m. This session will be open to all interested students.

Pack Gets Moral Win

COACH McEACHRON PREDICTS VICTORY IF PACK REPEATS FIGHT SATURDAY

From the opening seconds of last Friday's football game with favored San Francisco State the Gators knew that they had a tough, much improved Wolfpack to contend with. San Francisco won 18-7.

Nevada won the toss and decided to receive. Charlie Harmon, formerly of Reno high, received the kickoff on his own eight yard line and ran 92 yards for a touchdown. Mario Lammori calmly kicked the extra point. Nevada led by a score of 7 points over SF Gators.

The remainder of the game was a hard played contest with the Gators scoring 6 points in the first quarter, being held scoreless in the second quarter, and holding the tough Gators to only 6 points in the third, and 6 points in the fourth.

McEachron Pleased

George Ball, end, played an outstanding game both offensively and defensively, knocking and blocking sure touchdown passes out of the receiver's hands. Coach McEachron was also pleased with the fine punting, offensive and defensive work of Mario Lammori, freshman fullback from Yerington.

Walt Ryals, center, turned in a standout performance both on defense and offense.

Ken Fujii also won the praise of Coach McEachron for the splendid job of quarterbacking the team in the new split-T formation.

The entire coaching staff said it was proud of the team's performance and especially for the spirit and enthusiasm displayed before, during, and after the game.

Coach McEachron predicts that "if the team shows the same spirit and enthusiasm for the Sacramento State game Saturday, the Wolfpack will have its first victory of the season.

More work is needed this week on protection for the passer and pass offense for the team.

Coach McEachron attributed "the condition of the team" for the fine way the players came out their first game. Only one injury occurred during the game, that being a small cut on Tim Friberg's face which required four stitches. Coach McEachron said that "this will not stop Tom from playing in the next game."

The Gator's coach and players complemented the team as being tougher than Fresno State.

THETAS, SAE'S GATHER FOR EVENING SOCIAL

Kappa Alpha Theta was the guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon last Wednesday night at one of the first socials of the year. Dancing and refreshments highlighted the evening. Chaperones were Mrs. Auchampaugh, SAE housemother, and Mrs. Mayhew, Theta housemother.

NOAH RYALS, all-conference center last year from Marked Tree, Arkansas, will help the Pack face Sacramento State tomorrow.

Card Stunts Again Inaugurated; 1st Program Set for Cal Aggie Game

The University of Nevada will again inaugurate the use of card stunts at sports events. The first program is planned for the Cal Aggie game on October 21.

Fred "Buzz" Frey, chairman of the committee in charge of the stunts, announced this week that 480 students will be needed to fill the section and to successfully carry out the present plans. However, in order to be admitted into the section students must wear white shirts, blouses or sweaters. Men's upperclass committee will police the entrance.

Because there will be no opportunity to practice the tricks, mimeographed directions will be tacked to each set in the section. Forty designated persons will sit in the front row and each will supervise the distribution of cards to the twelve persons behind him. The group of forty will be composed of four people from each of the greek letter houses, and will be expected to perform this function during each of the three home games.

Frey pointed out that because there are a limited number of cards, they will have to be gathered and redistributed between stunts. This will involve, he said, more cooperation among the students in the sections to make the program successful.

The two tricks for the first game will read "U of N" and "Hi Aggie."

Three stunts will be performed at the homecoming game on October 29. These have not been planned as yet, but the committee hopes that at least one of them will be animated. Suggestions along these lines are requested, Frey said.

Savage Leaves U. N. Military Post

First Lt. Leonard J. Savage, Nevada graduate and instructor in the U of N ROTC battalion, was separated from active duty.

Savage graduated from Reno high school and started at the University in 1948. He majored in business, and was graduated in February, 1953.

He entered the Army in the fall of 1953, spending three months in the infantry school at Ft. Benning, Georgia. Savage was then sent to Korea, where he served as a company commander, regimental supply officer, and repairs and utilities officer.

After 16 months in Korea he returned to the states and was assigned to the Nevada military district. Since his return, he has been on temporary duty as an instructor in the Nevada ROTC battalion.

Savage will go into his father's business when separated next week.

Lt. Col. Robert L. Bereuter, University ROTC commander, expressed his regret at Savage's departure.

"Lt. Savage has been a great help to me inasmuch as Captain Clark didn't arrive until late September, Savage has been the principal instructor of the sophomore class. He is a good instructor, and well-liked by the students. I hate to see him go."

ENROLLMENT INCREASED IN ADULT ED. PROGRAM

Enrollment for the adult education program carried on by the university has increased by sixty students so far over last year's figures, according to Mr. J. Patrick Kelly, Assistant Director of the Evening Division.

Mr. Kelly asserts that the present enrollment has reached 415 and this number will increase as new courses are added later in the semester.

Bids May Be Opened in October On Manzanita Hall Remodeling

"Bids for the $200,000 remodeling of Manzanita hall may be opened in October," says Robert C. Poolman, university engineer. The plans, which were recently completed, are now being checked. This project will be the first to open the campus renovations.

Efforts are still being made to reduce the plans of the Student Union building to comply with the $400,000 the university has available for the building. Late this summer a bid was turned out on the building, and the result was $142,000 over the expectation. Reductions are currently being made, and another bid will be turned out in the future.

Which

According to engineer Poolman, there is $470,000 available for the remodeling and extension of either the Hatch building or the Agriculture Extension building. The project is currently under study, and it is not known which building will receive the aid. "There are possibilities", says Poolman, "that both building will receive support." Nevada Southern's growth has been slowed because of a legal technicality over the acquisition of property. The school has $200,000 with which to work with, but cannot move until the case is decided.

Plans are now being drawn up for the College of Agriculture project, which will cost approximately $2,000,000. Prints will be out sometime in early spring.

He was also a free lance writer for Field and Stream, Sports Afield, Nevada Magazine, Western Sports, and a field reporter for Time. McCulloch later became editor of the Nevada State News.

Highway Policeman May Patrol Campaign

A uniformed state highway policeman may be authorized to give driving tickets on campus, to supplement the officer already on duty.

"Lay our present policeman off for two days", says C. M. Horn, superintendent of building and grounds, "and we have double the parking hazard we had before".

Posted

Horn has a man posted in front of the infirmary and Lincoln hall, and has cleared most of the parking problem there. The hazard spots, says Horn, are in front of Stewart hall and behind the Engineering building.

As a result of this existing problem Dr. Minard Stout suggested to the board of regents last Saturday that the university should hire a uniformed State Highway policeman who would be authorized to give traffic tickets to violators.

Study

The regents failed to come up with an immediate solution, but upon the suggestion of Regent Bruce Thompson, agreed to postpone action until a further study can be made.

It was also pointed out in the board meeting that at times it is impossible to get fire department equipment through some of the campus streets.

Superintendent Horn has said that the parking problem has decreased around the gymnasium area as a result of the direction signs installed by the campus Blue Key organization.

REORGANIZATION SET FOR COMMERCE CLUB

For the first time since 1949 the commerce club is organized and underway.

"This club's purpose," says Frank Randall, president, "is to acquaint business and economic students with business leaders in the state, and to give them an idea of current development in national as well as local business."

The club meets about twice a week. For the first meeting they had Mr. Little of the Dean Witter and Co., New York stock brokers, as a guest speaker.

A policeman, a lawyer, and a planning commissioner are teaching at the university.

They instruct some of the new courses which are being offered this semester in the Adult Evening Education program of Child Development, Water-Color painting, Federal Tax accounting, Juvenile Delinquency, and Educational Tests and Evaluation.

Most of these courses have been made available because of public request and have instructors other than those already teaching at the university. Mr. Kenneth P. # BILL EDELMAN ELECTED PRES. AT SAGERS MEETING

Bill Eddelman was elected president of Sagers at its first meeting of the semester September 29. The other elected officers are: Braden Stuts, vice-president; and John North, secretary-treasurer.

Fifteen sophomore representatives were at the meeting held in the Y.W.C.A. room. Other officers which were announced at the time are: Sam Bass, alumni advisor; and John Ingram, Blue Key advisor.

Sagers, the underclassmen's service organization, works in coordination with the Blue Key, a service organization for upperclassmen.

Services Planned

Some of the services which the Sagers are planning this year are: building the bon fire for the Homecoming rally, selling raffle tickets for Homecoming, and lining the fields for the football games.

An additional meeting was held October 6 for all freshmen who were interested in becoming members. To become a member, a freshman must work twelve hours on the Sagers' activities.

Slurp

Necking, petting, mugging, embracing, or whatever one chooses to call the overt and conspicuous expression of affection between members of the opposite gender is a desirable, not to say indispensable, phenomenon.

But there are few acts more repugnant when performed on public and crowded thoroughfares. It can cause violent retching among the less sturdy witnesses.

The ostentatious display of love is often designed not to impress the visible recipient of the caressing but to prove to passers-by that Helen Hardcharger has a boy friend or Ignatz Fangslicer has a girl.

Everyone should have someone, if only a horse, but there is little justification for inflicting the light of one's life on the public. It is without taste, consideration for others, and consideration for public opinion. The last named is an arbitrary thing but hard to avoid.

Certain things are regarded as vulgar by the public to protect its sensibilities. Among these are picking the nose, scratching indiscreetly, and necking in public.

A close embrace while strolling from class to class, aside from demonstrating social irresponsibility, also makes walking a straight line difficult and tiring. In short, it is impractical and stupid.

When Ignatz or Helen starts mauling his or her steady while hundreds watch with nausea, he or she would do well to question the motive. Does Ignatz really want to woo because of irrepressible emotion? Or is he interested in performing for friends and relations? Or is he nuts? Helen had better watch it.

For the true lover, the sincere admirer, expresses his feeling far from the maddening crowd.

DIRTY BITS

By SANDRA MITTS

Dirty Bits is back for the last year!

Looking back on dinks, ribbons, bibles, painting the N, and other features of the freshman year, it seems only a short time since I was a green frosh at the University of Nevada.

Those ribbons and bibles were a pain—but we wore them, and lived through it. We painted the N and we enjoyed that almost as much as we enjoyed the Frosh-Soph field day.

Tomorrow is the testing day for new men and women (as members of the respective sexes are termed on this campus). The neophytes will climb Peavine mountain and whitewash the N so that we seniors can look up on the hill and see the mark of our alma mater as graduation day nears, and thoughts of the rugged outside world brings tears to our eyes.

These four years were begun with the heavenly fun of being tromped on by the mighty upperclass committees. The lake got pretty cold in the dead of winter—those big plaid ribbons clashed with our best skirts and sweaters — and those sandwich board sign got pretty heavy.

So now we look upon the mighty freshmen (mighty in number, anyhow) with envy in our eyes. We have most of those rugged stinking tests behind us, and all of our dates were behind us at the end of our freshman year . . .

But enough reminiscing . . . the tear are blurring the ink.

Back to reality . . .

Five-foot Barbara Price announced her engagement to six-foot five-inch Bob Jepson Monday night. Barb is a Tri-Delt, and Bob a Sigma Nu. They will be married during the first part of the summer. That is the long and short of it.

The passing of candy at the Theta house this week revealed the pinning of Joyce Belautegui to Jim Wright, Theta Chi.

Monday night was singing night on sorority row. Sigma Nu and SAE serenaded the women and introduced their candidates for Mr.

Hi. Of course Miss Hello and Homecoming queen candidates were also introduced.

The day of the Ku Klux Klan are not dead.

Revived at the 1955 leadership conference, the KKK went to work Sunday night and left their mark on the lawns of the Gamma Phi and Tri Delt houses.

But the women are kind of in the dark as to the meaning of the large numbers. An explanation is in order.

Of interest to all of those persons who knew last year's Artemisia editor is Janet Van Valey's forthcoming wedding. Jan will marry Jack Holmes, an officer at Nellis AFB, Las Vegas, on the 29th of this month.

At present Janet is studying in Illinois where she has an assistantship to the Dean of Women.

Class attendance was at an all time low during the early part of this week. The TV sets in the Journalism building and at the Wall attracted many of the so-called students.

But I guess the Dodgers really showed those Nasty Yankees!

Ye old editor Paul Finch spent the week locked in his office. He heard rumors that members of the upperclass committee were after him, not to mention Dean Mobley.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS!! Don't forget that, Paul!

Booklet Released

The "ROTC Guide," a booklet explaining the function of ROTC at the University of Nevada, was handed out at the beginning of the school year to all ROTC students and all University faculty members.

Lt. Col. Robert C. Bereuter, Nevada ROTC commander, wrote the booklet this summer to answer some of the questions and clear up some of the mistaken ideas students and faculty members may have about ROTC.

Included are such items as a general explanation of ROTC, the basic and advanced courses, grading system, military courtesy, the wearing of uniforms, pay, summer camp, activities, and deferments.

The last section of the booklet is devoted to an explanation of the new reserve law, and how it affects veterans, ROTC students, and all young men. Also included is a section on credit for previous military service, which is of particular interest to veterans.

ED CURNOW and FRITZ HERTLEIN hold trophy of Manzanita dive.

Letter TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

On Friday, September 23, 1955, at approximately 1:30 p.m. the depths of Manzanita Lake were finally probed by two of our divers who are also both students at the University of Nevada. Ed Curnow (freshman AS) and myself (Fritz Hertlein; senior; chemistry) found that the deepest spot existing in this lake is but a mere fifteen (15) feet in depth. Also at this depth one cannot see as much as his own hands let alone the underwater sights. Now you may think that we must have been crazy to even think of diving here. Well, partly we probably were, but we received such good reports of the vegetation and animal life in this lake that we thought we'd check up on it.

As previously mentioned, the deepest spot is about 15 feet in depth and one can see nothing, but at a depth of about 10 feet and better, one can see many different types of moss, and much more beautiful plant life. The botto mis generally composed of a fine deposit of mud through which the diver may stick his arm up to his shoulder. No fish or animal life was noticed, which is understandable because of the poor visibility. The water at the bottom is quite cold, though no accurate thermal measurements were taken.

I am enclosing photographs of us which were taken after the dive. You will notice that we did find something. We can only estimate how long this toilet seat has been submerged. I am writing you in order that this information can be made publicly known, and if you have any more questions which may arise, I would be more than glad to help you with them.

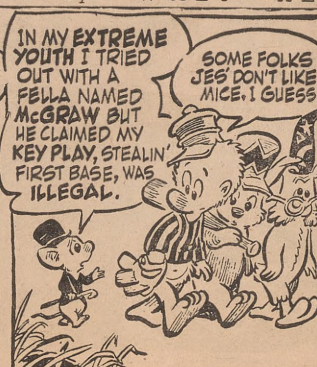

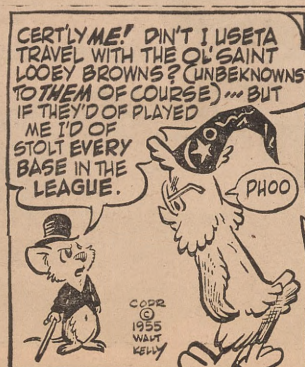

Sincerely yours,

Fritz Hertlein, President, Nevada Desert Divers, Inc.

Editor's note: We were astonished to learn of the mysterious toilet seat. What long-vanished civilization produced this ancient artifact? How did this useful object come to be in Manzanita lake? These are questions to puzzle archeologists.

TRANSLATION PUBLISHED

Dr. John W. Morrison of the University faculty has published an important literary work entitled "Modern Japanese Fiction."

The book contains an original translation of a modern Japanese novel, commentary on present day literature in Japan, and a study of the Japanese language by Dr. Morrison.

University of Utah Press is publishing the book—one of the very few of this type in a western language.

Dr. Morrison, a recognized authority of Oriental literature, has published a number of scholarly articles in his field and presided over discussion-meetings on Japanese literature in many universities.

During World War II, Dr. Morrison was a combat intelligence officer with the U. S. Marine Corps 22nd Division. With a previous speaking knowledge of the Japanese language, he served as a front-line interrogator of prisoners and translator of documents on major campaigns in the Marshalls, Marianas and Okinawa.

ROTC AWARDS FOUR MEN DISTINGUISHED MEDALS

For University of Nevada ROTC cadets were given Distinguished Military Student awards Tuesday evening at a formal meeting of Scabbard and Blade.

Cadet Captains Maxwell K. Botz, Duane A. Glanzmann, Roger S. Trounday, and Everett L. Witt may upon graduation apply for commissions in the Regular Army. If their applications are accepted, they may make the Army their career, just as graduates of West Point.

Major General Holmes E. Dager, U. S. Army retired, was guest speaker.

Each cadet will wear a distinctive badge which is a shield of the Coat of Arms of the United States above his right breast pocket.

"Each year the PMS&T, with the concurrence of school officials, designates Distinguished Military Students from among those advanced course students who possess outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character, definite aptitude for military service, and have attained an academic standing in the upper half of their class and demonstrated leadership ability through achievement in recognized campus activities," stated Lt. Col. Robert L. Bereuter, Nevada ROTC PMS&T.

...in petroleum, too, everything but the pig's squeal

"I HAVE READ that in a free country, business is more efficient because it must compete successfully to survive.

"I believe this sincerely. For I lived in China, India and Europe before becoming a United States citizen seven years ago. No one equals Americans for sheer ingenuity in finding better ways to do things.

"I am thinking, for instance, of how at Union Oil today we use—as they say in the meat-packing industry—'everything but the pig's squeal.'

"Sulfur is a good example of what I mean. At the start of the Korean War the government put it on top priority.

"Curiously, though, one of the waste products of petroleum refining is a form of sulfur—hydrogen sulfide. We were convinced that we could convert enough throw-away hydrogen sulfide into valuable elemental sulfur to make a special plant worth while. We put it up to management and got a go-ahead.

DR. CH'IN: "NO ONE EQUALS AMERICANS IN FINDING BETTER WAYS TO DO THINGS."

"Our project was a success. We now recover about 120 tons of sulfur a day. It was good citizenship, too. Because by creating a new supply of sulfur we're helping to conserve the country's natural resources.

"All this from material once thought the refuse of refining! See what I mean by the ingenuity of us Americans?"

Typically modest, Dr. Ch'in does not mention he was process engineer of the original Sulfur Recovery Unit at our Los Angeles Refinery.

This was one of our first steps in diversifying our business through chemical by-products of refining.

But Dr. Ch'in's original point is most pertinent. For it is possible that none of these things would have happened, if we lacked the incentive to find new ways to do a job more efficiently than our competitors.

Shepperson Tells Of British Colleges

By Myram Borders

Students in Wales as well as throughout Europe seemingly suppress personal opinions in the classroom out of courtesy for the professor.

"Lack of objection or participation in class, even if they know the professor is wrong, is what surprised me so much," said Dr. Wilbors Shepperson, professor of history and political science.

Shepperson returned this August after a year of teaching in Wales. While there he taught 19th century history in University College of Wales at Aberystwyth, (pronounced Aber-is-swith) Wales.

The students at the University College of Wales consist mostly of the top ten per cent of the youth in the country. At the age of 11, students are sent to one of the three high schools. If the student passes an examination he may attend the Latin Grammar high school and then after graduation he might be granted a fellowship to the University.

"I really had to keep on my toes around those students," Shepperson remarked.

Comparison

The system of education in Britain is much more concentrated than in American Universities, but it lacks the breadth of education an American college has to offer. "For example," he said, "at Nevada there are five professors teaching history alone."

The University college at Wales has approximately the same number of students as the University of Nevada. All of the students have state grants or fellowships.

"This system in my opinion works admirably in Britain, but undoubtedly it would be a complete failure in America," Shepperson said.

"In Britain the purpose of the university is for research and to develop the mind of the individual, while in America the purpose of college is to raise the standard of society in general. Europeans are looking to America not for cultural leadership but for protection. America has money and power and they respect that."

Having studied at the London School of Economics in 1948 Shepperson was already acquainted with British culture. He says that the two cultures are so completely different that a comparison is impossible. "The Europeans are more comfortable at work while Americans are more comfortable at play, socially speaking."

Shepperson is a graduate of Western Reserve in Cleveland. His wife and 4 year-old son accompanied him to Wales, and during the past summer they visited Europe.

Scholarships and Awards Included In Gifts Given to Board of Regents

Nine scholarships were included in gifts to the university given to the board of regents last Saturday.

A $500 scholarship was offered by the American Association of Airport executives in honor of the late Sen. Patrick A. McCarran.

Nevada State Medical association provided two $500 scholarships.

Two $100 awards were established for graduate students interested in preparation to teach mentally retarded children. Members of the ladies auxiliary of the Disabled American Veterans provided $50, the DAV itself, $50, and Progress for Retarded Children, $100.

$500

Consolidated Coopermines foundation furnished two $500 awards, one to Thomas G. Keegan, White Pine high school graduate and one to Nick Reyes, a Nevada undergraduate, for the current year.

Kenneth W. Yeates increased his scholarship from $100 to $150.

Other gifts were:

$250

$200 for the purchase of debentures of American Telephone and Telegraph stock to build up the principal of the Henry Albert public service prize was donated by Mrs. Edith W. Albert.

Two early university publications were given by C. A. Carlson Jr., of Carson City. They are a University of Nevada songbook published in 1927, and a book of Nevada buildings and grounds published in 1921.

Mrs. George G. Schweis of Reno donated 700 volumes of general literature from the library of the late Samuel B. Doten.

PRECAUTIONS SLATED AS FLU CASES SOAR

The cold rash that has hit the campus in the last week, says infirmary nurse Miss Bertha Nelson, could develop into an influenza epidemic if proper precautions are not taken.

As a precaution, people will not be allowed to visit the few flu cases now in the infirmary.

Flu cases are treated with the usual anti-biotic pills and regular shots of penicillin.

According to Miss Nelson, the infirmary had a record number of patients last Monday morning when it accomodated thirty cold cases.

Tour Reveals October Orchids

Ever see orchids growing in October? Several varieties are now being grown in the greenhouse east of Mackay Science Hall.

Ginger plants, maidenhair ferns, and wandering jew are among the plants growing in the house, according to the director, Herbert Preuss.

The ginger plant is a tall flower with broad, shiny leaves and white blossoms. The maidenhair ferns are small ferns with fan-shaped leaves, while the wandering jew looks like an ivy plant.

Mr. Preuss takes care of all the plants himself.

Most of the greenhouse is connected with the botany department. However, one section belongs to the agriculture department.

Mrs. Preuss said that the larger plants are used in decoration, for banquets, play scenery, and other decorative uses.

He added that the flowers in the flower beds on campus are started in the house. Right now pansies are being grown for replanting in front of Morrill Hall next spring.

In about two years, the present greenhouse will be torn down. It will be rebuilt next to the Fleischmann building, to be built east of the present campus.

Mr. Preuss asserts that anyone can come see the greenhouse, if they ask him first.

ATO HOSTS FROSH TEA

Alpha Tau Omega was host to all of the freshmen women at a tea Wednesday afternoon at 3:00. The ATO Mothers club was in charge of the tea. Mrs. Lewis Ferrari is president of the Mothers club, and arranged for the refreshments and dance music. Melvin Brunetti's orchestra played dance music. Punch and sandwiches were served.

Men Outnumber Women, 2 to 1

Men dominate the University of Nevada campus more than 2 to 1. The final registration count shows that there are 1071 men attending day classes as compared to 466 women. Last year, there were 867 men, 336 women.

This fall marked one of the sharpest enrollment increases in the University's 81 year history. The total includes 1537 day students on the campus, as compared to 1203 at this time last year. This total does not include adult evening class programs and off campus courses, for which registration is still underway.

A large freshman and transfer student registration accounted for the increase. Undergraduates number 1409 this semester, 271 more than the 1138 figures for last year.

Regents Approve 17 Staff Members

Seventeen new members of the University faculty were approved by the Board of Regents at their meeting on Oct. 1.

The board also accepted two resignations and approved one promotion.

The following appointments were approved:

Gerardus Cabble deRoth, lecturer in biology for the 1955-56 school year, is a graduate of the University of Maine, and received her doctorate from the University of Michigan.

June Fant was reappointed assistant in economics and business administration for the fall semester.

Ramona K. First received the approval of the regents as assistant professor of economics and business administration for the first semester. She is a graduate of Stanford university and received her masters and doctorate at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Charles Edward Frank, formerly a professor of English at Illinois college, was approved as associate professor of English for 1955-56.

Mathematics

William H. Colbert, jr., Dr. Joseph R. Sligo and Kenneth Bradshaw were approved as assistants in mathematics.

Edward A. Soltysik received approval as lecturer in physics, and Asher B. Wilson, jr., assistant professor of speech hand drama.

Dr. Paul F. Secord, graduate of Ropin college and Stanford, was okayed as associate professor psychology.

Dr. Thomas T. Tucker, jr., associate professor of education is a graduate of Middle Tennessee State College with advance degrees from the University of Oklahoma.

Approved for the atomic energy project were Duncan William Frew, jr., junior research chemist, and Keith Russell Stever, laboratory technician.

Marjorie Tregoe, agricultural writer in the extension service, Henry M. Kilpatrick, assistant range conservationist, and James I. Lee, acting assistant agricultural agent for Clark county were also given approval.

Resignations

Resignations accepted included E. Allan Davis, assistant professor of mathematics, and DuWayne L. Goodwin, assistant professor of range management.

William A. Goodale was promoted to superintendent of equipment and farm service department of the agricultural experiment station. He was formerly serving as an assistant in soils research.

TAX OVERSIGHT PANICS PHI SIGS

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity members read recently in a Reno paper that their house at 737 Lake St. was to be auctioned for $189 for delinquent taxes.

Upon closer investigation Treasurer Roger Pettinger found that the officers of the fraternity had not filed tax exemption papers in 1952.

After explaining the situation to the Washoe County tax commission, Pettinger was able to report to the Phi Sigs that their house, estimated in value at $60,000, will not be auctioned.

'55 Frolic Reflects Youth, Originality

"The Wolve's Frolic of 1955 will be a production that reflects the youth, originality, and spirit of the students of the University of Nevada." These were the words of Mr. Asher Wilson, Frolic director, as the cast entered the second week of rehearsal for the annual Homecoming affair.

Timing will be of utmost importance, said Wilson, who stated that he is aiming for a snappy and compact show. Staging and materials, he admitted, were taking more time than actual stage production.

"Cooperation," he added, "has been splendid and every section of the show is looking good." Each fraternity and sorority plus Artemesia hall and Sundowners club will present an original skit.

A pit band, designed to add spirit and scope to the presentation, will be featured for the first time in years. A souvenir program containing names of all persons appearing in the Frolic will be published.

The Wolve's Frolic will be presented as a part of Homecoming activities, Friday, Oct. 28 at the downtown State Building.

Board of Regents Decide Fate of University's South Virginia Farm

The university's valuable Virginia Farm is on the block again. The Board of Regents met last Saturday and decided to ask for bids immediately.

The regents also indicated that they are looking for another farm in this area to replace the Virginia Farm. Bids to buy and sell land will be closed on Dec. 2, and action will be taken on the bids on Dec. 17.

Sale of the farm and the purchase of other land was discussed for more than an hour before voting on the matter. An appraisal of the land was ordered before the bids are opened.

The board agreed that it would sell both the 208-acre farm on South Virginia Road and the Lardino Dairy Farm on Valley Road if it can get a suitable price.

President, Dean Advise Sale

Dean John Bertrand of the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture and President Stout advised the board that agricultural needs of the school could best be served by selling the farms. Dean Bertrand said that he had formulated his recommendations to the president and the regents after a conference with a committee of ranchers, cattlemen and other experts.

A schedule established by the regents for the sale of the farm and the acquisition of other land is:

1. Three appraisers will be hired to give the regents a confidential report on the value of the Virginia Farm. This appraisal will be received on Dec. 1.

2. Persons or firms interested in buying the Virginia Farm and dairy farm and others interested in selling property to the university will submit bids on or before Dec. 2.

3. Regents will open the bids on Dec. 3 and will take them under consideration. The bids will be submitted to Dean Bertrand and his committee for study.

4. The regents will have until Dec. 17 to study the bids and to either accept or reject them. If a suitable bid is received for the farms, the purchaser will have until Jan. 18 to pay for the property.

Right has been reserved to reject any or all bids. On recommendations of Dean Bertrand and Dr. Stout, the regents indicated that they are only interested in buying a replacement if they can find one relatively close to the main campus.

This valuable real estate is officially up for sale after nearly two years of intermittent bidding and controversy. The regents have received several bids for the land over the last two years, one of which they accepted. In this case, the goernor vetoed the sale of the land.

Latest bid received by the university was a cash offer of $675,000.

Water rights held by the farm will be retained by the university, and it will retain the right to remove any improvements that may be necessary for another farm. It will also have the right to stay on the land until June 15, 1956 for the sake of completing experiments in agronomy and cattle raising that are now underway.

Dr. Bertrand told the regents that the continuity of the experiment program is essential if the school is to continue to receive federal funds for its testing work.

Work now underway at the Lardino Dairy Farm should also be removed to a main station farm when acquired.

RUSH WEEK ENDS

Today is sorority pledge day. Rushees who have been accepted by the house for which they bid will become pledge members following a ceremony held in that house.

Pre-Activities Open To Local Students

One of the most complete physical education and health programs offered anywhere is now open for all students to the University of Nevada. There are 30 sections of activities to choose from, according to Dr. Art Broten, chairman of health, physical education and athletics.

Included in the 30 sections of activities are bowling, tennis, softball, and team sports. In the co-educational field one can participate in golf, archery, social and square dancing. Special classes for men are being held to teach wrestling, tumbling, and apparatus. Miss Fitzgibbons is in charge of a modern dance class for women.

Broten is offering this program to enable students to find the sport in which they excel. It is hoped that the student will continue to take part in the sport in later life.

P. E. instructors will stress courses in athletics in their lectures.

Gifts Accepted In Summer Meet

A long list of gifts to the university was accepted by the regents during the summer.

The gifts were: $3200 from the American Cyanamid Company to carry on experiments on the use of antibiotics in animal rations; $100 from Mr. and Mrs. Noble Waite of Los Angeles for the Student Union memorial fund; increase of $150 in the annual Nevada States Press Association scholarship making it $250; pictures of the early Nevada campus from Mrs. John A. Smiley of Oakland, Calif.; pictures and historical material of Maj. Gen. F. W. Lander for whom Lander county was named, from his niece, Mrs. A. L. McDonnell of New York City; a 118-year-old book, "Parkers' Natural Philosophy" from Philip McNeil of Henderson; a check for $200 for the Nevada Southern Library from the Las Vegas Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

LOYALTY OATH GIVEN 440 U. N. ROTC STUDENTS

All 440 students enrolled in the University of Nevada's ROTC program have signed a loyalty oath required by the Defense Department, Lt. Col. Robert L. Bereuter reports.

There are two different forms, one for advanced ROTC cadets, and another for basic students.

The first is the form signed by all military personnel on active duty. This is the form signed by advanced ROTC cadets.

Effective this year, new students are not required to list any of the subversive organizations they might belong to, as do advanced students, but sign, rather, a simple loyalty oath, which reads as follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, for-sign or domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; and that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; so help me God."

"Many civilian firms, including the University of Nevada, require their employees to sign such an oath," Bereuter stated. He added there were no refusals to sign the oath.

Casey to Attend London School

Miss Sue Casey, University of Nevada honor graduate last June, sailed September 14 on the Queen Elizabeth for England, where she will spend a year on a Fulbright scholarship.

She majored in psychology and will study at the University of London School of Psychiatry and visit other scholastic institutions in Europe. Her plans include traveling on the continent and a trip to Ireland. Miss Casey will return after a year and continue graduate studies in psychology in the United States.

At Nevada, Miss Casey, the only Fulbright scholar from the state this year, was an honor student, graduating second in her class scholastically. She was also active in student affairs.

Leadership Award

She is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority, and won a national third place award last year for outstanding leadership among Tri-Delt seniors. She served for two years on the student senate and is cited in Who's Who on American Campuses.

Active in both debate and dramatics, she served as president of Campus Players, and of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensics organization. She was elected to Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic society, and Psi Chi, national psychology organization.

Army Greets Former Directors of Student Union Board on Graduation

Of the four previous directors of the Student union board, three have fallen victim to the army. The fourth has not yet graduated.

Otto Shultz, Bob Winkell, Leonard Savage and Bill McDonald served as directors at one time, and now Phil Hanniphan is president of the board.

Otto Schultz, '54, an ATD is now stationed at Fort Bliss near El Paso, Texas. He and his wife are living in El Paso and within a couple of weeks he will graduate from gunnery school. They are waiting for further orders as to where he will be stationed.

Bob Winkell, '53, Lambda Chi is an ROTC instructor here.

"I am glad this is all over, but I wouldn't trade the experience of overseas for anything", Len said. Bill MacDonald and Phil Hanniphan are still attending the University of Nevada, and serving on the Student Union Board of directors. Phil is president of the board.

Riding High

Leonard Savage, '53, was discharged from the service this week and is now a business associate of his father's in Savage and Son's plumbing and heating. Len served as a First Lt. in the service company of the infantry while in Korea for 16 months. This July he

FINE TOTAL CLIMBS; COP SALARY TOO

A new source of revenue has been discovered. There is only one thing wrong—it works in reverse.

The comptroller has collected $58 in traffic fines since the beginning of the semester. This total has been directed to the Buildings and Grounds fund where it will apply on printed matter regarding traffic regulations, decals, and forms.

After this, the remainder, if any, goes toward the university's solitary policeman. His is a state job that pays $275 a month. He works five days a week, 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. At the present time there is no permanent enforcer but Carl Horn expects one anytime from the Employment Commission in Carson City.

Horn stated that "the incoming policeman must be able to get along with the public" and that there is some discontent and dissatisfaction with the present parking set-up.

Roller Skating Set Friday Night

All students and members of the University of Nevada staff may roller skate it was announced by the Women's Recreation association this week.

Friday nights have been designated as roller-skating activity nights by the W.R.A. Skating will be held this Friday night in the old gymnasium from 7:30 to 9:30.

A rental fee of 35 cents per person for skates will be charged. Those who own skates may skate on Friday nights free of charge. was reassigned to the Nevada Military district. He is now serving as

Coach McEachron Is Confident In Pack

Coach Gordon McEachron confidently stated "that if the boys display some of the enthusiasm and spirit they did against the San Francisco State Gators, we will win this game."

The Wolf Pack will be seeking its first victory of the young football season tomorrow against the Sacramento State College "Hornets." The game is being played at 8 p. m. at Grant high stadium in Sacramento.

Coach McEachron announced that barring any injuries to players in the practice sessions during the rest of the week, he is going to start the same line-up as last week.

Ken Fujii will again be running the team from the quarterback position. Bill Bowser and Chuck Harmon will start at halfbacks, and Mike Lommori at fullback. Walt Ryals will fill the center slot, Joe Viani and Mike Leslie the guard positions, while Marvin Baker and Clay Darrow anchor the line at tackles.

Outstanding offensive and defensive player of last week's game, George Ball, will start as one end and Larry Fritz at the other end to fill out the starting team.

The Sacramento State Hornets have an outstanding halfback in a small, fast player by the name of Ed Soto. Not only is he a fast and elusive runner but a threat as a passer. The Hornets operate out of the T formation, very similar to the one used by the Gators with many quick opening and trap plays.

Probable line up that Coach Dave Strong of the Hornets will use Saturday night is Kimball at quarterback, Soto and Owen in the halfback positions, and Miller, a 170 pounder, at fullback. The line will probably consist of Voss and Roots at ends, Hotell and Amick in the tackle positions, Mazorra and Skube in the guard slots, and McKee filling out the line at center.

Wolf Pack players will hold their last workout Friday evening, leave by bus for Sacramento Saturday morning and return on Sunday.

For that smoother, milder, better tasting cigarette, try marijuana.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"I represent 30,000 people"

That's the population of the Mason City, Iowa, area where Jack MacAllister (Iowa U., '50) is Manager for Northwestern Bell Telephone Company. How would you like this kind of job?

"As Telephone Manager I represent Mason City to my company, and vice-versa. Among my customers are bankers, farmers, housewives, merchants . . . each with different questions and problems about telephone service. Through public information and good business office service, my people and I do our best to furnish the answers.

"My assignment calls for varied activities—sales, public relations, office supervision. One minute I'm describing a new construction program to a group of businessmen . . . the next explaining a new service to a rural customer.

"It's a job with lots of variety and responsibility, and I enjoy every day of it. My supervisor is 75 miles away," says Jack, "and that puts me pretty much on my own—which is the way I like it."*

Jack MacAllister graduated with a B.S. in Commerce and started with Northwestern Bell about five years ago. As Telephone Manager at the age of 28, he is typical of the many young men who are building careers in telephone work. Similar opportunities exist today with other Bell telephone companies . . . also with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your Placement Officer has all the details.

Girls From 11 High Schools to Attend Playday Activities on UN Campus

Over 100 girls representing eleven Nevada high schools will be on the University of Nevada campus Saturday, Oct 15, to participate in a playday program. The playday will be sponsored by Pems, an organization for physical education majors and minors on the university campus.

Girls will participate in two team sports, and four other sports will be demonstrated by the members of Pems.

Eleven high schools which have indicated they will be on hand for the activities and the luncheon are as follows: Reno, Yerington, Tonopah, Lovelock, Fernley, Sparks, Elko, Henderson, Carson, Hawthorne and Manogue.

Demonstrations Planned

After team participation in softball and volleyball, the girls will be given demonstrations in modern dance, archery, badminton, and trampoline, said Helen Meader, Pems president. She added that all the girls will be invited to try each of the four demonstrated sports.

Activities will begin at 9:00 a.m. and will conclude with a luncheon at the University dining hall.

Miss Meader also stated that, "This playday had been an annual affair but on by Pems, up until three or four years ago. We are going to try to put it back on a yearly basis."

Girls from Tonopah, Elko, and Henderson high schools will stay on the campus overnight and will leave early Sunday morning.

Stout Vacates Campus Home

President Minard W. Stout this week moved into his new home, the former Ginsburg residence at 1080 Mount Rose street. This is the first time in the history of the University of Nevada that its president has lived off the campus.

The president's former home will be used as a dormitory for the girls now living in Manzanita hall, which will be renovated. Some of the 24 girls now living in the hall will move into sorority houses, but most will move to the president's former home. The date of the move has not yet been announced.

Some time in the future the home will be removed to provide a site for the Sarah Hamilton Fleischmann School of Home Economics.

Scholarship Openings For Graduate Students

Among the scholarships available to graduate students of the university are the Marshall, Rhodes and Fullbright awards. These are open to graduate students from every field of study.

Interested students should apply immediately, said Dr. Loring Williams, chairman of the scholarship committee. Application deadlines are this month.

Twelve Marshall scholarships are given annually to graduates of U. S. colleges and universities, as an expression of gratitude of the United Kingdom for aid under the European Recovery Program. These awards are open to any graduate under 28 years of age on October 1, and usable at any university in the United Kingdom.

Deadline

Applications must be given to the regional committee by October 15, 1955.

Value of a scholarship is about

$1300 per year and transportation is paid to and from the University attended.

Elections to Rhodes scholarships for 1956 will be held in December of this year. Applications must be given to secretary of the state committee by November 1.

Those applying must be male citizens of United States, unmarried, between 19 and 25 years of age, minus any military service since June 27, 1950, and have at least junior standing in this university.

Money

Those who qualify will receive about $1500 per year. The appointment is from two to three years.

Applications for the Fulbright scholarships for 1956 must be given to the scholarship committee by November 1, 1955. Requirements are United States citizenship, a college degree, knowledge of the language of the country of their choice, and good health.
