

Stout, Springmeyer Speak to Senate

"I'm not so naive," said Jeff Springmeyer, "that I believe all the recommendations of the investigation will be used. But some will be and that is progress."

He and Dr. Minard Stout, spoke at an unprecedented ASUN senate meeting Wednesday night.

Dr. Stout and Springmeyer, speaking at different times in the evening, both discussed the competency of Dr. Dean McHenry of UCLA to conduct the investigation of the University of Nevada.

Under student questioning Dr. Stout said that he would have preferred several other men "recognized by competent organizations of higher education" to conduct the study.

Doesn't Know

Asked about the probable reaction of the regents and administration to the recommendations made by McHenry, he replied, "I don't know. When you are told you ought to have your appendix removed," he metaphored, "you like to know whether the man is a specialist."

Later in the evening Springmeyer reviewed the background of the legislative commission's selection of McHenry. He said that he, under the direction of the commission, talked to 92 different organizations and individuals on a proper course of study.

Sought Justice

He said that managerial consultants were questioned concerning the job for six months and that it was felt that such groups would not "do the thing justice."

Substantivists and Educationists were explained to the 23 students present by the legislative counsel. He said that one school emphasized educational method and that the other stressed the substance of what was taught.

Dr. Stout and Springmeyer, who each spoke when the other was not present, both touched on the problem of impartiality.

Dr. Stout mentioned ten such investigations now underway in the United States. In many cases, he said, "the legislatures do not want an investigation. They want a conclusion."

Non-Bias Scarce

Springmeyer said that nearly everyone considered for the investigating job belonged to one school of education. "I did everything possible to select a man who belonged neither to the substantivists or the educationists. And McHenry does not."

"If the commission had picked such a person," Springmeyer said, "the investigation's conclusions would have been foregone."

Earl Hawley, student senator, asked Springmeyer about the six organizations Silas Ross, regent chairman, insisted should be consulted about the investigator.

After cautioning the newsmen present to "handle it gently," Springmeyer said that the commission did not hear of Ross' letter of suggestion until long after Ross claimed.

He said it had been sent to the attorney general, not to the commission.

"We had contacted four of the six organizations Ross mentioned," Springmeyer said, "but only coincidentally. They were all of the educationist views and therefore would be strongly in favor of the administration policies."

No Flames

"I don't want to rekindle the flames of publicity," he told newsmen, "but what I am saying is the truth."

Springmeyer reviewed McHenry's background. "We found that he had been considered by the regents for the presidency and felt that he must know something about land grant universities." McHenry is a professor of political science at UCLA, a onetime candidate for congress and mayor of Los Angeles, and has aided in educational studies in California.

Springmeyer said the investigation would start sometime around the first of the year and would end in October of 1956. The conclusions, he said, would not be published until after the state general elections.

"This should not become a campaign issue," he explained.

Burns Wins 2nd Frosh Primary

Tom Burns, Sigma Nu candidate, with 154 votes, led in Tuesday's retake of the freshman manager primary. He was followed by Gary Wilkerson, SAE, with 74 votes. Both men appeared on the ballot for the final election held Thursday.

It seemed no one could spell the name of Jim Corica, ATO candidate for manager, correctly. His was the misspelled name that delayed the election.

Correctly the name is spelled James Corica. The ballot printers spelled or misspelled it Don Corica. Last week's Sagebrush printed the name as Tom Corica.

Election committee chairman Phil Collins hopes that in the future, all concerned will spell Dick, I mean Jim's name correctly.

Majority Represents Sigma Nu in Classic

Over half of this year's Homecoming cross country runners will be representing Sigma Nu. In addition to number superiority, the Snakes will have last year's winner, Dan Pease, running again. Dan clocked a 23 minutes and 25 seconds for his win last year.

About 100 have signed up for this year's race, 56 of them Sigma Nus. They're going to try to beat the Fred Lohse, Lamba Chi, 1928 record of 21 minutes, 34 and 2 tenths seconds.

The race starts Saturday, Oct. 29, at 9 a.m. in front of Sparks high school, goes up Prater Way to University avenue, up University avenue through the campus between the old gym and the infirmary, and around the track one lap to the finish line.

ATO has entered 30, SAE 10, Theta Chi 3 and Phi Sig 1. The race is about four miles. The men must start practicing no later than three weeks before Homecoming.

Machinery Seeks Depth of Mansion

Since the president evacuated his home on the campus, the front yard has been littered with big machinery. The Engineering laboratory of Sacramento moved in big machinery to start digging holes to determine the depth of the house's foundation.

How Deep

The engineers are trying to find out just how deep the foundation of the house is so they will have some idea of how deep to plant the foundation of the new 1,000,000 dollar Sarah Fleischmann School of Home Economics to be built on this site.

Some difficulties were met last week, when the machinery broke down, but everything is under control now, says C. M. Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Money-Making Is Club Speech

A talk by Thomas L. Little and election of officers were the features at a recent meeting of the Commerce club. Mr. Little, who is with the Dean Witter investment company, spoke on investment program for young people.

Newly-elected officers are Jim Adams, president; Dal Watkins, vice president; and Margaret Stodiek, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was a noon luncheon at the Wolf Den.

The purpose of Commerce club is to allow economics, and business majors to meet socially and to learn more about business procedures.

Pack Appears Friday In First Home Game

The Wolf Pack will play its first home game under the lights this coming Friday against the unbeaten Cal Aggies.

The Pack, which was overpowered by Fresno State, will be shooting for its second win of the season when the two teams meet to continue a 35-year-old rivalry at 8 p.m. in Mackay Stadium.

The game will feature a wide open type of football when two of the fastest teams in the Far Western Conference clash, meaning that either side is capable of exploding for a touchdown at any time. Breakaway artists Chuck Harmon and Bill Bowser will be the big guns of the Nevada attack while Lonnie Cagle, freshman scoring sensation, will lead the Cal Aggies offense.

The Cal Aggies, under the reins of coach Ted Forbes, have thumped San Francisco State, Sacramento State, and tied with Humboldt State.

Harmon Bruises Shoulder

Nevada escaped serious injury last Saturday when powerful Fresno State tromped the Wolf Pack. Chuck Harmon, who scored the only touchdown for the Wolf Pack, did receive a bruised shoulder but it will not keep him from playing Friday.

The tentative starting line up for the Wolf Pack will be: George Ball, LE; Clay Darrow, LT; Marvin Baker, LG; Walt Ryals, C; Joe Viani, RG; Mike Leslie, RT; Larry Fritz, RE; Ken Fujii, Q; Charlie Harmon, LH; Bill Bowser, RH; Frank Sullivan, F.

SNs, KATs Honor Pledges Saturday

Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha Theta will honor their pledges at dances tomorrow night. Lambda Chi Alpha held its pledge dance last Saturday night.

The Sigma Nu pledge dance will be at Lawton's. Chairmen for the dance are Sam Macias and Louis Heltzel, who have arranged for the Keynoters to play. The Sigma Nu's guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Beesley, Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth Bradshaw and Prof. Demers.

Kappa Alpha Theta's pledge dance will be held at their house. Howard Lowenstein's band will be featured. Gail Altenberg, chairman, has invited Mrs. Mayhew, Dr. and Mrs. Monson, Dr. and Mrs. Backland, and Mr. and Mrs. Audrain as guests.

Lambda Chi Alpha had its pledge dance on Oct. 15 at Lawton's. Gary Brock was in charge of getting the Keynoters to play for them. Guests for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Wilson.

Tentative Lists Total 166

Tentative graduation figures have reached 166 for the coming January and June graduations, according to the dean's offices of the various colleges.

These figures include all those but the Mackay School of Mines, which had turned its graduation list into the Registrar's office. A clerk in the Registrar's office stated that these figures were unavailable until later. Last year's total number of graduates was 169.

Actual breakdown of graduation applications received from the various colleges include: the College of Education, six January graduates and 40 in June; the College of Arts and Science, 12 January graduates and 69 in June; the College of Engineering, one in January and 30 in June; and the College of Agriculture, two in January and six June graduates.

Editorial

Alpha to Omega

The grading system now used by most universities and our own is inadequate. Professors and students agree that the alphabetical symbols which are interpreted mathematically are not definitive criteria for a skill of a student.

But, while the inadequacy is agreed upon, it is the only workable system we have.

That an A from one professor may mean much less than a C or a B from another is well recognized. The human, or subjective elements, defy the cold analysis of arithmetic.

Simple marks of good and no good have been tried with little success since the marks make no distinction between the mediocre, the student, and the scholar.

The system of A to F is probably here to stay since it has weathered the criticisms of generations of educators and laymen.

Likewise, since the professor in the classroom is similar to a ship's captain in being one of the last absolute monarchs on earth, the vast differences of opinion on what work merits what grade are likely to continue.

For a board of equalization of grades would not only be unworkable but would certainly be a restriction of academic freedom.

And students yet unborn will be submitted to varied grade values with each professor. C'est La Vie.

Campus YWCA Sponsors Drive

The annual campus Community Chest Drive, sponsored by the YWCA, is taking place throughout the month of October.

The community chest is actually 12 drives in one.

According to Charlotte Gleason, chairman, YWCA representatives will visit the fraternities and sororities, and collections will be made at pep rallies and games. Also, jars will be in the post office, Wolf Den, and Snack Bar.

Looking to the Community Chest for support funds are: Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, Catholic Welfare Bureau, Colony Christian Center, Community Welfare, Inc., Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Social Service Exchange, YMCA, YWCA, University of Nevada YWCA chapter, and USO.

Other Activities

Other activities of the YWCA include selling coffee at registration, Icebreaker dance, coke booth at the Activities Parade, WUS carnival, dance lessons, bridge lessons, taking care of the caps and gowns for graduation, selling pom poms at games, and sponsoring "Futures for College Women" lectures.

They have a student lounge and meeting place equipped with a telephone and typewriter for student use. The lost and found department is found there, and they sell bluebooks and student directories.

This year's officers are: Shirley Allen, president; Lola Honey, vice president; Francine Luwe, secretary, and Carol Tollefson, treasurer.

QUESTION ANSWERED BY MILITARY ADVISORS

Young man, what are your plans in the near future

This question will be answered Tuesday, Oct. 25, when Col. F. J. Celeni and Capt. H. A. Smith, unit advisors in the Nevada Military District, explain the Armed Forces Reserve Act of Aug. 9, 1955 to the freshman ROTC classes.

Maj. F. Edsall, Staff Officer of the Nevada National Guard, and Lt. S. A. Ruiz, Battery Commander of the 421st Bn., will also explain and answer any questions pertaining to joining a guard unit.

Out Of The Brush

By P. FINCH

Poore Finch's columnack will do away with the old English spelling from now on. Readers mistook it for typographical errors. No further comment.

Some blithering idiot wrote a "poem to the editor" this week which was an obscure criticism of ASUN President Jerry Mann. The writer is an idiot, not because of the criticism but because he didn't sign it.

The Sagebrush has never refused to print a letter on controversial grounds. It practices what it preaches, a liberality which borders on anarchy.

But it will never encourage cowardice by printing a word written by someone who does not have the elementary guts to give his name.

As a matter of fact the Sagebrush does not endorse the conduct of the ASUN president. But he will never be attacked in the Sagebrush, by editorial, column, or letter to the editor, unless the origin of the attack is known.

So if the writer of the crude doggerel will call 2-4272 on Monday or Wednesday night before 8, and give his correct name, it will be printed . . . and not until then.

Letter TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I would also like to congratulate you and the members of the Sagebrush staff for the excellent job which is being done this year. I am sure that all the students thoroughly enjoy the paper.

Respectfully yours,
SHIRLEY ALLEN

Ed. Note: We never turn down a letter.

Contest May Cost UN Trust Fund

The will of the late Mrs. Agnes Barringere Momand, which would establish a trust fund for the University of Nevada, is being contested in New York.

Contesting the will is Mrs. Momand's mother who is 102-years-old.

The trust fund, provided for on a percentage basis of the inheritance going to Mrs. Momand's ex-husband and sister, was to go to the university on their deaths.

It was to be used for the advancement of musical education.

Mrs. Momand did not attend this university.

It is contended that the will, which amounted to three million dollars, was procured by "fraud and undue influence by persons unknown" and alleges that Mrs. Momand was "not of sound mind and memory" at the time of its execution.

DIRTY BITS

By SANDRA MITTS

This week has been a pretty noisy one on all parts of the campus. The story begins on last Monday night when the SAE's, the Sigma Nu's and the Lambda Chi's visited Sierra street in one of the loudest freshman class campaigns the U. of N. has witnessed in many years.

Wednesday night the story was repeated. But the noise was as great inside the house as out. Skit practices are always noisy.

Then, on the other side of the picture is the ASUN senate meeting Wednesday night. President Minard W. Stout, Alumni President Sam Francoich, and Legislative Counsel Jeff Springmeyer were guest speakers. Nuff said?

This week looked somewhat like Homecoming week for Sally and Otto Schulz. The two graduated last spring and have been in Georgia most of the summer. They stopped in Reno for a couple of days this week, on their way to Seattle, Wash., where Otto is to be stationed for a while.

Another familiar face not seen for some time is that of Russ Scooley. Russ is in the service, too, and is home on a 30-day leave. He graduated in '54.

It's always interesting to see how long it takes the freshmen to get into the real swing of college life. By this, is meant, which one can take the first fraternity pin of the year.

First prize this year went to Kay Calvin, Pi Phi pledge, who has been wearing the pin of Lambda Chi President, Stan Draper for about two weeks now.

None of the other freshmen women are wearing fraternity pins yet.

Sagens president Marsha Town-er has dropped out of school to prepare for her forthcoming marriage. Her fiance is Roger Glanzman of Lincoln hall. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

With Artemisia picture taking time here again, the women are wondering whether these popular hair cuts are really what they're cracked up to be. This is a problem faced primarily by the senior women. Looks as if we're all going to have to look like young men and like it. The earrings help some, but not enough in some cases.

But these are the trying times a woman faces in attempting to keep up with the styles.

(This bit of information is a warning to junior women: start letting your hair grow right now. Next year may be too late! Don't look like someone's ugly young son in the '57 yearbook!)

The current trend for exchange dinners is proving quite successful.

Cossack Chorus, Dancers to Open Homecoming

World-famous Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers will open Nevada's annual Homecoming celebration Tuesday.

Mr. Patrick Kelly, assistant to Dean William R. Wood, Statewide Development Program, is offering a $25 reward to the organization that sells the most tickets to the performance.

It is being offered as a possible incentive to those houses who have not picked up their tickets.

To qualify over $200 in tickets must be sold.

Numbers will include a wide range of religious classical music, folk melodies, battle songs, and traditional numbers in the style of the Cossack Knife Dance.

Composed of White Russians exiled in 1920 by the Communists, the Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers have given some six thousand concerts in 65 countries.

The chorus debuted in Vienna in 1927. It has appeared in all parts of the world, including a performance in the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris.

The performance will be held Oct. 25, 8:15 p.m., in the new gym.

Homecoming Fete Starts Tuesday

A parade through the streets of downtown Reno, a dance at the State building, and the game with Chico State College will be the main attractions of next week's Homecoming. The celebration, held annually, is to welcome and honor old graduates and alumni.

Homecoming activities for 1955 begin Tuesday, Oct. 25 with the appearance of the Don Cossack chorus and dancers. They will perform in the gymnasium at 8:15 p. m.

Wednesday night will be sorority and fraternity open house night. Anyone wishing to inspect the various houses is welcome to come.

At 11 o'clock Thursday morning, there will be an assembly. Voting for Homecoming Queen will also take place. A mammoth bonfire and rally will be held at 7 p. m. at Clark field, followed by the announcement of the Queen and a snake parade. Wolves Frolic

Friday night will see the Wolves Frolic at the State building. Original skits will be presented by the sororities, fraternities and Independents.

Homecoming events Saturday will begin with the cross-country race by fraternity men at 9 a. m. The annual parade through Reno will follow the race. Student floats, the University military battalion, and the University band will highlight the parade.

This year's Homecoming game will be held at 2 in the afternoon, with the Wolf Pack meeting Chico State. Crowning of the queen, card stunts, and appearance of the band are among the halftime activities scheduled.

Climaxing the week's events will be the dance at the State building at 9:00 for students. Alumni association will hold a dance and buffet for all alumni and former students.

ACTIVITIES PLANNED

Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national honorary pre-medical association on the Nevada campus started the year's activities recently. The club members will meet once a month in the lecture room of the Agricultural building.

A guest speaker and a film will be shown to the club members and all of those interested students who are in attendance. The Nevada State Medical Association is having one of its members as guest speaker.

Queen Featured at Thur. Pajama Rally

Announcement of the Homecoming queen will be the feature of the pajama rally to be held in Mackay stadium Thursday night at 7:00.

The traditional bonfire will be staged this year by the rally committee and the Sagers. It will be the biggest bonfire of the year, says Bill Sprow, rally chairman.

All students attending the rally must wear pajamas, said Sprow. After the rally a snake dance is scheduled through downtown Reno.

Queen candidates for the Homecoming celebrations are: Jane Richardson, Pi Phi; Nancy McClintic, Tri Delt; Marion Capurro, Gamma Phi; Diane Kane, Theta, and Marilyn Cook, representing Artemisia-Manzanita. The winner will be announced by Gene Kiliany,

ROTC to Shoot Rifles

In preparation for the 1956 summer camp, some forty advanced course ROTC students will take to the rifle range tomorrow.

The majority of the students firing the army rifles are taking the first year advanced course, and will attend a six week summer camp where they will again fire the rifle for a record score.

The students will fire the regular Army M1, 30 caliber rifle, from the two and three hundred yard ranges, slow fire only.

"It is expected that the students will again go out to the rifle range in the Spring semester, when they will fire both slow fire and rapid fire," stated Lt. Col. Robert L. Bereuter, Nevada ROTC.

The range where the students will fire is located approximately half-way between the University and Stead Air Force Base.

Bereuter said that a similar training course last year resulted in higher than average scores during this year's summer camp at Ft. Lewis, Washington, where all Nevada students qualified as Marksmen or higher.

FENCING CLUB PROPOSED

Students interested in fencing, with or without previous experience, are requested to contact either Prof. George (Art) Broten at the new gym, or James Taylor at Theta Chi, explained Taylor Wednesday.

Professor Broten said that a co-educational fencing club is being proposed. It would become part of the University Recreation association if at least ten people are interested. No equipment would be needed immediately by applicants.

Injured Pack Faces Aggies

The Wolf Pack faces the strongest team of the Far Western Conference tonight in the Cal Aggies with a badly bruised and mauled squad.

ma Alpha Epsilon, the Independents, the Civil Engineers, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Theta Chi.

The strong reserve-laden Fresno State team administered such pounding that some of the players on the Wolf Pack's starting lineup missed contact work this week.

Charlie Harmon is still suffering from the bruised shoulder of last week's game; center Walt Ryals is limping because of a twisted knee; Fujii, who has been quarterbacking the team limps with a sprained ankle, and Frank Sullivan, who replaced Ken Lommori at the fullback position, is still stiff from the pounding given him.

The thin reserves that Coach McEachron has will take over some of the positions in case injuries prevent some of these players from starting Friday nite.

Student Union Plans Before Planning Board

Three plans for university construction will be discussed by the State Planning board when it meets Oct. 28 in Carson City.

New plans at a reduced cost for the new Student Union building have been submitted, along with preliminary plans for new classroom space to take the place of the agriculture extension building. Remodeling of Manzanita hall will also be considered.

Directory to Sell

Seven hundred and fifty copies of the student directory will be published this year and sold at 50c a copy.

The directory will be mimeographed and assembled by hand. The faculty section now is complete and the student section is being organized.

Information for the faculty section of the directory was obtained from contracts as well as special bulletins which were sent to the faculty. Student information was taken from the registrars records.

University Engineer Robert C. Poolman and Ferris-Erskine, architects, will discuss new plans for the Student Union building. Ferris-Erskine drew plans based on the report submitted by Poolman.

Bids Too High

Bids for the building were accepted in early fall, but all bids were higher than the $400,000 available. The problem was then referred to the State Planning board.

Plans for a new building to take the place of the agriculture extension building are now being drawn, Poolman said. The building will be two stories high and have an area of 24,000 square feet. It will occupy the space north and south of the present agricultural extension building. The space is now being used for faculty parking.

At present the university has in excess of $400,000 available for the project, Poolman said.

Remodeling of Manzanita hall is expected to cost about $200,000 Poolman stated. The plans have been checked by the Pacific Coast Building Officials conference.

If the State Planning board approves remodeling plans, bids will be opened for construction. An alternating set of plans will be used if the bids are too high for the initial plans.

Both plans for agriculture classroom space and for remodeling Manzanita hall are expected to be approved by the planning board, Poolman stated.

ATO WINS SOFTBALL TITLE WITH 7 WINS, ONE LOSS

ATO won intramural softball with a 7 win, 1 loss record.

The win gave the Taus 100 points toward the Kinnear trophy, which is awarded to the team winning the most intramural sports.

Second was Sigma Nu with 6 wins, 1 loss, and they received 60 points. The third place Theta Chis, with a 5 win, 2 loss record, gained 40 Kinnear points. Lambda Chi and SAE tied with a 3 and 4 record. The 30 remaining points were split between the two teams. The Civil Engineers and the Phi Sigs were at the bottom of the pile with a 1-0 and 0-7 record respectively.

THETA CHI RECRUITS 5

Dances, Sneaks Add Zest To Frat Scene

Pledge dances, initiations, and pledge sneaks added zest to the fraternity social scene this week.

Alpha Tau Omega's 35 pledges pulled their first sneak of the year, when they absconded with the ATO actives, steaks, and traveled to Verdi Park. There they met with the pledges of Delta Delta Delta. The 33 Tri-Delt pledges had relieved the sorority house of their silverware, leaving the actives to eat by manual dexterity.

On the more formal side of the social calendar, the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity held a point pledge dance with the Pi Beta Phi sorority at the Mesa Friday night. Tom Muries band furnished music for the occasion. More than seventy-five couples turned out to fete the pledges of both organizations.

Theta Chi fraternity held its pledge dance last Saturday night in the Gay-Nor Room in Sparks. Some 35 Theta Chi's and their hell-week. During the week of October 2-7, the Lambda Chi pledges refinished study chairs for their new house, and cleaned out the A.S.U.N. warehouse. An informal initiation was held on Friday night, October 7, at the A. S. U. N. Snack Bar, followed by the formal initiation Sunday afternoon at the new gymnasium.

The Lambdas finished up the week with an alumni-active banquet at Santa Fe Hotel, in honor of the new initiates, who were: Neal O'Doan and Ken Dennison, Sparks; Tom Jayo and Ed Wessel, Ely; Bob Faiss, Las Vegas; Powell Booth, Gabbs; Bill Kyle, Fallon; Ed Depaoli, Fernley; and Eldredge Porch, Reno.

ATO'S INITIATE SEVEN

The ATO's held initiation for seven last-semester pledges, who are: Mark Nicolanavich and John Locke, Lovelock; Norman Montalachi, Yerington; Gene Beegly, from Fallon. The seven new members were honored at a banquet at the Santa Fe Hotel last Saturday night. The initiation of the seven new members brings the active membership in ATO up to 61.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon also held its annual pledge dance last Saturday night, at the Mesa. Jack Rehimer's band played for the occasion. More than sixty couples were in attendance.

As Rome Goes, So Goes The World

By Bob Guinn

Rome fell, the Yankees lost the series, and the Alumni Association won't give prizes at the Homecoming game.

The golden era of deep freezes, television sets, and automobiles has ended. Only $100 has been set aside to buy small, inexpensive gifts this year, calling finis to a yearly Homecoming tradition.

These gifts will be presented at the Third Annual Get-to-Gether of the alumni at the Fable Room of the Mapes hotel at 9 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 29. The Get-to-Gether will honor the classes of '30, '40, and '50 and include a free buffet and dancing.

George Southworth Jr., representing the Executive Committee of the Association, said that the prizes would only be available to alumni and that the larger, more expensive contests involved more work for the members than was profitable.

Cards Displayed

For the first time since 1948 the University of Nevada will have card tricks during half time in tonight's game against the Cal Aggies.

Fred "Buzz" Fray, chairman of the card stunt committee, urges students to wear white shirts, blouses or sweaters and take part in the card section. Only those who wear the white will be admitted into the card section. A total of 480 students will be needed to carry out the stunts.

The card section will be forty people wide and twelve people deep.

Only Fast Officers Respected Today Declares C. Horn

"It's the same old gripe, says C. M. Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds, "We haven't hired anyone to keep order, and the problem still persists.

the parking problem. A possibility of hiring a state uniformed policeman was brought up in the last regent meeting, and it was referred to the coming one.

The board of regents are to meet at the end of the month to decide what should be done about

Horn's idea of the matter is that the students have no respect for anyone unless he is in a uniform or has a car and can pursue them. The idea of a State officer has been the best suggested to him so far, he said.

Only one man has been handling the parking problem on campus, and he is stationed around the hospital and old gym area to keep it clear for a possible fire or emergency.

Horn has said that he dislikes disciplining students and would like to see them work out the problem themselves.

Members Elected To Board of Directors

Election committeemen met Tuesday night to elect new members to the student union board of directors.

Those elected to the board were Don Travis and Annette Dickson from the college of agriculture; Dan Goodman, college of engineering; Ken Robbins, college of arts and science; Donna Fisher, college of education; Don Lane, school of mines; and Kathy Hill and Merlyn Hoyt are the representatives at large.

The election committee is composed of representatives from the senate as well as members from the student union board of directors. Jerry Mann, Gary Brock, Phylis Crowder and Chris Cufflin represented the senate. Phil Han-nifin, Dave Ryan, and Don Cro-well were voting members of the board of directors.

Two weeks ago Bill McDonald and Joan Sawle resigned from the board and these vacancies had to be filled as well as those left by expired terms.

The Student Union committee now has an office in the ASUN building. It is located in Jim McNabney's office and has a filing cabinet, desk, and typewriter.
