Dr. Stout, Senate Discuss Problems

Five campus problems were discussed at the senate meeting last week with Dr. Minard Stout, president of the University of Nevada.

They included the parking problem, criteria of the investigating committee, faculty pay increases, the distribution of the discretionary fund, and the power of a student government.

Dr. Stout was asked about the parking problem at the university, and he replied, "The main thing is to stop congestion."

Due to legal complications pointed out by the attorney general, he said, the only way to control the parking is to have regularly employed policemen for the university grounds. An equipped police car would be on campus from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Another possibility under consideration that Stout brought out was the paving of the parking lot in front of the gym. President Stout said that the attorney general was being consulted on the legalities and that Carl Horn was checking into the cost of paving the lot. Stout said that in order to pay for the paved lot, students may be asked to pay parking fees.

Discretionary Fund

Another matter which President Stout was asked to explain was the manner of distribution of the discretionary fund which is at his disposal. The president said that the fund is made up of donations from private individuals and that only these individuals are sent a report on how the money is distributed.

He reported that one thousand dollars was received from the filming of "Five Against the House" on the campus, and that three thousand dollars was received from the recent movie starring Jean Simmons. This money went into the discretionary fund.

Stout said that he has given seven hundred and fifty dollars to the symphony orchestra, five hundred dollars to dramatics, and three hundred dollars to the debate team.

He stated that he would help with the new Road Show Assembly program on campus if it were at all possible.

Lecture Budget

Next year President Stout said that he hoped to see a five thousand dollar sum in the budget for lectures. "Once a month we can have a great man on this campus," said Dr. Stout.

To the question "What part should a student government actually play in student government?" Stout answered, "A very strong part, but certain standards of conduct have to be maintained."

Pay Increases

Also during the informal discussion, Dr. Stout explained the university policy on faculty pay increases. When asked about the workings of the investigating committee headed by Dr. Dean McHenry, Stout said, "The university has not seen the criteria of the committee."

Jerry Mann, student body president, announced various appointments at the meetings. Christine Pavlakis was appointed to fill the vacancy of senator-at-large, and John Ingram is the new representative on the executive committee. The new members of the nominating committee are Steve Dollinger, Chuck Coyle, John Ingram, and Jan Chiatovich. The remaining member is Margaret Orr.

The constitution of Paniwallis was unanimously passed by senate.

PHIL HANNIFAN, president of the student union, and Jerry Mann, student body president, break the ground on the site of the new Jot Travis Memorial Student Union building while members of the student union board and other students look on. The ceremony, held last Tuesday, started with an assembly in the education auditorium featuring Rusty Ballinger, Gary Wilkerson, and Bob Faiss.

Tentative Schedule Given For Mackay Day Celebration

Preliminary plans were made for Mackay Day at the first meeting of the Mackay Day committee on Feb. 15. Don Travis, chairman, named the chairmen of his sub-committees and gave a tentative schedule of the events which will be held during the celebration.

Those who will head the various committees are Mike Evans, publicity; Bob Lewis and Simmie Cooper, beads, costumes, and the Black Maria; Bill Sprow, parade; Donna Holstine and Sue Humphreys, luncheon; Bob Faiss, assembly; Donna Fisher, social; Susie Kuypers and Tom Richardson, dance; Bob Morrill, trophies; George Woodward, men's obstacle race; John Ingram, women's obstacle race; and Steve Dollinger, high school presidents. Working in coordination with Travis will be Dick Deleissegues and Jay Powell, secretary.

Begins April 26

Mackay Day activities will begin April 26 with an assembly. The Mackay Day queen, chosen from the senior coeds, will be announced at that time. A physical education show in the evening will feature acts presented by the department's various subdivisions.

Sorority open house will be held after the physical education presentation. Houses will be decorated in a Mackay Day theme.

Campus attire on Friday, April 27, will consist of costumes appropriate for the occasion. Levis, white shirts, and black string ties will be worn by the men. Women will be dressed in full skirts and cotton blouses typical of the nineteenth century.

Parade

A parade featuring horseless carriages and buggies will start the series of events on Saturday, April 28.

Sorority and fraternity song teams, competing for trophies, will entertain at a luncheon held in the afternoon. The luncheon will be held in the new gym and will be open to the public. Gov. Charles H. Russell will be invited to be a guest speaker.

After the luncheon obstacle races will begin. Each living quarter will enter a relay team for these events.

The Mackay Day dance will be the last event. Winners of the song team trophies will be announced and attendance cups awarded.

At the present, there is a possibility of having professional entertainment at the dance, stated Travis.

Committees responsible for these activities have already begun work. Meetings are open to all students interested in working for Mackay Day. The next meeting will be held Thursday, March 1, at 7:30 p. m., in the education building auditorium.

Enrollment Facts Sundowners to Select Levi Bourbon Queen

The total enrollment at the University of Nevada, in Reno, in Las Vegas, and the night courses is 2132, reported dean of men William D. Carlson.

The unofficial tallies show 1476 day students in Reno, 368 in Las Vegas, and 288 night class students.

The enrollment in Reno has dropped nearly a hundred students since last semester, while at Nevada Southern enrollment has increased by 12 persons.

In Las Vegas the women slightly outnumber the men, but in Reno the men outnumber the women 2½ to 1.

Five women have been nominated for "Bourbon Queen" of the Sundowners' Levi Formal to be held at Moana this evening at nine. The queen will be selected at the regular weekly meeting this afternoon.

"Our queen will reflect the qualities of the rose for which she is named," states Ralph Brinton, Sundowner president. The Bourbon rose, a hybrid between the Rosa chinensis and Rosa gallica, is distinguished by compact, upright growth and tightly clustered blossoms. It is considered by many to be the most beautiful member of the rose family.

The queen will be presented with a bourbon wreath and will reign over the dance from the Sundowner throne.

Funeral Services Held Wednesday For Dick Taylor

Funeral services were held Wednesday for University of Nevada graduate of 1951 and Reno city councilman Richard C. Taylor, 38, who died last Monday from injuries received in a double auto accident on Highway 395 south.

Seriously injured was William Parrish, 31, president of the Alumni association. His condition is reported as fair.

The car in which Mr. Taylor and Mr. Parrish were riding, driven by Reno Attorney Robert L. McDonald, collided head on with a California car during a blinding snowstorm. Shortly after a third car hit the California car, which pushed McDonald's car on top of Mr. Taylor. He was taken to Reno where he died at a local hospital at 4:20 a. m.

A California man and woman in the second car were critically injured.

Mr. Taylor was born July 1, 1917, in Carson City and attended the University of Nevada, where he played varsity football for three years. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Sixteen Appointed To Committees

Sixteen students were recently appointed to serve on 15 different faculty committees. The names were recommended by the senate and approved by President Stout's office. Chairmen of the committees were notified of the new appointments Feb. 16.

The new appointments are: administration committee, Jerry Mann; eligibility and athletics committee, Robert Jepsen; high school relations committee, Richard Morrill; military committee, Bobby Jay Lewis; academic committee, Suzanne Schwartz; accreditation committee, Walter Wiseman; admissions committee, Calvin Mead; assemblies and lectures committee, Bob Faiss.

Others include: commencement committee, Roland Westergard; foreign students and leaders committee, Katherine Hill; health committee, Gloria Urriola; orientation and guidance committee, Guylene Ferguson; scholarships, prizes, grants in aid and loans committee, Barbara Cavanaugh; student relations committee, Sandra Mitts and Jerry Mann; and library committee, Donna Fisher.

says Brinton, "formal wear is not required for the dance. We are attempting to make this a dance of the highest calibre but we will make exceptions for couples in informal wear." He stated that he expects a full house for the affair.

Sundowner social chairman, Duane Moore, announced that tickets will be sold at the door. Price is $1.50 per couple.

UN Concert Band, Choir to Appear Eight Times During Spring Semester

AWS to Sponsor Preferential Ball

Plans are underway for the first annual "Preferential Ball" sponsored by the Associated Women students, to be held on March 17.

The dance has a new slant, according to AWS president Sandra Mitts. Instead of the regular queen contests, at this affair, the most popular man on campus, or the "most preferred bachelor" will be named.

The Most Preferred bachelor will be selected according to the number of women who express a wish to have the particular man escort them to the dance.

The women will submit to the AWS a list of three men who they desire as dates for the dance. Members of the council will then call the first man on the list, and if he is unable to escort the woman, then they will call the second.

According to the plan, women who submit bids will not know until the night of the dance which of the men whom they requested will be their escort. The man whom the most women bid for will be given the title.

Barbara Cavanaugh and Joan Sawle will be co-chairmen of the dance.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Dick Abraham of Bell Telephone Laboratories, here experimenting with closing the loop on a transistor feedback amplifier.

"I'm working with top names and top talent"

That's one of Richard P. Abraham's comments about his career with Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill, N. J. "In 1954, after I'd received my M.S. from Stanford," Dick continues, "I was interviewed by a number of companies. Of these I liked the Bell Labs interview best—the interviewer knew what he was talking about, and the Labs seemed a high-caliber place.

"The Labs have a professional atmosphere, and I'm really impressed by my working associates. As for my work, I've been on rotating assignments—working with transistor networks and their measurement techniques, studying magnetic drum circuitry, and doing classified work on Nike. This experience is tremendous.

"In addition to the job, I attend Lab-conducted classes on a graduate level several times a week. Besides that, the Labs are helping me get a Ph.D. at Columbia by giving me time off to get to late afternoon classes. That's the kind of co-operation you really appreciate from your company.

"What are important to me are the opportunities offered by the job and the work itself. My wife and I own a house near Murray Hill, and we've found a lot of friends through the Labs. All in all, I think I'm in the right kind of place."

Dick Abraham is typical of the many young men who are finding their careers in the Bell System. Similar career opportunities exist in the Bell Telephone Companies, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about these companies.

Groundbreakng

The groundbreaking rally which was held last Tuesday represented the first step in the construction of the Jot Travis Student Union building, but more than that, it reflected the general apathy which has too long been present on this campus.

Although unofficial, the rally was held in anticipation of the March 1 deadline which was recently set for the completion of the plans for the building.

A student union board of directors, composed of representatives from the various colleges, elected to represent you, has worked over a year on this building. It has been their duty to digest student thought in deciding what the building will be like and to propose and investigate various plans whereby the building can be furnished when it is completed.

The actual planning and construction of this edifice has been left, of course, up to the state planning board and Robert Poolman, university engineer.

The point, however, is that a lot of people have worked long and hard to make this project a reality, and on the verge of success, they find that the only interest in a student union seems to be their own.

The time and talent of several people were contributed to make this rally a success, and the success turned out to be centered around twenty people or less. Of over one thousand students, only a handful could turn out to welcome and support progress.

Those who are too busy or too uninterested in a student union might find it hard to become enthusiastic about something that they may never see or use, might find it difficult and painful to contribute to something that may not benefit them, but it's comforting to know that people in this category do not have to be relied on for progress and the betterment of this university.

DR. MINARD STOUT, president of the University of Nevada, talks to members of the ASUN senate about campus problems at the last meeting of that group.

BOB GENASCI, 22-year-old senior from Loyalton, Calif., who is in charge of the barbecue during Aggie Field Day. Bob is past president of the Aggie club.

LESTER SWEeley, general agriculture major, who is in charge of the FFA program during Aggie Field Day. 20 years old, he is from Elko county.

BOB FERRARO, from Paradise Valley, who is in charge of the Comic Rodeo to be featured during the Aggie celebration. Bob, a 20-year-old junior, majors in general agriculture.

Dance and Field Day Set For Aggie Celebration

A comic rodeo, a barbecue, and the Western Ball will be featured at the 1956 Aggie celebration. The Western Ball is scheduled for April 13, and the Field Day for April 14.

The event, which had been a horse show in past years, has been changed because it suffered a financial loss of $4,700 last year, and did not attract the students on campus, said Don Travis, president of the University Aggie club.

Keyed to campus interests this year, the event will be a field day with sororities and fraternities competing for trophies in the comic rodeo.

The Western Ball, which is scheduled for Friday night, will be a benefit dance, the profits going to the Student Union. Bill McDonald and Charlyne Reid are in charge of dance arrangements.

Ed Depoali is coordinator between the Aggie club and the Aggie Day committees.

The Nevada Future Farmers of America convention will be taking place in Reno at that time, and members of the eleven FFA chapters in Nevada will compete in the bucking steers event at the rodeo in the afternoon. Lester Sweeney will be in charge of the program for the FFA members, which includes a campus tour.

Bob Genasci is chairman of the barbecue to be held at the campus barbecue pit at noon, following the Engineers Day events in the morning. Beef, barbecued by members of the Aggie club, will be served to members of the student body, FFA members and the high school visitation groups which will be touring the campus that day.

Bob Ferraro is chairman of the comic rodeo which will take place after the barbecue at the site of the new Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture located south of the Engineering building.

The rodeo will begin with the grand entry of the queen and her attendants, the student body president and Dean of Agriculture John R. Bertrand, who will be a clown, entering on horseback and in buggies. George Woodward is in charge of this event.

Martin Conlin is in charge of the stake race between a University of Nevada athlete and a horse. The athlete will be either Bill Bowser or Chuck Harmon.

Another one of the events will be a goat race. The goats will be placed at one end of the arena and the contestants at the other end. The object will be to run down to the end of the arena, put the goat in a sack, and bring it back to the starting line.

The women will compete in the greased pig race. Each sorority will submit a team. First, second, and third prizes will be awarded, based on the time it takes to catch the pig and bring it back to the starting line. Vernon Pursel is in charge of this event.

Fraternities will compete in the jeep roping contest, planned by Keith Ernst. A contestant sitting on the hood of a jeep tries to rope a calf. Each contestant will be allowed two ropes.

Dick Christensen is in charge of the bucking steers event. Competition will be between the FFA chapters and the fraternities. They will have to ride steers, ranging from 800-1000 pounds for a designated length of time.

A burrow race between sororities is planned. The burrows will be placed at the end of the arena. The women will have to run down there and ride or drag the burrow back to the starting line.

A trophy will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority with the greatest number of points in the rodeo. The best FFA chapter will also receive a trophy. Ribbons will be awarded to the individual contestants for first, second and third place.

A weight guessing contest, which any person can enter, will be held somewhere on campus, probably in front of the Agriculture building. A steer will be placed in a pen and a prize will

SHOW POSTPONED

The All-School talent show, which was scheduled for yesterday, was postponed because enough ballots were not turned in time to put together a show, reported Bob Faiss, assembly chairman.

An attempt will be made to collect the ballots and, if successful, the show will be presented Thursday, March 1, at 11:00 a. m. The top ten entertainers will be featured.

Letter TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Ken Robbins Sagebrush University of Nevada Reno, Nevada

Dear Mr. Editor:

After having read in the letters to the editor column the letter from Mr. Walt Wiseman, I too wonder what can be done to use profits from the ASUN bookstore for various student activities, such as he mentioned, "The Name Band Dance." His thoughts and opinions seem to show insight into this matter.

Since I am a freshman at the U. of N., and just returned from four years active duty in the Navy, I am probably one of many new students who is not acquainted with the details of the operation of the bookstore. The costs of books does not appear to be any bargain; education does not come cheap, of course, but exactly what becomes of any profit, etc.

Now that Mr. Wiseman has brought the subject up, why not look into it and perhaps it may be to the advantage of the student body and university, as Mr. Wiseman has stated.

Sincerely yours, BILL DEVEREUX.

The Aggie Day Queen will present the trophies and ribbons to the winners that night at the WUS carnival.

UN Newman Club Travels to SF

Twenty five members of the University of Nevada Newman club will travel to San Francisco this weekend to take part in the annual Cardinal Newman day activities.

A portion of the members will leave this evening at 5:00 and the remainder of those making the trip will leave tomorrow at 4:00 a. m.

Four Journalists Guests at Dinner

Four journalism majors from the University of Nevada will be guests at the annual Las Vegas Press club Branding Iron dinner Tuesday, February 28.

Sandra Mitts, Henry Rilling, Bob Faiss and Karen Knudsen, all graduates of Las Vegas high school, will fly home this evening for the dinner. Each holds a four-year Las Vegas Press club scholarship.

Keiste Janulis, associate professor of journalism, was invited to represent the department of journalism but was obliged to decline because of duties here.

The Branding Iron is staged in the spring of each year to promote good fellowship among members of the press of Las Vegas, to raise funds for scholarships and other worthy projects,

Flu, Skiing Takes Student Toll

Flu and cold bugs are taking the heaviest toll among U. of N. students, and the skiing casualties are comparatively few, according to Mrs. Mary Johnson, head nurse at the infirmary.

Among those reporting to the infirmary during the past week and missing a few classes in the process were Mike Andrichak, Edith Caruk, Edward Curnow, Carol Francy, Mayer Freedman, Walter Headrich, Norma Dyer, Carlos Mattingly, John Peek, William Rusk, Brian Ramsey, Dennis Smith, Evelyn Stentz, Mary Tucker, Art Vaughan, and David Wood, all confined with colds.

Mrs. Johnson said that Doug Wood owns the dubious distinction of being the last serious ski casualty in the infirmary. He suffered two sprained ankles

Nevada Glovemen Meet La. Monday; Get Chance to Even Boxing Series

The University of Nevada boxing team will get a chance to even things up with the Louisiana State boxing team Monday night, Feb. 27, when they meet the Tigers in a return match. The bouts will take place in the University of Nevada gymnasium at 8:15 p. m.

In their last meeting the Louisiana State team won the match by a score of 9 to 2. Sammy Macias and Kieth Ernst were the only two Nevada fighters to win bouts. Macias won on points while Ernst, fighting in the 139 pound class, knocked out two-time runner up in the NCAA finals, Bobby Freeman.

Larry Damon lost a split decision that was booed by the fans at the fight in Louisiana. "Damon should have won that fight," said Jimmy Olivas, University of Nevada boxing coach, "but the judges gave it to the Louisiana State boy just to be on the safe side."

Marfisi cut the eye of his opponent, Gary Bowden, but this bout was stopped. Intercollegiate boxing rules leave it up to the physician to determine whether the fight can continue if one of the fighters is cut.

This will be the final match for the Wolf Pack before the Pacific matches in Sacramento on March 22, 23 and 24.

ROTC RIFLE CHAMPS TO COMPETE IN TEXAS

Nevada's Sixth Army rifle champions will leave Reno on February 29, flying to El Paso, Tex., to compete in the Southwest Invitational small bore rifle match sponsored by Texas Western College March 1-2-3.

The team will consist of seven

LADIES RIFLE SQUAD WINS FIRST MATCH

University of Nevada's Women's Rifle team, in its first match of the season, was victorious over the women's team from the Reno high school.

Belinda Bausman was high scorer for the university seven with 269 points of the total team score of 1198 out of a possible 1500 points. The Reno high team scored 1167.

The win on the old gym rifle range heightened the possibility of the tentative March 17 meet with the University of California at Berkeley.

The team members include: Joan Heater, Joan Saule, Maxine Mansor, Norma Annet, Belinda Bausman, Janet Chism, and Carolyn Braswell.

Nevada Boxers Win 6-2 Over UC Squad

The University of Nevada boxing team picked up its second win of the season by downing the University of California in a six to two victory. The matches were held in the University of Nevada gymnasium last weekend.

Nevada started things off by winning the two preliminary bouts of the evening. Jerry Tobin, a freshman from Winnemucca, won a split decision over Cal's Gaston Depratgay, a more experienced boxer, in the 139 pound class. The other extra bout was won by Bill Short, fighting in the 156 pound class, over Dick Humuth of California.

Nevada picked up its first point by forfeit. The opponent of Sammy Macias in the 125 pound class, Tanaka, came up with a sore thumb and could not enter.

Ernst Wins

Kieth Ernst, in the 139 pound division, beat out a clean cut decision over California's Clark Ide. Last week in the bouts with Louisiana State, Ernst won a decision from Bobby Freeman, last year's national runner-up.

Ted Contri lost the first round of the match but came back to win the last two rounds to snatch victory from Gary Fulbright in the 147 pound weight. In the third round Contri starting landing rights to the head of Fulbright, mixing them nicely with a jab-hook combination.

A decision that met with disapproval from the spectators was given to Nevada Mike Marfisi over California's Herb Davis. The California boxer was pushing the fight most of the way, while Marfisi held back until the closing minutes of the final round to let go a short flurry to the head.

Larry Damon of Nevada picked up another win for the Wolf Pack by downing Pat Hallinan. It was another bout that could have gone either way.

Loses on Decision

Jim Wittenberg, going into the 178 pound class, absorbed a beating and lost a decision to George Pelonis. Pelonis, who last year went to the NCAA final, gave Wittenberg a sound going over with a variety of punches, but mostly short, jolting blows to the mid-section.

In the heavyweight division Nevada's Bob Genasci won an easy decision over Cal's Paul Tilden. It was a slow and dull bout with Genasci pumping leather into the face of Tilden with easy regularity.

The other win for the University of California came by way of Leo Gaspardone over Nevada's Bill Short. Short was staggered by left hooks to the head but refused to go to the canvas, and he made a good comeback in the third round.

Pack Stumbles On Title Road As Sacramento Manages to Split Series

The University of Nevada lost its chance to cop the Far West Conference championship when it split a series with the Sacramento State Hornets last weekend. The one loss means that the Wolf Pack must win the other two games on their schedule to assure themselves a tie with the Humboldt State team. Nevada's remaining two games are with Cal Aggies.

Nevada lost the first game to the Hornets by a score of 71 to 65. Sacramento led from the opening minutes of play and except for a brief time after the beginning of the second half led all the way. Nevada's scoring ace Jim Lyon, was held to 14 points by Bob Sylstead of Sacramento, while scoring 28 points himself.

Danny Sullivan, Nevada guard, was high point man for the Wolf Pack with 18 points. Harold Plummer and Roger Trounday each had eight counters apiece and Kenny Longero had nine.

Light up a reefer, it's mid-semester time.

The second game was an entirely different story, which saw Nevada leap into the lead at the beginning buzzer and score 14 points before Sacramento saw its first basket. Nevada kept up the pace and ended up on the tall side of the score. The final score was 71 to 60, Nevada.

Lyon again scored 14 points to lead the Wolf Pack in the scoring column. Sullivan and Plummer had 13 and 12 points. Dean Smith came through with nine points with Trounday and Johnson getting eight, and Longero wound up with seven points.

Juniors to Apply For Advanced ROTC

Veterans and non-veterans, who will be of junior standing in Sept. '56 and have completed the basic course, should make applications to enroll in Advanced ROTC as soon as possible, Col. Bereuter today advised. Successful completion of the advanced course will result in a commission as a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve.

Ex-servicemen will be credited for the time served on active duty after June 27, 1950, when determining what amount of time they would have to serve after receipt of their commission. Veterans are usually not called to active duty after completing the advanced course, but non-veterans will be required to serve six months or two years,

Chem. Department Re-Accredited

The chemistry department at the University of Nevada has received re-accreditation, President Minard W. Stout has announced.

Official notice of the action was received from J. H. Howard, secretary of the committee on professional training of the American Chemical Society. Late in 1955 a representative of the committee visited the university to evaluate the department headed by Dr. Joseph E. Moose.

The committee suggested points toward improvement. Lightening of teaching loads, which it described as "somewhat high when compared to the teaching loads of other institutions of comparable size," and increase of a number of reference journals in the library were among the suggestions.

Funds Sought For UN Library, Needs Outlined

The University of Nevada library will get additional books, sets of learned journals, and more staff members if the $50,000 appropriation request now before the state legislature goes through.

James Hill, director of libraries, said that the library on the Reno campus will actually see only about $30,000 and the rest will go to Nevada Southern.

President Stout explained that emergency funds to alleviate abnormal teaching loads throughout the University and enlarging of the library have already been requested from the special session of the Nevada legislature now meeting in Carson City.

Hill pointed out that Nevada's library inadequacies are anything but new. In the 20 year period from 1926 to 1946, $3.04 was spent for each U. of N. student in the library as compared to the recommended minimum of $10. During the current year our library had $16,800 to spend, or about two-thirds the minimum figure.

Staff Needs

The need for additional sub-professional staff members is very apparent, he said. There have been only three bindings by the library staff during the last 30 years, arrears of over 25 years. Then too, the new Fleschmann College of Agriculture Building and its new library is slated to open within the next two years, and there are now about 20,000 volumes now in the experimental station that must be processed before the library can be started.

One of the major differences between a high school library and that of an institution of higher learning is the serial publications found in the latter. These learned journals apply to every field taught in a university, and a large institution often has up to 30,000 titles. Nevada has 1500 titles of which 79 are complete. We are now subscribing to about 700 titles, 500 coming from government depository, gifts and exchange. About $20,000 will be spent, therefore, to complete sets of learned journals, some on micro-films and micro-cards.

Micro-Photography

Hill pointed out the vast potentialities of micro-photographing processes. A volume of the New York Times can fit into a box four by four inches and one inch high. The Report of the German Chemical Society costs about $6,000 in book form, but only $1300 on micro-cards.

The shelf space required for storage is also reduced about 95 per cent. And if our library had a micro-photographic camera, its status would be raised several niches. A 100 foot roll of newspapers could be processed for about $6, whereas it costs between $15 and $20 to bind a roll of equal size.
