

People's Choice

There has been much discussion, pro and con, concerning the release of the findings of the McHenry investigation prior to the elections which will take place this coming Fall.

As the situation now stands, the report should be ready for submission to the legislative committee which sanctioned it sometime in October. It will then be up to that governmental body to determine when the findings will be made public. At their discretion, the findings may be made public a year from Christmas.

In the interest of the citizens of the state of Nevada, this report should be made public as soon as possible, and before the elections, especially in light of the two positions to be filled on the board of regents.

In the first place, the public is paying for this investigation, which has not only been sanctioned by the legislature, but by the administration and students as well, and they therefore have an undisputed right to know what it reveals.

Secondly, the situation which has been brought to light concerning this university via student demonstrations, hasty and unfortunate decisions on the part of the administration, and letters to the editor written by an unsatisfied former professor, demands public attention.

Regarding similar dissatisfaction, the investigation was ordered. In view of this fact, it would seem that something, somewhere, was amiss.

The investigation is designed to determine just what that something is, and where the blame lies.

If the McHenry report indicates that it is time for a change in administration, the place for that change is in the board of regents. The only source which can make that change, if necessary, is the voting public. It's interest, in this case, will not be served properly by withholding the information they are entitled to until it is too late for them to make a decision based on the impartial facts surrounding this situation.

DR. MAUDE FRAZIER of Las Vegas and Silas Ross, chairman of the University of Nevada board of regents, are pictured breaking ground for first Nevada Southern classroom building to be built soon in Las Vegas. Dr. Frazier is veteran Clark county assemblywoman and educational leader.

MOSS AND ALVAREZ ARE OFF CRITICAL LIST

Merle Moss, Gamma Phi, and Eddie Alvarez, S.A.E., are both reported to be off the critical list at Washoe Medical Center.

Two weeks ago today, these students were admitted to the hospital after a car accident on Geiger Grade. Both were in critical condition at the time.

It is reported that Alvarez will be released from the hospital in four more weeks. It is not known when Miss Moss will be dismissed.

MY SON DID NOT draw that dirty picture! "I say he did!" argues Jim Santini (extreme left) school principal, with Don Rasmussen, "Papa," in 3-act play to open Wednesday at 8 p. m. Also shown in this scene from the "Happy Time" are Barney Mergen, the lush uncle, and Hank Rilling, Canadian casanova. It will be presented in the education auditorium.

Campus Players to Do 'The Happy Time'

Campus Players will present "The Happy Time," a three-act comedy by Sam Taylor, in the Education auditorium May 16 and 17.

The play will feature a cast of twelve, including Diane Kane as "Momma;" Barney Mergen as "Uncle Louie;" Niki Record as "Mignonette;" Jim Manley as "Bibi;" Jim Santini as "Mr. Frye;" Karen Parke as "Sally;" Henry Rilling as "Desmond;" Don Rasmussen as the father; Jim Vincent as "Albert;" George Evans as "Grandpere;" and Bob Morrill.

Asher Wilson, assistant professor of speech and drama, will direct the play.

The play was once filmed in Hollywood. It tells the story of a small boy growing up in a French-Canadian home and his reactions to his family. The boy, played by Jim Manley, is subject to the varied influences of a good-humored father, Don Rasmussen, who teaches that "to be truly a man, one must know love and truth."

Other forces working on the boy include "Uncle Desmonde", Hank Rilling, "Uncle Louie," Barney Mergen, and as "Grandpere," George Evans, who believes that love alone can sustain life.

The only quieting influence in the household is "Momma," Diane Kane, who tries to maintain order in the house.

Admission prices for those not holding student body cards is 75 cents. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

MILITARY ETIQUETTE TOLD TO WOMEN

The wives and sweethearts of senior military students learned about military etiquette last Thursday evening, May 10. The women were the guests of Mesdames Robert L. Bereuter, Harry E. Clark, Frank E. Holt, and Jack Singleton Jr.

The women were informed about incomes their military husbands will receive, how to make social calls and return social obligations, how to furnish army quarters, army post life, customs and courtesies of the army, moving household goods overseas and within the United States and the available womens' clubs on posts. They were also told about the school for officers that the men will have to attend.

Those attending the evening get-together were: Mesdames Grant Bowler, Gary B. Hafen, Eugene Mills, Everett L. Witt, John Jepson, and Misses Penny MacNeil, Jack Dotson, Joan Williams, Janet Chism, Joyce Belaustegui and Barbara Price.

The party was held at the home of Lt. Col. Robert L. Bereuter. Coffee and cake were served.

The student publication, "Brushfire," is now on sale. Only 50 per copy.

Nev. Grad Tells Facts About Abbott Murder

Ed Montgomery, 1934 Nevada journalism grad and crime reporter for the San Francisco Examiner, held the intense interest of most of a large student-alumni audience for approximately an hour and a half with comments on his experiences in crime reporting for the Examiner.

Montgomery was the leading speaker at the second annual student recognition banquet, which is sponsored by the Alumni Association. The banquet was recently held at the Fable Room of the Mapes hotel. Approximately two hundred students and alumni attended.

Pulitzer Prize Winner

A Pulitzer Prize in 1950 was one of the rewards Montgomery received when he uncovered an internal revenue scandal that started in California and spread across the country.

The Pulitzer Prize plaque was given to the University journalism department by Montgomery, and it is currently displayed in the showcase of the Journalism building.

Montgomery attributed a lot of his success to the Journalism department at the university. He said that his start on the staff of the Examiner was because he was a graduate of Nevada's journalism department.

The speaker commented about this case and two others, the Abbott murder trial and the Ferrari dope ring. The Nevada graduate was instrumental in the final outcome of each of these three cases.

Suppressed Facts

Pete Echeverria, master of ceremonies, introduced Montgomery to the audience. The speaker then related facts about the Abbott case that were never brought out in the trial or in the newspapers.

The crime reporter was chosen "Newspaperman of the Year" for two consecutive years, 1954 and 1955. It was the first time that any reporter won the Northern California prize two years in succession.

Recently the Columbia studios in Hollywood decided to make a movie dramatizing the life of an American journalist. Suggestions were reviewed, and the life of Ed Montgomery was selected. The movie is expected to be released sometime in December.

Univer. Presents Famed Oratorio

Elijah, an oratorio by Mendelssohn, was presented last Monday night under the direction of William Keith Macy, music professor at the University.

The performance featured the University Singers, the University of Nevada community symphony and chorus, and Mr. Desire Ligeti, who was the baritone soloist in the role of Elijah.

The production included 11 numbers by the chorus and various solo arias.

The event was held in the new gymnasium at 8:15 Monday evening before a crowd of students and towns people.

The concertmaster was Juby Tellaisha and the chorus accompanist Verlita Johnson.

Other soloists featured in Elijah were sopranos Bonnie Foard, Betty Ohrman, Madge Tillim; contraltos Margaret Burns-Hawk and Shirley White. Singing tenor roles were John Scott and James Hill.

NEWMEN RECEIVE THREE HONORS

Last weekend 16 University of Nevada Newman club members took Long Beach by storm. The occasion being the annual Newman club convention, there were 40 colleges represented and over 500 students attending. Nevada was the only University in attendance outside the California area.

The kick-off for the convention was a dance held Friday evening, and the busy weekend activities came to a close following the Awards Banquet Sunday afternoon.

The highlight of the convention, as far as Nevada Newmanites were concerned, was their success in getting the California Province Convention for Reno in 1957. Since Reno will be the location of the 1957 convention, the Nevada Chaplin will be the province Chaplin for the entire California area.

Plans Okeyed for 1st Southern Bldg.

Preliminary plans for the first Southern Nevada campus building were recently approved by the board of regents at a business luncheon in Las Vegas.

The building will contain five classrooms, a library room, an administrative suite, a faculty office suite, and two science laboratories.

The building is only a small part of the master building plan for the southern Nevada campus. The master plan, which has not yet been approved, shows this building to be used eventually for the teaching of humanities.

The approved building is located approximately in the center of the eighty-acre campus near Maryland Parkway, a street running north and south through the campus.

The Citizens' Committee of Las Vegas agreed to underwrite the cost of drilling a well on the campus. The water is now being tested for purity.

At the present time 25 instructors will teach at the school, but only six are full time instructors.

Dean of New Business College Comes from Mississippi State

The dean of a Mississippi business college has been named the dean of the new College of Business Administration at the University of Nevada.

Dr. Robert C. Weems, Jr., present dean of the School of Business and Industry at Mississippi State college, will assume leadership of the new college here for the 1956-57 academic year.

The Mississippi dean was recommended for the Nevada position by President Minard W. Stout.

"Dr. Weems is eminently qualified by reason of experience and outstanding reputation to head our new College of Business Administration," said President Stout in recommending the appointment. "With his leadership, I feel certain that this college can meet the demand for professionally-trained business people in this rapidly-expanding state."

DR. ROBERT C. WEEMS

Finance

The College of Business Administration will tentatively offer undergraduate and graduate programs in such fields as accounting, management, personnel, finance, marketing, executive secretarial, taxation, and business education.

The College of Business Administration was created by the Board of Regents in August of 1955.

Dr. Weems, who is 46 years old, has been dean of the School of Business and Industry at Mississippi State College since 1942. He has been director of the Business Research station since 1940, and was appointed to the Mississippi State faculty in 1934 after one year of teaching at Louisiana State university.

Address

A widely-known lecturer, Dr. Weems has addressed numerous state, regional and national groups. He has represented the college at meetings of the American Association of Collegiate Schools, of Business and the Associated University of Bureaus of Business and Economic Research.

He received his B.S. degree from Mississippi State in 1931, his master's degree from Northwestern university in 1934, and his Ph.D. from Columbia university in 1951. He has also done graduate work at Louisiana State and Peabody college.

Dr. Weems is a member of several organizations including the American Association of University Professors, Southern Economic association, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Blue Key leadership fraternity.

MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's day will be Sunday, May, 13, and has been officially proclaimed by Governor Charles H. Russell in a Thursday, May 10 proclamation.

"Each and every mother, whether living or dead, is deserving of some special tribute, a special day," Governor Russell said in the proclamation. "It is altogether proper and fitting that once each year there be set aside such day on which all pay tribute to their mother in particular, and all mothers in general," the proclamation continued.

The second Sunday of May, each year, was designated as Mother's Day by Congressional Resolution, adopted in 1914.

Twenty-seven per cent of all drivers involved in fatal auto accidents in the U. S. last year were under 25 years of age.

Pay Hikes Okehed At Regent Meet

Pay raises averaging 25 per cent were voted at a meeting of the board of regents recently. The increases were recommended by Pres. Minard Stout for the 1956-57 academic year. The full amount provided by the legislature for salary increases was $329,687 which will provide every faculty member with at least a 15 per cent raise.

Dr Stout stated that the new salary ranges are $7,700 to $10,050 for a professor; $6,540-$7,800 for associate professors; $5,500 to $6,600, assistant professor, and $5,100 to $5,400 for instructors.

Deans and others in administrative jobs also wound up with raises as high as $14,500 for William R. Wood, academic vice president, who's salary increase totaled $3,000.

Other deans will receive the following: John R. Bertrand, $13,500; Garold D. Holstine, education, $13,300; Vernon E. Scheid, mining, $12,200; William D. Carlson, student affairs, $11,800; Ralph Irwin, arts and science, $11,600; J. E. Moose, graduate study, $11,200; Robert C. Weems, jr. business, $11,000.

Comptroller Perry Hayden will receive a salary of $13,000 during the coming fiscal year and James J. Hill, director of libraries, will receive $10,200.

Three associate directors in the college of agriculture are among top paid personnel within a department, under the new schedule. They include C. E. Fleming $11,500, Eldon Wittwer and William G. Stlcky, $11,000 each.

Young Demos Hear Novakovich Blast Eisenhower and GOP Organization

"Government under the Eisenhower administration is of big business, by big business, and for big business." This was the theme of a talk by Miss Nada Novakovich, guest speaker at a recent young Democratic meeting.

Miss Novakovich, a Reno attorney, is a Democratic candidate for congresswoman in Nevada.

Since the Republicans have been in the administration, she said, the people have suffered greatly while big business has prospered. She feels that big business is smothering the smaller enterprises.

"If big business continues to consume the smaller businesses, we the people of a democracy will lose our right of competition, the right given to all of us."

Miss Novakovich pointed out as an example that General Motors' sales increased 49 per cent this year over last year's sales, while the smaller automobile corporations' sales decreased appreciably.

During Truman's term in office there was a national peacetime budget surplus of our billion dollars. Under Eisenhower's administration there is a deficit of nine billion dollars, she said.

These and many other points which were stressed in her speech have convinced Miss Novakovich that the solution to the problem is a Democratic administration.

Plans which she would like to see activated by a Democratic administration include a new health bill, natural gas bill, 90 per cent parity to farmers, an increase in school facilities, an improved housing program and a different foreign aid program.

Only the Democrats can accomplish this, she stated, because we are "the party with a conscience."

Ryaled Up

By Walt Ryals

RYALED UP—Standing hed ....

Each year, this university awards approximately 80 Block "N's" to members of seven athletic teams which compete on an inter-collegiate basis. These teams are football, basketball, boxing, baseball, track, tennis, and skiing.

With the exception of a few, these athletes belong to fraternities or campus organizations, which usually require quite a lot of the individual's time and effort.

This column is not intended in any way to knock fraternities, or any other campus organizations. On the contrary. We believe they are a basic part of this university and are vitally essential in the functioning of the school.

Our belief is simply this: If an individual participates in a varsity sport, he should be pledged to that sport throughout the season and it should be placed above any other activity. He should have a valid reason for missing one single practice session and to miss a practice to play in an interfraternity game is, in our opinion, NOT a valid excuse.

It is impossible for a team to fulfill its potential if its members do not develop the razor sharp edge in practice. To cut a practice is bad, but some of these people think nothing of missing a game.

It is the practice of some fraternities on this campus to rush athletes for the prestige the house

DOWN THE DRAIN . . .

After nearly a year's absence, I have been asked (allowed would be a better word) to write another column. This may shock some people, but some haven't read this dribble before, and won't be shocked until after they have finished reading it.

gets when its member makes good on a varsity team and to give them a better chance to win the Kinnear Trophy. It's understandable that the house wants to look out for itself and we're not knocking it.

But we believe that everyone concerned would benefit if something had been written into the school constitution to the effect that if an athlete is on the varsity squad, then he is ineligible to play for his organization in the interfraternity league.

This would definitely make our school teams stronger and at this point they could stand to be much stronger. Also the interfraternity league would enjoy more balance with only one or two teams dominating the league each year.

Well, there's nothing that can be done about it the way things stand now. Changing the constitution is the only remedy and constitutions are sometimes pretty hard to get to.

Its something to kick around.

News item: Joseph Salgerson, 48, admitted today murdering a Spaniard and an Irishman (all men are created equal), and dumping them into a ditch. The three got into an argument, he said, and started a fight (land of the free). Salgerson stabbed both of them in the back (home of the brave).

Asked why he murdered them, Salgerson said it pleased him (pursuit of happiness). Salgerson was later lynched by an angry mob (until proven guilty).

Light moves in intrinsic patterns over a razed surface. Poem.

Popular music has reached the utter bottom of things. And I quote: "Rock, Rock, Rock Rock Rock rockrockrockrock." These lyrics leave little to be desired except that same rock to hit the writer over the head with.

For some years we have watched popular lyrics plummet from such priceless gems as "Jadda, jadda, jadda, jadda, jing, jing, jing," to "Bongo, bongo, bongo, I don't wanna (leave the Congo)", down to "One o'clock, two o'clock, three o'clock rock, four o'clock, five o'clock—" Any moron can count around the clock. But where are the suave lyrics of yesteryear? (Abba dabba dabba dabba said the chimp to the monk).

It seems appropriate here to write something about love, because spring is the time for love. Birds are mating, and students are waiting.

THIS IS HAPPY? A scene from "The Happy Time," a 3-act romantic comedy to be presented next Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Shown rehearsing are, left to right: Barney Mergen, the drunken brother Louie; Jim Manley, as the youthful Bibi; Diane Kane, as the dominant Mama; Don Rasmussen, as the understanding Papa; Rank Rilling, as the lover Desmonde; and Niki Record, as the maid Mignonette. They are part of the Bonnard family of French-Canadians in the play to be presented by the Campus Players.

3 CHEM. MAJORS GET AWARDS AT MEETING

Three University of Nevada students were given awards last week at the Seventh Annual Regional Convention of the American Chemistry Society. They are Farrel W. Lytle, Robert M. Pearson, and Mrs. Margaret Gerring.

Eighty-seven delegates from nine universities and colleges in the Northern California-Nevada district, were present at the convention. Attending were the University of California, College of Pacific, Chico State college, University of Nevada, San Jose State college, University of Santa Clara, Sacramento State college, San Francisco College for Women, and University of San Francisco.

27 Papers

Twenty-seven papers of original and literary research were judged at the convention by a committee of six.

Robert C. Fahey, University of California, took first place in the original research contest. His topic was "The Molecular Orbital Theory Calculations for Fluoranthine".

Don D. Gilbert, University of California, was second with his paper on "A Wet Digestion in Stoichiometric Procedure for Carbon, Hydrogen, Oxygen, and Nitrogen Analysis".

Farrel Lytle won third place with his paper on "Quantitative Analysis of the Rare Earth Elements by X-ray Emission Spectrography".

Robert Shallenbarger, College of Pacific, was awarded first place in the literary reasearch field. His paper was titled "Tannin Content of Certain California Eucalyptus Trees".

Halogeton

Robert Pearson was second in the contest with "Some Chemical Studies on Halogeton".

Mrs. Margaret Gerring took third with her paper on "The Stereochemistry of Complex Ions".

Chairmen for the convention were Ray Ferrari and Don Nelson. Robert J. Morris, associate professor of chemistry, was the faculty representative for committee arrangements.

Evalyn Titus

Evalyn Titus, 1956 Mackay Day queen, has been nominated for national Crescent Girl of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. She was named by the Nevada chapter of the group recently.

If selected, she will reign over the national assembly of the fraternity which is scheduled for Coldwater, Colorado, in late August. Each of the other 149 chapters of the fraternity has nominated a girl for the crown.

Miss Titus is the daughter of Louis Titus, an alumnus of the professor of Agricultural Mechanics at the University of Nevada.

She is a senior majoring in English and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. She is past president of Cap and Scroll.

BORDERS SUCCEEDS MITTS AS PRESS CLUB PRESIDENT

Myram Borders, Pi Beta Phi, will replace Sandra Mitts, Tri Delt, as president of the Press club. Press club consists of majors in journalism and others active in campus journalism.

Other officers elected were Dave Lowe, Theta Chi, vice president; and Angelina Farros, Tri Delt, secretary-treasurer.

Elections were held last week in the Journalism building.

Also discussed were plans for the annual Press club breakfast which will be held May 20 in a downtown restaurant.

PI PHI'S WILL HOLD DANCE AT THE MESA TOMORROW

The only closed dance of the year for Pi Beta Phi is the spring formal to be held tomorrow at the Mesa.

The only guests to be invited are Mrs. Corle, house-mother, and Prof. and Mrs. Tassel, and the alumni.

A warm-up party before dinner will start at 6:00 p.m. at the Mesa.

The dance was held last year at Edward's Halfway House on the road to Carson City.

Five Nominated For Lambda Chi Crescent Queen

Five women have been nominated for Queen of Lambda Chi Alpha's Crescent ball tonight at the Mesa. The queen will reign over the annual spring formal dance.

Coeds named are Audrey Bernard, Pi Beta Phi; Sheila Taylor, Kappa Alpha Theta; Diane Newby, Delta Delta Delta; Marian Capurro, Gamma Phi Beta; and Kay Brower, Artemisia-Manzanita.

The queen will be selected at the dance by vote of the fraternity members. She will be crowned by Gary Brock, house president, and the Crescent Queen revolving trophy will be awarded to her organization.

The choosing of the queen is an old tradition that the organization is reviving, said Brock. He explained that fraternity members had been forced to forego some old Walt Ryals (N) 89; ifth: Dale fraternity customs while their new house was being built. The queen tradition is one of the oldest in the organization, he stated.

Guests for the dance are Dr. and Mrs. Russell Elliot, Dr. and Mrs. Alex Dandini, Professor and Mrs. Asher Wilson, Professor and Mrs. John Reed, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob LeGoy.

The ball is under the direction of social committee members Al Creel, George Swainston, Dave Christianson, Dick Hamilton, and Jere Booth.

Dinner will be served at 8 p.m. Music for dancing will be provided by Mel Brunetti's Keynotes.

It Takes Art to Serve Family Meals On a Low Budget, Professor Says

There is an art to serving family meals on a low budget, but it's an art that can be learned through proper education.

How college students are taught to plan menus from almost any level of income is explained by Dr. Jennie M. Harper, associate professor at the Sarah Hamilton Fleischmann School of Home Economics, University of Nevada, in a byline article in a recent issue of a national magazine for home economists.

You Gotta Have Art

Dr. Harper's method, as outlined in "Meal Planning at Different Income Levels," is basically simple.

Budget allowances per family of four—two adults and two children—are set at three levels. Lowest income budget is set at approximately 1 per person per day, figures fluctuating, of course, with the current cost of living. Students then select a basic menu pattern for a 10-day period and tables are set up for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

If Prices Rise

On each table are the day's three meals—each menu identical in content and nutritional value—but varying in cost from $1 to the $1.75 per serving. A card beside each place setting shows the income group, the total cost of the meal, and ingredients or methods used to raise or lower the cost.

How do students at the "lowest" level fare? They are quick to pick up budget shortcuts, says the food nutritionist, such as taking advantage of weekend specials at the grocery store and buying in quantity.

Other money-saving examples Dr. Harper lists in the article include the use of powdered milk in hot chocolate, use of margarine, dressing up inexpensive dishes or sauces with herbs and seasonings, using simple salads of greens, buying fresh vegetables at lowest local prices, and utilizing low-cost cuts of meats in different ways.

WRA Ex. Board Represents Women

The Women's Recreation Association now has an executive board which represents all of the women's living groups on campus.

Heretofore, the board was elected from WRA by a Gothic N executive board.

The board's first job will be to revise the existing constitution and point plan.

Each sorority and dormitory on campus submitted two names to the present Gothic N board and the board chose the members who will serve next year. WRA is composed of women who excel in the inter-mural games.

The new women on the board will be Evelyn Amen, Kappa Alpha Theta; Diane Oldenburg, Delta Delta Delta; Letitia Sawle, Pi Beta Phi; Joyce Wilson, Gamma Phi Beta; and Joan Tobler, Independents.

Serving on the present Gothic N are Dixie Sturges, president; Helen Meader, Lucille Nelson, Lois McAuliffe, and Dorothy Hill, president of WRA.

Summer School Will Offer Glimpse Into Aviation Age

A glimpse into the air age will be part of the University of Nevada's summer Aviation Education workshop.

Training for the air age will be offered as part of the University of Nevada's summer school program.

Lectures by air authorities, orientation flights, field trips, and films dealing with the aircraft industry, will make up the course. It is scheduled for June 11-22, on the University campus, and is part of the university's expanded summer session.

Why A Plane Flies

Dr. Burton Newbry, coordinator for the conference-workshop, said topics will include numerous items necessary for knowledge of the airplanes of today. How and why an airplane flies, power for flight, civil and military aviation will be taught. Weather and aviation, aerial navigation, communication and controls, airports, link trainer instruction. Factors affecting national security will also be touched on during the period of instruction.

Guest lecturers will include Major Donald Copenhaver, of the local Civil Air Patrol; John V. Sorenson, Pacific coast Civil Air Patrol; J. W. Barnhill, Civil Aeronautics Administration; Ken Fagan, tower chief of the Reno Municipal airport, and Joseph Hicks, manager of the airfield.

Students will be taken on a full day's air trip to the United Airlines' terminal at the finish of the course.

Resident fee for the 11-day course will be twenty dollars, and for non-residents the fee will be twenty-four dollars.

For the first time the University of Nevada band will participate in the Las Vegas Helldorado parades.

The group will march in the "O' Timers" parade on Thursday, May 17, and in the Bathing Beauty parade on Sunday, May 20. While in southern Nevada the band will give an hour concert at Basic high school in Henderson, Nevada.

The University band will also entertain at the annual music festival which will be May 16.

During the parade the marching will not include formations.

The latter group was invited two weeks ago to march in the Helldorado parades by Mr. James Cashman Jr., parade chairman.

Thirty six members will journey to Las Vegas on the Virginia Truckee bus lines Wednesday, May 16, at noon and return the following Sunday.

Accommodations are being provided by the Montmort Motel. While in southern Nevada the group has tours scheduled of Hoover Dam.

Professor Felton Hickman, band director, said that he hopes to make the participation in the Helldorado celebrations an annual event for the University of Nevada band.

Flashing Lights of Reno Surprise New Psychology Professor McQueen

"The dazzling bright lights and the hum of activity at 3:00 in the morning were certainly a surprise to me on my first visit to Reno. It certainly is a contrast from the conservative atmosphere of Nacogdoches, Texas, a town about the same size as Reno, where they roll up the streets at 5:00 in the evening.

These were the impressions that Dr. Robert McQueen, assistant professor in Psychology at the University of Nevada, stated upon his arrival to take up his new teaching position in the Psychology Department last fall.

Dr. McQueen, a native of Colorado, came to the University of Nevada in August, 1955, from the University of Texas at Austin, Texas. It was at this university that he obtained his Ph. D. in Psychology after three years of study. "The only thing I miss about Texas is the weather. I plan to stay here as long as possible because it is very similar to my home state of Colorado," are the comments he made of the university, city, and state.

Dr. McQueen married his high school sweetheart in Denver in April, 1947. They have two children and reside at 315 Greenbrae Drive, Sparks. His hobby is gardening.

He is a member of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society, and the American Psychological Association.

He was born in Baltimore, Md., July 5, 1925. His family moved to Denver, Colorado when he was of pre-school age. Dr. McQueen attended the public schools of that city until his last year of high school. From Denver he moved to Portland, Oregon. He completed his secondary education there in 1943.

Drafted into the army in 1943, Dr. McQueen served 26 months in the Southwest Pacific theater. He received his basic infantry train-

FORMER STUDENT 3RD IN AUTO RACE

Don Dickey, former University of Nevada student, placed third in the recent sports car races at Pebble Beach, California.

Dickey's car was a German Porsche and was entered in the under 1,500 c.c. production car event. The owner-driver said that he considered the third position a victory in itself, as he enjoyed none of the support usually given the other racers by the car dealers.

The Pebble Beach race was the first in which this car has been entered in competition. The Carrera model which Dickey drove is the latest factory refinement of the cars presently for sale. The two cars that beat the Reno driver were both Porsches.

ing at Ft. Warren, Wyoming, and was shipped to New Guinea as a replacement. He was assigned to a quartermaster outfit. He took part in several assault landings on Hollandia. He was stationed on Morotai, in the East Indies at the end of the war and remained there for six months destroying B-24's and dumping ammunition into the ocean. He was discharged as a "buck" sergeant on April 5, 1946.

A graduate of the University of Denver with an M.A. degree in psychology in June, 1950, Dr. McQueen began teaching at Idaho State college in Pocatello, Idaho in the fall of 1950.

He taught for one school year in the Department of Psychology there. In the fall of 1951 he instructed at Colorado A&M for one year, going to the University of Texas as graduate student for a Ph. D in Psychology. "The three years in Texas were the roughest in my college career as far as finances were concerned. If I had not received the George Peabody Fellowship in my last year of study, I am afraid that I would have had to drop out of school," Dr. McQueen added.

MAY 25 IS DEADLINE FOR LIBRARY BOOKS

All books not returned to the library by Friday, May 25, will be considered delinquent. This was announced this week by LaMar R. Smith, loan librarian.

If books are not returned by May 25, a fine will be placed on them, said Smith.

Lost or missing books must be paid before the student leaves school. If he fails to do this, the price of the book will be deducted from a deposit which is payed by each student at the beginning of the semester.

Smith stated that between one thousand and two thousand books are now in circulation. Most of these are for research papers, he said.

186 STUDENTS WILL BE AWARDED DEGREES

One hundred and eighty six students are tentatively scheduled to receive degrees at commencement exercises June 4.

Dr. Arthur N. Adams, president of the American Council of Education, will be guest speaker at graduation. Benediction will be given by Monsignor Winches of Carson City.

Scholarship winners will be announced. Other speakers for graduation are not known at this time.

Bishop William F. Lewis will be the speaker at Baccalaureate services which will be held Sunday, June 3.

Degrees will be awarded by the College of Agriculture, School of Home Economics, College of Arts and Science, College of Education, College of Engineering, and Mackay School of Mines.

Eighteen of these students will receive advanced degrees and four will receive professional degrees.

Aggies

Graduating from the College of Agriculture are Bill Dunning, B. S.; Gary Hafen, B. S., and Doyle Spurlock, B. S.

Home Economics graduates are Doris Ames, B. S.; Annette Dickson, B. S.; Jo Ann Elston, B. S.; Lillis Hatch, B. S.; Marjorie Mortensen, B. S.; Janet Quilici, B. S., and Patsy Terry, B. S.

11 University Departments to Change Chairmen for Coming School Year

Eleven departments of the University will change chairmen for the 1956-57 school year.

Four of the changes will occur in the College of Arts and Science. The changes are in the art, English, philosophy, and psychology departments.

Professor J. Craig Sheppard will succeed Edward W. Yates, acting chairman, as chairman of the art department. Dr. Charles E. Frank will succeed acting chairman Dr. William R. Wood as chairman of the English department. Chairman of the psychology department will be Dr. Paul F. Secord, who succeeds Dr. Ralph A. Irwin. Chairmanship of the philosophy department, also succeeding Dr. Ralph A. Irwin, has not been filled as yet.

Two new departments have been formed in the College of Education. Professor Harold N. Brown will head the new general professional education department, while Dr. Garold D. Holstine will be chairman of the new higher and adult education department. Dr. Thomas T. Tucker will succeed Dr. Garold D. Holstine as chairman of the department of school administration and supervision.

Chairmen of the animal husbandry department and the veterinary science department of the College of Agriculture have not been filled yet. Dr. Edward Records was chairman of the veterinary science department while Dr.

James F. Kidwell headed the animal husbandry department.

In the College of Engineering Professor William L. Garrott will succeed Professor Stanley G. Palmer as chairman of the electrical engineering department.

Professor John S. Winston will succeed Professor William I. Smyth as chairman of the department of metallurgy.

SIXTH ARMY GENERAL SPEAKS TO ROTC MAY 22

All military students will be excused from 1 p.m. classes on Tuesday, May 22. At that time the commanding general of the Sixth Army, Lt. General Young, will speak to the assembled ROTC students and others. He will speak between 1 and 2 p.m. at Mackay stadium.

Military students will be required to attend the Governor's Day reviewing ceremonies at the regular 11 a. m. drill period in Mackay stadium and the special

Sixteen Seniors Attend C.E. Confab

The University of Nevada was represented by sixteen Senior civil engineering students at the regional convention of the Association for Civil Engineers on April 19, 20, and 21.

The advisors were Professors Howard B. Blodgett and John A. talk by Lt. General Young at 1 p.m. that day. Other scheduled military classes will not be held.

Bonell. Professor Blodgett and his family returned to Reno after the convention but the senior engineers went to Los Angeles for a three-day field trip where they inspected new projects and construction operations.

Seniors on the trip were Dale Burt, Bob Thomason, Roland Westergard, Frank Evans, Bob Harlow, Jack Shevlin, Moustafa Shishakly, Bruce Packard, Pierre Auger, Elwin Wilkinson, Joe Trigerio, Eugene Longfield, Fenwick Carlile, John Poppe, and Edgar Johnson.

How Standard invested its money last year to meet your growing oil needs

Exploration for new oil sources cost $134 million. Standard Oil Company of California produced oil and gas from more than 8600 wells in the U.S., Canada and South America to supply your petroleum needs.

New Refinery Units to make higher octane gasoline took a big part of the $30 million we spent for plant improvement.

Petrochemicals for plastics and other new products; fertilizers and sprays for bigger crops, took a $20 million investment.

Research and technical services cost nearly $13 million. One result was a technique which promises to greatly increase yields from oil wells, helping conserve U.S. resources.

Transportation Facilities to bring our products from oil field to you were a $10 million item.

New and Modernized Service Stations from Alaska to Mexico cost $16 million, made Standard products more convenient for you.

STANDARD IMPROVED its ability to serve you last year by investing $347 million for new production and distribution facilities and exploration. The rest of our $1½ billion income was spent on such items as wages and benefits for our 36,369 employees, supplies from more than 10,000 U.S. firms and crude oil from independent producers. We paid a $107 million tax bill, and our 119,793 stockholders received 7¢ of each dollar we took in as a return on their investment in the Company.

JOURNALISM FRAT INITIATES EIGHT

Five University of Nevada men were initiated Sunday into Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, along with Governor Charles H. Russell and two other professional members.

Governor Russell was the featured speaker at the after-initiation banquet. He talked informally on his experiences as editor of the Ely Record and on the press in politics. Neal Van Sooy, editor and publisher of the Carson Appeal and a former national president of Sigma Delta Chi, spoke on the fraternity's history and purpose.

New undergraduate members are Jere Laird, Steve Dollinger, Dean Smith, all of Reno, and Bob Faiss and Dave Lowe of Las Vegas.

Professional initiates were Governor Russell, Michael Graban, a Redding journalism teacher, and Fred Shields, a Reno publicist.

Participating in the initiation, held in the journalism building news room, were Van Sooy, Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism department, John Sanford, editor of the Reno Evening Gazette and professional chapter president, Paul Finch, university chapter president, Ken Robbins, Sagebrush editor, and William Eaton, past editor.

IFC ELECTS

Interfraternity council elected its officers for next year at a Tuesday meeting in Dean Carlson's office.

New president is Gary Brock of Lambda Chi. Bob Scott of Alpha Tau Omega is vice-president; Dale Burt of Theta Chi, secretary; and Bob Jones, Sigma Nu, treasurer.

High School Grads Being Told of UN

A program designed to bring high school graduates to the University of Nevada campus is being sponsored by the university alumni association.

Senior dinners for the graduates of Elko, Ely and Lincoln county high schools are being given by the alumni under direction of Lee DeLauer, association vice president.

The dinners feature talks by alumni and Nevada faculty members. After dinner entertainment is provided by university students. Elko high school seniors were the first to be reached by the program with a dinner given in that city last week. Gordon McEachron and Art Broten of the university physical education department, spoke about the athletic program of the school on both the inter-mural and interschool level. ASUN president-elect Chuck Coyle issued an official invitation to the graduates and informed them of the social activities on campus.

Entertainment after the talks was provided by Rusty Ballinger, Bob Faiss and Al Creel of the ASUN assembly troupe. Paul Seaborn of Reno and Gene Evans of Elko were alumni coordinators.

A similar dinner was held last night for the Ely seniors. McEachron showed a film of university athletic contests this year and outlined the school's work-aid program for athletes. Advantages of the university were enumerated by Lee DeLauer.

Free exhibit routines in gymnastics were presented by members of the Nevada gym team.

Summer Workshop Conferences To Feature Prominent Educators

Workshop conferences by prominent educators will feature the University of Nevada's 1956 Summer School in Reno, Director Garold D. Holstine has announced.

The program will offer expanded undergraduate and graduate study in all colleges. Thus far, Holstine said, early applications are running three to one over the 1955 record enrollment of 1100 students from 25 states and territories.

The colleges of Arts and Science, Education, Agriculture, Engineering, and Mines will offer basic undergraduate courses leading to bachelors degrees. Master study will be offered in Arts and Science and Education.

Summer School dates are: first term—June 11-22; main term—June 25-Aug. 3; post term—Aug. 6-17; long term—June 11-Aug 17. Workshops will be conducted during the two week pre-term and post term sessions.

Some of the special workshops will include Kindergarten-Primary Education — Dr. Norma Baker, University College of Education; Language Arts and Reading Clinic — Dr. Selma Herr, University of Southern California; Library Education — Mrs. Rachel DeAngelo, library education specialist, New York City; Conservation Education — Sessions Wheeler, Reno high school; School Administration — Dr. Francois D'Artenay, Stanford University; Geography — Dr. George Carter, Johns-Hopkins University; Speech Correction — Dr. John Manning, specialist, Nevada Crippled Children's Society; Counseling and Guidance — Dr. Clifford P. Froelich, University of California; School Administration — Dr. Shirley Cooper, vice president, American Association of School Administrators; Special Education — Dr. Virgil Revie, school psychologist, Oakland, Calif.; Basketball Coaching Techniques — Adolph Rupp, basketball coach, University of Kentucky; and Football Coaching Techniques — Charles Wilkinson, football coach, University of Oklahoma.

E. Engineer. Dept. Boasts Gal Major

Mrs. Gerty Irene Berg, doesn't believe the field of engineering is just a man's job.

Mrs. Berg is now enrolled in electrical engineering as a freshman at the University of Nevada. She hopes to eventually go into the field of mathematical research.

Mrs. Berg was born in Stuttgart, Germany, and did not come to the United States until March of 1947. She arrived in New York with her mother, and between them they had five dollars. Because of their lack of money they were not able to make their way west until some time later.

Perfected English

After arriving in New York she stayed with a doctor's family and looked after the children and answered the telephone. Later, after perfecting her command of English, she got a job as a secretary.

After a little experience she became an expert at financial and stock market figures.

In her academic achievements Mrs. Berg is nearly a straight A student. She has received all A's except for a B in roller skating.

She speaks German and English fluently, knows French well, and "can get around" in Spanish. Mrs. Berg never attended any other school in the United States.

Speeding on U.S. streets and highways last year killed 12,700 men, women and children.

POTTS BREAKS RECORD AS PACK BURIES AGGIES

The University of Nevada track team concluded its home schedule with a lopsided 85 2/5 to 45 3/5 win over the California Aggies last Saturday at Mackay Stadium. The Far West Conference meet in which he will be coaching a Wolf Pack squad. Smithwick will be sports director at Nevada Southern next year.

In spite of the score the Wolf Pack was hard pressed for the first ten events. The Aggies held a one point lead after eight events and were only three points behind at the end of ten.

Clean Sweeps

After that the Nevadans made clean sweeps in the pole vault and broad jump to give them an easy winning margin. Several outstanding performances were demonstrated during the afternoon.

Jim Potts broke the existing university record in the high hurdles by three tenths of a second. However, his mark won't be a record since a strong tailwind pushed him along. Dick Hughes, a freshman from Reno ran the quarter mile in the good time of 51.5 seconds. Gene Timmons won his specialty, the 880, by a good 30 yards in the time of 2:04.3 seconds. Nevada's distance ace, Burt Cooper easily won the two mile run in 10:56.2, but lost out in the stretch in the mile to Clem Viano of the Aggies.

Bowser Triples

Nevada had one triple winner, Bill Bowser, who won the 100 yard dash, the 220 low hurdles, and tied for first in the broad jump. Claude Mabry led a clean sweep in the pole vault with a leap of 12 feet 6 inches. John Meder, who took second in his specialty, the javelin, came back to win the discus with a throw of 130'4 1/2".

This week, Nevada competes in The win gave Coach Hugh Smith-Sacramento.

Complete results include:

FOUR UN STAFF MEMBERS TO ATTEND FWC POW-WOW

Basketball schedules and problems of eligibility will be discussed at the Far Western Intercollegiate Conference to be attended by four University of Nevada staff members.

Coaches G. A. Broten, Hugh Smithwick, and Jake Lawlor and Faculty athletic representative Robert Morris will attend.

The meeting will be held in conjunction with the spring championship playoffs in the Far Western conference. Playoffs will feature contests in track, golf, and tennis, and mark the season's end for the three sports. They will be held in Sacramento on Friday and Saturday.

Tennis Squad in FWC Playoffs

Nevada will be a strong entry in the Far Western Conference tennis playoffs this weekend in Sacramento. The Nevada netmen have lost only twice in eight conference matches this season.

Coach Hutch Nenzel's top players have been Bill Van Wagoner, Bill Barrett, and Dick McClintic. Van Wagoner has lost only two conference matches.

Other team members include Jim Anderson, Don Cutler, Harry Summerfield, Lew Perkey, and Jim Randall.

Also vying for honors are Humboldt State, Chico State, San Francisco State, Sacramento State and the California Aggies.

Golfers to Play in FWC Tour. Friday

The University of Nevada golf team will compete this weekend in the Far Western Conference tournament in Sacramento. The meet will be a two day affair. Each team member will shoot a total of 36 holes.

Last weekend the Wolf Pack divided a double match held at the Washoe County golf course. Nevada defeated the Cal Aggies 12 1/2 to 2 1/2 but lost to Sacramento State nine to six.

Rain and a old wind hampered chances of low scores. However, Jim Stewart of Sacramento State fired a three over par 75, while Nevada's Ralph Rubenstein was one stroke behind at 76.

Individual results included: First group, Bob Haase (A) 87, Jim Stewart (S) 75, Ralph Rubenstein (N) 76; second: Dan Catlin (A) 91, Edgar Lou (S) 84, Dick Bishop (N) 80, third: Don Donsing (A)

88, Eugene Witt (S) 84, Keith Latham (N), 91; 4th: Tom Condon (A) 101, Tyler Wilson (S) 83, Walt Ryals (N) 89; fifth: Dale Wooley (A) 100, Akio Twanaga (S) 87, Steve Rucker (N) 88. Nevada now has an overall record of two wins, five losses.

Wolf Nine to Play Sacramento State

Nevada's baseball team will play a doubleheader Tuesday against the Sacramento State Hornets. The games will be played at Threlkel's field on East Fourth Street.

Last weekend the Pack took a double loss at Chico to leave them with a conference record of one win against five defeats.

One of Nevada's key players, Roger Trounday, has been hampered all season by an injured leg. His offensive power as well as his defensive ability have been missed by an otherwise inexperienced team.

Coach Jake Lawlor has been shifting infield assignments in an effort to strengthen the team. Pat O'Halloran has been shifted from shortstop to first base while Jerry Tobin is filling in as shortstop. Fred Jesser is holding down third base while Jim Corica will continue playing second.

The outfield will consist of Trounday, if his leg permits, Tom McClaskey, and Bill DuBois. DuBois is now the team's leading hitter.

Catching will be Bobby Ferrari while probable starting pitchers will be John Flynn and Brian Whalen.

The Wolf Pack tuned up this week by playing a doubleheader against Beale Air Force Base at Marysville, California.

COACHING SCHOOL RESPONSE HEAVY

The third annual coaching school at the University of Nevada is expected to draw more than 150 western coaches to the Reno campus.

Director G. A. Broten said early responses indicate a record registration of high school, college, university, and service team coaches for the annual clinic on June 18-23.

Football instruction and practical demonstration will be given by Charles "Bud" Wilkinson, whose Oklahoma squad was number one in the nation last year. Twice named Coach of the Year, his winning average is .919. His teams have won the Big Seven conference for the past eight years. The split "T" is his specialty.

Lecture instruction and basketball techniques will be handled by Adolph Rupp, University of Kentucky head basketball coach. He is known as the "wingest coach in basketball." His 25-year record is 519 wins in 604 games, 16 Southeastern Conference titles, and three NCAA championships. One of his many innovations is the controlled fast break.

Kickapoo Logan, former West Point and professional team trainer, will lecture on the treatment of athletic injuries. He is a recognized specialist in the injury field.

Classes will be held for five days, which will include morning and afternoon sessions.

Seeping on U. S. streets and highways last year killed 12,700 men, women and children.

FINCH TO BE INITIATED INTO KAPPA TAU ALPHA

Paul Finch, former editor of the Sagebrush, will be initiated into Kappa Tau Alpha, national society honoring scholarship in journalism and other studies. Finch is a graduating senior.

The initiation will take place at the annual Press club breakfast to be held May 20 at a downtown restaurant. Professor A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the journalism department, will conduct the initiation. Higginbotham is a member of the society's national council.

John Sanford, editor of the Reno Evening Gazette and part-time instructor in the journalism department, will be initiated into the society as an honorary member. Mr. Sanford will follow in his father's footsteps. Graham Sanford, former editor of the Gazette, was initiated into the society in 1941.

Finch, who has maintained a 3.37 scholastic average for four years, was elected from the upper ten per cent of the junior-senior

Scholarships Get Final Approval

Final approval of the Dick Graves scholarship program for graduates of Carson City and Sparks high schools was given by the University of Nevada Board of Regents last week.

The program provides two $500 scholarships per year for a four-year period for each school.

"It is my hope that club owners throughout Nevada will join in this program of educational aid for the youth of their own communities," said Dick Graves, owner of the Nugget clubs in Carson City and Sparks.

Selection of the Graves scholarships will be made by high school principals and chairmen of school boards in Carson City and Sparks.

Qualifications are that recipients must be under 21 and have lived in Nevada at least two years before graduation.

Nevada Community Symphony Plays on "Sunday at Four"

A program of varied classical selections will be played by the University of Nevada Community Symphony at the May 13 "Sunday at Four" program.

New York Philharmonic solo cellist, Carl Stern, will be the featured soloist for the 55 piece orchestra.

This is the first time that Reno has had a real symphonic orchestra, said Director William Keith Macy, associate professor of music at the University.

The program which will take place in the new gymnasium at 4 p.m. will be open to the public free of charge.

Carl Stern has played with the NBC Symphony under the direction of Arturo Toscanini for seven years. In 1944 he joined the New York Philharmonic Symphony and was appointed solo cellist of the Lewisohn Stadium Symphony in the same year.

Toured U. S.

Carl Stern has toured the U. S. as a soloist, and was a student of the Institute of Musical Art, now part of the Juilliard School of Music. While at the institute, he received the Artist Diploma, and the Marcus Loeb prize for outstanding talent and achievement.

"The Swan" by Saint Saens is one of a number of solos which will be played by Stern.

The May 13 program will make the sixth of seven appearances for the University Community Symphony. It's final appearance will be at the University of Nevada commencement.

During the school year, the 55 piece group has appeared on two previous "Sunday at Four" programs. The group presented the Christmas "Messiah", and the recent "Elijah" oratorio, and accompanied Western Nevada high school choruses in an April massed concert.

The University Community Symphony is composed of students, and residents of Reno and out-lying communities.

The program will include overture from the opera "Titus" by Wolfgang Mozart; Symphony No. 8, "Unfinished", in B Minor, by Franz Schubert; "Slavonic Dance No. 1 by Antonin Dvorak; "Peer Gynt Suite No. 1" by Edward Grieg; overture from the opera "Il Guarany" by Antonio Gomez; and "Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Johann Strauss.

A senior vocal recital on May 20 featuring student Walter Anderson of Reno will conclude the "Sunday at Four" series.

Bids To Be Opened For 2 Buildings

Openings for bids on two buildings at the University of Nevada will be set at a state planning board meeting to be held in Carson City on May 11, it was announced recently.

Completed plans and specifications for the Jot Travis Student Union building and a new classroom building on the campus will be reviewed by the board and the date for bid openings set.

The board will also review preliminary plans for the classroom building on the Nevada Southern campus at Las Vegas.

Watch for the Happy Time. Coming soon to the Nevada campus.

Newman Club Elects Officers

Richard (Rich) Arden, a junior engineering student, was elected to head the University of Nevada Newman club recently.

Assisting him as vice president will be Bill Schroeder, a sophomore engineer. The secretaries will be Carol Kirrene, recording, and Joanne Backer, corresponding. Suzanne Schwartz was elected treasurer. Diane Spina and Dick Delessegues will act as social co-chairmen. Activities chairman and editor will be Mary Stevenson and Peggy Folkes respectively. Father Leo McFadden was elected to serve as chaplain for another term.
