New Union Director Discussed By Board

Possible summer school student assessments and a director for the new Jot Travis Student Union building were the main topics of discussion at a recent meeting of the Student Union board of directors. Elections for the ensuing school year were also held.

Dean William Carlson, dean of student affairs, met with the board last Friday to discuss recent developments concerning the building's construction and to outline considerations and recommendations regarding a director for the new edifice.

The final plans for the building construction were approved at the May 11 meeting of the state planning board in Carson City. Bids are expected to be released by May 20 and construction should begin sometime in June.

Don Travis has been named chairman of the board for the coming year. Shelly Branch will serve as secretary and Ken Robbins was elected finance director.

Dean Carlson stated that a director for the building could be selected in either December of this year or in July of 1957. In a recommendation to Dr. Minard Stout, university president, he indicated a preference for the latter date and also expressed the opinion that February 1, 1957, would be the ideal time to select the man. Getting good men in the middle of the year would be the only hold-back to this possibility, he stated.

If a permanent director can not be obtained earlier than the July date, he added, it may be possible to secure a man on a consultation basis only.

Carlson said that Porter Butts, who runs a placement bureau service at the University of Wisconsin, would be contacted concerning the choice of the director.

Besides experience, Carlson stated, good programming ability was stressed as a desirable qualification for the man selected for the job.

A salary of $5,500 has been mentioned in connection with the job. An added feature which would tend to bolster this figure, Dean Carlson said, is the provision on campus housing for the director and his family.

In many cases, said Carlson, student union directors are employed for only ten months of the year, but he believed that in this particular job a man's services would be used for the entire 12 months. Using the director's services during the summer months in university housing allocation was mentioned.

In comparing salaries, Dean Carlson said that $7,000 was considered a good sum for a top notch student union director. $6,000, Carlson thought, might hire a good assistant director and an ultimate

MOSS AND ALVAREZ OFF CRITICAL LIST

Merle Moss and Eddie Alvarez, university students, are reported to be off the critical list at Washoe Medical Center.

Since the day of their admission, April 27, both have improved considerably. Moss and Alvarez were both in critical condition at that time, following an automobile accident on Geiger grade.

Alvarez has improved enough to make up some of the school work which he has missed. He is now having physiotherapy treatments.

It is not known yet when they will be dismissed from the hospital.

Mann Gives Up Gavel; Coyle Names Chairmen

Jerry Mann, president of the Associated Students of the University of Nevada, conducted a brief senate meeting Wednesday night before turning the gavel over to Chuck Coyle, new ASUN president, who announced his selections for various positions in student government and campus activities.

Named to administrative positions were: Diane Martin, Delta Delta Delta, ASUN secretary; Chris Cufflin, Theta Chi, Men's Upperclass committee; Lillian Johnson, Pi Beta Phi, Women's Upperclass committee; Cameron Samuels, Kappa Alpha Theta, Leadership Conference secretary; and Annie Condie, Artemisia hall, historian.

These selected for chairmanships were: Bill Eddelman, Sigma Nu, rallies; Dick Bryan, Alpha Tau Omega, assemblies; Virginia Dupes, Gamma Phi Beta, Hello on the Hill; Bob Hanfil, Phi Sigma Kappa, elections; Gary Brock, Lambda Chi Alpha, Homecoming; Chuck Harrison, Sigma Nu, Winter Carnival; and Ron Logar, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Mackay Day.

Execs

Coyle, Steve Dollinger, Myram Borders, Jim Taylor, and Barbara Cavanaugh were named to serve on the executive committee.

All of these appointments were approved by the senators present.

Prior to the announcements, the senators voted to accept the constitution for the model United Nations. Mann also reminded them that the new ASUN officers would be formally inaugurated at the Awards assembly, which was held yesterday.

Before relinquishing the gavel, Mann thanked the senators for their cooperation during the school year.

Coyle stated that at the present time he would not select members to serve on the nominations committee. He said that there are vacancies for two unaffiliated members on the board and selections would not be made until next September. He preferred to wait until representatives of the various colleges are selected under the provisions of the new ASUN constitution, which goes into effect June 1 of this year.

The next meeting of the senate will be held Wednesday, May 23.

Picture Exhibited By UN Students

Landscapes, figure studies, still lifes, and portraits are among pictures which are now being exhibited by university art students. The exhibit is in room 8 of the temporary buildings and will continue throughout next week.

Students whose pictures are on exhibit are Robert Stites, Audrey Wallace, Mildred Swift, Virginia Coleman, Lea Churn, Dyann Koch, Robert Gerring, Irene Murphy, John Molini, Jan Phelps, Maxine Mansor, and Virginia Cox.

The paintings and drawings have all been done during the past school year. Prof. Harlan Holladay, art instructor, says that many of the pictures have been done by night students this semester.

Wiseman Wins GOP Presidency

Walt Wiseman was unanimously elected president of the Young Republicans at their regular meeting Tuesday night in the basement of the Wolf Den.

Other officers of the club will be elected in the fall semester.

Senator George Malone, and Emery Graunke, candidate for State Republican Chairman, were guest speakers at the meeting. Topics discussed were the Young Republican's role at the upcoming state convention and student activity in county politics.

Roadshow Troupe Receive Pro Feelers

Members of the ASUN assembly roadshow troupe, which just finished a statewide tour of Nevada high schools, may turn professional this summer.

Inquiries from two Nevada night clubs regarding Rusty Ballinger, Bob Faiss, and Al Creel have been received by Faiss, who directed the roadshow. Agents of clubs in Lake Tahoe and Elko have displayed interest, he said.

No concrete offers have been made, stated Faiss, and if any are extended and accepted, many things will have to be worked out. The inquiries came as a complete surprise, he explained, and the three have already made plans for the summer. He estimated that it would take three weeks to put an act together suitable for night club audiences.

Ballinger has also agreed to record with Wayne Raney, Grand Ole Opry star, later this summer.

Creel and Faiss are comedians and Ballinger is a western guitarist. The whole troupe, including

200 to Graduate at Commencement In Early June

Commencement exercises for some two hundred graduating seniors will be held on the University of Nevada campus on June 4. This will be the 66th commencement at the University.

Dr. Minard W. Stout, university president, will confer bachelor's and advanced degrees upon candidates at ceremonies beginning at 10 a. m., Monday in the new gymnasium.

The commencement address will be given by Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education. Invocation will be the Rev. Harold Van Zee, First Presbyterian church of Elko. The Rev. Leslie A. Hudson, of the First Christian church of Reno, will deliver the benediction. The Rev. William F. Lewis, Episcopal Bishop of Nevada, will deliver the baccalaureate services at 11 a. m. on Sunday, June 3, in the new gymnasium. The invocation at the June 3 ceremony will be given by Msgr. H. J. Wientjes, St. Teresa's Catholic Church of Carson City. The Rev. J. L. Dugger, Temple Baptist Church of Sparks, will deliver the benediction.

The Honorary Board of Visitors will visit the campus on Friday, June 1, at 10 a. m., to start the four day agenda of campus events. The visitors will meet with President Stout, college deans, and view various campus facilities.

The annual Phi Kappa Phi banquet to honor graduating seniors for scholastic achievements will be held at 7 p. m., Saturday night, June 2, at Lawtons Hot Springs. Guest speaker for the banquet will be the Consul General of France in San Francisco.

Approximately thirty graduating seniors will receive commissions as second lieutenants in the Army Reserve at the ceremonies.

Of all your senses, the one it's toughest to get along with is your sense of humor. Unless you're completely satisfied with things as they are, and will be completely satisfied with any possible change, make sure you're registered to vote.

Point of view is everything. It's fine to be an early bird, but who wants to be an early worm?

Before we write a ten-year blank check to send millions overseas for a program of Foreign Aid that should have been stopped five years ago, we should have our heads examined. Time flies and so does Mr. Dulles—while our Foreign Policy just drifts. Some Republicans are objecting to the Foreign Aid program on the ground that in an election year this money should be wasted at home.

There are still those among us who either do not know, or refuse to believe that Communism is an international conspiracy. Such men are dangerous.

One of the attributes of true liberty is that it shelters differing beliefs and opinions. Soviet tactics may change; the goals of Soviet policy do not; and World domination is the major Soviet goal. It wouldn't be so bad for Ike to be only working part time, if Sherman Adams would just working over-time.

Student Union

salary for the Nevada job might reach $6,600.

At any rate, he stressed, the salary for the student union director would not be taken out of student union fees paid by the university student body.

Touching briefly on the powers of the student union board of directors, Carlson assured the members that they would have sole responsibility for decorating certain of the rooms in the building. This will be paid for out of the student fees which have already been paid and the fees which will be forthcoming starting next semester.

It was anticipated that the furnishing fund would consist of some eighteen thousand dollars by the time the building is completed and ready to move into in the Fall of 1957.

Carlson suggested that students of the summer school sessions be charged a student union fee. The fee, he reasoned, would be sanctioned by the fact that many of the students would be repeating at the university during subsequent summer sessions and would therefore enjoy the facilities of the building after it is finished. The fee, however, would not be the full five dollar fee which pertains to full time students.

His suggestion and the unofficial approval given by the board members at the meeting would of course be subject to final approval by the board of regents before any fee could be assessed.

Saturday is the most dangerous day of the week to drive.

July 16-August 3, and August 6-August 24. The worship conference will be held June 11-22.

Additional instruction is offered in Elko, Winnemucca, Ely, and Las Vegas.

Forty

The summer sessions bulletin lists forty courses in education, twelve in music, ten in history and political science, nine in school administration, five each in biology and math, four in foreign language, philosophy, and speech, three each in journalism, chemistry, business administration, and sociology, and two each in physical education, adult education, and art. Single courses are scheduled in physics, geology, economics and home economics.

Each course will carry full resident credit at the University. In general, courses are designed to meet State Certification Requirements, depending upon the individual student's need.

University credit may be earned in summer sessions at the rate not to exceed one credit per week.

Registration for the first and main sessions in Reno will be June 9 in the New Gym, 8-12 a.m. Registration at Nevada Southern will be on the Saturday preceding the first class meeting. The bulletin containing registration information and description and schedule of the courses can be obtained at the registrar's office.

Quota Limits on Sorority Pledges Adopted by Pan Hellenic Council

Pan Hellenic Council unanimously accepted a new system of pledging whereby each sorority on campus will eventually become about the same size.

The council passed the quota limitations and preferential bidding plan which will be applied to all of the sororities on campus.

According to this system, each sorority will have a set limit on the number of women they can pledge during rushing. This limit will be determined by the number of women who sign up for the rushing.

This council passed the new system with one recommendation. It reads "Should any sorority house be operating unsuccessfully financially because there is an insufficient number of girls living in the house after they have reached their quota, or limitation, of pledges, they will be given special consideration in adding enough additional pledges to correct this situation. These additional pledges must be sophomores, juniors, or seniors, and Pan Hellenic must decide and vote in any case when additional pledges are requested.

Audrey Bernard, president of Pan Hellenic, conducted the meeting which was held last week.

Editorial

Great Expectations

A recent guest editorial appearing in the Nevada Register, Nevada's official Catholic newspaper, damns American journalism quite thoroughly for its coverage of the Prince Rainier-Grace Kelly marriage in particular and its day-to-day news reporting in general. In the process of doing so, however, the writer leans heavily on something he finds undesirable in the nonsecular press—imagination.

Among other things, the editorial lacks careful and temperate thought in regard to all aspects of the issue discussed and cussed, and fair play, something which it strongly advocates but fails to display. In the final analysis, the editorial reflects only the strongest of personal prejudices and biases.

In the first instance the editor, or editors in this case, are fed up with the "hoopla" which attended the Monaco wedding and "... with the newspapermen who are trying to make a three-ring circus out of something that should be sacred and certainly dignified."

In the recollections of a young editor it seems that heads of state and royalty have always been classified as news. The Kelly in the case is a motion picture academy award winner, likewise news. Add to these conditions a wedding between the two and the fact that almost every royal family in the world was invited. Who is responsible for making this a three-ring circus in the first place?

The press is accused secondly of depriving the Prince and Grace of pleasant memories which should surround such a dignified occasion. Also in the recollections of a young editor it seems that they have over a million bucks worth of extremely pleasant memories lying around somewhere. Every "young couple" should have such memories!

As to the supposition that, if the matter were put to a vote, "... the average citizen would rule to 'give the young couple a break and the privacy to which they are entitled,'" the editor takes upon himself a lion-sized share of judgment as to just what the American reading public wants to read.

To suppose that a popular vote of the newspaper's public, in light of the varied interests of that public, would condemn the practices which the editor does not agree with is sheer folly.

Following hard on the heels of an official censorship drive toward cleaning up comic book, magazine, and novel sales on newsstands, this line of thinking appears to be an unofficial desire to dictate just what the nonsecular newspaper readers should or should not be allowed to read.

Once this censorship starts, where does it stop?

The editorial further questions "... the intelligence of most of the boys who write the nauseating details and claim that public taste clamors for the same."

Before questioning the intelligence of the writers, in this case men who are supposedly educated and trained for their jobs, it might be well to question the intelligence of the average newspaper reader. Most sources indicate, if we can mutually consider them intelligent sources, that the average mental age of the newspaper reader is supposed to be between the nine and 12-year-old level. Just what are we supposed to believe it is that these people would want? Kant and Socrates rather than modern conflict and human interest? Hardly.

One single word sticks out like a sore thumb in the Register's editorial comment. That word is "decency."

Currently there is a drive for decent literature in Nevada, and now we have a plea for decency in the press. It is highly egotistical to say the least to insinuate that one group and one group only has exclusive knowledge of a word and a virtue, and the good sense to live by it, while others do not.

The next two charges are an insult to education.

First, the editorial states: "We know reporters are sent out to get a story and have to produce something, even though the so-called facts come from pure imagination." Second, the editorial declares: "... the more we observe the less we believe in what we read and our esteem for the newspaper profession keeps going down, down, down ..."

Both of these charges touch our present schools of journalism intimately, and they are insults to the graduates and instructors of those schools.

The writer insinuates, with unmitigated gall, that the products of these schools, the graduates, are turned out to their jobs with nothing more than pure imagination as their chief working tool, and the professors, men who in most instances have dedicated their lives to the betterment of the profession, are complete failures in their efforts to raise the standards of the American press.

Which ash can received the rules of fair play, a duty which is strongly advocated by the editorial, before such a judgment was passed by self appointed judges and juries in this case?

FRIDAY WILL BE BLACK IF BOOKS NOT IN

Delinquent books must be returned to the library by Friday, May 25, announced LaMar R. Smith, loan librarian.

Fines will be placed on books returned after this date. If a person does not pay for lost or missing books checked out in his name

Smith has stated that approximately one thousand to two thousand books are now checked out of the library. Most of these are for research papers and must be returned by May 25.

Nevada "MUN" Group Elects

Joe Crook was elected president of the University Model United Nations group at a recent weekly meeting. He succeeded Gay Hansen, who led Nevada's delegates to Corvallis, Oregon this semester for the sixth annual meeting of MUN. The University of Nevada was represented for the first time at that session.

Last semester Crook acted as recording secretary. At the MUN session at Oregon State college he participated on the Social, Humanitarian and Cultural council.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Harry Gardner, vice president; Mary Lee Metzker, corresponding secretary; Dave Neco, recording secretary; Charles Fulkerson, treasurer; Harry Hussey, publicity, and Gay Hansen and Clare Foster, members at large.

Also Join Council

During the business part of the meeting the group voted to join the Collegiate Council of the United Nations. The Collegiate council, a national organization, is designed to assist interested students in learning the functioning of the United Nations.

Campus members also began the organization of the campus group in accordance with their new constitution. The constitution was ratified by the MUN organization at a previous meeting.

Plans for the forthcoming MUN session were discussed. Next year Stanford University will play host to the far western colleges and universities for the seventh meeting of the group.

Victory Heights Residents Vacate

Residents of buildings 6, 1, and 3 of Victory Heights must move no later than June 11, 1956. This notice was released recently by William D. Carlson, Dean of Student Affairs.

These three buildings will be closed in June as arranged previously. After their closure, they will be torn down.

Residents, including staff members, graduate students, and graduating seniors, are expected to move as soon after the end of the school year as possible and no later than June 11.

Residents of these buildings who will be enrolled as under-graduate students during 1956-57 are asked to see Dean Carlson if they have needs concerning re-assignment.

Buildings 7 and 8 are tentatively reserved for members of the class of 1958. Building 5 is to be for members of the class of 1957.

Any re-assignment moves must be completed before June 30, 1956.

UN Baseball Squad Drops Two To Sacramento State, 12-3, 7-6

By Bill McKenna

The University of Nevada baseball team lost both ends of a doubleheader on Tuesday to the Sacramento State Hornets. The games were played in Reno at the Threlkel field. The Wolf Pack has one series left against the San Francisco State Gators to be played tomorrow at Threlkel's field with the first game starting at 1 p. m.

Nevada started well in the first game as they scored twice in the first inning due to a hit batter, a triple by Bill DuBois, and an infield error. Sacramento came back strong, however, mainly due to wild pitching on the part of Brian Whalen who walked five men in one inning and 13 in the game, and loose fielding on the part of the Wolf Pack.

At the end of five innings the score was ten to two in favor of the Gators. The Wolves made one more tally in the sixth when Roger Trounday singled, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a sacrifice fly by Bob Ferrari. Sacramento scored twice more in the seventh to make the final score 12-3.

In the second game, left hander John Flynn scattered fifteen hits over nine innings to lose a close game, 7-6. Stan Pomin hit well for the Pack to drive in four of Nevada's six runs. Sacramento drew first blood in the fourth inning as they scored two runs. Nevada came back in their half of the fourth to score one run as Ferrari walked, stole second and third, and scored on Tom McClaskey's single.

Sacramento tallied twice in the fifth but Nevada came back to knot the score on two errors and singles by Trounday, Pomin and Ferrari. The score remained tied until the ninth inning when four hits produced three runs for the Hornets.

Nevada made a desperation attempt in the home half of the ninth when Trounday and Fred Jesser walked and Pomin doubled to score them. The next two Nevada men flied out to end the game and leave the score 7-6 in favor of Sacramento.

Journalism Prof. Given TV Set

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the department of journalism, was presented with a television set last week as a tribute for his service in the Nevada State Press Association.

The presentation was made at the annual convention of the NSPA in Elko by John Sanford, editor of the Reno Evening Gazette and part-time instructor in the journalism department.

Higginbotham, who has been secretary of the newspaper organization for the past twelve years, was nominated again for the post, but declined on his doctor's orders.

The campus undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity,

FRESHMAN IS INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Ralph Gambos, a freshman engineering student, suffered a serious back injury when his car went out of control and overturned in Elko last week. He is now being treated in the Elko General hospital.

Another student, Jack Moile, of Reno, was riding with Gamboa at the time of the accident. He told Elko police they were traveling about 80 miles per hour in Gamboa's 1956 auto when they went out of control, and skidded along a curb and struck a parked power wagon.

Gamboa was visiting his parents, who live in Elko.

Net Doubles Team 2nd in FWC Event

Nevada's doubles team of Bill Barrett and Dick McClintic reached the finals of the Far Western Conference tennis playoffs at Sacramento last weekend, but bowed to a tough twosome from San Francisco State and had to settle for the runner-up position.

McClintic and Barrett reached the finals by defeating Sacramento State's doubles team on Friday but faced perennial "toughies" Sam Lipman and Stan Altschuler on Saturday and came out on the short end of a 6-1, 6-0, 6-4 score.

In singles play, the Gators ran things to a clean sweep when Joe Dawkins monopolized the court to thump Sac State's Charles Green by one sided 6-0, 6-1, 6-2.

Rubenstein Cards Top Golf Score

Sophomore Ralph Rubenstein last weekend carded a three over par 147 in the Far Western Conference golf tournament to walk away with the individual medal championship.

The 6'2" 190-pound engineering major from Las Vegas opened play on Friday with a sizzling 70, on Sacramento's par 72 Haggins Oaks course. The following day at Bing Maloney's links, he cooled off to a 77, which was good enough for a three stroke win over his nearest competitor.

Rubenstein's total of 147 strokes for the two-day 36-hole event set a new record for the conference tournament.

The Pack finished fourth in the team standings, with a two-day total of 841 strokes. Keith Latham took 168 strokes in the event, Walt Ryals 172, Dick Bishop 174, and Steve Rucker 180.

2 Shooters Make All-America

Two Nevada riflemen, part of the team that this year won the National Intercollegiate championship and finished second nationally in the Heart Intercollegiate ROTC match, last week were named to the All-America collegiate rifle team.

Bill Rusk, who this season set new all-time highs for the Pack with a three-position average of 289.71x300 and a four-position mark of 387.59x400, was elected to the All-America first team announced by the National Rifle Association.

Teammate Terry Katzer, who led the team with a 98.83 mark in the sitting position and was second in final average only to Rusk, was named to the All-America second team.

honors with a record-smashing 765 strokes, 12 under the old record total of 777.

And this new Bobby Jones set is as handsome as they come. The irons feature an exclusive tough alloy steel with a glistening high-polish finish that lasts season after season.

Sammy Macias Named April Athlete of Month

Sammy Macias, national runner-up in the collegiate boxing tourney in April, has been named "Athlete of the Month" by the Sierra Nevada Sportswriters and Broadcasters association. The award is presented to the person who has done the most, either in or for, local sports.

A junior from Sparks, Macias lost the first fight of his collegiate career when he was decisoned by Michigan State's Choken Maekawa on the final night of the tournament. Maekawa, later that night, was named outstanding boxer of the event.

The Pack bantamweight left seven victims in his wake in 1953 while wrapping up the Pacific Coast title in the 119 pound class. Nevada was not a member of the NCAA then and Sammy was not eligible to represent this school in the nationals. The man that Macias beat in the finals in the PCI tourney did enter the nationals though, and had very little trouble winning the national championship.

Macias spent the 1954-55 seasons in the Army and claims that his career was somewhat hampered during those two years from the lack of activity.

He returned to the scene just in time to see Nevada make its bid for the big time in boxing. He waded through entries from perennial national powers such as Louisiana State University, San Jose State, Idaho State, and others, and entered the PCI tourney again undefeated. His closet fight of that event was on the final evening when he smashed his nose on the corner post. Yet he won and entered the nationals at Madison, Wisconsin, with an unmarked record.

The national loss was a tough one for Sammy, because the winner of each class is given a berth in the Olympic tryout. But he still thinks he will be in on the tryouts, through the regional amateur tournament.

On the strength of this award, Sammy is eligible for the "Athlete of the Year" award. Last year's award went to Elko's Ted Contri, another Pack boxer who went to the finals in the national tourney.

Other Nevada "Athlete of the Month" winners are Contri; All-FWC basketball guard, Dan Sullivan; All-FWC and Little All-Coast football center, Walt Ryals; basketball coach Jake Lawlor; and the coach of Nevada's national championship rifle team, Sgt. Joel Cantrel.

Macias will receive his plaque at the weekly noon luncheon on Tuesday, May 22, at the 116 Club.

Speeding on U. S. streets and highways injured 702,160 men, women and children.

Third place went to the Theta Chis with 130 points, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon took fourth with 100 points. Other places in the Kinnear race were: Lambda Chi Alpha, fifth with 67.5; Hartman hall, sixth with 66.67; Independents, seventh with 60; Lincoln hall, eighth with 25; Phi Sigma Kappa, ninth with 5; and Civil Engineers, tenth with 2.5 points.

Sports

Individual winners in sports counting toward the Kinnear trophy include: softball — ATO; cross country—Sigma Nu; volleyball — Sigma Nu; basketball—

ATO; skiing—Sigma Nu; track—ATO; bowling—Sigma Nu; baseball—tie for first place between ATO and Sigma Nu.

Theta Chi took wins in table tennis singles and badminton singles while first place in table tennis doubles and badminton doubles went to SAE. Lambda Chi won first in riflery and Lincoln hall placed first in horseshoe doubles.

Wins in handball singles and doubles went to Sigma Nu. The ATO's took additional first in horseshoe singles and tennis doubles. A three-way tie for first in the tennis singles resulted between Sigma Nu, ATO and SAE.

This week's activity in baseball ended the intermural sports program for the year.

RALPH RUBENSTEIN, University of Nevada's number one golfer from Las Vegas. He recently won medal honors at the Far Western Conference golf tournament, breaking the old record by two strokes.

Jack stalks giant in his joint

OR

WITH THESE EGGS, WHO NEEDS BACON?

There once lived a crazy, mixed-up old giant. He lived at the top of a beanstalk and he got his kicks out of a little red hen. Of course, that wasn't bad, because that chicken laid golden eggs.

Now down at the bottom of the stalk lived our boy, Jackson. Our boy was low on loot and his mother . . . man, she wasn't making it at all. The feedbag was M. T. So Jackson started thinking of a way to get loot fast: "How," said he to himself, "could I get that frantic chicken away from that character upstairs?" He looked around the hut for something to trade—How about an old piano roll? Mom's bifocals?

Uncle Looey's plectrum banjo? Wait a minute!!! In the cistern was a six-can carton of Budweiser! So he gets the Bud and sashays up the stalk. Well, citizens, there's no use dragging this Budweiser bit out: The giant buys the Bud, gives Jackson the hen, mom's doing great and so will you if you're up to date. Get Budweiser, man . . . it's the world's favorite beer!

All cisterns . . . and brotherns, too, for that matter . . . should discover that there is a difference in beers. This Budweiser . . . it is the most.
