Union Furnishings Discussed by Board

Methods of furnishing the Jot Cavis Memorial Student Union building was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of the Student Union board of directors Wednesday night.

To date, an estimated $14,000 has been collected from the students for the purpose of furnishing the new building and operating the union and several plans have been considered.

Gambling solicitations, a method considered last year, will have to meet the approval of the Travis Board, Don Travis, student union president, told members at the meeting.

Two other methods under study are those of contacting various alumni groups throughout the state and financing a student entertainment group to tour the state and perform before adult audiences.

The possibility exists that perhaps an ASUN sponsored entertainment group, scheduled to tour the state in the latter part of the school year, may provide the shows in addition to regularly scheduled high school performances.

The estimated cost of furnishing the building is seventy thousand dollars.

Furnish Own Offices

Travis also made the suggestion that various organizations who will be allotted space in the new building be asked to furnish their own offices. Such organizations as Associated Women Students, Associated Students of the University of Nevada, the campus YMCA, and even the university itself, concerning the Student Union director's office, will be asked to provide their own furniture.

Prior to regular business discussions, president Travis introduced the new faculty members of the board who are Prof. John Fisher, head of the department of Agricultural Economics, senior faculty board member, and Dr. Burton Newberry, assistant professor of Education.

A progress report was given on the construction of the building and it was learned that the building was expected to be completed 90 days after construction began, but in view of the recent steel strike, the contractor had been given additional time. The structure should be completed sometime in August of 1957.

Nominations were opened for new members needed to fill vacancies on the board of directors.

Nominations

Nominated to fill the vacant positions were: from the College of Agriculture, Donna Holstein and Ed Piper; College of Education, Marilyn Feathers and Maria Anastassatos; from the College of Engineering, Don Stewart and John North; from the Mackay School of Mines, Dick Deleissegues; from the university-at-large, Gay Hansen, John Ingram, Hank Rilling, and Mike Dewess; and from the new College of Business, Harvey Gordon, Ed Olsen, Dennis Smith, and Spiros Anastassatos.

One member will be elected from each of the several colleges, excepting the College of Business which will secure two representatives, and three members will be selected from the university-at-large. Nominations are still open in all of the groups.

Travis instructed that a letter be sent to the Commerce Club, supposedly representative of the new College of Business, informing the club of the openings on the board.

A brief item of business concerned the Region II Board of the Association of College Unions meeting which will take place soon at the University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.

The regional meeting, which features workshops and discussions pertinent to student union buildings and their operation, hosts representatives from Montana, Nevada, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California (from San Jose north), Alaska, Hawaii, and the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia.

A delegate from Nevada was not selected, but one will be sent.

Dick Bryan was approved by the board as the student member of the student union finance control board, and Jim Joyce received approval as official student reporter of student union affairs.

Alumni Offers Campus Jobs

With $5,000 pledged and hopes for adding $10,000 more by spring, the University of Nevada Alumni Association now offers on-campus jobs for students.

Any regular student, man or woman, carrying at least 11 credit hours per semester is eligible. A typical job will be renumbering the stadium seats. An hourly rate of $1 will be paid.

William D. Parish, Alumni president, stresses that the fund is not just for the members of the athletic teams, but for all deserving students. He said, however, that it is presumed many of the jobs will go to athletes who want to work their way through college. The fund is in accordance with the rules of the Far Western Conference to which Nevada belongs.

The money collected by the Alumni is turned over to the Comptroller of the University of Nevada.

Fashion Show Labeled Success

"Fashion show goes down as huge success!" Barbara Cavanaugh, AWS President, said this week. "Special thanks goes to Joseph Magnin for their wonderful cooperation."

The annual Associated Women Students fashion show, which was held last Saturday afternoon at a downtown theatre restaurant, was attended by 250 people.

The AWS Council has estimated that there was a profit of seventy-five dollars, most of which will go toward the scholarship fund.

Over-all chairman of the show was Gay Hansen. Katherine Christensen was the publicity chairman, and Mary Lee Metzker was the fashion coordinator. Toni De Reynier was in charge of the models, while Nedra Norton was the chairman over the judges. These committees all worked with Barbara Cavanaugh and Joan Sawle, top AWS officials.

Model

The models appeared in three scenes: "Class and After-Classroom," "Dorm and Leisure Wear," and "Formal and After Five."

Models were Shelley Branch, Sandra Nickell, Wuanita Combs, Jay Powell, Connie Long, Cynthia Roberson, Carolyn Guth, Jan Chiatovich and Toni De Reynier. Winning clothes were chosen from each section. Jan Chiatovich's attire won the first scene, Shelley

Branch's and Cynthia Robertson's tied in the second, and Sandra Nickell's was the winner of the last scene.

Judges were the presidents of the fraternity houses, Bob Scott, Alpha Tau Omega; Gary Brock, Lambda Chi Alpha; Tom Richardson, Phi Sigma Kappa; Bill Kearney, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Chuck Smith, who replaced Bob Jones, Sigma Nu; Dale Burt, Theta Chi; Ron Schoenholzer, Lincoln hall, and Chuck Coyle, ASUN President.

"Much credit should go to Joan Sawle who played the piano throughout the fashion parade and to Beverly Ricketts who sang two numbers during the intermission," said Miss Cavanaugh.

Stagehands

Stagehands Joe Crook, Chris Cufflin and Bill Eddelman did the background work for the show.

Honored guests were Mrs. Minard Stout, honorary AWS member; Miss Elaine Mobley, Dean of Women; Trinie Erquiaga, secretary to the Graduate Manager; Maureen Sadler, secretary to Dean of the Women; Barbara Cavanaugh, AWS president, and Joan Sawle, AWS vice president.

Recently elected songleaders will appear officially at the San Francisco State football game at Mackay Stadium tomorrow night.

Fifteen Appointed To Committees

Fifteen students were appointed to committee posts at this week's senate meeting by Chuck Coyle, president of the Associated Students.

To head the cheering squad this year is Simmie Cooper.

Squad members are Suzi Kuypers, Honor Settlemeyer, Cathy Zimmermann, Nora Kellogg, Carol Gardenswartz and Don Rasmussen.

Marilyn Feathers was appointed as ASUN Historian, with Edith Widner as her assistant.

The new Men's Upperclass Chairman is Braden Staubs.

Nominating

Josie Aufdermaur, Christina Peschal and John Ingram are the new members of the ASUN Nominating Committee.

Senators-at-large Kathy Warner, Margie Orr and Bob Faiss, who were elected last spring, have started carrying out their official duties.

A new idea brought out at Leadership conference was that of a student court. A committee has been appointed to look into the possibility of establishing one here. Steve Dollinger is the chairman, Pat Cordes as his secretary. Members are Joanne Barker, Gayle Sommers, John Darrah and Dick Deleissegues.

In charge of the publicity for ASUN are Myram Borders and Bob Faiss.

Invite Issued to Reno Women

An invitation has been issued to women students at the University of Nevada who reside in the Reno area to participate in sports and social activities in conjunction with the women of Artemisia hall, a spokesman for the dormitory announced Wednesday night.

In the past, women who are residents in the Reno area have been without this official means of participation in such university affairs.

The charge for each person who wishes to accept this invitation will be $1.00 and the arrangements will be only a temporary one, lasting only until after Homecoming.

At present, the constitution of the Artemisia-Manzanita association does not provide for the outside participation, but an investigation committee has been appointed to decide whether the temporary arrangement should be definitely terminated at Homecoming or if a constitutional change would be advantageous to both the association and the unaffiliated resident students.

New officers were elected by the association to fill positions left vacant by women who have pledged sororities.

Selected were Janice Rowntree, secretary; Carol Stever, publicity chairman, and Margaret Williams, assistant treasurer.

Continuing officers are: Jacqueline Hunt, president; Marilyn Feathers, vice-president; Edith Widner, treasurer; John Tobler, sports director; Bonnie Stewart, AWS representative; Chris Peschel, senator.

EVENING BUSINESS COURSES OFFERED

Registration for evening division classes in the College of Business Administration is still open. Dr. Robert G. Weems, dean, reported

AWS Opens Office In Union Building

A new office for the Associated Women Students has been opened in the Student Union building. Barbara Cavanaugh, President of AWS, has announced that the office will be open every afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock for the convenience of women students.

AWS cards can be obtained there, as well as information about women students. The two main projects being worked on by the council are the ASUN Fashion Show, set for Sept. 22, and the two class in accounting, two in business, one in insurance and one in economics are being offered.

In addition to the local evening classes, courses are also being offered through the University's Correspondence Study department.

Pep Club Lists 3 Requirements

Requirements for membership in the YWCA Pep Club are only three: (1) Be a woman. (2) Wear a dark skirt and white top. (3) Go to the game and sit with the rest of the women in reserved seats on the 50-yard line.

Northern California-Nevada State meet, to be held in early November.

At an informal meeting last week, presided over by Joan Sawle, Vice President of AWS, it was decided that the council meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. The corresponding secretary and the recording secretary will be elected at the next meeting. An editor, who will handle the publicity for the AWS council, will also be appointed at that time.

The idea of the organization is to establish a tradition of Freshmen women forming the nucleus of an enthusiastic cheering section for the cheer leaders and song leaders to work with at all of the home games.

There is no red tape to joining or belonging. Upper class women are welcome as well as freshmen.

There is no obligation to join the YWCA, and it is not necessary to sign up before the game, but there is a list in the Y room, basement of Stewart Hall, and the first 100 signers will receive free pom-poms.

There will be a meeting announced to elect a president, vice president and secretary-treasurer and to distribute pom-poms.

Campus Writers Hold Workshop

Brushfire, the University of Nevada literary magazine, will hold an open meeting Tuesday, October 2 at 7:30 p.m. at 2734 South Virginia.

Although it is not necessary to attend meetings to contribute material to Brushfire these informal meetings act as workshop sessions in which an interested student can have his work appraised and discussed by other students.

Any student who finds it impossible to attend the meetings and who wishes to submit any fiction, essay, humor, poetry, or art work may do so by either sending it to "Brushfire" care of the English Department, University of Nevada or by leaving it at the Brushfire box in the English office.

Early Publication

This year, in order that Brushfire may have an earlier publication date, November 21 has been set as an initial deadline for submitting material.

STUCK FOR MONEY? DO A

Stickler!

STICKLERS ARE TICKLERS and a mighty soft way to make money! Just write down a simple riddle and a two-word rhyming answer. For example: What's a ball player who gets a raise? (Answer: richer pitcher.) Note: both words must have the same number of syllables—bleak freak, jolly dolly, vinery finery. Send your Sticklers, with your name, address, college, and class, to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Don't do drawings! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we use in our advertising—and for hundreds that never see print. And remember—you're bound to Stickle better when you're enjoying a Lucky, because Luckies taste better. Luckies' mild, good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. New, More Liberal "Late" Hours Extended to UN Women Students

As a result of new and more liberal "late" hours, adopted last spring, women students are staying out later than ever before.

The four sorority houses and the Artemisia-Manzanita association have been notified officially by the Dean of Women, Elaine Tobley, about the change in regulations from last year.

Barbara Cavanaugh, president of the Associated Women Students, said that the new hours, brought about by AWS, are on a trial basis.

"If the girls abuse their new privileges by constantly being late, the present liberal system will be revoked, and we will return to the old set of hours," Cavanaugh stated.

Freshmen women now must be out at 11 p.m. on Sunday, an hour later than previously. They must also be in by 10 p.m. on week-nights, except for one 11 p.m. night of their choice. Friday and Saturday late hours are 12 midnight and 1 a.m. respectively. Freshmen are allowed to stay out until 1 a.m. on approved dance nights.

Sophomore women are also allowed an 11 p.m. time limit on Sunday night. This is a change from the 10 p.m. of last year. They have a choice of two 11 o'clocks on week nights, with the remainder set at 10 p.m. Friday night is now 12:30 a.m., instead of midnight. For sophomores, approved dance nights and Saturday nights remain at 1 a.m.

Junior students are allowed to stay out until 11 p.m. every week night and Sunday. Friday, the deadline is set at 1 a.m., while approved dance nights and Saturday nights must end at 2 a.m.

The women of the senior class gained an hour on Sunday when the hours were changed from 11 p.m. to 12 midnight. All week nights are limited to 11 p.m. On Friday, seniors must be in at 1 a.m. Approved dance nights and Saturday nights, seniors must be in by 2 a.m.

Activities Parade Termed Success

For the first time in many years, the Activity Parade was held in conjunction with the annual Hello-on-the-Hill dance.

"The new students liked the exhibits and most of the organizations reported a good turnout," said Larry Ball, this year's student chairman of the event.

Participating clubs were: Aggie club, Associated Engineers, Band, Blue Key, Campus Players, Chemistry club, Civil Engineers, Forensic Key, Future Teachers of America, Electrical Engineers, Eta Epsilon, Mechanical Engineers, Model United Nations, Newman club, P.E.M.'s, Phi Alpha Theta, Press club, Rifle club, Saddle and Spurs, Sagens, Artemisia, Ski club, Sundowners, W.R.A., Young Democrats, Young Republicans, Sagebrush, Sigma Delta Chi and YWCA.

MAN, BLOW YOUR WAY TO CHICO

Would you like to blow your way to Chico for the football game there next month?

Woodwind, trombone, and horn players are welcome to join the University band before it plays at Chico October 13. Prof. Felton Hickman, director of the band, stresses that the percussion section is full, but that there is room for other instruments.

No deadline has been set for persons wanting to get into the band. But Professor Hickman states that new members should join the group in time to learn the marching formations, get uniforms, and be familiar with other band procedures before the trip to Chico.

Press Club Hears Advertising Man

Many opportunities in public relations and advertising were stressed in a talk by Norman S. Yoffie at the first University of Nevada Press club meeting of the year Tuesday.

Mr. Yoffie is Director of Public Relations, Research and Promotion of the Donald W. Reynolds interests in Nevada. This includes KOLO, KOLO-TV, and other newspaper, radio, and television investments throughout the state.

He explained public relations problems in the movement of KOLO-TV transmitter from downtown Reno to the top of Slide Mountain.

150 Tickets Given By Traffic Police In First Week

Over 150 parking tickets were issued to students and faculty members as the enforcement of campus parking regulations went into full swing this week.

Student and faculty autos came under close scrutiny by the university police as each auto arriving on campus was checked for parking permits. The permits are mandatory for all those who wish to drive on campus, stated Robert Poolman, university engineer.

The parking permits are divided into four categories and are lettered A, B, C, D. Corresponding portions of the university campus have been designated for parking by each group.

Pinch

This week an all-out drive has been conducted by the campus police officers to make sure that everyone connected with the university is aware of the various penalties connected with illegal parking. For the first offense a fine of one dollar is assessed. The second offense costs two dollars, and five dollars is assessed for the third offense. Anyone violating the parking code more than three times is liable to have his car towed away and will not be permitted to drive on campus.

Students and faculty may obtain parking permits free of charge at the university engineer's office, third floor of Norrill hall.

Zone A is an unassigned zone, in which all registered student cars may park. Zone B is for faculty and staff cars. Zone B vehicles may park in Zone A if Zone B is filled.

Zone C is reserved for specific individual vehicles. Zone D is for 24-hour parking, as at Lincoln hall.

In addition there is a Zone E, in which cars may park for five minutes. Off-campus cars may park for 15 minutes.

Speed limit on the campus is set at 15 miles an hour.

Appeal on citations may be made to the University Traffic committee, of five men under the chairmanship of Poolman.

An Honest Buck

Financial aid to students, deserving students, has long been practiced in the form of scholarships, grants-in-aid, etc., but as soon as a football player receives money on a college campus, or too many out-of-state men report for practice, there arise misgivings that financed football or football recruiting has once again returned.

There is another answer, however.

A fund has been established at the University of Nevada this year by the Alumni association which provides jobs for students attending the university, and by this we mean all the students may apply for the jobs.

The fund, which at the present is quite small, supplements funds in the university comptroller's office and presently provides for twenty jobs. The pay is $75 a month, and the recipient works 75 hours a month for $1 an hour. This plan is strictly adhered to.

In the words of Art Broten, director of athletics at the University of Nevada, this is "Honest work for honest pay" and is perfectly in harmony with rules which govern athletic contests within the Far West Conference.

Most of the other schools in the conference operate under the same system, only on bigger budgets, and in accordance with the rules.

Here on the Nevada campus, however, things are somewhat different. The budget itself is smaller, and by employing a full time buildings and grounds staff here, many jobs ordinarily open to athletes and other students on other campuses are closed to Nevada students.

In this event, jobs are being found in various departments, such as the chemical, mathematic, agricultural, military, and others, where there are jobs that need to be done and where the student may have a chance to work in accordance to his interests.

As only twenty jobs are available, only twenty students are employed. Others are found jobs downtown, where conference rules have no jurisdiction.

It has been brought to the attention of the Sagebrush that 50 per cent of the entire Nevada football roster is made up of out-of-state men.

The point has been stressed by director of athletics Broten that an effort is made first and foremost yearly to interest Nevada athletes to attend the university. Transfers from California junior colleges are almost imperative, however, in order to lend strength to Nevada teams.

Many of the fine Nevada athletes do come to this university, but those who do not can not be dragged.

In any event, a $1 an hour for honest work can hardly be construed as "football recruiting."

Complete time sheets are kept on each of the men working under the new system and they are turned into the comptroller where they are computed. If the student has not worked the full 75 hours a month, he is dropped from the program or must pay the difference back to the fund.

Nothing is hidden or below board in this program, it is entirely within compliance of FWC rules, and is completely open to public inspection.

Any hint at recruiting practices is absurd. Furnishing a man with a job, a commodity which is certainly not unique on college campuses, can hardly be compared to supplying him with a $1,000 scholarship, au gratis.

The football player earns his just reward on the field, and on this campus, he earns his money by working for it, not playing for it.

FROSH NOMINATION DEADLINE PASSES

Today was the deadline for nominations for Freshman class president. Nominations were to have been submitted to ASUN President Chuck Coyle for the primary election to be held Friday, October 12.

Election board chairman Bob Hemphill announced that the general election would be carried out the following Thursday.

A Homecoming queen will be elected Thursday, October 25.

By Diane Martin

Leadership Conference is long since past. Registration has come and gone. Sorority and fraternity pledging is dead news. Three dances and two rallies are water under the bridge. The Sundowners have already had two revival meetings.

Finally the Sagebrush appears!

And with the first edition, comes a semi-substitute for a firmly-established standby—"Dirty Bits"—by Our Friend Mitts.

But everyone knows that the conversation across the sorority dinner table is not that of the Suez crisis . . . and the topics in the showers at the fraternity houses are not those of Alan Bible's chances in November (or at least so we're told) . . .

The most interesting subject for most people is other people . . . and thus we have gossip . . . and furthermore, thus we have gossip columns . . . so here's this year's contribution to posterity . . .

AWS Completes Sister Program

Freshmen women were assisted in a new way for the first time this year as the Associated Women Students completed a trial run of an introductory "big and little sister" program.

To help freshmen women in both the curricular and social aspects of college life, upperclass women students were assigned little sisters from registration applications during the summer. This type of plan has been used in many colleges and universities all over the United States in order to give the freshmen a greater feeling of "knowing and belonging."

Barbara Cavanaugh, AWS President, stated: "The fact that a few freshmen girls were not assigned big sisters was due to the 'newness' of the plan and to late registration. However, the big and little sister program was a success under the chairmanship of Donn Holstein, and will probably be in effect again next year."

In a report submitted to the AWS Council Tuesday, Donna Holstein announced the results of tabulations on the "little" sisters who went through rushing. There was some question as to whether the new program would influence rushing or not. The results show that there was no marked influence since the number of "little" sisters who pledged their "big" sister sorority was fairly equal: Pi Beta Phi, four; Gamma Phi Beta, three; Kappa Alpha Theta, four; Delta Delta Delta, five.

The council is already engaged in plans for next year's program which will be run on a much bigger basis.

60 Requests Are Considered by Traffic Committee

Persons with official duties requiring urgent or frequent use of cars on campus have been assigned C parking spaces. This was the latest action taken by the University of Nevada traffic committee.

The committee members are the chairman, Robert C. Poolman, university engineer, William D. Carlson, dean of student affairs, Carl W. Backman, assistant professor of sociology, Charles Breese, assistant professor of civil engineering, and Bill Devereux, student representative.

Also present were Fred Paszek and Norman Bryant, highway patrolmen assigned to the university.

Over 60 requests for reassignment of parking areas were before the committee. Out of this number only the persons who showed great need for the spaces were approved.

Parking space for students is set for A zones. The A areas are north of Lincoln hall, the infirmary and the old gymnasium. Parking is limited from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Staff B zones are located across from the Education building, east of Mackay Mines, behind Mackay Science, in front of Stewart art hall, and across from the Library. C parking is reserved stalls. D parking is 24 hour parking behind Lincoln hall.

To enter the campus a sticker must be shown on the right windshield of the car. Only bona fide visitors are exempt from this rule.

Students may use the visitor and B zones in the evening. No parking will be permitted at any time in red zones.

Ninety-Two Women Pledge Greeks Friday in Rushing Week Climax

Ninety-two women were pledged by the four sororities last Friday night to climax a busy week of rushing. Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Alpha Theta pledged 25 each, while Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Phi Beta tied with 21 pledges.

This year's rushing was handled under a new "quota system" which restricts the number of pledges each sorority can bid. Before rushing started, Pan-Hellenic council met and decided that of the 140 women rushing, 100 would win or accept bids. This number was divided in four parts, a part for each house. The quota this year was 25.

The system is designed to equalize the membership eventually in order to provide fairer competition among the living groups.

U of N Community Symphony Holds 1st Rehearsal Under New Conductor

First Fall rehearsal of the University of Nevada Community Symphony was held last Tuesday evening under the direction of newly-appointed conductor Rodney Mercado.

Nationally known as a violin soloist and symphony conductor, Mercado comes from Baltimore, Md., where he founded and led the Morgan State College symphony, and specialized in organizing and developing orchestras.

Initial performances by the community symphony will be in conjunction with the University Symphonic choir, which is under the direction of Dr. W. Keith Macy, head of the university music department.

Two concerts are scheduled for this season. The first will be an Armistice Day program on November 11. That program will include "Glory" by Rimsky-Korsakov, the "Thanksgiving for Victory" by Ralph Vaughn Williams, and the "Requiem" by Brahms.

The Messiah

The second presentation will be "The Messiah" on December 10.

SWIMMING CLUB PLANS ACTIVE YEAR

Ed Curnow, president of Pan-wallis, co-ed swimming club, has announced that the club will be active again this year with meetings to be held at the YWCA and Moana pools. The club is open to any student interested.

Competitive and synchronized swimming will be stressed and an aquacade will be held in the spring.

Sheila Taylor, secretary, said any student wishing to join Pan-wallis may contact Miss Barbara Lane, Advisor, at the women's Physical Education department.

This has been a traditional Christmas presentation by the university group.

Dates and programs for other performances of the choir throughout the year have not yet been announced.

Mercado's career as a violinist began at the age of three. As a youngster, he was a soloist on national radio networks and played for several major motion picture industries in Los Angeles.

His first duties in the capacity of symphony conductor at the university's music department began Tuesday with the rehearsal.

“Fact is, you never got so much for your money as you do today when you say, ‘Fill her up!’”

In 1956 it costs Union Oil 250% more than it did in 1936 to build the kind of service station Charles and Myrtle Santman operate in La Canada, California.

Yet in spite of continually rising costs like this we have been able to keep prices down, while constantly expanding our service and improving our product.

We have accomplished this by plowing profits back into better facilities, by research, by eliminating waste and improving efficiency.

We have had to do this to meet the competition of the many other oil companies serving your needs.

400 Veterans Registered Here

More than four hundred veterans have registered here this fall under Public Law 346 and Public Law 550. This information was made public by Sam M. Basta, counselor in the office of student affairs and coordinator of veterans affairs on campus.

The arrival of subsistence checks, and Marie McDonough, social. Walt McKenzie will photograph student activities on the campus.

The new index, which will be in the charge of Elaine Zeitleman, assistant editor, will indicate where to find the picture of any individual appearing in the book, whether in individual or group pictures.

All campus organizations have been asked to contact the Artemisia editor to make arrangements for group pictures.

All students who signed up for work on the Artemisia at the Activities Parade will be contacted by staff members.

Basta explained, is the chief concern of all veterans at this time. A voucher must be signed in the office of student affairs before the 10th of each month in order to be eligible for payment. Since registration was not until the 10th of September, payments for September and October will be made on the 20th of November. All additional checks will arrive on the 20th of each month for the preceding month of attendance.

Nevada Drops Opener to Idaho But Shows Promise of Good Team

By Bob Brown

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack opened its 1956 football season last Saturday by dropping a 20-6 decision to the powerful Idaho State Bengals.

The Idaho State team displayed a powerful running game and the ability to capitalize upon Nevada fumbles and penalties.

Nevada mentor Gordon McEachron said, "Idaho State was as tough a team as we will meet this year." Coach McEachron noted team spirit was high in spite of the defeat and he felt sure that the players would give a good account of themselves in the future.

McEachron noted the outstanding play of several of the reserves citing freshman tackle Bill Finney, of Gardena, Cali., as particularly outstanding, and added that he might have earned himself a starting berth. Also praised were sophomore quarterback Jerry Nicholson, who engineered several good drives, and halfback Frank Brainard, who showed promise.

Fumble

Idaho State's first touchdown came as the result of a Nevada fumble on the second play of the game which the Bengals grabbed on the Nevada 20-yard line.

Art Bushnell scored the touchdown, and Bob Fails converted to put Idaho State ahead 7-0.

Nevada retaliated with a drive deep into Idaho State territory, only to have a possible scoring threat erased by a clipping penalty.

Nevada's score came on the last play of the second quarter when halfback Bill Bowser intercepted an Idaho State pass and ran it back 68 yards for a score. Nevada missed the conversion. At half-time, Idaho State led 7-6.

Leahy Predicts

Early in the third period, Nevada again moved deep into Idaho State territory. Spearheaded by sophomore quarterback Jerry Nicholson, the Wolf Pack reached the Idaho State 17. But once again a clipping penalty halted the Wolf Pack drive.

Idaho State drove 73 yards in 11 plays for its second touchdown, George Di Orto carrying the final 15 yards. Fails converted, and Idaho State led 13-6.

The Bengals made their final touchdown shortly afterwards, driving 75 yards, with George Kom plunging the final two yards.

Pep Rally Opens FWC Schedule

A kick-off rally for the first Far Western Conference football game with San Francisco State tomorrow night was held Wednesday evening at Mackay stadium.

Introduction of the 1956 varsity by coach Gordon McEachron was followed by a scrimmage between the Blue and White teams.

The recently elected song leaders rode bicycles into the stadium doing a take-off on restricted parking zones. Simmie Cooper, head cheerleader, introduced the song-leaders to the student body.

Those introduced were Marilyn Ferrari, head songleader, and her assistants Versiellen Tberle, Barbara Heward, Selda Kay Hicks, Theresa Mariani and Sharon Teglia.

"See ya later, Frisco gator," was the chant of the cheerleaders as they appeared in a buggy drawn by six rally committee men wearing alligator masks. The cheerleaders led pep yells. Then Hank Rilling and Don Rasmussen sang a modern version of "The Three Bears."

Bill Eddelman, rally committee chairman, made arrangements for the rally. He stressed the importance of wearing white to all games and rallies.

Nevada Pack Faces 'Frisco Gators In First Conference Tilt Tomorrow

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack meets the San Francisco State Golden Gators in the first Far Western conference game Saturday night. This will be the second game of the season for both schools. Nevada dropped its opener last week to the powerful Idaho State Bengals, by a score of 20-6. The Gators also lost their opener to Cal Poly by the score of 25-7.

San Francisco will bring a veteran team to Reno for Saturday's game. The entire Gator starting line-up are lettermen. They are led by fullback Bob Rodrigo, 195-pound Little All-Coast selection of last season. Anchoring their forward wall will be Floyd Peters, 215-pound tackle, who made the first team Little All-Coast in both his freshman and sophomore years.

Manuel Perry, 165-pound quarterback is regarded by Gator coach, Joe Verducci, as the best running quarterback produced by the Gators in several years. He ran 60 yards for San Francisco's touchdown against Cal Poly last week. He also connected on eight of 13 passes for 81 yards.

Drill, Drill, Drill

Wolf Pack drills this week stressed defensive patterns and pass receiving according to Coach Gordon McEachron. McEachron pointed out that at least five passes were dropped by the receivers. Attention will also be given to preventing repetition of costly penalties incurred by Nevada against Idaho State.

There will be several changes in the Wolf Pack's starting lineup. McEachron stated. Bill Finney, 240-pound frosh tackle from Gardena, California, will start at right tackle. Finney turned in an impressive performance at Idaho State last week-end.

Jerry Nicholson, 170-pound sophomore will get the nod at quarterback this week. Nicholson engineered several sustained drives against Idaho State, as well as making a good showing on defense. Nicholson is a transfer student from El Camino JC.

O'Neil Sanders will start at left half against the Gators. Sanders is a former All-State fullback from Douglas high school. He spent a year at the University of Oregon before entering service. He reported to practice two weeks late, but according to McEachron has looked very good.

Halfback George Smith, a tackle Marv Baker both suffered minor head injuries in the Idaho State game, but should be ready to see action in this Saturday's game.

The game will be at Mackay stadium. Game time is 8:00 p. m. Tentative starting line-up for the Wolf Pack is:

LE	Wally Rusk	21
LT	Dave Adams	21
LG	Joe Viana	19

RT	Bill Finney	24

The award is given to the organization earning the largest number of points during competition. Points are awarded as follows: football, 100; basketball, 75; cross country, 50; skiing, 40; track, 30; and baseball, 20. First place receives 100 points and second place receives 60 points. Third, fourth and fifth places receive 40, 20, and ten points respectively. The minor sports in the league offer 10, 5, and 2 points for first, second, and third place, respectively. The trophy has been won by the ATO's 13 times, the Sign Nu's five times, and the Lambda Chi's twice.

Rules of the program state that a person who has earned a letter in any sport can not participate in the league in that sport.

Nevada Is Selected Host of 156 FWC Holiday Tournament

Selection of the University of Nevada as host for the annual Far Western Basketball Tournament was announced last week.

The tournament will be on December 27, 28, and 29 in the University of Nevada gym, according to G. A. (Art) Broten, Director of Health, Physical Education, and Athletics.

Competing teams will include Nevada and Humboldt State, who were Far Western conference co-champions last season. The other participants will include conference members Chico State, Sacramento State, San Francisco State, and the Cal Aggies.

Inter Conference

For the first time this season the conference officials have decided to invite two teams from outside the league, making an eight-school tournament.

The two "outside" schools to participate in the tournament are Willamette University and Whittier College.

Willamette, located in Salem, Oregon, is a member of the Pacific Northwest conference. Last season they won 10 and lost 15.

Whittier College of Whittier, California, is a member of the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic circuit and held a 15-15 record last season.

First and Largest

This intercollegiate tournament will be the first of its kind since the late 40's, when Nevada hosted a four team invitational tournament. With the addition of Willamette and Whittier, it will be the biggest of its kind in Far Western conference history.

University officials are making long-range plans to make it a stand-out affair in all departments—attendance, hospitality, administration and spectator appeal.

Fourteen Sports Will Be Offered In Frat Program

More than fourteen sports are offered to the male student in the University of Nevada inter-fraternity athletic program this year. The program started September 18 with teams organized from each fraternity and several independent groups. Sports offered this year include softball, cross country, bowling, table tennis, badminton, volleyball, basketball, riflery, skiing, track, baseball, handball, tennis, and horseshoes.

The Kinnear Trophy will be one of the main goals of the program.

The trophy is awarded to the fraternity winning the most points in the inter-fraternity athletic competition. The point standings for last year are as follows: first place, ATO, 496.67; second place, Sigma Nu, 486.67; third place, Theta Chi, 130; fourth place, SAE, 100; fifth place, Lambda Chi Alpha, 67.50; sixth place, Hartman Hall, 66.67; seventh place, the Independents, 60.

This prize was originated in 1933 by the late John C. Kinnear, who was then superintendent of the Kennecott Copper Corporation. It was donated to promote intramural sports at the University of Nevada.

In 1950 the trophy was lost or stolen. Popular rumor has it that the trophy was "thrown in Manzanita lake." Another theory is that it is in the possession of certain alumni. In any event, John Kinnear donated a duplicate of the trophy in 1952.

The Kinnear Trophy has become one of the most prized possessions a fraternity can claim. The ATO's have won it 13 times. The Sigma Nu's have won it five times and the Lambda Chi's twice.

BARBARA LANE TO TEACH WOMEN'S PE

Miss Barbara Jane Lane has been added to the staff of the women's physical education department, said Dr. Ruth Russell of the department.

Miss Lane came to the university from Texas State Teachers' College and formerly taught at Barnard college at Columbia university.

A specialist in adaptive physical education, she is forming a class especially for students who have structural difficulties. The course, for both men and women, will include instruction in proper carriage, walking, general conditioning, and emphasize all the physical aspects of poise and charm.

Inter Frat Ball Winds-up Today

Softball competition among fraternities at the University of Nevada ended today. Wednesday Alpha Tau Omega was ahead with three wins and no losses.

Sigma Nu and Hartman hall were tied for second place with three wins and one loss each. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was in third place with one win and two losses. Lambda Chi Alpha and Theta Chi were at the bottom of the league with three losses apiece.

The ATOs and the Sigma Nus were represented by large rooting sections at their game last week, as softball is one of the major sports in the intramural program this year. First place will receive 100 points. Second place will receive 80 points, while third, fourth and fifth places will receive 60, 40 and 20 points.

At the end of the year points are counted for all sports and the organization with the most points will win grand prize, the Kinnear Trophy.

Katzer, UN Rifle Expert, Captures First Place in Nation

Best collegiate rifleman in the United States is University of Nevada student Terry L. Katzer.

Katzer emerged victorious over fifty of the top ROTC marksmen from universities and colleges all over the United States in the National Trophy Individual (Collegiate) Rifle match. The competition was held at Camp Perry from August 24 until September 8.

Katzer, using the standard service rifle, the Garand 30 calibre, fired a score of 236 out of a possible 250.

Mills Fires

Dick Mills, who took top firing honors at the summer camp meet, was unable to match Terry Katzer at Camp Perry. Mills won the Fort Lewis, Washington summer camp match with a score of 241 out of a possible 250.

Katzer, a consistent high scorer in national rifle matches, was awarded a miniature of the Hearst trophy last year by William Randolph Hearst for the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice. He won this honor by shooting 235 out of a possible 250 with 20 volleys.

Both Mills and Katzer are senior students at the university and will be commissioned 2nd lieutenants in the U. S. Army upon graduation in 1957.

UN BUILDING ACTIVITY GREATEST IN HISTORY

The University of Nevada is now engaged in the most concentrated building activity in its 82-year history.

Upon completion of the current phase of building the university will have spent more than three and one-third million dollars. In terms of dollars spent the three new buildings under construction will be worth more than all the old buildings now on campus.

The largest of these will be the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture building, which, along with the Sarah Hamilton Fleischmann School of Home Economics, will be built with a 2.5 million gift from the Fleischmann Foundation of Nevada. These buildings will provide a combined area of some 115,000 feet, and include classrooms, laboratories, library, and administrative offices. The structure will also house the Agriculture Extension Service and Agriculture Experiment Station.

Student Union

The second building now under construction is the Jot Travis Memorial Student Union building which will serve as a center of student activities, and will contain more than 16,000 square feet of space. Housed in the new building will be the offices of the president of the student body, meeting rooms of the student senate and a recreation area including a lounge, a ballroom, and a snack bar. The student union will be situated on the north shore of Manzanita Lake.

The third is a new classroom building. This structure will contain 22,800 square feet, enough for 17 spacious classrooms. It will also house the registrar, the dean of student affairs, dean of women and the new College of Business Administration.

New RO Students Sign Loyalty Oath

A loyalty oath without qualification has been signed by all the new students enrolled in ROTC, it was announced by Lt. Col. Robert L. Bereuter, head of the Military department.

The Department of Army requires all students enrolling in ROTC to sign the oath. It reads: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign or domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; and that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; so help me God."

This year's enrollment in ROTC classes is up fifteen per cent over a comparable period last year. Colonel Bereuter said this year's enrollment is five hundred and nine.

Of the number, four hundred and thirtyeight are registered in the Basic course, the first two years, and seventy one in the voluntary Advanced course.

On completion of the Advanced course the student will be entitled to a commission in the Army Reserve as a second Lieutenant upon graduation from the university.

Southern Building Bid Opening Set By Plan. Board

Bid opening on the first classroom building for the Nevada Southern campus has been set for Oct. 19 in Las Vegas by the State Planning Board.

Planning Board members will open bids in the conference room of the Nevada State Office Building, 216 East Bonanza Rd. Walter Zick and Harris Sharp, American Institute of Architects of Las Vegas, have designed the new structure.

Construction of the new building was made possible by a $200,000 appropriation of the 1955 legislature, and ground-breaking ceremonies were held last Spring at the site of Nevada Southern—the University of Nevada's regional branch—on Maryland Parkway in Paradise Valley.

CURIOSITY CAPSIZES ASSISTANT PSYC. PROF.

The professional curiosity of psychologist Dr. Willard Day sticks out like a sore thumb today.

Dr. Day, assistant professor of psychology, was eavesdropping on a student-adviser conference taking place in the office adjacent to his. As the conference proceeded, Dr. Day became more and more interested. The angle of tilt of Dr. Day's chair was equal to his mounting interest in the conversation. Finally the inevitable happened. With a loud crash, down went Dr. Day and chair. Unfortunately, everything landed upon Day's thumb. No medical attention was required, but Dr. Day has a very blue and sore thumb.

A well and water system for the new classroom building are being donated by citizens of Las Vegas, who originally raised $35,000 to purchase a portion of the land for the Nevada Southern campus. University Engineer Robert Poolman said that the well was already drilled and installation of the water system would be completed shortly.
