Lawyer Assures Investigation

In an appearance before the ASUN Senate Wednesday night Attorney Samuel Francovich said he received verbal assurance from the Continental Casualty Co. that there will be a proper investigation of the discrepancy in the ASUN bookstore audit.

Francovich, who is representing the Finance Control board as attorney, talked to one of the company's representatives by phone Wednesday. It was then he received assurance of an investigation. The Continental Casualty Co. was the bonding company for the Bookstore last year.

Delay in action by the bonding company was caused by Francovich's letter having been mislaid by the company. Francovich said the man to whom he wrote the letter had recently left the company.

The bonding company insured the Bookstore from 1950 until Feb., 1956 when they asked to be released from their contract, Francovich explained. The company's only agent here had left the company, and had cancelled all other accounts here except the Bookstore. The company felt it was not worth while keeping only one account here.

Francovich said he has been unable to contact the District Attorney as yet, because the latter has been out of town. However, he has talked to Assistant District Attorney William Raggio. Raggio said it is likely that because the Bookstore is bonded, the District Attorney's office will wait to see what type of investigation is being made.

Francovich also explained that an investigation will probably never determine the exact amount of the discrepancy. But a discrepancy is evident from comparing the inventory of Nov., 1954, with the purchases of the fiscal year Nov., 1954 to Nov. 1955, and the receipts from that period and a later inventory.

Several steps have been taken by Graduate Manager James McNabney to insure against further discrepancies, Francovich said. The Bookstore has purchased a new cash register with two tapes, which itemizes all sales and gives the total. One tape is for the buyer and one for the store.

Secondly, a new safe has been installed in the graduate manager's office in the ASUN building.

Thirdly, only one person will handle the cash register during a rush. In other years two or more have handled the register.

ASUN President Chuck Coyle added that the Finance Control board will do a complete survey of Bookstore operations.

Asked whether the Bookstore matter would "just die down," Coyle said that it will not, but that there will be "reports every week until the matter is cleared up."

Any forthcoming information on the Bookstore will be released by Finance Control board chairman John Morrison, Francovich, and himself, Coyle said.

Later Gary Brock, Homecoming chairman, listed the Homecoming activities. Lt. Gov. Rex Bell will assume Gov. Charles Russell's duties in the parade because of the governor's recent operation.

Parade Chairman John Darrah said there will be a few changes in the parade this year.

Publicity Chairman William C. Brown then reported on the publicity of the celebration.

In a "Hollywood premiere" style, a large canvass acquired from Ball Sign Co. will be placed over the State building be well lit, Brown said.

The queen's trophy is immense and "ostentatious," Brown said.

Letters discussing the new representatives to be chosen from the six colleges will be sent to the college clubs, Coyle said. The student union will also have a representative.

The representative must be unaffiliated, and will not be recognized until the college is organized and the representative approved by the Senate executive committee.

Sworn in were new Freshman class president George Allison and Senator-at-Large Braden Stauts.

Allison Elected Frosh President

George Allison, a freshman Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledge from Carson City, was elected Freshman class president Friday.

Allison drew 135 freshman votes while Lambda Chi Alpha pledge Jim Keech was runner-up with 77 ballots.

Wolves Tie Chico In 6-6 Struggle

By Bob Brown

Chico State linemen blocked a Wolfpack field goal attempt in the last 10 seconds of Saturday's game and preserved a 6-6 tie.

Nevada scored first in the game, driving 55 yards in 15 plays, all of which were on the ground. O'Neil scored from the six-inch line.

An untimely fumble on the Nevada 12-yard line set up the Wildcat touchdown, after a superb performance by the Wolfpack forward wall had halted two previous Chico State drives on the two and three yard lines respectively. Wildcat quarterback Carl Bloss passed to end Mose Masteloto who lateraled to Bob Barram who scored the lone Wildcat touchdown.

Darrow and Bowser

The all-important Wildcat conversion was blocked by Clay Darrow and Bill Bowser.

The remainder of the game was played on even terms, until the fourth quarter drive by the Nevadans. They drove to the Chico State 24-yard line. With only 10 seconds remaining the Pack elected to try a field goal. Mario (Mike) Lommori's kick was blocked by several Wildcat linemen as the final gun sounded.

Coach Gordon McEachron commenting on the game said that he was "quite pleased, frankly, knowing what Chico has had in the past." Nevada's next opponent is Los Angeles State. They meet them in a non-conference game, under the lights this Saturday in Los Angeles.

Change

There will be a change in the Nevada starting lineup this weekend. Walt Ryals, 205-pound center, has dropped football according to McEachron. Ryals was chosen on the Little All-Coast team last season. He was also named to the All Far Western Conference team last season. His place as center will be filled by George Ball, 170-pound senior.

Starting end Wally Rusk suffered a pinched nerve in his back in the Chico State game, but is expected to be ready for the game Saturday.

OPEN HOUSES AND CANDIDATES WEDNESDAY EVE

The five Homecoming queen candidates will be introduced to the male populace of the campus at the sorority open houses Wednesday night from eight to eleven.

The open houses will kick-off the four day Homecoming celebration by entertaining the men on campus. Each of the four houses will provide music for dancing and refreshments.

The hours for women in the houses and dorms will be extended until midnight, according to Barbara Cavanaugh, AWS president. Barbara states, "since the open houses are scheduled to be over by eleven, the women on campus will have an hour's grace to return to the houses."

There are some regulations concerning the open houses which were put into effect by AWS to insure the smooth-running of the campaigning. The respective queen candidates may be introduced at the open houses. The decorations must be limited to five dollars and must be placed over the mantle.

Voting on the five candidates for Homecoming Queen will begin Friday, October 26 at eight o'clock, and will continue until four o'clock.

All male students are eligible to vote, but they must have their student body cards with them.

Delta Delta Delta has placed Beth Boyd into the running for 1956 Homecoming Queen. Beth, an 18 year old freshman from Elko, Nevada, was chosen "Queen of Queens" at the Washoe County Fair this year, and was recently elected "Miss Elko County."

Beth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Boyd of Elko, is 5'5" and has dark hair and eyes.

Honors in high school include Elko County high school Homecoming Queen, queen of the "Harvest Ball," secretary of the senior class, and "Homemaker of the Future."

Majoring in elementary education, Beth plans on being either an elementary school teacher or a dress designer. Her hobbies consist of outdoor sports and dancing. She is a member of FTA and Young Democrats.

Gamma Phi Beta's queen candidate is Nancy Arnold, a sophomore transfer student from Fresno State.

Nineteen year old Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold of Fresno, California. She is 5'5" and has dark brown hair and eyes.

Nancy's major is elementary education. She is a member of Ski club, Future Teachers of America, and Campus Players. Her hobbies include horseback-riding and skiing.

The officers of the club have invited Chuck Coyle, president of the Associated Students; Walt Wiseman, president of the Young Republicans, and Jim Hart, president of the Young Democrats, to attend this "off the record" dinner.

Block 'N' Sez: "It's Paint-Time"

More than two hundred freshman men and women are expected to be on hand to paint the "N" on Peavine mountain this year. The painting is scheduled for Saturday, October 20, beginning at 8 a.m. Block N, the men's honorary athletic association, will be in charge of the function.

The freshmen will assemble in front of the University dining hall at 8 a.m. They will get into trucks and be transported to the site to paint. They may drive their own cars if they wish, stated Sammy Macias, Block N president. A road goes most of the way to the mountain. From this point, the students must walk.

The activity is part of the freshman-sophomore field day. "It is one of the most important Freshman activities," stated Macias.

Macias also advised the students to wear old clothes, since the paint mixture is "usually tossed around a bit."

NOTICE!

Artemisia photographs of Independent students will be taken October 26, 29, 30 and 31. Others who wish to re-take previous pictures may contact Ross Studio, two doors below the Wolf Den.

Class shots require women to wear dark sweaters. Men wear dark V-necked sweaters with white shirts.

A large truck is donated by a Reno construction company to transport the lime and water.

Jake Longero, veteran driver for the activity, will be on hand again to pilot the truck.

The function should be over about noon, Macias said. Bob Ferrari, secretary of the club, stated "this is also a highlight for Block N."

Why Not Vote?

In the primary election for Freshman class manager, only 216 out of a possible 700 voted. In the final, two more voters couldn't make it, and the total dropped to 216. This is not much more than 25 per cent, which is not much in any rating.

But the low turnout is not shocking, and only mildly surprising. It is par for the course as elections go these days. Give the citizens the right to vote and they will brag about it everywhere they go, but the majority seldom go where it counts—to the polls.

This failing is not particularly the student's, although student elections usually draw somewhat less on the average than national elections. It is the failing of a good many Americans, who have taken too long for granted what they consider a right. It is not a man's right to vote, no matter what philosophies says, or politicians say, or constitutions say. It is a privilege, bitterly fought for, and easily lost.

Much talk is made of getting out the vote, but a million words cannot make a citizen take a short time to mark an X on a ballot. Possibly if the task were more difficult, if the voter had to struggle to vote, pass tests or other obstructions, he would be more eager to go to the polls, for such is the perversity of human beings.

This editorial does not propose that you immediately run out and vote on the first thing you can, but to sit down and think about it for a while sometime when there's nothing else to do. It is hoped that you will come to the same conclusion that is reached here—that voting is a must.

The Bookstore

At the ASUN Senate meeting Wednesday night the senators reported that they found student reaction to be "wait and see" on the discrepancy in the ASUN Bookstore audit announced by the Finance Control board last week. The students are not jumping to conclusions, or planning any rabid actions.

This is certainly to be commended. The facts publicly at hand are still slim, and few things definite can be known until further facts are revealed. The bonding company plans an investigation, and until that investigation is completed, it is probable that the matter will remain hazy.

An investigation is mandatory if for no other reason than the following. It has been emphasized by Mr. Sam Francovich, Finance Control Board Attorney and ASUN President Chuck Coyle, and Dr. John Morrison, Finance Control board chairman, and this paper wishes to emphasize it also, that it is much less important to prove any guilt that might exist than it is to establish innocence. There are people who worked in the Bookstore last year who must be cleared of any possible suspicion.

SHAVIAN FESTIVAL SET

Faculty and students plan to honor George Bernard Shaw on his one-hundredth birthday by conducting a Shavian festival on campus from November 14th to 18th. Highlights of the festival will be the lecture by Dr. William Irvine, noted author and authority on Shaw, and a production of Shaws fine comedy — "Arms and the Man"—by Nevada's Campus Players.

Dr. Irvine has written a volume on Shaw entitled "Universe of GBC." He will lecture in the Education Auditorium Sunday, November 18th, at 4:00 p.m. Additional conferences will be held with the history and English departments when Dr. Irvine makes his appearance in mid-November.

A major contribution to the Shavian centennial is the play "Arms and the Man" which Campus Players will present on the evenings of the 15th and 16th.

The cast is now in rehearsal for the production. They show signs of creditable portrayals of Shaw's fine comedy characters, commented Dan Hulse, Shavian Festival publicity chairman. Attendance at Dr. Irvine's lecture and "Arms and the Man" is open to all members of the ASUN.

Young Reps Play Part in Campaign

By Buster Sewell

The 130 paid members of the University of Nevada Young Republicans have played an active part in campaigning for the reelection of President Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon.

Starting with a booth at the Washoe County Fair, headed by John Carlson, the Young Republicans worked hard in obtaining membership for the group.

When Vice President Nixon made a recent speech in Reno, the Young Republicans participated in the auto-cade and demonstration at the Reno Municipal airport and throughout downtown Reno. The officers of the group had a meeting with Charles McWhorter, National Young Republicans president, who outlined the plans for the Young Republicans in the coming election.

The campus meeting of the Young Republicans have featured several Republican speakers. They include: Ralph Cazessa, Young Republicans state chairman; Les Fry, Washoe County Republican chairman; and Emery Graunke, State Republican chairman, who spoke on "What the Young Republicans can do to get out the vote."

The meeting last week featured the candidates for the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada.

In the coming weeks, Cliff Young—Republican for the U. S. Senate, and Richard Horton, Republican candidate for the House of Representatives, will speak to the group.

Let's hear what the fourth doctor has to say.

Nevada Covered By Philly Paper

Nevada received considerable publicity from a recent color spread in the Philadelphia Inquirer as Sunday's paper devoted two pages to Nevada in its supplement.

Material for the coverage was from the Department of Economic Development.

This particular issue, with a circulation of 1,120,034, contained color photos of Lake Tahoe, Kingston canyon near Austin, the Reno Ski Bowl lift, Hoover Dam and Belmont.

In addition there was a small map of the state and an illustration of Nevada's state flower, the Sagebrush.

The state highway department and the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce furnished the color pictures with material furnished

Band Goes With Wolves to Chico

Forty-two members of the University band, on their first out-of-town trip this year, traveled to Chico to give the half-time performance at the Nevada-Chico football game.

Carrying-out the theme "Salute to Early California," the Nevada band serenaded Chico State.

Conducted by Prof. Felton Hickman, University band director, the band and the Chico State band jointly marched onto the football field. They gave a pre-game performance of the national anthem. The Chico State band later marched to the Nevada side of the field.

"The performance was especially outstanding with the batonists, flag twirlers, and Bill Kaiser, the drum major," declared Prof. Hickman.

Soph-Frosh to Field; "Ornaments" at Stake

At the Soph-Frosh field day tomorrow, the freshman will have a chance to "win their right" to throw the familiar blue and white dinks and ribbons in the bonfire at the Homecoming rally. The rally is set for Thursday night, and win the events or not, the freshmen will have to wear the "ornaments" until then. If they lose the field day, the first-year students will have to wear ribbons and dinks until the end of the semester.

The "Mad-hatter" all school dance, one of the biggest projects of the freshman and sophomore classes, will be held tomorrow night. Everyone attending must wear a "crazy" hat. The highlight of the dance will be the announcement of the field day winner and the awards given for the best hats.

"N"

The first event of the day for the freshmen is the painting of the "N."

Both under-class groups will meet at Clark Field at one o'clock. The Men's Upperclass committee will instruct the group.

The contest will start promptly at 1:30 and will consist of three legged races, sack races, relay races, wheelbarrow races, a greased pig contest and a tug-of-war.

Frosh-Soph field day has been planned by Max Jones, sophomore class president, and the newly appointed sophomore class committee members: Roger Bremner, Alpha Tau Omega; Joe Ortiz, Sigma Nu; Wallace Bounty, Phi Sigma Kappa; Gary Soule, Theta Chi; Jim Keith, Lambda Chi Alpha; Karen Knudson, Kappa Alpha Theta; Honor Settlemeyer, Delta Delta Delta; Letitia Sawle, Pi Beta Phi; Norma Jean Annett, Gamma Phi Beta, and Bonnie Stewart, Artemisia-Manzanita organization.

Hour uncertain—"Mad-hatter" dance.

Forms Ready for Reserve Officers

Application forms for students who want to take advanced ROTC are now available from the chief clerk at the office of the Military department.

Captain Frank E. Holt, instructor, said that the forms should be picked up as quickly as possible to avoid the annual rush that might delay a student's entry into the advanced military course. Applicants for the course may be veterans or students who previously lacked necessary unit credits, or bona fide students who for other reasons were not able to take the course at the fall semester time.

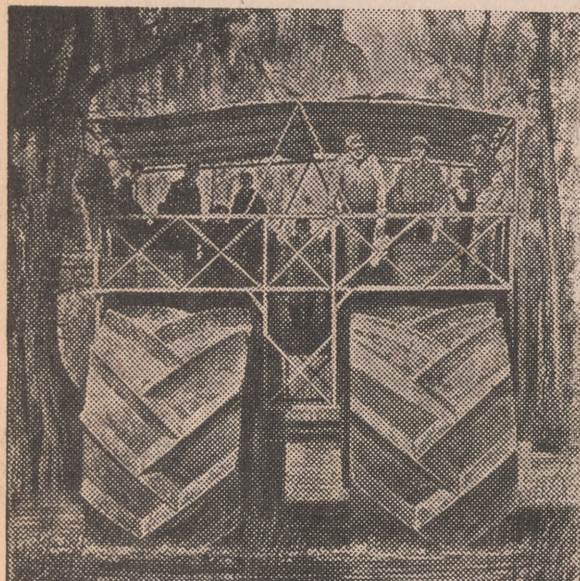

The applicants for the course must take a physical examination. The mental exam will be given by the Military department.

Oil Progress Week* lasts all through the year at Standard

Finding new oil is vital. By 1965 America's needs will rise 20%. To locate additional oil deposits, Standard geologists explored 33 states and 40 countries last year on foot, in planes and even in specially designed "swamp buggies" (above). As a result, we found substantial new reserves for your future use... this is Oil Progress.

Producing oil for more and more uses led us to far places... even to man-made "islands." Last year, in the Western Hemisphere alone, Standard drilled 107 test wells—many in remote spots. But even with new sources harder to find we added nearly three times as much oil to reserves as we took from the ground... this is Oil Progress.

Standard puts oil to work for better living in hundreds of products... asphalt roads for safe, comfortable driving; gasolines, oils and tires; wrinkle-resistant fabrics; stronger plastics; detergents to make housework easier; wax for candles and food cartons; plant foods; even cosmetics, salves and ointments... this is Oil Progress.

Research in oil promises new products... plastics strong as steel; new synthetic fibres; better insecticides. Even commercial atomic power is closer with new Standard-developed oils. In atomic machinery they last two to three times longer under radiation that makes some petroleum oils hard enough to drive nails... this is Oil Progress.

*October 14 to 20 is Oil Progress Week, a reminder that 15,000 oil industry researchers produce an average of six new inventions every working day.

Macias Drops to Idaho's Abeyta

Sammy Macias, 110-pound Wolf Pack boxer, was beaten in the finals of the West Coast regional Olympic tournament last weekend.

Dave Abeyta of the national champion, Idaho State Bengals, took a unanimous decision from the Nevada bantamweight. The loss eliminated Macias from further competition in the Olympic tournament.

Abeyta will move to the National tournament in San Francisco later this month. Wolf Pack coach Jimmie Olivas said that Abeyta has a "good chance" of making the Olympic team.

Last season he was National Collegiate Athletic Association runner-up in his division, losing only one collegiate fight. That loss was the championship tussle with Choken Makewa of Michigan St. Makewa was voted the outstanding boxer in the NCAA tournament.

Nursing Dean Arrives in Reno

Dr. Doris B. Yingling arrived this week from Baltimore, Maryland to take up her duties as dean of the new School of Nursing on campus. Dr. Yingling will be in charge of setting-up the school, which will include planning for the four-year collegiate nursing program, selecting her faculty, and recruiting students for the school.

A native of Baltimore, the new dean and professor in nursing received her R.N. degree at Union Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Cross Country Runners Total More Than 100

More than one hundred college men will run in the Homecoming cross-country race this year.

The race is to be held October 27 at 9 a.m. It will begin at the Sparks Intermediate school and finish in the Mackay stadium.

From the Sparks school the runners will go to Prater Way, then on Highway 40 to Reno. At University avenue they will turn right and enter the campus thru the gate on Ninth street. On reaching the track they will circle it once. The race will finish in front of the stands on the south side of the stadium.

A list from each fraternity was given to C. M. Scranton, supervisor of the program, with names of the runners. All participants must work out daily to be eligible for the race.

Runners must have a physical examination to be qualified to participate, except freshmen who have had their physical. Those men participating in the spring sports for the University of Nevada last year are also exempt from the physical examinations.

All male students at the University of Nevada who are physically fit are eligible to run, but lettermen of the track team at the University of Nevada, or any other university, are ineligible.

Awards

Two awards will be given for the race: An individual trophy for the winner, and a trophy for the fraternity winning the race.

The individual winner's trophy will be given at the Homecoming dance, while the fraternity award will be presented at the interfraternity bean feed next fall.

Sixty points are also given toward the Kinnear Trophy for the fraternity winning the race.

The school will provide official pickup cars for runners who drop out of the race.

Obnoxious Four Appear Thursday

Homecoming queen candidates will be introduced to the student body at an assembly in the Education building auditorium at 11 a.m. Thursday. Gary Brock, Homecoming chairman, will make the introductions.

Entertainment at the assembly will be provided by various campus groups including the "Obnoxious" Four," according to Dick Bryan, assembly chairman.

Nothing is worse
Than iambic verse.

Bob Jones, cross-country race chairman, has asked the fraternity men to refrain from following the race in their cars to avoid causing traffic congestion.

Sigma Nu fraternity has won the race for the past three years.

$2.5 Millions Pour Into Campus Buildings

Alumni returning to the University for the 36th annual Homecoming will see, in addition to the usual student festivities, the largest construction program in the history of the university.

The Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture is being erected next to the new engineering building. The former site of the presidents home is now being used to provide space for the Sarah Hamilton Fleischmann School of Home Economics. Both these projects are being constructed with a 2.5 million gift from the Fleischmann Foundation of Nevada.

Remodeling the former College of Agriculture building will be started as soon as it is vacated. It will be converted into a classroom building for the departments of English, speech, and drama.

Another phase of the construction program is the Jot Travis Student Union building which is under construction at the present time on the northern shore of Manzanita lake. The Travis student union will provide the students with a center for activities.

To meet the need for more classroom space, the university has under construction a new classroom building which is being constructed on the site of the old Agricultural Experiment Station.

The former residents of Manzanita Hall will see the changes resulting from a $260,000 remodeling project.

The completion dates for all the buildings are still tentative, due to a shortage of structural steel. The steel strike of last summer delayed delivery of steel.

Robert Poolman, university engineer, says the delays will not hold up the program too much.

Looking to the future, the regents have approved a request of $642,000 for the construction of new class rooms to house the departments of language, history, and political science.

A new wing is being planned for the library. This will be used for study and reading rooms and for shelving of reference works.

Student Writes To U of N, Elko

As far as part of the population of New Zealand is concerned, the University of Nevada is still located in Elko.

A letter recently received here from a Christ church college student who wants to correspond with students in this country was addressed to "The Principal, University of Nevada, Elko, Nevada."

When the University was founded in 1874 it was located in Elko, but was moved to Reno in 1885 and has been operating here since.

The letter was written by 18-year-old Barry Holland, resident of a small mountain town, who "wants to learn more about your country and it's people."

Before student Barry's letter finally found its way to Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, it was sent to Elko, forwarded to Reno, delivered to the office of Dr. Minard Stout, and, after going through several secretarial offices, was sent to the Journalism department.

Student and Journalist

Holland, whose home is in Hammer Springs, New Zealand, is a member of the journalistic staff of the Christchurch "Press" and is studying part time at the Christchurch Technical College for a New Zealand University accountancy degree.

According to his letter he would like to carry on a correspondence with any student—male or female. His sports and interests, he says, "include tennis, swimming, climb-

Blue Key Paints Bleachers

New members of Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity, as well as old members, painted the student bleachers at Mackay Stadium recently.

Scheduled last Spring as a pledge project, the painting project was rescheduled this Fall for the new members of the organization.

Members initiated to Blue Key last Spring were Gary Brock, Bob Faiss, Steve Dollinger, Braden Stauts, Joe Crook, Bill Eddleman, John North, Bill Schroeder, Jim Hart, Bob Scott, Bob Hemphill, Hank Rilling, Don Rasmussen, Ken Robbins and Art Broten.

Broten was elected to the group as faculty advisor, replacing Dean William D. Carlson.

Helping with the project was John Ingram, president of the organization.

Paint and equipment for the job was furnished by the University building and grounds department.

ing, and music."

"But my main reason for writing," he continues, "is that I want to learn more about your country and its people and I would appreciate it if anyone should decide to write."

Barry's address is P.O. Box 16, Hammer Springs, New Zealand.
