

Anderson and Grant Elected to Regency

Dr. Fred M. Anderson of Reno and Archie C. Grant of Las Vegas are the newly elected members of the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada. They were chosen last Tuesday in the Nevada general election.

The incumbent Archie Grant is now starting his second four-year term on the Board of Regents. He was first elected in 1948.

Mr. Grant has lived in Las Vegas for the past 38 years. There has been much attention given the candidacy for reelection of Grant since the McHenry report was released.

Grant has supported the policies of Dr. Minard Stout, the president of the University, and he has been the target of the president's criticisms.

A former state legislator, Grant has twice sought the Democratic nomination for governor and the Nevada seat in the house of representatives.

Dr. Anderson will be the only new member to the governing body of the University of Nevada. He was elected by a large majority of votes throughout the state.

Dr. Anderson, a pre-medical student under Professor Peter Frandsen, now retired, graduated from the University of Nevada in 1928. While a student at Nevada he received the Rhodes scholarship and studied at Oxford university in England. He continued his studies at Harvard, and in 1943 he received his M.D. He has been practicing in the Reno area for the past 22 years.

Anderson is very interested in the University of Nevada through his many associations and activities. He is a member of the alumni association, the regional Rhodes scholarship committee, and a founding member of the Friends of the University Library.

Silas E. Ross of Reno, did not seek reelection. He has served as chairman of the board, and his term will expire January first, 1957. A new chairman will be elected at the first meeting of the Regents in January.

FRANK WAY RUNS RACE; BROKEN LEG

Frank Way, a junior at the University of Nevada, ran the entire Cross Country Homecoming race Saturday, placing fifth, with a broken leg.

Way ran the four-mile course and learned when the race was over that his leg had been broken for ten days. His ankle was a bit sore, but he entered the race anyhow and finished sooner than many of the contestants.

X-rays were taken of his leg at Washoe Medical center and it was found that his leg was broken and had been that way since he injured it in practicing the cross-country run ten days earlier.

Jordan Student Drops School

By Jim De Priest

The crucial Middle East situation was brought closer to home last week when Mohammad Yusef Hallaj, a student at the University of Nevada, suddenly left school to return to Jordan, his homeland.

When the war between the invading Isrealites and the Arabs broke out some weeks ago, Hallaj was worried about his family in Qulqilya, Jordan. Two weeks went by without any word from his country. He called the Jordan Embassy in Washington, D. C., several times without receiving a reply concerning his relations. Several days ago, Hallaj left Reno bound for the embassy in Washington. There he was to arrange for an immediate flight home. No word has reached Reno about Hallaj's trip.

While in Reno, Hallaj stayed in a boarding house. The owner of the building said, "Mohammad worried during the two weeks of the fighting until he couldn't eat, study, or sleep."

"He was the most popular boy in the house," he also added.

When Hallaj finally decided to return to Jordan, he just left, leaving his clothes and all his belongings.

The remainder of the pamphlet was devoted to pictures showing bodies and parts of bodies with the caption, "Now you must be happy! Mr. Ben Gurion your hunger must be satisfied."

Mohammad Yusuf Hallaj was born March 12, 1932 in Qulqilya, Jordan.

He served in the Arab Legion, Jordan's army, as a clerk from 1950-53. He said that he enjoyed true friendship and there was nothing he disliked about his job in the army.

Later he came to the United States. He graduated from Yuba City college and then enrolled in the University of Nevada. Hallaj was majoring in mechanical engineering.

When Hallaj registered at the University he stated in a questionnaire that the reason for his vocational choice was, "The need which my country suffers."

Why do I hate you? Because you have done more than anyone else to make me miserable. You have done it without a word, without a touch, without a sign. You have done it by just being yourself.

McHenry Group Reports on U of N

By Jim DePriest

A survey team headed by Dean McHenry of the University of California at Los Angeles, in a recent report on the University of Nevada, agreed with President Stout's financial views and criticized the state program of scholarship aid, the University of Nevada teachers college, and Nevada's stand on the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education.

The investigating team, which has made a complete survey of University needs, recommended that the Nevada legislature take-up a scholarship program to aid students to attend college.

The report said, "a state scholarship program should be established to provide scholarships of $400 per year, at the University of Nevada, renewable for the second year, awarded to those graduates in the upper 25 per cent of Nevada high school classes and to those who complete the sophomore year on the Las Vegas campus in the upper 50 per cent of their class. The sum of $340,000 is suggested for scholarships and administrative expenses during 1957-59."

The program would give students regardless of their economic status or area of residence, a chance for higher education. The program will also bring to the campus a large number of the state's best graduates.

The eventual granting of 770 scholarships amounting to $572,000 was foreseen by the committee.

The report added that, "with the termination of the Harolds Club scholarships, it is imperative that the state program get underway at once."

Dean McHenry in his committee report said that the development of the College of Education at the University of Nevada has moved too fast for the benefit of the educational program.

The college of Education, much criticized in recent years, was mentioned in the McHenry report. The status of Las Vegas division and statewide development were also questioned.

The report said, "The present staff of the college is inadequate in terms of its program and assignment. Every member of the staff is carrying an overload as a result of evening-division or off-campus program."

The investigators said that the sending of professors to remote communities is commendable to the college administration, but the program is questioned because of its respectability.

Glenn Duncan, former superintendent of public instruction, said at the conclusion of the report that he respects the goals of the college and the zeal and attitude of the staff, but he also concluded that he fears the program is too ambitious and that the dean is moving too fast. He feels that the college should gain more strength before it tackles the large program.

It was pointed out in the report that, with the small teaching staff, Nevada offers more education courses than comparable universities such as Arizona, Idaho, and Utah. "It can be seriously questioned as to whether or not so many courses are needed," the report added.

Another important item mentioned in the report was Nevada's stand on the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education.

The team urges Nevada to join the compact, which provides a

DR. DORIS B. YINGLING, who has been appointed dean of the new school of nursing

Yingling Okeyed As Nursing Dean By Regents

The Board of Regents Monday night approved the appointment of Dr. Doris B. Yingling as dean of the new school of nursing at the University. Dr. Yingling has a wide background in nursing and health education in Maryland.

Although her appointment to the $9,000 a year job met with no trouble, there was some discussion of the source of funds for her office furniture.

President Minard W. Stout asked approval to spend up to $2,500 in the next year from funds provided by Dr. Arthur E. Orvis for a school of nursing. Dr. Orvis had guaranteed at least $100,000 for a nursing school. Pres. Stout explained that he had budgeted the salary money for both the dean and a secretary, but that no provision had been made for other first year expenses.

Casting the only dissenting vote on the $2,500 expenditure was Regent Bruce Thompson, who objected to "dribbling away" a capital gift, and added he didn't think this was the way to handle a $100,000 donation.

Both Pres. Stout and Regents Archie Grant and Roy Hardy, however, thought the move was within the intent of the Orvis gift.

"Win a Game Day" Called by Harris

In an effort to increase attendance at the University football games, Reno Mayor Len Harris has proclaimed this Saturday to be "Win a Game Day."

Attendance by downtown citizens has been extremely poor, and attendance by students has been only fair. Last week the long rows at Mackay stadium looked larger than ever compared to the few people who came in to watch.

An attempt is also being made to bring a group from Nevada Southern to the game.

The proclamation reads as follows:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the University of Nevada is one of our proudest civic and cultural assets, and

WHEREAS, the University of Nevada football team represents our city, our state and our people in the eyes of the athletic and academic world, and

WHEREAS, the University of Nevada has had a most disheartening season on the gridiron and apparently interest in the games has been lacking as evidenced by the many vacant seats at Mackay Stadium while the boys face powerful opponents.

NOW, THEREFORE, as Mayor of the City of Reno, I hereby proclaim Saturday, November 10, WIN A GAME DAY, and I call upon the people of Reno to show our team that we are behind it, that we are proud of our University, its students, faculty, administration and the spirit they stand for by going to Mackay Stadium at 2 p.m. Saturday.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Seal of the City of Reno, this 7th day of November, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-Six.

LEN HARRIS, Mayor
E. E. GILL, City Clerk.

Holstine Chairman Utah - BYU Evaluation Group

Dean Garold Holstine of the College of Education has been named chairman of a committee to evaluate education programs at the University of Utah and Brigham Young university. The committee will evaluate the Utah program November 7-10, and at Brigham Young November 12-15.

Evaluations of institutions of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools are made regularly for accreditation. The University of Nevada will be similarly evaluated in 1958.

Announcement of Dean Holstine's appointment was made by Dr. T. S. Kerr, chairman of Northwest's Commission of Accreditation.

Dean Holstine, who was dean of education at the University of North Dakota, has been head of the College of Education at Nevada since 1954. He has been a consultant on education to the State Department

STUDENT DIRECTORY NOW ON SALE

The University of Nevada directory for 1956-57 is now on sale in the President's office, for one dollar.

Both Reno and Las Vegas students are included. Also listed are campus offices, the regents and other administrative officers, the staff emeriti, the regular staff at Las Vegas and Reno, and the student officers of the Associated Students and the various campus organizations.

Home town, local address, telephone number, year in college, and which college in which the person is registered are all included.

Any additions, corrections, or deletions for next year's directory should be given to the News and Publications service, Room 204, Morrill Hall. Telephone number is FA 3-8105.

McHenry

(Continued from Page 1) state supported program to aid students at one state who attend professional schools in another state. If Nevada would join, this state would provide assistance to other state universities in the west which have medical, dental, or veterinary schools, and in turn, Nevada students would have a better opportunity to attend those colleges.

The board of regents has rejected this program twice in the last two years. The team suggested that the state legislature provide money and an administering commission for the program.

President's Stand Supported

The report also confirmed the stand of Minard W. Stout on the state's ability to provide larger amounts of money for the University.

Dr. Stout has long contended that the state is able to provide more money for the development of the University than it has in the past.

It was pointed out that Nevada has the highest per capita income in the nation and that it places at, or near, the top of the list of states to support government.

Dr. Stout drew the comparison between Utah, a state with about half the per capita income as Nevada, and Nevada. Even with this, Nevada spends only half as much as Utah on its higher education.

All About Charlemagne

or

Call Me Charlie

Once there was a muscle that walked like a man. He was called Charlemagne and he was King of the Franks. (No, his daddy didn't own a slaughter-house in Chicago. His business was sticking Saxons—not pigs.) It is said that His Majesty stuck his sword into 4,500 Saxons in one day, and that he is the real originator of Shish kebab, although we prefer to keep an open mind about this. Now when Old Charlie wasn't cutting it up on a battlefield he liked to live it up in a castle, his favorite chow being a haunch of venison washed down with a firkin of good hearty brew. And right here is where the old boy gets his name in lights as far as we're concerned. He introduced his beer to all the barbarians lucky enough to be alive when the donnybrook was over. In fact, history has it that he took his brewery with him (lock, stock, and firkin) when he sallied forth to lay about him with mace and broadsword. This explains how a conquered count happened to be sampling a bucket of the royal suds one day and said, "Charlie, this is great... just great!" And this also explains why Charlemagne, to this very day, is called Charles the Great.

And speaking of beer—as you just bet we are—Old Charlie would really flip if he could see how we've improved the brew that he loved so well. He'd trade a kingdom for a firkin of today's Budweiser.

So when you order beer, be as choosy as Charlie... get the best. Treat yourself to Budweiser. It's great... just great.

Thetas and Sigma Nu's Win Top Skit Honors

Delta Delta Delta and Sigma Nu were awarded trophies for best Homecoming skits at the dance held last Saturday evening, climaxing the weekend activities. Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon also received trophies for their winning floats which participated in the afternoon parade. Awards were presented by Homecoming Queen Beth Boyd of Delta Delta Delta.

Other trophies went to Sigma Nu and Pi Beta Phi for dance attendance. Cross country winners were announced with first place honors going to Sigma Nu.

"Deltas in Dixieland," the Tri-Delta skit directed by Trudy Caddel, was centered around a southern dock scene, complete with bales, boxes, and a backdrop setting of a steamboat and magnolia tree. A modern dance performed by "Basin Street" girls began the number. This was followed by black-face pickaninies, mames and pappies who sang and danced. A group of "cake-walkers" completed the performance. All tunes were "Dixieland" with words about college life.

Taking part in the skit were Cynthia Robertson, Angie Farrow, Nedra Norton, Janie Kottinger, Barbara Swart, Diann Coate, Marian Coate, Joyce Lindsay, Vangie Smith, Gwen Guinn, Simmie Cooper, Carol Gardenswartz, Theresa Gibson, Mary Carol Jackson, Pat Lamoreaux, Diane Oldenburg, Ann Merryman, Jeanne Condrey, Cynthia Heth, Sherry Longero, and Mary Francis Tucker.

This marks the third consecutive year that the Tri-Deltas have won the Homecoming skit.

Sigma Nu's "Don't Want to Leave the Jungle," was directed by Bill Eddleman. The number was completely bathed in black light and only the brilliant colors of the jungle scene backdrop, costumes, and accessories were visible. The skit began with an English couple traveling in the "African Stream" in search of their lost "Cousin Matilda." They are captured by jungle savages only to discover that Cousin Matilda is living with the natives, and "she doesn't want to leave the jungle." Songs and dances were performed by native men and women to such tunes as "Matilda Jones," "See You Later, Alligator," and "Bongo, Bongo, Bongo." A continuous drum beat in the background completed the effect.

PAJAMAS ARE FAD AT SNAKE DANCE

Pajamas were the fad at the Homecoming rally Thursday night when University of Nevada students snake danced through the streets of Reno. The annual affair was a success as usual, with many students showing up to cheer the team on to victory against Pepperdine.

The cheerleaders presented a skit and the queen candidates were introduced by Gary Brock, Homecoming chairman.

George Hellerich, and Dave Persons.

Theta's winning float theme was "Dump Pepperdine." A large Humpty Dumpty was represented sitting precariously atop a goal post looking down on three Nevada football players. The float was constructed under the co-chairmanship of Cathy Zimmerman and Mary Lee Metzker.

"Wolves Over the Waves" was the SAE float theme. Three wolves in a tub were featured floating down a seat of waves. Jim LaPorte was in charge of the float design and construction.

Hoover Selects U of N for Aid

Former president Herbert Hoover has selected the University of Nevada for the establishment of student scholarships in mining and engineering. In selecting Nevada Mr. Hoover said, "I suggest scholarships should go to the engineering and mining schools of the University of Nevada at Reno. This school is efficient, it is close to the grass roots, and most of the boys work their way through."

The scholarships are from $500 to $750 for one regular college year. They are open to students of the College of Engineering and the Mackay School of Mines, who need financial aid to enable them to complete their education.

Honoring former president Hoover, once a mining engineer himself, the scholarships have been established by Houston Endowment Incorporated, a philanthropic corporation endowed by Jesse H. Jones of Houston, Texas. Mr. Jones is the former Secretary of Commerce and is also a former Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

A student must have a 2.00 point average or better in order to apply. The student should prepare a letter stating the reasons for needing aid, and this letter must be submitted to the dean of his college. Scholarships are generally awarded near the end of the first month of each semester, although a student's application will be considered at any time.

It is possible for a person to be selected twice as the scholarships are allowed to be awarded more than once to the same student.

Apathy and the Empty Stadium

Last week, as in weeks past, only a handful of Reno people turned out to see the Wolf Pack play. The stands were long and empty, and the shadows late in the day covered nothing but chilled white cement and wooden seats.

The apathy of Reno and the surrounding community to the University's sporting program is notably disgusting. It would be hard to find another college town which supports its team with less enthusiasm. Perhaps the use of the word "enthusiasm" is wrong, for it is clearly sacrilegious to this locality.

This apathy has of course been noticeable in other years. In the past few seasons the University has attempted to re-establish football here after being forced to discontinue it completely for a season. It is a hard road back, and the University has not had what anyone would call a winning team.

This year a form of "Scholarship" was attempted to increase the caliber of the football team. Despite President Stout's statement that the fund for students who work on campus is not a scholarship, most of the beneficiaries of the fund are athletes, and it is a quibble with words to say it is anything other than a scholarship to athletes which happen to be open to other students as well.

The fund, though, is not large—at least not as large as many other Pacific coast teams can offer. Therefore, Nevada has continued to lose many of its top players, and those who do come here cannot hold up the team by themselves.

But a losing team is no reason why the community should not support it, unless, as becomes perfectly clear, they must have a winner. Unless sport as a sport is a thing of the past. And even if Nevada were winning, it is doubtful that the home turnout would be immense, because we are not playing "name" schools.

The closest this community gets to a football game at the University is to pick up the paper and say, "Ah. They lost again. Glad I didn't go. Cold out this time of year anyway."

It would be fitting justice if Nevada produced a winner and allowed only outsiders to see them. But such things are only dreamt of by fools.

It would be nice to see the stands halfway full for the last game of the season. But that is all too much to hope.

Letter TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In your news story on the Fulbright-Rhodes scholarship which appeared on page thirteen, column one, last week's paper, you stated: "The last Rhodes scholar from this University was Robert Barney Child, '49."

This is incorrect. Currently studying in Keble College, Oxford, England, under a Rhodes scholarship is John L. Hall of Carson City, Nevada, who graduated from Nevada in June, 1955. Mr. Hall worked in the U. of N. dining hall and library; he was active in dramatics, and contributed literary selections to the Brushfire.

Friends of John Hall among the students and faculty feel that his fine accomplishments should be noted.

Knowing full well the importance of accuracy in reporting for the paper, I am sure you will be interested in correcting your error.

Sincerely

Daniel S. Hulse

Ed Note: We know! We know! It was thought the sentence had been cut out, and how it slipped in again is a mystery to the staff. The whole staff is ecstatically happy that you noticed this error, as we never read the paper ourselves. Apologies, John. Apologies, Barney. At ease, Mother.

90 Piece State Band in Clinic

A 90-piece band was formed when the third annual Band Reading Clinic met at the University of Nevada, November 7. The meet was host to high school students and band directors from all parts of the state.

The band presented a public concert at 7:30 p.m., November 7 in the new gymnasium and read new music under the direction of the various high school instructors.

Sponsored by the Western Zone of the Nevada Music Educator's Association, the clinic gives high school musicians an opportunity to read newly published band music, and allows directors to review the latest compositions for future use.

Featured guest at the clinic was Frank Erickson, nationally known band arranger and composer. Erickson acted as a consultant to the clinic, and directed his own compositions.

Students from high schools in Reno, Sparks, Carson City, Winnemucca, Yerington, Fallon, Battle Mountain, Ely, Elko, Boulder City, Tonopah, and Las Vegas attended.

Color Movie Seen At Luncheon Meet

Some beautiful aerial color shots of California, the Colorado Plateau, and the Peruvian Andes was included in a film shown Monday at the Mapes Hotel. The Reno American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers sponsored the film at its regular luncheon meeting.

The twenty-three minute color movie was entitled "The Portrait of the Earth." It is a semi-technical presentation which describes the latest developments in airborne photographic and geophysical methods.

The luncheon has been set for 12:15 p.m. in the Nevada Room of the Mapes.

DOWN THE RAIN . . .

By Bruce Bledsoe

You're right. There wasn't any issue of the Sagebrush last week.

All this came about when it was discovered that the contract called for no paper this week, no ads were sold for the issue, etc., etc.

It wasn't as some of you thought at all, that the staff was exhausted after publishing the largest edition in the history of the paper at Homecoming. We proudly broke the record of 20 pages set at last year's Homecoming by Paul Finch.

This whole record-breaking deal came about when Business Manager Hank Rilling added four pages behind my back, and I added two when he wasn't looking.

Thanks must go to the reporters from the news lab (a class in journalism who write much of our copy). They turned out much copy ahead of time, and much (much much) later on. To Assistant Editor Dave Lowe, who, despite walking out of windows and running into cars, worked late into the nights reading copy and complaining bitterly.

But mainly appreciation should be extended to the printers—Russ, Harry, Anita and Henry—of the Western Printing Company in Sparks. They worked many hours and almost fainted as the pages continued to increase. It's through their cooperation that stories have been placed in the paper after printing has already started, principally the Bookstore release, and the McHenry release. Thanks also on the latter to Chuck Coyle who drove a summary of the report in from Carson City.

And thanks also to you loveable readers who have been reading the paper, occasionally.

While on the subject of the paper, it will be happily noted by our many inquisitive friends that I am no longer "acting editor." I've changed the reading. The reason I didn't change it before is that it is one of those things you just don't get around to, and other things are always brewing, and life is merry, etc.

Also: The news lab staff is herein incorporated into the masthead.

SECTION OF DEEP APOLOGIES DEPARTMENT: To the ROTC, Captain Holt has been promoted Major, not Colonel. The headline over the story was a trifle misleading. To make the readers overlook our errors in the future, we are going to begin printing other paper's errors.

Military Ball Queens Nominated

Military ball queen candidates were nominated last week by the four sororities and the Artemisia-Manzanita association.

The annual ball, sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, will take place Nov. 17.

Tippy Smith is the independent queen candidate. Carol Stever and Versiellen Eberle, both unaffiliated freshmen, are her campaign manager and assistant campaign manager.

Kappa Alpha Theta's candidate to reign over the Military ball is Cathy Zimmerman. Her campaign manager is pledge Elinor Glenn, and assisting Elinor is Marilyn Brooks.

Tri-Delta Honor Settlemyer is vying for the queen's throne, while Joyce Lindsay and Wynona Bromley are the managers of her campaign.

Toni De Reynier is the candidate for Military ball queen from the Pi Beta Phi sorority. Jo Ann Ortiz will manage Toni's campaign assisted by Elaine Zeitleman.

The Gamma Phi Beta women nominated Barbara Nordman as their queen candidate with Wau-nita Combs as her campaign manager.

Candidates and managers met with Bonnie Stewart, chairman of the Military Ball queen contest, to go over the rules of the contest set down by the Associated Women Students' Council.

Selection of the queen candidates is limited by tradition to scholastic sophomores. Women nominated are allowed three 8 by 10 glossy pictures and three wallet-sized pictures taken in a black drape. Two of the large photographs will be used on the bulletin boards on campus, and the other will go to Scabbard and Blade for publicity. The wallet-sized pictures will be used in the Sagebrush and downtown papers.

Arrangements have been made for the contestants to have one meal at each fraternity house. The queen candidate can be accompanied by any member of her living group. This is a change from past queen contests, where only the manager of the assistant manager were allowed to attend the fraternity houses with the candidates.

Campaign posters and serenading will not be permitted in publicizing the Military Ball queen candidates. However, appearances at assemblies and on television and radio will be scheduled

Sophomore Has Bad Time

The first mishap of the home-coming celebration took place the night of the pajama rally.

Mary Lee Ronnow, a sophomore student, was participating in the annual snake dance when she lost her balance and fell. The students on each side continued holding on to her, which resulted in what Mary Lee thought was just a twisted arm.

Jeanie Freeman, a Theta pledge, and Ellen Peale, another sophomore student, helped Mary Lee into one of the downtown hotels, and washed the scratches on her face and hands. She was then taken to the university infirmary where the nurse told her that her shoulder was dislocated. Mary Lee went on to the Washoe Medical Center and had X-rays taken and her arm put in a sling. Physicians there said her shoulder was sprained and slightly dislocated, with a few torn ligaments.

Mary Lee, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, is a flag twirler with the university band and was unable to participate in the home-coming activities. She will not be permitted to twirl for at least two weeks.

"Frog Prince" Up in Smoke

The Tri-Delt "Frog Prince" float went up in flames two weeks ago. This is the second year in a row that they have lost their float to fire.

Parked in front of the Tri-Delt house, the float began burning around 6 p.m. Sunday evening. Several women from the house and nearby houses noticed the fire.

Tri-Delt Diane Martin phoned in the alarm. Shortly, four fire engines were at the scene. Only one hose was actually needed, and the flames were soon under control.

Tri-Delts said they could have drowned the fire with their lawn hose, but it wouldn't reach the float.

The structure and the stuffings were completely burned away. The borrowed flatrack was badly scorched and one tire ruined.

Firemen were worried because the wind was blowing at the time.

A Tri-Delt pledge in a car across the street, saw a "figure" start the fire. He was identified as a fraternity man, but no charges will be made unless the damage to the flatrack is an excessive amount.

Ed Note: Firebugs know it's fun to start a fire. All you have to do is strike a match, and the flames bloom. It's a creation. Not only that, but you can hurt other people, and that's when it's real fun. You can run into the background and watch these other people. It's a vicarious thrill.

Lighting fires to fill an inner need, or as a practical joke, isn't very practical. Fires cost money. If they get out of hand they cost lives. Luckily the float fire didn't get out of hand,

JULIE ANDREWS says:

“Verily, a Professor ‘Iggins among magazines!”

Julie Andrews, twenty-one-year-old British girl, plays Eliza Doolittle in the sensational Broadway success “My Fair Lady”—a musical adaptation of George Bernard Shaw’s “Pygmalion.”

Q. Miss Andrews, had you ever been away from your family before you arrived in this country two years ago?

A. Never, and I still become dreadfully homesick. But I do talk with them several times a week.

Q. By phone?

A. No—by phonograph. We talk into recording machines, and airmail the records. They are so clear I can even hear my brothers arguing in the background about whose turn is next. It is as if we were all in one room.

Q. You never exchange the usual kind of letter?

A. *Very seldom, I’m afraid. But we post back and forth bits of particular interest—like newspaper reviews, and favorite articles from The Reader’s Digest.*

Q. Just the Digest?

A. Oh, no, there are others sometimes—but the Digest is our magazine. Mummy and Daddy have always read it, and I began when I was twelve, playing music halls. I had to miss school, and my teaching governess went through every issue with me on the run. It was part of my lessons.

Q. Do you still read it on the run?

A. Oh, yes—waiting for assignments, waiting for buses, even waiting for curtain cues. I hope I never have to be without it. When I wish to be amused, the Digest amuses me; and when I need to be scolded or instructed, I can always find an article that talks to me like—

Q. Like a Dutch uncle?

A. No, much more delightfully—more like Professor ‘Iggins in “My Fair Lady” showing a new world to Eliza Doolittle.

In November Reader’s Digest don’t miss:

CONDENSATION FROM FORTHCOMING BOOK: “THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY.” The all but incredible story of Nazi fighter pilot Franz von Werra—how he broke out of a British prison camp, audaciously attempted to steal a plane . . . and finally did escape.

REBELLION AT POZNAN. Here are eye-witness accounts of the June uprisings that may be a preview of the eventual end of the Communist empire.

TWO-EDGED DAGGER OF YUSOF HUSSEIN. Eerie experiences of a British officer in the Red-infested jungles of Malaya.

THE ANDREA DORIA’S UNTOLD STORY. Heart-rending drama of Dr. Peterson’s futile 5-hour struggle to save his wife—pinned under wreckage in their stateroom—as the giant liner slowly sank.

ARE YOU A BORE? I. A. R. Wylie shows ways we unwittingly bore others, and how to make yourself more interesting.

WHY THERE CANNOT BE ANOTHER WAR. Pulitzer Prize-winner William L. Laurence tells why, in the awesome light of an exploding H-bomb, one thing stands clear: thermonuclear war means certain suicide to the aggressor.

Women Leaders To Convene Here

Over 100 women student leaders from the most prominent universities in Northern California will attend the Northern California-Nevada State meet here next Saturday.

Joining with the out-of-state women, representing Associated Students' councils of the northwestern colleges, will be three elected delegates from each living group on campus. Other women interested in the discussion of general college problems are also invited to attend.

Women responsible for the details of this convention are: Mary Carol Jackson, convention secretary; Myram Borders, publicity; Pat Cordes, accommodations; Bonnie Stewart and Marilyn Feathers, meals; Charlotte Le Maire, discussions; Gail Sommers, programs; Betty Chism, posters; Connie Long, table displays; Nedra Norton, registration; Lynn DeLong and Letitia Sawle, coffee hours; Virginia Dupes, general meeting; and Trudy Caddel and Carol Gardenswartz, entertainment.

College participants in this convention, sponsored this year by the AWS Council of the University of Nevada and Fresno State will be Stanford, University of California at Berkeley, Davis, Fresno State, San Jose State, Chico State, University of Idaho, Idaho State, College of Pacific, Humboldt State, San Francisco State, and Nevada Southern.

Accommodations have been made for the out-of-town delegates at the sorority houses and the dormitories.

Highlighting the meet will be the dinner given in honor of the delegates at a downtown hotel.

U OF N BAND GIVES ENTERTAINMENT

The University of Nevada Band provided entertainment at half-time of the Homecoming game, according to director Felton Hickman. "Time" was the theme of the group as they depicted the different ways of measuring time through the ages. First, the band formed an hour glass, then a grandfather clock, and finally the modern clock. The presentation was in honor of the alums.

The band also greeted the newly chosen Homecoming queen at half time.

Miss Nada Novakovich and Mrs. Leslie Gray are scheduled to speak. Other entertainment will consist of the Pi Beta Phi winning Mackay Day Song team and a few songs by Jan Chiatovich.

The opening session will begin at 9:30. Registration will be in the Education auditorium at 8:30 a.m., after which there will be a coffee hour. The opening session will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium. Following the opening exercises, the delegates will be divided into discussion groups until the "break" for luncheon in the dining hall. The afternoon of convention day will be filled with these various discussions and a general meeting.

The registration fee, which covers the activities of the entire day, will be $6.

CLIFF YOUNG GREET'S YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Two distinguished Republicans, Cliff Young, congressman for Nevada, and Mr. Charles McWhorter, national chairman of Young Republicans, spoke to the Young Republicans on campus recently.

Mr. McWhorter spoke to the group on the worth of Young Republicans as political groups throughout the United States. He stressed that few groups other than school political groups have value after graduation. He said that through the experience of taking part in politics, the student gains valuable training. He also stressed the importance of formulating political views in college that will mold better citizens.

Congressman Cliff Young related his educational background to the group. He graduated from the University of Nevada with high scholastic honors. He was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and many other clubs. His talk was mostly concerned with the plans for his campaign for Senator.

BRUSHFIRE NOTICE

Deadline for submitting stories to the Brushfire is the end of this month. Any type of story is welcome. Stories may be left in the Brushfire box in the English department.

Ed Note: The Brushfire is not the Sagebrush. Any literature published in the Sagebrush is purely accidental, except the Homecoming issue, which was an exception.

"Know your candidates" is the program for the meetings of the Young Republicans this semester. Guest speakers have appeared at every meeting.

DeLauer Leads Alumni

Lee DeLauer, '48, is the new president of the University of Nevada Alumni association, succeeding William D. Parish.

Named as new officers with DeLauer at the Homecoming dance were Myner Walker, '42, first vice president, and Gene McKenna, second vice president. They assume posts held last year by DeLauer, and Paul Seaborn, '42. Adele McLean remains as alumni secretary.

DeLauer is a graduate of Berkeley high school, and the University of Nevada. At Nevada DeLauer was active in student affairs and Sigma Nu. He is an accountant and lives at Stateline.

Walker is co-owner of a service station. McKenna, advisor for the Alumnus newspaper, is an advertising firm partner.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Young man on a mountain

If Don Gundersen isn't in his office, he's probably on a California mountaintop making tests and surveys prior to the raising of a radio relay tower.

That's part of Don's job as an engineer with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. With other young engineers he makes field studies, then analyzes the data and decides where to locate equipment for mobile radio, radio relay and point-to-point radio links.

He has to answer a lot of questions, such as "How high must the towers be? How much will access roads cost? What will the control circuits cost? What are the chances of transmission interference?" And those are only a few.

"The answers have to be right, too," says Don. "The recommendations we make control hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of construction. There's no way in the world of 'burying' a mistake.

"But I like responsibility, and the chance to make real contributions. The telephone business is growing so fast, and technological improvements are coming along in such volume, that opportunities to get ahead are excellent. If the business looks remarkable today, think what it'll be like twenty years from now!"

Donald L. Gundersen graduated from the University of Washington in 1949 with a B.S. in Electrical Engineering. Other interesting career opportunities exist in all Bell Telephone Companies, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. COMIC STRIP BY SIGMA NUS

Sigma Nu fraternity will hold its annual "comic strip" costume dance Saturday night, according to Louis Porta, Sigma Nu social chairman.

There will be a prize for the best costume.

The dance will be at the American Legion hall. Music for the dance will be by Larry Brunetti and his orchestra.

GRADS, FACULTY ELIGIBLE FOR FELLOWSHIPS

One or more University of Nevada graduate students or faculty members may win one year fellowships through the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship program. Dean William R. Wood has asked Dr. Roy DeVerl Willey, Chairman of the Department of Elementary Education, to act as faculty representative for the program.

Fellowships are awarded only upon invitation and after nomination by faculty members. Designed to interest those who have not yet decided on an academic career, it is open to students of any college or university. The program's fields of interest cover Art History and Archaeology, the Classics, History of Mathematics and History of Science, Language, Literature, Musicology, Philosophy, Religion, Speech, Cultural Anthropology, Economics, Cultural Geography, Political Science, Social Psychology and Sociology.

Sigma Nu Sweeps Cross-Country

Sigma Nu swept the Homecoming cross country race for the fifth straight year. The Snakes placed five men in the first ten to account for the victory. They started 25 men in the competition. The victory helps put them farther ahead in the race for the Kinnear Trophy!

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, second in the race, received 40 points for the trophy. Third was Lambda Chi. Phi Sigma Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Chi, Hartman hall and Lincoln hall finished fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth respectively.

Lyle Damon, Sigma Nu, won individual honors with a time of 25:52.5 for first place. Second place was won by Richard Hughes of Alpha Tau Omega. Third place saw David Nyquist of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Fourth through tenth places were won by George Allison, SAE, Frank Way, Lincoln hall, Bob Autry, Sigma Nu, Don Broderdout, SAE, Mike Conner, Sigma Nu, Paul Turner, Sigma Nu, and Carl Looney, Sigma Nu, respectively.

Fifty-four men entered the race this year and only seven dropped out in the course of the race. C. M. Scranton, tournament supervisor, stated that it was a cold and windy day, and all the runners showed a great deal of intestinal fortitude competing. (Guts).

The competitors and their positions in the race are as follows: James Reed, Lambda Chi Alpha; Will Viani, Alpha Tau Omega; Paul Hauser, Phi Sigma Kappa; Jerry Tobin, Sigma Nu; Joe Johnson, Phi Sigma Kappa; Dick Barsanti, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Carl Rountree, SAE; Jim Gardner, Sigma Nu; Roger Mills, Phi Sigma Kappa; Dan Lindeman, Sigma Nu; Dale Prevost, Sigma Nu; Jim Vincent, Phi Sigma Kappa; Richard Ransom, Lincoln hall; John Crain, Sigma Nu; Will Zamboni, Alpha Tau Omega; Harry Heck, Alpha Tau Omega; Ted Berrum, SAE; Hugh Blakely, Sigma Nu; Fred Byington, Sigma Nu; Dick Dorworth, Sigma Nu; Howard Niolsen, Sigma Nu; Dennis Jones, Sigma Nu; John Brown, Sigma Nu; Jack Christiansen, Sigma Nu; Donald Sharp, Lambda Chi Alpha; David Wheeler, Sigma Nu; Don Cronin, Sigma Nu; David Downs, Lambda Chi; James Joyce, Alpha Tau Omega; Ron Gifford, Sigma Nu; Lens Marrs, Sigma Nu; Larry Dawson, Sigma Nu; and Will Walbridge, Sigma Nu.

Art Exhibit To Conclude

The art exhibit "has been attended by several hundred students from the University, together with an equal number of people from Reno," according to Craig Sheppard, chairman of the art department. This coming week will be the final one for the exhibition, which closes November 16.

This exhibition consists of a collection of 30 original art works being currently displayed in the University art gallery on the lower campus. The display affords a chance to see a group of works representing all the present day schools of modern art.

"Each of these works has been selected thoughtfully, and is typical of the individual style of the artist who created it," Prof. Sheppard stated. "Any student who fails to take advantage of the display is cheating himself of an opportunity to develop his cultural and intellectual outlook," said Prof. Sheppard.

The collection is valued at approximately $12,000 to $15,000. It is part of a permanent art collection from Mills College in California, and is here on loan through the Association of Western Art Museum Directors.

The University gallery is open from 1 to 4 p.m. every day except Saturday, and students are invited to see the exhibit during morning hours as well.

THREE SENIOR WOMEN TO TEACH HOME ECON

Three seniors majoring in home economics will begin practice teaching this week. They will teach home economics classes at Nevada high school for six weeks.

The women are Joan Sawle of Carlin, Jacque Hunt of Gardnerville, and Louella Matheus of Yerington. Miss Sawle will teach at Carson City, Miss Hunt at Yerington, and Miss Matheus at Gardnerville.

Two nightshirt-clad men on the rally committee, grabbing fire extinguishers, saved the football field from going up in smoke just before Homecoming. The Homecoming bonfire almost got out of hand when kerosene soaked grass began to burn.

By the light of the bonfire, J. B. Harris of Lambda Chi Alpha, was named Comic King. J. B. made a long and drawling acceptance speech thanking the girls for voting for him. It ended with, "Ah knew you all wouldn't forget of J. B." The King escorted the five Homecoming Queen candidates

13 LUHS Students Visit University

Thirteen Lassen high school students visited the University of Nevada Journalism department on Monday.

The students met with A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the department; Professors Keiste Janulis and Jack Myles; Hank Rilling, president of Nevada chapter Sigma Delta Chi; Myram Borders, president of the University of Nevada Prass club and the editor of the yearbook; and Bruce Bledsoe, editor of the University of Nevada Sagebrush, the student newspaper.

Following lunch at the university dining hall, the students were conducted through a local radio station, offices and plant of the Reno Evening Gazette and Nevada State Journal, and the television station.

Some members of the group are planning to make journalism their career and attend the University of Nevada, said Cyril Cope, Director of Publications at Lassen Union High School.

SAC'TO AND NEVADA IN 21-20 GRID STRUGGLE

By Dewey Berscheid

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack failed in a desperate attempt to overcome a one-point deficit Saturday afternoon at Mackay Stadium. The Hornets of Sacramento State College won their first Far West Conference football game in three years 21-20.

7-0

A 99-yard runback of the opening kick-off gave the Hornets the points needed to defeat the Wolf Pack. Otherwise the game was a close battle with both teams nearly even in total yards gained.

14-0

Following the opening kick-off the game settled down. Neither team was able to keep possession of the ball for long. Nevada pushed the ball to the 18-yard line of the Hornets, losing it on downs. Sacramento came up with an 82-yard drive in ten plays and led 14-0 at the close of the first quarter. It looked like another one of those days.

14-7

Nevada came to life in the second quarter, however. They held the Hornet and managed to score a touchdown and conversion. The halftime score 14-7.

Halftime activities were a highlight of the day. The Sacramento State marching band presented a fast-moving show for the sparse crowd on hand.

21-7

The Wolf Pack took the second half kick and moved to their 46 before they were forced to punt. The Hornets carried the ball back to the midfield stripe. Five plays later they crossed Nevada's goal line, made the conversion, and led 21-7.

21-14

In the third period the Wolf Pack drove 60 yards to their second touchdown. Gary Lundergreen kicked the point-after-touchdown and Nevada trailed 21-14.

Final 21-20

Another Nevada drive in the last period resulted in a TD, but the conversion which could have tied the game went wide. Final score Sacramento 21, Nevada 20.

SIGMA NU GAINS SIXTY POINTS TO KINNEAR CUP

Sigma Nu won volleyball competition in the intramural athletic league. The Snakes received 60 Kinnear Trophy points for their first place.

Hartman hall was second with four wins and one loss. They received 40 points toward the Kinnear Trophy.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Tau Omega tied for third place, losing three, and winning two apiece.

'Pack Must Upset' Jacks for Win

Tomorrow the Wolf Pack will try to upset a strong Humboldt State squad and earn its first turf victory of the season. The Lumberjacks will be working to stay at the top of the league. They are now tied for first spot in the Far Western Conference with the Cal Aggies.

Despite its record the Pack is still a spirited team, according to coach Gordon McEachron. The men in blue will have everything to gain and nothing to lose in their final game tomorrow. Game time is 2 p.m. at Mackay stadium.

The probable starting lineup for the Wolf Pack is Rusk and Darrow at the end positions, Baker and Adams at tackle, Haynes and Viani at guard and Sanders at center. In the backfield, Brainard and Lundergreen will hold the halfback spots with Lommori at fullback and Nicholson or Fujii at quarterback.

If the Wolves lost this Saturday's game, it will mark their first winless season since 1929.

In 1929 the Wolves lost 7 games and tied one.

They lost 12-0 to St. Ignatius of San Francisco, 32-7 to Utah, 19-6 to Santa Clara. They dropped to College of Pacific 7-6 when the Wolves were offside three times on COP's attempted point after touchdown.

The Pack then lost to St. Mary's 22-0, and the Cal Aggies 6-0. Fresno State tied them in the last minutes 12-12. They ended the season with a 60-0 trouncing by California's Golden Bears.

In 1928 they lost their last game to Gonzaga, 6-41, and lost the first two games of 1930,

Six Teams Battle

Six teams began competition for table tennis November 7. The six are: Sigma Nu, Theta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Hartman hall, and Lincoln hall.

All games are to be played at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays with the exception of one set for Saturday, November 17, at 1 p.m. The games will be played in the new gymnasium.

SKI CLUB ELECTS

Officers were elected at the Ski club's first meeting of the semester Wednesday night. Buster Sewell, SAE, is heading the organization as president. Other officers are: Dale Prevost, Sigma Nu, vice president; Nora Kellogg, Pi Phi, secretary, and Shelley Branch, Theta, treasurer.

Badminton

Competing this year are Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi Alpha, Lincoln hall, Hartman hall, Alpha Tau Omega, and Theta Chi. The games will be played in the new gymnasium at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays, with the exception of Saturday, November 17, at 1 p.m.

Pack Drops To Pepperdine

Four thousand fans watched the University of Nevada's Wolf Pack lose its Homecoming game to the Pepperdine College Waves, 40-19.

High hopes stirred among students and returning alumni as the Wolf Pack got off to a 13-0 lead on Jerry Nicholson's 23 yard pass to Bill Bowser and Verne Wagner's 14-yard scoring plunge. But Pepperdine moved ahead 14-13 at the half and gradually stretched the lead.

Two interceptions of Nevada passes deep in its own territory provided another pair of TD's while the Waves made scoring marches of 83 and 66 yards in the last half. The Wolf Pack's third touchdown came on a 35-yard run by fullback Mario Lommori.

Game in Brief

Pepperdine started a march on the opening kickoff. A fumble on their 47, recovered by Dave Adams, gave the ball to the Wolf Pack. Recovering a Nevada fumble, the Waves advanced to the Nevada 27 before losing the ball on downs.

28-19

The Wolf Pack, on the bull-like running of Mario Lommori, gave hope to the hearts of the old grads with a 53-yard scoring march. Lommori scored on a 35-yard run. Nicholson's conversion kick was blocked and the score stood at 19-28.

40-19

In the last quarter Pepperdine, on a 66-yard drive and an intercepted pass, scored 12 more points.

The Homecoming game was the Wolf Pack's fifth loss in six starts, with a tie against Chico State being the bright spot of the schedule. The Pack has dropped to Idaho State, San Francisco State, California Aggies, and Los Angeles State.

"WORLD NATURE FORGOT" TO BE SEEN BY ACS

"The World Nature Forgot," a 30-minute color film on the world of plastics, will be shown at next Tuesday's meeting of the student affiliate of the American Chemical Society.

The meeting, second of the year, will be held at 7:30 p.m., in Room 215 of Mackay Science hall.

Included in the film are recent advances in the field of plastics and a semi-technical account of plastic chemistry. Pictures of the actual polymerization process are also in the film.

All chemistry majors and interested students are invited to attend.

PATRONS SOLICITED

More than one thousand letters have been sent out soliciting alumni and faculty to become patrons of the Campus Players, the play producing group on campus.

$3.50 per year entitles each patron, to free admission to all the plays on campus this year. In addition the patron will be invited to all teas and general get-togethers sponsored by the players. Names of all patrons will be printed in group's annual program.

The entire idea of having patrons for the campus players is to have the alumni and others take an active part in the productions on campus, said Bernard Mergan, players president. The money collected will be used to buy costumes and lights.

The number of responses already received indicated that the program will be a success, stated William C. Brown, Business Manager of the players.

NOTICE

The suspense is over. The three young gentlemen painting the bleachers in the Homecoming issue were, left to right, Bob Hemphill, John Ingram, and James Whistler. (Whistler is the one with the paint bucket).

Intramural Hoop Until January 16

Intramural basketball began November 6 with three days of practice games. C. M. Scranton, tournament director, said the practice period is to be followed by fourteen playing days, ending January 16.

Basketball offers one hundred points for the winner toward the Kinnear Trophy.

Those scheduled to participate in the competition are Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, Hartman hall, Theta Chi, Lincoln hall, and the Civil engineers.

All games are to be played in the old gymnasium at 7 and 8 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays. Teams reporting more than ten minutes late will forfeit the game. Officials and one game ball will be furnished by the Physical Education Department.

COOL MOVE BY THETA PLEDGES AND SIGMA NUS

Turn-about's fair play!

Three Kappa Alpha Theta actives, Kaye Reid, Pat Heehs and Karen Knudson, recently captured two "innocent" pledges, Penny McMullen and Karen Gaffney. After "decorating" the pledges somewhat, the actives delivered them to the Sigma Nu fraternity house in hopes that the Sigma Nus would have some work handy for them to do.

By means of a sneaky turn-about, the men "forced" the Theta actives to clean the fire-place, dust and straighten up the living room while the freshman pledges played "ladies of leisure."

Brushfire needs stories.

Senate Discusses Report-Bookstore

In a short Senate meeting in the Snack Bar Wednesday evening, ASUN President Chuck Coyle told Senators that the attorney for the Bookstore's bonding company said it appears that blame for the discrepancy in the store's audit can not be blamed on any one individual and that the Associated Students will regain the lost funds.

Coyle further stated that the Student government administrators would reorganize the Finance Control Board procedures in the future. A report of activities of the Board will be submitted at certain intervals.

With regards to the McHenry report Coyle stated: "If any of you read the report you'll be sold on it. It's a good thing and I agree with what it says."

The report was available to students Thursday morning in Coyle's office. The report is not officially released yet and the one copy must remain in the ASUN president's office.

A ruling was passed requiring living groups to post a five dollar bond with the ASUN before election-type or advertising campaigns. If the signs for the event are not taken down two days after the final event, ASUN will retain the bond and the group's senator will be without a vote until the displays are removed.
