

CAMPUS READY FOR FLU OUTBREAK!

More than 37 students on the Nevada campus are known to have influenza; however, Dr. Ruth I. Russell, associate professor of health, physical education, and athletics, states, "the flu outbreak on campus has definitely not reached an epidemic stage."

The flu has not yet been identified as the Asiatic variety. It takes 14 days to analyze test samples from victims.

Twenty-two are at this time being treated in the infirmary. A ward for men has been established in the basemen of Lincoln hall where there are 12 patients and room for three more. The study room of Manzanita hall is equipped with six beds for more women patients on campus.

Seven Tri Deltas have been ill with flu, including their house-mother, Mrs. Hoffman. A room has been set aside at the Tri Delt house. Only three are now confined there with the flu. The sorority is receiving instructions for treatment from the infirmary.

Kappa Alpha Theta has had one student in the infirmary with the flu. Pi Beta Phi has had no victims at this time. Two victims from Gamma hi Beta have been in the infirmary and aproximatel six have been ill with flu or colds.

The old gynasium would be used if there were an epidemic at the university. The ground floor of the Manzanita would also be used. Students are working during the evenings as nurses aids in the infir-mar and in the men's living area. Rest and the drinking of liquids are prescribed as a treatment and preventatie from the sickness.

Inoculations for the flu have temporarily been discontinued at the infirmary. Dr. Russell claims many have had violent reations to the shot and would be sick in the infirmary. Dr. Russell also stated that the benefit of the inoculation is no known.

Mrs. Nelson, dining haal direc-tor, has been commended by Dr.

Russell as a reat aid in the treat-ment of the many students. There is a deliver of food and a supply of liquids from the dining hall for every meal.

Uniwersity engineer, Carl Horn, has provided a car for the use of the infirmary. Horn also has helped move beds in the various ards on campus.

Dr. Russell stated that all stu-dents should report to the infir-mary in case of flu or illnesses which have similar symptoms.

Frosh-Soph Field Day Set Tomorrow; Dance Will Follow

A tug-of-war across Manzanita Lake, a greased football game and a three-legged race will be some of the events to take place at the Soph-Frosh field day tomorrow.

The field day activities are part of the oldest traditions of the University. Unless the freshmen win in the competition, they will be required to wear their dinks and bows for the remainder of the semester.

The day will begin with the painting of the N. Freshmen students will meet at the A.S.U.N. building at 9 a.m. Transportation from the meeting place to the mountain will be provided.

"Everything Goes" will be the theme for the dance to be held that evening in the old gym from 9 to 12 p.m. The music will be provided by Rustay Ballinger's band. Admission for the dance will be 50 cents per couple or 35 cents per person.

The field day competition will begin at 1 p.m. at Mackay stadium. Judges for the events will be instructors from the women's physical education department. The names of the judges will be announced at a later date.

The sophomore class committee under the direction of Barbara Ruark, sophomore class president, is in charge of the activities. Newly elected Frosh Class President, Ed Allison, will also assist in the day's events.

Allison, Nelson Win in Frosh Elections

Ed Allison and Marilyn Nelson were the winners of last Friday's freshman class elections. Allison was elected freshman class manager and Miss Nelson is the new Associated Women Students freshman representative.

Allison ran on a platform for broadened freshman class activities. Plans for new activities will be released as soon as the first freshman class committee meeting has taken place, he says. Allison is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Marilyn Nelson is the first person to hold the office of freshman class AWS representative since its creation last April.

She plans "to uphold freshman women on an equal basis, independents and sorority girls alike," and "to set a good example for the women who will hold office in following years. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Five Coeds Vying For Queen Fame

Five candidates are vying for the title of Homecoming Queen to reign over the 1957 University of Nevada Homecoming festivities which will begin next Wednesday and continue thru Saturday night.

The queen will be crowned during the Wolves Frolic next Friday night.

Candidates are Dyanne Hayes, Koren Decker, Ale Anastassatos, Gail Furhman and Eleanor Bon-nenfant. All candidates are freshmen.

Kappa Alpha Theta has chosen Dyanne Hayes for its candidate. She is from Seattle Wash., and is majoring in marketing-research. She is five feet two inches and blue eyed.

Karen Decker, from Kings Beach, Calif., is the Independent nominee for Homecoming Queen. She is a physical education major and is five feet two inches with black hair and hazel ees.

Alez Anasassatos, a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority is from Reno, and is majoring in general education. She formerly resided in Athens, Greece. Alex is five feet three inches, with brown eyes and brown hair.

Gail Furhman is the candidate from Pi Beta Phi sorority, she is five feet six inches tall with brown hair and brown eyes. Gail is majoring in business.

Eleanor Bonnenfant is Gamma Phi Beta's candidate for the queen title. She is majoring in English, and has brown hair and brown eyes.

Balloting for the queen candi-dates will be held next Friday in the snack bar in Stewart Hall from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Only male members of the student body are eligible to vote.

Three Frats Will Sponsor Dances Tonight

Three campus fraternities will hold their pledge dances tonight, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Theta Chi.

Vern Durkee, ATO social chair-man, announced that his fratern-ity's dance would be held at Lawton Springs, five miles west of Reno on Highway 40.

A dinner-dance at Blarney's Castle, on South Virginia street is the program for tonight's Phi Sig pledge dance, according to Dan Winter's the affair's dance chairman. Dave Mathew's Combo will furnish the music.

The Big Y Drive-in in Sparks is the setting for the Theta Chi pledge dance. The Valentines will provide the music. Tom Frost is the event's chairman.

Living Groups Set Open Houses

All the women's living groups will participate in Homecoming open Houses on Wednesday, October 23. The houses will be open from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. for refreshments and dancing.

Dolores Chambers, social chair-man of the Artemisia-Manzanita Association, said that the dormi-tories will hold open house in Manzanita hall.

G.I. CHECKS LATE

Checks for students attending college through the armed forces G.I. Bill program will be slightly delayed for the month of Octo-ber, it has been announced by Sam Basta, dean of student affairs.

Basta said a shortage of clerical help in the Veteran's Admin-istration office has caused the delay, although the checks will be in the mail on or before Oct. 20.

First Rifle Team Match This Month

Coach Master Sgt. Kenneth Day said that men freshman students are interested in filling the vacancies of the University of Nevada Rifle team.

Although it is early in the season, several shooters reportedly have good potential. They are freshmen students Ray Salcedo, Devoe Wallace, Bob Oliver and Alex Rynechi. Also impressive in early performance are sophomores Grant Kirkman, Buzz Mandeville, Leo Riffel and Tom Frost.

Nevada's first rifle competition will be a postal match near the end of October. The only major match of the first semester will be the Sixth Army's Hurst Trophy match sometime in December.

Bud Wilkinson, coach of the Oklahoma Sooners, has a ten-year coaching record of 96 wins, eight losses and three ties.

THIRTY-THREE INITIATED BY FRATERNITIES

Thirty-three men were initiated into the six fraternities on campus this semester.

The new initiates and their affiliations are:

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Shreve Stanwood, Gene Clark, and Bill Sallas.

Alpha Tau Omega; Paul Huffey, Don Moyer, Richard Capurro, Spiros Anastassatos, Paul Stanley, George Ancho, Jerry Evans, Don Schultz, Tom Toll, Gar O'Neil, and Ted Moore.

Sigma Nu; Bob Autry, Hugh Barnhill, Dick Dorworth, Jim Gardner, Herman Marstens, "Skip" Melquist, Len Marrs, Peter otter, ete Tollidi.

Phi Sigma Kappa; Edgar Olesen. Lambda Chi Alpha; Jim Reed, Len Bingham, Barney Lyhon, Bob Newshaffer, Dave Nyquist.

Theta Chi; Leroy Wentz, Don Cottan, Buzz Mandeville, Sam Wagginer, and Dick Corbaley.

Scholarships For Home Ec School Still Available

Scholarships of $75 eah are still available to incoming freshmen and sophomores who enroll in the school of home economics for the coming spring semester. These are provided by the Max C. Fleischman scholarship fund.

If they are not all utilized, students now enrolled at the University of Nevada in this department may make use of the scholarship, provided they have the necessary qualifications.

Record Attendance Predicted for 1957 Homecoming Events

A record turnout of former students and grads is expected at the 37th annual University of Nevada Homecoming.

A delegation of some 100 students from the University's southern regional division will attend. Lee DeLauer, alumni association president, predicts that this will be the biggest homecoming ever.

Homecoming events will start Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, with open house along sorority row beginning at 8:30 p.m. An assembly is slated for 11 a.m. on Thursday and a rally to follow at 7:30 p.m.

The rally will see torchlighting of the "N" on Peavine Mountain and a dance through downtown Reno. The Homecoming queen will be elected on Friday.

Candidates for the crown include Kappa Alpha Theta's Dyanne Hayes; Tri-Delt's Alex Anastassatos; Pi Beta Phi's Gail Fuhrman; and Gamma Phi Beta's Eleanor Bonnefant.

That night the students will present the Wolves Frolic, an annual production featuring song and dance and dramatic skits.

The annual interfraternity race from Sparks and finishing up on the campus is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. on Saturday.

The Homecoming parade, which includes floats, bands, marching units, special guests, and university officials will march through downtown Reno at 10 a.m. Sororities and fraternities will then hold open houses for their alumni.

At 2 p.m. in Mackay Stadium, the Nevada Wolf Pack will meet Western State College of Colorado in the annual homecoming tilt. Half-time activities will feature crowning of the Homecoming queen by Governor Charles H. Russell and a performance by the University band.

The ceremonies will conclude with a homecoming dance for the students at Reno's State building at 9 p.m.

Honoring the classes of 1932, 1947, and 1952, alumni will hold their annual reunion banquet and dance at the Hotel Mapes at 9 p.m. Reunion get-togethers will be held for each honored class at the various Reno hotels prior to the banquet-dance.

Chairman of student Homecoming events is Dick Bryant of Las Vegas. George Vucanovich of Reno heads the Alumni association Homecoming committee.

LAMBDA CHI WILL PARTICIPATE IN HOMECOMING ACTS

Lambda Chi Alpha is still on social probation but will be able to participate in Homecoming competition.

This decision came as the result of a meeting with the officers of Student Affairs and the alumni association and activities of Lambda Chi Alpha.

The Lambda Chi's, in place of the former restrictions placed on competitive events, will have study hours for both the actives and the pledges. The study table will be in effect Sunday through Thursday until 10 p.m. The study table will be under the direction of Jeff Manhire, vice president of Lambda Chi Alpha.

How to make the most of your engineering career

go where engineers can study for advancement

If you're interested in really getting to the top, you should have an opportunity—while on the job—to take advanced engineering or science courses.

This means you'll reach your career goal faster with a company like Boeing, which not only permits, but actively encourages, graduate study. At Boeing, you can arrange your full-pay work schedule to fit your graduate study schedule. Boeing pays all tuition costs, plus an additional sum based on earned credit hours of study.

You'll feel at home at Boeing, for here you'll find graduates of virtually every school, including yours. You'll work with them on advanced projects in the expanding, limitless field of supersonic flight, jet-powered civil and military aviation, gas turbine engines, and a supersonic guided missile weapon system.

At Boeing, starting salaries are high. Rapid company growth assures opportunities for advancement and long-range career stability. You'll live in wide-awake, youthful communities, and enjoy the security of liberal retirement plans. Boeing pays moving costs, helps you get settled, and backs you up with an array of research and test laboratories unequalled in the industry.

NOW is the time to start planning ahead. Consult your Placement Office, or write:

Dance Begins UN Social Season

Starting off the dance season for the fall semester, three sororities held their pledge dances last week end. The sororities were Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Delta Delta, and Pi Beta Phi.

The Gamma Phi's held their pledge dance Saturday night at the Gay-Nor room in Sparks. The Jim Etes band played. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith and Dr. and Mrs. Don W. Driggs.

Edward's Halfway House was the location of the Delta Delta Delta pledge dance Friday night.

Music for the affair was provided by the Earl Hultberg band.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Willard F. Day, Dr. and Mrs. Robert McQueen and Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith.

The Pi Phi dance was held at the Golden Garden Friday night. Music was by the "Sophistikats."

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Harold N. Brown, Professor John R. Gottardi and his sister, Mrs. Hart, and Mrs. Nellie M. Corle, Pi Phi housemother.

Sen. Bible Guest At First Meeting Of Young Demos

Senator Alan Bible spoke informally at a meeting of campus Young Democrats in the Snack Bar recently.

"The number one domestic issue in the United States is integration, with inflation a close second," said Bible, "and the American people are daily becoming more aware of these issues."

Bible stated that the Senate had tried to follow a middle of the road policy on the integration controverts. The policy was working well until the recent Little Rock incident.

Hundreds Will Participate in Wolves Frolic

Entertainment, songs, skits and dances are on the agenda for the Wolves Frolic program to be presented Friday.

The frolic of fun will be presented by all fraternities, sororities, and independents at 8:30 p.m. at the State Building, as part of the gigantic Homecoming program.

Tickets for the Wolves Frolic are on sale at the ASUN Bookstore ranging from $2.40 to $1.20.

Delta Delta Delta has chosen "Babes in Toyland" as the title of its skit. Participating in the skit are Margaret Eddleman, Marva Edwards, Janie Kottinger, Marian Coate, Joyce Lindsay, Vangie Smith, Nedra Norton, Grace Antonelli, Tricia Hug, Lynn Walsh, Teresa Gibson, Jody McNally, Sharon Wendt, and Ginger Ivers.

"Red Hot and Blue" is the theme of Pi Beta Phi. Participants will be Billie Morris, Theresa Mariani, Marilyn Ferrari, Martha Cleary, Barbara Ruark, JoAnne Todd, Sally Riley, Judy Gandee, JoAnne Dumble, Sharon Teglia, Kay Kelly, Pat Potter, Karen Rietjens, Farol Lee Spell, Kay Hicks, Elaine Zeitlmann, Suzanne Kuypers, Myram Borders, and Marty Emery.

Kappa Alpha Theta's theme is "Fantasy in Blue." Participating in this year's show will be Rita Woods, Francie Breen, Karen Gaffney, Kaye Reid, Versielker Eberle, Karen Knudson, Marie McDonough, Cathy Zimmerman, De De Colton, Shelley Branch,

Nevada Papers Bitter, Critical, Thoughtful, Concerning Resignation of President Stout

Nevada newspapers have reacted to the resignation of University of Nevada President Minard W. Stout, and excerpts from state newspaper editorials recently were compiled by Paul Leonard, editor of the Nevada State Journal.

Commenting upon the editorials, Leonard said "a number of newspaper editors in Nevada had their say concerning Dr. Stout's resignation, some bitter, some critical, some thoughtful, some all three."

With the permission of Paul Leonard, excerpts from the editorials follow:

Las Vegas Review-Journal— "The Wolves finally 'got' Dr. Minard W. Stout, president of the University of Nevada . . .

Letter TO THE EDITOR

In view of President Stout having caused so much controversy on campus with his resignation of the fourth, I, as an underclassman, was prompted to be more inquisitive on the issue than prior to this time.

I was not at all oblivious of the student's feelings on the issue, but I had never stopped to inquire why. The poem presented was borne to my amazement when I found that many of the students did not know why.

I remain, on this issue, unbiased, but the realization of importance of all political matters so they, campus, state or nation wide, are more than pertinent. We, as the people, must act wisely in the issues of government. A nation cannot be strong if its people are in ignorance. Knowledge is a greater part of a democracy and one cannot exist without the other.

This poem does not necessarily refer to the issue at hand, but simply to "the dastard's game of politics," any time, anywhere.

THE DASTARD'S GAME OF POLITICS

The president at last lay down
And wallowed in his blood, Shot by the murderous word of mouth

Expounded by the flood.

They stood, that crowd of demons,
With glinting laughing eyes.

They were intent upon his death,
The speared him with their crys.
This crowd was drawn by masters
With a gleaming art or words,
And their following flocked around them

Like massive vulture birds.

Their macabre dance around him,
And the president now dies,
Is filled with indignation;

They denounce his words as lies.
Now they have gleamed him of all flesh,

He's lying there but bones.

They slink off in the darkness

To utter simple moans.

Oh, crucify, you demons!

To afterwards recall

A good man lies at hell's door,

It was You who made him fall.

You ask me what this tale depicts?

The dastard's game of politics.

— Rita L. Maness

There is little doubt but that Dr. Stout beat the regents to the draw and quit before the new regents could demand that he be ousted . . . it is incumbent on the new members of the board of regents to find a man who is much more qualified than Dr. Stout and one who can curb all criticism of the institution . . . We can inform these men that such a replacement will be exceedingly hard to locate . . . The regents should, when they secure a man to replace Dr. Stout, come out with a firm statement that they have hired the man they think best for the institution and then stick by him. This has not been done in the past."

Reno Evening Gazette — "From the day that Dr. Stout arrived he was the center of a stormy controversy. It did not make any difference who was chosen president of the university at that time; the treatment would have been the same. There was a group in the faculty that challenged the authority of the president and the regents in administrative matters. There was a group of meddlesome alumni who always had been free with their advice on how a university should be run. And always there was a group of impressionable students ready to join in any demonstration. And those groups are still on hand . . . Now that new majority (on the regent board) can name a president of its choice. But it cannot name an executive who will be all things to all men, or a complaisant figurehead."

Elko Daily Free Press — ". . . the University of Nevada is again faced with the selection of a new president, not an easy task since it seems impossible to name any individual who meets with approval of all factions, particularly those who reside in Reno . . . there is a dire need at the university to secure a man whose term of office extends over a considerable period of time. There is a dire need for bickering to be stopped . . . We hope when (the new president) is named the people will give him a chance to prove himself and not start undermining him before he has had the opportunity to put his program into work . . . The great record of Dr. Stout in building the physical plant at the university is a matter of cold arithmetic . . . Dr. Stout's trouble was in the field of public relations and 'academic freedom.' "

Lovelock Review-Miner — "The university is striking itself a blow from which it will not recover for years . . . He (Dr. Stout) has driven himself, he has ridden herd on those under him and he has presented good arguments and contacted the right people to get things done. But after such an administration the board will look for a flunky and yes-man . . . And that is likely what they will get . . . A gentle poet would fit in nicely now so the old guard on the faculty can again take over . . . a number of professors have themselves glued to their jobs by tenure. In security they were able to carry on their warfare; not so Dr. Stout. His putting lazy professors, with one or two students in a class, to work should last for a year or two . . . He will have no trouble obtaining a better position in the educational world. We only feel sorry for his successor."

BROWN KNOWS

By BILL BROWN

The question concerning the status of golf will again be brought before the students within a few days. The question of whether golf should become a major sport at the university has been placed on the homecoming ballot and according to those who stands little chance of being voted in.

For the past several years the eeling of the other athletes has been that golf is not a demanding enough sport to rate a major letter. Another charge that has been repeated is that the golf team spends little time in practice and what time is spent is simply a "fun and ames" type activity.

To these charges the golfers reply that the constitution of the Far Western Conference states that Golf should be considered a maor sport, while no mention is made concerning boxing and ski-in which are major sports at this school. They go on to state that approximately 15 hours of practice time per week is necessary in order to play competitive golf.

Since, by its very nature, golf is an individual spot the success of the Nevada olf team must depend on the individual members believing that they are contributing something to the school in the way of athletic prestige, another vote of "no-confidence" by the student body could seriously hamper this belief.

The University Golf team has had a very successful record in past years including one individual conference champion.

43 Answer Call

Basketball tryouts began last week for the University of Nevada Wolf Pack. Head coach Jake Lawlor welcomed 43 candidates to the first workout.

Starting guards George Nelson and John Legarza were among eight returning lettermen. Stan Summers, last year's starting center and leading scorer, has another ear of eligibility left, but he has chosen not to play this year because of a heavy engineering schedule.

The Wolf Pack will play 25 games this year. The opener is against College of Oregon December 6 and 7, at La Grande, Ore.

Local Sportswriter Comments on Golf As A Major Sport

Editor's note—Ty Cobb, University of Nevada graduate and former Sagebrush editor, and sports editor of the Nevada State Journal was asked to give his opinions concerning the golf-as-a-major-sport question.

Mr. Cobb consented to give his opinions as a professional sports writer.

By Ty Cobb

It has long been a mystery to me, as a sportswriter and alumnus, why the University of Nevada student body in the last few years has neglected to honor its varsity golf team with the school's Block N letter award.

A few years ago when Nevada was plying an independent course in athletics and picking up spring matches on a hit-or-miss basis, it might have been proper to classify golf as a minor sport.

But the links game has been recognized as an official sport of the Far Western Conference for the past several years, during which time University of Nevada has been a competitor in football, basketball, track, golf, tennis.

All but one other of the six member schools recognize golf as a major sport. They play an official schedule in golf, and also hold an annual conference championships tournament for the divot diggers.

In fact, a University of Nevada golfer won the conference title for his school a year ago, and his defeated opponents are amazed to learn that he would not receive a Block N for his feat.

It is not fair to recognize the other conference sports as "major" and relegate golf to a "minor" status, and we feel that the Nevada student body will remedy this situation when it goes to the polls.

Georgia Tech defeated Cumberland (Tenn) 222-0 in 1916. Cumberland's best play of the day was a five-ard loss around end.

Freedom of the press! What you read is completely uncensored . . . only the things you don't read have been censored, and then you don't know if they have been written.

So, now to review the many, many events during the past two weeks. Social circles at the university have been moving faster than Sputnik, the Russian satellite, but they are also making news.

SAE's held the first pledge dance on the social calendar two weeks ago. Seen dancing at the Golden Garden were Steve Dollinger and Kauny Bailey . . . Ben Bingamen and Ann Warren . . . Bruce Kossman and Linda Bergen . . . Shrievie Stanwood and Deanna Woodluff . . . Bud Borden and Diane Hayes . . . Thetas. Bill Kearney and Sally Riley . . . Ron Broderdorf and Mary Morton . . . Jerry Eggers and Karen Rietjens . . . Larry Kearney and Theresa McGuire . . . Norm Scoggins and Barbara Moncrief . . . Don Bernard and DeAnn McGowan . . . George Allison and Barbara Ruark . . . Pi Phis.

And there were more: Don Hudson and Cynthia Heth, Tri-Delt . . . Bill Adams and Rita Miolini, Gamma Phi . . . Speedy Alvarez and Louise Littenburg . . . Larry Burke and Tricia Hug, DDD . . . Bil Campbell and Jill Stratton, DDD . . . Steve Rucker and Joyce Forward, Gamma Phi . . . Dick Bortolin and Bev Stapes, Gamma Phi . . . Tom McCan and Barbara Longnecker (interesting name) . . . Gene Clock and Trudy Carter.

Flash: Editor and assistant editor of the Sagebrush have collaborated in their journalistic efforts to produce a little Sagemush. Tau Jim Joyce hung his first frat pin on Nedra Norton, DDD (Delta double ditto), at the juniors Bavarian picnic. It was announced at "pledge presents."

The only other announcement in the past two weeks was that of Laura MacPhee, Gamma Phi, who announced her engagement to Don Mann, Sigma Nu.

In the dance department this last week-end were the Tri-Delts, Pi Phis, Gamma Phis, Sigma Nus, and their dates which make up about half the campus enrollment. We'll now try to make a dent in the deluge of names.

At the DDD (drink-drunk-drunk) dance: Grace Antonelli and John Mayeroff . . . Judy Kautz and Carl Wegrin, A.T.O. . . . Marlene Belli and SN Bob Frick . . . Ann Jones and SN Dick Ankers . . . Pat Lamoreaux and Jerry Cobb, Tau . . . Ann Bengoa and Jerry Tobin . . . Vangie Smith and Don Hudson, SAE . . . Angie Farros and Max Botz, Theta Chi . . . Of Two Minds

On the one hand, you have Thirsty G. Smith. Good taste to him means zest and zip in a beverage, sparkle and lift and all like that . . . On the other hand, T. Gourmet Smythe perceives good taste as the right, fit and proper refreshment for a Discriminating Coterie. So? . . . Have it both ways! Coca-Cola . . . so good in taste, in such good taste. Et vous?

Drought Ends for Battered Pack

Nevada Travels To City By Golden Gate

By Dewey Berscheid

The drought has finally ended. And a Wolf Pack which has found that it can win a football game will be out to make it two in a row tonight. The pack left for San Francisco today where it will meet the Golden Gators in Cox Stadium.

Tonight's encounter will be the third straight Far Western Conference game for Nevada. The Wolf Pack record is one and one in the conference, a 19-20 loss to Chico State, and last week's win over the Cal Aggies.

The Golden Gators and Nevada each have one win this season. The Gators' only victory was a 28-14 nod over the Lumberjacks of Humboldt State. San Francisco has dropped games to San Diego State and Fresno State.

Last year the Golden Gators downed the Wolf Pack 32-20.

Pro football came into being with a contest between teams Latrobe, Pa., and Jeannette, Pa., on Aug. 31, 1895. Latrobe, the home team, was the winner by a 12-0 score.

Fujii Player Of Week Against Aggies

Ken Fujii, Nevada's star quarterback, was named player of the week for his performance against the Cal Aggies last Saturday afternoon.

Fujii who is not listed as the number four passer in the NCCA small college standings, had a hand in all three touchdowns against the Aggies. He scored two and passed for the third.

The diminutive quarterback stands 5-9 and weighs 175. He is the only three year letterman on the team. He is a graduate of Reno High School, where he was named to the all-state team.

Fujii was awarded a silver football at the Nevada Sportswriters and Broadcasters Assn. meeting last Wednesday.

Nevada Wins First Game in Two Years

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack, winless since Nov. 5, 1955, ended a 12-game losing streak with a 21-13 victory over the California Aggies last Saturday at Davis, Calif.

A strong Nevada line, and sparkling play by quarterback Ken Fujii paved the way for victory. Fujii, currently the fourth ranked among the NCAA small college passers, ran for two TD's and passed for a third.

The line provided gaping holes for backs Tom Whitaker, Rod Cook and Don Moroni.

The Wolf Pack went on the scoreboard in the first quarter as Fujii flipped a short pass to Bill Bowser for two yards. A Cal Aggie pass to Herb Carriere tied the game, and the teams departed at halftime with the score 6-6.

Nevada iced in the third quarter, when Fujii scored two touchdowns. The first came on a 16-yard bootleg play, and the second on a two-yard plunge after Rod Cook's running had carried the ball deep into Aggie territory.

The Aggies scored again on a pass, but the Pack scored a safety in the fourth period to complete the scoring.

Fujii added 57 yards to his passing on eight completions in 17 attempts. Nevada made 190 yards on the ground—their most impressive total to date.
