13 Committees Named For Winter Carnival

Thirteen Winter Carnival committeemen were recently named by Chairman Bob Morrill. The event will be held on the weekend of February 14.

Deanne Munk will act as secretary. Carol Crisler was chosen registration chairman, and ticket sales will be the job of Judy Sikora. Bob Autry will be tournament director.

Recording the skiing events will be the duty of Marie McDonough. Lynn Bingham will supervise the Carnival assembly, and Waunita Combs is chairman of the queen contest.

Janis McDonald is in charge of sorority decorations, Jim Santini will handle men's housing for the visiting ski teams, and Barbara Heward is chairman of women's housing.

The Carnival dance will be planned by Pat Reynolds, and the banquet which precedes the dance will be supervised by John Madariga. Jim Blakely is in charge of trophies.

Four suggestions for theme of living groups' decorations were made: old-fashioned winter, commercialism, Mardi Gras winter, and fantasy winter. Decoration chairmen from each living group will meet and decide the theme. Additional suggestions can be submitted by any student on the campus.

Honorary Group Elects Eight

Eight University of Nevada senior and graduate students have been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society.

Secretary Dr. H. Jerome Seim of the University chemistry faculty said the students were named to the society on the basis of scholastic excellence.

Seniors chosen included Bruce E. Capron, electrical engineering student; Allura Nason and Jerry Lee Fenwick, both students in foreign language; and Marie Hursh Jones, student in elementary education.

All four are from Reno, and each maintained better than a 3.50 grade average during his past six semesters at the university.

Perfect 4.0 grade averages were attained by each of the four graduate students named to Phi Kappa Phi. They received master's degrees this spring, and include William A. Colbert of Inglewood, Calif.; Peter Laxalt of Carson City; Sheila Rast of Sparks; and Marilyn Wittwer Chamberlain of Berkeley, Calif.

BLUE KEY MAKES OFFER OF FREE JOB BOOKLET

A free booklet describing the job opportunities for college graduates will be distributed Monday and Tuesday in Room 103 of Ross Hall by Blue Key Fraternity.

The booklet is "Careers: For College Men," and will be given free to senior men.

According to Don Rasmussen, Blue Key president, the booklet represents career offerings of 106 corporations, the graduates they desire and the qualifications necessary for employment.

A cross-reference index is included in the booklet so the senior can pinpoint his interest.

Other information in the free pamphlet includes data concerning the armed forces and information on how to author and submit an application for employment.

Job opportunities which apply to Job opportunities which apply to cluded in the booklet.

Happy Thanksgiving

An edition of the Sagebrush will not be printed next week because of the Thanksgiving recess. You ain't going to catch us pounding out news items while everyone else is at home devouring turkey, dressing, cranberries, and other noble dishes.

The staff of the 'Brush would like to take this opportunity to wish students and members of the faculty a happy Thanksgiving. We'd also like to remind everyone who is planning to drive home for the holiday to take it easy on the highways. This is the time of year when roads become dangerous on those "gentle" curves.

We'd like to see you all around on Monday, the 2nd. So drive carefully and give us one more thing for which to be thankful.

TEN DEBATE SQUAD MEMBERS ENTERED IN LOS ANGELES MEET

Ten members of the University of Nevada debate squad will take part in a tournament at Los Angeles Nov. 25-27.

The meet is the Western Speech Association forensic tournament at George Pepperdine college. It will be open to all schools of the western states.

Students may enter debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, interpretative reading, and impromptu speaking.

Nevada will be represented in debate by five teams of two members each. They will be Stan Jones and Mack Fry, Bob Scott and Barbara Burgess, Versiellen Eberle and Ginger Ivers, Jim Santini and Dick Bryan, and Roger Joseph and Chris Christensen.

Entries in interpretative reading are Miss Burgess, Joseph, and Miss Ivers.

Original oratory entries will be Jones, Miss Burgess and Ivers.

Extemporaneous speakers will be Miss Eberle and Jones.

The debate question for this year is: "Resolved: That the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal."

The teams must be ready to debate either the affirmative or the negative side of the question.

The general subject area for the extemporaneous speaking will be "Education in the United States." Contestants have one hour to prepare a speech after drawing the subject.

Faculty Recital On Sunday at Four

A joint faculty recital will be the feature of this week's Sunday At Four program.

The department of music will present Frederick Freeburne, pianist, and Rodney Mercado, violinist.

The recital will be held in the auditorium of the education building, Sunday at 4 p.m.

Scholarship Checks

Empoyes of the Comptroller's office have asked that students who have not picked up their scholarship checks do so immediately. Many checks still have not been picked up, according to the Comptroller's office.

Trudy Brock Stars In Greek Tragedy

The University of Nevada Campus Players opened their drama season last night with the presentation of "Antigone."

Under the direction of Asher Wilson, assistant professor of speech and drama, "Antigone" will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m.

The recently redecorated Education auditorium, which has a seating capacity of 318, is being used for the first time with the opening of the play.

CAST

Trudy Brock has the title role of the modern version of a Greek tragedy.

The supporting cast includes Robert Moran as Creon, the king; Gaye Lane as Ismene; Marian Burleson as Euridyce; Mickey McBride as Haemon; Pat Reynolds as the Nurse; Dan Hulse as the first gunman; Dean Kapsalis as the second gunman; Edward Foster as the third gunman; Roger Joseph as the Messenger; and George Mross as the Narrator. Joseph is also stage manager for the production.

A modern adaptation of the Greek myth of Antigone, written by Jean Anouihl, the tragedy is the story of a young girl whose uncle, Creon the king, battles to capture a city.

In the battle, both of Antigone's brothers are killed. However, one brother, who has sided with the king in battle, is laid in state after his death while the other brother who opposed the king, is left uncovered in a field.

Antigone, while trying to provide a decent burial for her disgraced brother, is caught in the web of her uncle's treacherous and is finally murdered.

"Antigone" was presented to United States audiences for the first time in 1946 when Kathryn Cornell portrayed the part of Antigone and Sir Cedric Hardwick was cast in the role of the king.

ELLEN SAUMER AWARDED RESEARCH ASSISTANTSHIP IN PSYCHOLOGY

Ellen Saumer, University of Nevada student in psychology, has been awarded a $1000 research assistantship for the 1957-58 academic year.

Miss Saumer is an honor roll student and in her junior year at the university. She is the daughter of Mrs. A. R. Saumer of 1905 Vale street.

The psychology student will assist Dr. Paul Secord, chairman of the University's psychology and sociology department, in his research study of how people perceive and evaluate other people.

The research program is supported by a three-year grant of $38,000 from the National Institute of Mental Health. The grant was awarded Dr. Secord this past summer, and provides for one assistant this year and two assistants for each of the second and third years of the grant. Assistantships are awarded to outstanding students in psychology.

The overall research program is aimed at developing a systematic theory of how people form opinions and have feelings about other persons, why individuals particularly like or dislike certain persons or why individuals feel certain persons are kind or hostile.

Pi Phi Spaghetti Feed Gathers $80

Pi Beta Phi pledges took in approximately $60 at their spaghetti feed Tuesday, November 12. The affair was to raise funds for pledge projects.

Pledge Kay Gadda was the chairman for the event. Nearly 60 pledges from the other three sorority houses on campus attended the Pi Phi project.

NEARLY 700 STUDENTS ATTENDING NEVADA UNIVERSITY EVENING CLASS

Almost 700 students are attending University of Nevada evening classes this semester.

The Reno campus has 555 evening students. The Reno division off-campus locations at Winnemucca, Fallon, Carson iCty, Yerington, and Lovelock have about 25 students each.

Most students are enrolled in the College of Education, but the most popular courses are creative writing and speech.

"The classes are well-attended, which shows a desire and willingness to further their education by those who work in the daytime," said Frank V. O'Leary of the University evening division.

Since the adult interest is so high, J. Patrick Kelley, director of the evening division, plans to add more courses every semester.

Thirty-six courses are now offered on the Reno campus in five of the seven colleges: Agriculture, Business Administration, Arts and Science, Education, and Mining.

The present semester will end January 25. A new schedule of evening classes will be available to the public in the last week of January.

Basque Culture On Display In Art Gallery

Paintings, costumes, and information on the Basque culture on display at the University of Nevada's Art department gallery.

The gallery is open to the public from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. every day except Saturday.

Dr. John C. Shepherd, associate professor of art, announced that the paintings were sent by the Western Association of Art. Fairy Frank, an Idaho artist, painted the 13 pictures in the exhibit, which includes country scenes, folk dances, and studies of individual Basque persons.

Basques were originally moon-worshippers until they became Christianized.

Their homeland is in the Pyrenees mountains just above Spain. As a people they are largely sheepherders.

The food of the Basques is unique and few second-generation Basques can prepare it. Garlic, onions, peppers, and leeks are used extensively as seasoning.

Three UN Students Escape Injury

Three University of Nevada students narrowly escaped tragedy on the Pyramid Lake road Monday night.

The trio, pledges of Phi Sigma Kappa, were looking for another member of the pledge class who had been taken on a "ride," when a tire on the rear of the foreign sports car blew out, swerving it onto a soft shoulder. The automobile rolled over four times and came to rest upon its wheels.

The driver, Bill Raney of Little Rock, Arkansas, suffered a severe cut in his leg, and several minor cuts from flying glass. His two passengers, Vic Williams and Bud Powell, both of Fallon, suffered minor cuts and bruises.

The occupants of the automobile walked approximately 16 miles to the nearest home, whose occupant was reluctant to allow them to use the phone.

Finally, however, he held the telephone outside the door and let them call the fraternity house.

The car was demolished in the mishap.

Nevada Student Wins Scholarship

Mary Reckers, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and a senior at the University of Nevada, has received a dietetics internship at the Highland Alameda County hospital in Oakland, California. She will begin her internship after graduation in January.

Completing a year's work at Highland Alameda County hospital, Miss Reckers will become an accredited member of the American Dietetics association.

Miss Reckers is a home economics student majoring in foods and nutrition. She is now doing extra training work in the diet kitchens of St. Mary's hospital,

What's happened to gasoline prices?

If you've wondered... here are some things you should know

Gasoline prices have not risen as much as other products. The only fair way to compare is with other things you buy. The U. S. Cost of Living Index shows the over-all cost of living is up 102.3% since 1939. During that time the price of gasoline rose only 62.8% not including taxes.

Taxes add about 9¢ to the cost of every gallon. Thus, nearly 30% of your gasoline dollar does not buy gasoline... it's for state and federal tax. These taxes go to help build and improve the roads we all enjoy. However, we must include them as part of the price you pay for a gallon of gasoline.

Research also helps keep gasoline prices down. Standard and the oil industry employ more than 15,000 full-time researchers... invest more than $160 million each year to develop ways to find and produce oil more efficiently, and to make more and better products at a lower cost.

Gasoline quality is much better. There's a performance bonus for motorists in the big improvements that have been made in gasoline over the years. Quality has risen so fast that the regular gasoline you buy today is comparable to the premium gasoline of just ten years ago.

Oil is getting harder to find and more expensive to develop. In 1956 our average cost for a well was $149,000... up 40% over the past five years. In 1956 we completed 101 wells in the Gulf of Mexico where drilling costs can be six times as much as on land.

Competition helps keep gasoline prices low. There are 300 oil refining companies in the U. S. Each tries to make better products and give better service than the others. At the same time the refiner must keep his prices competitive or face the loss of customers.

Here's why gasoline is still one of your biggest bargains; Today the average worker can buy 85% more gasoline with an hour's pay than he could in 1939.

Editorial Extending Finals

A move is currently underway on this campus which, if successful, would provide for an extension of semester final examinations.

If a new system is adopted, students would not be inconvenienced by taking two or three finals on one day, or be subject to a final immediately following a regular school day.

This idea was presented at a recent meeting of the ASUN Senate and is under consideration by the senators. No definite action has yet been taken, but a letter to the office of the Academic Vice-president recommending a change should be forthcoming shortly.

At most colleges and universities, the finals schedule is arranged over a period of two weeks, or is included in one five-day period, preceded by a "dead" week, during which time no classes are held and no social activity is scheduled.

It is hoped that the University will adopt a similar system, or a modification of one of the previously mentioned types. It is obvious that the current schedule does not allow for enough study time to devote to each subject, or permit a student to work at his full capacity on each final, thus receiving a better grade.

OFF THE CUFF ... GUIDE TO GOOD FASHIONS FOR MEN

Take a deep breath.

That's the smell of burning leaves.

It may be fall, but it's still warm in the sun. Just the same, if you've collapsed in the shade lately, you know that summer's gone. It's time for something more than a shirt.

A long-sleeved knit shirt is pretty comfortable along about now—just warm enough. And this isn't the old polo-shirt deal, either. The newest knit shirts are cut just like a regular shirt, complete with button-down collars. In solid colors, red is a natural. Loden green is growing fast in popularity, too. Stripes are always good, particularly when they're offered in Ivy colorings. Trend setters swing to the ones with a horizontal stripe across the chest (broadening, I'm told), designed after the Italian style.

There's a good choice of fabrics in knits this season. Besides the perennial favorite, the flat knit cotton, there are now all-cottons that look tweedy and wooly. A new Orlon-wool construction creates a fabric that is both warm and washable. For a weekend trip to a neighboring campus choose a 100 percent Orlon knit that affords all the advantages of quick drying and a minimum of wrinkling. Which ever you pick, and whatever pattern of color you like, they all look pretty trim.

Of course, there are times when even the handsomest knit shirt is too informal. If you want a warm, comfortable shirt that's still dressy enough for dinner off campus, the new Arrow Cambridge cloth shirts provide the answer. These are made of brushed cotton, and they feel almost as soft as cashmere. In solid colors, such as blue or ivory, they can be worn any place you would wear a good oxford button-down. Ivy league styling, with the new short-pointed Glen button-down collar plus trim Mitoga fit, makes this a great shirt for almost any fall occasion. In broken line checks or stripes, the Cambridge cloth takes on a sportier look.

With either knits or Cambridge cloth shirts, that old standby, the grey flannel slack is always good. If it's time for a new pair of slacks, a medium grey is more popular than the charcoal that was the rage last year. You'll find that slacks are a little narrower this year, and look very good, especially the pleatless front models. Back buckles are reserved for the high school set this year. Pick a pair without the after-deck trimming or simply take the back-strap and buckle off of an otherwise good slack.

One word of caution: even if you have a new gray flannel suit, don't use the pants as slacks. You will find it's economy in the long run to have slacks that are worn only with sports jackets. Nothing looks worse than a suit with a new jacket and baggy pants. Wear the suit as a suit, and it'll last you twice as long.

CANCER DRIVE SCHEDULED IN APRIL; YOUNG HEADS CRUSADE

Former Congressman Cliff Young, now a practicing Reno attorney, will head the 1958 Cancer Crusade in Nevada. Dr. Horace B. Taylor, president of the Nevada division, American Cancer society, announced this week.

"We are fortunate in again having Cliff Young to serve in this capacity," Dr. Taylor said, pointing out that success of the 1957 campaign was attributed to the leadership shown by Young in heading the drive statewide.

In accepting the public service appointment, Young said that he was looking forward once again to working with "the dedicated, selfless people who did such an outstanding job in the 1957 campaign."

He added that "a great deal remains to be done in controlling this menace that annually takes such a tragic toll of human lives"

Dr. Taylor said that the 1958 drive for funds would be conducted in April of next year and that Young had been asked to form a "crusade committee" to help him with statewide campaign plans.

GUEST COLUMN

By DAN HULSE

With the Wolves' Frolic of '57 still fresh in our minds, we recall the effort and teamwork that constitute a good performance.

For the past six weeks, Campus Players, the U of N dramatic club, has been in rehearsal to bring the student body something different in entertainment. The collective effort of 12 cast members, the director and stage crew will be seen this weekend when "Antigone" by Jean Anouilh is presented in the education auditorium.

This play, which is in the tradition of Greek tragedy, will enjoy a three-night run on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 21, 22 and 23. Curtain time is 8:15 each evening.

This is the second major production Campus Players has offered this year. The first was "The Chalk Garden" which was performed early in the semester.

"Antigone" features Trudy Brock in the title role and Robert Moran as Creon. Veterans of past performances at the University of Nevada who appear in supporting roles are Gaye Lane, Roger Joseph, Dan Hulse, Dean Kapsalis, and Ed Foster. Newcomers to the dramatic scene on campus are Herman Marston (as Haemon), Pot Reynolds (as the Nurse) and Marian Bureson (as Eurydice). A unique touch to the production is the presence of a narrator, George Mross, who serves the function of the Chorus in a Greek tragedy.

Students who are looking for a change of pace need look no further than the education auditorium. "Antigone" may provide a cultural lift as well.

The auditorium has new seats and admission is free to students with ASUN cards. Faculty members will be charged 75 cents and others 90 cents.

BROWN KNOWS

By BILL BROWN

The 1957 football season is over. The final gun sounded in Las Vegas last weekend with the Pack on the short end of a 26 to 20 score. To many this game was the highlight of a rather dismal season that saw the Pack lose eight games and win one. Nevada, who was a three-touchdown underdog, played as if the conference championship was at stake and might have upset the southern team if time had not run out on them.

To many this game emphasized the one thing that the coaching staff was most sure of, no matter what the score the Nevada players are out there giving it all that they have.

In many respects this season has been an interesting one. The student body was subjected to a steady string of defeats at home and saw the homecoming game become a rout but they never stopped hoping or cheering.

The players found it necessary to draw up a petition to make public the athletic conditions existing on the hill. They did not ask for much, just a chance to work, and interestingly enough the spearheads of the petition movement were playing their last year for the Pack and stood to gain nothing.

For the coach the 1957 season will go down as one of little or no luck. It seemed as if all the breaks went against Coach Gordy and his staff. In desperation he even offered to resign if it would do any good. His offer was not acted upon.

For the general fan the season was an interesting one because there was always the chance that Nevada might not be able to field a team. First there was the flu, then injuries, and finally some members of the squad had to quit. It was always a cliff hanger but they did make it.

And finally the 1957 season brought hope to the Nevada root-that conditions would get better. The board of regents decided that something must be done and tentative plans are being worked on to provide something more for the team than a pat on the back.

It has been said that it is a great deal harder to play on a losing club than it is on a winning one. To go out on the field every Saturday and play to the best of your ability after losing six or more straight games takes a lot more guts than if you had a six game winning streak.

It is for this reason if for no other that the 1957 Wolfpack deserves a plaudit, and remember—they did it for no other reason than that they liked to play the game. Would you do it?

You have not lived a perfect day, even though you have earned your money, unless you have done something for someone who will never be able to repay you.

Barnewall Will Address Nation's Top Businessmen

A group of about forty of the nation's top level civilian and military management personnel will study the subject under Dr. Gordon G. Barnewall of the University of Nevada.

Dr. Barnewall, who teaches personnel management at the University of Nevada, has been asked to speak at the first Personnel Management for Executives Course in Fort Sam Houston, Texas, from Dec. 9th through the 13th.

Dr. Barnewall is scheduled to speak on the opening day of the management course, Monday, Dec. 9.

In addition to those already scheduled to take this course, a number of general officers, commanders or deputy commanders of army installation, have indicated that they plan to attend.

Ever meet a fanatic?

He's got just one thing uppermost in his mind. If he's looking for a job he's thinking only of pay or only of security. Reasonable men, however, weigh these and many other factors when they're evaluating career possibilities. Such factors as opportunity, challenging work, training, professional associates—things fanatics never bother to consider.

The Bell Telephone Companies have a booklet for reasonable men. It's called "Challenge and Opportunity." It's not the sort of thing that'll make a fanatic's eyes light up, but it ought to interest a thoughtful young man—whatever his college background—who is weighing career possibilities. ## Nominations Set For Independent Group Officers

Nominations of candidates for offices in the University of Nevada's Independent organization were made at a meeting of the group on Tuesday evening, November 19.

Elections will be held in the lobby of Lincoln Hall on Monday, Nov. 25, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Independents who wish to vote must bring their ASUN student body cards in order to vote.

There will be another meeting of the Independents on Monday evening, Nov. 25.

CANDIDATES

Nominated for president were Pete Evzich, Sam Wauchope, Dick Wright and Bub Whalen. Tippy Smith, Marcia Craig, and Fred Jesser are running for vice president. Candidates for secretary are Diane Guild, Grace Payne and Deanna Merling. Nominated for treasurer were Edith Rittenhouse, Jean Rivkin, Jerry Berry, Bill Tyson, Ted Beckett, and Ransom Richards were nominated for sergeant-at-arms.

Alpha Tau Omega Bowery Tonight

An annual event of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, the Bowery Dance, will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow night at the Nevada Game Farm off Boynton Lane.

The costume for the dance will be in the fashion of the 1890's. Music for the dance will be provided by Dave Hansen and his Playboys.

Thish way to the bar.

Dr. Russell To Be Consultant On Recreation

Dr. Ruth Russell of the physical education department will travel to Hawaii during the Christmas holidays as a consultant to Hawaiian recreational groups.

She will aid them in setting up a unit to become members of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

Miss Russell will also act as a representative of the Division of Women's and Girls' Sports, and will be the keynote speaker at a dinner on December 19 for physical education teachers and administrators from Honolulu and other islands of the territory.

Hawaiian recreational groups are interested in joining the Southwest district of AAHPER.

Miss Russell, who is now head of the physical education department at the University of Nevada, is a past president of the Southwest district.

Gift Received by School of Mines

The last model of a piston type drill made in 1907 has been donated by a former graduate to the Mackay School of Mines.

The drill, to be put on exhibit in the Mackay School of Mines, was given to the university by Bernarr G. Moulton, of the class of 1936.

Nevada SDX Chapter Rated Tops in Nation

The University of Nevada chapter of Sigma Delta Chi—professional journalism fraternity—has been rated the best in the nation.

This distinction was awarded last week at the annual SDX national convention in Houston, Texas. The Nevada chapter won the Beckman Efficiency Trophy. This award is the highest any chapter can receive.

University of Nevada's journalism department received the telegram announcement from Houston, Texas, Friday morning where the annual SDX national convention was taking place. The award was made Thursday night.

65 CHAPTERS

Each year the national organization requires competition by the 65 chapters. The competition is based on a chapter's activities—program, character of membership, national relations and financial condition.

Selection of the Nevada chapter as the most outstanding of all SDX undergraduate chapters came on the tenth anniversary of the local chapter, which was chartered in Washington, D. C., Nov. 14, 1947.

The Beckman award was made on the achievement of the Nevada chapter last year. The trophy is a revolving plaque which, each year, is given to the school winning the contest.

NEVER BELOW EIGHTH

Nevada has never placed below eighth in the Beckman efficiency contest. It is one of the smallest of the 65 registered chapters.

Nevada's undergraduate chapter president last year was Henry Rilling. He is now serving as second lieutenant at an army guided missile base in Texas.

Present undergraduate president is Bob Mount.

Representing the undergraduates at the Houston meeting this year was Bill Devereux.

YWCA To Select Meet Delegates

Six Nevada delegates will be chosen at the next meeting of the YWCA to attend the YWCA-YWCA student conference at the Asilomar grounds at Pacific Grove, California, during the Christmas holiday.

The group discussed plans for the conference at a meeting on November 7, in the "Y" room of Stewart hall.

The new YWCA Director, Mrs. Ruth Talcott, who replaced Mrs. Katherine Harris, was introduced to members by YWCA president Angie Farros.

Edith Rittenhouse, chairman of the campus community chest drive, reported on the funds collected from campus living groups. Pat Dunn was appointed chairman of the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children to be held December 15.

At the close of the meeting, Lieut. Marjorie Screws of the United States Navy gave a short talk concerning the opportunities of women naval officers.

The YWCA takes an active part in many campus affairs, including the sale of coffee at registration, the Icebreaker dance, collections for the Community Chest, decorating the snack bar at Christmas, World University Service drive, and caps and gowns for senior students.

The officers of YWCA are president, Angie Farros; vice president, Gail Wooster; secretary, Edith Rittenhouse; treasurer, Theresa Gibson; social chairman, Kress Harris; and program chairman, Kay Karstens.

Plans Discussed For Possible Early Rushing

Pan Hellenic Council met Saturday with a national officer, Mrs. Daniel C. Hay, to discuss the possibility of having pre-school rushing next year on this campus.

Mrs. Hay, who is first vice president of Delta Gamma Sorority, flew to Reno Saturday morning to meet with sorority representatives on this campus. She was entertained for lunch by President Gayle Sommer at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

"The pre-school rush program is a possibility," said Miss Summer, "but coordination with the school orientation and planning committees must come first."

If the new plan goes into effect, rushing would be held immediately after Labor Day. All sorority women would come back to the house at least a week earlier than this year.

The plan would eliminate confusion as rushing would be over by the time classes begin.

UN Young GOP's Attend Regional Conference Here

Several members of the University of Nevada's Young Republicans recently attended an eleven Western state regional conference.

Among those attending the conference were John Carlson president of the campus organization, Suzanne Kuypers, state secretary for the Young Republicans, Bob Scott, Bill Thornton, Gigi Rump, and Elaine Steiner.

The group did decorations for the banquet held Saturday night in the Fable Room of the Mapes Hotel. Suzanne Kuypers and Elaine Steiner were hostesses at the event.

Young Republicans met their national chairman, John Ashbrook, of Ohio, and the national co-chairman, Jerry Kenton of Tennessee.

Newman Club Sponsors School Dance Tonight

The University of Nevada Newman club, a Catholic religious and social organization, will hold an all school dance tonight in the old gym.

The "Turkey Trot" will begin at 8 p.m. and last until 12 p.m. Admission will be 75 cents per couple and 50 cents stag. A radio will be the door prize.

Earl Hultberg's group will play for dancing and the "Blue Notes," a singing group from Bishop Manogue high school will entertain during the band intermissions.

Guests will be Mrs. Kathryn Duffy and Mr. Charles Woods.

Kellogg's Krispies

By Nora Kellogg

The second performance of "Antigone," Greek tragedy, will be held tonight at 8:15 in the ed. aud., and is a must for those who didn't see it last night. Antigone is daughter of King Oedipus, the person from whom the complex got its name. And now to get away from the more tragic side of life.

Where the Asiatic flu bug left off, a romance-carrying insect is now taking its toll of campus students. Three engagements and one pinning were announced in various living groups recently.

Marcia Craig of Artemisia-Manzanita announced her engagement to Jim Hill, but the big date has not yet been set.

Announcing her betrothal to Mike Green of Stanford University Monday night was Nancy Schweis, Theta. The wedding is scheduled for June.

At the Gamma Phi house, Joyce Etchebarren announced her engagement to Elliott Gritten, graduate of West Point. He is now studying for his master's degree in the field of engineering.

Pat Vessy, Gamma Phi, hasn't announced her engagement, but she has been having visions of three-carat diamonds. Does Jim know about this?

In the category of pinnings, Cadet John Sibbald has bestowed his Tau pin on Pi Phi Gail Fuhrman. This was the ONLY pinning announced this week, but more are expected.

Deanna Woodliff, Theta, did NOT announce her pinning to SAE Norm Scoggins. This delusion seems to have been dreamed up by the party of the second part in collaboration with frat brother Bruce Rossman. Good try!

Dean Kapsalis and Larry Burke, SAE's, had a party Saturday night . . . Dean was up studying until 4 a.m. Sunday night.

Taking honors at the Sigma Nu comic strip dance for their costumes were Packy Morris and Theta Janice Beeghly who went as the "gingham dog and calico cat." Others in guises familiar to the Sunday comic strip reader were Dave Cutler and Rita Miolini, Gamma Phi . . . Les Sweeney and DDD Beth Boyd . . . Johnny Madriaga and Pi Phi Joanne Todd . . . Pete Looney and Pi Phi Joanne Dumble . . . Dale Prevost and Sandy Powell . . . Cliff Devine and Theta Bonnie Fairchild . . . Mike Dewees and Carol Chrisler, stray Greek (Kappa Kappa Gamma) from San Jose . . . Stan Summers and Farol Lee Spell, Pi Phi . . . Sid Muck and Theta Marie McDonough . . . Dave Bartlett and DDD Ginger Ivers . . . Bill Walbridge and Theta prexy, Kathy Warner . . . Ray Midzor and DDD Sharon Wendt . . . Shreve Stanwood and Pi Phi Mary Morton . . . Bob Morrill and KAT Linda Bergen . . . (to name but a few).

From the vague recesses of my mind come the names of Dick Deleissegues and Patsy Plum. Love must be blind because Bob Ferraro was stealing from under their noses . . . beer, that is.

Making their way through the mob at the Gobbler's Ball last week were Vangie Smith, DDD, and Jim Gardner, SN . . . Gene Clock, SAE, and Pat Reynolds, Gamma Phi . . . Dick Lambert and Joanne Spitzen . . . Bob Ferrari, SN, and Marva Edwards, DDD . . . Ed Randall and Carol Stever . . . Theta Gail Hall and Bill Keith, Lambda Chi . . . Louie Porta, SN, and Nancy Arnold, Gamma Phi . . . Jim Santini, ATO, and Kathy Bailey, Theta . . . SAE Tom McCann and Diane Hayes, Theta . . . Pi Phi Sally Riley and Tau Dave Hoy . . . De Ann McGowan, Pi Phi, and Don Hare, Lambda Chi . . . Stan Draper, Lambda Chi, and Barbara Hampton, Theta . . . Tau Bob Burns and DDD Judy McNally . . . Pi Phi Judy Stammer and SAE Bill Kearney.

Theta Chis and dates reenacted buccaneering days of old last Friday night, with the exception of making anyone walk the plank . . . no one could even walk a straight line. Wearing patches, cutlasses, and piratical costumes were Don Cutler and Pi Phi Myram Borders . . . Richard Prior and Judy McAllister . . . Fred Joansen and Bartis Nordlon . . . Bod Weldon and Marian Kelly . . . Bob Scott and KAT Nancy Meade . . . Tom Frost and DDD Sharon Sorenson . . . Lou Egyud and Pi Phi Jane Franklin . . . Jot Potocnak and Joyce Casazza, Gamma Phi . . . Joe Ellison and Roberta Lider . . . Roger Mills and Margot Berney . . . Jerry Stewart and William James Lester Manning Jr. (this is a girl??) . . . Larry Gedney and Liz Wardleigh . . . Richard Sauer and Barbara Coles.

Ad infinitum.

Religion, Evolution Philosophy Topics

Evolution and religion were the subject of a discussion at the Philosophy Club meeting held last Wednesday.

A paper, read by William Stone, who is a senior premed student, started the discussion.

The club will meet again on December 4 and will continue its discussion on evolution and religion.

Faculty advisors for the club are Dr. Robert T. Roelofs, associate professor of philosophy, and Dr. William H. Halberstadt, assistant professor of philosophy.

Tri-Delt Cake Sale Nets $80

The best way to a man's pocket-book is through his stomach.

Delta Delta Delta's 1957 pledge class found this to be true when they started their pledge project of baking and selling cakes to fraternity men. The women made more than $80 on the first night.

Last Monday evening the pledges divided into three groups and visited three of the campus fraternities. They plan to visit the remaining three net Monday evening.

At the fraternity houses the girls first performed skits and sang songs; then offered their cakes for auction.

Margaret Eddleman, pledge president, has received no reports of illness or death directly resulting from the cakes, so, she says, the second half of the sale should prove as successful as the first half.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Nu will be visited next Monday evening by the Tri Delta pledges.

Mills Elected Theta Chi Prexy

Roger Mills was elected the new president of Theta Chi fraternity in elections last Monday night.

Leroy Wentz, was elected vice-president. Don Cutler, outgoing president, is the new treasurer. Cris Cufflin is the new secretary. Bob Scott was reelected pledge marshal.

Other officers are Joe Ellison, chaplain; Dick Corbaley, historian; Bob Weldon, librarian; and Dick Madsen, assistant treasurer.

The officers are chosen twice yearly. The present term will end in April, 1958.

Secord President of Psychology Group

Dr. Paul F. Secord, chairman of the psychology department of the University of Nevada, was elected president of the newly organized State Psychological association.

The convention was held November 2 in Tonopah.

Other psychology department faculty in attendance were, Drs. W. A. S. Smith, Willard Day, Robert McQueen and Richard Dana.

ACTIVITIES

Yule Assembly Scheduled For December 12

This year's Christmas assembly has been set for the evening of December 12. Assembly Committee Chairman Lynn Bingham, said that final plans will not be set until the early part of next week.

The program so far includes the University Singers and an act by Asher Wilson, assistant professor of speech and drama. Bingham stated that there would be no Thanksgiving assembly this year.

Moran Addresses UN History Group

A trip to the Equadorian jungles through color slides and a talk by Bob Moran, lecturer and traveler, to a meeting of Phi Alpha Theta, the University of Nevada Historical Society, Tuesday night.

Moran explained to an audience of about two dozen people the customs and traditions of the Jivaro Indian tribes which he encountered on his trip. The Jivaro's are notorious for their head-hunting practices, and lawlessness.

Several native artifacts, including samples of cloth and weapons were on display.

Five Professors To Attend English Meeting

Five University of Nevada professors will attend an English convention at Stanford university on Nov. 29 and 30.

Attending the fifty-fifth annual meeting will be Doctors Robert M. Gorrell, H. J. Woods, Robert A. Hume, J. W. Morrison, and Theodore Grieder.

The convention is being sponsored by the Philological Association of the Pacific Coast. The organization was founded in 1899.

Purpose of the two-day convention will be to discuss language and scholarship of all forms of literature.

Dr. Morrison will be acting chairman of a discussion group on general literature. Dr. Charlton G. Laird was originally scheduled to lead the group but he will be unable to attend the convention.

UP FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT ADDRESSES U.N. PRESS CLUB

An internationally known United Press foreign and war correspondent, Robert C. Miller, was the guest speaker Wednesday at a meeting sponsored jointly by the University Press club and the undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

Miller, a University of Nevada graduate, has had a distinguished career on the United Press staff in many parts of the world.

The prospective journalists were told about the journalistic and political situations in the South Pacific, where Miller recently spent a year and a half.

His last assignment was that of head of the UP in Honolulu. Before that he was in charge of the United Press in the South Pacific for a year.

Miller told the members of the Press Club and the national professional journalistic fraternity of his recent experiences in covering the news in various Far Eastern countries.

Both the Second World War and the Korean conflict were covered extensively by Miller.

INVITED TO RED CHINA

Miller is one of fifteen American newspapermen invited by Chou En Lai, the Red Chinese foreign minister, to cover Red China. The U. S. state department will not issue visas to American newspapermen to go into that country.

Presiding at the meeting were Karen Knudson, president of the Press club, and Robert Mount, president of the University chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

Miller, who was born in Quebec, Canada, spent an active four years as a journalism student at Nevada. He participated in debate teams and campus players.

He was a member of the Publications Board, Ski Club, Masque and Dagger, and Astronomical society. He was president of the International Relations club and a Rhodes Scholar Candidate.

CONCERT MEMBERSHIPS AVAILABLE

Memberships for the annual Community Concert series are available to the students of the university at special prices.

The Community Concerts plan will make nationally known artists available to many communities like Reno through the direction of local members in the plan.

Community Concerts will present five performances this season in Reno, featuring various well-known groups in the fine arts field. These will be open only to holders of Community Concerts memberships.

Scheduled for two performances are the Robert Joffrey Theatre Ballet, a group of young performers who have toured in the U. S. A. and Europe, and the Festival String Quartet.

Future performances will be scheduled as soon as the final membership is tallied. Performances will be given in the spring as well as the winter.

CIVIL SERVICE NEEDS GRADUATES FOR PATENT EXAMINATION WORK

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for filling Patent Examiner positions located principally in the Patent Office in Washington, D. C. The entrance salaries range from $4,480 to $12,900 per year.

To qualify, all applicants must have had appropriate education or technical experience in the fields of engineering, physics, or chemistry. For positions paying $5,335 and above, appropriate professional experience in the field of Patent Law is also required. Certain substitutions are allowed for the professional experience required.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at many post offices throughout the country, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications will be accepted by the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, United States Patent Office, Washington 25, D. C., until further notice.

Nev. Southern Gains Status Of Four-Year School

Nevada Southern University, regional division of the University of Nevada, thus past summer has received status as a full four-year college, it has been announced.

With its status as a four-year school, Nevada Southern also has received its first dean—Dr. William Carson, former dean of student affairs here on the Reno campus.

Nevada Southern had more than 500 students enrolled last year—about half of whom were fully matriculated students—and an increase in enrollment is expected for this year, according to Carlson.

Last year there were 26 full and part-time faculty members on the Las Vegas campus as compared to 43 faculty members this year.

Pack Season Ends With 26-20 Loss To Arizona State

The Nevada Wolf Pack wound up its 1957 football season last week, playing a "home" game at Las Vegas with the Lumberjacks of Arizona State College. The underdog Nevadans handed the Lumberjacks two touchdowns in the opening minutes of the game, but fought back to trail only six points, 26-20, at the game's end.

Ken Fujii, starting quarterback for the last three years, passed 38 times, completing 19 to remain the number one passer of small colleges. It was Fujii's passing that kept Nevada hopes alive and almost led to an upset of the touted Lumberjacks.

Arizona State players considered the game as their toughest all season. ASC had won seven, lost one—just the reverse of Nevada's record—prior to Saturday's game in Butcher Memorial field.

FUMBLES HURT

The Wolf Pack fumbled on their first play from scrimmage, and Arizona State scored a touchdown on its first play. Moments later another Nevada fumble set the Lumberjacks up for another tally and an early 13-0 lead.

Arizona State scored again before Nevada's Mario Lomorri was able to score his first of two touchdowns to put Nevada on the scoreboard.

Nevada's other touchdown was a pass from Fujii to his favorite receiver, Tom Whitaker.

Sigma Nu Leads In Basketball

Sigma Nu was leading the Intramural basketball competition last week with three wins and no losses. S.A.E. was in second place with three victories and one defeat.

Results of games played last week are as follows:

- A.T.O. over Theta Chi.
- S.A.E. over Phi Sig.
- Civ. Eng. over Lambda Chi.
- Ind. over Theta Chi.
- Sigma Nu over S.A.E.

A change in schedule for the games being played on November 26 has been announced by the director of intramural sports.

The games originally scheduled to be played in the old gym will be played in the new gym on December 7 at the following times:

- Ind. vs. Civ. Eng.—1:00.
- S.A.E. vs. Lambda Chi—2:00.

Nevada Enters Team in Archery Tourney

Three men and three women will be chosen from the archery classes today to serve as the University of Nevada's archery team in a mail archery tournament against other colleges in the Sacramento Valley extramural league. The tournament is sponsored by Yuba City College.

The tournament began last Friday, and will continue until November 27.

The grand total of the team's score, and the highest man and woman's round score are mailed in, the scores tabulated, and each college notified of results.

Nevada Coaches Recovering In Reno Hospital

Head football coach Gordon McEachron was seriously injured while playing badminton last Monday at Stead Air Force Base. He underwent surgery for a snapped Achilles tendon.

Dick Dankworth, assistant football coach, is recovering from a nose operation in the same hospital room as McEachron.

McEachron, a World War II bomber pilot and ex-football player, is expected to be on crutches for about three months.

Coach McEachron was practicing for the city doubles badminton tournament to be held next month. His badminton doubles partner is stationed at Stead Air Force Base.

SHARP, WAY RUN IN CHICO STATE CROSS-COUNTRY COMPETITION

Dave Sharp and Frank Way, University of Nevada trackmen, placed 13th and 28th in a field of 35 at Chico State last Saturday in an informal cross-country race.

The Wolf Pack lacked enough entrants to participate in the Far Western Conference team race, as two Nevada runners, Bob Perchetti and Max Coffee, were unable to make the trip due to illness.

Sharp, who won the Homecoming cross-country race this year, placed 13th in the event with a time of 11:52.

Way finished in 28th place in 13:20.

The cross-country race is not yet a regular conference sport, but the event for distance runners at Chico was a step towards getting the event classified as a regular conference sport.

Accompanying Sharp and Way to Chico was Chet Scranton of the physical education department of the university.

Regents Set Football Aid Program

A special committee to study and develop a program to assist football players has been authorized by the board of regents. Dr. Fred Anderson of Reno made the motion at the meeting of the board of regents on Nov. 3. The board voted favorably on the issue.

Dr. Anderson stated that he had met with a group of football players and other students who were seeking campus work or other financial aid for the grid program.

Twinkle, twinkle, liddle Sputnik, You iss Rawshian dirty tricknick. Up above der world so high, Making zig-zags in der sky. How in hell can people sleep When all night long goes Beep, Beep, Beep!

The role of the new committee is to study the pay scale of campus jobs, investigate the possibility of off-campus employment, and the class schedules of the athletes. The emphasis of the investigation will be placed on helping the players.

President Minard W. Stout said the football program a year ago had nearly embarrassed the university because commitments were made to players which alumni and athletic leaders were not prepared to meet. He said academic needs of the university and the "learning environment" should be considered ahead of athletics.

Regent Roy Hardy said it had been necessary to take football "off the hook" twice at Nevada in the last eight years. He urged caution in any football decision.

Height versus ability seems to be the pre-season problem with the University of Nevada basketball squad. With only three weeks before the first game against Eastern Oregon Coach Jake Lawlor is not satisfied with the defensive ability of the tall players.

"I have a couple of good combinations going," he said, "but I'm short on height."

A possible starting combination, according to Lawlor, is George Nelson and John Legarza, guards; Bernie Fumagalli and John Flynn, forwards; and center Frank Kendrick. Another set of starters may be Bob Ferrari and Johnny Borda, guards; Bob Lyons and Dean Smith, forwards; and Paul Rutherford as center.

So far the team has been concentrating on fundamental drills, and will start skirmishes on Dec. 6.

INJURIES

Three players are being troubled by injuries. Don Stoker has a dislocated shoulder, Lyle Damon a bad knee, and Bob Snyder is having trouble with his shin.

Despite the typical problems which occur before the first game of the season, Coach Lawlor said, "our record should be pretty good this year."

Nevada Has 1-4 Record In Far West Football

Pack Faces Strong Portland Hoopsters

The University of Nevada basketball squad will play its second home series of the 1957-58 season against Portland University Dec. 21-22. In last year's meeting, Portland narrowly defeated the Wolf Pack, 66-67 and 34-36.

The Wolf Pack is the holder of the 1956-57 season championship in the Far Western Conference.

University of Portland basketball coach Al Negratti opened varsity practice recently for eight returning lettermen and three candidates up from last year's junior varsity.

Heading the list of Pilot starters are three men counted as among the top "small" cagers on the coast, Wally Panel, Jim Armstrong, and Dick Jolley, all junior guards. Panel topped Portland scoring last year with 417 points, and Armstrong ranked third with 305 counters.

Larry Larsen, consistent senior, and Frank Rector, noted long-shot specialist, a junior, will also make the trip to Reno.

Missing from the Portland lineup this year will be Bill Zapp, 6-4 center and leading rebounder last season with 215 picks off the backboards, and Jim O'Donnell, 6-4 forward. Zapp was married this summer and has decided to give up basketball in order to take a part-time job while completing his studies. O'Donnell accepted a merchant marine position which carried him to the Orient this summer where he has been detained because of a shipping strike. Both would have been seniors.

Also with O'Donnell is Gene Kutsch, senior co-captain in 1956-57, who was to assist Negratti with coaching duties.

Up from the JV's are Frank Weber, 6-0 guard; Art Bull, 6-3 forward, and Joe Etzel, 6-5 center.

REVIEW CAREERS OF PAST UN PRESIDENTS

The letter of resignation of President Minard W. Stout October 5 brings the total number of presidents that have served the University for various periods in the last twenty years to six.

Dr. Stout submitted a letter to the board of regents asking to be relieved of duties on July 1, 1958.

Dr. Stout's term marked the third longest period any president has spent in the office since the establishment of the University, and the longest since 1938.

Altogether the University has been presided over by thirteen presidents, one man holding the office twice.

The regents chose Le Roy D. Brown as the first president. Brown came out from Ohio and took over office in 1887. He resigned in 1890.

Stephen A. Jones was appointed to the vacant office in 1890. Previously he had served as a high school principal in Colorado Springs, Colo. He stepped down from the office in 1894.

Jones was replaced by Joseph E. Stubbs. Stubbs also was appointed director of the Agricultural Experiment Station in addition to his duties of president.

During his term he secured in 1917.

He stated his resignation was not voluntary and that "on the many appropriations and donations to expand building facilities.

Most notable is the Mackay School of Mines and Mackay Stadium, which was obtained through the generosity of the wife and son of the Comstock pioneer John W. Mackay.

Stubbs announced on April 2, 1914 that he would retire on Commencement day of 1915. Seven weeks later, he died unexpectedly. He had filled the chief administrator's office for a period of twenty years.

The regents immediately chose Professor Robert Lewers of the economics department to act as president. More than forty men applied for the vacant position. In September, 1914 the regents elected Archer B. Hendricks, former dean of Whitman College in Oregon as president.

His many battles with the regents brought about his departure contrary to what by duress, the alternative being immediate expulsion without a hearing."

Professor Robert Lewers again took over as acting president until a new man could be found.

On September 12, 1917 the regents selected Walter E. Clark, then head of the department of economics and government at the College of the City of New York.

Clark held the top executive position for a period of 21 years, longest in the University's history. During his presidency he raised the standards of the University and secured additional donations. The foremost among these was again from Mrs. C. W. Mackay, who set up an endowment of $18,000 for the School of Mines.

In 1936, Dr. Clark took a leave of absence for six months during which time Vice President Maxwell Adams acted as the University head. Clark returned in September but illness forced him to resign in October, 1938.

The regents elected Leon W. Hartman as acting president until they could decide on a permanent appointment. Hartman was head of the physics department and had been at the University since 1909. In 1939 the regents elected to make Hartman permanent president. His term lasted through the early years of the war. In 1943, two weeks before school was to start, Hartman became ill and died.

C. H. Gorman, comptroller at the University was picked as acting president by the regents in 1943. He was the only college president at that time who had never attended college. He was replaced by John O. Moseley in 1944.

Moseley, former dean of students at the University of Tennessee, was named to presidency on January 8, 1944 but was not formally inducted until June 4, 1944. He held office during the post war years. In March, 1949 he informally offered his resignation, feeling that he "should resign in best interests of the University," but the regents took no action. In June of the same year he officially submitted his resignation and the board accepted it.

Col. Gilbert Parker, head of the department of military science and tactics was made acting president. He served the University in this position for one year.

From over sixty candidates the board then chose Dr. Malcolm A. Love. Love then was dean of college of arts and science at Denver university. He became the eighth permanent president of Nevada in September of 1950.

In 1952 Dr. Love resigned and accepted presidency of San Diego State College in California.

Dr. Love stated that his resignation was necessary because of his wife's health.

The regents again went out of state to choose a successor. They appointed Minard W. Stout, then serving as director of laboratory school at the University of Minnesota. He took office in June of 1952 and will complete his present term July 1, 1951.

ROTC FLYING COURSE MAY BE AVAILABLE TO NEVADA STUDENTS

ROTC students may be offered a course in flying at the University of Nevada if five advanced ROTC students can pass the necessary qualification tests.

The Sixth Army notified the University of Nevada of the opportunity after it had difficulty finding enough students from other schools to fill the demand. Previously, this course had been allowed by the Army to only forty colleges and universities in the country.

Twelve Nevada students expressed interest in the program and will take flight physicals at Stead.

The course is designed to teach ROTC students enough about flying small planes so that they can qualify for their private pilot's license. Upon entering the service, the student may then decide whether to continue training in flying small planes or helicopters.

If offered, the new course will be open to all men taking senior ROTC, having completed summer camp, and to any student who has completed advanced ROTC but who has not yet graduated.

AWS SETS FLEXIBLE RULES CONCERNING WOMEN'S HOURS

A new set of rules and penalties governing women's "lockout" hours were established at the last AWS council meeting last spring. The new rules went into effect at the beginning of this semester.

Last spring the penalty for coming in late from one to 60 minutes was an automatic "campus" for the following Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights, but the new rules are more flexible.

The new system is as follows: For being one to five minutes late, the penalty is a campus for the following Friday night; six to ten minutes, the following Friday and Saturday nights; 11 to 15 minutes, the following Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights; 16 to 30 minutes, two three-day weekends; 31 to 60 minutes, three full weeks.

For being an hour or more late, the girl is taken before the Dean of Women and the Judicial Committee. If the offense is very serious, the girl must appear before the Associated Women Students Council.

A girl is considered late and is eligible for camping if her date remains after her "sign-in" time.

When a girl is "campused," she must be in her dormitory or sorority house at 8:00 p.m., and she may have no male callers. Many of the living groups have their own rules governing such things as receiving telephone calls and being in certain parts of the building while campused.

Campus Lutherans

The "Martin Luther Story" will be shown at the first meeting of a college age group at St. Luke's Lutheran Church next Sunday. The meeting, under the direction of David Christensen, will begin at 7 p.m.

A Christmas party will be planned and refreshments served.

From the day on which she weighs 130, the chief excitement of a girl's life consists of spotting women who are lighter than she is.

Regents Schedule Meetings With Students, Faculty

Five members of the University of Nevada's Board of Regents have been named to a committee to meet regularly throughout the school year with University students, President Minard Stout has announced.

Established at a regents' meeting last August, the committee will hear and consider student and faculty recommendations regarding University policy and affairs. These recommendations will in turn be submitted to the entire board of regents.

Board Chairman Archie C. Grant has appointed Cyril Bastian, Dr. Louis Lombardi, Grant Sawyer, Bruce Thompson, and Roy Hardy, who will act as chairman, to the committee.

The group will meet in the conference room, Morrill Hall on the Reno campus on the Thursday preceding the first Friday of each month upon the request of any student or faculty member.

Nevada Will Be Double In 10 Years

The University of Nevada can expect to more than double its enrollment in the next ten years, Ernest V. Hollis, Chief of College Administration of the U. S. Office of Education said in a talk to the faculty forum recently.

On a stopover in Reno before an address at the University of California, Hollis expressed serious concern about the lack of graduate programs on campuses to attract more qualified teachers.
