

Warm spring weather has turned the ski slopes icy, and fast, hard ski conditions are the order of the day. Fair weather is predicted for the weekend.

MANY IN CAST OF SPRING MUSICAL

"There are a lot of people involved—tenors, baritones, sopranos . . . and they all make wonderful sounds—and there is a lot of handsome color," commented Prof. Asher Wilson about the March 14-15 student musical "Kismet" at the

PROF. ASHER WILSON

Wednesday evening ASUN meeting.

Tickets for the ASUN $1550 production will be sold to students first at $1.25. Townspeople and others who are not University students will pay $2.00 for seats.

"The voices are amazing," Director Wilson concluded, "I hadn't heard them until two days ago and they're really wonderful."

"Kismet," a tale about a poet-beggar in Baghdad, is set to the music of the 19th century Russian composer Alexander Borodin. One of the best known tunes is "Stranger in Paradise."

Jim DePriest plays the part of the poet-beggar, Hajj. His daughter, Marsina, is played by Gaye Lane. Her lover, the Caliph of Baghdad, disguised as a gardener, is done by Charles Chester. The evil Wazir of Police is played by Gary Shallenberger. His wife, the poet's lover, Lalume, is played by Carol Stever. The entire cast includes 60 characters.

Bill Eddleman, in charge of designing and making all the costumes and sets, said that $300 of the cost of the show would be "props and costumes." Much of the necessary material has been ordered and some is already being used.

AWS ELECTIONS

Nominations for the presidency of the Associated Women Students (AWS) must be submitted to AWS President Myram Borders by Tuesday, Feb. 25. The primary elections will be held on Friday, March 7, and the general election Wednesday, March 12. The women elected will officially take office May 10. The early election will take place so that the president-elect can accompany the past president to the Regional AWS convention in Pullman, Washington.

SKIMIESTER AWARD is coveted honor being presented to Dick Dorworth by Governor Charles H. Russell. University of Nevada ski coach, Chelton Leonard, looks on in approval of his boy who has captured top position in combined standings of the four events of Winter Carnival.

Ski Team Skits Are Banquet Feature

Ski team skits, awards, speeches and good food were part of the annual Winter Carnival banquet given in honor of the participating ski teams.

About 230 skiers, guests, and students attended the banquet in the Fable Room of the Mapes Hotel on Saturday, February 15.

President William R. Wood welcomed the visiting ski teams, and with the aid of Chelton Leonard, university ski coach, presented the awards.

Silver belt buckles were awarded to the men winning first, second and third places in the cross-country, downhill and slalom.

Trophies were presented to the men's team winners. Nevada was given the cross-country trophy. The downhill trophy and slalom trophy went to the University of Washington.

Earl Edmund, a member of the Nevada Winter Carnival ski team, was the guest speaker. He gave a talk on the history of skiing.

Other guests were Art Broten and wife, AWS president Myram Borders, ASUN president Don Travis and his wife, and Winter Carnival chairman Bob Morrill.

Each ski team presented a skit for the evening's entertainment.

Nevada's Harry Ericson gave a humorous monologue using a scarf as a prop to portray alternately a nurse and a bandaged patient.

Phi Sigma Kappa Plans Open House

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity is holding its first open-house social for this year, Wednesday, February 26, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The social, to be held at the Phi Sig house at 705 North Virginia St., will be chaperoned by Prof. John R. Gottardi, advisor for the Phi Sigs. Entertainment and refreshments will be offered to the guests.

Elaine Mobley, dean of women, and all sororities, are invited to attend the affair.

This is the first social of this type that the Phi Sigs have had since their former fraternity house was gutted by fire during the spring semester last year.

Music and entertainment will be provided by Dave Hansen and his Playboys. The group is composed entirely of members of Phi Sig.

Who's Who Honors 26 At Nevada

Twenty-six graduating seniors of the University of Nevada have been recognized for scholarships, extra-curricular activities, citizenship, service to school and promise of future usefulness by being named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

The purpose of the yearly publication is to give recognition to college seniors and to aid employers in finding these persons.

Each fraternity and sorority on-campus nominates graduating seniors for recognition in the book, and the total list is checked by a campus nominating committee. Independent students may submit their own names to the committee, or they may be referred to the committee by instructors.

A certificate of recognition is awarded to each of the students selected at graduation.

Nevada students named are: KATHERINE ANN WARNER of Chester, Calif., who is majoring in Business Education, was a member of such campus organizations as the Senate, Sagens, Cap and Scroll, and Phi Alpha Theta. She was president of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and a member of the Panhellenic council and served on the AWS council; also on the California-Nevada AWS Convention as chairman. Kathy was on the ASUN nominating committee, the ASUN executive committee, the Publications Board, the Finance Control Board, and was an assistant director of the Wolves' Frolic. She received the Rita Hope Winer Scholarship and the Rose Sigler Matthews Scholarship.

SHELLEY ANN BRANCH is a Reno resident and majored in English. She served on the Panhellenic council, was secretary of the Student Union Board, treasurer of the Ski club, was rush chairman of Kappa Alpha Theta, sorority, served on the Women's Upperclass Committee, and a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, an honorary organization. She also served on the Artemisia Staff, the Senior Class committee, the Winter Carnival Committee, and attended the Leadership Conference. Shelley was Junior Prom Queen.

MARIA ANASTASSATOS, of Reno, is a Business Education major. She was treasurer of the Student National Education Association, secretary of the Y.W.C.A., a Senator for Education, a member of the French club, and a "big sister" in the AWS big and little sister program. She was also a queen contest chairman, member of the nominating committee and of the Orientation committee.

ELAINE MARY ZEITLMANN is a secondary education major from

HOMETOWN DECISIONS

Last weekend the University boxing team went to Sacramento for a match, and, in seven bouts, was able to win only one decision. This poor showing was not a result of a shortage of good fighters on the Nevada squad or of the lack of training on the part of the boxers. It was a result of biased decisions by the judges.

In the final event of the evening, Nevada's Carl Looney was matched with a heavyweight from Sacramento State. The judges at ringside were more aware of the screaming and howling of the hometown crowd than they were of the exhibition taking place before their eyes. When the fight was ended, the crowd had defeated Looney.

On the same card, Dick Short lost a decision that experts at ringside felt should have gone to the Nevada boxer. Again the judges had scored in favor of crowd reaction.

Hometown decisions are not unique to Sacramento State. College boxers more or less expect to lose the close ones when they are fighting in enemy territory, and probably realize that they can even the score when they are hosts.

This is a sorry situation. Collegiate sports should be built around sportsmanship and fair play, not only on the part of the athletes, but by fans and game officials as well.

Since there is a flaw in the setup for judging of collegiate boxing, coaches and athletic department heads from the various colleges and universities should devise some plan whereby competent judges can be selected for ringside duties. Fans, too, must display the type of sportsmanship that they expect from the performers.

RUINS TO BE PRESERVED?

Many months ago the old tin quonset huts between Stewart hall and the Journalism building were carted away. This was part of the new modernization program that was to remove the ugliness from the campus and make way for new buildings.

Weeks were spent in putting the buildings on wheels so that they could be rolled off in grand style. When the big event happened, it was significant enough to make news in the downtown papers, with pictures and all.

Students applauded. Now they could bring their mothers and fathers to the University of Nevada without being ashamed of driving down our main street. New students planning to register at the University would not have to go to the old huts to get their entrance material.

The months have passed, but the foundations of the buildings still remain to mar the beauty of the campus. The ugly rubble cannot be compared with the decaying buildings being preserved in Rome and Athens. Why shouldn't it, too, be hauled away?

If the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds can gather together his crew of mighty men, it should take little time to destroy the foundations and haul them away.

If this is not feasible at the present time, maybe Superintendent Carl Horn can have the huts moved back to cover up the messy rubble.

Winter Carnival is over . . . Rosemount and Mount Rose prospered . . . Nevada's Dick Dorworth won the "Skimeister" award and Harry Ericson took first in the cross-country . . . Tri-Delts and Sigma Nus won the coveted decoration trophies . . . and fraternities are awaiting Bill Eddleman's graduation. So what else is new?

Pi Phi Myrna Howard and SN Tom Murdock, who announced their pinning after Christmas vacation, announced their engagement Monday night. The wedding is tentatively set for June 15, with a Colorado honeymoon planned in summer school.

Tri-Delt Nancy Edwards is wearing the SAE pin of Jack Walther, who is a student of Cal at Davis.

Shirley Vietti, Gamma Phi, recently became engaged to Jim Woosley. No wedding date is set yet.

Wedding bells will toll for Pi Phi Gayle Shipley and Dave Newton, SAE at Georgia Tech, on Easter Sunday.

Promising "boy-girl relations" are Kitty Tilman and Stan Mosher . . . Carol McBain and Barney Mergen (acclaimed poet-writer who is also studying the art of fisticuffs) . . . Barbara Marcus and Arnie Dahlhe . . . Pi Phi Kay Hicks and skier Buddy Sorenson . . . Liz Wardleigh and Theta Chi Larry Gedney . . . Ruth Ruhl and Tau alum Rich Arden . . . Jeanette Lathrup and Bob Chambers . . . Gamma Phi Carol Christensen and Theta Chi Paul Jones . . . Theta Nancy Mead and Theta Chi Bob Scott . . . Marilyn Feathers and George Boucher.

Marie McDonough really goes for that "old-fashioned passion," theme of the Theta's Winter Carnival decorations. Chairman Bob Morrill took the gentleman skater from the decorations and tucked him neatly in Marie's bed. Shocked?

Seen tripping the light fantastic at the Sno-Ball were Tau Dave Harris and Pi Phi Barbara Moncrief . . . SAE Alan Ross and DDD Wynona Bromley . . . SN Johnny Madriaga and Tri-Delt Carol Gardenswartz . . . Phi Sig Bob Moran and Pi Phi Susie-Q Kuypers . . . SN Pete Potter and Pi Phi Kay Gadda . . . Frank Fahrenkopf and Gamma Phi Bev Staples . . . Theta Shelley Branch and Tau Jim Santini . . . DDD Cyn Heth and Tau Bill Welsh . . . Pi Phi Susan Scudder and SAE Speedy Gonzales Alvarez . . . Gamma Phi Joyce Forward and Rich Barsanti . . . Pi Phi Marty Emery and Snake Wayne Trewhitt.

Names are such wonderful space fillers, so here are some more: Gamma Phi Charlese Rupley and Lambda Chi Dave Millard . . . DDD Diane Pahor and SN Dick Ankers . . . Bonnie Stewart and Don Draper . . . Gamma Phi Carolyn Mather and SN Llew Dawson . . . Mary Bandoni and SAE Ron Broderdorf . . . Deores Chambers and Lambda Chi Jim Westfield . . . ad infinitum.

SN Clay Darrow is burning the candle at both ends . . . writing two girls at Stephens in Columbia, Missouri. Let's hope they don't meet and compare notes.

Some people love to see their name in print, namely Sally Sherman, Pi Phi. She and Tau Mack Fry were seen together atop Windy Hill.

CHICO STATE MISS REIGNED AS QUEEN

Queen of the 19th annual Winter Carnival was Teddy Lydecker of Chico State. She was chosen by the visiting ski teams that participated in the Carnival.

Teddy is twenty years old and is a junior majoring in special secondary education. She belongs to the ski club at Chico State and has been skiing for eleven years. She has been a competitor in the Far West Ski Association junior division racing for the last three years.

The 5-foot, 6-inch brown-eyed blonde competed in the Powder Puff derby held last Sunday but failed to complete her second run to finish in the competition.

Other queen candidates introduced at the Winter Carnival banquet were Elaine Mays of Stanford; Lynette Gotchy of the University of Oregon; Carolyn Kirbey of San Jose State; Sonja Schmidt of Sierra College; Marilyn Smith of the University of California; and of course, "also ran," Leslie Sweeney of the University of Nevada.

University Singers Elect '58 Officers

University of Nevada singers recently elected their officers for the semester.

Jay Evans was elected president; Marge Jackson was elected vice-president; Julia Robertson is the treasurer; and Edith Rittenhouse is the secretary.

The group plans to have a party in the Spring with the dues collected from the group.

Dr. Keith Macy, associate professor of music, is the advisor for the group.

University Singers are currently engaged in practice for the Spring musical production "Kismet." Future plans include presentation of the group at the "Sunday at Four" series.

Winter Carnival Spaghetti Feed

One hundred persons recently turned out for the annual spaghetti feed which is part of the Winter Carnival program sponsored by the Ski club.

Elsa Frietag and John Madriaga sold tickets at the feed, which was held at a downtown restaurant.

Spaghetti, tossed green salad, garlic French bread, and milk or coffee were served at the Friday night affair.

Bob Autrey and Marie McDonough, Ski club president and treasurer, respectively, were in charge of the event.

IN RE: "A CHANGE"

The University Weekly, Winter Carnival Edition, furnished me with fuel for my avocation. (I am not referring to a foreign automobile; at least, not one of material, dents-in-the-fender characteristics). I affectionately call my ethereal vehicle Insight, and most recently use it on back roads in Sagebrush County. Editorial Lane is a current favorite. . . .

"The past editor of the Sagebrush resigned his editorial duties for janitorial duties. At the present time he is busy cleaning a big house over on University Terrace."

The present head of the U of N news has his say—a many-sided say: At first glance, one might think, "Mr. Editor is subtle not at all; he is insulting!" At second glance, "perhaps this Mister is merely reflecting (a bend in the Lane), realizing that the janitor IS a busy man, admitting that the head custodian cannot work efficiently at—and do equal justice to—two engrossing jobs." (Perhaps that name first seen on the mailbox was not Affront, but Affirm.)

Today, my vehicle and I are driving on main roads in Washoe County and see ". . . a big house on University Terrace." But it is not a house, Mr. Editor, Mr. Berschied—it is a HOME!

REDSTONE MISSILE CENTER WANTS SCIENTISTS

Applications are being sought from qualified scientists and engineers for employment at the Redstone Arsenal and Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Alabama, the U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced. Redstone is the control center of all activities in the Army's guided missile and rocket weapons fields. Employment in these positions provides opportunity to serve with top scientists, engineers, and military technicians in vital and challenging work essential to the national defense.

There is an immediate and urgent need for chemists, engineers, electronic scientists, mathematicians, metallurgists, and physicists for filling positions with salaries ranging from $4,480 to $12,690 a year. Information about the requirements to be met is given in civil service announcement No. 5-35-1(58) which may be obtained from many post offices throughout the country or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Applications for these positions will be accepted until further notice and must be filed with the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Alabama.

Impressions of Winter Carnival as Seen by a Clod

"No, man, I'm just a clod."

Thursday night, after taking four brandy highball tolerances to make it all endurable, he wandered up Sorority Row past the crepe paper sculptures into music-shaped smiles and girl-faced voices. Then without thinking, he found himself dancing with inarticulate motion, feeling with it and normal:

How do you like our decoration?

Oh, I think yours is by far the best, although—

Isn't it a nice party?

Oh, yes, I guess this is a successful gathering, but—

Do you belong to a fraternity?

Well, no. I—

Then what do you do?

I negate.

What?

Nothing. Do you like kosher pickles?

He felt his dancing partner become more intent with her steps as she led him around the floor, ill at ease at this inept rappaport of circumstance. The clod had again failed to communicate.

Friday evening is socially wasted as our protagonist spends a quiet evening contemplating the correlation between the consumption of beer and anatomically understanding Newton's inverse method of Fluxious, which is used in calculating the area of curves or the volume of solids. He decided that the buxom 18th century broads were a more long-range bargain than today's petite, forward-look versions. Although he wasn't going to discriminate, for it seems to be politically unsafe. (All this is irrelevant to our story.)

Saturday, he made the slope scene, dressed in sweaters and dirty corduroys, absorbing the smug look of the parka-clad who held this as sacred ground—he being the intruder missing the realism of the thing and the fellowship that goes along with wearing ski clothes. (You don't have to ski, but you should wear ski clothes if you want to be in.) Then being as inconspicuous as possible, shading his eyes against the sun with his hands, he watched the slalom runs, tainted with bring-down spills of mediocrity and the smooth form of flawless competitors. He almost forgot himself and was on the verge of being overtly impressed.

That evening he missed the dance—his ego still crushed from Thursday night—but he could imagine the emotional concern of the Greek crowd as they announced the winner of the house decorations, and how nice it was to belong to a winner.

Sunday's jumping had a large group of citizens in the ranks, and he was more at ease. The skiers came down one by one over the jump, leaning forward gracefully toward the tips of their skis, and he could feel the spectators anticipating a fall, secretly hoping for it, like a fight crowd wanting blood and yelling, "Kill 'em! Kill 'em!" or like feeling sex for a pimply-faced girl because it's animal. He forgot himself this time and clapped, especially for Dorworth, who had been having a bad run of luck.

Later, he tried to focus the weekend experience into a meaningful, valuable pattern that would add to his college education, but he couldn't. He was just a clod.

"Problems keep life interesting for a telephone engineer"

"I've taken part in all kinds of engineering projects during the five years I've been with the telephone company," says Bill Rhode, M.E., Tulane, '52. "Each project brings special problems to solve.

"Take a couple of recent jobs I did as examples. One was to plan and oversee the relocation of telephone facilities near a new drawbridge. The job included designs for attaching telephone cable to the finished bridge and for providing service to the bridge-tender's office and the locks.

"The other job was completely different. I was asked to make an experimental installation of some newly developed line concentrator equipment. After selecting the test location, I engineered facilities for the remote concentrator unit, and trunk plant to the central office.

"Another thing about these jobs — they're a result of the growth of the telephone business. Not only do problems like these keep life interesting for a telephone engineer, but they mean that careers are full of opportunities to show what you can do and get ahead."

How Standard's busy transportation system helps hold down prices of petroleum products

Twenty-six Standard Tankers—plus others that we charter—sail the seas to keep crude oil moving to refineries and more than a hundred finished products returning to customers. A supertanker, carries a crew of 40 to 50, can hold enough gasoline to run your car over 10,000 years. On inland waters, tugs, barges and smaller tankers take over the transport job.

Rivers of crude oil and finished products flow through 3364 miles of pipelines that Standard operates in the Western hemisphere. In addition, we pay to send products through pipelines owned by other companies. They in turn use our lines. Through these "steel arteries," oil is pumped over mountains, as high as 9500 feet, under rivers and through deserts.

Miles of leased railroad cars, thousands of trucks, trailers, and semi-tank trucks move our finished products to distribution points, service stations, airports, marine stations, farms, factories and military installations. Standard either operates or leases nearly every form of transportation to keep vital oil supplies moving.

What's today's biggest travel bargain?—petroleum's journey from well to refinery to you, a trip that often covers thousands of miles by land, water and underground. To keep the "fare" low, Standard serves the Western hemisphere with an intricate network of tankers, trucks, tank cars and pipelines.

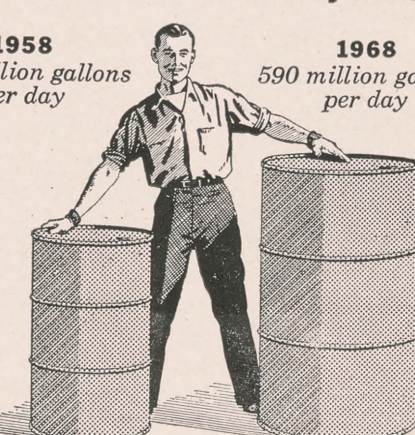

They move oil in huge quantities carefully scheduled to match production at the well, refining capacity and our customers' needs. This far-flung transportation job is done at a cost so low it amounts to a fraction of the price per gallon—generally less than you pay to mail a postcard.

It's one way we work to keep down the price of the gasoline you buy.

Pointing out that IGY will cost the world between one and two billion dollars, McGirk discussed the different phases, thirteen in all, in which the United States is participating. Only the U. S. and Soviet Russia are taking part in all the thirteen phases of research. The other 62 nations are participating in only certain phases.

Dr. McGirk was introduced by Mr. Jack Clark, principal of the Yerington Elementary School, and was available to answer questions concerning careers in the mineral

Today there are ten sad semester freshmen women at the University who are wearing 12-inch plaid ribbons on top of their heads as punishment for not wearing blue and white hair ribbons.

Freshmen women must wear a blue and white ribbon tied together. Failure to wear this hair bow means one plaid ribbon worn as a penalty.

According to Anthony N. Peterson, Protestant chaplain of the prison, all the best known colleges are represented at Sing Sing prison, but the crimes are different from those committed by non-collegiate men. Mr. Peterson says that college men seldom commit crimes of violence or intimidation, or ones where extreme physical exertion is necessary. They are not safe-blowers nor racketeers and are not addicted to crimes of passion. Under no circumstances does a college man commit murder.

Due to the depression there is a ban on corsages at the University of Southern California.

MANY SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE AT U. N.

Each year approximately $27,000 is granted to students and incoming freshmen in scholarships at the University of Nevada.

According to a booklet published last week, "University of Nevada Scholarships and Prizes," this is probably more than any other university of its size in the United States distributes.

Each year about $17,500 is granted to students at the University, and approximately $9,000 is also awarded to incoming freshmen from Nevada high schools.

The scholarships are made possible through the generosity of individuals, commercial enterprises, and organizations which believe that good scholarship should be encouraged among university students.

During the past 30 years liberal donations have been made to the University by leading citizens of Nevada, either by annual gifts or by annual gifts or endowments, by endowments, the income from which is used for scholarships.

The new booklet lists all prizes, special awards and honors offered at the University. It also gives full information on the procedure used in applying for the awards.

PAN HELLENIC SORORITY COUNCIL MEET
 DISCUSSES IMPROVED LIGHTING, SOCIAL

Pan Hellenic sorority council recently discussed projects to be presented at the various sorority houses.

Two women representatives from Stead Air Force base suggested a social to be given in the spring for the service men.

The social would be in the base officers' club with an award given to the sorority with best decorations.

Improved lighting from the Wolf Den to sorority row was discussed.

Gayle Sommer is president of the council which has the president, ruch chairman and an alumnae representative from each house.

Kappa Alpha Theta is represented by Kathy Warner, president; and Cathy Zimmerman, rush chairman.

Marilyn Ferrari, rush chairman; and Deanne Munk, president, are council members from Pi Beta Phi.

Gamma Phi Beta is represented by Joann Rogero, president; and Loralee Smith, rush chairman.

Delta Delta Delta council members are Mac Jackson, president; and Marva Edwards, rush chairman.

Ron Wilson Chosen
 To Head
 Sigma Nu

Ron Wilson has been elected president of Sigma Nu. Wilson, a junior, is from San Mateo, California.

Wilson and eleven other new Sigma Nu officers were elected on February 3 and 10.

Other officers are: Craig Bell, vice president; Eddie Thomas, secretary-recorder; Gary Bartlett, treasurer; Clay Darrow, house manager; Bob Sillery, social chairman.

Larry Dawson, marshal; Brent Fabbi, alumni contact; Dick Dorworth, reporter; Bill Provin, historian; John Brown, chaplain; and Larry Brunetti, pledge trainer.

Pass the sauce, please.

ASUN SENATE MEETING HELD

A "Kismet" progress report by Prof. Asher Wilson and Bill Eddleman and a Student News Service investigation report by Delta Delta Delta senator Nedra Norton were the main points of business at the ASUN Senate meeting held at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening in Ross Hall.

The musical comedy "Kismet," for which the ASUN supplied $1550, will be presented three and a half weeks from now on March 14-15. Last year's production, "Kiss Me Kate," was produced for $1400 and broke even.

Wilson's chief worry is ticket sales. He advised each member of the Senate to tell their constituents that, for the amount and quality of the entertainment, $1.25 is quite reasonable. "Word-of-mouth publicity is so much better than the printed word," Wilson stated.

Chief discussion on the Student News Service report was on how the ASUN publications board was to know the editor was producing "a reasonable amount of copy." Senior Men's Senator-at-large Dick Deleissegues recommended that the editor submit carbon copies of material he had sent to newspapers in the state. The report was accepted.

The purpose of the Student News Service is to provide a publicity campaign for the University thru news releases about students in their home towns. The ASUN will select the editor and provide a typewriter while the University administration will pay for duplication, mailing and office supplies. The editor will be directly under the ASUN Publications board with dual control by the University President's office.

Women's Senator-at-large Kathy Warner of the Finance Control Board said that a maximum of $100 would be provided the campus literary magazine, "Brushfire."

Deleissegues was delegated to investigate the cost of a fireplace for the new Student Union building.

Reporting on Winter Carnival, Chairman Bob Morrill said that the financial venture would probably come out about even. Although $35 more than expected was lost on the banquet, the dance made up for the loss. Since most of the bills haven't been returned an accurate accounting cannot be made.

Braden Stauts was nominated for the Orientation chairman position. Jim Santini, who was nominated, declined because of lack of time. The nominations committee will meet to provide the Senate with more than one choice.

Bill Keith, Senator from Lambda Chi Alpha, was selected to take the World University Service (WUS) carnival chairmanship, due to the resignation of Don Hudson.

Publications Needed

Magazines, books, and periodicals dealing with nursing care needed by the school of nursing at the University of Nevada.

Mrs. Helen Gilkey, dean of nursing, said that any publications regardless of age, would be appreciated.

The books may be taken to the school of nursing on the campus or mailed to the school. The mailing address is the Orvis School of Nursing, University of Nevada, Reno, Nevada.

Wolf Pack Cage Team Tops League

The University of Nevada Basketball team is now in first place in the Far Western Conference. A win by San Francisco over Sacramento State Tuesday night gave Nevada the title.

The Wolf Pack moves to Sacramento this weekend to defend its hold on the championship. Nevada now stands with a 6-win, 2-loss record in conference play. Sacramento State, San Francisco State and Chico State are in a three-way tie for second, each having five wins and three losses.

The Wolf Pack defeated Humboldt State last weekend in a two-game series, the last home games on the Nevada courts. Nevada won Friday night's game 53-35 and followed up Saturday night with a winning score of 56-53.

Probable starting lineup for the Wolf Pack this coming weekend will be Chuck Walker, center; Bob Lyon and John Flynn, forwards; John Legarza and George Nelson, guards.

Rooters to Sacramento

Carol Gardenswartz and Don Rasmussen, University cheerleaders, recruited rooters at the sorority and fraternity houses Monday night for the Sacramento State-Nevada games tonight and tomorrow night in Sacramento.

A pep talk was given during the sorority and fraternity meetings and transportation was planned among the members.

Nevada's team is in the lead in the Far Western Conference. This is the last conference game.

Approximately 50 Nevada students will attend the games Friday and Saturday nights and the after-game dance Friday night.

TENNIS PRACTICE

Nine players have signed up for varsity tennis, and began practice this week.

Returning from last year are juniors Pete Evezich and Jim Randall. Sophomores trying out this year are Bill Salas, Ed Petroni, Lyle Killpack, Richard Barsanti, John Regnell and John Brown. The freshman class is represented by Ken Gray.

Practice will be held on the Wingfield public courts and the University courts. The matches will be played on the Reno Tennis club courts at the Washoe Golf course.

SIGMA NU AND INDEPENDENTS IN KINNEAR TIE

In the race for the coveted Kinnear Trophy, Sigma Nu fraternity and the Independents are tied for first place with 246.67 points each. Alpha Tau Omega is holding third place with a total score of 126.67 points.

Civil Engineers, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Lambda Chi Alpha follow in that order.

The points already compiled are taken from competition in softball, basketball, volleyball, and the cross-country race. Bowling, baseball, track, and skiing, which have not yet been completed, are also counted as points toward winning the trophy.

Bowling enters the second semester with Sigma Nu in first place, Alpha Tau Omega in second, and the Independents in third.

In a meeting of the intramural sports managers held February 5, dates of future competition were decided by representatives from each competing organization.

Saturday, March 15, was decided upon as the date for the first track meet of the year. All students who are going to enter in the event must be in training by Monday, February 24, at which time the athletic directors for the participants must enter a list of all the men entering to Coach Chet Scranton.

The intramural ski meet will be held Saturday, March 1, the winner gaining 60 points toward the Kinnear trophy.

A definite date for baseball competition has not yet been decided.

The Kinnear trophy is presented in the fall semester at the annual Intrafraternity Bean Feed after competition has been completed, along with several smaller trophies for individual sports and events.

Wolf Pack Boxers Seeking Revenge

The Wolf Pack boxing team will meet the Sacramento State Hornets in a rematch that will take place in the Nevada gymnasium on March 3.

Nevada is out for revenge. "The team got sort of a raw deal in Sacramento," said Nevada Coach Jimmy Olivas, "we can beat them."

Considerable controversy was brought about by some of the decisions in Sacramento.

"Gardner was winning until he ran into an unexpected punch," Olivas added, "and Sloan and McLeod were up against too much experience."

The lineup for the coming bouts will be approximately the same as it was in Sacramento.

CATHY ZIMMERMAN, 20-year-old junior majoring in Journalism, catches her breath after taking part in the Powder Puff derby. Combined team standing saw Nevada capture third place in the women's competition.

UN RIFLE TEAM TAKES SECOND

The University of Nevada Rifle Team finished second last Sunday in the fifth of six NRA-sponsored Sagebrush shoots, with a score of 1511 out of 1600, just seven points over the Reno Rifle and Pistol Club No. 1, which placed third.

The Nevada Air National Guard won the match, with a near-record score of 1549 out of 1600. The record is 1556 out of 1600 possible points, established last year by the Air Guard.

The scores by the University of Nevada team included in Sunday's shoot are: Larry Gedney, 384; Dan Sobrio, 380; Raymon Salcedo, 377; and Bob Oliver, with a 370.

The winner of the Sagebrush league is chosen as a result of the high aggregate score of five out of six matches, and it named the Nevada State champion. In March, the team will fire in a sectional match at Willows, California.

The score fired at Willows is for the National Championship of the NRA-sponsored Winter League, as comprised of all small-bore rifle teams in the United States.

For the last three years the University of Nevada Rifle Team has won the state championships, and last year placed twelfth in the nation in the match fired at Willows.

HARRY ERICKSON is working hard to win this one. But he didn't need to work so hard to win cross-country, taking it easily in 50.34 minutes. Erickson is a 24-year-old junior at the University of Nevada.

Intramural Ski Meet Set March 1

The annual intramural ski meet, to be held March 1, will be organized as a "Miniature Winter Carnival."

"We are going to make this event just as big if not bigger than the Winter Carnival held last week," Clay Darrow, chairman of the event, said.

"The only difference will be the participants involved, who will all be University of Nevada students participating as teams from each organization."

Participants on the competing teams will not be ski team members.

An added feature of this year's carnival will be a Powder Puff derby, which will be headed by Gay Brennan.

A trophy will be presented to the winner of the event, which will be worth 60 points toward winning the Kinnear trophy.

Dick Dorworth, Skimeister of this year's Winter Carnival, will display his skill in a ski-jumping exhibition.

Following the meet, a spaghetti feed sponsored by the University of Nevada Ski club will be held at the Rosemount lodge at 7:30 p.m.

The schedule of events is as follows:

- 10:00 a.m.—Slalom.
- 12:00 noon—Downhill.
- 2:00 p.m.—Cross-country.
- 3:00 p.m.—Powder Puff Derby.
- 7:30 p.m.—Spaghetti feed.

The University of Nevada German band will play during the day.

Wolf Pack Track Season Starting

The coming track season for the University of Nevada is going to be one of rebuilding. Only twelve let-termen are returning, which means the loss of close to 30 out of 50 points scored by Nevada in conference meets last year.

The lettermen are Bob Burns, Lyle Damon, Phil Hatch, Louie Hitchison, Phinnie Marsh, Ted Moore, Dave Harris, George Smith, Bill Bowser, Hugh Barnhill, Richard Dow and Richard Hughes.

Dave Harris, a junior, set a conference record last year by pole vaulting to a height of 13 ft. 7 in. to take first place.

Bill Bowser, a senior, placed first in conference competition last year in the 220-yard low hurdles and won a third in the broad jump.

George Smith, Harris and Bowser, placed high in individual scoring in last season's conference play.

Hugh Barnhill, Richard Dow, and Richard Hughes are the returning three of the four members who placed third in the mile relay last year with a time of 32.36 seconds. They hope to better that time this coming season.

AGGIES MAKE PLANS FOR COMIC RODEO

Eleven events will highlight the annual University of Nevada Aggie Club Comic Rodeo scheduled for some time in May, Jim Sloan, rodeo chairman, said at a regular meeting of the Aggie club last week.

Women's events will include a calf ribbon race, barrel race, burro race, and a goat race. Events open to men are saddle cow riding, pig race, burro race, and wild cow milking. Open events are pickup and ride, with a man and woman team, and a watch race.

Open to professors only is the greased pig race. It has not been decided yet where the rodeo will be held.

Members of the student agricultural board, which is a council of the dean of agriculture, were also elected at the meeting. They are Mike Connors, sophomore; Ron Lynch, junior; and Jim Sloan, sophomore.

Nevada Ski Team Places Second in Running of Winter Carnival Events

University of Nevada skier Dick Dorworth was awarded the "Skimeister" trophy last Sunday by Gvneror Charles Russell for turning in the best 4-way combined results in Nevada's 19th annual Winter Carnival.

In final team standings Nevada trailed first place University of Washington by 6.7 points, winning the second place trophy. Sierra College placed third and was followed in order by Oregon State College, University of California, Arizona, San Jose State, Montana State, Stanford, Chico, and at the bottom of the list, University of Oregon.

In the Powder Puff derby, Nevada's co-ed team won third place, being defeated by winner Utah and second place Stanford. Cathy Zimmerman turned in second best time and Mary Ann Tonini was fifth in the traditional slalom which, this year, was icy and extremely fast.

The meet opened with the cross-country race at Galena Creek. Wolf Pack skiers all finished in the top thirteen out of 37 competitors. Nevada's Erickson literally walked away with the race, beating second place Rolf Gordon of San Jose State by 5 minutes and 10 seconds.

Dave Pruett came in 4th, followed by teammate Dorworth. Don Cronin, slowed down by wax difficulties, placed 13th in the grueling race of approximately seven miles of wet snow and slush. At the end of the cross-country race Nevada led University of Washington by 11 points.

The downhill course, which was situated at the Reno Ski Bowl, can best be described as a combination of the John Fremont Trail and the tules. The course was 1.8 miles and had a vertical drop of 1,400 feet. The winning time for the course, 1 minute 35.6 seconds, was turned in by Rudy Ruana of Montana.

Mickey Hogan led the Wolf Pack with fourth place followed by Tom Nicora in slot number 13, Dorworth 15, and Bosta 16. Nevada was in third place for team standings in downhill competition and retained a healthy lead of nine points in combined team results.

SLALOM

The slalom races, held at Mount Rose Bowl that afternoon, caused Nevada to drop its lead, and Washington jumped ahead nine points.

The slalom course, which was extremely icy, consisted of approximately 50 gates. Dorworth placed fourth and Hogan was disqualified for missing a gate on the tricky course. Bosta came in 17th and Nicora 26th.

The spectacular jumping events staged at Mount Rose Bowl were won by Nevada, closely followed by consistent Washington. Dorworth lost the first place in jumping by one-tenth of a point, Bosta came in for fifth place, Cronin 17th, and Nicora 23rd.

FINAL TEAM STANDINGS

1. Washington .....355.0
2. Nevada .....348.3
3. Sierra College .....338.5
4. Oregon State College ...328.8
5. California .....319.7

Frosh End Season With 59-57 Defeat

In their final basketball game of the season, the University of Nevada Frosh were narrowly defeated, 59-57, by the Elbow Room team of the Reno City league last Friday night.

The Elbow Room squad had three of last year's starting Nevada varsity members among its ranks, and the three, Dan Sullivan, Jim Lyon, and Stan Summers, displayed the talent that made them top collegiate cagers.

Summers scored 27 points, Sullivan 11 and Lyon had nine counts for the winners.

High for the Nevada Frosh was consistent top scorer Val York with 23 points.

The Frosh have played the preliminary games when the Wolf Pack varsity makes its home appearances. Coached by Bob Laughner (rhymes with daughter), the Frosh have had a six-win, five loss season.

Several of the Frosh starters have also played with the varsity this season, and will probably move up to the regular varsity next season.

Nevada Boxers Lose to Sacto State

Only Joe Bliss was able to score a victory for the Nevada boxing team when they were defeated 6-1 by Sacramento State last weekend.

Bliss built up an edge in the infighting to take a decision over Bob Erickson in the 139-pound class.

Two Nevada fighters were TKO victims during the evening bouts. NCAA champion Jim Flood stopped Nevada's Jim Sloan with 51 seconds remaining in the second round, and Jim Gardner, Nevada 157-pounder, was stopped with three seconds remaining in the first round.

Sacramento's Joe Jiminez was awarded an unpopular decision over Nevada heavyweight Carl Looney. Dick Short lost a decision to State's Frank Reynoso in a bout that could have gone either way.

In the 147-pound class, Nevada's Bill Short was decisioned by Wrex Cruse. Terry Smith of Sacramento decisioned hard-hitting Angus McLeod in the 178-pound class.

"WARM UP SKIERS" was the theme that won first place for Delta Delta Delta in the women's decorations contest. The animated pot-bellied stove was a welcome invitation to all the skiers and visitors during the Winter Carnival celebration.

Carnival Banquet

Despite warnings of the Winter Carnival chairman to "keep 'em clean," the Chico State skit cannot be described in print.

Winning skit was given by three men from the Oregon State team. The skit was a song describing the plight of "poor little birds" thru-out the year's seasons.

Stanford women sang "Hey Loly Loly O," a new interpretation of famous fairy tales.

University of California's presentation pointed out the variety of nationalities that skied and called members from the audience as representatives of different nationalities.

The captain of the University of Washington team ended its skit on different phases of campus life by riding a unicycle. The skit was a satire on upper and lower 'campi,' or lower and upper classmen.

Sierra men's ski team sang a skiing song.

Folk songs accompanied by a guitar was the solo presentation of Idaho.

Utah women took a man from the audience and literally "made a sap out of him." He was represented to be a tree, and when supporting members of the cast, acting as leaves and limbs, left, he remained "the sap."

Oregon State was presented a highly polished silver spittoon for the winning skit by judges President Wood, Chelton Leonard and Art Broten.
