'KISMET' OPENS TONIGHT

Gardenswartz Takes AWS Election by Mere 3-Vote Count

Only three votes determined the winner of the Associated Women Students elections this week.

Carol Gardenswartz, 20-year-old junior from Sparks, became president of AWS Wednesday, defeating Karen Knudsen by 126 to 123 votes.

She will take office on May 10. Miss Gardenswartz is a member of the Tri Delta sorority and is a yell leader. Her major is English.

"I am pleased beyond words," said Miss Gardenswartz. "If anyone has any problems or questions, don't hesitate to ask me. I will try to give personal attention to any problems that may occur."

The AWS president is also vice-president of the student body.

Karen Knudsen automatically became vice-president of AWS. She is a junior from Las Vegas majoring in journalism.

Miss Gardenswartz will participate in installation ceremonies in the Education auditorium with the president, senators at large, and secretary of the student body.

She will attend the AWS West Coast President's Convention in Pullman, Washington, from April 17 to 20.

Edith Rittenhouse, Independent candidate, was eliminated in the primary last week.

Evelyn Bennett's Name Inadvertently Omitted

Inadvertently the name of Evelyn Rule Bennett was omitted from the 1957 fall semester honor roll.

Mrs. Bennett, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, carried seventeen hours with an average of 3.62, which would place her 57th on the list.

Fine Entertainment Promised To Patrons By Top Cast, Chorus

The Arabian-nights musical "Kismet" is in the final stages of preparation at the University of Nevada. Claiming a cast of nearly 70, the annual Spring production is to be presented tonight and tomorrow night at the State building. Tickets for the Broadway hit are priced at $1.25 for students and $2.00 for non-students, and may be purchased at the ASUN Bookstore or at the box office.

Leads in the play include Gay Lane as Marsinah; Jim DePriest as Hajj the Poet; Gary Shallenberger as the Wazir; and Carol Stever as Lalume.

Johnny Madriaga was recently selected to replace Charles Chester in the part of the Caliph. Chester had to drop the musical due to illness.

"Kismet" is a tale of Hajj, a Baghdad poet-beggar. His daughter, Marsinah, falls in love with the Caliph of Baghdad, who is disguised as a gardner. The wicked chief of police, or the Wazir, brings trouble to the lovers with his evil schemes.

Songs

The music of "Kismet" is taken from the works of Alexander Borodin's 19th century music. Some of the better known songs include "Stranger in Paradise," "And This Is My Beloved," "Night of My Nights," "Rhymes Have I."

The acting is being directed by Asher Wilson, assistant professor of speech and drama. The music is under the supervision of Dr. Keith Macy, associate professor of music.

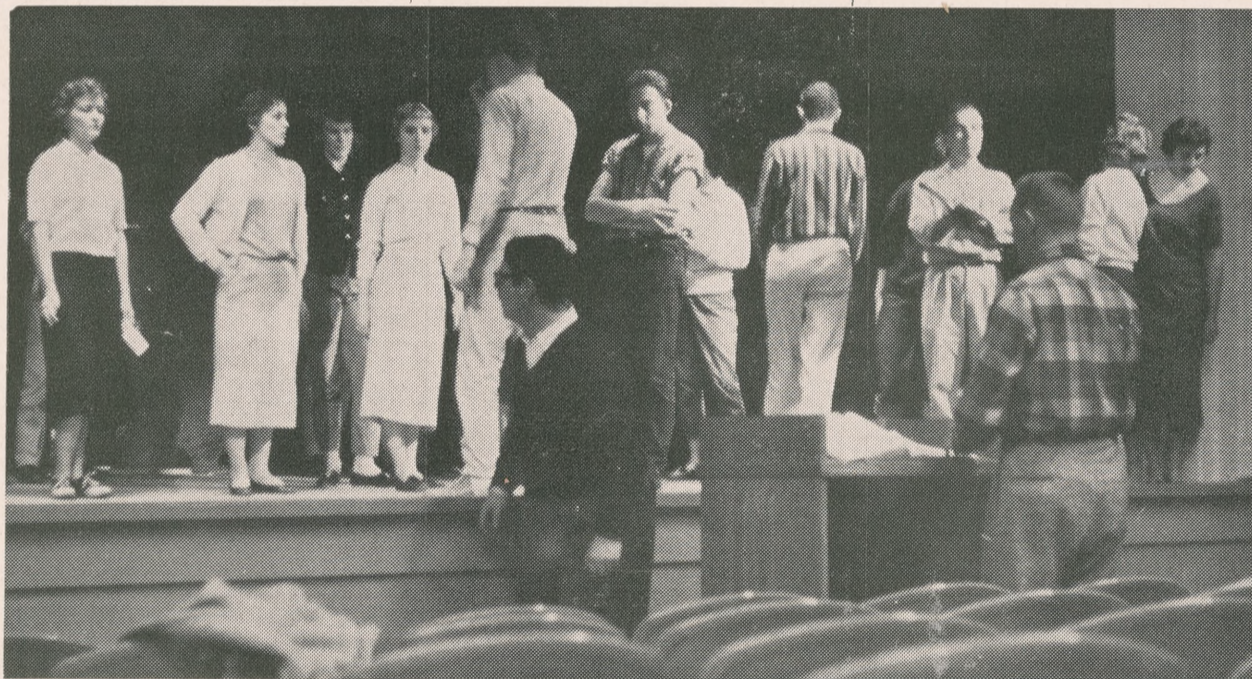

Bill Eddleman designed and is in charge of making all the costumes and sets. Most of the preliminary work is done on sets and costumes, with only final additions remaining to be made. Approximately $300 was spent on the colorful props and costumes.

And Dances

Not only are there many songs in "Kismet" but there are also some featured solo-dancers. Edith Rittenhouse plays the part of Zubhedra, the exotic Arabian dancer. Marie McDonough, as the Princess of Sumaris, does a dance of India with Mickey McBride.

Final selections for the chorus include sopranos Janet Balmain, Julia Robertson, Marie McDonough, Shirley Vietti, Allura Nason, and Carol Crisler. Altos are Renate Schroeder, Sharon Wilkerson, Lynn Ross, Sandy Thompson and Myrna Howard. Tenors are Roger Mills, Bruce Lee, Joe Ellison, Ted Ripson, and Bill Davis. Basses include Vir-

Few Feel Certain Of Being Graduated

University of Nevada faculty members have been asked to order their caps and gowns for the spring commencement exercises, reports Mrs. Ruth Talcott, director of the campus YWCA.

She stated that the deadline was originally set for March 8, and that only a few members have filed their orders.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Talcott at the campus YWCA, or by calling FA 3-6470.

Summer School Starts Sessions on June 9

Nevada's rapidly expanding summer school will begin on June 9 with sessions opening in Reno, Las Vegas, Ely, Elko, and Winnemucca.

Education Dean Garold Holstine, summer school director, announced that three sessions will be conducted on the Reno campus. Last year an attendance record was set, and the University is preparing for an even larger influx of students this year.

Bookstore Granted Student Union Site

Space to house the ASUN Bookstore in the new Student Union building has been approved by the Student Union board.

The action was taken Wednesday, but the proposal must now go before the ASUN board for final approval.

The bookstore, if it moves, will be housed in what is now the large combination meeting and ballroom.

Robert Kersey, Student Union director, said that this plan would not interfere with dances in the building, because the snack bar can be used instead.

He also stated that with the remodeling of the Education auditorium there would be no great demand for the meeting room.

Fireplace Planned For Student Union

in the new Student Union building has been made possible by the partial repayment of a loan to the ASUN treasury by the ASUN bookstore.

The fireplace will cover the north wall of the lounge, and is expected to be an outstanding addition to the interior of the building. It is being constructed of white brick, and it will be bordered with a black marble bench. The highlight of the fireplace will be the large copper canopy, which will extend out in the room.

Another feature of the building is a public address system, now being installed. The ASUN finance control board only last week gave its approval of the expenditure of $1,300 for the new project. Robert Kersey, director of the student union, said that the new system will make possible record dances as well as allowing music to be played all day throughout the building.

Kersey also stated that, although the building will not be complete on Mackey Day, it will be open to students for limited activity on May third.

Editorial

The Board of Regents recently approved the plans for the Fine Arts building which is to be built on the Reno campus. The building will be constructed in the area now taken up by the Hatch building on the north side of the new gymnasium.

There are probably students here who don't know where the Hatch building is located. It is not surprising, for it is seldom used by the students. Not only that, it lies on the far side of "Carl Horn's Memorial Swamp."

The Fine Arts building will be a long-needed addition to University facilities. Too long have students been required to attend classes in the temporary buildings. But the building—by its location—will present another problem. Rather, it will add much more to an already present problem.

The problem is the condition of the parking lot. Soon, with the new building, the area will be more than just a parking lot. It will also have to serve as a pathway to the planned Fine Arts construction.

For the past several years the students have complained about the condition of the parking lot. A little moisture quickly converts it into a quagmire. When the weather is dry, the lot becomes a dust bowl. But, nothing has ever been accomplished by the student complaints. Every year they get the same answer: "Soon as we have enough money . . . etc."

It is quite evident that there is some money around the campus. The new Silas Ross hall wasn't built for nothing—even though the rain does run off the roof onto the entrances and a bridge is needed to cross the moat at the north entrance. Every year a large amount of money is accepted by the Regents from donors. Tuition was raised.

Carl Horn, the Regents and other administrative officers, and most of the faculty members are not required to use the lot; instead they have exclusive right to surfaced spaces allotted them each year. If they were forced to park up by the new gym and walk to their offices, they might realize that the students are not complaining just to be saying something.

It would be well worth while for the Regents, at their next meeting, to discuss the problem of the parking lot—even to take a field trip up that way. When the new building is finally completed, it will be too late for such consideration. And the necessary improvement can't come too soon.

-- Public Forum --

Dear Editor:

Your "Barefoot Boy With Cheek" is sure turning the other cheek. In my opinion it is the best thing that has happened to the Sagebrush.

Let's have some more about the sincere, suspicious farm boys, and sex-starved, deprived college girls. If nothing else George Mross is sure calling a spade a spade. Anyone who has the guts to speak up to the various campus cliques certainly should be given free rein to run rough-shod over the groups of narrow-minded people on campus.

I believe your paper is worth receiving now, and I should like to have it sent to my P. O. Box 231, Sparks, Nevada.

Sincerely,

R. DEAN KASTEN

Dear Editor:

Congratulations on the thousand percent improvement in the University of Nevada Sagebrush. The improved editorials, and the color and spice added by "Barefoot Boy with Cheek" was a long needed shot in the arm. Three cheers, and a double shot of Jack Daniels to George A. Mross.

Keep up the good work, and I'm glad that somebody is "sincere"; it makes damn good copy.

Yours truly,

RUSSEL W. BUTTON

(Ed. Note: Don't applaud—just send money.)

Art Show Features Nevada Scenery

An art display featuring pieces depicting campus and western Nevada scenes will be on exhibit every day except Saturday at the University of Nevada Art Gallery until March 30.

The exhibit will be composed of work done by Edward W. Yates, assistant professor of art.

Included in the display is a print of Fort Churchill, a painting of a river in Northern Washoe county, a drawing of orchids from the campus greenhouse, and several drawings of student models.

A major feature of the display is a group of twenty-one pieces of pottery. This will be Nevada's first display of stoneware ceramics done on the campus. Stoneware, a coarse form of ceramics which is very hard, requires extremely high temperatures. This year is the first that Nevada has had an oven that will produce the heat necessary for stoneware.

Fete Founders Day

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will celebrate its annual Founders Day this weekend.

Pat Lavin, social chairman, said that today members will wear suits and red carnations, the fraternity flower, in recognition of the fraternity day on campus. He added that members and alumni will attend a buffet type dinner this Sunday to commemorate the 85th anniversary of the fraternity.

Kellogg's Krispies

If you've been seeing spots recently . . . red, that is . . . you had better check with the infirmary. There may be an epidemic in the offing as there is a two-week incubation period before the little bug develops. Let's hope no germs have been transmitted.

I have had several requests to turn Kellogg's Krispies over to Dewey Berscheid since his column last week, but it seems that he is rather busy with editorial duties. Are there any other volunteers?

No pinnings have been disclosed in the past two weeks, but romance is plugging along in the line of engagements. Why horse around anyway?

Marilyn Hall, known among her Pi Phi sorority sisters as Happy Halsy and Porpoise, announced her betrothal to Bill Arnold two weeks ago. Bill is with the service and wedding plans are pending discharge.

Theta Deanna Woodliff announced her engagement to grad student John Mayeroff, "golden boy" of the track team. It looks like he finally got tired of running. His future plans to go to Alaska and Europe have been altered to include two.

The most recent engagement is that of Janice Hinds, Tri-Delt, to Bob Long. Janice passed candy last Monday night.

Much to my chagrin, the marriage of SN Joe Crook and Rosalind Weyant has been omitted until now. They tied the knot the latter part of January.

A fire inspector has been making the rounds of fraternity and sorority houses recently. It looks like the Sun Valley arsonist has moved to the university campus. In the past week, the Wolf Den, Theta house, and Tri-Delt hotel have had a rather hot time of it all. They're advertising fire sales in the Sagebrush this week.

Seen entertaining SAE's last week at the chapter's 102nd anniversary were Ed Allison, Dean Kapsalis, and Larry Burke. They did a take-off on the Charlie Chaplin-type movies. Might add that the hashers were attractive coeds who volunteered their services for the evening.

Songs from Kismet has been heard while walking to and from classes this week . . . all part of the publicity intended to promote what should be an excellent show this weekend. The ideal of 100 percent attendance should be a reality rather than just an ideal, and tickets are still on sale at the bookstore. The only ones legitimately excused from not buying tickets are members of the cast.

Sundowners hired a bus to transport members to Winnemucca this weekend for a little sporting. Of course, they're going to see the fights!

Finals in the A.W.S. elections saw Carol Gardenswartz the winner by half a nose. A matter of three votes determined the winner. How close can you get?

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta are turning their nose to the grindstone now for lack of other things to do. They'll be paying for the rest of the semester for having a good time one night at the initiate banquet. Their advisory board slapped a campus and social probation on a majority of the members.

Seniors from the Pi Phi house and Theta house were seen having dinner at the Sparks Nugget Round House last Monday night. Sneaks make meetings so much more bearable.

It seems that Kellogg's Krispies is turning into Dear Abby type of column. I received a letter this week from "Susie Stephens" of Stephens College who requested the publication of the following:

"We are sorry to hear that one end of SN Clay Darrow's Stephens candle was snuffed out in a Hot Toddy at Christmas." Yes, indeed, we are sorry to hear this, Clay.

Hal Pilkington, of creative writing, has contributed the following anecdote. Such contributions will be a more or less regular part of this column.

"Those students on campus that live in the Las Vegas area will all be glad to hear a bit of news forwarded to me by a student at the Southern Branch of this university. George Washington Cutler, first Negro resident of North Las Vegas, has turned white. There was a good deal of poo-pooing at the first release of this news, however, authoritative sources in that locale have investigated and found the report quite accurate. Mr. Cutler is quoted as having said he can attribute the change to incessant prayer."

Backstage at Kismet

"I can't hear a word you're saying, Carol Stever! Not a stinking word!"

This is the roar of Asher Wilson shouting out of the conspicuous darkness of empty seats. It is the one voice that can rise above the chaotic murmur of deadwood extras waiting through time for their bit appearance, above the loud raps of the stage crew hammering together unfinished sets, above the unconscious horseplay, the moving of ladders, the raising of curtains that won't raise, the missed cues, and the million other occupational incidents that transpose Asher into a real Ham. (Too bad he's not in the production himself, for he's worth a $1.25 of good entertainment any night.) He struts and broods among the cast, running his hands through the hair that always seems to fall down over his face, a round man of dynamic personality, fascinating in his intensity of how a line should be spoken or interpreted. During a lapse in the confusion I asked him if he would be ready by Friday night.

"Why, heck yes," he said, "you should have seen it last year."

Then I sat through several scenes, unexpectedly impressed by the quality of the voices. Although each scene opened in dissonance with an unconscientious mob trying to remember their places, by Friday night Asher—assisted by music director Keith Macy—will have whipped it into a wondrous production. I don't know how, but he always does.

As I left, he was saying, "No! No! No! That exit's beyond belief, it's so bad!"

I see that election time is here again with the women students' best seeking the AWS presidency, promising constructive rehabilitation of the campus environment through their profound insights, but this is not what I wanted to say at all. The other day while loitering among the avant-garde of We Like Short Shorts, mixing wine and benzedrine with phallic symbols, suggested in the beat of bongo drums, someone mentioned that we should run a Short Shorts candidate for ASUN president. It was such a bad scene that everyone had to repress laughter—when you are acting the role of the beat intelligentsia, emotion is nowhere. But then we tired of that bit and busted up and talked

and decided that an obscure, third-generation Italian should be our choice, platforming on everything inversely proportional to good student government.

Of course there are still many things to be worked out before selecting this candidate; but if you're interested in the Short Shorts party movement, a charter membership with a nonobjective group, write the author of this column.

Making a side-car comment—in Bob Ruark's column on the inadequacies and perplexities of the English language, communicating without knowing what you're saying or what meaning you're conveying, inventing new words to disguise better and clearer meanings, he sums up by saying there are only two basic phrases we need to know to be able to converse. Then I thought how these phrases could be transferred to human (boy-girl) relationships also, an answer to Sue when she pumps you about the future, your motives, your manners, your perverted habits, your uncouth philosophies, and just plain Why? Just say:

"Me Tarzan. You Jane."

It's the answer to everything.

Stay in college—there's no work on the outside.

New Chrome Coat Given 'Ding-Dong'

"Who's got the ding-dong?" asked the bewildered time-keeper as he pulled the rope which rings the bell atop Morrill Hall on Tuesday morning, March 4.

The traditional 8:00 a.m. bell did not ring that morning because the clapper had disappeared during the night.

Later in the week someone had located a replacement and the bell started ringing in each new day on the campus again.

This week the original clapper was presented to Dean Sam Basta. The appearance had been altered with chrome plating and it now bears the crest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the initials of each member of the spring pledge class of the fraternity.

How are things at home, Joe?

TEN STUDENTS WILL TOUR NEVADA HIGH SCHOOLS DURING MARCH

The 1958 University of Nevada Relations Tour, sponsored by the ASUN and the University High School Relations Committee, will be made during the week of March 24-28.

Ten students will tour high schools in the northeast and central portions of the state to acquaint the high school students and faculty members with opportunities in higher education at the University of Nevada. Songs and dances will be provided by the touring students at assemblies at the various high schools.

Don Travis, president of the Associated Students of the University of Nevada, is general moderator and chairman of each program.

Sam Basta, Dean of Student Affairs, and John Sala, Alumni Director of the Agriculture Building, will accompany the group.

On March 21, the first program will be presented to Fernley high school, and then the tour will move on to the Humboldt County high school in Winnemucca. A possible civic club performance is planned for that evening.

Battle Mountain high school, Carlin high school, and a possible civic club or P.-T.A. performance in the evening are scheduled for March 25. On Wednesday, March 26, Wells high school and White Pine County high school in Ely will be visited, and there may be a civic club or P.-T.A. performance that evening.

On March 27, Churchill County high school in Fallon is scheduled to be visited and there is a possible evening performance at Fallon or Yerington for that evening.

The final day, March 28, will find the assemblies tour at Lyon County high school in Yerington and at Carson high school in Carson City, after which the tour will return to Reno.

Full Social Slate Swings To Action As Musical Opens

A musical, a carnival, and over thirty dances mark the spring semester's social calendar. Elaine Mobley, dean of women, released the official calendar this week and commented that the "students had a full calendar of social events to look forward to."

"Kismet," the annual musical put on by the University, will be staged tonight and tomorrow night.

World University Service will put on its annual carnival on March 22. Each living group and club or organization on campus may have a booth. The proceeds go to charity.

Dances for the semester will include spring formals and costume dances. Each sorority and fraternity will hold at least one dance. The independent group will hold a formal dance.

Listed below are the events of the semester:

March

- 7th—Lambda Chi Alpha dance, Phi Sigma Kappa dance.
- 8th—Sigma Nu dance.
- 14th—Kismet.
- 15th—Kismet.
- 21st—Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance
- 22nd—W.U.S. Carnival.
- 28th—Sigma Nu dance.
- 29th—Alpha Tau Omega dance, Phi Beta dance, Theta Chi dance.

April

- 2nd—At 5 o'clock until April 8th at 8 p.m. Easter vacation.
- 11th—Artemisia-Manzanita Association dance, Phi Sigma Kappa dance.
- 12th—Gamma Phi Beta dance, Lambda Chi Alpha dance, Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance.
- 18th—Junior Prom.
- 19th—Alpha Tau Omega-Sigma Nu dance, Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance.
- 25th—Kappa Alpha Theta dance, Lambda Delta Sigma dance, Sundowners dance, Theta Chi dance.
- 26th—Beaux Arts Ball.

May

- 3rd—Mackay Day.
- 9th—Phi Sigma Kappa dance, Pi Beta Phi dance, Theta Chi dance.
- 10th—Alpha Tau Omega dance, Lambda Chi Alpha dance, Sigma Nu dance.
- 16th—Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance.
- 17th—Aggie Club dance, Delta Delta Delta dance.
- 29th—Senior Ball — for seniors and dates.

"I'm an Equipment Engineer for Illinois Bell Telephone Company in Chicago. Speaking personally, I find Bell Telephone engineering darned interesting and very rewarding. But judge for yourself."

"8:30 a.m. We start at my desk. I'm studying recommendations for installing additional dial telephone facilities at the central office in suburban Glenview. This is the beginning of an interesting new engineering assignment."

"10:20 a.m. I discuss a proposed layout for the additional central office equipment with Supervising Engineer Sam P. Abate. I'll want to inspect the installation area this afternoon, so I telephone the garage and order a car."

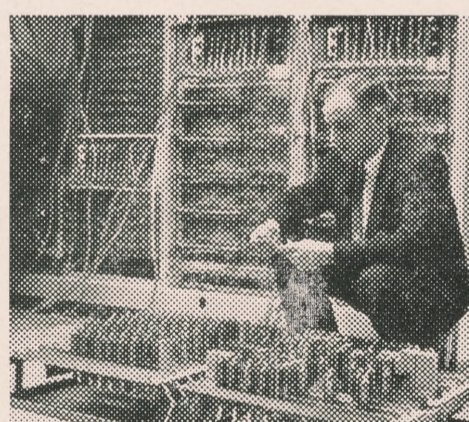

"11:00 a.m. At an interdepartmental conference I help plan procedures for another job that I've been assigned. Working closely with other departments of the company broadens your experience and know-how tremendously."

"2:00 p.m. After lunch I drive out to the Glenview office. Here, in the frame room, I'm checking floor space required by the proposed equipment. Believe me, the way our business is growing, every square foot counts."

"3:10 p.m. Then I drive over to the office at nearby Skokie where a recent engineering assignment of mine is in its final stages. Here I'm suggesting a modification to the Western Electric installation foreman on the job."

"3:30 p.m. Before starting back to Chicago, I examine a piece of Out Sender equipment being removed from the Skokie central office. This unit might fit in just fine at one of our other offices. I'll look into it tomorrow."

"Well, that was today. Tomorrow will be different. As you can see, I take a job from the beginning and follow it through. Often I have a lot of jobs in various stages at the same time. I think most engineers would agree, that keeps work interesting."

Degrees Approved For 48 Candidates

Degrees for 48 candidates who graduated at mid-year were approved recently by the University of Nevada regents.

The College of Arts and Sciences graduated the largest number of students with a total of sixteen. Home Economics graduated the smallest number, one student.

Two students received their Master degrees from the graduate school. The College of Education followed the College of Arts and Sciences with eleven graduates; Business Administration graduated nine; College of Agriculture had four graduates; Mackay School of Mines gave three degrees; Engineering gave two degrees, both in Mechanical Engineering.

Students granted degrees and their colleges are as follows:

College of Agriculture: Currie, Pat O'Carroll, B.S.; Depaoli, Edwin L., B.S.; Ferraro, Robert S., B.S.; Mansfield, Richard Lincoln, B.S.—all degrees in Agriculture.

Arts and Science: Burgess, Barbara Riif, B.A.; Davis, Hugh Paschal, Jr., B.A.; Etcheto, James J., B.S.; Hanson, John Carl, B.S.; Harvey, John Frederic, B.A.; Hawkins, John Wallis, B.A.; Longero, Jerry D., B.A.; Montesa, John Philip, B.A.; Nason, Allura Brooker, B.A.; Pacini, Harry A., B.S. in Chemistry; Petroni, Robert Lawrence, B.A.; Polish, Florence Gonzales, B.A.; Quilici, Basil Angelo, B.A.; Romero, Neil, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Smith, Fred Ray, B.S.; Wiseman, Beverly Mae Griggs, B.A. in Journalism.

Business Administration: Baker, Marvin L., B.A.; Hallahan, Francis Robert, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Meder, John Lester, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Montelatici, Norman Eugene, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Piretto, Glen LeRoy, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Pringle, Donald Aubrey, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Rossow, Leo Joseph, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Stanley, Paul Mason, B.S. in Bus. Adm.; Wittenberg, James Frederick, B.S. in Bus. Adm.

College of Education: Beordall, Eileen Victory, B.A. in Educ.; Blankhurst, Richard Arthur, B.S. in Educ.; Fleming, Orville A., B.S. in Educ.; Johnson, Martin William, B.S. in Educ.; Kiley, James Patrick, B.S. in Educ.; Loomis, Eve Elizabeth, B.S. in Educ.; McDonald, Mary R., B.S. in Educ.; Mabry, Claude Allen, B.S. in Educ.; Potts, James Wallis, B.S. in Educ.; Stout, Craig William, B.S. in Educ.; Young, Paul Llewellynn, B.A. in Educ.

Engineering: Fast, James Paul, B.S. in M.E.; Fujita, Roy Eiro, B.S. in M.E.

Home Economics: Reckers, Mary Louise, B.S. in Home Econ.

School of Mines: Fretz, Ray Charles, B.S. in Min. Engr.; Katzer, Terrance L., B.S. in Geol.; Schenk, James Crandall, B.S. in Min. Engr.

Graduate School: Hackett, Everest Irving, M. of Science; Owings, Frieda Edla, M. of Education.

Kindergarten Ed Course Designed

This is the first year that students in elementary education at the University of Nevada are learning how to teach and get along with young children by working directly with them in a Kindergarten Education class.

The course was designed to give experience to students in working with kindergarten age children.

The class, directed by Miss Hazel Grubbs, associate professor in the College of Education, is an upper division course which may be taken for graduate credit.

Governor's Day Scheduled May 8

Governor's Day, which is the traditional ROTC awards day, has been set this year for the eighth of May.

One exceptional feature of the usual parade will be the inclusion of a group of bagpipe players, the Sixth Army Pipe Band, complete with colorful kilts and jaunty step.

In 1956 and 1957 this band won the Pacific Northwest championship for pipe bands in its class. For the last four years it has played at the California State Fair and at the Seattle Sea Fair. Last year the members of the band also played at the Portland Rose Festival and the Pendleton Roundup.

Deans Visitation Program Planned For Three Years

All deans at the University of Nevada will visit Nevada high schools in a new program designed to better inform the people and school children of the state about the University.

The deans will be available to the secondary schools of the state for faculty meetings, assemblies, and other related organizations. Dr. William R. Wood, acting president of the University of Nevada, said that the program is designed to bring a "closer liason" between the University, secondary schools and communities.

The deans will be divided into three groups. The state has been divided into three sections, and each group of deans will visit the high schools in each section once every three years.

National Library Week Observance

"Wake Up and Read" is the theme of this year's National Library Week observance at the University of Nevada and Washoe County libraries, March 16-22. La-Mar Smith, circulation librarian of the University library, says the prime purpose of this drive is to create an interest in reading and to make known the benefits of libraries.

An open house at the Washoe County library and a display at the University library will highlight the activities of the week.

A Gallup poll in 1955 discovered that 61 percent of the adults in America had not read any book except the Bible during the previous year. Another survey revealed that half the nation's adults live within a mile of a public library but only one-fifth of them go inside.

Economics Majors Get Scholarships

Awards for summer study will be given to two outstanding economics majors at the University of Nevada by the W. H. Danforth Summer Fellowship.

A junior will receive a four-week fellowship from the foundation. Two weeks will be spent in St. Louis and two weeks at Camp Miniwanca, Missouri.

The scholarship for the freshman student will be for two weeks at Camp Miniwanca.

Application blanks may be picked up at the office of Dr. Marilyn J. Horn in the Home Economics building. Dr. Horn stated that all applications must be in by April 15.

A home economics faculty committee consisting of Dr. Horn, Dr. P. Tripple, and Miss M. Scherier will choose the women by the end of April.

Applicants will be chosen for their physical, mental, social and religious balance.

In the Good Ol' Days

March 15, 1948—Ten Years Ago

"This is Bob 'University of Nevada in Reno on the Truckee' Hope," was the catch line that opened the program which kept the students and Reno townspeople in a state of laughter that hasn't been experienced on this campus in many long winters, during his campus broadcast here last Tuesday night.

Hope invaded the campus with his humor contingent of Jerry Colonna, Francis Langford, Skinny Ennis, and Wendell Niles, announcer, and guest star ever-so-British David Niven. For over an hour the old gym rocked with the antics of Hope and Colonna, plus the songs of Francis Langford and the music of Ennis and his band.

Gag lines for the show were flavored by glorified activities and take-offs on the Mackay School of Mines, not forgetting the "history making on Manzanita Lake." Everything from human slot machines to rolling dice for class grades spiced the program. What may have been overlooked in the 30 minutes of broadcast was certainly brought out in the before and after impromptu performance.

March 17, 1933—25 Years Ago

The champion of smoke ring blowers among the members of the faculty was crowned at the traditional Lincoln hall "smoker" rally last Wednesday evening.

Among the contestants who came out "in the money" were: "Doc" Martie, who received the honors for the best inhale and exhale artist; Dean R. C. Thompson, President Walter Clark, Dean Sibley, and Professor Sandorf.

Before the contest began Martie boasted that he could blow better "rings" while up in an airplane than could the rest while seated in the confines of the hall.

After participating in several rounds of smokes the assembly joined in a number of songs and yells.

Theta House Fire Only Furnace Blaze

Oil leaking from the furnace started a fire in the Kappa Alpha Theta basement Tuesday morning.

Although the house was evacuated, no damage was done.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Hattie Smith, a maid in the Theta house, at 11:00 a.m.

Mrs. Kathryn L. Mayhew, house mother, turned off the furnace and called the fire department.

TENNIS TEAM HOSTS FRESNO STATE SQUAD

The Wolf Pack varsity tennis team plays host tomorrow to a visiting Fresno State College team. The matches are to be played on the tennis courts at the Washoe County Golf course in Reno.

No definite positions have been assigned members of the Nevada squad as yet. The team members are now in the process of competing for positions on the tennis ladder.

The teams will consist of six men each and nine matches throughout the day, singles and doubles. This will not be a conference match.

New Organization Set; To Affiliate Nationally

A new student organization was formed Wednesday by more than fifty members of the College of Business Administration.

Members of the group elected John Rhodes, a sophomore, first president.

Other officers were Gerald Coffman, vice president; Paul Rand, secretary; and Ray Foster, treasurer.

Committees will be set up by these officers to study organization of an undergraduate chapter of a professional businessman's fraternity. Both national business groups, Delta Sigma Pi and Alpha Kappa Psi will be considered to help members decide as to which organization with which they wish to be affiliated.

These officers will also act as an executive board in setting up a constitution and by-laws.

'Pint-Size' Winter Carnival Slated Sunday at Reno

The "Miniature Winter Carnival," scheduled for March 1, and postponed because of snow conditions, will be held this Sunday at the Reno Ski Bowl.

The intramural skiing event will be attended by 59 participants representing 13 teams. The winner of the men's competition will be presented a trophy and gain 60 points toward the Kinnear trophy.

A powder puff derby is scheduled for the University coeds. The winner of the women's slalom will be presented a trophy, and lunch will be provided for the women participants. The women will run the slalom at the same time the men do. No ski team members will be allowed to enter the competition.

The schedule for the events is as follows: 10:00 a.m., downhill run; 12 noon, slalom; and 2 p.m. the cross-country race.

Dr. Art Broten, director of athletics, will give the kick-off speech at 10 a.m. Judges for the event will be the former mayor of Reno, Francis, "Tank" Smith, and Keston Ramsey. Coach Chester "Chet" Scranton will be computer. Warren Hart will officiate as referee, and University of Nevada student Carl Shaff will act as announcer.

The students who will participate and their teams are:

Pi Beta Phi: Kay Hicks, Pat Potter and Taunya Woodford.

Pi Alpha Theta: Marie MacDonald, Brynne Bailey, Shelly Branch, and Elsie Freitag.

Delta Delta Delta: Ann Jones.

Gamma Phi Beta: Pat Reynolds and Jane Nevin.

Artemisia-Manzanita: Chris Roper.

Sigma Nu: Doug Salter, Dale Prevost, Buddy Garcia, Jim Nightingale, Bob Larude and Dave Prutt.

Alpha Tau Omega: Tom Sheehan, Dell Rice, Harlon Wilson, Butch Pebble, Pete Palmer and Del Driver.

Lambda Chi Alpha: John Kelly, Laverne Ross and Bob Robb.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon: Bill Campbell, Don Kissig, Bob Davis, Howard Davis, Howard Chambers, Dick Yates, Ted Osgood, Chet Woods, and Ed Allison.

Phi Sigma Kappa: Bud Powell, Roy Fields, Joe Johnson, and Lynn Peterson.

Civil Engineers: Clark Gribben, Arnold Arzoian, Elliott Gritton, Bob Ferrari, Evert Dale and Joe Ortez.

Independents: Bill Dubois, Paul Skinner, Tom Nikora, Don Murphy, Mickey Hershberger, Ransome Richards, Ken Fujii, Roger Christensen, Evert Dale, Wally Rusk, and Chuck Thomas.

Theta Chi: Tom Frost, Gene Kleini and Gary Soule.

The participants are requested by Clay Darrow, head of the competition, in charge of the men, to be at the Reno Ski Bowl at 9:00 in the morning to receive numbers and instructions.

Nevada Ski Team Again Tops Meet; Bosta Breaks Leg

The University of Nevada skiers, for the third year in succession, took top honors in the Tressider Memorial intercollegiate invitational ski races. The Wolf Pack won with a total team score of 367.24 points for the three days of racing.

Nevada's Dick Dorworth won the Skimeister trophy with an individual score of 365.25 points.

Jack Bosta of Nevada broke his leg on the final day of the meet. Bosta previously took third in Friday's jumping, and sixth in the downhill meet.

Harry Ericson scored for Nevada when he won the cross-country race.

Final team standings in the meet were: Nevada, 367.24; Sierra College, 355.97; University of California, 355.35; Stanford, 335.95; Chico State, 314.59; San Jose State, 263.32.

Sigma Nus Cinch Interfraternity Pin Race Championship

The Sigma Nu bowling team has cinched the Interfraternity League championship.

Led by Ed Thomas' three-game total of 5449 and high game of 200, the league-leading fraternity dropped Theda Chi three games last week at the New Reno bowl.

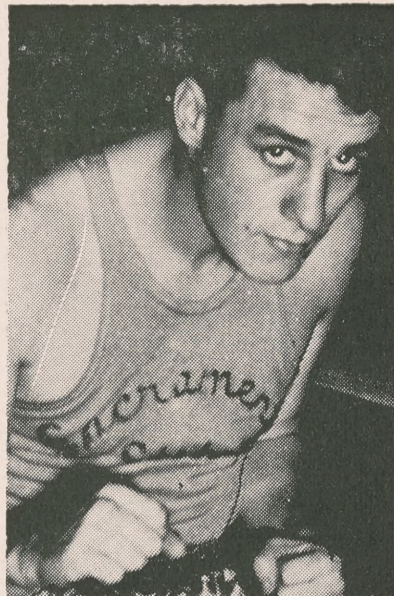

Other top series totals were Denny Jones' 548 and Jim Blakeley's 547.

As the score now stands, even if Sigma Nu lost its remaining three games, it would win on total points.

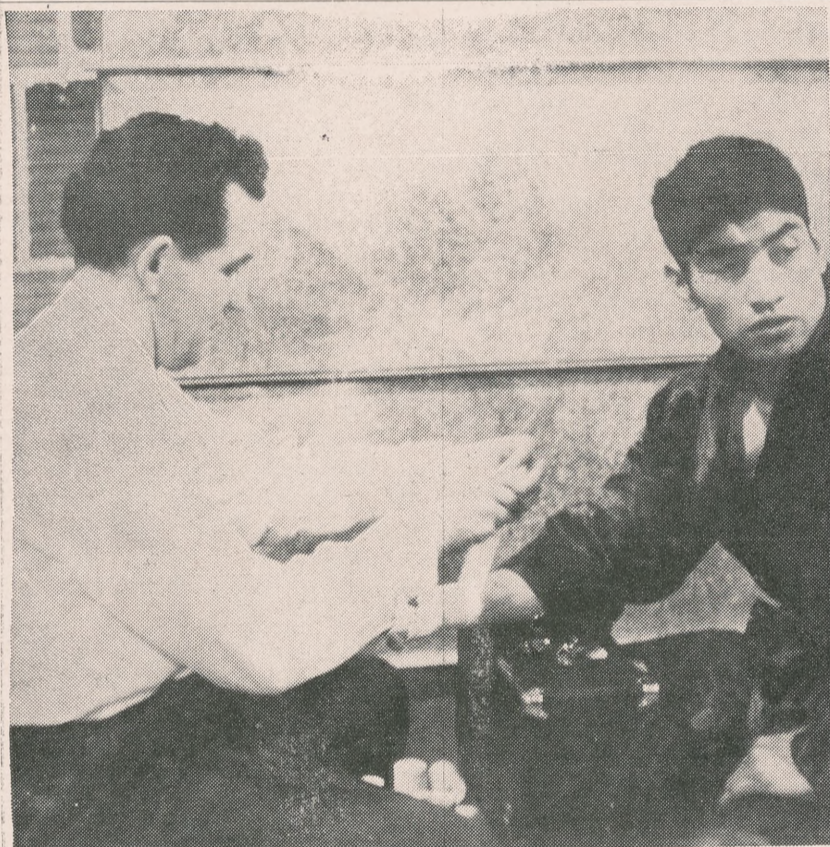

Phil Cervis led the losers with a 221 high game and 570 top series.

The Independents continue to hold second place with three victories over Lincoln Hall.

Alpha Tau Omega, led by Del Driver's 241 high and 548 total, defeated the Civil Engineers in all three games. Sigma Alpha Epsilon dropped Phi Sigma Kappa two out of three.

TWO TOP CONTENDERS in the Pacific Coast Invitational tourney to be staged at the Nevada gymnasium will be San Jose's Stu Rubine (left) and Terry Smith of Sacramento State. Rubine was a finalist in last year's tourney, and Smith is a U. S. Olympic trial finalist. The tournament, which will feature some of the finest boxers on the west coast, will begin March 20.

Novice Class Adds Number of Entries To Boxing Tourney

Creation of a "novice" division to be held as well as the open varsity class has boomed interest in the 1958 Pacific Coast Intercollegiate boxing tournament. And it looks now as if an all-time record number of teams will be on hand for the PCI in Reno, March 20, 21 and 22.

Latest to be attracted by the novice addition is University of San Francisco, more famous for its basketball teams. Some schools will compete only in the novice class, but most will bring along their regular varsity contestants plus some novices.

This brings the current entry list to 15 colleges, including California, Stanford, Santa Clara, USF, Idaho State, College of Idaho, Nevada, California Aggies, Chico State, Southern Oregon, San Jose State, Sacramento State, Montana State and California Poly.

The novice section was recommended by the NCAA coaches at their 1957 meeting in Pocatello, Idaho, to give the less experienced or talented boxers a chance to meet opponents of their own caliber. No team points will be counted, precluding the possibility of any team "loading up" in this division. The varsity open class will count for the team championship.

University of Nevada plans to provide this novice division have been hailed by veteran collegiate ring observers as a major step. It may be the start of a return or debut in ring competition of a large number of colleges which have hesitated to tangle with the schools which feature boxing as a varsity sport.

PCI Officiating of Top Competency Promised

Officiating at the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate boxing tournament scheduled in Reno March 20, 21, and 22, will be top caliber.

That's the announcement of Dr. Art Broten, athletic director of the host University of Nevada.

Coming from Washington, D. C., will be Eddie LaFond, of the faculty of Catholic University, who is one of the most experienced referees and judges in the country. LaFond is seen frequently on national television when he referees fights in Capitol Arena, Washington. He has been a member of the NCAA rules committee for many years.

Eddie Cole of Caldwell, Idaho, who is both a judge and referee, has also accepted an invitation to officiate in the PCI at Reno. He was an official at last year's coast tourney in Sacramento and at the NCAA Nationals in Pocatello.

Another who can double as referee or judge is Joey August of Spokane, Washington, who was once one of the finest collegiate boxers of the Northwest.

Most of the referee chores will be handled by Jack Tighe, Reno insurance executive, who at one time represented Penn State in the collegiate ring and held the Eastern title.

Like Travel? Dislike Routine?

Then consider a career in the sky as a UNITED AIR LINES Stewardess!

A Stewardess Representative of United Air Lines will be on campus Tuesday, March 18th, to interview interested and qualified applicants for assignment to summer training classes.

Single, 20 to 26 years of age (application will be accepted from girls who are 19½), 5'2" to 5'8" in height with proportionate weight, vision which is correctible to 20/30 or better, attractive appearance and personality with a background of college, nursing or public contact experience.

Nevada Horsehidors Open Season Wednesday Against Chico State Nine

The University of Nevada baseball team will open their season against Chico State College at Chico on Wednesday, March 19.

The Wolf Pack, with only three weeks of sporadic practice sessions, due to poor weather, will probably get off to a slow start, but head coach Glenn "Jake" Lawlor has a veteran tea mback with the exception of pitching to offset the lack of practice, to some extent.

In the pitching department, the only holdover from last year is two-year letterman John "Slug" Flynn, a left hander. Another southpaw back with the team after laying out a year is Gary Porter. Freshmen John Kleppe and John Hesse are the only right-handed pitchers on the squad with experience. Rounding out the pitching staff will be left-handers Roy Kidder, Bill Dubois, and Bobby Snyder.

Nevada is particularly strong in catching with two returnees from last year, Jim Gardner and Bob Ferrari, plus 1956 regular Paul Skinner and Sophomore Bill Count.

At first base there is Roy Kidder, a regular last year, John Flynn, who can double at the position, and Bobby Snyder, who also does well in the outfield. Freshmen trying out for the position are Jim Murphy and Lynn Baker.

Infielders include veterans Fred Jesser, Tom Whitaker, and Jerry Tobin plus newcomers Frank Fahrencopf and Mike Thompson. Outfielders with experience include regulars John Miller and DuBois plus Snyder, Ferrari, and Skinner, who have played the position.

Hitting should be improved over last year, and if the pitching holds up, the squad will be strong.

Boxers To Winnemucca To Take On Idaho State

The Wolf Pack boxing team left yesterday for Winnemucca where it engages in a match with Idaho State tonight.

Immediately following this meet, Nevada will host the PCI championship tournament in Reno on March 20, 21, and 22.

Wolf Pack Boxers Defeat Favored Chico State Squad

The University of Nevada boxers upset Chico State to win the meet 4½ to 3½ last Friday evening in the University of Nevada gymnasium.

Carl Looney defeated John ("the bomb") Nelson in the heavyweight division. Angus McLeod won over Ed Netherton with a typical third round flurry in the light-heavy bracket. Joe Bliss, undefeated this season, picked up his fifth straight win from Chico's Bucky Strong in the 139-pound division. Bill Short decided Wildcat Bill Moule, 147-pounder. Scrapy Dick Short of Nevada got up from the mat after being downed in the second round and fought Chico's Don Stapp to a draw in the 125-pound division.

Chico's victories came when Jim Sloan was TKO'd in 1:41 of the first round by Chico's Jim Karr. George Arnanda of Chico defeated Dave Hoy of the Wolf Pack. The Don Stapp-Short decision and a forfeit by Nevada in the 156-pound bracket occupied by Jim Gardner completed the Wildcats' 3½ points.

Nevada Coach Jimmy Olivas withdrew Gardner to give him a rest for the coming matches with Idaho State. The match will take place tomorrow at Winnemucca.

From now on the Aggie Club will be known as the Agriculture Club. With the new building they have become more refined.

Rifle Team Heads For Berkeley Shoot

Fresh from the sandstorms of Texas, the University of Nevada rifle team left last Friday for Berkeley to cope with smog, California drivers and the U. of C. rifle team.

In Berkeley the team will shoot in a sectional match for the national intercollegiate small-bore rifle championship.

Last year the University of Nevada placed fourth in the nation in varsity competition, and won the national championship in the ROTC intercollegiate division.

The University of Nevada holds the intercollegiate record for the sectional match at Berkeley. The 1956 team established the record there when it shot a 1443 out of a possible 1500.

Team members on the trip are: Daniel Sobrio, Larry Gedney, John Hunter, Ramon and Ruben Salcedo, Robert Oliver, Allen Richardson and Ralph Cameron.

The team will be coached by M. Sgt. Kenneth Day and SFC James Coffey.

COLLEGE BOXERS FIGHT IN RENO

Tickets are moving rapidly in the advance sale for the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate boxing tournament to be held in Reno on March 20, 21 and 22.

Out of town fans are already writing to reserve blocks of ring-side seats for the three-day college ring classic.

Ringside reserved seats on the main floor will be priced at $3.50 per night, with a special combination price of $10 for all three nights. The main floor bleachers and the lower balcony will go for $2.00 per seat, while the upper balcony general admission will be $1.00.

The tournament will be held in the big University of Nevada gym which can seat nearly 4,000 for boxing events.

In Reno, the tickets are now on sale at University of Nevada athletic offices, at Southworth's Cigar Store, Grand Buffet and Hilp's Drug Store; and in Sparks at the Sparks Nugget.

'KISMET' FOLK CANDID SHOTS

ASHER WILSON (top strip), who can apparently be most irritated one moment, gleefully happy the next, is directing the performance. The energy he displays at the rehearsals is a sight to behold. He has captured the affection of every member of the cast. When he is serious, the cast is serious; when he is laughing, the whole world laughs.

"KISMET" directors have sought out some of the best acting and singing talent on the campus. Gaye Lane and Jim DePriest have the lead singing roles, and are backed up by Carol Stever, Gary Shallenberger, John Madariaga and many others. Members of the cast seem almost spellbound by the voices during practice, and spontaneous applause was common at the rehearsals.

DANCING is also a highlight of the program. Edith Rittenhouse, Marie McDonough, Mickey McBride, and others have shown much talent in dance rehearsals. Bill Eddleman is not only fabulous with a paint brush; his dancing is of the same caliber. WITH ALL THIS TALENT, the show is destined for success. The musical will be the outstanding social event of the year, and the cast is to be congratulated for the time and effort used to make the performance possible. —Photos by Don Dondero
