President Armstrong Gives Philosophies

"We must never lose sight of the fact that each student is an individual with his own particular abilities, ambitions, purposes, and creative potential . . . one who comes to us for instruction in the ways through which he may earn a better living and live a better life."

With these words, Dr. Charles J. Armstrong expressed his personal philosophy of the relationship between a university and a student in his inaugural address last weekend as president of the University of Nevada.

"Our educational program must maintain a measured balance between the vocational and the liberal . . . the ivory tower and the marketplace, and by this properly balanced diet it must satisfy the intellectual, the emotional, and the spiritual hunger of those who come to us," President Armstrong said.

The impressive inaugural ceremony was held Sunday on the Reno campus. Dr. Armstrong was officially invested as president by Dr. Louis Lombardi of Reno, vice-chairman of the board of regents. As a symbol of authority, he accepted a hand-wrought mace as a gift of the alumni association. Among the dignitaries present were representatives of some 200 universities and colleges.

Sharply stressing cultivation of the student as an individual, Dr. Armstrong said: "The ultimate goal of civilization is man as an individual. Society exists, governments are instituted only to protect the rights, dignity, and the sanctity of the individual. In today's world, such a concept assumes a new and pressing

Finest Celebration Being Planned

The 1959 Mackay Day celebration is expected to be the most colorful and fulfilled in the history of the University's observance of its first major benefactor, John Clarence Mackay.

Plans for the three-day spectacular, which will begin Thursday, April 30, and end Saturday, May 2, were announced this week by Keith Kellison, Mackay Day committee chairman.

"One part of the program will begin Monday," said Kellison, "when members of the men's upper-class committee start throwing beardless men students into the lake." The only valid excuses, he continued, will concern men who practice-teach or work at jobs where they must meet the public. Excuses must be turned in to Clay Darrow, Sigma Nu, or Kellison.

A highlight of the program on a more solemn note will be the bestowment of an honorary degree from the Mackay School of Mines upon Mrs. Irving Berlin. Mrs. Berlin is a daughter of the late John Clarence Mackay and is the wife of songwriter Irving Berlin.

The formal program will begin Thursday with the Mackay Day assembly at 6:45 p.m. in the old gym. Featured at the assembly will be the crowning of the Mackay Day queen and the presentation of awards for champion beard (Continued on Page 5)

High School Band Festival Tomorrow

University of Nevada will host some 400 high school band members tomorrow during the all-day Western one High School Band Festival.

Eight high schools will be represented by bands totaling nearly 400 students. Adjudicator for the festival will be Professor Max Dalby, director of bands at Utah State University in Logan.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. with each competing band playing two or three selections for adjudication. During the afternoon, rehearsals will be held for the three Massed Bands which will present an evening concert in the campus gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

Mackay Day Queen Candidates Make Race for Honors

Five senior women have been selected by their living organizations as candidates for the throne of the 1959 Mackay Day Queen.

They are Nedra Norton, Delta Delta Delta; Karen Knudson, Kappa Alpha Theta; Tippy Smith, Artemisia-Manzanita; Waunita Combs, Gamma Phi Beta; and Deanne Munk, Pi Beta Phi.

Each candidate is 21 years old, has been at the University four years, was selected for Who's Who, and makes her home in Nevada.

Smith Girl Chosen Dance Princess

Linda Smith—the one in Kappa Alpha Theta—was chosen Blackfoot-Whitefoot Princess at the annual joint Alpha Tau Omega-Sigma Nu Indian dance last week at the American Legion hall.

Miss Smith, sometimes called "Linda Black" to distinguish her from the other Linda Smith, who has lighter hair, was crowned with an Indian headdress by Paul Huffey, ATO social chairman.

The attendants for Princess Linda were the other Linda Smith, Gamma Phi Beta; Billie Mae Morris, Pi Beta Phi; and Joyce Stephens, Delta Delta Delta.

Sigma Nu won the attendance trophy for the fifth straight year. The trophy is given to the house with the best percentage of members attending.

When asked by a Sagebrush reporter for their measurements, the Queen candidates expressed general reluctance.

Typical comments, laced with giggles, were: "Do you have to print that? . . . Are you getting the measurements of all the girls? . . . Maybe you'd better talk to my campaign manager. . . . Gosh, well, I don't know, really, I . . . I've lost a lot of weight recently, you know."

Editorial

Beginning next week students at the University of Nevada will take on a carefree and frolicsome air when the annual Mackay Day celebration is launched. The Mackay Day committee has planned a generally good program and this year's festivities promise to be bigger and more spectacular than ever. Most of the activities planned are in fine taste and are conducive to good relationships for the University.

One activity planned, however, will stand as a black mark against the students of the University of Nevada. It violates the democratic principles by which we live in this country and it strongly suggests through its fulfillment, the strongarm, tyrannical and emotional mob-ism of countries whose ideals are contrary to ours.

This activity will begin Monday and will be conducted by a gang of students known as the Upperclass Committee. This mob of men students intends to walk boldly about the campus in search of individuals who do not choose to grow beards in conjunction with the Mackay Day celebration. When the members of the Upperclass Committee find an individual without a beard they will ask him if he is student teaching or working at a job where he has to deal directly with the public. If the individual answers in the negative, the strongarm committee will then grab the student, haul him to Manzanita lake, and throw him into the water.

Satisfied with their conquest, this Upperclass Committee will then continue with its search for students who choose not to perform socially in the advocated manner of the members of the committee.

Members of the committee will be in gangs; their actions will reveal the unthinking spirit of the mob. When appeals are made to them they will ignore the pleas of the physically weaker individuals and in the same mob rule that is maintained in ignorant circles everywhere, they will carry on with their physical violence.

The Mackay Day celebration is a tradition at the University and it is a fine thing. It is too bad that it will have to be marred again this year with such a poor demonstration as that which the Upperclass Committee plans to conduct.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES DIRECTORY BEING PLANNED TO COORDINATE GROUP MEETS

A student activities directory and calendar for the fall semester is being planned by Sam Basta, dean of student affairs, in cooperation with the ASUN.

The directory will contain a complete list of campus organizations with the purpose of the club, the president, faculty advisor, and the meeting and activity dates included. Dean Basta, ASUN president Dick Bryan and the student senate will study campus activities for the rest of this semester.

The calendar will be set up in order to avoid the present situation of four or five clubs holding meetings the same night. Some duplication of meeting times will be unavoidable, but this will be kept to a minimum, said Dean Basta.

"The study of student activities is being made not to add to, or subtract from to present number of groups," Dean Basta added. "We are trying to coordinate the activities."

In setting up the activities calendar, which will be posted in the Student Union building and around campus, priority will be given to the University calendar of events. This includes registration, orientation, Homecoming, vacations, and final examinations.

Second in consideration will be the social calendar compiled by Elaine Mobley, Dean of Women, and the social chairmen of the various campus organizations. Next will be the clubs made up of professional, interest, religious, and service groups.

"Later in this semester, campus organizations will be asked to fill out information forms and return them to us," said Dean Basta. "After the first directory has been compiled for next semester, it will be a simple matter of keeping it up to date. To my knowledge the University of Nevada has never had a complete activities directory and calendar, and we need one."

Veterans Hospital Seminars Are Held

"Motivation—A Tool of Management" will be the subject at a seminar to be led by Dr. Paul F. Secord, associate professor of psychology at the Veteran's hospital Thursday.

The seminar is the last in a series of five led by four Nevada professors this month. Eighteen heads and chiefs of sections in both the Veteran's administration and the Veteran's hospital have taken part in the series.

Charles E. Lunn, personnel director of the Veteran's hospital, arranged the series with Dean Robert C. Weems Jr. of the College of Business Administration to help V. A. and hospital staff members in problems they meet in their work.

Other seminars have been: "Essentials for Effective Management," led by Dr. Stephen J. Barres, assistant professor in the College of Business Administration; "Office Management" and "Communications in Business," by Dr. Edward M. Vietti, associate professor of business administration; and "Human Relations and Administrative Practices," by Dr. Carl W. Backman, assistant professor of psychology and sociology.

"Snow White and Seven Dwarfs" To Be Presented

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," third in a series of fairy tale productions, opens this afternoon at 2:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the education building.

Some twenty players will act under the direction of Dr. William C. Miller, professor of speech and drama, in seven performances this week-end.

University students in principal roles are, Larry Coleman as the Prince, Bonnie Mae Ramos as Snow White, Pat Reynolds as the Witch, John Madariaga as the Huntsman, Sarah-Jane Futch as the Queen, and Edward Randall as Sir Dandi Prat. Others in the cast are from Reno schools.

Assistant director is Olivia Forsythe. Costumes are by Karen Randall, scenery by the art department.

The play will run for three days, with performances at 2:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. today; 10:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m., and 3:30 p.m. tomorrow, 1:45 p.m. and 3:45 p.m. Sunday.

Mixed-Up Weekend for Fraternity Actives Winds Up in Los Angeles

Douglas Dobson, an active member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, apparently got his chapter houses mixed up last weekend.

"Last Thursday evening I was between my night class, and the next taking my customary break be- thing I knew I was attending a dance with members of the SAE chapter at UCLA."

The pledges of Nevada Alpha chapter made a barter with the pledges of California Delta last Friday afternoon about mid-way between here and Los Angeles at Lone Pine, California. Meeting in the town's only restaurant, they exchanged active members and were on their way home again.

The Nevada pledges got a little worried when the patrolman at the California checking station wanted to check inside the trunk, but they talked him out of it.

All in all the "ride" worked out very smoothly, but the SAE pledges are kind of worried about how they are going to pay for Dobson's airline tickets.

Lambda Chi To Hold Annual Dance

Lambda Chi Alpha will hold its annual spring formal, "Crescent Formal," tonight at Lawton's resort on highway 40 west. The dance will be preceded by a dinner starting at 7:30.

Charley Myerson's Swinging Shepherds will play for dancing. Guests include Doctor and Mrs. James S. Roberts and Captain and Mrs. Thomas M. Barry.

Speech and Hearing Clinic in Gerlach

Student clinicians from the University speech and hearing clinic will go to Gerlach this week to examine school children for possible speech and hearing disorders.

The five students going are Charlotte Sheldon, Charles Chester, Jean Keller, Katherine Owsley, and Alice Signalness. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Sheldon of the Washoe county schools, Miss Mickey Barrow of the National Society of Crippled Children, and Dr. Bernard Anderson, associate professor of speech, of the University of Nevada.

This group examined three hundred students of Manogue high school last week. They had to re-test 21 of the students, and found that about half of these had hearing losses.

Last Legislature Passes Several Laws Affecting University of Nevada People

By DIANE GORDON

Several laws regulating the University of Nevada were passed by the 49th session of the legislature. Students, the academic staff and the people on campus will be affected by the laws.

Establishing the desert research institute as a division of the University of Nevada, Senate Bill No. 182 provides an additional administrative unit for educational and scientific research. Dr. Wood said that there is now at least $100,000 in research under way at the University of Nevada. The desert research institute will be a separate unit that will be able to contract research projects from individuals or corporations. The institute will receive, invest, disburse and account for all funds acquired, subject only to the annual audit by the legislative auditors.

The six months limit on leaves of absence by the academic staff has been changed by Assembly Bill No. 95 to two years with the approval of the board of regents of the University. A leave of absence may be granted for an unlimited period of time if it is for the purpose of furthering the education of a member of the staff.

The citizenship requirements of teaching personnel at the University have been repealed with Senate Bill No. 173. Applicants for teaching must meet teaching requirements under the teacher exchange programs authorized by the laws of congress.

Free tuition may be granted by the board of regents to worthwhile and deserving students from other states and foreign countries, not to exceed three percent of the total matriculated enrollment of the last fall semester as provided in Senate Bill No. 175.

Traffic regulations adopted by the board of regents now have the force and effect of law. Any person violating such regulations is guilty of a misdemeanor. The regulations must be filed with the secretary of state and published. They are effective on all property owned or used by the University of Nevada.

Public liability and property damage insurance may now be purchased by the University. Because the state cannot be sued without its permission, the University has not carried insurance in the past.

Even now, no assessment may be levied against the insured over and above the policy. Also, the State of Nevada or the University of Nevada does not waive governmental immunity by carrying insurance policies as provided by Senate Bill No. 171.

It's what's up front that counts

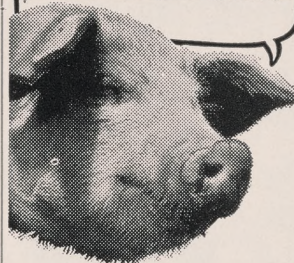

You can reproduce the experiment. It's easy as π . (Yes, you can do it in the bathtub.) Assuming that you have first visited your friendly tobacconist, simply light your first Winston and smoke it. Reasoning backwards, the discovery proceeds as follows: first, you will notice a delightful flavor, in the class of fresh coffee or of bread baking. Obviously, such flavor cannot come from the filter. Therefore, it's what's up front that counts: Winston's Filter-Blend. The tobaccos are selected for flavor and mildness, then specially processed for filter smoking. This extra step is the real difference between Winston and all other filter cigarettes. Besides, it's why Winston is America's best-selling filter cigarette.

Mobley Appointed To National Group

Elaine Mobley, dean of women, was recently appointed to serve with the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services. The appointment was made by the Secretary of Defense, Neil McElroy.

Miss Mobley, one of 16 appointed in the nation this year, received the certificate of membership personally from Secretary McElroy himself. She and the other appointees participated in a four-day meeting in the Pentagon at Washington, D. C., early this month.

The Defense Advisory Committee, more commonly called DACOWITS, has a membership of fifty distinguished women representing a variety of professions and fields from all over the United States. DACOWITS is made up of civilian women who are selected as members on the basis of their outstanding reputations in business, professions, and public and civic service.

growers. Although the fraternities will be judged for beard percentages on Monday evening at their houses, individual beard judging will take place at the assembly. Local barbers will be the judges. Prizes of electric razors will be given to the men flourishing the reddest, blackest, longest, and best trimmed beards.

A musical group now entertaining in downtown Reno will sing at the assembly. The group is the Four Barons.

Men will vote Thursday for their favorite of the five Mackay Day

Queen candidates. The candidates are Deanne Munk, Pi Beta Phi; Nedra Norton, Delta Delta Delta; Tippy Smith, Artemisia-Manzanita; Karen Knudsen, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Waunita Combs, Gamma Phi Beta.

The voting will take place in the Jot Travis Student Union between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. To be eligible to vote, men must have student-body cards.

After the assembly, at 9 p.m., an old-fashioned melodrama will be presented by the campus drama group. The theme centers around the traditional villain who holds a mortgage on the heroine's house. The melodrama will be repeated Friday evening between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Sorority open houses will be held Thursday evening after the assembly, starting at 9 p.m. and ending at 11 p.m.

Friday will be Costume Day on the campus. Kellison urged all women students to wear appropriate early Nevada clothing.

This year a kangaroo court will be set up in front of the Jot Travis Student Union. Women not dressed early Nevada style will be locked up. They may earn their freedom, Kellison said, by paying a small fine or singing.

Also on Friday will be the Aggie rodeo and dance. The rodeo will begin at the University farm at 1:30 p.m. The dance, featuring the music of the "Sageriders," will begin at 9 p.m. and continue until midnight at the Horseman's park.

At the Rodeo there will be both men's and women's events. Scheduled for the women are a burro race, ribbon race, pig race, boot scramble. Scheduled for the men are wild cow riding, a burro race, a calf scramble and wild cow milking.

On Saturday, President Charles J. Armstrong will confer an honorary degree on Mrs. Irving Berlin at ceremonies beginning at 10:30 a.m. in front of the Mackay School of Mines building. University Singers, the University band, and the academic deans will participate in the ceremony.

The annual luncheon will be held in the new gym at noon. It is expected that living groups will have individual tables. Guest speaker is to be State Senator Peter Echeverria.

Highlight of the luncheon will be the song team competition with fraternities competing against each other and sorority and independent women's groups vying for the winning song team. The Mackay Day Queen will introduce each song team.

After the luncheon the men's and women's obstacle races will be held in the vicinity of the library. They are scheduled to start at Manzanita lake. Later in the afternoon will be the annual Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Alpha Tau Omega lawn party at the SAE house.

Climaxing the three-day celebration will be the Mackay Day Dance Saturday evening. It will be held at the Riverside Hotel and is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m. and end at midnight. The Queen will present trophies to groups winning the song team competition, dance attendance and costume percentage.

One Of World's Outstanding Art Displays To Be Shown at University

Speaking of the art exhibit now at the University of Nevada—"The Painted Flower"—Prof. J. Craig Sheppard, chairman of the art department, said: "It is an outstanding art exhibition that would normally be seen only in the major museums around the United States. It contains the works of many famous artists."

Bernard Buffet is one of the outstanding twentieth century painters of the French school, he said. Morris Graves, an important artist of the American Northwest, has had one-man exhibitions in the New York Museum of Modern Art. Paul Klee is a widely known Swiss modern associated with German experimental groups at Bauhaus. Georges Rouault is a very famous French post-impressionist, and contemporary of Toulouse-Lautrec and Van Gogh.

Professor Sheppard said three widely known American artists, George Post, Alexander Nepote, and Vance Kirkland are represented in the show.

The exhibit will be on display in the art gallery of the temporary buildings until the end of the month.

The Pacific Student Presidents' Association will meet on the University of Nevada campus for the first time since 1940. The 34th annual meeting of the association will be held here May 6-9.

The P. S. P. A. is the second largest association of its kind in the United States. The conference will be held to discuss problems of student government including public relations and problems of incoming student presidents.

Dick Bryan, ASUN president, is host for the conference. He said that about two hundred delegates from 125 colleges and universities would attend.

Open houses held by women's living groups and a tour of Virginia City are being planned for the delegates. They will have dinner in the banquet rooms of the Riverside and Mapes hotels.

Members of the host committee from the University of Nevada are Kress Harris, Bonnie Fairchilds, Randy Leary, Lynn Spell, Eleanor Bonnefant, Sue Dea Pinneo, James Blakely, Trudy Caddell, James Meguire, Nancy Petrini, Gerald Boden and Chuck Thomas. The host committee will plan entertainment, food, make hotel reservations, plan transportation and make arrangements for campus facilities.

Engineers Inspect Las Vegas Sites

Engineering students from the University of Nevada made their twelfth annual inspection trip to Southern Nevada last week.

The students, all seniors in the electrical engineering field, presented a technical program at a meeting of the Boulder City Section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers on Friday evening, April 17. Participating were Stanley Jones, Gordon Osborne, Lawrence Brunetti, Hugo Gundelfinger and Richard Hughes.

The evening program was part of a three-day field trip designed to acquaint senior students with the industries in the southern part of the state. Among the companies visited were Edgerton, Germenshausen, and Grier, Inc. In charge of the Southern Nevada test site for the Atomic Energy Commission; Stauffer Chemical Corporation; American Potash and Potassium Company; Southern Nevada Power Company; and Hoover dam.

Students making the trip in addition to those who presented the program included: Gerty Berg, Carl Fisher, Tom Ormsby, Joe Ortiz, Richard Richards, Tom Seabury, Jack Sorenson, Gary Soule, James Taylor, William Viani, Max Jones and Tom Woodhall. They were accompanied by Assistant Professor Henry Domingos and Instructor Glen Clark.

Dr. Leifson Given Top Post By Association

Dr. Sigmund W. Leifson was elected president of the northern California section of the American Association of Physics Teachers at the group's annual meeting, held last Saturday, April 18, in Napa, California.

Dr. George Barnes also attended the meeting. He gave a report on the meeting of the association's national council, held last January in New York City.

Approximately seventy physics teachers from high schools, junior colleges, and universities in northern California and Nevada attended the meeting.

Dr. Leifson was vice-president of the northern California section last year, and will serve as president for one year. Dr. Barnes has two years to go in his term as national council representative. Dr. Barnes was instrumental in founding the northern California section in February of 1955.

Rodeo Club Will Go To Cal Poly

Five members of the University Rodeo Club travel to San Luis Obispo this weekend to compete in the National Intercollegiate rodeo.

The five-member team representing the newly-formed Nevada Rodeo club left yesterday for California Polytechnic Institute, where the rodeo is being held today and tomorrow.

Peter Conlan, Cleo Pulsipher, Lee Chambers, William Johnston, and Ellen Johnston will compete. Aldena (Diz) Sweeney, rodeo club secretary, and George Myles, club advisor, will accompany the group. Myles is assistant agricultural economist in the Nevada college of agriculture.

The trip is being financed in part by a Reno hotel and a men's wear shop.

Rodeo events will include bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, barrel racing, calf roping, ribbon roping, and bulldogging.

The group will return to Reno Sunday.

Humboldt State Drops Pack Twice

University of Nevada's kings of swat dropped their first place Far Western conference standing last Saturday. Humboldt State defeated the Wolf Pack nine in the doubleheader 9-0 and 9-2.

Nevada entered the series with a two-win and no loss record. Humboldt played with a 1-1 record.

Rusty D'Anna started the pitching chores for the Pack and the Lumberjacks tagged him for 9 runs and 11 hits. Frosh DeWayne Johnson relieved D'Anna in the sixth and held the Loggers scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Johnson started the evening game but was relieved in the fourth inning by Roy Kidder. Three runs in the first three innings and six runs in the fourth gave the Humboldt nine a sweeping gain.

Kidder and the Pack settled down and held State scoreless for the rest of the game. However, the lead they had built up was too great to overcome.

Onlookers are optimistic that the Wolf Pack will come out of the doldrums and will again regain their first place spot.

A non-conference game at College of the Pacific last Tuesday was cancelled because of poor field conditions at the Stockton campus.

Chico State will host Nevada in a doubleheader conference game tomorrow.

An upperclass committeeman in tossing a clean-shaven student into Manzanita accidentally slipped and filled his size 13 shoe full of water. At the same moment the wind blew his hat (size three) into the murky lake.

RECORDS ARE BROKEN AS SAC STATE NARROWLY DEFEATS WOLF PACK

By CHUCK THOMAS Sagebrush Sports Editor

The predicted score was 67-64 with Nevada on the short end. And that was just the way the scoreboard stood at the end of the meet, but Nevada had most certainly outshone the field.

Nevada records were broken—some had stood for over 20 years. For the Blue and Silver thin-clads it was a moral victory if not a physical triumph. Coach Dick Dankworth's prediction was true—Sac State 67, Nevada 64. But the final score is a minor thing compared with the team's accomplishments.

Fourth Annual Invitational Rifle Matches at Nevada

Nine schools began firing this morning in the fourth annual Nevada Invitational Rifle Match which will be concluded with presentation of individual and team awards tomorrow afternoon.

Visiting schools, which include some of the best small-bore rifle teams in the nation, were welcomed to the University of Nevada this morning by Dr. William R. Wood, academic vice president. At the reception in the education building auditorium were Stanford, UCLA, Oregon State, USF, Texas Western, California, Montana State and University of California at Davis.

All-American riflemen to be seen on the firing line include Fred Daulton, California; Lones Wigger, Jr., Montana State; and Adrian Bahler, Oregon State.

One of the top ten teams favorites is California. The Blue and Gold is defending national intercollegiate champion in both 1957 and 1958 and established an intercollegiate record this spring by firing a 1444x1500 at Berkeley.

Also high on the list of team favorites are Oregon State and Montana State. The Beavers took top honors at the 1959 Sixth Army area ROTC small-bore rifle match. Montana State is the winner of the 1959 Sixth Army Hearst Trophy.

Host Nevada will be represented by John Hunter, Dan Sobrio, Larry Gedney, Bob Oliver, Ramon Salcedo, Gary Cameron, Bob Fuller and Dick Dow.

Officiating the match are Major Homer Owsley, Jr., referee and statistical officer; Capt. Walter J. Ward, range officer; and Capt. Thomas Barry, safety officer.

MSgt. Kenneth Day, Nevada coach, has been in charge of all preliminary plans and organization.

Closing ceremonies will feature presentation of both individual and team awards by Perry Hayden, University of Nevada comptroller and prominent Reno marksman.

Frosh Dick Strunk toured the 100-yard and 220 sprints in the best time ever for Nevada. Strunk was clocked at 9.5 in the 100. The previous record was 9.6 and was made by Harvey Hill in 1935.

The 220 record was trimmed from 21.2 to 20.7. Strunk had set the previous record only two weeks ago. 20.7 is the fifth fastest 220 time in the United States this year.

Can he do better? Strunk seems to think so. A hard trainer, he hopes to pare his time and he has three more years to do it.

Another freshman, Bob Challender, cruised over the 220 low hurdles, in 24 seconds flat, to tie a 25-year record at Nevada. Frank O'Bryan, in 1934, sped the distance in 24 seconds.

Dave Sharp gracefully plodded through the fastest mile ever run by a Nevada man. He missed the school record because he placed second with a time of 4:22. The Nevada record of 4:25 has stood since 1925.

Bob Ritchie leaped 23 feet, 10 1/2 inches. This is the best since Kenyon Richard sailed 24 feet 7 1/2 inches in 1936.

Dave Harris posted a 15.1 to win the high hurdles. Then he flew 12 feet to win the pole vault.

Mike Lommori whirled the discus 147 feet 11 inches for his best-ever distance. Second man Tom Sheehan put the platter 141 feet 4 inches for his seasonal record.

Despite the almost clean sweep of events, Nevada lost. The weak spot was the 440. Top-man Dick Dow was left out of competition because of a still-weak muscle. Each team had won seven events before going into the finale, the mile relay. Nevada lacked top quarter-milers for the distance.

The Wolf Pack was defeated by three points by Sacramento State's all-time best team. Nevada speedsters have tremendous strength and when the Far Western conference standings are posted at the end of the season, Nevada will be at or near the top.

Lawlor To Be Honored at Testimonial Dinner Scheduled Late Next Month

Jake Lawlor—one of the most colorful personalities in Nevada basketball history—will be honored at a testimonial dinner on May 28 on the occasion of his retirement from the field of active coaching.

Lawlor, head basketball coach at the University of Nevada for the past 15 years, was named recently to the post of director of intercollegiate athletics. In his new job, he will give up coaching for administrative duties.

The testimonial dinner is being sponsored by teammates, friends and former athletes who played under Lawlor. It will be held May 28 in the Garden Room of the Riverside Hotel in Reno. Dinner will be at 7:30 p.m., to be preceded by a social hour at 6:30 p.m. Reservations can be made through the office of John Sala, alumni director at the University of Nevada, call FAirview 3-8104.

Lawlor has been a prominent figure in Nevada athletics since 1926, when as a freshman student at the University, he was an outstanding football and basketball player. Following his graduation, he was signed as a professional baseball player with San Francisco and then Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league.

In 1932, Lawlor decided on coaching as a career and started at Virginia City high school. In his five-year tenure there, his Comstocker squads were consistent state basketball threats. After two years of graduate work at the University of Southern California, he taught and coached at Delano high school in California.

Jake began his coaching career at Nevada in 1942 as head basketball and football line coach under Jim Aaken, and except for a two-year period, has been at Nevada ever since. He has produced teams that have won both regional and national prominence in basketball.

Engineers Plan Various Displays Of New Gadgets

The ingenuity of University of Nevada's engineering students will be displayed tomorrow during the annual Engineers' Day on the Reno campus.

Competitive exhibits, plus laboratory equipment, will be displayed for the general public by the departments of civil, electrical and mechanical engineering. One of the highlights of the day will be the slide-rule contest, the winner of which will receive a prize and a revolving trophy.

Lt. Governor Rex Bell will be the guest speaker at the banquet Saturday evening at the Villa Roma. During the banquet, which is the finale to Engineers' Day, winners of the competitive displays and the slide-rule contest will be announced.

Coinciding with high school visitation day and the High School Band Festival, Engineers' Day offers visitors to the Reno campus a unique opportunity to tour facilities and observe some of the results of the students' experiments in the engineering field.

Theme of the electrical engineers' display is "Electronics in the Home." Among the exhibits of new applications of electricity in the home will be such things as a radio frequency washing of utensils, an automatic garage door and a closed circuit television for baby sitting.

Primary exhibit of civil engineers will be a pre-stressed concrete diving board, using a process which has expanded greatly in recent years. In their demonstration of the process, the civil engineers have constructed a shallow pre-stressed beam which will be supported exactly like a regulation wooden diving board. The exhibit also includes photographs of the different phases of construction and detailed explanations of the process.

Mechanical engineering students will be on hand to explain and demonstrate the use of laboratory equipment in the new Engineering building and the Engineering shops. Engine lathes, gear cutting devices, drill presses, planing and milling machines will be there for public inspection.

The slide-rule contest will be held in room 13, new Engineering building at 10:30 a.m.

Also scheduled for Saturday on the Reno campus will be the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Sport-A-Rama in Mackay Stadium. In cooperation with local merchants, the JC's will have on display new cars, trailers and boats.

Thinclads Head for Meet With Cal Aggie Squad

Nevada trackmen journey to Davis, California, this weekend to battle with the Cal Aggies.

Quarter-mile Dick Dow has been strong in workouts, and may be able to run. Dow has been out with a pulled muscle for two weeks.

Dick Strunk is suffering from a sore heel and is troubled by "shin splints," a separation of the muscles of the lower leg from the shin bone, caused by running on the toes in long dashes.

Dave Sharp, Nevada's top miler, will run the mile and the two-mile events. Joe Eberle will be moved down to the half-mile run.

Mario Lommori and Rod Cook, the Pack's weight men, will be ready to go, as will hurdlers Dave Harris and Bob Challenger.

At President's Beer-Bust

TOP SOCIAL EVENT of the season was held recently at the Virginia Lake park when students put on their best clothes and attended the "inaugural ball" for newly elected ASUN President Dan Sobrio. A dry night that turned wet and rowdy, students flocked in with any type of container (mugs, canteens, and milk shake containers that fooled nobody) to take their meager portion of the Phi Sig wares. —Marie White photo

... JUST WHITTLIN'...

By JUDY V.

Are you getting that trapped feeling? Well, there's probably a pretty good reason for it—finals are just about a month away (I say, that's a jolly good way to begin my blimy column, isn't it?)

Despite this dark and ominous threat which looms in the not too distant future, the usual campus activities have been making their noble stands in gallant efforts to cheer countless anguished, frustrated, deranged, sick, etc., students. These affairs, which are too numerous to go into great detail on at this time; especially since I have about 20 minutes to get this thing in, will have to pass, unmentioned, down the corridors of time and the pages of the "brush." However, in an unofficial capacity I would like to say a few words about the Sigma Nu-ATO Blackfoot-Whitefoot dance.

Strange things ARE happening. It would seem that there were no ATO's present at this function, at least according to the list of names I received. Maybe Bob Morrill and Bob Ferraro ought to be questioned more closely about this—it could be they weren't really looking too hard. It has also been rumored that these two frats are considering adding a second place attendance trophy to the contest booty; that way the Taus could have one too. The Sigma Nus won again—for the fifth straight time. Also, I think we should all send our condolences to ATO (guess there was one there after all) Mack Fry, who met with an unfortunate accident at the dance. Anyway, between the blue-haired Indians and the "fairy" dance done by one of the young ladies, the affair was, to say the least, entertaining.

Speaking of dances, they certainly are becoming unusual. The Phi Sigs had Can-Can dancers and a fencing match at theirs. With this I shall close as I have used up my 20 minutes.

Coming Social Events:

Saturday—Lambda Chi, Theta Chi and Pi Phi dances.

On Monday night, international chess master George Koltanowski will play 30 people simultaneously at 7:30 in the card room of the Student Union. He will also play two 10-second-per-move games blindfolded and give a short talk on "Bobby Fischer vs. Botvinnik." (51-year-old Bobby Fischer is U. S. chess champion; Botvinnik, a Russian, is world champion.)

Koltanowski, who has won first prizes in international chess tournaments and the championship of Belgium six times, is well known for his blindfold play. In 1937 he established a world's record by playing 34 blindfold games simultaneously, winning 24 and drawing 10.

If you wish to play Koltanowski, please be on time, and bring your own chess set, if possible. We will have some extra boards and men, but not enough for everyone.

Lynn Burns has earned the title of University of Nevada chess champion by remaining undefeated in the chess club tournament while winning 5 and drawing two of his seven games. The following is a list of those who finished with plus scores: One point was awarded for each game won, and ½ point for each draw.

	S.B.
1. Lynn Burns	6-1
2. Dr. Beesley	5-2
3. Richard Morris ..	4½-2½ 16½
4. Phil McGee	4½-2½ 15½
5. Graham Higgins ..	4-3 10½
6. Wayne Chapman ..	4-3 9%

The 'S.B.' column indicates points scored in the Sonnenborn-Berger tie-breaking system. Prizes will be awarded to those who finished in the first three places in the tournament.

The Jot Travis Student Union has recently purchased some excellent chess sets. If you dislike the common Staunton pattern, you may prefer to use the set in which the chessmen are patterned after those used in the 15th century; another set has men which were designed by a modern sculptor.

A rapid transit tournament, in which all games will be played at the rate of 10-seconds-per-move, will begin Wednesday, April 29.

Sorority Rush Dates Tentatively Set

Tentative dates for sorority rush week were set by the Panhellenic workshop last Saturday. The dates for rushing are September 14-20.

The workshop was held to better acquaint the City Panhellenic advisors with the campus problems. Discussion groups talked about rushing, inter-sorority relations, the standards committees, and of ways to keep the chapter strong.

Discussion leaders were Emmy Hanf, Grace Antonelli, Barbara Ruark, and Kathy Bailey. Maxine Black, a member of the College Panhellenics committee, spoke to the group. Miss Black is from Seattle, Washington.

The discussion groups gave their reports on the discussion session and the workshop adjourned. In the afternoon there was a meeting of the Panhellenic council and the City Panhellenic counselors.

Pink Elephants? . . . Pay No Attention!

If you happen to see pink elephants at the Pi Phi annual spring formal tomorrow evening, don't you give it a second thought unless one happens to engage you in conversation.

"Fantasy in Pink" is the theme of the affair, and the elephants will only be a part of the physical decorations.

Refreshment hour will begin at 7:00, New York cut steaks at 7:30, and dancing to the tunes of Don Porter's band at 9:00.

Pres. Armstrong Gives Philosophy

urgency. We shall forget it at our peril.

"I fervently hope that in our educational task we may never overlook the most important outcome of the Socratic process of self-examination, self-understanding and self-knowledge which leads to wisdom: namely, recognition by the student of the basic truth that only through ultimate reliance upon himself, not upon others, only through his own vigorous initiative, can he come to full realization of his creative potential as an individual human being."

Discursing on his beliefs of quality in education, the president said: "Excellence in all its forms must be our constant concern, so that we may exemplify the challenging Socrates, whose most famous single statement was, 'I say again that daily discourse about excellence and of those other things about which you hear me examining myself and others, is the greatest good of man, and that the unexamined life is not worth living.'"

On security, he said: "Security and freedom in the final sense are incompatible. Absolute security is the death of freedom. The captive peoples of totalitarian states have a form of security which is specious, because their governments do everything for them, including their thinking. This kind of security means the end of hope and ambition."

Dr. Armstrong said that the role of the University of Nevada as a land-grant institution, supported by tax funds, must be to meet the educational needs of all the people of the state. In this regard, he said that the University had already achieved a distinguished record.

At the inaugural luncheon which followed the ceremony, pledges of confidence in Armstrong's administration were made by: Richard Bryan, ASUN president; Dr. Charles Fleming for the faculty; Peter Echeverria, state senator from Reno; Raymond McGuire of the state office of education; Mayor Len Harris of Reno; and Governor Grant Sawyer. Main speaker at the luncheon was Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Oregon.
