COURT VOTE SET DECEMBER 16

Campus Players Present Comedy

"The Curious Savage," a comedy presented by the Campus Players, will have its premiere Wednesday evening in the Education auditorium. Three performances will be given: December 9, 10, and 11. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m.

The play's "curious" heroine is a widow named Ethel Savage. With ten million dollars she inherited, she decides to gratify all the whims she has suppressed throughout her life, no matter how silly they may seem. She extends to others the financial support they need to satisfy their particular whims through her "happiness fund."

Her greedy stepchildren, impatiently waiting to inherit her money, have her committed to a rest home.

The play tells how Mrs. Savage triumphantly outfoxes her foxy relatives. She does this with the help of the other slightly pixilated people in the rest home.

Iris Homestead will portray the title role of Mrs. Savage. Lillian Gish starred in the same part when "The Curious Savage" was first produced in New York.

Others in the cast include Janice Aalbu, Ronald Anderson, Carrilla Dempsey, Dale Gordon, Magnus Homestead, Dean Kapsalis, Mickey McBride, Sarah Pedersen, Kathleen O'Leary and Sharin Winter.

Working backstage are Jo Ann Van Hooser, Stormy Byrom, Heather Gillon, Germaine Koster, Robert Lemon, and Douglas Smith.

Professor Charles Metten is directing the play. Technical director is Mr. Terry Ellmore. Sets have been designed by Russ Byloff.

"The Curious Savage" was written by John Patrick, who is also the author of "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Tickets are now available at the Graduate Manager's office, Jot Travis Student Union building. University of Nevada students are to be admitted free.

Admission charges for other than University students are as follows: general admission, $1.00; University faculty and staff, 75 cents; other students with student cards, 75 cents; tickets in groups of ten or more, 50 cents.

Who for Santa Claus

Do you believe in Santa Claus? That is an uncommon question heard on campus. More uncommon yet is the question, do you want to become Santa Claus? And even more unusual is the opportunity to be one—and for pay.

But if you enjoy children, especially when they are tugging on your whiskers, there may be a job for you. The student employment office has an opening for one Santa on December 23 and 24 from 10 to 4. The pay is fifteen dollars per day. Interested persons, with or without large pot bellies, should contact the office in room 103 of Ross hall.

Tuesday Meeting Scheduled for Non-Affiliates

A meeting for unaffiliated students who wish to have a stronger voice in student affairs will be held next Tuesday, according to Susan Hickman, Independent.

Purpose of the meeting, Miss Hickman says, is to sound out Independent thought on the subject of organizing for social and political activities. She indicated the group will strive for Senate representation.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Jot Travis Student Union. Following the meeting a dance will be held and refreshments will be served, Miss Hickman said.

Anyone interested in the organization of Independent students for social or political reasons has been requested to contact Miss Hickman.

New Personnel For Sagebrush

Four appointments in Sagebrush management were announced yesterday by Editor Warren Lerude. They are: D. A. O'Donnell, city editor; Royce Feur, sports editor; Edward Allison, news editor; and Ron Moroni, art editor.

Present staff columnists are Dewey Berschied and Cathy Zimmerman. Reporters are Don Prible, Diane Gordon, Donald Harrison Greenfield, Roger Christensen, Katherine Johnson, Kittie Kerr, Mary Ann Kerstetter, Thomas Kinsey, Duncan Knowles, Lora Leonard, Jim Maguire, Ed Martinez, Myra McCue, Paula Riel, and Sally Whipple.

Anyone interested in working on the Sagebrush is requested to contact the editorial and business offices in the old student-union building south of the campus on Center St.

'Supermarket Style' Proposed for Operation of New Nevada Library

Students will "serve themselves" in the new University library, and will check books out at the circulation desk, super market style.

The new super market type of library will be on the Nevada campus in September of 1961. The structure will be built of reinforced concrete and steel. Totalling three stories, the new library will have an elevator for students.

The library will be "divisionalized," says Mr. J. J. Hill, director of libraries at the University. To the student, this means he will find books relating to natural and applied science on the first floor, books about the humanities on the second, and volumes concerning the social sciences on the third floor.

There will be two conference rooms, a study room and a typing room on each floor, added Mr. Hill.

The library department was allocated $115,000 for the new building and for the purchase of new books. The library will be located next to Lincoln hall, about thirty feet away. The building will be erected where the infirmary now stands.

The present library structure will be turned into an administration building according to present plans.

Senators, Students Clash on Petition

by DONALD A. O'DONNELL

A special ASUN election on the student court question has been set for Wednesday, Dec. 16. The election—which was the result of a petition signed by some 665 students—was decided on after a heated debate by the Senate Wednesday evening.

Senate side-stepped the petitioners' request for a re-submission of "the proposition originally establishing the student court for a one year trial basis" and decided to present a three-option ballot to the students.

The three choices the student body will have will be whether the court should continue as is, whether the trial period should be ended immediately, or whether the court should continue with revisions.

The revisions in question are now being worked upon by a special Senate committee and will be made available to the student body several days before the election.

ASUN president Dan Sobrio was first presented with the petition on November 25. He turned it over to Senate this Wednesday because that body has charge of all student body elections.

Senate Debate

At the outset of the debate on the petition several senators expressed the opinion that the persons who drew up and those who signed it were mistaken.

"The people who drew up the petition are in error," said Robert H. Scott, Theta Chi senator. "The things they are complaining about have been covered by the committee (special senate court committee) already," he contended.

The legality of the petition was then questioned by Lynn Walsh, junior women's senator-at-large.

"You senators are trying to figure every way to cheat them (the petition signers) . . . and to find every loophole you can," objected Larry Damon, a student visiting the meeting, after several other senators stated various points of view and positions.

Legal Beagles?

"The people who signed the petition aren't a bunch of legal-beagles," contended Damon. "If you people were doing what the Senate was supposed to be doing, I wouldn't have to be here."

"They (the petitioners) don't want the student court," Damon said. "Why don't you do what these six hundred people want?"

After Damon made his comments, Jim Megquire, junior men's senator-at-large, made a motion that the three-option ballot be presented to the students.

Debate then continued with Jean Rivkin, Artemesia-Manzanita senator, claiming that there must be "something wrong" because of the way "some persons" wanted the recall election.

Demand Action

"The students want immediate action," stated Cliff Devine, another of the more than twenty students who observed the meeting.

"Rome wasn't built in a day," President Sobrio then cautioned Devine.

Hazing Ruled Out By Upperclassmen

"Hazing is out, but penalties are in," said Jim Sloan, chairman of the men's upperclassmen committee in a report before senate last Wednesday.

"Due to recent pressures against hazing, the upperclassman committee has decided to discontinue laskings, and use other methods of punishment to enforce campus traditions," said Sloan.

The committee plans to start enforcing a "don't walk on the grass" campaign with portable speakers as soon as possible. Other traditions will be enforced by the issuance of citations which will entail everything from loss of privileges to certain types of light labor, such as raking leaves or picking up litter on the campus.

Sloan also suggested that any male student not wearing a beard for Mackay Day should not be allowed to attend any of the Mackay Day functions. This has not yet been approved by Senate.

Gary Cooney was appointed senator of the College of Arts and Science early this week. The appointment was made by Dr. Ralph A. Irwin, dean of the College of Arts and Science.

A Fine Performance

MANY RENO CITIZENS strongly back up the tourist's statement that there is little to do in Reno except tour the local gambling establishments. The main complaint is usually that Reno lacks cultural stimulation as found in programs offering classical music and art. DURING THE SCHOOL year, the University of Nevada tries to alleviate this situation, and it succeeds. Through the year the University offers its Sunday at Four programs. Featured are talented musicians and singers. TWO WEEKS AGO the University-Community Symphonic Choir and Orchestra offered Verdi's "Requiem." The program, attended by many Reno people and University students, was excellent. THE COMPLAINT concerning lack of cultural activity in this area is muffled by the Sunday at Four programs.

More on Beards

JIM SLOAN, head of the upperclass committee, recently told ASUN-Senators that men students will wear beards during the Mackay Day celebration next spring. IT WILL BE interesting to watch Mr. Sloan order some 26-year-old Korean vet to grow whiskers. Perhaps the older student will feel that the shoddy beard would not blend well as he sits before the fireplace with his wife and children.

Tribute to Hard Work

AT TIMES PUBLIC recognition is an odd thing. It nods its approval at persons who contribute very little to the general good, and then totally ignores some who offer a great deal.

AMONG THE VICTIMS of this lack of recognition are the students who work on college yearbooks. Little is known about them as they work through the fall, winter and into the spring. Then, as the spring term draws to a close, out comes the yearbook—the result of their efforts.

AT THE PRESENT 21 students are contributing a great deal of their time and effort in order to have this year's Artemesia be the "best yearbook ever."

BUSINESS MANAGER is Jud Samon. His staff is composed of Lynn Gerow, Bill Lohse, Mike Henderson, Dave Mandell, and Beverly Davies.

RICHARD MORRIS is the Artemesia photographer. Through the sights of his camera he records college events as the year unfolds on campus.

A General Discredit

THE SAGEBRUSH considers the recent publishing of the "Scrub-Brush" to be our finest compliment. However, we feel its libelous statements, its contradictions, and the lack of courage of its editor and staff in leaving out their names, to be a general discredit to honest journalism.

ZIM'S ZYMS . . . By CATHY ZIMMERMAN

It pays to be photogenic and bother to have yearbook pictures taken, as several co-eds find this a handy way to look over prospective dates to the Christmas formals.

Nevada is ushering in the holiday season with parties to trim trees, parties for alumni, and for needy children during the next two weeks.

Pi Phi pledges are having a gift-certificate raffle . . . Thetas and Snakes plan a party for underprivileged children complete with dinner, presents and Santa . . . SAEs have invited Gamma Phi pledges over for a Christmas feast . . . Tri-Delta plans a cake sale to the fraternities . . . John Mackay has been again "trimmed" for the holidays . . . and moonshine jugs, golden keys, and mugs will be given to dates at the formals.

There's a rumor that SAE treasurer Bob Davis embezzled money from the house to buy cigars for his brothers when he announced his pinning to Pi Phi Sue Fordam . . . Lambda Chi Larry Coleman recently pinned Theta Suzie Workman . . . Independent Lori Dodson is sporting the pin of SAE Steve Heyer . . . Pinned are Beth Ann McKenzie or DDD and Tau Jerry Kirk.

Romance is still alive at Nevada, as Don Capps proved by sending Marilyn Carlson of Delta Delta Delta a cake decorated with an orchid for her 19th birthday . . . Gamma Phi pledge Marilyn Burkham claims her black eye was the result of her little brother's teasing, not the fault of Sigma Nu Vance Bell.

The engagement of Diann Coate and Dick Bath was announced last Saturday and the Wal was the scene of a semi-private celebration after closing time.

The Theta house had a visitor from Scotland by the name of Lord Gordon Laughland for dinner. Lord Laughland arrived dressed in kilts, and expressed his enthusiasm for a cowboy hat he was given while here.

International flavor—Tri-Delt Sue Sneaden has been chosen as an interpreter for the Olympics . . . Sue speaks German . . . KAT Kim Miller plans to spend her junior year studying in Europe . . . The Sig Eps have a member from Copenhagen, Denmark, Klaus Neilson . . . competitors and coaches from the participating countries in the Olympic Games will have a chance to visit the University in February.

The Phi Sigs and Gamma Phis went beatnik at a social last week and dressed in black, at salami, wine, cheese, and bread, and kept the conversation purely intellectual.

Thanksgiving proved to be an exciting vacation for some . . . Easterner Mary Gerahty visited Las Vegas, and found the atmosphere quite different from New England . . . most people probably ate cranberries just to be daring . . . and a group of SAEs, namely Bob Frinkle, Bill Sleeper, Howard Chambers and Roger Brown entertained some "beatnik" girls at the Red Garter in San Francisco.

By DEWEY BERSCHIED

"There isn't much of the venturesome, happy-go-lucky attitude left." This is a statement concerning University students. The person who said it went on to say (in a rather regretful tone, it can be assumed) "college students now are far more serious in their outlook than in the good old days."

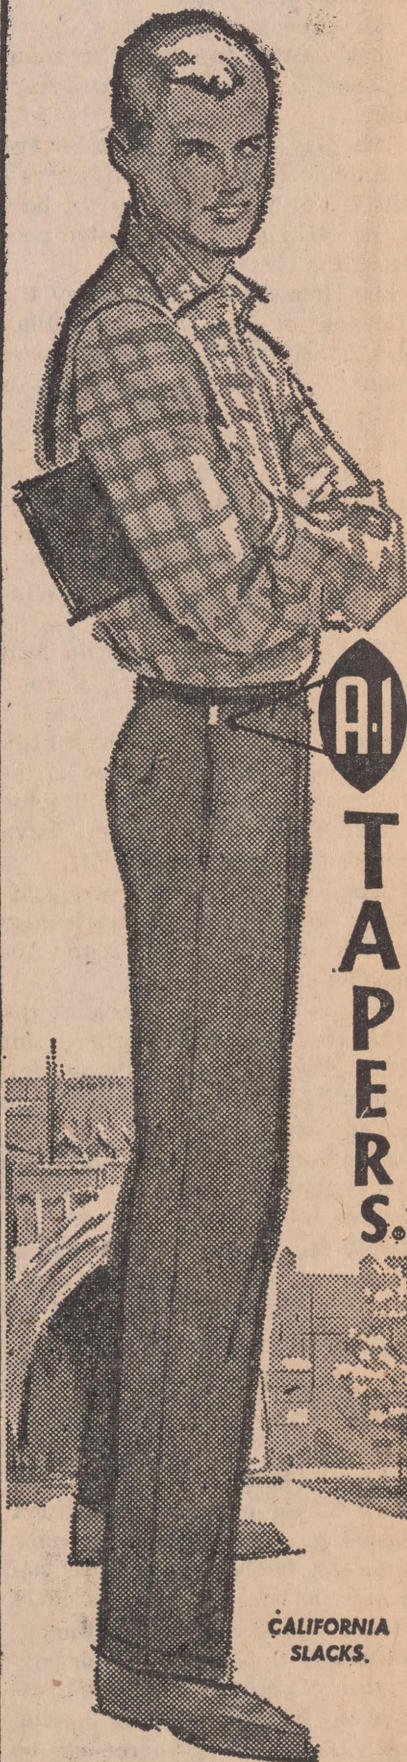

Dean Sam Basta said all that, if you can believe it. He was quoted just so in Frank Johnson's column in the Sunday Journal a couple of weeks ago.

Our own Sam Basta. The very same man who went along with a student court recommendation to have a student expelled from the University because he tied into a construction shack telephone wire so as to have a private line in his Lincoln hall room. We would say this student could be considered quite venturesome.

The happy-go-lucky attitude of years past isn't dying out. It's being snuffed out!

When Dean Sam made the statement he no doubt was thinking back to all the "venturesome" capers he and his fraternity brothers here at Nevada were able to get away with. What's the old political theory of the radicals becoming conservative when they come into power?

Fashions Show

Dresses and skirts are shorter this year. Imitation fur, chiffon and velveteen are fashion standouts. Attention goes to the greens, blues, oranges and yellows, new colors for winter 1959-60 fashions.

Six members of Phi Beta Phi modeled these new styles, fabrics and colors at a fashion show held November 23 at the Pi Phi house.

Del Loomis, Ellen Murphy, Katherine Bishop, Billie Morris, Sharon Stiff and Brenda Barnes wore the latest fashions appropriate for classes, casual and evening wear on campus.

The clothing shown was provided by Mrs. Virginia Carville, owner and manager of the Campus Clothing shop.

Activities, pledges and members of the house corporation committee attended the show.

STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT DAN SOBRIO AND SAGEBRUSH EDITOR WARREN LERUDE CLASHED at a recent publications board meeting in spirited discussion over Sagebrush editorial policy. Sobrio questioned Lerude for printing editorial-like writing on various pages in the newspaper. Lerude explained that an editor's note is a clarification note, explaining a story; that a signed statement, such as a letter to the editor, is the opinion of the writer, and that an editorial was the institutionalized voice of a newspaper. He explained that most editorials are restricted to an editorial page in a newspaper, however, that it is an editor's prerogative where editorials are printed. Sobrio accused Lerude of printing a "direct lie," in the Sagebrush. He referred to a statement in Dewey Berschied's column stating, "Sobrio said there will be no petition." The student-body president maintains he said no such thing. Lerude said Senator Del Whipple told him Sobrio said the petition would be invalid. ASUN Vice President Pat Reynolds volunteered that she had made the statement.

again called for immediate action on the matter.

"But we can't go on just what six hundred people want," claimed Pat Reynolds, ASUN vice-president.

Barbara Galeppi then contended that most of the persons who signed the petition "didn't even know what they were signing."

When the vote was taken on the motion, it carried with twenty-two for and two against. At least one of the "no" votes was cast because of a feeling that the Senate should submit the original proposition to the students, not a three-option ballot.

Delegate Positions Open for Pacific Meeting of Model United Nations

Positions are still open on the Nevada delegation to the Pacific Coast Model United Nations conference announced Cathy Arentz, Model U. N. club vice-president, this week.

The tenth annual session of the Model United Nations conference of the Pacific Coast will be held on the Berkeley campus of the University of California next April 6 through 9.

At the conference delegations from some 82 colleges and universities throughout the west will convene for a mock session of the United Nations, with each delegation representing one of the nation's in the world body.

Last year Nevada represented Venezuela. Country assignments for this year's session have not been made yet, but the University of Nevada's Model United Nations club is already at work studying the workings of the United Nations.

Members of the Nevada delegation to last year's conference at the University of Southern California were Cathy Arentz, Kim Miller, and Donald A. O'Donnell.

It is hoped that the University of Nevada will be able to send nine or ten students to the next conference, Miss Arentz said. Several positions are still open, and no previous experience with—or knowledge of—the United Nations is necessary.

At the conferences the delegates virtually "lose" their identity as Americans and try to represent their assigned country to the best of their ability. Some delegates go so far as to deliver all addresses at the conference in the native tongue of the country which they represent. In such cases an English translation follows.

Many political science, history and speech majors attend the conference because it helps to supply some knowledge of world politics and gives ample opportunity for debaters to participate.

Present officers of the Nevada Model United Nations Club are: president, Donald A. O'Donnell; vice president, Cathy Arentz; secretary, Judy Aoyama, and treasurer, Dave Lutz.

Chuck Thomas Joins Marines

A former Sagebrush sports editor, yell leader, and ex-president of the Sigma Phi Epsilon colony has joined the U. S. Marine Corps as an aviation cadet.

Charles "Chuck" Thomas, who attended the university from September 1957 through May 1959, will start an 18-month flight training program tomorrow at Pensacola, Fla. Following a three-year active duty tour, Thomas hopes to complete his education at the University.

Thomas was a journalism major, "specializing in libel." He gained notoriety last semester after publication in the Sagebrush of an article in which he referred to Sundowners as a group of "drunken, brawling slob."

Sonora, Calif., is Thomas' home town. While at the University, he was also a member of the press club, Sigma Delta Chi, Saggers and ski club.

DINNER HONORS UN JOURNALISTS

Three Nevada journalism students were the honored guests recently at the Las Vegas Press Club's annual "Branding Iron" dinner. The students, Royce D. Feour, Thomas D. Kinsey, and Versailles Driver, took part in the event as holders of the club's scholarships.

The "Branding Iron" is the yearly performance of shows and skits stirrizing press and public figures. The show was held at the Dunes hotel before a capacity crowd. The proceeds of the show go into the club's scholarship fund.

The club's scholarship is worth $800 and is open to graduates of Clark county high schools.

Two New Courses Announced by Professor Metten

Two new courses in drama and the revision of two other has been announced by Professor Charles Metten of the department of speech and drama.

The new courses will be offered next Fall.

Speech 223, "Styles of Acting," will be a two semester course in actual play production. The first semester will be mainly lecture. The second semester will enable students to direct some performances for the public. This is the first time that a course in direction will be offered for two semesters.

Speech 429, "Playwriting," will produce one act plays, probably in the new experimental theater now under construction.

A new approach to theater history will be offered in Speech 471 and 473, to be taught by Dr. William Miller, professor of speech and drama, in the first semester, and by Professor Metten during the second semester.

Speech 471 will cover the history of the theater of Greece, Rome, and the middle ages.

Speech 473 will cover plays from the renaissance of the period of naturalism, when realisted school of theater.

Brushfire Editor Is Cecelia Clayton; Meeting Scheduled for Staff Dec. 8

The new editor of Brushfire, Cecelia Clayton, will preside at the next meeting of Brushfire on Tuesday, December 8, at 11 a.m. in the Humanities building, room 204-A. Under her supervision, nominations and appointments for Brushfire's staff will be made.

The first woman editor for several years, Cecelia, plans to major in English and get her degree here. Later she plans to get her masters' in library science. Previous campus activities include the working on Brushfire's editorial board, past officer of SNEA and Wesley Foundation, and a member of the University Singers. At present she is a member of the English and Ski clubs.

Matthew Rast was reappointed business manager. They were candidates by members of the policy board, consisting of Dr. Charlton G. Laird, chairman, professor of English, Dr. Christian F. Melz, professor of foreign languages, George Herman, instructor in the English department, Robert Hartman, assistant professor of art, and Mrs. Maurica Osbourne, ex-officio member and president of the English club.

Dr. Laird said: "The policy board for Brushfire wishes to reaffirm its belief that one of its major functions is to encourage the growth of a continuing group of students who will cooperate in the editing of a campus literary magazine. The board is much pleased with the esprit de corps that developed last year under the editorship of Harold Robinson, and with the collaboration of the English club. Accordingly, the board is happy to be able to appoint an editor from the editorial board from last year's publication, and hopes that this will always be possible."

Administration Society Meeting

All work and no play makes for dull meetings, so the Accounting Society of the College of Business Administration substitutes a social gathering for a business meeting every other month.

Regular business meetings feature outstanding persons in accounting.

Scheduled to speak to the group in December is an executive of the Sierra Pacific Power company. Professor Martin Greene, assistant professor of business administration, says the representative of the power company will discuss job opportunities in private accounting in the Reno area.

Membership in the Accounting Society is open to any student of the College of Business Administration, but only majors are eligible to hold office. Annual dues of $1.00 are charged.

At the November meeting the following students officers for 1960 were elected: Donald E. McGhie, president; Robert J. Smeath, secretary.

Substantial Award Offered For Paper on Security

A $2,500 award to be given for the best book-length manuscript on national security has been announced by the Mershon Committee on Education in National Security of Ohio State university.

The contest is sponsored by Ohio State university and made possible by the late Cononel Raulph D. Mershon.

The winning manuscript will be published by the Ohio State University Press and royalties will be paid to its author.

Works should be mailed to the Mershon Committee, Ohio State University Press, 164 West Nineteenth Avenue, Columbus 10, Ohio, on or before April 1, 1960

Largest Building in History of Nevada Expected to Go to Bidders in January

The largest state-financed construction project on the University of Nevada's Reno campus, the $2,679,000 library building, will go out to bid December 2, following weekend approval of the plans by the University board of regents and the Nevada state planning board.

The regents, meeting in Las Vegas on Saturday, Nov. 21, also approved final plans for one new construction project on the Nevada Southern campus and one other new building on the Reno campus. The Nevada state planning board, meeting in Carson City Monday evening, gave the stamp of final approval to a new classroom and physical education building at Nevada Southern, as well as an agricultural and farm mechanics building and the new library on the Reno campus.

Architects Robert Alexander of Los Angeles and David Vhay of Reno have predicted the new library on the Reno campus will be the most beautiful building in all Nevada. It will cover 10,000 square feet and will encompass the area between Lincoln hall and the old gymnasium, making necessary the removal of the present student infirmary.

The bids will be opened January 6, 1960, with construction slated to begin that month. Approximately 18 months will be allotted for completion of the project.

Final approval of the library and the agriculture and farm mechanics building will bring to seven the number of new projects being constructed on the Reno campus. The new Fine Arts building, men's dormitory, dining hall, married student housing, and greenhouse are slated for completion by the beginning of the 1960 fall semester.

Completion of the one approved construction project on the Nevada Southern campus will bring to three the number of buildings at the Las Vegas facility. The regents Saturday participated in dedication ceremonies of the Maude Frazier building, which was the first construction project completed in 1957.

Science Teachers Institute Offered

President Charles J. Armstrong has announced the University of Nevada has received at $66,100 grant from the National Science Foundation to conduct an eight-week summer institute for high school science teachers.

This will be the second such program on the Reno campus. The University received $57,400 from the National Science Foundation last year to establish the initial program which saw 50 students enrolled from various parts of the United States.

Dr. George Barnes, associate professor of physics and director of the summer institute, said the courses offered will be the same next summer—physics, chemistry and mathematics. The institute will run for eight weeks beginning June 20, 1960. February 15 is the final date for filing applications.

Dr. Richard Sill, assistant professor of physics, has been appointed associate director of the 1960 NSF summer institute. He will attend a conference for west coast summer institute directors in San Francisco on December 11 and 12.

The grant was made possible under a nationwide program set up by the National Science Foundation and designed primarily for high school teachers of physics, mathematics and chemistry. Dr. Armstrong said that under the terms of the grant, high school teachers accepted for study will receive living expenses, plus allowances for books, travel and dependents. There will be no charge for tuition or fees.

Those participating can earn a total of eight undergraduate college credits. Teacher applicants may write directly to: Director, NSF Summer Institute, University of Nevada, Reno.

Aggie Fraternity Formation Set

The forming of a local chapter of Alpha Zeta, the national honorary fraternity for agriculture students, was discussed last night.

Also present was Joe Gregory, past president of the chapter at New Mexico A. and M. and a graduate student at Nevada. He said that Alpha Zeta has about 45 chapters located at agriculture colleges throughout the country.

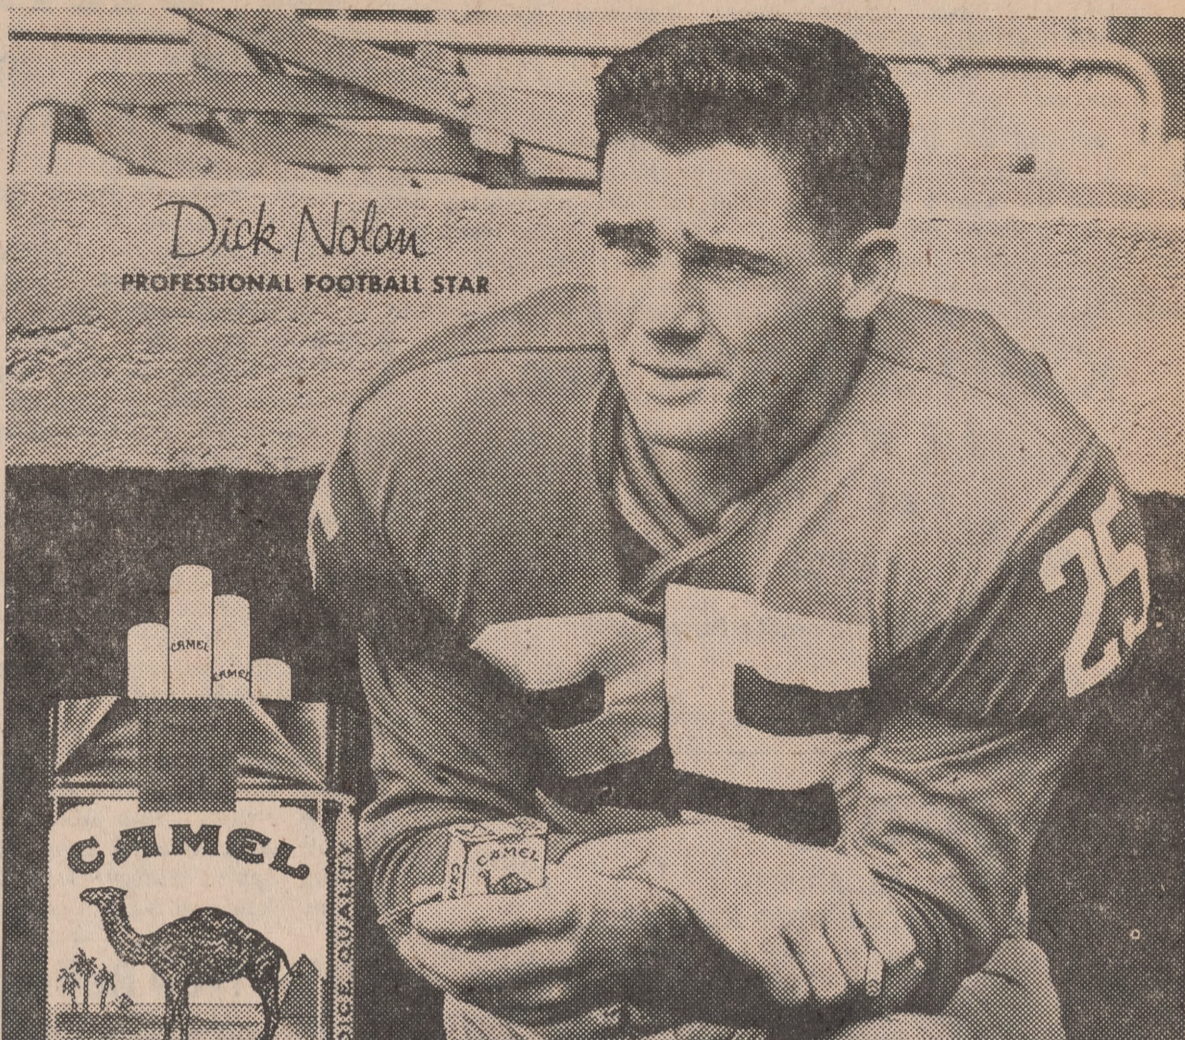

Ronny Lynch urges all interested students registered in agriculture to get in touch with him.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"My talk with the Bell System interviewer is really paying off"

Today, less than five years since he graduated from Michigan State University, Donald J. Zigman is an Accounting Manager for Wisconsin Bell Telephone Company in Oshkosh—with seven supervisory and 93 clerical employees reporting to him. His group handles billing for 350,000 telephone customers and processes $1,500,000 in revenue each month.

Don has moved ahead fast—and steadily—but no more so than the Bell System interviewer told him he might.

"That guy made a real impression on me," says Don. "He didn't guarantee a bright future for me. He simply described the kind of varied job experience I'd get, outlined the on-the-job training I'd go through, and pointed out the advancement opportunities I'd have along the way. The only thing he promised me was that I would have 'maximum exposure for self-development.' He was 100 per cent right there. My training has been terrific—and I've had every chance to advance that I could possibly hope for."

After joining the company, Don spent eight months in the Plant Department learning the roots of the business. He got experience as a lineman, installer and repairman. He was transferred to Accounting in December, 1956, working in the Methods and Results section. Thirteen months later, he was Supervisor of that section—and, 14 months after that, he became Accounting Manager.

"How much farther I go now is entirely up to me," says Don. "One thing I know: the opportunities are here."

Don Zigman graduated with a B.A. degree in Economics and English. He's one of many young men who have found interesting careers with the Bell Telephone Companies. Learn what opportunities you might have. Talk with the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus—and read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office.

FOUR APPOINTED SPORTS EDITOR

Royce Feour, sophomore journalism student and former sports writer for the Las Vegas Sun, has replaced Gib Landell as Sagebrush sports editor.

Landell dropped school shortly before mid-term. Landell wrote sports for the Stars and Stripes, Korea Bureau, while on duty with the army, and handled sports publicity on the west coast before becoming Sagebrush sports editor early this fall.

Feour is attending the University on a Las Vegas Press club scholarship. He was a staff sports writer for the Las Vegas Sun last summer, and will accompany Sun staffers to Squaw Valley when they cover the Winter Olympics

SPORTS

Ski Team Playing Soccer . . . No Snow!

Soccer, anyone? Until head ski coach Shelton Leonard issues his first call for the 1959-60 ski team, 21 university men are getting in condition by playing soccer every night from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The skiers, after a few laps on the track, choose up sides, and play until it either gets too cold or the sun goes down.

Jon Madsen and Doug Salter, both returning lettermen, took up the art of riding bicycles and pedaled up to Virginia City. The trip took the men three hours each way.

It's a New Ruling

University of Nevada basketball coach Jackson Spencer has issued a new policy for basketball players. The new rule forbids varsity members from participating in intramural basketball competition.

Spencer said "a varsity player playing intramural defeats the whole purpose of intramural sports."

Lettermen, under the old rule, were restricted from playing the sport in which they earned their letter.

Affected the most are the Independents, which will lose Bob Challenger, Stewart Johnson and Joe DeArrietta. The fraternities are less affected as most teams will lose only one or two players.

University Basketball Team Opens Season on Road Against Eastern Ore.

The University of Nevada basketball team opens its 1959-60 season on the road tonight and Saturday night against Eastern Oregon college at La Grande in a pair of non-league games.

New hoop coach Jackson Spencer has been working with a 15-man team, including four lettermen.

Spencer named a tentative starting line up for the two initial encounters at La Grande. The starting five will probably include Ken Longero and Morgan Jellett at guards, Ed Allison at center, and Val York and Bob Lyon at forwards.

Longero, a senior from Carson City, was a starter last year and played two years with the varsity a couple of seasons back before entering the army.

Jellett, a sophomore, is up from the freshmen squad where he was a first-stringer last year. He is from Lafayette, Calif.

Allison was a reserve forward on last year's varsity but did not letter. He is a junior from Carson City.

York, another junior, was an alternate starter last season and played on both the varsity and frosh teams as freshman. He made the all-state high school team at Fallon in 1957.

Lyon, a senior, is a two-year letter winner and starting forward. He is from Sacramento, Calif.

The rest of this week's 11-play traveling squad includes sophomore forward Bob Challenger, Reno; senior guard Lyle Damon, Winnemucca; freshman guard Joe DeArrietta, Winnemucca; junior forward Bob Fisher, Grangeville, Ida.; sophomore guard Dave Lumos, Fallon, and sophomore forward Chet Wood, Carson City.

Challender was a starter on last year's frosh team. Damon was a reserve and lettered on the varsity last season. De Arrietta was an all-state choice at Winnemucca high school last year.

Fischer was a varsity reserve but did not letter last season. Wood alternated between the frosh and varsity squads two seasons ago before dropping out of school for a year, and Lumos is a junior college transfer.

The remainder of the 15-man varsity squad consists of freshman center Stewart Johnson, Hawthorne; freshman guard Clyde Sanders, Las Vegas; junior center Tom Sheehan, Truckee, Calif., and sophomore forward Bruce Ward, San Francisco, Calif.

Two veterans from coach Jake Lawlor's team last season are injured and are not currently practicing with the varsity. Two-year letterman Chuck Walker, a 6-4 center, is still limping on an injured knee which he suffered on Homecoming during the football season.

Senior guard Van Peters, from Carson City, suffered a knee injury in the pre-season basketball practice sessions and will probably be out of action until at least after the Christmas vacation.

The Wolf Pack will kickoff its home season next week against San Francisco Presidio Friday and Long Beach State Saturday.

Spencer, assistant coach Floyd Edsall and the 11-man traveling squad will leave for Le Grande Thursday and return to Reno Sunday.

Early Mailing Urged By UN Post Office

With Christmas only 21 days away, the University station post office is urging all students to mail their packages early to insure prompt delivery in time for the holiday.

They also give the following suggestions: All packages should be firmly secured with strong or cord. All address, including the sender's return address, should be written clearly and legibly. Cards should be sent with the four cent rate, so that in the event of a change of address, it will be forwarded or returned to the sender. And all valuables should be insured or sent by registered mail.

Gamma Phi Holds Founders' Day Ceremonies

Mary ("Kay") Hamilton won a $50 scholarship as the Gamma Phi Beta pledge with the highest grade average. The Mother's Club and the Alumna Club awarded the scholarship to Miss Hamilton after she attained a 3.5 grade average last semester. They also announced that Loralee Smith was the woman chosen as the active who had done the most for Gamma Phi Beta.

Both awards announced at the annual Founder's Day dinner, November 17, at the Hidden Valley Country club. Alumna, Mothers, and members were invited to attend.

Patricia Reynolds, the mistress of ceremonies, introduced six of the founders of Alpha Gamma chapter seated at the head table. They were: Mrs. Elvina Doherty, Mrs. Georgianna Kane, Mrs. Lulu Sullivan, Mrs. Marie Mortensen, Mrs. Janet Morrison, and Mrs. Lee Scott.

Group singing followed the dinner and presentations.

'Contemporary' Christmas Tree

A "contemporary" Christmas tree will be suspended in the stair well of the Student Union building as part of the Christmas decorations being planned. Ron Moroni, Artist and chairman of the student exhibit committee, promises other novel and unusual decorations in addition to the Christmas tree.

A "contemporary" tree is anything but nature's own product of branches of pine needles. Of what the tree will be made, is anybody's guess. Moroni promises it will be unveiled soon.

Other exhibit plans for the future include an exhibit of pottery, followed by a sculpture exhibit. These exhibits are awaiting completion of a display case, being built by the university engineers.

The display case will be about four feet long, five feet high, and a foot and a half wide, with several shelves for displaying articles. It will be well lighted.

Robert Kersey, director of student services, indicated that the display case will be placed in the lobby of the Student Union on the to havingmain floor. "We are looking forward to having the display case. In the past we have had no place to exhibit such things as ceramics and jewelry," he said.

A series of posters entitled "Great Ideas of Western Man" will be on display after Christmas vacation.

English Professor to Discuss Drama at Next Session

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

Field-goal expert kicks about classes

(See below)

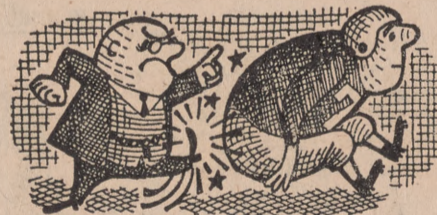

DR. FROOD'S MORAL OF THE MONTH:

Make the most of your college days. (The nights will probably haunt you the rest of your life.)

Dear Dr. Frood: Is it all right to study with the TV on?
Distracted

Dear Distracted: Better not. You might miss some of the story.

Dear Dr. Frood: The Dean is trying to force me to go to classes. I think this is unfair because last season I scored 16 touchdowns, intercepted 18 passes and kicked 22 field goals in 23 attempts. What should I do?
Letter Man

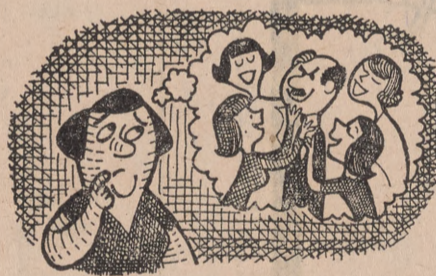

Dear Letter Man: I fail to see how going to classes will help. Better practice your kicking.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a very plain girl and I don't have much personality. All I want is a man who will love me. Why can't I find one?
Sad

Dear Sad: You're too particular.

Dear Dr. Frood: I want to get married, but I don't like children. What shall I do?
Surly

Dear Surly: Marry an adult.

Dear Dr. Frood: My husband teaches at a girl's college. I know it's silly, but since I'm middle-aged and stout, I am very jealous and worry all the time. What should I do?
Plump, Tired

Dear Plump, Tired: Keep worrying.

Dear Dr. Frood: How can I keep people from borrowing my Luckies?
Pestered

Dear Pestered: Put them in a Brand X pack.

DR. FROOD ON HOW TO BE A BEATNIK

I've drawn up instructions for becoming a Beatnik: Let your hair grow until your hearing is noticeably impaired. When beard covers your tie, discard tie. Hang your shoes and socks in effigy. Sell your sink for scrap. Stock your room with cigarettes—because you won't be allowed on the street any more. (Better make 'em Luckies and enjoy your isolation!)

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.

Christmas Formal Season Opening

The Christmas formal dance season starts this evening with two sorority dances. A total of ten Christmas formals will be held this weekend and next weekend.

The women of Kappa Alpha Theta start off this evening with a dinner dance at the Hidden Valley country club. Chaperons at the affair will be Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Wulk, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shirley and Mrs. Katherine Mayhew.

Pi Beta Phi is also having its dance this evening. It will be in the Garden room of the Riverside hotel, with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Edsall and Mrs. Beth Schneider as guests.

Tomorrow night the men of Sigma Nu will hold their dance in the Skyroom of the Mapes hotel with Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Wulk as guests.

Sigma Phi Epsilon will also hold its dance tomorrow evening. It will be held at the Halfway House.

Next Friday Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will hold their dances. The last of the dances will be held December 12 with Artemesia-Manzanita association, Gamma Phi Beta, and Delta Delta Delta holding their affairs.

New Housemother

Mrs. Cherry Bernett, newly appointed house mother for the Delta Delta Delta's, arrived in Reno November 23.

Mrs. Bernett was formerly house manager and dietician at Anna Head School for Girls at Berkeley, Calif. Before that she was house mother at Burnham-by-the-Sea, a girls' school in Newport, R. I. and also at Tuxedo Park, N. Y.

Before becoming a house mother, Mrs. Bernett spent ten winters in Florida in the hotel business.

This is the first time Mrs. Bernett has been to Reno and she finds it exciting.

Tri-Delts Stage Prof's Banquet

Delta Delta Delta held its annual "Prof's" dinner November 19. Each woman was to invite a professor to the sorority house for dessert of apple pie and coffee.

The highlight of the evening was the entertainment. The women entertained the professors and the professors entertained the women. A barbershop quartet consisting of Loring Williams, Floyd Edsall, Glenn ("Jake") Lawlor, and Robert Whittemore sang a medley of songs. Dr. Hutcheson did a tap dance. Professor Williams also read a paper on "the 93rd element called woman." Dr. William Miller read a prayer to the Patron Saint of Delta Delta Delta.

The women did equally well in their entertainment for the professors. Four freshman girls sang songs. They were Karen Olson, Bada Jackson, Gay Peterson, and Pamela Rosasco. The women also put on their "Claudia Clod" skit. Nancy Petrini was Claudia Clod, and her supporting cast consisting of Leanna Noble, Patricia Hug, Patricia Vieta, Patsy Lewis, Charlotte Sheldon, Janet Clements, and Patricia Plumm. The three "police-Susan Petersen, Patricia Fordham, and Sharon Winter sang and danced. Leanna Noble and Mary Ann Kerstetter played the ukelele and sang Tri-Delt songs.

Fashion Parade In Student Union

A "Holiday in Fashion," a fashion show sponsored by the Student Union and the YWCA, will be given today at 2 p.m. The show will take place on the main floor of the Student Union building. Free refreshments will be served.

Casual and formal clothes from eleven Reno clothing and sporting goods shops will be shown by 18 models.

Commentators for the event will be Don Rasmussin and Sharon Winter. The models will be Judie Smith, Mary Bandoni, Barbara Timlake, Aliceann Monaghan, Caroline ("Kitty") Kerr, Carol Pennock, Charlotte Sheldon, Sharon Stiff, Barbara Brannon, Linda Borer, Ron Kirn, Danny Winter, Lynn Gerow, Roger Christensen, Bob Heany, and Bob McDonald.

Student Union art chairman, Ron Moroni, is in charge of decorations for the show.

'Taint so. This is NOT an editorial.

Engineers to Have Aero-Jet Tour

Some 15 members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will tour the Aero-Jet plant at Sacramento today. Jack Myers, vice president and program chairman, says they will leave this morning and return after lunch.

The group will probably inspect rocket propulsion systems and testing areas in addition to some other sections of the plant.

Psychology Group Sets Discussion Meeting

"Just what is psychology, anyway?"

Is it an art or a science," is the topic to be discussed at an open Psi Chi meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Mackay Science building. Dr. Richard H. Dana and Mr. George H. Herman will be the speakers.

This meeting will be held in room 215 of the Mackay Science hall. Coffee and cookies will be served after the meeting.

Psi Chi, an honorary fraternity for psychology majors, will hold its meeting from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the same room.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(THROW THESE QUESTIONS INTO THE POT AND SEE WHAT COOKS*)

If your studies led you to believe you could strike oil by drilling a hole right in the middle of the campus, would you (A) keep still about it so people wouldn't think you were nuts? (B) sell stock in the proposition to all your friends? (C) get an oil man interested in the idea, even if you had to give him most of the profits?

A B C

"A watched pot never boils" means (A) the man who made such a statement never watched a pot; (B) if you don't want the stew to boil over—watch it! (C) you can't hurry things by worrying about them.

A B C

If you saw a girl perched up in a tree reading a book, would you say, (A) "Timber!" (B) "Is the light better up there?" (C) "Will that branch hold two?"

A B C

Assuming cigarettes could talk, would you listen to (A) a filter cigarette that talks only about its taste? (B) a weak-tasting cigarette that talks about its filter? (C) a filter cigarette that lets its advanced filter design and full taste speak for themselves?

A B C

the cigarette with the most advanced filter design of them all . . . the one cigarette with a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you checked (B) in three out of four of these questions, you're a pretty smart cooky—but if you checked (C), you think for yourself!
