CAMPUS MODEL—Alicean Monaghan sports "up-to-date" campus apparel at the recent fashion show in the student union. Both men and women students modeled campus fashions at the show. It was put on by the Jot Travis Student Union Board. Danny Winters is chairman.

Chains Suggested As Night Campus Security Measure

The placing of chains at night across all automobile entrances to the campus has been suggested by a group of administrators as a measure to curb on-campus thefts and vandalism.

University President Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, dean Sam Basta, university engineer James Rogers and comptroller Perry Hayden also made other recommendations aimed at strengthening campus security. The school has been plagued recently with thefts, attempted robbery, vandalism, and harassment of coeds by men.

The convertible top on a freshman student's car was slashed Tuesday night, and a typewriter, an ROTC uniform, and some clothing were taken. The student was moving from the Lambda Chi Alpha house into Lincoln hall. At the time of the theft, the car was parked behind the hall. The suggestion to close auto entrances after a certain hour each night is designed to minimize robberies of this type by keeping unauthorized cars off campus.

An increase in the campus police force from two to four men is also recommended. Another suggestion calls for more janitorial work to be done at night. The feeling is that the presence of custodians will discourage thieves. The group also suggests that students with previous police training be used on a part-time basis.

Gifts Presented

Three journalism professors, Higginbotham, Janulis and Hood, were presented with gifts at the annual Press Club Christmas party December 16. The gifts were bought by the Press club.

The Inquiring Reporter Finds...

by DON GRAYDON Sagebrush Feature Writer

Can the Sagebrush be improved? The answer must certainly be yes, but in what way and to what extent can it be improved?

Is it the present policy of the Sagebrush to report all news of school activities fairly, completely, and accurately, and to give out praise or blame whenever it is due? Or is the present policy designed to stir up controversy for controversy's sake, ignoring constructive news?

A number of students were asked recently to put themselves in the place of the editor. If they were editing the Sagebrush, how would they improve it?

Make-believe editors and their suggestions were:

John Kleppe, 20, junior, electrical engineering, Reno: I'd make it a little different from downtown papers. Make it a little more humorous instead of giving all the dirt on campus. But I think it's good the way it brings out different controversial points on campus.

Julie Fountain, 18, freshman, biology, Las Vegas: I wouldn't make it quite so biased.

Alan Hill, 21, junior, civil engineering, Redding, Calif.: I think it's a good paper in spite of what everybody says, although I wouldn't say that improvements couldn't be made with regard to coverage of independent news rather than fraternity news.

Jack Bilderback, 22, junior, civil engineering, Colfax, Calif.: I think there should be a little bit more about what's going on in regard to students, such as in the engineering department, which is rather a thorn in our sides since we're engineers.

Barbara Hickman, 18, freshman, languages, McDermitt, Nevada: I'd have more round-about-campus pictures instead of all this student court jazz. I think we should have a society page.

Bob Armstrong, 21, junior, accounting, Hawthorne, Nevada: I'd allow my columnists and editors a little more freedom for their own style.

Donal Ruth Murphy, 18, freshman, journalism, Reno: I like the Sagebrush. I sort of think a college paper should be radical. I like it that way. I don't think it is radical enough.

Alice Urrutia, 18, sophomore, physical education, Reno: I like the paper, and whenever you come down to the Union you can expect it to be there. But for about three weeks the gossip column was left out, and I think it should be put in all the time.

Tony Xavier, 22, junior, geological engineering, Sacramento: I'd put in more news about Alpha Phi.

Joan Arrizabalaga, 20, junior art, Fallon: I'd agree with the editorial policy itself, but I wouldn't incorporate my editorial policies in the news stories. It's the policy of the editor here, who doesn't really care, to bring before the students, who don't really care, all the phony things that four or five members of the student body are trying to do.

Sheri Harwood, 18, freshman elementary education, Reno: I just think the present editor is bull headed. I bet if someone gave him a decent argument for the other side, he wouldn't believe it. He makes me mad.

Carolyn Bell, 18, sophomore, physical education, Lafayette, Calif.: The editorials can be slanted, but sometimes the news stories are slanted to the writer's views. Also, sometimes the information isn't from a very reliable source.

Nevada Declared Official Games Host

by ED ALLISON

The University of Nevada has been declared the official "host university" for the 1960 Winter Games at Squaw Valley.

The "hill" will not have its annual Winter Carnival because members of the university ski team will be working at the Olympics, and any other time for the carnival would be in conflict with the University schedule. Social events and campus decorations will continue during the time of the Olympics, however.

The "host university" has planned decorations for the campus which will conform to the Olympic theme. Entertainment, housing and official welcomes will also be offered by the University.

Flags of all participating countries will fly along side the "tram" crossing Manzinta lake. The flags originally were to be placed on campus but were switched to the "tram" because "no flag is to be displayed above another." In the center of the flag arrangement will be a flag of the United States flanked by two Nevada state flags.

All University living organizations and social fraternities will be asked to display a "welcoming" sign in front of their living quarters. A trophy will be awarded to the winning sign by the ASUN Olympic committee headed by John Howard.

The University will give "souvenir pins" to all contestants and team officials. The lapel pins will be made of sterling silver and have been designed by Mr. Sheppard, chairman of the art department. The pins will be seven-eighths inch by seven-eighths inch and the design will conform to the Olympic Games.

Upon arrival some 450 participants will be routed through the campus on their way to Squaw Valley. On the initial trip the visitors will see the campus decorations and locate points of interest on the "hill."

During the Olympics the participants will be toured through the Nevada campus. They will dine at fraternities and sororities.

Gymnastics events and basketball games will be included in the entertainment for the athletes. In addition there will be numerous social events which will include dancing at the Jot Travis student union and open houses at the sororities.

Chairman for the University Games Committee is Dr. Fritz Kramer.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Annual Yuletide Festivity

Holly berries and Christmas songs were the order of the evening at Sigma Phi Epsilon's Christmas formal.

The yuletide dance was the first since the Sig Eps received their colonial status in October of 1958. The affair was held at the Halfway House, on the road to Carson City.

A steak dinner was served at seven o'clock. An evening of dancing followed. Music was provided by a four-piece band under the direction of Bert Moncrieff.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Russell Lloyd and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Robbins. A visitor was Brady Hartman, director of Sig Ep's Epsilon province.

Independents Hop Held at Jot Travis

Another Independents meeting was held at noon, December 15, on the main floor of the Jot Travis Student Union building. Their first meeting was held the evening of December 8. A sock-hop and refreshments followed. At this meeting they decided that all independents on and off campus could join the organization.

At the last meeting in the Jot Travis Student Union building they made tentative plans for a dance for all students to follow the Humboldt State game January 9. The chairman of the organization is Susan Hickman. Her head committeemen are: social committee, Ina Jean Drulias; publicity, Roger Warren; fund raising, Tom Osborn; and organizational committee, Miss Hickman.

Miss Hickman says the purpose of the organization is a "social organization of unaffiliated men and women students, organized for social purposes, for securing representation in student government and to further the interests of the University."

The next meeting for independents will be Tuesday, January 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the meeting rooms adjoining the snack bar in the Jot Travis Student Union building.

They plan to hold social functions to build membership and interest. These functions will last through this semester and the spring semester. At that time, if enough people are interested, they will attempt to form a more solid organization.

Evening Courses Offered

Sixty four courses, ranging from agronomy to zoology, are to be offered for evening division classes for the 1960 spring semester.

Classes are open to all interested persons. When registered for less than seven hours, students need be matriculated at the University of Nevada, but fees of ten dollars per credit hour will be charged.

'SHARE-THE-RIDE'

To help assist students in finding transportation during Christmas vacation, a "share-a-ride" board has been placed in the main entrance to the Student Union.

The board is a map of the United States with hooks at various points. Students desiring rides or riders may place information cards on a hook in the general areas of their destinations.

According to Bill Adams, assistant director of student services, the board is only for the student trying to find a ride, "not a place to see which student can write the wittiest card." He therefore hopes that the board be used only for constructive purposes.

Christmas . . . Jor, Tragedy

THROUGHOUT THE CHRISTIAN world the Christmas season is perhaps the most joyful time of the year. Loved ones return to their homes, a serene atmosphere covers all, and general warmth is the theme in most hearts.

AT TIMES THIS SEASON, however, does not stack up to what it was intended to be. Some families find tragedy instead of the anticipated joy of the Christmas season.

THIS CHRISTMAS SOME of the loved ones will die as they journey homeward. The serene atmosphere will be at a funeral. And the warmth bestowed from the heart will be sincere and sad for the dead.

IF YOU DRIVE SAFELY, the Christmas season might be a joyful thing, but, if you speed it up a bit, you might not be around to enjoy the warmth and wonder of Christmas.

Yes, There's a Santa

(In September 1897, a little girl named Virginia O'Hanlon wrote a letter to the editor of the New York Sun, asking: "Is there a Santa Claus?" In reply Francis P. Church wrote an editorial article that pleased so many readers that the Sun printed it every year at Christmas.)

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the super-natural beauty and glory beyond. It is all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

TUNUS BOLONUS

Or, more correctly Thunnus thynnus (according to the Latins) is a large, brilliant (in color, we assume) fish of the mackerel family. They (the tuna) sometimes attain a weight of 1,500 pounds and were once considered a nuisance by fishermen. The tuna was a throw-away fish when plucked up in the nets.

Tastes, however, have changed through the years (some people now eat chocolate coated ants), and the tuna or tunny has become accepted as food from the deep (sort of the opposite of manna from the skies). These sea animals are caught in practically every area of the aqua world, therefore quite plentiful. Even the atomic tests failed in any degree to diminish their number.

Now then, why is it with the world so heavily populated with tuna fish which retails for less than 30 cents a can in the super markets, that slightly more than a pinch of this sea food mixed with a small amount of mayonnaise, sprinkled sparsely with wilted lettuce and jammed between two slices of bread can carry a 35-cent price tag in the TUB. If it was served up on a plate and delivered to your table by a smiling young waitress, then maybe okay. But to stand in line and even take your chances on getting a table?

Even the stolid American Indians have evolved into a publicity-seeking lot. The Paiutes have gone into a snow-dance pow-wow with their gods, not from the seclusion of their reservation, but before the nation at Squaw Valley.

This has been, so far, except for the recent snow-cold wave, one of the nicest Decembers we've had in many years. The sun shines brightly, bringing a shirt-sleeve warmth that is seldom enjoyed at this time of year, and now some of our early Great Basin dwellers are out to ruin it all. Who wants ten feet of snow in Reno?

All that's needed is a nice fall of snow in the mountains so that everybody can get in their skiing and the Olympics can come off smoothly. Then next spring, the snow can melt and run down into the valley to moisten the farm lands. The farmers can then raise bumper crops, receive parity prices, cause a government surplus of whatever they may grow, and our taxes will go up some more.

If we had a ten-year, nationwide drought, maybe we could use up the billions of dollars worth of surplus crops. With the money we saved from supporting the high-living farmers an expedition could be financed to the North Pole to bring back enough snow to bury Squaw Peak.

Besides, we don't get out of school for the Olympics anyway.

If it might control the literature of the household, I would guarantee the well-being of the church and state.—BACON.

Underprivileged . . .

Clothing, toys, dinner and entertainment were given to five underprivileged children by members of Pi Beta Phi last night.

Gifts ranging from coats to miniature bowling sets were disguised in numerous packages of many sizes under the large Christmas tree.

Sorority members collected $216 for the party. Each year the money that members would normally spend on one another is given to this cause.

Women living in the house participated with the children in a fried chicken dinner. Later the pledges and town girls joined the group for ice-cream and cookies. Caroling entertained the youngsters after all the gifts had been opened.

Sigma Chi . . .

The application for campus recognition of Sigma Chi Alpha is tabled by the Student Relations committee until January 15.

Local members of Sigma Chi alumni association plan to support the establishment of the house. It will eventually become a national chapter.

The application was unanimously accepted by the Inter-Fraternity council which first voted on it. John Madariaga, IFC president, said after the vote, "The IFC is growing along with the increased enrollment of the University of Nevada."

The Student Relations committee postponed the application because of the hardships that several fraternities have encountered. The proposal should be subjected to closer study, the committee said.

On January 15 a member of the national office of Sigma Chi will speak to the committee.

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

May I express to each and every member of the University family my sincere wishes for a most enjoyable and Merry Christmas vacation. I hope that the new year will bring an added quantity of good health and success to you all. I am looking forward to the new semester with great expectations, as I am sure most of you are.

While returning to your homes, remember the students who have needlessly been erased from our roles by traffic accidents. Please don't you contribute to the ever growing list.

Goodbye, and may Christ be with you this Yule season.

ASUN President

Gamma Phi . . .

Children were the focal point at a Christmas party of Gamma Phi Beta the evening of December 14. Four underprivileged children were served dinner and entertained with Christmas carols. Santa Claus, in the shape of Paul Huffy, passed out presents to the children as they sat around the Christmas tree. Two large boxes of food were sent home to the parents, along with the presents and clothes.

After the children departed the women of Gamma Phi Beta went Christmas caroling. Dressed in warm coats, they traveled in a caravan of cars to sing for all the fraternities on campus. They sang a medley of songs including White Christmas, God Rest You Merry Gentlemen, and many of the traditional Christmas carols.

Returning to the sorority house the women ended the evening with the traditional "big and little sister" party. The opening of presents and the singing of more songs concluded the evening.

Capping Ceremony For Student Nurses

Reno, Nev.—Seven students in the Orvis School of Nursing were capped Sunday, December 6, during the second annual nursing convocation to be held at the University of Nevada.

Dean Helen Gilkey of the nursing school said parents, friends, and interested persons were invited to the program, which began at 4 p. m. in the Education building auditorium. A reception for the students was held at the Jot Travis Student Union immediately following the convocation ceremony.

Mrs. Ethelda Thelan, director of public health nursing for the State Department of Health, will delivered the main address. Father Linde of the Catholic Diocese gave the invocation and Dr. Howard Busching of the First Methodist Church gave the benediction.

Student nurses who took the Florence Nightingale Pledge and receiving their caps include: Annette Ezell, Benton, Illinois; Alice Boesen and Janet Riddle, both of Sparks; Elsie Ritchie, Marysville, California; Amy Schultz, Jackie Combs, and Joyce Hollenback, all of Reno.

When misfortunes happen to such as dissent from us in matters of religion, we call them judgments; when to those of our own sect, we call them trials; when to persons neither way distinguished, we are content to attribute them to the settled course of things—SHENSTONE.

Form Commission To Improve Study

Reno, Nev. — Some 13 Nevada educators have formed a commission for the improvement of instruction in the state through the use of newer educational media such as audio-visual materials.

The commission was formed when the members as delegates attended the Regional Leadership Planning Conference on the Newer Educational Media for Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah held in Phoenix, Arizona, November 22-25.

Elbert Edwards, principal of Boulder City high school, was named chairman of the newly-formed group; Mrs. Amy Stambaugh, vice president of the Nevada State Education Association, from Ely was named recording secretary, and Dr. J. Patrick Kelly, director of the audio-visual communication center at the University of Nevada, is the executive secretary.

Members include: Monty Boland, director of elementary education, Clark county school district; Mrs. Rose Bullis, elementary supervisor, Washoe county school district; Dr. Herbert Derfelt, professor of secondary education, Nevada Southern branch of the University; Harvey Dondero, administrative assistant in charge of curriculum, Clark county school district; Dr. Lloyd Drury, director of evening division and off-campus programs at the University; Dr. Garold Holstine, dean of the University College of Education; R. A. McGuire, curriculum director, State Department of Education; Floyd Smalley, superintendent, Mineral county school district; Herbert Steffens, state mathematics consultant, State Department of Education; and Mrs. Walter Wedow, first vice president, Nevada Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Dr. Kelly noted that extensive planning is now underway to improve the utilization of audio-visual materials in the educational institutions throughout Nevada. Plans are also underway to organize special audio-visual meetings in conjunction with other state educational organization activities.

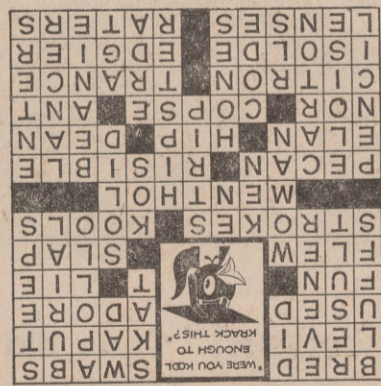

The meetings in Phoenix was sponsored by the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, a department of the National Education Association.

Bridge Tournament Early in January

Bridge players at the University of Nevada will have a chance to test their skill. A tournament is to be held January 9, at 2:30 p. m. in the card room of the Student Union building.

The tournament is open to all interested persons. A fee of $1 per contestant will be charged to cover the cost of a trophy to be presented the winning team.

Robert Anderson, organizer for the event, expressed a hope that beginners would try their luck.

DR. DICKINSON ATTENDS NATIONAL MEET

Dr. David F. Dickinson, professor of nuclear engineering, attended the national meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers this week in San Francisco.

The program has various divisions on chemical engineering. It includes one dealing with nuclear engineering. Also Dr. Dickinson explained the nature of the nuclear field is such that it overlaps into other sections of engineering and chemistry. There are several chemistry divisions which apply to the particular area of interest. to be discussed are the chemical engineering outlook for natural resources; mineral deposits on the deep sea floor; and the future sources of critical raw materials.

Five Awards Are Set for Journalists

Students in journalism have an additional incentive to work hard this year. The incentive is five $25 awards, one each for the best news story, the best feature story, the best news picture, the best editorial and the best advertising copy of the year by students of journalism. Each of the entries must be work done by students as part of classwork.

A group of Reno professional journalists will judge the year's entries. The prizes will be awarded at the annual Press Club Breakfast in May.

In past years winners in the various categories were awarded certificates without cash awards. Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the department of journalism, says, "the money for the cash awards was donated through the generosity of a friend of the department of journalism."

All filter cigarettes are divided into two parts, and...

"Weni, widi, Winston!" Thus did Caesar (a notoriously poor speller) hail the discovery of Filter-Blend—light, mild tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking.

He knew that a pure white filter alone is not enough. To be a complete filter cigarette, it must have Filter-Blend up front. And only Winston's got it!

That's why Caesar would never accept another brand even when it was offered gratis. In fact, history tells us he'd glower at the extended pack and sneer, "Et tu, Brute?"

In a stirring peroration to his legions, Caesar put it this way: "For the Numeral I filter cigarette—for the best-tasting filter cigarette—for the noblest filter cigarette of all—smoke Winston!"

"Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!"

P.S. to bachelors. If you're lucky enough to find a gal who'll keep you in Winstons, Caesar!

Closed Circuit Television Was Discussed at Recent Convention

Closed circuit television for university instruction was one of the topics of a conference attended by three members of the university faculty. The Regional Leader Planning conference was attended by Prof. J. Patrick Kelly, Dr. Lloyd Allen Drury, and Dean Garold D. Holstine.

The conference concerned furthering education through audio-visual equipment and other means. Some of the devices discussed were tape recorders in language courses, movies for mathematics and science, and television for various university courses.

Professor Kelly, director of audio-visual communication, represented the audio-visual field. Dr.

Drury, director of evening school and correspondent study, represented this division of education. Dean Holstine, dean of the College of Education and director of summer school, represented the deans of four states.

The university faculty members were part of a fourteen person delegation representing all levels of education in Nevada. Three other states represented were Arizona, New Mexico, and Utah.

The conference, held in Phoenix, Arizona, was made possible by the National Defense Education Act. This is a congressional appropriation to provide better education in foreign languages, mathematics, and science.

Journalist Tells of Meeting Khrushchev

A first hand observation of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was related to members of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity this week.

Robert Eunson, chief of the San Francisco bureau of the Associated Press, described his experiences while in charge of press relations during the Premier's recent visit to San Francisco.

The talk was given before a joint dinner-meeting of the professional and undergraduate chapters. Donald W. Graydon, undergraduate chapter president, presided over the meeting, the last one to be held this year. The dinner was held at the Santa Fe Hotel.

Sobrio Announces Two Appointments

Two appointments were recently made by A. S. U. N. president, Dan Sobrio.

Marilyn Nelson, A. S. U. N. historian, was appointed chairman of the University of Nevada handbook committee.

Gustav ("Steve") Heyer was appointed sub-committee chairman of the all campus open-house program.

The all campus open-house will be held in the spring, and all collected to participate in the program, said Sobrio.

Dr. Reed Deply Imprssed by Eruptions of Active Hawaii Volcano

"Seeing molten red lava belching from the earth makes one wonder what is at the center of this mother earth of ours." This was one of Dr. Calvin H. Reed's impressions of his recent trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

Dr. Reed, associate professor of education, spent ten days on the islands as the National Congress Parent-Teacher representative to the Hawaiian state Parent Teachers Association convention. He visited Oahu, Maui, Hawaii, Kauai and Molokai while speaking before educational and lay groups.

Dr. Reed formed many impressions of our fiftieth state. He observed the great excitement of the people over their new statehood. He said that now they felt they had representation with taxation.

"The people realize that with their new statehood will come an increase of about ten fold in tourist traffic in the next ten years," continued Dr. Reed.

He noted that the people were optimistic about the future and live da casual and unhurried life. He noticed that in Hawaii the Christmas spirit comes early in November, for the gifts must be bought and sent to the mainland.

"The people treated me royally wherever I stopped and actually seemed to enjoy entertaining me," he continued.

"We shall be proud of our fiftieth state, for it has much to offer; the people are aggressive, democratic and willing to do their part in strengthening our nation," concluded Dr. Reed.

He was accompanied on his trip by his wife, Mrs. Calvin H. Reed and their son, Calvin Jr.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Dick Petzold discusses time charges for a customer's telephone installation with an administrative assistant.

How to avoid a "dead end" career: read Dick Petzold's story

While a senior at the University of Maryland, accounting major Richard G. Petzold made some definite decisions about his future. "I wanted to work for an established company," he says, "but I didn't want to get lost in a 'dead end' job."

Dick joined the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Washington, D. C., right after graduating in June, 1956. Following three months of orientation, he became a supervisor in Revenue Accounting, where he continued training in a productive capacity, with 15 people reporting to him. Here, he suggested a number of methods improvements which were adopted.

Far from a "dead end" career, Dick's took him into many operating areas:

- to General Accounting, where he handled market research projects, including a Customer Opinion Survey for four Bell System companies . . .

- to Disbursements Accounting, for IBM-equipment training and, later on, the supervision of Payroll Deduction procedures . . .

- to Personnel Relations, where he coordinated a special, four-company "absentee" study and presented findings to an important, top-level conference . . .

- to Disbursements Accounting again, where he is now Supervisor, Labor and Material, with an administrative assistant and 10 clerks under his guidance.

"The telephone company brings out the best in you," says Dick. "I've developed new skills, acquired self-reliance, and learned how to supervise and work with people. What's the opposite of a 'dead end' career? Well, I've got it!"

Dick Petzold earned a B.S. degree in Accounting while in college. He's one of many young men with varied college backgrounds who are finding rewarding careers with the Bell Telephone Companies. Learn about opportunities for you. See the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus—and read the Bell Telephone booklet in your Placement Office.

Olivas Says Boxers Rounding to Shape

James Olivas, head boxing coach, says prospects are looking better for the coming 1959-60 season.

Olivas is still looking for contenders to fight in the 139 and 178 pound divisions.

"I would prefer that the men who do come out were sophomores so they can fight this year," Olivas said.

The current 19-man boxing squad is in its second phase of training. This includes shadow boxing and sparring in the ring three minutes every night.

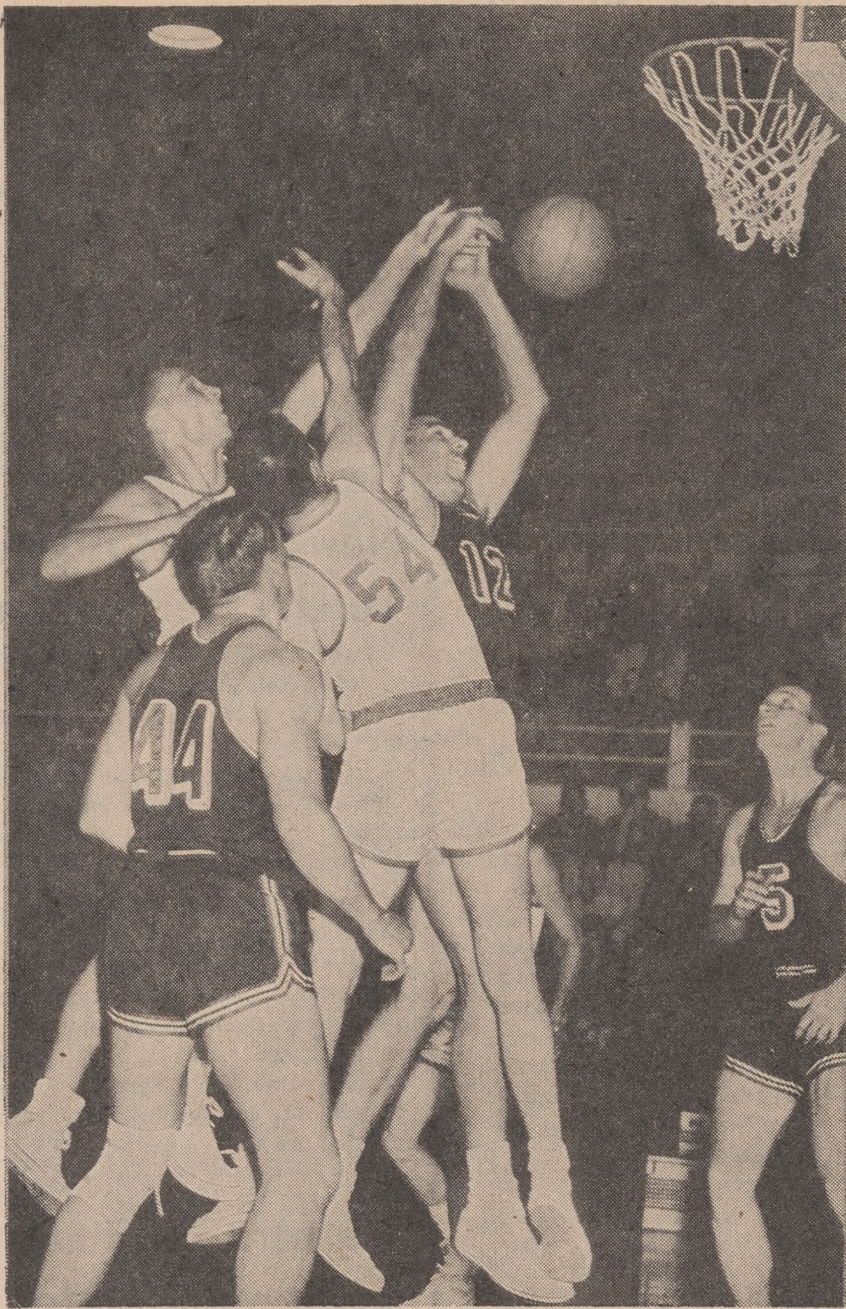

Olivas has three returning lettermen, including Joe Bliss, current N.C.A.A. champion. Bliss will fight in a lower weight division than he did last year. Last season he boxed at 147 pounds. This year he will enter the ring at 139 pounds.

The other two are John Genasci, junior from Loyalton, Calif., and Chub Quilici, junior from Smith Valley. Both Genasci and Quilici were members of the 1959 football squad.

Ski Team Slates January Contest

The University of Nevada ski team will open its 1960 season January 8-10, at Mt. Shasta, Calif. The Far West Invitational Intercollegiate will be hosted by Chico

Head coach Shelton Leonard says his 21-man team will continue playing soccer until a deep enough snow falls on Mt. Rose. He believes this year will be a good year for the Nevada skiers.

"This is the biggest turn-out we've had in a long time. A few of these men have been skiing together since their freshman year in high school," Leonard said.

The first ski casualty was reported today. Sophomore Don Dalton broke his arm while playing soccer.

The 21-man team includes lettermen Doug Salter, Jon Madsen, Don Cronin and Dave Pruett.

The remaining 17 men are John Bauer, Karl Breckenridge, Tom Case, Ken Clayton, John Ferrari, Lance Gotchy, Bob Heaney, Tom Jones, Henry Philcox, Bob Kean, Gray Poole, Alex Rynecki, Lynn Stauts, Harry Swainstrom, Ted Swan, Clint Wells, and Gary MacSweep.

Leonard received a letter from Harry Erickson, undergraduate of Nevada who is a member of the 20-man Olympic ski team practicing at Granby, Colo. An eight-man squad will be chosen from the 20 to compete in the 1960 winter Olympics at Squaw Valley in February.

The remaining University of Nevada ski schedule is: January 24-25, Northern California Intercollegiate Invitational at Sugar Bowl, Calif., sponsored by Sierra college; March 11-13, Vanderbilt Cup at Sugar Bowl, Calif., sponsored by the University of California; March 19-20, Far West Collegiate championship at Squaw Valley, Calif., sponsored by Sierra college, Chico State and University of Nevada.

Road Trip Faces Wolf Pack Cagers

Coach Jackson Spencer's Wolf Pack basketball team will try to bounce back on the winning side again in a three-game road trip against tough Fresno State and Long Beach State tonight, Saturday night and Monday night.

Nevada takes on the Bulldogs tonight and Saturday then travels to Long Beach with hopes of revenge for the 22-point drubbing suffered by the Wolf Pack here last week.

Spencer is contemplating a change in the starting lineup, but would not disclose what it would be. "On the other hand," Spencer added, "I may go with the same five men I've been starting so far."

The starting five for the Pack in the first four games this season has been Val York and Bob Lyons at forwards; Ed Allison at center, and Morgan Jellett and Ken Longero at guards.

Jellett is the team's leading point maker with a 13.5 average thus far this season. Jellett is a sophomore up from last year's freshmen team.

The Wolf Pack will face tough opposition in Fresno State. The Bulldogs have six returning lettermen, including three starters, back from last year's team which won 21 and lost 5. Fresno has also been bolstered by several standout junior college transfers.

Leading threat for the Bulldogs will probably be fancy guard Babe Williams, who was a first-string all-conference choice last year by the California Collegiate Athletic Association.

Nevada will run into the height problem again as Fresno State has six of the first seven players over six-foot three-inches tall.

Last year the Bulldogs knocked off Nevada twice, 63-50 and 50-48.

Spencer is taking a traveling squad of 10 players on the trip but had not decided who they will be at press time. The team left this morning by University station wagon.

Brotten Named to National Board

Dr. G. A. (Art) Brotten, head of the University's health, physical education and recreation department, has been selected as a member of the national board of directors of Sigma Delta Psi, honorary athletic society.

Dr. Brotten will serve a three-year term and will represent the Southwestern states on the national board.

Sigma Delta Psi, which was established in 1912, has 173 chapters throughout the country. The Nevada chapter was founded in 1912. Thus far, Nevada has had 26 men qualify for membership.

In order to gain membership into the society, an athlete must pass the following events in the specified time or distance. 100-yard dash, 11.6 seconds; mile run, six minutes; 120-yard low hurdles, 16 seconds; football kick, 40 yards; baseball throw, 250 feet; broad jump, 17 feet; high jump, 5 feet; handstand, 10 seconds; rope climb, 12 seconds; front handspring, 20 feet; fence vault, chin high, and 16-pound shot put, 30 feet.

by VAL VAN HOUCK

The University frosh team opened its season last weekend by splitting a pair of games, winning the opener, 82-72, over the Carson townies, while losing to Yuba junior college, 68-50, Saturday.

The Carson aggregation pulled to an early 20-6 lead, but the frosh were not to be denied. Rallying in the second half, with Ozia Thomas and Elijah Green grabbing the rebounds, and behind the shooting of Lonnie Moore and Richard Russ.

Three players finished with over 20 points each, Green 22, Russ 21 and Moore 20.

Saturday night, the height and tight man-for-man defense of Yuba built a 40-27 lead at halftime, and had things their own way until late in the game.

The battle for the backboards was dominated by Yuba's 6-7 David Fleming and burly 6-3 Dick Catlett. Only Nevada's Russ was able to put forth a scoring attack, hitting 16 points. Again Green and Thomas for Nevada were effective on the boards.

In the final minutes of the game Nevada went into a full court press which bothered Yuba, but too late to influence the outcome.

Two Rifle Teams Entered in Contest

Sergeant Kenneth Day, rifle team coach, plans to enter two teams from the University in the annual Sagebrush winter league rifle matches.

The Sagebrush league gets underway January 3 with ten teams tentatively entered. Teams from Nevada Air National Guard, Stead Air Force Base, the Reno Rifle club and the Fallon Naval Air station will compete in the league.

Six men from each team will fire in the league's matches with the top four scores from each team being counted.

On the first team from the University of Nevada will be Larry Gedney, Dan Sobrio, John Hunter, Ralph (Gary) Cameron, Richard Dow, and Robert Oliver.

The second team is made up of Paul Gillespie, Donald Arkell, Ronald Major, David Allingham, Larry Miller, Robert Lee, William Stratton and Harold Pepple.

Firing in the Sagebrush league will be for six successive Sundays. The winner is designated as the state champion and is eligible to shoot in the national small-bore United States rifle championships.

The University took first in the Sagebrush league in 1957 and went on to finish twelfth in the nation.

Symphony Band Sends Delegates

Five members of the University of Nevada Symphonic Band will attend the College Band Directors National Association convention in Berkeley this Friday and Saturday.

They will participate in the Inter-collegiate band of 110 members, a select group of college musicians from several Western states.

The five candidates from the University of Nevada who will make the trip are Paul Brown, Roger Van Til, Glenn Little, John Bria, and Robert Hawkins. They will be accompanied by Dr. John L. Carrico, director of the university band and associate professor of music.

The convention will be held on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley. Delegations from universities in Utah, Nevada and California will attend.

The College Band Directors National Association is an organization devoted to improving the status of mature bands and their music. This convention will be concerned with college-level band repertoire and its performance.

Dr. Glenn Cliffe Bainum, director emeritus of bands, Northwestern University, will direct the 110-member band in a concert Saturday afternoon.

Jet Engine Offered To UN Engineers

Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, president of the University, will ask the board of regents to accept a jet engine which was recently offered to the engineering department.

The engine is the one used in the speed tests on Pyramid lake by Les Stadaucher. The exhaust or tail pipe was damaged by fire, and Stadaucher left the engine with Harrah's Club to give to some organization that could use it. The machine is now in the mechanical engineering lab.

James J. Carlson, assistant professor of mechanical engineering, says that the department will probably use it as a museum piece. They plan to cut away sections and cover them with glass or some similar material to show the working parts. Carlson explained that the engine is too powerful to run in the lab.

Wrecking Boom Is Set for Infirmary

The wrecking boom will swing on the University infirmary Monday, December 21. The infirmary building has stood next to Lincoln Hall for forty years.

During its operation on campus, the infirmary has coped with everything from handing out aspirin to fighting influenza epidemics.

The infirmary was able to house twenty students at a time.

The temporary location of the infirmary will be in two University-owned houses north of the new fine arts building. The top floor of a new addition to the Jot Travis student union building will be the new permanent infirmary headquarters.

Sig Ep Formal Last Friday Gala Event

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Christmas formal was given last Friday evening in the Fable room of the Mapes hotel. Music was provided by the Fred Coster Combo featuring Tommy Wernholm on guitar and Gloria Aiello as vocalist.

The Combo, a popular group from the San Francisco bay area, was the same group that held an informal playing session Friday afternoon in Jot Travis student union.

The formal began at nine pm. During the evening the SAEs were visited by Mayor and Mrs. Bud Baker.

An informal talent show directed by Bill Adams and Bob Heaney was part of the entertainment. Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity songs were part of the production.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(TEST YOUR WITS ON THESE QUESTIONS*)

The statement "Experience is the best teacher" is (A) the faculty's confession of failure; (B) a dogmatic way of saying you can learn by doing; (C) an excuse for trying anything once.

A B C

If someone called you a beatnik, would you (A) insult him right back? (B) ask him if he knows what a beatnik really is? (C) thank him for the compliment?

A B C

If you saw a dinosaur roaming around the campus, would you say, (A) "Big, ain't he?" or (B) "Where's the movie playing?" or (C) "This place is sure out of date!"

A B C

Do you base your choice of a cigarette mostly on (A) what your friends say they like? (B) what your own judgment tells you is best? (C) what the makers say about their product?

A B C

It's a wise smoker who depends on his own judgment, not opinions of others, in his choice of cigarettes. That is why men and women who think for themselves usually smoke Viceroy. They know only Viceroy has a thinking man's filter — the best filter of its kind ever developed . . . the filter that changed America's smoking habits. And only Viceroy has a smoking man's taste.

*If you checked (C) on three out of four of these questions, you're a high-test character — you think for yourself!

Foreign Students Are Numerous at Nevada

The University of Nevada has 12 foreign students from 10 countries this semester.

Six are attending the University from Asia. Ram Lubhaya Kalia and Gurlal Singh Sandhu, majoring in civil engineering, are from India. Ying Dard Chan, mechanical engineering, and Priscilla C. Tang, arts and science, are from China. Sung Kyu Lim, College of Engineering, is from Korea, and Massoud Moezzi, of the Mackay School of Mines, Iran.

From the Pacific area the university hosts Robert Drysdale Brown, Australia, a major in the Mackay School of Mines, and Ruperto Bugna Jagolino, Republic of the Philippines, a member of the graduate school in geology.

Four countries of Europe are represented at the university. Czechoslovakia is represented by Karel George Havelik, and Denmark by Klaus Thorsten W. Nielsen, both majors in the Mackay School of Mines. Germany is represented by Gustav Adolf Heyer, arts and science, and Switzerland by Heinz Albert Schilling, College of Business Administration.

Rodeo Club Joins With Aggie Group

The Rodeo club is now a branch of the Aggie club and will elect a representative to the Aggie club executive board. The merger became effective after a discussion and vote at the Aggie meeting early this month.

The purchase of monogrammed shirts for the Nevada Rodeo team was also discussed. The shirts would identify members of the Rodeo team participating in competition.

Motion pictures were shown of last year's participants in the Aggie club rodeo at Cal Poly. Pictures were also shown of last year's picnic.

Officers for 1959-60 will be nominated December 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the new Agriculture building.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

Historic event! DR. FROOD REVEALS HIS ADDRESS

(See below)

Dear Dr. Frood: My roommate continually steals my Luckies. What should I do?
Sinned Against

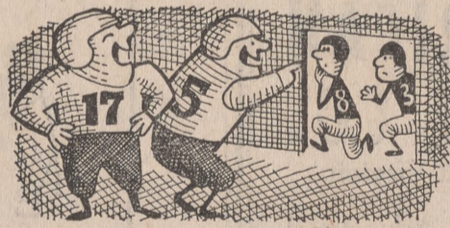

Dear Sinned Against: The most successful defense is the traditional African one. Mold a small wax image of your roommate. Then, at full moon, insert half a dozen common household pins into the hands of the image.

Dear Dr. Frood: If I were demented enough to want to write to you, how would I go about it?

New York 17, N.Y.

No phone calls please. Thus far I've been unable to have a phone installed here in the box.

Dear Dr. Frood: Our football team has lost 8 games a year for the last 6 years. How can we improve our record without letting the old coach go?
Alumni Pres.

Dear Alumni Pres.:
Schedule fewer games.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a 5'1" co-ed with a figure exactly like the Venus de Milo's. Would you say I should be in the movies?
Lovely

Dear Lovely:
I'll say anything you want me to.

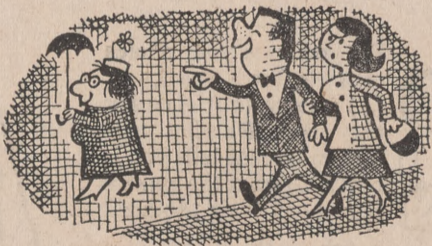

Dear Dr. Frood: I told my fiancée we can't afford to get married until I finish college. She insists that two can live as cheaply as one. Is this true?
Dubious

Dear Dubious:
Yes. If they take turns eating.

DR. FROOD ON HARASSING HABITS OF ROOMMATES

Roommates resent these common faults in roommates: Staring at my girl's picture. Not staring at my girl's picture. Studying when I'm not. Having a homely sister. Having no sister at all. Only one thing is more annoying than having a roommate who always runs out of Luckies: Having a roommate who doesn't smoke Luckies.

Dear Dr. Frood: I was out with my girl and I saw this old lady and I laughed and I said, "Did you ever see such a worn-out old hag?" and my girl told me it was her mother. What can I do now?
Outspoken

Dear Outspoken: Take your left foot in your right hand and jerk sharply until it comes out of your mouth.
