'Dead Week' Might Be OK

All students may have two days free from classes just before finals. This was stated by the faculty council under the leadership of Dr. Charles H. Seufferle and announced in a letter to Dan Sobrio, student body president, January 15. One step is left for complete clearance, the approval of the faculty.

Seniors will have to take finals. The faculty council did not approve a previously presented idea of seniors being exempt from finals.

Patricia Reynolds, president of Associated Women Students, said, "I think this two day period will help the students to prepare more adequately for finals." Sobrio said most major universities, including the University of Oregon and the UCLA are using the layoff system before finals.

This would be a trial system and if put into effect will be observed by the administration and faculty. The subject was first brought up in Senate by Jean Rivkin, Artemisia-Mananita senator, last semester.

Newsmen Query State Lawmakers

A question-answer session, with Nevada's Governor Grant F. Sawyer and other high political figures on the receiving end, and members of Sigma Delta Chi doing the firing, was the highlight of the annual legislature and the press dinner held last week.

The questions, which were off the record, dealt with current state legislative and political problems. Secretary of State John Koontz, Assemblyman William Swackhammer and State Senator James Slatery were a few of the officials who took part.

The dinner meeting was sponsored by the Nevada professional and undergraduate chapters of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity.

Guest at the event was University president, Dr. Charles Armstrong.

INTERNATIONAL SCENE—Dr. Alex Dandini, head of tours for visiting Olympics competitors and officials, started off the University's open-house tour program a week early last week when he familiarized visiting foreign graduate students from the University of California with the Nevada campus. At left is Avarish Singh, India, and at right is Dr. Lawrence Enders, University of California faculty members.

Artemisia Pictures, Histories Deadline

Information for senior histories to be included in the Artemisia must be turned in by February 26, Susan Petersen, editor, said this week.

The same deadline was set for all students to have their pictures taken and proofs returned to Gene Christensen Studios in the Masonic Temple building.

Cap and Gown apparel will be available for seniors. Other women students must wear dark sweaters. White collars will be available Miss Petersen said.

Men students must wear dark "V-neck" sweaters and white shirts, she said.

Rushing to Begin

Women students interested in sorority rushing may contact the office of Elaine Mobley, dean of women, Barbara Swart, Panhellenic president, announced this week.

Heart Fund Dance Is Slated

Sigma Phi Epsilon colony, in conjunction with the Nevada Heart association, will put on a dance tomorrow night at the state building. The group plans to make the dance an annual affair.

University students are invited, and attendance trophies will be awarded to the winning fraternity and sorority. Greek men and women must be signed in at the door by 9:30 p.m.

Sigma Phi Epsilon chapters all over the United States are giving the same kind of dance this month.

Tuition Fees Exemption Told

A new system for granting non-resident tuition waivers is in effect this semester. The awards will be good for only one semester instead of a whole school year as before.

The waivers are given to those students who perform services to the University and maintain at least a "C," 2.00, average. Since the student may fall down in his grades, withdraw from service to the school, or both, the old form has not been satisfactory.

To be worthy of the waiver in the future, qualified students must apply and/or re-apply at mid-term of each semester.

This announcement was made by Doctor Robert A. McQueen, chairman of the committee. Other members are Professors Macy, Metten, Sheppard, Lawlor and Dean Mobley.

Olympic 'Welcome' Begins on Campus

Campus atmosphere will take on an international air today with the beginning of the University's open-house for participants in the Eighth Olympic Winter Games. The festivities should rise to a peak next weekend with the Winter Carnival activity.

Visiting Olympic competitors will tour campus buildings and be hosted at receptions in the Jot Travis Student Union. At the receptions the visitors will be presented with silver souvenir pins designed by Professor Craig Shepard of the art department.

Flags of competing nations have been displayed on the tram in a welcome gesture to visiting Olympic participants by the Alumni association.

Host University

Named host-University for the Olympic Games, the University will provide an athletic, social, academic and cultural program from visiting Olympians.

Tonight at 8 in the new gym the Show of Champions, a gymnastic program, will be staged. Several past Olympic team members will participate.

A Sunday at Four program, featuring pianist Ronald R. Williams offering several Chopin selections, will be presented this Sunday.

Guests to Dinner

Sorority open-houses will be held next Thursday and visiting Olympic competitors have been invited as dinner guests by fraternities and sororities as part of the social program. Following the Wolf Pack-Chico State basketball game on Friday, February 19, the Ski club will sponsor an all-school dance in the Jot Travis Student Union.

The Winter Carnival "Olympic" dance will be held Saturday, February 20, in the Fable room of the Mapes hotel between 9 p.m. and midnight. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from Winter Carnival committee members Valerie Estes, Bob Van Lydergraf, Benny Echeverria, Al Pagni and Tom McCann.

Fraternities, sororities and dormitories have displayed welcome signs in front of their respective residences.

Open Invitation

Dr. Charles Armstrong, University president, has extended an open invitation to participants of the Olympic Games to visit the campus. Dr. William R. Wood, academic vice president, has been named official host for the University.

Tours are under the direction of Dr. Alex D. Dandini and Kathy Bailey. Dr. Fritz Kramer is head of the University Olympic committee.

John Heward heads the Winter Carnival committee. The committee consists of Valerie Estes, secretary; Bob Van Lydergraf, trophies; Al Pagni and Tom McCann; dance, and Benny Echeverria, publicity.

Living Groups Decorations Set

Displays welcoming Olympic games guests are on view today in front of the living quarters of the University's men and women living groups. The activity is part of the promotion of local "good will" during Olympics.

Although there will be no competition this year as in past Winter Carnival displays, group enthusiasm and the rush to complete the displays on schedule were the same.

Sigma Nu's shows winter scenes, Alpha Tau Omega has the Olympic runner, with the theme of "May the Spirit of the Olympics endure forever." Phi Sigma Kappa display a sign with the words, "Welcome 1960 Olympics." Sigma Phi Epsilon skillfully displays 2 hands with a beer mug in each hand with the theme of "Sigma Phi Epsilon toasts the 1960 Winter Olympics." Theta Chi stretching a sign across the front of the lawn with "welcome." Sigma Alpha Epsilon has three triangles with the words, "Has to Our Guests." Lambda Chi has the three Olympic rings announcing, "Peace through friendly competition." The Lincoln and Hartmen Hall men display each country's flag with "Welcome."

The Sigma Nu's have a color projector in front of the house with a wide screen and showing different winter scenes. The Alpha Tau Omega's have the traditional Olympic runner with a torch in his hand mounted on a light background. The Phi Sig's have a white

A rally highlight of the year will take place next Wednesday night when members of the Wolf Pack football team meet the basketball coaching staff on the court of the new gym. An anticipated large crowd will be lead in cheers by several women physical education faculty members, who will display their talents as cheerleaders.

The rally, under the direction of Pete Palmer, will get underway at 7:30 p.m. Jack Spencer, basketball team coach is listed as main speaker.

Olympic Open-house

WHAT COULD turn out to be the University of Nevada's most significant social activity of the century begins today as the campus doors are thrown open to Olympic competitors and officials from 26 different nations. Members of the University community have worked long and hard planning an open-house for the foreign participants in the Eighth Olympic Winter Games which will begin next Thursday at Squaw Valley.

THE UNIVERSITY'S welcome to the Olympians, however, is not to be a splashy, gargantuan sideshow of pomp, noise and fanfare. Instead, the campus will retain its usual composure and offer to the visiting dignitaries an athletic, social and academic view of the average American university.

VISITING OLYMPIANS will be taken on tours of the campus. They will be shown facilities which the University utilizes in its educational program. Sporting events will be staged to give them a first hand idea of American college athletics. Informal social events will be sponsored by fraternities and sororities in order to offer a picture of the American college's social scene.

THEIR NATION'S FLAG flying from the tram will welcome the Olympians when they first enter the campus. Then, students and faculty members will extend a sincere and warm welcome which should send the spirit of the University of Nevada into an international realm.

Petty Flag Stealing

A BEHIND THE SCENES force at the University has once again extended a helping hand to the campus. Flags of participating nations in the Olympic Games have been displayed on campus by the Alumni Association in a welcome gesture to visiting Olympic competitors and officials.

SIMILAR FLAG placements in downtown Reno have been unsuccessful because of vandalism. It is hoped that the Alumni Association's gift does not become a victim of the petty flag stealing.

Ross Hall Waterfall

WITH THE PRESENT construction going on there is a great deal of work being done by the Buildings and Grounds Department, which is headed by John Sala.

AND, WITH WINTER conditions on campus the department members often rise long before the sun to clear the many campus walks and tend to campus facilities which have been damaged by the cold, wet weather.

WITH THIS WEEK'S rain storm an old problem again arose for the Buildings and Grounds Department. Ever since Ross hall was completed its southeast door has served as a menace to passers-through during rain storms. Rain collecting on the roof overhead blocks the door like a wet sheet.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY, alike, would appreciate it if the department would do something about the Ross hall waterfall before the next rain storm drenches the campus.

Before the next issue of the SAGEBRUSH hits the "streets" the VIII Winter Games will be in full progress. And today, at the University is Open House for foreign figures. Whether or not anybody is going to show up is unknown—even doubtful. But none-the-less, Nevada plans to show itself off as the "Typical U. S. College." Ought to give any Russian visitors a great moral boost.

One of the interpreters at the Winter Games will be Paul Grabowski, a former Nevada student. Mr. Grabowski has good command of the Russian, German, Polish and Scandinavian languages, and can hold his own in English. He was born in Poland, fought the Germans and Russians as a member of the Polish Underground, escaped from a Russian prison and fled to Sweden where he served in the Merchant Navy before coming to the U. S. via Canada.

Looks now as if there will be snow for the Games. A lot of the people in the area don't care if the Olympics come off or not. Especially since the whole show will be a paradise for the money grubbers and price gougers.

On hand for the Games, of course, will be those two great Nevada athletes, Charlie Mapes and Eddie Questa.

Dan Sobrio, ASUN president, stated this week that he'd heard work-minded students with time and talent to donate to the SAGEBRUSH were being turned away by Editor Lerude. Considering that Lerude has been trying to recruit talent for the 'Brush since September, one wonders if Mr. President is very well informed. As in student government circles, there's always room for more talent on the University newspaper.

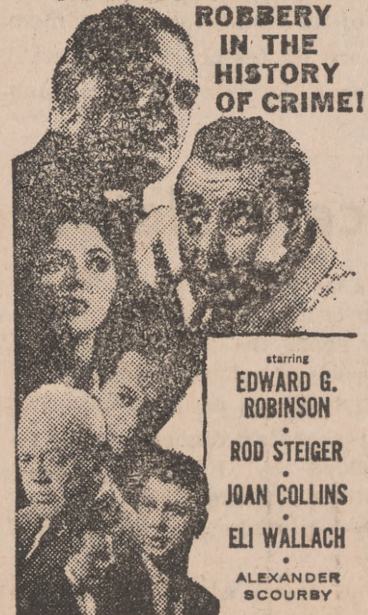

We lament the loss this week of Art Columnist Ron Moroni. Student (of sorts) Mike Saumer, we've heard, is thinking about doing a column entitled "The Thirsty Ear."

Wonder what ever happened to the "Scrub-brush," that semi-occasional sheet of editorial comment? Harry must have forgotten to oil up the mimeograph machine.

Noticed that the Psi Chis, organization of psychology students, had a program recently which featured a discussion with the theme "Is Psychology an Art or Science?" The logical answer is no.

HOT FLASH (SPORTS DEPT.): Nevada's dropping of the Far Western Conference in the not-too-distant future was hinted by Jake Lawlor while speaking at an alumni meet Wednesday night. Also on the docket is a Mid-West swing by the Wolf Pack basketball team next year.

LOVE DEPT.: Things are a little busier on the romance side of the column this week. Pinned were Barbara Hickman, Theta, and Lennie Marrs, Sigma Nu; Joan Wagner, Pi Phi, and Erman Bill, Sigma Nu. A big announcement at the Gamma Phi house Monday was that of the marriage of Marilyn Burkham and Vance Bell, Sigma Nu. Jan McDonald, Theta, is engaged to Harlo Humphrey. And Sally Riley, Pi Phi and Dave Hoy, Tau, became engaged.

TECHNOCRACY STRIKES AGAIN: Wonderful things are being done with these new machines. Nevada just started using the IBM machine for registration, and already it is taking three times as long as it did in the "olden days." Ah, progress!

OH, YOU LOWLY PLEDGES: SAE pledges who made their grades are glad they did, because they won't have to entertain the actives any more. They had a time of it though at the "Dirty Dance" last Friday night. Seen there were Ted Schroeder and Marian Ceresola, Judy Wells and Don Leahy, Larry Cheney and Mary Stewart, Bob Heaney and Donna McDowell, Beth Boyd and Dick Landingham, Ellie Riesbeck and Fred Shaft, Julie Moore and John Smith, Norma Moller and Gerry Jones, Dorthi Ann Cook and Tom McCann, and Donna Albright and Whit Hackstaff.

ON YOUR MARK . . .: In Mr. Berschied's column last week in this remarkable publication he mentioned that people with birthdays on the 29th of this month would have a birthday this year.

However, he did forget to mention the other significance to Leap Year, so I thought I'd remind everybody. Good hunting, girls.

HIGHER EDUCATION: It seems that the members of Cap and Scroll, a very respectable senior women's honorary organization, went to San Francisco during semester break for a "cultural" trip, to see a ballet, and ended up at the Red Garter. These senior women! (City editor's note: Amen.)

DANCIN' IN THE DARK: In the half-light of the Old Gym last Saturday night several familiar faces were spotted at the after-the-game dance. Among those there were Donna Sutton and Dave Ashton, Val Van Nepes and Howie Ness, Karma Anderson and Jim Smith, Marilyn Peterson and Mike Paradis, Marilyn Cobbly and John Lauritzen, Billie Mae Morris and Tom Whitaker, Pat White and Bill Bianchi, Kathy Blake and Jerry Boden, and Barbara Branner and Morgan Jellett.

SHOPPERS' GUIDE: 2 more shopping days until Valentine's Day.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: Was school in session last Saturday night? If so, that explains the school bus which was patrolling the downtown area then. It's funny, though, that the school system didn't provide enough gas for the bus' run, and it was left stranded right in the middle of Virginia street.

SOCIALIZING: Sig Ep Heart Fund all school dance, tomorrow night at 8:30 in the State building. Basketball rally Wednesday night at 7:30. And sorority open houses Thursday.

Housing facilities in the Reno area have increased by 119 per cent over 1940 according to figures released by the Chamber of Commerce statistical department.

Singers Needed for Campus Chorus

There are eight openings in the University Singers, and Dr. Keith Macy would like students to see him for tryouts. The group had 44 singers, but lost eight members during the semester break. The openings are in all categories, soprano, alto, tenor, baritone and bass.

The University Singers will make a three-day tour in April and will give several concerts in the Reno area during the Spring semester. Dr. Macy wants a full group.

'Hell Week' at SAE Changed

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon initiation week, once called "hell week," has changed. A constructive week, is now called "Phi Alpha week, has been revised a great deal.

Many old traditions remain, but in the 1960 version, the neophytes cleaned the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house, and engaged in a community project.

Neophytes cleaned highway signal pots last Friday, which are to be used as Olympic torches for the Winter Olympics. Several of the pots will be placed in the Reno area as part of the decorations.

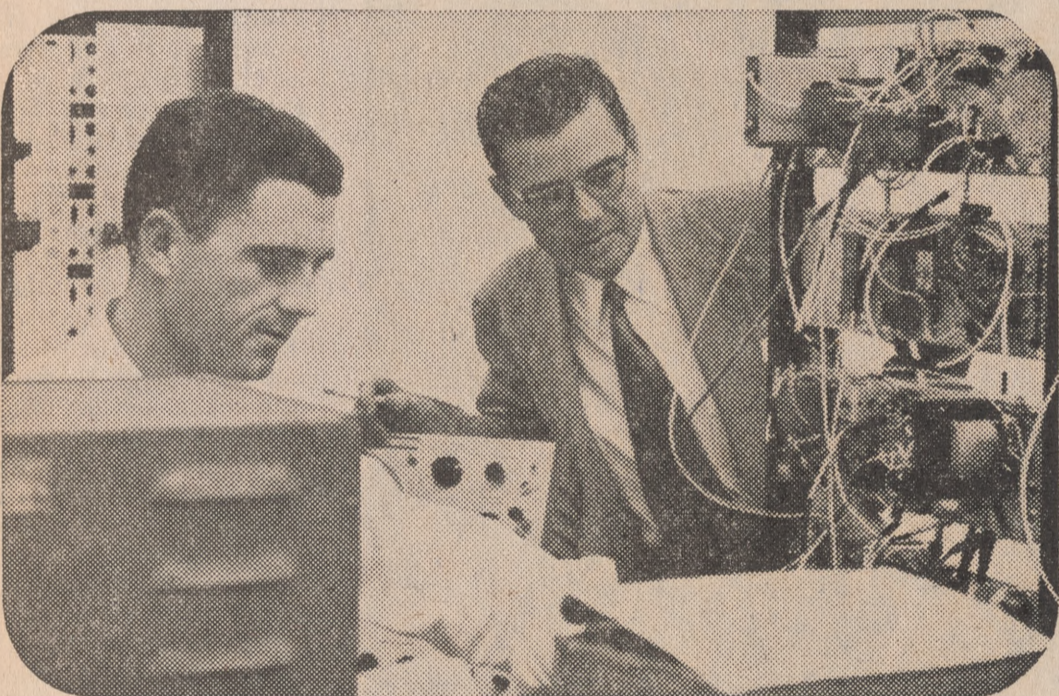

Men's living groups over the nation are changing to the constructive week because of hazing incidences on other campuses which shocked the nation last year. Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega, local fraternities will have "help week" later this semester, and both will have some kind of community project.

Total assessed valuations for Washoe county in the assessment period of 1958-59 amounted to nearly $150,000,000.

New SAE House Leaders Selected

Tom McCann, newly elected president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house, has announced the chairmanship posts toeight S.A.E.'s.

The eight chairmen are: Bob Heany, rush chairman; Jerry Merrill, scholarship chairman; Don Leahy, social chairman; Don Pribble, publicity chairman, and athletic chairman; Bob MacDonald, pledge trainer; Ralph Madsen, fraternity education; Steve Heyer, initiation team, and Cal Wilson, song-leader.

Special Test for ROTC Sophs

The ROTC department of the University will administer the Army's RQ-5 test to all military 202 students on Monday and Tuesday, the eighth and ninth of February. The test will be given in the regularly scheduled classes of the second semester sophomore students.

The RQ-5 test will cover general vocabulary and math. It will be multiple choice, and the minimum passing score is 115 points. The test is a prerequisite for admission to the Advanced ROTC course.

Captain Walter J. Ward, who will supervise the administration of the RQ-5, stated that he will allow no slide-rule or dictionaries to be used during the testing. Captain Ward also stated that the ROTC department has requested the Army to make available twelve more vacancies in the advanced course. This will bring the total number of vacancies up to 45.

Frosh Cagers Win Two, Lose One, Now 6-3

Coach Floyd Edsall's Nevada Frosh boosted its season record to 6-3 over the weekend and Tuesday with victories over Reno Print and Lassen Junior College and a loss to Reno Laundry.

The Frosh topped Reno Print 73-65 Friday night, and rolled over Lassen Junior College 96-62 in the mid-week game, but fell to tough Reno Laundry Saturday 86-67.

In the rout over Lassen JC, busy Jack Murdock, from Winnemucca, gathered 25 points for the Frosh to lead all scorers even though he didn't start.

Four other Nevada players hit in the double figures, with gunners Lonnie Moore and Gary Mattice each canning 18 and Dick Russ and Phil Bailey each with 12 points.

The whole Freshmen team saw action in the runaway which saw Nevada leading by 40 points, 83-43, midway through the second half.

Moore, hitting on his long jump shot from the side, paced the Frosh scoring in the Friday victory over

Reno Print with 29 points. Four other frosh hit in the double figures, Mattice, Murdock, and Eddie Hillygus.

Reno Print's Paul Turner led the losers with 18 points.

Reno Laundry, paced by former Wolf Pack varsity standouts Bob Ferrari, Paul Rutherford, and Bob Ritchie, were too much for the Frosh despite a 25-point performance by the hot-shooting Moore.

The basketball season is headed down the home stretch, the boxing schedule is underway, the track team has been battling the weather in practice for two weeks, and now, golf practice is supposed to start next week.

People are still talking about the "raw deal" Wolf Pack boxer Joe Bliss received in his bout at Idaho State last week. Bliss suffered a "knockout," but he actually didn't get knocked out, only knocked down. After being floored early in the first round, Bliss decided to wait for the eight count to get up, especially since the referee was holding him down with one hand and counting with the other.

But the first number Bliss heard was ten, and he jumped immediately up at that number. The referee called it a knockout, while Bliss' opponent waited in his own corner (not the neutral corner). As most of you know, the fans booed violently, Bliss and boxing coach Jimmie Olivas protested even more violently, and even Bliss' agreeable opponent offered to continue the fight, but the referee wouldn't agree.

Bliss, last year's 139-pound NCAA champion, was honored by the Sierra Nevada Sportswriters & Broadcasters as "Athlete of the Year" Sunday night at the Riverside. It was rather an inopportune time for the unfortunate Bliss because the dinner was the night after he was "robbed" by the "fast count" at Idaho State.

Four other University of Nevada athletes were honored at the annual "Athlete of the Year" dinner.

They were passing ace Bobby Peck, Nevada's diminutive quarterback, who engineered the Wolf Pack's offenses for two seasons; trackster Dave Harris, of Las Vegas, who set Mackay Stadium records in the hurdle events; classy Val York, a junior from Fallon, who is leading the basketball team in scoring, York was an all-stater in high school and made the Nevada varsity as a frosh; boxer Don Kitts who fought to many victories in three seasons with the Wolf Pack ring team.

Another University of Nevada sports figure was chosen as "Sportsman of the Year" by the sportswriters. He is Dr. G. A. (Art) Broten, chairman of the health, physical education and recreational department. Broten, the University's former director of athletics, has donated a tremendous amount of time and effort to aid the sports world in Northern California.

The enterprising Dr. Broten has succeeded in bringing a group of the nations' top gymnasts (and this is not a false buildup) to put on a gymnastics show Friday at 8 p.m. in the new gymnasium.

Most of the performers in tonight's Show of Champions will be on the United States Olympic team in Rome this summer. Student body cards will not be honored, but the show will be well worth the admission price. The reason for the admission charge is that the proceeds will go to help finance the costs for the U. S. Olympic team.

Idaho State Bops Nevada Boxers

University of Nevada's boxing team took it on the chin at Pocatello, Idaho, last week, losing an 8½-1½ team decision to the powerful Idaho State Vandals, which were runners-up last year in the NCAA championships in Reno.

The Wolf Pack came away with only one winner — Chub Quilici, who took a decision from Norvin Cox in one of the 156-pound bouts. Quilici unleashed a continuous barrage of lefts to pile up points against Cox.

All of the rest of the Nevada entrants came out on the losing end except newcomer Mills Lane who battled to a draw with tough Dale Trumbo in the 147-pound match.

Lane, a second-semester student from South Carolina, was leading in points for the first two rounds but the heavier Trumbo came back strong to take the third round.

Nevada's heavyweight John Genasci lost a questionable decision to the Vandal's Joe Barcellona. Even Idaho State coach Dubby Holt has been reliably reported to claim Genasci as the winner.

In one of the 178-pound fights, Archie Curtis, strong frosh from Las Vegas, tired in the third round to lose a decision to the Vandals Jerry Beebe.

Rueben Harney, a junior transfer student from Owyhee, kept pace with Idaho State's Skip Newton but faded in the third round to lose a decision in the other 178-pound go.

The Vandal's Frank Lupo

knocked out inexperienced Dick Hayman in the first minute of the first round when Hayman was off balance after throwing a hard right that missed in the 165-pound division.

Classy Lonnie Tolano, who just became eligible, dropped a close decision to Idaho State's Norm Ygnatowicz in another 156-pound class bout. Tolano fought in the novice division last year and was not in school the first semester.

In the highly-controversial Joe Bliss fight which was ruled a knockout, Bliss was decked by rangy freshman Woodle Marcus in the first round and was counted out by a "fast count."

Bliss got up at the ten count but the referee ruled it a KO to the anger of Bliss, coach Jimmie Olivas and most of the fans present.

Sophomore Steve Parker turned in one of the most impressive Nevada performances of the card in losing a decision to all-service champ Jerry Armstrong in the 125-pound bout.

Parker pleased Olivas by trading punches with the seasoned Idaho State boxer. Parker was in only his second varsity fight of his career.

Freshman Skip Houk boxed a three-round exhibition with H. C. Hassey to fill in the 139-pound class for the Wolf Pack. Nevada forfeited the 139-pound bout to Idaho State, as Bliss stepped down to the 132-pound bracket for his fight.

Nevada Tops Cal Aggies, Lose to SFV

By VAL VAN HOUCK

Nevada cagemen won two out of three games last week with a double victory over the Cal Aggies 63-58 and 81-47 and losing a heartbreaker 69-66 to San Fernando Valley.

The Wolf Pack is idle tonight and Saturday but return to the hardwood next weekend at home against the Chico State Wildcats. Nevada's season record is 8-11 and the conference mark is 3-2.

The Wolf Pack started slow Friday as the Cal Aggies jumped to an early lead. Both teams were cold from the floor but the Aggies controlled the backboards, to build a 17-9 lead with 10 minutes to go in the first half.

Stewart Johnson, 6-4 frosh from Hawthorne, scored five quick buckets to pull the Silver and Blue to within one point at the half, 34-33.

In the second half, Nevada's guards Morgan Jellett and Joe De Arreita paced the Wolf Pack with 13 and 17 points respectively to reach the five-point Nevada victory.

Saturday, coach Jackson Spencer's quintet showed good form but were unable to build much of a lead in the first half, most due to the 13-point performance by the Aggies' Tim Indart.

Nevada exploded in the second half with Val York and big 6-4 center Chuck Walker leading the way, the Wolf Pack scored time after time, while the Aggies went stone cold, not getting a field goal until 7:10 had elapsed in the final period.

After building a 30-point lead, Spencer substituted freely only to have the reserves continue to push up the lead.

Veteran Ken Longero turned in a fine floor game and late in the contest sophomore Dave Lumos showed promise by netting a quick eight points.

In the Tuesday night game, Nevada fell to an immediate 9-0 deficit and found themselves with an uphill battle most of the night.

Thanks to Johnson, Longero, and York, the Wolf Pack pulled to a tie at the half, 35-35, but Nevada went cold in the second half and San Fernando piled up a 62-50 margin with six minutes left in the game.

Lyle Damon, 5-6 guard, and Lumos came off the bench to spark the Wolf Pack to a 66-65 lead with 1:05 remaining.

In the tense climax which saw three time outs called in the final minute of play, San Fernando Valley hit four points on one field goal and two foul shots to claim the narrow victory.

Gymnastic Show Here Tonight, 8 p.m.

The University will have the first Show of Champions gymnastics exhibition for this area tonight at 8 p.m. A team of ten Olympic and national champions will perform various stunts.

Dr. G. A. Broten, professor and director of health, physical education, and recreation, says this team is a "collection of the best gymnasts."

Broten explained that the University brought the team here because it is host to the Olympic Winter Games. Olympic athletes, managers and trainers are invited as guests. One dollar admission will be charged for adults. High school students with student body cards may get in for 50 cents.

Special features of the program are Charles Simms, 1952 and 1956 Olympic team member; Larry Banner and Art Shurlock, 1958 U. S. World Games team members.

The team will perform on high bar, parallel bars, side horse, long horse, rings, trampoline and in tumbling and free exercise.

James McNabney, Manager ASUN Bookstore

Dear Mr. McNabney:

At our February 4th meeting, we, the members of the Finance Control Board, unanimously resolved that you be commended for your excellent management of the student owned ASUN Bookstore. As a result of your loyal efforts and conserted efficiency, the ASUN Bookstore has evolved from a small, debt-plagued operation into a sound, self-supporting business.

On the basis of the auditor's report for this past year, we wish to express on behalf of the Associated Students our sincere congratulations and thanks for a job well done over the period of years.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

FROOD TELLS HOW TO CLEAN UP ON YOUR LAUNDRY

(see below)

Dear Dr. Frood: I told my girl I was in love, and she laughed. I told her I wanted to get married, and she laughed. How can I make her realize that I'm serious?
Serious

Dear Serious: Marry someone.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have been having trouble sleeping at night. Do you think it could be because I drink coffee?
Wide-Eyed

Dear Wide-Eyed: Possibly. It's very difficult to sleep while drinking coffee.

Dear Dr. Frood: A lot of the guys complain because their mothers don't pack their laundry boxes properly. Is there a certain way they should be packed?
Spokesman

Dear Spokesman: Indeed there is. Clip out the instructions below and mail them to your mother.

Clip and Mail

Instructions:

- Place bills of varying denominations in shirt collars (A) to keep them stiff.
- Wrap socks around rolls of dimes (B) to keep them from getting mismatched.
- Place other change in pockets (C) of khaki pants. This way it won't roll around and rattle in the box.

© A. T. Co.

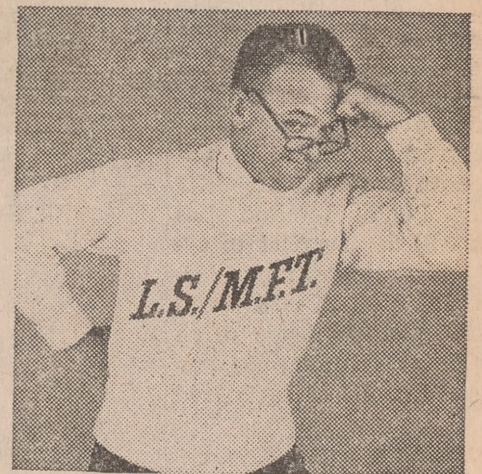

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you believe in the old adage, "Choose a girl by ear rather than by eye"?
Shopping

Dear Shopping: This maxim is indeed a fine guide for any young man who is looking for a girl. But while choosing by "ear rather than by eye," he should also make sure she has two of each.

Dear Dr. Frood: Every night I come home tired and I find the house in a mess. There are dirty dishes and pans in the sink, and clothes are thrown all around. I'm fed up. What should I do?
Married Student

Dear Married Student: You should notify the police. Someone has obviously been there.

Dr. Frood, Ph.T.T.

Dear Dr. Frood: How far ahead should I call for a date?
Straight Arrow

Dear Straight Arrow: It depends. Some guys must be called at least a week in advance. With others, you just holler as you enter the dorm.

Dear Dr. Frood: My husband is an absent-minded college professor. He went out 7 years ago to buy a pack of Luckies and hasn't returned yet. I don't know what to do.
Patience

Dear Patience: Better buy another pack. He's probably smoked them all by now.

Nurses Use Clark Schools

The University of Nevada's Orvis School of Nursing has joined with Clark county school district on a working agreement to use the county's school facilities in the University nursing education program.

Dean of the Orvis School of Nursing, Mrs. Helen Gilkey, said that the school will send students to Las Vegas for two weeks of school nursing field experience. The experience will be in partial fulfillment of the bachelor of science degree in nursing.

Mrs. Grace Puddington and Miss Leone Cox will be the first to attend the two-week training program. Mrs. Puddington is a registered nurse now on leave from Ormsby County Health department. Miss Cox is also a registered nurse.

Other students currently enrolled in public health nursing at the University of Nevada spend 20 hours a week participating in Washoe County Health Department work. The activity is part of the University's Public Health Nurse program and is required of all the nurses seeking baccalaureate degrees.

Support the Accounting club, as a fine organization on campus as has ever been approved by the ASUN Senate.

Dean Holstine Attends Meeting

Dick Ernsdorff studies a microwave site-layout chart atop a mountain near Orting, in western Washington state. On assignments like this, he often carries $25,000 worth of equipment with him.

Here, Dick checks line-of-sight with a distant repeater station by mirror-flashing and confirms reception by portable radio. Using this technique, reflections of the sun's rays can be seen as far as 50 miles.

He wears two kinds of work togs

For engineer Richard A. Ernsdorff, the "uniform of the day" changes frequently. A Monday might find him in a checkered wool shirt on a Washington or Idaho mountain top. Wednesday could be a collar-and-tie day.

Dick is a transmission engineer with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in Seattle, Washington. He joined the company in June, 1956, after getting his B.S.E.E. degree from Washington State University. "I wanted to work in Washington," he says, "with an established, growing company where I could find a variety of engineering opportunities and could use some imagination in my work."

Dick spent 2½ years in rotational, on-the-job training, doing power and equipment engineering and "learning the business." Since April, 1959, he has worked with microwave radio relay systems in the Washington-Idaho area.

When Dick breaks out his checkered shirt, he's headed for the mountains. He makes field studies involving microwave systems and SAGE radars and trouble-shoots any problem that arises. He also engineers "radar remoting" facilities which provide a vital communications link between radar sites and Air Force Operations.

A current assignment is a new 11,000 mc radio route from central Washington into Canada, utilizing reflectors on mountains and repeaters (amplifiers) in valleys. It's a million-dollar-plus project.

"I don't know where an engineer could find more interesting work," says Dick.

You might also find an interesting, rewarding career with the Bell Telephone Companies. See the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus.

In the Engineering Lab in downtown Seattle, Dick calibrates and aligns transmitting and receiving equipment prior to making a path-loss test of microwave circuits between Orting and Seattle.
