'Glass Menagerie' Starts Thursday

SPECIAL TO THE SAGEBRUSH

"The Glass Menagerie," Tennessee Williams' great play which ran for over a year and a half on Broadway will open on the stage of the education auditorium next Thursday. It will be presented by the Campus Players. Performances will run through Saturday evening.

In the role which capped the climax of the brilliant acting career of the late Laurette Taylor, Kathleen O'Leary will be seen here as Amanda Wingfield, the aging mother who lives in the memories of a magnolia-scented, mint-juleped past, and who thinks it's high time her daughter is getting married. But there has never been a gentleman caller at the Wingfield's little apartment off an alley in St. Louis, because the daughter, Laura, to be played here by Janice Aalbu, is a crippled girl, so painfully shy that she never has been able to finish school. She spends her time collecting glass animals and playing old phonograph records.

Finally, the poetry-writing, but bread-winning son, Tom, to be played here by Jerry Small, brings home another man from the warehouse. Out comes Amanda's threadbare finery of a more genteel era and the heavy, if bent, candlestick. But even the gentleman caller, who will be acted here by Kim Waldo, fails. He is engaged to another girl.

The writing qualities which have won for Tennessee Williams so much praise in recent years are summed up in the words of one New York critic who has written that "the author has a gift for simple, colloquial dialogue and at the same time achieves beauty, strength, and a genuine poetic quality that is immensely stimulating to the imagination."

Others involved in the production are Doug Smith, stage manager; Peggy Woods, sound; Jerry Merrill, lights; Katie Diedrichsen, costumes; Penny Walters, costumes; Sarah Pedersen, props and Jim Carter, props.

The play is directed by Charles Metten, professor of speech and drama.

Talk on Russia Scheduled Here

"Life Behind the Iron Curtain" will be described by a European princess in the main lounge of the Student Union building Thursday, March 31, at 3 p.m.

Princess Katherine Caradja of Romania will tell of the techniques of Communism and will hold an informal question and answer period after her talk.

Her appearance on campus was arranged by a subcommittee for new programs headed by Dr. Dorothy Brownfield, associate professor of home economics.

This is the first program to be sponsored jointly by the ASUN, the Student Union board and the assemblies and lectures committee.

The program will be open to students and faculty without charge, and coffee will be served during the question and answer period.

Campus Playboys Vie for Crown

Nine men students are running for the title "Playboy." Which of the nine will be named "Playboy" will be decided next Friday by the women students. An election will be held during the day and the "Playboy" will be named Friday evening at a dance in the Jot Travis Student Union.

The dance is being sponsored by the Student Union dance committee. Chairman is Carole Warner.

Men seeking the "Playboy" title are Ralph Perry, Phi Sigma Kappa; Chuck Kortius, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Ed Allison, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Roy Hibdon, Theta Chi; Bob Shoemaker, Alpha Tau Omega; Dave Wheeler, Sigma Nu; George Boucher, Hartman hall, and Gene Pieretti, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Whoever is named "Playboy" will be awarded a trophy and one year's subscription to a popular men's magazine allegedly read by men considering themselves "Playboys." A bonus award to the "Playboy" will be a "rabbit emblem," according to Miss Warner.

The dance will be held between 8:30 p.m. and midnight. It will be held upstairs in the Jot Travis Student Union and will be an all-school affair.

ASUN PRESIDENT RACE IS READY

Filing deadline for ASUN election candidates will be Wednesday, March 23. The ASUN president and men and women's junior senators-at-large, will be elected by the student body, and the senior, junior, and sophomore presidents by the class of each.

If the new constitution is approved by the student body, first and second vice presidents will be elected in the fall. The AWS president will no longer be serving as vice-president of the student body.

No students have filed for office yet, according to Dan Sobrio, ASUN president.

Constitution Gets Senate Nod

Final approval of the revised ASUN constitution was unanimously voted by Senate Wednesday evening. The approval ended three weeks of intensive debate by senators.

Students will vote on the adoption of the constitution at the ASUN general elections April 20. Although Senate has approved the constitution itself, approval of the proposed by-laws must still come before the group.

Only minor changes to the constitution were passed by Senate

Library Construction

"Construction of the new library is moving ahead at a favorable pace. Over 25 foundation columns of the building have already been erected," says professor James J. Hill, director of libraries.

A complete set of plans for the structure are in the reading room of the present library for interested students and faculty to examine at their leisure.

WUS Carnival Set Today on Campus

Coins cast in a line from the education building to the library in the traditional "Penny Mile" this morning opened the 1960 World University Service carnival on campus. The carnival, staged to raise funds for foreign students, will continue through the day and end with a dance in the old gym tonight.

Booths designed to offer a day and evening of fun for students as well as raise money have been placed on campus. Tonight from 7 to 9 booths will be set up in the old gym. The dance will begin shortly after 9 p.m.

Money raised will be added to the funds from other schools and turned over to the national WUS organization, according to Margaret Edleman, co-chairman. The national organization will then allocate funds to needy students in foreign countries. Ron Bradley is co-chairman with Miss Edleman.

Following the 1956 Hungarian students' revolution against Soviet troops in Budapest, according to Miss Edleman, over five million dollars was donated by WUS to place 7,000 Hungarian students in schools.

The 15 booths, sponsored by living groups and other organizations on campus, will provide food, entertainment, and a chance to show your skill. Among the booths entered are:

Kappa Alpha Theta, a sponge throw with a Hawaiian theme; Delta Delta Delta, a fish pond, to be known as Delta's Fish'n Fun; Pi Beta Phi, a Mexican hat toss with the target being the girl's head; Gamma Phi Beta, a turtle race with the winning betor receiving a jeweled "church key"; Independents, a fortune telling booth; Alpha Tau Omega, a Girlie Girlie Show; Sigma Nu, a Maverick type poker game; Phi Sigma Kappa, a gambling casino; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, different kinds of animal races; Sigma Phi Epsilon, dart game; S.N.E.A., a ring toss.

The Y.W.C.A. and faculty wives will have refreshment stands, and Lambda Chi Alpha will have a car wash.

The booth entered by the Aggies is to be a "surprise."

Infirmary Now North of Campus

"No one knows where the infirmary is located," says the infirmary's head nurse, Mrs. Mary Johnson. "We've had only six patients for flu shots."

For those persons who still don't know where the infirmary is located, the location is at 1370 North Virginia, just north of the new Fine Arts building.

A notice from the dean of students' affairs was circulated last week saying flu vaccine shots are available in the infirmary for all students who desire them.

"The flu epidemic that recently spread through campus had decreased, but cases are still coming in," added Mrs. Johnson, "every student should receive his shots."

About 150 students have been treated for everything from colds to tonsillitis last week. Five bed

SIGNS OF SPRING—Lounging on the new sun-porch at the newly remodeled Kappa Alpha Theta house are Barbara Heward, Deana Woodliff, Fran Beer and Elsa Freitag. The Thetas will hold open-house Sunday for members of the campus community and Reno friends. Due to the time spent coaxing the four comely co-eds into posing for the above picture, Sagebrush press time was delayed, putting this newspaper in your hands later than usual.

Open House Scheduled Sunday At Remodeled Theta House

Kappa Alpha Theta will show off its new house Sunday to the students, faculty and the public. The open house will be held for students from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., and for the public and faculty from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

A tour of the house will be guided by actives who will point out some of the special features of the remodeled and enlarged house. The living room and dining room are indirectly lighted by pencil lights. The new furniture is set off by a unique mosaic piece placed over a Chinese cabinet.

Work on the landscaping and patio was started this week.

In the new wing seven new rooms have increased the housing capacity from 19 to 27. Added features upstairs include new closets—formal closets, coat closets and linen closets. Also upstairs is a new porch for the women to sun on in the warmer months.

Downstairs in the new wing is a new room for the house mother, a greatly enlarged kitchen with a new steam dish washer, a laundry room and more closets.

In the basement, besides the usual storage space, is a ski room, a chapter and study room, a men's rest room, and a paint and work shop.

The patio will have only a small area cemented in for an old-fashioned ice-cream table and chairs. Around the edges of the patio will be trees, plants and sun chairs.

In the back of the house parking space has been provided for nine cars, three of which will be in a car port.

For the open house temporary shrubs and greenery are being placed around the front yard and the patio. These will be replaced at the right planting time for the various plants.

posed executive council was voted down by Senate. Del Whipple, engineering senator, presented the plan, saying that too much power would be in the hands of the executive council if that group was to assume the duties of the old nominating committee besides its other duties.

A matter that aroused a considerable amount of debate by Senate was the question of whether or not riflery should be considered a major sport. Senate finally decided

'Brush Editorial Comment

ASUN SENATORS Wednesday evening discussed changes to a proposed revision to the ASUN Constitution. During the discussion they quickly passed a technicality in the election procedure of Sagebrush editors which would go into effect in the event that a replacement must be made for an editor who resigns, dies or is fired.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION would have had it that the Senate would be able to choose the new editor. Sagebrush representatives attending the meeting during a period of discussion involving publications were quick to point out to Senators that such a plan would be dangerous to the University community. The Senators, many of them taking their usual passive, lackadaisical attitude, did not delve into why such a plan would be dangerous. After leadership was voiced by the student-body president and one or two senators the Senate-body approved the Sagebrush inspired plan to have the election of editors remain completely in the hands of the Publications Board.

THE SENATORS represent different groups on campus—social fraternities, sororities, clubs, and academic organizations—and many of the Senators were not present at the meeting. Because of these absences, and because many Senators who did offer the effort to sit silently in the meeting, but did not fulfill their obligation of probing into student affairs, the students who many Senators represent will not get a clear picture of their problems as readers in a free press-society such as we have on this campus.

MOST ASUN SENATORS are like sheep. They do not vote individually; they vote with the crowd. And, more than often they don't even know the significance of the question which they are voting upon. Such is the case demonstrated Wednesday evening with the small technicality of electing Sagebrush editors.

SAGEBRUSH editor is removed from office in three ways. Either he is fired, or he dies, or he resigns. The main problem is within the area of Sagebrush editors being fired. If the editor is fired, the action comes from the Publications Board. This board is composed of four professional journalistic people and five student government people. This makes it clear that if the Sagebrush editor becomes a thorn in the side of student government, the latter can vote in a block in Publications Board meetings and oust the editor. Then, the new constitution would have had it, the editor-replacement would be picked by the Senate—a strong branch, if not the strongest, of student government, depending upon how conservative the student-body president may be. Logic shows that the Senate would not pick another "troublemaker." Instead, they would probably pick a political-climber, who would be an editorial-Babbit. Everything would be fine. No longer would student government be plagued with "slanted, biased, muckraking." But probably truthful coverage of its activities would not be given.

THE PUBLICATIONS BOARD, however, even with its strong student government support, over its out-numbered professional ability, is small enough an organization to probe intelligently into editorial experience and intelligence to pick a capable editor. In this case an editorial-political-Babbit would not be placed at the helm of this newspaper. Instead, an honest and intelligent effort would be made to place a capable journalist in the editorial slot. And, such an editor is a social critic.

CRITICISM OF GOVERNMENT is the strongest safeguard of good, democratic government. Wise leaders know this. Lesser ones resent it. But, worse than any are those passive, legislative-sleepers—allegedly representing YOU—who don't even give a damn.

Campus Politics

On the Record

by D. A. O'DONNELL

The ASUN Senate, which came roaring into March like a lion, seems to be prancing out like a lamb. Wednesday evening's session over in the Cow Palace resembled the reading of the Congressional Record at a Back Bay Boston tea.

Among the earth-shaking topics that drew forth extended debate was that of making riflery a major sport. During discussion ASUN president Daniel Buckley Austin Sobrio, who also happens to be the president of the Rifle club, laid aside his gavel (meaning that he spoke as a commoner) and firmly planted himself in a middle-of-the-road position. He said that the matter was entirely up to Senate. Most democratic of Sober Dan.

Several senators jumped on the old band-wagon of denouncing apathy on the part of students when it comes to campus politics. Of course, the fact that fully a third of the senators didn't show up for the meeting meant little to those denouncing student apathy. One of those who were prominent by their non-appearance was senator-at-large George Allison, who only last week chided a certain group of senators for poor attendance records.

Another no-show was Artemisia-Manzanita's Jean Rivkin, she being the one of late who has bemoaned the fact that she simply can't do a decent job of representing over 200 dormitory women all by herself. She did clear an excuse through Sobrio's office, but apparently no thought was given to sending an alternate senator.

Those two senators do have good attendance records over this last year, but it seems somewhat absurd that a third of the senators were at the meeting only in spirit when such an important topic as the revision of the constitution was being discussed. Possibly the august senators will think twice next time before attacking student apathy.

One thing that is galling to some students in the College of Arts and Sciences is that after Senate went to considerable effort to make sure that the college was represented, the person chosen has seen fit to make it to only half the meetings.

Barbara Heward, senator-at-large, came through like a winner for the Sagebrush. She successfully put forth a motion to make sure that all selections of editors and business managers would be in the hands of the publications board rather than that hot-bed of political ferment, the Senate.

And, then there was the diehard progressive, Chuck Dyer, going down for the third time (or was it the thirtieth?), trying to put a few new ideas in the constitution. No open-bidding by him this time around—just the short end of near-unanimous vote.

At least Dyer has managed to get extra Senate seats for the colleges, even though Lambda Chi Alpha Senator Benny Echeverria bemoaned the fact that the ASUN "is going to have a House of Representatives instead of a Senate."

And so goes life in student politics.

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

Congratulations to Marilyn Kotter, Sagebrush gossip columnist. I'm glad to see that she has a University student directory in her possession. In the March 11 edition she devoted one hundred of the five hundred or so words to students' names. But I suppose that I'm behind the times and am living in a new gossip column era; for I can remember when the Sagebrush gossip column consisted of both names and events.

Don't feel slighted, students, if your name didn't appear in last week's column, she just hasn't reached your page in the student directory!

PAUL HUFFEY

The HUNGRY EYE

By MARILYN KOTTER

MR. HUFFEY: Of course we do realize you are behind the times, but to make you happy the next time we get to page 24 (which will be pretty quick at the rate we use names) of the student directory (better known as The Hungry Eye Social Register) we will be sure to put your name in. If you have any other suggestions, please submit them to me for corrections.

By the looks of things, Spring is here, and supposedly, things are more romantic in the springtime. However, there was only one engagement last week. Diane Moore and Leo Seevers gave out the big news at the Gamma Phi Flapper Dance.

SAE actives contributed money for an enjoyable beer bust last Saturday afternoon, but it turned into a sneak as the pledges, with the Pi Phi's, made off with the beer. Everyone had a "fun time," though, when the actives found them, and all adjourned to the SAE steak house for a steak social.

Sigma Nu's honored the new pledges last Saturday night with a dance held in the Fable Room of the Mapes. Snakes and their dates started "honoring" at a cocktail party at Karl Breckenridge's and later moved on to the dance. Seen there were Linda Knobbs and Dave Mandell, Lynn Fry and Jim Megquire, Beth Boyd and Jud Salmon, Ellen Murphy and Don Wilkerson, Fritz Hancock and Wes Hall, Eleanor Bonnenfant and Dave Wheeler, Carol Pennock and Don Dalton, Marcia Avansino and Harry Walters, Mimi Patrick and Bill Lohse, Linda Dillon and Bob Rice, Nita Kay Layton and Allan Zeme, and Lynn Farley and Mike Thompson, Janet Lagomarsino and Bill Mortenson.

If anyone is thinking about a novel place for a party, ask some Taus about renting their cave!

Linda Owen, Tri-Delt, was crowned "Queen of Hearts" by Jim Welsh at the Sigma Phi Epsilon Sweetheart dance held last Saturday night. Some Sig Eps and their dates were Don Logerwell and Connie Lill, Chuck Korthis and Gerry Martinez, Rich Kormann and Nancy Lynn Sanders, Kirk Terrell and Melinda Mackie, Tim Kramer and Robin Bohlman, Dix Christensen and Nancy Horning, Mario Frugoli and Dollie Youdall, Doug Buchanan and Marcia Adams, Jim and Juanita Welsh, Linda Owen and Rufus Marmaduke, Lynn Walsh and John Petricciani, Brenda Johnson and Bill Tuck.

Gamma Phi's regressed to the 20's last Friday night as they held a Flapper Dance at Lawton's. Winning the prize for the best costume were Dorothy Howell and Paul Huffey (page 24 at last), and Lawton's gave Alice Ann Monaghan a special prize of champagne for another good costume. Dancing to the roaring music of the 20's were Diana Conton and Paul Bible, Pat Reynolds and Bob Ferraro, Renee Robertson and Bob Henderson, Linda Smith and big Bob Hawkins, Laura Leonard and Don Pribble, Sigrid Nielsen and Bob Heaney, Elsie Bergman and Jerry Harding, Jan Ahlswede and Ed Curnow, Emmy Hanf and Larry Damon.

The Theta's have invited everyone for a tour of their newly remodeled hotel this Sunday. Now we won't have to hear about the cold water in their showers and their lost stove anymore.

SOCIALIZING: Have a blast at the W.U.S. Carnival tonight. It's a worthy cause.

Many Students Work at Union

Thousands of dollars flowed in and out of the Student Union last year. From this money came a wide variety of Student Union activities, improvements and repairs.

Last year a nine per cent profit was cleared out of it all, according to Robert Kersey, director of the Student Union.

Under the management of the Student Union board are two separate departments, the Student Union itself and the snack bar.

The income of the Student Union comes from two major sources. The primary one is the student fees, five dollars a semester. The second source is the book store rent, $225 a month, paid by the ASUN to the Student Union. The student fees add up to about $20,000 dollars a year.

The Student Union spends this money on programs, maintenance, office expenses and improvements.

The programs usually cost about $3,000 a year. Out of this comes the dances, about $1000 a year; movies at $800 a year, $200 for lounge expenses. The teas, receptions and art exhibits are about $400 a year.

The maintenance adds up to about $3500 a year, taking in cleaning furniture and the salaries of the part time upstairs employees.

The snack bar portion of the money is received from the intake at the snack bar.

Accrediting Team Inspecting Nevada Facilities to Determine Status

A team of three engineers is inspecting the College of Engineering here for continued accreditation. They are from the Engineers Council for professional development. They will finish today.

Howard D. Blodgett, professor and dean of the College of Engineering, says that this is "purely a voluntary visit" which the college invites periodically.

The inspectors are Fred Merryfield, chairman of the committee and professor of civil engineering at Oregon State College; Dr. George T. Harness, an electrical engineer and dean of engineering at the newly established San Fernando Valley State college, and Charles E. Crede, professor of mechanical engineering at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena.

The ECPD is interested in the engineering facilities, equipment, financial support and faculty and student morale. They also will talk with staff members in related fields of physics, chemistry, mathematics, English and humanities.

The college was last accredited in 1958. Dean Blodgett said the

Cap and Scroll Propose Plan

Cap and Scroll, campus honorary organization for women, is promoting a program of recognition for high school honor societies in the Reno-Sparks area. This is the first time such a program has been undertaken on the Nevada campus. It will take place March 24 at 7 p.m.

It is hoped that the interest shown in Nevada high schools' top students will help influence them to attend their own state university, stated Barbara Heward, member of Cap and Scroll.

The program will begin with a panel discussion, headed by the presidents of Sagens, Sagers, Blue Key, Pages, Phi Kappa Phi, and Cap and Scroll. Topic for the discussion will be an "Introduction to Campus Life." This will last from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

After the discussion the guests will be invited to see "The Glass Menagerie," a Campus Players production.

The photographers have covered a varied range of subjects in their works, but all of them have concentrated on either human interest or design and art.

Due to the size of the collection the pictures will be changed in a few days so the whole collection may be shown.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

In the master control room of San Diego TV station KFMB-TV, Max Beere discusses a new studio-transmitter link with chief engineer Charles Abel.

His "temporary" job became a career

Max P. Beere spent two years at the University of Hawaii while with the U. S. Navy, then earned his B.S. degree in Engineering at the University of Utah, where he served as technical lighting director for numerous campus theater and television shows.

On graduating in 1955, he fancied a television career for himself, but felt that, being married, he couldn't afford to serve a TV apprenticeship.

Max had an interview with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in Los Angeles. "I was offered a position in transmission engineering," he says. "It sounded great—but I really thought of it as a 'temporary' thing until I could get into television."

Max's TV career came sooner than he had hoped. Assigned as telephone company liaison with the TV networks, he was soon surveying microwave relay routes for the "Wide, Wide World" show, and working on "remote" and mobile telecasts from such interesting locations as Death Valley and rocket-launching sites deep in the desert.

In August, 1958, he was transferred to San Diego, where he took on full responsibility for TV-and-radio Special Services. This led to a particularly satisfying assignment in early 1959—the development of a new and successful closed-circuit educational TV system for 18 elementary schools in Anaheim.

"The telephone company really opened my eyes," says Max. "It's a fine place to work, where new ideas are welcomed and recognized and chances for advancement are excellent. I'm sold on it."

Max Beere is one of many young men with varied college backgrounds who are finding stimulating careers in the Bell Telephone Companies. Learn about opportunities for you. Talk with the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus—and read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office.

Pack Baseballers Open at Chico St.

Coach Jake Lawlor lifts the lid on the 1960 Nevada baseball team Saturday when the Wolf Pack meets Chico State in a double-header at Chico.

Neither of the opening games of the season Saturday will count in the Far Western Conference standings. Nevada hosts Chico State in a pair of league games April 23.

Lawlor will take a 16 or 17-man squad on the trip to Chico, including 11 veterans. Letterman pitcher Rusty D'Anna injured his ankle in practice this week and probably will not make the trip.

Lawlor did not disclose his pitchers for the two-game series against the Wildcats, but it will probably be veteran Tom Towle in one game, and either sophomore Duane Johnson or transfer Phil Bailey in the other contest.

The Wolf Pack will be strong behind the plate this season with two veteran catchers on the roster—Jim Gardner and Bob Peck. Both Peck and Gardner are on the traveling squad to Chico and will alternate between catcher and the outfield.

Also slated on the traveling squad are lettermen Bob Shoemaker and Bob Fisher, first basemen; veteran Frank Fahrenkoph and Wally Johnson, second basemen; letterwinneh Martin Summerbell, shortstop, and veterans Val York and Larry Lansford, third basemen.

Others who will go to Chico with the team are infielder Myron Carpenter and outfielders Dave Lumos and lettermen Mickey Hart, Jim Whitaker and Mike Thompson.

The Nevada baseballers play their first home games March 26 in a pair of non-league games against the College of Pacific at Clark Field.

Graduate student Johnny Borda is Lawlor's assistant coach.

Rifle Team Places Fifth; Hunter Edged Out of First

John Hunter was edged out of first place by two points in the National Intercollegiate sectional smallbore match held at Berkeley, Calif., last week.

The winner was University of California's All-American firer Tom Kilfoil. Nevada's Hunter scored 289 out of 300. Kilfoil a 291x300.

In the closely contested team event Nevada fired 1129x1200 to finish in fifth place. The event was won by Stanford University with a score of 1143x1200. Gary Cameron fired 286x300, which was the outstanding effort for the Nevada team.

The next match for the rifle team will be the annual Nevada Invitational rifle match held at the University range March 25 and 26. This event is sponsored by the military department and the rifle and pistol club.

Nine of the best teams from five western states have accepted invitations to compete here.

These include last year's winner, Oregon State college. Also competing will be Texas, Western college, Montana State college, Stanford university, California Aggies, University of San Francisco, University of California at Berkeley, Santa Clara and University of California at Los Angeles.

At the Southwest Invitational held in El Paso last week, Nevada finished twelfth in competition with 36 of the nation's best college teams.

Kansas won the match, scoring 5736x6000. Nevada's score was 5615x6000.

Outstanding performer for Nevada was Dan Sobrio, who received a fourth place medal in prone firing with a score of 300x300 and 19 bulls-eyes.

Nevada Boxers Close Home Season Monday With Wash. State

The University of Nevada boxing team closes out its 1960 home boxing season Monday night in a dual match with the Washington State Cougars here at 8:15 p.m.

The card will also mark the final home appearance of Wolf Pack favorite Joe Bliss. Bliss, the only senior on the Nevada squad, who will complete an outstanding four-year college career, including the NCAA championship which he won in the Nevada ring last year.

Washington State marks the third of a series of home bouts against major competition. Previous home fights have been against the University of Wisconsin and Sacramento State.

The Wolf Pack have two more meets on its schedule. The Pacific Coast Intercollegiate March 24-26 in Sacramento, and the NCAA championships at Madison, Wis., in two weeks.

Coach Jimmie Olivas has not yet determined which Nevada boxers will enter the PCI tournament next week, but five or six Wolf Pack ringmen will probably enter the competition.

Welterweight Mills Lane has recovered from a cut eye, which kept him out of the 12th Naval District boxing tournament last week, and is scheduled to go in the 147-pound division.

Other starters for Nevada will probably include sophomore Steve Parker in the 126-pound class, Gerry Hook in the 139-pound division, Lonnie Tolano in the 156-pound go, Rueben Harney in the light heavy-weight affair, and John Genasci in the heavyweight match.

Parker will have his hands full with tough Bobby Cornwell, the defending 126-pound NCAA champion who won his title here last year.

Another top-rate fighter on the Washington State team is Darryl Whitmore, who was the runner-up to Bliss last year in the 139-pound division fight for the NCAA championship.

Bliss, Parker and bantamweight Bob Lemos all picked up impressive victories last week in the 12th Naval District tournament at Mare Island over service competition.

Skiers Begin Sked at Squaw

By JOHN FIRPO

Nine members, including two returning lettermen, round out the 1960 University of Nevada Wolf Pack ski team that travels to Squaw Valley, Calif., Saturday and Sunday to carry the Blue and White colors into the Far West Collegiate's Ski Meet.

Ski coach Sheldon Leonard announced a squad of nine men, high-lighted by returned lettermen, Doug Salter and Jon Madsen. Other members, joining the Wolf Pack for the first time this season are, Dave Small, Gray Pool, John Bower, Lance Gotchie, Clint Wells, Ted Swan, and Tom Jones.

The team has been working out since late November, but because of the Olympics, have not been able to compete until now. Leonard is looking forward to a good showing by the Nevadans this weekend and next week when they travel to Bridge Bowl, Mont., for the NCAA championships.

INDEPENDENTS TAKE EASY VICTORY; SIGMA NU'S JOE WINCHELL STARS

The Independents displayed balance and depth to rack up a one-sided victory in the annual intra-mural track meet last week at Mackay stadium. The Independents ran away with the meet with 62½ points, far ahead of second-place Sigma Nu which compiled 38½.

The mighty Independents rolled to six first places and scored in every event but one.

The winners finished one-two-three in the two-mile with Doug Ketron taking first place with an impressive time of 10:25.1, Skip Houk grabbing second spot and Swainstone coming in third.

Recently-pledged Sigma Nu Joe Winchell was the meet's outstanding competitor and was the only triple winner of the day. Winchell took first in the 100-yard dash in 9.9, won the 220-yard dash in 21.8 and was the winner in the broad jump with a leap of 20-7½.

Winchell was pledged by Sigma Nu shortly before the track meet after turning in an impressive performance in the intra-squad meet two weeks ago.

Independent Don Hunt was a double winner with a victory in the high hurdles at 15.5 and a tie for first with ATO Jim Whitaker in the high jump at 5-8.

Ketron, the two mile victor, also took first place in the mile run with a 4:51.5 clocking. Ketron is a freshman from San Anselmo, Calif.

Alpha Tau Omega streaked to first place in the 880-relay with the Independents finishing second.

Final results—(1) Independents 62½; (2) Sigma Nu 38½; (3) ATO 28; (4) SAE 11; (5) Phi Sigma Kappa 10; (6) Lambda Chi Alpha 2.

Dr. Broten to Attend NCAA Rules Meeting at University of Wisconsin

Dr. G. A. Broten will attend a meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic association boxing rules committee at the University of Wisconsin in April.

Dr. Broten, director of physical education, is one of six members in the nation.

They will screen applicants for the NCAA boxing tournament to be held April 7-9. The committee will remain in session during the meet.

Joe Bliss, Nevada NCAA 139-pound boxing champion, will be one on the applicants from the University. Five or six others not yet determined probably will apply.

Members of the committee are Anthony Curreri, MD, chairman. He is chief surgeon at the University of Wisconsin cancer clinic; Earl Pond, Idaho State college; Julie Menendez, San Jose State college; Clarence "Biggie" Munn, Michigan State college; Roy Simmons, Syracuse university, and Dr. Broten.

Tracksters Have Dual Meet at S.F.

Head coach Dick Dankworth and a large traveling squad of 25 athletes will leave early Saturday morning for the California city to compete in the afternoon meet.

The Wolf Pack tracksters competed unofficially in the intramural track meet here last week and some good performances were turned in.

Freshman Joe Winchell, a transfer from Lassen Junior college, sprinted to times of 9.9 and 21.8 in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash, beating veterans Dick Strunk and Bob Ritchie in both events.

Lettermen Joe Eberle ran a 4:41 mile, his best effort of his two-year college career, and frosh Doug Ketron lopped to a 10:25.1 clocking in the two mile.

Sophomore Bob Challender and freshman Don Hunt ripped to 15.5 timings in the high hurdles, and Tom Case turned in an 2:06.8 in the half-mile.

The Nevada team will stay at the Fielding hotel in San Francisco Saturday night and return to Reno Sunday morning.

The probable Wolf Pack entries in each event:

University Open House Planned For April 2; Campus Programs Set

A University "open house" sponsored by the Associated Students of the University of Nevada, will be held in conjunction with the annual Nevada high school president's conference on April 2.

The purpose of the open house is to provide prospective students and interested citizens with a chance to tour the campus and to see the existing facilities and the new building program. It will also show the students the opportunities the University has to offer incoming students.

It has been several years since there has been an opportunity of this kind for citizens to tour the campus. They will have a chance to view the new building program, the most extensive in the University's history, and the varied array of exhibits and displays being arranged by some 13 colleges and departments.

The "open house," which is replacing engineer's day, originated from the engineer's displays of wares and talents. Engineering exhibits will be combined with the rest of the displays.

The campus-wide tour will contain displays and tours in the College of Agriculture; movies and demonstrations of teaching techniques in the new College of Business Administration; and a non-metallic display at the Mackey School of Mines.

The Department of Music will give choral and band presentations. The School of Nursing will give a skit and a tour. Tours will also be offered in the departments of biology, foreign language, English, journalism and engineering.

Another feature will be the explanation of the "ins-and-outs" of fraternity life, which will be held in the Jot Travis Student Union building.

There also will be a philosophy lecture and a track meet set by

Frat Grades Above Average for Once

For the first time in recent years, the fraternity active men on campus were above the all-mens' average for the fall semester.

The all-mens' average was a 2.23 and the fraternity average was 2.24.

Lambda Chi Alpha had the highest average of the fraternities with a 2.43. This was followed closely by Sigma Alpha Epsilon which had a 2.37.

Averages for the semesters of '58 and '59 were: the spring of '59 the average was a 2.25. Two fraternities were below the all-mens' average. The fall of '58 the average was a 2.1. Three fraternities were below the average. The spring of '58 two fraternities were below the average and the overall average was a 2.3.

to not include it among the list of major sports.

During the debate ASUN president Dan Sobrio, who is also Rifle club president, told Senate that he was not going to take sides on the matter because one of his campaign promises last spring was that he would not push to have riflery made a major sport.

One change made was that the publications board was given the power to appoint new editors or business managers for ASUN publications in case of resignations or removal from office. The proposed constitution was worded so that the power was to be given to Senate. Sagebrush representatives informed the Senate that such senatorial power would be unhealthy.

The tours will be conducted by the service organizations on campus. Lunch will be available to visitors and students in the TUB.

Student government on the University level will be outlined for the student body presidents during the high school president's conference.

patients were treated during the week.

The infirmary is open around the clock for emergencies. It is open all morning and afternoon with the exception of 11:45 to 12:45 for minor calls.

Dr. Robert Locke, infirmary physician, is on duty from 12:45 p.m. to 1:45 p.m.

"The present location of the infirmary is not as handy for the students. The place is more cheerful than the old location. The rooms are nicer, but with the way the rooms are situated it is harder for us to move around," said Mrs. Johnson.

As soon as the legislature puts up the money, the infirmary will move to the third floor of the Jot Travis building.

The infirmary urses and aids are: Mrs. Mary Johnson, head nurse; Mrs. Mildred Apeaile, aide; Mrs. Ann Bradford, assistant nurse, and Miss Bertha E. Nelson, nurse.

BRITISH MOVIE SET FOR THURSDAY ON CAMPUS

"The Detective," a brilliant movie about a "detective" priest, will be shown next Thursday. The film stars Alec Guinness, English stage and screen actor. The comedy tells the story of a little priest who outwits Scotland Yard. The priest, Father Brown, tries to find criminals and reform them before Scotland Yard can jail them.
