

Five Co-eds Vie for Junior Prom Queen Tonight

One of five junior women will be crowned Junior Prom Queen tonight at the traditional class dance which begin at 9 p.m. at the Hidden Valley Country Club. The five Junior Prom Queen candidates are Mary Bandoni, Artemisia-Manzanita, Melinda Mackie, Gamma Phi Beta, Toni Pimentel, Kappa Alpha Theta, Charlotte Sheldon, Delta Delta Delta, and Nancy Thomas, Pi Beta Phi.

Men students will vote for the candidate of their choice as they enter the door, according to John Heward, junior class committee member.

The theme of the dance is Sayanara, which is a Japanese word used both as "hello" and "goodby." In this case it is being used as "goodby" from the junior class to the graduating senior class, according to Heward. Along with the Sayanara theme, the country club will be decorated in an oriental motif.

Artemisia-Manzanita's candidate, Mary Bandoni, has black hair and brown eyes. She is majoring in psychology and intends to go into social work upon graduation.

The Gamma Phi Beta candidate, Melinda Mackie, has brown hair and hazel eyes. She is a business-education student and will enter the teaching field after graduation.

Toni Pimentel, Kappa Alpha Theta's candidate, is majoring in education and will become a teacher after she graduates. She has brown hair and brown eyes.

Charlotte Sheldon, Delta Delta Delta's candidate, has blue eyes and brown hair. She is majoring in education and intends to enter the teaching field.

Nancy Thomas, Pi Beta Phi's candidate, has blonde hair and blue eyes. She is majoring in pre-medical and intends to work as a medical technician.

The dance will end at 1 a.m. Tariff is $2.50 per couple.

Echeverria Names Chairmen

Student Union Change Asked

A totally new Student Union constitution will be presented to the students for approval or rejection at a special election Wednesday, May 18. The constitution is completely new, not a revision of the present document.

Several changes in the new constitution call for a reorganized executive group, set up classes of membership, and provide for the eventual selection of a Union director.

Acceptance of the proposed constitution by a simple majority of the students voting is all that will be needed to put it into effect, according to Roger Christensen, president of the student union board. He said that a two-thirds majority would not be necessary because a completely new constitution, not a revision or an amendment, will be presented to the student union membership.

The new executive body of the group is slated to be a seven-man board of directors. These directors may be from any school or college on campus. Under the present organization set up, members of the Student Union board are specifically drawn from each school and college.

There will also be an activities council, composed of the chairmen of the standing committees, in addition to the board of directors.

The purpose of the board of directors, Christensen told the Sagebrush, would be to set down basic policy matters, while most of the day-to-day functions of the union would be under the direction of the activities council.

Three classes of membership will be set up under the new constitution. They will be: student membership, consisting of all Nevada students paying the student union fee; honorary membership, to be awarded to members of the student union "who served the union with outstanding distinction"; and life membership, to be presented to benefactors of the student union.

Provision has been made for the eventual selection of a student union director, to be responsible for the conduct of all business concerning the student union.

The new constitution would allow the board of directors to make increases in the union fee with the approval of the board of regents.

"Playboy" Goes International

INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE in a dictionary? Campus "Playboy," so selected by the co-eds at the University, Ed "Tardo" Allison widened his "playground" to France recently. "Tardo," not a meaningful word in French, escorted a mademoiselle from a French chorus line, which is appearing at Harolds Club, on a date around the nite-spots of Reno. The French girl did not speak English. It appears that the international couple were getting along alright, but what is the word they were looking up in the above dictionary? (Dondero Photo)

Student Saves Drowning Tot

The dean of student affairs' office is trying to locate a student who rescued a three-year-old girl when she fell into the Orr Ditch on Monday, April 18.

The child's parents, Lt. and Mrs. Robert Stein, of 1939 Bayview Ave., Belmont, Calif., described the student as "a married man wearing a red shirt, who pulled our daughter out of the water next to the bridge." A witness, who could not identify the student, told Dr. Jerry Wulk, assistant dean of student affairs, that the student was waiting for his wife to pick him up on campus just before the child fell into the ditch.

The child's parents have sent a ten dollar reward to Dr. Wulk's office and asked that it be given to the student if he is located.

Blasts Sagebrush; Vows To Publish Government Paper

Thirteen appointments for ASUN chairmanships and faculty advisor posts by Benny Echeverria, student-body president-elect, were approved by the ASUN Senate Wednesday evening.

Two of the appointments, the heads of the men's and women's upperclass committees will serve as co-editors of a student "news-letter," Echeverria said. The "news-letter" will publish the "straight dope" on student government, the president-elect said.

The 11 chairmen of next year's social events are Bob Heaney, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, assemblies and rallies; Barbara Brannen, Pi Beta Phi, elections; Pat Fitzgerald, Independent, historian; Al Pagni, Sigma Nu, Mackay Day; Steve Heyer, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, men's upperclass committee;

Don Logerwell, Sigma Phi Epsilon, public relations; Paul Bible, Alpha Tau Omega, winter carnival; Alice Urrutia, Kappa Alpha Theta, women's superclass committee; Bob Van Lydegraf, Sigma Nu, Homecoming; Nancy Rapp, Delta Delta Delta, "Hello on the Hill"; Norma Moller, Kappa Alpha Theta, leadership conference secretary, and Joyce Casazza, Gamma Phi Beta, ASUN secretary.

The two faculty posts will be filled by Dr. Charles H. Seufferle—finance control board, and Dr. Donald Driggs—publication. One more faculty member will serve on the finance control board.

Echeverria said he will encourage upperclass committee activities next year.

Upperclass Heads

"I think it is a shame to see the committees go," the president-elect said.

George Allison, senator-at-large said that he felt the upperclass committee should be abolished. Earlier this year two former upperclass committee chairmen, Bill Adams and Fred Carlson, said they also felt the committees should be abolished.

Echeverria said he would encourage the committees to uphold the "few traditions that we have left on campus."

Under the Hat

"I have a few things under my hat," Echeverria said in reference to the committees' activities next year. When asked what specific activities will be conducted by the upperclass groups, he revealed his plan for a student news-letter.

"I would like to see a news-letter come out about every two weeks," he said. The news-letter would serve as a voice for student government, he indicated.

"On some issues this year the Sagebrush has not presented all the facts," he said. "I'm tired of this one-sided affair." When asked what specific issue the Sagebrush had held back "all the facts," Echeverria said, "Off-hand, I couldn't say."

Whose Editorial?

"This will not be my own personal editorial," Echeverria said in reference to the student news-letter. The upperclass committee chairmen will serve as co-editors. "I may contribute, but not in every issue," Echeverria said.

The news-letter will not carry general campus news, but strictly student government coverage, he said.

I do not feel that there is need for two full size newspapers on campus, but I feel that a news-letter will carry the "straight dope" on student government," he said.

Echeverria said he felt the Sagebrush has been "sarcastic" toward student government this year.

Sunday at Four

THE LAST Sunday at Four program will be held this Sunday afternoon in the new gym. Dr. Willard Day, who is a member of the psychology department, will offer a piano recital which will include selections from Bach, Beethoven, Debussy and Chopin.

THE SUNDAY AT FOUR programs this season have been among the better entertainment in the Reno area, and have drawn acclaim from members of the University community and persons living in the general western Nevada area.

DR. DAY has shown at past Sunday at Four programs that he is an accomplished pianist. This last Sunday at Four program featuring Dr. Day should serve as a fitting climax to a successful season.

"Yea for Our Side"

ASUN PRESIDENT-elect Benny Echeverria has announced his plan for a student news-letter to be published next year. In charge of editing the news-letter will be the heads of the men's and women's upperclass committees. The news-letter, according to the president-elect, will offer the student government's side of the news.

ECHEVERRIA feels that the Sagebrush has been sarcastic toward student government this year. And, he is going to make certain that anything of this sort is countered next year when he is in the limelight. In contrast to Echeverria's journalistic evaluations, Dan Sobrio, ASUN president, says the Sagebrush has been "intellectually honest this year."

WHETHER THE HEAD of student government at this time or his successor is correct, is simply a matter of opinion. However, Echeverria has made up his mind, and he is going to insure that he and his student government co-horts will have their own voice in a publication next year.

A STUDENT NEWS-LETTER is actually a commendable idea. It would be even better, however, if this campus could support two individual newspapers. Nothing is healthier for a democracy than the exchange of different opinions, and two newspapers on campus would surely provide for this honest type of intellectual debate.

BUT, THE STUDENTS will hardly be gullible enough to accept the white-washed version of student government which will be handed to them in a student government house organ. Every member of student government this year will admit that it has made mistakes, and plenty of them. After all, the student governors are simply human beings, and whether we like it or not, human beings make plenty of mistakes. One aspect of Sagebrush responsibility to the student-body is to report these mistakes. Only then are the students able to know if their government is inadequate.

IT IS DOUBTFUL that Echeverria's house organ will provide the students with honest coverage of the inadequacies of student government. It will probably paint a pretty picture of the ASUN president and ASUN senate's activities. And the responsibility will remain for the Sagebrush to report, interpret and give opinions on the ups and downs of student government.

The HUNGRY EYE

By MARILYN KOTTER

DON'T DO THAT TO HIM: Referring to the crediting of last week's column to Mr. O'Donnell's by-line, someone asked, "Did he write it? It sounded like YOU!" Well, as the late Irvin Cobb replied when asked by a stranger, "Are you Irvin Cobb? You look like him?" "That's the trouble of it, to look like Irvin Cobb you've got to be Irvin Cobb"—so!!!!

(Editor's Note: Huh?)

ANOTHER LOST WEEKEND: With mixed emotions some of us have seen our first, some our last, Mackay Day come and go. All in all, though, I am sure we will all agree it was much fun.

RIDE 'EM COW: The cows at the rodeo turned the tables on Don Richter, who is now sporting quite a bruised head.

HOT TIME IN THE OLD TOWN: It must have been the Aggie dance Friday night, when everyone was making quite a few trips out to various cars where various keges were stationed that touched off the fire alarms at Lincoln hall and totaled out the Vagabond bus.

SONG WRITER'S INCORPORATED: Any organization which would like some original rush songs should contact Val Van Nepes and Betty Jean Zyski, who have turned out some good ones.

THE CLIMAX: The high point of Mackay Day weekend was the dance held Saturday night at the Mapes. Winning the top honors were Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha Theta's song teams and Pi Phi and Sig Ep for dance attendance. Crowding—and I mean crowding—the floor were Lillian Mason and Don Stover, Jean Best and Vern Rosse, Mary La Fond and Don Wilkerson, Patsy Lewis and Ty Cobb, Bev Bean and John Smith, Sue Fordan and Smiley Davis, Lynn Spell and Lynn Statuts, Linda Smith and Steve Heyer, Kay Hamilton and Bob Hawkins, Charlotte Sheldon and John Heward, Bat White and Bill Bianchi, Sharon Lyman and Dave Quinn.

AFTER THE BALL: Lawton's was the scene of an after-the-dance rally when Mackay Day Queen Beth Boyd and Tim Sugrue, Kay Barnum and Norm Scoggin, Tricia Hug and Jim Durham, Sue Rauch and Jon Meder, Fritz Hancock, who won the best costume prize, and Wes Hall and Dale Prevost and date and many others showed up for more dancing and refreshments.

BEHIND THE SCENES: What was the little incident that happened near the quad during the obstacle races that left one person minus a few articles of clothing?

HOW WAS DOWNTOWN? Some students didn't quite make it to the dance Saturday night on time when they got into a little trouble with the local gendarmes. You should watch those stop signs, Ted Schroeder and Carol Penneck.

NEW FACES: For a little variety in the names in this column, we are reporting on the wedding of Mary Smith and Al Davidson, Sigma Nu, who it is rumored owes some people about four cases.

THE CHANGING COLORS: Was it the ATO's with their stylistic treatment that got to work on Shirley Holmes' hair and made it change to all those lovely shades last Tuesday?

DO IT YOURSELF: For all those who would like their names in this column, please sign here. (Courtesy of Wally Johnson).

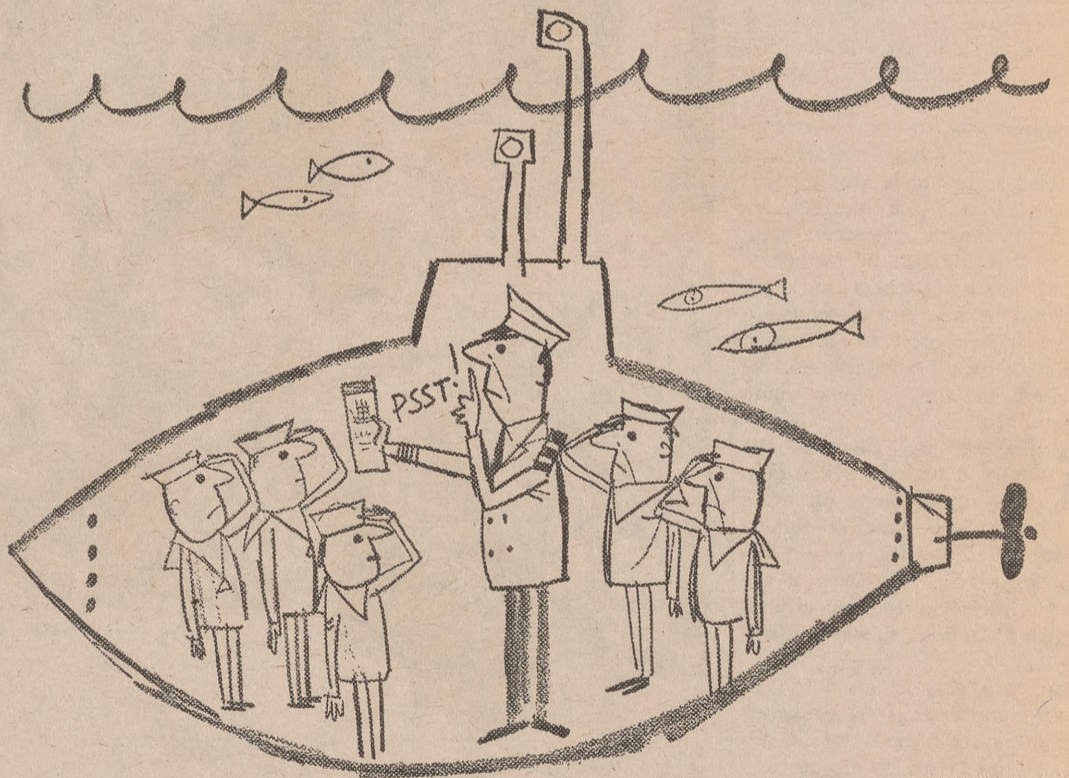

ROMANCE IN BLOOM: Planning an August wedding are Marilyn Donnelly and Bob Briton, who announced their engagement at the Theta house Monday night.

SOCIALIZING: TONIGHT: Junior Prom at Hidden Valley.

TOMORROW NIGHT: Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Pi Beta Phi Spring Formals.

The Student Union will be able to use the new dining hall for dances when it is completed. The hall will be in operation for the first session of summer school, June 13, but Roger Christensen, board president, says the first dance will be some time next semester.

University Chess Players Take Second and Third in State Meet

Two University students, Sagebrush photographer Richard Morris and Wayne Chapman, finished second and third, respectively, in the state chess championship in the Nevada State Chess Tournament last week. Chessplayers from Nevada, California, and Utah competed in the four-day, seven round event held at the Mapes hotel.

Winner of the tournament, and state champion for the third year in a row, was Laverl Kimpton, of Sparks, who finished with a 5-2 won-lost record.

Morris, who finished seventh in the tournament, was second only to Kimpton among the 12 Nevadans entered, and thus captured the position of runner-up for the state chess championship. Chapman, ninth in the tournament, was the only Nevada resident besides Kimpton and Morris to finish with a plus score. Both Morris and Chapman had 4-3 scores, but Morris, who played against stronger opposition, came out ahead on tie-breaking points.

Morris is currently leading the tournament for the University chess championship, in which he has won four games without a defeat, while Chapman was runner-up in the last Reno Chess Championship.

Other University of Nevada students competing in the state chess tournament were Harvey Lambert, who finished with a 3-4 score and Richard McConaughy and Maria Vincens, with 2-5 records.

Registrar Byrd Said to Be Recovering Nicely

Clarence E. Byrd, registrar and director of admissions, is now home after 21 days in Washoe Medical Center. Byrd was taken to the hospital April 4 when he had a heart attack at home. He returned to his home April 25.

The personnel in his office said he is "doing well".

Mary Johnson, head nurse of the Infirmary, has been called to Anchorage, Alaska, because of the serious illness of her brother, a resident of that city.

Signs to Be Placed

Signs will be placed in front of each building on campus next semester to show the new students where their classes are.

Cal Wilson, frosh class president, announced the signs will be used the first four weeks of school.

Wilson and the frosh class committee are working on the idea of placing signs along the highways welcoming people to tour the University.

Annual Banquet Held at Lawton's

"Most of all, I believe that the Sagebrush has been intellectually honest this year." So spoke Dan Sobrio, student-body president, Tuesday evening at the annual publications board banquet.

The ASUN president commented on Sagebrush practices and policies before about 25 persons from the University yearbook—The Artemesia—student government, faculty, and The Sagebrush.

Donald A. O'Donnell, who will edit The Sagebrush next year, told the group "there will be a lot of changes made in the newspaper next year." O'Donnell did not explain what changes would be made.

Determination Is Journalist's Need

Determination is the main characteristic a managing editor looks for when interviewing an aspiring reporter.

So spoke Hal O'Flaherty, former managing editor of the Chicago Daily News, to several journalism classes last week.

A foreign correspondent during World War I, the dapper man disproved the mythical conception that all foreign correspondents wear slouch hats and trench coats.

The Iowa born newspaperman also spoke at a dinner meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, on journalism as a life of adventure.

Relating his experiences in the foreign service, O'Flaherty stated that a journalism profession is one of the most gratifying and rewarding experiences.

'Brush Editorial Comment

MACKAY DAY 1960 was a smashing success. The success is due to the spirit shown by the general student-body in applying the appropriate atmosphere to the weekend celebration. For bringing about this atmosphere, plaudits should go to the student union board for bringing the Dave Brubeck Quartet's jazz concert to the campus; the Aggies for putting on a fine rodeo and dance; the sororities and Independents for their open-houses; the fraternities, sororities and Independents for their song teams; the SAE's and ATO's for their lawn party; the Aggie Rodeo Queen; the Mackay Day Queen and attendants, and, most of all, De Armond Sharp, Mackay Day chairman, and his committee—Pete Breen, assistant chairman; Joyce Casazza, secretary; Kim Miller and Marilyn Nelson, luncheon; Paul Bible, trophies; Nancilyn Sanders, costumes; Margaret Edleman, song teams; Betty Edmondson, woman's obstacle race; Dave Harris, men's obstacle race; Ed Allison, publicity, Carol Thieux and Joan Ruark, dance and Al Pagni, beards.

Mackay Day Is Big Show

The 1960 Mackay Day closed last Saturday evening when many campus organizations and individuals gathered up trophies from celebration competition at the annual Mackay Day dance.

The coveted song team trophies were awarded to Kappa Alpha Theta for men's competition, and Sigma Nu for men's vocal achievement. The Theta's song team, directed by Marcia Avansino, had the theme "Halls of Ivy." David Bartlett brought the Sigma Nu singers into the winner's circle with the theme, "One More for the Road."

Winners in beard-growing competition were Tony Xavier, best trimmed, Martin Petersen, thickest and longest, George Wade, reddest and Carl Cahill, blackest.

Obstacle race trophies were presented to Pi Beta Phi for women's competition, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon for the men's race. Dance attendance went to Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Highlight of the four-day celebration was the Mackay Day luncheon on Saturday in the new gym. Following the luncheon was the song team competition. Those participating were Pi Beta Phi, directed by Del Loomis, "Young at Heart"; Artemisia-Manzanita, directed by Sue Wordell and Marybeth Hockey, "Travelogue, U.S.A."; Lambda Chi Alpha, directed by Gene Pieretti, "Mackay Day With"; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, directed by Art Vaughn, "Come Dance With Me";

Gamma Phi Beta, directed by Shirley Vietti, "Black Magic"; Alpha Tau Omega, directed by Alan Ross, "Bill Bailey Meets Mack the Knife"; Delta Delta Delta, directed by Lynn Walsh, "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing"; Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Nu.

Cliff Young, former Nevada congressman, was guest speaker at the luncheon. Honored guests were Beth Boyd, Mackay Day Queen, and President and Mrs. Armstrong. Pastor Armand E. Mueller gave the invocation, and De Armond Sharp, Mackay Day chairman, welcomed students and introduced guests.

The celebration began Wednesday evening with a jazz concert in the new gym by the famous Dave Brubeck Quartet. The Mackay Day Queen was announced and crowned during intermission of the jazz show. Sororities held open-house on Thursday evening.

Women students wore the typical clothing of their early Nevada forebearers on campus Friday. The Aggie rodeo and dance were held on Friday. Rene Robertson was named Aggie Rodeo Queen.

On Saturday the beard-judging luncheon and dance rounded out the celebration.

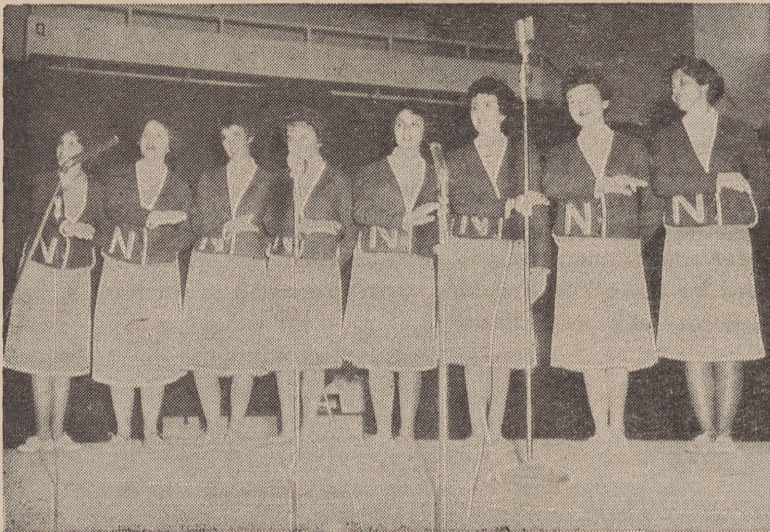

Gumball Machine Gone, Says Senator

Jim Meguire, who sells gum balls when he is not busy attending to the students' business as a senator-at-large, is facing a professional dilemma.

Senator Meguire reported to the Sagebrush this week that someone removed one of his gum ball machines from the Jot Travis Student Union. The machine was filled with "brightly colored" gum balls, Senator Meguire said.

Senator Meguire offered a reward of 500 gum balls to anyone giving information which would lead to the arrest and conviction of the gum ball bandit.

The Nevada baseball and track teams wind up their home seasons Saturday against conference competition. Coach Dick Dankworth's spectacular track team hosts Humboldt State in a dual meet, and the Wolf Pack baseballers meet Sacramento State in a doubleheader at Clark Field.

This will be the final test for the undefeated Nevada tracksters before the Far Western Conference championship meet next week at Chico. The Wolf Pack turned in a highly-impressive performance in the 100-yard dash by taking all three in places with the highest time at 9.8. Speedster Dick Strunk streaked to a 9.6, Bob Challenger raced to a 9.7 for second place, and frosh Joe Winchell ran a 9.8 but had to settle for third.

Strunk's times of 9.6 and 21.4 (220), Challenger's 23.6 in the low hurdles and Bob Ritchie's broad jump of 24.2 are among the top ten times and distances recorded on the West Coast this season.

Congratulations to Nevada boxer Mills Lane as the Sierra Nevada Sportswriters and Broadcasters "Athlete of the Month" for April. Lane, the 1960 NCAA 147-pound champion, and Joe Bliss are looking forward to the Olympic boxing finals in San Francisco May 18-20 for a spot on the United States ring team for the 1960 summer games in Rome.

Bliss earned another shot for a berth on the team when NCAA 132-pound champion Brown McGhee of Wisconsin declined to enter the Olympic tryouts.

Another possible Olympic athlete from the University of Nevada is erstwhile football player Martin Murphy who has been training for a spot on the weightlifting team.

Coach Johnny Borda's frosh baseball team continued its winning streak with a 8-7 victory over Lassen Junior College here Wednesday. Jerry Shutz was the winning pitcher. The freshmen team plays Compton JC here Monday.

Big Chuck Walker, star Wolf Pack football and basketball player for four seasons, takes over as the head football coach at Winnemucca next year.

Another Nevada student — Herb Livsey — has accepted the head basketball coaching slot at Winnemucca for next season. Livsey, a graduate student, assisted Jack Spencer with the Wolf Pack varsity this year.

A special note of thanks to sports assistant Val Van Houck and photographer Dick Morris for the time and effort they have contributed without reward to make a better sports page.

Certain members of the Nevada football team are campaigning to select Beverly Aadland, the late Erroll Flynn's one-time playmate, as next year's Homecoming Queen.

Nevada Tracksters Take On Lumberjacks Here Saturday

The unbeaten University of Nevada track and field team will be shooting for its seventh win of the season when they play host to defending Far Western Conference champion Humboldt State this Saturday.

This will be the last meet of the season for Coach Dick Dankworth's Nevada team before the Far Western Conference finals in Chico next weekend, May 14.

There will be plenty of competition on tap for the Wolf Pack this Saturday as the Humboldt team boasts several outstanding performers.

Keith Weidkamp, Humboldt State, has turned in the conference's fastest time in the 440-yard run by touring the distance in 48.9 seconds. Nevada speedsters Bruce Ward, Ogden, Utah, and Joe Winchell, Susanville, Calif., have both been pushing 50 seconds flat consistently in the 440-yard run.

Humboldt State pole vaulter Roger Biffle will give Nevada's ace vaulter Dave Langacre, Lindsay, Calif., something to shoot for. Biffle has cleared 14 feet even while Langacre has cleared 13-6.

Nevada will have to perform better than usual in the high jump as Humboldt has two men consistently going over six feet. Larry Krupka has cleared 6-4½ for the Lumberjacks and Bill Crichton has gone over 6-3. Nevada's best jumper, Don Hunt, Hawthorne, has cleared six feet a few times this season.

Vester Flanagan should take the javelin throw for Humboldt without too much trouble. Flanagan has heaved the stick 196-8.

Humboldt will have to work hard to get a place in the other events as Nevada's depth has consistently made it hard for the opposition this year. Dick Strunk, Hawthorne, turned in a fast 9.6 century for the Nevada team last weekend. Doug Ketron, San Anselmo, Calif., ran a two-mile distance in 9:59 for coach Dankworth's Wolf Pack.

Nevada's Bob Ritchie, Walnut Creek, Calif., has consistently been going over 24 feet in the broad jump. Senior Mike Lommori, Yerington, and Rod Cook, Inglewood, Calif., make it tough for anyone in the conference to get a top place in the discus and shot put against Nevada.

The meet this Saturday will be the final home appearance of the Nevada team this year. Field events will begin at 1:30 p.m. and track events at 2 p.m. in Mackay Stadium on the University of Nevada campus.

Wolf Pack Baseball Team Hosts Sac. State

The University of Nevada baseball team closes out its home season Saturday with a Far Western Conference doubleheader against Sacramento State at Clark Field. The first game starts at 1 p.m. The Wolf Pack is fresh from an upset 10-9 victory over St. Mary's here Monday.
