Union Vote Wednesday

Fees, Director Set-Up Change Union Asks

Present Constitution Is Inadequate to Work the Union?

An election for acceptance or rejection of a proposed revision to the Jot Travis Student Union constitution will be held next Wednesday between the hours 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. All undergraduate students may vote.

The proposed revision calls for a new fee set-up, a new board of directors organization and a re-vamping of union social committees.

The present constitution is inadequate and impossible to work with, according to Roger Christensen, student union president.

(A letter by Mr. Christensen explaining his views on the constitution and editorial matter pertaining to the proposed revision is printed on page two of this edition—EDITOR)

Acceptance of the constitution will be brought about if two-thirds of fifty per cent of the student body gives it the go-ahead, Christensen said.

The new constitution calls for a seven-person board of directors to handle business and financial aspects of the union. The board will have the power to name replacements if any of its members withdraw from office or are recalled. At the present the board consists of a general representative group of the campus, including representatives from the colleges and ASUN offices.

Fee raises, under the proposed constitution, will be brought about by the board of directors asking the board of regents for permission to raise the fees. In the present constitution the student-body votes on whether to raise the fees.

Provisions are made in the proposed constitution for recall of members of the seven-person board and any proposal which the board may recommend to the regents.

A Queen Is Crowned

Dr. Wood's Successor Named

University of Nevada President Charles Armstrong has endorsed the appointment of Dr. Kenneth R. Young, 38, former dean of the faculty at the University of Alaska, as executive vice president of the University. The board of regents appointed him to the office last Saturday.

Dr. Young will replace Dr. William R. Wood, who leaves Nevada July 1 to become president of the University of Alaska. The new executive vice president is currently completing studies at the Center of Advanced Study in the University of Michigan's School of Higher Education. He is one of five college administrators to win a Ford Foundation Fellowship for the course.

He earned his Ph.D in higher education at Stanford and holds a bachelor and masters degree in journalism.

The board of regents had earlier abolished Dr. Wood's current post as academic vice president in favor of an executive vice president.

Dr. Armstrong will become the chairman of the academic committee instead, placing the University president in direct control of personnel and student programs for the first time in years.

The executive vice president will be in charge of internal administration and will become chairman of the administrative committee.

Along with the new office the University's statewide services program will be set up as a separate academic department headed by Dr. Lloyd Drury.

Police, Detectives Investigate Theft

A search for clues to a $271 safe-burglary in the Jot Travis Student Union has been underway this week by Reno police officers and insurance detectives. The cash, in ten, five and one dollar bills, disappeared last Thursday from the graduate manager's office on the main floor of the Union.

The burglary occurred sometime during the afternoon or evening, according to Trinie Erquiga, secretary to the graduate manager. Miss Erquiga discovered the currency missing on Friday morning. It was part of ASUN bookstore funds.

Miss Erquiga said the intruder must have been familiar with office financial operating procedure and the location of the safe in the office. The money was taken from a drawer in the same, but nothing else in the office was upset, she said.

The safe is unlocked during the day while the office staff is working, but is locked at 5 p.m. when the office closes for the day. The staff includes James McNabney, graduate manager, Ann Cress, administrative assistant, and Miss Erquiga.

The office was occupied by at least one of the staff all day on Thursday with the exception of the hours between noon and 1 p.m., 3 p.m. and 4 p.m., and brief periods when members of the staff were conducting business in nearby office. During the two one-hour periods that the office was vacant the door was locked, Miss Erquiga said.

Many students come and go in the graduate manager's office during each day, she said. However, she indicated that the burglary must have taken place when the office was unoccupied.

Only the office staff has keys to the door and the combination to the safe, Miss Erquiga said. There are master keys that fit the door lock in the office of the student union director, she said.

The office is insured by the Nevada Insurance Agency.

Last year $270 was taken in a burglary of the student union director's safe. The burglar apparently had a key to the office and the combination of the safe, as both were locked prior to the burglary. Also, last year, $14 was taken from the YWCA office, although its door was locked. No one, in either case, was apprehended.

Cheer Leaders Picked

Four cheerleaders and six songleaders were selected Wednesday to lead Nevada rooters next fall.

The cheerleaders are Bob MacDonald, Dyanne Hayes, Lorraine O'Dell and Joan Ruark. New songleaders are JoAnn McLeod, Beth McKenzie, Lynn Fry, Del Loomis, Shirley Smith and Elaine Pisciotta.

Actor's Workshop Program Tonight

The Actor's Workshop will present "An Evening of Chekhov" this evening in the Education auditorium. Three of Anton Chekhov's one-act plays are to be given at two performances, 7 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.

The group will present "The Harmfulness of Tobacco," a lecture; "The Brute," a joke in one act, and "The Marriage Proposal," another joke in one act. The workshop is composed of students in Speech 120, the "Fundamentals of Acting."

The students in the class this semester are John Barker, Dale Gordon, Paul Helms, Del Loomis, Melinda Mackie, Marilyn Petersen and Segurd Splinter. All will appear in "An Evening of Chekhov."

As part of their class work, the students must rehearse a production, with a director, which is to be given before an audience other than the class. The production emphasizes the actor and his ability to tell, in a believable manner, the playwright's story to an audience. In these workshop productions, the actor is not given the aid of scenery, make-up, costumes, etc. His problem is to play his role without elaborate technical help.

John Barker will give the lecture, "The Harmfulness of Tobacco." "The Brute," a joke in one act, takes place in the drawing room of a country home. Marilyn Petersen plays the part of Nastasya, the maid; Melinda Mackie is cast in the part of Mrs. Popov, a widow and landowner, and Segurd Splinter plays the gentleman farmer, Mr. Grigory S. Smirnov.

The last joke in one act, "The Marriage Proposal," takes place in the living room of Chubkov's home. Stephan Stepanovitch Chubkov, the father and a landowner, is portrayed by Paul Helms; a landowner, "healthy, but a hypochondriac," Ivan Vassilevitch Lomov, is played by Dale Gordon, and Del Loomis is cast in the role of Chubkov's still unmarried daughter, Natalia Stepovna.

Anton Chubkov, Russian playwright and fiction writer, is better known for his "serious" plays among which are "The Seagull" and "The Cherry Orchard." However, he did write seven one-act plays. Three of them are being presented this evening.

'Brush Editorial Comment

SEVERAL STUDENTS who now run things pretty much their own way in the Jot Travis Student Union, sometimes for the better, sometimes for the worse, have decided that their area of administrative operation is not wide enough, and, accordingly, have taken steps to tighten their already powerful grip over the Student Union. These self-styled young restaurant-hotel-night club managers recently put their heads together, brought forth their fountain pens, and wrote up a new constitution which will narrow the intelligence of Union operation down to the hands of a select few. However, before the students march en masse to the place of the polls next Wednesday to cast their votes either for or against the creation of the Union administrators, a peek into the document might prove worthwhile.

THE PRESENT CONSTITUTION calls for a Student Union board composed of two representatives from each college, four representatives at large, several advisory members, ex-officio members by virtue of their ASUN government posts, and faculty advisors. This board is a good general representative group of the campus. Not so, say the constitution drafters. The new constitution calls for a board of seven students to make policy and financial decisions. And, the select seven will not be chosen by the students, whose fees pay for the operation of the Union, but by the seven-member board of directors, themselves. Thus, if the seven-student-tribunal of Union affairs find themselves with a convenient—to themselves—operation, they may simply replace outgoing members with students who have a tendency to "think alike," and keep the operation the same. The students have a safeguard against this, because they may recall any of the seven. But, it is fairly safe to say that the recall on this campus is a dead horse. Nobody gets recalled.

AND, THE MONEY matters deserve a slight peek, also. Instead of having the general student body voting on the question of raising the fees for the Student Union—which now stand at $5.00 per semester per student head, and which remain at that figure because the general student body defeated a fee-raise proposal by the Union directors at a recent election—the select seven will decide what the fees should be. They won't have complete power to tax the students for the Union, however, as they will have to get the University board of regents to give them a go-ahead. But, it is very unlikely that the regents will veto any proposal that the student "Board of Directors" might bring into the regent's chambers. There, also, is a safeguard against a fee-raise, as the students may petition the board to kill a fee-raise. But, petitions are a rare thing, and interest is slight. It will most likely turn out that the students will simply "sigh" and pay any proposed raise in fees.

THE ELECTION is set for next Wednesday. It might help the students who are interested in their own money to take a closer look at the proposed Union constitution before they go to the polls. A complete copy of the document was run in last week's edition of the SAGEBRUSH, and is available in the newspaper office.

A NEW VICE PRESIDENT has been appointed to replace Dr. William R. Wood, who is leaving this University to become the president of the University of Alaska. Dr. Wood's successor is Dr. Kenneth R. Young, and he is coming to Nevada from a position he held at the University of Alaska.

DR. YOUNG'S background and qualifications indicate that the University of Nevada has chosen a capable successor for Dr. Wood, who, himself, has proven to be a capable administrator. Dr. Young holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in journalism and a doctorate degree in education.

IT IS FITTING that Dr. Wood be given a fond farewell, and Dr. Young a warm welcome in this student newspaper. And, as an afterthought, it might be added that the University has taken a progressive step by bringing a journalist into its administrative ranks.

The HUNGRY EYE

By MARILYN KOTTER

Spring's coming has been confirmed now, not only by the weathers finally coming around, but by the number of spring formals past and still to come. Last weekend, one of the busiest ever held, started off with a small bang with the Junior Prom. Those of you who complained of the crowded dance floor at the Mackay Day Dance should have been there to enjoy the roomy conditions. Oh, well, it was a very good dance, and those of you who missed it shouldn't have. Moving around freely were Toni Pimentel, Theta, who was crowned Junior Prom Queen, and Morgan Jellett, Charlotte Sheldon and John "Big Four" Heward, Nancy Thomas and Al Pagni, Mary Bandoni and Frank Farenkoph, Melinda Mackie and Dan Sobrio, Karen Tucker and Pete Palmer, Sandy Carrera and Dale Wagner, Ellie Riesbeck and Fred Shaft, Marilyn Cobbley and John Lauritzen, Lynn Walsh and Jim Megquier, and Deanna Yrueta and Bob Prida.

It was also Spring Formal time out at the Lancer last Saturday night when Delta Delta Delta held theirs. Enjoying the view of Reno were Randy Leary and Doug Smith, Leanna Noble and Doug Salter, Nancy Rapp and Myron Carpenter, Barbara Swart and Tom Sloan, Pam Rosasco and Gary Bullis, Denise Danberg and Kim Waldo, Janet Clements and Wayne "Joe" Kollodge, Frankie Foley and John Lukasko, Janet Riddle and Bill Evans, Mary Ann Kerstetter and Ty Cobb, Joyce Stephens and Rusty Westover, and Patsy Plumm and Eric Hansen. It is rumored that this was a Tri-Delt-Tau joint formal.

Helping to make the evening a big one, the Gamma Phi's also held their formal. Who was there? Well, let's see—Renee Robertson and Fred Carlon, Donna Click and Don Fribble, Nancy Damon and Bob Friedel, Olivia Forsythe and Joe Ortiz, Pat Reynolds and Bob Ferraro, Joyce Casazza and DeArmond Sharp, Janet Blakely and Don Drum, Jan Awhlswede and Ernie Schieber, Julie Fountain and Dick Schnapper, who announced their engagement at the dance, Emmy Hanf and Larry Damon, who was named Gamma Phi man, Laura Leonard and Ron Kirn, Linda Smith and Phil Bailey, Di Con-ton and Paul Bible.

Brynne Bailey and Phinnie Marsh announced their engagement and Judy Wells and Clint Wells their pinning at the Theta Dance, also held last Saturday night at the Mapes. Also there were Donal Ruth Murphy and Jim Sullivan, Ann Prida and Jon Mad-sen, Bev Bean and Gary Machabee, Gayle Beaman and Roger Brown, Marilyn Howard and Larry Sabin, Betty Fantone and Bob Frenkl, Lee Ann Zimmerman and Tom Cook, Linda Young and Tim Griffin, Kitty Humphrey and Tom Towle, Nancy McCarlie and Pete Looney, Bonnie Barnard and Clyde Turner, Joe Humphrey, Grace Payne and Bill Wingfield, Susie York and Bill Black.

To add to the busy evening, Pi Beta Phi also held their Spring Formal. Making merry were Shirley Smith and Lynn Gerow, Lillian Mason and Don Stoker, who was crowned Arrow Man, Penny McCullom and Paul Helms, Lorraine O'Dell and Don Leyhe, Ann Scott and Bill Adams, Elaine Piciotta and Jim Colgan, Dorothy Rickets and Ed Hillygus, Judy Greene and Dave Bartholomew, Midge Lyon and Art Vaughn, Ann Davidson and Tom O'Carroll.

SOCIALIZING: After just recovering from last weekend are faced with another monstrous one. TONIGHT: Alpha Tau Omega Supring Formal. TOMORROW NIGHT: Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon Spring Formals. ALSO TOMORROW: ATO Picnic, and Theta Chi Picnic.

Our Readers Write

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

The proposed new Student Union constitution will be presented for approval or rejection next Wednesday. Contrary to what was printed in the Sagebrush last week, the new constitution will require a two-thirds majority of the students voting.

The requirement of a two-thirds majority falls in line with the amendment article of the proposed constitution. I felt that a simple majority would not reflect the true wishes of a sufficient number of students to warrant passage.

The main reason for the new constitution is to provide a more feasible make-up of the planning and governing bodies of the Student Union. In the present constitution, two representatives are elected from each college and four are elected at-large. These students, plus advisory members and faculty advisors are required to plan policy, activities and the financial aspects of the union.

Under the proposed new constitution, policy and financial matters will be controlled by the board of directors; and the activities council will plan the programs and activities of the Union. Theoretically, the board will be composed of students who earn their way into the position, and the activities council will be composed of those students who showed initiative on one of the committees.

In the past school year, the only standing committee that functioned well as a committee, was Carole Warner's dance committee. The new constitution offers a more feasible set-up for the activation of the standing committees would function half as well as the dance committee has this past year, the Student Union would be well on its way to offering the students what they deserve.

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

It seems as though class government is sometimes a mystery. For instance, when a class has some activity, few people really know who is doing the work. The class president is usually fortunate enough to get the credit. However, in the case of sophomore activities, I can testify that the sophomore class committee deserves a great deal of credit for long hours of work in planning and executing the sophomore, freshmen class field day and the sophomore class day. The members are: Ron Anderson, Judy Aoyama, John Barker, Dudley Cate, Frankie Foley, Whit Hackstaff, Roy Hibdon, Linda Smith, Lynn Spell and Alice Urrutia.

Their cooperation and enthusiasm made my office not only a privilege but also a pleasure to work in. Each one of them is very dependable and a tremendous worker. My special thanks to the sophomore class committee and all those people who made this such a successful year.

Sincerely,
GARY BULLIS,

Military Awards Given at Inspection

Parents, faculty, students and friends looked on as over 500 military cadets passed in review during the 23rd annual Governor's Day ceremonies held in Mackay Stadium Tuesday.

Governor Grant Sawyer, Major General William Gillmore, Commanding General, XV United States Army Corps, and other distinguished guests were present to give honors to the most outstanding cadets of the University's ROTC brigade.

At 11:20 A.M. the colorful ceremonies began. After the brigade marched into formation, the drill team performed an exhibition. Following the drill team, the yellow helmeted cadet band played a march as 23 cadets received their awards.

The highest award, the Governor's Day medal, was presented by Governor Sawyer to Cadet Colonel Daniel B. A. Sobrio, for military excellence and devotion to duty.

The Presidents Medal, conferred by the University's President Charles J. Armstrong, went to Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Larry D. Gedney. This medal is awarded annually to the senior cadet who received the highest overall rating at the preceding annual ROTC summer camp. Gedney placed third, in the 1959 ROTC camps, out of some 1225 students from the west coast.

Superior cadet awards from the Department of the Army were presented by Major General William N. Gillmore to cadets in the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes who have displayed the most proficiency and leadership in both military and academic scholarship. The senior award was presented to Cadet Lt. Col. Richard H. Dow. Dow is president of the University of Nevada Cadet Officers. The junior award went to Cadet 2d Lieutenant Val D. York. The sophomore award was presented to Cadet First Sergeant David M. Quinn. The freshman award was presented to Cadet Paul A. Bible.

Recipient of the Quartermaster Association award was Cadet Lt.

Col. George V. Allison, Jr. The award which was presented by President Armstrong is awarded annually to the ten most outstanding General Military Science ROTC students in the United States.

The Society of American Military Engineers Gold Medal with key replica was awarded by the Society of American Military Engineers to Larry D. Gedney, one of the 20 most outstanding senior General Military Science ROTC cadets in the United States studying in the field of engineering. Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, president of the University, made the award.

The National Defense Transportation award, awarded by the National Defense Transportation association to the 20 most outstanding senior general military science ROTC cadets in the United States studying in a major field of concentration of particular interest to the Transportation Corps, was presented by President Charles J. Armstrong to Cadet Colonel Daniel B. A. Sobrio.

The Armed Forces Communications and Electronics association Gold Medal Honor award, which was awarded by the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics association was presented by Dean Howard B. Blodgett, of the college of engineering to Cadet Captain John M. Brown.

The United States Armor association award was presented by Robert C. Weems, Jr., dean of the College of Business Administration, to Cadet Captain Edward W. Petroni.

The Association of the United States Army ROTC medal which is awarded annually to the junior ROTC cadet who has maintained excellence in academic standings and who has contributed most in advancing the standing of the University's ROTC unit was presented to Cadet 2nd Lieutenant John H. Hunter, by Major General William N. Gillmore.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars from Local Post 9211, an annual award to the outstanding junior ROTC cadet for excellence in military bearing, leadership ability and scholarship achievement, was presented by Lou Lemaire, to Cadet 2nd Lieutenant Ralph G. Cameron.

The Kerak Temple awards which are given annually to the three best drilled freshmen ROTC cadets were presented by Tate Williams, past potentate of the Kerak Temple of the Shrine. The first place gold medal was awarded to Cadet Kim C. Waldo.

In addition, the name of Cadet Waldo is to be inscribed on a plaque presented to the University by the Kerak Temple of the Shrine. Awarded the second place silver medal was Cadet Paul R.

Sargent. The third place bronze medal was awarded to Cadet Michael W. Smith.

The Sons of the American Revolution ROTC medal awarded annually to the freshman ROTC cadet having outstanding knowledge of the U. S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights was presented by Dr. Olin Moulton, past surgeon general of the Sons of the American Revolution to Cadet Philip C. Ebert.

The American Legion Darrel Dunkle Post No. 1 trophy which is presented to the outgoing commander of the Sierra Guardsmen, a unit of the ROTC brigade, was awarded to Cadet 2nd Lt. Lawrence T. Sughrue. The presentation was made by Dr. John E. Martie, alternate national committeeman, Nevada Department of the American Legion.

For compiling the highest average score during the past competitive season as a member of the ROTC rifle team, Cadet 2nd Lt. John H. Hunter received the PMS&T trophy. The presentation was made by Lt. Colonel Charles E. Ronan, professor of military science and tactics, University of Nevada.

Named by the coach of the ROTC Rifle team as the underclass member who has contributed most to the spirit and leadership of the rifle team was Cadet Donald R. Arkell, recipient of the Kenneth E. Day award. The award, a $25 United States Savings bond, was presented to Arkell by Kenneth E. Day, Lt. Colonel, United States Army Reserve.

The National Rifle association bronze club member's medal was awarded to Cadet 2nd Lt. Ralph G. Cameron, for winning a one-time shoulder-to-shoulder match firing in the intercollegiate course for riflery. Brigadier General Jack La Grange, assistant adjutant general of the state of Nevada made the presentation.

The Reserve Officer's association plaque was awarded to Cadet First Sergeant Michael W. Hart, who was judged the best drilled sophomore ROTC cadet at the University. The presentation was made by Nelson B. Neff, colonel, United States Army Reserve.

Company D, commanded by Cadet Captain Edward W. Petroni, was awarded the McClure Revolving trophy. The trophy and streamer is awarded annually to the best drilled cadet company of the ROTC brigade. The trophy was presented by Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, president of the University.

Display to Be Shown At SU Building

Specimens of the smallest bird found in North America and one of the world's smallest mammals are being shown in the display case of the Student Union building.

Also on display are other unusual examples of creatures found within Nevada.

One example is the road runner, a bird no doubt made famous by the movie cartoon version which goes "Beep-Beep." It is rarely seen and has been known to run in speeds up to 40 miles an hour.

The display is by the courtesy of the biology department and Dr. Fred Ryser, associate professor of biology.

Undefeated Pack Tracksters Strong Far Western Conference Favorites

The undefeated University of Nevada tracksters go into the Far Western Conference championship track meet tonight and tomorrow in Chico in the role as a definite favorite based on a spectacular all-winning season in dual and triangular meets.

The Wolf Pack has been pointing to the FWC meet all season and have rolled to seven straight victories in two-way and three-way meets this season.

Coach Dink Dankworth's high-flying Silver and Blue have buried San Francisco State, College of the Pacific, Chico State, Idaho State, Oregon Tech, Sacramento State, the Cal Aggies and Humboldt State (twice) this year in sweeping to an unbeaten season.

The highly-impressive Nevada track record this season includes a record-breaking 126-25 triumph over the undermanned Cal Aggies.

The main competition in the FWC meet will come from Sacramento State. The Hornets took eight of 15 first places against Nevada here last month but still lost by 25 points.

Depth has provided a main weapon for the Wolf Pack forces this season. Nevada has finished one-two-three repeatedly in several events and on one occasion all three sprinters—Dick Strunk, Bob Challender and Joe Winchell—ran the century in 9.9 and under.

But the brightest spot in the track picture at Nevada is the fact that the team will lose only two seniors via graduation. Weightman Mario Lommori and broad-jumper Bob Burns will be the only two athletes from the present squad for the 1961 season.

The Wolf Pack finished the season in a blaze of glory last week with a resounding 97-38 victory over the defending FWC champion Humboldt State. The Lumberjacks had four defending FWC champions, but it wasn't enough to stop the steam-rolling track machine of Nevada.

The unbeaten Silver and Blue smashed three school records in the process of drubbing Humboldt State last Saturday.

Junior Bob Ritchie leaped to the longest broad jump ever recorded in Mackay Stadium with a record-breaking jump of 24-9½ in the broad jump. Ritchie's leap is among the top five made on the West Coast this year.

Freshman Doug Ketron, from San Anselmo, Calif., broke his own school record in two-mile when he toured the eight-lap course in 9:55. Ketron's old mark, which he set two weeks ago, was 9:58.

David Longacre, a junior college transfer, surpassed Dave Harris' school record in the pole vault when he soared over the bar at 13-8 but it was only good enough for second place behind Humboldt's Roger Biffle who went 14 feet. Biffle won the pole vault last year in the FWC meet.

Freshman Don Hunt turned in his best performance of the season last week by taking first place in the 120-yard high hurdles in the fine time of 14.9.

Other Wolf Pack standouts who rate good chances for first places in this week's FWC finale include speedster Dick Strunk who holds the school records in both the 100 (9.5) and the 220 (21.4), and miler Joe Eberle who has pushed his time down to the low 4:30's.

Rod Cook, who shattered the school record in the shot put last month; Lommori, who tossed the discus more than 150 feet last week which approached another school zenith, and Bruce Ward, who neared the school record in the 440-yard dash this season.

Scholarship Won By Miss Heward

Miss Barbara Heward, KAT, recently received word that she has won a Fulbright scholarship for foreign study.

Barbara was dazed with joy when she found out that she will do graduate work at the University of Manila in the Philippines. She will study political science during her one year stay on the island. She first will make a trip to Washington, D. C., for orientation and then will leave for the Philippines in July.

The Fulbright scholarships are granted only seniors with outstanding grades, activities and personality factors. The scholarship was set up through the Fulbright Act, which provides, among other things, money for outstanding students to do graduate work abroad in the country of their choice.

Barbara was also recently honored when she was initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and named as one of the outstanding senior women on campus.

Don't let yesterday use up too much of today.—Will Rogers.

It's what's up front that counts

You can reproduce the experiment. It's easy as  $\pi$ . (Yes, you can do it in the bathtub.) Assuming that you have first visited your friendly tobacconist, simply light your first Winston and smoke it. Reasoning backwards, the discovery proceeds as follows: first, you will notice a delightful flavor, in the class of fresh coffee or of bread baking. Obviously, such flavor cannot come from the filter. Therefore, it's what's up front that counts: Winston's Filter-Blend. The tobaccos are selected for flavor and mildness, then specially processed for filter smoking. This extra step is the real difference between Winston and all other filter cigarettes. Besides, it's why Winston is America's best-selling filter cigarette.

"Eureka! Winston tastes good... like a cigarette should!"

TIGHT KINNEAR TROPHY RACE BETWEEN ATO AND SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu holds a slight edge over second-place ATO in the overall standings in the race for the Kinnear Trophy, symbol of season prowess in intra-mural sports at the University.

The Snakes have a total of 340 points for the year and the Taus are close behind with 310. The Independents are third with 255 points.

However, if ATO wins baseball—the final sport now underway—the Taus would edge Sigma Nu for over first place in the point standings and the Kinnear trophy.

The Snakes can latch onto the Kinnear by either taking first spot in baseball or finishing in a tie for top spot.

Points are given in baseball in a 100 for first, 60 for second, forty for third, twenty for fourth, ten for fifth and five for sixth system.

If ATO wins baseball they will have a total of 410 points and Sigma Nu, who would then finish second in baseball, would complete the year with 400 points.

But if the Snakes take baseball they would clinch for Kinnear and even a tie would give it to the big White House on Ralston street 390 to 360 for ATO.

ATO has scored points by: second place in basketball (60), third place in track (40), first place in volleyball (60), third place in cross-country (60), third in bowling (20), fourth place in skiing (10), and a tie for first in softball (50).

Track, cross-country, and basketball are also rated 100-60-40-20-10 down the order of finish.

Softball, bowling, skiing and volleyball are given a rating of 60 points for first place, 40 points for second place, 20 points for third place, 10 points for fourth place and five points for fifth place.

Sigma Nu has scored points by: third place in basketball (40), second place in track (60), second place in volleyball (40), third place in cross-country (40), tie for first in bowling (50), first place in skiing (60), and a tie for first in softball (50).

The Independents trail the leaders but have shown the strongest showing in the main sports—basketball and track. The Independents swept to an undefeated season in basketball for first place and 100 points and handily won the track meet and 100 uoints.

But the Independents failed to score in the cross-country and skiing events, and finished below the leaders in softball, bowling and volleyball.

Try Cal Aggies Baseball Team to

By VAL VAN HOUCK

Nevada's baseball team will go after its first conference victory tomorrow in a double-header against the Cal Aggies at Davis, Calif.

The Aggies, also winless in the conference at 0-4, will try to keep the Wolf Pack from improving its 0-6 conference and 3-11 overall mark.

A possible trouble spot for the Silver and Blue has developed in the form of sore arms. Pitcher Myron Carpenter may not even make the trip, while fellow hurlers Rusty D'Anna, Tom Towle and Phil Bailey are also nursing sore arms.

Steady ball player Larry Lansford received an eye injury which may cause him to miss the Aggie games too. Lansford recently moved to third and has been impressive in both hitting and fielding.

Last Saturday Nevada took the short end of two games with the Sacramento State Hornets, 11-2 and 10-2.

In the first game, the Wolf Pack was never in the contest as the Hornet sluggers got to losing pitcher Myron Carpenter in the second inning and Nevada trailed by 10-0 before scoring. Phil Bailey and Jerry Schutz relieved in the losing cause.

Jim Whitaker got the Silver and Blue out in front 2-0 in the first inning by virtue of his fourth home run of the season, in the second game.

But Sac. State scored single runs in the second and third innings to knot the contest at 2-2 and the score remained tied until the seventh when the roof fell in on the tiring D'Anna.

Sacramento got eight runs in the last three innings off D'Anna and his reliever Shutz.

The Wolf Pack will lose senior catchers Jim Gardner and Bob Peck but have the rest of the 1960 club returning for the 1961 season, and will definitely be a conference threat next year.

Nevada Golfers At FWC Finals

Coach Dick Trachok's golf team will go into this weekend's Far Western Conference Championship Meet, on host school Chico State's links, with an underdog's role.

The Wolf Pack golfers' season left them in fourth place trailing first place Chico State, San Francisco State, and Sacramento State and leading the fifth spot Cal Aggies and Humboldt State.

The 36-hole championship match will include all FWC teams and will be played Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

On the traveling squad for Nevada will be Don Stoker, Tim Grant, Ken Emanuel, Ron Johnson, Dale Porter and Dudley Nicholls.

Stoker has led the Wolf Pack golf team this year, the husky junior from Winnemucca is the only upperclassman on the links team. Don is a consistent middle-seventy golfer and his last times out got a 75 and a 77.

Footballers Called

Football coach Dick Trachok has called an organizational meeting for hopeful candidates for next season's Wolf Pack football squad to meet in room 101 of the New Gym Monday (May 16) at 3 p.m. to fill out forms.

Journalism Prize Breakfast Sunday

The annual press club and journalism department awards breakfast will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Chuck Wagon, located in Sparks.

About 60 persons will be present. Awards will be presented to outstanding journalists in the department.

Six $25 awards and certificates will be presented to persons whose work was judged best in a photograph, advertisement, editorial, news story and feature story during the school year.

Initiation into Kappa Tau Alpha will also take place. KTA is the national society for honoring scholarship in journalism.

The $100 Joseph McDonald award will be presented to the journalist who is top in journalism scholarship.

The annual Sigma Delta Chi award will be presented also to a journalist who is high in scholarship.

The breakfast is being sponsored by two persons who want to share in the field of scholarship. Their names will be revealed at the breakfast.

Special guests will include Dean and Mrs. Ralph Irwin, dean of arts and sciences; and Vice-president and Mrs. William Wood.

"Beatnik" Talk Set

"The Angry Man and the Beatnik," will be discussed at a public lecture next Thursday and Friday in the education auditorium. The lecture, given by Dr. John Harvey, professor of English from North Staffordshire, England, will begin at 8 p.m.

The program is part of the Robert Lardin Fulton lecture foundation. Dr. Harvey is the author of several literary works, and has lectured world-wide.

International Group

Plans for reorganization into an international relations group will be discussed at the next meeting of the University's Model U. N. club, Sunday, May 15.

The club has as its purpose the studying of problems and procedures of the United Nations by a simulated experience.

WRA Honors Given Co-eds

Recreational awards were presented at the annual WRA spaghetti dinner to all living groups this week.

The revolving trophy for the highest average in bowling was awarded to the Independents who also walked off with the revolving-basketball trophy.

Individual trophies went to Layne Stephens in tennis; Nancy Sanders, badminton, and Cathy Tuminaro, bowling.

New memberships into Gothic N, an honorary women's organization were awarded to Sharon Teglia, Betty Edmondson, and Georgie Weaver. A lifetime membership to all athletic events at the University and a Gothic N blanket were also presented to the three.

Participation "point" winners were Georgie Weaver, Betty Edmondson, and Sharon Teglia, 1000 points, for which they received a gold cup and Norma Fenili with 750 points who received a silver cup.

Twelve women were each awarded bronze cups for an accumulation of 500 points. They were Kay Barnum, Carolyn Bell, Jan Clements, Karen Decker, Doris Fenili, Norma Fenili, Barbara Foltz, Lillian Mason, Wendy Rupp, Myra Thompson, Cathy Tuminaro, and Barbara Williams.

Pennants went to women with 250 points. They included Susan Becker, Robin Bohlman, Lois Chanslor, Doris Fenili, Sally Hinds, Linda Pearce, Penny Rigsbee, Joan Ruark, Wendy Rupp, Nancy Sanders, Lynn Spell, Linda Smith, Lyla Sprague, Layne Stephens, Cathy Tuminaro, Alice Urrutia.

Officers of WRA are Carolyn Bell, president; Bev Bean, vice-president; Jan Clements, secretary; Lois Chanslor, treasurer, and Dr. Jan Fleshin, faculty advisor.

Joan Ruark presided as mistress of ceremonies. The program was in charge of Linda Smith.

HAIR AND SHAKESPEARE 331 Essentials of Good Grooming Prof. Tonsorial

Introspective reading of the Bard's works to prove that grooming was a motivating factor. Close observation indicating that Shakespeare's heroines were disillusioned by bad grooming: Lady Macbeth by Macbeth's hair that went witchever way (alcohol tonics, obviously). Ophelia by Hamlet's "melancholy mane" (hair creams, no doubt). Classroom lecture on how to present the perfect image by grooming with 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic. Proof beyond an ibid of a doubt that you can use all the water you want with 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic. 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic replaces oil that water removes. Keeps hair neater longer and attracts the op. cit. sex as Romeo did Juliet.
