'59-'60 Campus Year Events Highlighted

By LORA LEONARD

The 1959-1960 school year is almost over. Finals start May 24 and the semester is officially over June 1. Many things have happened to make this academic year a memorable one.

The beginning of the fall semester started off with the A.W.S. Big and Little Sister "Get Together," Student Leadership Conference, and fraternity and sorority rushing. Something new was added to the end of September, Greek Week, and will be presented again in the coming year.

In the middle of October Homecoming came around again with assemblies, open houses, the rally, Wolves Frolic, the parade, and the Homecoming dance. The Homecoming queen was Julie Smith from Las Vegas.

The winning sorority skit was Delta Delta Delta's and the winning fraternity skit was by Alpha Tau Omega. The winning sorority and fraternity floats were Kappa Alpha Theta's and Sigma Alpha Epsilon's.

The sorority and fraternity Christmas formals helped to round out the 1959 year and add to the festive season.

Finals came at the end of January and students burned the midnight oil to pass the courses they hadn't studied for during the semester.

The spring semester started out with an all-school dance sponsored by the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. The University was busy getting ready for the VIII Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley.

The Olympic games ran from February 17 to 23. This was scheduled at the same time the University had a modified Winter Carnival. The Winter Carnival consisted of open houses and the Snowball dance. Students had tickets for the events.

At the beginning of March the A. W. S. elections were held and Diane Isola was elected the new president. Billie M. Morris was chosen vice president.

In April we had the ASUN elections and the campus was decked out with signs and slogans. Benny Echeverria was elected president. Del Loomis was elected women's senator at large and Jon Madson was elected men's senator at large. The new class officers were: John Heward, senior class president; Dave Quinn, junior class president; Tim Griffin, sophomore class president.

During this same election the revised constitution was accepted and so was the Student Judicial Council, following much controversy.

At the end of April the annual Mackay Day celebration started. The widely-known Dave Brubeck and his jazz quartet played for the assembly.

Renee Robertson was chosen Comic Rodeo queen and reigned over the rodeo and the dance. Beth Boyd was elected Mackay Day queen and reigned over the week-end festivities.

The winning song teams presented at the Mackay Day luncheon were Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

English Author Speech Tonight

"Angry Young Man,"
"Beat-nik Types,"
On Agenda

Dr. John Harvey, exchange professor from North Staffordshire, England, and noted critic, poet, author, and lecturer, will speak on "The Angry Young Man and the Beatnik" tonight at 8 p. m. in the Education auditorium.

The lecture is the last event sponsored by the lectures and assemblies committee for this semester.

This lecture is provided by the income from the Robert Lardin Fulton Lecture Foundation fund. The fund was established in 1924 by Mrs. Mary Bragg Fulton to bring a leader in science, art, literature, or public affairs to the campus.

Dr. Harvey lectured in several English classes yesterday morning, and was guest of honor at a luncheon during the noon hour. The luncheon was held in the Sparks Nugget.

At 3 p. m. yesterday, he spoke on "Critical Approaches to the Novel" at a lecture-coffee hour. The event was sponsored by the English club and the Jot Travis Student Union board.

Prof. Harvey is the editor of "Essays in Criticism", a British critical journal, the author of two books of poems, and various works on English literature. Two of his books, one on George Eliot and the other on "Macbeth", will be published this spring.

Dr. Charlton G. Laird, chairman of the committee which brought Dr. Harvey here, said, "Dr. Harvey is widely known on two continents as a sound scholar and a colorful personality. His talks have stirred up 'angry young men' wherever he has appeared. Whether or not he will move local beatniks, however, I do not know."

"DEAD WEEK"

Final examinations begin next Tuesday. Saturday and Monday have been officially declared as "Dead Week" by Dr. Charles Armstrong, University president.

The "Dead Week" was recommended to the president by the ASUN Senate at the close of last recommendation. "Dead Week" was not in effect last semester. The president scheduled weekday timing for the event hereafter.

Miss Nevada Title Sought By 3 Co-eds

Three University co-eds have entered the race for the 1960 Miss Nevada crown in June. The Miss Nevada Pageant, under the direction of the Soroptimist Club of Reno, will be held June 25 in the Reno High School auditorium.

Miss Marilyn Kotter, 18-year-old freshman, was the first University woman to enter the contest. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Vernon E. Kotter, 990 Whitaker Drive. Miss Kotter will play the organ for the Pageant and is majoring in foreign language. Her hobbies include sewing, swimming, and skiing.

Miss Kotter is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority and has reddish brown hair and blue eyes. She is five feet nine inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, and her measurements are 37-24-37.

Miss Sharon Sylvia Winter, 20-year-old sophomore, was the second woman announced as an entrant in the Miss Nevada Pageant. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess E. Winter of Sparks and is sponsored by the Soroptimist Club of Sparks.

Miss Winter is majoring in English and her minor is drama. Her sorority is Delta Delta Delta. Last fall she was chosen the "Best Dressed Co-ed" at the University by the Interfraternity Council. Her special talents include training in tap, ballet, and ballroom dancing; piano, and modeling.

She is five feet four inches tall, weighs 116 pounds, and her measurements are 34-23-34.

Nineteen-year-old Miss Sara Marilyn Cobby was the third University woman to become a contestant for the Miss Nevada contest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant O. Cobby of Gabbs, Nevada. The Riverside Hotel is her sponsor.

Miss Cobby's special talents include training in voice, tap and ballet dancing. She has also had instruction in speech and dramatics.

She is five feet six inches tall, weighs 130, and her measurements are 35-25-36.

She is majoring in English literature and she plans to study at the University through the graduate level.

She is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and was recently a member of their Mackay Day song team. Her hobbies are writing and cooking.

Union Proposal Defeated at Polls

By MARY ANN KERSTETTER

Student apathy at the polls Wednesday defeated a proposed revision to the Jot Travis Student Union constitution. Only 320 students out of a field of 2,151 eligible voters cast ballots.

Constitutional revision acceptance demanded a two-thirds majority "yes" vote. Votes registered were—191, yes; 129, no.

The majority of the 320 votes cast lacked eight per cent for acceptance.

Roger Christensen, new student union board president, and principal campaigner for the revisions acceptance, said, after the vote was tallied: "The small percentage of students that voted shows almost complete apathy in the student-body. I only hope that this lack of interest in the student union does not have any adverse affect on the Nevada state legislature's decision allocating $600,000 for the student union. More students voted in the "Playboy" contest than in this election."

The constitutional revisions called for a new fee-raise structure, allowing a student board of directors to raise union fees with the consent of the board of regents. Also, the student union board of directors would have been changed, placing seven students in command of financial and policy decisions for the union.

Christensen said before the election that the present constitution was inadequate to operate the student union.

"Being that we will still have to operate under the present inadequate constitution, we will attempt to propose another revision in the fall election," he said. More students should show interest in the union question at that time because of the student-body posts also being voted upon, he indicated.

"By voting down the constitutional revision," he continued, "the students are really hurting themselves. Through the proposed constitution, we would have had a chance to offer a wider program and more activities."

The present constitution, which will remain in effect, calls for a campus-representative board of directors consisting of ASUN officers, faculty representatives and members from each college. Also, under the present constitution, any fee-raise for the union would have to receive student-body consent.

Christensen indicated there will be positions on the present student union board for students showing interest in union operation next year.

Dr. Armstrong Praises Campus

President Says Students' Government Interest Is Now High

As the school year draws to a close President Charles J. Armstrong commented on several points of interest throughout the year.

The president said the building program will be "pretty well completed." However it will continue at a slower pace for some time.

Construction will begin on the new engineering-mines building in July. The building is to be built in 550 days and therefore should be finished early in 1962.

"The university expansion program will continue to move ahead."

There are areas not adequately served at present and attention will be focused on them in the future, the president said. He named such departments as the P. E. department, ROTC, and the College of Education as being in need of physical facilities.

Dr. Armstrong said that he favored the theory of a student court, but that it is a matter for the students own judgment. He believed the revisions made it more workable and that the change in name from student court to judicial council was more acceptable to the students.

The president said that it was "valuable for the Sagebrush to keep the students informed, regardless of the editorial stand made by the paper". He felt the Sagebrush kept issues alive and before the student body.

"It is important for the students' education to participate in student government."

Dr. Armstrong said of course he was sorry to see Dr. William R. Wood leave the University of Nevada, but that Dr. Wood will find a challenging and interesting job ahead of him. He is well qualified for the position as the President of the University of Alaska because of his experience here.

Blue Key Initiation Held

Blue Key, national honorary service organization, initiated 16 new members April 24.

Dr. Jerry Wulk was selected as advisor. New officers to Blue Key were also elected. They are: Al Pagni, president; Paul Bible, vice-president; Bob Armstrong, secretary-treasurer; Mat Rast, corresponding secretary.

The annual Blue Key project for this year is the painting of the tram. This will take place sometime today.

FINAL EDITION

This is the final edition for the Sagebrush for this year. Publication will resume in the fall, beginning the newspaper's 67th year on campus.

Donald A. O'Donnell will serve as editor. O'Donnell has selected several students to fill staff positions. An open letter naming sub-editors and outlining editorial policy for next year may be found on page two.

'Brush Editorial Comment

THE ASUN SENATE this year held active sessions and accomplished one major objective. It worked long hours revising the ASUN Constitution. It took an inadequate constitution and set of by-laws and reorganized them into a fairly intelligent and workable document.

HOWEVER, THE SENATE fell down on its responsibility in other areas of student government. The student court is a good example. The Senate did not investigate the court or the court's constitution. Finally, a sharp controversy arose, which led to the constitution's reworking. Then a special election was held to decide the fate of the court.

BUT, THE ELECTION was not the fruit of the Senate's efforts. The election was brought about after students took the initiative to petition the student government for an election. This initiative shown by the students was responsible for the reworking of the court, which made the court a better student institution.

RECENTLY, THE LATEST student union burglary took place. Perhaps next year the student senate will accept its responsibility to student affairs by appointing subcommittees to investigate the "seemingly impossible" burglaries, and the inadequate institutions which are found within the student structure.

SUCH AN ENDEAVOR could be started with a thorough investigation of the student union snack bar, especially in its financial aspects. Or, perhaps, a look inside of the expensive book store prices could be peeked at by the student legislators.

— THIRTY —

This final edition ends the opportunity I have had since last September to pen Sagebrush editorials. This news should be received as cheerful in some campus camps, ending, perhaps, the sometimes anguished moaning that nothing cheerful ever finds its way into this editorial column.

Last fall in an opening statement I explained what I considered to be a sound editorial policy for the Sagebrush. That policy, while being as complex as the newspaper publishing business, itself, boils down to the belief that a newspaper should give a fair, and as full as possible, report, and stand firm as a voice for the betterment of the community it serves. I have tried to uphold both of these aspects of newspapering.

It is my belief that the Sagebrush this year has written campus history as it happened into its report, and has spoken loud and clear on controversial issues. When controversial issues, or issues which should have been controversial, have faced the campus community this year, the question was studied, and a stand on the side which seemed best was taken by the newspaper. This was so because of the belief that a newspaper has this responsibility to its readers.

Because of controversy involving several campus issues this year, many more students took an interest in their student government, court, union, etc. And, because of the interest, these institutions were improved.

The Sagebrush has had many faults this year. No one is more aware of this fact than myself. Most of the faults were due to my own limitations. The job of editing the Sagebrush, however, was undertaken sincerely and seriously.

An editor's job is to make sure that the true story is put into accurate, readable prose, so as to inform the hurried reader what actually is taking place. Because part of the circumstances which human beings become involved in are of an unpleasant nature, part of an editor's job is unpleasant. This fact, I think, has always, and will always apply to Sagebrush editors.

I want to publicly acknowledge Western Printing and Publishing Company in Sparks, and its boss, Ted Marston, for the untiring effort extended to the Sagebrush. The printers can make or break any newspaper, and this shop proved to be one of our strongest assets.

Also, I want to acknowledge the students who helped me get this newspaper out each week — the editorial and business staff and the students who extended encouragement.

To wrap up this last column, I want to state again that part of the job of editing the Sagebrush was unpleasant, but it was always worthwhile.

The Hungry Eye

By MARLYN KOTTER

STUDY TIME: If you are all recovered from the large weekend just past, this is just a little reminder to get ready for the even bigger week to follow. So get to it, kiddies.

LIVING IT UP: The annual Phi Sigma Kappa Spring Formal was held May 13 at The Lancer. An excellent prime rib dinner was served followed by dancing until midnight. Music was provided by Foster Edward's band.

Among those enjoying the festivities were Norm Harper and Fern Hainling, Rich Gwynn and Keo Keeney, Fred Dugger and Georgia Teskey, Jerry Lusk and Elynor Cassinelli, Jerry McCord and Barbara Broer, John Barker and Brenda Barnes, Ralph Perry and Judy Jepson, Dave Hanna and Betty Perry, Danny Winter and Beth Boyd, and Alex Rynecki and Sigrít Morghen. Cupid was definitely in the area as the engagement of Phil Hebert to Carole Rivkin was announced, followed by the pinnings of Gray Poole to Judy Karens, Roger Robertson to Nancy Williamson, and Lynn Peterson to Linda Bost.

THE LAST ROSE: Word has it that the Sigma Nus made it a bang up at their "last" White Rose last Saturday night at Squaw Valley. Enjoying the Olympic site were Joanne Fike and Don Moore, John Madriaga and Olivia Forsythe, Jim Megquier and Barbara Heward, Doug Salter and Leanna Noble, Howie Ness and Val Van Nepes, Dave Wheeler and Eleanor Bonenfant, Lyle Damon and Karen Decker, John Brown and Judy Schneider, who was named White Rose Queen, Allan Zeme and Joy Vance, Don Dalton and Carol Richards, Jon Madsen and Ann Prida, John Kleppe and Elaine Pisciotta, Allan Gates and Betsy Ankers and Don Ritcher and Pat McAdam were serenaded as they announced their engagements. Art Hazeltine appointed himself as head of room check while playing detective.

THE STRAWBERRY MEN: SAE's helped make the weekend a 'really, really big one' when they hold their annual spring formal at Strawberry Lodge. Enjoying the scene were Bill Robertson and Barbara Coles, Don Pribble and Jerry Tyndall, Roger Brown and Gayle Beaman, Jim Gaumer and Donal Ruth Murphy, Tony Xavier and Linda Pearce, Bill Campbell and Jill Stratton, crowned SAE Sweetheart, Whit Hackstaff and Donna Albright, Stan Cothrin and Connie Lill, Jerry Jones and Norma Moller, Howie Chambers and Laura Leonard, Fred Shaft and Ellie Riesbeck, and Steve Heyer and Donna Sutton. Another queen was crowned as the Pygmies of SAE named Ann Scott, their queen. She was with Bill Adams. Many sunburns were enjoyed Sunday.

PLEASE SERVE THE STEAK: The hairy chested men added to the spring by holding their annual Spring Formal. Seen viewing the river out at Lawton's were Jack Murdock and Linda Dillon, Bob Speers and Donna Sanford, Tim Griffin and Linda Young, John Jellovich and Diane Moore, Gary Machabee and Bev Bean, Bill Bianchi and Pat White, Gary Bullis and Pam Rosasco, Dave Harris and Kim Miller, Dwight Weyant and Janice Pritchard, John Genasci and Julie Moore, Bob Weishaupt and Joann Pritchard, Ron Ball and Shirley Smith. The Tau's won the Kinnear trophy last Tuesday, by the way, because they were in shape for it from the "quiet picnic" they held Sunday. Enjoying the waters of Tahoe were Bob Shoemaker and Dyanne Hayes, Gene Mortara and Faun Dixon, and Rusty Westover and Joyce Stephens.

Our Readers Write

Upon taking office on May 15 to become your new ASUN president, I find myself faced with the responsibility of performing many tasks, both specific and general. Possibly the greatest of these tasks is my duty to represent you in all the areas of our association. On many college campuses the incoming president gives what is called "The State of the Campus Message" to the student-body-at-large at a special assembly called for this purpose. However, this is not part of our tradition here at the University of Nevada so I submit this letter to you for your inspection in the hope that it may enlighten you of the coming year.

Of primary importance to the immediate success of our student government next fall are the ASUN elections, November 5 and November 12. I ask you, please, to begin considering possible candidates for the two important positions of first and second vice-presidents. The people that you consider for each of these offices must have "a minimum number of hours required for upper-division junior standing by the college in which he is registered at the time he is elected to office," and a 2.2 overall grade point average.

In a recent meeting of the social calendar committee a big step was taken by the sophomore, junior and senior class presidents when they compromised their individual class days into a campus field day to be held October 29. This type of cooperation can not be praised too highly and I hope that it will set the stage for similar activities coordination, not only on our ASUN level, but also on the individual group level. Such cooperation is not only economical but it allows more time for the academics which many people feel are being cut short.

Next year will bring many new ideas into student government as is always the case when you elect new officers. The Student News Letter will be put into effect as soon as possible in the fall semester and it is hoped that it will serve as a means of communications between student body officers and committees and the student-body-at-large. Copies of the News Letter will also be distributed to the faculty and administration in an effort to inform them of student government and gain their support for its activities.

There are many other areas which I would like to consider here with you but space does not allow this. Office hours are observed from three to five every afternoon in the Student Union building. Please, come in and get acquainted by discussing any ideas or suggestions that you might have.

I would like to wish you all the best of luck on final exams and an enjoyable summer vacation. Congratulations to the graduating seniors and an invitation for everyone to attend commencement on June 6.

BENNY ECHEVERRIA,
ASUN President

Associated Students:

There has been some speculation on campus as to what next year's Sagebrush editor will effect in an editorial policy. To ease this speculation, I feel that a policy statement is warranted at this time. Also, I would like to briefly outline plans for the coming year.

The editorial policy of the Sagebrush will be to promote the interest and welfare of the individuals in the University student-body through publishing a maximum of information in objective news columns and a running commentary on University affairs and activities in editorials and personal columns.

In order to offer a comprehensive coverage of campus news, I have already selected a group of students who will serve as a nucleus for next year's staff. Those selected are Georgia Teskey, managing editor; Marilyn Kotter, activities editor; Kittie Kerr, feature editor; Mary Ann Kerstetter, political editor; Royce Feour, sports editor; and Diane Gordon, campus-news editor.

Through a comprehensive coverage of senate and other student government meetings, the Sagebrush will continue to offer a full picture of student government to its readers. It is my hope that readers will air their views on Sagebrush policies and general University activities through writing letters to the editor.

The overall aim of the Sagebrush will be to serve the students in the most effective manner possible. Sometimes this will involve special news coverage, and sometimes it will involve forthright editorial comment. But the Sagebrush will definitely not ignore important campus issues and problems.

Dr. Kenneth Young to Assume Nevada Duties on July 1

University of Nevada's new executive vice president — Dr. Kenneth E. Young — will assume his duties in the institutions revamped administrative organization on July 1.

Dr. Young, whose appointment was recommended by President Charles J. Armstrong and approved by the board of regents, is now completing post-doctoral study as a Fellow at University of Michigan's Center for Study of Higher Education. Prior to his fellowship selection, he was dean of faculty at the University of Alaska.

President Armstrong has announced that the new executive vice president will assume general responsibility for internal administration of the University. He will serve as chairman of the administrative committee. Meanwhile, President Armstrong will move into more direct contact with the academic program and selection of personnel. He will serve as chairman of the academic deans committee, which is a coordinating administrative committee on academic programs and personnel.

POST DISSOLVED

The post of academic vice president, now filled by Dr. William R.

Wood, will be dissolved as of July 1. Dr. Wood was recently named to the presidency of the University of Alaska.

In his new capacity, Dr. Young will supervise the office of admissions and register, student affairs, library, academic schedule and calendar, audio-visual services, central stenographic services, institutional studies, and space allocation. He will also have general supervision of mechanics of the academic program and cooperate with the president's office in the development program.

Before his appointment in 1957 as dean of faculty at University of Alaska, Dr. Young was acting dean of arts and science and associate professor at California State Polytechnic College in San Dimas. He also served for two years as director of public relations at the same institution.

His previous posts were as instructor in English and journalism at California Polytechnic, director of journalism at San Francisco State College, and information and education instructor for the Army Air Corps at McClellan Field in Sacramento, Calif.

SOX MEMBER

He is a member of such professional organizations as Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity; Phi Delta Kappa, professional education fraternity; National Society for the Study of Education, Association for Higher Education, and the American Association of University Professors.

His doctor of philosophy degree in higher education and administration was from Stanford University. His master's degree was in journalism and social science, also from Stanford. He received a bachelor's degree with honors and a major in journalism at San Francisco State College.

Psychology Department Awarded Grant for Mental Health Study

The psychology department of the university has been awarded $79,000 by the National Institute of Mental Health. The award is extended for a three-year program of research in social psychology.

The program will be under the joint direction of Dr. Paul F. Secord, chairman of the department of psychology, sociology and anthropology, and Dr. Carl W. Backman, associate professor of sociology.

Research grant awards made by the National Institute of Mental Health are on a competitive basis.

The prospective grantee is required to prepare an extensive proposal outlining his research program.

The research proposed by Drs. Secord and Backman concerns "Interpersonal Factors in Change". The theory developed by the doctors gives a systematic explanation of the reasons why a person remains the kind of person he is over a long period of time, and the reasons why he sometimes changes into a quite different person.

When fully developed their theory would have important ideas for an understanding of the process by which the child progresses from infancy to adulthood.

Funds from the grant will be used to place Drs. Secord and Backman on half time research during the academic year and will provide for two months of full-time research during the summer months. The remaining part of the budget calls for assistant help and miscellaneous costs.

This is the fourth award received by the department of psychology, sociology, and anthropology during the past few years.

Student Leaders Meet At University of Arizona

Three students attended the annual Pacific Student Presidents' Association convention, held last weekend at the University of Arizona in Tucson. They are Benny Echeverria, ASUN president; Diana Isola, AWS president, and Lynn Walsh, senator-at-large.

The convention was attended by about two hundred people, with 15 western states and 77 school represented.

Keynote speaker for the convention was Dr. Bernard Hyink, professor of political science at the University of Southern California. Dr. Hyink spoke on "Youth and Our Democracy."

The delegates to PSPA are meant to represent their own schools, and make contacts with the delegates from other schools, sagebrush — pan hel — misc . . .

Panhellenic council president, Theresa McQuire, has announced rushing procedures for next semester.

Women now attending the university who wish to go through formal rush next semester are to sign up in the Dean of Women's office before this semester ends.

Women who do not decide until the summer, are to send their names and addresses to the Panhellenic president before school opens. Her address is 615 Riverside Drive, Reno.

All women who plan to rush must have at least a 2.2 over-all average. They must also be carrying at least 12 credit hours at the time of rushing.

University Theater Doors Scheduled to Open Soon

The new University of Nevada theatre plans to open the doors to its first production in October. The theatre is located in the new fine arts building.

Students, faculty and staff of the university who were interested in any way with the production of the first play discussed plans at a recent meeting.

Persons who could act, stage manage, build props, take care of the lighting, paint, makeup, publicize, take tickets, or usher were present.

Reorganizing of the Campus Players was also discussed.

and to discuss problems arising in student government.

Delegates attended discussion groups on a variety of subjects, including such things as "national and international problems in relation to student governments," "Relations between the president and the editor, and between the president and the administration," "Student judiciaries," and "Student apathy and how to combat it."

Employment Sked Summer Months

Lifeguards, trampoline specialists, motel mail-clerks and caretakers are just a few of the summertime jobs available to students through the student employment service.

Located in Ross hall, the office has listings for both men and women, part and full time summer work.

The complete list of jobs, including draftsmen, drivers, dishwashers, stenographers, typists, hostesses and housekeepers and others, may be seen at the office or posted on campus bulletin boards.

According to Dr. Jack Shirley, service director, students already on file for semester part-time work must notify the office for summer job applications.

The service has placed 1,019 students into part time jobs since it was started last summer. To keep the operation moving, the office has had to make more than 2,200 employer contacts throughout the year.

Dr. Shirley has made 2,100 personal employment interviews with students for the 1,201 jobs listed with the office. Girls received the short end of the figure, with two out of every three jobs being for men.

Almost one third of the student body filed for jobs, with the service placing of 84% of the applicants.

Nevada Student Given Honors

For the sixth consecutive year a student from the Mackay School of Mines, University of Nevada, has been one of a small group selected nationally among student engineers to receive the Society of American Military Engineers award as an outstanding senior Military Science ROTC cadet.

The Society of American Military Engineers Gold Medal with Key Replica was presented to Cadet Lt. Colonel Larry D. Gedney by Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, President of the University of Nevada, at Governor's Day ceremonies held last week at Mackay Stadium. Gedney graduates in June as a geological engineer from the Mackay School of Mines.

Each year the American Society of Military Engineers selects twenty junior and twenty senior engineering students from university ROTC units across the nation to receive its award of recognition.

The six-year string was begun in 1955 with the selection of Charles Mosser Taylor, then a junior in mining engineering, from an even more limited total group of twenty juniors and seniors chosen from across the country. Taylor was again named in his senior year.

In 1957 Maxwell K. Botz, a senior in geological engineering, won the award, followed in 1958 by Robert Burns Morrill, a junior in mining engineering. Morrill also repeated his win as a senior the following year.

This year's winner of the Military Engineers medal, Cadet Lt. Col. Gedney, was doubly honored in the Governor's Day ceremonies. As the senior cadet with the highest overall rating at the preceding annual ROTC camp, he was also awarded the President's Medal by Dr. Armstrong, who made both presentations before assembled State and military officials.

GOLDEN REUNION

Students who graduated from the University of Nevada from 1889 to 1916 will hold a golden reunion on campus June 5. More than 200 grads from this period have been invited.

Last June the class of 1910 was honored. This year all graduates up to the class of 1910 will be asked to come. This is the second annual golden reunion on the Reno campus.

The alumni will make a tour of the campus and have a luncheon at the University dining hall. They are invited to attend a reception in Joe Travis Student Union building following the baccalaureate services, honoring the new graduates.

Phi Kappa Phi Holds Initiation

University of Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, initiated 28 students and one faculty member at ceremonies held Thursday, April 28, in the Jot Travis Student Union building.

New members include: junior students: Robert Berry, Boyce Burge, both of Sparks, and Brenda Higley, Reno.

Senior students: John Connor, William Vannoy, Joanne Kuttler, Bobbie Jenkins, Barbara Swart, Janis McDonald, Irmalee Gray and Betty Hoe, all of Reno; Theodore Moore and Barbara Heward, both of Winnemucca; Dominek Pieretti, Carlin; Jeanne Chretien, Jean Rivkin, DeArmond Sharp, of Las Vegas; Ralph Bradley, North Las Vegas; Nancy Petrini, Raymond Caccarelli, and Carol Christiansen, of Sparks; William Dolan, Babbitt; Josephine Grieder, Menlo Park, Calif.; Belinda Adams, Alhambra, Calif.; Richard Hughes, Potter Valley, Calif.; Robert Smith, Yuba City, Calif.; Donald Orton, Oklahoma City, Okla., and John Rhodes, Hickory, North Carolina.

Faculty: Dr. Robert McQueen, assistant professor of psychology, sociology and anthropology.

Nine newly-elected members were unable to be present for the initiation ceremony. These included: Joseph Houle, Karen Petroni, Paul Freedman, of Reno; Sharon Stiff, Lovelock; Beatrice Smith, Las Vegas; Maynard Yasmer, Sparks; graduate student Phillip Plant, Knoxville, Tenn.; and faculty members Dr. Benjamin Wofford, associate professor of business administration, and Dr. Carl Backman, assistant professor of psychology, sociology, and anthropology.

CONOVER NAMED TO FILL POST

Theodore E. Conover, of Centerville, Ohio, has been named by the University's board of regents to fill the vacancy that will be left by this year's visiting professor of journalism, Robin Hood.

Conover, 38, has owned, edited, and published three different weeklies. He was also the managing editor of the Celina Daily Standard in Ohio.

The W. W. II veteran attended Ohio University, received his master's degree at Ohio State, and has studied at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Rhode Island State. He and his wife and their three children will arrive in Reno in mid-summer.

Professor Hood will move to Phoenix, where he and his wife are building another home in addition to one they own at Boulder, Colorado.

He was a newspaperman and public relations man, has taught from time to time at various universities and has published a string of weekly newspapers including the largest weekly in Oklahoma.

Commenting on his year here, Professor Hood said, "It's been a grand year, at a good school, in a good climate."

Lane, Bliss Both Win In First Round Olympic Boxing Tourney

By ROYCE FEOUR

University of Nevada boxers Joe Bliss and Mills Lane both picked up impressive victories in the first round of the Final Olympic Boxing Tryouts Wednesday at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

Both Bliss and Lane advanced into the semi-final round last night but their results were unavailable at Sagebrush press time.

Lane and Bliss both dumped All-Navy champions to move into the semi-finals of the United States Olympic boxing team tryouts for the summer games in Rome. The champions in each of the ten weight divisions qualify for the U.S. team for the summer Olympics.

Bliss, the 1959 NCAA 139-pound champion, notched a technical knockout over Navy champion John Dixon in the third round Wednesday night.

Bliss unleashed a furious body attack against Dixon in the second and third rounds to stop the Fort Mill, S. C., fighter.

Bliss, who entered the Olympic tournament when NCAA champion Brown McGhee of Wisconsin dropped out, floored Dixon for an eight count in the second round.

Lane, who won the NCAA 147-pound title last month, battled to a decision over Navy champ Victor Lopez. Lane used his potent left uppercut and battered Lopez at close quarters to chalk up the decision.

Popular Terry Smith of Sacramento State lost his second chance during his career to gain a berth on the U.S. Olympic team after gaining his way into the finals.

Smith suffered a cut eye in the second round of his bout against Air Force champion Tom Davis, and officials stopped the fight and declared Davis the winner by a TKO.

Bliss met highly-regarded Brian O'Shea, the national AAU champion, in last night's 132-pound semi-final bout. Lane took on another National AAU title-holder, Phil Baldwin, in the semi-final round of the welterweight division last night.

Wolf Pack boxing coach Jimmie Olivas is in the corner of both Lane and Bliss at the Cow Palace. Olivas trained both fighters and declared them in "top physical condition."

Eighty fighters in ten weight divisions represent champions from the NCAA tournament, AAU finals, Western regionals, Eastern regionals, Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine championships in the final Olympic tryouts.

OLYMPIC HOPEFULS—Nevada boxers Joe Bliss and Mills Lane both took first round victories in the final United States Olympic boxing tryouts in San Francisco over All-Navy champions. The ten winners in the respective weight divisions will earn a spot on the U.S. Olympic boxing team for the summer games in August.

TAUS Beat Sigma Nu In Baseball for Kinnear Win

Alpha Tau Omega won this year's intramural sports championship and the Kinnear Trophy by taking first place in baseball to edge runner-up Sigma Nu in the season race for point total honors for intramural sports.

ATO's first-place effort in baseball gave the Tau's 100 points for an overall high total of 410 points. The Snakes had to settle for a tie for second place in baseball with the Independents and wound up close behind the Tau's with 390 points.

The victory in the season intramural sports championship means that ATO will take possession of the coveted Kinnear Trophy for all of next year.

This year, ATO and Sigma Nu each held the Kinnear Trophy for one semester since the two houses tied for the overall point championship last year.

The Independents took third place for the season with 305 points, including an undefeated first-place finish in basketball and a resounding first-place effort in track.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon nailed down fourth spot with a season total of 202.5 points. Phi Sigma Kappa finished fifth with 100 points, including a first place in the Cross-Country race on Homecoming.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was sixth in the final point standings with 30 points, and Lambda Chi Alpha brought up the rear with 17.5 points.

Faculty Party Scheduled Next Week at Idlewild

The faculty will have a party next week at the California building in Idlewild Park. There will be a chicken barbecue and card games Saturday, May 21, from 5:30 to 11 p.m.

Pack Baseballers Meet Humboldt St.

University of Nevada's baseball team won its first conference games last weekend as they took a Far Western Conference double-header from the California Aggies, 2-1 and 12-1.

The double win gave the Nevadans a 2-6 FWC mark and an overall record of 5-11.

The Wolf Pack will end its 1960 season tomorrow at Arcata, Calif., when they take on the Humboldt State Lumberjacks in another twin-bill.

Saturday, the Wolf Pack, behind the eight-hit pitching of Rusty D'Anna, took the daylight opener, 2-1. The Aggies had a rally erased in the seventh and final frame when shortstop Martyn Summerbell tossed to first-sacker Bob Fisher for a game-ending double play.

Left-fielder Jim Whitaker led the Nevada attack with a perfect 3 for 3 at the plate. D'Anna looked sharp as he struck out seven men and walked three to gain his first victory of the current season in conference play.

In the second game, Whitaker and Bob Shoemaker added some consistent hitting to the nifty six-hit pitching of Tom Towle to give the visiting Wolf Pack an undisputed 12-1 victory.

Nevada exploded for seven runs in the fifth and added two more in the remaining frames.

Nevada pounded out 15 base hits; Shoemaker getting four of these and Peck, York and Whitaker each collecting two apiece. For both games, Whitaker had five hits in seven times at the plate to add to his already team-leading average.

16 On All-Star Intramural Team

Alpha Tau Omega and the Independents dominated the 16-player intramural all-star baseball team chosen yesterday by the Sagebrush sports department.

The Independents and ATO each placed four players on the first annual Sagebrush all-star team. Three players were picked from Sigma Nu. Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Epsilon each received two men on the squad.

One player was chosen from Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The 1960 Sagebrush all-star intramural baseball team:

Alpha Tau Omega — Wally Johnson, infield; Phil Bailey, pitcher; Jerry Kirk, outfield, and Bud Weaver, catcher.

Independents — Frank Guisti, pitcher; Gordy Lemich, catcher; George Leavitt, pitcher-third base, and Paul Kautz, infield.

Sigma Nu — Mike Paradis, infield; Bill Jones, outfield, and Garcia, outfield.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon — Don Leahey, utility, and Ron Broderdorf, utility.

Phi Sigma Kappa—Jerry Lusk, pitcher-outfield, and Dean Stone, outfield-pitcher.

Sigma Phi Epsilon — Don Logerwell, first base.

Aggies Discuss Plans

The Aggie Club discussed plans for next year at its last meeting.

The Aggies will meet again to elect officers.

Tentative plans call for an intercollegiate rodeo in the fall semester. The Aggie club will invite rodeo teams from the West to attend. Events for campus living groups are also scheduled.

Movies of the Cal Poly rodeo held earlier this year were shown at the meeting.

Wolf Pack Take FWC Track Title; Eight Enter NCAA Regionals

By VAL VAN HOUCK

The Wolf Pack will send eight outstanding performers to Chico tomorrow for the NCAA college regional championships after record-breaking efforts skyrocketed the University of Nevada track team to the 1960 Far Western Conference title last weekend.

Coach Dick Dankworth's Silver and Blue ran up 75½ points, 33 1/6 higher than runner up San Francisco State, to top the great undefeated track season.

Record-smashing was the order of the day, as 10 marks fell and one was tied, with Nevada men collecting three of the new records and the tie. With three clocks on each man five more school zeniths were set.

Freshman Doug Ketron blazed on the last lap to overtake Sacramento State's Joe Ramirez and win in 9:37 time in the two-mile race for a FWC record.

Bob Challender set another conference mark in winning the 180-yard low hurdles in 23.3 seconds. Challender also got a third in the 100 and ran a fast relay lap.

Bob Ritche's jump of 23 feet 10½ inches was almost a foot short of his Nevada record of 24-9—but was good enough for a new FWC mark, and ran a fourth place 9.9 100-yard dash.

The swift Dick Strunk tied the conference time in the 100 dash, with a 9.7 run. The busy Strunk also placed second in the 220 and ran on the mile relay team.

Senior Mike Lommori captured first place in the discus with a toss of 145-10 and collected a fourth in the shot put.

The new Nevada school marks set were: Joe Eberle's 4:23.9 mile run; frosh Tom Case's 1:59.2 880-yard run.

Don Hunt's fine 18.8 time in the high hurdles; Bruce Ward's (Friday night trials) 49.2 quarter mile and the mile relay (Winchell, Challender, Strunk, Ward) teams fast 3:21.5 tour, all will now hold new school records.

Bob Jones, graduate assistant in track, will go with the Pack entrants in tomorrow's NCAA action, Coach Dankworth will stay behind to direct the state high school meet Saturday afternoon at Mackay stadium.

Jones, who aided in shaping the track team this year, will move to Lassen high school to become head track coach next season.

Competing for Nevada in the NCAA meet: Dick Strunk in the 100 and the 220 yard dashes; Challender in the 100 and the low hurdles and Ward in the 440 meter hurdles.

Lommori and Ritche are entered in the hop-step-jump event plus the discus and broad jump respectfully.

Rod Cook will enter the shot put and the discus while his brother Tom will try the hammer-throw. Dave Longacre goes in the pole vault to round Nevada's NCAA hopefuls.

Improved Shot Put Area for Prep Meet

The shot-put area in Mackay Stadium has a complete redecorating job.

The grass which surrounded the pit on two sides has been removed. A new drain pipe was placed on the north side along side the track. The surface has been leveled.

All is ready for the annual State High School track meet tomorrow.

The grass area did not properly drain water from the concrete where the ring is located.

With the natural arc the shot-put is thrown in, according to Floyd L. Edsall, assistant professor of physical education, the ball sometimes landed in the grass. This cut out possibility of counting outside throws as official records.

The area is now approximately 50 feet wide and long enough for throws up to 60 and 65 feet.

Work was completed on Wednesday.

When You Buy, Tell Them You Are a UN Student

RECORD-BREAKER—Bob Ritche goes into the NCAA college regional championships at Chico Saturday night. His leap of 24-9 is one of the longest in the United States this year.

Bailey Hurls ATO to Title

Phil Bailey hurled a brilliant no-hit shutout as Alpha Tau Omega blanked Sigma Nu 3-0 to complete an undefeated season for first place in the intramural baseball league.

The victory enabled ATO to win the Kinnear trophy, nudging Sigma Nu, on the basis of the 100 points for first place in baseball. (See separate story.)

Bailey was untouchable as he struck out 13 batters, including the first nine men to the plate, en route to his no-hit shutout. Only one man reached base against Bailey and that was a walk in the final inning.

The Taus rolled to six straight victories in taking the baseball title.

The Independents and Sigma Nu finished a tie for second place in baseball with 4-2 records. Sigma Alpha Epsilon took fourth spot with a 3-3 mark, and Phi Sigma Kappa finished in fifth place with a 2-4 record.

Lambda Chi Alpha in sixth with a 1-5 mark and Sigma Phi Epsilon in last place with six straight losses trailed far behind the leaders.

Remember how great cigarettes used to taste?

Luckies still do.

When the class of '50 comes back for reunion this year—you'll see a lot of Lucky Strike smokers. Reason is, these graduates know how a cigarette is supposed to taste.

They still smoke Luckies.

They've seen a lot of changes in smoking since they left college. But they haven't found anything that beats fine tobacco—or anything that comes close to that Lucky Strike taste.

And funny thing! The Class of '60 seems to have made the same discovery about Lucky Strike. Today, Luckies are the best-selling regular cigarette in colleges throughout the country!

So, if you remember how great cigarettes used to taste, you'll find that Luckies still do.

Journalism Awards Given Outstanding Students Here

Cash awards totaling $225 were awarded to five students at the annual journalism department breakfast last Sunday. Three other students were honored in other ways, and the new slate of Press club officers was announced.

Warren Lerude received the $100 Joseph F. McDonald scholarship, donated by the Nevada Beer Wholesalers association.

Five $25 awards were given for journalistic achievement in five fields. Raymond Foster won the check for the best news picture of the year. The check for the best advertisement of the year went to William "Ty" Tyson. Diane Gordon was the winner of two awards, one for the best news story and another for the best editorial. The best feature story of the year was written by John A. White.

All the material turned in for judging was done as part of class work in the journalism department. The money for the cash awards came from the Kennecott Copper Corporation discretionary fund in Journalism. The contest judges were professionals in their fields.

Douglas Buchanan was the winner of the Time Magazine news knowledge award, a set of books.

The Sigma Delta Chi scholarship award went to Dewey Ber scheid.

Professor Robin Hood, journalism professor, was initiated into Kappa Tau Alpha, a fraternity honoring scholarship in journalism.

Movie Schedule Big Next Year

Are you the type who likes a movie which makes you think of the type who goes for a laugh?

The Jot Travis Student Union in conjunction with the drama department, aims to please you. It has tentatively scheduled a "thinking man's" movie series and a weekend series once a month for the less serious films.

Other plans include the King stan Trio for Homecoming, a lecture from Eleanor Roosevelt, and perhaps Loui Prima for Mackay Day next year.

The extended patio will be completed for next semester and several patio dances scheduled. The new dining hall also will be used for dances.

The probable schedule of movies for next year is: October 20, The Long Voyage Home; November 10, Mr. Smith Goes to Washington; December 15, Citizen Kane; January 5, Lost Boundaries; February 9, Death of a Salesman; February 23, A Night at the Opera; March 16, Namook of the North; April 13, On the Waterfront; April 27, Ox Bow Incident; May 18, The Quiet One.

The films will be shown in the new auditorium in the fine arts building. The student union board is trying to buy a cinemascope screen to be used in the education auditorium.

for next year. They are Kittie Kerr, president; Thomas Kinsey, vice-president; Dyanne Hayes, secretary; and Lora Leonard, treasurer.

The cost of the breakfast to students present was underwritten by Mrs. Stella Biesbeck, journalism student, assisted by the Kennecott copper fund.

Among those attending were Dean and Mrs. William Wood Dean and Mrs. Ralph Irwin, the entire journalism faculty, and the students majoring or minoring in journalism.

The journalism department breakfast is held every year to honor outstanding students. This was the first year the achievement certificates have been accompanied by checks.

The breakfast was held at the Chuck Wagon, in Sparks.
