Primaries Ruled Invalid

Petition Starts Today

The peril to life and limb at "death's crossing" might finally be on its way out. Legal advice was sought Wednesday by Paul Bible and ASUN President Benny Echeverria on a petition to be circulated among the student body requesting a traffic light for the intersection of Ninth and North Virginia streets.

Cause for the action from the University students came from a traffic death last Thursday evening on the dangerous corner.

The petition will be sent to the Reno city council, the state highway engineer, and to Nevada Governor Grant Sawyer, according to Echeverria.

President Echeverria planned to have the petition ready for signatures today. He said that it will continue to be circulated next week and will be available for signatures at the ballot boxes during Wednesday's elections.

'200 Plus' Students Planned for SF Trip

The "Dutch Treat Special," a caravan of chartered buses will leave Reno at 8:00 a.m. on Saturday, October 22, to carry rooters to San Francisco to attend the afternoon San Francisco State-Nevada football game. The trip, sponsored by the Student Union, is open to all students for the price of $8.50 round trip. A free box lunch will be provided, according to Roger Christensen, chairman of the Student Union board.

Reservations must be made and money paid before 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday, October 18. This may be done in the Student Services office of the Student Union, room 112, at any time prior to the deadline.

Christensen states, "We expect between 200 and 300 students to participate on this trip. This will mean we will probably take a minimum of five buses."

Tentative plans include transporting the students to the Student Union facilities on the Berkeley campus after the game for dinner and free time until the buses leave for Reno at 7:30 p.m. The buses will reach Reno before the special women's hours of 2:00 a.m. Two chaperones will accompany the group.

Every girl taking the trip must have a parent permit on file with her campus living group, or if she is a town girl this must be on file in the Dean of Women's Office. This form may be obtained from Dean Elaine Mobley.

Item one, stating that the girl has permission to take "out-of-town trips which do not involve being away over night," must be checked. The form must be signed by the girl's parent or guardian. These must be on file either in the living groups or with Dean Mobley before noon on Monday, October 17.

Also traveling to San Francisco to boost school spirit, will be 44 members of the university marching band.

President Truman To Speak At UN In Late October

Former United States President Harry S. Truman is tentatively scheduled for a Friday, October 28 speaking date on the university campus.

According to Roger Christensen, student union board president, Truman will definitely be in Reno on the 28th. He will speak at the university said Christensen, only if a Republican of comparative stature can be found to also speak on campus. Henry Cabot Lodge, GOP vice-presidential candidate, and New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller were named as possible Republican speakers.

Frank Shattuck, assistant to Nevada Governor Grant Sawyer, told Christensen of the former president's coming appearance yesterday morning.

Christensen notified the Sagebrush late yesterday afternoon.

The Student Union will sponsor the political talk. Christensen said the speech will be given on the campus, but no definite spot has been picked. Possible spots for the talks include the football stadium, the new gym, or the lawn area in front of the student union.

A reception line is being considered to allow as many persons as possible to meet Truman.

Approval Awaited

Both Echeverria and Dean of Student Affairs Samuel M. Basta were waiting Wednesday afternoon for a nod of approval on the traffic light from Glen Smoot, traffic engineer. Smoot reported that discussion on the light was still tied up on the state level. Bible and the ASUN president then went into action.

Because North Virginia is both a city street and a state highway, approval is needed from authorities at both levels. The state highway authorities require three weeks to get approval from the bureau of roads on the traffic light.

Action began September 6 at the leadership conference held at Lake Tahoe. At that time Reno Mayor Bud Baker was present and asked for suggestions from the assembled students for improving the city of Reno. Dean Basta brought up the subject of the intersection, stressing the danger to students as a result of high speed traffic on Virginia street.

On September 22 Mayor Baker sent the following memorandum to Glen Smoot:

"Once again I would like to make a request from the state for a traffic light at Ninth and Virginia streets. As I stated before, I believe that the biggest objection they had was ice on the hill and the possibility that trucks might not be able to stop for the light. However, as I stated, I think that a caution light could be put half a block away to show these trucks they should slow down. As you know, this is a very dangerous corner and we have many college students walking across there. We should do something if at all possible to alleviate this condition."

Legal Advice

The A.S.U.N. office received legal advice when Mr. Smoot was not able to supply the University with a definite answer after the three-week duration.

Irregularities In Primaries Force A Re-vote Next Week

What should have been a normal primary election Wednesday turned into complete chaos in the Student Union, resulting in the Senate's decision for a revote on all candidates, scheduled for next Wednesday.

The Senate passed their unanimous decision to restage the primary election after hearing complaints from students that Wednesday's election was unorganized to the point of being illegitimate.

At Wednesday night's Senate meeting, A.S.U.N. president Ben Echeverria pointed out some of the problems which added to the complete upheaval in the primary race.

The lack of lists from the registrar's office giving class and college status of every student on campus was the major problem, and Echeverria stated that no election will be conducted without these lists. Without the lists, some students were able to vote for senators from colleges other than their own. The honor system was definitely not in effect during voting hours.

Voting machines previously in use during A.S.U.N. elections were not available, the election board committee resorted to the use of mimeographed ballots. During the rush hours between class breaks, many students either failed to see or were not informed to use the voting booths and marked their ballots with pencils or pens instead. Legally, none of the ballots not marked with a rubber stamp could be counted.

It was also reported to various student leaders that voters were seen stuffing the ballot boxes by taking more forms than those to which they were entitled.

Mid-way through the election Wednesday it was discovered that one candidate's name had been left off the ballot for freshman class president.

Freshman men were seen with ballots for freshman A.W.S. representative in their hands, and many of the freshman women were not given ballots to vote for freshman class president.

Echeverria further stated that this election was staged in advance of those in previous years, thus putting a good deal of pressure on all people involved in its planning.

The A.S.U.N. president appointed Jim Megquire coordinator for the ensuing year's elections.

Senate passed the proposal to stage another primary election October 12 on the condition that the class and college lists are received by that date. If not, the election will be postponed until they are available.

Barring no delay, general elections will be staged Friday, October 14. Candidates not eliminated in the primaries will give their views Thursday, October 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the new gymnasium.

Nominees are running for the offices of senators from the seven colleges, A.S.U.N. first and second vice-presidents, A.W.S. vice-president and freshman representative, and freshman class president.

Candidates from the College of Arts and Sciences, which will be represented by four senators this year, are Lois Chanslor, S. Garrett, Howard Chambers, Steve Heyer, Harry Walters, Carol Smith, Carol Pennock, Elynor Cassinelli, Pat Clary and Shirley Smith.

Two University Students Die in Crash

Two University of Nevada athletes were killed Monday night in a head-on automobile, truck crash near Wadsworth on U. S. Highway 40. Richard J. Fransway, Jr., and John G. Murdock, Jr., both 19-year-old sophomores from Winnemucca, died when the auto in which they were riding crashed head-on into a large cattle truck and trailer.

Injured in the crash were Don Smallwood, driver of the truck, address unknown, and four Sparks residents whose auto crashed into the truck, auto head-on wreckage. Those in the Sparks auto were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin Owens and their teenage children, William and Diana. The injured were treated at Washoe Medical center.

Sheriff's deputies said the sedan carrying the two students was travelling east-bound in the wrong lane when it ripped into the truck. Fransway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fransway, Sr., of Winnemucca and Murdock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Murdock, Sr. of Winnemucca.

Both were affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

The two were standout athletes during their prep days at Humboldt county high school. Fransway was a member of the U of N football squad at the time of his death. He was a back. Murdock played last year on the Wolf Pack freshman basketball squad.

HERE! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONE DEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10 1/2 inches lower.

Frolic Seating Plan Changed

Rescaling of seats in Reno civic auditorium, enabling students to buy cheaper tickets for Wolves' Frolic, was announced at Wednesday night's Senate meeting. Jon Madsen stated that $1.80 and $1 seats will be available in the balcony. All other seat prices will remain the same as in past years.

The quorum of senators proposed a suggestion to go to the finance control board that a date be set on which tickets for the Frolic will go on sale. If the proposal is adopted, students and alumni will have equal opportunity to purchase the better tickets, Bill Crawford will handle ticket sales through the ASUN bookstore.

Also on the Senate agenda was a proposal to change the part of section three, article three of the Administration. Candidates are Ken Taber, William McQuaid and John Cavanaugh.

The College of Education will get two senators from nominees Kay Hamilton, Kathy Tuminaro, Norma Moller, Susan Forden and Norma Fenili.

All other colleges have under two hundred students enrolled

ASUN by-laws dealing with the Artemisia salary of $300. Senate unanimously passed the proposal to let finance control board determine the amount of salary. The request for passage of the proposal came following the increase in salary of Sagebrush employees.

The Senate, voicing the opinion of the majority of students on campus, resolved its displeasure at the lack of caution taken at the corner of Ninth and North Virginia streets. Letters from the representative body stating the need for a stop light at the corner and the student body's concern over the matter will be sent to Reno Mayor Bud Baker, the state planning board, and the department of roads.

Present at the Senate meeting were student body leaders from Fallon high school and 1958 ASUN president Don Travis, who is now teaching in Fallon.

The senators unanimously voted to hold all future Senate meetings at 7 p.m. instead of 7:30. Next Senate meeting will be Wednesday, October 19.

and will elect one senator.

Engineering candidates are James Kedrick and Charles Jack; and mining candidates Jack Locke and Phil Hulse.

Shelia Donovan and Jan Pritchard will vie to represent the school of nursing.

Representatives of the College of Agriculture who will be on the primary ballot are Joanne Pritchard, Edward Hague and David Reed.

Al Pagni of Sigma Nu and Charles York of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will run in the general elections for ASUN first vice-president. Second vice-president candidates are Frank Fahrenkopf, Alpha Tau Omega, and Valerie Van Nepes, Tri-Delta.

SAEs Crowd Three Events in One Day

Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon crowded three ceremonies into one Sunday afternoon when they initiated five actives, 14 Little Sisters of Minerva, and formally pledged 43 new men, in that order.

Chapter president Stan Smith conducted the September 18 ceremonies, held in the Reno Masonic Temple. A banquet at the fraternity house followed.

The new active initiates are Andy Burnett, Tim Grant, Duncan Knowles, Harvey La Sasso, and Keith Roman.

Fourteen women, representing the four sororities on the Nevada campus, were among the initiates into the SAE auxiliary organization formed last spring.

Barbara Brannen, Susan Sneadon, Janis Palzis, and Joan Ruark were the four from Pi Beta Phi, while Kathy Bailey, Valerie Estes, Pat McAdam, Margaret Ottini, and Alice Urrutia made up the largest contingent, five, from Kappa Alpha Theta.

Initiated from Delta Delta Delta were Margaret Eddelman, Donna Hackspath, Sally Hinds, and Charlotte Sheldon. Linda Pierce and Linda Smith represented Gamma Phi Beta.

President of the Little Sisters is Donna Hackspath.

Carrico and Macy to Las Vegas for Meeting

A two-day trip to Las Vegas took the place of classroom instruction Thursday and Friday for Dr. John L. Carrico, band director, and Dr. William K. Macy, music department chairman.

The instructors attended a planning meeting for this spring's convention of the Western Division of Music Educators. Macy's plans also included visiting Las Vegas schools and lining up the choir tour for University Singers.

In their absence, the instructors' classes and private instructions were given by graduate assistants.

some students have been hit in previous years when crossing the street.

Dean Basta said that in the three years he has been in charge of the office of student affairs, each student body president has written a letter to the city of Reno and to the highway authorities regarding this problem. Petitions have also been circulated for the purpose of securing a traffic light.

Little Action

In spite of the several accidents which have occurred, he says, little action has taken place in past years to make the street safe for pedestrians and vehicles.

A no-left-turn sign was the only step taken to improve the dangerous corner.

During daylight hours, Dean Basta points out, students park their cars from Sixth street to College drive, adding to the danger of another pedestrian injury or fatality.

Dean Basta said, prior to the non-approval sign from Mr. Smoot, "The office of the Dean of Student Affairs and the A.S.U.N. office will make acceptable plans to expedite the installation of the traffic light. I am confident that the student body president, leaders and students will come up with an idea or plan to help install the traffic light, and they will receive full cooperation from this office."

Club notice: "The Skyland Garden Club will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. at the country club. Shady subjects will be discussed.

UN Fraternities Schedule Thirteen Fall Social Events

Seven University of Nevada social fraternities have 13 social events, all dances, scheduled for the 1960 fall semester.

The dances are listed on the Activities Calendar, issued by the Jot Travis Student Union, which shows all official large-scale fraternity events slated for the semester.

Five fraternities are holding pledge dances during the third and fourth weekends of October. In staging the affairs, active members of the chapters present dances in honor of their pledges.

One fraternity is substituting a costume party for the pledge dance during the last week of October.

Christmas dances of seven fraternities fall on the first weekend of December, with three on Friday, December 3, and four the following evening. With the sorority dances scheduled on the next weekend, an enterprising Greek woman can get a social reputation easily if she works things right.

The dance schedules for the seven fraternities are as follows:

Alpha Tau Omega will hold its pledge dance October 22, and its Christmas dance December 3.

Theta Chi will hold its Christmas dance December 3.

Phi Sigma Kappa plans its pledge dance for October 22, and its Christmas dance for December 3.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon schedules its pledge dance for October 22, and its Christmas dance for December 3.

'Famous Name' Art Show Set

Local people who have never seen an original Picasso painting will have their opportunity at "the finest art exhibit ever given in Nevada," according to Dr. Calvin Gross, member of the art department staff and art show committee.

A selection of works by famous artists taken from private collections in Nevada will be shown for the public from October 23 to the middle of November in the new gallery of the Fine Arts building.

Plans for the show have been underway since before the start of school with art department staff members in charge.

The comprehensive showing will include 70 paintings and sculpture work in all schools of 20th century artists ranging from impressionism to abstract expressionism.

Among the works of 50 artists in the show will be paintings by Matisse, Klee, Braque, Lager, Modigliani and Pollock, and sculpture by Calder, Giacometti and Moore as well as works of Picasso.

Names of the donors are withheld, according to Dr. J. Craig Sheppard, art department chairman. However, all works in the show are from collections of Nevada people.

Lamba Chi Alpha Begins Social Season With Party

The fall social season for the men of Lamba Chi Alpha began last night with a party with Pi Beta Phi.

The fraternity added a novel touch to the evening by plastering the inside walls of the fraternity house with butcher paper and invited everyone to paint whatever they wished on the paper.

For its first annual pledge dance, Lamba Chi has rented Lawton's resort for Friday, October 14.

The Thetas will be guests of the fraternity on Thursday evening, October 27, for the traditional Haunted House social. The fraternity's social rooms will be decorated in a Haunted House motif.

The annual Christmas formal takes place Saturday, Dec. 3, at Hidden Valley country club.

Socials with Tri-Delt and Gamma Phi will be planned at the next meeting of the social committee. These socials will be held in November and December.

Other events on the Lamba Chi schedule are "sneaks" with the different sorority pledge classes and "shanghais" in which the men take a whole sorority out to breakfast. The shanghais are a new addition to the Lamba Chi social calendar.

The principal wound up the first teachers' meeting of the year with this advice: "Do be patient and long-suffering with the parents. Remember, they are each sending you their very best efforts."

"THERE'S NO CEILING FOR A SELF-STARTER IN THE TELEPHONE BUSINESS"

When Wes Roberts was nearing the end of his senior year at San Jose State College, he was looking for a job with a wide open future. He found it when he joined Pacific Telephone in San Francisco.

Here's how Wes tells it: "I remember one of my first jobs. The boss said, 'Wes, I want you to work out a plan showing where we'll need new field operating centers to keep up with Northern California's growth over the next 10 years.' I didn't know whether I was more happy or scared."

Wes didn't tell us (but his boss did) that he handled the report like a pro. And today, as a division supervisor, he's holding down a key telephone job.

Wes Roberts' story is not unique in the Bell Telephone Companies. The telephone business is growing fast—and men are needed who can grow just as fast.

Wes can tell you: "We get good training. But no one nurses you along. We hire managers—not errand boys. So far as I can see, there's no ceiling for a self-starter in this business."

If you're a guy like Wes Roberts—if you like to bite off more than you can chew and then chew it—you'll want to visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

What's in a Vote?

Sagebrush Checks Opinion

By MARYBETH HOCKEL

What's in a vote?

Besides campaign speeches, pompous posters and free "bribe" treats, what influences a voter to select which box to put his "X" in?

In a recent discussion about what the intelligent voter should consider in choosing his candidate, student body president Ben Echeverria stated his opinions. His main statement was that a person should study the candidates and know their qualifications—and possibly know them personally — before voting.

Wednesday's primary election showed the first results of this year's "Charlie Brown," and "Men from Mars" posters and free candy propoganda. Or was the voting the results of intellectual studying of the voters?

Freshman cast their ballots for a freshman president, A.W.S. representative and senators, and upperclassmen chose their finalists in the senatorial race.

In an effort to find out what motivated choice of candidates, the Sagebrush took a pool at the Student Union as voters stepped out of the voting booths.

Answers to the question "On what did you base your choices?", were as follows:

Ray Vernon—"My knowledge of the person. The girl I voted for had all the qualifications."

Midge Vaugh—"How well I know the candidates and their qualifications."

Art Haseltine—"He is my fraternity brother."

Doug Buchanan—"Chose someone I knew from class. Also from familiar names and the posters."

Al Pagni—"Personal contact."

Sharon McHenry—"I liked the person."

Jim Sheahan—"Qualified man."

Sue Voss—"If they can do a good job. My sorority sister."

Ronald MacLeon—"Good-looking girl. My fraternity brother."

Marianne Schneider—"People I know or have heard about."

Brenda Higley—"I'm interested in Senate and voted for the best qualified senator."

Bob Oats—"Fraternity brother."

Connie Wagner — "Most posters and enthusiasm."

Cathy Tuminaro—"Knowledge of candidates—partly personal."

Charlene Dixon—"I don't know many of the candidates, but I asked around and then did some serious thinking."

'The Swinging Eye' Is Set for Stereo Concerts

Students are invited to attend two free stereo concerts next week in the Dining Commons. Each Tuesday and Thursday at 3 p.m. the student Union Board sponsors the program, providing free refreshments.

Tuesday's program will include the popular music album, "Conniff Meets Buterfield," featuring Ray Conniff and Billy Butterfield. On Thursday, students will hear "The Swinging Eye," a jazz album by Si Zentner.

41st Homecoming Changed From 1st

By MARGO BARTLETT

The gala production that will be the 41st annual Homecoming celebration does not bear much resemblance to the first of such celebrations at the University of Nevada in 1919.

The alumni were feted by places of honor at the game played on the day of their return and by a dance that night. They were entertained at the sorority and fraternity houses and at Lincoln Hall, then the only dormitory. Their homecoming was simple and perhaps more enjoyable than the elaborate show now staged where a welcoming of the graduates is all but forgotten.

Many additions were made to Homecoming after the first celebration. Before long a parade of floats became a major attraction. The agriculture department sponsored a harvest fair with booths for the downtown merchants. A stage production involving more than 150 students launched the two day affair. A bonfire rally was held and a Homecoming queen selected.

Many of the additions made are now traditions of Homecoming but changes are continually made.

A recent departure from what has come to be regarded as traditional is the return of Wolves Frolic to the unified production of a vaudevill revue that it was when introduced in the 1930's. There is an overall theme this year for the various main acts, specialty numbers and dance routines. The emphasis now is on the act itself and the performance, not on the elaborate sets. One basic set will be provided following the Greatest Show on Earth theme.

New Staff Members In Chemistry Dept.

The department of chemistry has seven new additions to the staff. A new instructor in general inorganic lectures and organic labs is Jimmie G. Edwards. He has almost completed work on his doctor's degree in chemistry at Oklahoma State University. His wife and son live with him in Reno. Miss Eleanor D. Stover, another new instructor, hasn't had a chance to begin her beginning chemistry and quantitative analysis classes. She reported being ill the day the classes began and has been unable to return. Miss Stover was an instructor at Fresno State College last year. The three graduate assistants in beginning chemistry labs are Donald Tankersley who took his undergraduate work at Chico State College; Donald A. Sullivan, who did his undergraduate work at the University of Nevada, and John C. Riggs, who did his work at Seattle University. Ralph G. Cameron and Stanley N. Smith are student assistants helping in general chemistry labs. Both are seniors at the University of Nevada.

Congressman Moss to Speak at Dinner to Honor UN Journalists

A national leader in the continuing fight for freedom of the press in America will inaugurate 1960's National Newspaper Week. In Reno, on October 8, Congressman John Moss will make an address on the week's slogan, "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Guardian." He will speak at the dinner saluting University of Nevada journalism students for having produced the slogan in a national competition among schools of journalism. At that time, on behalf of the national committee in charge of the annual celebration, John B. Long, founder of National Newspaper Week, will present a bronze plaque to the students. He is general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers' association. For five years, Congressman Moss has been chairman of the subcommittee of the house of representatives committee on freedom of information. The house government information subcommittee has studied information practices and policies in many of the departments and agencies of the federal government, serving as a "watchdog committee" to look into complaints of unjustifiable restrictions on information received from the Congress, the press, the public, and government employees. He has repeatedly won awards for his contribution to understanding of the role of the press in maintaining liberty. Chief among these is the John Peter Zenger Freedom of the Press award presented by the University of Arizona for "effective work in support of the freedom of the press and the people's right to know." Moss has just been awarded the second national Freedom of Information award by the Virginia Press association. The presentation, at a Thomas Jefferson memorial meeting of the press association in cooperation with Sigma Delta Chi, marks the second time the award—symbolized by a sterling silver working model of the Thomas Jefferson hand press—has been granted. It is the first time the award has ever been granted to anyone outside the newspaper profession. On the program at the dinner will be President Charles J. Armstrong of the University of Nevada, Lieutenant-Governor Rex Bell, and Senator Alan Bible, who, as an old friend, will introduce Moss. The affair is sponsored by the Nevada State Press association, the University of Nevada and Nevada State professional chapters of Sigma Delta Chi, and the University of Nevada Press club. It will be held Saturday, Oct. 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the Santa Fe hotel in Reno.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

DEAR DR. FROOD:

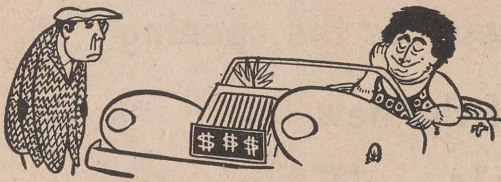

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: 'Tis better to have loved and lost than to have spent the whole weekend studying.

Dear Dr. Frood: My roommate is a good guy, but there's one thing about him I can't stand. He wears button-down collars but never buttons the little lapel buttons. Why is this?

Clothes Conscious

DEAR CLOTHES: Don't let this worry you. It's just that his thumbs are too big.

Dear Dr. Frood: Once and for all—is it right or wrong for a man to marry a girl for her money?

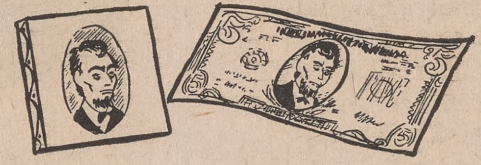

Righteous

DEAR RIGHTEOUS: Nowadays this isn't simply a matter of right or wrong. There are the tax angles to consider.

Dear Dr. Frood: I don't understand my boy friend. When we are all alone and the moon is full, he tells me he worships me. But during the day, he crosses the street when he sees me coming. What is wrong?

Lovelorn

DEAR LOVELORN: Did it ever occur to you that he may be a werewolf?

Dear Dr. Frood: The other day my roommate and I had an argument about the difference between traditional art and modern art. What, in your opinion, is the basic difference between these two forms?

Art Major

DEAR ART: The examples above should settle your argument. The portrait at left is traditional. The artist has drawn Lincoln as he actually appeared. The portrait at right is modern. As you can see, the modern artist has drawn Lincoln's great-great-grandson.

Dear Dr. Frood: My favorite brand is Lucky Strike. But unfortunately I am left-handed. Why doesn't Lucky Strike come out with cigarettes for left-handed people?

Lefty

DEAR LEFTY: Left-handed Luckies are available. Simply ask for "Left-handed Luckies." They come in a white pack with a red bull's-eye. The only difference between these and ordinary Luckies is that you must always smoke them while facing a mirror.

Product of The American Tobacco Company—"Tobacco is our middle name"

Everything is 90%

By RICHARD MORRIS

Very often, attempts are made to circumvent Sturgeon's Law, (everything is 90 per cent crud) but these attempts are doomed to failure. Even so, there will always be people who will refuse to believe that there is no loophole in the dictum. An excellent example of this is furnished by the editors of the Reader's Digest, who evidently believe that if they condense a piece to, perhaps, one-half of its original length, then the crud content will be reduced accordingly, and they will be left with something that is only 45 per cent crud. This is obviously a fallacy; the orgies of condensation cannot change an immutable law.

However, as an experiment, let us take a piece from a recent issue of the Digest and see if we can remove some of the crud. The original article was entitled: "Try Being an Early Bird!" It is left to the reader to judge whether or not this attempt is successful.

BE AN EARLY WORM

A distressing number of people seem to derive great pleasure from extolling the virtues of early rising. They apparently enjoy getting up at some ridiculous hour to greet each new day with a sneer. Personally, I cannot share this insane attitude; I think that it is detrimental to one's health to arise before 10 a.m. If people would stay in bed until some decent hour, there would be fewer cases of heart disease, ulcers, wife-beating, and pimples. One of the principles by which I have tried to guide my life is the notion that nobody in his right mind can possibly believe that he is good for anything during the early morning. With one minor exception, I have remained firm in refusing to arise early.

One March night, in a moment of insanity brought on by five or six martinis, I set my alarm clock for 5:30. I cannot imagine what was passing through my befuddled mind when I did this. Perhaps I intended to compose a sonnet comparing the rising sun to an olive. This is, of course, ridiculous, since as everyone knows, an olive is green, while a sunrise is purple, or some equally silly color.

Promptly at 5:30 I was awakened by a loud, unfamiliar noise which I deduced to be the alarm clock. As I groped for the fiendish instrument, I discovered to my horror that I had placed it on the opposite side of the room. Since I had no idea for what length of time it would continue to clang, I concluded that it would be best to get up and silence my instrument of torture. Unable to figure out how to turn the clock off, I threw it out the window. It was then that I noticed that the world outside had taken on an entirely different appearance. My surroundings seemed pale and ghostly in the first light. I leaned out the window and inhaled the cold, crisp breeze which brought scents created by the night shift at the sewage processing plant.

Delicate swirls of mist wound about my frost-bitten fingers as I listened to the twittering of a bird and the accompaniment furnished by nearby garbage collectors as they banged cans and lids, a welcome departure from the sounds of everyday life. Seeing the new day led my thoughts to fresh beginnings, to new hopes. My sense of adventure had been renewed.

Looking back on this experience, I realize that the pre-dawn world should be viewed but once. It is a world that is better as a memory than as something that is repeatedly seen. The rewards involved are great—so great as to ALMOST justify getting up at 5:30 a.m.

Thought for today: The early bird may catch the worm, but in other respects he must have a damn unpleasant life.

New Sagebrush Service for Clubs

Campus clubs that want to publicize their activities are invited to take advantage of a new Sagebrush service.

Starting next Friday, a weekly calendar of upcoming club activities will be printed in the Sagebrush. Any student group, whether social, honorary or professional, may have its meetings listed in the calendar. Club dances, dinners, field trips, meetings, and other activities may be included.

To be included in the calendar, the group's publicity chairman must fill out a Sagebrush Club calendar form. These forms will be left in the lobby of the journalism building, next to Ross Hall, and in the Sagebrush office at the corner of North Center and Ninth streets. Forms must be filled out by Wednesday to be included in the first calendar included in next Friday's calendar.

Independents Take 5th Straight Victory

The undefeated Independents made it five straight victories this week to strengthen their lead on first place in the intramural softball league.

The Independents outscored Sigma Nu, 15-14, in extra-innings despite a highly-disputed triple play pulled by the Snakes to stop a game-winning Independent rally in the bottom of the fifth.

The Independents pushed across six runs in the last of the fifth to tie the score at 14-14 before the controversial triple play stopped the GDI rally short.

The triple play came with the bases loaded and none out. Independent first baseman Ron Banta hit a fly ball to short left field which was dropped by Sigma Nu's Don Marlowe.

Leland (Mickey) Smale, on third base for the Independents, tagged up and scored the tying run and other runners advanced with Banta going to first.

However, umpire Val York ruled that Marlowe had held the ball long enough for an out before dropping it. Colin Kennedy, on second base for the GDP's, and Van Peters, who was on first base, were called out for failing to tag up to complete the triple play.

The Independents came back in the sixth to score the winning run on a sharp single over second by Peters to drive in Dave Lumos who reached base on a walk, and advanced to third on a single by Smale and a walk to Kennedy.

Sigma Nu jumped to an early 2-0 lead in the first inning on a home run to deep left by Rick Panelli with Jim Murphy on base.

The Independents pushed across five runs in the bottom half of the inning to go into the lead. Bruce Barton led off the rally with a walk, took second on an error, went to third on a wild pitch, and came home on a double by Smale.

Kennedy doubled sharply to score Smale. Paul Kautz was walked and Banta hit by a pitch to load the bases for the Independents. Sigma Nu pitcher Mike Thompson walked Gary Mattice to force in Kennedy with a run. John Doyle rapped a single to drive in Kautz and Banta to complete the rally.

The Independents added three more runs in the third to make it 8-7 after Sigma Nu scored five in the top of the frame.

The Snakes went back into the lead in the fourth on a single by Dick Harney, a double by Murphy, a double by Dahl Knowls, and a single by Mike Paradis to account for three runs.

Three walks, a single by Mike Thompson, a double by Panelli and an error gave the Snakes four more runs in the top of the fifth to make it 14-8, Sigma Nu.

Two walks, a hit batsman, an error, a fielders' choice, and singles by Barton and Lumos combined for six Independents' runs in the fifth to send the game into extra inning tied 14-14.

Peters, who relieved starter Doyle in the fifth, was the winner for the Independents. Thompson, who went the distance for Sigma Nu, took the loss.

Nevada JV's Meet Shasta JC Today

The University of Nevada Junior Varsity tries its wings in the delayed season opener tonight against Shasta J. C., at Shasta, Calif.

Coach Bill Ireland's JVs will go into tonight's action with only a game-scrimmage under their belts, because of the cancellation of last week's Sacramento State JV contest.

Shasta has a 3-0 record, including a 28-0 shellacking of the Humboldt State junior varsity.

Wolf Pack Takes on Cal Poly Of Pomona Here Saturday Nite

By ROYCE FEOUR

Coach Dick Trachok's Nevada football team will be out to get back on the winning side Saturday night against visiting Cal Poly of Pomona in a non-conference contest at Mackay Stadium.

Any Wolf Pack hopes of a Far Western Conference championship were dealt a severe blow last week when Chico State upset Nevada 12-7 at Chico.

Tomorrow night's game will be the last home contest for Nevada until the Homecoming game against Sacramento State Nov. 5. This week's contest is the second of four home games for the Wolf Pack.

To avoid the confusion being created by the Nevada State Journal's sports staff, Nevada is playing Cal Poly of Pomona and not the stronger Cal Poly team from San Luis Obispo.

Cal Poly (Pomona) is winless after two tough games. Last week Cal Poly was blanked 20-0 at Pomona by powerful San Francisco State and the other defeat came at the hands of the rugged San Diego Marines.

However, the Broncos will be no pushover. They held hard-running San Francisco State to three first downs and two of those were by passing.

The score at halftime in the Cal Poly-Gator game was 0-0, but San Francisco State, which has won 13 straight games over a two-year period, pushed across three touchdowns, two of them by passing, in the second half.

The pass-minded Broncos have several outstanding players, including quarterback George Swade who tossed eight touchdown passes last year, from the 1959 squad which racked up an impressive 7-1-1 record.

Cal Poly's only loss was to San Francisco State and the tie was with Arizona State at Flagstaff.

Trachok will probably go along with the same offensive and defensive starting lineups he has used for the first two games but a few changes may be in store.

Senior fullback Rod Cook should be ready for full duty this week after sitting out the season opener with Pepperdine and seeing only limited action against Chico State.

However, sophomore Gordy Lemich has been doing a fine job as Cook's replacement and will be a hard man to move out of the starting team.

Sophomore Don Hunt and senior Jerry Tobin will probably get the call at the starting halfback slots with Jim Cawiezell going at quarterback.

Miklos Rozsa, shown conducting the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Symphony Orchestra in the score he created for the Academy Award-winning "Ben-Hur." Rozsa won the "Oscar" for Best Musical Score.

Sunset For Sundowners

THAT INFAMOUS GROUP of individuals who don't seem to know how to hold their liquor—namely the Sundowners—is at it again. The group's "tea parties" and tour of open houses while in native costume are bringing joy and happiness to our campus community.

THE HAPPINESS IS of the sort that prompted certain members of that group of ill-repute to pour wine over the Homecoming queen and her attendants in 1958. And it is apparently of the same sort that prompted the group—or members thereof—to enter themselves in the Nevada Day parade just a short time after that—entering the parade stone drunk, that is.

JUST HOW LONG does the group think that the University or the students can tolerate the sometimes stupid and insane antics that members pull off. In case the members don't realize it, their day is over.

THE GROUP IS contributing nothing to the campus. Worse yet, they are detracting from the reputation of the University. Fortunately one sorority—Pi Beta Phi—has had the wisdom, and the guts for that matter, to ban their members from attending the so-called "tea-parties." This is obviously just the start of many such obstacles the Sundowners will face in their coming struggle for survival.

THE GROUP HAS HAD its chance for reform in the past two years, but apparently nothing was done. In light of this the only just solution is to eliminate all vestiges of the organization from the campus completely. Unfortunately, the students won't be able to have the honor of doing this because the Sundowners aren't an officially recognized group.

RATHER, THIS WILL have to be done by Dean of Student Affairs Samuel Basta. And considering his recent deep concern with drinking on the part of students, it probably shouldn't take him long to get around to doing so. The quicker he does, the better it will be for everyone at the University of Nevada.

'Death Corner' Tragedy

"DEATH'S CROSSING" took another victim just a week ago last night. An elderly woman was killed by a speeding auto at Ninth and Virginia, an intersection that great numbers of students use every day.

A FULL TRAFFIC-LIGHT system at the intersection is the only solution to the danger from speeding cars and trucks. This is obvious to anyone who has to face the danger day in and day out. Dean of Student Affairs Samuel Basta has fought for years to get a signal at that corner. The best that he could get was a "No Left Turn" sign which practically everyone ignores.

"WE WON'T GET A signal there until someone is killed, and pray God that it won't be a student," said Dean Basta at Leadership Conference just a scant few weeks before the tragedy. Dean Basta was addressing his remark to Reno Mayor Bud Baker at the time. Baker had just said that he thought it was ridiculous to have a speed limit as low as 25 miles per hour along North Virginia.

ASUN PRESIDENT Ben Echeverria took effective action this week to give the students a say in the matter. He and Paul Bible have been drawing up a petition on the matter to be signed by the students and sent to the responsible authorities in this situation. The students finally have an opportunity to do something. Signing a name on a piece of paper might not seem like much, but when a few thousand names are collected something is going to happen on the state level. THE OPPORTUNITY IS finally there for the students, and it is time to do something.

THE GAYLORDS: "The Boys from Camp Winnemucca," came through to highlight the Greek Week Banquet last Saturday night. Setting the woods ablaze with them were Joanie Ruark and Bob MacDonald (much apologies to the co-editor of "Contemporary Cheers" for last week's spelling of McDonald), Pat White and Bill Bianchi, Tricia Hug and Jim Durham, Joyce Hollenbeck and Stan Smith (would everyone please make this SAE leader happy and bow down to him, since Joyce and Stan were elected Hera and Zeus for Greek Week), Toni Richards and Norm Harper, and Judy Green and Dave Bartholomew, who were last seen looking under the tables for someone to "Please take our picture."

RHYTHM SPORTS: Anyone in need of help for their folk dancing homework contact Linda Smith, who holds folk dancing tutoring nightly in her room in the Gamma Phi house.

THE GRAY FLANNEL SUIT: Anyone seeing those professional looking men in the neighborhood of Chico State last weekend should soon have recognized the Nevada Wolf Pack, who were the victims of some monstrous plot.

ANYONE (?) WELCOME: Always welcome at open houses are Sundowners, who soon take up headquarters in kitchens, and taxi cab drivers, who leave their vehicles with keys in the middle of sorority house lawns. Not welcome are column writers who break sorority house cups.

LOST: Four SAE pledge pins. It's too bad the finders won't return them.

RIVAL TO THE Wolf Pack is the Sig Ep football team, who participated in the "Toilet Bowl" last Saturday. Rooting them on were the DDD's, when both social groups socialized.

AHA! It seems that some took our advice of last week, so we have some good romantic news for thou. Engaged are Leanna Noble, Tri Delt, and Doug Salter, Sigma Nu. Their wedding date is tentatively set at Christmas time. Also engaged are Sig Ep Bob Fisher and Pi Phi Barbara Moncrief. Theta Marilyn Peterson has "found her guy," and now she and Sigma Nu Mike Paradis are pinned. Announced at the Gamma Phi house Monday night was the pinning of Judy Bower and Tom Daley, Zeta Upsilon.

EXPERIENCED HASHERS: For those groups needing hashers, there is a Pi Phi ready and willing. JUST help her get back her pin.

SNEAK: SAE's and Tri Deltas had a sneak Tuesday night under the "cool" Virginia Lake moon. It was the usual sneak, only better.

WARNING: Take your ID to the beer bust this afternoon. Don't ask us why.

SOCIALIZING: Tonight: DDD and Theta pledge dances. Tomorrow night: Gamma Phi and Pi Phi pledge dances. ALSO, come and see the Wolf Pack tomorrow night. ALSO ALSO don't forget to sign up for the San Francisco State trip.

Why Not?

By BILL ADAMS

To the students that partake in the daily repast of the University Dining Commons, you are witnessing the end of an era—Nellie Nelson, who at times has been somewhat of a controversial subject, has left the University, after 13 years of service. Her resignation was accepted, with regret, by Bob Kersey, director of Student Services. Reason for Mrs. Nelson's resignation was ill health.

With the procurement of your I. D. cards, I am sure that you will agree with me, that photography has been set back twenty years.

Following the stately address of the keynote speaker, at the Greek Week Banquet, some 300 students were entertained by the "Gaylords." Although there were a few raised eyebrows, I think that it was a tremendous act. Currently billed at the Riverside Hotel, the Gaylords donated their time to help conclude the week's activities. It was a pleasure to have some adult entertainment for the students, for a change—or I should say, adult comedy entertainment.

Another change (supposedly in the name of progress) in pre-election campaigning has been imposed on the student body. Many of you did not have the opportunity to hear the various candidates give their respective platforms. The nomination assembly, which would have given you this chance, was cancelled. Ben Echeverria, ASUN President, had a good argument in saying, "There are too many candidates to have an assembly—it would take too long." But how is one to know and understand what the individual stands for. It is my understanding that there will be an assembly prior to the general election—However, it is a little late, especially after a number of candidates have been eliminated. I would like to urge all students to attend this assembly and hear the remaining political aspirants.

(Ed. Note: Hard luck, Bill. After being pushed for an early-in-the-week deadline, Senate fouled you up Wednesday evening and decided that primary elections were so much fun that we get another set of primaries next Wednesday. Your heart's in the right place anyway, Bill. As you say, why not?)

The public relations department for the Ford Motor Company has come up with a good gimmick. They are advertising that the 1961 Ford car, "The car that takes care of itself,"—Everything, that is, but the payments.

The Aggie Club is taking a big step forward, (and, I might say, "In the right direction!") by sponsoring the N.I.R.A. Regional Rodeo, here in Reno starting October 15th. In the past, the club has mainly sponsored the Comic Rodeo and various social events. This is an opportunity for the entire campus to participate in (if you enjoy this sort of thing) and help make their first venture, a successful one.

Ninth and Virginia has once again become the scene of a tragic accident. And, if the State Highway Department, in Carson City, fails to give their consent to the installment of a traffic signal, there will be more. The students of this campus cannot let up their criticism of this "death trap" until such a signal is a reality. Of course, the reason that Carson City and the city engineer have "turned down" previous requests, has been "The trucks will have to slow down and will have trouble getting up the grade."—I say, "All the trucks can go to hell, if it will save one life." Rally up, and fight!

Everything is 90 per cent crud—Oh, well, to each his own.

For the students that are interested in attending the Nevada-San Francisco game at S. F. State, reservations are now being taken in room 111 in the TUB. The bus will depart from the campus at 8:30 a.m. the morning of the 22nd. The cost of the trip will be $8.50 and if you can afford it, it should be a blast.

Our campus, once again, is saddened by the loss of two fellow students, killed in an auto accident Monday evening. It is a grim reminder to all that we cannot be too careful while driving—especially when someone close is no longer with us.
