

Nixon-Lodge Sweep Campus Mock Elections

If the opinion given by students on campus Tuesday and Wednesday reflects that of the nation, Richard M. Nixon will be the next President of the United States.

The Nixon-Lodge ticket pulled 376 votes to Senators John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson's 257. The Vice-President and his running mate received 60 per cent of votes cast for president while Democrats Kennedy and Johnson measured 40 per cent.

A total of 661 students voted in this week's mock political elections.

The Republican party was also victorious in the representative race. George W. (Molly) Malone gathered 330 votes to Democrat Walter S. Baring's 288.

The six-year term for Justice of the Supreme Court was won by Ernest S. Brown with 251 votes. His opponent, Frank McNamee received 180 votes from the students.

Winning candidates from Washoe county for University regents were Dr. Fred Anderson with 313 votes, and Proctor Hug, Jr., with 302. Others on the ballot were Newton H. Crumley, 295 votes, and Paul A. Richards, 123 votes.

Students marked a sample Washoe county ballot for the general election on Nov. 8.

The mock elections, planned by Dave Short with assistance from the Young Republicans and Young Democrats, were held to stimulate student interest in the upcoming elections.

THAT EMPTY FEELING AT CAL

AN UNUSED TYPEWRITER and row upon row of empty desks marked the offices of the University of California Daily Californian this week as the staff rebelled and started to publish an independent newspaper. 'Free Press' Battle Flares At UC—2 Rival Papers Appear

By D. A. O'Donnell, Sagebrush Editor

Chaos continued to reign late this week in the so-called battle for "freedom of the press" on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

The situation now is this: The Daily Californian, the student-owned newspaper, is continuing publication with a hastily gathered volunteer staff; a rival publication, the Independent Californian enters its fourth day of existence today, being put out by the former staff of the Daily Cal.; and the University of San Francisco Foghorn is definitely out of the picture after the USF administration turned thumbs down on a plan to have the Foghorn aid the rebel Independent Californian.

ENDORSEMENT

The confusion started last week when the Daily Cal., under the former staff, endorsed a candidate for a post on the student executive committee, the student legislative body.

Suspension of publication of the Daily Californian was ordered by its executive committee at a Friday morning meeting. The Daily Cal. staff quickly obtained an injunction against such action from the student judiciary committee.

Sunday evening executive committee voted in favor of the principle of changing the Daily Cal bylaws to give the governing body power to appoint the paper's editorial board members. Previously they have had freedom in this area.

STAFF RESIGNS

At that, the staff quit en masse. Dan Silver, editor of the paper at the time, said that he felt that such action constituted an infringement on freedom of the press.

The staff put out Monday morning's edition, bordered in black, explaining their position.

Silver and staff went about organizing a new paper, the Independent Californian. Meanwhile, frantic student government leaders

Controversy Rages On 'Give 'em Hell' Harry's Talk Today

Former United States President Harry S. Truman will make a whirlwind visit to the University of Nevada and will give an address here this afternoon with charges of using the University for partisan politics still ringing across the state.

President Truman will arrive in Reno at 12:30 p.m. He will be escorted in a parade up to the University and will speak at 2 p.m. in either Mackay Stadium or the New Gym, depending on the weather.

Criticism of his appearance on the University campus came from Republican National Committeeman Edmund Converse and Reno Evening Gazette editor John Sanford.

"MASTER OF PROFANITY"

In reply to the remark by Converse that "it seems unfortunate the state-supported university is to be used by a master of profanity as a sounding board for the state Democratic party," strong reaction has come forth from several quarters.

Student leaders emphasized they had contacted GOP leaders in the state to aid them in securing the services of a top-level Republican representative to bring their side of the campaign.

Converse was accused of "an attempt to embarrass and abuse the students of the University," by Gov. Grant Sawyer, a Democrat.

"A few 'hells and damn' from Truman won't hurt mature University of Nevada students," was student union board President Roger Christensen's reply to charges by Converse.

GOP CONTACTED

Christensen said that much effort has been made to secure a Republican speaker of equal stature. Invitations have been issued to New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller, GOP vice presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge and Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater.

"Politics is an important part of education and many other schools are doing this," said Christensen.

"Truman's talk will not be partisan," according to Christensen.

GOP Hits Sawyer On Truman Talk

Nevada Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge said late yesterday that they have every hope that efforts by University of Nevada students to obtain representatives of both major political parties to speak on the campus will be realized in the near future.

In clarifying the position of the University students who are attempting to present both sides of the political picture, Mrs. Mark E. Daise, state chairman, and Mrs. Leslie B. Gray, field director of the Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge, said that they were approached by the students through student union President Roger Christensen on a date since that time to his mother in September.

"We wish to congratulate the students at the University for inaugurating this non-partisan program of political awareness," said Mrs. Gray, "and commend the University administration for approving it."

"This type of non-partisan program is being conducted at colleges and universities all over the country," she added, "and is valuable not only to the students but to the citizens in surrounding areas as well."

"We feel it is most unfortunate that Gov. Grant Sawyer has so quickly forgotten his recent responsibilities as regent of the University of Nevada, and has insisted on considering this program a partisan one."

Chaos at Cal: Free Press Battle Blazes on in Bay Area

formed what has been termed a "scab staff" from what officers claimed to be a group of 150 volunteers. When this reporter entered the Daily Cal's large office quarters at 7 p.m. Tuesday evening only four persons were on the job.

Richard Harcourt, editor of the USF Foghorn, offered to help the rebels by putting out a joint Foghorn-Independent Californian Publication Wednesday morning. At 10:40 a.m. Tuesday USF's dean of students, Father Francis A. Moore, S. J., killed that plan by the, "We (the USF administration) do not feel that it is within the province of the USF newspaper to intervene in student problems at another school."

UC INTERVENTION

Silver and Harcourt told the Sagebrush early Wednesday morning that they felt that the UC administration, which had been apparently following a "hands off" policy in the matter, had intervened in the matter to kill Foghorn aid. Up until the time of Father Moore's statement the USF administration was in favor of the aid plan.

Silver told the Sagebrush that despite compromises proposed by him at a meeting of Cal's Publication board and the starting up of a petition to allow the old staff to return under the old constitutional provisions, he had resigned himself to the fact that the old staff could not regain control of the paper and would have to continue indefinitely with the new publication.

EMOTIONAL SHOCK

"The resignation has come as quite an emotional shock to the members of the senior editorial board, who have spent four years on the staff," said Silver. "There are still those who consider our staff as being pretenders to the throne, but they will have to realize that the situation will not permit regaining the paper."

USF editor Harcourt took a "leave of absence" to help the rebels. The help he rendered as of Wednesday morning amounted to little more than moral support for the rebel staff. But more extensive aid was planned.

The Daily Bruin of the University of California at Los Angeles offered to put out an edition of the Independent in Los Angeles this week.

The new paper, using the slogan, "Valid Student Journalism," distributed 5000 copies in its first day of publication.

Students apparently were reading both papers, although the Daily Cal, with mandatory subscriptions, had a natural circulation advantage with over 17,000 copies distributed.

REBEL EDITOR Dan Silver sits back and tries to relax amid the flurry of controversy that he and his staff have created at UC.

Everything Is 90%

By RICHARD MORRIS

Be sure to attend the non-partisan speech by Harry Truman today. It is only a coincidence that a former Democratic president is going to speak 11 days before a presidential election. Mr. Truman is going to discuss the haberdashery business.

I was shocked to hear that the women are to be allowed to stay out until such late hours during Homecoming week. It is obviously not proper to allow them to stay out until the terribly late hour of 11 p.m.

Miss Kotter obviously cannot include everything in her column, so I propose to help her out with a department which I will call "The Hungry Eyeball": Guess who we saw together at Shaky's last Friday night? Unfortunately you will have to guess because your columnist cannot remember anything he saw last Friday night.

There is a certain class of people who are capable of going into ecstasies upon contemplating the logical beauty of combinations of the hen-track which are commonly known as mathematical symbols. These are known as mathematicians. For the benefit of all the young, budding mathematicians, I will give brief descriptions of some of the math courses offered at this university.

Math 161-2 Mathematical Analysis: Nobody has been able to figure out just what this course is about. But whatever it is that you learn must be something very cool.

Math 251-2 Calculus: This course is designed to convince people that it is FUN to play with dy's and dx's.

Math 425 Advanced Calculus: For people who have not been convinced by the earlier course that Calculus is FUN.

Math 371 Introduction to Modern Algebra: In the first grade they tell you that 1 plus 1 equals 2. In this course, you go through five pages of mathematical deductions. Then you discover that 1 plus 1 equal two.

Math 351 Differential Equations: At the beginning of the semester, you are told that no one knows what a differential is. By the end of the semester you are convinced that no one will ever find out what a differential is.

The physicist's definition of a crackpot: Anyone who disagrees with him.

To the freshmen who will be painting the "N": Please do not throw water or lime on me. I wish to avoid having to send one of my cameras back to the factory for repairs this year.

Help spread general anarchy. Join the Young Anarchists.

The Chess Club held a "rapid transit" tournament last week, in which all games were to be played at the rate of ten seconds per move. However, the timer was not working properly, and the bell rang at 17 second intervals. In order to make it appear that they knew what they were doing, the club now claims that this was a 15 second per move tournament.

From a seventh grade report card: "The school should not center its efforts solely along academic lines, but should also strive to develop good citizens. With this in mind, we call attention to the following habit and attitudes desirable for good CITIZENSHIP." Please excuse me, I think I am going to be ill.

Debate Today

The debate department will start its debate tournament at the College of Pacific, in Stockton, Calif., on October 28.

The debate topic is: "Resolved, that the United States should adopt a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens."

About five to six teams will debate on the positive and negative aspects of a problem. Two men make up a team.

The teams are also entered in oratory, interpretation, (prose and poetry) and impromptu speaking.

Aerospace Lectures Given

Space explorations, manned aircraft and missiles, and the future course of aerospace progress were the highlights of two recent illustrated lectures by an Air Force representative on this campus.

Lt. Colonel Edwin J. White Jr., of the office of the deputy chief of staff, United States Air Force headquarters, spoke on "Man's Future in Aerospace" and supplemented his lecture with approximately 100 colored slides.

Colonel White is a recent graduate of the Air Force War College at Maxwell Air Force Base and is currently on a special speaking tour conducted by Air Force officials. His lectures were arranged by the office of information at Stead Air Force Base.

The lectures were held in the education auditorium and attended by both faculty members and students.

The first manufactured product exported from the United States was wainscoting.

The Kennedy Charm Works on Nevadans

By Margo Bartlett, Sagebrush Feature Editor

There was a flurry of excitement at the head of the stirs. Heads turning toward the arriving speaker and his party, the people in the audience rose and applauded.

Edward "Ted" Kennedy, his wife, the publicity chairman and his wife were escorted to the head table by prominent Young Democrats of the University of Nevada. All wore neat suits and smiles.

Though there was a good round of applause when "the brother of the next President of the United States" was introduced, not all the audience was in agreement. Many wore Kennedy-Johnson buttons and two sported snazzy red, white and blue Kennedy hats. Others of the nearly two hundred gathered in the Student Union were plainly of the opposing view and still more were undecided—they had come "just to hear what the guy has to say."

RIPPLE OF COMMENT

When young Kennedy started to speak, a noticeable ripple of comment went through these listening, however, broadminded Westerners that they were, they soon became accustomed to his slightly nasal voice with the Bostonian 'er' endings.

The Kennedy organization has chosen wisely its Western representatives. Ted Kennedy is close enough in age to the college students he addresses to make them feel at ease, yet he obviously has had enough experience to give older audiences confidence.

"GOOD MEETING"

Seated to the speaker's left, attractive Mrs. Kennedy watched her husband and the reactions of his listeners. Her yellow-blond head poised attentively, she listened, her mouth occasionally twitching from nervous strain. She smiled at the appropriate times and played the role of the decorative background kind of wife very well. She has no doubt had much practice since the campaign began. It looked as if she said "Its going to be a good meeting" to the wife of the publicity chairman during an applause. It was the type of thing an anxious outwardly composed hostess says through clenched teeth and smiling lips.

JOKE TELLING

Young Kennedy wound up his session of joke telling and vaude specifics with answering some questions from the audience. He seemed to attempt to answer them with forthrightness and honesty. He admitted not knowing all the answers and though not always concise or clear, he did not speak evasively.

The party left in a series of baby-blue and black Cadillacs waiting in front of the Student Union. The crowd was heard cheering some departing remarks made out the window.

YWCA INITIATES

New YWCA members were initiated during a candlelight service at a meeting held Wednesday in the Student Union.

Participants in the service were Marilyn Kotter, Beverly Roberson, Lynn Ross, and Mrs. Glen Ricketts. They explained the history of the YWCA as a world-wide movement and the University of Nevada.

Membership in YWCA is open to all women. Those interested can contact the club's advisor, Mrs. Ruth Talcott, in her office in the student union.

Music was first taught in public schools of the United States in the mid-1800s.

Definition of a phony: a pseudo-realist.

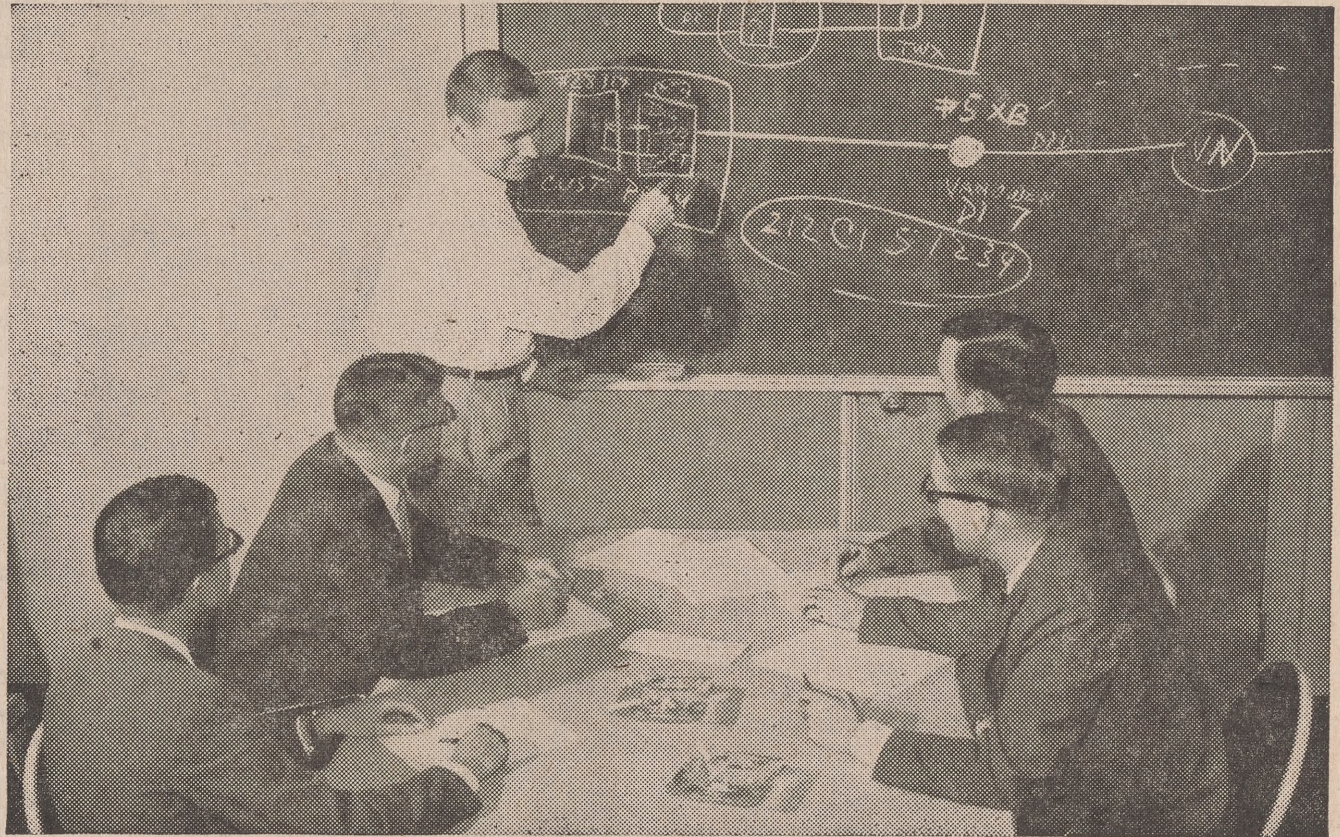

Student Union Board Members At Davis For Region Conference

Members of the student union board are now attending the Region Eleven Conference of Associated College Unions on the Davis campus of the University of California.

The conference is being attended by 250 students from 30 schools in the western United States. The meet opened yesterday and will conclude tomorrow at noon. Following this, the representatives from the University of Nevada will visit the Berkeley Student Union, the union of the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, and the facilities at Stanford University. The group will return to Reno Sunday.

Students now participating in the meet are Dave Short, Valerie Estes, Carole Warner, Bob Backus, Kathy Bailey, Barbara Broer, Gary Machabee, Joyce Casazza, Rich Gwyn, Bill Meyers, and Clark Santini. Robert Kersey, advisor to the board, is also attending the conference. Roger Christensen, Gary Bullis, and Benny Echeverria will leave Reno to join the group today after the Truman speech.

A new era has dawned — we now have leading national politicians with full heads of hair: Kennedy, Nixon, Lodge, and Rockefeller.

STU'S EXPLAINING HOW MACHINES WILL SOME DAY "OUTTALK" PEOPLE

"Stu" Smith graduated from Southern Cal with a powerful yen for excitement. His kind of excitement—Engineering.

He got what he bargained for (and a little more) when he joined Pacific Telephone. One of Stu's early assignments was to find out how existing Long Distance networks could be used to pipeline high speed "conversations" between computers in distant cities.

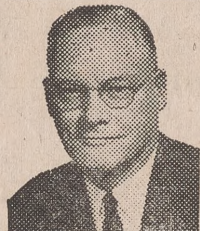

The fact that he did a fine job did not go unnoticed.

Today, four years after starting his telephone career, Senior Engineer Stuart Smith heads a staff of people responsible for telegraph and data transmission engineering in the huge

Los Angeles area. As a pioneer in this new data transmission field Stu predicts data processing machines will some day do more Long Distance "talking" than people.

Stu contacted 12 other companies before joining Pacific Telephone. "I don't think there's any limit to where a man can go in the telephone business today. Of course, this isn't the place for a guy looking for a soft touch. A man gets all the opportunity he can handle right from the start. He's limited only by how well and how fast he can cut it."

If Stu's talking about the kind of opportunity you're looking for, just visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."

Letters to the Editor

Editor, the Sagebrush:

In the last edition of the Sagebrush there appeared several letters protesting your authority, judgment and basic right to take a stand for a political candidate. Naturally, because you endorsed a Republican, the letters were by Democrats. I am not concerned with your political aspirations or who you feel is the best man for the presidency. The question that arises is whether the press—including the college press—has the right to take a stand on a social problem. Your Democratic critics said you had no right to take a stand. But it is apparent they did so because you had taken a stand against what they advocate. No letters were written by Republicans because you defended their position. However, had you defended Democrats and criticized Republicans most likely an even amount of letters would have been written by the GOP camp. This draws the conclusion that the letter-writing Democrats were not opposing your taking a stand with the Sagebrush, but, rather, that you chose to take a stand opposite of theirs. Had you defended John Kennedy it is safe to assume they would have felt that it was not only proper for you to be partisan, but downright wise.

It might be wise for the Democrats and the Republicans as well as other political backers whoever they might be, to realize that the press in this country is the bulwark behind the freedoms we enjoy. This is so because the press stands up and says what it damn well feels, as much as the man on the street corner who enjoys the same right, namely freedom of expression.

It is entirely within the rights of yourself to say whatever you please as editor of the Sagebrush at anytime you feel like saying it. Of course there will always be those who scream "unfair, bias, prejudice" if you oppose them, but, these persons when you defend them will say "true, right, proper."

You have an obligation to continue to print what you feel is best for the University, no matter how controversial, and, if you are to be an editor of merit you will let this be your guide.

WARREN LERUDE

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH

Inasmuch as the Democrats during this campaign have indicated that they would not be afraid of raising income taxes in the future, I think that it is appropriate that Sagebrush readers become acquainted with a letter to the editor of the Wall Street Journal of August 23 by J. R. Kyle of Tulsa, Oklahoma. It says:

"In evaluating the socialistic welfare state it might be timely to reflect on a few basic economic truths, which have been proven many times in the course of history (as quoted by K. W. Sollitt in 'Christian Economies'):

"1. Governments can give to the people what they do not first take away from the people.

"2. You cannot multiply wealth by dividing it.

"3. You cannot legislate the poor into economic freedom by legislating the wealthy out of it.

"4. That which one man receives without working for, another man must work for without receiving.

Nothing can kill the initiative of a people quicker than for half of them to get the idea that they need not work because the other half will feed them, and for the other half to get the idea that it does no good to work since someone else receives the rewards of their labors."

Independent Dance

A Halloween dance sponsored by the men of Lincoln and Artemisia Halls will be held in the old dining hall tomorrow night.

There will be no admission fee. The dance is for couples only. Dress will be casual, and masks should be worn, said Mr. Bill Ebeltoft, dance chairman.

Sorority Activities Slow Down For Homecoming Week Events

Homecoming events have been keeping the four sororities on campus busy for the last two weeks. Activities have slowed down to a minimum due to the long hours being spent on Wolves Frolic and the floats.

The tight schedule was relaxed long enough for the Tri-Delts to have a social at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house on Tuesday, Oct. 18. The "Heaven and Hell" dance featured slow music upstairs and fast music downstairs.

The Delta Delta Delta alumni club gave a tea for the new house mother, Mrs. Ruth Gwinner, on Oct. 19. The theme was autumn arrangements.

Lambda Chi socialized with Pi Phi on Oct. 20, from 7 p.m. till 9 p.m. Everyone was invited to paint what he wished on the large sheets of paper hanging on the walls.

Pi Beta Phi held the annual Pledge-Initiate banquet at the Stein on Oct. 24. Speakers for the dinner were Theresa McGuire, Pam Hinkley, and Brenda Barnes.

Karol Koehler is to be initiated as an active member of Pi Beta Phi this evening.

The Gamma Phi pledges took a "sneak" at Lake Tahoe with Alpha Tau Omega, Oct. 20.

Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Nu had a social while building their floats Oct. 24. Donuts and coffee were served. The Theta's also met with the Lambda Chi's for a "haunted house" social last night.

All four sororities are planning a buffet luncheon for the alumni after the Homecoming parade on Nov. 5.

FLOWERS TO BE SOLD

Cap and Scroll, senior women's honorary organization, is sponsoring the sale of large, white chrysanthemums decorated with a blue "N" for the Homecoming game. Orders for these flowers are being taken by a member of Cap and Scroll in each women's living group. Women are urged to order in advance because only a limited number will be sold at the game.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Early to bed and early to rise is an excellent way to avoid people.

Dear Dr. Frood: What should I look for first when I look for a wife?

Searching

DEAR SEARCHING: Her husband.

Dear Dr. Frood: Our son has been in college three months, and we haven't heard a word from him. Not even a post card. I don't want him to think I am too demanding or overprotective, but frankly I am worried. What should I do?

Worried Mother

DEAR WORRIED: Why worry after only three months in college? He's still learning how to write.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am six foot five, 225 pounds, handsome, tanned, muscled, a good athlete. But I can't get along with girls because I can never think of anything to say. What do you suggest?

Brawny

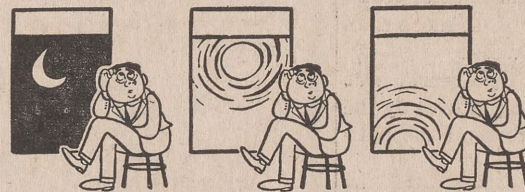

DEAR BRAWNY: "Me Tarzan, you Jane."

Dear Dr. Frood: Don't you agree that every college man has the right, in fact, the duty, to stand up and speak out for the things he believes in? Tomorrow I am going straight to the college president and tell him, politely but firmly, what is wrong here—the inferior teaching, the second-rate accommodations, the bad food. My friends think I am wrong to do this. What do you think?

Determined

DEAR DETERMINED: I applaud your spirit, young man! Had I been able, I would have commended you in a more personal letter. However, you forgot to leave a forwarding address.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am puzzled by the Lucky Strike slogan: "Remember how great cigarettes used to taste? Luckies still do." I've been sitting here for hours, thinking, thinking, thinking, but for the life of me I can't remember. What should I do about this?

Forgetful

DEAR FORGETFUL: I suggest you lean back, relax, and light up a Lucky Strike. I'm sure it will all come back to you—who you are, what you were, where you lived, everything.

FROOD FAD SWEEPS COLLEGES! They laughed when Dr. Frood started the new college craze of enjoying a Lucky while hanging from a coat rack. But now everybody is doing it! Smoking Luckies, that is. Today college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. Reason: With or without coat rack, Luckies deliver the greatest taste in smoking today.

Gateway Singers Here for Assembly--Other Events Set

"You have to hear the Gateway Singers to believe that folk singing can be satirical as well as artistic. They are wonderful!" This is the way the Chicago Daily News described the Gateway Singers who will appear on campus Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

The homecoming assembly, featuring this folk-singing group of "Hungry I" fame, is being sponsored by the student union board. The public is invited. The program's intermission will feature the crowning of the Homecoming queen.

University regulations have been altered somewhat for this year's Homecoming celebration.

Homecoming chairman, Bob Van Lydegraf, announced to living groups Monday that arrangements have been made for the operation of a cocktail lounge on the premises of the all-school Homecoming dance. Students were cautioned in their use of the bar by Van Lydegraf and Dean Elaine Mobley.

The dance will be held at 9 p.m. Nov. 5 in the Skyroom of the Mapes hotel. Last year it was held at the State building and no alcoholic beverages were served.

The dance will terminate Homecoming activities.

ALUMNI INVITED

Alumni and general public have been invited to the President's reception Saturday from noon to 2 p.m. in the Dining Commons. University president Charles Armstrong will receive guests with other school administrators and Governor Grant Sawyer. Buffet luncheon will be served for 85 cents.

Tickets for Wolves Frolic are still available in the ASUN bookstore, according to Bill Crawford, business manager. Performances will be given Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. in the State building.

Homecoming queen will be announced at the assembly Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. Candidates are Barbara Timlake, Delta Delta Delta, Las Vegas; Aliceann Monaghan, Gamma Phi Beta, Reno; Susan Black, Pi Beta Phi, Reno; Carolita Pierce, Kappa Alpha Theta, Las Vegas; and Penny Kruger, Independent Women, Henderson.

1000 Sign Petition

With approximately one thousand signatures on the three "death corner" petitions, continued apathy on campus is causing a delay in sending the petitions to authorities.

Last week ASUN President Ben Echeverria stated he expected to send the petitions to the Reno city council, State Highway Engineer Ouis Wright, and Governor Grant Sawyer. He made the statement with the expectation that last week's total signatures of approximately 800 would rise to more than the total for this week.

At press time, Echeverria was hoping for enough signatures by the end of this week to send the petitions.

... Truman

Some controversy has arisen over this aspect. Gov. Sawyer has said that the talk will be partisan. The event will not be partisan. According to Dr. Kenneth E. Young, executive vice-president of the University, not even partisan placards or signs will be allowed at the talk.

BOARD IN CHARGE

Arrangements for President Truman's visit have been made by members of the student union board. His talk will be under the sponsorship of the Union's lectures committee.

Upon arrival on campus President Truman will be welcomed on behalf of the University by Dr. Alex Dandini, University marshal.

Accompanying President Truman to the platform will be Gov. Sawyer, Senators Alan Bible and Howard Cannon, Congressman Walter S. Baring (all Democrats) and other elected officials, who will also be present in a non-partisan capacity.

Nevada's football team takes a "breather" on its improved 1960 schedule this week against weak Portland State College Saturday night in Portland.

The "patsie" Vikings lost eight out of nine games last season and have won only one game out of six starts this year, and that was over College of Education.

In 1959 Portland State was schellacked by such "power-houses" as Whitworth College, 66-0, Pacific University 40-0, and Linfield 34-0.

The only point on which the Vikings should give the stronger Wolf Pack any trouble is their multiple offense. Portland State blends the straight-T, split-T, slot-T, and wing-T formations into offensive patterns which could confuse opposing defenses.

The "break" on the schedule comes at an opportune time for coach Dick Trachok's Nevada squad just before the important FWC Homecoming game with Sacramento State before the old grads and state officials next week.

The Wolf Pack footballers played their finest game of the season in a losing effort last week against toughie San Francisco State.

Nevada led the surprised Gators for more than fifty minutes of the ball game but a couple of bad breaks led to three fourth-quarter touchdowns for San Francisco State's come-from-behind victory.

San Francisco State, the defending FWC champion, has an enrollment of more than 10,000 students, which is four times as large as the University of Nevada. The Gators have lost only one ball game in two seasons.

Roses to the greatly-improved University of Nevada marching band who put on the best performance a Nevada band has staged in many years at halftime during the San Francisco State game. Dr. John Carrico directed the Nevada marching band to a truly "big-time" college band performance.

SAE dropped its protest of the ATO softball game Monday to finally settle the final intra-mural league softball standings. The Independents and ATO wound up the season as co-champions with a tie for first place with 6-1 records. The question has not been decided on a playoff game between the two teams.

Nevada's junior varsity football team plays its only home game of the season in Mackay Stadium tonight against the Chico State jayvees. Coach Bill Ireland's Wolf Pack JV's have rolled to two straight victories and hope to wrap up its short season tonight with an unbeaten record.

Ireland has coached the first Nevada junior varsity team in ten years to a highly-successful season and reports that the team is loaded with future varsity prospects.

Independents, ATO Are in Lead

The Independents and Alpha Tau Omega volleyball teams went into last night's crucial game for the league championship tied for first place with unbeaten 5-0 records.

Results of the highly-important game for the league title were unavailable at Sagebrush presstime.

The stage was set for the championship game when both teams kept their perfect records intact with easy victories Wednesday night.

The Independents clobbered Lamba Chi Alpha 15-3 and 15-4, and ATO took a forfeit victory over Theta Chi.

The winner of last night's crucial game will be virtually the league champion although each team has one make-up game to be played.

Members of the Independents volleyball team this season included Stewart Johnson, Dave Lumos, Lonnie Moore, John Cox, Carl Hovland, Bill Pollard, Skipper Smale, Ron Banta and Brian Fox.

Gator's Late Rally Stops Pack, 18-7

"I was very pleased with our team's performance although we did lose," said Dick Trachok, Nevada varsity football's head coach as he looked back at the recent Nevada-San Francisco State game.

San Francisco State's football team pushed across three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to defeat the Nevada Wolf Pack 18-7 in fog-shrouded San Francisco last Saturday afternoon.

Nevada held the Gators scoreless for three quarters, but a disputed fumble call by the officials in favor of the hometown athletes at the beginning of the fourth quarter opened the flood gates, and the Gators capitalized.

DEAD BALL

San Francisco halfback Willie Simpson was tackled on the Nevada seven-yard line. While he was still on his feet, the ball popped out of his hands and was grabbed in mid-air by Wolf Pack defender John Genasci. The officials ruled that the ball was dead before the fumble.

Given this new lease on life, the Golden Gators went the remaining distance for the score. The extra point try was no good, but the Gators were moving.

Within three minutes, the San Franciscans had taken a 12-7 lead on a blocked punt and a recovery for the touchdown. Nevada quarterback Bob Alfred's kick was blocked by Gator lineman Julius Varnado, who then fell on the ball in the end zone for the six points.

San Francisco added its final score two minutes later on a 24-yard pass play from Charlie Fuller to Bob Martin. Nevada held for the third time on the conversion attempt, but the Gators had enough points to win 18-7.

GATORS FUMBLE

A Gator fumble led to the only Wolf Pack score. In the first period, Jay VreNon fell on a Fuller fumble on the San Francisco 28. Nevada moved to the goal on short gains by Bernie Cotton, Rod Cook, and Don Hunt, with Hunt carrying the final two yards for the score. Alfred's placement made the score 7-0, the way it lasted until the fourth quarter.

Nevada Meets Portland State There in Non-League Go

University of Nevada's football team travels to Portland Saturday to meet the Portland State Vikings in an inter-sectional game under the lights.

The Wolf Pack will be strong favorites to even its season record to 3-3 against the weak Vikings.

This will be the first time that Nevada has played Portland State in football. The Vikings are coached by Hugh Smithwick, a former Wolf Pack football player and a coach at the University for eight seasons.

Portland State had a miserable 1-8 record last year and has won only one game this season, while losing four and tying one.

The Vikings defeated Oregon College of Education this year, tied Puget Sound, and lost to Lewis and Clark, Oregon Tech, Southern Oregon, and Eastern Oregon.

The Wolf Pack will go into the game with a 2-3 season record, including a 1-2 Far Western Conference record.

Nevada has beaten Pepperdine and the Cal Aggies while losing to Chico State, Cal Poly (Pomona), and San Francisco State.

Coach Dick Trachok worked his Silver and Blue charges on its passing game this week in an effort to improve last week's passing performance. Nevada completed only one pass—a six-yarder—last week against tough San Francisco State.

Sophomores Jim Cawiezell and Bob Alfred, both in their first year of football with the Wolf Pack, will share the quarterback duties for Nevada.

Alfred is a transfer from Valley Junior College in Los Angeles, and Cawiezell is a transfer from Trinidad JC in the Midwest.

Bernie Cotten and Don Hunt, another pair of sophomores, will probably see most of the action at the halfback positions, and senior Rod Cook is the likely starter at fullback.

The Wolf Pack may be strengthened by the return of veteran end Jim Whitaker and tackle Larry Moss who sat out the San Francisco State game with injuries.

John Genasci, Chris Nenzel, Max Culp, Frank Nenzel, Bill Byrnes, Gene Germain and Dick Ripley have all turned in outstanding performances for Nevada in the line in the last two outings.

Nevada JV's Host Chico JV's Tonight

Coch Bill Ireland's University of Nevada junior varsity football team makes its only home appearance of the season tonight against the Chico State JV's at Mackay Stadium.

Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. The undefeated Wolf Pack jayvees have registered victories over Shasta JC and the Cal Aggie junior varsity this season. Both teams were previously unbeaten before playing Nevada.

Middle guard Jim McDade, of Winnemucca, weighs 245, Wesley Jefferson, Las Vegas, is 230 pounds; and Tom Cook, Englewood, Calif. tips the scales at 248.

Quarterback Jerry Polaha, Allentown, Pa., has been impressive with his sharp ball handling and passing. Polaha, a freshman, saw previous action playing football in the service.

standouts playing on the Wolf Pack JV'se include Casey Jones, guard from Reno; Gene Buzzetti, a center from Elko; Dennis Daly, a guard from Las Vegas; Rudy Faber, a defensive safety from Gorman (Las Vegas); and Jim Rowe, a tackle from Lovelock.

Master of Profanity

AMERICA'S GREATEST political master of profanity, Harry S. Truman, invades our campus today and will deliver a partisan speech, probably because he has never been able to give a sensible non-partisan address.

NO DOUBT THE ex-president will more than generously touch on the subject of many of Senator John F. Kennedy's campaign speeches, the United States' so-called "shrinking prestige" due to the Eisenhower Administration. Does "Give 'em Hell Harry" realize that an ex-president should be one of the chief conveyors for strengthening, rather than weakening, our country's prestige in the eyes of other nations? Even two-time loser Adlai E. Stevenson, blasphemous himself on frequent occasions, has done more than Truman, through his Latin American good-will visits, to give foreigners something to look up to in American leadership.

TRUMAN WILL ALSO undoubtedly be mustering support for Kennedy after seriously opposing his nomination for the presidency before the political conventions last July. It is amazing that Kennedy, according to Truman, has become such a qualified leader in just three months.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS should know that sixty per cent of those who voted in this week's mock elections will not have a happy life after death. Truman recently declared that "those who vote Republican ought to go to Hell!"

-T.W.

Free Press Battle

ANOTHER BATTLE FOR freedom of the press broke out this last week. The battle wasn't in Cuba or in Turkey or in a Communist state. It was at the University of California at Berkeley.

THE UC DAILY Californian, the student newspaper, up to this week had a tradition of independence. The paper was one that fought for the rights of the individual student at every available opportunity. It was a paper that did not refuse to take stands on what its editors considered to be important issues.

BUT STUDENT GOVERNMENT at that institution cracked down when the paper took a stand on a campus issue last week. Student government, which had been "laying" for the paper for some time, took the opportunity to try to stifle the paper's independence by gaining more direct control over the publication.

AT THAT THE Daily Cal staff resigned en masse and set about publishing their own paper, the Independent Californian.

THE SAGEBRUSH, which has always been an advocate for freedom of the press for both city and campus, is confident that opinion on the UC campus will eventually force the power mad student leaders to return editorial freedom to the Daily Cal.

Partisan Controversy

A STORM OF controversy has broken this week over today's visit of former President Harry S. "Give 'em Hell" Truman to the University of Nevada campus.

ALL THIS RUCKUS seems to be somewhat ridiculous inasmuch as the student union board, the sponsor of the event, tried to get a Republican of equal stature to speak. IN FACT, UP UNTIL this week the Sagebrush thought that the Nevada Republican party had arranged the former President's visit to insure that the Nixon-Lodge ticket would go over the top in this State.

Why Not?

By BILL ADAMS

Regardless of your political beliefs or affiliations, I would like to urge all students to attend the Harry S. Truman Rally today at 2 p.m. Many of you feel that he has been somewhat of a controversial figure—and you are right. Mistakes—yes, he made them, but don't we all. Of course, one could say, that whatever he has done in the years past is water under the bridge. But then, after all, he accomplished many things we can all be proud of and grateful for. And now that he is campaigning for his party, you won't be expected to agree with all his ideologies and philosophies.

However, remember that he was a President of the United States and deserves the attention and courtesy becoming such an office. Many state, University and student officials will accompany Truman to the speaker's rostrum and a discourteous comment directed to him, will be an embarrassment to the entire student body. This is the first time in many years that a major political personality has visited this campus. Let us make sure that we keep a good name for our campus in order that dignitaries will visit us in the future. Next time it could be a Republican.

You may think that the aforementioned comments concerning student courtesy were uncalled for or unfounded. However, I would like to tell you about a little incident that took place Friday evening. Ted Kennedy (The Senator's youngest brother, in charge of the campaign for the western states) and party arrived at the University dining commons, for dinner, prior to his speech at the TUB. Upon their appearance, some of our more intellectual students began making comments (smart) concerning the Democratic, as well as, the Republican parties. When informed by our ASUN President, Ben Echeverria, that their conduct was out of place, one individual suggested that he just might poke Ben in the nose.

Kennedy spoke to a capacity crowd, which assembled in the lounge area of the TUB. While everything was going smoothly inside, our campus heroes started their antics outside the building. As the Kennedy party left the union, to board their car, they were to see Nixon-Lodge stickers plastered on it. The vehicle, which Governor Grant Sawyer had most generously offered the Young Democrats for the evening's use, was the target. This shows lack of respect for a visiting dignitary, state property, their own university, the ASUN president, and their fellow students. Keep it up men—you'll go a long way in life.

It may surprise many of you to know that we have a very active business fraternity on campus. Last week, under the direction of Dr. Edward Vietti, Delta Sigma Pi, conducted a field trip to the new Nugget Motor Lodge in Sparks. The trip was part of Dr. Vietti's new program of hotel and motel management. With the objective of giving the group a first hand look at such an institution while in operation. The group meets in the TUB for its regular meetings and all students of the College of Business are cordially invited to attend. The fraternity is headed by Jack Clifford.

I would like to call to your attention the fact that—if you do not have your student body cards by mid-term, you'll be out of luck. That is the last day which you may obtain them. Contact the ASUN Secretary between the hours of 3-5 p.m. in room 119 of the union. Remember, basketball season is rapidly approaching.

To see how narrow-minded some editors can be—find last Tuesday's Gazette and read the editorial.

Homecoming is just around the corner and we all are looking forward to the big game between our Wolf Pack and the Sacramento Hornets. Last year our team really pulled through for the capacity crowd and I am sure that they can do it again this year. Sac-State has challenged us to a rally and stated that they are going to have card stunts and their own bonfire. (The bonfire that we used to have at Homecoming, was staged earlier in the year at the pajama rally. The old tradition—was for the frosh to throw their dinks and ribbons in the fire provided they won the tug-o-war against the sophomores.) The rally committee is requesting everyone to wear white shirts if possible. Why not?

The Hungry Eye

By MARILYN KOTTER

EVERYTHING IS 90% CRUD: It sure is. Ha Ha.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS: Many alums were seen viewing the fisticuffs on the field during the wet weekend in San Francisco. Among those renewing acquaintances were Dick Bryan and Mack Fry, both at Hastings, Bob Frenkl, who is now a lieutenant in the Navy, and Don Zundel, studying dentistry at P S.

THE CARAVAN: Motoring frantically toward San Francisco and winding up lost in Sacramento were Sue Wordell, Joanne Fike, Karen Olsen, Ann Savage, and Joann McLeod. First stop in Berkeley was the Phi Tau house.

THE BRAWLERY: Were the drinks mixed purposely strong at the ATO dance last Saturday night, so that many left at 9:30?

A MEAN MOTOR SCOOTER: Putting the motor scooter to an endurance test Friday night was Janet Riddle. From what we hear, the float wasn't that boring.

WOW: Enjoying the Nevada Marching Band, who, incidentally really showed the Gators something last week, were Jerry McCord, Norm Harper, and Ralph Perry. They set a good example for the Cal Phi Sig's by drinking the later group's weekend supply of beer unaided.

YEA, A PINNING: It was a big "secret," but Judy Green and Dave Bartholomew, SAE, announced their pinning at the Pi Phi Pledge-Initiate Banquet last Monday night at the Stein.

THE CRUSADER: If there is no editorial this week, or for that matter, if there is no paper this week, it is because the Editor is too busy helping the radical faction of the Daily Californian at Cal. (Ed. Note: I've been misquoted!)

GOOD LUCK TO BPA AND TMG ON FRIDAY—MAY THE BEST TEAM WIN.

COOK EMPLOYMENT AGENCY: Those interested in employment in Hawaii see Tom Cook, Snake, who is making his exodus there next summer.

LOST AND FOUND: It started at Bob Heaney's BYO party before the SAE pledge dance last weekend, so if anyone got a black coat worn by Barbara Couch, owned by Jan Clements, tell one or the other, and they will have a black coat to trade.

WHERE AM I? Seen wandering the streets in SF were Rudy Faber, who was looking for Royce Feour, and Carl Hovland, and Royce Feour and Carl Hovland, who were looking for Rudy Faber. It's a good thing the team came along after recovering from the aforementioned fisticuffs to aid these men in distress.

MASQUERADERS: It was Halloween early for Manzanita Association, who held its character Masquerade last Friday night. In evidence were Little Boy Blue, Doug Parish, and Little Bo Peep, Noel Gordon, who won the costume prize. Even Fidel Castro made it to this dance.

HOT AIR: Anyone finding any loose air around, please return to Bob Weishaupt. Accused of stealing it was Karen Parsons at the Gamma Phi-Tau pledge sneak last week at the lake. By the Way, there promises to be a lot of activity for the GP's and Lambda Chi's at the float on Giroux St. this weekend.

UNEMPLOYMENT: Those knowing of gainful employment should contact Mary Ann Kerstetter. Clark Santini can't seem to help her at all.

SOCIALIZING: Tonight: Sig Ep pledge dance. Tomorrow night Phi Sig-Chi Sigma member in each living group. Pledge dance.

Tomorrow: Frosh-Soph paint the "N" at 8:30, eat at noon, dance tomorrow night.

Don't forget to order your mums for the Homecoming game from a Cap and Scroll
