

Queen Elections Start Monday

As the University of Nevada goes international for its 41st annual Homecoming celebration, the six coeds seeking to reign over the festivities have donned foreign costumes to be in keeping with the theme.

Male students on campus will determine which campus beauty will reign over the Homecoming activities Oct. 26-28. Queen candidates are Christiane Balducci of Reno, Barbara Brannen of Sparks, Roxane Jensen of Elko, Linda Knobbs, Clarel Komer, and Dianne Sturm, all of Las Vegas.

The candidates started making their rounds visiting the various living groups this week. Voting will take place in fraternity houses Monday, Oct. 23, and Wednesday, Oct. 25 in the student union.

Christiane Balducci

Miss Balducci, 20, is representing Gamma Phi Beta. A 1960 graduate of Reno high school, she is now a sophomore at the University where she is majoring in French. Coming originally from France, Miss Balducci and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Balducci of 811 South Arlington, have resided in Reno for five years. On campus she is a member of Pages, sophomore women's honorary organization.

Barbara Brannen

Pi Beta Phi's candidate, Barbara Brannen, is a 1958 graduate of Sparks high school. This 21-year-old nursing student is a junior at the University. Among her campus activities are sorority recording secretary and social chairman, YWCA, senator, election board chairman, Student Nurses association, Crescent Girl of Lambda Chi Alpha, and Little Sisters of Minerva. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brannen of 321 M st., Sparks.

Roxane Jensen

Roxane Jensen, 19-year-old sophomore from Elko, is representing Manzanita hall in the queen contest. After graduating from Elko high school in 1960, Miss Jensen spent her freshman year at Cottey College in Nevada, Missouri. There she was active in the drama club, Emerson Society, choral group, and international relations club. She is majoring in elementary education and history. Miss Jensen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jensen of Elko.

Linda Knobbs

Delta Delta Delta queen candidate is Linda Knobbs, a 20-year-old elementary education major. A 1959 graduate of White Pine high school, she is now a resident of Las Vegas. A junior on the Nevada campus, her activities include chairman of the Winter Carnival dance, secretary of the National Education association, Pan Hellenic representative, and Young Democrats. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Knobbs, of Las Vegas.

Clarel Komer

Clarel Komer, candidate from the New Residence hall, is also from Las Vegas. She was graduated in 1960 from Las Vegas high school and is now a sophomore at the University. An accounting major, she lists her activities as Young Democrats and Associated Women Students representative. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Komer of Las Vegas.

Dianne Sturm

Kappa Alpha Theta's candidate is Dianne Sturm, a sophomore majoring in elementary education. A 1960 graduate of Basic High school in Henderson, she has recently moved with her family to Las Vegas. While in Henderson she served as Miss Henderson, reigning over the annual Industrial Days celebration. This 18-year-old brunette is active in Young Democrats and the Women's Recreation Association. She is presently serving as vice president of her pledge class. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Sturm of Las Vegas.

The queen will be announced Thursday, October 26, during the intermission of Wolves Frolic. She will be presented to the alumni the following night as the students present Frolic for the returnees.

Saturday morning, she and her attendants will ride in the Homecoming parade. An elaborate pageant will be held in her honor during half-time of the Cal Poly-Nevada football game. Governor Grant Sawyer will officially present the queen at the game, which is scheduled for 2 p. m. in Mackay stadium. Her reign will climax Saturday evening at the Homecoming dance when she will present trophies to the winning campus living groups for Frolic and float competition.

Alexander G. Weygers, "artist with a camera," will present his lecture-show titled "A World of Beauty," Thursday, Oct. 19 at 8 p. m. in the fine arts auditorium.

Weygers likes "to lead the viewer from the infinite variety of recognizable objects in nature into detached parts of them until even those who formerly disliked abstraction find themselves enjoying it."

The series of color slide projections which he will show include such things as the glitter of dew on a dandelion, translucent ice formations along a mountain stream, the wondrous "outer world" found in a single drop of water.

In 1929 he turned wholly to art and was invited to apprentice under the American sculptor, Lorado Taft, who saw in an early piece of Weygers' work "the finest piece of sculpture by an untrained hand that I have ever seen."

Then followed further fine arts studies at the Royal Academy of Fine Arts, the Hauge, Holland; wood engraving under Paul Bonnet, Paris; and marble carving under Ettore Masi, Florence, Italy.

In reference to his photography, the Reno Evening Gazette called it an "advent of a unique field." The Palo Alto Times said that he "brings out the artistry in the mundane things seen and ignored in daily life." C. E. Smith, director of the Palm Springs Desert Museum said that Weygers' slides "are the most unusual, technically and artistically, that we have ever seen."

UN President New Chairman

Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, president of the University of Nevada, has been named chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of the Associated Rocky Mountain Universities for the 1961-1962 academic year.

Dr. Armstrong's election came at the annual meeting of the board of directors held in Denver, Colo., Oct. 10.

The association, which was incorporated in 1959, is composed of 20 western universities, colleges, and schools and is designed to develop new research resources for the western area. The ARMU board is made up of the presidents of the founding institutions. Association emphasis is on science and engineering.

The executive committee which Dr. Armstrong will head this year will be responsible for the development of a detailed plan and negotiations with all of the member institutions.

ASUN Generals: Students To Polls; Voting Tomorrow

ASUN constitutional amendments will be voted on tomorrow in the general elections. The amendments propose to revise the election policy, the tenure of office of the ASUN president, and the class standing of the second vice-president.

Joe Alvarez and Jim Sinasek will seek the office of senator from the College of Arts and Science. John Clark and John Millar will vie for the position of senator from the Mackay School of Mines.

Joel Glover and Jim Richards will seek the freshman class presidency. Molly Tyree and Patricia Plenn will seek the position of AWS freshman representative. Robin Reese and Susan Hickman vie for the AWS off-campus non-affiliated representative.

All students are eligible to vote for the ASUN amendment change. All women students may vote for the off-campus non-affiliated representative. Only freshmen may vote for freshman class president, and only freshman women will cast votes for the freshman AWS representative. Other students will vote in their respective colleges for the candidates who are running.

The general election will be held tomorrow, upstairs in the student union building from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Di Sorbello Urges World Govt. Ideas

"The United States cannot stop at just helping Europe unite," said Dr. Ugucione Ramieri Di Sorbello when he addressed a group of students and faculty members Friday morning.

The member of the press department of the Italian foreign office in Rome, Italy, said he hopes to "see a movement towards thinking about a world government" on the part of Americans.

Prison Doc Speaks Wed.

Are you a potential criminal? Are you sure? Are you aware of the causes of criminal behavior?

All interested students and faculty members are invited to hear Dr. Wesley Hiler, Nevada state prison psychologist, speak on "The Psychodynamics of Crime." A short talk will also be given by a former prison inmate. The lecture will begin at 8 p.m. tomorrow, Oct. 18, in the Sierra room of the student union.

Dr. Hiler's lecture is the second of a series presented by Psi Chi, Honorary Psychology Fraternity. Please remember . . . Five out of four New York psychiatrists recommend the ingredients of Psi Chi lectures.

Psi Chi will hold a short business meeting before Dr. Hiler's address at 7:30 p.m. in the Sierra room.

College Who's Who Applications Ready

Applications for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities for the academic year 1961-62 are available in the dean of men's office or in the offices of the deans of the seven colleges.

Any senior in good standing is eligible to apply for this recognition. Application must be completed and be in the office of the dean of men by Oct. 21 at 4 p. m.

Dr. D. Sorbello said there is a tendency of a feeling of disloyalty on the part of Americans toward the idea of a world government, but pointed out that the United States is one of the most homogeneous nations in the world.

He called for Americans to think of what the world would be like if united under one common government and said that this utopian idea is not new. "The history of the west is one of unity," and the 19th century idea that the world is the west still prevails.

Dr. DiSorbello, who spoke here in commemoration of the centennial of Italian independence, discussed the possibilities of joining the nations of Europe into a confederation of the United States of Europe. He said the European Common Market, of which England may become a part, is a start toward this goal.

Pressure has been put on England for the last several years to join the Common Market which would insure uniform regulation of trade and tariffs for the six member nations France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, West Germany, and the Netherlands.

England is now at an economic disadvantage by not being a member of the Common Market, and Dr. Di Sorbello said that if she joins England would make the nucleus of the United States of Europe. "With England entering, this would have the force of attraction to all free countries of Europe" into the United States of Europe.

Editorial Comment

The Whole Picture?

LAST WEEK THE UNIVERSITY was again fortunate in having a distinguished speaker on campus. Although Dr. Uguccione Ranieri Di Sorbello, a member of the press department of the Italian foreign service, did not reach very many students during his talk Friday morning, he may well have left some unanswered questions in the minds of those he did speak to.

DR. DI SORBELLO, WHO CONSIDERS himself a "world federalist," spoke highly in favor of the world under one government, starting with a confederation of the European nations. He expressed his hopes that Americans would soon start thinking in his vein and begin to consider what the world would be like under one government.

THE VISITING ITALIAN SAID THIS movement could start through England's joining the European Common Market which would attract other small nations of Europe into an eventual confederation and from there, a federation. THE SPEAKER EMPHASIZED THAT this idea of forming federations of formerly independent nations is not new. And Governor Nelson D. Rockefeller, when he spoke on campus less than two weeks ago, hinted at a federation of nations in the Western hemisphere.

BUT THE DIFFERENCE LIES IN the reasons these two men gave for uniting governments under one system. Governor Rockefeller said the federation he spoke of would keep the free nations of the Western hemisphere safely on the side of democratic government, and said a united government might also serve to attract uncommitted nations which might otherwise go Communistic.

DR. DI SORBELLO, WHO SAID THAT England would form the nucleus of a European confederation, said that Britain would join because of economic pressures, and of course, the whole idea back of the Common Market is to insure economic advantages in trading and regulating tariffs for the six present member nations. Other than the economic benefits which England would gain by joining the Common Market, Dr. Di Sorbello gave no other reasons for furthering the movement toward uniting the nations of Europe. And when he went on to advocate the European confederation, and later an ultimate world federation, he gave no reasons as to why a world government would be a good movement to work toward.

BUT THE MOST IMPORTANT THING which Dr. Di Sorbello left completely out of the picture he painted for his audience is that area to the east of Europe which is fast spreading farther and farther west. And the major aim of the USSR is nothing more than total communization of the entire world. Yet the Italian dignitary did not so much as once mention communism or how it would fit into this scheme of a world government. If Dr. Di Sorbello was proposing a world government of only western nations to form a stronghold against the communist world, he did not make this at all clear to his audience.

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

I have been to two of the three home football games this year and enjoy watching Nevada play. I also enjoy cheering at these games, which many people will vouch for. But I don't like to cheer alone. The cheerleaders will stand and never move from one end to the other. It is not the duty of the song leaders to conduct cheers at either end of the bleachers while the cheerleaders congregate in the middle. If there is to be an area for those wishing to cheer then this fact should be made public. A cheer will be announced with a probable intention of going through it about five or six times. By the time those of us who were not fortunate enough to sit in the middle, know what the cheer is, it is over and the cheerleaders complain. . . "we could almost hear that". But we can't hear you.

Dorms Plan Social Tomorrow Night

Live music will be the order of the day at the all-dorm social to be held Thursday evening. The social will take place from 7 to 9:30 p. m., Oct. 19, in the dining commons.

Live music for the dance will be provided by the Blue Notes, a recently formed all-student dance band. The Blue Notes plan to offer a much wider variety of dance music than has been available to University groups in recent years. This will be their first appearance at a student dance.

All residents of the dorms are welcomed to attend the social, which is the second in a series of combined dormitory functions. Refreshments will be served and there is no admission charge.

The band is a representation of the University, and I might add, they sound very good. They have not gotten uniforms as yet but I am sure they would be willing to wear white shirts if the idea was presented to them. They have tremendous spirit and enthusiasm and are willing to cheer, but they need a leader.

I will try to be constructive now. Either appropriate a place closer to the middle for the band or, when a cheer is announced, send one of the leaders down to re-announce it and then lead it. Also space yourselves accordingly from one end of the bleachers to the other to allow everyone the opportunity to yell. As I said, I like to cheer, and am willing to get those around me to do the same, but do not like to have people turn around and stare at me as if I were nuts. The cheerleaders should talk back to the crowd and this also will raise their spirit.

Also, the cheerleaders and Pep club have the authority to suggest that those who wish to cheer for Nevada wear white shirts. They can also enforce it. I feel the spirit would rise, as I know others feel also. Then the cheerleaders, in their very cute outfits, would not feel so helpless.

These are not only my feelings, but those of many others on campus and I would like to see the enthusiasm for a terrific football team carried over to a probably terrific basketball team.

Thank you,
Sincerely,
Maxine Wright

had a one-man conference about your future lately?

You: Why the gold bars?
Future You: You're needed... just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't...
You: All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?
Future You: The Air Force needs college trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.
You: Say I was interested... how can I get to be an officer?
Future You: You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer Training School... where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.
You: Starting salary is important. What about that?
Future You: Add it up. Base pay, tax-free allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an ace major to see it adds up to an attractive package.
You: I've been thinking about getting my Master's.
Future You: As an officer you can apply for the Air Force Institute of Technology. At no cost, and while on active duty some officers may even win their Ph.D. degrees.
You: Tell me more.

Newsman To SDX Confab

Five journalism students and one faculty member are expected to attend the first regional convention of Sigma Delta Chi in San Luis Obispo, Calif., this weekend.

The University of Nevada delegation to the professional journalistic society's convention will leave Friday, Oct. 20 for the two-day journalism gathering.

Representing the University of Nevada undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi will be Paul Boeyink, Tom Kinsey, Chuck Thomas, Doug Buchanan, Ronald Lansford and Professor Theodore Conover.

Both professional and undergraduate chapters of the journalism society will meet on the California polytechnic college campus. Delegations from chapters in California, Hawaii, Nevada, and Arizona will be represented at the meeting.

Panel discussions will be held on job opportunities for journalism graduates, press conferences, and student-professional chapter relationship.

Dr. Warren Agee, executive officer of Sigma Delta Chi, is scheduled to address the delegates.

Trips to Vandenberg missile base and the Hearst castle at San Simeon, are planned for the final day of the convention.

StereoStuff

By PAT BOURNE

Before 1836, no Russian art-music existed worthy of the name; and as late as the eighteenth century, the only indigenous secular tunes that masses of the people could turn to were their own folk-songs.

The aristocracy had the art-music of established Italian and German court-musicians available to them, but the Russian common folk were denied the opportunity to enjoy this music. It was the Napoleonic retreat from Moscow in 1812, and the consequent loosening of European and Russian culture that brought about the great flowering of Russian composers in the 19th century.

"Concert Russe," which features four of these composers, will be presented this week on Concert in Stereo. The selections and composers are "A Night on the Bare Mountain," Modest Moussorgsky; "Marche Slave," Tchaikovsky; "Kamarinskaya," Machail Glinka; and "Dance of the Polovetsian Maidens," Alexander Borodin.

William Steinberg, who is celebrated as one of the foremost conductors of our time conducts the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra in Concert Russe.

Complementing Concert Russe, we have Leonard Bernstein conducting the New York Philharmonic orchestra which plays Bernstein's own compositions, the suite from "On the Waterfront" and dances from "West Side Story."

William K. Zinsser of Columbia Records explains about Bernstein's compositions, "A curious rule governs the composer of a movie background score. His music should be heard but not noticed. It must induce certain emotions in the people watching the film, yet never intrude on their thoughts."

"If the composer does his job well, his music will not achieve fame and long life — the usual rewards in art. On the contrary, it will achieve obloivion and will be remembered only by a grateful producer and by the composer himself."

Pierotti To Head Newman Clubbers

John Pierotti was elected president of Newman club at a meeting held Oct. 11.

Others elected were Jim Gelhaus, vice-president; Jill Black, recording secretary; Barbara Cooper, treasurer; Don Dalton, religious chairman; Judy Black and Boyd Cox, social chairmen; and Jenie Booth, historian. All will preside for the fall semester.

Father James McNally gave an introductory lecture to the study of the Ten Commandments. This will be the subject of several future lectures.

The next regular meeting and lecture will be held tomorrow, Oct. 18, in the Newman center. On Oct. 19, a filmstrip on Europe and Lourdes will be shown.

Mackenzie Names Junior Committee

The junior class committee has been named by Andy Mackenzie, junior class president. Members chosen to be on the committee are Tim Grant, Richard Gwyn, Don Arkell, Karin Bryant, Bill Lohse, Susan Forden, Diane McManus, and Doug Buchanan.

Profs Confer In Commons

The American Association of University Professors of the University of Nevada will meet for their first business session tomorrow, Oct. 18, at 7:30 p. m. in the faculty dining room. Presiding over the meeting will be Dr. Edmund R. Barmettler, president, of the College of Agriculture. He will be assisted by Dr. Jan Felshin, vice-president; Dr. Willard Day, secretary.

President Charles J. Armstrong will be the guest speaker. He will give a talk about the main concern of the organization, faculty and administrative responsibilities within the University.

The AAUP was founded in 1915 by a group of scholars to advance the ideals and standards of the academic profession. It is the only national association that represents faculty and research personnel in the institutes of higher learning.

Membership in the AAUP is open to faculty members with the rank of instructor or higher.

Presently, 45 members of the University of Nevada faculty belong to the AAUP. All members and prospective members of the organization are invited to the meeting tomorrow.

Foreign Service Test Date Set

Filing deadline for application for the next Foreign Service Officer examination, given by the United States Department of State, is Monday, Oct. 23. Applications forms are available in room 104, Ross hall.

The written exam will be given Dec. 9 of this year. The State Department is seeking to interest young men and women who have majored in such fields as economics, public and business administration, language and area studies, history and political science.

Candidates must be at least 21 and under 31 years of age by Oct. 23, 1961. Persons 20 years old may apply if college graduates or seniors in college. Applicants must have been US citizens for at least nine years.

Candidates who are successful in the one-day written examination, which test facility in English expression, general ability, and general background knowledge will subsequently be examined orally by panels which meet at regional point throughout the United States.

A physical exam follows successful passage of the oral test. If found qualified in all respects, candidates will be placed on a register and appointments will be made as needed, in order of examination scores.

Upon appointment, candidates will receive three commissions from the President — a Foreign Service Officer, as Secretary in the Diplomatic Service, and as Vice Consul of Career.

Union Board Has 8 New Members

Eight new members were elected to the Student Union Board of Directors at the last board meeting, Oct. 11.

New members are Clark Santini, College of Arts and Sciences; Cheri Mallard, College of Education; Jeannette Snyder, College of Nursing; Lee Johnson, College of Engineering; Douglas Ketron, School of Mines; Clarel Komer, College of Business; Carole Warner, College of Agriculture; Stan Smart, member-at-large.

LUCKY STRIKE presents: LUCKY TUFFERS "THE FOOTBALL TEAM"

WHY ONLY 11 MEN ON A FOOTBALL TEAM? Because all the other students are just too busy. Yes, busy doing research, studying, smoking Luckies, playing bongos, smoking Luckies, dating, partying, praising professors and smoking Luckies—much too busy for football. Why so many "smoking Luckies"? Simply this: We try to give an honest representation of college life; and college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular cigarette —so smoke Luckies.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Margin Drops But Men Still Dominate

The traditional undergraduate male majority over co-eds still exists on campus. Although the margin gets more slim each year, there are 1.9 men for every woman at the University this year.

Enrollment on the Reno campus of the University of Nevada for the fall semester has fallen just 20 short of the predicted 3,000 regular students, as shown in an enrollment summary released this week by Registrar Clarence Byrd.

By Sept. 27, the end of the registration period, 2,980 students had enrolled for day classes on the Reno campus, 2,806 matriculated and 174 non-matriculated.

Student population has been swelled by 72 auditors and 585 evening division students. In addition, there are 111 students enrolled in special non-credit evening courses and 458 enrolled in correspondence courses.

All 16 counties with high schools in Nevada are again represented, with Washoe county in the lead with 1,289, followed by Clark county with 217. Other county registrations, in order of number, are Churchill, 94; Ormsby, 74; Elko, 61; Lyon, 60; White Pine, 51; Humboldt, 50; Mineral, 46; Douglas, 33; Pershing, 27; Nye, 26; Lincoln, 11; Lander, 10; Storey, eight; and Eureka, two.

Forty-one of the 50 states are represented, also, and 16 foreign countries. California has the largest state representation with 531.

There are 22 from Oregon, 13 from Idaho, 12 from New York, 11 from Illinois and Washington, nine from New Jersey, eight from Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, seven from Utah, six from Florida and Ohio, five from Iowa, Massachusetts, and Oklahoma, four from Missouri, New Mexico, and Virginia, three from Colorado, Connecticut, and Texas, two from Arizona, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Carolina, South Dakota, and Tennessee, and one each from Alabama, Arkansas, District of Columbia, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, North Carolina, North Dakota, Rhode Island, and Wyoming.

Foreign countries are represented at Reno by six students from both China and Iran, five from both India and Korea, two from both Japan and Mexico, and one each from Canada, Denmark, France, Greece, Hungary, Iraq, Italy, Philippines, Saudi Arabia, and Spain.

In individual college enrollments the College of Arts and Science has the largest with 1,010 students, followed by the College of Education with 588. There are 447 students in the College of Business Administration, 368 in the College of Engineering, 190 in the College of Agriculture, 98 in the Mackay School of Mines, and 51 in the Orvis School of Nursing. In addition, there are 189 students in the graduate school, 54 of which are non-candidates for degrees and are not included in the individual college enrollments.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter—Thomas Jefferson.

Barnes Heads Attack, Aiming for Better Physics

Dr. George Barnes, professor of physics, has been named to head local activities in a grass roots attack to improve the quality of high school physics teaching.

Creation of the program, called Regional Counselor Program in Physics, was announced this week by the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics. College professors and physicists in industry and government, interested in the improvement of physics teaching, have been appointed in 40 states and Puerto Rico.

Nationally, the program calls for projects which will improve teacher training for physics through cooperation with teacher training institutions, assistance to schools in proper selection of laboratory equipment, and a well-planned public relations effort to acquaint people with the importance of physics teaching and the conditions under which it is done well.

On the local level, Dr. Barnes said the first year will probably be taken up with a survey of the background of physics teachers in the state and attempts to stimulate them into taking more class work at special institutes throughout the nation.

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The amazing air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please, in complete control. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

And Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper. Another extra-cost option well worth considering is the heavy-duty front and rear suspension; it turns a Corvair into a real tiger.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

A New World of Worth

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: If you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

Carrico Joins Music Board

Dr. John L. Carrico, associate professor of music, and director of bands and Lake Tahoe music camp, University of Nevada, has been appointed a member of the National Advisory board of music educators, it was announced this week.

The board is composed of nearly 500 music educators and band directors from high schools and colleges across the nation, who will meet "by proxy" to consider common problems and to pool professional resources for the benefit of music educators everywhere.

G. Leblanc Corporation, Kenosha, Wis., a leading manufacturer of musical instruments, is sponsor of the group.

"We are very pleased to have so many distinguished educators join with us in helping to achieve our common goal—a musical America," Vito S. Pascucci, president of Leblanc, said.

Members of the National Advisory board, including Dr. Carrico, were selected from several hundred thousand music educators in the United States, Canada and the Philippines.

'I' and 'E' Marks Not Officially Out

A story on the University discontinuing use of the "I" or incomplete mark in grading, which appeared in last Friday's Sagebrush, is not entirely factual.

At present there has been no official decision made on this mark or the use of the "E" mark in grading. The story was worded so as to suggest that both these marks will not be used in future semesters.

Both the faculty and the administration are still discussing these two marks and their future usage.

PEP CLUB MEETS; SEEKS SF TRAVELERS

The last Pep club meeting before the Homecoming game Oct. 28 will be held tomorrow night at 7 p.m. in the education auditorium.

The Pep club will meet with members of Sagers to discuss possibilities of taking a Pep club bus to the bay area for the game with San Francisco State this weekend.

At least 32 members are needed to fill the bus.

Marilyn Madsen, Pep club chairman, said members of the club will be wearing blue and white chrysanthemums for recognition at the Homecoming game.

She added that the Pep club still needs more members.

Mustangs Upset Wolf Pack 36-12

University of Nevada football team's two-game home winning streak was stopped by the fired-up Cal Aggies, 36-12, Saturday at Mackay Stadium.

The upset defeat left the Wolfpack season record at an even 2-2 and a Far Western Conference mark of 1-1.

The surprising Mustangs from Davis, fielding their best team in several seasons, thoroughly outplayed Nevada all of the way.

The Aggies, who did not win a game last season and had only one victory in 1959, boosted their season record to 3-1, including a 1-0 FWC slate.

The Wolfpack's play was a far cry from the fine performance in the convincing 27-7 victory over Chico State the week before.

A hard-charging Davis line, led by 220-pound captain Carl Ehert, opened up big holes in the Nevada defense for Aggie backs to tear through.

The Aggies' offense was paced by able sophomore quarterback Dick Carriere who scored one touchdown, passed for another and picked up four points on a pair of two-point conversion passes.

Other half of the Mustangs' one-two punch was evasive Frank Judd who caught a 44-yard pass from Carriere for the first tally and scampered 90 yards in a work horse 19 carries for 5.6 yards per try.

Highpoint of the day for Nevada came on a 30-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jack Renwick to speedy Gary Sullivan. Sullivan took the pass in the center of the field, cut to his right toward the sidelines and outran the entire Aggie defense for the tally.

Sullivan's touchdown in the second quarter closed the gap to 16-12, but the inspired Mustangs pulled away from there.

The Aggies scored again before the half ended and put the game on ice with single touchdowns in the third and fourth periods.

The Wolfpack scored their first touchdown on a four-yard rollout in the first quarter by Renwick. The drive carried 46 yards following a punt return by Stanford transfer Art Grohs.

Nevada attempted 26 passes and completed 12 for 125 yards. Wolfpack receivers dropped several possible completions and numerous other attempts fell short.

The stout Davis defense held the Wolfpack backs to a net rusing total of 53 yards. The Aggies had a net gain of 261 yards on the ground.

Frosh Drop 6-0 Verdict To Aggies

University of Nevada's freshman football team dropped its second straight 6-0 decision Saturday morning to the Cal Aggie jayvees at Mackay Stadium.

The Wolfpack frosh lost to Shasta JC by the same 6-0 score a week earlier. The loss gives coach John Genasci's Nevada frosh a 1-2 record for the season.

Only score of the game came on the first play of the fourth quarter when Aggie halfback Robert Young dashed around right end for eighteen yards and the game-winning tally.

The Aggie jayvees threatened twice in the first half but the Nevada frosh defense settle down and held. The Mustangs JV's drove to the Nevada nine-yard line in the first quarter but a series of losses thwarted the threat.

The gun ending the first half later saved the Nevada yearlings with the Davis juniors on the Wolfpack six-inch line.

ope and considering herself not a part of the continent, while dating back to the 18th century, appears to be a fading attitude.

Dr. Di Sorbello expressed his opinions that the "deep roots of nationalism" found in the nations of Europe can be overcome. Touching on Italy, he said his country is the only one keeping antiquity alive and that his countrymen can "look back to the age of Greece and Rome". He added that there is "still a slight feeling of isolation in Italy" as the "heritage of the West comes from Italy."

Inside The Huddle

By BOB ALFRED

The U. of N. football squad travels to the Bay Area this weekend to tangle with the always-tough Golden Gators of San Francisco State college. Last season these two teams battled it out until the final gun as the Gators came out on top 18-7.

The Wolfpack was leading 7-6 in the last quarter when a San Francisco lineman blocked a punt and fell on it in the end zone for a touchdown. This year the Gators are led by quarterback Dick Valois, halfback Tom Manney, and end Jim Collopy. State has only lost three games in the last three seasons.

- Defensive back Billy Barber is a 175-pound freshman from Morristown, New Jersey, majoring in physical education. He wears number 24.

NOTES AND QUOTES

The Cal Aggies showed tremendous improvement over last year as they whipped the Wolfpack here last Saturday afternoon. The Pack's mental attitude was below par for the game, probably due to underestimating the hustling Aggie ball club.

Stellar defensive halfback John Prida was injured on the first scrimmage play of the Aggie game and is out for the season with a dislocated ankle. "Antelope" will be sorely missed by the already thin defensive backfield.

On the brighter side, co-captain Frank Nenzel is ready to go again after being out of the first three games with a sprained shoulder.

Sacramento State upset favored Humboldt State 19-7 last Saturday on the winners home grounds.
