Pi Phis, Snakes Clean Up Trophies

OL. XXXVII, No. 14 RENO, NEVADA 5 Friday, November 3, 1961

Greeks Take Top Weekend Honors

Climaxing the 41st annual Homecoming celebration last weekend was the announcement of trophy winners in float and skit competition.

Winning living groups were announced Saturday night at the Homecoming dance by Barbara Brannen, who reigned over "Old Grad" weekend.

For the second year in a row, Pi Beta Phi captured the first place trophy for the best skit in Wolves Frolic. Pi Phi's used an oriental theme for their skit entitled "From Wall to Wall."

The Pi Phi cast, directed by Mimi Patrick, included Bev Pincolini, Suzanne Jensee, Virginia Bath, Ellen Murphy, Janis Palzis, Dorothy Ricketts, Jean Tachoures, Diane Beyer, Sherry Wagner, Sue Lombardi, Barbara Coles and Pat White.

"Vaudeville, USA," Lambda Chi Alpha's presentation in the men's living group competition.

Directing the group was Jim Bernardi, with cast members Steve Sanders, Hank Philcox, Larry Struve, Larry Hutchins, Jim Acheson, George Davis, Bob Alwald, Bill Trabert, Ken Marvel, Gordon Corn and Don Richards.

Kappa Alpha Theta will keep the women's living group float trophy as they walked away with winning honors in parade competition. "Got 'em on the Run" was the slogan on the Theta float which featured a matador and bull.

Sigma Nu scored in the win column, also for the second time in a row, with their big gold Buddha and the slogan, "So Solly Cal Poly."

Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Nu repeated past year performances and picked up the trophies for dance attendance.

Sigma Nu won trophy number three when they were awarded the IFC cup for the greatest percentage of cross-country finalists.

Aiken Dies; Was Nevada's Greatest

The greatest coach in Nevada's history is dead.

James W. Aiken, who directed the destinies of the Wolf Pack from 1939 to 1947, collapsed and died Tuesday night after speaking at a Medford, Ore., banquet.

He was 60 years of age, and was finishing out years of winning football by serving as athletic director of an Oregon high school.

Aiken, who played in the 1922 Rose Bowl with Washington and Jefferson, coached present Nevada mentor Dick Trachok for one year in 1946. He also worked with present athletic director Jake Lawlor who served as line coach from 1942-46.

Responsible for bringing many great football players to the Reno campus, he resigned as head coach at Akron University to come to Nevada. When he resigned in 1947, he went to the University of Oregon.

Later that same year, the Wolf Pack, stocked with an Aiken-built line-up, rolled over his Ducks, 13-7.

Aiken's overall mark at Nevada was 41 wins, 22 losses, and 4 ties. A 5-4 Western Conference record in 1940 won the league title.

His best year was his last—1946—when the Pack played an independent schedule and came out 8-1. The loss was 13-12 to St. Mary's.

He coached his Oregon Ducks for four years to a 21-20 mark, quit the business and went into lumber. A short time later he was at his high school post, which he held to his death.

His biggest successes were his Canton, Ohio, high school teams of the early 30's. They compiled a 121-14-4 record.

Some stars who played for Aiken were Marion Motley, Trachok, Tommy Kalmanir, Wes Goodner, and Horace Gillom.

Motley and Gillom both went on to play for the Cleveland Browns in the late 40's.

Aiken also authored a book on football, "Ball Carrying Made Easy," during his coaching career.

Bicyclists Due; Arrive Today

A really personalized touch is being given to University of Nevada students as Sacramento State extends an invitation to attend their Homecoming game tomorrow.

Not a phone call, letter, nor telegram will do for this special invitation.

Instead, three Sacramento students will arrive with the special invitation this afternoon at 4:30 from California's capital—via bicycle!

The three bicyclists are members of the Omega Chi Delta fraternity at Sac State.

A welcome party for the men will be held this afternoon at 5 p. m. in the student union.

The Nevada Wolf Pack meets the Sacramento Hornets on their field tomorrow at 1:30 p. m.

U of N Is Affected By New Freeway

The "A" line or Seventh street route is "in" for the Reno freeway, but part of the University's experimental farm may be "out."

Board of regents Oct. 27 discussed the freeway route in connection with the University of Nevada's agricultural experiment station in the Valley Road area.

Dr. Fred Anderson, chairman of the building committee, told regents Friday morning that the route would cut the farm almost in half, and added that a great deal of land would be lost. Land south of the experiment station would have little value he said.

In addition to the University farm, regents are concerned about how close the freeway will come to the campus. Dr. Anderson said that noise from traffic might be a handicap.

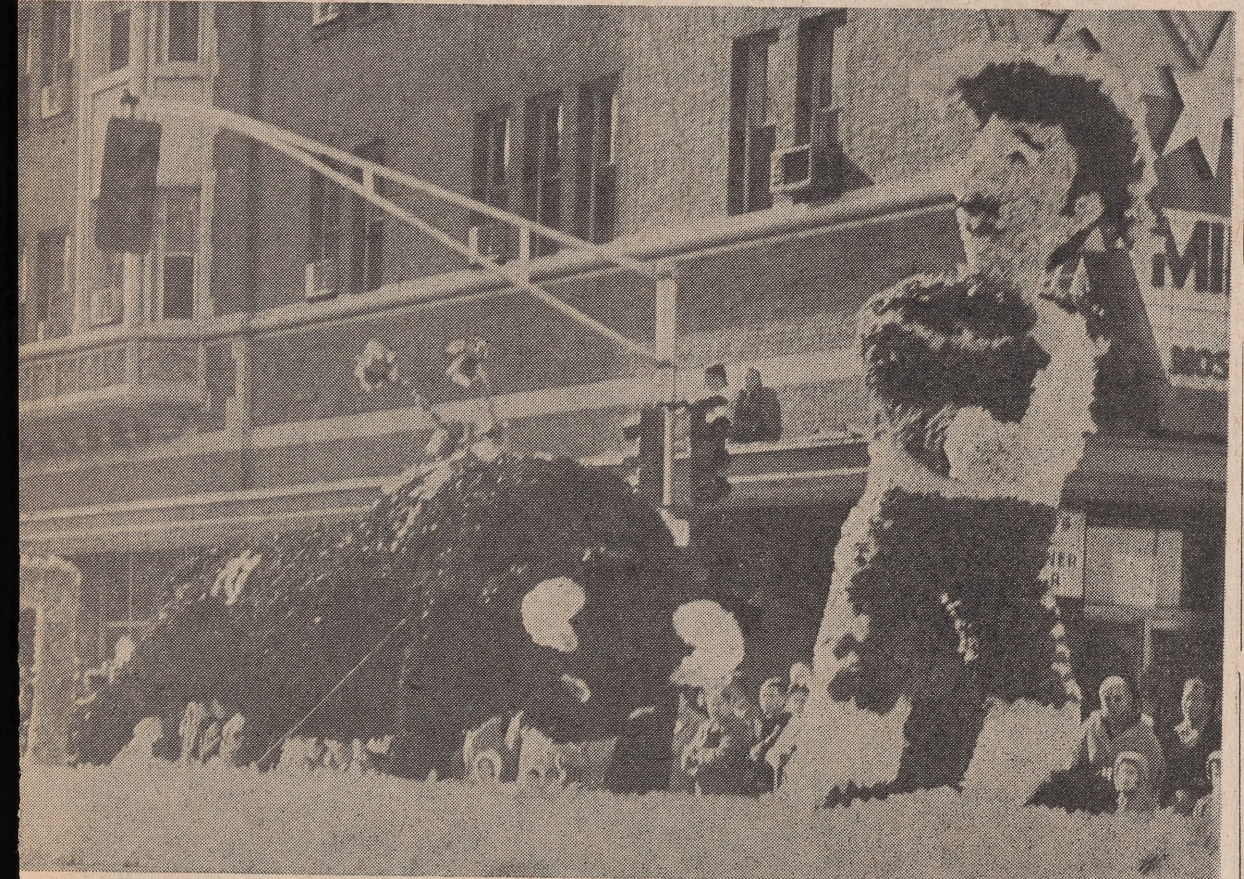

However, John Porter, deputy attorney, said he had discussed the freeway in relation to the University with Nevada Governor Grant Sawyer, and that the governor feels the route will be flexible and can be coordinated with the state highway engineering office.

Dr. Anderson is arranging a meeting between the University building committee and Otis Wright, state highway engineer.

Regents are requesting careful consideration from Wright's department to access and egress roads to avoid traffic congestion near the campus.

THE DAY OF JUDGMENT wasn't the best for the Cal Poly Mustangs, according to Sigma Nu. Its float, "So Solly, Cal Poly," was the prizewinner for fraternities in Saturday's parade. —Sagebrush photo.

Eva Adams Sworn In Monday

University of Nevada alumna, Eva B. Adams, was sworn into her new office as Director of the United States Mint Monday. Administering the oath of office in Washington D. C. was associate supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark. Among the two hundred persons witnessing the ceremonies were Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, Senator Alan Bible of Nevada, and Mrs. Molly McGee, member of the University of Nevada board of regents. Miss Adams graduated from the University in 1929 and later served as assistant dean of women. She has taught high school in Las Vegas and English at the University of Nevada. A lawyer, Miss Adams received her degree from the College of Law of the American University, and her master's in English from Columbia University. She has served assisting senators from Nevada for the past twenty years. Miss Adams has worked for Bible since 1954. As Director of the Mint, Miss Adams will receive $16,530 a year.

Editorial Comment Soundproof Senate

CONSERVATIVE SENATOR Barry F. Goldwater termed the last session of Congress "the longest and most wasteful" in the nation's history. University of Nevada students may be able to term 1961-62 Senate "the shortest and most silent," if Wednesday night's meeting is indicative of those to follow.

IT'S ALMOST TRADITIONAL for Senate members not to have too much to say, but there are a few stalwarts who manage to show a little leadership and can be depended upon to offer at least a passing comment on even the most trivial of Senate's business. But when the business is suddenly not trivial and an issue of national interest is brought before the body, it's ironical that all that can be heard is a pin dropping.

SUCH WAS THE CASE at Senate's last meeting when the student representatives had a letter bearing Eleanor Roosevelt's signature before them. The letter, from the National Committee for Rural Schools, asked monetary support for Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, one of the leaders of the Alabama Freedom Riders, so he can continue his integrationist activities.

SENATE VOTED UNANIMOUSLY not to approve of the program and thus to send no money, which is to their credit. But they had a controversial subject before them, one with some meat in it, but there was not one word of discussion. It is questionable that every senator present had really studied this program to the point that there was no need for discussion. But instead of batting the topic around, Senate adjourned twenty minutes after the gavel sounded the call to order.

Cheer By Choice

THERE'S A LOT OF NOISE on campus about that undefined term "school spirit." And there are several groups on campus who would impose their values on all and sundry. If one doesn't yell and follow the cheerleaders at football games, one is just not "patriotic" to the University of Nevada. This is amateur propaganda—"school spirit" is a feeling expressed in many ways, and not just at football games.

ABOVE ALL, THIS SUBJECT is an individual matter; it is not an obligation of each student of the University. The campus efforts to make "school spirit dupes" of all students are obviously not working. The boola-boola business should be spread around where it will do some good, and the silent game-watchers should be left to their rightful peace.

Letters to the Editor

Cries for Cheer

An open letter to Wayne Trew-hitt:

In regard to your letter in Friday's Sagebrush, Oct. 27, I would like to make a few comments. It's very easy for you to sit back as an onlooker and criticize the activities of those trying to promote school spirit. You and all the other would-be critics seem to have an overflow of words and a limited amount of action—limited to derogatory remarks. Since you're so interested in school enthusiasm, I'm sure you and all the critics have done all in your power to promote spirit at the games.

You must have been one of the two males (or was it one) who turned out for cheerleading tryouts last semester. And, most certainly, you were one of the four people who attended the Pep club meeting last week. And do you attend all the games and try to co-operate with your yell leaders and songleaders when they try to lead cheers and songs, or are you one of those who stares blankly in their faces and once in a while gets enough energy to toss a beer can, give a boo, or let forth with some obscene remark?

So many in this school are critics, but so few are participators. Unless you're going to do something active about the problem of school spirit besides wiggle your fingers and wag your tongues in criticism, I suggest you remain silent the way too many do at the games.

The band should be complimented and congratulated for their performance at half-time and for the spirit and enthusiasm they showed at the Cal Poly game. Maybe those people in the cheering section who refused to make room for the band after half-time realize what a loss it was to the entire cheering section when the band had to go on the other side.

Instead of trying to destroy those few who attempt to promote school spirit, back them up. If you have suggestions, we definitely want to hear them, but it isn't necessary to tear your leaders down in the process. You'll find that you can enjoy the games and activities if you participate and co-operate instead of looking for faults. It isn't hard to find fault; nothing is perfect, but it can be brought closer to perfection with co-operation. It's more rewarding to see the good qualities and enjoy them than to always be a pessimist.

NANNETTE STAPLES

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

Regarding the letter in Friday's Sagebrush from Wayne Trew-hitt on male cheerleaders, I was the only male who went to tryouts last year and I feel the problem lies with the students of the University. When so few people come to tryouts for cheerleaders, the best must be picked. The cheerleaders this year are the best of those who came to the tryouts. Perhaps those who criticize so readily will come to tryouts next year.

Aggie Gets Answers

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:
In regard to a letter titled "Aggie's Lament" in Friday's Sagebrush, it appears that John Deere is ignorant of any form of culture and proud of it. He lists albums by Deb Wooley, Mart Robbins, and the late great Johnny Horton and states unequivocally that "This is Music." He further insults the students of this University by saying the majority of the students agree with him.
May I suggest that Mr. Deere return to the Neanderthalian cave, which he seems to love so dearly, and scribble on the walls to the rhythm of a crackling fire. Better yet, he might consider cracking the covers of a dictionary, or possibly wander into the library and learn the difference between a bassoon and a harp. Of course it would be best if he could find the mental courage to join hundreds of thousands of students in Universities in the United States and abroad who strived daily to broaden their intellectual scope. Finally, since it is obvious he is not aware, may I remind Mr. Deere that this University has a Department of Music, the staff of which is more than willing to aid him, and anyone else, in understanding the music presented in the Student Union Stereo Concerts.

Long Live The Student Union Stereo Concerts!; and may their attendance and standards ever rise!

NATHAN WORKMON

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

To the author of "Aggie's Lament":

Oh come now! You can't really mean that you think that Concert in Stereo should play predominantly western music!

Ah yes, we could play the same old favorites week after week — the aggie's stompin' music, Johnny Mathias, the Kingston Trio, and even Elvis Presley and in this we would defeat the whole purpose of the program.

In life we could stop learning at a certain level, keep the same small circle of friends, ignore new philosophies and different cultures, refuse to accept technological advances, but that would end all progress.

I challenge you to understand our real objective.

It is an effort to give the students of this school the opportunity to expand their musical knowledge, to reach beyond the limited musical world that many of us have, and to perhaps learn a little more about the cultures of other countries through their music.

Sure, we will play western music occasionally, but you must realize that it's only a small segment of the story of music. If you have suggestions, there is a suggestion box in the lobby of the student union.

student union music chairman.

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

Hooray for John Deere! I'm glad to see someone come out and speak up for we farm people. Why back home on the farm that's the only kind of music what we used to hear. My daddy would of skinned us alive if we even mentioned Bay-toven or them others. Western music comes right straight from the heart and cuttin out that kind of music is just like cuttin the heart right out from us of the rural areas.

Bein a freshman girl straight up from a rural high school I aint had much chance to meet many college men but this here John Deere is a man straight after my heart.

'Brush Set Straight

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

I would like to set the record straight about the Sundowner article in last Friday's Sagebrush. The last paragraph states that the Publications Board, "decided that it was useless to take sides against such a group, and removed the ASUN ban against the mention of the club in the Sagebrush."

The Publications Board did remove the ASUN ban. However, it did not remove this ban because, "it was useless to take sides against such a group . . ." The ban was removed because such action constituted prior censorship of the newspaper.

I feel that the Sundowner article misrepresented the facts and led many people to misinterpret the Board's intentions in this matter. A check of the minutes of the Oct. 10 meeting will reveal this to be true.

PAUL BIBLE,
ASUN President

(Editor's note: You're right, Mr. President, in that the board took its action because the second vice president's policy granting "Sagebrush publicity services" to ASUN recognized clubs and organizations was, in effect, censoring the Sagebrush by inferring unrecognized organizations could not be mentioned in the newspaper. To further clear the record, the board wisely removed the "ban," but a "ban" in itself involves taking sides. The Sundowners in particular were brought up during this meeting, although the Sagebrush had published several stories previously on other unrecognized organizations. The main point was doing away with the hint of prior censorship, but it was brought out at the meeting that covering an organization's activities merely because they do not have a filed constitution when they are newsworthy is the equivalent of not mentioning Red China in American newspapers because it is not recognized by the United Nations.

Wrong Number?

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

Contrary to reports, last weekend, we here at the University celebrated the 42nd Annual Homecoming, not the 41st.

The first Homecoming day was held on November 6, 1920, and every fall since that year, without exception, a Homecoming celebration has been held on the Reno campus.

Starting with the year 1920 and counting every year including 1961, I end up with a total of 42 years, or rather, 42 Homecomings.

Career Cues

"Hitch your wagon to a 'growth' industry—and grow with it!"

Douglas Leigh, President
Douglas Leigh, Inc.

"A growth industry is a new industry that is on the way up — moving quickly, expanding fast. When you join a company in one of the growth fields you have something extra working for you . . . you grow up with it. To find out which industry is right for you, try this: Ask someone in a good investment office to give you a list of the industries he considers 'growth industries'. Data Processing, plastics, and electronics are a few examples. Then pick the one you have a leaning toward, and get the names of the most progressive companies in that field.

One thing I'd like to point out from my own career is . . . a growth industry may also be an old business that's on the verge of new development. Shortly after leaving college I found this situation in the Outdoor Advertising field. What my associates and I did was to employ color, action and motion to dramatically personify the product, brand or services being advertised. In doing so, we developed the modern type 'Spectaculars' that talked, blew smoke rings, soap bubbles, etc. . . . signs that changed the face of Broadway and the famous Times Square area.

This is just one example. The really important thing to remember is this: When you set your sights on a career, aim for an industry that is going to grow, so you can grow with it. It's the difference between a rocket that blasts off, and one that just sits there. Good luck!"

Plan your pleasure ahead, too.

Pages Seek Affiliation With National Group

A regional convention of Spurs, a national service organization, will be held Nov. 10, 11, and 12, in Redlands, Calif. The campus group of Pages has submitted a bid to become affiliated with Spurs, and was invited to attend the meet.

Thirteen girls are expected to represent the University of Nevada Pages.

Decorations Out Door At Dance

Homecoming weekend was an unprofitable one for Mrs. Newt Crumley, mother of dance chairman Janice Crumley.

When the festivities had ended, and the smoke and fumes cleared away, Mrs. Crumley was short a supply of Hawaiian grass skirts and Spanish-Mexican sombreros.

Those were some of the items missing when the final inventory was taken following a Homecoming dance that attracted between 1300 - 1400 persons to Mathisen's convention center.

At the same time, Nevada alumni held their dance at the Mapes Hotel Skyroom.

Foster Edward's seven - piece band played for an estimated 500 paid couples, in addition to 300-400 more who arrived by other means.

Other decorations that added to a 40,000 square foot floor space were a Ming tree with Chinese and Japanese lanterns, Hawaiian leis, Dutch windmill, and a serapi from Latin America. The serapi was apprehended going out the door.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gundlach and Dr. and Mrs. Tigner chaperoned.

"Anyone with extra hula skirts, please return them," said Miss Crumley, who otherwise called the dance a "success." Profit was estimated at $600.

Gene McKenna, Marylou Morrill, William J. Norton, Marjorie Olsen, William Parish, Bill Patterson, Jr., Virginia Phillips, John Sala, L. J. Savage, Milton Sharp.

Lou Spitz, Zoe Stoker, Coe Swobe, Alyce S. Taylor, George Vucanovich, Myneer Walker, Doris Warren, Ron Wilson, Ken York, Jack Young, Renee Zimmerman; Sparks, Jim Brooke, Doug Byington, Barbara Laveaga, Ken Robbins, Robert Sullivan.

Out-of-Nevada members include: Compton, Calif., Earl J. Holmes; Los Angeles, Viola Herrick, Ed Martinez, Kendall Nungesser, Hugh Wilton; Sacramento, Lyle Joy, Don Thompson, Joann Willey; San Francisco, Ed Montgomery, Sallie Gould; Susanville, Bob Genasci, and Palo Alto, Paul O. Reimer.

Denver, Colo., Tom Arvin, Richard Eason; Eugene, Ore., Gerald Wyness; and Washington, D. C., Bill Macdonald and Joseph T. McDonnell.

ROTC Promotes 27

The University of Nevada ROTC has announced 27 officer promotions effective Oct. 21, 1961. The promotions were made by the University President, Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, and Professor of Military Science and Tactics, Col. Robert L. Gundlach.

This, the second list of promotions made by the military department this semester, includes the promotions of senior officers to higher ranks, and junior advanced corps cadets to the position of second lieutenant.

Senior officers promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel are Robert M. Hawkins, and James M. Jellett.

Five senior officers have earned the rank of major: Paul A. Bible, Goeffrey V. Cecchi, Kenneth I. Taber, Robert M. Weishaupt, Jerome S. Williams.

Named to the position of Captain are Lawrence L. Heward and Jon E. Madsen. Harvey W. Lambert has been advanced to the rank of first Lieutenant.

Junior members of the advanced ROTC corps who have attained the rank of second lieutenant in the recent promotion include Richard W. Benson, James D. Buchanan, John M. Cauble, Elmer Cottam, Mario Frugoli Jr., James A. Gaumer, Glen D. Green, Robert S. Henderson, Gustave A. Heyer, Wayne L. Kollodge, Robert E. LeWilliam, William K. Lohse, Harvey M. I. ## $27,441 Grant Goes To Personality Research Study

The University of Nevada has received a $27,441 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health. This will support a year of research directed by Professors Paul F. Secord, a psychologist, and Carl W. Backman, a sociologist.

Two newly appointed research assistants who will work with Professors Secord and Backman are Todd Eachus and Jerry Peirce.

The research program, in its second year, is based upon a theory of "Interpersonal Factors in Behavioral Stability and Change." The theory gives a systematic explanation of the reasons why a person remains the kind of person he is over a long period of time. It also gives the reasons why he sometimes changes into quite a different person.

The theory is unique and departs from traditional psychological theories. It minimizes the importance of "habit" as an explanation of behavior. Emphasis is on a person's relationships with other people.

The two professors are in the process of testing and expanding their theory. One type of investigation uses existing groups, such as sororities and fraternities.

The theory is expected to contribute to a greater understanding of the socialization process, or the process by which the child progresses from infancy to adulthood.

Dr. Secord and Dr. Backman have already completed many laboratory experiments and one study with a sorority. They said the findings of these experiments are generally in accord with their theory.

University Band Hosts Dance Tonight

An informal dance will be held in the University of Nevada dining commons today, Nov. 3. The dance will last from 9 to midnight.

The University Band is sponsoring the event to raise funds for its trip to Los Angeles. The proceeds will be used for room and meals for the band members on the week-end trip.

Tea and Sympathy Showing Sunday

"Tea and Sympathy" is this Sunday's TUB movie, to be shown in the education auditorium at 7 p. m. From the play by Robert Anderson, the movie is directed by Vincente Minnelli.

A prep-school youth, Leif Erickson, is falsely accused of being a "sissy-boy." "Tea and Sympathy" is a study of his extreme sensitivity and the depth of his torment. Debra Kerr plays the teacher's wife who gives herself to the boy to reinstate his faith in his own manliness.

An adult story of far-reaching significance, "Tea and Sympathy" was given star rating by the Film Estimate Board of National Organizations. Each month this board reviews films in the "Green Sheet."

The purpose of this program is to provide movie-goers with a guide to the selection of entertainment films in current release. Star ratings have been awarded to the outstanding films as evaluated by the board.

Biggest Little Campus

By DOUG SALTER

IS THE GREAT PUMPKIN DROPPING THE BALL?

The group at the "sin den" was indeed disheartened by the performance of the neighborhood brats on witch and goblin night. What has happened to the twinkly eyed little monster with the greedy grin and open gunny sack; the little feller that will pull up your flowers and soap your windows and run the hose under your door and let the air out of your tires and stuff like that?

Jon and Darel had even gone to the trouble to break up the unfrosted slabs of cake that didn't turn out well a few nights before, and in vain. We had forgotten the liquor signs upon our door, which read "We do not serve minors" (won't they learn to hate that one!) and "If you were not invited, you had better be female, fun-loving and appreciative, or have a damn good reason for rapping upon this door." These signs, plus the ever present sounds of loud, scratchy stereo sides from within ran all but one group of "tricky treaters" off into the night. Once when peeping through the peep hole a young mother was seen harboring her little one under her coat while reading and then hustling off.

Would this have happened when we were the Great Pumpkin's helpers? Never! The people in our neighborhoods didn't dare not have a treat; it was financially dangerous.

What is happening to the youth of today? Can't they stop watching the "tube" long enough to go out and at least humor the old sentimental traditionalists one night a year?

I guess ever since he made the scene with Cinderella's carriage the Great Pumpkin's influence has been on the decline. This is not good, for if we do not keep our spirit fired up on these things in this country, the word of the day may become "Kremlin" instead of "gremlin."

BLC THIS WEEK

Everyone gets a "gold star" beside his or her name for the contributions made during Homecoming. We done good, whether we played football, built floats, or just spread cheer. This is the first time I know of that a fire engine came to Homecoming. Congratulations! It appears that along with going big time, the BLC is being prompted to have a big time RIOT by the Reno Police department. That same crowd has been there year after year and done little harm, but now it's taboo and gets the big hose.

Rumor has it that alumni cocktail parties in fraternity houses are being considered for the "taboo" category by the administration. (I doubt if it's the whole crew, but somebody up there reportedly ain't for 'em.) I certainly hope that rumor is incorrect. It would be a social digression; I think everyone realizes this in their hearts—though good arguments are plentiful.

There is a difference between University approved housing and University property and last year's IFC was assured that this wouldn't happen. President Armstrong's home is University property also.

DOWN THE TUBES FOR ALFRED E. NEWMAN'S PROTEGE

Hurray for the democratic principle! When in the course of American events there appears a leader who is of questionable political scruples, ignores the wishes of his people and the recommendations of advisory groups, and misuses his position, the people have the prerogative of petition to preserve their welfare.

If you would like to sign a petition calling the Sierra street expansion to public vote, I have one and will warmly receive your signature.

The major, aware of the mounting number of petitioners, has called upon his immense intelligence and with a sheepish, empty smile declared, "We are really fighting for the same thing."

Goose's Glances

by Steve "Goose" Heyer FA 9-8098

Well, here it is! The first installment in a series of news occurring on campus during the year. May it be known that Goose's Glances will be cast in any and every direction and will therefore never be limited to any particular subject.

TOPIC HOMECOMING: The floats and skits were great (even though it appears that a more efficient and effective way of judging skits must be found in the near future), but what about the dance? I have been to junior high proms that were more enjoyable and had more atmosphere. And if there is to be a bar at all, why must they serve the most miserable rotgut imaginable? (I'm sorry I forgot that we are a western campus.) Better luck next time.

On the other hand, it appears that the Alumni dance was a huge success, despite the words we often hear that we are to calm down due to "alumni pressure". Some of the people seen there enjoying the affair were Sigma Nu Jim Megquier who was particularly interested in the chicken, and Tri-Delt Lynn Walsh; Mackay Day Queen Dorthiann Cook and Kathy Bailey, both Thetas; SAE Art Vaughn and wife, the former Midge Lyon, and many others. We'll be looking forward to seeing all of you again next year.

One of the disappointments of the week was that the "Prod" failed to appear on campus as was previously promised.

This year's reaction downtown to all the events seemed somewhat cool. Why, our new Sundowners, Tom Case, Andy MacKenzie, Bobby Patterson, Harlan Heward, Glenn Bates, weren't even able to take their chickens into the various establishments they were visiting in line of duty. During the whole weekend our police officers (cops) seemed somewhat antagonistic and rougher than really necessary.

TOPIC INS AND OUTS:

The Sundowners are in—the U of N drinking problem is out.
Kicker music is in—stereo concerts are out.
Constitution writing is in—the authors are out.
Party raids are in—trophy raids are out.
The Wal is in—Shakey's is out.
Student votes on committees may be out—the faculty and administration are in.

TOPIC ROMANCE: SAE Jim Rowe and Pi Phi Tricia Hoysted are engaged; pinned are Sigma Nu Tom Case and Theta Lynn Aguilar. The Gamma Phi's, too, have announced an engagement recently, but it turned out to be a fake. This seems to give evidence to my suspicions that things are rough all over for our senior girls. SAE Bob Hawkins culminated a long and strenuous romance with his pinning to Jerry Mistak (did you have two or three dates Hawk?) Pi Phi Barb Coles reported a bitchin' weekend—it seems that her pinmate Ralph Madsen was gone for the weekend deer hunting.

TOPIC QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK: What was Jon Madsen singing on the Gamma Phi phone when he tried to call Linda Smith? What were John Cavanaugh and gang doing at the Bally Burro? Why did Duncan Knowles stop dating Minsky Follies girls? What happened in Carson City Admission Day? Is the bus running?

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK (GEARED FOR MID-TERM): Tests are the crabgrass in the lawn of education today.

Until next week, be careful, for Goose may glance your way.

Guardsmen Take Honors

The Sierra Guardsmen were awarded the first place prize for the best military marching unit at the annual Nevada Day celebration and parade held in Carson City Tuesday Oct. 31.

The Guardsmen were awarded the prize as a result of their precision marching and execution of maneuvers. The exhibition was highlighted by a one-volley rifle salute in front of the judges reviewing stand.

This was the first appearance of the Sierra Guardsmen this year, and was also the first appearance of the unit since the establishment of the drum and bugle corp as a part of the drill unit.

The 34 cadets in the Sierra Guardsmen which participated in the two-hour parade is under the direct command of cadet lieutenant Glen Green, and is supervised by Captain Raymond Miller of the University of Nevada ROTC staff.

The next appearance of the prize winning marching unit will be at the annual Military Ball, Nov. 18, at Mathisen's hall.

Kappa Alpha Theta Initiates Three Pledges

Initiation ceremonies for three Kappa Alpha Theta second-semester pledges took place Oct. 23, at 6:30 p. m.

After initiation ceremonies were completed, a banquet was held at the Theta house for the initiates. Katy Bergin, Janice Crumley, and Sharon McHenry are the three new Kappa Alpha Theta actives on the Nevada campus.

Dr. Geo. Barnes Is Assistant DRI Director

Dr. George Barnes, physics professor and director of the vacuum physics laboratory on campus, has been named associate director of the desert Research Institute for the physical sciences.

Dr. Barnes' appointment was approved Oct. 27 by the University board of regents. In his new capacity, Dr. Barnes will serve as an assistant to Professor Wendell A. Mordy, director of the Desert Research Institute, in developing the University's sponsored - research programs in the fields of physics, chemistry, engineering, and mathematics. He will assume his new duties immediately.

Dr. Barnes joined the University of Nevada faculty in the fall of 1957. Since that time, he has earned national recognition for his work in the field of vacuum physics and has directed the establishment and growth of the vacuum physics laboratory on campus. His research has been supported by several national grants.

He came to Nevada from Humboldt State college in California. Prior to that, he taught at Linfield College in Oregon. Dr. Barnes earned his bachelor's degree at Pomona College, Claremont, California, his master's at the University of Colorado, and his Ph. D. at Oregon State college.

Dr. W. E. Clark's Private Library Accepted by Board of Regents

The University of Nevada board of regents accepted the library, consisting of some 3,000 volumes, of former President Walter E. Clark when they met Friday, Oct. 27.

Director of Libraries David Heron reported the gift to the regents with the comment that it was a very good general collection reflecting Dr. Clark's interest in economics.

He said it was also strong in American history and American letters and literature and included such works as the collected writings of Lowell, Whittier, Hawthorne and others on theology, philosophy, and music.

The gift was presented by Dr. Clark's daughters, Mrs. Euphemia Santini and Mrs. John Chism of Reno, through the Friends of the University of Nevada Library.

Dr. Clark was president of the University of Nevada from 1917 until his retirement in 1938. He died in Reno in 1955 at the age of 81. During his presidency, the Reno campus underwent one of its greatest periods of growth.

Former President Clark was born in Ohio. His father had been a superintendent of schools and then a minister. He died when Walter Clark was five. Walter Clark earned his own way through Ohio Wesleyan University and then went on to earn his Ph. D. degree at Columbia University in 1903.

From then until 1908, he worked as a resident and settlement worker at the Greenwich House, in connection with the College of the City of New York. During this time, he published numerous articles on economics and became a prominent lecturer on economic topics.

He assumed the presidency of the University of Nevada in 1917, after 16 years with the New York College. He brought with him, according to historian Samuel Doten, "experience, energy, and a philosophy of life which gave to character the high place assigned to it by students of education from the time of Plato to the present day."

Dr. Clark was the father of two sons—prominent Nevada author-educator Walter Van Tilburg Clark and Dr. David Clark, a surgeon in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

A bachelor is a souvenir of some woman who found a better one at the last minute.

Employed Students Hit 180 For Sept.

One hundred - eighty students were placed in jobs during the month of September by the office of student employment and financial aids.

William Rasmussen, director of the placement program, noted that more men than women had been hired. The number of men hired was 153. In the same period, 27 women were employed.

Jobs consisted of part time and short term employment at on and off-campus sites. University employment accounted for 116 of the total number of jobs filled.

Students were paid $1 to $1.75 an hour for off-campus work. University employment paid from $1.25 to $2.50 an hour depending on the kind of job and experience.

The student employment office received 233 applications for student employment during the month.

Dr. Bing of Wisconsin To Lecture On Mathematics; Public Invited

A series of public lectures on mathematics will be given by Dr. R. H. Bing, professor of Mathematics at the University of Wisconsin, Nov. 9 and 10.

Local arrangements for Dr. Bing, one of the foremost United States authorities on mathematics, are being made by the University department of mathematics and Pi Mu Epsilon.

Dr. Bing is currently on a lecture tour for the Mathematical Association of America. The Visiting Lectureship Program, financed jointly by the National Science Foundation and host institutions, is designed to support and stimulate the mathematics programs of the colleges visited. It provides the staff and students with an opportunity for personal contact with productive and creative mathematicians.

Several of the lectures will be of particular interest to teachers of secondary school mathematics. Dr. Bing has had experience teaching in secondary schools and holds an M. Ed degree from the University of Texas.

Dr. Bing was born in Texas and did his undergraduate work at Southwest State Teachers' college.

Later he received his Ph. D. also from the University of Texas.

Since 1947 he has been a member of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, except for short interludes as a visiting professor at the University of Virginia and as a member of the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton.

Dr. Bing has made considerable contributions in topology, his major field of research. Topology is a branch of geometry dealing with the modes of contact of surfaces and lines.

He maintains an interest in high school mathematics and has worked with the School Mathematics study group. Dr. Bing holds many national offices with scientific organizations.

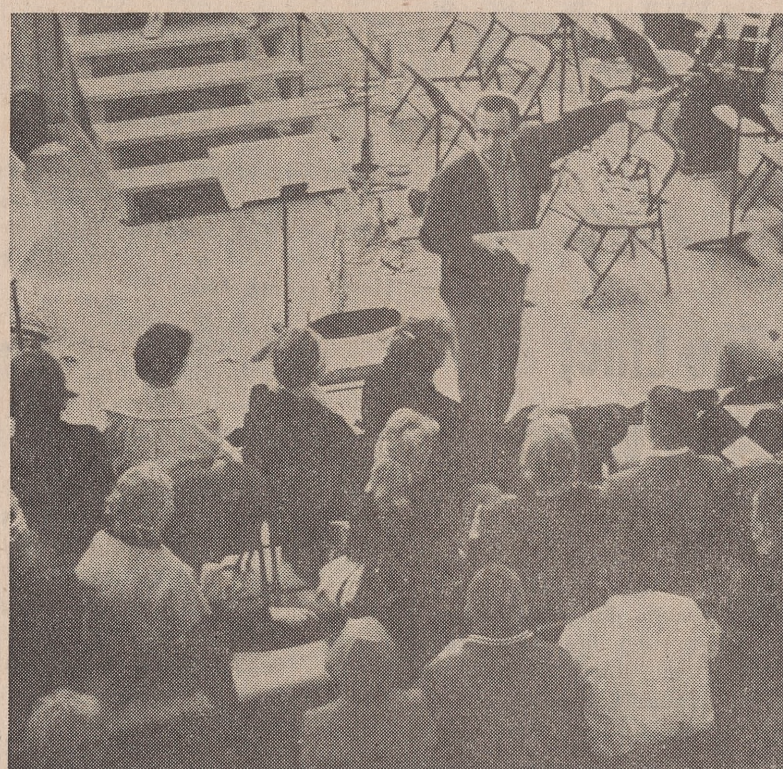

On Thursday, Nov. 9, Dr. Bing will speak on "Advanced Topics" at 4:15 p. m. in room 126, agriculture building. "Geometry" will be his lecture subject that night at 7:30 p. m. in room 215, Mackay science hall.

Friday, Nov. 10, he will be in room 126, agriculture building to further discuss "Advanced Topics," and at 4:15 in the same location Dr. Bing will speak on "The Inventive Side of Mathematics."

Nevada Alums Pick Top Men At Breakfast

William Parish, Dick Ronzone, and Myneer Walker were named outstanding members of the University of Nevada Alumni association Saturday, Oct. 28 during the annual executive committee breakfast.

Proctor Hug, Jr., Reno attorney and outgoing president of the association announced the selections made by the alumni nominating committee.

The three men received plaques in appreciation of their outstanding work on behalf of the alumni organization.

William Parish, Reno, served as president of the Alumni association in 1955-56 and is an organizer and supporter of old University boosters organizations. Parish is in the insurance and real estate business in Reno, and in addition to his alumni work, has been outstanding in working with the Reno youth ski program. Parish attended the University of Nevada with the class of 1945 and was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Dick Ronzone of Las Vegas—a native of Tonopah and active in alumni work in Las Vegas where he has headed the alumni committee during building dedications at Nevada Southern. Ronzone is an ex-football manager at the University, and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. In Las Vegas he heads Ronzone's department store.

Myneer Walker of Reno is a long time member of the association and past president, having served in 1957-58. He operates a service station in the Reno area. His selection was based on his active support in alumni organization and of the University. Walker is a 1941 graduate of the University, where he was associated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

By ROYCE FEOUR

Hurrah for Homecoming. The festive Homecoming spirit must have helped spark underdog University of Nevada's football team to its 28-20 upset victory over Cal Poly (Pomona) here last week.

The Wolf Pack played an outstanding first half and piled up a commanding 28-0 lead going into the fourth quarter and then to hang on for a one-touchdown triumph.

Roses to the Nevada team and coaching staff for winning the game they weren't supposed to.

The Wolf Pack continue their Far Western Conference obligations Saturday at Sacramento State. The Hornets are currently leading the FWC with a 2-0 league record and are 4-2 for the season.

Looking at comparative scores, Cal Poly (Pomona) drubbed Sac State 27-12, and the Hornets beat Chico State 14-10 while Nevada bounced the Wildcats 28-7.

Sacramento State was idle last week and took advantage of the opportunity to scout the Silver and Blue's Homecoming win over the Mustangs.

The momentum gained by the well-earned Homecoming victory could well carry the Wolf Pack through the last three games and wrap up a successful season.

Among the many Old Grads at last week's game were many former Wolf Pack athletes and teammates of the Nevada coaching staff. It's always good to win the Homecoming game and give the alumni a good impression of the athletic program.

Football at Nevada received a big boost at the Homecoming game when James "Rabbit" Bradshaw was officially presented an award into the Helm's Athletic Foundation Football Hall of Fame.

Bradshaw was a quarterback great in 1919-21 when the Wolf Pack used to play such teams as Cal, USC, Utah, Utah State and St. Ignatius.

Bernie Fumagalli, ex-Nevada Southern cage scoring ace, has been named freshman team basketball coach here. The frosh open workouts Monday.

Even-up Mark Is On The Line; Pack Takes On Top-dog Hornets

University of Nevada's rejuvenated football team takes on Sacramento State in a Far Western Conference game Saturday in Sacramento.

The Wolf Pack, fresh from a 28-20 triumph over Cal Poly (Pomona), will take an even 1-1 conference record and a 3-3 season mark into the game.

The Hornets are leading the FWC with a 2-0 slate and are 4-2 overall after enjoying an open date last week.

Most impressive of the Sacramento State victories is a 19-7 upset over defending FWC champion Humboldt State.

Other Hornet victories include Pepperdine 21-0, Southern Oregon 25-6, and Chico State 14-10. The Capital City team has a three-game winning streak on the block.

Their losses have come at the hands of Cal Poly (Pomona) 27-12 and Long Beach State 21-18.

Last year Nevada whipped Sacramento State on Homecoming here.

A tentative starting lineup for the Wolf Pack includes Jock Echave at fullback, Bobby Herron and Calvin Campbell at halfbacks, and Jack Renwick alternating between quarterback and halfback.

Quarterbacks Jim Cawiezel and Bob Alfred and halfbacks Jerry McKenzie and Gordy Lemich will also be available for duty.

Ends Jim Whitaker, Jay VreNon and Gary Busch, tackles Larry Moss, Bob Zuliani, Pete Palzis, and Tony Klenakis, guards Dick Pinion, Frank Nenzel, Joe Perozzi and Bill Daniels, and centers Max Culp, Dave Lundy and Jim Bronson will all see considerable action in the line.

Trachok Played With Pro Football Coach

Wolf Pack coach Dick Trachok was a teammate of Tommy Kalmanir's on the University of Nevada grid squads of the late 40's. Both were recruited from Jerome, Pa., where they played on the same high school team. Today, Kalmanir is backfield coach of the Oakland Raiders.

ECHAVE OUT OF THE PILE

FULLBACK JOCK ECHAVE (26) rambles through the Cal Poly (Pomona) line for a short gain during last week's impressive 28-20 Nevada Homecoming victory over the favored Mustangs. End Jim Whitaker (84) and guard Bill Daniel of the Wolf Pack provide blocking for Echave's drive. —Sagebrush photo.

They Bounced Back . . .

Wolves Stave Off Mustangs; Even Mark

The University of Nevada evened its season record at 3-3 last week with a surprise 28-20 victory over Cal Poly (Pomona) on Homecoming here.

The Wolf Pack ran all over the visiting Mustangs with three touchdowns in the second quarter and went to the dressing rooms with a commanding 21-0 halftime lead.

Nevada scored again in the third panel to build up the margin to an almost insurmountable 28-0 going into the fourth quarter.

But the pass-minded Mustangs hit a scoring streak and almost pulled the game out of the fire with three last period touchdowns for the final score of 28-20.

Nevada opened the scoring early in the second quarter when Calvin Campbell intercepted a Cal Poly pass and returned the ball to the Pomona three-yard line. Campbell carried the ball over one play later from the one.

The Wolf Pack jumped ahead 21-0 on a 50-yard pass from quarterback Jack Renwick to end Mike Christopher, who made a diving catch for the touchdown. The score came on the last play of the first half.

Renwick played an outstanding game for the winners, accounting for 22 points, including TD passes runs and conversions.

Jim Whitaker, veteran end played the best game of the season against the Mustangs. The Ukiah Calif., senior intercepted one pass, batted down several other Pomona aeriels, and was an iron man on defense.

Cage Workouts Underway

University of Nevada basketballers started their pre-season practice two weeks ago in preparation for an ambitious 1961-62 hoop schedule. The Wolf Pack, under the successful coaching of Jack Spencer, will be defending their 40-61 Far Western Conference cage crown. A 13-7 won-loss record was chalked up by the champions last year.

A 23-game schedule faces the Wolf Pack starting Dec. 1. With about five more weeks to go Spencer has his squad working basketball fundamentals. Spencer added that he wanted to get some patterns down early.

Sixteen players are working out now, headed by two returning starters from last season's winning quintet. The two are Brad Barks, a 6 foot 5 inch forward from Rock Island, Ill., and Craig Hall. Hall is a 5 foot 10 inch guard from Kansas City, Kansas.

Other players out are Joe DeArrieta, a 5 foot 11 inch junior guard from Winnemucca; Stu Johnson, another two year letterman from Hawthorne and who is a 6 foot 4 inch junior. Working out at center at 6 foot 4 inches is senior Dave Craig from California.

In his first year at Nevada is junior Chico Feilback. He is a 6 foot 2 inch transfer from Boise junior college. Another junior ball hawk is 6 foot guard Bob Donlan.

Noteable freshmen practicing with the upper classmen are Bill Robinson, a 6 foot 6 inch center from Kansas City, Missouri and Dave Ricks, a 6 foot Reno high school graduate. Bob Schleber, standing 6 foot 4 inches, and Tom Eaton, who is 6 foot 1 inch, are both from Davenport, Iowa. From New York City, New York is 6 foot 3 inch Murray Zinovoy, to round out the present squad members.

Featured on the Pack schedule this year is a swing through the middle west. The Silver and Blue takes on Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa, Purdue University at Lafayette, Indiana, and the University of Iowa at Iowa City.

The complete 196162 Nevada opponent slate reads:

Dec. 1, Gonzaga University at Spokane; Dec. 2, Eastern Washington, Cheney; Dec. 4, Long Beach State, Reno; Dec. 8 and 9, San Jose State, Reno; Dec. 16, Drake University, Des Moines; Dec. 19, Purdue University, Lafayette; Dec. 21, University of Iowa, Iowa City; Dec. 29 and 30, San Diego Tourney at San Diego.

Jan. 5, Alameda State College, Reno; Jan. 6, San Francisco State, Reno; Jan. 12, Humboldt State, Arcata; Jan. 13, Chico State, Chico; Jan. 22 and 23, Nevada Southern of Las Vegas at Reno; Jan. 27, Cleighton University, Reno.

Feb. 2, Sacramento State, Reno; Feb. 3, California Aggies, Reno; Feb. 5, Gonzaga University, Reno; Feb. 9, Alameda State College, Hayward, California; Feb. 10, San Francisco; Feb. 16, Chico State, Reno; Feb. 17, Humboldt State, Reno; Feb. 23, Sacramento State, Sacramento and Feb. 14, California Aggies, Davis.

Lee Sets Modern Homecoming Mark

Ron Lee, Fallon, set a modern record of 26 minutes, 27.9 seconds across the four and one-half mile Homecoming Cross-Country race for first place and the lead in the Independent team victory.

The Independents placed four runners in the first five positions for an easy team cross-country victory and points toward the Kin-near trophy.

Sigma Nu, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Lambda Chi Alpha trailed the Independents in team finishes.

Hard-working Max Coffee, who was among the leading finishers last year, finished second; Bob Rusk, Sigma Nu, took third; Al Mayer, Independent, was fourth; Frank Hernandez, veteran cross-country leader, fifth; Tim Anderson, SAE, sixth; John White, Snakes, seventh; Steve Holloway, SN, eighth; Darick Yoder, Sigma Nu, ninth; and Jim Weishaupt, tenth.

The one-sided victory makes two cross-country team victories in a row for the powerful Independents.

Ketron Heads Lettermen

Doug Ketron, University track and cross-country team member, was elected president of Block "N" club at its recent meeting.

Distanceman Ketron has participated in track for the last two years, and is present record holder for the two-mile run. He is currently pacing the Nevada cross-country team, as he did last year in the team's initial year.

Block "N" is a service club, composed of men who have lettered in major sports.

Leathernecks Are After Officers . . . Air and Sea Warrior Programs

Multiple opportunities for officer commissions in the United States Marine Corps will be outlined here for interested students on Nov. 7 and 8 from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. in Jot Travis union building.

Both aviation and line officer programs will be explained. Interviews will be conducted by Captain

John W. Parchen and Captain R. D. Ross, USMC.

Training for qualified freshmen, sophomores and juniors is conducted under the Platoon Leaders Class which leads to a commission and advanced training as either an aviation or a field officer when the bachelor's degree has been earned.

No military classes or drills are required by the PLC or the PLC (Aviation) program during the school year.

Training is conducted during the summer at two, six weeks instruction periods. Graduation from college is required before the candidate may be commissioned.

Also offered by the Marine Corps is the Officer Candidate Course and the Aviation Officer Candidate Course for senior students. College graduates may likewise apply for a commission under either the OCC or the AOCC programs.

Instruction is given at Quantico, Virginia, with the flight training in its beginning stages being conducted at Pensacola, Florida.

An angry man opens his mouth and shuts his eyes—Cato.

Six Coeds Seeking Military Ball Title

The annual ROTC Military Ball will be held Nov. 18 at Mathisen's convention center, and living groups on campus have announced their candidates for queen.

Jeff Cecchi is in charge of the contest in which sophomore women only may compete.

Candidates for 1961 Military Ball queen are Jackie Chiatovich, Gamma Phi Beta; Robin Killinger, New Residence hall; Pam Kitt, Manzanita hall; Patricia Rodgers, Kappa Alpha Theta; Ellen Roseman, Delta Delta Delta; Jean Tachaires, Pi Beta Phi.

Only men now enrolled in military courses may vote for the six candidates.

Tub Officials To College Meet

Four Nevada students are attending the American College Unions conference at Western Washington State college this weekend.

Dave Short, student union president; Bob Backus, finance director; Karin Bryant, hospitality committee chairman; Bill Lohse, publicity chairman, left for Bellingham, Wash. Wednesday noon. Bill Adams, assistant student services director, and Shirley Morgan, student services secretary, are accompanying them.

A unique program is planned for the delegates. The conference, which started yesterday, includes a preview of Seattle's World's Fair, "Century 21." An exhibit of pictures and a model of the space needle will be shown during the conference. A "Century 21" official will also speak at the conference.

A tour of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada, is also on the agenda. A special banquet will be part of the program on the UBC campus.

Special problems of student unions are being discussed in three sessions. Short expects discussions on personnel recruitment and selection, programming, and union relations to students, student government, faculty, and administration to be especially helpful to the Nevada board members.

Bill Adams will lead a discussion on financing. One of the Nevada delegates will lead a discussion on union relations and coordinations with the community.

The delegates will fly back to Reno in time to attend classes Monday morning.

Regents Rule On Exceptions

The board of regents voted last Friday to give University President Charles J. Armstrong a flexible discretionary power to determine refunds for students dropping out of school for "good and sufficient reasons."

"Good and sufficient reasons" include male students who are drafted and students who are forced to withdraw from school and go to work because of a death in the family.

The regents voted to give a full refund to all students who have been drafted thus far in the school year.

Under the present catalogue, students receive a 75 percent refund of their consolidated fee and nonresident tuition when withdrawing one to two weeks after a semester begins; 50 percent from three to six weeks; 25 percent from seven to eight weeks, and nothing after nine weeks of the semester have passed.

A provision in the 1962-63 catalogue will be made for these special cases.

Hage Leads Club; Alpha Zetas Elect

Members of Alpha Zeta, national agricultural honorary society, held elections at a recent meeting.

Leading the group during the present school year are E. W. Hage, chancellor; Jack Ridley, censor; Lloyd Emmons, scribe; Gary Cook, treasurer; Fred Gilbert, chronicler.

Engineer Gates To Do Thesis On Navy Missile Tracking Project

A University of Nevada graduate student is taking over where the United States Navy left off.

The Navy was sponsoring a project to find a better packing material for the Sidewinder missile. But the project proved too expensive and was dropped. Now Nevada graduate student, Allen Gates, plans to continue the project and write his master's thesis on it.

The experiment has evolved from its initial object to find a packing material. Gates is trying to discover how cushion materials absorb energy.

The Navy spent over eighteen-thousand dollars on electronic machinery for the project. One tall, triangular apparatus used in the experiment is probably unique in this type of work. A spool-shaped striker suspended in the triangle is dropped on the test material. The velocity and deceleration of the striker are measured electronically. This data is fed into an oscilloscope and photographed so that the results are recorded.

Allen Gates received his bachelors degree in mechanical engineering last June. He is currently employed as a teaching assistant while working on his master's degree.

The project is under the direction of Robert B. McKee, assistant professor of mechanical engineering.

One Week Left: Film Discounts

A ten-percent introductory discount on film developing is available through the ASUN bookstore. The introductory discount will continue for another week.

Service takes only 24 hours for any film in either black and white or color. The film is picked up and delivered at 1 p. m. every day.

James McNabney, bookstore manager, said that film service is only one of many new bookstore features. More are being planned he said.
