Brass Polished; Campus Bombed; Ball Is Saturday

Sabers are being shined and military brass polished as Nevada ROTC cadets prepare for Saturday's 33rd annual Military Ball.

The ball, traditionally one of the highlights of the University social year, will be held at Mathisen's hall. It is sponsored by the University of Nevada Cadet Officers Club (UNCOC).

Cadet officers, students, professors, guests and reserve and retired officers will dance beneath a ceiling decorated with brilliantly-colored parachutes.

Those are a few of the decorations announced by decorations chairman Jerry Williams. Also adding military flavor will be Civil War rockets from the Sierra Ordnance Depot in Herlong.

Voting is underway in military science classes for the Military Ball Queen. The Queen will be chosen from among: Ellen Roseman, Patsy Rodgers, Jeanne Tachoures, Jaci Chiatovich, Robin Killinger, and Pam Kitt. She will be elected by students in the basic and advanced ROTC courses.

Last year's Queen, Judy Stratton of Delta Delta Delta, will be present at the dance. She, as all Military Ball Queens are, is an honorary colonel in the ROTC Brigade.

And as preparations continue, so do the soires of "Bombardier Madsen," who scheduled his second campus-drop for today. Last week Madsen dropped leaflets from an airplane advertising the ball.

Today he is scheduled to drop coupons good for free tickets to the ball.

Tickets are available at the Military department, or from cadet officers.

Coeds Battle For Military Ball Title

Six Nevada coeds competing for the title of "Military Ball Queen" are under close scrutiny by ROTC cadets this week. Elections began yesterday in military science classes, and will end tomorrow.

The girls were presented to military cadets in a special review last week.

Sundowners Schedule Ball

Sundowners will be wearing their hats overtime this week.

The black hats will be spotted tomorrow, Thursday and Friday as the Sundowners advertise their Charity Ball to be held Friday night, Nov. 17.

Tickets for the ball may be purchased from any Sundowner and are priced at $1.50 per couple.

The Charity Ball is replacing the Sundowner's Goble's Ball held in past years.

The "black-hat men" emphasize that this dance is not a "levi stomp," and dress will be semi-formal.

Site of the dance is the Grange hall on the Old Virginia City road.

All proceeds from the dance will go to underprivileged children in the Reno area.

The Charity Ball will be the fundraising replacement of the Sundowners' "Toys For Tots" drive held last year around Christmas time.

The dance starts at 9 p.m. and will continue until midnight. The band will be announced later this week.

Jam Session Goes With Tom's Auction

A jam session in the downstairs area of the student union will be the opener for the annual TUB-sponsored Turkey Trot.

The jam session will take place Friday morning around 10:15 a.m. when Tom Turkey will be auctioned off.

The Turkey Trot will be held that evening at 8:30 p.m. in the dining commons.

Admission to the dance is 25 cents stag and 35 cents for couples.

Door prizes will be awarded during the dance. Refreshments will be served.

Tom is expected to arrive on campus sometime tomorrow.

He will be on display to bidders and passers-by in the union until he goes to the highest bidder Friday morning.

Flu Vaccine Campaign Is Shot Full Of Holes

In spite of the numerous cases of colds and influenza, very few students have had flu shots.

The shots are still available at the University infirmary for $1 a shot.

Vaccine was shipped in due to the recent flue epidemic throughout the country.

Bandsmen Cheered At Rams Game

Opening half-time activities at the Los Angeles Rams-San Francisco 49ers game Sunday at the LA coliseum was the University of Nevada marching band.

The band, which performed for about seven minutes, received a loud round of applause from those viewing the Southern California game.

The Nevada performance featured Audrey Chambers, head majorette for the Wolf Pack musicians.

As part of their trip, the band gave a concert in Disneyland Saturday afternoon.

The Rams-49ers game was tele-

The Apple Cart' Thursday

What happens when one country asks another to annex it for its own good?

George Bernard Shaws play "The Apple Cart" describes some of the confusion that results.

The play has been called a "political extravaganza". It was written in 1929 and revised recently by Maurice Evans.

This extravaganza, under the direction of R. T. Ellmore, will be held in the fine arts building on Nov. 16, 17 and 18. Curtain time is 8 p.m. daily. The final day's matinee will start at 2 p.m.

The cast: Don Hackstaff as Pamphilius; Robert Boozer, Sempronius; Delbert Dolbier, Boanerges; Ronald King, King Magnus; Mary McCord, Princess-Royal; Gene Evans, Prime Minister Proteus; Charles Preston, Foreign Secretary Nicobar; Michael N. Steinburg, Colonial Secretary Crassus;

Roy Embry, Chancellor of the Chequer Plony; Robert Levine, Treasurer Secretary Balbus; Julie S. Hanson, Power Mistress General Sistrata; Molly Tyree, Postmistress General Aanda; Barbara Hamplin, Orinthia; Sarah Peder-

Senators See New Constitution

The proposed new ASUN constitution, a short three-page document, will be presented to Senate tomorrow night.

A committee composed of Pat Clary, Bev Roberson, Mike Mackedon, and Bill Stratton, has had the constitution for one month to make any changes deemed necessary.

At Senate's last meeting, the committee requested an extra two weeks to give further thought to the constitution.

United Fund On; Drive Ends Wed.

The University United Fund campaign drive will continue on campus through tomorrow. The downtown drive will continue until Wednesday, Nov. 22.

The University goal, which was set at $3,500, has almost reached its peak.

According to Bill Adams, United Fund assistant director at the University, $3,372 has been collected on campus.

The faculty donated about $3,000 of the collected sum, Adams said.

University students have contacted 120 small businesses in collecting for the Washoe county United Fund drive.

The constitution made its original appearance Saturday, Oct. 7, when various members of student government were presented with a copy of the document written by Lambda Chi Alpha senator Pat Clary and ASUN Vice President Bob Van Lydegraf.

The framers planned to put the proposed constitution before the student body for an acceptance vote Oct. 11.

Main feature of the proposed ASUN constitution is a system of enacting student legislation by means of statutes.

There are provisions for an executive, legislative, and a judicial branch of student government. The latter branch would interpret the constitution. Formerly the ASUN (Continued on Page 6)

Editorial Comment Ban On Booze?

RUMORS SPREAD AS FAST as germs on campus, and the "big scare" now circulating is no exception. The resulting "disease" may have widespread effects if students aren't "vaccinated" with a few facts instead of relying on primitive cures. What appears to be cancer may be only one case of the common cold—due to exposure.

ACCORDING TO THE RUMOR, the administration has put a ban on any alcoholic beverages at sneaks, socials, and sorority dances. There are other versions of the rumor, including a supposed outlawing of liquor at dances of any kind. IF THIS RUMOR HAS ANY BASIS IN FACT, there has not been one official statement, verbal or written, to prove it.

THE INCIDENT WHICH TRIGGERED this rumor was a fraternity sneak this weekend. Members of the fraternity asked for the dean of women's approval of the sneak, after they told her they were planning to serve beer. They volunteered this information; the dean of women did not ask for it. And she, and any other member of the administration, is responsible for upholding the University of Nevada social code and the state laws on alcoholic beverages when she is confronted with a direct violation of them. Therefore, the dean of women could not approve the sneak with beer.

THIS FRATERNITY INCIDENT is the only official part of the "crackdown" rumor, and it represents no change from former administration policy. The deans know the laws on drinking and so do the students, and the administration's philosophy has always been, "Don't ask us where we stand in regard to the law; if you do, we'll have to tell you." And in such cases as last week's. "Don't tell us."

BUT STUDENTS ARE TAKING this one case to mean a complete ban of all future drinking at social functions. And they're ready to fight for the right to govern their individual group's actions—a right they haven't lost yet, despite the rumor. The dean's remarks were aimed at one sneak, not at the entire social life of the University.

THE ADMINISTRATION KNOWS WELL the values of social drinking; it's one facet of learning in a University community and it is a dominant part of society. The deans know students will drink, and to force them to go underground is to encourage small group parties, more consumption, and a higher pregnancy rate. And the administration is as anxious for groups to assume the responsibility of the social lives of their members as these groups are themselves.

IF A "CRACKDOWN" COMES, it will be because a group of individuals abuse their social privileges. A mature wait-and-see attitude will kill this rumor, but action based on misinformation might make it fact.

Eleven seniors call it a career Saturday when Nevada ends its 1961 season against Colorado State. Coach Trachok and his aids have done a creditable job thus far, as have the players, and a rousing send-off to the seniors is in order.

Peace Corpswoman To Speak

Miss Annie Guttierrez, Peace Corps field representative, will give an address Thursday morning at 11 a.m., in the card area of the student union.

She will be available until around 3 p.m. that day, Nov. 16, for conference with groups or individuals.

The University of Nevada may soon become a center for the Peace Corps, volunteer aid program for foreign countries.

Senator Alan Bible has been in favor of making the University of Nevada one of several universities which serve as training centers for Peace Corps volunteers Lobbyists, at least one a university faculty member urged passage of legislation to that effect during the last Congressional session.

The Peace Corps, headed by President Kennedy's brother-in-law, R. Sargent Shriver, has announced 12 programs since the beginning of training last spring.

Groups of volunteers have been sent to communities all over the world. Countries requesting Peace Corps aid include India, Pakistan, Columbia, Ghana, Tanganyika, the Philippines, Nigeria, the island of St. Lucia in the West Indies, and others of the underdeveloped countries.

One Nevada co-ed has been sent to the Philippines for a two-year tour of duty. Nancy Jeffers, of Las Vegas is a graduate of Nevada schools and the University of Nevada at Las Vegas. The 23 year old psychology major was active in campus publications and activities. She was president of the Associated Women Students and vice-president of the student body.

Miss Jeffers might be said to be typical of volunteer Corpsmen. Peace Corpsmen are generally in their twenties. Many have background of membership in Scouting or other youth groups. The majority are college graduates; others have had no college training or have not completed college courses.

SAE's Clean Up At KAT House

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon cleaned house for the Kappa Alpha Thetas Saturday.

Reason was the bargain the SAE's made with the several sororities.

Whichever sorority bought the most tickets for the SAE's recent raffle was guaranteed a spick 'n' span house cleaning job.

After cleaning house, the SAE's hosted the Theta's to lunch and dancing at their own house.

Lambda Chi Alpha Takes Seven More

Lambda Chi Alpha has initiated seven members into its house.

The members who were initiated went through "Help week" before the semester started.

They painted, scrubbed, and finished floors in the Lambda Chi house.

Those men who now wear the active pin of Lambda Chi Alpha are Dave Carpenter, Bob Teglia, Gary Tolotti, Jack Haddock, George Frank, Jim Long, and Steve Sanders.

Professors Eat At Delta House Tonight

Members of Tri-Delta sorority will hold their annual professors night at the house at 845 North Sierra street tonight.

A short skit will provide entertainment and refreshments will be served to visiting professors.

that it might serve as an escape for draft dodgers. Male volunteers may or may not have served in the armed forces. Service duty is waived for man of military age if they serve two years with the Peace Corps. Lists of volunteers show that many have not had service experience.

Seven weeks of training for volunteers at university training centers is supposed to alleviate the problem of sending the "blind to lead the blind". Volunteers are to rely on comparatively limited experience with alien peoples after 120 hours of training in the culture of the host country, 120 hours of preparation for the field in which they will be aiding development 120 hours of study of American culture and background, and 40 hours of health education and preventative medicine. This is a sample training schedule; there are variations with the needs of the countries involved.

Volunteers are given the rudiments of the major language of the country. Through such training they are to work hand in hand with natives in remote and backward settlements.

Corpsmen serve as educational assistants, research assistants, and teachers in practical application of agricultural and mechanical techniques.

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK!

All year long you've been promising yourself to go there. Now the semester is nearly over and you still haven't set foot in the place. Shame on you!

But it's not too late. Right now, this very minute, before you weaken, lift up your head and forward march to the place you have been avoiding ever since school began. I refer, of course, to the library.

Now here you are at the library. That wasn't so bad, was it? Of course not! Go inside. What do you see? A sign that says "NO SMOKING." Go outside. Light a Marlboro. Smoke. Go back inside.

Because now you are ready. Now your trembling resolution is rigid. Now your pulsing psyche is serene. You have been calmed by mild Marlboro. You have been soothed by that fine selectrate filter, by that fine full flavor that dotes and pampers and caresses, that lifts the fallen, repairs the shattered, straightens the bent, unravels the knotted, rights the askew, and fastens the unbuttoned.

In the center of the library you see the main circulation desk. Look in the card catalogue for the number of the book you want, write the number on a slip, and hand it to the efficient and obliging young lady at the desk. The efficient and obliging young lady then gives the slip to an efficient and obliging page boy who trots briskly back into the stacks, curls up on a limp leather encyclopedia, and sleeps for an hour or two. Then, puffy but refreshed, he returns your slip to the efficient and obliging young lady at the desk, who tells you one of three things: a) "Your book is out." b) "Your book is at the bindery." c) "Your book is on reserve."

Having learned that the circulation desk hasn't the least intention of ever parting with a book, let us now go into the periodical room. Here we spend hours sifting through an imposing array of magazines—magazines from all the far corners of the earth, magazines of every nature and description—but though we search diligently and well, we cannot find Mad or Playboy.

Next let us venture into the reference room. Here in this hushed, vaulted chamber, we find the true scholars of the university—earnest, dedicated young men and women who care for only one thing in the world: the pursuit of knowledge.

Let us eavesdrop for a moment on this erudite couple poring over heavy tomes at the corner table. Hush! She speaks:

SHE: Whatcha readin', hey?
HE: The Origin of Species. You ever read it?
SHE: No, but I seen the movie.
HE: Oh.
SHE: You like readin'?
HE: Naah.
SHE: What do you like?
HE: Hockey, licorice, girls, stuff like that.
SHE: Me too, hey.
HE: You pinned or anything?
SHE: Well, sort of. I'm wearin a fellow's motorcycle emblem . . . But it's only platonic.
HE: Wanna go out for a smoke?
SHE: Marlboro?
HE: What else?

And as our learned friends take their leave, let us too wend our way homeward—a trifle weary, perhaps, but enlightened and renewed and better citizens for having spent these happy hours in the library, Aloha, library, aloha!

Sigma Nu--High School, USA

Sigma Nu had always been a close house.

But before anyone could notice any well-defined change in the Snake's unity, a clannish warfare had set in and the whole attitude was changed. A Vallejo man was abducted and subjected to humiliation by the Susanville cowpokes, and those two factions have had at it ever since. The Sacramento valley group tore into the Reno men. The lone representative of Oroville was without a friend in the melee. And South Tahoe, an outlaw outfit anyway, got increasingly cocky as their high school football team won game after game this fall. (They were finally decisively trounced this weekend by Reno.)

The television show "American Bandstand" gave added impetus to this high school aid about the house. Two pledges, accomplished dancers, were summarily obligated to give dance lessons to actives, as their pledge duties.

Finally, the members all wore their old high school letter jackets, car coats, and other mementoes of bygone days to a meeting. A Susanville football player was bodily removed from the meeting by the formidable Reno group. This was the last straw.

Alert Snake president Ty Cobb saw the impending downfall of his house if something was not done—so he scheduled a regression day, a day of complete regression to high school antics, so the brothers would get the ideas out of their system.

Sigma Nu formally regressed last Saturday. The day started with a car show in Idlewild park. All the members and their dates put on their medallions, aforementioned sweaters, etc., and spent a typical high school afternoon at the park. Names were put on the sides of all cars, and hoods were left open to display the shining engines.

George Fraser won the show with his sleek 1953 Ford. He was presented an inscribed piston for his efforts.

The group then moved, via Vagabond bus, to the KOLO-TV studios, where a presentation of contemporary teenage dancing was offered to the townfolk. No doubt they are impressed with the value of a college education now.

A dance at the Sigma Nu house climaxed the evening. Regressors "cruised the main" in their named and numbered cars, stopping in the Frostop to rev their pipes and raise hell. They then went to the dance, and the girls stood on one corner of the room while the boys stood on the other end and rumbled.

Prominent guest of the evening was Gary Bullis, disc jockey of the Dominator - sponsored program "Rats-Nest," which was the program in its day.

The dance ended, the regressors returned to college, and the Sigma Nu house is again unified. Of course, everybody took their dates home by way of windy hill.

Discuss Formosa In Lecture, Panel

"China night" will be the theme of tomorrow's Collegiate Council of the United Nation's meeting.

As part of the CCUN program, Professor T. V. Frazier will speak on the Formosa problem at the meeting scheduled for 7:30 in the education auditorium.

Professor Frazier, assistant physics professor at the University, has recently returned from two years in Taiwan.

A panel discussion will follow Professor Frazier's address.

Included on the panel of six or seven will be Lt. Gen. Hyum Joon Shin, a former commandant of the Korean Marine Corps during the Korean conflict. Lt. Gen. Shin is attending school on campus.

The CCUN, which now has about 35 members, will bowl Friday, Nov. 17, at Greenbrae Lanes. The group will hold their bowling mixer around 6:30 p.m. A coffee social will follow.

SDX Members Hear Columnist Delaplane

Members of the undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi will attend a Nov. 19 meeting of the professional journalism society in Reno.

Stanton Delaplane, nationally syndicated columnist, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting. He is noted for his humorous comments on human behavior and travel.

University members of SDX will meet with the professional chapter at a 5 p. m. social hour at the Sante Fe Hotel. Delaplane will address the gathering after dinner at 6 p. m.

Kidnap Actives Exchange SAEs

Two Sigma Alpha Epsilon actives "took a trip this weekend," and an SAE from Phi chapter, University of Utah, visited Nevada Alpha chapter.

Tim Grant and John Slansky were kidnapped Friday afternoon by members of the SAE pledge class and were sent to a remote town in Nevada.

Grant was intercepted on his way to a noon class, and SAE pledges captured Slansky as he returned from his Friday one o'clock.

The two men were taken to Carlin, Nevada, where they were "exchanged" for Howard Cherry, a sophomore SAE at the Salt Lake City university.

Grant and Slansky reported a "great time" in Utah and returned Sunday morning to Reno.

Cherry left for the eight-hour trip back to Salt Lake City at noon Sunday.

The exchange is an SAE tradition. Each year a couple of actives are kidnapped and sent somewhere outside of the state.

Speakers To View Aims For Profs

Tomorrow, Nov. 15, a meeting of the American Association of University Professors will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the faculty dining room.

Program for the evening is titled "The faculty looks at its own responsibilities — What are the problems?"

James Hathorn, student counselor, will speak on "Responsibilities to Students."

Professor Joseph Robertson, from the College of Agriculture, will speak on "Responsibilities in Terms of Ethics."

Professor Irving Sandorf, from the College of Electrical Engineering, will present as his topic of discussion, "Whom Are We Teaching — Dolts or Geniuses?" Discussions will follow the presentations.

All members and prospective members of AAUP are invited to attend.

JIM WHITAKER shows pass catching form that has made him the leading Wolf Pack pass receiver this season. Whitaker completes his fourth season for Nevada here Saturday against Colorado State College. The senior, from Ukiah, Calif., has played outstanding football for the Wolf Pack on both offense and defense.

Humboldt Clinches Tie For FWC Title

Humboldt State clinched at least a tie for first place in the Far Western Conference with its come-from-behind 16-14 victory over Nevada Saturday before 7,000 Homecoming fans at Arcata, Calif.

The win gave the Lumberjacks a 4-1 record in league play. San Francisco State, resting in second place with a 3-1 mark, still has a chance to tie for the loop lead.

The Gators have one more conference game on their schedule—next week against Chico State. The Wildcats are in the FWC cellar with a 0-4 record.

Saturday's defeat dropped Nevada's record to 2-3 in league action.

Humboldt State defeated San Francisco State earlier in the season. The Lumberjacks' only loss was a 19-7 upset decision to Sacramento State.

Far Western Conference standings:

	Won	Lost
Humboldt State	4	1
San Francisco State	3	1
Sacramento State	2	2
Cal Aggies	2	2
Nevada	2	3
Chico State	0	4

Ski Team Practice Starts Tomorrow

Head ski coach Les Hawkins has announced that skiing practice will begin tomorrow at 4:15 p. m.

Coach Hawkins feels that turnout has been very good this season. He already has twenty new men signed up for the coming season.

He also has all eight 1960-61 lettermen returning. Of the returning lettermen, Dave Short is the only skier who may be graduating in January.

Other returning men are Jon Madsen, Doug Salter, Jim Barry, Bob Kean, Dave Small, Harry Swainston and Bob Heaney.

Hawkins said the skiing schedule will be decided at a meeting this Sunday.

Volleyball Club

A volley ball chairman will be elected today, Nov. 14 at 4:30 in the new gym and a new volley ball club will be started.

Ten women will be needed to start the club. Sign up will be at 4:10 today.

Thursday, Nov. 16, is the last day of bowling. At that time an election will be held for a new bowling manager before the bowling tournaments begin.

Cecil Molini said, "We hope that more off-campus independents will come out. It will give them a chance to get acquainted with some of the girls."

NEVADA 14, HUMBOLDT 13, OFFICIALS 3

The University of Nevada football squad, playing in their fourth consecutive Homecoming game, battled 7,500 partisan fans, four officials, and a strong Humboldt State college team last Saturday night in Redwood Bowl on the Humboldt campus.

The Wolf Pack played their finest game of the season and had the Lumberjacks outmanned all the way until the final three minutes when an obvious interference penalty was overlooked which set up the Jacks' winning field goal. The fans used sugar lumps and coffee cups, the hometown team used some football talent, and the officials used blinders as the Pack lost a heart-breaker.

NOTES AND QUOTES

These seniors who will be playing their final football game for the University this Saturday against Colorado State had this to say about the Humboldt game:

Jim Whitaker: "Playing along side the guys on our team Saturday night was the proudest hour of my life—we won!"

Jerry McKinzie: "Football at its best. Wish I'd had some coffee to go with the sugar lumps."

Myron Carpenter: "We didn't win on the scoreboard, but we kicked hell out of them."

Joe Perozzi: "We took gas."

Art Grohs: "How true it is when they say 'The best team doesn't always win.'"

Frank Nenzel: "Our best offense and defensive effort ever. It's tough to be a loser when you know you're a winner."

Bob Zuliani: "Worst officiating I've seen. It's hard to beat 15 with only 11 players."

Pete Palzis: "We got s....."

Student trainer John Genasci said, "I knew we were in for a bad night when the officials came out with Humboldt State jerseys on."

The rest of the team's sentiments: "Wait'll next year."

Lumberjacks Edge Nevada 16-14 By Kicking Last-Minute Field Goal

University of Nevada still has never won a football game at Arcata, Calif.

But the Wolf Pack came close this year, only to lose 16-14 when host Humboldt State kicked a field goal late in the fourth quarter.

The first football victory in history at the Lumberjack's home field seemed in grasp for Nevada with a 14-13 lead late in the game.

The game-winning field goal was kicked by Jim Walker from the 22-yard line with 1:13 left in the game. The three-point boot came on a fourth down situation.

The inspired Wolf Pack took a 14-7 lead in the fourth quarter on a 12-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jack Renwick to half-back Calvin Campbell and Renwick's kick for the extra point.

Humboldt State roared back on a 85-yard kick off return to the Nevada 12 by diminutive Frank Buda. Fullback Ed White plunged over from the eight two plays late for the second Lumberjacktown to make it 14-13.

Coach Phil Sarboes Humboldt eleven gambled for the lead and a two-point conversion but the running play was stopped and the Wolf Pack retained its important one-point lead.

Nevada took the kickoff and drove to the Lumberjack ten-yard line before losing the ball on an intercepted pass. The winners returned the intercepted pass to their own 32 to setup the drive toward Nevada territory and the game-winning three-pointer.

Coach Dick Trachok's Wolf Pack jumped to an early 7-0 lead after taking the opening kickoff and driving for the score.

Renwick passed seven yards to Campbell for the touchdown, and Renwick added the extra point for 7-0. Bobby Herron raced 32-yards for the big play in the TD drive.

The Military ball is scheduled for Nov. 18, this Saturday, in Mathisen's hall. It is 33-years old.

Everything Is 90%

By RICHARD MORRIS

I really ought to stick to some safe subject and libel Jesus Christ or perhaps support organized prostitution. However, I am beset by a perverse desire to again talk about things political—this time, that great American institution, the loyalty oath.

Congress, in its infinite wisdom, has realized that it is necessary to prevent students having Communist sympathies from receiving federal loans. This is effectively accomplished by requiring that the recipients of this money sign oaths in which they affirm their loyalty and state that they have never been associated with any of the two or three hundred subversive organizations blacklisted by the Attorney General.

The great effectiveness of this course of action is demonstrated by the fact that no disloyal person has ever signed a loyalty oath; there have never been any prosecutions for perjury of persons who falsely signed the document.

It is interesting to note that no one is ever asked to sign an oath affirming that he is not a murderer or a sex criminal. The only implication which can be drawn from this is that it is acceptable to be a murderer or sex criminal provided that one is a loyal murderer or a loyal sex criminal.

The introduction of the loyalty oath was a great advance in that it legislated on the subject of people's thoughts. Previously, it had been illegal only to advocate overthrow of the government, or to be a member of an organization working with that purpose. But now, the person who has signed an oath cannot legally have thoughts in favor of any Communist ideas or groups. It is obvious that Congress should legislate still more widely in this area.

There are, of course, persons who, for reasons of conscience, refuse to accept any requirement that they affirm their loyalty. These are the Communist sympathizers that the use of the document guards against. We are told that Communists have no consciences, but this is a minor point.

Yes, we are indeed fortunate that the legislators who help to control the destiny of our great nation have the foresight to institute effective measures such as the loyalty oath to check the spread of Communism.

Education Club Started Again

A recently reactivated club, the Association for Childhood Education International, will hold its first meeting tonight at 7 p. m. in the Nevada room of the student union.

Mrs. Austin, a kindergarten teacher at Veterans Memorial school, will be the guest speaker at the ACEI meeting.

An informal meeting of the organization was held recently for organizational purposes and to elect officers.

Gay Fransworth will lead the group this year as president. Sue Lombardi was elected vice president, and Pay Hoystead is secretary.

Mrs. Marlene Butorac is ACEI's faculty advisor.

ACEI is primarily for future and present kindergarten teachers.

Students Tour Bee

It's a holiday for writers today, as around 16 journalism students and the journalism faculty left at 8 a.m. to make a tour of the Sacramento Bee at California's capital city.

The group will return tonight after visiting the award-winning McClatchy newspaper and watching it being produced.

All journalism classes normally conducted on Tuesday will not be held today.

University students will be admitted free with student body cards. There is a $1.25 admission charge for the general public.

Tickets can be picked up from 1 to 4:30 p. m. at the box office in the fine arts building. Reservations can also be made by calling FA 3-2081, extension 306.

Students are being reminded that they will be admitted free but must have reserved seats.

The play opens Thursday night at 8 p. m., and there will be evening performances Friday and Saturday nights. A Saturday matinee starts at 2 p. m.

tution, the new constitution do not state that two of the four senators-at-large must be women.

There is no provision for class presidents.

The proposed ASUN constitution states that legislation will be enacted by a majority vote of senators present at a Senate meeting. A two-thirds majority vote would override the President's veto.

No boards or committees are provided for in the proposed constitution, but Senate would have the power to recommend appointments of such boards and committees.

Under the executive branch, the power would rest with the president and the cabinet, the latter composed of the president, the executive vice president and other vice presidents elected by Senate upon nomination by the president.

The judiciary would be composed of a supreme court of one chief justice, two associate justices who would be matriculated students and two advisory justices. The advisory justices would be members of the University faculty or staff.

Initiative, referendum and recall are provided for in the new constitution.

If this constitution is accepted by Senate and approved by the students in a general election, it will be into effect immediately.

Today we painted some music

It may seem unusual that these youngsters are painting "by ear"... turning music from the classroom radio into colorful pictures. But this is the kind of creativeness the Standard School Broadcast inspires.

Currently, the program's theme is "Music—Passport to the World." Using our listening guide, teachers relate music to geography, history, art, folklore, literature.

This helps children gain insight into the life and culture of the peoples of the world. It leads to better and quicker understanding of both the music and the other studies.

By playing and dramatizing all types of music—from symphony to jazz, Thailand dances to Broadway hits, the program adds a new, delightful dimension to learning.

We started this program 33 years ago, never dreaming our listening family would grow to include 2½ million children in classrooms. Now countless adults, too, have discovered how entertaining and informative the broadcasts are at home.

If you'd like to know why the program has such wide appeal, try tuning in on Thursdays. We think you will enjoy it, too.
