Band Initiates Spring Swing Around Nevada

The first event of the annual Symphonic Band Spring Concert tour will begin tomorrow night at 8:15 in the Fine Arts auditorium.

The home concert, initiating a three-day tour of northern Nevada, will be conducted by Dr. John Carrico, director of bands and professor of music.

Featured pianist for the home concert only will be Prof.

Ronald R. Williams, assistant professor of music. Prof. Williams, who recently gave a recitation of his own compositions, will play the Concerto for piano in A minor, first movement by Edward Grieg.

The repertoire will be selected from a program of 17 pieces including symphonies, marches, and light compositions such as the famous "Danny Boy" (Irish tune from County Derry).

"Passion in Paint Suite" by Henri Rene conveys musical impression of painting by Toulouse-Lautrec, Salvador Dalik, and Edgar Degas.

Marches include "Concord and Lexington March" and the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers." Other pieces range in mood and subject from the exotic-sounding "Italian in Algiers Overture" to Irish lyric, "The Rakes of Mal-low."

There is no charge for the home concert.

The tour of northern Nevada, April 11, 12, and 13, will include Winnemucca, Elko, Battle Mountain, Wells, and Ely. The University Singers will accompany the band bringing the total group to 85.

The band will play an afternoon concert in the high school auditorium in Lovelock on Wednesday, April 11, then move on to Winnemucca for an afternoon and evening concert there. They will play in Battle Mountain the next morning at 10, and travel to Elko for two more concerts on Thursday.

The final day of the tour will start with an 8:15 a. m. concert in Wells high school auditorium and conclude with an afternoon program in Ely.

The program will be largely the same on the tour as in the home concert. Prof. Williams will be unable to accompany the tour.

A special number from the musical the "Music Man" will be included during the tour to publicize the contest now in progress. The musician who wins the contest is given a chance to participate in the Lake Tahoe music camp this summer which is sponsored by the University of Nevada.

Nevada's Coeds Honor Top Playboy April 13

The Playboy Dance, which was scheduled for Saturday night, March 31, has been postponed until April 13.

Women will vote for their candidate on Thursday, April 12, at which time they may vote as long as their pennies hold out.

The money from this election will be used to support the World University service.

Admission will be 50 cents stag, and 75 cents drag.

'62 Prom Has Class Banquet

A pre-dance banquet for Nevada's social juniors will be a marked innovation at the 1962 Junior Prom, set for April 7.

Site for the class of '63's festivities will be Hidden Valley Country Club, set east of Reno in Truckee Meadows foothills.

The entire set-up is a five-hour affair, as outlined by Andy MacKenzie, junior class president, and members of the junior class committee.

A lavish buffet-dinner for social juniors and their dates will commence the evening at 7 p. m., followed by the Junior Prom at 9 o'clock.

A Junior Prom "first" in 1962, the combined dinner-dance will cost $7 per couple.

The schedule, co-ordinated by program chairman Diane McManus, includes the Junior class scholarship drawing, voting for the Junior Prom Queen, and the queen's crowning.

The winner of the drawing will receive a $100 gift certificate good at either Patersons Men's Store, Ginsburg Jewelers, or Joseph Maginn's, plus a dinner-show for two at Harrahs club's Lake Tahoe show lounge.

Tickets for the scholarship drawing run 50-cents apiece, or can be had for one dollar in a block of three. Both raffle tickets and dinner-dance tickets are on sale from members of the Junior class committee.

Tim Grant, finance chairman, is overseeing the ticket sales, while hard-working Don Arkell is sweating to turn out a group of eye-catching candidates for the title of Junior Prom Queen.

Vying for the Junior Class beauty prize are seven coeds, representing each sorority, dormitory, and the off-campus independents.

They are: Lynn Aguilar, Kappa Alpha Theta; Linda Borer, Delta Delta Delta; Karin Bryant, Manzanita hall; Janis Palzis, Pi Beta Phi; Carolyn Prince, White Pine hall; Robin Reese, off-campus Independents; and Toddy Watkins, Gamma Phi Beta.

Last year's Junior Prom queen was Judy Maxsom of Delta Delta Delta.

Assisted by members of Sagers, who act as escorts, the queen contestants are carrying their fight to the people this week in an effort to gain votes.

They will dine at Nevada's fraternity houses during the week as ## Candidates Speak At Gym Assembly Tonight At 7 p.m.

Politicians climb on their soap-boxes tonight when the various ASUN candidates present their platforms at an election assembly at 7 p. m. in the new gymnasium.

The assembly is the one opportunity for candidates to deliver campus-wide campaign speeches.

The major ASUN candidates are eating meals and giving short speeches at the various living groups this week.

During the election assembly, candidates are given time limits within which they make their speeches.

Candidates for ASUN president may speak for six minutes, while those vying for first and second vice-president will be allotted five minutes each.

Junior men's and women's senators-at-large candidates will speak for three minutes. Candidates for sophomore, junior and senior class presidents will also speak for three minutes.

Candidates seeking Senate seats as representatives of the seven colleges will not speak but will be introduced during the rally.

First speakers will be candidates for sophomore class president. Candidates for ASUN president will be the last to be heard from.

The rally is scheduled on the eve of the primary balloting. The ASUN general elections are set a week later, April 5. Only two offices will be contested in tomorrow's voting.

BALLOTING WEDNESDAY . . .

Six to Square Off In Primary Voting

Primaries elections tomorrow will eliminate one candidate for junior women's senator-at-large and one for sophomore class president.

Only these offices will be voted upon, with the remainder of ASUN candidates' strength to be tested in the Wednesday, April 4 general elections.

All students may vote for junior women's senator, but only freshmen are eligible to vote for sophomore class president.

Voting takes place in the downstairs Student Union from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. The third election board chairman this year, Ralph Aldave, will conduct the elections both for the primaries and the generals.

ASUN President Paul Bible named Aldave to the often-vacated post late last week. Former election board chairmen Pat Clary and Larry Struve resigned within the past month, Clary due to a mixup on the constitution election and Struve in order to run for junior men's senator.

Three women seeking the position of junior women's senator-at-large are Muriel Ellis, Linda Phillips, and Ellen Roseman. One will be eliminated in tomorrow's primaries while the other two will stay on the ballot to compete in the generals next week.

Candidates for sophomore class president are Jim Baratte, Charles Burr, and Bud Olson. The two with the highest number of votes after tomorrow's elections will go to the generals.

The ASUN executive council has come up with 13 nominations for student government positions. The nominations were made to fill vacancies when a shortage of candidates appeared after last Wednesday's filing deadline.

All vacancies have not been filled yet, but the complete slate of candidates will be announced Tuesday at 3 p. m. Two candidates are needed for the nursing school, an one each for the Colleges of Arts and Science, Education, Agriculture, and Mines to fill Senate seats.

Following are those candidates who will compete in the generals next week, including those nominated by the executive council after the filing deadline:

ASUN president, Lynn Gerow and Mike Mackedon; first vice president, Tom Cook and Tom See-liger; second vice president, Mimi Patrick and Sharon Harwood (exec council nomination).

Junior men's senator-at-large, Larry Struve and Joel Glover. Glover was nominated by the executive council when a former candidate, Jose Alvarez, withdrew his nomination when he learned that his official grade - point average was a 2.19. All ASUN candidates must have at least a 2.2 overall.

College of Agriculture with one Senate seat, Warren Laird and Joann Pritchard (exec council nomination); College of Arts and Sciences, with four Senate seats, Larry Hutchins, and four executive

Anthropologist To Deliver Talks

A noted world traveler and author will visit the University of Nevada campus tomorrow and the following day and will deliver three lectures on anthropology.

Dr. William A. Lessa of the University of California at Los Angeles specializes in peoples of the Pacific and has special interests in comparative religion and folklore.

On Wednesday, March 28, Dr. Lessa will present an illustrated lecture on "How the Anthropologist Works". This first talk will be given in the education auditorium at 1 p. m.

At 7 p. m. tomorrow night Dr. Lessa will discuss "Constitution and Temperament." This subject will be presented at a Psi Chi meeting in the dining commons.

For his last lecture, Dr. Lessa will present "The Anthropologist's View of Religion" at 10 a. m. Thursday in the education auditorium.

LYNN GEROW, LEFT, and Mike Mackedon, the two candidates for ASUN President, bumped into each other at a social function this weekend and exchanged a "good-luck" handshake. The two men will speak tonight at the election assembly in the new gym at 7 p. m. One of them will be elected to head student government for the 1962-63 year when ASUN general elections are held Wednesday, April 4.—Sagebrush photo.

Art Prof Shows Series Of Works

"In my painting I am interested in the formal aspects of the work ... the integration, color, and balance of the entire painting."

In the sporadic phrases of a man trying to convey something very personal, Donald Kerr, assistant professor of art, spoke of his works now on exhibit in the Fine Arts building.

The 40-piece show went on exhibit a week ago and will be open to the public until April 20. There are representatives of prints, oil and gouache paintings, and some drawings. They "run the gamut of styles," remarked Kerr, ranging from some non-representational abstracts to representational impressions.

Kerr is new this year to the Nevada campus. The past five years he has spent teaching at Ohio State university. He received his B. A. in art from Michigan State in 1952 and his master of fine arts degree in 1956 from Iowa State.

Presently teaching primarily painting and drawing, he has exhibited in national painting and print competition and has works in private collections here and abroad.

The pieces on exhibit are available for sale. The price list is in room 132 of the Fine Arts building.

Commenting on his style and method, Kerr said, "I spend anywhere from two hours to over six months on one painting. Once I have begun I constantly re-examine and change until it suits me."

Army Announces June Posts For 30 Senior Military Men

Seniors who are to be commissioned in the U. S. Army Reserve Corps following graduation recently received their branch assignments.

Assigned to the artillery division are Paul A. Bible, James M. Jellett, Lawrence J. McCollum, Kenneth D. Taber, Jerome S. Williams, Clifford N. Burrous, Tyrus W. Cobb, Lawrence L. Heward, Jon E. Madson, Jerald C. James Merrill, Lawrence T. Sughrue, Robert J. Werner, and Jim W. Whitaker. Assigned to the Jarmored division are Robert M. Hawkins, Thomas D. Kinsey, Gerald W. Lusk and Richard L. Schnepfer.

Those going to the combat engineer division are Doug N. Salter, Myron R. Welsh, and Theodore J. Rupley. Seniors who will belong to the signal corps are David W. Bartlett and Henry H. Philcox.

To the infantry division will go Robert S. Challender, Robert O. Davis, Jr., Robert E. Heaney, Gilbert F. Mandagaran. Roy G. Reynolds will go to the ordinance corps.

Peter M. Digrazia and Donald K. Wilkerson will go to the medical service corps. Richard Coonratt will go to the Army Intelligence corps.

the main portion of their campaign for the crown.

One is to reign over Junior Prom that will record a new innovation in recent University of Nevada dances. There will be no attendance trophies.

The recent domination of the attendance-trophy field by a Nevada fraternity led in part to the abolition of the prizes for this dance.

Foreign Service Tests Set—Diplomats Note

A written examination for the Foreign Service Class 8 Program will be held Sept. 8, 1962.

Interested persons should send a request form to Joint Board of Examiners, U. S. Information Agency, Washington 25, D. C.

PHILOSOPHERS HEAR REV. MATHEWS TALK

The Rev. Clyde H. Mathews, Reno minister and civic leader, will speak to members of the Philosophy club at a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. in the faculty dining room.

The Rev. Mathews will speak on "Personalism," a modern, fast-spreading ethical and religious philosophy.

A citizen of Reno for the past seven years, the Rev. Mathews is pastor of the Colony Baptist church, director of the Colony Christian Center, and president of the Community Service council.

Film Showing Set

The film that won the educational award at the Venice International Film Festival in 1956 will be shown in room 132 of the Fine Arts building Wednesday at 7 p. m.

An Iwanami film honestly bears the stamp Made in Japan. "Children Who Draw" deals with a first grade art class under the direction of a sensitive and competent teacher.

Through ingeniously hidden cameras and telephoto lens the youthful spontaneity of children unaware they are being watched is conveyed. The picture is filmed in black and white with only the drawings of the children filmed in color.

Terrible Trio Tough, But Chico Rough; Nevadans Bow To Wildcat Ringmen

Nevada's "Big Three" boxers stayed undefeated for the season but the Wolf Pack ring team dropped a 5-3 dual bout against Chico State Saturday in a California Collegiate Boxing Conference meet.

Lonnie Tolano, Skip Houk, and Steve Parker all picked up victories for Nevada to remain unbeaten but it wasn't enough as the Wildcats won four bouts and got another one on a forfeit.

Tolano floored Chico State's John Tompson for a nine-count early in the first round, then jolted Tompson again late in the same round with an uppercut to the chin as Wildcat coach Willie Simmons stopped the bout.

Parker, All-American 132-pounder, used an effective left jab to decision Carlin Jardine of Chico to retain his two-year unblemished record.

Houk captured all three rounds by a big margin with left jabs and hooks to gain the verdict over the Wildcats' Bill Moule in the 147-pound match.

Wolf Pack coach Jimmy Olivas halted the 125-pound go between Chico State's undefeated John Henry Rivers and Chris Scholz when the game Scholz tired in the third round.

Undefeated Ken Jensen of Chico combined a good body attack with counter-punching in the late going to decision hefty Dave Stix of Nevada in the 156-pound class.

In the 178-pound division, Doug Paul of Chico took a decision over scrappy Brian Roach of Nevada although Roach took the role of the aggressor.

Wolf Pack heavyweight Ken Munley, making his first collegiate boxing start, ran into too much experience in losing to Chico State's all-around athlete Mario Serafin.

Necessity is often the spur to genius.—Balzac.

SPORTS

Big Weekend For Nevada 9

The University of Nevada baseball team continues play against California opposition today with a doubleheader against the University of Pacific in Stockton.

The Wolf Pack took two out of three games over the weekend in California, sweeping a doubleheader over winless St. Mary's after losing to undefeated Santa Clara.

Nevada bopped St. Mary's twice, 6-1, and 7-5, in Moraga Saturday to boost its season record to three wins and two losses. Friday the Wolf Pack fell to strong Santa Clara 14-4 as Nevada kicked the game away with eight errors.

Freshman Pete Leavitt of Fallon took his second decision of the season in the first game with a nifty seven-inning four hitter over the Gaels. Leavitt held St. Mary's scoreless until the final inning.

The Wolf Pack lashed out 11 hits, including two each by catcher Max Culp and centerfielder Jack Renwick.

Leland (Mickey) Smale smashed a two-strike, two-out pinch-hit double in the last inning of the second game to knock in the tying and winning runs.

Rusty D'Anna picked up the victory for Nevada in relief as coach Bill Ireland used four pitchers. Freshman Mike Conway started, Bob Reid came on in the third, D'Anna relieved in the fifth, and Don Banta finished.

DORWORTH BETTER, BUT...

Denver Best; Pack 5th In Ski Classic

Denver University was back home today with its sixth National Collegiate Athletic association championship in nine years following the three-day competition at Squaw Valley.

Coach Willie Schaeffler's Pioneers amassed a 390.08 point total with the University of Colorado second place with 374.30. The University of Nevada placed fifth with 333 points.

Outstanding performance by a University of Nevada skier was turned in by four-way star Dick Dorworth who was third in the Skimeister competition.

Track Pack Rolls To Third Triumph

Coach Dick Dankworth's amazing University of Nevada track team was getting ready for the Santa Barbara Easter Relays today after making shambles of Chico State and Humboldt State in a triangular meet Saturday.

The Wolf Pack amassed 117 points to roll to the one-sided victory while Chico State and Humboldt State trailed far behind 28 to 19 points, respectively.

Nevada captured 14 out of 15 first places and finished second in eight events. The powerful Silver and Blue placed one-two-three in the 100, 220, and 120 high hurdles and swept all four places in the 880.

The Wolf Pack had four double winners in sweeping to its second straight 100 - plus performance against Far Western Conference competition.

Sophomore John Manke of Gardnerville posted wins in both sprints with a 10.4 against the -wind 100 and a 22.1 in the curved 220.

Bob Pederson, Bow, Wash. senior, took firsts in the shot put at 52-2½ and the discus with a 156-8 heave.

Freshman Ron Lee of Fallon was a double winner in both long-distance runs with a 4:20.5 mile victory and a 9:43 two-mile triumph.

Steve Holloway, a freshman, captured both hurdle events with a 15.2 120-yard high hurdle clocking and a 25.4 220-yard low hurdle time.

council nominations, John Duty, Joan Westfield, Pat Heward, and Judy Black.

College of Business Administration with two Senate seats, Lyle Rivera, Bob Rusk and two executive council nominations, Marsha Frankovich and Harvey LoSasso.

College of Engineering, one senator, Charles Batchelder and Lewis Stornetta, Exec council nominated Raymond Fitzgerald for the College of Mines one Senate seat.

The council nominated Doris Fenili, Jaci Chiatovich and Sally Nielson for the College of Education's two Senate seats.

Senators from the four colleges having only one Senate seat must be non-affiliated. Colleges with more than one seat must have at least one non-affiliated senator, giving the Independents a constitutional majority of seats.

Dorworth was the top individual performer after three events going into Sunday's final event, the cross-country. Jim Page of Dartmouth, winner of the Skimeister, captured the 9.3-mile cross-country in 59:03.7 to boost his aggregate point total above Dorworth's. Page was 1½th in the slalom, 21st in the downhill, and 19th in the jumping.

Dorworth, a senior, was third in the individual alpine combined results with 217.5 points in the slalom and downhill. Dorworth was second in the slalom and eleventh in the downhill. He was also 21st in the jumping and 26th in the cross-country.

Jim Gaddis, University of Utah All-America, took the slalom title Friday and finished second in the downhill to nab the combined alpine honors.

Mike Barr of Denver grabbed the downhill race Saturday in 104.8 seconds, edging Gaddis by one-tenth of a second.

Denver All-America John Koltzow was disqualified in the downhill for missing a gate on an "airplane turn."

Oyvind Floystad of Denver, from Holt, Norway, scored the victory in the jumping competition off the 60-meter Olympic jump, upsetting teammate Chris Selbeck, the defending NCAA jumping champion, who finished fourth.

The University of Nevada and University of California acted as co-hosts to the ninth NCAA ski championships at Squaw Valley, site of the 1960 Winter Olympics. In the jumping, Skimeister threat Doug Salter was 28th, four-way ace Madsen was 29th, and Dave Barkley was 31st for the Wolf Pack skiers.

Nevada's Paul Grist tied for 24th in the downhill and Madsen was 34th. In the combined alpine competition, Grist was 19th. Salter placed 25th and Madsen 27th in the cross-country.

Tobacco Fumes Cause Theater Complaints

Failure of students to comply with the "no smoking" regulation in the education auditorium may lead to cancellation of the free Sunday movies shown there.

According to Bill Lohse, Student Union president, non-smokers have been complaining that the non-ventilated room becomes so filled with smoke that it is often hard to see the film.

Ag College, AEC Renew Contract

The Atomic Energy Commission and the College of Agriculture are entering their fifth year of joint research in the field of radioactive fallout.

The Max C. Fleischmann College was notified last week that a research contract with the AEC has been extended for another year with work to be provided during the current calendar year.

The contract provides for periodic analysis of accumulation of radioactive fallout products in cattle tissue. Both the department of animal husbandry and agricultural chemistry are involved in the research projects.

Joint leaders in the research work are Dr. Clifton Blincoe, agricultural chemist, and Dr. Verle R. Bohman, animal nutritionist.

During the various projects thirty head of cattle are slaughtered each year and the bones, thyroid glands, and soft tissue analyzed for radioactive fallout materials. In addition, thyroids are collected periodically from Reno slaughter houses and analyzed for Iodine-131.

The College of Agriculture reports that I-131 accumulation in thyroids took a sharp increase immediately following the last series of tests by the Soviet Union but has returned to pre-test levels.

Cattle used in the tests are taken from herds located at the Nevada Test Site, Delamar valley, and the Knoll creek field station near Contact, Nev.

According to tests run during the five-year period of the contract, no observable damage to cattle has occurred from fallout. Further, the present level of fission products in the tissue do not appear to be high enough to cause any concern, according to the College of Agriculture.

Phi Chi Considers BCD For May 4

Business Career Day will be discussed at the Phi Chi meeting Thursday, March 29 at 2 p. m., room 106, Ross hall, according to Mary Winkler, president of the women's business sorority.

Business Career Day is set for May 4 on the University of Nevada campus. Assisting Phi Chi for the event is Delta Sigma Pi, the men's business fraternity on campus.

The objective of the program will be to provide high school students in Nevada with an opportunity to visit the University and become acquainted with the College of Business Administration. The two clubs want to inform future students interested in attending the University on the business curriculum offered.

A Phi Chi committee, working from a list of Nevada high schools supplied by Dr. Jack Shirley, director of admissions and registry, will write a form letter to the schools. Two days may be set aside for BCD if the letters receive enthusiastic response.

'Invalid' Tryouts Set

Open tryouts will be held for the last University Theatre production of this semester, Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid," Thursday, March 29, at 3 p.m. and Friday, March 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the rehearsal hall of the Fine Arts building.

The tryouts are open to all University students, staff, and faculty and people from the community.

This production will need eight actors and four actresses as well as acrobats, ballet dancers and jugglers. Also needed are people interested in scenery construction, painting, properties, lighting, costumes, makeup and publicity.

Dr. Charles Metten will direct "The Imaginary Invalid." He may be reached at FA 3-2081, extension 484, for any additional information.

Annual Dinner Honors Greeks

Theta Chi is again sponsoring a Greek dinner, held for the first time last year, and scheduled for Thursday night, March 29, this year.

Newly-elected officers of all fraternities and sororities will attend.

There are several purposes for having the dinner, which Theta Chi hopes will become an annual tradition.

According to Harvey Lambert, chairman, one purpose is to give the new Greek leaders an opportunity to become acquainted with each other and with members of the administration.

The outgoing presidents of Panhellenic and IFC are honored as well as incoming officers of the women's and men's Greek governing bodies.

A third purpose is to extend recognition to a Greek man and woman, who in the opinion of their fellows, have made the most outstanding contributions to the Greek system in the previous years.

Lambert said, "This dinner puts the focus on the Greek system as a whole rather than on any one house. The sororities and fraternities can only achieve their highest potential insofar as they act collectively and in cooperation with one another."

Scandinavia Topic For Roberts' Talk

"Scandinavian Foreign Policy, a Reorientation," will be discussed by Dr. James Roberts Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the education auditorium.

Dr. Roberts follows Dr. Harry M. Chase and Dr. Harold L. Kirkpatrick as speakers in the Issues in Foreign Policy series being discussed by members of the history and political science department.

Dr. Roberts said during his talk he will attempt to break down the stereotyped thinking about the Scandinavian countries and will then try to build up a more meaningful way of looking at them.

He said there is a "tendency to under-rate the smaller countries in the power struggle."

Dr. Roberts studied two years in Sweden and taught Scandinavian democracies for two years at the University of Minnesota.

UNCOCers Party

University of Nevada Cadet Officers' Club held its annual dinner Saturday night, March 24, at Hagel's Villa.

After the 7 p. m. dinner, the cadets and their dates danced to a four-piece combo. Later in the evening skits were presented by members of the club.

Seminars Weekly

"Weather, Water, and the Desert", is being discussed on the University of Nevada campus for the remainder of the semester by a number of distinguished visiting scientists.

Dr. James Bonner, professor of biology at California Institute of Technology, speaks tomorrow night on "The New Biology, Information Transfer Among the Molecules."

The seminars are being sponsored by the University's Desert Research Institute. The current schedule calls for the meetings to be held in the Noble H. Getchell library, room 6, every Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Leading off the series last Wednesday was Jehuda Neumann, associate professor of meteorology, Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel. He is at present a visiting professor at UCLA. His topic was the "Arid Lands Research in Israel."

Other subjects to be included in the future are the new biology-information transfer among molecules; climate control; politics of water development resources in the West; and physical, chemical, and mathematical aspects of weather prediction.

In addition there will be subjects of plants and energy; prospective adjustments in water use; energy conversion in the atmosphere; and research in atmospheric science on the Western water supply.

Visiting scientists will include Dr. James Bonner and Dr. Lewis Kaplan of the California Institute of Technology Dr. Ernest Englebert of U.C.L.A. Dr. Phillip Thompson and Dr. Aksel Wiin-Nelsen of the National Center for Atmospheric Research, Dr. David Gates of the National Bureau of Standards, Dr. Nathaniel Wollman of the University of New Mexico, and Dr. Herbert Riehl of Colorado State University.

With people of only moderate ability modesty is mere honesty; but with those who possess great talent it is hypocrisy.—Schopenhauer.

LUCKY STRIKE presents: LUCKY LUFFERS "SPRING MADNESS"

GO NEAR THE WATER. Spring is the time when students start thinking about water fun. We say: Splash up a storm. Have a lark. But please be careful. Each year, a few careless students get water on their Luckies. Imagine their remorse! Imagine yours if you were to spoil a Lucky—that great cigarette that college students smoke more of than any other regular. So have a swell time at your favorite watering hole this spring. And keep your Luckies dry.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!
