Suspended Student Will Appeal Case

More action is forthcoming on last week's suspension of two University of Nevada men students for violation of University liquor regulations.

One man, 21-year-old and a junior, told the Sagebrush Sunday that he would appeal, and Dean of Students Sam Basta said the machinery would be set in motion for the action.

But Basta said the appeal must include new evidence to get anywhere.

"Any appeal should be based upon extenuating circumstances or mitigating circumstances, or there is no new evidence," said Basta.

He added that there had been indications the other man, a 20-year-old sophomore, would appeal also.

The pair, although involved in different actions, were suspended at the same time Wednesday by Pres. Charles J. Armstrong upon the recommendation of Dean Basta. The recommendation had been approved by Dr. Kenneth E. Young, executive vice president.

The 21-year-old was arrested at the Nevada-Redlands game for alleged possession of liquor in Mackay Stadium. Dean Basta said he had been ordered to dispose of some beer entering the stadium—and had done so, but was apprehended with more.

"I do have the right to appeal," said the suspended junior, who was not officially informed of his action until Saturday by mail. He said he would appeal to Vice-President Young and "see what happens there."

Dr. Basta said he had notified the registrar of the suspensions Thursday, which in turn notified the instructors of the men, barring a return to the classrooms.

The second man was arrested the night of Friday, Sept. 21, after exceeding the campus speed limit. Officer Kenneth Harkema saw a six-pack of beer in the back seat of the car driven by the man, and reported that one can was missing.

Basta said both men "readily admitted" the illegal possessions.

He said appeal must be made to the next highest authority—the executive vice president, who would consider the case in its entirety and do one of three things:

—Send it back to Dean Basta for reconsideration.

—Send it to the discipline committee for review.

—Deny it.

But Basta said the vice president had already reviewed the matter once, and therefore new evidence was needed for any further action on the case. Otherwise, he said, both the verdict and the penalty stand.

Basta said the discipline committee will review the case of the 21-year-old sometime this week. He said an "interested person" had contacted Pres. Armstrong, who consented to a review of the case.

The student affairs committee, chaired by Dr. Bernard Anderson, will conduct the review, with members of the discipline committee acting as "consultants."

A campus policeman will also be present, he said.

"In any event, the students will be given a fair and just hearing and review, and all the facts will be brought out," said Basta, adding "they'll get a fair shake."

Prof To Remain; Dr. Day's Lecture Not His Last One

By MURIEL ELLIS

"Nothing could reveal more about Dr. Day than Dr. Day's 'Last Lecture' ". That was the introduction given by Patricia Plenn as Dr. Willard Day, psychology professor, prepared to give the first lecture in a series sponsored by the Associated Women Students last Wednesday.

With mixed emotions, the audience realized just how true this statement was, for Dr. Day had turned in his letter of resignation. This lecture was his last on the University of Nevada campus. This lecture did reveal . . . Dr. Day.

Contrary to campus rumors this week, Dr. Day told the Sagebrush Sunday that he is not leaving. "I was asked to give a lecture and pretend that I was leaving." He apparently pretended a little hard.

Each speaker in the 'Last Lecture' series is to present, supposedly, his last lecture, thus enabling the audience to discover that which is really important to him as an individual.

His lecture dwelt upon his reflections concerning the meaning of life. He emphasized that to him, "Living is the process of being grateful, and enjoying things in their natural state." He divided life's experiences into four categories: gratefulness, pain, work, and striving and scheming.

Gratefulness he described as "seeing the beauty in things around us."

Pain was described as an "educational process", usually more psychology than physical. He felt that since it was good for a person, it was something which shouldn't be run away from. It is a stage in development which changes our attitudes and molds our opinions.

The next category, work, he described as "neither good nor bad." If it placed the individual in an environment that would enable him to experience gratefulness and pain, however, it was good.

Striving and scheming was described as evil. It is a "failing to learn gratefulness and acquire insight from pain."

He concluded saying that the individual should not force the direction of his life, but let nature form him. "By letting nature form you, this does not mean to be pass-

ASUN Senate To Select New Student Court Justices

Senate will meet tomorrow night and consider two important items concerning student government.

The most important item on the agenda is the appointment of justices to the Student Judicial council. The justices, which should have been appointed last spring, will be nominated by the executive committee today.

The Student Judicial council is a body composed of five members who review violations of the Student Code.

Senior Men's Senator-at-Large Ken Clayton will submit proposals which if approved, would set-up a senate steering committee. This committee would study and report to senators all actions to be brought before the student legislature.

Senate will also consider a letter sent to the ASUN by the Appalachian State Teachers College con-

Dean Weems To Head State Group

Robert C. Weems, Dean of College of Business Administration, has been named Chairman of Nevada's Regional Export Expansion council by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

The Council, made up of prominent Nevadans, works to increase the exports of goods produced in Nevada. It also works closely with the Department of Commerce and its National Export Expansion council.

The Nevada Council is one of thirty - three Export Expansion councils in the United States. According to Secretary Hodges, the regional councils play an important role in the federal government's drive to increase exports to foreign countries by 10 percent in 1962-63.

Dean Weems will serve as chairman of the Nevada group until June 1, 1963.

Kitchen Worker Dies In Accident

A dining commons kitchen worker, John A. McDonald, 59, died late Friday night in a hit-and-run accident in Reno.

McDonald was struck about 11:20 p.m. Friday when a car driven by Stanley L. Ritter, 20, hit him at Ralston and West Fifth streets. He was later driven over by an unidentified vehicle which did not stop.

McDonald came to Nevada from Canada, and had worked in the University kitchen for the past two years. He was a food-service aid and cooks helper.

"He enjoyed himself very much here," said Pat Ivanelli, also a kitchen employee.

Ritter told police that McDonald appeared in front of him "like a blur," and that he did not know exactly what happened.

Sophomores Planning First Class Dance

The first sophomore class dance will be held Nov. 10 in the Dining Commons.

This is the first time the sophomore class has sponsored a dance. In past years the juniors and seniors had their dances, but never sophomores. Now all three have a dance for members and their dates.

The dance is being planned by the sophomore class committee. Members include: Chuck Burr—president, Karen Fabri, secretary, Jody Muller, Nancy Franklin, Dolores Dunning, Sharon Domenici, Mary Lynn Barnard, Rose Marie Lituanua, Keith Lee, Jim Barrette, Bill Sinnamon, Bill Hamilton, Charles Kiley, Dennis Farnesi, John Scott, George Paragini, and Mimi Skillkorn.

Sagebrush Editorials . . .

Write your Congressman, kids.

That is the good word from the Appalachian State Teachers college in Boone, North Carolina, which is urging a scholarship program to encourage letters to Washington.

And the ASUN senate will be asked Wednesday night to put its approval on such a program.

The appeal carries all the emotional impact of the Humane Society's Poster Contest every time "Be Kind To Animals Week" rolls around.

A scholarship program would inspire contact with Congressman, improve performance in English classes, provide scholarships for students, and provide "popular concern and sound thinking" on the vital issues of the day.

One of the big selling points of many college projects these days is that "sound thinking on vital issues" will result. That pitch is becoming tiresome.

The senate should dismiss the item, and move to the business of setting up its steering committee—something of vital importance to the ASUN.

If a man couldn't win an essay contest in high school, he should quit trying now and devote himself to more constructive endeavors in college.

ASUN president Mike Mackedon is appointing a men's upperclass committee and will bring the matter before Senate for discussion Wednesday.

If Senate approves, Mackedon's appointments will become a long step forward in maintaining the beauty of the campus, for the committee would reinstate the practice of laking for violators of the campus.

Although some opponents have attempted to sneer the proposal down, too many students are fed-up with defacing of the campus.

There is no excuse for cutting the campus—save emergency—and there should be one alternative—the upperclass committee.

Infirmary Flu Shots Before Epidemic Hits

"Students are not turning out well for their flu shots," reports Mary Johnson, head nurse of the University Infirmary. She also reported that more faculty members than students have prepared themselves against the oncoming flu epidemic.

Flu shots will be given at the Infirmary until an outbreak of flu occurs. The cost is a dollar for students and faculty.

The nurses say those who want flu shots should come to the infirmary between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Editor, the Sagebrush:

Rather than laking "campus cutters" and illegally-parked cars separately, mightn't it be more efficient to combine the two tasks by having the "cutters" drive the offending cars into Manzanita lake? Of course, this might give rise to talk of school tradition driving students to (the) drink.

IFC Will Meet At SAE House To Discuss Plans

The next meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council will be held Wednesday at the SAE house. Again this year meetings are held at a different fraternity house each month.

Subjects under discussion at the forthcoming meeting, include sponsorship of the Hi-Y program. The I. F. C. is faced with a problem, because of the vast expansion of the program.

Last year there were approximately 400 members in Hi-Y, and this year, the program will expand to over 800 members. The I. F. C. was recently commended by the local Y. M. C. A. for the great work done by the members in sponsoring such a large program.

Other topics include determining whether to have a Bean Feed or an awards assembly this year, for the awards of trophies for athletics and scholarship. At this time Ken Galloway, I. F. C. scholarship chairman will discuss the new scholarship program; and there will be a review of the fraternity pledge training.

Plans will be made for the election of the new IFC president, who will be voted upon November 3.

Harry Walters, present IFC president, retains his office until the first of the year, when his successor takes over.

Brushfire Staff Meets Tomorrow

Students interested in contributing to the campus literary magazine, Brushfire, are urged to attend a staff meeting tomorrow night. The meeting will be held at 7 p. m. in the Sierra room of the student union.

Editor Ralph Eavenson said the Brushfire has revised its policy this year and would accept material from graduate assistants. He said the magazine would appear sometime in March, which is earlier than in previous years.

Students wishing to submit literary items for publication should leave them with the secretary in the English dept. or send them to Eavenson, P. O. Box 8106 University Station.

AWS Seeking GDI Council Candidates

AWS president Cecelia Molini is looking for off-campus, non-affiliated women students to run for the AWS council. The seat for women who all into this classification, now held by Robin Reese, is up for grabs this fall.

Deadline for filing is tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. in the AWS office in the student union. Elections are Oct. 10, when Freshman class president and freshmen AWS representative hopefuls will be vying for positions.

The AWS council's main function is to "communicate" with the membership, said Rosemarie Hanel, chairman of the AWS election board.

Power Official Talks To AIEE

Richard K. Vandervort, superintendent of power for the Sierra Pacific Power company, will speak to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers Thursday.

Time of the speech to the AIEE-IRE is 7 p. m. in room 101 of the electrical engineering building.

Vandervort will talk on the desirability of nuclear power for the western Nevada area. The meeting is open to interested persons.

Mr. Vandervort is a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Before coming to Reno he was a nuclear specialist with New York Electric and Gas corp., where he worked exclusively in the field of nuclear energy for electric power generation.

He has been with Sierra Pacific Power co. for about one year and is investigating the possibility of nuclear power for the area.

Young Republicans Sponsor Laxalt Talk

Paul Laxalt, GOP candidate for Lt. Governor, will speak at the Reno Little Theater, Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 7 p. m. He is being sponsored by the campus Young Republicans as part of a student effort to acquaint the student body with November's political slate.

Mike Henderson, Young Republicans president, said that, "although the talk will be nonpolitical, it is expected to be of interest to everyone." "The GOP candidate is an excellent speaker, and we feel fortunate to have him with us," said Henderson.

The talk will be open to the public, University student body, and faculty.

Sixth Music Camp Termed Success

The sixth Lake Tahoe Music Camp sponsored by the University dept. of music was held August 6-18. Camp Director Dr. John Carrico, called this year's camp "highly successful." More than 500 students attended.

The session covered many aspects of music, among these the Stan Kenton Clinic, lasting a full week. It was attended by 175 students from 20 states and boasted a staff of 26. The purpose was to offer a complete curriculum for students age 14 and up, with special consideration given high school bands. Mr. Kenton was so pleased by the outcome, Dr. Carrico said, that he asked to be included in next year's program.

At precision drill workshops participants were trained in precision drill, and other workshops were held for drum majors and pep squads.

Choirs met for instruction in a capella choir, ensembles, chorus and concert.

Among the band conductors and instructors present were specialists in clarinet, brass, and woodwinds.

A fourth group, Symphony Orchestra, gave string instrument instruction. Individualized work in cello and viola was also featured.

University Faculty Increased By 75

The University of Nevada faculty has been increased by the addition of 75 members. They were approved by the Board of Regents in late August.

In the College of Agriculture new staff positions are: Charles T. Bourns, Fred H. Gilbert, H. Clay Little, Stuart D. Lyda, John W. Malone Jr., Jerald D. Oldham, Stanley Randall, Julius G. Szabo, Paul T. Tueller, and in the home economics department, Margaret L. Stone.

New Year In Sept. For Some Students

The New Year was celebrated Sept. 27 by about a half dozen students on campus.

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year begins the religious year for Jewish people throughout the world. This is the time for heart searching and a closer look at oneself.

The Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur, occurs ten days after Rosh Hashanah. This day is one of fasting and penitence.

Yom Kippur is considered to be the most religious and holy of all days. This is when the traditional prayer, Kol Nidre, is said. Kol Nidre is the prayer in which the orthodox Jew asks for release from any vows he may have made in a moment of emotional excitement, which may alienate him from his fellow man.

S. CLAUS BACKS NEVADA

"Moose" Armuth Cheers on Pack In New Role

Despite earlier denials that he would not, Richard "Moose" Armuth, the friendly Santa Claus from Elko, turned cheerleader last Saturday.

Armuth, himself a letterman (line) from the Nevada gridiron, spurred on the Wolf Pack with spirited aid to the U of N pep squad.

"Moose" put some color into the rooting section's yells at the Nevada-Whittier clash, wying campus slang into some impressive phrases which included — "Hook 'em up Nevada," and "Whittier's Hurtin'."

He supplemented these with the old standbys of Mackay Stadium fans—"Give 'Em Hell, Nevada," and "Smutha the Muthas."

Armuth will presumably be available for cheerleading until Christmas season rolls around, when he will substitute "Ho, Ho, Ho" for "Go, Go, Go."

Seniors Offered Wilson Aid Grants

Promising senior students of the University of Nevada are eligible for nomination for awards from the Woodrow Wilson National fellowship foundation.

Faculty members have until Oct. 31 to nominate candidates for the awards. Approximately 1000 awards will be made throughout America in the humanities and social sciences.

The awards through the foundation are granted from funds supplied by the Ford Foundation. The amount is sufficient to support a student in one year's study.

Nominees will be notified by the regional director and must file credentials with him no later than Nov. 20, 1962. Director for the region including Nevada is Professor John Hough, Department of Classics, University of Colorado at Boulder, Colorado.

1962 Military Ball Will Be Fabulous

The Military department, always on top with the adjectives, has come up with another.

In the wake of such past performances as 1961's "spectacular" Military Ball and last spring's "majestic" Governor's Day, comes the 1962 Military ball.

This one will be "Fabulous," said Wayne Kollodge, president of the University of Nevada Cadet Officers Club (UNCOC).

"We expect it to be a majestic-spectacular production, making it quite fabulous," predicted Kollodge as he indicated the ball would pack a 'nuclear punch' on the campus fall social schedule.

The Military Ball is slated for Nov. 17, and Kollodge said tickets would be out late next week.

Committee chairmen for the UN COC production are Bob Henderson, decorations; Harvey Lo Sasso, admissions; and Doug Buchanan, publicity. Richard Benson is deputy chairman.

WHAT TO WEAR TILL THE DOCTOR COMES

Now that you have enrolled and paid your fees and bought your books and found your way around campus and learned to hate your roommate, it is time to turn to the most important aspect of college life. I refer, of course, to clothes.

What does Dame Fashion decree for the coming school year? (Incidentally, Dame Fashion is not, as many people believe, a fictitious character. She was a real Englishwoman who lived in Elizabethan times and, indeed, England is forever in her debt. During the invasion of the Spanish Armada, Dame Fashion—not yet a Dame but a mere, unlettered country lass named Moll Flanders—during the invasion, I say, of the Spanish Armada, this dauntless girl stood on the white cliffs of Dover and turned the tide of battle by rallying the drooping morale of the British fleet with this stirring poem of her own composition:

*Don't be gutless,
 Men of Britain.
 Swing your cutlass,
 We ain't quittin'.
 Smash the Spanish,
 Sink their boats,
 Make 'em vanish,
 Like a horse makes oats.
 For Good Queen Bess,
 Dear sirs, you gotta
 Make a mess
 Of that Armada.
 You won't fail!
 Knock 'em flat!
 Then we'll drink ale
 And stuff like that.*

In 1589 she invented the laying hen

As a reward for these inspirational verses Queen Elizabeth dubbed her a Dame, made her Poet Laureate, and gave her the Western Hemisphere except Duluth. But this was not the extent of Dame Fashion's service to Queen and country. In 1589 she invented the laying hen, and she was awarded a lifetime pass to Chavez Ravine. But she was not to end her days in glory. In 1591, alas, she was arrested for overtime jousting and imprisoned for thirty years in a butt of malmsey. This later became known as Guy Fawkes Day.)

But I digress. Let us get back to campus fashions. Certain to be the rage again this year is the cardigan (which, curiously enough, was named after Lord Cardigan, who commanded the English fleet against the Spanish Armada. The sweater is only one product of this remarkable Briton's imagination. He also invented the glottal stop, the gerund, and the eyelid, without which winking, as we know it today, would not be possible).

But I digress. The cardigan, I say, will be back, which is, I believe, cause for rejoicing. Why? Because the cardigan has nice big pockets in which to carry your Marlboro Cigarettes—and that, good friends, is ample reason for celebration as all of you will agree who have enjoyed Marlboro's fine, comfortable, mellow flavor and Marlboro's filter. So why don't you slip into your cardigan and hie yourself to your tobacconist for some good Marlboros? They come in soft pack or flip-top box. Cardigans come in pink for girls and blue for boys. © 1962 Max Shulman

Cardigans or pullovers—it's a matter of taste . . . And so is Marlboro a matter of taste—the best taste that can possibly be achieved by experienced growers and blenders—by science, diligence, and tender loving care. Try a pack.

Sororities Add 17 New Activities

Nevada's four sororities initiated 17 new active members recently.

Gamma Phi Beta had the largest number of new members with six, followed by Tri Delta with five, and following them were Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta with three each. This initiation was for the spring semester pledge class.

The new actives are: Gamma Phi Beta: Linda Chambers, Adrian (Dee) Trincherio, Beverley Theilig, Lynn Roberts, Karen Hunter, and Margaret Hayman.

Tri Delta: Mary Lynn Barnard, Naomi Hanson, Diane Springmeyer, Mary McCaley, and Theo Scott.

The new members at Pi Beta Phi are: Barbara Caughlin, Doris McGuire, and Sally Newport.

Kappa Alpha Theta: Elizabeth Rusk, Marsha Frankovich, and Sue Cavanaugh.

Poets Scribble Only One Score As Nevada Rolls

"Hold that line," was the cry of Nevada roaters Saturday afternoon as blocking, tackling, and guts crushed Whittier's Poets, 21-6.

From the opening kickoff to the end, Whittier was just "out of it." Nevada's big line, combined with the outstanding running of halfback Calvin Campbell (scored all three standing running of halfback Calvin Campbell (scored all three TDs) and the signal calling of quarterback Jack Renwick, was too much for the Poets who, last year, compiled a 9-0 record.

Nevada scored first in the opening minutes of the first quarter. Halting the Poet's first campaign abruptly on four downs, the Wolf Pack, from their own 32 yard line, moved quickly and steadily in fourteen plays for a touchdown. Campbell started the drive with a sweep around right end for seven yards and later on repeated the play again for 17 yards.

Another skirt around right end set the ball on Whittier's 2 yard line where Campbell bucked over left guard for the TD. Renwick ran around left end for the two-point conversion giving Nevada an 8-0 lead.

The ball changed hands many time through the rest of the first quarter. Then in the beginning of the second quarter after a drive to Nevada's 15 yard line, two dropped passes (one in the end zone) by 1961 Little All-American end Stan Sanders saved the day for Nevada—but only for the time being.

Later that same quarter Whittier showed evidence of the scoring punch they've long been touted for in scoring their one and only touchdown.

Following a blocked Nevada kick, a Harrison pass for 11 yards and several over center and off tackle plunges gave Whittier its first real scoring opportunity on the 3 yard line.

A penalty on Nevada quarterback sneaked for the score.

Half time score — Nevada 8, Whittier 6.

Nevada scored its second TD on its first chance at the ball in the third quarter. A series of 15 plays featuring the running of halfbacks Bobby Herron and Campbell, along with plunges by fullback Jock Echave saw Nevada on Whittier's 3 yard line, where again, Campbell charged off tackle for the score.

Renwick's kick was good for the conversion giving Nevada a commanding lead of 15-6.

Nevada "put away" the ball game in the final quarter when Campbell raced around left end for 35 yards and the finishing blow. A bad pass from center ruined the chance for the conversion, but Nevada fans hardly noticed as they went home happily to the tune of a 21-6 victory.

Weatherhead Appointed New Men's Counselor

Sidney W. Weatherhead has been appointed Director of Counseling Testing Service at the University of Nevada. He is replacing James M. Hathhorn, the new acting Dean of Men.

Weatherhead has attended many Universities and received his B. S. degree in Psychology at Western Michigan State university. He earned his M. A. in psychology at Michigan State university.

Mr. Weatherhead is one of the founders of the new testing program at the University. It will come into effect later this year.

Theta Chi, ATO Score First Wins

Theta Chi and ATO were first-round winners in the intramural softball program, which officially began last Wednesday. Theta Chi beat Phi Sigma Kappa, 6-3, while the Tau's were blasting Lincoln Hall, 12-0.

Thursday's schedule pitted Sigma Nu against Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi against the Mavericks.

Intramural sports director Jack Tighe was to receive badminton entries Thursday afternoon. Of the 11 intramural teams, he expected 10 to sign up for badminton.

14-12. That's what the Nevada-Whittier game's final score could have, and by rights, should have been. Lady Luck played an outstanding, if not one-sided, part in this ball game.

Whittier was worrying about what they were going to do about quarterbacking this year. They had a returning Little All-American end in Stan Sanders, but no passer to feed him. However, in this game, then proved to have neither! Sanders bobbled, fooled around with, and finally dropped two on the beam tosses by QB Rich Harrison in the second quarter. The last was in the end zone where Sanders was all by himself. This score could have been Whittier's first six points which they later verified in the same quarter.

Nevada received a second life when a drive for their second TD, Campbell scooted around left end to Whittier's three yard line where he promptly fumbled the ball. Whittier recovered! Only an offside penalty on Whittier gave Nevada another chance which Nevada made good on.

"The outside defensive men had Sanders off stride continuously and kept him inactive," said head coach Dick Trachok as the mainreason why Nevada won as it did.

"The blocked punt could have been the turning point," stated coach Bill Ireland. "This made themen even more determined to win in the second half."

"A fake handoff to the fullback and a pithcut to Campbell was our best play all day," claimed Trachok. "Whittier is a tough ball club, and I can see why they went undefeated last season. They were tough right down to the end." A fitting comment for a good opponent—and Lady Luck!

'RipCORDS' To Form On Campus

Fourteen sky diving enthusiasts met at Artemisia Hall last week and took definite steps toward forming a University of Nevada parachuting team.

Qualified jumpers Pete Champman, John Barney, and Joe Fallini are taking the lead in the organization of the team, and the instruction of the largely beginning group. Lessons will be conducted under the regulations of the Parachute Club of America at the Nevada Skydiving center in Carson City.

According to Fallini the first step for the airmen is club chartership by the University, then formation as a team.

Competition in sky diving includes such free fall antics as target jumping, and baton passing.

When the lengthy period of instruction and organization is completed the University of Nevada sky divers will have a waiting competitor. The University of California has challenged the Nevadans to a dual in the clouds anytime they're ready.

Major-Gen. Theimer Visits Nevada ROTC Installation

The ROTC Cadet corps is ready today for an inspection visit by the commanding general of the XV Army Corps. Major-General John E. Theimer will observe the Cadet corps at their drill this morning.

In addition to inspecting the Cadets, General Theimer discussed ROTC affairs with Lt. Col. Robert L. Gundlach, professor of military science, and visited with President Charles J. Armstrong.

This was General Theimer's first visit to the University of Nevada campus. He was recently transferred to the Presidio of San Francisco from Washington, D. C., where he served since August 1961 as Chief of Civil Affairs in the Department of Army.

A native of Minnesota, General Theimer was graduated from West Point in 1929. As a junior officer he served with the artillery in the U. S. and the Philippines. During World War II he was with the U. S. Third Army in France and Germany. Since World War II, he has graduated from two senior service schools—the Armed Forces Staff college and the National War college.

He was assigned to the operations division of the Army General staff from 1947 to 1951. After a tour in Germany he returned to the States and was again assigned to the Office for Military Operations.

His most recent assignment was in Hawaii. He also toured as Dep-sive, for you should be aware of happenings around you."

"Life is a precious thing and though we know death is inevitable, as it looms larger it is sickening to realize that the constant passage of time ends in giving up life."

The personal reactions to the lecture were quite strong.

Mrs. Mayhew, Kappa Alpha Theta housemother, said, "I couldn't keep back the tears."

Cecelia Molini, AWS president, said, "I will think and ponder over this lecture for some time, and I'm sure that my life will be changed in some ways because of it."

Patricia Plenn commented, "I am overwhelmed that he was so honest. I think we should feel tremendously privileged that he spoke so frankly to us. He says things just the way you feel them, but can never express yourself."

Beauty Is Hidden In Manzanita Hall

Planning a panty raid? If so, beware of the ghosts inhabiting the second floor of Manzanita Hall.

It seems one of the braver occupants of Manzanita returned from vacation with a new wonder cream. This cream promises fantastic results on such things as wrinkles, sagging skin, crows feet, tired pores and other problems common to aging 19-year-old coeds.

The cream goes on like tooth paste and dries like white shoe polish, and has become the new adornment of the middle floor ladies. Almost anytime of the day one is likely to see several of these pacing the halls waiting for results.

These white-faced creatures are likely to make any wolf turn blue with fright. Men-Beware!

Former Library Head Honored At Dinner

James J. Hill, retiring director of the library was honored at a picnic and dinner held last week. Mr. Hill served as director of the library for 18 years.

Hill retired Aug. 31 and will travel in October to Oklahoma, where he will continue to write his biography on the Cherokee Indians.

University Strings Project Underway

Mr. Harold Goddard, Assistant Professor of Music at the University of Nevada began, as of Tuesday, September 18, what he fondly terms his University String Project.

This project consists of free violin lessons for children from 6-13 years of age in the state of Nevada.

Thus far, Professor Goddard has taken on 75 pupils, who will be given hour long lessons once a week, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons at 3 PM in the Church Fine Arts Building.

Assisting him is another member of the Music Department, Mr. Orville Fleming.

An interesting feature of this program is the additional free lessons given to the parents of each child participating. These mothers and fathers meet Monday evenings at 7:30. Professor Goddard believes that by learning right along with the children, the parents can then help them far more successfully at home.

They will also be able to understand better any things about the lessons which the child might not like or find too difficult.

Each class has approximately 12 students, a number small enough to permit individual attention during the hour. Professor Goddard is able to examine each student during the class on some part of the day's lesson.

Professor Goddard said that the students will be taught the traditional classics, Brahms, Beethoven, and the contemporary composers like Bartok.

This project fills a need for free lessons in violin and other string instruments for students. Up until now, no such system had existed in the state.
