Faculty Action To Basta This Week

The recommendation of the faculty discipline committee recommending a "suspended sentence" for two University of Nevada men students goes to the dean of student affairs this week.

"We'll try to be as fair as we can," said Dean Sam Basta Sunday, but he indicated that he wasn't exactly pleased with the committee's decision.

The committee Thursday afternoon recommended that the suspensions of a 21-year-old junior and a 20-year-old sophomore be suspended, with the stipulation that they could be invoked at any time if the two men strayed out of line.

The decision retained what Dr. Kathryn Duffy called "the concept of suspension."

Basta said although the decision retained the "concept," it also set a legal precedent that might be hard to buck in the event of a similar case.

"The concept is there, but as I see it, setting a legal precedent may make it difficult in administering future discipline," said Basta.

The committee's recommendation goes to Basta this week for a review. Then it will go to executive vice president Kenneth Young, and on to president Armstrong, who originally suspended the two men Sept. 26.

"Perhaps this might be the right decision in this case," said Basta, adding that "the case will be seriously considered for approval by my office."

The 20-year-old was apprehended on campus the evening of Sept. 21, after speeding through campus to White Pine hall. He admitted to Dean Basta and Dean of Men Jim Hathhorn that he had driven a car on University property that contained five cans of beer.

The 21-year-old man was apprehended the following day at the Nevada-Redlands football game by campus policeman Kenneth Harkema. He was accused of being in possession of beer on campus, and later admitted it to the two deans and ASUN president Mike Mackedon.

Mackedon, who told the committee that he favored the suspension penalty in cases involving violations of liquor laws, argued that the law in the present case did not contain certainty.

"Part of the law is certainty as well as severity," Mackedon told the committee. "Certainty has not been a part of the regulations," he said.

Basta said this form of "precedent" is not applicable in the two cases because they were the first concerning the apprehension of offenders by a campus policeman.

He said the precedent established by the faculty committee's decision might hinder future discipline and, in fact, told the members "I cannot administer discipline under a vacillating committee."

"It wasn't an appeal—it was a review," said Basta of the Thursday hearing. He said the two men did not, to his knowledge, present any facts that were new.

"There wasn't any additional evidence presented, to my knowledge," said the Dean, "however, there were some mitigating circumstances."

"In any event, we'll try to be as fair as we can," he added.

Dean Basta's secretary is in the process of typing up the 23 pages of shorthand notes that she took at the meeting. These, along with a formal committee report from chairman Bernard Anderson, will go to Basta sometime this week for consideration.

"There is always a problem when you have cases like this come up for the first time, and attempt to administer justice," said Basta.

Regents Discuss Possibility Of Greek Row

By MARGO BARTLETT

By 1965, it is hoped all male and female students of the University of Nevada under 21 years of age will be able to live on campus at both the Reno and Las Vegas branches, according to reports at the Board of Regents meeting on Saturday.

Purchasing of property for lease by sororities and fraternities as on other campuses will be discussed at the Nov. 30 meeting in Las Vegas. The plan would include both campuses, and if approved, land adjacent to the two branches will be considered for purchase.

Dormitories and a dining hall for Nevada Southern are under consideration. The $753,000 figure originally proposed for the Las Vegas construction was reconsidered. The final figure will be a raise of some $300,000, bringing the total to nearly one million dollars.

New fall figures from the southern branch show approximately 140 students interested in dormitories. About 500 would eat lunch on campus.

The amended figure for Nevada Southern construction will go before the university planning board for final presentation to the State Legislature.

The gifts accepted by the Regents included four scholarships for members of the football squad who excel in their studies. One $500, one $200, and three $100 scholarships will be awarded by the scholarship committee with the advice of the football coaches.

The Regents approved the appointment of Dr. J. Patrick Kelly as acting dean of Statewide Services to replace retiring Dean Lloyd Drury, who is retiring from the post.

Regent Weld Arnold, who died October 5, was honored by his associates on the Board of Regents, by the adoption of a letter to be presented to the Arnold family.

Paul Laxalt Addresses Young Campus GOPs

"If you can't keep your sense of humor in the stress and strain of a political campaign, you're lost," said Paul Laxalt as he described "The Human Side of Campaigning" on the Reno campus last week.

Laxalt, Republican candidate for lieutenant-governor, spoke in the University theatre Tuesday evening under the sponsorship of University Young Republicans.

He said the amount of hard work and emotional strain that go into campaigning was something that only politicians could appreciate.

ALLIANCE MEETS

The Realist Alliance meets Wed. at 7 p.m. to elect officers. The place of the meeting will be announced by campus posters.

'Sun' Attacks University; 'No Comment,' Say Officials

By CAROLE HUEFTLE

Hank Greenspun's Las Vegas Sun last week launched a surprise attack against the administration of the University of Nevada. A series of stories took aim at University President Charles Armstrong and the Board of Regents, using as a basis for the charges "statistics compiled by official audits of the State of Nevada."

The main point that the Sun held was that Nevada resident students are being charged tuition in the form of fees (probably referring to the matriculation fee) in direct opposition to a Nevada state law forbidding it.

University officials were also charged with lowering admission requirements and thus admitting a flood of ill-prepared students for the express purpose of asking more money from the state.

The "illegal" fees once collected go, stated the Sun, into several private bank accounts, not into the state treasury.

Other points made in the first story were:

JERRY-BUILT

1. That students are afraid to use the facilities of the new Noble-Getchell library as a result of what the Sun termed "jerry-building".

2. That illegal expenditures of University funds had been made for entertainment, food, bar, and tip claims with no vouchers. The money came from funds designated for the President, charged the paper.

3. That 19 professors who left the faculty this fall did so as a result of dissatisfaction and low pay.

All these charges were printed in the Oct. 1 edition of the Sun. Subsequent issues during that same week followed this same trend.

So far no other papers in the state have picked up the story or made mention of the audit being published.

NO COMMENT

No comment was forthcoming from the University administration which has apparently chosen to ignore the attempted expose.

Sororities Name Pledge Officers

Pledge officers for the four sororities on campus were elected Monday Oct. 1.

Officers for the Delta Delta Delta pledge class are: Wendy Post, president; Tacey Hackstaff, vice-president; Ronnie Loverin, secretary-treasurer; and Judy Walker, song leader.

Gamma Phi Beta pledge officers are Robin Schoff, president; Tala Cruchett, vice-president; Sue Con-ton, secretary; Judy Recanzone, treasurer; Laurie Stern, song leader; Carolyn Hicks, house manager; Marilyn Robens, scholarship chairman; and Cris Gang, parliamentarian.

Kappa Alpha Theta pledges elected the following officers: Mary Lou MacKenzie, president; Mary Ann Halley, vice-president; El-frena Sewell, secretary-treasurer; Sally Sommer, project chairman; and Michon and Michelle Maupin, song leaders.

Pi Beta Phi officers are: Virginia Frost, president; Lee Bloomfield, vice-president; Lyn Armbruster, secretary; Michele Sala, treasurer; Kathleen Sadler, scholarship chairman; Karry Devencenzi, program chairman; Suzanne Stoker, courtesy chairman.

Sagebrush Editorials . . .

The faculty discipline committee last Thursday recommended what is, in effect, a "suspended sentence" for two Nevada men. It was an example of what happens when common sense pervades legal proceedings.

The two men had been suspended for violations of University and state liquor laws. They admitted to possession of alcohol on campus.

It has been fairly well-known in the past that violation of liquor laws carries a "severe penalty" with it; but it also has been known that "severe" did not mean what it said.

Suspension outright was too severe a penalty, but a "suspended suspension" gets the message across in no uncertain terms. From now on, alcohol misdeeds mean the ax . . . in most cases.

And anyone unfortunate enough to get caught should have no complaints as "sentence" is pronounced, because this time he knew.

Herman (Hank) Greenspun, editor and publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, recently ran a series of stories making malicious and unfounded attacks on the administration of the University of Nevada.

These stories accomplished nothing and proved nothing except that the Republicans of this state made the right choice when they refused to endorse him as their candidate for governor.

The stories, presented as objective news accounts, were inaccurate and full of half-truths. Facts were presented but in a manner which deceived the people who support this University.

The University is involved in politics, but to make it a political scapegoat is unscrupulous.

Such scandal makes good meat for the hungry wolves but in the long run tends only to hurt the students; not the administration, not the regents, not the legislature, and not the governor.

Attacks such as these are unnecessary and demonstrate vividly the "irresponsible press." The brilliant "expose" solved no problems because there were no problems to solve. It probably did upset people who take pride in this University.

Greenspun would do well to shake his stick in other directions, and leave the University . . . an expanding and visibly improving institution . . . out of pursuits political in nature.—P.R.

Commons Baking Birthday Cakes

The familiar strains of "Happy Birthday to You" will be heard nightly in the Dining Commons as each "regular" student is given a birthday tribute.

New this year, the Dining Commons plans on baking beautiful cakes for the more than 600 students who eat there.

The purpose is to create goodwill and friendship between the management and students.

The cakes are presented at the evening meal and friends of the celebrants warble their rendition of "Happy Birthday" to add gaiety to the nightly dinners.

So those who eat regularly at the Dining Commons, should be prepared for a lively celebration when birthdays arrive.

Letters to the Editor

Lohse Answers

EDITOR, THE SAGEBRUSH:

In recent weeks you have taken stands on certain issues with which you are not fully acquainted. I do not contest your right to speak your opinion, however, I do question the validity of your position. Your stands have been biased by reason of the fact that you have not familiarized yourself with both sides of these issues.

In regards to the editorial which appeared in the issue of Friday, October 5, I should like to present some facts which will explain not only my own position but that of the Jot Travis Student Union Board also.

It should be noted that the role of the Union Board in assisting the Homecoming Committee and, more particularly, the chairman of that committee, is one of a voluntary nature. It had been our hope that by bringing a "name" entertainer to the campus for Homecoming celebration we could coordinate our activity with those of the ASUN.

Some of the facts which I wish to bring to your attention are as follows:

1. Before the commencement of the present semester, I discussed the possibility of obtaining some entertainment for the Homecoming Assembly with Gordon Corn. This was acceptable to him. I stated at that time, however, that I was not in a position to promise him anything.

2. Before the commencement of the present semester, I tentatively lined up the Andre Previn Trio for October 24. Later, his booking agency informed me that he would be unable to accept our engagement in lieu of the fact that he had been offered $10,000 to appear on the Dinah Shore Show that same date. Our offer had been $3,000.

3. I then tentatively arranged for Louis Armstrong to appear on the date in place of Previn. He was also unable to accept the engagement due to the fact that his contract with Harrah's Club at Lake Tahoe forbade him from doing so.

4. I then received word from a local agency of the availability of the Four Freshmen for the same date. Shortly thereafter I attended Leadership Conference at Lake Tahoe. I presented this program to a group of student leaders, ASUN officials, and other students for their opinion. The general consensus of this group was that such a program was undesirable for a number of reasons. (Incidentally, Mr. Corn was not in attendance of this portion of the Leadership Conference.)

5. Early the next week Chairman Corn informed me that Wolves Frolic had been rescheduled and would be held on Wednesday, October 24, and Thursday, the 25th, thus moving the assembly from Wednesday to Friday the 26th. I told him that the agency handling Previn might be able to secure his services for us for that Friday 26th. Again I told Corn that I was not in a position to promise anything, but that I would do my best to get Previn.

6. Corn informed me that he "must have an answer" by 2:00, Friday, September 21. He made an appointment to come to my office at that time to see what the decision would be. During the week of the 17 through the 21st of September I attempted to get word from the agent. When Corn's "deadline" arrived, I had not heard from the agent and thus was not in a position to say yes or no. Corn did not keep his appointment with me on that Friday, and in consequence of this I left him a note which stated that I did not know one way or the other whether or not we could obtain Previn. I stated further that by reason of the fact that he needed to know one way or the other, the answer would have to be NO, we would not get entertainment. (We later found out

TUB To Sponsor 'World Around Us'

The ASUN Student Union Board will sponsor the "World Around Us" series again this year.

The presentation of the series was discussed and approved at the student union board's Oct. 2 meeting.

Bill Adams suggested that one of the series of lectures should be on Alaska, our newest state.

Adults will be charged for these series, but students can get in with ID cards.

A budget for the lecture series will be submitted by Clark Santini next week.

that Previn was unavailable for the 26th of October.)

In light of the above I would like to ask you, is this neglect? Can you honestly say that the "Student Union threw in the towel"?

You further stated that I was tired of the whole mess." This, Mr. Buchanan, I admit to. I am presently still "tired of the whole mess." I am tired of being given the run-around—tired of the lack of appreciation for my efforts. I spent a great deal of time and money in long distance phone calls in an attempt to assist Mr. Corn. I certainly hope that Gordon Corn shows a little more appreciation for the efforts of some of the others who are helping him to put on the 1962 Homecoming.

Furthermore, I ask you this: In the final analysis, is it not the responsibility of the Homecoming Chairman to make Homecoming, successful?

I think that you and Mr. Corn would do well to consider what I say and to assume more responsible roles in the exercise of your duties.

Sincerely,
BILL LOHSE, President
Student Union Board

CCUN Presents Security Council For Reno-Sparks High School

Members of the campus Collegiate Council for the United Nations will present a model Security Council for high school students in the Reno area as one of the several activities the group has planned for fall semester, 1962.

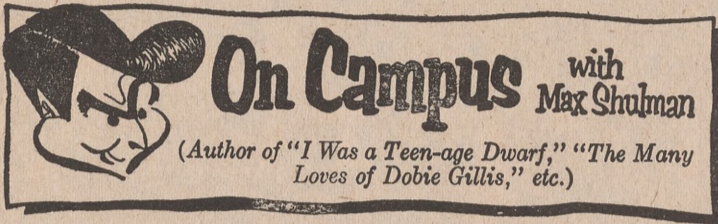

According to Dale Donathan, president of CCUN, the model performance will be run in the same manner as the Security Council of the United Nations. From 11 to 13 students will participate.

This and other plans for the semester were discussed by CCUN members when they met Wednesday night, Sept. 26.

First social event the political group has planned is a bowling social. The organization is going all out for Homecoming and will enter a float in the parade Saturday, Oct. 27.

According to CCUN officials, the organization is a "club on campus that supports the United Nations, and at the same time provides a means for the American students to meet foreign students from all over the world."

HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY

Can education bring happiness?

This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred stabbings among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's intellect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others say that to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery.

I myself favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Agathe Fusco.

Agathe, a forestry major, never got anything less than a straight "A", was awarded her B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, her M.S.B. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and her D.B.C. (Doctor of Blight and Cutworms) in only four.

Academic glory was hers. Her intellect was the envy of every intellect fan on campus. But was she happy? The answer, alas, was no. Agathe—she knew not why—was miserable, so miserable, in fact, that one day while walking across campus, she was suddenly so overcome with melancholy that she flung herself, weeping, upon the statue of the Founder.

By and by a liberal arts major named R. Twinkle Plenty came by with his yoyo. He noted Agathe's condition. "How come you're so unhappy, hey?" said R. Twinkle.

"Suppose you tell me, you dumb old liberal arts major," replied Agathe peevishly.

"Have you ever smoked a Marlboro cigarette?"

"All right, I will," said R. Twinkle. "You are unhappy for two reasons. First, because you have been so busy stuffing your intellect that you have gone and starved your psyche. I've got nothing against learning, mind you, but a person oughtn't to neglect the pleasant, gentle amenities of life—the fun things. Have you, for instance, ever been to a dance?"

Agathe shook her head.

"Have you ever watched a sunset? Written a poem? Smoked a Marlboro Cigarette?"

Agathe shook her head.

"Well, we'll fix that right now!" said R. Twinkle and gave her a Marlboro and struck a match.

She puffed, and then for the first time in twelve or fifteen years, she smiled. "Wow!" she cried. "Marlboros are a fun thing! What flavor! What filter! What pack or box! What a lot to like! From now on I will smoke Marlboros, and never have another unhappy day!"

"Hold!" said R. Twinkle. "Marlboros alone will not solve your problem—only half of it. Remember I said there were two things making you unhappy?"

"Oh, yeah," said Agathe. "What's the other one?"

"How long have you had that bear trap on your foot?" said R. Twinkle.

"I stepped on it during a field trip in my freshman year," said Agathe. "I keep meaning to have it taken off."

"Allow me," said R. Twinkle and removed it.

"Land sakes, what a relief!" said Agathe, now totally happy, and took R. Twinkle's hand and led him to a Marlboro vendor's and then to a justice of the peace.

Today Agathe is a perfectly fulfilled woman, both intellectually and personalitywise. She lives in a darling split-level house with R. Twinkle and their 17 children, and she still keeps busy in the forestry game. Only last month, in fact, she became Consultant on Sawdust to the American Butchers Guild, she was named an Honorary Sequoia by the park commissioner of Las Vegas, and she published a best-selling book called I was a Slippery Elm for the FBI.

Weatherhead To Head Program of Study; Reading

A busy man on campus these days is Sidney W. Weatherhead, head of the counseling and testing service for the University and also the originator of the new study and reading program which has hit campus.

Mr. Weatherhead has been lecturing various classes concerning his experiment and hopes to have it in full swing by next week.

The program includes:

—Development of understanding and skill in basic reading and study techniques.

—An analysis of each student's current reading and study habits.

—A discussion of the primary reasons why people neither read as fast nor comprehend as much as they should.

—A discussion of how better perception makes you a better reader. Each student will be tested for perceptual skills and will practice development of higher level skill attainment.

—Vocabulary testing and development of verbal understanding.

—Special attention to development of reading comprehension skills.

—The key techniques of speed reading will be discussed and practice exercises emphasized.

—The techniques of "previewing" and "skip reading" will be shown.

—How to get more out of the newspaper in less time will be taught.

—Great effort will be placed on helping students get more out of "Informative" books with special attention given to their current texts.

—Some time will be spent on learning how to read fiction with more enjoyment.

—Special attention will be given to the problem of "retaining" what is read.

—How to apply special techniques in reading difficult material.

Each student accepted by Mr. Weatherhead will spend two hours per week in a group session where lecture, discussion and drill methods will be employed.

In addition to the two - hour group sessions, each student will schedule six hours per week for "practice" in the library in an assigned room.

Practice time will be spent in two primary ways:

—Working on carefully developed materials designed to increase his reading comprehension and speed.

—Applying rules for effective study to the textbooks he is currently using for his college courses.

Mr. Weatherhead has reported

Pledges Don't Stop Andy and Tim

An unprecedented failure permitted two ATOs to attend the "Bowery Brawl" unmolested last Friday.

House president Andy MacKenzie and pledge trainer Tim Griffin went into temporary retirement Thursday and Friday to avoid determined pledges.

For the first time in many years the actives were successful. MacKenzie stayed at his brother's house Thursday night and Griffin stayed with his aunt.

The pledges did catch up with them once, "but we out-maneuvered them," said MacKenzie.

Profs Checking Out On Nuclear Reactor

Two staff members of the College of Engineers are undergoing a thorough checkout on the nuclear reactor that will be installed on campus sometime before the end of the semester.

Dr. David F. Dickerson and Prof. Wayne L. Miller, of the nuclear engineering department, are scheduled to return from Canoga Park, Cal. sometime this week, where they are being checked out on Atomic International's L-77 nuclear reactor.

The reactor, bought partly with University funds and outside business interests, will be a featured addition to the University's nuclear engineering dept.

that a limited number of students will be accepted to this program at the present time.

"We will let it grow from here and see what we can do with it in the future," he said.

Weatherhead also mentioned the use of a study laboratory using the new program courses.

Fraternity Men Plan Wholesale Greek Clean-Up

Don "Eliot" Heath, relentless crusader against dirt and corruption, vowed this week to clean-up the Nevada fraternity system.

Heath, chairman of the Inter-Fraternity Council's house management committee, and his gang of "untouchables," meet once a month to plot strategy against fraternity filth.

The Sagebrush caught Heath last week in a corner behind the dining commons as he launched the first step of his crusade—"Clean Garbage-Can Week."

Heath was engaged in one of his more "pleasurable" past times—cleaning up his Sigma Nu garbage cans. He encouraged other house managers to do the same.

"I think it can be cleaned up," said Heath of the fraternity garbage situation. "It's one of our more important facilities."

Heath and his committee plot strategy at their meetings to deal with such problems as buying policies, insurance rates, food preparation, and house safety ("most important").

His group is also compiling a roster of approved wholesalers and cooks, should the need of replacement arise in any house.

"Our prime goal is to improve buying policies together with raising the existing high standards of fraternity living at Nevada," said Heath. He pointed out that the past semester "has witnessed roughly a five-to-fifteen per cent saving on purchasing, and the inauguration of an IFC inspection team for fraternity housing."

The "Untouchables," (certainly a fitting name after they complete their garbage-can cleaning project) include Steve Turner, Lambda Chi; Jose Alvarez, SAE, Rich Gwyn, Phi Sig; Fred Brown, Theta Chi; Lane Abbott, Sig Ep; Heath of Sigma Nu; and Wayne Kollodge, ATO.

Homecoming Hop In Mathisen's Hall

This years Homecoming dance will be held at Mathisen's hall from 9-1 p. m. Oct. 27.

Couples will "swing and sway" to the music of Dave Minedew and his "Versitones."

During the intermission, trophy winners will be announced for the best sorority float; best float from a fraternity; best Wolves Frolic skit by a fraternity; best Wolves Frolic skit by a sorority; sorority dance attendance; fraternity dance attendance; cross-country fraternity winner; and placing winners of the race.

The Homecoming queen will pass out the trophies.

Fireman Answer A False Alarm; Say Nice Words

By CAROLE HUEFTLE
Feature Editor

Sirens screamed through the night and the placid scene of the campus splintered like wood under the axe as four fire engines rumbled tank-like through the gates and stopped before the stark brick cleanliness of Ross Hall. It was 6:32 p. m., Sunday Oct. 7.

Six husky firemen (all firemen look husky because they wear so much apparel) piled out and strode determinedly toward the offending structure only to find it locked.

No smoke poured forth; no flames crackled. The crew hesitated. Should they smash the door? That's what they do in the movies. But not in real life . . . find someone to open the door.

The door opened, the vanguard went in extinguishers in hand while those outside relaxed and discussed the World Series.

The hardy six returned shoulders shrugging. All eyes turned toward a solitary red fire alarm across the street. Inspection showed nothing. The shoulders shrugged again and moved off to the trucks mumbling about false alarms and having to wash the truck again.

The time was 6:45. All the fire engines were gone except the hook and ladder which spent a few minutes trying to turn around.

Peace Corpsgirl Works In Brazil

Karen York, a former member of the class of 1964, is now serving with the Peace Corps in Brazil.

Karen, a native of Fallon, began her training January 2, in Washington, D. C. with the study of Portuguese. After six weeks in Washington, she was sent to New York City and then to Puerto Rico.

In Puerto Rico, Karen began survival training in addition to her language studies. Some of the survival training included mountain climbing and swimming with both hands and feet tied.

At the conclusion of her stay in Puerto Rico, Karen was sent to Brazil where she is now training 4-H children.

Governor Lauds Carrico's Band

Plaudits came to Dr. John Carrico, professor of music and president of the Nevada Music Educators assn., from Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer last week after Dr. Carrico announced plans for the University band at the forthcoming Rams-Colts game half-time entertainment.

The text of Gov. Sawyer's letter is as follows:

"Congratulations are due to you and the University's magnificent band for your splendid co-operation and support for our State Centennial. The fact that you are building your entire half-time period performance for the big Rams and Colts game, and that coast-to-coast network television will carry it all, will be an outstanding contribution to the success of our state's 'birthday party.'

"Your thoughtfulness and enterprise in arranging this is greatly appreciated and I wish to thank you and every member of your band on behalf of the people of this state."

Chico Halts Pack Football Streak, 21-7; Stops Nevadans In Cross-Country Too

Swift Four-Mile Aids Chico Win In Distance Run

Chico strider Phil Darnell clicked off a 22:02 four mile time Saturday, and led the Wildcat cross country squad to a 22-23 conquest of a Nevada team minus the talents of experienced Ron Lee and Doug Ketron.

The low score won the meet as scoring was placed on a scale with one point going to first place, two for second, and three for third position.

Wolf Pack top man Bud Forman was second across the line in 22:43. Charlie Akers was the only other UN carrier in the first six, as his 24:34 time wasn't nearly good enough to edge Chico's Bill Schipper for fifth.

High flying Chico, which has now won three straight meets, will be one of the strong favorites in next weekend's Sacramento Invitational Cross Country Meet in the California capital next weekend. Nevada will also enter the Sacramento competition.

Man Spricht Deutsch Hier Donnerstag Mittag

Persons interested in speaking German can attend a German conversational group Thursday noon in the Nevada room of the student union.

Students and faculty members, whether or not they belong to the German club or are taking . . . or teaching . . . the language at the moment, are welcome to attend.

If the turnout is good, the sessions will become semi-weekly events.

Shasta JC Drops Freshmen, 26-0

Shasta Junior College scored all their points in the first half, and dumped a debuting Nevada Freshman team 26-0 in Redding, California Saturday afternoon.

The UN yearlings' defense held up well in the second half, but the initial Shasta surge spelled doom for the Wolf Cubs. The frosh will play three more games on their limited 1962 schedule

WOLF PACK MENTORS

Eleven-Year Jinx Holds; Two-Game Streak Stalls

By BOB MEADE
Sagebrush Staff Representative

CHICO, CALIFORNIA—An eleven-year-old jinx, and a rugged Chico linebacker named Mario Serafin ended Nevada's undefeated football dream by a score of 21-7 here last weekend.

Chico completely outplayed the Wolf Pack gridders who simply couldn't maintain the mental and physical peak that led them to two spectacular opening game victories.

After Nevada's first series of downs in the first quarter, a Harlin Heward punt attempt gave the Wildcats the first break of the game. Serafin nailed Heward on the Silver and Blue 22-yard line.

Chico then marched to pay dirt on seven plays, with fullback John Second setting up a fourth down, one yard scoring plunge for quarterback George Calkins. Ed Burton converted.

Billy Barber provided Nevada's only thrill of the first quarter when he came within one Chico man of going all the way from the 13-yard line to score on the Chico kick-off.

After three punting exchanges of the ball, Tom Cook fell on an Al Allison fumble, and the Wolf Pack had its first scoring chance with possession on the Chico 30.

Calvin Campbell, Bob Herron, and Jock Echave cracked the Chico line for a first down at the 9 and then pushed to the one.

Campbell dove into the end zone for his fifth touchdown of the young season. Jack Renwick converted, and the game was tied with six minutes left in the half.

The second quarter ended on a wierd note.

With five seconds left Renwick tossed a long pass which was intercepted by Chico's Jerry Miller, who promptly lateraled to a teammate. Miller's heave missed its mark, and was bounced around by several players before a Nevada man picked it up and ran into the end zone. The officials called the play dead however, when Miller forward lateraled, but neglected to blow the ball dead.

Early in the second half Chico threatened again when a Renwick aerial was picked off by Harry Ward who returned it to the UN 20. On the subsequent series the 'Cats drove to the Nevada nine, only to be pushed back to the 14, and the Wolf Pack line tightened to hold off the threat. An Ed Burton field goal attempt missed, and Nevada took over.

The Pack promptly launched an 80-yard drive which finally fizzled on the 9-yard line. Renwick tried a field goal, but his try was thwarted when the pass from center sailed over his head. Thinking quickly, Renwick fired a pass to end Rick Miles who caught it in the end zone. The officials ruled the sideline pass was caught out of bounds, and Chico took over.

Snakes Top SAE In Softball

Lincoln hall and Artemisia hall won their softball games the easy way Wednesday afternoon. The teams they were scheduled to play, Theta Chi and Phi Sigma Kappa, didn't show up with enough players so both games were called forfeits.

As a result both Theta Chi and the Phi Sigs were eliminated from the tournament. Sigma Nu won its second game and remained undefeated by beating SAE Tuesday afternoon, 13-12.

Two more games were scheduled for Thursday afternoon: Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Lincoln Hall vs. Artemisia Hall. All four teams have one defeat each, so by the end of the week, four teams will be eliminated from the tournament.

Badminton started Wednesday afternoon. Lambda Chi, Sigma Nu, and Artemisia Hall started fast, each winning two games. Lambda Chi beat the Sig Eps and Theta Chi, Sigma Nu defeated the Phi Sigs and Lincoln Hall, and Artemisia knocked off the Independents and SAE.

In the other game Wednesday, the Rackateers beat ATO. Seven more games were scheduled for Thursday afternoon.

Intramural sports director Jack Tighe was to meet with team representatives Thursday afternoon to work out a badminton schedule, which begins tomorrow. Ten teams have signed up for badminton, Tighe said.

90 Frosh Paint 'N' On Field Day

Nearly 90 hustling freshmen, most of them women, hiked up Peavine mountain Saturday for the annual Frosh-Soph field day. They gave the "N" a fresh bath of whitewash.

Sophomore class president Chuck Burr, in charge of the festivities, called it "as good, if not better" than any previous field day. He had praise for Jack Tighe of the physical education dept. who went along as an advisor.

"The casualties were minute . . . there were three or four," said Burr.

After both the "N" and the Frosh were whitewashed, the group adjourned to Lake park for soda, sandwiches, and the "traditional laking," said Burr.

Members of the sophomore class committee, who supervised the function, are: Jody Muller, Karen Fabri, Sharon Domenici, Mary Lynn Barnard, Nancy Franklin, Mimi Skillikorn, Rosemarie Litani, Dolores Dunning, Keith Lee, John Scott, Bill Farnesi, Jim Baratte, Bill Hamilton, and Charles Kiley.

Voters Tie Solon Phillips To Tree

Want to know a recipe for trouble?

Take one girl, tie tightly to one tree and see what happens. When the lady is Linda Phillips, junior women's senator - at - large. Last week the Tau's and the Theta pledges "abducted" Miss Phillips and took her along on a sneak.

What was the result? She missed her Senate meeting because she was securely placed on a large oak tree.

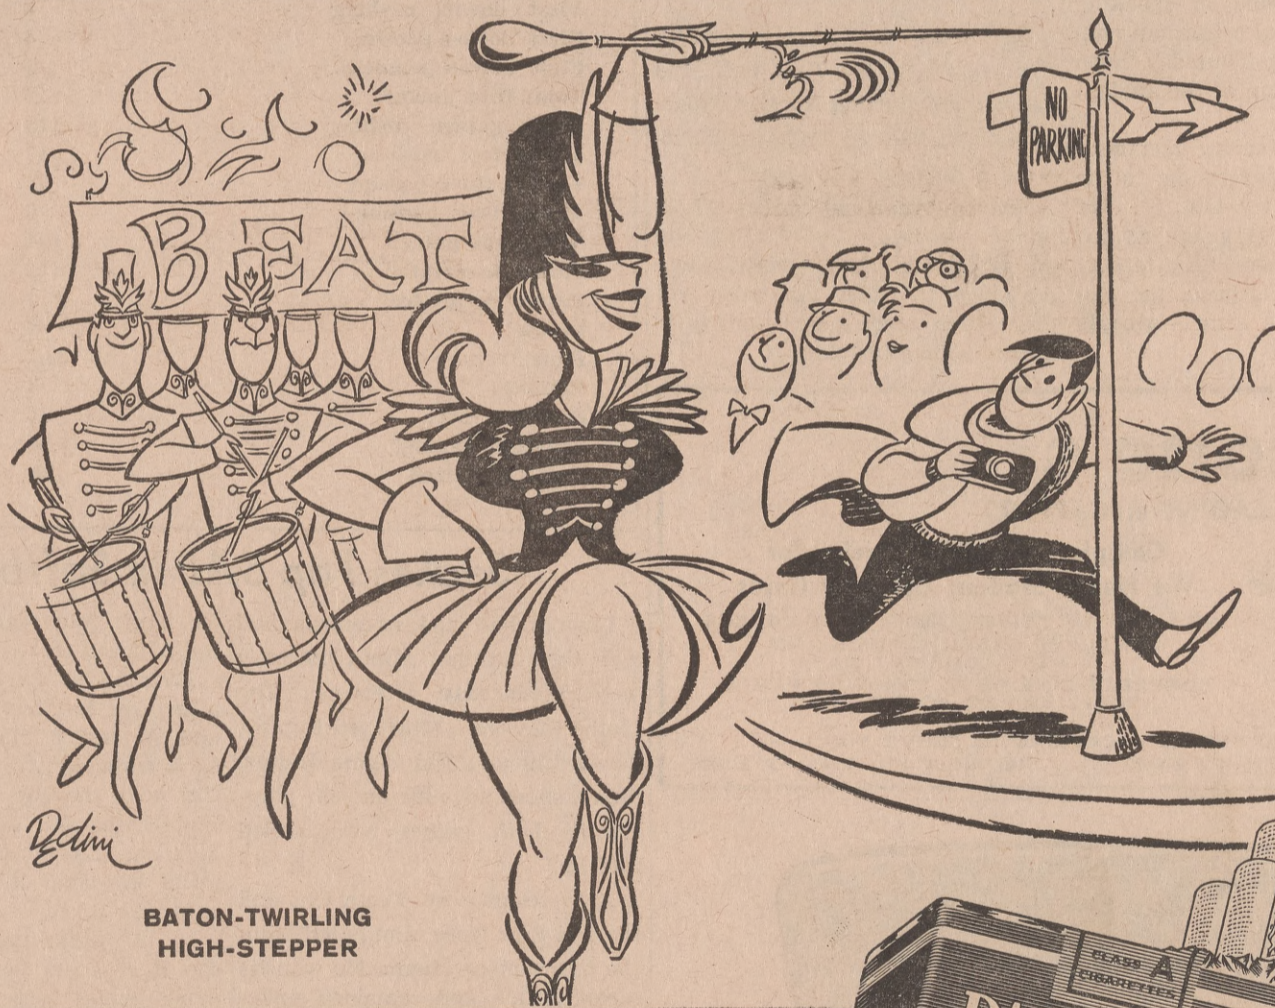

When questioned about her experience she said that she wasn't the only one who met the fate. Several other actives from both houses were kidnapped and brought along for fun. Somehow, it seems like the Lions were victorious over the Christians.

Pall Mall Presents - GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

BATON-TWIRLING HIGH-STEPPER

CAMPUS TYPE I

The High-Stepper is an ideal choice for Campus Type #1 for two reasons. First, she is a fairly common species—and second, she is easy to identify.

Just as the bird-watching beginner should concentrate on the Robin, Sparrow and Cardinal before moving on to more exotic species, the girl watching beginner should master the observation and identification of types such as the High-Stepper before progressing to rarer (and usually more difficult to identify) types.

As in all fine arts, the mastery of fundamentals is the key to girl watching success. This mastery of fundamentals is just as important in the art of cigarette making. Taste Pall Mall and see what we mean!

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!
