

Student Funds Requested To Extend Library Hours

A request for student funds to finance extra-hour operation of the library was scheduled to go before finance control board yesterday.

The request asked for $220 to pay the expense of keeping the library open during the rest of the semester until 11 p. m., Sunday through Thursday.

The cost of running the library one extra hour, five nights a week, is $29 per week, said Ron Watson, chairman of the ASUN library committee.

He said results of a poll conducted last spring show students "overwhelmingly" in favor of keeping the library open the extra hour.

The funds, however, cannot come from state appropriations now because the budgets are already allocated; leaving the ASUN as the only other source.

"If it is come from any place, it will have to come from the ASUN," said Watson. The overall cost for the entire 1962-63 school year will be approximately $684, he said.

The survey's main question asked students if they would favor longer library hours, and response was divided into answers from men and women, and sub-divided into 26 categories, including dormitories, fraternity-sorority, off-campus groups.

The results, which took 25 hours to compile, showed highly favorable response.

Other questions included queries on smoking, the checking of books as students leave the library, and library tours. Results of those questions will be released soon, said Watson.

"I don't think $650 is so much that the ASUN can't afford it . . . it would provide a great benefit," Watson said.

David Heron, director of libraries, said he will recommend that the University assume the expense next year.

"I'm very much impressed that the student library committee is willing to request these funds . . . and that the finance control board is willing to entertain this request," said Heron.

'Cave Dwellers' Opens Next Week

"The Cave Dwellers," first University play of the year, opens next Thursday for a three-day run in the University theatre.

Written by William Saroyan, the play is set in an abandoned theatre on New York City's lower east side in the midst of a slum-clearance project.

Three characters, the King, the Queen, and the Duke, make their home in the abandoned theatre, but manage to sing with joy of their love for their fellow man.

The play runs Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings at 8 p. m., and includes a matinee performance Nov. 17 at 2 p. m. Admission for students with cards is free, but will cost faculty and staff $1.25.

Taking the lead rolls are Don Hackstaff as the Duke; Kathy Francis as the Girl; Judy Garwood as the Queen; and Mike Keenan as the King.

Reservations may be made by calling the University box office beginning Nov. 12, from 1-4:30 p. m., said director Robert Strane.

Strane called "The Cave Dwellers" a "beautiful piece of work."

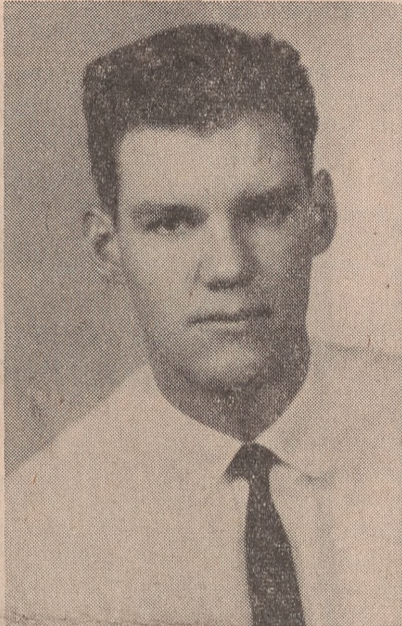

"The characters are all warm, exuberant, and utterly guileless . . . I couldn't be more pleased with the opportunity to work on it and offer it to our audience," said Strane.

The play was first presented in New York City in October, 1957. It has been considered Saroyan's best, said Strane.

Sigma Nu Junior Named IFC Prexy

Don Heath, junior pre-law major and Sigma Nu, was named president-elect of the Inter-Fraternity Council at its Wednesday night meeting at the Alpha Tau Omega house.

Also running for the job were John Firpo, Lambda Chi Alpha; Jim Sinasek, Alpha Tau Omega; and Dennis Haney, Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Heath and Firpo faced each other on the final, second ballot.

Don Heath

"I am very pleased," said Harry Walters, IFC president for the current term. "All the candidates were very fine men this time, and the IFC had a hard time choosing one from them this time," said Walters.

Heath is "in training" for the office now, and will take office in January.

Heath, a graduate of Reno high school, is 20 and a former president of Sagers, underclassmen's service organization. He is a member of Blue Key and the Cadet Officers Club.

Since May, he has been chairman of the IFC house management committee, and conducted a house inspection last month.

Speaker Stresses Free World Unity

By PAT ROGERO

Atlantic Union as the answer to communism was outlined Wednesday night by four time Nobel prize nominee Clarence Streit, an advocate of "Union Now."

Streit told the audience that one of the best ways to combat communist expansion is through the Western unity he sees attainable through a federal union.

Streit spoke to a spare crowd of 20 persons as the lecture series clashed with mid-semester examinations.

He cited President Kennedy's speech of July 4 in which Kennedy told the American people that the United States will be prepared to discuss with a United Europe the ways and means of forming a concrete Atlantic Partnership.

Streit said such a plan would be established by the same method used 175 years ago in forming the United States.

Streit said the North Atlantic Treaty Organization should endeavor to establish a "true Atlantic Union." He said NATO should be transferred into a federal type government of, by, and for the peoples of its membership.

Emphasizing the possibilities of the Common Market, Streit said it could develop into Europe's federal union.

Streit said that Kennedy's action was "a whale of a gamble. We were buying one hundred dollars of security for a billion dollars of risk. Through an Atlantic Union we can buy one billion dollars of security for one-hundred dollars of risk."

He finished by adding that a united West has the Soviet Union worried, and that the West is counting on military superiority which is not completely effective.

Streit was a League of Nations correspondent for the New York Times. He drew many of his "Union" ideas during that time.

He is a graduate of Montana State university, studied at the University of Paris, and was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University. He is a Phi Beta Kappa and has received honorary degrees from three universities.

Streit is the editor of the monthly magazine, "Freedom and Union" and is president of the Federal Union and the International Movement for Atlantic Union.

He is the author of many magazine and newspaper articles and a book, "Union Now."

The Sagebrush will not be published Tuesday, Nov. 13.

Senate Hears Steering Reports; Has No Quorum

Senate failed to muster a quorum Wednesday night, but heard a report from its fledgling steering committee.

Senator Larry Struve, Lambda Chi Alpha, told senators that the committee set up three immediate programs at a Sunday meeting. They include:

- Bringing student government into the hands of more students.
- Establishing complaint boxes at convenient spots on campus.
- Investigating an "honor code" for students.

Marsha Frankovich and Bob Blair will investigate the possibilities of an honor system, similar to ones in existence at Stanford and the University of California at Berkeley.

Mimi Patrick, ASUN second vice president, reported that 20 of Nevada's 62 clubs face suspension next Tuesday if they do not report their officers and constitution to her office.

Mike Mackedon, ASUN president, reported that the future of the Brushfire as a student body publication is still undecided, and that a committee is investigating the situation. A report will be made, he said.

Bruckner Heads Independents

Election of officers and committee appointments were the major items of business at Independent Council's initial meeting of Wednesday night.

Council president is Doug Bruckner of Artemisia hall, and corresponding secretary is Sharon Barnett. Andrea De Santas will serve as recording secretary, and Ed Aertega was named treasurer.

The organization appointed committees to study fund raising and charter draft.

Sagebrush Editorials . . .

The student library committee has requested funds from the finance control board to pay for an extra hour of study, five nights a week.

There is only one answer to the request and that is to grant the $220 it will take to keep the library open this semester. But it is a sad commentary that the money must come from student funds, and not from state-allocated appropriations to the University.

Nevada students have expressed a desire to keep the library open until 11 p.m., Sunday through Thursday—and with the increased amount of study required to get through college, this request is reasonable.

But the students are footing the bill, and that makes as much sense as using ASUN funds to pay the ground-keepers.

Although circumstances seem to demand it, it is a strange situation when students must appropriate ASUN funds to foot the bill for University operation.

It should be done, this time, but not again.

Clarence Streit, a noted advocate of an Atlantic Union, spoke in the dining commons Wednesday evening. He pointed out the advantages he sees in a union of the United States, Canada, and the free nations of Europe.

Mr. Streit, a Rhodes scholar and New York Times foreign correspondent who covered the League of Nations, expounded on his subject to 21 persons.

Poor turnouts have not been the custom at past lectures, and Wednesday's attendance was embarrassing to both students and the University. Even in the midst of exams, there should have been enough interested minds on campus to form at least a moderate crowd.

Vandalism Strikes Campus Again

Several obscenities painted on campus buildings marked the latest outbreak of vandalism on campus last weekend.

The obscenities were painted on the Journalism building, Ross hall, and on a parking sign near Morrill hall late Sunday night or early Monday, said dean of students Sam Basta.

Basta did not attribute the deeds to University students, but to outside groups. He said evidence, including the fact that two colors of paint were used, points to the conclusion that more than one person was involved.

The Dean pointed out that only one night watchman is on duty after midnight, and advocated better campus lighting and a post-midnight patrolman to foil further vandalism.

One watchman "is not sufficient security for a campus of this size," said Basta.

"These acts of vandalism are bound to re-occur unless some definite measures are taken to curtail them," he said, suggesting chains across the University gates after 11:30 p. m. to prevent automobiles from entering campus.

The vandalism followed the other most recent action — theft of the University's redwood sign—by one week.

Learning never stops for engineers at Western Electric

There's no place at Western Electric for engineers who feel that college diplomas signify the end of their education. However, if a man can meet our quality standards and feels that he is really just beginning to learn . . . and if he is ready to launch his career where learning is an important part of the job and where graduate-level training on and off the job is encouraged — we want and need him.

At Western Electric, in addition to the normal learning-while-doing, engineers are encouraged to move ahead in their fields by several types of educational programs. Western maintains its own full-time graduate engineering training program, seven formal management courses, and a tuition refund plan for out-of-hours college study.

This learning atmosphere is just one reason why a career at Western Electric is so stimulating. Of equal importance, however, is the nature of the work we do. Our new engineers are taking part in projects that implement the whole art of modern telephony, from high-speed sound transmission and solar cells to electronic telephone offices and computer-controlled production techniques.

Should you join us now, you will be coming to Western Electric at one of the best times in the company's history. In the management area alone, several thousand supervisory jobs are expected to open up to W.E. people within the next 10 years. And our work of building communications equipment and systems becomes increasingly challenging and important as the communications needs of our nation and the world continue to increase.

Challenging opportunities exist now at Western Electric for electrical, mechanical, industrial, and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. All qualified applicants will receive careful consideration for employment without regard to race, creed, color or national origin. For more information about Western Electric, write College Relations, Western Electric Company, Room 6206, 222 Broadway, New York 38, New York. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when our college representatives visit your campus.

tirely in the hands of Institutional Directories.

Regarding Mr. Seeliger's statement of last meeting that he was disappointed in the work done so far on the directory by Sigma Delta Chi, I can hardly see where Mr. Seeliger finds basis for his assumptions. First of all, I point out that there was no specified deadline for materials to be handed in. Therefore, any assumption that Sigma Delta Chi is late in handing in the materials comes without basis. In comparison, the sending in of materials to the printer by October 26 is very early as contracted with past directory deadlines. Last year's directory (published by Sigma Delta Chi) was available to the ASUN student body earlier than any other in the past.

Secondly, Mr. Seeliger said that he was disappointed in the physical appearance of the material to be sent in. I feel that since I put one directory out largely by myself last year, that I am better judge of how the material should be sent in. I believe since Mr. Seeliger is new to directory publishing, that he is not qualified by experience to judge the materials.

I would point out to the members of the Publications Board that student officers sometimes tend to get way off base in the fulfillment of their duties. I realize this is done in the interest of the student body. But I do hope that Mr. Seeliger will not cloud over the true facts in dealings with Sigma Delta Chi and the Publications Board.

I should like the Publications Board to be reminded, however, that Sigma Delta Chi has had serious doubts about the provisions of the contract with Institutional Directories being fulfilled to the letter.

If compliance should be less than specified, Sigma Delta Chi wants it clearly understood that it did not favor this contract and is in no way responsible beyond the work outlined for it by the ASUN.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN FIRPO

Library Book Supply Far Below Million

Editor, the Sagebrush:

In the October 30th issue of the Sagebrush, an article appeared regarding the amount of library expenditures for books. I wish that the figure listed were correct; but, library this year has a $135,000 book budget (periodicals and book bindings included), and it hopes the State Legislature will appropriate, for the next two years, $190,000 and $250,000. Since the average book costs almost $10, about 44,000 books will be added to the library in the next two years. When one considers that the University has only 176,000 books now, of which perhaps a quarter are obsolete, one can see that by 1965 — at the present rate — we will have only 20% of the one million books that the University needs. If the figures you quoted in your last issue of the Sagebrush were correct, we would have nothing to worry about; however, it appears we will have a long, hard road ahead of us before even freshmen students stop realizing they can't do adequate research.

Sincerely,
RONALD WATSON

'Take Five'

By JOHN FIRPO

The Indian summer is on its way out, ski lovers are bringing their boards out of the closets, and the ducks on Manzanita are just about ready to head down South.

Shades of homecoming still linger. Gamma Phi SUSAN RHODES thinks there should be a revolving trophy for the sorority placing second for three consecutive years. Elsewhere around the Gamma Phi house . . . PEGGY HAYMAN and Sundowner and Tau BARRY McKINNON seen trying a different version of "roll me over in the clover" on the sorority front lawn. You never know about these beer busts do you?

SAE pledge TED MARSTON bucked the ratio of men to women on this campus last weekend. Ted had his arms around three Pi Phis as they took in a downtown movie.

The Military Ball is approaching and there's rumors of the old familiar anti-ball being held. Possible locations are Henry's Corner, the Glass Crutch at Stateline, the Washoe Club in Virginia City, or the Green Front in Hawthorne.

We hear "MOOSE" ARMUTH wasn't too welcome when he walked into the gal's dressing room during Wolves Frolic.

Former Sagebrush Editor TODDY WATKINS wants to write an editorial about lowering the drinking age. She knows its one movement that won't have too much trouble getting started.

We don't usually editorialize in this column but I suggest the installation of two more phones in Manzanita Hall and an additional one in White Pine. Also would the persons who park their cars on the front steps of the Journalism department every day please refrain from doing so. The campus cops are too busy keeping the tow trucks on students cars, so it seems.

Football player OZZIE OSSOLINSKI is dating a coed with a descriptive name. The fellas at 636 South Virginia call her "Big Reason".

Another Wolf Pack member, Tony Klenakis, is another person joining the society for the preservation of Mackay Stadium. Tony says you can take the boy out of Mackay Stadium, but not Mackay Stadium out of the boy.

Those falling by the wayside over the week included SAE BILL NELSON who's now engaged to a gal from San Jose . . . fraternity brother BILL PALMER got into the fatal act too when he gave his pin to Pi Phi MARGARET TAYLOR.

The Lambda Chi's and Thetas had a memorable sneak last Tuesday at yours truly's house in Truckee. Cheerleader SUZI ROYER and social chairman DIANE McMANUS led the masses in a "take it off" song in conjunction with the blanket game. KAREN FABRI played football with the guys and BOB HENDERSON suffered a couple of torn ligaments as a result.

Tri-Delt Homecoming princess JUDY NORCOTT says she'll never wear that "awful" pin again. Tri-Delt JUDY SCHMIDT admits to catching colds easily in the night air. With the charleston costume she wore to a recent social, I can see why.

On the entertainment scene . . . BELAFONTE is at Harrah's South Shore. Coming to the lake in the spring is Songstress JUDY GARLAND and swinger BOBBY DARRIN.

It's rumored that DEBBIE REYNOLDS may decide to play Cal-Neva Lodge at Crystal Bay this next season. Owner Sinatra has plans for enlarging the place and going on a nine month operation.

Ted Lewis comes to the Nugget Circus Room November 13th for three weeks, then will be followed by a spectacular ice show.

Great news! HENRY LUMPKINS is back at the bar at Henry's Corner after a short vacation. Henry's public relations program on the hill took a tumble recently. Dean Mobley banned the downtown businessman from a GDI dance because he was an "undesirable character." The name of the dance was changed from "Henry's Corner".

Ceylonese Prof to Speak Next Week

Dr. Senarat Paranavitana, research professor of Ceylonese archaeology at the University of Ceylon, will visit campus Nov. 13-16.

Dr. Paranavitana will be the guest of the Desert Research Institute. He will deliver a public lecture on "Ceylon's Contribution to the Culture of Southeast Asia," Nov. 13 at 8 p. m. in the dining commons.

While he is on campus, Dr. Paranavitana will speak to classes in anthropology, art, geography, history, language, political science, journalism, and English.

Dr. Paranavitana has contributed papers on the history, archaeology, and art of Ceylon to journals in Europe, Asia, and America. In 1956 he was awarded the Silver Medal of the Royal Society of Art for a paper on "Sinhalese Arts and Culture."

He earned his Ph. D., at the University of Leiden, and has received honorary degrees from the universities of Ceylon and Vidyodaya.

Gary used to fiddle awful sou^r

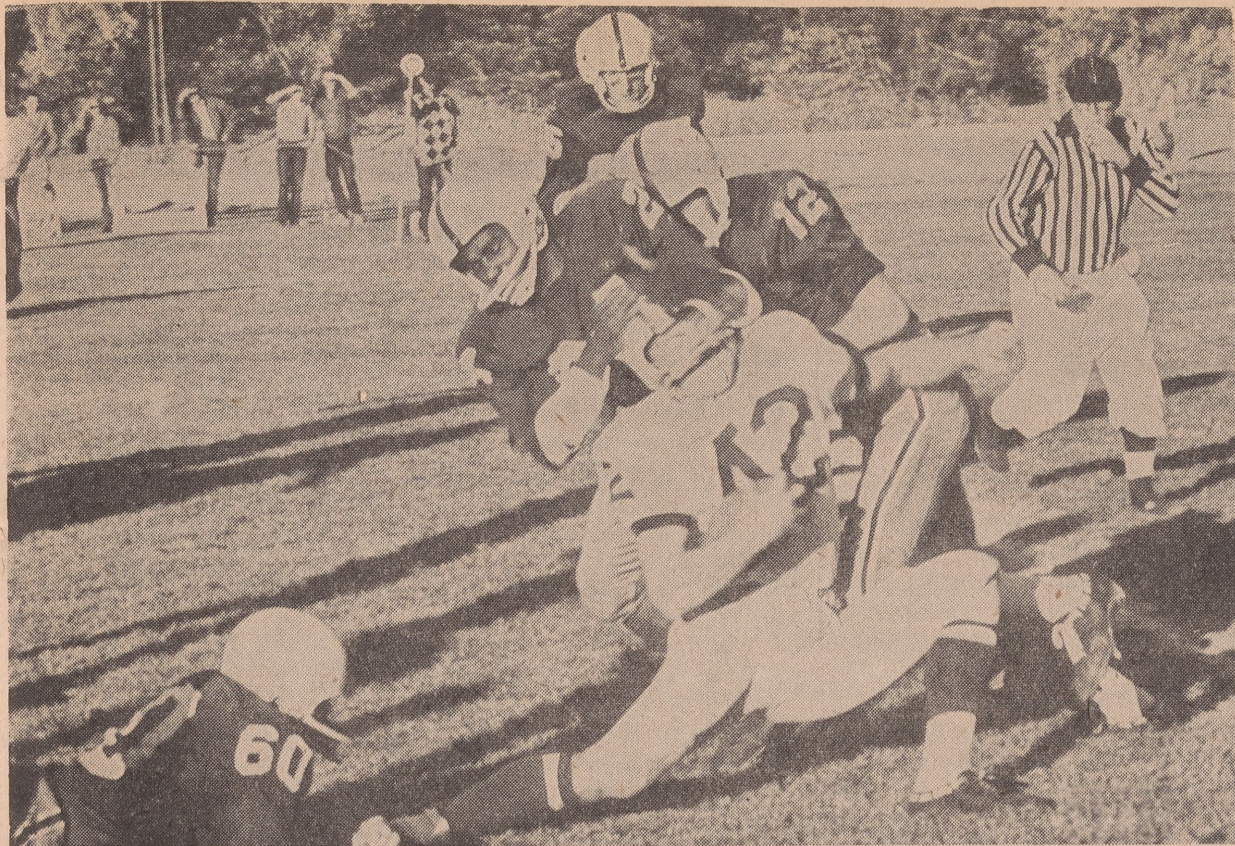

How do you persuade a reluctant youngster that music is not "for sissies"? ■ Classroom teachers of the West, Alaska and Hawaii do so with the help of our Standard School Broadcast, which, by dramatizing music from symphony to jazz, adds a colorful dimension to learning. ■ Gary and 2½ million other boys and girls hear this weekly radio program in their classrooms. ■ Has it inspired in Gary a zest for the violin? Honestly, no. But he now thinks the trombone is "swell," and plays it with vigor. His parents credit this new interest to the classroom music. ■ Who knows how many children have discovered an exciting new world through this public service program? It has just started its 35th consecutive year, so we have served quite a few school generations. ■ Tune in some Thursday. Adults enjoy the program, too.

Poly After No. 8 Against Wolf Pack

Undefeated Cal Poly will try to make Nevada its eighth victim of the fall football term when the Broncos entertain the Wolf Pack Saturday night in Pomona.

The Californians started slowly, but have improved with every game. They reached their highest rung on the football ladder last weekend when they surprised Arizona State's (Flagstaff) nationally ranked Lumberjacks 38-6.

Previous Cal Poly conquests included: Cal Western 60-6, Sacramento State 12-7, San Francisco State 12-9, Redlands 12-10, Southern California Marine Team 12-10, and San Diego State 13-7.

The unblemished 7-0-0 Bronco record was the product of a stiff defense at the outset of the campaign, but later the offense took over the winning responsibilities. It served notice with the 38-6 Arizona win that it will be ready for Nevada's rugged defense.

The potent Bronco offensive machine is powered mainly by quarterback Allen Hammerschmidt, a capable runner, and an adept passer.

In the 60-6 Cal Western romp he flipped two touchdown passes, and set up another. Against San Francisco State he completed four of five aerials, good for 68 yards.

Although both teams have excellent offensive personnel, the game may turn into a low scoring defensive battle.

Cal Poly has held opponents to 44 points in seven games. No team this year has scored more than one touchdown against the Broncos. Redlands and the Marines were the biggest scorers. They each totaled 10 points.

Nevada defenders shut out powerful Humboldt 15-0, held the offensive machine of San Francisco State in scoreless check for one half before yielding two touchdowns, and blanked Redlands 33-0.

Niaz Mohamed, Cliff Yoshida, and Gary Tavon are the defensive stand outs for Cal Poly, who will match tackles with Nevada's Bill Daniel and Dick Pinion.

ATO Takes Lead In Kinnear Fight

Alpha Tau Omega vaulted into first place in intramural team standings last week, beating Sigma Nu for the volleyball championship. After losing the first set by 14-16, the Taus came back to win the next two, 15-9 and 15-10.

ATO now leads the field in Kinnear trophy competition with 140 points. Artemisia hall and the Mavericks are tied for second with 100 points.

The volleyball championship was worth 60 points for ATO. Second place Sigma Nu picked up 40 points. Three teams tied for third—SAE, Lincoln hall, and the Independents. They each received a shade less than 11.7 points.

Intramural teams are now looking ahead to basketball, which is scheduled to start Wednesday, Nov. 14.

Twelve teams have signed up including one new team, the Newman Club, bringing the total of independent teams to five.

Everyone is eligible to play intramural basketball except those who have previously competed in the sport on an intercollegiate basis, said intramural sports director Jack Tighe.

Record-Breaker Set For Humboldt Meet

The University of Nevada cross-country squad meets the Humboldt State Lumberjacks Saturday in Reno.

Wolf Pack sensation Bud Forman, who last week blazed to a new course record of 24-25, hopes to cut his time to 24 flat, although he will still be running with the taped foot that he carried to his record time last weekend.

TOP DRAWER

By CAROL BAKER

Did you ever stop to think of the language obstacles that confront a stranger to our country? We have many expressions that baffle the foreigner. When we say that "he knows his business" — we don't mean that the person in question knows his work well, but rather that he knows what ticks in the people around him. And when we say that he knows what "makes someone tick" — we don't mean clocks, but rather that the individual is alert to the demands and behavior of the people in his environment.

Then there's the expression "top drawer" — either someone is "top drawer society" — "top drawer scientist" — or "top drawer" in sports. It's an acclaim of the highest type. When you say that the Seal Rock Inn Motor Hotel, at Point Lobos Ave., and 48th Ave., in San Francisco, is "top drawer," you mean that the Seal Rock Inn Motor Hotel is a leader in the field of comfort, view and management—and that it is a place where even the stranger will be made to feel at home. Yes, any stranger would understand the expression when visiting in San Francisco, at the Seal Rock Inn Motor Hotel, where every convenience, courtesy and comfort is extended, and a coffee shop and dining room at your service—to spell out the meaning of "top drawer."

Winter Carnival Plans Take Form

Homecoming has been done for over a week and already behind the scenes action is taking place for Winter Carnival celebrations. Winter Carnival is set for February 7, 8, 9, and 10.

Jim Acheson is the 1963 Carnival chairman. He reports that about 25 invitations were sent to universities around the country for participation in the ski events.

The complete committee has not yet been selected. The committee includes:

Donal Ruth Murphy, co-ordinator; Nancy Watson, secretary; Suzie Royer, fashion show; Lee Ann Zimmerman, powder puff derby; Kay Sorenson, registration; Danny Farrier, lunches; Jinx Dabney, banquet; Bill Sinnot, housing; Ellen Roseman, queens; Ted Marston, trophies; Judy Morrison, dance; and Pat Rogero, publicity.

Events scheduled for the Carnival are: sorority open house, variety show, dance, spaghetti feed, banquet, fashion show, cross-country race, downhill, slalom, jumping, women's powder puff derby, and presentation of awards ceremony.

Broncos Favored Over Wolf Pack

Undefeated Cal Poly of Pomona is favored to extend its streak when it meets the Nevada Wolf Pack in Pomona Saturday.

The Harmon football forecast makes Poly a 20-8 favorite over Nevada in their non-conference game. The Broncos are 7-0-0 on the season, and the Wolf Pack is 4-2-1 overall.

Games including other Nevada opponents are predicted to go this way: Davis 15, Chico State 7; Humboldt State 45; Whitman 0; Idaho State 23, Colorado Western 6; San Francisco 14, Sacramento 7; Santa Barbara 19, Redlands 13; and Whittier 20, Arizona State 7.

TUB Art Exhibition Features "Cubism Now"

"Cubism Now" is the current art attraction at the Student union. The most recent developments of this modern art movement are shown in a series of violently colored paintings.

Paintings were selected as illustrations of the continued vitality of cubism; they were loaned by the San Francisco Art institute.

Reno Police Find University Sign

The University of Nevada sign, stolen sometime after the Nevada-Humboldt game, has been found. Discovered by Reno police officers in an alley in downtown Reno, it was somewhat battered, and the state seal had been ripped off it.

The sign is now in the university maintenance shop, where attempts are being made to restore it. Another Nevada seal will be inserted into the sign so that it will not be removable.

The sign was donated to the University last Mackay Day by Nevada's fraternities at a cost of $350. Fraternity president's then noted that the University had no on-campus identification.

Queen Candidates Presented to Brigade

Candidates for 1962 Military Ball queen were presented to the ROTC brigade at drill Thursday by members of the Cadet Officers Club.

They are: Andree Walker, Pi Beta Phi; Judy Schmidt, Delta Delta Delta; Peggy Hayman, Gamma Phi Beta; Sally Shank, Kappa Alpha Theta; Suzanne Glenn, Manzanita hall; Vicki Smith, White Pine hall, and Rosemary Lituania, off-campus independent.

Following the presentation, the coeds were the guests of UNCO at a luncheon at Uncle John's Pancake House. Col. Robert L. Gundlach, professor of military science, spoke on the ROTC program at the affair.

One of the seven will be crowned queen at the "Fabulous 34th" Military ball, Nov. 17, at Matrisen's hall.

Sigma Nus Slate "Regression Day"

..It's "High School, USA" time in the Sigma Nu house again as the Ralston street brothers prepare for their second annual "Regression Day" this weekend.

Track medals will shine, and letter jackets reign, at the Saturday affair. According to one Snake, the men will "return to the days of hot cars and cool chicks."

Regression day begins with the removal of hub caps and painting of names on cars, and follows with a drag race and car show in the afternoon. Trophies will be awarded.

A rock-and-roll dance at the fraternity house concludes Regression Day that evening.

The Secretary of the Interior was authorized, by act of Congress on April 12, 1926, to export timber from Alaska.

Nevad-Anns, Band Will Appear On Nationwide Television Sunday

Members of the University of Nevada band and the Nevad-Anns drill team leave Reno Saturday morning via chartered bus for their nationally televised Los Angeles appearance.

The two groups will perform during halftime of the National Football League Rams-Colts game on Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

The theme of the performance will be "A Salute to Nevada's 1964 Centennial," with band and drill team formations showing early Nevada history, Comstock miners, the entertainment industry, and nuclear projects.

KOLO-TV, however, has stated it is not sure whether or not it will carry the game. "We want to believe me," said a station official.

He said chances of confirmation are about "50-50", and that final word should be available this afternoon.

"I think this appearance will do a great deal to boost the image of the University," said Dr. John Carri-co, band director.

Band president Randall Christensen said the band is "all fired up," over the journey.

"Progress has been going very well, and we hope to make a good showing for the University," said Christensen.

Veterans' Day Closes Library, Student Union

Noble Getchell Library and the Jot Travis Student Union will be closed Sunday and Monday, Nov. 11 and 12, due to Veteran's Day observances.

Student union-controlled facilities will close at 5 p.m. Friday and will not reopen until Tuesday, Nov. 13. This does not include the dining commons, which is separate from the union.

The library will be open Saturday until 5 p.m. as usual.
