

Roosevelt Will Speak Here Wednesday Nite

James Roosevelt, Democratic congressman from California and son of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt, will speak in the dining commons Wednesday night as part of the student union lecture series.

Roosevelt's topic is not year clear, said Clark Santini, lectures chairman, on Monday, but he is expected to comment on the fall elec-

Tax Clinic Set For December

Businessmen will learn how to save money on taxes at a tax clinic on campus Dec. 5.

Four experts on tax laws and corporation procedures will participate in a clinic co-sponsored by the College of Business Administration and Statewide Services.

Assoc. Professor James Hoyt, chairman of the accounting department, will coordinate the event.

The speaker list includes: attorney Eli Grubic; University Assoc. Prof. Benjamin Smith; Internal Revenue service employee Len Sterling; and Lowell C. Bernard, who works for a local accounting firm.

The final registration date is November 26.

Before they can learn how to make more money, the businessmen will have to part with some. There is an all-inclusive fee of $14.75 for the day of discussion.

Library Hours Up To Students

Continuation of extended library hours will depend largely on student attendance, said Ron Watson, chairman of the ASUN library committee, this week.

The Noble Getchell library began extra hours on Sunday, Nov. 18, staying open until 11 p. m., Sunday through Thursday. Attendance the first night was favorable—"about 50"—said Watson.

The extra-hour funds were allocated by the University after they were appropriated from student funds by the finance control board.

tions, and predict possible courses of action of the 88 Congress.

Roosevelt also indicated he would comment on the conservative-liberal controversy raging over the House Un-American Activities committee between Irving Hall and William F. Buckley.

Hall and Buckley are scheduled for lecture appearances later this year.

A representative of the 26 California congressional district since 1946, Roosevelt was defeated for governor of California by Earl Warren in 1950. The margin was more than one million votes.

His congressional district itself has drawn criticism, including some from Time magazine, which pointed out that "after the 1950 census, California's Republican legislature gerrymander the 26th to make it overwhelmingly Democratic, and turn four adjoining districts into Republican strongholds. The 26th now has 159,074 registered Democrats, and 75,895 Republicans."

A graduate of Harvard (1930), Roosevelt served in the Marines during World War II, emerging as a colonel in 1945.

GDI Council Has First Formal Meet

By JOYCE LONG

The month-old Independent Council holds the most important meeting of its short existence Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the dining commons.

After two preliminary conclaves, in which the Council was organized and officers were elected, the group has invited all unaffiliated students to look in, on its first open meeting.

Constitution ratification, planning of activities, and fund raising projects will be discussed by Council members, and later thrown open to all interested members of the audience.

Council president Doug Bruckner pointed to the meeting's importance saying, "if we do not have a large turn out for this meeting, our whole movement may die from the Independents' old bugaboo, lack of interest."

Dean Kirkpatrick Speaks For AWS In 'Last Lecture'

Dr. Harold Kirkpatrick, a well-traveled political science professor, and asst. Arts and Sciences dean, will be the featured speaker of the next "Last Lecture" series sponsored by the Associated Women Students.

The lecture will be held in the dining commons tonight at 8 p.m.

Each speaker in the "Last Lecture" series pretends that this is the last lecture he will ever give.

Dr. Willard Day of the psychology department was the featured speaker in September. He pretended so well, in fact, that a majority of the audience believed he was really planning to leave the University, and that the lecture was indeed his last on campus.

Dr. Kirkpatrick attended Pomona Junior college from 1936-1938. He then traveled to Europe, living in Prague, Czechoslovakia from 1938-1942. He was imprisoned as civilian internee at Tittmoning, Germany from 1942-1944, and his military career began in 1944. One of his positions was special agent for the Army Counter-Intelligence Corps.

He graduated from Mexico City college in 1952 summa cum laude, received his MA degree in history in 1952 from the University of California, and received his Ph.D. from the same university.

Actively engaged in youth work, he is president of the Nevada State Recreation association, chairman of the youth work committee of the Sparks YMCA, director of the dept. of Parks and Recreation, City of Sparks, and disrict commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, Nevada Area council.

Calendar Committee Meets Tomorrow

The ASUN calendar committee meets Wednesday at 4 p. m. to set up the official social calendar for the spring semester. The group meets in room 203 of Ross hall.

Representatives of reorganized ASUN organizations should attend. Students can contact Mimi Patrick, ASUN second-vice president, for further details.

the heart of the campus, he pointed out that "fellows like Sam Basta used to think of the library as a place to go and get dates."

The student union, in Hug's day, consisted of a coke machine in the basement of Morrill hall, but they were selling bricks for today's building even then.

Hug played two years of football and basketball, ran the hurdles and pole-vaulted, was president of the Block "N", and a member of Coffin and Keys and the Sundowners.

Added awards this year went to top scholars and outstanding Greeks.

"Worst Possible Year" ...

Sun Valley Caper Probed by Basta

A series of hearings scheduled this week in the office of student affairs highlights a moral-social situation that has been called "the worst possible year for women on this campus," by a spokesman of the Associated Women Students. The hearings will seek information on an unauthorized party held in the Sun Valley community hall Nov. 17, that resulted in damage to the hall.

Naval Spokesman Here Thursday

Robert C. Nelligan will be on campus Thursday night, representing a federal research organization for the Career Exploration series.

Mr. Nelligan, associate head of the employment division of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Test station, China Lake, Calif., will speak on "The diverse fields of management and administration in a Naval research and development laboratory".

A University of Nevada graduate in economics and journalism, 1936, Nelligan has been an official in personnel administration at China Lake since 1949.

While at Nevada he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega, Coffin and Keys, Senate, Blue Key, Sagers, Press club, Inter-Fraternity Council, basketball team, and the News bureau. He was also associate editor of the Sagebrush and sports editor of the Artemisia.

Nelligan will be in the dining commons Thursday at 7:30 p. m. to speak to seniors and other interested students.

Students To Sell Own Art Efforts

Student art work will be on sale in the lounge area of the student union from Dec. 8-14.

Students may enter any personal art work. Prints, oil paintings, water colors, sketches, ceramics, and works in any other media will be accepted, however all paper or canvas work must be framed.

Students should submit their material at the art office of the Fine Arts building by Dec. 7, but some entries will be accepted during the show period.

"These would make wonderful Christmas presents to take home over the holidays," suggested Barbara Barengo, chairman of the student union art shows. Prices will range from $2-$30.

Proceeds will go toward financing the art students' annual spring trip to San Francisco.

Blair, Frankovich Study Honor Code

The possibility of a student honor code at Nevada is being investigated by Bob Blair and Marsha Frankovich.

Both students have transferred from universities where honors systems are in force. Blair attended Stanford University and Miss Frankovich the University of California at Davis.

At a recent meeting of the senate steering committee, they outlined the benefits of an honor system, pointing out that an honor system on the academic level can branch out onto the social level and would improve the academic atmosphere.

Miss Frankovich said an honor system would have to be a gradual process, beginning with incoming freshmen.

Dr. Sam Basta, dean of students, said reports indicate that the affair was attended largely by members of the Sundowners, an unrecognized campus group, although non-Sundowners were present.

A receipt for rent of the hall shows that the man renting the hall was a Sundowner member, said Basta.

In other developments, the party, termed an "anti-Military Ball" by some students, was followed by a Pan-Hellenic Council warning to sorority women, and the announcement of an AWS "lecture series" for women.

A couple of thorny problems should appear during the hearings: (1) Determining identities, events, and the extent of the affair will be a touchy situation, and (2) since the Sundowners are not a recognized organization, any disciplinary action will be taken against individuals.

"You can't discipline an unrecognized group . . . it's impossible," said Basta last week.

News of the affair broke Sunday morning, Nov. 18, when Deans Basta, Mobley and Hathorn were summoned to the scene to view the damage. "It was the damndest thing we ever saw," said Basta.

His observations indicated that some 20-30 persons attended, and that the party involved "excessive drinking," with some students possibly underage.

The hearing is planned to dig out evidence determining who attended, what occurred, and the extent of the damage, said Basta.

"We don't have all the evidence or all the facts . . . I'm not going to discipline anybody without factual evidence," he said.

Lecture Series

With three women suspended, and three more suspensions pending, the two top women in Associated Women Students are planning a "lecture series" on conduct to sorority and dormitory women.

The series will be conducted by Cecilia Molini, president, and Marilyn Kotter, vice president.

But there is no way the AWS can either reach off-campus independent women, or enforce its regulations on them, said Miss Molini. Off-campus women are expected to follow AWS regulations, but enforcement is "impossible," she said.

She warned that cocktail parties may fall victim to police raids in the future, with action almost certain to follow for underage drinkers.

Tau's Take Honors At Bean Feed

Alpha Tau Omega walked away with top honors for the third year in a row at the annual Inter-Fraternity Council "Bean Feed" last week.

The ATOs took home the James "Rabbit" Bradshaw trophy for the second straight year, walked off with half the awards for individual sports, and saw one of their men take the "Buzzy Marks" sportsmanship trophy.

The Bradshaw trophy, emblematic of the top fraternity team in intramural sports, went to the Taus as they won four of eight individual sports—volleyball, baseball, softball and basketball.

Other sport awards went to Sigma Nu, track and cross-country; Lambda Chi Alpha, skiing; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, bowling.

Woody Barry of Carson City and Alpha Tau Omega was awarded the Buzzy Marks trophy for highest sportsmanship shown by a player in intramural sports. Barry is a junior.

Proctor Hug Sr., former University of Nevada athletic star, student body president, and former president of Alpha Tau Omega, was the featured speaker of the evening.

Hug hearkened back to his college days, comparing them to the present. In his days, he said, "Mackay stadium was the heart of the campus."

Audio-Visual Department Runs Varied Campus Operation

By DOUG BRUCKNER

The mysterious men who drive the tiny three wheeled Cushman motor carts around campus play an important part in the University intellectual life.

They are members of the Audio-Visual department's five-student delivery team which transports films, types slides, and similar materials to classrooms.

Providing professors with mechanical means of education is only one of the multitude of Audio-Visual's jobs.

The department maintains a well-equipped photography division and carries an extensive movie library.

Department acting chairman Donald Potter describes the audio-visual darkroom as, "one of the best in the area." Still pictures are provided for many groups and divisions within the University.

Audio-visual photographers work at athletic events, and other activities. The department films such diverse things as cloud formations for meteorology classes and landscapes for the Desert Research Institute.

Manzanita Coeds Present Classics

"An Evening with the Classics" was presented by the women of Manzanita hall last week in the faculty dining room. The musical production featured numbers from the world's great composers.

Ann Fifield performed two piano solos. They were "Prelude in B flat minor," by Bach and "Fantasia in D minor" by Mozart.

Midell Tidd, soprano, sang "Vioche Sapete," by Mozart, "Apres un reve," by Faure, "Sea Shell," by Carol Engel, and "The Icicle," by Bassett. Miss Tidd was accompanied by Pricilla Tang.

Three vocal solos were performed by Miss Tang. "Oh, 'Tis the Melody," by T. H. Bayly, "O Mio Babbino Caro," and "Donde Lieta," by Puccini were the selections. Miss Tang was accompanied by Kathy Wick.

Two piano duets were played by Ann Fifield and Dr. Herman Chaffoff. The numbers were "2nd Arabesques," by Debussy and "Concerto in G minor, opus 25," by Mendelssohn.

ATO Pledge Class Cleans Up Posters

Alpha Tau Omega pledges performed their annual public service project last week, as they cleaned up campaign posters and other debris left from the recent campaign.

The pledges were under the direction of Mario Peraldo.

Letters to the Editor

Launie Observes Fitness Possibilities

Editor, the Sagebrush:

It was with great enthusiasm that I read your editorial attacking the moving of Mackay Stadium. You are quite right, the students are getting soft and the situation would obviously be hopeless if a building were built on the site of Mackay Stadium.

I think the student body should form a pressure group to "Save Rickety Mackay Stadium and Stay Slim!" The next building could then be constructed just above the "N" on Peavine Mountain. Think of the cross country teams Nevada will turn out then! After your 8 o'clock in Ross Hall on a crisp Fall Monday morning there will be nothing like the brisk trot up to "Peavine Hall" for the 9 o'clock Sanskrit 401 class. As a side benefit, some enterprising young Business student might set up a deodorant concession out front.

Our coed track team will probably place several girls in the Olympics. This will more than make up for the fact that our muscular-legged coeds will not be winning any more "Miss Nevada" contests. (Besides, the presence on campus of attractive coeds such as the present Miss Nevada is distracting to the male students.)

Actually we don't have to wait until "Peavine Hall" is built to reap the benefits of this brave new world. With a little ingenuity in class scheduling it could be achieved now. A typical day might start off on the top floor of the Fleischmann Agriculture Building. Then we could have the "J. E. Church Steeplechase" to the top floor of the Fine Arts Building, time limit 10 minutes. The possibilities are endless.

Strong Performance Gave Pack a Successful Season

By BOB MEADE

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack completed its most successful season in recent years when they downed powerful Idaho State in the season finale 14-7. The Pack finished the season with a 5-3-1 mark.

With any breaks, it could have reversed all three losses and posted the school's first undefeated season.

The Pack opened the 1962 season by downing a strong Redlands university team by 33-0 count. Nevada unveiled a rugged defense and a powerful ground game, downing a team which was to finish second in its SCIAC race.

The Wolf Pack followed this effort with a stunning 21-6 victory over national small college powerhouse Whittier. The Poets, who went on to post a 9-1 record and cop the SCIAC title, suffered their only regular season defeat in two years.

A mental letdown and a Chico jinx combined with a raging Davis storm killed Nevada's conference hopes as the Pack dropped 21-7 and 8-6 decisions. The losses made hopes of a winning season seem dim.

The Nevada crew wasn't ready to quit, however, and bounced back to tie the FWC champion. San Francisco State completely outplaying the Frisco crew.

The Silver and Blue then went on to a brilliant homecoming win blanking powerful Humboldt by a 15-0 count, this was one of the two games the Lumberjacks dropped all season.

The Wolf Pack went on to even its FWC slate, downing Sacramento State by a count of 23-12. The Pack then traveled to Pomona and did everything but end Cal Poly's win streak. The Wolf Pack outgained the Mustangs by over 100 yds., but dropped a 19-6 verdict to the small-college powerhouse.

Nevada then capped a successful season with a 14-7 decision over Idaho State's major college Bengals. Proof of the rugged schedule that the Pack waded through is evident in the fact that no less than five of Nevada's opponents were rated in the national small-college rankings during the season, with the Pack posting a 3-1-1 mark against these clubs.

Three opponents beaten by Nevada wound up in the top twenty in national small college ratings at the season's end.

Intramural Cagers To Resume Play; 3 Contests Slated

Intramural basketball action resumes Wednesday night with three contests on tap. The games match Lincoln hall vs the Off-Campus Independents; Lambda Chi Alpha vs Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs Artemisia hall.

The off-campus men, playing their first game, meet a Lincoln hall that has been beaten by Theta Chi in a previous encounter. The score was 40-17.

Lambda Chi Alpha, with an opening-game win 29-21) over Phi Sigma Kappa to its credit, meets a fresh Sigma Phi Epsilon crew. It is the first game for the Sig Eps.

SAE has a chance to put Newman club cagers out of competition in the third contest. The Newmanites bowed to Sigma Nu, 39-33, in their first game.

On Dec. 5, Sigma Nu (2-0) is scheduled to meet Alpha Tau Omega (1-0), with the winner going into the semi-finals.

Congress passed the Stanfield Act in 1926 to appropriate money to pay the back taxes on the Oregon and California grant land counties administered by the General Land Office.

COMMITTEES: AN AGONIZING RE-APPRAISAL

To those of you who stay out of your student government because you believe the committee system is just an excuse for inaction, let me cite an example to prove that a committee, properly led and directed, can be a great force for good.

Last week the Student Council met at the Duluth College of Veterinary Medicine and Belles Lettres to discuss purchasing a new doormat for the students union. It was, I assure you, a desperate problem because Sherwin K. Sigafos, janitor of the students union, threatened flatly to quit unless a new doormat was installed immediately. "I'm sick and tired of mopping that dirty old floor," said Mr. Sigafos, sobbing convulsively. (Mr. Sigafos, once a jolly outgoing sort, has been crying almost steadily since the recent death of his pet wart hog who had been his constant companion for 22 years. Actually, Mr. Sigafos is much better off without the wart hog, who tusked him viciously at least once a day, but a companionship of 22 years is, I suppose, not lightly relinquished. The college tried to give Mr. Sigafos a new wart hog—a frisky little fellow with floppy ears and a waggy tail—but Mr. Sigafos only turned his back and cried the harder.)

But I digress. The Student Council met, discussed the doormat for eight or ten hours, and then referred it to a committee. There were some who scoffed then and said nothing would ever be heard of the doormat again, but they reckoned without Invictus Millstone.

Invictus Millstone, chairman of the doormat committee, was a man of action—lithe and lean and keen and, naturally, a smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes. Why do I say "naturally"? Because, dear friends, active men and women don't have time to brood and bumble about their cigarettes. They need to be certain. They must have perfect confidence that each time they light up they will get the same gratifying flavor, the same Selectrate filter, the same soft soft-pack, the same flip top flip-top box. In brief, dear friends, they need to be sure it's Marlboro—for if ever a smoke was true and trusty, it's Marlboro. Get some soon. Get matches too, because true and trusty though Marlboros are, your pleasure will be somewhat limited unless you light them.

Well sir, Invictus Millstone chaired his doormat committee with such vigor and dispatch that when the Student Council met only one week later, he was able to rise and deliver the following recommendations:

1. That the college build new schools of botany, hydraulic engineering, tropical medicine, Indo-Germanic languages, and millinery.
2. That the college drop football, put a roof on the stadium, and turn it into a low-cost housing project for married students.
3. That the college raise faculty salaries by $5000 per year across the board.
4. That the college secede from the United States.
5. That the question of a doormat for the students union be referred to a subcommittee.

So let us hear no more defeatist talk about the committee system. It can be made to work!

LIEUTENANT JOHN MONTEFUSCO, HISTORY MAJOR, CLASS OF '61

"If I had it to do over again, would I take Army R.O.T.C.?"

My wife and I are in Panama at the moment. She likes it. You know, Officers' Club, dances—that sort of thing. I like it, too. But whether I stay in the Army or not, the question is: Would I take Army R.O.T.C. if I had it to do over again? Yes, I certainly would. In spades, I didn't realize how lucky I was. At the time I figured: Okay, so I'll get my degree—get an Army commission, too, and pick up some extra money along the way! I wasn't the leadership type, I thought. I was wrong. Boy, was I wrong! Looking back on it, I wouldn't trade the leadership training I got for anything! Take my word for it, leaders are made—not born! Whether I stay in the Army or not, nobody can take away what I've learned. And let's face it, where can anybody my age step out of college and walk into a standard of living this good? Look, if you have already invested two years in college ROTC, take it from me: Stick it out! It'll be one of the smartest things you ever did. I say so."

Most violations have been charged to freshmen women, said Miss Molini, not to "surprisingly" upperclassmen. She blamed it on the feeling of "getting away from home."

"Moral standards in the minds of the girls," is what concerns the AWS in the present situation, she said.

Pan-Hell Warning

Nevada sorority women heard a Monday-night warning Nov. 19 against entering the apartments of off-campus men. The warning, from the Pan-Hellenic Council, mentioned the already effective three suspensions, but made no dire warnings itself, said Michelle Mackedon, council president.

She said the problem is increasing because space shortages in campus housing are forcing more men to rent apartments, and said action had already been taken in one case.

Miss Mackedon said the problem was brought to the council by Elaine Mobley, dean of women, for discussion.

"She didn't give us any direct policy of what she would do if anything happened," said Miss Mackedon.

"Drinking is at the base of all of it," said Dean Mobley following the Pan-Hellenic warning.
