Sagebrush Editorial . . .

What You'll Read in January

One of the most depressing and lifeless stories a newspaper can write is the obituary. It requires doing a great deal of research, following a set writing form, and talking to bereaved friends and relatives.

The obituary is about as popular with readers as with writers; they would rather not read about the loss of their contemporaries.

It is quite likely the Sagebrush will be writing obituaries three weeks from now. Two years ago, this paper carried one following Christmas vacation, and two others in October.

Obituaries are tiring and depressing to write and to read, but they are necessary.

But if some reckless students are determined to go out and kill themselves over the holidays, we'll be carrying obituaries in the January 4 issue.

We'll do it up brown, too. There will be banner headlines and extra-large type, and pictures, too—if we can get them. So anyone who wants to do it can go out big; the Sagebrush will provide him with a fitting memorial.

Council Recommends Sundowner Warning

A student judicial council summation on the Sundowner case, while lacking much in the way of a judicial decision, may lead to a University policy on unrecognized groups in the near future.

The four-part recommendation, released Wednesday, followed three weeks of hearings that probed a Nov. 17 Sundowner-sponsored party in the Sun Valley community hall.

The hearings, conducted by the office of student affairs, and the student court, failed to turn out many concrete results because of the difficulties encountered in identification and acquiring supporting evidence.

The judicial council's summation boiled down into four main points:

—Any group of individuals, recognized or not, is responsible to the University for its activities; however, lack of an established policy hindered the court's power to render a more specific decision.

—The Sundowners should be warned against similar actions by themselves or their guests in the future.

—Most of the testimony, while indicative of personal opinion, gave the council a good idea of what happened.

—A definite University policy should be established for dealing with unrecognized groups.

A report from a subcommittee of the faculty disciplinary committee was expected late Thursday at a meeting of the group. The report could result in a policy similar to the one mentioned in the court recommendation, said Dr. Sam Basta, Wednesday.

"In all probability, a policy statement will be developed . . . for any future actions of unrecognized groups," said Basta.

Student Safety Worries Deans

Two University deans expressed worry over the safety of Nevada students driving back to their homes for the Christmas holidays this week.

"We want them back alive," said Dr. Sam Basta, dean of students.

Jim Hathorn, dean of men, took a different tack. Recognizing the fact that no University students have died in holiday traffic accidents since 1960, he said "I'm afraid the law of averages is catching up with us."

"I wonder how I'm going to react," asked the Dean of Men as he pondered his reactions if he were to be informed of a student traffic fatality.

Future Diplomats Hear Nevada Prof

Dr. James L. Tigner, asst. prof. of history and political science, returned to Reno Wednesday from two days of delivering lectures on Latin America in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Tigner delivered lectures Monday and Tuesday to the Foreign Service Institute of the State dept., a government agency training future diplomats.

His subjects were "Geo-economic survey of Latin America," and "Immigration, Resettlement and Colonization."

Dr. Tigner was invited to speak to the future diplomats by Howard Sallengerger, dean of the division of language and area study.

He took an extensive background in Latin American affairs with him, including four years work on an immigration project; work as a research associate for the Hoover Institute at Stanford university; and some sixty articles on Latin America written for the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Art Exhibit Closes In Union Lounge

The student art exhibit closes today in the lounge area of the student union.

The exhibit has been set up by students in the form of a Christmas art sale, with about thirty student-produced canvases available to buyers. Prices range from $2-$30.

19-Day Vacation Begins Sunday

University students have nineteen days to celebrate the Christmas season with their friends and families, beginning Sunday, Dec. 16, and ending Wednesday, Jan. 2, 1963.

The residence halls will close at noon Sunday, and will reopen at 9 a. m. Jan. 3.

The Dining Commons will close after dinner Saturday, and will open for breakfast Jan. 3.

All students are expected to report back to classes Jan. 3. In the event of detainment by bad weather or other unforeseen circumstances, they should either call Sam Basta, dean of student affairs, or see him after they arrive.

In special cases, the office of student affairs will request faculty members to consider the absences excused.

William F. Buckley, Jr., and Irving Hall, representing two opposing views on what the future of the House Un-American Activities committee should be, clashed Thursday night in a formal debate in the dining commons.

The two spoke before an audience of more than one hundred in the final phase of the fall student union lecture series.

Their main arguments broke down into these points:

—Buckley, while admitting that he is not in complete agreement with the committee, said some type of group is necessary to investigate communism in the United States. If HUAC is abolished, said Buckley, some other institution should take its place.

—Hall, arguing that the committee is contrary to the United States constitution, call for its abolishment.

Buckley, a 36-year-old graduate of Yale and conservative editor of the National Review, criticized Hall for espousing "what he knows is not true."

The debate topic was — "The House Committee on Un-American Activities Should be Abolished."

Quoting Thomas Paine — "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty"—Buckley said "I am not in love with HUAC, but if it is to be done away with, something else must be put in its place" . . . "in fact," he continued, "something better should replace it."

"I know of no institution which is above criticism . . . any institution has its flaws," said Buckley as he pointed out that the committee has both good and bad points.

Hall, a 25-year-old graduate of the University of California at Riverside in English literature, is treasurer of the Bay Area student committee for the abolition of HUAC. He took a leave from fellowship studies at UC's Berkeley campus to work for the organization after the 1960 San Francisco riot against the committee.

A change in the environment of the nation, rather than intimidation, would do a better job of combating communism in America, said Hall.

He said HUAC is in direct opposition to the principles and freedoms of the United States.

"It is contrary to our judicial system; it brings public scorn; ridicule, and criticism . . . a person is guilty until he proves himself innocent before the House committee," said Hall.

He said HUAC violates the fifth and sixth amendments to the constitution, regarding rights of persons accused of crimes, and the right of trial by jury.

Professors Are Paid to Teach

Last Friday, a member of the faculty devoted a good deal of one class session to a criticism of the Sagebrush—which was reported to the paper through second-hand student sources.

The Sagebrush has no objection to criticism, being by its nature a critic most of the time, but it does appreciate receiving it directly instead of through sources prone to distortion.

In the case of student opinion, the Sagebrush has many times attempted to track it down in an effort to determine the specific criticism, and then apply it to the paper if worthwhile.

Faculty gripes are a different matter.

The Sagebrush editorial staff feels that classroom time should be devoted to the education for which students are paying—not to the propagation of faculty opinions on student life. For years this paper has been used as an example, good and bad, in journalism and English classes, but this is educational. In Friday's case it was not.

This paper appreciates faculty criticism, as long as it is delivered first-hand, and not at the expense of Nevada's students.

Sigma Nu Hears Late Regent; Establishes 'Newt Crumley Room'

Sigma Nu members and alumni listened to one of the last public speeches delivered by the late Newton Crumley at their annual Crumley dinner Wednesday night.

Crumley's speech at the 1961 Crumley dinner, recorded last year, was re-played to the diners Wednesday.

One room in the new north addition of the Sigma Nu house was designated the "Newt Crumley Room" in honor of the chapter's alumnus—a former regent and hotelman who died in an airplane crash in January.

The room will have a special plaque on the wall, said Tom Case, Sigma Nu president.

Don Heath was awarded the $150 Alagre scholarship; Dave Bartlett was named best 1961-62 member and Gary Annoni best pledge for the same period, in other awards announced during the evening.

Ray Del Turco, house manager, supervised the dinner-sponsored in part by Mrs. Newton Crumley, widow of the regent. She continued a tradition begun years ago by Crumley's parents, who furnished the turkeys for the first dinner.

Corn Takes Proposals To Blue Key Confab

A pair of resolutions concerning the national Blue Key honor fraternity will be introduced by Gordon Corn, junior pre-dental major, at the Dec. 28-30 national convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Corn will propose (1) that Blue Key adopt a national service project, and (2) the specific form the project should take, possibly one of assistance to foreign students.

Corn will also present a progress report, outlining the work of the Nevada chapter during the past year. Items in the report will include Project Mud, registration work, the Trek-Nik, and high school relations.

Yes, Virginia, There Is a Santa Claus

From the New York Sun:

(Eds. Note: In 1879 a little girl named Virginia O'Hanlon wrote to the editor of the New York Sun asking "Is there a Santa Claus? My daddy says if you see it in the Sun it's so." Francis P. Church's editorial reply has since been reprinted by countless newspapers each Christmas. It has been overdone in some cases, but is as much a part of Christmas as carols, trees, and Santa Claus himself.)

"Virginia, Your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, or ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would the world be if there were no SANTA CLAUS! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith, then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We would have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in SANTA CLAUS! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch SANTA CLAUS, but even if they did not see SANTA CLAUS coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees SANTA CLAUS, but that is no sign there is no SANTA CLAUS. The most real things in the world are those which neither man nor children can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that is no proof they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else as real and abiding.

"No SANTA CLAUS! Thank God. He lives and he lives forever! A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten-thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Student Teaching Applications Due

Student teaching applications should be submitted immediately to the College of Education, Dean Garold D. Holstine said Tuesday.

Application forms are available today in room 101 of the education building, and should be turned in before Christmas vacation starts Saturday.

Letters to the Editor

Reader Suggests New AWS Policies

Editor, The Sagebrush:

Sir, your paper is lacking extensively! You have had plenty of time and there is no excuse for such a discrepancy!

I suggest you keep up with the new AWS rulings by printing a page of nothing more than male apartment ratings. Red and white stars would naturally be used with corresponding Freudian significance. Won't it be fun to see weekly who has Red and White stars.

I would also suggest that AWS stop wasting money on educational lectures and put the money to much better use. ("better" only by some campus members' standards). Then this money could be put towards the purchase of buses with chauffeurs and footmen. (footman is only a cover up for chaperone.) Then and only then will AWS achieve its goal (AWS stands for Abolishment of Womens' Sex-lives) for then each and every girl will be called for at her respective living establishment and chaperoned to the appropriately chaperoned event for that evening and then chaperoned back to their properly guarded abodes. Those whose apt. ratings were white for that week naturally would be able to sit in the back of the well-lighted bus.

If AWS finds this too expensive I'm sure some faculty members could pull a few strings and require girls to bring their mothers to college with them. After all this would be the safest approach because what could happen before this ruling could also happen on campus at any time.

I can only see one advantage for the male: With all these mothers around we would not need an over-officious campus cop.

And now I would like to close with a word of advice: Remember girls, Big Sister is Watching.

PETER GRAY

P. S. I wonder if girls have to bring notes from their mothers after Christmas Vacation saying they were good?

Congress allowed 20 million board feet of timber to be cut annually from the Menominee Indian Reservation in Wisconsin in 1890, the first law regulating the cutting of timber on Federal lands.

Lack of Communication Hurting Man, Says Prof

A lack of communication is the "fatal flaw" leading mankind to self-destruction and dehumanization, said Dr. Erling Skorpen, asst. prof. of philosophy, Wednesday night.

Skorpen, the third speaker in the AWS "Last Lecture" series, said men have become strangers to themselves.

"Our lives have become outer-directed rather than inner-directed," he said.

Pointing to cocktail party conversations as examples, he contended that people are afraid to expose their true feelings to earnest evaluation.

"The conversation is polite, gay, intellectual, and sometimes dazzling, but it is a froth, a pretense, and a sham," said Skorpen.

Science, said Skorpen, is impoverishing the human spirit by pushing into every phase of human life. A God-like talent, present in all men, could be released if individuals would realize the enormity of doing wrong against a "man-god," he asserted.

"Human nature is a potent and plastic instrument for growth," he said.

The only reality is the present, Skorpen added. He said that men can ponder the past and dream of the future, but can do nothing about either one.

"Whatever we want to accomplish we must do it now for it is the only existence we are sure of. Today must be lived as if it were the last day, as tomorrow may never come, and the possibilities of today will be stolen from us and never be presented again," he concluded.

Approximately fifty persons attended the lecture.

Mens' Choir Practice Starts; 20 Sign to Sing With Group

"Beginnings are always the hardest, but I am pleasantly surprised by the enthusiastic response," said Ed Houghton on the future of his new Men's Choir, Tuesday.

Twenty men have already signed up for the chorus and practice has begun with a sacred piece, "O os Omnes", written by Spanish composer T. L. de Victoria.

Houghton expects at least thirty men to complete the group, composed of both students and faculty and attributes the present lack of manpower to conflicts in time.

The choir now meets at 11 a. m. on Thursdays but next semester will be changed to Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9.

The choir will also be offered for academic credit next semester. Details are being worked out.

Houghton has already ordered music for the spring semester, including international folk songs, Negro spirituals, and collegiate songs. Planning to perform in late spring, Houghton predicts "a real fine group by then."

Houghton, who received his B. of A. in Music from Rutgers last spring, is working on his master's degree at Nevada.

At Rutgers he was manager and student conductor of the Rutgers

Glee club, which recently cut a record and made a tour of northern Europe. The record, "Songs Our Alma Mater Taught Us", is now heard on the "College Bowl" television quiz show.

The King of Norway, Olaf V, invited the Rutgers Glee club to represent America at the Bergen festival last summer.

Panel Discusses Cloud Seeding

"Cloud seeding" discoveries were the main discussion topics of the National Science Foundation weather modification panel's meeting on campus last week.

Encouraging reports of "cloud seeding" as a remedy for "damaging" weather were made by scientists from Colorado State university, Oregon State university and Denver.

The University of Nevada's own Desert Research Institute's "seeding" experiments were added to the panel's findings.

Other developments presented showed an increase in Colorado snowfall on "seeded" days, and the reduction of Oregon hailstone size by means of "seeding."

Large hailstones have long been a menace to crops.

Fraternities Add 14 New Pledges

Nevada's fraternities have gained fourteen pledges since the formal rush period at the beginning of the semester.

The large fraternities are allowed to pledge men from formal rush until mid-semester, while smaller fraternities may pledge men for the entire semester.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has pledged five men since formal rush. They are Stephen Abbott, Robert Porter, Gene Robinson, John Rositer, and Timothy Webb.

Three men are pledged to Sigma Nu. They are Robert Cleare, Ray Pasquetti, and David Decker.

Pledges to other fraternities included Jim Nelson and Tom Ross, Alpha Tau Omega; Kenneth Miller, Phi Sigma Kappa; Keith Hugh, Theta Chi; and Brian Lapworth, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Manzanita Girls Host Local Children

The women of Manzanita hall held their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children Wednesday night around the dormitory fireplace.

Santa Claus was Dave Bartholomew, who handed out presents as seven local children munched cookies, sipped hot chocolate, and opened their Christmas stockings. Diane McGihon was chairman of the affair.

By JOSE ALVAREZ, Guest Columnist

Just as promised, here I am. I don't have any business sticking my nose in someone else's business, but it is well known that non-critics like me keep this sort of column full.

The ASUN library committee has just drafted a Code of Conduct for the benefit of those students who are interested in keeping the library a library, rather than a social lounge. Talking is getting too far out of hand. The pencil tapping is expected to be respected by everyone, and I back the library committee 100% in their idea.

Other discrepancies noted in the library are the smoking habit and the "alligator pool". The floors are made of cork, not tile. They burn easily. So won't you please put out your cigarettes in the ash-trays rather than the floor? The second one is the pool in the lower part of the building. It was put there for your enjoyment not for you to discard papers, gum, and cigarette butts.

On the other hand, many students have complained about the fact that library personnel are getting pretty noisy. The answering of phones and the clicking of typewriters distract too many students. I suggest that if you want to get rid of these noises, you write a suggestion and place it in the suggestion box, that's why it's there!

AT THE DANCES . . .

Pi Phi president Ellen Murphy refused to comment on her dance, I wonder why. Couples that are believed to have attended the dance were Judy Wilson and Don Banta, Barbara Parish and Bill Stintson, Dennis Farnesi and Penny White.

At the Riverside, Gamma Phis had extra entertainment, rendered by Peggy Hayman, who apparently decided to compete with "Vive Les Girls." Miss Hayman got up on the lounge stage and began to sing "I Left My Love In San Francisco" for her cheering audience—no custom, no remarks. At the dance, noted for gift exchange were Margie Russell who gave her date a pair of red pajamas, and Toddy Watkins, who in retaliation for a previous gift, gave her date, Kent Folgate, a very funny looking device for sportsmen . . . ? Seen on the dance floor were Marilyn Ranney and Phi Sig Ep Stopper, who just gave his pin away last Monday, and Lyle Rivera and Chris Gang.

Tri-Delt Judy Schmidt visited the hardware store Saturday before her dance. The previous week her date, Jimmy Richards, gave her a plaque implying he needed some washers . . . ? Judy went to the hardware store and got the washers for Jimmy. Couples seen at the dance included Carolyn Cadamatori, and Tim Lane, Wendy Post and Rick Miles, Linda Wadsworth and Bryan Fox, Joel Glover and Judy Norcott.

At the Theta dance Christmas bells rang for the season, and church bells rang for Marilyn Petersen and Mike Paradis by announcing their engagement. Tau Paul Weir, "Midge", received an unforgettable present from Theta pledge Sue Whitaker . . . a dump truck!

FACTS OF COLLEGE LIFE . . .

What happens when mother takes a short vacation and college girl stays home to fix breakfast for daddy? Further on, suppose daddy likes eggs easy up, and college girl doesn't know even how to crack an egg shell? Here is what this college girl did. She got up two hours before daddy, warmed the pan, and began to cook her life away.

After ruining at least ten eggs, she finally came close to some eggs like daddy likes them. The problem now was, what would college girl do with the ten eggs she ruined? Nothing unusual. Our college girl ate them so daddy wouldn't see any waste. That night college girl called mom and said, "mom, come home, I don't think dad likes the way I cook; I mean, I don't think I can cook more breakfasts for daddy! But why?" said mom, — well, mainly because I hate eggs!"

TUB Snack Bar Closes Until Spring; Part-Time Facilities Go to Commons

Moving activities begin today in the student union snack bar, which closed down in its present location Thursday to re-open sometime during the spring semester.

Although vending machines will operate during Christmas vacation, both the dining commons and the snack area will be closed until Jan. 3, 1963, said Bob Kersey, director of student services, Tuesday.

Some snack bar facilities will be moved to the dining commons during vacation, Kersey said.

The serving hours will shift slightly when school opens again, with an adjustment in dining commons hours to accommodate the new operation.

Snack bar hours will still be 8:30-11 a. m. and 1-4 p. m., but dining commons lunch hours have been extended one-half hour, said Kersey. They will be 11 a. m.-1 p. m., he said.

Regular snack bar patrons will be able to eat breakfast in the dining commons until the re-located facilities open after an estimated three-month period.

The move, caused by construction on the new student union addition, will relocate the snack bar in the area now occupied by the Sierra, Nevada, and Truckee meeting rooms. The meeting rooms will be eliminated entirely for a time, pending completion of construction on the new building.

The new addition, costing over $450,000, will include meeting rooms with serving facilities, a new snack bar on the ground floor, a new ASUN bookstore, and storage rooms.

The present bookstore will be remodeled into a supplementary lounge, said Kersey, and may be used as a banquet room; while permanent wind-and-sun protection is a possibility for the snack bar's present patio extension.

ASUN and student union offices will be moved into the new addition, along with the University health service, and two special guest rooms for parents and visiting lecturers.

CCUN Sponsors Annual Dinner

The Collegiate Council of the United Nations holds its second annual progressive Christmas dinner tonight, beginning at 5:30 p. m. at the home of Donal Ruth Murphy, 1075 Wren street.

Hors d'oeuvres will be served at Miss Murphy's home, and the group will move to the home of Larry Struve, 1770 Royal drive, for soup from 6:30-7:15 p. m.

The third course, fruit salad, will be served at Barbara Coughlan's residence, 1313 W. Plumb lane, from 7:30-8:15 p. m.

Ron Watson's home, 1001 Foothill road, will feature the main dish from 8:45-9:30 p. m., and the group will have dessert at the home of Renate Gratt, 5650 Wedekind road, Sparks, from 9:45-10:30 p. m.

Students, including CCUN members and others, are invited to attend. A one dollar donation may be brought to the dinner, or given to Benny Echeverria, foreign student advisor, today.

The evening will conclude with dancing in the dining commons, starting at 10:30 p. m.

Loan Applications Available Today

Students desiring to procure National Defense Student loan applications for the spring semester, must secure forms today from the director of financial aids, William Rasmussen.

Complete forms must be returned to this office before Jan. 1, 1963.

Students borrowing the N. S. D. L. program must be majoring or have areas of concentration in education, math, science (natural or applied), foreign language, and engineering.

The results of the ASUN Bookstore inventory, taken early this month, will be made available at the end of January, 1963.

Drama Prof to Read Paper to Convention

Dr. Arthur Hastings, asst. prof. of speech and drama, will read a paper, "New Light on Modes of Reasoning", at the National Convention of the Speech Association of America later this month.

The paper is a research on reasoning and thinking processes, said Dr. Hastings.

The convention will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 28-30.

Ski Outlook Good For '63 Season; Just Need Snow

By BRUCE POZZI

The outlook for the University of Nevada ski team looks promising despite the loss of All-American Dick Dorworth and the lack of snow.

Dorworth is now making a bid for the 1964 U. S. Winter Olympic team. Last year, as a Wolf Pack performer, he placed second in the NCAA slalom at Squaw Valley.

Chelton Leonard, Nevada ski coach, is back after a three-year absence while serving as executive director of the National Ski association.

Leonard has four returnees from last year's team, which took fifth in NCAA competition. They are Jim Berry, Mike Brunetto, and Bob Kean in the Alpine events and Dave Small in Nordic competition.

One of the Silver and Blue's best prospects, however, is freshman Lane Monroe. Monroe was a stand-out in the Reno Falcon program last year as a junior competitor. He competed in the Junior National championships, Olympic Anniversary Giant slalom, and Reno's Silver Dollar derby.

Leonard also has numbers to rely upon. His Wolf Pack skiers number thirty strong.

Wolves to Meet Creighton, Regis; Nevada Southern in Vegas Series

By BRUCE POZZI
Sagebrush Sports Staff

Coach Jack Spencer and his ten-man traveling squad leave today for the first leg of a nine day, six-game basketball trek.

The Silver and Blue will face Santa Clara, Nevada Southern, Creighton University, and Regis College during the Christmas holidays.

The Pack will take a one-and-one record into the series. They hold a victory over Weber College and a loss to the San Francisco Olympic club.

Commenting on the Pack's 82-70 loss Monday night to the Olympic club, Spencer said the Winged-O's were "too big and too good."

He also said his cagers gained valuable playing experience against a bigger team.

Nine players have been named to the traveling squad. They include starters Bill Robinson, Bob Donlan, Paul Speer, Chico Feilback and Joe deArrieta. Stu Johnson, Bob Schebler, Lonnie Moore, and Harlan Heward were also named, but Spencer has yet to decide between Mike Lane and Tom Ross for the tenth member of the traveling team.

The Santa Clara Broncos will offer Nevada formidable competition. Tuesday night the Broncos defeated highly-ranked Wichita 72-67. The Broncos are led by seniors Joe Weiss, 6-7, and Leroy Jackson, 6-5½.

Other starters for Coach Dick Garibaldi's Broncs are juniors Tim Cullen, 6-1, and Joe Meagher, 6-0, and sophomore Bruce Asch, 6-4. The Wolf Pack will meet Santa Clara tonight and tomorrow.

After leaving Santa Clara the Spencermen will take on the Nevada Southern Rebels of Las Vegas on Dec. 18-19.

Creighton University of Omaha will be the next Wolf Pack opponent. Creighton was picked nineteenth in pre-season balloting by sportswriters and coaches. Last year the Bluejays defeated Nevada 76-69.

Paul Silas, and Jim Bakos, both 6-7, head the Bluejay team. Other starters for coach John McManus include Loren James, 6-5, Larry Wagner, 5-10, and Pete McManamon, 6-4.

Teams on the Creighton schedule include some of the nation's top-ranked squads; LaSalle College, Ohio state, Bradley, Marquette, and St. John's.

Regis College of Denver beat the UN cagers back in 1959 by the score of 77-75. The Wolf Pack hoopsters will be gunning for revenge when they move into Denver for the final road game.

Regis will present Nevada with a team loaded with experience but short on height. Jim Jones, 6-6, checks in as the Ranger's tallest. Ben Wesley, Dean Sullivan, Lew Stout, all 6-3, and Bill Whalen, 5-10, complete the starting quintet.

Fight Films Top Bill Daniels Night

Some of the greatest fights of the century — including those of Joe Louis and Rocky Marciano — will be shown via film at "Bill Daniel Night," Monday, Jan. 7 at 8 p. m. in the National Guard Armory.

The evening of food, drink and entertainment will honor Nevada's four-year football veteran, who leaves Jan. 24 for a two-year stay in Japan.

In addition to sports film, entertainment for the stag affair will include singing by Bobby Herron, Nevada halfback.

Local merchants are donating a number of door prizes, said Tony Klenakis, chairman.

A buffet will include coldcuts, salads, breads and beverages, Klenakis added.

Noting that most fraternity elections are being held the same night as "Bill Daniels Night," he pointed out that "this event affords a good opportunity for all fraternity men to get together afterwards."

Tickets, at $3 each, are being sold by Klenakis, John Genasci, Bob Backus, Joe O'Keefe, Ray Del Turko, John Prida, Dick Pinion, Tony Wheeler, Andy MacKenzie, John Doyle and Jack Renwick.

They may also be purchased at the Little Waldorf.

ATO Grabs Intramural Lead

Alpha Tau Omega took sole possession of first-place last week in the intramural double-elimination basketball tournament. ATO, with three victories and no defeats, is followed by Lambda Chi Alpha (3-1), off-campus Independents (2-1), Sigma Nu (2-1), and Phi Sigma Kappa (2-1).

ATO scored a 42-24 victory over the Independents behind the scoring of Kirk Kinne and Marty Hawkins. The score was deadlocked, 12-12, at halftime. Randy Gillette's seven was high for the Independents.

Lambda Chi remained in contention by outscoring a tough Artemisia Hall team 32-30. Barry Miller's 13 and Jerry Schultz's 10 paced Lambda Chi. Bud Forman scored 13 for Artemisia hall.

Phi Sigma Kappa, the only small house left in the tournament, beat Theta Chi, 41-32. Phi Sig scorers were Ron Beaubien with 17, John Bauer, 10, and Bob Frost, 10.

Intramural play has been discontinued until Jan. 3, 1963, when Sigma Nu will hook up with the Phi Sigs with the winner to play Lambda Chi.

The first national park reservation, Yellowstone, was set aside by Congress in 1872.

Editor, Lt. Gov. Talk to Gridders

Nevada State Journal editor Ty Cobb, and Lieutenant-Governor-elect Paul Laxalt joined the University of Nevada football team at their annual dinner Tuesday night.

The banquet, held at the Club Jubilee on Highway 395 was highlighted by a Laxalt talk on the merits of football, and a plaque presentation by Bill Daniels.

Daniels represented the entire team in presenting the plaque to the coaches Dick Trachok, Floyd Edsall, Bill Ireland, and Dick Dankworth.

Christ Climbed Down

(Eds. Note—This poem, submitted by the Campus Christian association, was written by Lawrence Ferlinghetti in 1958, and is reprinted by permission of New Director-Publishers, and the author.)

Christ climbed down from His bare Tree this year and ran away to where there were no rootless Christmas trees hung with candycanes and breakable stars

Christ climbed down from His bare Tree this year and ran away to where there were no gilded Christmas trees and no tinsel Christmas trees and no pink plastic Christmas trees and no gold Christmas trees and no black Christmas trees and no powderblue Christmas trees hung with electric candles and encircled by tin electric trains and clever cornball relatives

Christ climbed down from His bare Tree this year and ran away to where no intrepid Bible salesman covered the territory in two-tone cadillacs and where no Sears Roebuck creches complete with plastic babe in manger arrived by parcel post the babe by special delivery and where no televised Wise Men praised the Lord Calvert Whiskey

Christ climbed down from His bare Tree this year and ran away to where no fat handshaking stranger in a red flannel suit and a fake white beard went around passing himself off as some sort of North Pole saint crossing the desert to Bethlehem Pennsylvania in a Volkswagon sled drawn by rollicking Adirondack reindeer with German names and bearing sacks of Humble Gifts from Saks Fifth Avenue for everybody's imagined Christ child

Christ climbed down from His bare Tree this year and ran away to where no Bing Crosby carollers groaned of a tight Christmas and where no Radio City angels iceskated wingless thru a winter wonderland into jinglebell heaven daily at 8:30 with Midnight Mass matinees

Christ climbed down from His bare Tree this year and softly stole away into some anonymous Mary's womb again where the darkest night of everybody's anonymous soul He awaits again an unimaginable and impossibly Immaculate Reconciliation the very craziest of Second Comings

... Sundowners

Basta said two "key problems" have hindered action in the case: (1) how to deal with an unrecognized group, and (2) whether to discipline a group or individuals.

Basta said he would "probably" establish some penalties to deal with similar activities in the future.

"I think they've made an excellent recommendation," said Basta of the court's action. John Doyle, Sundowner president, answered with a nodding, but unenthusiastic, agreement.

Basta pointed out that, although the Sundowners are not recognized as a campus organization by the ASUN, they have existed as an organization since 1921.

"As a consequence, you will be disciplined as a group," he told Doyle.

The party, termed by some an "anti-Military Ball," was followed by a complaint from the owner of the hall. The Sundowners fixed some of the damage and paid the owner $58.60 for repairs.

Dean Basta, who had first described the place as "the damndest thing we ever saw," later backtracked, saying the hall was in no condition for a dance in the first place.

Congress passed the Free Timber Act in 1878 allowing settlers to cut timber on mineral lands for domestic and mining uses.

Band, Drill Team Head for 49'er Halftime Show

San Francisco's Kezar stadium is the destination of the University of Nevada band and the Nevad-Anns drill team when they leave campus Saturday morning. It will be the second trip for the two groups. Under the direction of Dr. John L. Carrico the 90-piece marching unit will perform during half-time of the San Francisco 49'ers - Cleveland Browns professional football game at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. The show will be carried nationally on CBS television.

The theme of the half-time performance will be "A Salute to the Christmas Holidays," with numbers including a baton twirling routine to "Sleigh Ride," by Audrey Chambers, Miss Nevada of 1962.

The Nevad-Anns led by Mary Lee Parmenter, will perform "Winter Wonderland," combining their routine with the 49'ers twirling group.

Another highlight will be the convention of the band and drill team into a choral group to sing an arrangement of "White Christmas." The mass chorus will be led by Ed Houghton, graduate assistant in the music department.

The San Francisco trip marks the final 1962 appearance of the marching band. Earlier this fall, the band and Nevad-Anns performed in the Los Angeles coliseum during the Rams-Baltimore Colts game.

Judge Selection Discussion Set

Over one hundred Nevadans, representing a wide range of professions, will be on campus Saturday for a one day conference on the selection of judges in Nevada.

Discussion will include judicial selection in Nevada, and an analysis of the present system and its problems.

William W. Crowder, executive director of the Missouri Institute for the Administration of Justice will speak in the dining commons during the 12:30 p. m. luncheon.

Court Statement

(Editor's Note: The following is printed on request from the student judicial council.)

The following comments and recommendations are made by the Student Judicial Council in view of testimony given December 4, 6 and 7, 1962, concerning the Sundowner party of November 17, held at the Sun Valley Community Hall.

Due to lack of precedence, the Judicial Council's recommendations have been based to a large degree upon University policies concerning recognized groups comprised of University students.

The Judicial Council wishes to state that when any group of individuals connected with the University sponsors any party or gathering, the sponsoring group is responsible to the University for governing the over-all atmosphere and individual conduct. However, lack of present University policy concerning unrecognized groups comprised of University students has limited our power to render a more specific decision.

We recommend that the Sundowners be warned against future similar actions of Sundowner members and their guests. We feel just in recommending a special warning to the Sundowners as they stated during testimony of the case that their future parties will be more strictly controlled.

We feel that testimony given was indicative of individual opinion, based upon each person's background and feelings, and served to give the Council evidence that a party did occur.

The Student Judicial Council recommends that a definite University policy be established for further dealings with unrecognized groups. We would like to urge expediency in providing such a policy.
