THE SCENERY IS IMPROVING

Young, Walters Outstanding Greeks

Harry Walters and Linda Young were named Outstanding Greeks of the Year at a buffet-style dinner honoring the outgoing IFC and Pan-Hellenic officers at the Theta Chi house last Thursday night.

"It was like a climax to my feeling toward the University and fraternity system," said Walters. "It made me remember my last year as IFC president . . . I would like to thank all the fraternities for the support they have given me."

Walters, a member of Sigma Nu, is a senior pre-medical student, past president of IFC, and vice-president of Western Regional IFC.

Selected to Who's Who in American Colleges, he is a member of Coffin and Keys, Blue Key, and Alpha Epsilon Delta, is a pre-med honorary fraternity.

Walters has chosen the University of Oregon medical school to finish his medical training.

"It was a definite honor; I feel I've gained so much from my four years as a sorority member," says Miss Young. ". . . it has been an important part of my college life. My thanks to the Theta Chis and to those who nominated me."

Miss Young, a senior journalism major and president of Kappa Alpha Theta, is senior women's Senator-at-Large and also a member of Who's Who, Sagens, and Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society.

Deadline Noted For Caps and Gowns

Caps and Gowns are being sold at the ASUN Bookstore. A deposit of $3.50 is required. All measurements must be taken before March 29. The time that you may order is between 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Engraved plaques were presented to the pair by Harvey Lambert of Theta Chi.

The annual Greek banquet was started three years ago by the members of Theta Chi to honor outgoing IFC and Pan Hellenic officers and is attended by presidents and vice-presidents of all Greek living groups.

In Senate . . .

Proposal Tabled On Civil Rights

Tabled: One proposal on civil rights. Senate Wednesday night decided to put off action in support of State Assembly bill 338, which would increase the powers of the Nevada Commission on Equal Rights.

A possible death blow, as far as ASUN support is concerned, the bill is not likely to get student support in time.

The state legislature is running over its constitutional time limit of 60 days and the push to get legislation out of the way will begin at the Capitol.

The consensus of the discussion formed around the idea that the problem concerns the residents of Nevada and not the policies of the University of Nevada.

Theta Chi senator John Bromley pointed out that the ASUN has "no reason to deal with the issue . . . Do we have a problem or are we forcing an issue?" he questioned.

Linda Young senior women's senator-at-large, said that interested individuals could lobby in the state legislature, "but the university should not be used as a tool, which I think is being done," she said.

A lengthy silence greeted ASUN president Mike Mackedon's call for new business. Finally, Dave Cooper, newly-elected student union senator, rose to speak. tative of the student union, he was not allowed to bring up the issue, he suggested that an interested senator move to endorse AB 338.

After the bill was thrown on the floor, Cooper had this to say, "I, myself, am unequivocally opposed to discrimination in any way, shape, or form; however, I would not have mentioned the issue because of this. I believe that it was time to be discussed."

SAE senator Mike Sloan read Senate Concurring Resolution No. 26, which showed the Nevada legislators' strong feelings on the right of the property owners to own and operate his business in any way that he so desires.

A revised yell-leader selection policy and a motion to appoint a committee to do further work on the honor code were also approved.

TUB Directors Hobble Cooper's Senate Powers

Directors of the Jot Travis student union voted Tuesday night to limit the power of their senator, Dave Cooper, preventing him from introducing a civil rights resolution to the ASUN senate.

By unanimous vote, the power of introduction of the board's senator, was limited to only those matters that reflect the majority opinion of the board. The board then voted unanimously against the resolution on civil rights.

Board finance chairman Bud Olsen brought the issue before the group and remarked that he "didn't want to see the student union used as a spring board for political aspirations of individuals."

As the discussion warmed up, Cooper, whose power was being questioned, said he felt that the student union board represents the entire student body, as compared to a living-group dominated ASUN senate.

But when the issue finally came to a vote it was apparent that the other board members did not share Cooper's conviction.

Earlier in the evening, before a quorum was present, Olsen warned the board that the Union should not get involved with a newly-proposed student publication edited by Cooper, without first giving the matter serious consideration.

Dale Donathan Wins Scholarship

Dale Donathan, senior history major, will be one of many experimenters in international living next summer.

Donathan has been selected by the Experimenters' Association as the recipient of a $300 scholarship to pay for partial expenses to Chile.

While there, Donathan will live with a Chilean family. An evaluation of his experiences will be submitted in a report to the Experimenters' committee upon his return to the United States.

Last fall Donathan was appointed to 20-member council for the National Federation of College Young Democrats. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, president of CCUN, vice-president of Phi Alpha Theta, state director of College Young Democrats, and Who's Who.

Author Reads Work To English Club

English instructor Frederick E. Tremallo read from both his published short story, "Raftery", and a novel he is working on at Monday's poetry reading in the lounge of the Fine Arts building.

Robert Strane, asst. prof. of speech and drama, will read from the works of Ezra Pound next Monday at 4 p. m.

The readings are sponsored by the English club.

Senate Absentees

Absent from Wednesday's meeting of the ASUN senate were Judy Black, Arts and Science; Marsha Frankovich, Business Administration, and Skip Avansino, Sigma Nu.

Let It Die

The civil rights issue is in for a cooling-off period on campus, at least until the next meeting of the ASUN senate, scheduled for April 3.

The senate voted Wednesday night to table a motion endorsing AB 338, a civil rights bill currently in the Carson City legislative hopper, until that meeting. If the legislature, which ended its legal 60-day length this week, adjourns before that time, the possibility of ASUN support for the measure will be dead. If it is, fine.

The issue has continued to remain alive for too long a period, causing ill will, ill-used words, and unfortunate phrases that would have been better unsaid in the first place. If it is resurrected, then it will be dealt with for a final time, but if it remains dormant, well and good.

There are many constructive things that students can do, instead of dredging up issues that do nothing but cause trouble and ill-feeling on campus.

Representation

A question of representation presented itself at Tuesday's meeting of the student union board. Dave Cooper, student union senator, told the board that it was more representative than the ASUN senate.

This is a difficult thing to understand, since the board is a self-perpetuating group, appointing its own members. Students have no say in the selection of board members, but they do in the election of ASUN senators. There must be a difference.

Deserved Recognition

Two members of the University of Nevada's Greek system were rewarded last week by Theta Chi Fraternity, a group that annually names the "Outstanding Greeks of the Year." This year, the outstanding Greeks were Linda Young and Harry Walters.

Both have served the University during their collegiate years with hard work and devotion.

Miss Young, a president of her sorority, has worked tirelessly in her post of Women's Senate-at-Large for the past two years.

Walters, a former president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, had a great deal to do with a revitalization of that group, and the strengthening of the Greek system on this campus. He was also an officer in the regional IFC.

Both awards were a fitting recognition for jobs well done.

SAE's Should Be Embarrassed

Editor, the Sagebrush:

The members of the Nevada chapter of Spurs would like to thank the fraternities and independent living groups for their willing participation in selecting candidates for the "Ugly Man" contest, which is given nationally by Spurs chapters. There is one notable exception to the full co-operation received from these living groups, and that is the SAE house.

The Ugly Man contest was originated with the idea of having the equivalent of a queen contest for the University men. Realizing that a contest for the "Campus Pretty Boy" would be ridiculous, the Spurs initiated a contest with a completely opposite title, hoping to catch the eye. This has been done on campuses nationally. The contest is, as is any contest of this sort, based on popularity. The question then becomes, who is the best-liked guy on campus!

As the organization of Spurs has been on this campus for only one year as a full-fledged member of the national organization, it is necessary that everything we do be well-received on campus. We must succeed in everything, not only so we present a good appearance on campus, but so we appear successful to our national organization. Much to our embarrassment, when we sent out our requests that candidates be selected to run for Ugly Man, the SAE house found itself too busy to accept our request. Perhaps they were too vain to accept our request in the light in which it was intended? If there ever was a misunderstanding, it should not have taken two years to clear it up! Perhaps the men of SAE should be embarrassed for the picture they have painted of themselves to the rest of the campus.

Spurs is a national honorary service organization for the betterment of the entire campus. We only hope that small requests for the co-operation of the groups we serve will be honored by all in the future.

Sincerely yours,
BARBARA BEESLEY, president
The Nevada Spurs

Regulation Is Not Fascism

Editor, the Sagebrush:

I was somewhat amazed to learn in your last editorial that regulation of business is fascism. If my copy of the U. S. Constitution is correct human rights are guaranteed therein and property rights are not. The businessman has never had the right to run his business as he pleased with a public-be-damned attitude. The government regulates wages, hours and working conditions. Health and sanitation codes are set up and enforced. These are all done in the public interest. Someone once called this "government of the people, for the people and by the people." We are these people. All of us, regardless of color or creed.

I cannot see that the businessman's or anyone else's freedoms are disappearing because the practice of discriminating cannot be called a freedom. There is a line between liberty and license. The permits under which businesses operate demonstrate that to be in business is a privilege, not a right. Private enterprise capitalism would be unworkable in our modern world without the stability and protection afforded by government regulation. Remember that the same government that passes minimum wage laws and civil rights laws also passes protective tariffs and prevents unfair competition.

But then of course under the feudal system we didn't have government regulation of business. We didn't have any government to speak of. Come to think of it, there wasn't much business either.

Letters to the Editor

Sincerely,
JOE LAUNIE

Member of Race Questions Editorial

Editor, the Sagebrush:

I humbly question the editorial remark concerning "... the fascist concept of private ownership with strict state control," as it is used in conjunction with "If the bil (i. e., AB338, pertaining to civil rights) were passed, the right of a man to use his property as he sees fit would be sharply curtailed," which appears above it, in Sagebrush, March 19th.

This seems to me to imply that the editorial, by extension, clearly is in favor of a man using his property with no social guides whatsoever. Does "property" in the editorial's context mean, say, deer rifles, as well as liquor licenses?

D. K. PIERSTORFF
Member, human race

P. S.: Note that I refer to the editorial, not to your personal beliefs—to which I shall never refer.

Who Made 'Deals' For CCUN 'Support'?

Editor, the Sagebrush:

I refer to Mr. Rashdan's letter in today's "Sagebrush." I suggest that Mr. Rashdan did not mean to write what he wrote about the CCUN. Perhaps it was due to lack of vocabulary.

Mr. Rashdan writes, "... rules and regulations are being made, and event constitution has been drawn up . . . and yet the individuals responsible for the CCUN's constitution are not members of their organization . . ."

What rules and regulations, and what constitution Mr. Rashdan? The constitution of the CCUN was drawn up by the people who founded the organization on this campus, and it was not founded this year. Are you suggesting that we discard the present constitution because it was drawn up by people who are no longer members of the organization? If you are, do you mean to say that an organization has to have a new constitution drawn up each year? For there are bound to be new members each year. Is that the way to run an organization?

As for "rules and regulations," I fail to see what you are referring to. I think, however, that you mean the drawing up of a program of activities for the semester. Is the arranging of a program synonymous with making "rules and regulations?"

Mr. Rashdan, can you name one person who made "a few deals for support" and found himself an office-holder of the CCUN? Perhaps you are not aware of the fact that the present officers of the organization were elected in the spring of 1962.

Finally, Mr. Rashdan, may I suggest that if you were disappointed because you could not recruit members of the CCUN into the organization you proposed to form, you better keep quiet rather than try to discredit the CCUN.

Very truly yours,
SHERIDAN D. CHIRWA

Frankovich Thanks Campaign Supporters

My Fellow Students,

I would like to take this opportunity to extend sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the support you extended to me in the recent ASUN election. As your new ASUN second vice president, I shall work hard to serve all students of the University to the best of my abilities.

With gratitude and thanks,
MARSHA FRANKOVICH

When in Rome . . . Learn to Count

Editor, the Sagebrush:

In the banner of the Sagebrush, issue of Wednesday, October 24, 1962, the volume number appears in Roman numerals as 38 (XXXVIII). In the next issue of the paper on Friday, October 26, 1962, the volume number appears as 33 (XXXIII).

From that date of issue to the latest issue the numerals remain 33 (XXXIII).

In your experience, which of these paper volume numbers, 38 (XXXVIII), or 33 (XXXIII), will be the collector's items in the years to come?

Yours truly,
GRAY POOLE

Eds. Note: Beat's us Gray. If it's really 38 (XXXVIII), then maybe we never really said all those nasty things about our readers after all.

President-Elect Thanks Supporters

To the students of the University of Nevada:

I would like to thank those people who supported me in the A. S. - U. N. general election.

I will endeavor to do the best job I can in the coming year.

If any students have any questions pertaining to student government or the University, I hope they will feel free to come in and talk to me at any time.

JIM ACHESON
ASUN President-elect

Looks to Good Year For ASUN

Editor, the Sagebrush:

Now that the excitement of campus elections has passed, I would like to express my deepest appreciation for the support given me by the student body in the last ASUN elections. I had the opportunity to meet many of the students of Nevada in the last two weeks, and after hearing and seeing the problems they see in student government, I am looking forward to a constructive year as ASUN First Vice-president in helping to meet these problems.

During the campaign I encouraged all the people I met to feel free to bring their ideas and problems into the ASUN office. I not only further encourage this idea, but due to the trust placed in me by the students, I pledge myself toward helping to increase student interest and activity in the University community. As our University undergoes a rapid expansion in the next few years, the student body will have to do all that it can to maintain whatever influence it has had on this campus. I readily accept this challenge and sincerely thank all the people who helped me in the last election to serve the students to this end.

Sincerely,
LARRY STRUVE

Faculty Member Cites Code

Editor, the Sagebrush:

May I quote the University Code?

"It is not the function of the faculty member to indoctrinate his students with ready-made conclusions on controversial subjects. He is expected to teach students to think for themselves, and to provide them access to those materials that they need if they are to think intelligently. Hence, in giving instruction upon controversial matters, the faculty member is expected to be of a fair and judicial mind, and to set forth justly, without suppression or innuendo, the dif-

Fossils Move to Life Science Wing

Specimens of nearly every type of living thing known to exist in the state of Nevada will be moved into the new life-science wing of the Agriculture building during April.

The move, scheduled for April 1, will involve hundreds of thousands of catalogued specimens which have been collected and maintained by the biology department. There are four separate museums which, combined, make up the total collection, currently being stored in the Humanities building.

The mammal and bird collection, maintained by Fred A. Ryser, contains examples of every known mammal and most of the known birds in the state.

The herbs and invertebrates museum, maintained by F. Donald Tibbitts, contains an enormous collection of specimens of great value to graduate students in those fields.

The insects and fish museum, which includes a limited collection of ancient fossils, is maintained by Ira La Rivers, chairman of the biology department. Included among the 25,000 fish in this collection is the interesting cui-ui fish, found only in Nevada's Pyramid Lake.

The herbarium, headed by Dr. Hugh N. Mazingo, contains the thousands of plants found in Nevada. These are carefully preserved in book-like folders for easy reference.

Due to lack of space, these museums have not been open to the public in the past. In the new building, a special section will be reserved for displays. Members of the biology department will explain the collections at a specified time.

THETA CHI DANCE

The "Red Ox Stampede," the Levi Formal presented annually by the men of Theta Chi, will be held Saturday night from 9-12 p.m. at the Rosemount Lodge.

Oregon Professor on Campus To Talk on Medical School

Dr. Joseph B. Trainer, professor of physiology and medicine at the University of Oregon's medical school, will be on campus Monday afternoon, March 25, to explain the medical, dental and other health science programs available at Oregon.

Dr. Trainer will deliver an informative illustrated lecture on the medical and dental schools at his University, and will be available for conferences with interested students.

Students who desire personal conferences with Dr. Trainer should contact Dr. F. D. Tibbitts, room 211, Humanities building.

Erasing Hatred From Genes Possible Says Last Lecturer

By MURIEL ELLIS

A future in which science "will be able to build man according to specifications" was predicted Tuesday night by Dr. Fred Ryser, assoc. prof. of biology, in an AWS-sponsored "Last Lecture" in the dining commons.

Noting that scientists are now able to decipher the genetic code, he asserted that the ability to read the code means that man might have the ability to generate them.

But a great potential for evil as well as good lies, in the ability to generate genes, he said.

Attacks upon science, to the effect that the earth has been misshaped by science, were also commented upon. "Science has never generated a war," said Dr. Ryser.

"All their problems are solved in the lab."

Hatred and intolerance of humans are the causes of war, he said and asked the group to consider how many people had died because of conflicting religion, conflicting philosophies, and disputes over land. Probably everything that could be said about the merits of war and peace had been said, and still hatred was thriving, he said.

Asserting that religions and social institutions have not seemed up to the task before them, and perhaps science would be, he noted that "science may be able to erase hatred and intolerance from the genes."

"Humans could not live as humans were it not for science," said Dr. Ryser.

He believes that the scraping of certain knowledge is wrong, and that the social adjustment of man is behind science, and perhaps that "the people may grow up to science some day."

OCS Recruiters Seek Navymen Next Week

Lt. R. D. Brown of the Navy Recruiting station, San Francisco, will be on campus March 26-28, 1963, at the student union to interview and administer the Officer Qualification Test for the Navy's Officer Candidate School, OCS, at Newport, Rhode Island.

Applicants for the Officer Candidate School Program should be between the ages of 19 and 27, have or be receiving a baccalaureate degree within nine months, and have vision of, at least, 20/200 correctable to 20/20 for Line and at least 20/400 correctable to 20/20 for Restricted Line and Staff Corps.

No commitment is made to the Navy when applying, and applicants are not obligated in any way until they acknowledge acceptance of the program and are sworn in.

Following successful completion of OCS, the newly commissioned Reserve Officer serves on active duty for a three-year period.

Throughout his tour his duty assignments will present challenges in executive leadership requiring versatility, integrity, and the capacity to cope with diversified problems.

The four months of training at OCS, Newport, R. I., stress the technical field of seamanship, weapons, engineering and the broadening field of leadership.

Old Papers Sought For Micro-filming

John Folkes, a University research assistant traveling around the state to micro-film old Nevada newspapers, is heading for Ely to complete the second round in the finding and filming of historical papers.

Folkes recently returned from his tour of Churchill, Lander, and Eureka counties, where he "found some interesting newspaper volumes" and used up twenty five rolls of film.

A big part of his job is searching out the newspapers. In Eureka, for instance, he learned that some Eureka papers could be found in Tonopah. The papers, supposedly on file in the court houses, are often found in libraries or in private homes.

Folkes reports that court house officials are very cooperative with the micro-filming program and he is "charmed with the little Nevada towns."

This week Mr. Folkes will visit White Pine, Lincoln, and Storey counties in search of more old papers. Tentative for April are the Northern counties of the state, while May will find Mr. Folkes in Lyon, Pershing, Nye, and Douglas counties.

Filming of the collection at the Nevada State Library in Carson City will begin when the rest of the State has been completed.

Cooperating with this program, which began in February, are the Desert Research Institute, the University Library, Friends of the University Library, and the department of journalism.

Dr. James W. Hulse, chairman of the advisory committee, states that, "Our big aim is to make the University Library collection the definite collection of Nevada newspapers."

To make this collection complete, the committee is hoping to obtain a copy of the Bancroft Library collection at the University of California, Berkeley, which has many early-day Nevada newspaper on micro-film. They will need more funds to get copies of these.

Chairman Named For IFC Committees

New chairmen have been named for the Inter-Fraternity Council's 1963-64 subcommittees, announced Don Heath, IFC president, Wednesday.

The new committee heads include Larry Hutchings, Lambda Chi Alpha, scholarship; Richard Gwyn, Phi Sigma Kappa, rush; Jim Baratte, Lambda Chi Alpha, house management, and Tom Marshall, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Greek retreat.

All new committee chiefs have been approved by the IFC, said Heath.

Reps on Campus For Job Interviews

Several firms will have their representatives here next week to interview future graduates and alumni for jobs.

Among the firms needing business majors is Sacramento Air Material Area, which needs people in the fields of logistics, procurement, and supply management. Appointments for interviews should be made on Thursday, March 21.

Students who want to work in the Los Angeles area may check with the Prudential Insurance Company. They are looking for administrative trainees. Interviews will be held on Friday, March 22.

The Southern Pacific company in San Francisco is interested in students considering a career in transportation management. The company's representative will be on campus Monday, March 25.

The Travelers Insurance company needs employees in sales, office administration, and as claim adjusters, and underwriters. Interviews will be held Thursday, March 21, second floor, Clark Administration building.

Liberal Arts majors may find employment with the Getchell library. Beginning salary is $4,500 per year. Interviews will be held by appointment in room 131 of the Getchell Library.

Both insurance companies and the Sacramento Air Material Area also interested in interviewing Liberal arts majors.

Electrical engineers can check with the Sylvania Electric Company Monday, March 25, for employment in the United States or abroad.

All interviews will be held on the second floor of the Clark Administration building.

Sax-man Gari Guest Solos Sunday

Mr. Ralph Gari, clarinet and saxophone artist, will be in Reno this week-end to perform as guest soloist with the combined University of Nevada Symphonic band and Reno Professional Concert band. The concert will be held Sunday, at 3 p.m. in the State building. During his career, Mr. Gari has worked under such famous conductors as Paul Whiteman, David Rose, Van Alexander and Lenny Hayton. The versatile musician, who plays both jazz and concert music, has performed equally well with his own jazz quartet and the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

In addition to being a concert artist, he teaches the clarinet, saxophone and flute.

Barry Kagan, a senior at the University, has studied from Mr. Gari for six years. Kagen is solo clarinetist of the University of Nevada Symphonic band.

Mr. Gari's interest in young musicians has led him into the field of music clinicians. He has given music clinics at junior and senior high schools and colleges throughout the nation.

Prior to the concert Sunday, he will hold a woodwind clinic at 1 p. m. He will lecture about and demonstrate the instruments he plays.

The informal clinic will give the public a chance to discuss with him the problems of the woodwind instruments and musicianship in general.

Tickets for the concert are available at Maytan Music center, Emporium of Music, and the U of N music department.

Coed, Profs Research History

Of Nevada's Food, Housing

Research on the history of Nevada's food and housing has been carried on by two home economics instructors and one coed this semester. The trio research in Carson City this month on three individual projects, including early Nevada customs.

Dr. Helen Wells, Mrs. Joseph Chancerelle, and Joanne Nelson made the trip.

Dr. Wells, an associate professor, is doing research for a possible Nevada housing project.

Mrs. Chancerelle is studying the history of Nevada kitchens, including those of the Indians, homesteaders and gold mining camps. Early utensils will be of special interest.

"Anything that has to do with the way primitive people processed their food interests me," said Mrs. Chancerelle, an instructor in food and nutrition.

Joanne Nelson hopes to work on the history of Indian foods and the methods used to cook them. She will work with Carson City museum experts on the subject. Joanne is a senior and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

PACK IS SET FOR CAL TRACK DUEL

Trackmen Try Big Time in Berkeley

By TOM DYE

Sagebrush Sports Staff

Nevada will take on the powerful California Bears in a four-way meet in memorial stadium at Berkeley this Saturday. University of Pacific and San Francisco State are also participating in this meet.

Although California has not been a powerhouse in the last few years, they are much stronger this year. Last week the Bears lost by only thirteen points to national track champion Oregon. Led by 6-foot-11-inch high jumper Roger Olson and 46.3 quarter miler Dave Archibald, Cal is the team to beat in this meet.

The Bears are especially strong in the sprints, the quarter mile, the high jump and the weight events.

California will be coached by Brutus Hamilton, who was an Olympic coach in 1932 and 1936 and head of the Olympic track and field team in the 1952 Olympics.

During his stay at California the Golden Bears have won 19 National Collegiate track championships.

Coach Dick Dankworth of the Wolf Pack believes this "topnotch competition" will be good for the team. Dankworth is pleased with the progress of the team so far and thinks the boys will give a good account of themselves against California.

He believes Nevada will do well in several individual events but will have a hard time with Cal's all-round depth.

One of the most interesting events should be the mile in which FWC champion Ron Lee, with a "best time" of 4:12, will compete against Cal's John Hatton, who has an all-time best of 4:13.

Two outstanding runners from San Francisco State, Craig Spillman and Tom Morgan, should also be tough in the mile.

This will be Nevada's first regular meet competition of this season. Nevada competed in the Davis Relays March 9 and showed considerable promise.

The Wolfpack will have six Far

West Conference Champions running Saturday. The six men are Ron Lee, winner of the conference mile, Bob Rusk, quarter mile champion, Steve Holloway and Al McDaniels, hurdles champions, John Manke who won the 100 and 220, and Doc Williams, who was pole vault champion.

Alex Darnes appears to be the top discus thrower for the Silver and Blue. Bud Forman is the man to beat in the half mile. Doug Ketron holds the school record in the two mile. Larry Smith is Nevada's main hope in the javelin. Clyde Robarda is the big shotputter on the squad. And Duncan Edwards and Larry Moore are the two outstanding highjumpers so far this season.

Nevada's next competition will be a triangular meet against San Francisco State and the University of California at Davis.

Brunetto, Monroe At NCAA Meet

Coach Chelton Leonard, Mike Brunetto and Lane Monroe are in Solitude, Utah competing in the NCAA Ski Championships.

Brunetto and Monroe are competing as individuals only in this weekend's NCAA Ski Championships in Solitude, Utah.

Nevada ski coach Chelton Leonard will accompany the men, but any places they take will not count on University of Nevada point totals.

Rosemarie Haenel Will Head SNEA

Rosemarie Haenel, junior education major, was elected 1963-64 president of the Student National Education Association (SNEA) Tuesday night. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta.

Other new SNEA officers are Ruby Yureta, vice president; Britta Halvorsen, secretary; and Joan Westfield, treasurer.

Telephone Reps Interview Coeds

Prospective women graduates interested in working in northern California and the Bay Area will be interviewed by representatives of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company Friday, April 19.

Job openings for revenue supervisors, accounting assistants, central office assistant managers, and service representatives are open to all majors.

Miss Avis Langness and Mr. William Moore, telephone company representative, will interview the women students who want permanent employment. They will not be interviewing for summer jobs.

Appointment must be made before April 19 in room 104 Clark administration building. All applicants must register in the graduate placement office before going to the interview.

Belli Lecture Cancelled

A talk by Melvin Belli, originally scheduled for tonight in the dining commons, has been cancelled, according to Student Union officials.

Belli's topic was to be "The Strange World of the Trial Lawyer," and was to be the second in the Student Union sponsored series of "On Conformity and Dissent."

The next lecturer sponsored by the Student Union will be Brother Antoninus, Dominican lay reader and poet. He is scheduled to speak Thursday, March 28.

Alfred Kazin, another speaker in the series "On Conformity and Dissent," will talk on April 10.

Boxers Head for Chico; Evans Seeks 6th Win

The undefeated University of Nevada boxing team leaves Friday for Chico, California and the California Intercollegiate Tournament.

Nevada blazed through its regular season with only one tie (with Chico) to blemish its all-winning record.

All-American Skip Houk, and surprising heavyweight Jim Evans led the way for the Pack ringmen with undefeated regular season records.

Houk's draw with Chico State's Tom Gioseffi was the only bout in which he was not the victor. In the last bout of the season for the 147-pound scrapper, Houk finished Gioseffi in the third round on a technical knock out.

Evans fought his way through five rugged heavyweight bouts and won them all. The fact that he's only a freshman and weighs in at 180-pounds makes Evans' fete outstanding.

Larry Williamson piled up victories in the 125-pound class and should prove a rugged threat in the tournament.

Sagers Dance Tonight

Members of Sagers, underclass men's service organization, will hold their annual spring dance tonight at the Rosemount Lodge from 9-12 p. m. Music will be furnished by the "Classics" for the semi-formal affair. Members of Spurs are also invited.

Pack Nine Takes on Chico Wildcats in Twin Bill

The University of Nevada's baseball team is aiming for a more "satisfactory" weekend with hopes of returning to the winners' column after last weekend's dismal results.

The Wolf Pack Nine take on Chico State at Moana Ball Park for a double-header. The games are classified as early season non-conference warmups consisting of seven innings each. Game time, 1 p.m.

GLOVER ROUNDS THIRD

Last week the traveling Wolf Pack was defeated by the San Jose ball club 5-1 behind the stellar pitching of San Jose's Jim Visher. Two other games were rained out.

Bill Ireland, Nevada's coach, said he has concentrated on the team's hitting during practice in preparation for the Chico contest.

Don Banta, who lead the Wolf Pack's pitching staff with a 2.50 ERA last season, and Don Collar are slated for starting roles against Chico. Both pitchers are (0-0) thus far.

Joel Glover and Tony Wheeler are scheduled to share catching duties in the double-header. Barry McKinnon will share first base with Ron Banta.

Not much is known about the Chico club other than it has most of last year's starters back. Chico dropped two one-run games to Cal in early season play 3-2 and 4-3.

Cagey Coeds Cause Catastrophe; Mar Military Mens' Maneuver

Three coeds "spied" for the military department last week. Their job was to lure thirty-two unwary junior cadets close enough for senior "aggressors" to "shoot" them.

The exercise was a leadership reaction test for junior cadets in the advanced ROTC program. Major Noel Craun was in charge of the tests.

The girls, members of the women's rifle team, were Loretta Johnson, Margie Russell, and Suzanne Russell. The coeds were armed with "submarine-gun" water pistols.

The four "aggressors" were Harvey LoSasso, Ralph Madsen, Mario Frugoli and Dave Scruggs. All were armed with M-1 rifles and blank cartridges.

The junior cadets were divided into three patrols. Each patrol left Hartman hall after a briefing from Major Craun.

Major Craun told the cadets to take prisoners any persons they ran across on the patrol, but not to harm anyone. "Just cover them with rifles and bring the prisoners back to Hartman" the Major ordered.

Seven Seek Crown Of 1963 Junior Prom

Seven Nevada coeds are vying for the title of "Junior Prom Queen." The winner will reign over the 1963 Junior Prom, scheduled for April 6 at Hidden Valley country club.

Seeking the crown are: Diane Beyer, Pi Beta Phi; Marie Plummer, White Pine hall; Leilani Powell, Manzanita hall; Peggy Solomon, off-campus Independents; Barbara Spaulding, Gamma Phi Beta; Georgiann Stout, Delta Delta Delta; and Janie Thompson, Kappa Alpha Theta.

All the patrols found the girls and eventually captured them, but a few juniors were "killed" when the coeds shot them with the water guns.

The exercise was a success, said Major Craun. "The boys made some mistakes, but that's expected since this was their first experience with this type of patrol."

Other instructors involved in the patrol were M/Sgt. Forest Lawson, Capt. Raymond Miller and Capt. William Wilson.

Gal Sharpshooters Score First Win

The University of Nevada Women's rifle team scored its first victory in tournament firing last week, defeating the Reno high school girls' team, 1795-1544.

The Nevadans under the coaching of Capt. Charles Fulkerson, staged their first match in the rifle range Wednesday night.

Gamma Phi Beta Peggy Hayman was the high scorer for both teams, shooting 397 points out of a possible 400 in her first tournament.

The Reno high school team was coached by S/Sgt. Geoffrey P. Adams, high school military instructor.

The girls fired four different times, a hundred points possible each time. They shot from the prone position.

The members of the Nevada team were Lyndell McGue, 353 points; Beverly Ott, 380 points; Lorey Hodge, 372 points; Margaret Russell, 313 points, and Peggy Haymen, 397 points.

'Take Five'

By JOHN FIRPO

Spring (March 21) is officially here! All forms of evidence: the green leaves and pink blossoms on the trees around Manzanita Lake. The ducks should be multiplying soon. You've really got to give the waterfowl credit, or anyone credit, who swims around Manzanita all year long, through ice, snow, assorted algae, stone-throwing kids, noisy carpenters, and dunked coeds. You'd think a lake in the backwoods would be less wild.

Comedian Bob Hope reportedly turned down seven-grand offer from student union folks to host Mackay Day. If anyone can turn down an offer like that, we can do well without a "sick" comic. Besides, if Hope used some of the jokes he used on the Jack Paar show with ZSA ZSA GARBOR, the Board of Regents would have censored the act entirely. The great impressionistic pianist Peter Nero has been booked for April 18. As for Mackay Day, the Kingston Trio is being sought.

Gamma Phi hosted a "Flapper" dance over the weekend at the VFW hall (it was originally scheduled for the Rosemount Lodge, but the snow brought it down to the flatlands). Susie Natucci and Lambda Chi Jinx Dabney won the costume prize for the most appropriate get-up. There was a prize for a Charleston dance contest, but no one was in the mood when the lights were turned on. Couples in attendance were: Margaret Lewis and Ron Lee; Chris Gang and Lyle Rivera; Peggy Hayman and Andy MacKenzie; Linda Chambers and Doug Bruckner; Sue Rhoades and Dave Mandell; Mary Rossolo and Gene Lane; Pat Rogero and Bruce Pozzi; Judy Jeppson and Gene LeBlanc; Dawna Burkham and Jose Gastanaga; Dolores Dunning and Jerry Guffey; Margie Russell and Steve Heyer; Jaci Chiatovich and Ron Jones. Carole Hueftle and Pete Jensvold attended an Ides of March party wearing risque Roman togas made from sheets and held together with safety pins.

And also at the Gamma Phi affair were former ASUN pres Ben Echeverria and Marilyn Walker. Speaking of interesting costumes, Steve Fleming came to the Tri-Delt dance as Dr. Kildare while date Vickie Snyder went as a nurse. Seems Steve's going down to SC next semester for study as a dentist. Vickie says she's going too—to study for an occupation in dental hygiene.

Midterms are upcoming next week—the forerunners of "D" notices. The other sad news is that drill began Tuesday for the men in R.O.T.C. green. You'd think there'd be a lighter outfit for spring dress. One thing's for sure, "Ice Blue SECRET" would come in handy before rollcall.

Here and there . . . officials in Placer County are pondering whether or not they should let a downtown Reno hotel continue to use a "lavish" form of advertising on highway billboards. The ad in question has a 20-foot showgirl (dressed briefly) stretched voluptuously on top of the square billboard and displaying a bountiful cleavage. Most billboards are getting so three-dimensional, they almost reach over the freeways. The SAE Lions got a protective coat of oil, but it didn't stop another shellacking of paint. The "Nudies" continue to dance in Las Vegas floor shows while a "better literature" committee has banned Henry Miller's Tropic of Cancer from sale.

After election celebrating Wednesday night, Bob Alward had a hard time finding the way home. When he finally did, he ran over his parent's rock garden and parked on the front lawn. He was ill all night, missed classes all Thursday, and finally rose at one o'clock that afternoon for one purpose—to move his car off the front lawn.

The Tri-Delts also had a costume dance at the Lancer last weekend. Gordon Corn and Linda Broer stole the best-costume honors. Bob Wieshaupt was seen with Linda Knobbs; Carl Cahill with Mary McCaben; Steve Thompson with Molly Tyree; Judy Norcott with Ken Doyle; Shirley Heinen and Larry Struve; Jim Sinesek with Nancy Woodlief. Only casualty reported was a broken chandelier, mistaken for a balloon that was supposed to pop.

Utah University coed Wendy Ford, visiting the Tri-Delt house, caught on to the Nevada pastime quickly. Been spending her time between the Tri-Delt house and the Little Wal.

ON THE LIGHTEST SIDE: Know why the Cubans don't play baseball any more? The Russians stole all the bases.

Eddie Fisher has been booked to play South Shore Harrah's in May. Gogi Grant along with Sheila and Gordon MacRae will appear in two different engagements in May at the Nugget Circus Room.

Brushfire Chief to Be Nominated

Nominations for next year's Brushfire editor will be made at a meeting of the English club Tuesday, March 26 at 7:30 p.m. in room 107 Humanities.

English club President Barbara Hardin said anyone interested in making nominations or running for editor is invited to the meeting. The nominations will then be presented to Publications board where the selection of the editor will be made.

Ralph Eavenson is editor of the 1963 Brushfire. The Brushfire is the campus literary magazine.

Blue Key Project Gets Underway

With the chopping of a big hole in the wall of Manzanita lake, Blue Key's "Operation Mud" got underway Wednesday afternoon, following a year-and-a-half of preparation.

The lake will drain for about one week, said Bob Blair, Blue Key president. Following the draining, the lake bed will dry for another week, and then get a scraping at the hands of a Caterpillar tractor.

The entire operation should be complete in less than a month, said Blair.

Blue Key, an honorary upper-classmen's service organization, raised about $4,800 from students, alumni, and others since fall, 1961, to finance the project.

Festival Players Appear March 29

The Festival Players, a classical music quintet from California, will make its first appearance here Friday, March 29 at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the University of Nevada through the Public Occasions committee, the Festival Players will perform in an evening concert in the Education auditorium. On Saturday at 10 a.m. they will conduct a music clinic for local high school musicians in room 102 of the Fine Arts building.

The group will feature works by Handel, Mozart, Uhl, Etler, and Beethoven.

The performance is free to all ASUN students and season ticket

Board of Regents Meets Saturday

The University of Nevada Board of Regents will meet on campus Saturday. The 9 a.m. meeting will be held in the Clark administration building.

Mr. Archie Grant, of Las Vegas, chairman of the Board of Regents will preside.

The agenda will include discussion of the building program, acceptance of gifts, report of committee on honorary degrees and distinguished Nevadan awards, class A actions—salary schedule and Emeritus procedure, personnel recommendations, and miscellaneous items.

holders. Faculty and staff admission is $1.50.

Dr. Charlton Laird, professor of English, says the organization is new and "very zealous about music."

Dinner-Dance Set

The annual University of Nevada Cadet Officers Club (UNCO) banquet has been set for March 23.

The dinner-dance will be at Hidden Valley Country club, from 7-12 p.m.

The Gus Griffin Quartet will play for dancing and military department faculty members will be the guest-chaperones for the evening.

Banquet committee members are Wayne Kollodge, Tom Cook, Don Heath and Norm Sligar.
