TUB Speaker Points to Need For Disarmament

Can We Disarm?

"Yes, we must," says Dr. Byron Johnson, a representative of the Agency for International Development who spoke before a Sunday afternoon audience in the faculty dining commons.

Johnson, a former professor of economics, Colorado congressman, and economist under FDR, called arms establishments "drains" on the nations of the world, and said they must be reduced or else invite nuclear destruction.

"The next war will not be measured in years, but in days or even hours," said Johnson as he pointed to the awesome destructive power of today's atomic weapons. There will be no "second shots" in the next war, he said.

Not only is disarmament necessary, but it is a desirable goal which world leaders are working for today, he said.

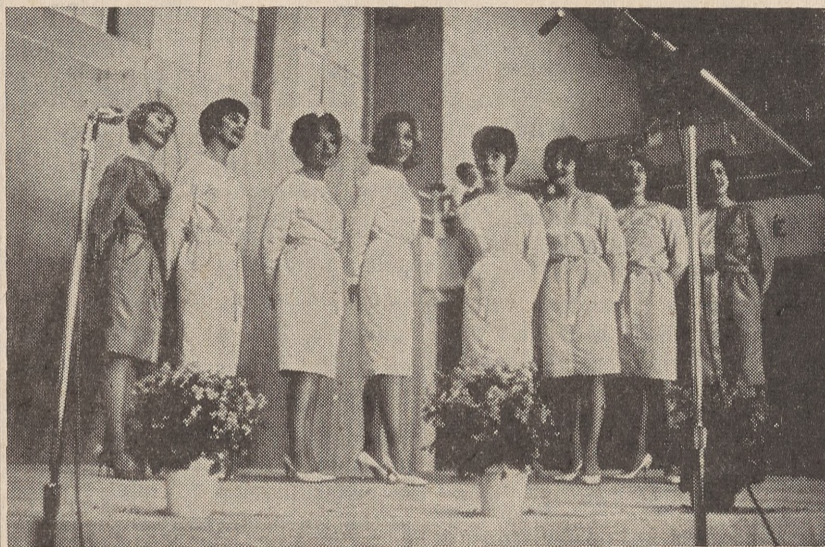

"We know we will disarm. The question is, will it be before World War III—or after?" he asked. "In the eyes of our leaders . . . and Congress, it becomes a necessity to work toward disarmament," he continued.

The dangers of nuclear destruction are so imminent, he said, that we must work today in a "race for peace." War, said Johnson, may result by accident, or by "escala-

Classes Out for Governor's Day Ceremonies

Mackay Stadium, complete with traditional military pageantry, will be the site of annual Governor's Day ceremonies Thursday morning. Military units will perform, awards will be presented, and the University of Nevada ROTC brigade will pass in review.

All 10 a. m.-12 noon classes will be excused, allowing students to attend the ceremonies, which begin promptly at 10 o'clock. The event will be concluded well before noon.

Distinguished guests, including Gov. Grant Sawyer and Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, University president, will present awards to outstanding cadets.

Highlighting the ceremonies will be the presentation of the Govern-

Mackay Day Awards . . .

Gamma Phi, SAE Take Top Honors

Gamma Phi Beta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon walked off with the most-coveted Mackay Day trophies Saturday for the best song teams. Gamma Phi took the women's first place trophy for "Time of Day" and SAE took the men's first with "This Land Is Your Land."

Kappa Alpha Theta placed second in women's song competition and Pi Beta Phi and Delta Delta Delta tied for third. In the men's competition, Sigma Nu placed second, Alpha Tau Omega, third, and Lambda Chi Alpha fourth.

Gamma Phi and Pi Phi tied for first place in costumes, each having one-hundred percent of their women in costume on campus Friday. The Pi Phi's also took the women's field events trophy and the Lambda Chi's took the mens'.

The men of Alpha Tau Omega had the highest percentage of beards. Friday activities began on campus with students dressed in 19th Century costumes. The Black Maria detained students not appropriately attired. That afternoon the field day events began at 3 p.m. It was estimated approximately 700 students attended the events and picnic afterward.

Saturday activities began with the annual luncheon followed by

Guatemala Subject Of TUB Program

"Guatemala," a movie personally filmed and narrated by James W. Metcalf, an authority on Latin America, will be shown in the Mackay Science building, room 215, Wednesday, at 8 p. m.

Metcalf has been a photographer for over twenty years. He has traveled into wilderness Canada, Honduras, Colombia, Cuba, Venezuela, Guatemala, and many other places.

The movie is sponsored by the Jot Travis student union and features the ruins and treasures of Tikal, cradle city of Mayan civilization.

Solons to OK ASUN Chairmen Wednesday

Chairmen for the 1963-64 school year have been announced by ASUN President Jim Acheson. They will be approved by Senate Wednesday night.

The eleven chairmen selected were: Mike Griffin, Homecoming; Jinx Dabney, Winter Carnival; Bob Hale, Mackay Day; Diane Schwalter, Hello-on-the-Hill; Judy Walker, Hello-on-the-Hill; Judy LaFond, leadership secretary; Judy Morrison, public occasions; Shirley Heinen, public relations; Janet Neilson, library; Dave Cooper, student-faculty forum; and Bill Pollard, election board.

Library Obtains Twain Collection

A new and valuable collection of rare books, the Zeitlin-Mark Twain Collection, has recently added to the Getchell library. The purpose was made with donations from the faculty, local residents, and state officials.

The collection, comprising about one-hundred and fifty books, was received April 15, but the purchase could not be made official until donations were approved by the Board of Regents.

The value of the books, purchased from Mrs. Louis A. Zeitlin of Santa Monica, Calif., is estimated at more than $2500. Major donations were given by the Woman's Faculty Club; Charlton A. Laird, professor of English; Mrs. Mary Hope Westbrook; Raymond Knisley, legislator from Pershing county; Len Harris, Reno assemblyman; Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Paul Laxalt; and Flora Dungan.

Mrs. George Schilling, whose own collection of Twain's books was exhibited at the library during the recent Mark Twain Festival, not only gave a large sum of money, but also her copy of Mark Twain's "Roughing It," to be auctioned at the "Third House" session of the legislature. The proceeds of the auction went toward the purchase of the Zeitlin collection.

In a sense, part of the collection was donated by Mrs. Zeitlin herself, since the purchase price was well below the true value of the books.

Included in the collection are most of the best-known and the most widely-read of Twain's works. Several are first editions and autographed copies. Among the books is a copy of "Pudd'nhead Wilson's Calendar for 1894." Another is "Mark Twain's Scrapbook."

Aside from the books, there are several letters, pamphlets, and books associated with, but not written by, Mark Twain. Interesting Twain comments often appear in the margins of pages and inside the covers.

The collection is now on display in the Lester D. Summerfield Rare Book Room in the Getchell library. Details are available at the circulation desk.

DIRECT FROM THE PRESIDIO, the Sixth U. S. Army band will present a campus concert in front of the student union at 11:50 a.m. Wednesday. The band, which has won over 100 awards, will be featured in Thursday's Governor's Day ceremonies in Mackay Stadium.

Face Facts in the Peace Race

Sunday afternoon's campus dissertation by peace advocate Byron Johnson saw a well-presented talk in favor of arms reductions and a planned program for world peace. It also pointed up one of the basic flaws in the arguments of peace advocates today.

That flaw is the refusal to face the fact that you cannot trust the communists. That truth has been demonstrated time and again—in the Baltic states, in Germany, and in Hungary, to name a few instances. The communists, he said, realize the dangers involved in nuclear war and are interested in obtaining peace as is the West. That's news, but only in part.

The Reds do realize the danger of nuclear war, and long ago shifted their attack on the free world to a cancer-like eating away of the West—piece by piece. They don't mind taking it easy.

Only in recent years has U. S. strategy shifted to meet the Reds on the brushfire level. Johnson and his cohorts, however, would nullify American gains by reducing the arms budget ten percent. The money would be channeled into foreign aid, and bring everlasting peace.

If we channeled it as we are channeling today—to Poland and Jugoslavia for instance—the only result we might see is a ten percent increase in the rate of communist expansion. Should a man hand over ten percent of his income to a burglar on the threat of robbery—instead of resisting? Would Johnson?

When surgeons go after a malignant growth, they cut it out before it spreads—which is what we must do with the communists. There is little point in beating around the bush and espousing pretty theories. Communism aims at nothing less than world revolution—they say so themselves. War is inevitable, and the sooner we get to the business at hand, the sooner it will be over with.

Mackay Day---One of the Best

Thanks are in order for Mackay Day Chairman Tim Griffin, the Mackay Day committee, and the Sundowners for making the 1963 Mackay Day one of the best in recent years.

Griffin, one of the busiest men on campus, did a fine job to insure a good Mackay Day for more students than ever before.

The committee also deserves congratulations for well-organized activities, such as the field events at Idlewild Park.

The Sundowners, a group which has received far too much adverse publicity, showed students and administration what a good group they really are. Their "Levi Formal" in the old gym was one of the best-handled dances sponsored by a University group this year.—P.R.

Letters to the Editor

More Information On Library Fines

Editor, the Sagebrush:

May I expand slightly upon the information presented in your Tuesday editorial on Library fines?

The fine schedule posted at the Circulation Desk the beginning of the present semester, after I discussed it with the chairman of the ASUN Library Committee provides the following penalties for three week books kept overdue:

- 4 to 6 days $5.00
- 7 to 13 days $1.00
- 14 to 21 days $2.00
- 21 or more days $3.00

Please note that these are fines, not rental fees, and that their only purpose is to get books back for people who are waiting to use them. The old fine schedule was not accomplishing this purpose, and it was our feeling that our responsibility to a student who is waiting for a book is greater than that to one who has neglected to return one.

Even though the penalty for long overdue periods is fairly rough (a number of other university libraries are rougher) we have also made it easier for people who are only a few days late in returning books, assessing no fines until the fourth day.

We very much appreciate your continuing interest in the Library, and welcome criticism from the Sagebrush.

Sincerely yours,
DAVID W. HERON
Director

Southern Observations On Sagebrush Editor

Eds. Note: The recent budget controversy has stirred up quite a storm on the campus of our southern regional division. In the interest of enlightenment, and perhaps humor, we reprint a few choice excerpts from the "Rebel Yell," the "NSU" student newspaper:

From the editorial column:
Reno Editor 'Hanged'
The editor of the SAGEBRUSH, Reno campus newspaper, was hanged in effigy last week by a Nevada Southern student. I have this to say about that: It is too bad that he was not hanged for real.

You are wondering about the sudden outburst. You want an explanation. Fine. It will be my pleasure.

U of N Aggies Undergo Inspection

The University of Nevada's agricultural experiment station is being reviewed by a team from the cooperative State Experiment Station Service of the Department of Agriculture.

This review includes both general review of the station, and intensive reviews of the departments of agricultural chemistry, home economics, soil science, and station accounts. The general review comes every year with various departments selected for intensive reviews.

In addition, a comprehensive review of the animal science and veterinary science departments will be held May 6-9 by a group of experts from other universities.

Muddy Communications Halt Project; Operation Mud Still 'Up in the Air'

Muddy communication is the reason mud still sits in Manzanita Lake, says outgoing Blue Key president Bob Blair. He blames the "inavailability" of an Isbell Construction Company employee for the stalled status of "Project Mud", designed to drain and clean Manzanita Lake.

Blair pointed out at the Blue Key initiation banquet Sunday that the Isbell Construction Company volunteered their services "at cost" to drain and clean Manzanita Lake. For this reason "we can't press them . . . they are not under contract," he said.

Blair told of "fifteen trips to see the man in charge of the draining operation." He couldn't be located.

A pump was used in "Operation Mud's" first phase after a hole in the wall that separates the lake from the Orr ditch proved inefficient.

After a few days work with the pump, Manzanita was less than half full. At this point, the Isbell personnel disappeared, and the lake was finally refilled after standing at its low level for over a week.

Blair has no idea when "Operation Mud" will resume.

Blue Key will discuss the matter at a noon meeting Wednesday at Knight's Cafe.

Africa Spotlighted At SDX Dinner

The latest news from Africa will be related to members of the Nevada undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, at a special "Ladies Night" dinner at the Santa Fe hotel tonight.

William Bramwell, editor and publisher of the Chico Enterprise-Record, will relate his observations on the emerging nations of Africa during a recent six week tour of the "dark continent".

The dinner will mark the first time that women journalism majors and minors have attended a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi.

Ann Prida Elected Student Nurse Prexy

Ann Prida, a senior nursing student from Reno, will head the University of Nevada Student Nurses Association during the fall semester. She was elected president at a meeting of the group last week.

Other officers include Marsha Peterson, first vice president; Marlies Speckner, second vice president; Jeanne Gurneau, treasurer; Andree Walker, corresponding secretary; Carolyn Hicks, and Kathy Smith, nominating committee chairman.

Merla Olson, asst. prof. of nursing, will be faculty advisor.

Blood Bank Plans Start Forming; Steering Committee Meets This Week

Plans for a "University Blood Bank" that would furnish replacement blood for any member of the University community are rapidly being realized.

A steering committee has been delegated to investigate all possibilities for organizing a blood bank. Members of the steering committee are Dean Sam Basta, Dr. William Miller, Doug Buchanan, and Acheson.

The investigation of a blood bank resulted about from the recent illness of Dr. Craig Sheppard, chairman of the art department.

Dr. Sheppard's illness has required an extremely large number of transfusions and caused the frightening possibility of a huge replacement bill to loom.

At present, there have been many different and varied proposals before the committee. However, Dean Basta said, "There are many avenues on which to approach this problem, and we are checking each one of them carefully."

There has been a suggestion that the blood drive be co-ordinated with registration next fall, and that there be a master list of student and faculty donors.

Another proposal would place the blood bank in the hands of the University health service.

A fourth suggestion would co-ordinate the blood bank under a special student-faculty member chairmanship with the two co-chairman dealing directly with the ASUN president and the dean of student affairs.

"Whatever the outcome, the University will be assured of one thing; there will be a blood bank", Dean Basta said.

Although there will be a committee meeting this week, plans ably will not be realized until the for starting the blood bank prob- beginning of fall semester.

Veteran Actors Fill 'Mistress' Roles

By TOM DYE

In the forthcoming University theatre production, "Mistress of The Inn" by Italian playwright Carlo Goldoni, the leading roles will be played by veterans of several theatre productions.

The "Mistress" opens a three-day run Thursday night in the University theater.

The leading female role in the play, the part of Marindalina, will be portrayed by Kathy Francis. Miss Francis appeared as Miss Mabel in the University theatre production of "J. B." and was the "Girl" in the play the Cave Dwellers.

She is also an outstanding singer and appears frequently as a soloist. According to the Director of "Mistress of the Inn", Dr. Robert Strane, she is ideal for the part because the part calls for a young vivacious girl.

Kathy also is of Italian ancestry and setting of the play is in Italy.

The role of the woman-hating cavalier, Ripafratta, will be played by a teaching assistant in the English Department, Mario Balibera. Although he is not Italian he is from San Salvatore and is of latin origin.

This will be his second role in University productions, his first was the part of the psychiatrist-comforter in "J. B." In the play, Ripafratta has two conflicting personalities. He is both a well bred dashing adventurer and a fierce woman hater.

Michael Keenan, a veteran of many University productions, will be the Count in the play. Keenan is a teaching assistant and has leading roles in four productions this season.

He was the "King" in "Cave Dwellers", Han in the "Emperor's New Clothes," Zuss in J. B. and his present role in Mistress. The count is not a true aristocrat but only a "flush Bourgeois" who made enough money to buy a title.

The role of the Marquis, a frayed aristocrat who competes for the love of Marindalina will be played by Ron Gold. Gold is a junior who had a lead role in "Apple Cart" in 1962 and was the Father in "Cave Dwellers", the general in the "Emperor's New Clothes", and he was Creon in "Antigone".

He also has intensive training in television and has been invaluable to the theatre this year for his work in publicity.

Marindalina does not marry the count the marquis or the woman-hating cavalier, all of whom seek her affections. Instead she marries her servant, Fabrizio, who is portrayed by Richard Pollman, a junior who has one other role this season as the first roustabout in "J. B."

New "Pep Pack" To Boost Spirit

Nineteen University of Nevada students are working together on a project known as the "Pep Pack".

The Pack was organized several weeks ago in an effort to coordinate activities which will promote school spirit and enthusiasm.

Three separate groups make up the "Pack": the Rallies Committee, cheerleaders, and song leaders.

Members of the Rallies committee are: Dick "Moose" Armuth, Patti Arnold, Don Dallas, Karry deVincenzi, LeRoy Goodman, Cheryl Griffin, William Pollard, and Laurie Sterne. An administrative body, the group sets up the activities in the social calendar for the group.

Cheerleaders are: Art Kess, Bill Magee, Gary Nelson, Dick Pinion, Donna Martin, and Julie Zeigler. They will lead cheers and yells at the football and basketball games.

Songleaders are Mary Kay Gezelin, Kathi Helsdon, Marcia Oaks, and Sue Whitaker.

"We are all working together so that the University will really be spirited next year," said Dick Pinion, chairman of the group.

International Night On Friday Schedule

Dining commons patrons will be eating an international fare at their Friday dinner. A buffet of international foods will take the place of the usual meal.

Entertainment, intertaional in flavor, will be provided by both foreign and Nevada students, including: Padma Shrestah, Wendy Rentz, Se In Chang, Jernail Sing, Jill Black, Sheridan Chirwa, Craig Felt, and Volker Eisele. Singing will begin at 6:30 p. m., followed by a dance an hour later.

Persons who wish to see the singing must sign up at a table outside the dining commons this week.

Ten Seek Summer Teaching Posts

Applications for student teaching in secondary schools for the main summer school session, June 24-Aug. 2, will be approved by the department of secondary education by May 10.

Ten education majors have applied to begin active teacher training in both Washoe county schools as well as at the University. They are Marian Caroon, Joel Cooper, Joseph deArrieta, Mrs. Frances Gidney, Louis Helpzel, Ira M. Holoman, David Lumos, Merle Miller, Kenneth Munley, and Mrs. Robert Trease.

Students in the College of Education who wish to student-teach in secondary schools next semester must have their applications turned in to room 102, Education building by May 10, according to Dr. Henry Knapp, chairman of the department of secondary education.

Editor Rogero Names Future Staff: 'Brush to Feature New Columnists

Tentative staff assignments for the 1963-64 Sagebrush have been announced by editor-elect Pat Rogero.

Taking over the assistant editor position will be Bruce Pozzi. He is currently on the sports staff, majors in journalism, and is a junior. Doug Bruckner will continue as sports editor.

Other editorial assignments are: Mike Sloan, political editor; Duncan Knowles, feature editor and gossip columnist; Sue Moss, social editor; Jon Benson, news editor; Bob Alward, columnist; and Jim Bernardi, columnist.

Miss Rogero said Alward will write a "Herb Caen" type column satirizing student government and campus events. Bernardi will write an occasional column about the theater productions.

Policy changes, Miss Rogero said, will be outlined in the first editorial of the fall semester. There will be a few major typographical changes, editorial policy will be less conservative, and a strict policy on letters to the editor will be set.

The major change will be an appearance, once a week, of a guest column primarily designed for faculty members. They will be written at the request of the editor.

Cadet Brigade Gets Praise

"The cadet brigade was truly outstanding — sharp in every respect," was the comment of Col. John N. Beck, XV U. S. Army Corps, following his annual inspection of the Nevada ROTC unit last week.

Col. Beck made the announcement Tuesday when he met with Dr. Kenneth E. Young, University Vice President. He, along with Lt. Col. Jack M. Meiss and M/Sgt. E. Y. Gardner who accompanied him from the Presidio in San Francisco, noted only a few minor defects.

The inspecting officer went on to say that, in his opinion, Nevada had "the best brigade of all the universities with the ROTC program in the XV Corps area of command." This area includes California, Arizona, and Nevada.

Supply and administration were also praised.

Monaghan Named Sundowner Queen

Aliceann Monaghan was elected to reign as the first annual Sundowner queen at the Levi formal Friday night in the old gym.

Miss Monaghan, a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, vied for Mackay Day queen. She majors in elementary education, is a senior, and was recently named one of the 10 outstanding senior women. Her other honors include outstanding Greek women and "Who's Who."

Nevada Track Team Wins Sixth Meet

Two-Mile Ace Ketron Loses; Wolf Pack Snaps 3 Records

The Wolf Pack track team streaked to its sixth straight victory Saturday when the cinder-men blasted conference foes Sacramento State and San Francisco State in a meet at Sacramento.

Nevada racked up 100 points as compared to Sac State's 45½ and San Francisco State's 24½. Points were also kept for duel competition between the Wolf Pack and the "Hornets" and the Nevadans trounced the "Green and Gold," 97½ to 41½.

Four dual meet records were broken, with the Wolf Pack snapping three of them.

Bud Forman broke the record in the half-mile when he ran the two laps in 1:54.1. The old record was held by Mike Andrews of Nevada at 1:55.0. Larry Moore smashed the high jump mark when he cleared the bar at 6 feet, 4½ inches.

In the 440 yard dash, Bob Rusk streaked around the lap at 48.5 beating the old record by two-tenths of a second. Fred Williams of Nevada came in second in the grueling event.

The fourth record to go by the boards was in the javelin when Mel Ross threw the spear 217' 3". Nevadan Larry Smith placed second with a throw of 199' 3".

Two automatic records were made by the "Silver and Blue," in the 330 intermediate hurdles and the hop, step and jump. Steve Holloway won the intermediates when he ran them in 38.8, more than a second slower than his school record of 37.7 which he set last week against Chico State.

Al McDaniels hop, step and jumped 44-1½ to set an automatic mark in the triple jump. Brent Johnson, the current school record holder placed third behind McDaniels and Steve Carnahan of Frisco State.

Fred Fralick raced for a first in the 100 yard dash as Nevada took the first four places in the sprint. John Manke finished second and Dick McCoy placed third. Dick Strunk and Sac State's John Kaiser tied for third. Fralick's winning time was 9.9.

John Manke took the honors in the 220 as he covered the distance in 21.8. Dick McCoy finished second and Fred Williams took the third spot.

Ron Lee ran the mile in 4:16.5 to win the four top events. The Nevada miler has been plagued this season with pulled calf muscles.

Nevada two-miler Doug Ketron was defeated soundly in the two-mile run as San Franciscan Craig Spilman ran the eight laps in 9:09.7. Ketron finished far behind Spilman, cutting the tape at 9:22. Skip Houk, who finished fourth, was the only other Nevadan who placed.

Alex Darnes heaved the discus 164.7 to rack up more points for the Wolves. Jim Christensen and Dave Zager placed third and fourth for the Pack.

Nevada's mile relay team of Foreman, Williams, Manke and Rusk took a first in that event when they covered the distance in 3:20.2. San Francisco finished second and Sacramento finished last.

J-Prof Attends Editors' Meeting

Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the journalism department, returned recently from a six-day trip to the east coast where he attended five newspaper organization meetings.

Higginbotham began his east coast journey in Washington, D. C., attending an American Society of Newspaper Editors meeting that was addressed by President Kennedy.

During his stay in Washington, the chairman had a chance to attend a regional meeting of Sigma Delta Chi's, professional journalism society) second district, which covers New York and Washington.

The next stop for the traveling professor was New York City.

Prof. Higginbotham met with the American Council for Journalism Educators in New York. He is one of seven academic counselors in the organization, having moved to this position from the accreditation committee.

E. W. (Ted) Scripps II, a 1952 Nevada journalism graduate, was host to the professor during his stay in the east.

The 5' 11", 70 pound junior believes the most important asset for a batter is "a good sense of timing."

After finishing college Minster said, "I would like to play pro ball. If not, I'll teach physical education and I'll also try to get a position as a baseball coach."

As for chances of winning the Far Western Conference championship, Minster says, "We have a pretty good chance of winning. San Francisco is the club we will have to really try to beat."

"The influence of Coach Bill Ireland" is the reason "Minnie" came to Nevada to play ball. "I like the school and the kids here" says Minster, "but at first it was hard for me to adjust to Reno after coming from Los Angeles."

Reno's weather is quite different from L. A.'s.

Does this make a difference to Minster? "Yes, it is harder to loosen up. Your mental attitude reezes."

The right-handed hitter and thrower's reply to the kind of pitcher he prefers to face was, "I prefer hitting off a left-hander because the balls are coming in to you."

Does it make a difference if a batter is playing on his home field or away? Minster thinks so. He says, "On the home field you are acquainted with the field conditions and the fans give you support."

"Minnie" says his biggest thrill in sports was, "When I went five for five in one game. It was also a good feeling to be leading the conference batting averages."

Minster enjoys watching other sports as well as playing basketball and football. He also likes to dance, go to the beach, and collect records.

Nevada Drops 2 Conference Games; Bows to Santa Clara Broncos, 11-4

The University of Nevada baseball team looked like last year's San Francisco Giants as it dropped three road games this past weekend. Last year the Giants were equally bad and played below .500 on the road.

In two conference games, the Pack was soundly beaten by San Francisco State 4-1, 5-2. Then on Sunday the Ireland coached nine dropped one to the Santa Clara Broncos 11-4.

Dennis Scott, the Pack's top noundsman, lost his first decision of the year and now stands at 5-1.

Don Banta also took a loss at the hands of the Gators and now stands at 2-2.

In Sunday's game against the Santa Clara Broncos, Nevada's usually good defense fell apart and cost them the game. They made four mistakes afield and chalked up three in one inning. The three proved costly to Wolf Pack hurler John Conway and the team never could get back in the game.

Coach Bill Ireland said that since the Chico State games of a week ago, the Pack has gone into an unusual hitting slump. "Although the pitching has been fair we just can't hit the ball and win games," said Ireland.

Ireland also pointed out that the Pack still has a mathematical chance of winning the conference race. But it will mean the Silver and Blue must win all of their remaining games and hope for a San Francisco loss this week as the Gators now stand 6-2 in FWC play.

LXA Honors Alumnus Bible

Nevada's Senior Senator, Alan Bible, has become the first University of Nevada alumnus to be inducted into the Lambda Chi Alpha Order of Achievement.

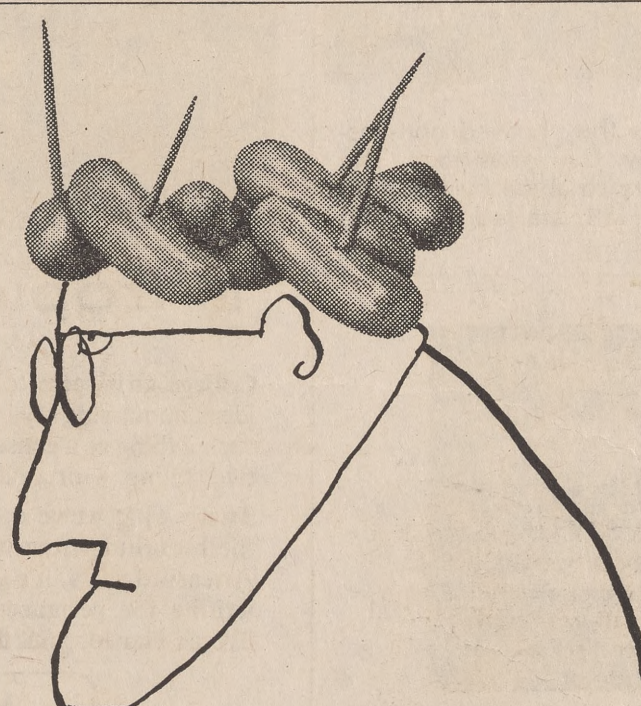

In accepting the award at dinner ceremonies in Washington, D. C., Bible also became the tenth Lambda Chi brother to receive the honor.

The Senator was presented the honor for "Outstanding success in Federal governmental affairs."

Bible said he was "Grateful, not only for receiving this award, but for the inspiration I have drawn from the fellowship of Lambda Chi."

During the ceremonies, it was noted that, in addition to having one of its brothers join the Order of Achievement, the Epsilon Iota Chapter of the University of Nevada alumni was well represented at the awards banquet.

Nevadans also attending included: Bill MacDonald, of Winnemucca; Leroy Arrascada, of Elko; William Bauer, of Las Vegas; George Steffens, of Reno; William F. McMenamin, of Reno; and Col. Calvin Banigan, of Reno.

COMMITTEE DUNKS MACKAY DAY OFFENDER

THE MEN'S UPPERCLASS committee finally got into gear Friday as they heaved non-costume wearing students into Manzanita lake for violation of Mackay Day traditions. The above nonvoluntary swimmer was undoubtedly reflecting on his failure to abide by tradition as he slipped beneath the murky waves. The committee, revived last fall, started enforcing traditions inly last week.—Sagebrush photo.

tion"—as an outgrowth of smaller hostilities going on today.

"We cannot always assume that every country will be ruled by sober and responsible men," he noted, pointing out that quite frequently "madmen" come in control of powerful nations.

The development of the world could be hastened by a chop in arms budgets, and a redistribution of funds via aid programs, he said. Pointing to a $3 billion-plus foreign aid bill paid annually by the United States, he said that could be supplimented by other nations. If all arms budgets were cut ten percent, he said, the resultant dollars available for aid would total twelve billion.

Pointing to the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, created in 1960 by Congress, he said that U. S. leaders are working actively toward a peaceful solution of world problems—and so are the Russians. The progress at the Geneva conference table in two-and-a-half years has been "breathhtaking," he said.

"We've got to reach a solution" because the alternatives are too terrible, he said.

The nations involved in a final peaceful settlement will become involved only if the settlement does not endanger their security, he predicted. Arms stockpiles, however, are no guarantee, he said.

"Multiplying our arms no longer add to our security," Johnson stated.

He advocated a "series of confidence-building steps" through diplomatic channels, which would ultimately lead to a peaceful solution, but . . . "progress comes slowly."

Sundowners Add 12 New Members

Twelve University men were initiated into the Sundowners last Wednesday night. The ceremony was held at Peavine mountain, traditional spot for the annual event.

John Doyle, president, made the traditional announcement of new members just before Mackay Day.

The new members are Gary Bush, Joe O'Keefe, Mike Brunetto, Burt Polkinghorn, Dick Harris and John Wynn. Terry Retterer, Keith Roman, Woody Barry, Dale Latvaho, Jon Key and Dick Pinion.

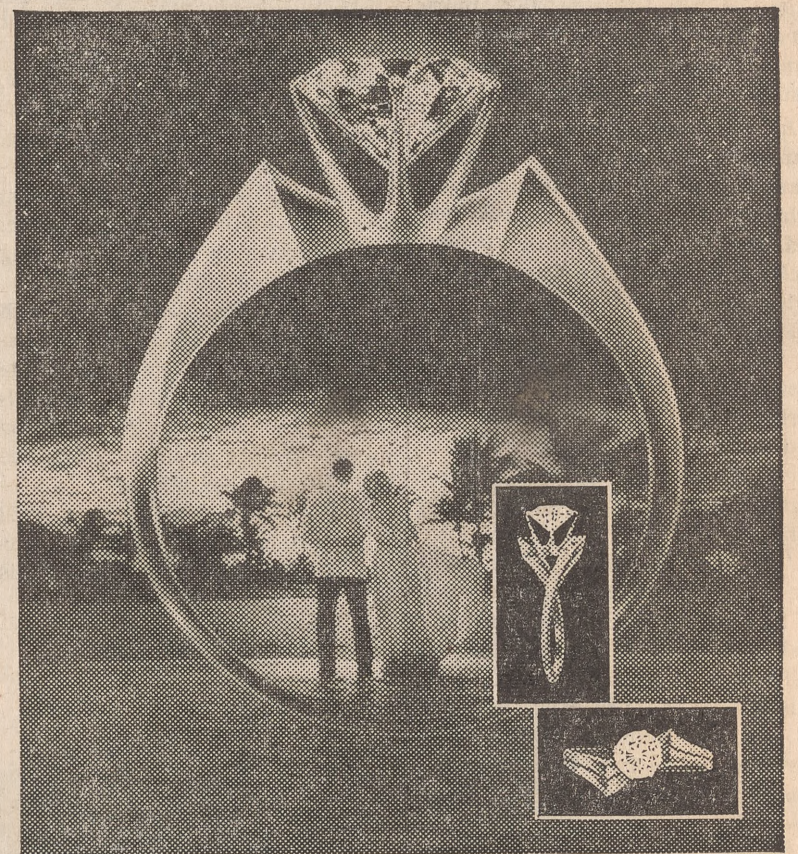

The Sundowners concluded the initiation with the traditional breakfast at the sororities. Members banged on the door of the Gamma Phi Betas at 6 a. m., and after breakfast visited other sororities for additional refreshments.

John Lohse Named Top Physics Student

John Lohse was selected as the outstanding physics student from the freshman and sophomore classes last week. He was presented an award by Dr. Lloyd Smith, former head of the Cornell School of Physics.

The selection was based on a special examination given the twelve highest students in three physics courses.

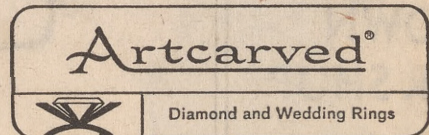

His talk was sponsored by the Student Union board.

Is Tropic Star* for you?

College girls seem to know what they want. We get a lot of ideas about ring styling from American campuses. If there is such a thing as a consensus, it would sound like this: conservative styling, with a difference.

That's what we've designed into Tropic Star...the newest of the beautiful Artcarved diamond engagement rings. Like all Artcarved rings, it's styled for lasting beauty...guaranteed in writing for permanent value. Is Artcarved's beautiful new Tropic Star for you? See for yourself.
