Southern Editor Talks On Civil Rights

The new civil rights bill now being considered in the United States Congress is not merely a question of civil rights but of power, according to James J. Kilpatrick. He spoke here Tuesday night in the University dining commons to a group of about 65 people.

Kilpatrick is a leading spokesman for the "Southern view" of the racial problem in the South. He said, "I am a spokesman for constitutional government and states rights." Throughout his speech he constantly referred to the Constitution as the source for his theories.

Several members, including the resident of the Reno-Sparks National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were on hand to hear Kilpatrick's speech. At one point during the question-answer period, Kilpatrick invited Eddie Scott, NAACP President to the podium to express his view.

The Southern editor centered his speech around the pending Civil Rights bill and pointed out the following:

—The bill takes away the right of the individual to discriminate. "I am here to defend the people's right to discriminate," he said.

—It stresses the human and moral aspects of the issue thus confusing morality with constitutional law.

—Voting qualifications are constantly set by the states. He said the aspects of the bill dealing with voting and qualifications infringe upon state's rights.

"I am ashamed of some of the voting practices in the South. I am ashamed as a Southerner," Kilpatrick stressed.

—The aspect of the bill dealing with public accommodations is unconstitutional on the basis of the fifth amendment.

He told the audience that the racial problem in the South was largely rural. "We are beginning to solve it in the big cities. They have become quite cosmopolitan," he said. "But it is a century's way of life."

He said the Supreme Court could not solve the problem over night and pointed up several examples of how such efforts had failed. He also said the most effective method of desegregation is voluntary and gave examples.

Getting back to his precept that the bill is a Federal government power grab, he said some aspects of the bill give increasing new power to the president and department of justice. "In the name of the bill, we are tossing away our individual liberties."

Kilpatrick is the editor of the Richmond (Virginia) News-Leader. His article "Civil Rights and Legal Wrongs," has been reprinted in the National Review, a conservative magazine. It was originally published by the Virginia Commission of Constitutional Government, of which Kilpatrick is vice-chairman. He is also the author of "Our Sovereign States."

His defense of the Southern position on the most pressing problem in our society today will be followed by two other view points. All are part of the Student Union sponsored lecture series on "America Looks at Civil Rights."

The next two speakers are Sidney Hook, October 24 and Howard Zinn, November 12.

'Uncle Vayna' Tryouts Set

Tryouts for the first fall University theater production, "Uncle Vayna," will be held September 25, 26, and 27 from 2-4 p. m. and 7-9 p. m. in room 146 Fine Arts.

Mr. Robert Strane, who will direct the play, said there will be sign-up sheets posted on the door. Any student, faculty or staff member of the University may try-out for the play.

Scripts for "Uncle Vayna" will be on reserve in the science reading room of the Getchell library for the entire week.

Strane said all parts were excellent and there are 5 leading men's roles and 4 for women.

The production will be shown on campus November 6, 7, 8, and 9. Strane said there would be no matinee this year but one extra evening performance has been added.

Fall Elections Set For Frosh Prexy

Fall election time is just around the corner for freshmen class president and two AWS positions. The AWS council positions are freshman representatives and off-campus representative.

The general elections have been set for Wednesday October 9, with primaries the week before on Wednesday October 2. Polling booths will be set up in the snack bar of the Student Union building and polls will remain open between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Freshman class presidential nominees must submit applications to Jim Acheson ASUN president by Wednesday September 25. A five dollar deposit will be required for all nominees.

AWS Council candidates must submit nominations by the same date to Mary Rossolo, AWS president. Applicants have until 5 p. m. at that time.

Six U of N Fraternities Pledge 108 New Greek Members

Nevada's seven fraternities pledged a total of 108 men during this fall's formal rush period. This is a drop of nearly 30 per cent from last year's total of 151.

At the beginning of "rush week" there were 134 men registered to attend the fraternity sponsored activities, which is a drop from last year's figure of 182.

Acting Dean of Men, James R. Hathorn, did not wish to comment on what at first appears to be a declining interest in fraternities. He did point out, however, that there were 26 men who deferred pledging until the informal rush period, and that many others were ineligible for pledging because of admission deficiencies.

Sigma Phi Epsilon failed to pledge any men. Others pledged very few. This may not be as serious as it first seems, however, since informal rush will continue for six more weeks for larger houses, and until the end of the semester for small houses.

Those pledging are:

Wayne Ferguson Resigns Senator-at-Large Position

A new senior men's senator-at-large will have to be selected by senate at their first meeting Wednesday, September 24. Wayne Ferguson who presently holds that position submitted his resignation at Finance Control Board meeting last Tuesday.

In a written statement he said he was unable to devote the time necessary to holding an ASUN office.

Ferguson is married and works full time. He holds a high scholastic average and has placed on the honor roll every semester since he has been at the University.

The ASUN executive committee, consisting of Jim Acheson, ASUN president; Larry Struve, 1st vice-president; Marsha Frankovich, 2nd vice-president; Mary Rossolo, AWS president; and Keith Lee, senate representative will now have to provide senate with two nominations to fill the vacancy. If senate fails to approve one of the nominees by a two-thirds majority, new recommendations must be made excluding those already considered.

Two years ago the senior women's senate was left vacant and it took senate four separate ballots to fill the position.

If the executive committee interpretation of seniority, set that year, still holds, junior senator Keith Lee will be the senior senator.

TUB Jobs Open

Committee members are needed by the Jot Travis Student Union Board to fill vacant positions.

Anyone interested in being on one of the seven committees should contact Julie Ziegler, board secretary or any of the committee chairmen. They are Barbara Barenge, art; Dave Cooper, publicity; Barbara Heath, hospitality; Bud Olsen, special events; Bill Shilling, lectures; Jeanne Snyder, movies, and John Winn, music.

"Hello On The Hill!"

The traditional fall "Hello-on-the-Hill" dance will be held tomorrow night from 9 to 12 in the University dining commons.

This is the first all school dance of the year and is the ASUN welcome back to "the hill" and welcome dance for the Frosh.

Tom Lee and his band will be on hand for the music. Diane Showalter is chairman for the dance and she is assisted by Liz MacGregor.

HEWARD

Star end Harlan Heward is out of action for the rest of the season. The shocking news was revealed by head coach Dick Trachok yesterday morning.

Heward was injured in practice Wednesday afternoon while catching a pass. Reports say that his spleen was ruptured when hit by a player in scrimmage.

The 6-3, 200 pounder from Winnemucca, was named to the team at end last year and by all indications this year prior to his injury, he was living up to that honor.

Coach Dick Trachok has tabbed Brent Johnson to take over the end spot Saturday against Idaho State. The tall senior has been a star on the Wolf Pack's highly successful track teams for the past two seasons.

The latest report on injured half-back Al McDaniels is that his leg is coming along fine and should be ready to start practicing again on Monday. McDaniels was injured in practice earlier this week.

Campus Position For Ex-Governor

A new position has been created in the administration of the University of Nevada to obtain private funds for the development of the Reno and Las Vegas campuses.

Named to the post is former Nevada Governor Charles H. Russell. Officially, he will be assistant to University President Charles J. Armstrong and director of development. The job will entail the coordination of private fund raising activities for the University. Russell's job will not deal with the state legislature.

Armstrong, in describing the new post, said, "The plus factors or margin of greatness, has come from private gifts. If the University had not had private support, it would look a lot different today."

"We are going to make an all out effort to help ourselves from private gifts and resources," Armstrong further commented.

When the appointment was announced, Armstrong said the University would seek funds to give it the resources that make a University great; not just average. He said the University would continue to rely on legislative appropriations for the basic needs and operating expenses.

The drive would raise money for much needed items such as library books, distinguished professorships, and construction; "the kind of thing that can really build a distinguished institution."

Armstrong said the state is growing so rapidly that the legislature is swamped with demands for additional funds from all areas. The University has not set a goal although several years ago. It was hoped that the endowment could be raised to $15 million.

Armstrong also said the program would not necessarily give the University autonomy in its operation, but would give it more flexibility. Any goal would probably be higher than $15 million because of increased costs and needs, Armstrong added.

The announcement of Russell's appointment was given by Armstrong August 7.

Russell was formerly chief of the U. S. Aid Mission to Paraguay. He was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives in 1946 after serving as an influential state senator from White Pine County. He worked with the European Recovery Program before his election as governor of the state in 1950 and re-elected in 1954. He was defeated in his bid for a third term in 1958 by Gov. Grant Sawyer. He was named director of the Paraguay Mission in 1959.

He became editor and publisher of the Ely Record in 1920 and remained in that capacity until 1946. Russell is a native Nevadan and alumnus of the University of Nevada.

He made several statements at the time of the announcement assuring that his political career has ended, having no intention to re-enter the political arena.

Radio Station Now Operating

A new campus FM radio station is now operating in a series of tests and will be ready for regular broadcasting as soon as the F. C. C. license arrives, says Miss Mary Robins director of the new station. In the beginning only music will be heard.

The journalism department's radio news writing class, under the direction of Prof. LaRue Gilleland, will be responsible for the collection, compiling, and reporting of the news for the new station. News broadcasts will begin as soon after the station becomes operational as possible.

Eventually the station hopes to present concerts and recitals by university musicians. Also guest speakers and other educational and entertaining personalities appearing on campus will be recorded and played over the air.

The station has been testing for several months and will broadcast with 10 watts of power, which has a range of approximately 13 miles. Miss Robins said that call letters and the frequency will be announced upon authorization from F. C. C. The studios for the new station will be located in the Church Fine Arts building.

The new station will use only student announcers who have already been auditioned and accepted. New auditions will not be held until the beginning of next semester.

Club Forms Due Soon

All ASUN clubs must submit an organization form to Marsha Deming, ASUN 2nd vice-president, by October 15.

The form must contain information listing new officers, financial statements and other relevant data. Blank forms may be picked up in her office on the main floor of the Student Union building.

If clubs do not submit this information they will lose ASUN recognition, depriving them of use of University facilities, pictures in the yearbook, and other privileges.

LETTERS

Acheson Supports Opinion Journal

Editor, the Sagebrush:

The idea of the U. of N. Forum was conceived in the aftermath of last year's discrimination issue. At that time it became clear that there was no place on campus for a written statement of a particular point of view to be presented, other than in the Letters to the Editor section of the Sagebrush. Theoretically, the Forum would provide, for anyone willing to write it, a place for an opinion to be expressed. The only restraints would be that the piece not be libelous and in "good taste", as judged by the Forum's editorial board. Three main questions need presently be asked of Forum.

First, is Forum a good idea? You, the Publication Board, and almost anyone who I've heard give opinion on the matter agree that it is a good idea.

Second, can ASUN afford to support Forum? This is a question to be decided when last year's audit is complete, and when the extent of additional funds from increased enrollment this year is ascertained. At that time the value of Forum must be weighed against the value of other ASUN supported activities and consistent conclusions.

It must be remembered that the relationships between Sagebrush, Artemisia, Brushfire, and Forum are mainly of financial significance. The three publications and the fourth "idea", as presently conceived, all serve different purposes. Thus, it is invalid to argue, as you have done, that three publications must "... excel before we begin another." This is rather like saying that we must "excel" in our Women's Recreation Program before we can allot money for Mackay Day obstacle races, since both are "athletic" programs.

Third, will Forum fulfill its purpose or will it merely be kept alive by its editors and a few professors? The outlook here has been pessimistic. Yet, there is a difference between writing an opinion and actually running the Sagebrush or Artemisia. The former means thought and creatively, the latter means the same but a lot of hard work, too. You can not bluntly state that, "... we are not ready for it (Forum)." Only the students, by not submitting anything, can say that.

JIM ACHESON

Snack Bar Enlarges?

Editor: the Sagebrush:

With all the money we spent for "our" Student Union addition it was certainly a wonderful sight to see how much larger the snack bar area is this year. The student population has grown, per usual, but the snack bar space has gone down and an even more frightening fact is the number of tables and chairs. What's going to happen in 1970 when the U. population doubles? The best addition is the "Teen - Surfur - Special" record player. I might drink beer to the rhythm of jazz but to drink coffee and at such an early hour with sounds?! The only record worth any value is "The Ring of Fire". But I guess I'm just a victim of circumstances, left in a swirl of jazz, surfurs and sea spray far behind in the Dark Ages.

Possibly there is another answer. The faculty has gathered their strength and voted down any

3,577 Students Attend Summer School Here

A total of 3,577 students from 41 states and nations enrolled in the University of Nevada's 1963 summer school program, exceeding the 1962 attendance by 18 per cent.

The enrollment figures, released increase in space, tables and chairs. The persuasive results could be two fold: Number one, No rushing out of class as soon as the bell rings so as to be among the first in the waiting line (be it for coffee or a table). An interesting sideline is that once you achieve coffee and table, you may wind up with no chair, plural or singular. Secondly, after you have fought your way down the stairs and into a place with a reasonable vantage point for the hours' festivities, you may become so disillusioned at the sight that you'll give up all hope and resort or retreat to the "catch-all library for a peace filled hour of studies while chatting with yours or other table occupants, the distance between tables is of no consequence.

Well possible someone has come ont ahead, be it the contractor, faculty, or the student.

PETE JENSVOLD

by summer session Director Garold Holstine, broke the grand total down to 2,394 students on the Reno campus, 952 in Las Vegas, and 231 in off-campus centers.

On the Reno campus, 1,757 of the summer scholars came from the state of Nevada. California sent a group of 459 students, in a figure which approximates that found during the regular school year. A total of 37 came from Oregon, 13 from Washington, and 10 from Arizona.

Foreign students came from Africa, Brazil, Canada, Korea, the Philippines, and India. They numbered 19.

Finance Board OK's Budgets At First Meet

In a quick no-nonsense meeting, Larry Struve whipped the finance control board through their first regular meeting of the fall semester.

Biggest budget on the agenda was presented by Jim Bernardi for the Wolves Frolic. With a minimum of discussion the motion was passed to accept the budget for $2,565.

In other action the board moved to accept the following:

—A fall semester budget for WRA for $795. But in a following discussion the board decided to take action on the traveling budget during the second semester.

—To allot the Election Board, under the direction of Bill Pollard, a semester total of $145.00.

—Agreement on $129.73 for the Hello-on-the-Hill dance that is scheduled for tomorrow night.

—A president's discretionary fund for $50.

—In a lengthy discussion, the board accepted a $1225 budget for the AWS. But they agreed to delete the traveling expense portion until next semester.

In final action, Senior Men's Senator at Large, Wayne Ferguson announced his resignation effective September 18.

Prof Finishes Summer Grant

Theodore E. Conover, Assistant Professor of journalism, was one of four professors in the United States selected this summer to participate in the first internship program sponsored jointly by the Associated Business Publications' Education Committee and the Association for Education in Journalism's Magazine Council.

He worked on the staff of McGraw-Hill Publications, editing copy, reading page proofs and writing.

Before he entered teaching three years ago, Prof. Conover was editor and publisher of weekly newspapers in Ohio for ten years and managing editor of the Celina, Ohio Daily Standard for two years.

He received a B. S. in journalism from Ohio University, an M. A. from Ohio State University, and basic engineering training at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and University of Rhode Island while serving in the Army.

After World War II, he bought the Twin City News of Baltimore, Ohio. He also owned the Miami (Waynesville) Gazette, the West Liberty Banner and the Centerburg Gazette. While on the latter paper, he started the Reynoldsburg Record.

Gotelli Needs Editors

Staff and editorial positions for the 1964 Artemisia are opened for anyone interested.

Artemisia Editor Andy Gotelli said he needs an art editor as well as many other editors.

Those interested should contact Gotelli in the Artemisia office, Journalism building basement or call FA 9-3051 afternoons.

Marriage Is Answer for College Men; Spouse Can Avoid Compulsory Draft

By DUNCAN KNOWLES

"I could kiss him, I could even vote for him." So said Bill Schilling, Nevada student, on being informed of President Kennedy's temporary order halting the draft of married men last week.

His reaction was typical of hundreds of married men facing the possibility of two years of Army life.

Many men were only minutes away from induction when the order came through.

Some greeted the news with sighs of relief. Others saw problems.

And some like three of eight married inductees at Atlanta, Ga. decided to go into the Army anyway.

One of the three explained, "My friends threw me a big going away party. I'd be ashamed to go back now. Besides, I sold my new car."

Among the inductees who chose civilian life, Earl G. Wheeler, 23, of Trenton, Ga., said: "It took me about as long to decide to go home as it did for them to ask the question."

Kennedy ordered that married men be inducted only after all acceptable single men in the 19-25 age group had been drafted.

When Fred M. Fletcher got the news at a Seattle induction center, the 23 year old bridegroom of five months "just started running."

"I actually ran out the door," Fletcher said, and kept running for about four blocks before I happened to think it was a long way home to Bothell," a Washington State community about 10 miles from Seattle.

But another inductee, Daniel Robinson of Grapeview, Wash., wasn't as lucky. He's single. "I'm madder than heck about this," he said. "I'm practically engaged to a girl. If I'd known about this, why we'd have sped things up a little."

While at the University of Nevada, Bill Bianchi, ATO, joined the national guard to avoid his draft notice. He had received a teaching contract in Nevada before the induction papers arrived but could not be deferred. As many others before him, he chose six months rather than two years. Unfortunately, a week or so later would have left him out completely.

Charles Ray Morgan, 23, of Moss Point, Miss., was pulled from an induction line at Jackson, Miss., just 45 minutes after the presidential order went into effect.

A sergeant stepped up to him just as Morgan was about to be sworn in and said, "You don't go. You're married."

"Whew!" sighed Morgan, "That's saved by the bell, isn't it?"

University Board of Regents Kept Busy During Summer

At a meeting of the Board of Regents in Carson City during the past summer, several matters were discussed and decided upon.

The Regents decided to take steps for a University audit and accepted three grants from various institutions. These included one of $9,750 from the National Science Foundation for a science program and two from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare: the first, $26,493 for a psychology and sociology project under the direction of Drs. Paul F. Secord and Carl W. Backman, and the second $24,500 for a mental health program under the direction of Dean Marjorie J. Elmore, Orvis School of Nursing.

The group also adopted a clarification of sabbatical leave which makes faculty members eligible if they have served full time for six salaried years.

Other business included approval of over 500 persons for degrees, compliments to the school's track team for its efforts last year, and the appointment of a committee to look into the possibility of a cultural institute for American Indians, with its location at the school, to serve as a center for Indian affairs and to keep information and relics of the past.

Following the completion of the preceding business, the board discussed the possibility of a regional school of medicine being established on either the Reno or Las Vegas campus of the University.

Other states to be served by this school would be Wyoming, Montana, and Idaho.

Dr. Fred Anderson explained that a Nevada location would be logical considering the rapidly increasing population rate in the areas of both campuses. Because of the comparatively small populations in the areas of the other states' universities, Nevada is highly eligible. Another reason for a Nevada location is that a 500 bed hospital would be needed for such an institution, and the possibility of using the Washoe Medical Center has already been discussed.

At a previous meeting, the Regents discussed the possibilities of either four separate schools or one regional school. Dr. Anderson promised to have information concerning these discussions sent to the rest of the regents.

SNA Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the Student Nurses' Association, to be held tomorrow, will be a get-acquainted session for old and new members. Following the meeting, a picnic for all nursing students will be given by the faculty.

The association will again have as its project the earning of funds to pay expenses to the National SNA convention in Atlantic City.

Students regarding further information about the organization should contact President Ann Prida.

Weems Serves On Export Council

Dr. Robert C. Weems, dean of the college of business administrations, has recently completed service as head of the Nevada Regional Export Expansion Council.

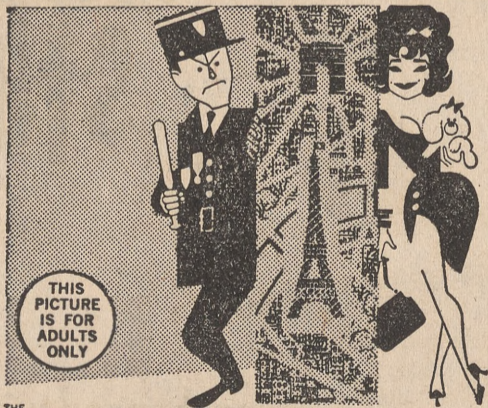

Weems was appointed by Luther H. Hodges, U. S. Secretary of Commerce, to head a group of prominent Nevadans working to stimulate and assist Nevada companies in selling their products abroad and thereby boost U. S. exports.

The Nevada group is one of 33 regional offices working together, without compensation, toward the increased sale of American products on the foreign market. Each group is autonomous, but overall guidance and supervision is provided by the National Export Expansion Council.

FASHIONS FOR FALL CAMPUS WEAR

AWS Fashion Show Is Sat.

Saturday afternoon will see Nevada coeds dressed in the finest to see and be seen at the annual fashion show sponsored by the Associated Women Students.

The campus style show will commence at 1:30 p. m. in the Fine Arts theatre with fashion favorites from Joseph Magnin and modeled by U of N co-eds.

On stage will be: Paulette Bechtoldt, Audrey Chambers, Sue Glenn, Harriett Haag, Pam Hinkley, Pat Lewis, Mary Lou MacKenzie, Suzi Natucci, Mary Louise Reynolds, Judy Schmidt, Karen Phillips, and Sue Voss.

Moderating the parade of college toggerly will be a fashion consultant from San Francisco, flown up especially for the affair.

The University's choicest dresses will be announced by Jim Acheson ASUN president and trophies will be given to the women's living groups with the highest and most improved scholarship for last spring semester.

The $1.25 admission will go to the AWS Scholarship Fund. Some tickets can be purchased at the door, but should be bought in advance due to limited seating space. Sharon Domenici, Juniper hall, is in charge of ticket sales.

Teacakes, coffee, and punch will be served in the lounge area immediately following the show.

Themes Deadline Tues.

Skit scripts for this year's Wolves Frolic must be submitted to director Jim Bernardi by next Tuesday at 4 p. m. There will be an organizational Frolic meeting of all skit directors at that time.

Frolic try-outs are scheduled for the Thursday September 26, in the old gym. "We need people to try out for over-all opening numbers too," said Bernardi. Opening numbers will not include dancing this year.

Any persons wishing to be included in the specialty act may contact Bernardi at 329-8105.

Specialty acts will consist of from one to four people performing for five minutes during scene changes between skits.

S.F. Sojourn Set For Fashion Study

Home Economics 412 students will take a field trip to San Francisco October 30 to spend several days observing fall fashions, and their analysis.

This includes a tour of Miss Trude, Jr., workrooms of California, and a visit to the administrative offices of Koret of California, the largest sportswear manufacturer on the West coast. Later in the afternoon students will tour the Koret factory, and observe garment styling.

The trip will also include visits to other fabric houses, a behind the scenes tour of I. Magnin designers salon, and Jackson Square, which is a wholesale area representing designers and importers of furniture and fabrics.

A final touch of artistry will be added with a visit to the DeYoung Museum, to see the costume collection.

Object of the visit to San Francisco is to teach the students some of the mechanics in designing, cutting and construction, and to observe the intricate details involved in fashion design.

Dr. Horn Studies H. Ec. In Europe

Dr. Marilyn Horn, associate director of the school of home economics, recently returned from a trip to Europe.

Attending the International Congress on Home Economics at the Sorbonne in Paris in July, Dr. Horn had the opportunity to meet 2,000 other home economists, representing 55 countries.

Main issue of the meeting, was the discussion of Home Economists in relation to changing world conditions.

Speeches were translated into German, English and French.

While in Europe, Dr. Horn studied the European fashion industry, particularly those in Italy, Franch, England and Ireland.

Dorm Introduces Officers

Manzanita Hall Association held its first meeting Monday, September 16 to introduce officers to women spending their first semester in the dorm.

Returning officers elected by the association last year are Sue Barry, president; Sandy Coverston, first vice president; Marty Loux, second vice president; Kathy Wick, treasurer; Karen Bone, social chairman; Mary Witkowski, parliamentarian, and Carol Egbert, A. W. S. representative.

Since five other officers are not able to resume duties this year, the Executive Board appointed replacements to serve until elections at the beginning of spring semester.

The new officers are Lynn Lee, secretary; Kay Von Tobel, corresponding secretary; Mary White, historian; Mimi Skillicorn, senator; Barbara Ciarlantini, sports director and Audrey Chambers, dining commons representative.

The group also elected representatives from each class to serve on the dormitory judicial board with the first and second vice presidents. They are — Ellyn Gile, senior representative; Sue Glenn, Junior representative; Shirle Reed, sophomore represen-

Nevada Victory Hopes Dim As Team Leaves for Pocatello

By DOUG BRUCKNER
Sagebrush Sports Editor

With the news that ace halfback Al McDaniels will probably be sidelined giving them a dismal send-off, the University of Nevada's 33 man football squad left at 7 this morning for Pocatello, Idaho. They will open their 1963 season there tomorrow against Idaho State at 2:30 p. m.

McDaniels, throughout the opening weeks of practicing the brightest spot in the Wolf Pack bigskin picture, suffered a leg injury in a Monday scrimmage. He has been undergoing whirlpool treatment ever since. The latest word on him was a big question mark.

The Nevada schedule - makers have picked an extremely stiff foe to start their season.

Coach "Babe" Caccia calls his Idaho State team, "long on depth, speed and size."

The Bengals boast eight potential backfield starters, three of them first stringers in 1962.

Billy Shaw, a sometime starter last season, will probably open at quarterback. Accompanying him in the powerful ISU backfield are Cliff Chilton, Frank Hall, and Mike Kane.

Mike Kane, another 1962 starter will be in the first string backfield again this year.

Behind the first four are lettermen Ted Schmidt, 1962 starter Nick Yorges, and 9.5 sprinter Bill Harvey.

When he says he has backfield depth Caccia is not kidding. He is serving notice.

But Nevada has depth in the backfield also.

Behind Echave, Williams, Cotten and Crawford are several men who would be starting on many other teams.

Jerry Polaha is the slick ballhandler playing second string quarterback. Tony Manguso was a big help in 1962, and packs a 205 pound punch behind Echave. Tony Wheeler is another dangerous runner in the fullback position. Letterman and explosive runner Gary Sullivan who holds the school 440 track record will back up Cotten and Williams.

Weight-wise Idaho State has few problems. They boast six men over 200 pounds at the tackle slot alone. Among the ISU behemoths are Gary Aizawa (220 lbs.), Eugene Keliikuli (230 lbs.), and Tom Williams (245 lbs.).

Aizawa was an honorable mention All-American last year, and is undoubtedly the ruggiest Bengal lineman.

Keliikuli was a junior college honorable mention All-American last year. He played at Wenashee J. C. in Hawaii.

Williams, ISU's largest starter, came to Pocatello from Compton, Cal. J. C.

Despite the heavyweights on the Idaho side of the line, the Wolf Pack frontmen outweigh the Bengal blockers 226 to 209.

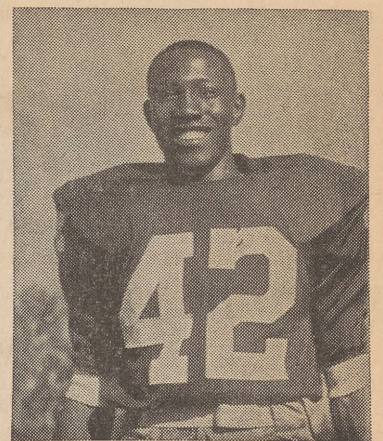

Nevada will throw a good portion of beef at Idaho. Ed Zubey packs 270 pounds at tackle, and Clyde Robards tips it at 255 from the center spot.

Things should be even in the line.

Idaho should stick to a ground game, with a shaky quarterback, and only one outstanding game. They are long on running depth and could pose a potent offensive threat with rushing alone.

The Wolf Pack should present a more wide open game with competent passer Allan Crawford and returning pass snatchers Harlan Heward and Rick Miles back at their first string slots.

PIGSKIN POSTSCRIPTS: The team's itinerary includes a work out at Twin Falls, Idaho High School at 3 this afternoon . . . Arrival time in Pocatello will be in the early evening . . . Latest thing in the Mackay Stadium field house locker room is recorded music . . . They play it before and after practice sessions . . . Most popular songs are "Wiggle Wobble" and "Wipe Out" . . . Idaho State Coach "Babe" Caccia is in his twelfth season as the school's winningest coach . . . His record is 65-27-1 . . . Among the nicknames for Wolf Pack players are "B. C." for Tony Wheeler and "Surfer Joe" for Allan Crawford . . . The latter stemming from his surfing sandles and southern California home base.

Trachok Guides Pack Footballers

Head Coach Dick Trachok came to Nevada in 1959 after a successful stay at Reno High where he compiled a 70-21-3 record and six state football championship in the years.

At Nevada, Trachok has a four year record of 17-16-1. Last year Trachok guided the Wolf Pack to their most successful season in many years. Trachok, a native of Pennsylvania, played on the powerhouse 1948 Nevada team that was rated third in the nation. He was also a good quarter miler on the track team and will be Floyd Edsall's assistant this spring in track.

Frosh Begin Workouts

The Wolf Pack freshman football team started preparation for the 1963 season this week when it began its work-outs Monday. The team will hold a full-game scrimmage this afternoon at 4:00 in Mackay Stadium.

Many high school standouts showed up for the first practice Monday. Among them are Dennis George and Dan Anderson from Sparks, Jim Christman from Yerington, Louis Cooper, a 205 pound fullback from Louisiana and Roger Simons who was a standout at Las Vegas High School last year. The biggest man on the squad is Jeff Scott, a 6-7, 260 pound lineman from Los Banos high school in Merced.

This year's team is being coached by Chuck Walker, John Prida and Pat Mills.

Walker, a native of Sparks, coached at Humboldt County High School in Winnemucca for the past three seasons. Prida, also a native of Nevada, comes from Lovelock. He graduated from the University in 1962, and coached on both the freshman football and basketball teams last year. Mills, a graduate of the University of California in Santa Barbara, was head coach at Porterville Junior College for three seasons.

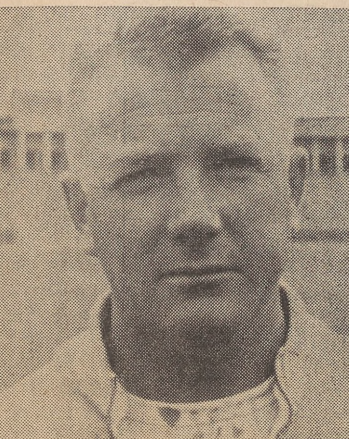

The Frosh squad will play a four game schedule this year with the season opener slated for October 4, when they play Shasta Junior College.

Intramurals

Softball play will begin Thursday October 19. Schedules for the season are still pending.

The 1963 Street and Smith College Football Yearbook has a different version of the Far Western Conference than the Sagebrush sports staff. The Sagebrush did better by Nevada.

The Street and Smithers tab San Francisco State to take it all, with Sagebrush favorite Humboldt State forecasted for second. The magazine prognostications see Nevada in fourth place.

Street and Smith's qualifications are questionable, because in seasonal individual game predictions the authors picked Nevada to win only one game.

How the Pack is going to win one game and finish fourth is a mystery since two teams are ranked below them.

Nevada fourth. Don't count on it.

THE FORGOTTEN SPORT

Few people even know that the University of Nevada has a cross-country team. Indications to this effect come from attendance figures for the last few seasons, that seldom number the above 10.

This season not only the fans, but the competitors are forgetting about the manly sport of running.

Actually cross-country isn't that bad a deal. True, it is a grueling sport with little glory and few headlines. But members of the team earn letters, travel to other colleges for competition, get excellent physical preparation for the coming track season. CC even counts as a physical education credit for the first two years of competition.

It's high time cross country was taken off the shelf, so why not take a peak at a cross-country meet or two this season.

If you feel the urge to run, try out today at the first official practice slated for 3:45 in Mackay Stadium.

THE PAUSE THAT REFRESHES

With the home opener only a week away we felt it a good time to point the Sagebrush scope at the football game drinking problem. Since the administration lowered the boom on bottles last season, football game drinking has become more of a sport than some of the action on the field.

Students caught with evil fluids at this year's contests will not only be ejected from he game, but from school as well.

A look at a 1959 Sagebrush throws some additional light on the matter. At this time it was illegal to drink in the stadium, but the law was apparently lax in its enforcement.

Then counselor for the office of student affairs Jerry Wulk is quoted as saying, "I have never seen such a problem (drinking at games) handled so well by the students."

One of two things has happened in the last three years . . . Either the students quit handling the problem in the praise-worthy 1959 manner, or the administration took the responsibility away from them.

So if you feel the urge on Sept. 28, get half-gassed before the game starts, then slip out at halftime for a couple of belts. But don't drink in the stands—we need you as rooters.

See you on the west side of Virginia at the half.

START THE WORLD, I WANT TO GET ON . . .

The immortal Satchel Paige once counceiled, "Go very light on the vices, such as carryin on in society. The social ramble ain't restful."

Our University has always been known as the keg campus in college circles across the country. From the days of the Dean of society, Sundowner Sam Basta to the reign of knitting Jim Acheson. Nothing's changed . . . well, hardly.

OUR LEADERS AT PLAY: There were some distinguished hangers around campus after Leadership conference at Tahoe last weekend. Does that place ALWAYS affect people that way? Politicos Larry Struve, U of N Prexy Acheson, Jim Bernardi, Andy Gotelli, Bob Alward and my Editress, among others.

Each and all are tight-lipped about the affairs of state but several tender items have reached my ears . . .

MOST QUOTABLE QUOTE . . . Bob Kersey, Director of Student Services, "The passion bus leaves in five for Hank's bar." Gadzoox . . . Did he say THAT?

Jinx Dabney among others was involved in the effort to reach the keys to Keith Stephen's car. (He locked them in the trunk.)

Judy Charbonneau seemed to be the only one familiar with hot-wiring cars and gave advice freely . . .

MOST QUOTEABLE QUOTE . . . Keith Stephen's reply to Judy Charbonneau.

SCENE: I've got a feeling this won't write worth a damn, but nothing ventured, and where are you? Ahead, that's where, Anyway.

The ATO contingent bombed the Lambda Chi's with pinecones. What happened, you ask? Don't even try to guess. The Lamby Pie's barricaded their doors against the onslaught . . . Spoilsports. The Taus, after more adventurous game, drove to Virginia City. Heheheh! And nothing ventured, NOTHING.

CENSORSHIP: It seems most of the better items to come from the Conference (?) revolved around the editress of one of the campus newspapers (Count 'e mon your thumb) I dislike inside jokes but the editing pencil hangs heavily. And why-o-why is that . . . ? Pull yourself together, Duncan, onward . . .

And so we leave the glistening shores of silver Lake Tahoe, and the 4-H camp, and for what the four H's stand for is ANYbody's guess. Behind us, sillhouted against the setting sun we see our statesmen dressed in formal attire. (Chicken bones through the nasal septum) VERY chic

OVERHEARD at the SAE tennis court dance, boy to date: "You're stupid. I LIKE that in a woman."

"You have the charm of Venus," said Tom disarmingly.

STORM REPORTS: Each morning moans of seasickness can be heard wafting from the Tri-Delt house and Jane Bennett, lower half of a bunk bed. Patty Ceccarelli keeps shaking the top. I just don't know what's going ON up there!

"I just lost at Russian Roulette," said Tom absent-mindedly. Speaking of Patty C. would someone tell me how she gets the keys to Duncan Edwards Sting Ray? He swears on a stack of libels that he never lets it out of his sight . . . yawn . . .

THE SON SENSES: A pinning will be announced Monday night at the third house on Sierra street. Better start from the right end, though. In fact the closed mouth couple will be celebrating their 1st (week) anniversary . . . how tempus fugits . . .

"That dog has no pedigree," Tom muttered.

BE HAPPY YOU'RE A NEVADAN DEPT.: In Bulgaria a drunk driver who causes an accident is executed by a firing squad, which I say is no way to treat a man with a hang-over.

A TWO PARTY SYSTEM: The social center of the University is split on two fronts at last reports. The infamous Friendship Farm's Friday T. G. I. F.ers of Mike Dimmitt, Bill Sampson and Tony Mynsted is vying with newcomer "Apartment N". The burgeoning "N" is held by Doug Bruckner, Butch Brinkerhoff, Gary Boyd, and Brian Hardy.

But the Farmers have been reaping the crop of freshmen partygoers for several weeks and have to be credited with a headstart.

Big IN at both parties was the featured dancing of Mike Brunetto and Barbara Heller. The new "1-2-3" has replaced the South Bay . . .

Happiness Is A Crowded Driftwood Lounge . . .

WHAT IS? Red and white on the outside and grey and white on the inside? Go ahead and guess . . . Answer: A can of Campbell's cream of elephant soup. But you knew that, didn't you?

FRIDAY FINALE: (Shades of Rachael Carson) . . . If your martini tastes different lately, its probably the pesticide in the olive.

Dean Holstine Resigns U of N Post

Dr. Garold Holstine, former dean of the college of education, resigned his position last month.

He accepted the position as Director of Educational Relations of the American Red Cross in Washington D. C.

He has been dean since 1954. He was also director of summer school.

Dr. R. DeVerl Willey, former chairman of elementary education, will serve as acting dean of the college until a permanent successor has been selected.
