Twenty-ninth Messiah Here Sunday Night

The twenty-ninth annual presentation of Handel's Messiah in the Reno area will be performed Sunday, December 8, in the University of Nevada Gymnasium at 8:15 p. m.

The Christmas portion of George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" has been given here for twenty-nine consecutive years.

The choir consists of the University Singers and the Community Symphonic Choir. Accompanying the vocalists will be the University and Community Orchestra.

Dr. Keith Macy will be the conductor, and Prof. Harold Goddard will assist as orchestra director.

The four soloists will be Ruth Rahman, soprano; Shelby Squier, contralto; Joseph Battaglia, tenor, and Jerald Reynolds, baritone.

The Sagens will usher again this year.

An opportunity will be given to contribute toward defraying incidental expenses of this and future concerts. At the close of the concert ushers will be stationed at the doors to receive offerings.

"The Messiah is the most popular oratorio in existence," Dr. Macy said "It is one of the major productions given by choral organizations in the United States."

"It is my hope that people in this area will become so familiar with the Messiah, that in the future the audience will be able to sing along with the choir."

Musical Tryouts Extended Two Days

Two more days, December 5 and 6, have been extended for musical auditions. The success of the tryouts will determine whether the University will present its annual spring musical or not.

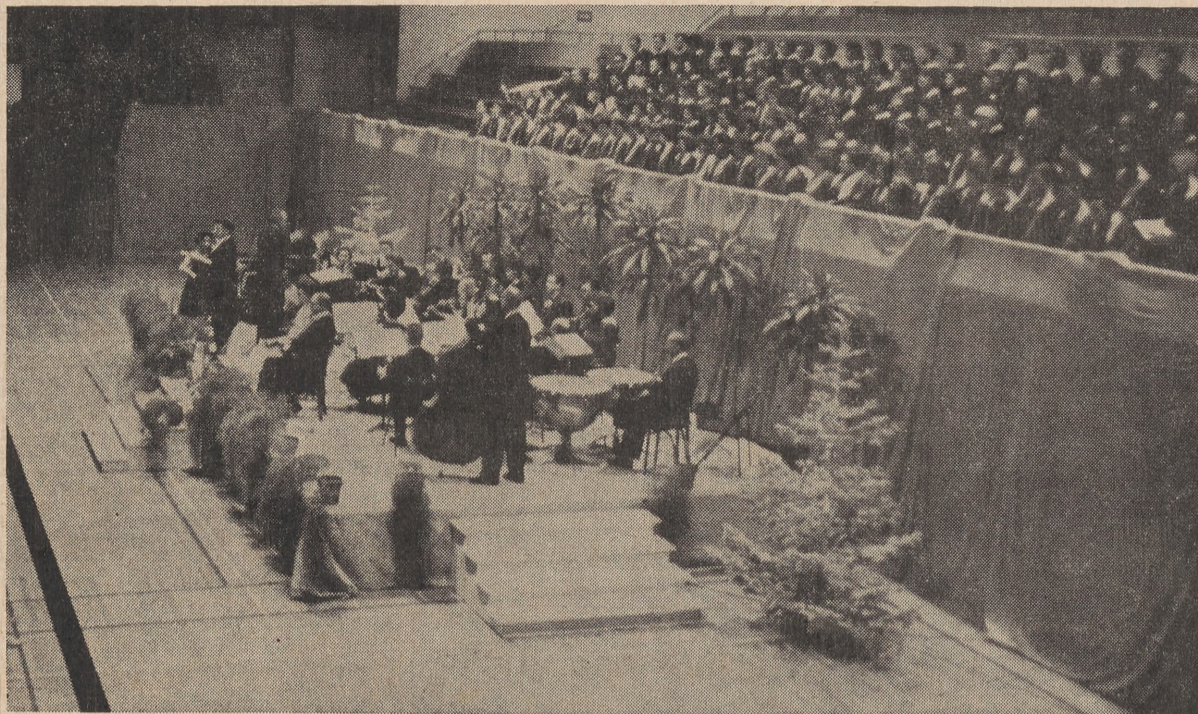

If they are successful, the musical will be the "Three Penny Opera." It will be presented March 2 through 7.

Tryouts are open to anyone, including townspeople. Time for the auditions is 7:30 to 10 p. m. December 5 and 3 to 5 p. m. and 7:30 to 10 p. m. December 6 in room 102, music wing of the Fine Arts building.

Those trying out should bring their own sheet music, an accompanist if possible, and should be prepared to run through two different types of songs from the musical theater.

Mr. Robert Strane said even if an interested person cannot sing, he should tryout any way. Not all of the roles in the Three Penny Opera are singing. It is more of a play with songs, Strane said.

He added that if there are not enough people interested in the parts, there would probably be no musical.

THE SPIRITUAL VOICE of Christmas sings out traditionally each year through the music department's presentation of Handel's "Messiah." This year's program will again be in the new gym next Sunday, December 8, beginning at 8:15. Featured soloists will be Soprano Ruth Rahman, Contralto Shelby Squier, Tenor Joseph Battaglia and Baritone Jerald Reynolds.

Board's Function Explained

by TOM HARVEY

The Student Affairs Board, an administrative organ at the University of Nevada has been subjected to a great deal of criticism lately. Part of this controversy is based on two recent actions by the board, one concerning a student organization, "Helix," and the other concerning a Sagebrush reporter who was blocked from attending one of its meetings. Another part of the controversy is based on a cloud concept of what the function of the Board actually is.

According to Elaine Mobley, dean of women, a group of students met in 1946 with the dean of men and the dean of women to establish a universal student code. The final code drawn up by this group was a general list of regulations and policies which to this day have never been changed.

At this same time a Student Affairs Board was established, as an advisory group to the President of the University. Its governing constitution was the new Student Social Code.

The Board as it exists today, is different from the original only in its membership. At times it has been called a committee rather than a board, but its function has remained much the same—as an advisory board to the President.

Members of the Student Affairs Board use three sources for the basis of their decisions, according to Board Chairman Maj. Noel Craun. They are the Constitution of the "Student Handbook," and a booklet called "Guidance To The Use of University Facilities."

Maj. Craun noted that there is one area where the Board actually makes a final decision, and that is in permitting or denying a group official sanction by the University. He also stated that no group has ever been denied the right to exist on campus so long as it has complied with the rules as established by the students in 1946.

According to both Dean Mobley and Maj. Craun, the Board is rarely concerned with making any final decisions on policy. The majority of time is spent on student problems, both individual and group. Since it is easy for these problems to become personal, and since these decisions are advisory rather than final, both Mobley and Craun feel it is unwise to publicize the discussion until a final statement has been prepared, presented to President Charles J. Armstrong, and approved by him.

Members of the Board beside Maj. Craun are: Dr. Kathryn Duffy, associate professor of business administration; Dr. Robert Armstrong, instructor of philosophy; Mary Rossolo, president of the AWS; Jim Acheson, president, AS UN; Mr. Floyd Edsall, assistant professor, physical education; and Mrs. Ronald Ezell, technical assistant, nursing.

Dr. Samuel Basta, dean of student affairs, and Dr. Harold Kirkpatrick, assistant dean, college of arts and science, are advisors to, but not members of, the Board.

FORUM EDITOR TO BE CHOSEN

The election of the Editorial Board for the ASUN Forum, a journal of campus opinion, will be made at a meeting of the Publications Board Wednesday

The Board will meet at 4 p. m. in room 106 Ross hall.

The opinion journal was finally give the Boards approval after months of controversy. Publications Board put the journal idea into committee for study over the summer. The committee came up with a report which suggested abolition of the idea. The Board approved the committee report, but the ASUN senate asked that it reconsider and give Forum a trial period.

Wednesday the editorial board of Forum will be chosen. It is to consist of Forum editor, assistant editor, business manager, and two representatives from Publications Board. In addition, a faculty advisor and the Sagebrush editor will serve as non-voting members.

BELLI CANCELS SPEAKING ENGAGEMENT

Melvin Mouron Belli, famous trial lawyer scheduled to speak here tomorrow night, has cancelled his visit to the University of Nevada.

"We understand that he has a case," said a Student Union Board spokesman. "But we hope to get him in the near future . . . it is just a matter of re-scheduling."

Belli, senior partner of the internationally-known law firm of Belli, Ashe and Gerry, was to relate the "Strange World of the Trial Lawyer" to members of the University community.

History Group Sponsors Talk

Trans-Atlantic Attitudes: "Britain Views America," will be the subject of a lecture sponsored by Phi Alpha Theta tonight at 7:30 in room 101, Scrugham Engineering-Mines building.

J. A. Thompson will be the featured speaker. He is currently an instructor in British history at Nevada. He spent the past year doing research at the famed British Museum in London. He also spent the last three summers in the British Isles and has studied at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Bruce Beardsley, president of the honorary history society said the meeting is open to all interested students and faculty.

Famed Quintet To Perform In Commons

The Quintetto Boccherini, famous Italian string ensemble, will play on campus Thursday night as the third presentation of the 1963 artist-lecture series.

The Quintetto will perform at 8 p. m. in the dining commons December 5, sponsored by the Public Occasions committee.

Named for Luigi Boccherini, who was known as the "Italian Mozart", the string ensemble features the artist's quintets in their programs. Boccherini composed around 150 quintets.

Pina Carmirelli, an Italian violinist, organized the musical group after she had discovered a collection of Boccherini first editions consisting of 160 compositions, 93 of which were quintets.

Previous to Signora Carmirelli's discovery in 1945, Boccherini was represented by a limited number of his works.

The established virtuosi who organized to bring Boccherini's works to the public do not limit themselves exclusively to his works.

The Quintetto was invited to present Bach's Art of the Fugue in its entirety at the Bach Festival in Ansbach, Germany during the summer of 1961.

Two violins, a viola and two cello make up the ensemble. Members of the Quintetto are Pina Carmirelli, violinist; Arturo Bonucci, cellist; Nerio Brunelli, cellist; Filippo Olivieri, violinist; and Luigi Sagrati, violist.

Founder Pina Carmirelli also appears as soloist in frequent European concerts when the Quintetto's schedule permits. She is especially acclaimed for her concert performance of Brahms's Violin Concerto. The other musical members also perform in various soloist capacities.

This is the string ensemble's fourth American tour. The other ones were in 1954, 1956, and 1962.

Their present tour started in Montreal and will end in Vancouver, British Columbia. Concerts will be given in such music centers as New York, Toronto, Indianapolis, New Orleans, San Antonio, Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

Following the Quintetto's presentation in the artist-lecture series will be noted actor Phillip Hanso. He will present a reading of Shakespeare's "Villians and Fools." The performance is scheduled for Saturday, February 8, in the State building.

Other presentations sponsored by the series have been Eudice Shapiro and the West Coast Opera Company's "Madame Butterfly."

Admission to the artist-lecture series presentations is free to students with University identification cards. Other admission is by season ticket or $2.25 for adults. Other students and children will be charged $1 apiece.

MORE ON ROTC

Compulsory ROTC hurts the image of the ROTC department. Students cannot help but be prejudiced if they are forced to drill and attend classes in military training. Most of these students did not come to Nevada to become officers.

A university is no place to force students to train to be officers. A university should be a place where academic achievement is stressed. If a student wants to train to be an officer or an athlete or something else, that's okay. If ROTC is to be compulsory it should count toward a student's military commitment. Also, the ROTC department should take into account the fact that many students belong to Reserve groups and these students should not have to take ROTC.

Would not the ROTC program be better off if only students who volunteered took part? The ROTC boys would then be more dedicated and the program as a whole would be more efficient because the "dead wood" would be mostly eliminated. The complaining and apathy would be noticeably decreased because only students who wanted to be in ROTC would be there.

More time can be devoted to other studies if all freshman and sophomore students did not have to take ROTC.

High school graduates who are seeking to enter the University may be scared off because of our compulsory ROTC program. A male student who has a choice between a school with compulsory ROTC and one without could possibly choose the latter.

Land Grant institutions are supposed to offer ROTC under the Morrill Act of 1862. However, ROTC does not necessarily have to be compulsory. It must be possible to get rid of it because it has been done at other institutions.

Living Groups Sked Dances This Weekend

Christmas dances for two sororities, three fraternities, and four dormitories will be held this weekend.

The women of Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Beta Phi will entertain guests Friday from 9 p. m. to midnight. The Thetas will hold their dance at the Lancer while the Pi Phis will be dancing to the music of Jan Savage's group at the Mapes hotel.

Saturday night the men of Sigma Nu will entertain guests at the Riverside hotel. The members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will hold their dance at the Mapes, while the members of Theta Chi dance at the Lancer.

This year's "Four-Dorm" dance will be held at the Elk's Club the same evening.

The following weekend, December 13-14, the women of Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Delta Delta, and the men of Alpha Tau Omega, Lambda Phi Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Phi Sigma Kappa will hold their annual Christmas Formals.

Marine Recruits On Campus Now

The Marine Corps Officer Selection team will visit the campus December 4 and 5. The team will discuss its officer training program with interested students in the Student Union between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Aviation and line officer programs will be explained by Captain Arthur Loring. Training for qualified freshmen, sophomore, and juniors is conducted under Platoon Leaders Classes.

The training leads to a commission and advanced training as either an aviation or field officer when the bachelor's degree is earned. No military classes or drills are required by the PLC during the school year.

Training is conducted during the summer at two, six-week instruction periods. A college degree is necessary for a commission.

Also offered is the Officer Candidate and Aviation Officer Candidate Courses for seniors. Instruction is given at Quantico, Virginia, with flight training in its beginning stages conducted at Pensacola, Florida.

AWS Lecture Set

The next AWS sponsored lecture will be given by Dr. Marilyn Horn, of the home economics school. She will speak in the Education Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday December 10.

Her lecture topic will be "American and French Couture, plus a Fashion Forecast for 1964."

THE CURE

TIRED OF STUDY, study, study? There is much more in life than just college you know. One can often get into such a rut that you think you will lose your mind.

FOR MANY the Thanksgiving vacation provided a needed break from the rigors and demands of college. Sure, all of us should have spent the vacation working on that damn term paper or preparing for that test the considerate prof. gave the day after vacation. All well and good, but there is much more to life than books and papers. One just has to get away from the rat race now and then.

AS I SIT here in Enrico's Coffee House in San Francisco, the whole world is passing before my table—the University of Nevada is a million miles away now as far as I am concerned. Down in Union Square, the quaint flower stands are ablaze with the colors of chrysanthemums, carnations, and orchids. The corner of Powell and Geary is crowded with shoppers, businessmen, tourists, and other well-dressed people—quite unlike Reno.

THE HOLIDAY season is in the air and everyone is scurrying with gaily wrapped packages under their arms. At the St. Francis hotel, an impressive looking couple from the Near East have just arrived on an afternoon jet. High atop Nob Hill, the businessmen are sipping their martinis in the Crown Room of the Fairmont hotel.

DOWN ON Broadway, the night clubs are opening their doors. Soon the night set will be invading The Committee, The Red Balloon, Off Broadway, and Earthquake Magoons. The top names in show business are just inside these doors and minus the slot machine atmosphere.

COIT TOWER looms in the distance welcoming the incoming luxury liner. The Bay Bridge is majestically wearing its crown of fog and Alcatraz can dimly be seen anchored in the bay — a forbidden island.

CHINATOWN is gaily lighted with multi-colored paper lanterns. Strange and exotic odors drift out of the shops. An old man wearing a queue shuffles by while a statesque Oriental girl slides into a dimly lit doorway, only to disappear behind a closing shoji screen.

A CABLE CAR is depositing its cargo of tourists at the foot of Fisherman's Wharf. The fog horn cries out its dismal warning to passing ships.

YES, NEVADA professors and tests are all far away. The mind has been re-charged, the rut has been smoothed out and life looks much gayer, brighter. The best cure any doctor can recommend for the college student who finds himself tired of college and in a rut, is a trip to the fabulous City where East meets West — SAN FRANCISCO.

University Press Publishes Nevada History Bibliography

"A Burro Balked and a Boom Began," Adolph Sutro's Coyote Hole," "Golden Harvest at Aurora," "Nevada's First Newspapers," and "Can Reno Be Cured?" are some of the titles listed in a new bibliography published by the University Press.

The 156 page publication was prepared by the history and political science department. The publication is the fifth in the Nevada Studies in History and Political Science Series.

Subjects from ghost towns to geological surveys are listed in the bibliography.

Before the publication of "Writings in Nevada", the only bibliography on Nevada history was "Nevada in Print," published in 1961 under the guidance of Mrs. Byrd Sawyer. The coverage in this publication was limited to books in print and a selective list of out-of-print books.

The University Press publication goes a step further by including both the important books and a selection of unpublished theses, numerous articles from professional and popular magazines, and biographical guides and indexes dealing with the development of Nevada.

Dr. Russell R. Elliott, chairman of the history department and one of the compilers of the bibliography, stated the hope that the list of writings will help open the door to students of Nevada history who want to gather material for presentation, and to all others who want to read or write about Nevada.

Co-editor of the publication is Helen J. Poulton, reference and social science librarian at the University.

Most of the writings listed in the bibliography are available in the Nevada State Library in Carson City, the Nevada Historical Society in Reno, the University of Nevada Library, the Bancroft Library at the University of California, Berkeley, and the California State Library at Sacramento.

Copies of the publication are available from the history or political science department at $1.50 each.

Education Curriculum Is Subject Of Survey

The college of education has undergone an extensive survey of the University's education curriculum.

The program was started two years ago under Dr. Garold D. Holstine, then dean of the college of education. Since September, under the supervision of Dr. R. DeVerl Willey, acting dean, the college has compiled data and carefully revised the courses to fit the needs of the students.

Referring to Dr. James Conant's new book, "The Education of American Teachers", Dr. Willey says the University's education curriculum compares "very favorably" with the recommendations in Dr. Conant's book.

Dr. Conant is the retired Dean of Harvard University and one of the nation's leading educators.

New Mexico Artist Displays Work In FA Lounge

Paul Morris Wright, a New Mexico artist, has been invited to hold a one man exhibition this month in the Fine Arts building. Wright will exhibit ten paintings and one piece of sculpture in the lounge gallery.

His background is diverse and includes work at a number of institutions across the United States. Beginning his training in 1936, he has studied at the University of Missouri, Kansas City Art Institute, and the Art Students League in New York. He holds the Bachelors degree from the University of New Mexico and a Master of Fine Arts degree from Cranbrook Academy in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan.

Ag. Profs Give Papers At ASA

Five research papers prepared by scientists from the College of Agriculture have been accepted for presentation at the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy in Denver this month.

Authors of the papers are Dr. H. P. Cords, Amir A. Badiel, Dr. R. O. Gifford, Dr. E. H. Jensen, A. L. Lesperance, R. N. Peaden, and Dr. H. L. Carnahan.

These papers are based on original research conducted by the University of Nevada Agricultural Experiment Station.

His teaching experience includes a guest instructorship at the University of New Mexico and he has exhibited nationally. His work has been published in a number of magazines and newspapers, including Time and Life.

He is presently in both independent creative work and in the profession of museum display planning. Wright organizes the images, objects and text and is in general, responsible for the logical and integrated visual structure of the presentation.

The paintings reflect the solid craftsmanship as well as a poetic insight into the play of light and color on objects. His motif is usually one which would be encountered out of doors, allowing him the opportunity of giving full play to a soft atmospheric handling. Drawing heavily as he does from the world of nature, his objects include horses, butterflies, birds, and amorphous landscapes and his one piece of sculpture is an eloquent, linear statement concerning the grace of birds in flight.

Wright's one man show will hang in a gallery area adjacent to an exhibit of paintings by Charles Ross and William Vaughn Howard who were fellow students with Wright at the University of New Mexico.

Wright's exhibit will be on display through December 7.

Slimnastics Course To Be Offered

If the word "fat" makes you cringe, perhaps you should try "slimnastics".

"Slimnastics" is a P. E. class to be offered for the first time next semester, designed to help people lose weight and distribute measurements in better proportion.

It will be open to any Nevada student and will count as a regular P. E. 100 course. There will be two sections, at 11 a. m. and 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday.

In addition to exercise, the class will offer guidance on diet to help students eat sanely while reducing calorie intake.

For those who don't need to lose weight, it is possible, through exercise, to firm the body, thereby losing inches without weight loss.

SN Top Volleyball; Taus Lead Team In Total Points

Sigma Nu emerged as the all-University champions in the highly competitive volleyball league with 72 points, 12 points ahead of the second place team. Sigma Nu beat the winners of the Spikers league, Lambda Chi Alpha, in two games 15-7 and 15-2.

At the original drawing of the league the Spikers league and the Set-up league were formed. Lambda Chi Alpha won the Spikers league winning three games and losing none. In the Set-up league the situation was not so simple. Alpha Tau Omega, the Independents No 1, and Sigma Nu held a three way tie for first place.

In the playoffs ATO beat the Independents, and Sigma Nu beat the ATO's. Sigma Nu and Lambda Chi Alpha then fought for the all-University volleyball championship.

Points thus far:

	S	V	CC	T
Theta Chi	18	48	0	12
Lambda Chi	144	60	27	28
Phi Sig Kappa	90	90	0	0
White Pine Hall	90	24	2	32
Alpha Tau Omega	162	60	135	58
Sigma Alpha Ep	72	24	49	8
Inedpedents No. 1	0	48	56	0
Sigma Nu	108	72	71	42

The champion in softball is ATO, in volleyball, Sigma Nu, cross country, the Independents, and in tennis ATO.

The total points for the all-University championship thus far are:

Alpha Tau Omega	451 pts.
Sigma Nu	293
Lambda Chi Alpha	292
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	153
White Pine Hall	144
Phi Sigma Kappa	124
Independents No. 1	104
Theta Chi	78

Machen KO's Bailey; Leslie Upsets Tenth Ranker

Sixth-ranked heavyweight contender Eddie Mache of Los Angeles kayoed Dave Bailey of Philadelphia in the eighth round of their scheduled ten on the United Benefit boxing card held at the University of Nevada gymnasium Saturday night.

University of Nevada boxing coach Jim Olivias refereed the bout.

Machen was fined $100 by the Nevada State Athletic Commission for "attempting to seriously jeopardize the chances of his opponent Dave Bailey."

The commission said: "Machen attempted deliberately to foul Bailey, by kneeling him in the groin, but the foul was not completed, in the opinion of the referee." The commission was reportedly considering holding up Machen's purse.

Charles Leslie of Los Angeles, in only his sixth pro start, upset tenth-ranked Thad Spencer in the companion feature.

Former Nevada boxing great Mills Lane referred the second main event. In 1960 Lane won the NCAA welterweight championship and was awarded the John S. La Rowe trophy as the outstanding collegiate boxer.

Another former Nevada boxer Lonnie Tolano, senior in physical education, defeated Jimmy Ahmed of Las Vegas in a middleweight contest.

ME? A POET? HECK NO!

I'm an economics major hinting that I want a REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II for Christmas. (It costs a little more than most electric shavers, but it's worth it.)

There's a simple, sound reason why the REMINGTON LEKTRONIC II costs more: It delivers more of a shave.

There's the cordless feature. Sealed-in, rechargeable energy cells let you shave anywhere without a plug. And what shaves they are! 348 cutting edges of high-carbon steel (sharper and tougher than stainless-steel) whisk whiskers off. The edges are honed on an angle. So whiskers get sliced off instead of "ploughed" up. 756 whisker gathering slots in the big shaving head feed whiskers to the cutters faster. And on top of the shaving head are the REMINGTON Roller Combs. Adjust to any skin or beard. Push skin down, pop whiskers up into the cutters.

Forget to recharge? There's a cord. Plug it in and shave anywhere. With a cord, without a cord, with the LEKTRONIC II you're never without a close, comfortable shave.

Montana St., Alaska Are Pack Opponents

The Wolf Pack from Nevada will visit Missoula tonight and help Montana St. University open its 1963-64 basketball season.

Nevada has two games under its belt so far this season. In the Wolves' opener Saturday night, they were beaten by the University of San Francisco Dons, 88-64. The University of Idaho at Moscow hosted Nevada last night.

Senior guard Tim Aldrich of the Grizzlies could prove to be a problem for the Pack tonight. Up front Montana will probably start Keith Law and Harold Fullerton. Rock Greenfield will be at the pivot, while Hal Peterson or Jim Prameko will join Aldrich in the back court.

The Grizzlies' starting lineup averages 6 feet, 3 inches in height.

After tonight's game, the Pack will help the University of Alaska dedicate their new gym in College on Thursday night. Games are also scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights against the Nanooks.

Coach William Watterson of Alaska has ten back from a moderately successful 62-63 squad. The Nanooks will count heavily this season on Franz Spencer and Jonathan Springer.

Spencer, a 6-4 senior forward, is the leading returning scorer. He has earned three basketball letters and is set for his best season. Springer, also 6-4, was the teams leading rebounder last year. The sophomore flash alternates at center and forward.

The Alaskans will expect a lot of help this year from newcomers Bill Bettis, a 6-0 guard, and Gordon Stryken, a 6-1 forward.

Coach Jack Spencer took a 12-man squad to San Francisco, Moscow, and Missoula. Ten players will continue on to College.

The travelling squad includes Bill Robinson, Harlan Heward, Bob Donlan, Bob Schebler, Tom Andreason, Nap Montgomery, Larry Moore, Bill Nicholson, Mike Olivas, Gerald Rogers, Jim Simmons, and Bill Owens.

Frank Forvilly did not make the first road trip because of an ankle sprain.

Nevada's home opener will be Tuesday, December 10, against San Fernando Valley State.

Twenty-three Men Tryout For Boxing; 4 Lettermen Back

Twenty-three men have reported to coach Jimmie Olivas's boxing squad. Four lettermen, including three who won titles in California Collegiate Boxing Conference competition, are back this year.

Twice all-American boxer Skip Houk is one of the top men that Olivas will be depending on this season. Houk, a three year letterman, boxes in the 147-pound division.

Larry Williamson, who was conference champion last year in the 125 pound division, will also be depended on by the Pack.

Heavyweight Jim Evans is another letterman on the Nevada squad. He was also conference champion in his division.

Another valuable member of the boxing squad is Dave Stix who boxes in the 155-pound division. Stix was winner of the 1963 National Boxing Association DeWitt Portal sportsmanship trophy last season.

Coach Olivas is elated with the Wolves boxing prospects this season. He expects this year to be one of the best in the history of Nevada. Olivas is beginning his thirteenth year as coach of the Wolf Pack boxing squad.

Four Nevada football players are trying out for the boxing team this year. They are Jock Echave, John Gaynor, Dale Landon, and John McSweeney. Other members of the team include Bob Duillo, Larry Malone, Mickey Williams, Tom Palmore, Charles Breesse, Mike Smithwick, Rich Lespede, Bill Lamb, Harold Albright, Gary Devine, Jeff Olivas, Robert Fisher, Marvin Garilty, Dave Kappler, and Jack Clark.

Seven matches are scheduled for the team this season, beginning with the Novice Tourney at Chico on February 8. Other highlights of the season will be a match with USC on February 12, and the Conference Tourney at Reno on March 20-21.

Strong USF Outscores Wolf Pack In Opener

The highly rated San Francisco Dons toppled Nevada 88-64 Saturday night in the Bay Area. This was the season basketball opener for both clubs.

San Francisco, which is considered to be one of the top teams on the coast and the nation, was led by forward Dave Lee and center Ollie Johnson. Johnson, an all-American candidate, scored 24 points for the winners, and Lee contributed 21 points to the Dons' cause.

Veteran center Bill Robinson of Nevada shared scoring honors with Johnson by making 24 points. Robinson was the Wolves leading scorer last year with a 25 point average.

Nevada led early in the game 5-4, and was only 3 points behind at 13-10 with six minutes gone in the game.

However, the Dons used backboard supremacy and outside shooting to gain a 49-36 halftime advantage. San Francisco gathered in 34 rebounds during the first half, to the Pack's 18.

The green and gold clad Dons used the long range shooting of Lee and Huey Thomas to add to their lead in the second half.

Guard, Bob Donlan was valuable for Nevada by canning 16 points. The six foot senior made many of his points in the first half to keep the Pack in the game. Donlan averaged 9.3 points per game last year.

Big six foot five inch forward Bill Nicholson also hit in double figures for the Silver and Blue cagers by scoring 10 points.

Junior college transfer Mike Olivas also played well and added seven points to Nevada's cause.

Coach Jack Spencer of the Nevada Wolf Pack used 9 players in the contest and 7 players scored.

Snowy Slopes Inspire Skiers

With the appearance of several feet of snow on the Sierra slopes, the Wolf Pack ski team is beginning to practice in earnest.

Ski Coach Chelton A. Leonard has been putting his squad through vigorous conditioning and training exercises for several weeks in preparation for the coming season.

However, with the "white stuff" now covering the rocks and logs at Sky Tavern and Slide Mountain on Mt. Rose the ski squad will do less running and more skiing.

The followig schedule is only tentative and may be changed during the season, said Coach Leonard.

Some of the sites have been announced but should be known in the next few weeks.

Heath's Passing Mark Broken By Baylor Star

Former Nevada All American quarterback Stan Heath's passing yardage record was smashed last weeked by Baylor quarterback Don Trull.

Heath played on the powerhouse Nevada teams of the late 1940's. In 1948 he led a Nevada team to a high national ranking by passing for 2005 yards. This was a record for passing yardage in one season.

Trull has gained 2047 yards in passing this season and still has one game left to add to his total.

Radio Students Record U of N News Reaction

While all activity halted on the University of Nevada campus Friday November 22 to hear news of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, four journalism students remained in their classroom to record campus reaction to the tragedy.

Although classes had been dismissed, Mimi Skillicorn and Doug Bruckner, members of the radio news-writing class, stayed on to prepare a special broadcast for radio KNEV. The student FM station, KUNR, for which they would normally have been writing, was closed because of the President's death.

Professor La Rue W. Gilleland, instructor of the radio news editing class, called the presentation "an articulate, factual and dramatic broadcast." He added that by remaining to prepare the program, he felt the two students "showed a genuine professional attitude."

Two senior journalism students, Bob Howard and Carole Hueftle, currently serving an internship at KOLO-TV, also prepared a similar broadcast for that station.

Ag Prof Elected To Editorial Positions

Dr. Howard Carnahan, research agronomist for the Agriculture Research Service at the University of Nevada, was elected to various positions during the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy earlier this month at Denver.

He is now the associate editor of two magazines: "Crop Science", the official publication of the Crop Science Society, and "Agronomy Journal", the official publication of the American Society of Agronomy. While fulfilling these four-year appointments, Dr. Carnahan will assist in reviewing research papers submitted to the magazines for publication.

He was elected secretary of the Western Alfalfa Improvement Conference, made up of representatives from twelve western states which build and research alfalfa varieties. He was also given the same office with the W-40 Technical Research Committee, which is concerned with development of techniques to utilize hybrid vigor in forage crops.

Maintenance Men Busy

The university maintenance men are currently gathering the leaves on campus.

"The leaves are wet due to the rainstorms last week and as a result they are very slippery and dangerous", reports John Sala, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

The leaves are taken to the north end of Hartman hall where they are dumped into a composite pile. They later serve as fertilizer for the flowers and grass, Sala said.

The maintenance men are working as fast as possible, especially around the steps and walks where accidents are most likely to occur.

Writing Contest Offers Students Cash Prizes

Writers from Northern California and Nevada have a chance to win a $1,000 grant-in-aid in the 8th annual competition for the "Joseph Henry Jackson Award."

Sponsored by the San Francisco Foundation, the award will be made for an unpublished partly finished fiction, non-fiction prose, or poetry full length book. The author must have been a resident of Northern California or Nevada for at least three years, and under 35 years of age.

Each application must be made on a form obtained from the San Francisco Foundation, 351 California Street, San Francisco, California. A portion of the manuscript, a description of the unfinished part, and any other materials that the judges might need should be mailed to the Foundation before February 1, 1964.

The four judges are: chairman, Thomas F. Parkinson, Herbert Gold, and Ray B. West, Jr. Wallace Stegner is the secretary for the sponsors.

Nevada Student Nurses Tour Travis Air Base

Student nurses took an overnight trip to Travis Air Force Base in Fairfield, California last weekend.

At 7 a. m. Friday the students left for Travis. On the way they learned of the death of President John F. Kennedy.

The students arrived at Travis about 1:30 p. m. to find a "solemn, quiet atmosphere." Most of the people on the base were at their television sets and radios.

Plans for a tour of Travis hospital and air evacuation facilities were carried on as planned for Friday afternoon.

Saturday students were taken on tours of the MATS and SAC facilities.

The social activities on the base were cancelled for the weekend. Dinner at the Officers Club was quiet.

Orvis School of Nursing Faculty participating in the field trip were: Miss Arlene Dickinson and Merla Olsen, both assistant professors of nursing; Mrs. Marjory Goff, Mrs. Argentina Friedley, and Margaret Aasterud, instructors.

Film Classic Tonite

"Outcast of the Island" a British film classic, will be shown in the Fine Arts theater tonight at 7 and 9 p. m.

Starring in the film are Trevor Howard and Sir Ralph Richardson. It is called "one of the most brilliant accomplishments of the celebrated British film director Carol Reed." Reed also directed "The Third Man" and "Our Man in Havana".

The film is free to University students and 75 cents for the general public.

Danforth Grants Now Available To Nevada Faculty

Two faculty members may be nominated for Danforth Teacher Grants to be used for work on doctorate degrees in 1965-66.

Dr. Robert McQueen, chairman of the scholarships and prizes committee, announced that the nomination deadline is April 1, 1964. Nominations are made by the college deans. Application deadline is May 1, 1964.

Danforth grants between $4,800 and $2,400 are awarded to about fifty men and women teaching at accredited colleges and universities in the United States. Tuition fees and official fees are paid to the graduate school of the individual's choice.

Grant recipients are chosen on the basis of potential excellence as teachers, outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including serious inquiry and commitment within one of the great religious faiths.

Sheppard To Speak

A slide talk, giving insight into the culture and appearance of non-tourist France, will be given by Dr. J. Craig Sheppard Wednesday at 7 p. m. in 139 Fine Arts.

Sheppard, chairman of the University art department, recently returned from a year and one-half in France. His lecture is part of a series of the Wednesday Art Forum.
