The ASUN senate took a slap at the administration Wednesday for what was described as an attempt to curb academic freedom.

In a resolution introduced by the men's senators -at -large, Keith Lee and Bill Pollard, and unanimously passed by the senate, the administration was asked to "consider and consult the student through the ASUN senate before taking any decisive action concerning him."

The resolution noted that "the recent stand by the administration concerning compulsory fraternity housemothers is just another attempt to retard the individual's liberal education by imposing limitations on his self-government and self-discipline."

CO-OPERATION REQUEST

In presenting the resolution to the senate, Lee explained that his purpose was neither to promote action nor to antagonize, but was merely to request co-operation.

The issue of fraternity housemothers was brought to the foreground by a rule adopted in 1962 by the Board of Regents which requires fraternities to meet the housemother requirement during the 1964-65 school year.

Sam Basta, dean of student affairs, attended the senate session but did not comment on the resolution.

The administration has also been taken to task recently for what appeared to be an attempt to extend its control over student publications through pending investigation by the Student Affairs Board.

Eight Co-eds Await Male Choice

The 1964 Winter Carnival Princess will be chosen and crowned next week. One of eight freshmen candidates will reign over the snow celebration after her coronation Friday night at the Sno-Sho.

Male students will decide who the new princess is Monday and Tuesday. Fraternity men will vote in their house meetings Monday night. Off and on-campus men can vote for the princess Tuesday, from 9-5, in the TUB.

Seeking the "Centennial In the Snow" crown are Carolyn Cottrell, Jackie Damerel, Jane Fant, Marylynne Fry, Gretchen Geyer, Robin Millholland, Sandy Saviers, and Jeanette Stoddart.

Carolyn Cottrell, 18, is representing Delta Delta Delta. She is a psychology major from Bridgeville, California and wants to teach.

Juniper Hall's candidate is Jackie Damerel, 18, from Pasadena, California. She is majoring in English.

Jane Fant is Artemisia Hall's princess-hopeful from Reno. The 18-year-old nursing major wants to travel overseas.

Marylynne Fry, 17, of Reno, is Pi Beta Phi's candidate. She is a physical education major and an AWS senator.

Off-campus Independents are running Gretchen Geyer, 18, for '64 Princess. She is a biology major from Sparks.

Robin Millholland, 18, is Manzanita Hall's candidate. The nursing major is from Walnut Creek, California.

Kappa Alpha Theta is sponsoring 18-year-old Sandy Saviers of Reno for the princess position. She is majoring in history and plans to teach.

Pre-law major Jeanette Stod-dort is Gamma Phi Beta's choice. The 18-year-old from Crooked Creek Ranch, Oregon wants to be a lawyer.

The 1964 Winter Carnival Princess will be announced Friday during the Sno-Sho intermission by Jinks Dabney in the new gym.

Philip Hanson To Perform

The most famous and infamous of Shakespeare's characters will be read tomorrow night at the State building. Philip Hanson, solo Shakespearean actor, will play 25 of Shakespeare's characters in a reading of "Villians and Fools".

Hanson is a 15 year veteran of over 35 Shakespearean productions. His performance tomorrow night will include Richard the third, Iago, Edmund, and Falstaff.

Admission to the performance is $2.25 for the general public, $1 for high school students and children. University students with Id's will be admitted free.

The performance at the State building is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. This is the fourth in a series sponsored by the Public Occasions Board the ASUN and the Jot Travis Student Union.

Torch Parade To Lead Week-long Events For 24th Annual Winter Carnival

The University of Nevada's 24th annual Winter Carnival starts Sunday afternoon with the traditional Torchlight Parade. Sky Tavern's slopes will host the torchbearers starting at 5.

Anyone interested in carrying a torch for the University should meet at the Sky Tavern bar at about 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Director Dave Salvadorini says that the event is open to everyone.

Kathy McKaig will run the Torchlight Parade. Each person in the run will be given a road flare for the descent.

After the skiers return to the bar, Bob Hamilton will narrate a 20-minute movie taken at Sun-Valley, Idaho over semester break. The movie features deep powder skiing and a series of flips done by Hamilton and a member of the Sun Valley ski school.

Nevada ski team member Lane Monroe stars in the film, attempting to do a flip and doing a "crash and burn" instead.

During all the skiing events, spectators are asked to keep clear of the actual course and stay behind the roped off finish area.

"Skiing can be and is a spectator's sport; the Winter Carnival Committee invites all persons, skiers, and non-skiers, alike to attend the events on the hill," said Dave Salvadorini, tournament director.

A Thoughtful Syllogism

* TACIT MAJOR PREMISE:
Either the student newspaper is edited entirely by students and its policy is determined by them, but edited entirely by the administration not both.

MINOR PREMISE:
The student newspaper is edited entirely by students and its policy is determined by them.

* TACIT CONCLUSION:
The student newspaper is not edited by the administration and its policy is not determined by them.

* Definition of tacit as used in the above syllogism: Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, "Implied or indicated, but not actually expressed."

I contend that the above syllogism is valid by the rules of logic. The minor premise of the above syllogism is true, if the Student Handbook in its accurate in its definition of the Sagebrush.

Assuming the major premise is true, which is not asking is too much, the above conclusion therefore follows naturally from the above premises. In theory the Sagebrush is not edited nor is its policy determined by the administration. But, is this true in real-ity?

Is it true that the administration is considering putting an advisor (censor) on the Sagebrush. Can the administration determine or even affect the policy of the Sagebrush by coercive measures? Does it even have the power to coerce? Is the purpose of the University of Nevada to teach people how to make decisions for themselves or to indoctrinate?

Is the A.S.U.N. a figment of the students imagination or is it an effective body, presenting the students views and opinions to the administration? Are fraternities entitled to make decisions for themselves in matters that don't affect the University as a whole?

Is the Inter-fraternity council doing anything to help the Greek system on this campus? Is the Dean of Men's capacity, as defined by the University, to be that of an advisor or a policeman? Is there still such a thing as freedom of speech?

Are the majority of the students on this campus interested in the answers to these and other pertinent questions? If so they had better start asking for the answers while they have a chance.

2.2 RULING SHOULD BE MAINTAINED

A point was brought up in Tuesday's publications board meeting concerning the constitutional stipulation which requires ASUN officers, chairmen, editors, and business managers to have a 2.2 grade average.

The Forum is out of a business manager. The recommended replacement does not have the required average. But no real effort has been made to find anyone else.

The executive committee may be asked to make an exception in this instance. The main objection is that a precedent will be set and can be used at any time for any reason.

Since the Forum will only come out four more times this semester before it is judged as to its worth, an exception would be foolish.

There is a very good reason for this requirement. Three years ago the Student Union Board president flunked out of school. No minimum grade average had been required of Union officers. This is a case in point.

Grades should be complemented with activities, not the reverse, since our main purpose at the University is scholarly in nature.

There have been many instances this year when it would have been expedient to break the rule. ASUN President Jim Acheson went to great pains to find a Mackay Day chairman with above a 2.2 average. It would have been much easier to forget the rule.

An exception is uncalled for in this case.

RESOLUTION MAY GIVE SENATE STABILITY

Action taken by the ASUN senate Wednesday night is the most commendable thing that body has done in over three years. Senators have actually done something which will have long-range benefits for the students.

At-large Senators Keith Lee and Bill Pollard deserve a pat on the back for a little foresight and leadership. These two men acted on a pressing problem which has caused a great deal of concern by many students — administrative control.

The Lee-Pollard resolution requested the administration to consult and inform senate before taking student problems to task. It will, undoubtedly, lend stability to a shaky senate. It has also let the administration know that students are saying not to administrative control.

Senate is unstable through no fault of its own. The body has no guidelines, not even a clear definition. Something like the Lee-Pollard resolution will, if the administration regards it, give senate something to put its teeth into.

The administration has been given the opportunity to make suggestions to that body. There are a great many areas with which the administration has expressed concern. Senate is the place to express concern.

The resolution was a constructive, friendly gesture. It is a major step in the direction of improving relations between student government and the administration. Many problems have been created between the two groups through lack of communication. This resolution, if used effectively by the two groups, can chase this problem into oblivion in addition to stabilizing the senate.

Help Needed On The Hill

How's this for a deal? Free ski passes, two-day excuses from classes, and box lunches will be given to the first 70 persons to call Sky Schaff, Carl Fuetsch, or Bud Sorensen.

The gimmick? Pack snow, keep gates, mark hills and jump landings, and assist in general course preparation.

Sky Schaff needs about 25 persons next Thursday and Friday to assist in course preparation.

Saturday and Sunday an additional 25 are needed to keep gates for the downhill and slalom. Call Carl Fuetsch.

Another 15 to 20 persons are needed by Bud Sorensen to work on the jump hillmarking and the juniors' landings.

Volunteers must call before Wednesday to be excused from classes.

Library Sells Books -- 25c

Bargain hunters with a touch of egghed in their personalities could kill two birds with one quarter Wednesday when the Getchell library sponsors a 25 cent book sale.

Duplicated novels, fiction, old reference volumes, textbooks, travel-books, biographies, poetries, and many other unwanted and unneeded books will be sold.

Over 3,000 books are available for sale. The proceeds will be put into the University of Nevada Book Fund Drive.

The sale will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in room 40 on the ground floor of the library.

This book type "bargain basement" can be reached via the front ground floor entrance next to the offices of the Desert Research Institute.

Student Housing Still Available

Student housing is still available, according to Bill Adams, assistant director of student services. More men are now living on campus than during 1963, but the dorms have not filled.

The deadline for filing for housing time payments is today at 5 p.m.

Vacation Wonder

"Howzit, mon?" goes the popular greeting of the English speaking South Africans. Though I hardly have S. A. blood coarsing through me, the saying fits, cause it's been a while since I've come to grips with this column. I don't know how it is with you palsie, (does anyone ever?) but with me, things are smashing!

A vacation, no matter how short, does a whirl of wonders. The Break bagged its limit of students, dropouts, travelers, etc., but the Social Ramble will swing on despite their absence. New faces take the spotlight but hardly a whoop is lost in the change. The only problem I'M having with this column is getting together with myself . . .

My editress councils me to "think big, increase your scope" . . . sage (brush)ly advice, sort of . . . So this week we go big time, nationwide, with items from all over, and it just might be . . .

SPEAKING OF STARS: Here's some scoop you won't find in any pulp sheets or scandal columns . . . But for your enjoyment we present it here in glorious two dimensional black and white . . .

Last week Jill St. John received a 50 pound pink gunny sack of chocolate candy kisses from Frank Sinatra Sr. He also sent her an alligator golf bag, but keeps the clubs in his office so she'll come around . . . Jill's now in Aspen for a rest and has instructed the desk clerk to answer Sinatra's calls with, "She's out on the ski slopes." Not a bad excuse any other time but 3 and 6 A. M. when Frank phones . . . But then for Jill, I'd keep trying, too . . .

WELCOME HOME HERO: Will education interfere with Lane Monroe's career? Thus far it hasn't, notably. When we were last suffering through the perils of Our Hero, Episode 13, he was hanging on the proverbial cliff . . .

This reel we find Our Hero doubling up in a bed in Sun Valley after a week of skiing with Lance Gotchy, Bob Hamilton, Greg Austin, Mike Brunetto, Tammy Conklin and Dave Salvadorini. Most returned to Reno but Lance and Lane stayed another day . . . In the middle of the night Lance, dreaming of the fair Idaho maidens, began reaching for Lane, who kicked him in no uncertain terms . . . Lance denies it all but it makes you think twice, doesn't it?

CLIPPITY CLOP: Out of the sunset in S. W. Reno comes a rider on horseback, sitting tall in the saddle, big black cigar in mouth. Sound like a T. V. ad? Only one difference: The rider is Karry Devincenzi and I don't know WHY she smokes that cigar. I just calls 'em as I sees 'em. Probably a new way to kick the cigarette habit.

ICE CAPEDES: Fleet Freddie Williams found a hundred pound block of ice on his porch awhile back, a gift from Jane Bennett. It was doomed to a damp demise until Bill Nicholson's party ran out of ice cubes. Party goers put their heads together (thunk!) and conned Harlan Heward into lugging it up and down stairs. Harlan only regrets having to hold the 100 lb. ice block on his lap while driving across town. Brrrrrrrrr . . .

DOWNERS ON ICE: After doning ice skates at Squaw Valley last week, Sundowners Dick Pinion and Bernie Cotton carried Gary Busch to the center of the rink and left him to skate on his own. The onetime gridiron end was afraid to stand up and finally toddled meekly to the edge . . . To massacre an old adage, the bigger they are, the harder they crawl . . .

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: HERB SUTTON, JR.

Herb Sutton (B.S.E.E., 1961) got a good basic foundation in telephone communications. Outside plant work involving engineering and actual physical construction validates Herb's claim of starting from the ground up. But up he came, and fast!

Herb advanced from an assistant engineer in construction work to Chief Line Assigner where he is responsible for the maintenance and service of all outside telephone equipment in the San Bruno area of Pacific Telephone.

His present assignment puts him at the hub of telephone operations, a pressure job that demands the very most of his telephone knowledge and his supervisory abilities.

Herb Sutton, like many young engineers, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

'Brushfire' Loses Editor; 'Forum' Is Out Manager; Dr. Young Talks On 'Brush'

by CAROLE HUEFTLE
Roving Reporter

In a marathon two hour and 40 minute session Tuesday the students' guardian of the written word, Publications Board, wrestled with problems of veteran publications, the Sagebrush and the Brushfire, and those of the anticipated Forum.

The disappearance of Brushfire editor Cynthia Carlson shortly before the scheduled appearance of the literary magazine at the beginning of the Spring semester resulted in its complete failure to publish. The Board accepted the suggestions of the business manager Barbara Hardin that Pat Brasfield be appointed editor of the Spring edition of the Brushfire. All other staff members kept last semester's positions.

The Brushfire is expected to appear on campus early in April. The ASUN Forum, brand-new opinion journal under the direction of an editorial board headed by Dave Cooper, will publish a six-page edition inserted in the Sagebrush Tuesday, February 11. Business Manager Gary McPike resigned, and nominee for the position, Jim Benesch, may be disqualified because of grades. That question will go to the executive committee for a ruling.

The Sagebrush was the final problem to come under consideration. Dr. Kenneth E. Young, executive vice-president of the University, presented his views as a former college editor and faculty advisor, and University administrator on the need for an advisor to the campus paper.

Dr. Young designated faults which he feels indicate the Board's failure to set up guidelines for the Sagebrush. He went on to single out problems within the Sagebrush which in his opinion could be solved by a staff advisor.

LETTERS

Suggestions Should Be Added To Criticism

Editor, the Sagebrush:

Criticism, used constructively, is an advantage in seeing that an end be met or at least directed so that a more desirable result is reached. But used in a destructive manner, criticism cannot serve any end but the satisfaction of the one who uses it. May I remind you that you hold a distinguished position as editor of a school newspaper.

It is reasonable that your job gives you the right to recommend, criticize, and, if possible, condone the actions of the University, its social and political bodies. It is also reasonable though, and I hope not beyond becoming a reality, that your opposition to a specific thing carries with it the means whereby the mistake, if any are in actuality made, can be rectified. Suggestions on your part should be a must with every critical remark you make.

The ASUN senate is a governmental body, open to suggestions and criticism, as it is a representative organ of the students. I supported its value and importance in my letter of Jan. 31 through specific accomplishments senate has made. If all of the letter had been printed, I am sure it would have made more of an impact and given you less material to use for your bitter disapproval of the way senate is run. The resurrection of the Forum was entirely the work of senate. And too, senate saw the need for a new ASUN constitution, one with clarity and logic, and thus created the Constitution Committee.

This letter is not meant to be critical of your competency as Sagebrush editor, but rather is a constructive comment on your position as editor of a school newspaper. When this letter is published I respectfully request that it be published in its entirety to conserve all of its intent.

AILEEN MILLER

Senator, College of Education
(Editor's Note: Senate cannot take credit for things mentioned in your letter. Forum publication can be attributed to "behind-the-scenes maneuvering, Dave Cooper and Steve Gomes, and the publications board. The Sagebrush is not going to "mother the Forum". It is entirely on its own.)

The "new" ASUN constitution has not yet reported out of committee and probably will not in time for spring elections. Ideas are great but are nothing unless put into action.

To praise senate for doing nothing is irresponsible. The only way to appeal to that body is through emotion — get senators mad enough and they might do something. This has been proven time and again in the past.

As far as constructive comment, you, as a senator, have a responsibility which you have not met. It is up to you and your colleagues to make senate move by introducing resolutions and making motions beneficial to the University and the students as you see it. In comparison to what senate could do, it has done LESS than nothing."

Scholarship Forms

Anyone interested in securing a scholarship for the 1964-65 school year should fill out an application now. Forms may be obtained from Dr. Robert McQueen, chairman of the Scholarship Board, in room 205 Morrill hall.

The final date for applying for a scholarship is April 10.

ASUN Hopefuls Must Apply Now

Applications for campus political positions are now available in the ASUN office. Any full time student with an over-all grade point average may apply for the various positions. Requirements for the specific positions will be outlined by ASUN President Jim Acheson.

The following offices will be vacated by April 15: ASUN president, first vice-president, second vice-president, junior women's and men's senators-at-large, college senate seats from agriculture, arts and science, business administration, engineering, mines, nursing, and education.

Officers for senior, junior, and sophomore class presidents are also needed.

Final filing date is March 2 at 5 p.m.

ASUN primary elections will be held Wednesday March 11 with generals the following Wednesday, March 18.

P. Sci. Uppercrust To Join Society

Letters are now being received by about twenty political science majors concerning the formation of a Nevada chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science society.

The first meeting will be Monday night at 7:30 in the Nevada East-West room in the Student Union.

Only students with more than fifteen hours of political science and a B or better average are eligible for membership.

The Fearful Spectator

By TOM DYE
Associate Sports Editor

The University of Nevada Freshman team will host the Chico St. Frosh tonight at 6. Hardly anyone will come to watch, but they'll play.

It's too bad because they have an exciting team. Sometimes their games seem more like track meets than a basketball game — but they're exciting.

Coach Chuck Walker evidently believes that his team should run because that is exactly what they do. All the time.

It was generally conceded that last year's Freshman team was one of the best in Nevada's history. Nap Montgomery, Tom Andreason, Larry Moore and other outstanding players gave the 1962-63 Frosh squad an unbeaten record. Many people thought that this year's team would have a hard time equalling their performance.

True, the present edition of the Frosh have lost one game. However, the team they lost to, Murdocks, must be one of the most fabulous city league teams of all time. Murdock's first and second string is composed of former Wolf Pack stars.

Coach Walker has two outstanding varsity prospects on his squad. Bruce Nickerson and George Shoenberger give the yearlings a potent one-two punch in the backcourt. Shoenberger is a dead eye on his left-handed jumpshot and is averaging 20 points a game. Nickerson is hitting close to 14 a game and is a superb playmaker and floor man. Both guards are good at driving-in-shots and seem to shoot the ball out of their hip pocket.

Dependable Tommy Smith plays the other forward for the Nevada team. Although he doesn't score a lot, he excels on defense and is tough on the backboards.

The Wolf Cubs' backboard strength was hurt when they lost their ace rebounder Bob Gardner because of grades. Despite this, the Freshman are still strong rebounders.

One of the most outstanding Frosh prospects is 6-3 George Winters. Winters shoots a high arch jump shot that looks like its about to go into orbit, then it goes in. Winters is a good all-around player who has improved quite a bit from his high school days at Sparks high. This season the lanky forward is scoring close to 19 a game.

The Frosh have played tougher competition than most past Freshman teams. In addition to Reno City League teams they have defeated the Cal Aggies Freshman and the Sac State Cubs by good margins. They will also play the Wildcat Frosh tonight and Sonoma State Saturday night.

Nevada usually fields a good Frosh squad and this year's team is no exception. It might give their morale a boost if more people showed up for the game.

Green Boxers Get Chance

Inexperienced Nevada boxers will get their first taste of collegiate competition this week in the Novice tournament at Chico. The match will begin at 8 Saturday night.

Coach Jimmie Olivas plans to enter either five or six men in the match. The following fighters will represent the Wolf Pack: Mike Walters, 132 pounds; Bill Jarvis, 139; Bill Jorgenson, 147; Gordon Browning, 156; Larry Malone, 164; Jim Clark, 164; and John Gaynor, 178. Olivas is not sure if Jorgenson will be able to compete or not.

In addition to Nevada, Chico State and California will compete in the tourney. Other teams may make last minute entries.

Coach Olivas says that the results of the novice match may determine who will box in the 132-pound bracket Wednesday night in a dual meet against Californai.

Downers and Sweetheart Surf Tonite

The Sweetheart of the Sun-downers, will be chosen tonight at a Valentine's Day dance that according to one student could well force old St. Valentine to turn over in his grave.

The Sweetheart of the famous black-hatted men of the campus will be chosen by unanimous vote. She will receive a bouquet of roses and will reign over the dance which is scheduled to begin after the Chico State game.

Ten freshmen women are in the running: Barbara Barnica, Joanne Bates, Carolyn Cotrell, Peggy Crumley, Michele Fuetch, Kris Games, Vicki Geertsema, Jane McCarthy, Sue Sonderegger, and Lana Strosnider.

Admission to the dance is $1 and will be held in the old Gym. "The Surfers" will provide music for dancing. Dress is casual.

Sierra Favorite In Carnival Next Weekend

Nine teams, including Nevada, have entered teams in the 24th annual Winter Carnival starting February 14, and another school has shown interest but hasn't decided yet.

Teams signed up so far include Arizona St. College at Flagstaff, University of Oregon, Chico St. College, Sierra College, Air Force Academy, University of California at Berkeley, Stanford University, Utah St. University, and Nevada. Brigham Young University hasn't informed meet officials yet concerning their appearance.

Nevada Coach Chelton Leonard rates Sierra the favorite because of their three Norwegian stars, Kristian Guttormsen, Helge Ronnestad, and Thor Mjoeen.

CHICO DEFENDS TITLE

Defending champion Chico St. also will pose a serious threat for the championship. Last year the Wildcats edged Sierra by two-tenths of a point.

The Wolf Pack, who finished third last year, are considered to have an outside chance at the title.

The hometown forces for the Carnival include Norwegian newcomer Arne Nossun, Lane Monroe, Dennis Agee, Gary McCoy, Jim Acheson, Greg Austin, Bob Hamilton, and Chris Mazzola.

Nossun, who specializes in the Nordic events, will be the favorite in the jumping competition.

The Wolves' are also strong in the slalom, with McCoy and Agee leading the way. In the downhill, strongest threats from the home team will probably come from McCoy, Agee, and Mazzola.

Four-way star Monroe has been out with injuries for the last two weeks, but will probably be ready for Carnival competition.

Five women's teams are entered in the three day event. They include Sierra, California, San Jose St., Mills College, and Nevada.

The schedule of events is as follows: Feb. 14, 11 a. m., cross-country at Sky Tavern; Feb. 15, 10 a. m., downhill at Slide Mountain, 1 p. m., slalom at Sky Tavern; Feb. 16, 10 a. m., powder puff derby and 1 p. m. jumping at Sky Tavern.

Loop Contenders Invade Pack Den

First place in the Far Western Conference will be at stake tonight and Saturday night when Chico State and Humboldt State invade the Wolves' den to play host Nevada. Game time both nights is 8 p.m. in the New Gym.

The Wildcats from Chico are riding atop the league race with a record of 4-1, with Nevada right behind at 3-1. Humboldt is in third place with a 3-2 record.

Tonight's encounter with Chico is the first home conference game of the season for the Wolf Pack. They have completed a successful four-game road trip among league teams, winning three out of four.

In addition to having the best league record, the Wildcats' overall record, at 12-6, is the best among all conference teams.

Walsvick Leads Wildcats

Bib man for the league leaders is 6-5 pivot man Wes Walsvick. Selected as All-Conference center last season, Walsvick scored 336 points and pulled down 236 rebounds.

Walsvick is flanked by 6-4 forward Billy Jones. Both of these big men are among the leaders in conference rebounding statistics.

Both Nevada forwards, Nap Montgomery and Harlan Heward, are 6-2. However, both can rebound with abandon, and Montgomery had to be rated the "tallest" 6-2 in the league.

Chico, a dark horse entry early in the season, has developed into one of the favorites for the league title. Last year the Wildcats tied with the Wolf Pack for third place with a 6-6 record. The Lumberjacks also have aspirations of the title after finishing second last season with a 7-5 slate.

Other Wildcat starters for Coach Don Scott's forces include forward Lou Black and guard Darrel Davis.

GUARD GOOD GREAT

Leading the Humboldt five from Arcata, Calif., is senior guard Ron Good. Other top starters are 6-5 forward Paul Bush and 6-6 giant Darrell Barbieri.

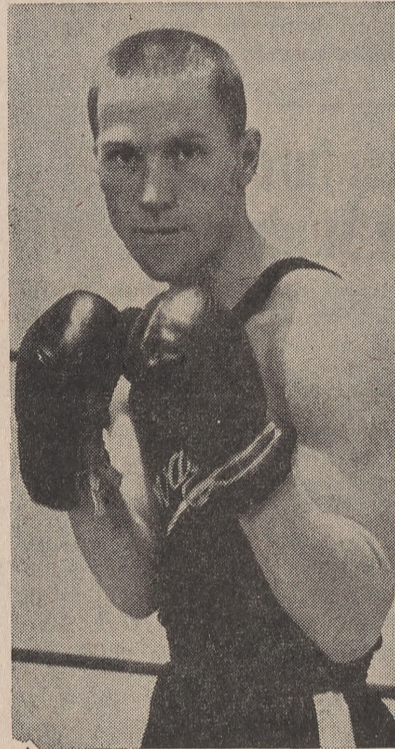

Coach Franny Fivins will have to count on transfer students, including Bush and Barbieri, in order to pose a serious threat for the title. All five starters from last season are gone, including All-Conference guard Wendall Hayes.

Guard Bob Donlan is pacing the Nevadans in scoring with a 13.8 average. Montgomery follows with an 11.1 average, and another guard, Mike Olivas, is close to double figures with 9.8. Heward and 6-5 center Bill Nicholson round out the home team's lineup.

Wolf Pack coach Jack Spencer says that his team is in good position because of the good record it established on the road, and because the next six conference games are at home.

The Nevada Freshmen will play preliminary contests both nights. Chico is the opponent Friday and Sonoma State will be here Saturday.

Pack Profiles

Classy Skip Houk, returning Conference champion and two time Collegiate All-American, will be out for his second victory of the 1964 boxing season when the Wolf Pack ring team meets the University of California. Houk, 147 pounds, is an aggressive fighter with a hard left jab. Also, Houk is one of Nevada's few three sport men as he is a stellar two miler in track and also competes in cross country.

Last Saturday Houk came up with a sensational knockout against his Chico State opponent Bill O'Connell when he floored him with one minute gone in the first round and nearly knocked O'Connell out of the ring.

U.S.A. Has Poor Image In Far East

by MIMI SKILLICORN
Feature Editor

"The American way of life is what is hurting us the most in the Far East. The people there can't believe we have equality and democracy if we still have segregation."

Robert C. Miller, a roving world correspondent told a crowd of about 350 Tuesday night here.

Racial segregation in the United States is hurting America in the Far East. Miller, a 1938 University of Nevada Journalism graduate and top UPI foreign correspondent spoke on the topic "America's Lost Cause in Asia."

To emphasize his point Miller made reference to pictures of Americans beating Americans, Americans turning water hoses on Americans and Americans turning dogs on Americans. Pictures of these and other similar activities in Alabama and Mississippi have been on display in Peking.

WORST IN FAR EAST

Miller who has worked extensively in the Far East also stated that the color of our skin is a liability. He said that the white man in the Far East is considered the long-nosed unwanted barbarian by the Chinese people. This liability of being white, he continued is recognized by every foreign government. The use of unwanted white American troops in such places as South Vietnam is a powerful propaganda weapon for the Communists.

According to Miller another problem we face in the Far East is that in his opinion, the United States has been trying to buy friendship in Asia.

The communists, he said are the local boys, the underdogs, the havenots, The Americans are the viistors, the invaders, the barbarians. Communism in Asia, he continued is a religion. In his opinion the three fundamental basis of communism in Asia are discipline, repression and propaganda. The Communists, he said are willing to die for what they think is right. They have the power and the zeal to carry their programs out.

COMMUNISTS AND PEOPLE

The local communists eat, sleep and work with the poeple. The United States he said is known as the "army of interpreters" and the "people of the golden ghettos."

On a brighter note he did say that familiarity with the people has improved. He praised the Peace Corps but expressed the fear that unfortunately it came too late.

As far as the future of Asia is concerned Miller said the United States has two choices. One to move in troops and create a second Korea or to accept DeGaulle's neutrality policy. In conclusion however, Miller said the phrase "Who Knows" epitomizes Asia and its future.

J-students Meet E. W. Scripps

Journalism students had a surprise visit Wednesday from a graduate who really made good.

E. W. Scripps, a 1952 University of Nevada Journalism graduate and now vice-president of Scripps Howard Newspapers, answered questions for students in what would have been their 9 o'clock classes.

Scripps as vice - president of Scripps Howard papers owns 18 metropolitan newspapers in the United States. His papers are in major cities all over the country. He also owns a controlling interest in United Press International.

Scripps was in Reno in connection with the First Scripps Lecture in Journalism held Tuesday night. Scripps in gratitude to the department of Journalism for his education established an annual grant of $1000 to the department. This grant is used at the discretion of the Journalism department.

Sunday Art Show Features Famous Artists And Student

An art show featuring two major artists and one student, will be open to the public Sunday, Feb. 9, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Fine Arts building.

The featured artists are Mrs. Elaine de Kooning, a widely-known abstract expressionist painter; Mr. Robert Mallary, widely-known sculptor; and Miss Barbara Barengo, senior art student on campus.

Mrs. de Kooning will be represented by portraits and bull fight scenes. She is a member of a group of American painters called "abstract expressionists", which includes some of the foremost American painters from the World War II to the present. Her most recent assignment, or portrait commission, was to paint the late President Kennedy. Mrs. de Kooning spent a great deal of time at the Palm Beach Whitehouse making sketches of the late President. At the time of the President's assassination she was collecting sketches to make the portrait. None of the completed paintings have been released, and will not be until Mrs. Kennedy reviews them.

Mrs. Mallary will be represented by drawings which are preparatory sketches for his sculpture. These sketches will be on display in the New York State Pavilion at the New York World's Fair in 1965.

Miss Barengo, who has been given the senior honor invitation, will display paintings, prints, and drawings in the corridor gallery.

The art department urges everyone, faculty, staff, and students to attend the opening. Mrs. de Kooning herself will attend, according to Mr. Donald Kerr, assistant professor of art.

The exhibition will hang through February.

reporting informally on the problem of club recognition.

In the two-hour long meeting, the solons heard a report from steering committee, which questioned the "poor taste" of the campus calendar which is published by the Student Union Board under the direction of Mrs. Deming. Union Senator Dave Cooper promised inquiries would be made into the publication at the next Board meeting. Larry Hutchings, chairman of steering committee brought a possible solution to the band problems presented him by Dr. John Carrico, director of bands.

For the second consecutive time, Acheson almost failed to muster a quorum.

Absent from the meeting were: Mike Ingrosoll, Archie Shaw, Jerry O'Day, and Dick McCoy.

Poli. Sci. Students To Form Honorary

The new second semester "Introduction to Political Science", first offered last fall, now has an enrollment of two hundred students in thirteen sections, said Mr. Stanley Pearl.

The course is required for all political science majors and replaces the discontinued courses on the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Nevada.

Completion of both semesters meets the requirements for both the United States and Nevada constitutions, as the course stresses American constitutional structure. It also gives a general survey of political institutions, behavior and processes.

Peace Corps-type Jobs Offered By Occion

Peace corp type work for those chiefly interested in Latin America is now available for University of Nevada students. A representative from Occion, a sort of private Peace Corp for Latin America, was on campus Wednesday to acquaint University students with its program. Mr. Gary Glenn, founder and national director of Occion is currently on a tour of the Northern California. Sacramento and Reno Areas to tell students of Occion's program.

Occion, according to Glenn is an organization similar to the Peace Corp. It is dedicated to the raising of living standards, better community action and other advances in underdeveloped countries in Latin America. The one big difference said Glenn is that "Occion receives no government financial support. Occion is sponsored by private enterprise both in Latin America and the United States."

FOUNDED 3 YEARS AGO

Glenn and two other law students at the University of California founded Occion three years ago. It preceded the National Peace Corp by about 4 months.

Glenn stated that Occion currently has about 125 workers in the field in Venezuela. At present about one-half the workers are from Venezuela and one-half from the United States.

No particular qualifications are necessary to be an Occion worker except that the volunteer must be at least 20 years of age. Glenn said Occion, looks mainly for people who have social skills and have initiative and energy.

Interested students can obtain further information by writing to Box 27, Cambridge, 38, Massachusetts, or may pick up forms in the student employment service, room 104 Ross Business Administration.

NEW PROF. APPOINTED

Dr. Wilbur Arthur Davis has replaced Dr. Charles Stortroen this semester as assistant professor of sociology and anthropology.

Dr. Davis received his B. A. degree from Reed College and studied for his masters and Ph. D. at the University of Oregon.
