

Will Students Kill Boxing? Decision At Polls Tomorrow

University of Nevada Sagebrush

VOLUME XXXIX, No. 49

RENO, NEVADA  5 Tuesday, April 14, 1964

Board to Pick Editors at 4

Election of business managers for three ASUN publications and the fate of the University of Nevada Forum will be decided by the Publications Board today at 4 p.m.

The meeting will be the last for ASUN officers who will be going out of office tonight when new officers are installed.

Linda Chambers said she would decline the nomination for Sagebrush editor. She said she was sure Mike Sloan would do an excellent job as editor but that she would be carrying too many hours in addition to working and would not be able to assume the position next year.

With Miss Chamber's declination and Doug Bruckners' last week, Sloan is the only candidate for the position. Also unopposed is Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity brother Kent Folgate who is running for Sagebrush business manager.

Joyce Freeman, Kappa Alpha Theta, also unopposed is seeking the Artemisia editorship. Contending for Artemisia business manager are Elfrenia Sewell, John Petrie, and Rick Heaney.

Editorial nominations for Brushfire will be made at the meeting. Nominated for business manager of Brushfire is Jon Benson, a Sigma Nu.

The Board will also vote on an advisor for the coming year. Only nomination is Dr. John Morrison who serves as advisor to the board now.

The Forum, which has been publishing on a trial basis will be voted on as to whether it should be continued. It has come out five times and the decision to continue next year will be up to the Board.

ASUN Officers Installed Tonight

New ASUN officers and senators for the 1964-65 school year will be installed in office tomorrow night at 7:00 in the Dining Commons.

Outgoing ASUN President Jim Acheson will administer the oath of office to the new officers.

The students to be installed are: Keith Lee, ASUN president; Jinx Dabney, first vice president; Judy Morrison, second vice president; Michele Maupin, junior women's senator-at-large; Charles Murphy, junior men's senator-at-large; and college and living group senators.

Editorial

VOTE Tomorrow . . .

Your Ballot Is Important

Tomorrow you will be asked to go to the polls and decide whether boxing should be continued at Nevada as an intercollegiate sport. You have been asked to make a pretty big decision. If you decide to vote no, you will be killing the sport on an intercollegiate level. If you vote yes, boxing will probably continue, but only on an intramural level here.

Many opinions have been expressed on the sport. On a college level, most people agree, boxing is a safe, clean sport. It is a sport where a small man as well as a large man has a chance to demonstrate his skill in the "manly art of self defense." It is no more dangerous than a gruelling football game or baseball where a player could be hit with the ball or a splintering bat.

Of course to box is to take a chance. But then, to live is to take a chance. The man who never ventures beyond his front door does not live. The man who enters the ring lives. He takes a chance, and does so because he wants to live.

Tomorrow, regardless of which way you decide to vote, you must go to the polls, if only to show that you have assumed some sort of responsibility as a citizen of the University. You must vote as a matter of conscience since too small a turnout, even if the vote be positive, will result in the death of intercollegiate boxing in the United States.

VOTE TOMORROW. A lot of people are counting on you.

COMMANDO BASKETBALL, held annually as a comical game between Sigma Nu and ATO turned out to be not quite so comical Thursday night when a free-for-all broke out. The Tau's won the game by 13-7. The free-for-all is still a bone of contention between the fraternities. (Reed Photo)

$2,500 Missing In Audio-Visual

About $2,500 in equipment is missing from the University's audio-visual department, reports Sam Basta, dean of student affairs.

Missing are: Two tape recorders valued at $140 each; a slide projector, $250; Two $299 tape recorders; hi-fi turntable, $150;

Record player, $154; RCA tape recorder, $300; Praktika 35mm camera, $75; Sony microphone, $30; four stereo headsets, $25 each; tape recorder, $150; Uni-dyne III microphone, $51; Transistorized tape recorder, $78.80; Record player, $145; and a slide projector, $150.

Big Polling Turnout Asked By Regents

by LINDA CHAMBERS

Students will go to the polls tomorrow to determine whether intercollegiate boxing is "in" or "out" not only at the University of Nevada campus but also on the national level. If Nevada boxing is dealt the death blow other school may also K. O. the sport.

Voting will be channeled in three directions. In answer to the question, "Do you favor the abolishment of intercollegiate boxing on the University of Nevada campus?", Students may mark either yes, no or indifferent.

University President Charles J. Armstrong will take the results of the student vote to the Board of Regents. The Regents have indicated that they will abide by the students' decision if it is a representative portion of the student body.

HALF NEEDED AT POLLS

Student body president-elect Keith Lee said that it would take about half of the student body to vote in order to make a good representation.

Polls will be open in the Student Union today from 8 a.m. to 6 p. m. Student identification cards must be presented before voting. The election board, headed by chairman Doug Neddenriep, will handle the voting.

The boxing controversy began when the Nevada Intercollegiate Athletic Committee voted 3 to 2 that boxing be banned at the University. The board is comprised of one student and four faculty members.

THREE SCHOOLS BOX

Their recommendation is based on the fact that there are only three schools that have intercollegiate boxing programs. The other two are the University of California at Berkeley and Chico State University. Reports say that Stanford will re-activate its ring program this fall.

The Blue Book of College Athletics 1963-64, listing 925 colleges by their sports programs, said that only four per cent of the schools have intramural boxing.

DECLINE AFTER MOHR

A boxing decline was evident after the death of Charles Mohr, a University of Wisconsin boxer. He died after a bout in the 1960 national intercollegiate boxing tournament in Wisconsin.

The National College Athletic Association has recently dropped their recognition of boxing as an intercollegiate sport.

Theta Chi House Charred By Early Morning Fire

A completely gutted room, a slightly charred, smoke-blackened hallway, and melted light fixtures were the results of a potentially dangerous fire which broke out at the Theta Chi house last Wednesday.

According to Philo Romine, president of Theta Chi, the fire was "not too serious, but it could have been." He said the power in the house was turned off for a while and temporary lights were strung through the entire house.

The cause of the fire is not known, but it was speculated that faulty wiring caused it. As a result the city has ordered the Theta Chi's to rewire the entire building.

At 8:45 that morning Doug Neddenriep, freshman, heard the sound of breaking glass. Upon investigation, he discovered a fire on the first floor around the corner of the hall from his room. He alerted the others in the house.

Vern Manke and John Kimpton, who were eating in the basement, ran out the back door. Fred Mitchell, Philo Romine, and Larry Haberland were stranded on the second floor because the staircase was flaming. The two men exited through the upstairs windows.

When outside Mitchell jumped into his car and raced to the fire department. "I thought the whole house was on fire," he said.

The only personal damage was to Arnold Hansmann's wardrobe, which was completely lost. No one lived in the room where the clothing was damaged, but Hansmann stored his clothes there.

Lee Announces Chairmen; Awaits Senate Approval

ASUN President-elect Keith Lee has announced appointments for 1964-65 ASUN chairmanships and other important ASUN jobs. Approval will be asked of the senate tomorrow night at its regular semi-monthly meeting.

Ted Zaehring, 20 year old Independent from Sparks has been named Homecoming chairman. Zaehring is an alumnus of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and a member of Blue Key, this year's Winter Carnival and Homecoming committees, and was vice-president of Sagers this year. Zaehring is a sophomore.

Lambda Chi Roger Cornwall will head the 1965 Winter Carnival. Cornwall served as hill director of the Carnival as a freshman. He is 20 years old, a member of Blue Key and Sagers and is a sophomore.

Another sophomore Larry Stiff, was chosen by Lee as 1965 Mackay Day chairman. Stiff, a member of Alpha Tau Omega is from Lovelock. He is co-rush chairman and treasurer for his fraternity.

Other appointments include: Camille Richards, Independent, Clare, ASUN secretary; Sheila Clare, sophomore, assistant ASUN secretary; and Delores Dunning, Gamma Phi junior, ASUN historian.

Lee said he would revive the Upperclass committee which has been defunct this year and would announce appointments later.

Editorials

Brushfire, Forum Should Combine; One Good Publication Should Result

Today the Publications Board will make a decision on continuing the University of Nevada Forum. About all that can be said favorably about the publication is the idea is still basically good. A medium for student expression should be provided by student government.

The Forum, in its fledgling editions, has been of relatively poor quality. Many of the articles have been poorly written and not worthy of the paper on which they are printed.

But the difficulty has been more mechanical in nature than for any other reason.

The Publications Board should vote to continue the Forum but should set it up on an entirely different basis. The Publications Board should draw up a policy which would provide for a magazine which would come out on a monthly basis.

In the magazine, editorial freedom should be allowed for the editor on the same basis as is provided for the Sagebrush.

The Board should combine the functions of the Brushfire and the Forum — making a magazine — a medium for opinion, literary essays, art, poetry, and photography.

Since the Brushfire only comes out once a year, it does not qualify as a magazine. Some people concerned with the future of the Forum fear opposition to such an idea from the English department. But if the department is really interested in giving students an opportunity to present their literary talents, surely they will be more in favor of a monthly publication.

The Brushfire, since it has come under ASUN auspices has been the source of a great deal of trouble for the Publications Board. The selection of editor created trouble last spring and the promise of a twice a year publication fell through when the Brushfire promised the Board that everything was running on schedule.

The Forum should continue. Quality should be the major aim now. Under the present set-up this is almost impossible, but it can be if the two publications are combined. Instead of two relatively shoddy ASUN products, one of high quality could be produced.

TUB To Present New Constitution

Students will get a chance to vote on a new Student Union Board Constitution sometime late this month. Dave Cooper, president of the Board said the basic change in the constitution concerns the matter of representation.

The new revision, voted on by the Board last week, will allow for an equal number of elected board members from the student body and for persons who have served the board on its various committees. The revision was prompted by action of a group of students who circulated a petition early in the semester protesting the present organization of board members. The petition called for the student body election of members rather than appointment by the board.

Chuck Burr, one of the advocates of the petition said Sunday that the petition got the required number of signatures to put it on the ballot. However Burr added that the Board's revisions are basically what the petition sought.

RING OUT THE old and ring in the new! The 1963-64 ASUN officers have completed their terms of office and are bowing to the new regime. This year's ASUN representatives have well served their offices and have been a credit to the entire University. Although many an individual would have gladly given up his office just for the sake of avoiding some unpleasantness, he or she has stuck with it to the bitter end.

BEHIND THE SCENE, a great deal of responsibility lies with all ASUN officers and appointees. Just ask a President or a Homecoming Chairman. Some view such offices with contempt as being useless and worthless. But stop a minute, place yourself in the shoes of these elected souls. Could you have served as well as they? If so, why didn't you volunteer your services come election time?

NO, NOT ALL, and very few who choose to serve the University community as students are glory seekers. Such individuals who seek an office have the genuine desire to contribute to their office and to make this university a better place for everyone. Secondly, a degree of notoriety is attached with an office and to the individual in an office.

However, such political fame is inherent to any office and can't be avoided. Those who accuse individuals of seeking an office merely to acquire political pull or notoriety are off base.

IT IS A privilege to serve the University in a small way. Perhaps it is just a way of saying "thanks" for all the opportunities the University has accorded an individual. I am not alone in this thinking as others will join in saying thanks also.

NEXT YEARS officers have a full year ahead of them. A year filled with disappointments as well as with highlights. I think that it is these highlights which affords the greatest rewards to student leaders although the rewards are few and far between.

To those of you who have been elected or appointed to fill the offices of student government, we congratulate you for sharing your talents with the University. To those of you who have completed your term of office, we thank you for doing your job to the best of your ability. Truly, the 1963-64 ASUN officers have been excellent leaders capable of adding to the betterment of the University.

The Minority Report

by The Yellow Kid

Doug Neddenriep, Theta Chi, looks like a strong favorite to fill the unexpired term of junior men's senator left vacant by Keith Lee's election as ASUN president. Neddenriep has done an impressive job as this year's election board chairman and could do a fine job in the senate.

The Student Union Board has finally finished its new constitution and will present it to the student body before the end of the year. The Board members deserve a great deal of credit for doing a good job in drafting a new constitution that will give the students a greater voice in deciding Board policy.

Speaking of constitutions, what ever happened to the new ASUN document which was last seen in the hands of the steering committee?

Have you ever thought how hard it is to write a column like this when the administration is not trying to run student government, when student government is running smoothly and my arch rival Dave Cooper is doing everything right and nothing wrong in the Student Union.

In fact, I'm so hard up for material for this column that I have allowed my editor to contribute the following items, which does not reflect the feelings of the "Yellow Kid" or his sponsors.

A bit of nostalgia must be ringing in the ears of outgoing ASUN officers today as they prepare to relinquish their gavels to the younger members of the campus. They are all, undoubtedly, somewhat wiser, if not a great deal more cynical. Probably the most memorable events for the leaders have been Leadership, Finance Control and Publications Board banquets, and of course, the great senate meetings when no one showed up.

In the policy on club recognition, a serious item was overlooked. The way it stands, the ASUN could not approve a club without the Student Affairs Board doing the same. It should be possible for senate to OK a club and the University to refuse recognition at the same time.

Spurs To Host 'Coke Date'

An invitational "Coke Date with the Spurs" will be held this afternoon in the Student Union to allow prospective Spur members to meet with present Spurs.

The purpose of the "Coke Date" according to Susie Prior, president of the service organization, is to allow the old Spur members to get to know the new girls." Miss Prior added that this will give the Spurs a clue in picking their new members. Invitations have been sent to all freshman girls with a grade point average of 2.5 or better.

The national president of Spurs, Joyce Reichel, of the University of Washington visited the University of Nevada campus last week. Miss Reichel was here to discuss convention plans. The regional convention of the Spurs will be held next Fall on campus.

'La Strada' Is Film Classic

Federico Fellini's "La Strada" will play tonight in the Church Fine Arts Theatre. The cast includes Anthony Quinn, Richard Basehart and Giuletta Masina.

The Italian film has been awarded a number of international honors for its story of a simple-minded waif, a brutish strong-man and a philosophical "fool" who travel the highway in Italy, living in loneliness and searching for "the way of life."

Fellini received the Academy Award for Best Foreign Film, as well as the Grand Prix at the Venice Film Festival and the New York Critics' award for this ever great cinema classic.

The showings are at 7 and 9 p.m. and free to students.

Stanford YR To Speak Here

Campus Young Republicans will hear a member of the Stanford Young Republicans at their meeting Thursday April 16, at 8 p.m. in the faculty dining room.

Jim Sensenbrenner is a junior at Stanford and the regional director of the National College Young Republicans Committee. The 20-year-old political science major represents Arizona, Colorado, Hawaii, and Nevada on the committee.

He will speak on "How College Students Can Make a Significant Impact on Politics."

SAE's Spend Day Tidying Cemetery

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon spent Saturday cleaning the old cemetery on University Terrace.

The eyesore required burning, raking and loading the large collection of trash that had accumulated throughout the years. Also many tombstones had to be erected again because of probable vandalism that had taken place.

Denver Dickerson, in charge of the project, said that the job still required a great amount of work to get the cemetery in order for planting of grass or building of fences.

Folk & Square Dance In Commons Thursday

The recently organized folk and square dancing group will host an hour and one-half of dancing Thursday, April 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Students and faculty are invited to participate in the dining commons. Mari Kae Ennis is manager for the group and Miss Iona Mowrer of the P. E. department is faculty advisor.

Folk Music Is Not Commie Inspired

by MIMI SKILLICORN
Feature Editor

To sing or not to sing, a question that at present is running through the minds of local folksingers and fans, received mixed reactions from student and faculty members interviewed by the Sagebrush. Most of the students questioned however, definitely feel that the charge against folk music was ridiculous.

The current controversy over folk music arose over the comments of Dr. John DeTar, leader of the Reno John Birch Society. De Tar has called for a congressional investigation of what he terms "Communist infiltration of folk singing. De Tar has proposed a resolution calling on the Reno Young Republicans to ask for the investigation by the House Committee on Un-American Activity. De Tar claims that folksinging is a menace to established authority.

De Tar's charge had already been chided by faculty members at the University. Herman Chaloff, professor of music at the university, said, "I am very much against what he says. I feel that whatever is folk music is heritage we have had since the beginning of time."

Another music professor, Ronald W. Williams feels that "Dr. De Tar apparently ascribes as much propaganda force to the arts, and folk music is an art—as the Russians do. Williams continued that "the official view of the Soviet Ministry of Fine Arts has been consistently and properly ridiculed by an intelligent and artistically sensitive people — including the serious Russian Artists."

Although many University students feel that the charge against folk singing is ridiculous some either refused to comment or claimed they didn't know enough about it to say whether it was communist-inspired or not.

In answer to DeTar's resolution that "Certain of the 'hootenannies and other similar youth gatherings have been used to brainwash and subvert . . . vast segments of young people." sophomore music enthusiast Joyce Cobb had this to say: "Of course I don't think it is. How do we know that other types of music aren't written by communists."

Don Bell, a freshman, music major pondered, "Certainly, music is a form of expression, I just wonder when they're going to attack dancing. Bell added that "The Birchers will use anything they can get."

Tony Oxorrow echoed Bell's criticism. He said "The Birchers find it necessary to criticize something of national importance. Since folksinging is a current national fad, they chose it. Oxorrow added that "I'm surprised they missed Hula hoops.

Doris Howard, the female half of the "Steve and Doris" folksinging duo, feels that "folksinging is part of the American way of life. It is as much as a part of America as anything so I don't think he (De Tar) has any grounds for his charges." Miss Howard added that she thinks singing and freedom of speech go hand in hand.

Steve Juenke, Miss Howard's partner, also expressed strong disapproval of the charge. "I feel that folk music is a way of letting off pressure", he said. "I can't understand his charge. If they investigate folk music why don't they investigate all music?"

One student who claims to be an avid fan of folk music said "I really don't know whether it is communistic or not. All I know is that I like it."

Several students refused to comment on the controversy. Most of them expressed the idea that they didn't know enough about folksinging or the Bircher charge to say anything.

DaVinci Replicas Now On Display

Replicas of the inventions of Leonardo da Vinci are now being shown in the Travis Lounge of the Jot Travis Student Union. The models are patterned from original inventions that are over 500 years old.

The special exhibit, which will be shown through Wednesday, April 29, present a series of models mad from da Vinci's scientific and technical drawings. They include a steam gun, flying machine, odometer, parachute, printing press, and military tank, some of which were actually used with success in da Vinci's time.

The models were originally constructed under Dr. Robert A. Guatelli's supervisor for the 1938 exhibition of Leonardo's work in Milan, Italy. However they were completely destroyed by bombings during the war. Afterwards, Dr. Guatelli began work on another set of models.

The new models, now being shown on campus, come from the Department of Arts and Sciences of International Business Machines Corporation. The models, painted red, yellow, blue and green, are displayed with panels of explanatory material and sketches reproduced from da Vinci's notebooks.

Other panels present some of the inventor's observations on music, architecture, philosophy, anatomy, botany, cosmology, optics, astronomy, flight, sculpture, mathematics, city planning and perspective.

Lee Conducts Senate Meet

Keith Lee, who will be installed as the new ASUN president tonight, will conduct his first senate meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in the lounge of the Studena Union Building.

Lee will introduce his proposed committee system for senate consideration. The system would provide for the creation of several committees which would give each senator at least one committee assignment and would greatly improve the operation of the body.

The senate will also consider the election of a new men's senator-at-large to serve the remainder of Lee's unexpired term. Lee resigned the post following his election as ASUN president.

The ASUN President's Council, proposed by Lee during his campaign, will also be discussed by senate.

Changes Made In Dining Commons' Eating Habits

The Dining Commons Food and Dress Committee met April 7, in the Hardy Room of the TUB.

The Sunday meal time, long a bone of contention, will be changed April 12 for a trial period. The meals on Sunday were formerly served from 8 to 9 a.m. and 1 to 2 p.m. They will be changed to 9 to 10 a.m. and 3 to 4 p.m. If these new times prove to be better for most people they will remain in effect.

Many of the likes and dislikes of the foods and how they are prepared were discussed. The possibility of re-scheduling daily breakfasts was discussed, but decision of the question was postponed.

In attendance were Ed Johnson, student chairman of the DC committee; Bill Adams, director of student housing; Neil Humphrey, University business manager; Miss Roberta Barnes, assistant dean of women; Peter Baxter, Lincoln Hall; Julie West, Juniper Hall; and Ron Reafs,

Tells Boxing Story

Boxing . . . Big Interest

Editor, the Sagebrush:

Recently the question of the continuance of an Intercollegiate Boxing program at the University of Nevada has come up. It is presently being discussed by the Board of Regents. They have requested that a poll be taken of the students' feelings on the matter and you will shortly be asked to express that opinion.

I think it would be beneficial for you to have a bit of background on the question, particularly why it has been raised at this time.

For the past three years an Intercollegiate boxing program has been carried on by only three schools in this country, Univ. of California, Chico State, and the Univ. of Nevada. The immediate cause of several schools dropping boxing three years ago was an unfortunate accident in a tournament at Wisconsin, although before that time there had been a definite trend toward the discontinuance of boxing in the universities and an adoption of an Intercollegiate wrestling program as being more the type of sport to be associated with a university athletic program.

Since that time the question of the continuance of boxing here has been discussed by the Intercollegiate Athletic Board but the feeling has been to wait and see if this small nucleus of schools would attract other schools back to a boxing program.

At the present time there is no indication that any other universities are contemplating a return to an Intercollegiate Boxing Program — Recently the NCAA has dropped their recognition of boxing as an intercollegiate sport.

On the other hand, boxing appears to be a popular spectator activity at the Univ. of Nevada. Attendance is good at home matches, although it is not apparent that the support is primarily from the student body.

If you feel that the continuance of the boxing program for the two home events each year is beneficial to you and to the university you will have a chance shortly to express that opinion and the opinion rendered will certainly be taken into account in arriving at a decision on the program.

E. V. KOSSO
CHAIRMAN,
INTERCOLLEGIATE
ATHLETIC BOARD

Editor, the Sagebrush:

The university athletic board has recently ruled by a narrow vote that boxing should be eliminated from the school's athletic program. They state as reasons that the sport is not popular enough to warrant the expense of supporting the team, that college boxing is a dying sport, and that the violence generally associated with boxing has no place on a college campus. Fortunately, due to some administrative error, the matter has been placed into the control of the students, and a student vote on the issue is to be held tomorrow.

By way of reply to the committee's statements, I would like to state first that the status of boxing here at the U of N is that of a major sport. It is a sport, however, that is not characterized by school spirit minded cheering sections but is followed with great interest by a large number of individual students and particularly by the local residents. As the team is very small, the equipment negligible, and transportation done by car, the team is very inexpensive to operate. Because of the large spectator draw from non-students, the teams income is large, and would lead me to suspect that the team actually makes a profit.

College boxing is only a dying sport if we quit, for it has been confirmed by the other competing schools that if we quit, the conference will fold. On the other hand, there are indications that Stanford and UCLA will join the conference if do not quit.

As far as the question of violence, one must not compare collegiate boxing with professional boxing. There is a great difference, as anyone who has seen collegiate boxing knows. Those who have not seen this form of boxing have no business voting on it. Actually, boxing has long been considered an excellent discipline, and the majority of the top schools in the country maintain boxing, at least on an intramural basis. If it still be violence, then, at least, it is voluntary for the participant, as compared to some forms of training in violence on this campus.

Bob Donlan Chosen Cager of Title Year

Wildcats Fall To Pack Thinclads

Nevada cindermen swept both sprints and rambled to top notch performances in both relays to roll up an 87-58 score against Chico State at Mackay Stadium last Saturday.

Dick McCoy, the Wolf Pack's only double winner, blazed to a 9.9 clocking in the 100 yarder and a 21.4 for the 220. He was followed in both events by Nevadans Fred Williams and Jon Key.

The Pack 440-yard and mile relay teams proved to be instrumental in the Silver and Blue's victory. The 440 team of Key, Phil Henrickson, Stu Schraeder, and Williams set a new Mackay Stadium record of 42.6. Tim Anderson, Schraeder, Bill Forman and Williams tied the meet record and also the Far Western Conference mark in the mile relay with a 3:18.5 time.

In the other running events, the Wolves picked up first place points by Bud Forman in the half-mile and Jim Humphrey in the high hurdles.

Field event winners for the host team included Pete Carpenter in the pole vault, Larry Moore in the high jump and Ray Oster in the discus.

Seconds and thirds proved to be a big factor in the Nevadans' victory. These point getters, besides the sprints, included Anderson in the 440, Tex Mock in the 880, Russ Sheltra in the mile, Skip Houk and Steve Parker in the two-mile, Dennis George in the high hurdles, Henrickson in the intermediate hurdles, John Reil in the shot put, Nap Montgomery in the broad jump, Jay Edwards and Moore in the triple jump, Jerry Bacilgaupi in the pole vault, Edwards in the high jump, Jim Christensen in the discus, and Rick Miles in the javelin.

Montgomery's jump of 23 feet was the longest for the Pack this season. Edwards' leap of 6-4 in the high jump was an individual best for him this season. Also with individual bests were Henrickson, who spurred to a 39.3 in the 330-yard hurdles, and Carpenter, who vaulted 13 feet.

Houk, Evans Lose In AAU Semi's

Two of the Wolf Pack's top boxers gave a brilliant showing in the National AAU Boxing Championships but lost in semifinal bouts at the Las Vegas Convention Center Friday.

Nevada's Skip Houk racked up two impressive wins before being defeated by Jesse Valdez of Houston, Texas. Jim Evans dropped a close nod to Rudy Brown of Washington D. C.

Evans was outstanding in earlier fights, decisioning both Gilbert Gonzales and George Gaston on the same night. Houk won his first fight by defeating Ken Castro.

In later action, Evans outfought John Wilson and Houk knocked out former Pan-American champion Fred Burris.

Houk, fighting in the 147-pound class, had a difficult time coping with Valdez's blazing speed. The stocky Pack fighter rocked Valdez with a hard right in the first round and both boxers fought furiously for the remainder of the fray. The crowd gave Houk a standing ovation after the fight.

Bob Donlan . . . Basketball Player of Year

Fiery Guard Leads Voting

Eds. Note: The Sagebrush sports staff regrets that this basketball honor for Bob Donlan was so late in being printed. Delay was caused by the difficulty in obtaining a picture. The choice of Donlan was the easy part.

Bob Donlan has been named Sagebrush basketball player of the year.

The six-foot Nevada senior was a team leader and an outstanding scorer.

Donlan led the Wolf Pack to a title winning 11-1 record in the Far Western Conference.

During the 1962-63 season, Donlan came into his own as a Wolf Pack guard. He started slowly but ended up with a 9.3 scoring average and a conference mark of 13.0.

Donlan is deadly on long left-handed jump shots as well as being a stellar dribbler and ball-handler. He also excels on defense. One of his favorite tricks is to sneak up behind an opponent and knock the ball away.

The Wolf Pack guard averaged 16.2 points per game in FWC play this season and was an unanimous choice on the All-Conference first team. He was also given honorable mention on the UPI Little All-Coast team.

In addition to this, Donlan was named co-athlete for the month of March by the Sierra Nevada Sportswriters.

This is the second of the Sagebrush's selections this year. Rick Miles was previously named football player of the year. Selections will also be made for track, and baseball.

Nevada Nine Take 3rd Place

The first Nevada Centennial Baseball Tournament concluded Saturday with the Wolf Pack winning the consolation title and San Jose State taking top honors. The two-day tourney was held at Moana Stadium.

Nevada lost the first game by the narrow score of 8-7 to the St. Mary's Gaels. The Silver and Blue came back the following day to whip the University of Pacific, 5-3.

Against the Gaels, the Pack had a comfortable 5-1 lead going into the sixth inning. However, pitcher Dennis Scott lost his control and St. Mary's rallied to score seven runs. Fred Dallimore came in to douse the rally but the damage had been done.

It was all Nevada in the first part of the contest. The Pack jumped out to 3-0 advantage in the initial inning with Bruce Nickerson hitting a key single and Don Jackson belting a long triple.

St. Mary's countered with a run in the second but Nevada scored two more in the fourth. Lanky outfielder Barry McKinnon lefted a long two-run homer to account for the Pack's scoring. McKinnon's blast cleared the 375-foot marker in centerfield and was still rising as it left the park.

The Wolf Pack staged a last ditch rally in the bottom of the seventh. After Nik Walters and Nickerson stroked singles, Jackson knocked in his third run of the game with another single to make the score 8-6. Catcher Joel Glover came through with another clutch single and the Wolves were even closer at 8-7. However, McKinnon's fly ball was caught and the inning was over.

In Saturday's contest, Jackson hit a grand slam home run and Nevada beat UOP by two runs.

Pacific blanked the Pack for the first three innings but Joel Glover hit the scoreboard with a tremendous smash to narrow the score to 3-1.

UOP hurler Dodge loaded the sacks in the fifth inning and Jackson whacked his game winning grand slammer.

Dan Keller starred for the Wolves on the mound, fanning 12 UOP batsmen and allowing just two earned runs. In addition to his pitching, Keller collected two hits.

Jackson and Nickerson shared hitting honors for the Wolves with four hits each in the two-day tourney. Jackson was the leader in RBI's with seven.

San Jose won the championship game, outslugging St. Mary's 18-19.

San Jose drove across four runs in each of the first three innings to pile up a 12-3 lead. The losers rallied to narrow the gap at 12-8 but the Spartans scored three more in the fifth.

NEVADA'S BARRY MCKINNON (right) is greeted by teammates after belting a two-run homer against St. Mary's in the first game of the Nevada Centennial Tournament. Despite McKinnon's blast, the Wolf Pack lost the game 8-7, but came back to win the consolation contest.

Linksters Win First Match

University of Nevada golfers won their initial match of the season last Saturday by downing the Cal Aggies, 18-3, at Hidden Valley Country Club.

Four Pack linksmen, including Mike Knight, Pete Wishney, Tom McCleary, and Joe deArrieta, posted winning scores of 79. Knight downed the Aggies'

George Kaucera, 79-85; Wishney bested Mason Myers, 79-81; McCleary's 79 beat Randy Zelling's 82; and deArrieta topped David Kaucera, 79-86.

Richard Auger edged Nevada's Roger Armstrong, 85-86, for the losers' only points.

Sonoma State invades Hidden Valley next Saturday for a match with the Nevadans.

Boxers Puzzled At Proposed Ban

By RON REAFS

Wednesday, the students of the University of Nevada will decide whether or not to keep intercollegiate boxing on campus. The fate of intercollegiate boxing rests on the vote.

Nevada boxers were asked to express their opinions on the sport. Generally, they could not understand why anyone would want to abolish it.

John McSweeney said: "I've received more injuries in football than in boxing. It gives every individual, regardless of size, a sport in which he can participate." He said if some changes must be made to keep the sport, possibilities would be shorter rounds and improved headgear.

Charlie Breese, who had never boxed before this year, thought a good deal of skill was needed to box and skill was a major factor in making a popular spectator sport. Breese, as other boxers, interviewed, could see no reason why anyone would have anything against boxing. He said, "A fighter knows when he is in danger. It is a sport of self defense."

J. R. Curry thinks the sport is "great and has a difficult time understanding why anyone would want the sport banned." Said Curry, "There are only three colleges left than have intercollegiate boxing and I see no reason to stop it. If they want to fight, let 'em. I'm sure the students will want to keep the sport and will so vote Wednesday."

Students Reply To 'No Curfew'

University of California at Los Angeles dropped curfew for women over 21 and graduate students. What do Nevada students think of this?

"I think it's a pretty good idea," said freshman Kathy Linz of Juniper Hall.

"It's about time they gave the girls the responsibility that they are here for," said Jan Meyer, Manzanita freshman.

Diane Showalter, junior from Gamma Phi Beta, gave a different opinion. "I think it is best to wait until the women are seniors so they can have it as a special privilege."

Kathy Stern, Delta Delta Delta sophomore, simply said, "I think it's great!"

Kappa Alpha Theta Emily Cook, said "It's a good idea but I don't think we could do it here." She reconsidered and added, "... but I think we should try."

"It would work fine in Los Angeles, but because of the environment here, it probably wouldn't work," thought Cynthia Geyer, junior Pi Beta Phi.

And from a man's point of view:

"I don't see why they shouldn't drop the curfew," said David Layton, Lincoln hall freshman.

Ron Dayton, freshman from White Pine hall, said, "I think it's a good idea . . . a girl old enough to go to college should be old enough to take care of herself."

"I'm for it, by that age they are responsible enough," said Alpha Tau Omega sophomore Jerry Rosebush.

Leon Hensley, Lambda Chi Alpha freshman, said, "It is a good idea . . . if they are going to mess around, they are going to mess around, and restrictions can't stop them that much."

... Boxers On Ban

(Continued from page 5) over the weekend, had a lot on their minds. Evans said, "I doubt that they will cut it out. It's a self supporting sport, unlike others." When asked why he went into boxing, Houk said, "I wanted to learn how to box." He also said, "Some kids really like to see it. There is no reason why it should go. Unlike football where they get out there and crack their headtogether, in boxing you can get out of the way. There's a good deal more sport to boxing than football."

Asked to comment on the possibility that boxing might be voted out, coach Jimmy Olivas said, "I can see no reason for its going. There have been no injuries. It's a good sport. Boxing gets a large turn out."
